WHEAT KING PATTEN CLEANED UP MILLION

Closing Day a Very Quiet Affair
and Big Operator Complete Master.

Chicago, May 31.—What is generally conceded to have been the most successful wheat deal in the annals of the Chicago Board of Trade closed Saturday and what is symptomatic of modern speculative conditions closed with a note of quietude. The king of the wheat market, James A. Patten, who has been in the city for several days, was not to be seen in the hall of his headquarters, the Chicago Board of Trade, during the closing hours of the session held May 31. The price of wheat at the close of the session was $1.34 per bushel. Through his pit clerk he bought or sold at that price, for the most part purely theoretically. He did take in a few thousand bushels from some "trailer," but mainly he disposed of about half a million to shorts who had hoped against hope, to the last moment, and then "took their medicine."

It was all as tranquil as a summer sea, really, rather than usual. Few were in the pit, and Mr. Patten was not one of them. In the gallery, fured by the history of spectacular finishes to such bull campaigns as those of "Old Hooter," John Cudahy, John Leiter, Coster Martin and others, they gathered a dense crowd, many of them women.

In the offices of Bartlett, Patten & Co., Mr. Patten sat facing the blackboard, chewing gum vigorously, his eyes glued on the quotations of options other than May. At the close of the market every employee of the Bartlett-Patten house was given a bonus of ten per cent of their annual salaries. The price at which wheat closed did not represent a fictitious value. It was, according to traders, consistent with the price of the cereal the world over. Mr. Patten might have put the price at $5 and remaining shorts would have been compelled to pay it or acknowledge bankruptcy. The bull leader, however, according to his friends, continued consistent to his assertion that he had no wish to manipulate prices, but only to secure the legitimate profits of his foresight.

Mr. Patten backed with his money his judgment that there was less wheat in the world than was generally believed. Wall street sold short, as did some influential western speculators, but Patten held to the last and only a few days ago May wheat sold at $1.35, the highest price in eleven years. Letting, who it is said is fighting himself, was compelled in the end to care for 33,000,000 bushels of actual wheat. Mr. Patten has only 4,000,000 bushels to merchandise.

That Mr. Patten has made a fortune of $1,000,000 seems a conservative estimate. The losses, it is said, have fallen most likely on professional speculators.

THE TEXTILE TROUBLES.

Montreal, May 30.—Further trouble is anticipated between the Dominion Textile Company and its employees, who still refuse to accept the finding of the board of conciliation, under the Lemieux act.

The spinners have decided to "take up the fight, and will send a delegation tomorrow to wait on the officials of the company.

After a series of meetings the spinners have decided that if the company refuses to meet their demands in a satisfactory manner they will go on strike on Thursday next, which will tie up the mills at St. Henri and Hochelaga.

In such event the spinners state they have assurances that the operators at Magog will also join in the strike.

FRENCH TRAIN ROBBERY

Young Man Who Stole 50,000 Francs From His Fiancee.

Berlin, May 30.—The trial has concluded here of Diego de Campos, the young Portuguese whose arrest last year on the charge of having stolen 50,000 francs from a family at Trouville caused a sensation at the time owing to the peculiar circumstances attending the robbery. The accused was found guilty and was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude, to be followed by ten years' expulsion from France.

In August last year, Campos, who at the time went under the name of Gusmano, gained the confidence of a family spending a holiday at Trouville, and became engaged to one of the daughters. Soon afterwards he disappeared, and money and shares to the value of 50,000 francs were missing.

The fiancée's sister pursued Campos, and on finding him made him restore almost the whole of the stolen property. The young man entered a train with her to return to Trouville, but in the compartment he attacked the lady with a knife and revolver, and fled with the money and shares, and made off. He was subsequently arrested at Havre.

FLYING COLUMNS
AGAINST MULLAH

Somali Campaign Will Commence Next Month.

Aden, May 30.—Colonel Gough, according to present arrangements, will begin military operations next month against the Somaliland mullah, who has continued to harass the friendly tribes.

It is understood that the operations will take the form of flying columns, and simple native troops on the spot are being supplied with white officers.

The chief difficulty is, as it has always been, transport. British agents have been buying animals all along the Red Sea, but prices have been high, particularly for camels. The Emperor Menelek has, moreover, forbidden the export of these animals from his territory.

It is thought that Sir Reginald Wingate, who has arrived in the country from Cairo, will, from his experience of Sudan "drives," be able to give Colonel Gough some useful advice.

Somalia is the base of the new operations, which will cover a wide area. The British Government has for some time been collecting information as to the situation, particularly along the north-western Somali border, and the authorities are very hopeful of success.

MAJOR DAWES DEAD

Was First to Plant Queen's Colors on Crimean Soil.

Ottawa, May 30.—Major Frederick Harris Dawes, late of the Sixty-third Regiment, and a civil servant, died today. He was the last surviving Canadian who held a commission in the British army during the Russian war in the east, and jumped overboard from his boat to be the first to plant the Queen's colors on the soil of Russia proper at the Crimea.

He was probably one of the last surviving descendants of Gen. Sir Isaac Brock, tracing his connection through his mother. He was born at Halifax, N. S., in 1838, and gazetted in England in 1855. He wrote his "Recollections of the Crimea Campaign," recently published.

The deceased had played with the elder Sothorn at Halifax, and led the theatricals at Government House here during the Marquis of Lorne's time.

COUNT ZEPPELIN BREAKS RECORDS

Makes Thrilling Flight Across Germany of 456 Miles

A MARVELLOUS FEAT

German Inventor in a New Dirigible Twenty-two Hours in Air With Crew of Seven.

