TRYING TO PROVE HARRY THAW'S INSANITY

NEW YORK, Tuesday. — The attorneys for Harry K. Thaw at his trial today began relentlessly to go into the case of legal insanity.

The principal witnesses of the day were Port. Koehler of Winona, Minn., who acted as instructor to Thaw in the Wootter, Ohio, University in 1888 and Miss Annie Gogelle, of Mateo, Cal., who attended Thaw as trained nurse at Monte Carlo in 1894. They both told of the young man's eccentricity and declared that his manner was always irrational. Dr. Deemer of Kittering, Pa., one of the Thaw family physicians also was heard as well as the attending physicians of three institutions for the insane where members of Thaw's family on paternal and maternal sides were confined.

District Attorney Jerome, by unexpectedly invoking sacred privileges of physicians and patient, blocked some of the testimony along this line.

The shaft sped from the bow of the older Tell and clove the apple to the core.

'Say, dad,' remarked Tell, Jr., 'that was an arrow escape, wasn't it?'

GOVERNOR DUNSMUIR'S FATE IS IN THE BALANCE

VANCOUVER, B. C., Tuesday. — It is expected that Governor Dunsmuir will be impeached immediately after the delivery of the speech from the throne on Monday, by a faction of the legislature headed by the Socialists members.

Dunsmuir's action in the Japanese question is the cause of the move. When the legislature met last year the Natal Act was passed designating to shut out Japanese immigration. Though all the members, both government and opposition, voted for the measure, the governor vetoed it, and the act never became law. A few months afterwards, according to the evidence recently given in the King enquiry, his honor signed a contract with Hato, the Japanese minister, to hire hundreds of Japanese miners.

The position taken by Dunsmuir's opponents is that he turned down the unanimous action of the legislature for private gain. The proposed action is probably unprecedented in the history of British Columbia affairs.

WILL EITHER BUY OR LEASE THE CENTRAL

ST. JOHN, Tuesday. — President Morse of the G. T. P. accompanied by Assistant Chief Engineer Woods, Premier Robinson and Commissioners McAvity and Senator King with others yesterday made a tour of inspection of the Central Railway from Norton to Chipman. Today they secured data regarding the line and the expectation is that they will either buy or lease the road. President Morse said last night that the matter was under negotiation, but no statement would be made for some days yet.

DORCHESTER, Tuesday. — The grand jury after three hours consideration today found no bill in the case of Christopher T. Horseman, the Steeves Mountain man charged with the murder of his wife. The jury after hearing the Judge's charge returned about half past three returning at ten after six reporting no bill in the case.

Horseman and Judge Hannington fully concurred.

No bill was found in the case of Covey Mills, Moncton, charged with theft by misappropriation of money and charges of assault against Albert Fillmore, Bayville.

True bill was found against Constable Chas. H. Thomas, Moncton, charged with theft by misappropriation of a valuable security.

After the grand jury returned its verdict M. G. Teed, St. John, who was associated with E. A. Reilly, Moncton, on the Horseman defence moved for discharge from custody of prisoner and Judge Hannington adjourned court until 8 o'clock when Horseman was brought in and formally discharged from custody.

'I'm glad' was all he said when congratulated and he left with his children who had been present as witnesses in case of trial.

Court convened about half past two o'clock with a very large crowd of spectators in attendance.

There was only one case on the civil docket, that of Jas. W. Wallace vs. The Times Printing Co. of Moncton charged with libel. This was stood over.

YANKEES TO HAVE NEW MILITARY POLICY

BOSTON, Tuesday. — Shapement of a new military policy for the United States, a policy by which it is planned to weld together into one invincible, frictionless unit and to increase tenfold the aggressive and defensive possibilities now lying latent in more than eleven million available amateur soldiers abiding beneath the starry flag and as yet without any effective organization, is the primary purpose of this week's meeting of the National Guard association of the United States, which is bringing to this city 142 delegates from most of the states and territories and the District of Columbia. About one hundred of the delegates had arrived last night. The convention will open today in Faneuil Hall and continue through Wednesday.

The great congress of militia officers and men, representing a national organized fighting strength of about 100,000 members, and the vast unorganized constituency of able-bodied fighting men waiting only for their ranks to be whipped into shape, will be presided over by Gen. Charles Dick, president of the association and author of the bill bearing his name, and under which the National Guard has been organized.

WILL CARRY THE CASE TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL

MONTREAL, Tuesday. — Mr. Jas. Ross, of the Dominion Coal Company who when seen this morning in reference to the judgment rendered by the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia in the famous Coal-Steel Co. case, refused to say anything until he had seen a copy of the judgment and had read it. He stated, however, that the case would be appealed again, and if necessary would be taken to the Privy Council.

Mr. Plummer of the Dominion Steel Company said that the judgment was just what the company expected, but they were glad that their position had been upheld.

JACK LONDON MISSING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday. — The friends of Jack London, the author, are beginning to feel alarmed over his failure to arrive at the Marquesas Islands, which he was expected to reach early in December. London left Hilo, Hawaii, October 7 last in his boat, the 'Snark,' for Marquesas, and is a out a month overdue. It is supposed that the 'Snark,' which is equipped with a gasoline engine, is drifting about as the result of injury to her machinery. Mrs. London, two friends and a small crew were on the vessel. The steamer Mariposa is due here January 25 from La Hiti, Tahiti, and it is hoped that she will bring news of the party.

TRAIN ROBBERS SCARED OFF.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Tuesday. — Four men attempted to rob the passengers on a Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train standing in the Union station here to-day. They were frightened off without securing any money or valuables. They escaped, leaving no clue.

BOVRIL
Contains the life-sustaining elements of BEEF

Beef extracts contain only the flavor and stimulating elements of beef—the nutritive values are lost in the making. Baron Liebig, the inventor of beef extracts, admitted that. He said "It is but a condiment and stimulant, containing no matter capable of sustaining life."
That is where BOVRIL differs from beef extracts.
BOVRIL does contain the nourishment and life-sustaining elements of beef as well as its rich flavor. BOVRIL gives strength and nourishment to the invalid. With its help you can make left-over scraps into delicious soups, casseroles, and soups with very little trouble. BOVRIL is the true economist in the home kitchen.

