STORMY SCENE IN BRITISH COMMONS

Tumult Unrivaled Since Memorable Days of 1901

CHURCHILL ASSAILED

Home Secretary the Storm Centre in a Nineteen Hour Session on Budget—United States Proposal of Arbitration Treaty Looked on With Favor

London, Mar. 10.—A nineteen hour session of the House of Commons, marked by the stormiest scenes since 1901 when the police had to be called in to quell unruly members, was adjourned at half past six this morning after an all night, riotous debate upon the land clause of the budget.

The long weary session was featured by stormy passages between Home Secretary Winston Churchill and leaders of the opposition, who were angry at being kept in session all night. Bitter personalities were exchanged between the home secretary and Lord Hugh Cecil, a Unionist, and for a time it looked as though the police would again be necessary to quiet the enraged debaters.

The greatest uproar was provoked when the speaker rebuked Mr. Churchill for insubordination in his speech upon the budget. Unionist leaders leaped to their feet denouncing the home secretary for his tactics. The tumult and shouting were so uproarious that pounding of the gavel could not be heard above the din.

Finally Mr. Churchill moved to report messages in the deliberations on the measure under discussion and the disorder was quieted.

The house then adjourned to meet again at noon.

Mr. Asquith, replying to a question in the house yesterday said that Ambassador Bryce has reported that the United States contemplates proposing a treaty under which all disputes of the two nations may be referred to arbitration. He added that such a proposal would meet the most sympathetic consideration.

THAT ROW AT POKIOK DANCE REPRODUCED

Police Court Audience Entertained by Description of Stirring Scenes—Two Participants Fined

Colored comedy held the boards this morning in the police court, when there was a verbal reproduction, with a few suggestive demonstrations, of a slough drive and dance conducted by Ernest Dixon and Jesse Strang to the home of George Hector, Spar Cove Road last week.

Mistah Peters charged Mistah Pariah Hogan and Mistah Elijah Stewart with having grievously assaulted him on Thursday night last, and he also lodged the same complaint against Mistah Thomas Young, but the latter had apparently left on a hurried vacation. Mistah Peters had as adherents Miss Tillie Diggs, and West Indies, while Messrs. Stewart and Hogan were supported by George Hector, Ernest Dixon, Arthur McIntyre, and Mrs. John Hogan.

As near as could be gathered from the contradictory statements of the witnesses, there seems to have been a feeling against the southern darkeys at the dance, after having enjoyed the electric light and colored folks went to the home of George Hector and in what one of the witnesses said was a room "9" had dancing, with Mr. Hogan as the orchestra. Mr. Young asked Mrs. Young to dance with him, Mr. Alicker also asked Mrs. Young if she was "engaged for the next," and when she started to dance with him, "hubby" became jealous, and rushing for Mr. Alicker landed him against a window. At once everything was in confusion. Mr. Young went for a razor, and began to cry out that he would "slash someone."

The first round ended with four or five men in a general row on the floor, at the start of the second round "Life" Stewart ran to separate the "gentlemen" making such an awful disturbance with a ball yard, and was struck in the face with an oil lamp, which exploded as it fell. Round three saw "Life" very much embittered against the guests, and he rushed to a curtain pole, tore it from the wall, and raised a very conspicuous lump upon Mistah Peters' occipital protuberance. The 4th opened with Mistah Hector in the role of peacemaker. His guests that, as he had so kindly allowed them to use his house, would they not please run it over his head? And they should remember there were ladies present. The round ended with most of the principals in the combat retiring to their corners.

With the exception of some mutterings and bewailings, all was then quiet, and the guests began to make their departures, the "dinner" was at an end. And Mistah Stewart and the musician, Mistah Hogan were called upon this morning to deposit $20 with each as a person or be guests of the city for two months.

Judge McKeown Supports Magistrate Refuses to Set Aside Contempt Order in Scott Act Case on North Shore

(Special to Times) Moncton, N. B., March 10.—People at Dover were startled after midnight by a roar from the vicinity of the gas wells, when a nitro glycerine magazine containing some fifty or sixty quarts of explosive blew up. The company's farm residence, a mile from the wells, was shaken as if by an earthquake. All the neighbors were aroused by the explosion. Panes of glass were broken in some residences.

House a Mile Away is Shaken—Property Damaged But No One Hurt

(Special to Times) Moncton, N. B., March 10.—Robert Murray, K. C., has returned from Barbours, where he had been to make application to Mr. Justice McKeown for the release of Allan Mann, at present confined in the county goal in Newcastle under order of Magistrate Connors for contempt of court in refusing to answer a question on hearing of the charge of violating the Scott Act. Evidence of specific sale of liquor had been given, and this Mann denied. On the advice of his solicitor he refused to answer the general enquiry. Had he sold liquor to anybody else. The Magistrate committed him for contempt, and Judge McKeown refused to set aside the order.

Mann must therefore either remain incarcerated or assist at his own conviction.

Haultain, Conservative Leader, Strong For Reciprocity

ANNEXATION BOGEY

There's Nothing in That Cry, He Unequivocally Tells Saskatchewan House—Liberal Whip in Ontario Legislature Ridicules Whiney's Alleged Fears

(Canadian Press) Regina, March 10.—The feature of Wednesday's proceedings in the legislature of Saskatchewan, when, by unanimous vote, which included all the opposition members present, the reciprocity agreement was endorsed and a declaration made for absolute free trade within the British Empire eventually, and an increasing preference to go into force at once, was the speech of more than an hour by F. W. G. Haultain, the leader of the opposition. He came out strong and unequivocally in favor of the reciprocity agreement. He said he had no fears about annexation, and concluding, "We out here are just as able as the magnates in the east to decide what is patriotic and unpatriotic. I am not prepared to sit at the feet of any of these eastern gamblers and study loyalty," a Toronto, March 10.—Sir James Whitney moved his anti-reciprocity resolution in the legislature yesterday afternoon and fired the first broadside against the agreement reached at Washington. The debate was continued, with an interval at 6 o'clock, until 10 p. m. The afternoon and evening session did not dispose of the matter and it may not be put to a vote until an early next week.

The prime minister's argument that a treaty designed to lower the tariff levels between Canada and the United States was a means to the national position of the dominion, strongly opposing the annexation suggestion.

Liberal Whip E. E. Bowman, of North Bruce, replied ridiculing annexation fears, and at the evening session R. R. Cunney of Manitowish defended the agreement, and was followed by other speakers.

SOME LABOR MATTERS

Negotiations in Calgary Conference Come to Standstill—An Appointment—Strike of Railroad Firemen

(Canadian Press) Calgary, Alta., Mar. 10.—The joint conference of operators and mine workers which has been held here during the last seven days has come to an abrupt close owing to the request of the miners' representatives for an adjournment until March 20.

It is thought that the miners hope to get the independent operators to agree to the closed shop clause in the interval and they would then come back and make their argument against the associated operators. The negotiations of the last seven days have been along the lines of the closed shop. The operators absolutely refused to agree to it, and the miners have struck out for it.

They asked the operators to agree to the check off system and to turn over their books to the union secretary so that official could collect the dues from all the men. The operators refused and the long discussion of the week resulted. Absolutely no progress has been made in the negotiations.

INSIDE HISTORY OF "RATS," "PUFFS" AND "SWITCHES"

(Canadian Press) Montreal, Mar. 10.—Women who resort to "rats," switches, and puffs of hair to reinforce nature, need not think that they are wearing hair taken from the dead, according to consular reports from Hong Kong, China. The reports also contradict the stories that much of the hair which goes to make up these "reinforcers" comes from quines that have been cut off.

