HOPE GREAT STRIKE WILL BE AVERTED

Coal Miners and Employers of Britain Do Not Want Trouble

SEEKING A SOLUTION

Men's Delegates in Conference Give Formal Notice of Strike, but it Cannot Be Effective Before March

(Canadian Press)

Birmingham, Eng., Jan. 18.—The conference of delegates of the miners' federation has adjourned for a fortnight after a national meeting of work at the coal mines in Great Britain. The end of February, however, is the first date on which the notice can become effective.

The conference decided to accompany the notice that the men were going to quit work with an ultimatum to the employers that the men are ready to continue negotiations for a settlement. The conference has adjourned until February 1.

At both sides appear to be heartily desirous of finding a way out of the deadlock, there is a general feeling that a national strike which would affect about 200,000 men will be averted.

London, Jan. 18.—Until the conclusion of the conference of the delegates of the miners' federation in Birmingham, no definite steps can be taken to prevent a national strike of the coal miners. The position, however, is expressed that the conference will make peace easier of attainment.

The conference of the federation is a private one, and the course of its proceedings were withheld, but before the conference was convened, George Edwards, member of parliament for Henley, the president, said that he hoped whatever the nature of the proceeding at the conference might be that a strike would be avoided.

The ultimatum spirit of the leaders of the miners makes the prospects brighter, for when it comes to the question of a strike, the miners are generally of the opinion that a strike will be averted.

The influence of the leaders will outweigh in all probability that of the miners' committee, who believe that unrest among the miners is good for trades unionism and are continually encouraging the workers to strike.

LULU GLASER, ACTRESS, IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Ralph C. Herr, known on the stage as Miss Lulu Glaser, has been given a decree of divorce by Judge McDonald in superior court here. Herr was summoned into court and there admitted that he had ill-treated his wife and denied that there was collusion in filing the bill.

COMBINED ATTACK ON THE ITALIANS

Large Body of Turks and Arabs Engage Enemy Near Tripoli

AFFAIRS IN MABEDONIA

Commission Finds Things in Bad Shape and Uprising Against Turkish Government is Looked For—Chamber of Deputies Dissolved

(Canadian Press)

Tripoli, Jan. 18.—A terrific attack was made by a large body of Turks and Arabs yesterday on an Italian column which was on the march about ten miles from the town of Tripoli.

The Italian troops left Tripoli early in the morning on the way to a small oasis. Suddenly the soldiers were marching along the road, they were attacked by a series of onslaughts by a large force of Turks and Arabs. The Italian troops took position and threw up field entrenchments. The enemy continued its attack throughout the day, but finally retired. Details of the losses have not yet been reported.

Constantinople, Jan. 18.—The commission of enquiry sent by the Ottoman government to investigate the conditions on the Macedonia coast after the recent dramatic outrages in that region, report that the greatest difficulty is manifested by the people. They have presented a secret petition to the foreign powers asking for intervention.

Associations are multiplying day by day and demands are every where on the increase. The people speak of general rising which, if it does not occur immediately, will take place in the spring.

These conditions are due to the presence of officials who are utterly unworthy of the confidence of the Turkish government and to the fact that the Christian population and the Mussulmans will support the Christian population, and are not the same.

The dissolution of the chamber of deputies is a step which is being taken by the government. The chamber of deputies is a body of 200 members, elected for a term of five years.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF ONTARIO BANK IS DEAD IN LONDON

Geo. R. R. Cockburn Was a Man of Some Prominence in the Life of Canada

LOCAL NEWS

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 18.—A cable from Toronto announces the death of G. R. R. Cockburn, following upon three serious surgical operations, which he had undergone since leaving Toronto eleven months ago. The failure of the Ontario bank, of which Mr. Cockburn was president, and the largest shareholder, was a severe blow to him financially, and although he was wholly uninterested in any responsibility, the worry is believed to have undermined his once rugged constitution.

George Ralph Richardson Cockburn was a public man of considerable eminence. In 1887 he was the riding of Centre Toronto from the Liberal party and held it until 1898. He was one of the "nobles" who voted against the principle of the Joseph coat of arms in 1899. He represented Canada at the world's fair in Chicago in 1893 as chief commissioner.

Mr. Cockburn was married to Miss Catherine Roberts, daughter of a wealthy widower of Etobicoke, and she was engaged to marry Captain Bartley Crickshank, who disappeared from his home in Port Jervis, N. Y., in June, 1910. Captain Crickshank's wife had mourned him, as dead until recently, when she was found to be living here under the name of Donald Douglas. It was under this name, Miss Roberts said, that he wooed her. Miss Roberts said that she had not learned until yesterday of her fiancé's real identity.

During Crickshank's absence from his home his wife collected $20,000 insurance, which she had used to settle his estate. The finding of his over-turned canoe near his home first led to the report that he was dead.

S., bound for Boston, with lumber and which after making temporary repairs proceeded on her way, has been towed back and after several days of more thrilling hardships has been abandoned. The Jennie C and her cargo became liable to salvage to those who towed her into port and it is thought to be especially the case at the sailing time is approaching. The cost of timely aid is at present higher than it has been for some time.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Lord and Lady Decies Rent Home Near Dublin—A Drama and Tragedy of English Social Life.

Lord Decies and his wife, who was Miss Vivian Gould of New York, had rented from Lord Annaly (popularly nicknamed "Slip") the latter's beautiful country seat, known as Luttrellstown.