Physicians say that the grip epidemic this year is milder than usual. This will be news to the people who are having it.

It would please us immensely to see John Morrissey run in this County. It would be further evidence of John's political acumen(?).

Every man who catches the grip need not flatter himself that he is a genius merely because he has acquired the capacity for infinite pains.

After what the St. John Telegraph said about Dr. Pugsley last spring, the people of St. John will take little stock in what it is saying about him now.

In valuing the damage sustained by him through Count Boni's onslaught, Prince Helle shows a remarkable sense of fitness in making it just one franc, or 19 1-2 cents.

Messrs. A. & R. Loggie have commenced to harvest their season's ice. The snow plow cleaned the front street only.

FREDERICTON, Sunday.—At ten p. m. last night the jury in the case of the crown vs. David returned to the court after being out an hour and a half and announced that the prisoner was guilty of manslaughter in the lowest form with a strong recommendation to mercy. Judge remanded the prisoner until 9 a. m. Monday when sentence will be passed.

Mr. Hazen was pleased with the verdict and solicitor general Jones, Crown prosecutor, thought the verdict was in accordance with the evidence. Counsel occupied the afternoon addressing the jury. Hazen speaking seventy minutes. Jones fifty. An adjournment was then made until 6.30 when the judge made the charge to the jury which took up over an hour. Hazen made an able appeal, pointing out the great provocation for the crime. The wife of the prisoner he said was grossly immoral and on three different occasions ran away with other men leaving little infants at home. Hazen showed the difference between murder and manslaughter or citing the criminal code which shows that killing in the heat of passion caused by provocation reduced the offence to manslaughter. There was no malice aforethought. Killing was justifiable when the parties are caught in the act of adultery and the difference in such a case and this one was very narrow. The woman had told David that she would go back and live with another man and surely this was ground for provocation. Jones reviewed the case and said that only justice was desired by the crown. He contended there was no provocation. He spoke of the prisoner having two small children who during the term of imprisonment would have to depend on charity. He spoke of David having already spent six months in jail and he would ask his Honor to take this into consideration. Judge McLeod told the prisoner to report and briefly addressed him. He said he had been indicted for murder, the punishment for which, if found guilty, was death. The jury, however, had found manslaughter with a recommendation for mercy and this he had to take into account as far as he could. The sentence given above was then pronounced, his honor telling the prisoner that good conduct would reduce the sentence, and when he came forth in the world again he would yet be a young man and able to work for his family.

Mr. Ansara, the Syrian, asked his Honor, if the prisoner's children would be allowed to see him during the term. The judge said that this was not under his control, but he had little doubt if the children lived in Dorchester or vicinity, they would not be deprived of seeing their father at times.

Before Judge McLeod this morning Mr. Hazen moved for the quashing of the indictment in the case of Emerson vs. Crockett and the discharge of the prisoner from custody. He had notified the solicitor general of the motion he was to make, and the latter had informed him that he had received no instructions. Judge McLeod said he had nothing to say about the motion that Mr. Crockett be discharged. This really means also the killing of the indictment.

FISHING CASE IS VERY LIKELY TO COME UP SOON

(From Wednesday's Graphic.)
W. A. Mott received word the other day that the case against several prominent citizens of Campbellton charged with unlawfully fishing in Quebec waters would come up on the 15th in Quebec City, but for some reason the case has seemingly been postponed for a short time as some of the defendants have received no notice of it.

The case will come up before the Superior Court and will be a test one. It is believed that all the parties concerned in it in Campbellton will be defendants in the suit. They have retained W. A. Mott, John Hall Kelly and a firm of Montreal lawyers. The latter really represent outside parties who are also joint defendants.

The Campbellton people regard the prosecution as most unjust and if they lose at Quebec will carry the case to the Supreme Court of Canada, and if necessary to the privy council. The attorney general of Quebec will prosecute the case.

CANADA IS PROUD OF IT.

Canadians are always proud of the Canadian enterprises. From the Atlantic to the Pacific Canadians are proud of the great Canadian Family paper, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal. It is certainly worthy of all the good things said about it. It is said that twenty thousand new subscribers were received during December. Every Canadian home should have that great weekly at the small price they ask for it—one dollar a year.

(From Monday's Graphic.)

Rev. R. G. Shearer, D. D., general secretary of the social and moral reform committee of the Presbyterian church throughout Canada was taken suddenly ill on his arrival here Saturday morning and is now under the doctor's care at the Royal Hotel. It is thought that Dr. Shearer's illness is due to overwork. He was somewhat improved last night and expressed the hope of being able to leave for Moncton today.

Dr. Shearer is on a trip through the Maritime provinces and goes from Moncton to St. John. He was to have occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here yesterday. As a result of Dr. Shearer's breakdown however, the pulpit was acceptably filled in the morning by Rev. Mr. McPherson of Point La Garde, and in the evening by Rev. Dr. Carr.

NEW YORK, Monday.—The Thaw trial moved with a rush today. After the state had presented its direct case and assistant attorney Garven had finished the killing of Stanford White was premeditated, deliberate and cowardly murder, Martin W. Littleton for the defence made the opening plea for the prisoner. His promise was that new evidence would come to give the attention of all in the court room.

District attorney Jerome seemingly taken by surprise, seated himself in the witness chair, the better to hear the outline of the new defence.

Littleton promised to forego the chain of circumstances and to produce a line of testimony which will prove Harry K. Thaw was undeniably insane at the time of the homicide. Evidence of hereditary insanity and of strange, unusual acts by Thaw not even hinted at during the first trial were told of by Littleton who said that physicians and nurses who attended the defendant were hurrying here from Europe, that teachers of defendant in childhood would come to give their impressions of "the wide eyed distant boy."

In conclusion Littleton challenged the district attorney to produce a single reputable physician who would say that Thaw was not insane at the time he killed the noted architect. Littleton's speech fairly bristled with surprises.