The hair shipped from the Chinese empire is the combings from well to do people, mostly women. It is said, being saved and sold to barbers by Chinese maids. Barbers also sell considerable hair to hair exporters. Much of the Chinese product is sent to Paris and is exported from there to Canada and the United States as French hair.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

POWER OF WEALTH PRODUCED BY LABOR

By Tristram Burgess

SIR, in this age of the world, the wealth of nations depends on their labor. There was a time, nay, for many ages, plunder was the great resource of nations. The first kingdom established on earth was sustained by the conquest and pillage of many nations; and "great Babylon, the glory of the Chaldean empire," was built and adorned by the spoil of all Asia. The croissant wealth of one nation thus obtained, gave an example to the world, and awakened the ambition and sharpened the avarice of others; until the Assyrian was conquered and plundered by the Persian, the Persian by the Macedonian, and he, at last, devoured by the Roman power. The world which nursed their founder seems to have given a hunger for prey, insatiable, to the whole nation. Perhaps there was not a house, nor a temple, between the Atlantic and the Euphrates, which was not plundered by some one of that nation of marauders. Sir, the tide of ages, century after century, had rolled over the last fragment of Roman power; the light of science dawned on the world, and knowledge of letters was disseminated by the press, before men seemed to believe that our Creator had, in fact, announced to the first of our race, that "by the sweat of his face man should eat his bread all the days of his life."

No one case has done so much in changing that character from war and plunder as that pure, meek and quiet philosophy which has taught all men to "do unto others as they would that others should do unto them." Replaced by this divine precept, men have sheathed the sword, and put their hand to the plow; they have mined the earth, and now, for the instruments of war, but for the machines of labor. If, now, we break out, it is not for plunder; cities are not given up to pillage; captives are not sold for slaves; territories do not change owners; men return again with eagerness to the labors of peace, and do not look to the labors of the camp, but to those of the plow, the loom and the soil for employment and wealth.

Wealth is power; and the defence of every nation depends on its wealth. The wealth of a nation is its labor, its skill, its machinery, its abundant control of all the great agents of nature employed in production. What but a mighty phalanx of labor, an almost boundless power of consumption and reproduction, has defended and now sustains England in all the athletic vigor of the most glorious days of that extraordinary nation? We, a valor truly Spartan, she builds no walls against the wars of the world. The little island, accessible at a thousand points, and often within gun-shot of the embattled fleets of her enemies, has not, for more than seven hundred years, been stepped upon by a hostile foot. What has enabled her to do this? Her untiring labor; her unrivalled skill; her unequalled machinery; her exuberant capital, and unbounded control over all the agents of production. This manufacturing nation, in the last war of Europe, existing against the wars of the world, she stood alone against the embattled continent; and, at last, with her own spindle and distaff, demolished a despotism, an iron pyramid of power, built on a base of all Europe.

BUILT GREAT SHIP FOR BUT ONE VOYAGE

The Columbus, Monstrous Craft, Crossed The Ocean In 1824

Four Masted Bark Bigger Than Anything Then Afloat Was Loaded With Lumber Before Launching—Venture of a Scotsman

A record of a 3,000-ton ship which was 50 per cent bigger than any then afloat and which was built to make a single trip only, being loaded with lumber before she was launched in 1824, nearly a century ago has been brought to light by Superintendent Bundy of the Maritime Exchange of New York.

In searching the library Mr. Bundy came upon a copy of the London Mechanic's Register, published in 1824, which contains a description of this vessel, which was created as great sensation in its day as any Titanic or Mauretanic of the present. The ship was called the Columbus and its right name was called a marine monster.

It was an immense, 4-masted bark of 3,000 tons, which was more than 1,000 tons larger than any ship which, up to that time, ever had been launched. A product of the vessel shows her to have been what sailors would call "an ugly brute of a ship," heavy and unwieldy, and she was never managed to navigate, and the sea was then and is still a wonder.

As straight in the stern as she was in the stem, the Columbus carried single top sails, single top-gallantsails, but no royala. Newspapers of that day, quoted by the writer in the magazine, came through 20 feet long and 50 feet in beam, nearly 1,000 tons larger than any ship in the British navy that period. She was built on the St. Lawrence river, and her first and only passage across the ocean, or any other sea, was made on her launch.

The Morning Chronicle of the time quoted the writer as saying, "The vessel was a record of a ship."

Her timbers are practically of elm, and her beams and planking are chiefly of pine. For greater security the upper beams are carried through the sides and are secured to the lower beams by cross-pieces. The bottom three rows of pillars or stanchions, placed fore and aft, one in the middle and one on each side, come through the upper deck beams and are there secured. There is, therefore, a sort of frame-work of timber within a ship, and the use of this is to secure the cargo divide its weight equally over every part, and prevent it loading the sides of the ship.

Within this inner ship, which we may call it, except a small space reserved for the accommodation of the crew, for the cable, tier, etc., she is a complete mass of timber. Her timber is of a perfect pine like 5 Dutch pilot or river barge, and notwithstanding her vast length and weight, she is a complete mass of timber. Her timber is of a perfect pine like 5 Dutch pilot or river barge, and notwithstanding her vast length and weight, she is a complete mass of timber.

HECTOR CAPTURED

George Hector, the negro wanted by the police in connection with the assault on Mrs. Ann Davidson at Willow Grove, was captured yesterday by Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins. They had searched the neighborhood of the grove and were returning to the city when they spotted a negro crossing the fields in the rear of the Three Mile House. Here they met Tolsonen (Joking) and Marshall who had been searching for the man along the road. At the point of a revolver Hector was halted and brought in a team to the March bridge, whence he was taken on foot to central station.

His coat, on which were stains, resembling blood, was taken from him. It is said he made a statement confessing to the crime.

Hector has served in jail before. He was sentenced to three months hard labor by Judge Ritchie in 1910 for stealing from Amos Harrison.

CAPE BRETON SPOKESMAN?

Glouce Bay Gazette Shows Value of Standard Interview Against Reciprocity

(Glouce Bay Gazette)

How the attitude of the various parts of Canada towards the reciprocity agreement is misrepresented in other parts of the country was well illustrated in an alleged interview with J. J. Fallon, pastor of the Belmont hotel, North Sydney, in the St. John Standard.

Asked how the coal districts in Cape Breton regarded reciprocity, Mr. Fallon is reported to have said:

"Cape Breton is dead against reciprocity and it is going to put up a howl that will make the government sit up and take notice. We don't need reciprocity and don't want it. Any candidate who stood up for reciprocity in Cape Breton would be snowed under so deep that a thousand miners would not be able to dig him out in a lifetime."

To show how qualified Mr. Fallon is to state the general opinion of Cape Breton people, it may be said that he came to North Sydney about four years ago from the northern New Brunswick, where he lives he had spent practically the whole of his life up to that time. He has attended diligently and with success to the business of running his hotel, and has had but a limited opportunity of hearing the views of the people of Cape Breton. We venture to say that he has never been in Cape Breton coal district, where are produced 1-4 million out of the 5 million tons of coal produced in the province of Nova Scotia, and where the number of workmen employed and of voters bears the same proportion to the total number of workmen and voters in the coal districts of the province generally. If Mr. Fallon was ever in Glouce Bay, he was not at a meeting where the people of Cape Breton were to be heard.