Berlin, May 30.—Count Zeppelin, whose remarkable performances in his first airship brought unbounded honors to the inventor, today accomplished the most striking feat in his career. He guided his Zeppelin II. from Friedrichshafen, a distance of more than 456 miles, without landing. The journey lasted 22 hours, and so far as is known tonight Count Zeppelin is still in the air on the return journey to Friedrichshafen. He has already beaten all records for dirigible balloons, with the opportunity of greatly improving the performance.

It was announced and widely distributed in special editions of the newspapers that the count would come to Berlin and land at the Tempelhof parade grounds. Hundreds of thousands gathered here this afternoon. The Emperor and Empress, several of the princes and the leading military officials and officers were present, and towards evening searchlights were set to work in anticipation of the approach of the airship. Soldiers kept an enormous space cleared until 10:30 o'clock at night, when a dispatch from Bittorf announced that the airship was returning to the starting point at Friedrichshafen, which caused the most intense disappointment.

A Wonderful Trip.

Count Zeppelin, who personally was in charge of the airship, and whose hand was on the tiller, during the greater part of the journey, had allowed a word to be made public relative to his intention to undertake an endurance trip.

It was, however, common knowledge that he purposed to seize the first favorable opportunity to proceed to Berlin in his newest craft, Zeppelin III, which was built to replace the one destroyed near Echterdingen last year.

The voyage began under rather unfavorable conditions. There was a low-lying sky, rain clouds and a strong side wind when the airship left the floating hall shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The residents did not pay much attention to this, as they were accustomed to night flights, and when the great ship took the air at 9:42 there was not a cheer to speed her on her way. The ship ascended directly for a few hundred feet, and then, over the town of Friedrichshafen, proceeded northward. Early in the morning the people of Theuchlingen, a small city in Central Bavaria, were awakened by the noise of the propellers of the craft, which was passing slowly at a low altitude. At this point the count dropped out a card, divulging his intention to proceed north. This was the first occasion he had journeyed over Bavaria, and his arrival an hour and a half later at Neuremberg caused the greatest surprise to thousands of pleasure-seekers who were preparing for the holiday excursion.

Heads for Leipzig.

The ship manoeuvred over the city and then a card was thrown out stating that a greater amount of water and benzine had been used than was expected, and the craft would descend to the edge of Lake Dutzentich to replenish the water supply. This, however, was not carried out, owing to the large number of boats on the lake. The count continued his cruise inland without interruption in a direct line towards Berlin, passing over several towns at a low altitude, amid the cheers of the populace, until he reached the frontiers of Saxony, where the airship was headed straight for Leipzig.

Telegrams received there from the south indicated that Count Zeppelin would make a landing, and the entire population waited for several hours in the streets and open spaces to greet him. Instead of landing the count piloted his craft through a series of manoeuvres for half an hour, coming at times comparatively close to the tops of the buildings. He then went on, crossing Halle to Bittorf. No time was wasted there, and to everybody's surprise, the airship, after making a great circle, turned again and sailed to the south. In the meantime the military authorities at Berlin were absolutely without advice as to the plans of the count.

Major Gross, commander of the army headquarters, said that no arrangements had been made for the landing of the airship at Tegel, the military balloon headquarters. The local authorities, however, learned from private dispatches that the airship was approaching, and so informed the Emperor and princes. Orders were given to prepare a space in the Tempelhof field. This was surrounded by lines of police and troops, and virtually the entire population of the capital swarmed thither and waited on tiptoe of expectation and excitement until long after dark. Then a special newspaper spread the depressing news of the airship's return. This the crowd at first refused to give credence to, but finally dispersed.

With Count Zeppelin in the airship were two engineers and a crew of seven.

MOBBED BY WOMEN.

Washington, Pa., May 30.—George Enghart, a coal miner, charged with slandering women, was driven today from the town of Manifold, near here, by a mob of 150 women and girls.

For two miles he was beaten with pick handles and other weapons. A posse saved him from death by getting him into a buggy, driving him to a street car, and placing him aboard, with the warning not to return. He was found tonight in a dying condition in the woods.

UNCLE SAM SCARED BY CANADIAN FARMER

Senate Raising Grain Duties To Keep Out Our Produce.

Washington, May 31.—How to keep the products of Canadian farmers and fishermen from entering into competition with those of the United States, was the principal work of the senate at a two-hour sitting today.

The duty on barley was one of the principal matters under discussion, and in spite of protests moved by Senators Beveridge and Root, the duty on barley was increased from 25 cents a bushel, as proposed by the House, to 30 cents a bushel, as recommended by the committee on finance. The tax on hops was advanced. The House had made the duty 15 cents, while the committee had formerly advanced it to 15 cents. Today the committee brought in an amendment making the rate 20 cents.

Senator Root spoke against the increase from 25 to 30 cents per bushel. He believed that 20 cents was more than of prohibitive duty. Mr. Beveridge declared that he would vote against the increase, while Senator Aldrich upheld the action of the committee in increasing the House rate. Senator Hepburn also defended the rate of 30 cents as warranted. In view of conditions that exist in Canada which make for the production of cereals at a very low cost.

After the discussion the senate amendment was adopted by a vote of 48 to 28.

The duty on potatoes was made 45 cents per bushel instead of 40 cents, and the duty on the shell was advanced from three-quarters of a cent a pound to 25 per cent ad valorem, on motion of Senator Piles, who has an industry in bivalves to protect against Canadian competitors.

That there should be a duty of 20 per cent on raw cotton, merely for revenue, was advocated by Senator Bacon, who stated that from this source would be derived $4,000,000 annually if his amendment should be adopted. He finally agreed to postpone further consideration of his proposed duty until Monday. Lemons were the subject of an extended debate.