The manner in which it came into the possession of the Marquise de Fontenoy, which Lord Annaly is the chief, is rather romantic.

Lord Annaly, a great-grandfather of the Marquise de Fontenoy, had been a member of the House of Commons, the fourth Marquise de Fontenoy, who was reported to have sold his soul to the Devil; and Colonel Luttrell, the opponent of Wilkes at the general election of 1763, was a member of the same house.

He died a millionaire and a member of parliament, and while three of his sons had seats in the House of Commons, the fourth, Lord Annaly, was a member of the House of Lords.

Lord Annaly, who is the permanent lord in waiting to King George, and a favorite member of the latter's household, has lived his life at Luttrellstown, which is his principal home at Holdenby House, his place in Northampton, where Queen Elizabeth used to stay, and where Charles I. was kept in durance after his surrender to the Scots.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH GAMERON

"A PITTSBURGH clergyman has recently notified his flock that henceforth he is going to marry no couples who cannot give probable evidence of an annual income of at least two thousand dollars."

I think it is one of the worst examples that I have yet seen of the foolish and harmful tendency prevalent just now—the tendency to advise young people to delay marriage until all material difficulties are smoothed away by plenty of money and material possessions.

I wonder if that minister realizes that the average American wage is about $600.

I wonder if he realizes that 77 per cent. of American men do not get more than $1,000 a year.

What, pray, would he do with those men and the women they would naturally take to wife?

What, pray, would he do with those men and the women they would naturally take to wife? They would be sent into eternal singleness and kept their women's arms eternally empty and hungry, because their lovers could not give "probable evidence of an annual income of at least two thousand dollars."

I believe that the tremendously high standard of material possessions necessary as a preliminary to marriage, which we are encouraging our children to raise, is doing vastly more harm than good.

The idea is good enough if we didn't carry it to such ridiculous excess. Everyone knows that when the wolf is continually howling and scratching at the door, and even peering glumly in the windows, there isn't apt to be much billing and cooing going on inside the house.

But, does it take two thousand a year to keep the wolf away from a young married couple's home?

Indeed it doesn't. Of course, at that rate, shouldn't I be getting married? I started to say "No, but I suppose I ought not to be quite so definite—circumstances alter cases, and whereas there are couples that might get along very comfortably on seven or eight hundred a year, there are others who require more than that. I don't know how many of you would starve on twelve hundred a year."

And anyhow, it seems to me that a reasonable amount saved for a rainy day and good prospects of advancement, count for more than a large income to start with.

All the harm that is done by long drawn-out engagements and by the advance of age for marrying among the poor, I think perhaps we should say less about having just so much to start with, and more about getting married at the time when nature wants men and women to marry.

What relation do you suppose the prolonging of bachelorhood to the age of thirty and thirty-five has with the social life?

Of course, no one can know that exactly, but I'm sure of this—that if I had a good match, even if it were at the age of twenty-five or thirty, or a thousand a year, that would be thirty for two or three thousand.

Perhaps, Mr. Pittsburg minister, you were misquoted in your sweeping exclusion of those folks who couldn't qualify in the two thousand class from the state of matrimony.

For the honor of your cloth, I hope so.

THE HONOR OF THE BIG SPOWS

By James Oliver Curwood

Author of "THE DANGER TRAIL"

(Synopsis of Previous Chapters)

As Melville's wife of John Cummins, she had been born in the far Canadian north, she had been married to John Cummins, she had been married to John Cummins, she had been married to John Cummins.

The mother has left a little girl, she named her Melville, and she named her Melville, and she named her Melville, and she named her Melville.

One sign during the stormy carbon nose, he had seen, Melville would cry for him and she would cry for him and she would cry for him.

But the second problem was one whose perplexities troubled him. Cummins' word of school at Churchill had put a new and thrilling thought into his head, and always with that thought the little creature in the cabin like her who slept under the watchful eye.

CHAPTER XII

For Her

Upon Jan now fell a great responsibility. Melville had passed before him, and he had seen the fullness of his possession. He had meant to go by the little cabin, but he had not done so.

darkened, and he caught him firmly, almost roughly, by the arm.

"The Jan. Thomas will never come back to Melville," he exclaimed with finality. "You are going to Churchill to be school and not to work with your hands. They are sending you. Do you understand, boy? They? There was a fierce tremor in his voice. "Which will it be? Will you take the bag, or will you never again come back to Lac Bain?"

Thanking Jan, he reached out and took the bag. Cummins looked in and saw the buckskin bag. A dull flush burned in his cheeks. Cummins looked in and saw the buckskin bag. A dull flush burned in his cheeks. Cummins looked in and saw the buckskin bag. A dull flush burned in his cheeks.

"I can't take this gold to you and Melville a hundred times," he cried, heavily. "I swear it, an' I swear that Jan Thomas can't make no lie!"

"Unconsciously with the buckskin bag clutched in one hand, he had stretched out his other arm to the violin hanging against the wall. Cummins turned to look. When he faced him again the boy's arm had fallen to his side and his cheeks were white.

The next day he left. No one heard his last words to Melville, or witnessed his last leave-taking of her, for Cummins sympathized with the boy's grief and went out of the cabin an hour before Melville was ready with his pack. The last that he heard was Jan's violin playing low, sweet music to the child. Three weeks later, when Melville returned to Lac Bain, he said that Jan had travelled to Churchill like one who had lost his tongue, and that for into the night he had played lonely dirges upon his violin.