Mr. Fallon, we believe, is too small a man to make himself ridiculous. He was probably not quoted correctly by the St. John Standard, but no doubt it had been telegraphed all over Canada, on his alleged authority, that Cape Breton and the coal districts are "dead against reciprocity."

It may be added that it seems rather peculiar to find an opponent of the reciprocity agreement in a man with large business interests in North Sydney, a town that should become a second Glouce Bay under the free admission of fish to the United States market.

Mrs. Emma Howell Knight is attending the state university at Laramie, Wyo., where her four children are also registered as students. Mrs. Knight will be graduated in June in the class with her daughter, when she will receive the degree of bachelor of arts and bachelor of pedagogy. Her daughter will receive the degree of bachelor of science. Mrs. Knight was elected county superintendent of schools at the recent elections.

On another page of today's issue the thirty-fourth annual statement of the Rimouski Fire Insurance Co. appears. The head office of the company is situated at Rimouski, Quebec, and the local offices are under the able management of E. J. Jarvis, 45-61 Prince Wm. street.

CUT RATES
"It will cost you seven cents a bottle to prepare this remedy," announced the head man to his employer.
"Good! Put it up in packages bearing the words, 'Price 81 at all drug stores.'"
"But—"
"Sell it to the trade at forty-two cents a bottle, and the trade can sell it at eight-and-a-half cents. The public expect cut rates on all standard remedies nowadays, and we've got to give them what they want."

Asked how the coal districts in Cape Breton regarded reciprocity, Mr. Fallon is reported to have said:

"Cape Breton is dead against reciprocity and it is going to put up a howl that will make the government sit up and take notice. We don't need reciprocity and don't want it. Any candidate who stood up for reciprocity in Cape Breton would be snowed under so deep that a thousand miners would not be able to dig him out in a lifetime."

To show how qualified Mr. Fallon is to state the general opinion of Cape Breton people, it may be said that he came to North Sydney about four years ago from the northern New Brunswick, where he lives he had spent practically the whole of his life up to that time. He has attended diligently and with success to the business of running his hotel, and has had but a limited opportunity of hearing the views of the people of Cape Breton. We venture to say that he has never been in Cape Breton coal district, where are produced 1-4 million out of the 5 million tons of coal produced in the province of Nova Scotia, and where the number of workmen employed and of voters bears the same proportion to the total number of workmen and voters in the coal districts of the province generally. If Mr. Fallon was ever in Glouce Bay, he was not at a meeting where the people of Cape Breton were to be heard.

Mr. Fallon, we believe, is too small a man to make himself ridiculous. He was probably not quoted correctly by the St. John Standard, but no doubt it had been telegraphed all over Canada, on his alleged authority, that Cape Breton and the coal districts are "dead against reciprocity."

It may be added that it seems rather peculiar to find an opponent of the reciprocity agreement in a man with large business interests in North Sydney, a town that should become a second Glouce Bay under the free admission of fish to the United States market.

Mrs. Knight will be graduated in June in the class with her daughter, when she will receive the degree of bachelor of arts and bachelor of pedagogy. Her daughter will receive the degree of bachelor of science. Mrs. Knight was elected county superintendent of schools at the recent elections.

Feet Tired—So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them

TIZ acts at once and does its job, killing swollen feet, itching, chafing, and all the other troubles that come from tired feet. It's for a sweaty, bad-smelling, itchy, and sore feet. For years I've been troubled with sore and tender feet, suffering in pain. Have had the assistance of physicians with no relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure. As I have with great many of my friends, it would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally good.—A. F. Dentzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous elements which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is made only by Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill., and is for sale at all drug stores, at 25 cents per box. National Drug & Chemical Co., Wholesale Distributors for Canada.

THE SPENDTHRIFTS

The public-works department pay no attention to the provisions of the audit act.

The department of public works evidently pays no attention to section 14 of the Audit Act, which says that before any department shall authorize any expenditure the certificate of the auditor-general shall first be obtained that there are sufficient public moneys appropriated for the proposed expenditure together with all other expenditures previously authorized out of that appropriation.

Gentle reader, these observations are made by the auditor-general of New Brunswick, and the audit act referred to is the famous copper-fastened, warranted to be absolutely safe audit act of the Hazen government. The public works department referred to is the public works department of the province of New Brunswick. The auditor-general again and again protested against the over-expenditures, but in every case he was over-ruled by the treasury board, and the glad work of wandering public money for the benefit of favorites of the government went on. This condition of affairs is revealed by the report of the auditor-general. Of course the government and its cheerful following will attempt to justify the course of the treasury board in ignoring the audit act, but this will not satisfy the people of the province at large. That which was supposed to be a safeguard is no safeguard at all. When a hungry follower wants something from the public works department he gets it, and the treasury board promptly over-ruled the auditor. Also the members of the government continue to denounce the old government instead of giving reasons why they should themselves command public support. A change is needed.

RECIPROCALITY AND LOCALITY.

The honorary president of the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba, in a manifesto to the farmers of that province, which is printed elsewhere in today's Times, points out the inconsistency of the legislature of that province, or at least the Tory majority, in denouncing that which the farmers had so earnestly sought and which they are now offered. What he says about Mr. Rogers and Mr. Roblin is straight to the point. The former is "ambitious to shine in Dominion politics," and the latter is "laboring under the hallucination of Chamberlainism." The following paragraph goes straight to the point:—

"Their two leaders talked about out-transportation companies, our shipping companies, our financial interests, unity of the empire, imperial preference, loyalists and the old flag. What had all that to do with a simple measure of trade between two countries, which could be made free to every man?" marks the end of an era in a social experiment that was entered upon with much earnestness by a number of citizens over four years ago. The present is the fifth winter during which the doors of this club have been open to every man, even the drunken men who drift in to escape the police. The club has accomplished much that is good, and its active members, though few in number, do not regret the time and effort spent to influence unfortunates and encourage them to become sober and useful citizens. They feel that if profiting temperance men in this city had joined with them in active personal work the club might have been continued indefinitely by us at first proposed. They have, however, so far as actual personal work was concerned, plowed a somewhat lonely furrow. They could always get subscriptions when these were needed, but they could not get men. Of late the club room has been a rendezvous for persons who resist all efforts to induce them to remain sober and conduct themselves properly, while there has been a marked absence of active workers in the club. Effort will now be made to establish a total abstinence club of large proportions on the broadest lines. Possibly even greater good may be accomplished by such an organization than by one whose doors are open to every individual who cares to drift in to enjoy light and heat and social advantages at the expense of others.

The Richibucto Review points out that reciprocity will be a great boon to the whole fishing industry of Kent county. The like is true of other shore counties.

There should be a large attendance of west side voters at the meeting in the city hall this evening at which well informed speakers will discuss the commission plan of city government.

Will the Standard say that it has printed Mr. H. V. McKinnon's letters in full and exactly as they were written. A fair paper would do that—has the Standard done it?

The Standard today quotes a number of interesting paragraphs from different issues of the Times. For once it has permitted the truth to creep into its editorial columns.

The statement of the Standard that the Times has abused and misrepresented the city council is as false as most statements made by that abandoned political back which now has few friends or apologists even in its own party.

Seeing that the commission plan is certain to prevail, and that its effort to uphold the present system of city government will end in utter defeat, the Standard is looking about for an easy place to fall. Apparently it believes that by landing upon the Times and Telegraph may come off without serious injury. But it will get its "bumps" just the same.