Mr. Root spoke for the New York lemon consumers, insisting that the rate of 1½ cents per pound, as fixed by the finance committee, was too high. Mr. Flint spoke for the lemon growers, supporting the advance. The scheduled vote on the amendment was adjourned.

The report sent by the German Government showing wages in Germany was the subject of extended debate for over two hours after the senate met today. Mr. Aldrich, disavowing any intention to be severe in his characterization, said that any Government which transmits its own views of the views of its manufacturers to influence legislation on the tariff renders itself liable to be regarded as "impertinent." After considerable acrimonious debate, a message from President Taft ended the discussion, as it accompanied the very statement on German wages that had been discussed, and Mr. Aldrich, saying he would promptly have it translated into English, assurance was given that it would soon be printed for the information of everyone.

Mr. Aldrich offered an amendment making the 25 per cent ad valorem duty on biscuits applicable to unsweetened biscuits and fixing a duty of 60 per cent ad valorem on sweetened biscuits.

Everything She Attended SEEMED A BURDEN TO CARRY.

HAD STOMACH TROUBLE
FOUR YEARS.

When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertions of the gastric juice have been confined entirely to removing the unassimilated undigested portions of food which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, thereby only giving the blood a small percentage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health and strength to the debilitated system.

Mrs. D. A. Francis, Rossland, B.C., writes: "I was suffering from stomach trouble of the worst kind for about four years. Everything I ate seemed a burden to carry. I always arose in the morning with a sickening and feverish taste in my mouth and was also troubled with swellings in my hands and feet, which my physician said was due to the disordered state of my stomach. I tried everything that was procurable, and also consulted two or three physicians, but could find no relief until one of my neighbors told me of a wonderful cure by Burdock Blood Bitters. I used six or seven bottles and am now perfectly cured. I wish to recommend B.B.B. to anyone who may be so unfortunate as I was."

A Prince of Sinners

By Phillips Oppenheim.
Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Malerator," "A Makka," "The History," etc.

"From what he told me," his vis-age continued, handing again his cigar case, and looking steadily into the fire, "he seems to have left England with the secret determination never to return. But why I do not know. One thing is certain. His mental state was not altogether healthy. His desire for solitude was almost a passion. Towards the end, however, his mind was clear enough. He told me about your mother and you, and he handed me
all the papers, which I subsequently sent to London. He spoke of no trouble, and his transition was quite peaceful."

"It was a cruel ending," Brooks said, quietly. "There were people in London whom he had befriended who would have worked their passage out and faced any hardships to see him.
And my mother, notwithstanding his desertion, believed in him to the last."

"There was a moment's intense silence.
This visitor who had come so ungan-gly to all appearance a man not easily to be moved. Yet Brooks fantized that the long white fingers were reminding, and that the strange quiet of his features was of intense self-repression. His tone when he spoke again, however, was clear, and almost indifferent."

"I feel," he said, "that it would have been only decently courteous of me to have sought you out before, although I have, as you see, nothing whatever to add to the communications I sent
you. But I have not been a very long time in England, and I have a very evil habit of putting off things concerning which there is no urgency. I called at Ascoug's, and learned that you were in practice in Medchester. I am now living for a short time not far from here, and reading of the election,
I drove in tonight to attend one of the meetings—I scarcely cared which. I heard your name, saw you on the platform, and called here, hoping to find you."

"He was very kind," Brooks said.

"He felt curious to see me," Brooks said. "He felt curious to see me. This sudden upheaval of a past, which he had never properly understood affected him strangely."

"I gathered from Mr. Ascoug that you were left sufficient means to pay for your education, and also to start
you in life," his visitor continued.

"Yours is considered to be an overcrowded profession, but I am glad to understand that you seem likely to make your way."

"Brooks thanked him absently."

"From your position on the platform tonight I gather that you are a politician?"

"Scarcely that," Brooks answered.

"It was fortunate enough to be appointed agent to Mr. Henslow owing to the illness of another man. It will help me in my profession."

"The visitor rose to his feet. He stood with his hands behind him, looking at the younger man. And Brooks suddenly remembered that he did not even know his name."

PATTERN DEPARTMENT,
LONDON ADVERTISER.

"You will forgive me," he said, also rising, "if I have seemed a little dazed.
I am very grateful to you for coming.
I have always wanted more than anything in the world to meet some one who saw my father after he left England. There is so much which even now seems mysterious with regard to his disappearance from the world. I fear that you will never discover more than you have done from me,"
was the quiet reply. "Your father had been living for years in profound solitude when I found him. Frankly, I considered from the first that his mind was unhinged. Therein I fancy lies the whole explanation of his silence and his voluntary disappearance. I am assured, of course, that there was nothing in England to make his absence desirable."

"There was nothing," Brooks declared with conviction. "That I can personally vouch for. His life as a police court missionary was the life of a militant martyr's, the life of a saint. The urgent advice of his physicians alone led him to embark upon that voyage. He left before he had sufficiently recovered to be safely trusted alone. By the bye," Brooks continued, "after a moment's hesitation, 'you have not told me your name, whom I have to thank for this kindness. Your letters from Canada were not signed.'"

"There was a short silence. From outside came the sound of the pawing
of horses' feet and the jingling of harnesses."

"I was a fellow-traveller in that great unpeopled world," the visitor
said, "and there was nothing but common humanity in anything I did. I lived out there as Philip Ferringshaw, here I have to add my title, the Marquis of Arranmore. I was a younger son, and I passed along the little passage, Kingston Brooks returned to his little room, and threw himself back into his easy chair. Truly this had been a wonderful day."

CHAPTER IV.