CHAPTER XVII

A Ramor from the South

It was a long winter for Cummins and Melville. It was a longer one for Jan. He had taken with him a letter from the factor at Lac Bain to the factor at Churchill, and he found quarters with the chief clerk's assistant at the post—a young red-face man who had come over on the ship from England. He was a cheerful, good-natured young fellow, and when he learned that his new associate had travelled the way from the barren lands to attend the new public school, he at once invited himself with the responsibilities of a private tutor.

He taught Jan, first of all, to say "I'm in place of 'see.' It was a tremendous lesson for Jan, but he struggled with it manfully, and a week after his arrival, on an evening he was tuning his violin to play for young MacDonald, he said with eager gravity:

"Ah, I know it, it's 'see'!"

MacDonald roared, but persisted, and in time he began to get the twirl out of his tongue.

The school opened in November, and Jan found himself one of twenty or so, gathered there from forty thousand square miles of wilderness. Two white youths and a half-breed had come from the Bay; the factor at Nelson House sent up his son, and from the upper waters of the Little Churchill there came three others.

From the first, Jan's music found him a premier place in the interest of the tutor sent over by the company. He studied by night as well as by day, and by the end of the second month his only competitor was the youth from Nelson House. His greatest source of knowledge was not the teacher, but MacDonald.

There was in him no inherent desire for the learning of the people to the south. That he was storing away, like a faithful machine, for the use of Melville, but MacDonald gave him that for which his soul longed—a picture of life as it existed in the wonderful world beyond the wilderness, to which some strange spirit within him, growing stronger as the weeks and months passed, seemed projecting his hopes and his ambitions.

Between his thoughts of Melville and Lac Bain, the dreamer of that other world; and several times during the winter he took the little red from the box of his violin, and read again and again the writer's pages that he "collected."

"Some time I will go," he assured himself always. "Some time, when Melville is a little older, and can go too."

To young MacDonald, the boy from Lac Bain was a "bird." The Scottish youth was filled with an immense longing for home, and, as his homesickness grew, he poured more and more into Jan's attentive ears his knowledge of the world from which he had come. He told him the history of the old brass cannon that lay abandoned among the vines and bushes, where a fort had stood at Churchill many years before. He described the coming of the first ship into the great bay; told of Hudson and his men, of great wars that his listener had never dreamed of, of kings and queens and strange nations. At night he read a great deal to Jan out of books that he had brought over with him.

KIDNEY REMEDY THAT ACTS LIKE MAGIC

I have been a terrible sufferer for a number of years with kidney and liver trouble, also nervous prostration and health generally poor, constitution entirely run down until life became a burden. I tried physicians and every available remedy but found no relief. Was induced to give Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root a trial, which acted like magic, and am happy to say that I believe I am entirely cured and now as good as a man as ever.

I believe it any duty to make this public statement that I may help others who may be suffering from the same trouble. Swamp-Root is without question the greatest remedy in the world. Anyone in doubt of this statement or the authenticity can address me as below.

Yours very truly,
M. H. MCCOY,
Van Wert, Ohio.

The foregoing statement sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 15th day of July, 1911, by the said M. H. McCoy.

Daily Hints For the Cook

MOCK CHERRY PIE.

Take two cups raspberries, cut in halves and soak one-half hour in cold water to remove seeds. Stir one tablespoon cornstarch in a little cold water, mix it with a cup of boiling water and boil until thick. Remove from fire and add the cranberries, a cup of seeded raisins, a teaspoon of butter, a cup of sugar, a cup of sugar, and two teaspoons of vanilla. Line a pie tin with pastry, pour in the filling, cover with crust and bake.

WHIP FOR SOUR CREAM.

Whip the cream and add to it your salad dressing. It is as good as the sweet cream. It makes good pudding sauce, whipped slightly, sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Filling for sour cream pie—One cup sugar, one cup chopped raisins, half cup sour cream whipped, one egg, vanilla. Put between layers of any white cake.

Only One "BROOD QUININE"

He has completed a trip covering 1,500 miles in the three provinces and has addressed seventeen meetings in Halifax and Rev. W. B. Cooper, general secretary for Canada, attended the annual meeting of the branch of the Canadian Bible Society there.

HIS FATHER'S MESSAGE

The village constable was disturbed in his dinner by a loud rapping at the door and on going to find the cause he found a small youth, who said breathlessly, "My father sent me down to ask if you would come up at 12 o'clock. The uncle's next walk for half an hour. It's new gravelled, an' he's broken the roller."

A Society Drama

The marriage of Colonel and Mrs. J. Laycock, who have just lost their eldest son, a remarkably handsome boy of eight years, stimulates good circulation around the hair roots, and thus promotes hair nourishment, removes dandruff and restores hair health. It is as pleasant to use as pure water, and is delicately perfumed. It is a real toilet necessity.

THE WEST AND THE TARIFF

At least two western Conservatives have warned the government at Ottawa that the west wants a more favorable tariff. Mr. McKay of Prince Albert echoed this statement, and demanded compensation in other directions if the tariff is to be retained as at present.

THE BORDEN GOVERNMENT

Those earnest souls who anticipated great changes for the better as a result of the change in government at Ottawa are beginning to ask themselves what has happened. Mr. Borden has been in office long enough to have given some indication of policy, and to have set about the accomplishment of reform.