Mr. Haultain, the Conservative leader in the west, tells the tones of the cast that he does not propose to do at their feet to learn lessons in loyalty. The west, he informs them, is quite able to retain its loyalty while it enlarges its trade. He is an out-and-out supporter of reciprocity. Unlike Mr. Roblin and Mr. Rogers of Manitoba, he prefers the good of the country to any agitation which seeks to arouse the people by false appeals.

Mr. Hazen was very reticent in his reply to enquiries about the Valley railroad. The public will await with interest the action of the government in this matter. There is a proposition by which, with the co-operation of Mr. Hazen, the people of the valley may be provided with a railway of the highest class, giving them through connection with the west. What will Mr. Hazen do about it?

We are informed by the St. John Standard that the death knell of reciprocity has again been sounded. The fact remains that Mr. Borden's motion to postpone discussion was negated by a majority of forty-one, and that the Liberal caucus at Ottawa yesterday decided to push the agreement forward to a final vote in parliament. After that has been done and congress has endorsed the agreement, and this country enters upon an era of enlarged trade, the noises will subside.

Citizens of St. John will read with amazement that the men found guilty of burglary in the store of Emerson & Fisher have been allowed to go on suspended sentence. Surely this is tempering justice with too much mercy. The firm in question have suffered more than once from burglary. They have expended money to make it difficult for thieves to enter. They have lost goods and incurred expenses to prosecute men found guilty of robbing them. Yet the men are permitted to walk out of court without punishment. If this sort of thing is to continue crime may be expected to flourish in St. John.

The Richibucto Review, referring to the Hazen government's lumber policy, says that a visit at the present time to the landings will explain the increased revenue in the crown land department, and show how the timber lands are being depleted by the cut and size of the logs. It further states that the cut on crown lands is increasing while practically nothing is done on private lands. These statements support the contention of Hon. Mr. Roblin. The Review points out that with its boasted surplus and more money to spend the government has nothing to show for the expenditure, while its agricultural and immigration policies are unworthy of the name. "The sooner the elections are brought on," says the Review, "the better it will be for the people."

RELIEVES ALL THE STOMACH MISERY IN FIVE MINUTES

Distress from Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia goes After Taking a Little Diapiesin

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or, some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, greasy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these Diapiesin cases of Diapiesin, then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distressing ailments disappear in five minutes, and relieves all such miseries as Belching of Gas, eructations of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation, and other Stomach troubles.

Some people, instead of going to find relief from Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, or an out-forced Stomach, with the common, evaded, "eat up your meals that they have about" plan, or believe that there is a case of over-indigestion, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach, or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble, is that you eat does not digest, instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Diapiesin.

PROGRESS
We say we are progressing, proudly tell How forces yoked by man's impetuous hand

Hurry us storm-like o'er the shuddering land,
Or drive us through the climbing ocean swell;
How heaven's lightning mutters 'neath our spell,
But we are aging—mind, and nerve, and limb,

Our step hath lost its lightness, and the hymn
Of Nature turneth to an empty knell.
The real progress not, this, as every spring
Their mossy walls they weave the self-same

Flirt the same colors from the hanging spray,
With the old love songs make the covert ring;
Yet for their youth I'd give the centuries!
The knowledge, and the heartache, and the pain.

—H. R. Pyatt, in Chamber's Journal.

The first harem skirt seen in Toronto, and perhaps in Canada for that matter, worn by an actress from one of the local burlesque houses in the principal streets of that city. The event may be said to have been "staged" but just the same it caused a lot of excitement, crowds following her wherever she went.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

THE State of New Hampshire has recently passed a law aimed to prevent the horrors of baby farms—that is, those terrible establishments where the little unwelcome babies are boarded out, and given full opportunity by their hostesses to depart, if they will be so kind—from a world that has little use for them.

In connection with the passing of this law there was a little incident about which I want to tell you, because so splendid selfless courage it seems to me worthy to rank with any heroic deed I have ever heard of.

A few days before the bill was to come up a nice looking, dignified appearing young woman came to the committee who were working for the bill, and said:

"I have heard that you need all the evidence you can possibly get. I have come to tell you that if you think it necessary I will make my story public. My baby died in one of those places. I had no idea what sort of a place it was when I took him here. I have letters and evidence to prove what I say. No one around here knows anything about this, and, of course, I do not wish to say anything unless it is absolutely necessary, but I leave it with you. If you think it is necessary for the passing of the bill, call upon me and I will tell all I know."

Now please try to think what that promise meant.

The girl was looked up by the committee and found to be a bookkeeper, a woman of excellent standing in the community. A woman about whose name, since she came there to work five years ago, there had never been a breath of scandal, a woman with whom no one would ever have connected the name of a baby farm.

The closed chapter that dealt with the unhappy little stranger she had actually succeeded in keeping hidden from all her acquaintances up to now.

And now she was willing to lay it open, to bring down upon herself the disgrace she had managed to escape, in order that wise legislation might be furthered.

I love to think of that incident, because it shows the presence, to an unexpected degree, of a quality all too rare among ordinary human beings—that is, altruism.

Altruism, you know, is a sort of splendid big brother to selfishness.

The altruist is the man who wishes to see the greatest good for the greatest number, even if it happens to be one of his own.

He can look beyond personal discomfort and inconvenience, see the good of the race and be content.

I heard a man the other day saying that he had no use for Colonel Roosevelt. Being an admirer myself, I ventured to ask why.

"Because he got that interstate commerce law passed."

"What's the matter with that?" I always heard "it was a good law."

"Oh, I suppose it is a good law," he admitted indifferently, "but it took my railroad pass away from me, so I haven't any use for the Colonel."

The man, as I happened to be unusually unkind in my family life, but he hasn't that large minded, far-seeing kind of selfishness called altruism.

He can't be glad of a law that he admits to be beneficial because it pinches him a bit.

Yes, I know that isn't strange at all. I know most of us would feel the same way.

Only I want all to admit that we ought not to feel that way, and to realize fully what a beautiful world it would be if there were more people in it with the splendid spirit of that little bookkeeper.

Whatever her sin, I cannot but feel it has been more than atoned for by that offer.

Daily Hints for the Cook

LUNCHEON POTATOES.

One quart of diced potatoes, butter size of large walnut, one small onion; put together in stew pan, add enough boiling water to nearly cover, season with pepper and salt; simmer gently until tender and water has boiled away, then add one-half cup of sweet cream and simmer on back of stove two to three minutes.

CORN BREAD.

Two eggs well beaten, two tablespoonfuls of white or light brown sugar, two cupfuls of buttermilk, one-half cupful of cream or small pieces of butter for shortening and a small teaspoonful of baking soda. Use one-half of flour with the cornmeal. Sift flour and soda together and make a batter a little thicker than for pancakes. Steam three hours, then put in oven for short time to brown.

SOUR CREAM NUT CAKE.

Break two eggs in a large cup and fill the cup with sour cream. Put in a mixing bowl and add a level teaspoonful of soda and a cupful of sugar. Beat all well, then add flour enough to mix a little stiff. Flavor with vanilla. Make one large cup of fresh walnut meats, chop them up into the batter. Bake in a moderate oven and cover top of cake with half walnut meats.

NEW TURNIP DISH.

Attractive and appetizing vegetable dish. Peel many turnips as you wish and tender, scoop out the inside and fill in with cooked peas. Heat all well and add the turnip. Pour over all a nice cream dressing. Serve on individual plates. This is a gem.