HERE IS A HOT ONE FOR LOCAL GOVT SUPPORTERS

(From Wednesday's Graphic.)
This ought to make Mr. LaBillette and other government supporters in this county chuckle some.

There is a report in circulation that John Morrissey, the able exponent of opposition principles from the county of Northumberland will contest Restigouche at the next provincial elections in the hope of defeating Hon. C. H. LaBillette.

Readers of the Graphic will recall that when "The People's Jack" spoke last in this county he made the observation that his wife was born here and on that account he held Restigouche almost as dear to him as his own county of Northumberland.

If Mr. Morrissey sees fit to come Mr. LaBillette will doubtless welcome him as an opponent and put him to the tall timbers in 'lig time.'

PROFESSIONAL

Dr. A. Pierce Crockett, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, of St. John, will be at the Royal Hotel, Campbellton (Sprout's) Thursday, Jan. 22nd, where he may be consulted professionally.

BATHURST.

BATHURST, Monday.—The funeral of James Battimesse held yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Rev. A. D. McCully assisted by Rev. Mr. Carson officiated. Owing to the deceased being widely known and to services being held on Sunday it was one of the largest if not the largest procession ever seen in Bathurst.

Snow began falling last night about six o'clock and has continued ever since. During the evening a terrific wind began to blow and ever kept increasing a regular blizzard to wrap the landscape until about seven this morning.

Last evening Rev. Messrs. Wheeler and McCully exchanged pulpits following the week of union prayer meeting.

Miss Jessie Cartef is confined to the house from a heavy cold.

The Highland Society of New Brunswick met on Monday morning and decided to hold a ball on the 18th. Mayor S. W. Miller was appointed chairman of the committee having the matter in charge. "The At home" of the Newcastle Highland Society are always a splendid success and this one will doubtless be no exception to the rule.

BELOUGED TO GASPE.

John Wilson, who was killed by a runaway horse in Montreal last week was formerly a resident of Gaspe, where he married his second wife, Jane Carr, sister of Charles Carr of Dalhousie. The body of the deceased arrived at Dalhousie by the Quebec Express Monday accompanied by two of the sons.

The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. Carr to the Presbyterian cemetery. Deceased was 73 years of age and highly respected.

ADAM FERGUSON'S DEATH.

The following account of the death of Adam Ferguson of Matapedia is contributed to the Graphic: "The death of Adam Ferguson, a highly respected citizen of Matapedia, P. Q. occurred on Sunday, January 6th. He had conducted a successful business as general merchant as well as being proprietor of a large hotel until within a year ago, failing health compelling him to give up many of his duties. He suffered greatly up to the hour of his death but bore it with that fortitude and patience which was characteristic of his noble and enduring nature. He was in his forty-fifth year and leaves to mourn their loss a widow and three brothers. His funeral was the largest ever known in Matapedia the services being conducted by the Rev. C. A. Hardy. The pall bearers were—Ellas Pailou, Walter Coughlan, David Ferguson, John Wyers, Sherman LeFurgie and Robert Ferguson. He was interred beside his three children in the Presbyterian cemetery of Matapedia, an eminence overlooking the beautiful meeting of the waters, a fitting resting place for so strenuous a life. He lives in Christ.

ALICE (MILLER) MERRIFIELD. The community of White Rock was made sad by the death of Mrs. Alice Merrifield which occurred the morning of Dec. 10. She had been ill with a severe cold about a week when it developed rapidly, resulting in her death. Mrs. Merrifield was born in the town of Campbellton, N. B., Oct. 10, 1865, coming to the states in early womanhood and locating at Lyndonville, Vt. Later she was united in marriage to Moses Merrifield and moved to Gorham. The deceased is survived by a husband, three children, Hazel, Helen and Chester, also a father living in the state of Wisconsin, three brothers and four sisters. Much sympathy goes out to the family in their sorrow. Mrs. Merrifield was a woman devoted to her home and the education and interests of her children. Few beyond the family and neighbors realized her true worth. To them no words can be too highly spoken. Both church and school found her ready to assist when it was possible for her to do so.—Portland Evening Express.

TWO PICTURES, LOVE AND DUTY

Graphic Story of How An Erring Pastor Chose
the Former.

San Francisco, Thursday.—In a pitting rain and before daylight, the Rev. Jay Knobe Cooke, formerly pastor of the fashionable St. George church, at Hampstead, N. Y., and Floretta Whaley, the 17 year old heiress with whom he eloped eight months ago, deserting a wife, stole away to-day from the little flat which they had occupied at 1155 Greene street in this city, where they were discovered yesterday living under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Balcom, taking with them their baby boy.

The police declare that no request had been made to them to apprehend the couple and that the effort to be made to locate or detain them.

The discovery of Cooke and the girl was made through Capt. Cleary, of the Marine patrol agency, who met them as Mr. and Mrs. Balcom when they came here last June from Los Angeles, and recognized the girl's picture when it was published last week in connection with a despatch from Louisiana, stating that Cooke had deserted Floretta Whaley.

Yesterday eve a representative from a local newspaper called at the home where Cooke and his companion lived, Cooke, a Yale graduate, worked at painting and decorating, and if that was not abundant he did any manual work he could get. When the interviewer called yesterday, Balcom, or Cooke, admitted his identity, but sent the young mother and baby into another room, asking the reporter to lower his tone, that she might not learn of the discovery of their identity.

"My God, what an awakening from happiness," exclaimed Cooke, "all I want is a chance to get away. I don't mind Sing Sing or hell, but it is here. The child was born two months ago and the discovery and apprehension would kill the mother."

Pacing back and forth, Cooke told the reporter the story of his life and of his elopement with Miss Whaley.

"The inexorable law must be maintained," he said. "I have preached it so often I ought to know. There is nothing that will paint a black sheep white, but I have my reasons. For ten years I have kept silent. For the last eight months I have borne without a murmur, all the abuse, the vilest lies, that newspapers could concoct."