A question for the Country

For the first time in many years it seemed certain that the Conservatives had lost their hold upon the country.
The times were ripe for a change of government. An ill-conducted and ruinous war had drained the empire of its surplus wealth, and every known industry was suffering from an almost paralyzing depression—Medchester,
outside came the sound of the pawing
of horses' feet and the jingling of harnesses. Many of the largest factories were standing idle, a great majority of the remainder were being worked at half or three-quarters time. Thoughtful men, looking years ahead, saw in the cloud, which even now was threatening enough, grow blacker and blacker, and shuddered at the thought of the tempest which before long must break
over the land.

Meanwhile, the streets
were filled with unemployed, whose demeanor day by day grew less and less pacific. People asked one another anxiously, still pronounced themselves helpless to move without the aid of legislation. For the first time for years protection was openly spoken of from a political point of view.

Henslow, a shrewd man and a politician of some years' standing, was one of the first to read the signs of the times, and rightly to appreciate them. He had just returned from a lengthened visit to the United States, and what he had seen there he kept at first very much to himself. But at a small committee meeting held when his election was still a matter of doubt, he unbosomed himself at last to some effect.

"The vote we want," he said, "is the vote of those people who are losing their bread, and who see ruin and starvation coming in upon them. I mean the middle-class manufacturers and the operatives who are dependent upon them. I tell you where I think that as a nation we are going wrong. We fixed once upon a great principle, and we nailed it to our mast—for all time.
That is a mistake. Absolute free trade, such as is at present our national policy, was a magnificent principle in the days of Cobden—but the times have changed. We must change with them.
That is where the typical Englishman falls. It is a matter of temperament.
He is too slow to adapt himself to changing circumstances."

There was a moment's silence. These were ominous words. Every one felt that they were not lightly spoken.
Henslow had more behind. A prominent manufacturer, Harrison by name, interposed from his place.

"You are aware, Mr. Henslow," he said, "that many a man has lost an assured seat for a more guarded speech than that. For generations even a whisper of the sort has been counted heresy—especially from our party."

"Maybe," Henslow answered, "but I am reminded of this, Mr. Harrison.
The pioneers of every great social change have suffered throughout the whole of history, but the man who has selected the proper moment and struck hard, has never failed to win his reward. Now I am no novice in politics."

NOTED DUMA MAN DEAD.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—Ossip Y.

Pergament, of Odessa, a member of the Duma for Ekabon Province, was against whom the Minister of Justice

yesterday announced proceedings

would be instituted, charging him with complicity in the escape from Russia

in 1907, of Olga Stein, died today from heart failure.

He was one of the most noted leaders of the Jews, and an authority on the Hebrew question in Russia. He was a leader of the Constitutional Democratic party, and one of the most prominent members of the Russian bar, acting as an expert for his party
in judicial affairs.

M. Pergament was the attorney for Mme. Stein at her first trial. She was charged with having committed a series of embezzlements and forgeries,
and, it is said, when he became convinced of the hopelessness of the de-

and I am going to make a prophecy.
Years ago the two political parties
were readjusted on the Irish question.
Every election which was fought was simply on these lines—it was upon the principle of home rule for Ireland, and the severance of that country from the united kingdom, or the maintenance of the union. Good! Now, in more recent times, the South African war and the realization of what our colonies could do for us has introduced a new factor. Those who have believed in a doctrine of expansion have called themselves "Imperialists," and those who have favored less wide-reaching ideals, and perhaps given more attention to home matters, have been christened "Little Englanders."
Many elections have been fought out on these lines, if not between two men absolutely at variance with one another on the question, still on the matter of degree. Now, I am going to prophecy.
I say that the next readjustment of parties, and the time is not far ahead,
will be on the tariff question, and I believe that the controversy on this matter, when once the country has laid hold of it, will be the greatest political event of this century. Listen, gentlemen, I do not speak without having given this question careful and anxious thought, and I tell you that I can see it coming."

WILTON GROVE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Summer Meeting Held in the Presbyterian Church—Some Interesting Addresses.

The Wilton Grove Branch of Women's Institute held their summer
meeting in the Presbyterian Sunday School room last week. The attendance was very good, and most interesting addresses were given by the visiting delegates, Miss Carter, of Guelph, and Mrs. Woelard, of Forest. The former took as her subject, "Food Values," illustrated by chart, and the latter
"The Home," Miss Carter also gave a demonstration of coffee and cocoa making, and Mrs. Woelard exhibited many beautiful pieces of needlework. Miss Maggie E. Nichol favored the audience with a solo. At the close of the programme light refreshments were served, and altogether a most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

The regular meetings of the institute are held the first Thursday of each month, to which all the ladies of the surrounding district are cordially invited.

A QUEEN WITH TETANUS

Dyed Her Hair To Become Blonde and Trouble Follows.

Rome, May 31.—Both former Queen Margherita and the Duke of Aosta are seriously ill here. The former queen has been ill for over a month with spasmodic contractions of the muscles of the face and neck, with symptoms of obscure artificial tetanus. Every effort has been made to hide the real nature of the disease, especially its cause, which is said to have been a poisonous hair dye which was freely
used by the former queen who prided herself on the light color of her hair, which is naturally dark. It is now turning white. The king visits her daily. Several times he and Queen Helena have been summoned at night,
but the ex-queen's recovery is now not depaired of, though it is feared she will be a lifelong invalid.

The Duke of Aosta is suffering from bronchial pneumonia. His condition was so serious that his wife, who was not on speaking terms with him, came on the king's orders to be reconciled to him. His condition, however, improved, and the duchess returned to Naples.

FARMS FOR THE HOBO

Ontario to Make "Mr. Dusty Rhodes"
of Some Use.