JOHN SANSFIELD'S CHAT

WITH HON. DR. LANDRY

(Richibucto Review)

Fredericton, Mar. 1st, 1911

Dear Editor:—

I arrived here from Bectouche yesterday, and had a pleasant trip on account of meeting Dr. Landry, who boarded the train at Moncton. He was on his way from Chatham where he had delivered his great lecture on "Economy in Neckties."

Both of us being interested in agriculture I tried to sell him a plow. He would not consider it a minute. He said if I was selling Kentucky horses I could do business with him, and he could steer me on to some good trades with other members of his department, but he said, so far as his department was concerned plows were obsolete. "What for instance says he, 'would a leading agriculturist like myself do with a plow?' I imagine," says he, "my holding the handles of a plow, one in each hand, or even both in one hand, and following a yoke of patient oxen around a field; while Hatheway is telephoning all over the country the attitude of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association on reciprocity."

"Like a true medical farmer I have discarded the plow for a pullman car, and if the smallplow will do its duty, an automobile will be next."

"Are any members of your department farmers?" I asked.

"There was one," says he, "but we expelled him. We were originally devoted to agriculture, but we have outgrown that stage and we are now giving our attention strictly to politics and the dismissal of Liberal office-holders, in Kent county and other parts of New Brunswick."

"Why don't you appoint yourself chairman of the board of health?" I asked.

"Every man to his own craft," says he, and I realized the force of the remark and relapsed into deep silence.

Is Grimmer a farmer? I asked, and a deep frown settled on the Doctor's face.

"Not in good standing," says he. "He

ST. ANDREWS MAN WHO SERVED COUNTRY WELL

(St. Croix Courier.)

The oldest resident in St. Andrews, George Eggleton, will celebrate the ninety-sixth anniversary of his birthday next Saturday, the 12th inst. He is a Yorkshire man. He enlisted in the 10th Regiment and served the full period of twenty years. While in with the colors he saw active service in the Island of Cephalonia, suppressing a rebellion. He served with the colors in the West Indies, from there with the regiment he returned to England, and then to the Ionian Islands. The regiment for six years in Corsica, and eventually returned once more to England. Subsequently it was detailed for duty at St. John, N. B. Mr. Eggleton was with his regimental company, where he did garrison duty, at Fort Phipps in the year 1822. He took his discharge at St. John in 1837, and then, with his wife, returned to St. Andrews, where he has resided up to the present. His wife predeceased him in 1880, and since that time he has resided with his daughter, who is only too happy to be privileged to take care of her father. In addition to her, he has three sons and a daughter living in the United States. Mr. Eggleton, since his discharge from the army, has been in receipt of the pension usually granted to soldiers for faithful service and performance of duty. For a man of such patriarchal age as ninety-six years, Mr. Eggleton has to a remarkable degree retained possession of his faculties. He is a sincere adherent of the Church of England, and is respected and held in esteem by the people of St. Andrews, who hope that he will be spared to celebrate many more returns of his birthday.

CHELSEA, RISING FROM ITS ASHES, STRIKING ARGUMENT FOR THE COMMISSION PLAN

The Story of Business Methods Applied by Business Men in the Rebuilding of the Fire Swept Massachusetts City Furnishes Timely Reading for St. John Taxpayers.

(Utica Saturday Globe.)

It is not the purpose of this article to tell the tale of how on the 12th day of April, nearly three years ago, the thriving city of Chelsea was nearly wiped out of existence by a conflagration, but to show briefly how under the management of five men the prostrate city has not only risen from its ashes but is today nearly as populous and fully as rich and prosperous as before the frightful calamity overwhelmed it. The record of recovery at Chelsea is one of the most marvelous stories written on the pages of American municipal enterprises.

On the morning of April 12, 1908, Chelsea was a city with an estimated population of about 20,000. Her valuation for taxation purposes was $28,411,450. Her government was vested in a mayor and 15 aldermen.

On the following morning, after going through such a baptism of fire as seldom comes to any city, Chelsea found her condition deplorable—almost hopeless. A closely-built-up area in the very heart of the city covering 29 acres had been burned over. Seventeen miles of streets had been swept by the flames. The City Hall, public library, city stables, central fire station, Y. M. C. A. building, the Frost Hospital, 11 churches and 2,522 other buildings had been rendered homeless. 19 persons had lost their lives and property to the value of $17,000,000 had been burned. Hundreds of well-to-do persons had lost their all. The disaster was an appalling one.

Of course at first all attention was directed to the care of the homeless and the hungry. Then when the immediate needs of the city had been met, attention was turned to what was best to be done under the distressing circumstances. Business men stood ready to help in any way they could. Municipal property today is insured for more than ten times at a lump expense than the amount paid formerly.

Streets were widened or straightened, wires were buried and pole lines rearranged, new and more advantageous street lighting contracts were made and sanitary conditions were greatly improved. Control of the city was placed in the hands of the lowest bidder and, despite the enormous amount of work done, not more than $100,000 was expended.

Chelsea has not received a dollar's worth for every dollar expended.

The entire public building erected since the fire are a commodious city hall, a central fire station, a two-way fire engine building, a public library, a public bath, a school house with a total of 50 rooms and a public library. Each building is a model of modern utility, and the city has no money wasted on ornamentation. Semi-public buildings erected, but not from city funds, are the churches, the Frost Hospital, a Masonic Temple, an armory and a Y. M. C. A. building.

From the day of the fire there has been no cessation of building in Chelsea. Public confidence has been so great, owing to the example set by the municipal government, that in every instance the new buildings are much superior to those which they replaced. While only about one-third of the buildings destroyed were replaced, the fact remains that the assessable value of the city is greater today than before the fire. The population, too, is restored almost to what it was three years ago. Of the 16,000 people rendered homeless by the fire the majority were forced to go elsewhere. But most of these have returned and others have come with them.

Were we confronted, then, with this striking fact, that, despite a visitation which cast the city prone and seemingly helpless, in less than three years Chelsea today is richer, nearly as populous, more prosperous and far more modern and promising than she was before the fire.

Is it conceivable that under the old order of things there would have been so splendid and so complete a recovery such an expenditure of public money without a dollar's waste or a breath of suspicion, and so much accomplished in so brief a time?

Where will the advocates of commission government look for a finer example of what may be accomplished under the rule of business men than is furnished by Chelsea?

A. M. DICKINSON.

MRS. BELMONT TO MAKE WOMEN OF CITY FARMERS

New York Society Leader Starting Experiment in Suffrage and Agriculture

New York, March 10.—Suffrage and agriculture are to be combined in a novel way by one of the leading suffrage leaders of the metropolis. Mrs. O. H. F. Belmont, who during the present month will open a school of agriculture on a 200 acre farm near the country estate, Brookholme, Hempstead, L. I. The school will be exclusively for women. Not a man will be on the premises—not even to chop wood or build chicken coops.

Mrs. Belmont's suffrage farm will open with 20 employees and they will receive full wages while they are learning to farm. Truck gardening will be the specialty and when the crops are in the workers will put on their sunbonnets and drive with the produce to Long Island City for shipment to the New York markets. It is intended to make the farm self-supporting from the start and to increase the number of hands as rapidly as possible.