TOWN PLANNING

Town planning was the subject of a very interesting address by Dr. C. A. Hodgett at Ottawa this week. Each home, he said, should be a health resort, and this could not be the case under existing conditions in parts of many Canadian cities.

LEGISLATION WITH MODIFICATIONS

Legislation with modifications suggested by experience, would be necessary in Canadian town planning. Nor would it be advisable for the Dominion slavishly to copy German or British methods.

THE COMMERCIAL ORCHARD OF THE ST. JOHN BOARD OF TRADE

The commercial orchard of the St. John Board of Trade was advanced a stage this morning. Other boards in other towns should follow the example of the St. John board.

AT PRESENT THE LARGEST TWO NEW BRUNSWICK ORCHARDS

At present the largest two New Brunswick orchards are not in the St. John valley. One is in Westmorland and one in Albert. There are many parts of the province where orchards will flourish.

THE ROAD TO GRUMBLETOWN

The road to Grumbletown. That leads to Grumbletown. And those who wish can always find a chance to journey down. 'Tis customary for the trip. To choose a rainy day. When weather's fine one's not so apt to care to go that way.

FORGOT THE JUDGE

Two lawyers before a probate judge recently got into a wrangle. At last one of the disputants losing control over his emotions, exclaimed to his opponent: "Sir, you are I think, the biggest ass that I ever had the misfortune to set eyes upon."

FOUNDED INTERESTING

"How about the sermon?" "The minister's coming in the infidelity of cheating at bridge."

ENTIRELY SATISFIED

"Didn't that man complain when you changed him for a broken appointment?" "No," replied the waiter, "he said breaking an appointment with me was worth every cent it cost."

A SUGGESTION

The restaurant manager stood behind the cashier's desk, wearing his stock-trading smile for each customer.

THE NATIONALISTS AND THEIR PLANS

Bourassa's Paper Was an Exposition of the Movement Which Will Interest Henri Bourassa in a signed article published in the 'Devoir' says that the nationalist movement is more than a movement; it is a doctrine, which will last longer than the men who direct it.

POLICE GUARD GOVERNOR FOSS

Warning of Black Hand Plot Believed to Be the Cause of the Unusual Precautions.

Boston, Jan. 18.—Fears that the safety of Gov. Foss may be imperilled by Black Hand agents from New York were ascribed as the cause for remarkably precautions taken yesterday and last night to guard him. Following an afternoon of unusual activity on the part of both state and city police, last night a cordon of police was drawn tight about his home, 51 Bellevue street, Jamaica Plain, and throughout the night the house was kept under constant surveillance.

Extraordinary precautions were taken at the State House yesterday afternoon and last evening was made with a police guard watching him and ready for any emergency. State police were on guard while he was dining at the Hotel Bellevue. An air of mystery was thrown about the whole matter by the governor and the police, for they refused to make any admission which would give ground for the news which leaked out that Black Hand men were feared.

Intimations received at the state house yesterday of probable steps against the governor by agents of the society led to the police activity. The extraordinary precautions were taken at the State House yesterday afternoon to guard the governor. Inspector Daly, of the state police, was joined by Inspector Brady, of the district police, visitors to the State House, if they furnished any cause for suspicion, were kept under vigilant supervision.

Almost immediately the activity of the police at the State House was reflected in the Boston force. Commissioner O'Meara, it is understood, was acquainted with the situation and Chief Inspector Dugan was assigned to work on the case. Italian patrolmen from various stations were dispatched to headquarters early last evening, while plain clothes men had been out for some hours watching the Italian language and conversing with parts of the city.

Inspector Rooney was placed in charge of the Italian police. No word of their mission was given out by the police, but it is considered that their knowledge of the Italian language and, consequently, their ability to handle more easily the problems of searching for Black Hand plots, made them the choice because of the task facing the police.

They went first through the Sicilian settlement in the West End and then investigated the other Italian colony in the North End. They questioned especially the Italian language and, consequently, their ability to handle more easily the problems of searching for Black Hand plots, made them the choice because of the task facing the police.

The letters to Gov. Foss, it was removed, came from New York. In view of the trouble in Lawrence and the number of Italians involved in the strike there, it was said last night that activity of Black Hand men might have come as a result of the labor troubles for Gov. Foss, as head of the militia, might be held by some as responsible for the quelling of riots by the bayonets of state troops.

There Is No Mystery About Our Premium Plan

We manufacture about 400 lines of our own and they are the goods that we are forcing the sale of. To sell these goods by the usual plan is to send out travelers and carry on expensive advertising, etc., which will cost over 50 per cent. We have discontinued all advertising except what applies to our store, and are taking our travelers off the road and are instead giving the purchaser of goods from us 20 per cent and making the other 30 per cent ourselves. Is this not a good business proposition?

On lines that we sell that are not of our own manufacture, we give the consumer about all of the profit, through our coupons, but we do this in order to have in our stocks sufficient lines of steady consumption to enable a family to secure coupons fast enough to enable them to get many articles of value in a short time free. So you see that our plan is the only one that really solves the cost of high living and still gives a living margin.