Cooke's father died when Cooke was five years old. He was adopted by an uncle and learned the trade of paper hanging and decorating. He worked his way through Yale and finally entered the ministry. Cooke told of his marriage and of his unhappy married life. He declared that his wife admitted to him that she had married him for no other reason than that it would prove a stepping stone to her social ambitions. He added that it would be "caddish to dilate on my marriage troubles."

"Then I woke to love and everything else was worthless. You know the end. On the one hand was a loveless wife, with money and position, wealth, and on the other love and poverty. I chose this." He pointed to the scantily furnished room.

"I don't prize myself for the step I took. It was weakness, it was unmanly, but I was only human and as I am to be judged by human beings it is but right that they know that I gave up all I had fought for and would now. All I ask is to be left alone. I am doing a man's work. I have sinned, but I have suffered. Now I beg the world to let me alone with my wife and child. I can live the life of a good citizen. They say I am a good decorator. I was kept at work long after the other men were let go during the financial stringency. I ask the world to let me be a painter, nothing more, to do a man's work and enjoy the serenity and happiness of the average man."

The only identification established so far of Gerald Balcom as the Rev. Cooke is his own admission. Cooke said he was afflicted with heart failure and sometimes he was on the verge of collapse during the interview. On the promise that Mrs. Balcom would not be apprised of the fact that their identity had been discovered, Cooke accompanied the reporter to a newspaper office to be sketched. On the way down town Cooke felted in the street car.

Cooke's neighbors spoke in the high terms of the pair. Mrs. S. M. Miles who lives in an adjoining apartment, said that she saw Cooke and his companion, or Mr. and Mrs. Balcom, as she knew them, leave their flat early this morning and go out in the storm. The man had a few pieces of baggage and the girl carried the baby closely wrapped.

FREDERICKTON, Wednesday.—On the court re-assembling after dinner the crown called a number of witnesses and when the court adjourned tonight seven had been examined. This array of the case will likely be closed tomorrow. The evidence this afternoon brought forth little new from that at the preliminary. All who gave evidence underwent a strict cross-examination at the hands of the prisoner's counsel, J. D. Hazen.

It is believed from Mr. Hazen's questions that the line of defence will be insanity. In cross-examining the woman Gardiner who made the arrest at McAdam and brought the prisoner to Fredericton, Mr. Hazen brought out the conversation the prisoner had with the policeman on the train.

David asked "What did I do?" When told he'd shot his wife, David said "I didn't know what I was doing."

The prisoner appeared in a sleepy mood taking not the least interest in anything.

Jack Powers of St. John, Capt. S. D. Porter of the 1st Canadian Mounted Police, and Mr. Martin of the Salvation Army, Dr. Butler and Policeman Gardiner gave evidence practically the same as at the preliminary examination. The revolver was shown and identified by Gardiner. He said he didn't think the action of pugilist Powers in knocking the prisoner down was necessary as the prisoner was at the time in custody.

Mr. Hazen asked Gardiner if he thought the prisoner could have escaped had he wanted to. Gardiner thought so. Mr. Hazen asked if such a place would be a good place to commit a murder, but Gardiner expressed no opinion.

Dr. Butler on the Stand.

Dr. Butler told of accompanying Mrs. David to Woodstock, and Kelly a Syrian said the woman said "I wanted to reconcile the couple said 'I won't go, I'm afraid he'll shoot me.' The jury expressed the feeling before adjourning that they would like the trial completed before Sunday, and evening sessions are likely.

BOSTON, Wednesday.—American tariff interferes with the trade and commerce of this country and the poor and uneducated masses of the motion between men. Monopoly is the one thing sought for at the present day by bankers, merchants and all men of business and never before has a protest been so needed," was the statement of President Elliot of Harvard in an address at the Boston Young Men's Christian Union last evening on "The Free Citizen."

He said that since the emancipation of slaves during the Civil war, freedom to a certain extent had been established. President Elliot maintained that in spite of the so-called freedom there is a "must" at every turn, an external "must" compelling us whether we will or not.

The speaker said in part: "The first great movement for liberty was not with political structures of the time but with religion and the worship of God when Protestantism was founded as a protest against the monopoly of spiritual grace. A passion for freedom from the dictates of the Roman Catholic church was the basis for the protest against Protestantism was formed for liberty."

He dwelt upon the actual liberties of today, the liberty of an individual concerning his thought and speech, the freedom of a man to change from one occupation to another, but he considered two reactions of liberty had taken place in the past few years and insisted that the tariff and labor unions were the cause.

He said, "The protest against monopoly has been going on for years, but was never so needed as at the present time. It matters not whether a man be banker or merchant, monopoly is the thing he seeks. The contention against monopoly is one of the greatest movements for freedom, namely religion, Milton's advocacy in the seventeenth century for free thought and speech, and the improved trade conditions in arts, trades and commerce, there is another and that is education."

"Even in education in years past there has been a lack of freedom. The better a public school becomes as a machine the less freedom from the teacher and the pupil. It is freedom for the bright scholar not to be forced to keep along with the dull one, and it is freedom for the teacher to teach as she thinks best."

SIXTEEN YEAR OLD MURDERER

O'Brien Confesses He Killed
Leclaire at Gretna,
Manitoba.

Gretna, Man., Thursday.—James O'Brien has made a complete confession of the murder of Arthur Leclaire, the Great Northern freeman. The sixteen year old boy finally gave out the details of the murder to J. C. Crawford, a Pinkerton detective, who has been working on the case. The confession came after he had been confronted with his bloody clothing and the hatchet with which the crime was committed, the bloody scarf and other evidences of his guilt. When the news was brought to the father of O'Brien, for years a resident of Neche and customs officer here, he broke down completely. Fred Leclaire, the father of the murdered man, was called in an endeavor to console him.

Detective Crawford, although eighteen years in the business, had quite a time getting the murderer to confess. He worked various schemes and was finally successful after picturing to the boy the certainty of his conviction and calling his attention to the great expense his father would be burdened in case he fought the case in the district court.