The plan does not end there by any means. Mrs. Belmont will open a school for her farmers to become owners of small farms, thereby becoming economically independent—something that years of toil in a city factory would not give them. In speaking of her farm experiment, which she has been considering for two years, she says:

"I want to explode two theories. The first is that girls would rather work 10 or 12 or 14 hours on starvation wages in insanitary surroundings and live in crowded tenements in New York than go out of the city and take up a paying occupation where health will be the first benefit to be reaped."

"The second fallacy is that no woman is a good all round farmer. I propose to prove that women cannot only prepare the ground for the work it has to do, but can raise the staple crops as well as men can."

Mrs. Belmont sees in her scheme the gradual displacing of the "hired man," she considers that our richest soil has been let run down by the employment of a class of "nomadic tramps" who care nothing for scientific agriculture, but merely stay at one place long enough to earn a few dollars and then pass on to spend the money elsewhere.

Lectures on woman suffrage and other subjects will be given on the farm. Mrs. Belmont herself will keep constant watch over the conduct of a school and a practical woman farmer will teach agriculture.

Holding his nose to the grindstone will not sharpen a man's wits.

EVERY DAY CLUB MAKES IMPORTANT CHANGE

Club to be Open Only to Members—The Reason for Action Taken Last Night

At a special meeting of the Every Day Club last evening the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved that beginning on Monday evening next the Every Day Club shall be open only to members. Any male person over sixteen years of age may become a member by pledging himself to total abstinence and paying the dues, which amount to ten cents per month."

After four years of faithful effort, keeping the club in winter "open every night free to every man," the active members have been compelled to make this radical change. The members feel that they can do more aggressive temperance work by excluding men, some of whom for five winters have felt at liberty to go to the club drunk or sober, and resist all efforts made to induce them to mend their ways. No less than seven such men were in the club on a recent evening, along with a group of youths who treat the club as a place of amusement and do not care to become members.

An effort will now be made to gain additional members and form a strong total abstinence club, open every evening and doing aggressive temperance work. Any member will have the privilege of taking a friend or friend to the club before such efforts are made to induce them to mend their ways, and has an excellent orchestra.

LOCAL CIVIL SERVICE MEN.

At the annual meeting of the St. John civil service association in the Foresters' hall last night, Hon. A. T. Dunn, collector of customs, was re-elected president. The gathering was a large one and much interest was taken in the proceedings. Besides the election of officers a great deal of routine business was transacted.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Hon. A. T. Dunn, president; L. R. Ross and Dr. N. B. Collier, vice-presidents; Timothy Burke, treasurer; Theodore H. Belyea, secretary; David H. Waterbury, D. L. Hutchinson, A. J. Gross, J. B. Daley, Peter Sharkey, Samuel P. McAvour, Dr. R. C. Roddick and Dr. W. L. Ellis, executive committee.

And it's what a man has been that makes him what he is.

It's funny how sympathetic some people are when it is useless.

BANGOR HOME VIEWS ON PAVING QUESTION

Bangor City Engineer's Views After a Tour of Cities of the States, East and West

In view of the discussion in St. John from time to time on the question of pavement, permanent or otherwise, the following observations gathered from many cities in the United States by City Engineer Coombs of Bangor, who has just returned after a trip across the continent, may be of interest. The Commercial says: In his inspection of streets, Mr. Coombs found that the best pavements are those which are finding the same trouble that is being found here in relation to their streets. They are still casting about for a road covering that is durable and lasting, that will also eliminate the objectionable quantities of stone paving.

The larger cities are using stone paving blocks, asphalt, wood and brick paving and all these methods are larger than best desirable in Mr. Coombs' estimation. He found in every city where the asphalt was used there were constant reports of its failure to keep its shape, and even then it was not considered the most desirable. The best method to put it on a concrete base, which gives a better surface and to fill joints with pitch or cement, both methods being used.

The most satisfactory paving that Mr. Coombs noticed in any of the cities was the wood or brick block, which was used to a large extent. "Some of the cities are using granite, which is very durable and lasts for years. There is one street in Boston paved with wood blocks, which, they say, has never cost the city for repaving and it was laid 12 years ago. In all the cities I have visited the best of asphalt paving were of wood, hard pine blocks treated with creosote, but brick was considered equally as effective."

On Exchange street we have three experiments in the kind of paving that I noticed in the city. After the old order of things the best of the three, but the stone paving has given satisfaction. What I want to see now is an experiment with the brick paving.

Man's Misery Promptly Banished

(From "Man's Maladies.")

A certain sort of misery which causes a man to become abject in manner, timid, suspicious and jealous, without real cause, has been readily banished by a systematic nerve treatment which can be followed out in the privacy of home and restoration of a normal or natural condition speedily ensues.

A man feels and knows, when he is not getting out of life all that it holds, and this knowledge makes the misery which occurs with such symptoms as untidy gait, weak voice, downcast eyes, cold extremities, loss of flesh, loss of self control, lack of self esteem, pains in the back and back part of head, shooting pains, heart palpitation, nervousness, sleeplessness, hollow lips, sunken cheeks, colorless lips, diarrhea, trembling, these dreary symptoms are a restoration of the system, which has been poorly treated, or abused by thought, or by the neglect of social duties, perhaps superstitious ideas, or by the overuse of the brain centres of consciousness and should be treated with every living individual. Let this prescription be used and the results surely reveal the cause. Obtain of any good druggist, three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla combined with a six ounce ounce of one ounce compound fluid balsam, shake and let stand for two hours, then add one ounce of carbonate compound (not cardamon) and one ounce of compound essence cardiol. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. The three last named ingredients are specially prepared and powerful concentrations, much used in various prescriptions, but contain no opiates to harm the system.

Mr. S. Fisher presided and introduced G. Ernest Fairweather as the lecturer of the evening. The lecture was illustrated by lantern views, and was much enjoyed by all present. Mr. Fairweather called forward the two prize winners in the club contest and handed a handsome silver bound art book to Miss Marjorie Taylor for the first place, and presented Mrs. George T. Polley with a similar prize for second place. Miss Taylor later entertained with a piano solo. A committee consisting of Mrs. McEldon, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. F. E. Bishop served refreshments.

THE LESSON IN MANITOBA'S HANDLING OF TELEPHONES

(Ottawa Journal).

The recent annual report of the Manitoba government telephone system is another practical demonstration of the success of a properly managed public utility.

In the past year alone the number of users of telephones has increased twenty seven per cent. In the province, the telephone system finances have shown a thirty one per cent. increase. Long distance lines have been built so that practically every telephone in Manitoba can call up every other telephone.

The announced aim of the Manitoba government is to place the telephone at the disposal of every man in the province. Already thirty-five thousand farmers enjoy the service and it is expected that in five years more there will hardly be a farm in the province to which telephone connection will not be available if required.

The Manitoba service is now looking for foreign conquest. In a short time telephone is hoped with eastern Canadian and American cities. Already copper lines have been built connecting Winnipeg with the wheat centres of Chicago and Minneapolis.

When the Manitoba government took over the provincial telephone service less than five years ago, the service was very unsatisfactory. No one in Manitoba had a good word to say for it, and the government needed considerable courage to face the problems involved in the taking over of an unpopular technical concern. In a few years the usefulness of the telephone in Manitoba has doubled and doubled again. The deficits have become surpluses, the service is more generally available than in any other part of Canada, and the prices are generally less. Had a broken-down government line been thus built and extended by private enterprise, it would have been hailed by many as a public ownership success.

Probably there is nothing more industrious than an idle rumor.

Her Face and Body Were Littered Covered With "BOILS."