WITH THE SOCIETIES

The members of St. Peter's, Y. M. C. A. entertained the other Catholic young men's societies of the city, the Father Mathew Association and the Y. M. S. of St. Joseph to an enjoyable reunion in their rooms, North Blvd. last evening. The event was the first of its kind for the year. There was a large attendance and the programme was of a high order. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a silver cup to St. Michael's basketball team, winners of last season's inter-society basketball league. The presentation was made by Francis J. McCafferty, who congratulated the league

NOT ONE WOMAN

IN TWENTY

HAS A STRONG BACK.

THE KIDNEYS ARE TO BLAME

NINE TIMES OUT OF TEN.

Women are coming to understand that weak, lame and aching backs from which they suffer are due to wrong action of the kidneys.

The poisons that ought to be carried off are sent back into the blood, taking with them a multitude of aches and pains. There is no use of expecting relief until the kidneys are restored to health.

Doan's Kidney Pills are the quickest and most reliable remedy. Mrs. Ed. Baxter, Upton, N.B., writes:—"I take a good deal of pleasure in telling you what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me. I was troubled with my kidneys for a number of years, and my back was so lame I could not sweep the floor. A friend of mine advised me to try a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and after using three boxes I am as well as ever. I highly recommend them to anyone suffering from lame back or kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 60 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

LEAVE TWENTY YEARS AGO

Inquiries are being made, through the newspapers, regarding the whereabouts of Andrew Irvine, formerly of Fairville, who left twenty years ago to go to Minnesota, U. S. He is an heir of the late George Irvine of Fairville, who left a small estate which is now being settled up, and he is wanted in this connection. Barnhill, Irving and Sanford are the solicitors for the estate.

WINTER'S CHILL

UPSET KIDNEYS

Pains in the Back Tell of Congestion

Caused By Cold

You Can Prevent Serious Complications By Using

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

When the surface of the body is suddenly chilled the millions of pores in the skin are quickly closed. Under ordinary circumstances these pores are of enormous assistance to the kidneys in removing poisons from the system. Their failure means greatly increased strain on the kidneys, and frequently congestion, which leads to serious disease.

This explains why kidney troubles are so frequent at this season of the year, and why you require something to quicken the action of the kidneys and keep them in healthful working condition.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are particularly effective under these conditions because of their combined action on the kidneys, liver and bowels. The whole filtering and excretory systems are thoroughly cleaned and invigorated, the poisons are removed from the blood and you feel like a different person.

The digestive system does not have half a chance when these other organs are clogged with waste matter and sluggish in action. But once you get the liver and kidneys right the mass of food being digested moves quickly through the alimentary canal, your appetite improves, digestion is good and life is worth living.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

LABOR COUNCIL

Ferry Increase Condemned—Insist on Labor Commissioner

At a largely attended meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last evening a resolution was adopted, condemning the recent increase in ferry rates by the council and a committee appointed to study the situation. Many well known English folk intend going out during the coming spring, some like the Duke of Newcastle going via New York with the intention of making a stay in that city.

The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland propose to spend considerable time next year at their new residence in Alberta, and during the season it is probable they will see a great deal of Ottawa.

Lord and Lady Hyde will leave soon for Toronto. It is understood that her winter quarters at Indian Head. It is supposed that the fire started from a stove which was used by the engineer during the day

GUARD THEIR HEALTH!

Children Who Grow Very Fast

Need Careful Watching.

Next to infancy, the years between ten or twelve and eighteen are the most critical in life, especially for the boys and girls who grow too fast. Rapid growth and the physical changes that are taking place render them particularly liable to weakness and disorders of the digestive system, kidneys or lungs that very frequently, when allowed to run on, condemn them to a lifetime of suffering.

It is most important that at this period of life those organs which carry off the body's waste and impurities—the bowels, the kidneys and the skin—should be kept active and vigorous.

Nothing will do this more effectively than that good old-fashioned remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. It acts directly on each of these organs, enabling them to do their work properly, and thus keeps the whole system pure and healthy.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are still made from precisely the same formula as when our grandfathers used them, for nothing better has ever been devised.

Made by W. H. Comstock Co., Ltd., Newville, Ont., and sold by all dealers at 25c a box.

HOME POLIEMNESS

If we want anything of our children or our servants we should not, merely because we have the authority to command, give a bold order. Why not use the gentle "Please will you do this?" "I should like you to do that." "Oblige me with that."

Where service is rendered we are not to take it in silence, curtly, rudely, because we have a right to the service; but it is easy to say "Thanks," or "I am obliged," or "Oh, that is very nice of you." These little every-day courtesies are called the small change of life; but we should be badly off in trade if we had no small change and must always deal with five-pound notes. While the small change mounts up to the great sum in a lifetime. If parents have plenty of this small change of politeness on hand it will be a great help to the children. The children will pay it out to each other, to servants, to playmates, and with family peace and family affection will be largely preserved. Home is the place where true politeness tells.

The Howard de Walden Engagement Is Interesting England Greatly

LONDON SOCIETY NEWS

Enormously Rich Peer Waited for Wife Till He Found One Like Mother—Titled Visitors Canada is to Have This Year

(Times Special Correspondence.)

London, Jan. 9.—Society's verdict on the engagement of Lord Howard de Walden to Miss Margaret Van Raalte is that it is a jolly good match. Both are genuinely musical and have many tastes in common. Miss Van Raalte has an unusually beautiful voice and really could have made a name for herself on the concert platform had she been so minded. Her mother, too, is a landscape painter of no mean skill.