Toronto, May 31.—The Provincial Government has under consideration important plans for providing improved prison accommodation throughout Ontario. The necessity for building is emphasized by the enormous travelling bills presented for transferring prisoners to Toronto and the crowded condition here.

It is reported unofficially that important constructive proposals may be considered. These will probably comprise in addition to the erection of permanent prison farms on similar lines to those to be adopted in connection with the new Central, the utilizing of several temporary jails in the districts now being developed for short-term prisoners.

At the present time the Central is overcrowded, and many prisoners are waiting idle in the county jails. It is believed the Government has in view
a plan by which such prisoners may be able to work out their terms in the building of needed colonization roads
and other provincial improvements.

Such a plan is regarded as likely to relieve the congestion in the jails, provide work for the idle prisoners and prove unpopular with the ease-loving tramp fraternity.

MISSIONARIES "FIRED"

Two Presbyteries in China Ordered to Seek Service Elsewhere.

Denver, Col., May 31.—The 21st
general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in North America, after a quiet session, in which routine matters were disposed of, and Atlantic City, N. J., chosen as the next place of meeting.

The minority report of the committee on polity recommending the resolution declaring that the reduction of representation in the assembly should be made on a basis of church membership, instead of the number of ministers, was adopted.

The proposition was sent back to the presbyteries for action. Should it be accepted, presbyteries will be further represented in the assembly, to cure the feared out to him with his co-defendants, Jeremiah Gibson, Williams, Henry Fagett, Nicholas Nolan and Wm. May.
Captain Shipp is accompanied by
Attorney M. H. Clapitt, United States
Marshal Dunlap is in charge of the prisoners.

In spite of the uncertainty of the fate awaiting him on Tuesday at Washington, the convicted sheriff, in appearance, with a representative of the old south, did not show that he feared the punishment that may be meted out to him with his co-defendants, Jeremiah Gibson, Williams, Henry
Fagett, Nicholas Nolan and Wm. May.
Captain Shipp is accompanied by
Attorney M. H. Clapitt, United States
Marshal Dunlap is in charge of the
prisoners.

The scene at the station was pathetic. Confederate veterans, comrades of Captain Shipp, wept when Captain Shipp said good-bye.

The settlement of the strike was announced in a statement signed by Arthur A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and Charles P. Neill, United States labor commissioner. This statement was a result of a three hours' conference between Chairman Knapp, Commissioner Neill, General Manager Scott, of the Georgia railway service.

Commissioner Neill said both sides made concessions. It is generally understood that the railway agrees to recognize the seniority of white firemen, and that the employment of certain negro firemen who have been retained.

BATTING NELSON KNOCKS OUT HYLAND IN 23RD

The Lightweight Champ
Puts Out the Cali-
fornianLOSER DISPLAYS COURAGE IN FIGHTHas Lead at Some Stages But
Is Unable to Stop Nelson's Rushes.

San Francisco, May 29.—Battling Nelson retained the lightweight championship of the world in Jimmy Coffey's arena by practically knocking out Dick Hyland, and it was in Nelson's favorite round—the twenty-third—that the end came.

After one of the most furious bouts ever witnessed here, in which the Battler slowly but surely wore down his opponent, who at one stage had a decisive edge on points, Nelson sent a left-hand jolt to the stomach, and Hyland collapsed with his face on the floor of the ring, practically helpless. Referee Eddie Smith stepped between the men and motioned Nelson to his corner, holding up Bat's hand in sign of victory.

Hyland's Game Fight.

Although beaten, Hyland put up one of the gamiest bouts that has ever been seen here. Round after round he stood up and swapped blows with the champion, giving as much as he got, and finally bringing the "native son" element among the spectators to their feet, shrieking with delight, as he landed two blows to Nelson's one in the third and fourth rounds, and drew the first stream of blood from the champion's mouth and nose.

Nelson Ignores Pounding.

But all his efforts were in vain. He might as well have been pounding a graven image. Nelson's face and eyes puffed, it is true, and his lips became swollen from Hyland's swings. But he always came back with the same smile and walked to his corner without even a sign to show that the punishment was affecting him. Hyland once shook him from head to foot with a blow which threatened to knock Nelson off his feet, but the Hewegish man recovered instantly and came back for more.

Battle Kept Coming.

Then, little by little, the lead which Hyland had scored on successfully jolts and swells the face, connected to grow less as Nelson kept boring in, steadily and grimly. Each round was a repetition of the last. Nelson would rush from the start and never gave Hyland a moment's rest. Hyland, game as a pebble, met him with a flush hit every time. But nothing could stop the Battler's rushes. Slowly his superior strength told, and in the twenty-third Hyland was beaten.

Neither Man Wastes Time.

From the outset it was evident that neither man meant to waste any time. As the going rang both walked rapidly to the centre of the ring, each swinging almost at the same time. For an instant they stood fighting head to head, Nelson driving in short-arm blows and blocking most of Hyland's returns. The men put their full efforts into the punches, each striving to test the other's strength. Nelson smiled cheerfully as he skipped to his corner. Then commenced a series of rounds that brought the crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm, as neither man showed the slightest disposition to shrink the issue.

A Furious Fight.

From the tap of the gong to the bell ending each round, they mixed furiously, driving body blows in for the most part and occasionally sending over a swing to the jaw.

It was in the third round that it seemed likely Hyland would accomplish a feat only performed once before in Nelson's career and floor the Hewegish boy. He sent a terrific smash to the jaw, which made the Battler stagger and lose his balance. But before Hyland could follow up his advantage, Nelson recovered, and sent in a terrific punch to the jaw and a shower of body blows.

Low Blow Is Heated.