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Them.

Mrs. John H. King, Chatham, N. B., writes:—Last summer I was very much troubled with boils, and my face and body were literally covered with them. A friend advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters. I got three bottles and before I had taken the first one my boils began to go away. I had just taken a few doses of the medicine when they all disappeared. My husband had also used Burdock Blood Bitters with much benefit.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still, at the same time, are very painful. They are caused entirely by bad blood, and to good of them it is necessary to put the blood in good condition, and for this purpose there is nothing to equal that old and tried remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters. HAZEN GOVERNMENT OVERRIDES AUDIT ACT

Protests of Auditor Loudon Were Useless And Over-Expenditure Went on—Here Are Some of The Plums Handed Out

Fredericton, N. B., March 9.—The report of the auditor-general, which was brought down this afternoon, is remarkable for the number of orders from the treasury board, their being no less than forty-one authorizing over-expenditure of more than $100,000 over and above the estimated expenditure.

The treasury board is composed of Messrs. Fleming, Grimmer and Morriay and these three members apparently have power to authorize any amount of money to be paid. As early as May of last year the department of public works began to call for more money, and Auditor Loudon calls attention to this fact in a letter to the secretary of the treasury board, when an application was made for more than $5,000 in these words:

"You will note that the reason assigned for the excessive expenditure is that the legislative appropriation was insufficient." Again in July Mr. Loudon sharply called attention to over-expenditure in this department station in which he says:

"The department of public works evidenced by its attention to section 14 of the Audit Act, which says that before any department, shall authorize any expenditure, shall first obtain the certificate of the auditor-general, and the certificate of the auditor-general shall first be obtained that there are sufficient public moneys appropriated for the proposed expenditure together with all other expenditures previously authorized out of that appropriation." The demands of hungry followers could not be stemmed and the commission of public works paid no attention to the auditor-general, for again in August he writes the treasury board: "As pointed out to you by the public works department pay no attention to the provisions of the audit act."

But it was not until October 15 that the auditor-general took issue with the department of public works and refused to recommend the payment of an amount exceeding $16,000 asked for. He said no special report as to the necessity of the payment with reasons why the appropriation was insufficient had been submitted. Then he makes the important statement that the expenditure on bridges has evidently taken moneys intended for the highway boards. "Many highway boards have over-expended their grants and now ask the government to pay such over-expenditure. This procedure being contrary to the terms of the audit act, I am unable to recommend payment."

The auditor-general was, however, overruled by the all powerful treasury board, for the public works department obtained further money and orders in council for special warrants and orders in council for the estimated $4,000.

There are some interesting items from DeWitt's How, at Havana, which the total expenditure for "extension of markets," under which heading the encouragement of shipments to Cuba comes, amount to $4,000.

The expenses of Factory Inspector Kenyon were over $400, and the St. John office immigration cost $3,330. Recorder Baxter received $1,000 for services as the judicial act, and E. C. Weyman $102 for preparing the index, and Barnes & Company, $1,275 for printing 500 copies.

The expenses of the New Brunswick Railway investigation is still continued and Judge Landry was given $2,000 for his services as Chairman, while Mr. Powell got $200 more. Printing cost the large sum of $14,448, being a considerable over-expenditure of the estimate.

Albert county was not noted in its ordinary road expenditure, nearly $23,000 being expended under Ezra Howe's direction without tender. The itemized accounts show remarkable extravagance and recklessness and after disregard of the pledge to put public works up to public tender.

The examination of the accounts in detail revealed an astonishing state of affairs which will be thoroughly ventilated before the house adjourns.

The contributions received up to date amounted to $109,234.72. A bill to amend the act to establish a board of public utility commissioners was agreed to with an amendment, suggested by Hon. Mr. Hazen, which would extend the length of service of the commissioners to ten years.

A bill to provide for the early closing of shops was agreed to with an amendment, suggested by Mr. Hatheway and by Hon. Mr. Hazen, which would extend 7 o'clock the earliest hour at which a city or town council can order the shops closed.

The committee also agreed to bills to enable cities, towns and municipalities to assess for advertising in the city of St. John, and to amend the Jordan memorial sanitarium.

"Against government" bills were introduced by Mr. Wilson, of St. John, introduced a bill to provide for a plebiscite in the city of St. John, in regard to the form of government. The act provides that the words, "For government by commission" and "Against government by commission" shall be printed at the bottom of each ballot provided for use in the civic election, and that the committee shall be the duty of the common council to prepare a bill carrying out this idea for passage at the next legislature.

Mr. Wilson presented the petition of the Salvation Army in favor of their bill. Mr. Burgess presented a petition from the town of Grand Falls in favor of a bill relating to that town.

Mr. Cyr introduced a bill to incorporate the town of Edmundston for light and power purposes.

Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to incorporate the St. Leonard's Electric Company.

Hon. Mr. Maxwell introduced a bill to amend an act relating to assessing rates and taxes, and explained that it was to repeal the section of the bill passed last year exempting from taxation property for water supply purposes, which had been found to be unconstitutional in the province.

Mr. Wilson presented a petition in favor of a plebiscite on the commission form of government in the city of St. John, also to fix the assessment of the James Penner & Co., Ltd.

Mr. Bentley presented petitions in favor of bills to authorize an issue of debentures by the city and county of St. John, to provide fire protection for the General Public Hospital, and also relating to sewers in the parish of Lunenburg.

Mr. Lowell presented petitions in favor of bills in the city and county of St. John relating to lighting streets and to authorize a loan to redeem debentures of the General Public Hospital.

Mr. Robinson moved that Mr. LaBillette be granted leave of absence until Tuesday next on the ground of urgent private business.

Hon. Mr. Fleming moved that 300 copies of the journal be furnished for the legislature.

Hon. Mr. Wilson presented the petition of the city and county of St. John in favor of a bill to confirm the adoption of the sewerage act for the parish of Lunenburg and increase the limit of the bond issue from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

Mr. Hazen stated that the information would be furnished without the formality of an address.

The house went into committee of the whole with Mr. Sprout in the chair. A bill to incorporate the relief committee of the town of Campbellton was passed with slight amendments.

Hon. Mr. Morriay submitted the 56th annual report of the chief commissioner of public works.

Hon. Mr. Hazen introduced a bill to amend the schools act and explained that under the present arrangement the school inspectors received $1,500 annually as salary and all expenses, and when they paid their expenses, amounting to as high as $600 per year, their remuneration would amount to less than that paid principals of high schools and superior schools in the province. The object of this bill was to increase the amount paid inspectors to $1,700 annually. The bill had the approval of the lieutenant-governor.

Mr. Wilson presented the petition of the Salvation Army in favor of their bill. Mr. Burgess presented a petition from the town of Grand Falls in favor of a bill relating to that town.

The house went into committee of the whole with Mr. Sprout in the chair. A bill to incorporate the relief committee of the town of Campbellton was passed with slight amendments.

Hon. Mr. Hazen explained the provisions of the bill and expressed his approval of the plan to have the funds remaining when the committee winds up their business, go to the poor people of the town of Campbellton. He also read to the house the financial statement of the committee up to Jan. 31 last when it was estimated the amount available was about $18,000.

ISSUED BAD CHECKS; NOW WRITES GOOD ONES

Prisoner Gets $12,000 for Patent Attachment to Threshing Machine

Spokane, Wash., March 10.—Clinton Buchanan, who recently completed serving a term in the county jail at Walla Walla, Wash., following conviction on the charge of passing counterfeit checks, can today draw a good one for $12,000, the amount he received for a patent attachment to a threshing machine.