The following is the complete confession of young O'Brien:

"To J. C. Crawford, Pinkerton detective: On Sunday, December 22nd, Leclaire and I went to Gretna twice and drank each time. Coming back the second time both of us were quarrelling about who was the best man, and Leclaire said he could lick three O'Briens and I got mad. When he left Cooke's shop I made an excuse to go outside and I got a hatchet and we started for the rink. When we got down there he made some remark about fighting me and he put his foot behind me and threw me over. I got up and he hit me and I hit him with the hatchet and after I seen what I had done I hit him again and took his pocketbook and threw it in the river. After I realized what I had done I threw the money in the river. I mean Gardiner who made the arrest behind the house where the ice is kept. I threw the body over the bank and followed the body down the bank. I think I had told of him by the color and dropped him at the head of the dam in the river."

"JAMES O'BRIEN."
"I, James O'Brien, do voluntarily make a statement in my own handwriting and of my own free will, before witnesses J. C. Fielding and Geo. Roadhouse that the contents of the foregoing statement tell how I, James O'Brien, killed Arthur Leclaire on Sunday, December 22, 1907. I have written the above statement for the purpose of telling the truth, and have not shown or caused to be shown any falsehoods, and there was nobody implicated but myself."

GLAD IT DID
Some remarkable stories are being told about town and among the country people coming in of this simple, home-made mixture curing Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, and all the ailments of the blood.

By shaking well in a bottle one-half ounce Compound Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Serravallo. Take as a dose one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

No change need be made in your usual diet, but drink plenty of good water.

This mixture, writes one authority in a leading Philadelphia newspaper, has a peculiar tonic effect upon the kidneys, cleansing the blood, and forcing the eliminative tissues, forcing the kidneys to sift and strain from the blood the uric acid and other poisonous elements, removing rheumatism, Bladder and Urinary troubles in a short while.

A New York druggist who has had hundreds of calls for these ingredients since the first announcement in the newspapers last October stated that the people who once try it "swear by it," especially those who have Urinary and Kidney trouble and suffer with Rheumatism.

The druggists in this neighborhood say they can supply the ingredients, which are easily caulked in home. There is said to be no better blood-cleansing agent or system tonic known, and certainly none more harmless or simple to use.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.—The work of securing a jury to try Harry K. Thaw was half completed yesterday.

The original names of three hundred special service jurors had been exhausted at that hour and the customary night sitting was abandoned.

Two hundred additional talesmen have been ordered to report tomorrow morning. The oath of service was administered today to three men making six in all who have been finally accepted. The defense has now exercised eleven of the thirty challenges and the prosecution eight.

The sworn jurors in their respective positions are Charles E. Grammel, ship broker; Foreman, Arthur R. Voelting, baker; George A. Cory, dry goods; George Ruffolo, salesman; John W. Hellat, mineral water; and David E. Avensticht, manager.

The defense in the present trial is insured by the White family. In making out this case it will require delicate handling to show Thaw so mentally deranged at that time as not to know the nature or quality of his act and to show him mentally sound now.

FEAR YACHTSMEN WHO LEFT HALIFAX HAVE BEEN LOST.

BOSTON, Wednesday.—Grave disaster is feared for the Boston fishing schooner Fame, which sailed from Halifax fifteen days ago with a crew of amateur yachtsmen sent from here to bring the vessel down the coast. The run from Halifax under most conditions should not have taken more than a week, and it is now feared that the vessel may have gone down in the recent hurricanes that have come near sending big freighters to the bottom. The Fame was of the Nova Scotia coast when one of the crew was taken ill with smallpox. Capt. Doggett brought the fishing craft into Halifax, the sick man being sent to the hospital and the rest of the crew quarantined. Capt. Doggett and his men later came to this city by train. Capt. Nickerson, a skipper well known along Atlantic avenue and T. wharf, was delegated to bring the Fame to Boston. A number of young yachtsmen, whose names could not be obtained yesterday volunteered to assist Capt. Nickerson.

When the schooner sailed out of Halifax Dec. 20, every man aboard of her fully expected to reach Boston in time for Christmas. But the vessel has not been reported since then, and yesterday, notwithstanding the efforts to keep the details of the matter from becoming known, much keen anxiety was shown all along the waterfront, where Capt. Nickerson has been known for many years as a careful skipper.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.—Amazement is being shown on every hand, especially among the social leaders of New York, at the startling discovery that has just been made that Mrs. John Van Ness Roberts, society leader and friend of nobility, who died in her apartments of strychnine poisoning on Friday, was none other than the notorious woman swindler, Louise Vermeule, whose operations have several times placed her behind the bars. That the two women are identical there can be no doubt, for the woman who has been entertained in their homes or who have gathered at their dinners at the swell hotels, are loath to accept the proof.

At the last few years the woman who was known as the "Queen of the Tombs," who had been tried twice for forgery, and against whom seventy-one indictments appeared at the time of her trial, had wormed her way into the most exclusive social set in this city, hobnobbed with the nobility of England and Germany, got a seat in the Social Register and was probably would have succeeded in hiding her identity for many years if she had not swallowed the poison when she was shown and her swindling career was about to end in arrest.

None of the friends of Mrs. Roberts would believe yesterday that she was Louise Vermeule. It was hard for them to realize that the handsome vivacious brunette, who gave many entertainments in the Waldorf-Astoria, who seemed so wrapped up in her work, was the same woman who had been swindling men and women in various parts of the country when she was attending to her social or charitable duties. Gen. Wilson almost collapsed when he realized last night that the woman whom he had escorted to the Prince Louis' ball was a notorious swindler who had spent many months in the Tombs.

He had known her only as Mrs. Roberts and had believed she came of one of the best families in the country. Gen. Wilson said he had met her in the home of a prominent society woman, and that when she showed him a personal invitation from Prince Louis to the first royal ball given in New York, he had accepted it and as her escort he did not hesitate to do so.

Gen. Wilson said he did not imagine that the Mrs. Vermeule mentioned yesterday would be his escort to the ball. A little incident that happened on board the Drake confirmed the general's statement that he did not know the real character of the woman with him.