Nelson landed rather low a round or two later, but Hyland made no protest, but came back at him with savage smashes. The crowd, which was growing more demonstrative with each round, jeered wildly, however.

In the tenth and again in the eleventh Hyland winced perceptibly under some of Nelson's blows, but there were anxious faces in Dick's corner as the Californian man commenced to slow up in his pace. But he was always ready to stand head to head with Nelson and trade punches to face and body.

The Loser Weakens.

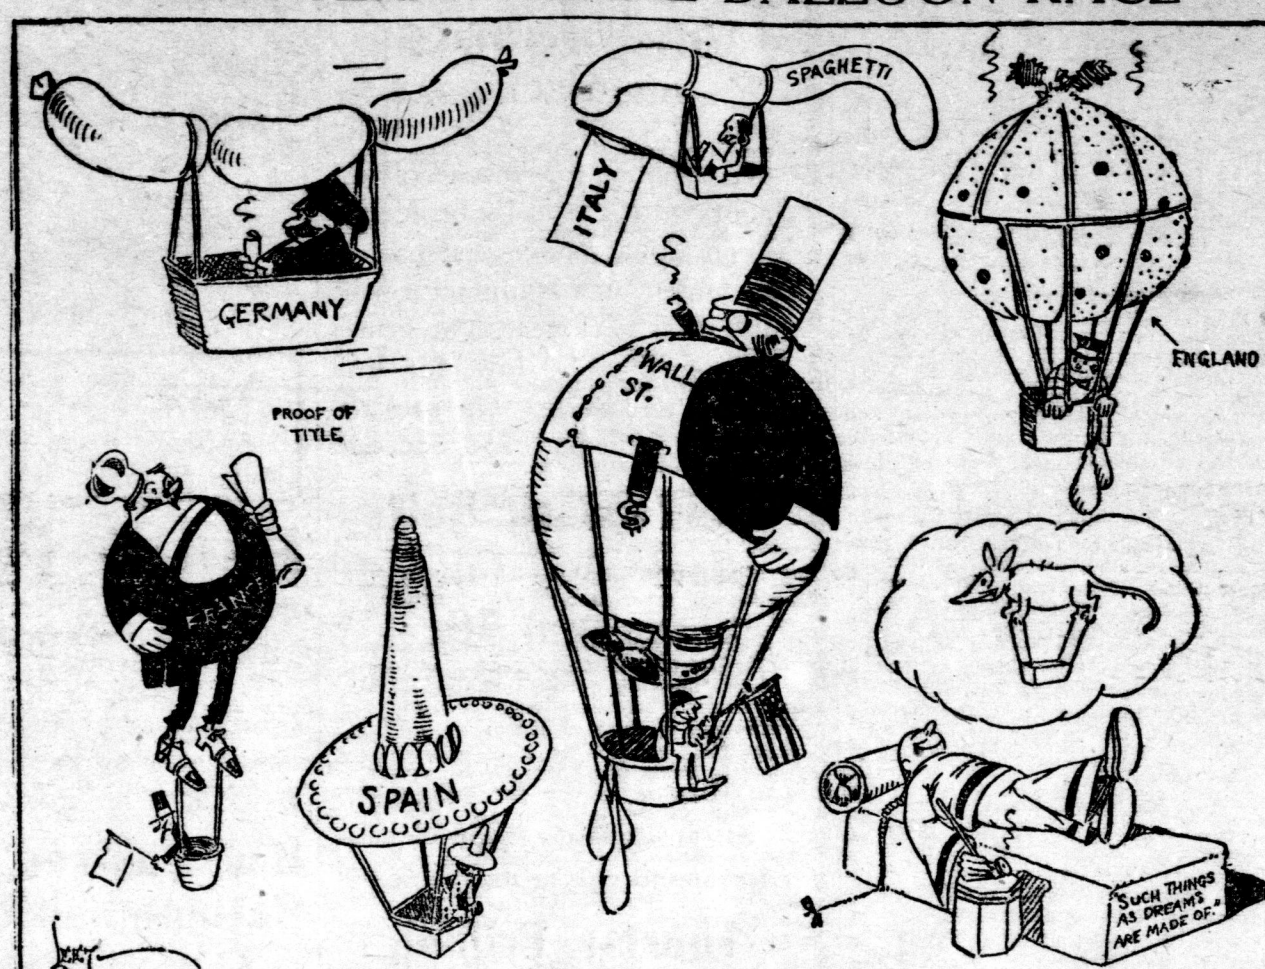

By round fifteen Hyland showed the effects of the furious pace. He was willing to rush him, but Nelson gave him no rest, sending him to the ropes and hammering him viciously. And it was in this period that Hyland first showed blood, a thin trickle coming from his mouth.

Hyland was always ready to brighten up and rush the Battler when he thought he had a chance to score. The crowd went wild in the eighteenth when he drove Nelson into a corner and landed practically at will on the champion's face and body. Nelson simply covered up and stalled for a moment, then turned savagely on Hyland and forced him backward. This round was in Hyland's favor, but Nelson wore his same smile as he walked to his corner, and Hyland was discouraged as he came up from the nineteenth.

Hyland Grows Weaker.

In the twenty-second Hyland hit the floor from a right to the jaw, and it was plain he was growing weaker. He was still on his feet, but his knees were shaking and his face was a storm of rights and lefts to the jaw. Hyland tried to stumble blindly into a clinch, following cries from his corner. "Hold him, hold him," but the gong ended the round with Dick almost out. He came up wearily in the twenty-third and the crowd rose, seeing the square to the stomach, and Hyland's knees commenced to sag and the first savage jolt from Nelson sent him to the floor for the count of seven. As he tottered erect Nelson sent in a smash, square to the stomach, and Hyland dropped like a log. He rolled feebly over, but it is doubtful if he could have arisen, and the referee stopped the bout.