The device is designed to keep the threshing apparatus of a combined harvester in the position of a combined harvester and that of header. Experts declare that the attachment is the most useful contrivance of its kind that has been patented, and it will add much to the efficiency of the big machines, now used extensively in the wheat belt throughout the western country.

Buchanan made arrangements to sell his invention while in prison. It is said he passed the worthless checks under the influence of liquor. Fellow-prisoners who are leaving the jail he promised not to touch another drop of strong drink as long as he lives.

TORY LEGISLATORS ARE HIT BY SUPPORTERS

Stirring Manifesto by Grain Growers' Association in Manitoba—Hot Shot by Prominent Conservative

Winnipeg, Man., March 9.—J. W. Scallion, hon. president of the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba, and himself a strong Conservative, has issued the following manifesto to the farmers of Manitoba:

"Friends: 'What do you think of the action of your local legislature in turning down the resolution in favor of the local trade agreement made between Canada and the United States? You asked for such a trade arrangement, in fact expected, in view of past experiences such a favorable measure of reciprocal trade could be secured."

"When the premier toured the west last summer he was waited on by your delegates and urged, among other things, to secure, if possible, such a trade measure. You passed unanimous resolutions in favor of it at the meetings of your local associations; you endorsed it unanimously at your provincial convention; you backed up your demands by sending a large delegation to Ottawa, at great expense of time and money, to press the importance of such a measure upon the government."

"Your action was made known and commented upon in other countries, and your independent efforts in favor of economic freedom. But it would seem that your own local government had no sympathy with your efforts and desires in that regard. The government you elected, the members you sent from your own local associations to support the government, voted against the reciprocity resolution introduced to assist the passage of that trade pact, which you have been pressing for in the dominion house."

Scores Tory Members

"Not one of these representatives had the manliness or courage to get up and say why they were going to vote against the resolution. Do you want to be represented by such men? In whose interest did they vote? Their two leaders talked about our transportation companies, our shipping companies, our financial interests, the empire, imperial preference, loyalists and the old flag. What had all that to do with a simple measure of trade between two countries, which could be made use of, or not, according as it was found to be an advantage or otherwise; and any way the United States could bring about the changes, feared by these opponents of reciprocity by simply taking the duty off the articles named."

"The most charitable view to take of the conduct of your representatives who voted against the resolution is that they were hypnotized by the eloquence and gestures of their two leaders, and the spell was only removed when it became time for them to vote. One of these leaders is rumored, is ambitious to shine in dominion politics. No one can find any fault with that ambition, but if true, he should not use his following in the house to bring him into favor with the eastern leaders. This following should be used in your interests, you who sent them there to promote and try to enable you to secure the measures of economic relief you have been pressing for. The other honorable leader is, as has been for some time, laboring under the hallucination of Chamberlainism, the ghost of a corpse buried in Britain at the last general elections. Surely you want a policy somewhat more practical, something for present and every day use, and not the pursuit of a dream that if ever realized will be away in the future, and of no use for present purposes."

"Don't you think your governments and their supporters of them who voted against the reciprocity resolution, did so far as they could, a great injury, and that injury was done you in the interests of great corporations, financial interests, and do not say the past would injure these, do not think it would, but if it did your representatives would protect these interests as against you who elected them to look after your interests."

"Now what are you going to do about it? Are you going to let them off scot-free? To do it again when they get the opportunity? Don't you think you should call meetings and have these representatives of yours come to these meetings and show cause for their actions? You can ask them to resign if you think their action warrants that course. If the recall was in force they would not have transgressed. But call meetings and get them before you. Do that without fail, and let it be done by those who voted for their election."

(Signed) "J. W. SCALLION."

MUCH DRINKING AMONG WOMEN

London Physician Has Rather Startling Article in Health Publication

London, Mar. 10.—Dr. B. Murray Leslie, in the current number of National Health, makes the startling assertion that there is far more secret drinking among upper and middle class women than is generally known. The consumption of whiskey, brandy, and even eau de Cologne, is far too common. In the industrial centres, this Harley street physician says, women are drinking more than ever. In London Glasgow and Dublin the public houses are being so crowded with women.

Family Cured of Eczema By Cuticura Remedies

The Cuticura treatment has absolutely cured me and my family of eczema which I, my wife and two-year-old child had for eight months. It started with small pimples on the head of my child which gradually broke out in sores, and it was not long before I and my wife got the same.

Here to Sail for England Today

Sir William Van Horne, former president of the C. P. R., and now of the board of directors of the big railway corporation, arrived in the city this afternoon from Montreal to take passage on the steamer Empress of Ireland, which will sail for Liverpool about 10 o'clock.

Sir William would say very little about the affair of the C. P. R., remarking that he was now only a director and that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the president, was the spokesman for the company. Asked regarding the statement attributed to Sir Thomas, in New York, that the C. P. R. would spend $84,000,000 in Canada this year, he said he supposed it was so, if Sir Thomas had said so.

When questioned about the agreement for the transfer of the west side lots, which the company had refused to accept in his present shape, said he was not familiar with the negotiations, but he would say, as he had always said, that he was walking from the train to the steam-ship at Sand Point, the C. P. R. had built up the port of St. John and the city should treat them with great generosity.

An incident that gave an insight into the character of the man, occurred as he was walking from the train to the docks, smoking a cigar. A policeman stepped up to him and politely informed him that smoking was not allowed on the docks. Sir William promptly threw away his cigar. When a reporter who was with him remarked that the policeman's evidence did not recognize him, he replied curtly: "He was perfectly right. That's what we pay him for."

Police Court

It may be that the charge against George Hector, the colored man who occupies a cell in central police station, may not be enlarged from "assault with intent to kill," to one of murder, as was believed at first, since there now seems hope of the woman, Mrs. Davidson, recovering. She will be brought to the General Public Hospital this afternoon.

Dr. A. A. Lewis this morning visited her at her home in Willow Grove and after an examination said that he believed with proper care her condition was so good accordingly she will be taken to the hospital today.

Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins again visited the settlement this morning with the purpose of securing further data, witnesses, etc., to aid in the prosecution of Hector.

The latter was brought into the police court this morning called upon to answer to the charge of "assaulting with intent to kill Mrs. Ann Davidson," and pleaded not guilty. He did not seem to be affected by the hundreds of curious eyes which were turned in his direction, but answered to the plea with firm and distinct voice.

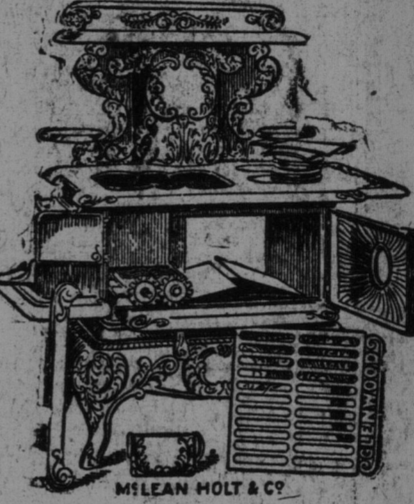

He was remanded pending the result of Mrs. Davidson's injuries. He is only twenty-two years old Hector is not a stranger to a police cell, having served six months last year for theft, and also two years in Dorchester for an assault on a young girl near Sussex. He was taken to Cuno's studio this morning and photographed.