The reporter who recognized Mrs. Vermeule also was recognized by her. She had grown more plump than when he had seen her at the trial for forgery, and she wore jewels that matched those worn by the society leaders. Mrs. Vermeule noted the reporter and whispered:

"For God's sake don't tell! I'm on the level now."

Almost beyond belief was the career in this city in the last few years of the woman whose entire life had been lit into a series of crimes. No lady did she win the confidence of Gen. Wilson, who took her to theatres and suppers frequently and who introduced her to many of his military and naval friends, believing of course, as she was as she represented herself, but she also won the friendship of Baron Carl Stuart, a captain in the Royal Swedish Engineers Corps, who is in this city at present.

Two French noblemen visited her two or three times a week, and prominent financiers also were guests at her magnificent apartments.

MONTROSE OFF TO HER ASSISTANCE

Replaces the Lake Manitoba
In Trip to Take Mount
Royal's Passengers.

MONTREAL, Thursday.—A despatch from London says the Lake Manitoba will not take the Mount Royal's passengers to Canada, the Montrose being substituted. More beds are now being shipped to the main deck by the next sea while the emigrants regarded the event as a happy omen though a hurricane was raging at the time. The child was christened Joseph Royal, in honor of the subject of one of the charges against him as follows:—"I dare say you will have quite forgotten the writer and the unsettled accounts between us. I have purposely delayed the inevitable settling day till now, because I intend such to be a worthy issue between us till satisfied once for all with a purely financial settlement, provided you accept my decision promptly and frankly. Let me now see if you have learned from the past or not, or again regret when it was too late. There will be no threats made and no further letters, only a bill drawn against you and presented for payment, which you can refuse or honor if you choose. In the latter case I can only assure you that you will have full opportunity to tell me personally your reasons why you have refused."

Another letter, referring to the first, was also read. Counsel concluded by answering that the prisoner was the writer of the letters and said the question was whether they contained threats or menace.

Yon Veltheim was tried in Johannesburg on the charge of murdering Solly Joel's brother, but was acquitted on the ground that he acted in self-defence.

NEW YORK, Thursday.—One new sworn juror was added to the trial panel in the Thaw case today making seven in all selected from the four hundred talesmen summoned since the beginning of the second hearing on Monday. Another panel of 100 will report tomorrow morning.

Justice Dowling has announced that he will hold court on Saturday if necessary to complete the jury. At the luncheon recess today the box was filled with six permanent and six temporary jurors but peremptory challenges cleared it of all the latter. Just before adjournment at six o'clock when today's venire had been exhausted five temporary jurors had again been selected to fill the vacancy. But once more arbitrary challenges were used and all but one of the men on probation were allowed to go.

The sole survivor of the day, who took his place as trial juror number seven was Wm. F. Doolittle, chief clerk in the auditing department of the N. Y. Central Railroad. The rate of progress today was not gratifying either to the prosecution or the defense and better things are hoped for tomorrow. At the close of today's work the prosecution had employed fourteen of the thirty challenges allowed by law and the defense had expended nineteen. The court can in its discretion increase the number of challenges allowed each side and last year at the first trial Justice Fitzgerald did so.

Patrick McGuire, a hat manufacturer, furnished the only spice of today's proceedings by declaring that he had never heard of the case. Consequently he was disqualified from being on the jury. The case for the crown closed today and J. D. Hazen opened for the defense. He said their contention was that David's crime was manslaughter not murder. The case for the defense would show that David was born in Syria 35 years ago and came to this country twelve years ago, and three years later was married to his wife Julia. They had four children, two of them still living, one being only eighteen months old. On one occasion Julia ran away to Lawrence with another man, but David followed her, found her, forgave her again and took her back to Lowell once more. In May last she deserted her husband and children one more and went to Woodstock with Charles Nicholas. They were living in criminal intimacy with each other. It was shown by the crown's case that they were living in the same house together and the criminal intimacy would be proven by witnesses if necessary. There was a well defined branch of insanity known as mania transitoria. This might possibly come from a strong minded man, but those who were suffering from a predisposition to insanity were much more liable. The bulk of insanity cases were hereditary, and it would be shown that David's father had been subject to violent attacks of this kind.

PLOTTED AGAINST THE LIFE OF PAUL KRUGER IN AFRICA.

LONDON, Wednesday.—Carl Ludwig von Veltheim, alias Frank Kurtze, who was arrested in Paris three months ago and extradited on Dec. 28, charged with attempting to blackmail Solly Joel, a South African mining magnate, was again before the Guild Hall Police Court today. He has declared that Joel owed him $80,000 for an expedition he made to the Transvaal to organize a plot against President Kruger's life. Paul Kruger testified that he had never seen the prisoner except when he saw him in the dock at Johannesburg. Counsel read a letter written by Von Veltheim, which forms the subject of one of the charges against him as follows:—"I dare say you will have quite forgotten the writer and the unsettled accounts between us. I have purposely delayed the inevitable settling day till now, because I intend such to be a worthy issue between us till satisfied once for all with a purely financial settlement, provided you accept my decision promptly and frankly. MR. MALCOLM NOT ASKING INCREASE

Does Not Want Bonds of His Road Increased From
$8,000 to $10,000.

FREDERICKTON, Thursday.—The suspension bridge matter was discussed today and plans of different styles of structure will be prepared. The premier said that options were now being secured on the different provincial branch roads. No reports had been made yet. The premier stated that Thomas Malcolm had not as yet made a request to have the amount of the bonds guaranteed by the International Roadway increased from $8,000 to $10,000 per mile. In connection with Mr. Malcolm's visit the premier said that he was here to arrange about a bond guarantee at the rate of $8,000 per mile on work done to date and regarding payment of subsidy on the same. The statement presented to the government, however, showed work costing in excess of $1,200,000 had already been done on the International.

C. L. DRESE, M. D.
Specialist in Throat and Lung Troubles Endorses Vinol.

He writes: "In cases where the curative influence of cod liver oil is needed, I prescribe Vinol, which I find to be far more palatable than other cod liver preparations. I am convinced from my own experience and from a knowledge of the nature of Vinol, that it is a worthy cod liver preparation in which a physician may have every confidence." C. L. Dreese, M. D., Goshen, Ind.