RAMBLERS DEFEATED
BY STARS 4 TO 1Winners Are Getting Into Shape
Rapidly and Played Fine
Ball

YOUNGS 10, ROCKETS 8

Result of the Second Game in the City
League Saturday Afternoon.

Stars 4, Ramblers 1.

There was one good game of ball at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon, and one not so good. The Stars and the Ramblers met, and the Stars won by a score of 4 to 1 in a well-played game. The Rockets won the prize for generosity, and handed the second game to the Youngs by a score of 10 to 8, allowing the winning team to score 6 runs in the ninth inning, after the Rockets seemed to have the game in the safe. There was a good crowd.

Stars Played Fine.

The Stars showed themselves to be a real team, and played great ball. Their victory was due to the fine pitching of Tether, who was in his best form. Four hits were the best the Ramblers could get from him. Sharratt and Quick did them. The rest were shooting ducks all day. He was well supported, the infield doing fine work.

Heathfield Weakened.

Heathfield pitched good ball, but lost when he was cornered by the third inning the Stars hit him far and wide, and scored two runs. He got himself together until the eighth, when a couple of bases on balls followed by a two-base hit, scored a pair more. The Ramblers scored their lone run in the third, when Sharratt hit for two bases and came home. The Stars ended did not make a hit after the fourth inning.

Jack Pook had a busy day, but his throwing was not up to the mark. Sharratt and Shannon wobbled badly on occasions. Daniels is showing improvement.

The second game, between the Greys and St. John's Club was close all the way, though the latter had somewhat the better of it throughout. Gilles, who caught for St. John's A. C., played a fine game, and worked his bases in fine style.

O'Rourke, for the Greys, did some good pitching at times, but he was too uneven to be very effective. The score stood: St. John's A. C., 6; Greys, 4.

They got enough to hold the game safe and trotted off with it. It was a sizzling finish and the fans sat up and take notice. It also made the Ramblers follow things. Youngs were lucky to get away with it. Costelloe, Jackson and McHugh felled well, while McHugh, Clark and Jackson hit some. Gatecliff and Ball felled badly for the winners. For the Rockets, Ward, Tommy Dewan and Mines hit far and wide.

The score shows who did the work:

The Line-Up.

Youngs 10, Rockets 8.

For six innings the second game was a good one, Youngs having the best of it 3 to 1, scoring in the second on some lively hitting and good work.

The Rockets got run in the third by slugging Chapman.

In the seventh the Rockets started after Chapman. Two were scored in that session, and on the next round, Chapman was lammed far and wide.

Ischy Clark, who is getting to be the prize rescuer, came in cold, and all the time he pitched good ball, the Rockets accumulated a run in the ninth, making seven for the last three innings.

A Sizzling Finish.

Youngs got one in the eighth, but in the ninth they started to fill Mr. Hughes' life full of base hits. They started after him at an awful rate, six hits following in a cluster, with which they mixed wild throwing.

WINNER IN FINE SHAPE

Covered Fifteen Miles in 1:25:08, Beating the Olympic Champion.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Buffalo, May 29.—Billy Sherring, the winner of the great Olympic Marathon at Athens four years ago, was beaten this afternoon by Alfie Shrubbs by half a mile in a 15-mile race at Baseball Park.

The time was 1 hour 25 minutes 8 seconds. This was Sherring's first race as a professional. It was the second race that he had run in more than three years and he did remarkably well from the start to finish. Stacked up against Shrubbs, who was never in better condition, he held the speedy Englishman down to a lead of but three laps, one of which he secured in the fourth mile, another in the eighth and the third in the fourteenth.

The time was as follows:

KIDNEY DISEASE

COMES ON QUIETLY.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys in the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some kind of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc. Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes. On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble.

Miss Alberta B. Clarke, Stony Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them." Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering specify "Doan's."

THOMAS MARTINDALE

AT CANADIAN CLUB

Philadelphia Millionaire and a Former Londoner Will Deliver an Address.

On Thursday noon, the Canadian Club of this city will listen to Mr. Thos. Martindale, of Philadelphia, a former Londoner, who has been highly successful in the city of his adoption.

He was one of the pupils of the late Nicholas Wilson, and entertained a very high regard for the old master all his life.

Mr. Martindale has been highly successful in Philadelphia, and has taken a deep interest in everything that pertains to the welfare of the city.

He has always evinced a deep interest also in his adopted city, and during his visits here has made many suggestions for its improvement.

Mr. Martindale has achieved considerable distinction as an author, his works on horse hunting being particularly interesting.

No doubt a large audience will greet him Thursday noon.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL

A Classic City Painter Meets With a Serious Accident.

Stratford, May 30.—A very serious accident befell A. Arnold, a painter, at the G. T. R. shops, Saturday morning, in which he received a serious fracture of the skull.

Mr. Arnold was standing on a step-ladder when he lost his balance, and fell heavily backwards to the cement floor, landing on the back of his head and striking his forehead.

The ambulance was called out and Mr. Arnold taken to the hospital, where he was attended to by Drs. Rankin and Cannon.

Upon investigation, Dr. Cannon ascertained that a serious fracture of the base of the skull had been received by his impact with the cement floor.

Clean and healthy sport—English Picnic, Tuesday, June 22.

An Ideal Outing.

In preparation for their summer campaign, the Grand Trunk has just issued a handsome folder illustrating the beauties of the Algonquin National Park of Ontario, as a resort for holiday makers, campers and anglers.