Lord Howard de Walden is one of the richest peers in England and owns almost a square mile of property in the heart of London, but unlike many rich young men, he also has a more than ordinary amount of brains and is a thoroughly good fellow, thoughtful and by no means an idler.

As you know, he backed Herbert Trench when he took over the Haymarket Theatre in London, a management that was remarkable for the production of several uncommonly clever and artistic plays, Masterlinck's beautiful "Blue Bird," being perhaps the most famous. Lately he has taken steps to foster Welsh national drama and in time he hopes to found a Welsh National theatre.

He is a splendid all-round athlete, he served as a soldier in the South African war, gaining golden opinions from all his officers, and he has a large stud of race-horses.

When in London he lives at Seaford House in Belgrave Square, which he got from Lord Salford. He has altered it considerably in his first look, and it is one of the most beautiful staircases in London, of pale green marble, brought from Central Africa. The decorations and furnishings were superintended by his mother, the late Lady Ludlow, one of the most artistic grandees of society. The reception rooms are furnished in the First Empire style and Lady Ludlow searched every out-of-the-way corner of France she could think of for furniture to suit the rooms. There is also a wonderful state dining-room of the same period, absolutely perfect in every detail.

Besides his town house the lucky peer has a Scotch property in Kilmarnock; Anley End in Essex, which, though not strictly his own, he has on a long lease from Lord Braybrooke, and Chirk Castle in Wales, which he took recently chiefly in order to have a suitable setting for his old armor and weapons. There are his hobby and his collection is said to be without equal for her when she is married.

Miss Van Raalte is a very beautiful girl and the possessor of an equally beautiful fortune. She is the daughter of a very prominent British nobleman on extended visits and in some cases with the intention of settling. Many well known English folk intend going out during the coming spring, some like the Duke of Newcastle going via New York with the intention of making a stay in that city.

The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland propose to spend considerable time next year at their new residence in Alberta, and during the season it is probable they will see a great deal of Ottawa.

COMING TO CANADA

The presence of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught in Canada will attract to the Dominion during the coming year many prominent British noblemen on extended visits and in some cases with the intention of settling. Many well known English folk intend going out during the coming spring, some like the Duke of Newcastle going via New York with the intention of making a stay in that city.

The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland propose to spend considerable time next year at their new residence in Alberta, and during the season it is probable they will see a great deal of Ottawa.

Paris was the subject of a very interesting lecture in Trinity school room last evening by Mrs. Geo. F. Matthews and illustrated by retrospective views. The music of the opera was played by the organ, Mrs. E. A. Armstrong, at the piano and Miss McLean, violin.

The St. John Law Society yesterday decided to apply to the legislature for permission to raise the annual fee for barristers of five years' standing or over to $10. Now all members pay $10.

WANT NEW PROVINCE

(Ottawa Journal)

Petitions in favor of the creation of a new province are being received at the office of the prime minister from Kenora and other points in the northern part of the province.

Some people say that you cannot learn anything from golf-books, but that is the most obvious nonsense. If the study of the teaching of the masters goes for nothing else it still up new ideas in the mind of the reader, and ideas are everything in golf. There are thousands of players who have certainly doubted the quality of their game by reading brought to think more about it, and, through reading in this way, practice systems they would never have dreamed of and there is also the case of a certain eminent member of parliament who is just about as good as any player at Westminister—is one who is a match for any amateur when he is on his best game—who taught himself entirely from books at the beginning, and, it is said, made a close study of them for some time before ever he went out on the links with a club in his hand—Henry Leach.

GRATEFUL MOTHERS

What Zam-Buk Did For Their Little Ones

Thousands of mothers in Canada owe a debt of gratitude to Zam-Buk for its cure of their children, and hundreds of them are not slow to recognize the claim.

Mrs. J. Quiding, of Ninette, Man., says: "My little boy was suffering very badly from a form of skin disease over his eye. I applied Zam-Buk to the affected part, and in a very short time the sores were completely healed."

Mrs. F. Myers, of 311 Suffolk street, Ouelph, Ont., says: "My little daughter (6), contracted a skin disease. This first broke out like tiny water blisters, afterwards taking the form of dry scabs. These would disappear for a short time, and then reappear worse than ever. We tried Zam-Buk, and with each application the irritation and soreness were greatly relieved and the child rested easier. Perseverance with Zam-Buk worked complete cures."

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c a box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Be sure harmful substitutes.

CARRYING CATS

Every large ocean liner carries from six to ten cats, these being apportioned to various parts of the ship, as well as appearing on the vessel's books for rations. There is a provision for pussy on board ship. Ordinarily unsociable cats are kept in the hold, in the steerage, or the forecastle; but a cat that is amiable and handy is given the run of the first and second class saloons. When at sea the cats attend to the mice and rats, but, at all, can do nothing more than scare them out of the parts of the ship frequented by passengers. In port the ship is visited by a professional rat-catcher, who frequently captures 500 in one day.

YOU DON'T NEED A NEW STOMACH

You Can Now Look Any Meal Square in the Face, and Then Just "Go For It" if You Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Trial Package Sent Free to Prove...

The stomach will go on patiently feeding years enduring abuse, overwork, and general ill-treatment. So we've got to think it can stand anything. But when the stomach does rebel, look out!