Such testimony furnished further evidence to the people of Campbellton, that their delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, does all we claim for it.

As a body builder and strengthener for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled. This is because Vinol is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod's livers, combining with peptonate-of-iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

We ask the people of Campbellton to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. A. McG. McDonald, Druggist, Campbellton, N. B.

Colonial Secretary of Transvaal

Union of Races.

THE COUNTRY'S FUTURE

COLONIAL SECRETARY SMUTS.

JOHANNESBURG, ...
Mr. Smuts, colonial secretary, speaking at the Parliamentary Debating Society's dinner, declared that Cecil Rhodes and Paul Kruger were the dominating personalities in South Africa.

He spoke in glowing terms of heroic actions by British and Dutch in South Africa, which, he said, were the finest inheritance of the country. The people were determined not to look to the ghost of racialism and sectionalism but would appeal to what was best in each other.

When the question of the reorganization of the volunteers was before him involving the elimination of names glorious in the history of the Transvaal, he refused to allow the disappearance of the Imperial Light Horse. "That name," he continued, "has a right to survive in the history of the Transvaal."

Mr. Smuts added that the Boers and British must unite to exterminate one another. They would unite.

Sir Percy Fitzpatrick made a speech in which he said that the spirit which pervaded the Transvaal Parliament during the last session was one of praiseworthy dignity and restraint. The country members, he declared, would have been an ornament to any legislature in the world.

CARNIVAL PROVES A GRAND SUCCESS

Miss Edith Nelson Captures The First Prize for Ladies

(From Tuesday's Graphic.)
The first carnival of the season, held at the rink last evening, was one of the most largely attended and prettiest ever held in Campbellton.

The rink was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting and the citizens band under the leadership of Mr. A. J. Watson rendered a fine program of music.

There was a large crowd on the ice and the costumes worn were very attractive. At 9.30 a program consisting of two races was commenced. The first was between Austin McDonald and Frank Peterson. It was over a half mile course and was won quite handsily by McDonald.

The second race was also over a half-mile course and was between Wendell Thompson and Norman LeGouffe. LeGouffe was an easy winner.

At the end of the races the prizes were distributed. The presentations were made by H. J. Miller of Campbellton, Ohio and W. C. Hitchon, inspector of the Grand Trunk ties here.

The ladies' prize went to Miss Edith Nelson. Her costume was of white covered with pop corn.

The first prize for gentlemen went to W. Comeau. His costume was a leucis uniform. The second prize for gentlemen went to Milton Doherty who appeared as a bull.

Other costumes particularly worthy of mention were those of Mrs. A. H. Ingram, as Babble, in "The Little Minister"; Mrs. (Dr.) Mann, as a representative of the North Pole; she was very prettily dressed in white and carried a pole surmounted by a star; Clyde Lutes as a Chinaman; Fred Sharpe, as the chimney of 1802; Miss Ethel Malcolm, as a fencing girl; Miss King of River du Loup as a Japanese girl, and Miss Jean McLatchey as a butterfly.

Gallant was walking over the tops of the cars from the rear to the engine near Red Pine when he slipped on the icy surface and fell between the cars. He was missed shortly afterwards and the train was stopped. He was found lying alongside the track with one leg off. He was taken to a house at Red Pine where he lingered until last evening.

An inquest will be held today after which the remains will be taken to the home of the deceased at Coal Branch. Gallant was twenty-four years of age and unmarried.

(From Tuesday's Graphic.)
On Sunday afternoon Coroner Meshegan of Bathurst viewed the remains of Mark Gallant at Red Pine and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Gallant was found lying alongside the track at Red Pine Sunday morning with one leg severed from his body.

It is supposed he fell from the top of one of the cars on Conductor Delaney's east bound special while discharging his duty as brakeman on that train.

As far as the Graphic is able to learn there is supposition and speculation only for this.

No Sworn Testimony was Taken, the Coroner Deeming It Unnecessary.

Whether sworn evidence would have thrown any additional light on the manner of Gallant's death we do not know; but as it stands now the public is hopelessly at sea in the matter.

If, as has been stated, Gallant met his death by slipping on the icy surface of the top of the car, the matter demands a searching investigation. A man in no matter what railway service he is employed, should not be compelled to endanger his life in the performance of his duty—and this is precisely what Gallant was compelled to do if the report of the icy condition of the cars is true.

There are altogether too many fatal accidents among train hands on railroads in this part of Canada. In no instance should a death be allowed to pass without a most searching investigation on the part of the coroner whose duty it is to hold one.

No stone should be left unturned to attach the blame exactly where it belongs.

BRIEF SKETCH OF AN INTERESTING CAREER

(By Rev. J. M. McLeod, M.A.)
Rev. T. Nicholson, passed away peacefully at his home River Charles on the morning of the 8th inst. after a few days illness, at the ripe age of 84 years. He retained his vigor of mind and body to the last. Mr. Nicholson was born in Fifehire, Scotland and received his collegiate education in Edinburgh. He studied theology in the Free Church College under Principal Cunningham, Rabbo Duncan, and Professors Buchanan and Bannerman. As a teacher in Edinburgh and as a student of theology he sat with great delight under the teaching of Drs. Candlish, Guthrie, and Moody-Stuart. He came to N. B. under the direction of the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland, was ordained in Fredericton March 11th, 1858 and consequently in the 50th year of his ministry. Had he lived a few months longer the Presbytery of the Miramichi would have celebrated his jubilee in the ministry.

For a few years he labored as a missionary between Campbellton, Dalhousie, Eucumine and other points. In 1862 he accepted a call to River Charles and Jacquet River and in 1877 New Mills was added and he continued to minister faithfully to the united congregation until Nov. 10th, 1888 when he was compelled to retire from the active duties of the ministry owing to temporary ill health. For over twenty years since his retirement he has been a tower of strength in every department of Christian work. As a Sunday School worker he held a prominent position. He was an earnest and evangelical and forcible preacher and a sympathetic and faithful pastor. He was a man of a warm heart, cheerful spirit, strong intellect and wide learning. For some years he discharged the duties of inspector of schools in Restigouche Co. together with his congregational work. His visits to the schools were pleasing to the scholars and stimulating to the teachers.