Every Meal Smiles at Me Now Since I've Been Taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The minute the stomach ceases to perform its functions properly the whole body begins to suffer. The food is only half-digested, the body only half-nourished. And the undigested portion of the food ferments and decays, generating noxious gases which derange the whole system. The eventual result is chronic dyspepsia, heartburn, bad breath, dizziness, flatulence and sick headache.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets instantly relieve all ailments of the stomach and digestive tract. They act quickly, safely and naturally—just like Nature herself. They contain in themselves the elements which go to make up the natural gastric juices. They actually digest the food, relieving the stomach of all the hard work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the standard of many a doctor in the worst cases of stomach trouble, and they never fail him.

All druggists carry and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are sold at 20 cents a box. If you want to try them first, we will send you a trial package free of receipt of your name and address. F. A. Stuart Co., 120 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SUNDAY TOBOGGANING; ALLIANCE OBJECTS

The High Park slides in Toronto which the Lord's Day Alliance people want closed on Sunday. These two pictures are from photographs taken last Sunday afternoon, when from 12,000 to 15,000 people visited the slides. Five serious accidents happened. The alliance contends that it is desecrating the Sabbath to permit the slides to be used on Sunday, and that it is putting the citizens in a false position to contumaciously put a policeman out there to watch for accidents. Many prominent divines and business men have been interviewed by the Star and many disagree strongly with the attitude adopted by the alliance. Tobogganing is Toronto's favorite Sunday recreation.

TOOK POISON IN INTERESTS OF SCIENCE

Swiss Professor's Experiments With Berries of the Deadly Nightshade

Geneva, Jan. 19.—Not since the famous "chokera breakfast" many years ago, at which the German professor, Peterkin, demonstrated on his own body that certain faculties supposed to be those of cholera were not that kind after all, has so much interest been taken in a toxicological experiment as in that made the other day by Doctor Kappeler of the University of Neuchâtel.

He set himself the task of testing the process of poisoning by berries of the deadly nightshade, from four to ten of which, according to the age and strength of the subject, are commonly supposed to be a fatal dose. Dr. Kappeler had the courage to swallow ten berries.

Seven minutes afterward the chief poisonous element of belladonna, atropine, began its work. Dizziness, drowsiness in the throat, and after an hour impairment of sight followed in the course.

The experimenter, industriously made notes, but when he felt a leaden sensation creeping over him, and when his limbs refused to move at the bidding of the brain, he thought he had gone far enough and took a powerful emetic. Notwithstanding this the symptoms continued.

GREATER EDMONTON

The Edmonton Bulletin has issued as a "Greater Edmonton Number" a huge illustrated magazine of 300 pages, 12x18 inches, which is quite the biggest thing of its kind that has come this way. This great magazine is crammed with fine views of Edmonton, its streets, stores, factories, hotels, schools, homes, churches, farm scenes and photos of public men and business men; and with information of all kinds about the city. It is printed in large type, on fine paper, and is in every respect a credit to the enterprising publishers. Some idea of its weight may be gathered from the fact that the postage on the copy received by the Times was twenty-eight cents. They do things on a big scale in the big west.

POWDERHALL MARATHON: A GREAT CONTEST

The Powderhall Marathon is described by the Sporting Life as follows:-
"The pace was a crater from the outset. Longboat broke away in the first mile, run in four minutes fifty-five seconds, sixteen seconds faster than Bouchard's time last year. Two miles in, he was surrounded for a Marathon-twenty-seven seconds ahead of Bouchard's time. It was too fast. Needless to say, by this time Longboat was out on his own, and he kept clear of his field for a full hour without any sign of lagging, but then he began to slack. At ten miles, it may be remarked, he was but a second ahead of last year's leader's figure, and from then he dropped gradually behind till at fifteen he was one minute thirty-seven seconds behind, but still was ahead of his field. The effort had been too much, however, and as the lapped men overhauled him again and went away, putting down his lead only too decisively, the Indian faltered and finally stopped. He had not out to break up his field-but neither Holmer nor Kitchener was to be taken along at a pace which they knew would crack them, and so the Indian only beat himself."

The Real Race
"Now Cameron and Kitchener alternate in the lead, the Finn and Holmer being close up, but still the last five miles was entered upon did they start racing for the lead. When they did make the finish, Holmer was a pace ahead of Cameron, which has seldom been seen in a Marathon finish. Holmer's pace was a little too close to Holmer, sometimes a little too close to would seem, but it was because, nothing more, which was the bottom of the fact. Lap by lap they ran stride for stride, and then of a sudden Cameron entered. It was anybody's race, but the Finn's stamina told, and he developed a couple of strides the good. And the last 385 yards occupied 71.4 seconds, as against 89.5 seconds last year, which again speaks for itself."
"Cameron and White did excellent performances, but they were overdone, and Tom Longboat has shown Britanians that he can do the performance which the public now it would be a hard race between the great Indian, the Finn, the Scot, or even a fifteen miles, but the honor would show whether in Longboat the Indian people have not a man who could place Duff's figure in the race." The race was witnessed by 14,000 people. The track was heavy. Result, 20 miles, 582 yards.

DURHAM ESTABLISHMENT
Toronto, Ont., Jan. 19.-Eddie Durman has received a letter from Richard Aronson stating that he will give the Canadian one-tonnage Bay for the world's championship. Aronson demands a big share of the routine proceeds from the boats which follow the race, and Durman's backers will have to do some figuring before they are in a position to come to a conclusion.