His funeral on Friday the 10th inst. was largely attended. The services in the house and church were conducted by Revs. J. M. McLeod, Wm. McNeil and J. H. Kirk. A memorial service was held on Sabbath when the pastor made fitting reference to his Christian character and useful work.

A large circle of friends deeply sympathized with Mrs. Nicholson and family in their bereavement.

MISS MALONEY'S FARCE MARRIAGE IS NOW ABOUT TO BE ANNULLED

NEW YORK, Monday.—Martin Maloney of Philadelphia made known through a formal statement to-night that proceedings had been instituted to obtain a judgment declaring that there had been no marriage between his daughter, Helen Eugenie, and Arthur Herbert Osborn, the young New York broker, who, according to the county records, were technically united in marriage at Mamaroneck, Dec. 28, 1905. Peticious names were given to the admissions of the young people that the two never lived together. Mr. Maloney does not go into details in his announcement, but it is understood that the present action is based upon the admissions of the young people that the idea of their union was conceived in the spirit of fun and that the marriage was a mockery.

Subsequent to the ceremony Miss Maloney accepted the attentions of Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, who had been a guest at the Maloney home. On Oct. 1 last Clarkson and Miss Maloney simultaneously dropped out of sight, and were next heard from in London, where Miss Maloney was found living at a hotel and Clarkson in bachelor quarters.

(From Tuesday's Graphic.)
Application will be made at the next session of the legislature to incorporate a company with power to build and operate a railway from the St. Simon road, a point on the Carquet railway, the Intercolonial or any Pauls.

The necessity of this road has long been felt as the inhabitants have been compelled to haul their fish and farm produce eight miles to the nearest railway station.

Its total length will be three miles and it will traverse a thickly settled district containing one hundred and twenty families. It will pass through the most prosperous fishing and farming district in the parish of Caraquet.

A deep water wharf will be built in connection with the road. The wharf will prove a great convenience to the section as there is no wharf of any description there.

The company will seek power to amalgamate with or lease to the Carquet railway, the International or any other road.

Government Engineer Stead of Chatham was in town yesterday. It was his intention to make a survey for the wharf extension, which will in all probability be commenced early this spring, but owing to the ice not being made, he was unable to do so.

He will be up again, however, as soon as conditions are favorable and will make soundings and prepare plans.

The extension will be some 300 feet east of the present wharf, and will add greatly to the already good shipping facilities of the port.

The Engineer also looked over the general repairs carried on by Foreman Martin, and found them in good order. Spile driving is about completed but there are yet a few minor repairs to be made. The fence slip will be enlarged as soon as the ice moves next spring.

RICH SPINSTER IS FOULY MURDERED

Massachusetts Madman Attacks his Landlady in Apartment.

BOSTON, Saturday.—By the tragic death of Miss Mary McCarthy at 27 Shirley street, Roxbury, yesterday, the family of Labor Leader Dennis J. Driscoll, for the second time was plunged into mourning through the alleged act of a madman assassin.

Hardly had the joy of Driscoll's recovery from the grievous wound, which he received at the State House by the madman assassin, Steele, turned grief from his threshold, when yesterday came the crushing news that Miss McCarthy, a near relative, had fallen the supposed victim of another madman's bullet.

Although the details surrounding the sudden death of Miss McCarthy are yet somewhat obscure, the police have arrested Michael H. Norton, 60 years of age, a tenant of Miss McCarthy's, and he is now charged with murder.

Norton lived on the third floor of the house, 27 Shirley street, and he is believed to have been actuated by an insane impulse to commit the crime. For more than a year he has been called a "queer actor" by his neighbors.

When the police forced an entrance to his rooms after the shooting, they found a small sized arsenal in the flat. There were three revolvers, a musket and sundry other weapons scattered about, while the expostulating man explained the presence of so many tools of war by claiming that he feared that yegmen were hanging about his home.

Neighbors saw Miss McCarthy at various times yesterday morning, and her movements are accounted for up to within a short time of the shooting, which is calculated to have taken place about 11 o'clock.

Five minutes after the Norton wildly rang the bell of the Leonard flat on the second floor. Mrs. Catherine Leonard responded, and in the lower hall met Norton, who excitedly asked her to come and see what he had found.

Lying on the floor of the vestibule leading out of the hallway was the body of Miss McCarthy, with a bullet wound close behind and just below her right ear. She was dead.

Mrs. Leonard called her neighbors, and in the meantime Patrick Leonard, a milkman, had arrived at the house. During the hurly, hurly Norton went to his rooms and locked himself in.

Norton has three children, one of whom his daughter Teresa, was sent to the Austin Farm Insane Hospital two weeks ago. Patrolman William Joyce, of Station 3, whose wife is a cousin of Miss McCarthy's, was notified of the shooting, and as they are the nearest relatives in this city, they will care for the body.

Mary McCarthy, who was 40 years of age, lived alone in her little flat and always cared for her property interests. She was a widow and was worth in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Medical Examiner Stedman, who viewed the body, said that he could not give an opinion of the shooting until after he had held a post mortem examination at the City Hospital this morning. He said that to all appearances the shot was fired at close range and that death was probably instantaneous.

MONCTON, Monday.—President Morse of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Chief Engineer Wood of the same road arrived in Moncton this afternoon and left this evening to inspect the Central Railway with the object of buying or leasing the same. Their car was detached and taken to the new I. C. R. shops and also a point where the Grand Trunk Pacific branches off from the I. C. R. north of Moncton, where they inspected the work.

Gordon Murphy and his wife presented themselves at the police station claiming that they had walked here from Bangor, Maine, where Mrs. Murphy had gone to attend her brother's funeral. They said they were enroute to Sydney and were asking for assistance.