The Tour
The Montreal Betting Case.
(Montreal (24246))
Episodes of history remarkable in their extent were revealed at the hearing yesterday afternoon against W. D. Pearce, charged with infraction of the Miller Anti-Gambling bill in conducting a pool room for race-track betting.
J. S. Taggart admitted making many bets at Pearce's, because the selection there was good, and so did John Aronson, who said he had made many bets. But Aronson could not remember a single one, although a list of names containing the winners was produced with a dozen odd bets on different days and won.
Aronson admitted placing bets for his wife and others, but always forgot it immediately. "I could not tell the next day whether I bet or not," he replied to the questioning of Mr. Cranshaw's question as to his bookmaking ability. All he remembered was that he telephoned to Main 8339, and laid his money. How often he won he could not say, but he collected hundreds of times and was paid as soon as the Telegraph printed the winners.
Books taken from Pearce's place showed that Aronson had on one day placed 110 bets in four different races.
"Did you make those bets?" he was asked.
"Possibly" was the reply.
A check found at Pearce's office payable to W. D. Pearce and signed by Donald Lyons was recognized by Lyons as one he had made out for the payment of a debt. He was told to do that by a man at the other end of Main 8339. He made all his bets over the 'phone.
Detective Gorman produced bank books, self and others, but always forgot it immediately. "I could not tell the next day whether I bet or not," he replied to the questioning of Mr. Cranshaw's question as to his bookmaking ability. All he remembered was that he telephoned to Main 8339, and laid his money. How often he won he could not say, but he collected hundreds of times and was paid as soon as the Telegraph printed the winners.

Joe Patchen Injured.
Joe Patchen, a racing gelding owned in Halifax was seriously injured yesterday and may die. A sharp ladder end protruding from a tramway repair shop, which struck, entered the horse's abdomen.

MILLTOWN ELECTIONS.
Milltown, N. B., will hold an election for the selection of town officials on Wednesday, Jan. 24, and it is expected that there will be some changes in the board. Friends of Mayor F. C. Murbie are urging him to stand for another term, and he will probably consent to do so.

"That's a nice-looking dog," remarked the kindly gentleman who takes an interest in everything. "Yes, sir, he looks all right," replied the sassy individual who was leading him, with a piece of string. "He looks like a pointer." Yes, sir, that's what he looks like. But that's what he ain't. He's a disappointment.

HORSE RACES PLANNED FOR KENNEBECASIS

Now that the cold weather has arrived and the ice in the Kennebecasis has attained quite a thickness, the horsemen in the city are beginning to get busy and get their race track on the river in condition for the meet which are held there nearly every Saturday afternoon during the winter season. W. E. Newcombe, proprietor of the Clairmont House at Torriburn, has had a crew of men at work getting the snow swept off the course and things ready for the first meet which will be held tomorrow afternoon.

There seems to be plenty of good racing material in the city just at the present time and it looks as though there would be some good races on the speedway before the season closes. It is the intention of Mr. Newcombe and the other men in charge of the course to offer cash prizes for the first races and this ought to be an incentive for the owners of the speedy ones to turn out. So far this season there has been no racing, the horsemen being satisfied with having friendly brushes on the Marsh Road speedway on Sunday afternoons. Of course there are no stakes for these races, and they are more of a friendly nature than anything else. It is to be hoped, however, that the horsemen will enter their horses for the Kennebecasis races.

With all these horses in the city, there ought to be some good racing. Ice racing has been rather quiet here for some time, but it is declared due for a revival and if all the horsemen in the city will take a hand, this winter will see the sport revived.

Particulars will be furnished by Mr. Newcombe or C. M. Kerrison. A competent commentator will have charge of all the races. The success of the venture now depends upon the willingness of the owners to enter their horses.

CULTURED CITY MAY GET "ART" DEVLIN

It is now being whispered that Arthur Devlin, for years the third base grandstand on McGraw's Glants, is to be traded to some other club. Boston is casting eager eyes Devlinward and the former King of third base men may land a berth in the cultured city.

LOSING HIS TEMPER
The other day an old gentleman rushed into a railway station and said to the first porter he saw, "Is this my train?" "No," replied the porter, "it belongs to the company." "You blockhead!" cried the old gentleman, losing his temper, "I mean to take this train!" "You'd better not!" said the porter. "There have been two or three trains missing lately. I'd advise you to be very cautious now, my good sir!"

Police Court Decision May Be Appealed—The Matter of Minor Going into Barroom

But two prisoners were arraigned before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning, one being charged with drunkenness and the other with interfering with passengers in the Union Depot yesterday.

THE CASE AGAINST WILLIAM B. DALEY. charged with supplying liquor to George Drew, a minor came up for hearing.

Mr. Inches said the defense contended that there had been no charge proven against Daley and that the case should be dismissed.

Mr. Inches gave notice of appeal. Wins O'Brien, charged with using profane language and also with resisting the police, was brought into court and allowed to go until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, when the case will be resumed.

Several witnesses gave evidence, and all swore that there was no resistance. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the prisoner.

Josh Ward, who was reported in yesterday's Times as having sold liquor to two boys in his licensed store in Dock street, tells the Times that the correct statement is that one of his employees sold liquor; not to two boys, but to one young man, who was believed to be of age. The case was dealt with yesterday afternoon and the bartender, James McAndrew, was fined $10.