The folder illustrates the advantages of a route through the famous park, starting from the headquarters at Algonquin Park station, and winding through a number of lakes, until it connects with the main line of the Grand Trunk on the northern shore via Dorset and the Lake of Bays, with a visit to the new "Wawa" Hotel on that lake.

This route is one of the best that a lover of fishing could desire, embracing canoe trips through Little Island, Wolf and Crown Lakes, with side trips to other smaller lakes, all of which teem with fish. While in several of the lakes nothing but speckled trout can be found, others, such as Wolf and Little Island, offer a variety of fishing. And in all the lakes there is so much sport that parties soon settle down to catching no more than they can eat, which does not take very long. The scenery throughout the whole trip is superb, and there is abundance of animal life, deer being plentiful, and encountered on all sides in the early morning when camp is broken. The trip is an ideal one for those seeking either health or sport.

A copy of the publication may be had free of charge, by applying to J. D. McDonald, D.F.A., Toronto.

SEVENTH REGIMENT AT DIVINE SERVICE

City's Crack Corps Turned Out in Full Strength on Sunday

BAND IN FINE SHAPE

Rev. Mr. Lancelley's Patriotic Sermon Listened to With Marked Attention by All.

The ideal weather of yesterday brought thousands of people out, and when the Seventh Regiment paraded to Dundas Centre Church in the morning the streets were thronged from the dories to the church.

Before proceeding to the church the band, under direction of Bandmaster Slater, played "The Silver Trumpet," a selection that is frequently rendered in St. Peter's at Rome, and the beautiful composition was given in a manner that was greatly appreciated.

The regiment turned out in full strength, and were accompanied to church by the Collegiate Institute Cadets. Both the regiment and the cadets presented a fine appearance, and their marching was very steady.

The Sermon.

Rev. E. B. Lancelley took as his subject, "Patriotism and Duty," basing his remarks on Psalm cxviii, 13, "Through God we shall do valiantly, for he it is that shall tread down our enemies."

"Patriotism is a quality that is needed in this day of ours," he said. "Too many people believe that patriotism consists in brandishing a sword. We need a patriotism whose motive is defense, and not offense. The conflicts which we are engaged in are not for the sake of the land, but for the sake of the people."

When England fought against the battles and won them. It was the same God who stood by Nelson at Trafalgar, Wellington at Waterloo, Kitchener in the Sudan, and who, in response to our soldiers, stood by Queen Victoria at her coronation in St. Paul's Cathedral last night.

He made a strong plea for all his hearers to live godly lives, and allow themselves to be directed by him.

Rev. H. A. Graham, of Wellington Street Methodist Church, and Rev. Mr. Durant, of Melbourne, exchanged pulpits yesterday. Large congregations were present at Wellington street church both morning and evening, and greatly enjoyed Mr. Durant's sermons, which were of an evangelistic nature.

Canon Dann, chaplain of the Twentieth-sixth Regiment, with as senior chaplain, conducted the Sunday services at the camp this year.

The chastening of the Lord, was the subject dealt with by the Rev. Walter Moffat in Chalmers Church yesterday morning. The following points, among others, were noted: What was meant by chastening? This was shown to be educational, disciplinary, such as a father would give to his son, to the best development of his powers and gifts. There was a purpose to be served in all chastisement. The surgeon does not use the knife without a definite end to serve. This chastisement was often grievous and difficult to bear, largely because we did not know what end was to be served, but all who were exercised by it, afterwards reaped the fruits of their suffering in that all things work together for good to those that love God.

There was a good attendance at the advanced thought meeting on Sunday afternoon, when the subject: "Does the Doctrine of Hell Help or Hinder Earth's Needy Millions?" was discussed. A clergyman was present and gave an interesting lecture on the interpretation of Scriptures, and pointed out that the Scriptures did not teach that non-believers were intended to teach the doctrine of eternal torment. There were many others who took part in the discussion.

The subject for next Sunday is, "How Can We Have a Public School Picnic?"

FAST HORSES ARE AT QUEEN'S PARK

The Eel Is Being Sent Over the Course at Lively Clip These Days.

SOME SPEEDY YOUNSTERS

Son of The Eel Promises To Be in the Class of His Father—Other Beauties in Harness.

The horses are going along at a nice rate at Queen's Park, and are showing form at the present time.

None of them have shown miles under 2:20 as yet, but they are getting close to it, and in a few days will be rattling off many at that rate of speed.

The Eel and a number of others were worked out on Saturday afternoon, pacing miles along 2:27 and 2:28. The Eel was accompanied on most of his miles by Silver Joe, a four-year-old son. The Grey Ghost could beat the colt home whenever he wanted to, but at that Silver Joe showed great speed, and will be a good racing proposition this summer. He is fast and game, and should do.

Monks' Bars, a Strathroy pacer, was worked also, and showed himself a handy pacer. He is close to being right, and with a few more days' work will be ready. Prescott Bars is doing well also.

There are two of the prettiest horses in the world in Dan McEwen's charge. San Toy, a three-year-old trotter, by The Eel, owned by H. G. & Koch, Tavistock, and the black pacing stallion, Oakland Audubon, a pacer, by J. J. Audubon, owned by Colin McKelgan, of Strathroy. Both are fine prospects and should enhance the reputation of their respective families.

San Toy is a chestnut, not large, but a regular show trotter, with speed. Oakland is a true pacer, and with careful training should be a wonder. Both are being given useful work and should do.

There are many real trotters in the country, but there are few finer horses than Henry Winters. The big fellow is in great fettle at the present time, and is reeling off miles in training at a fine rate. If he is started this year he will trot away down below 2:10 and make some of the good ones stop to get him. Johnston Bros. have a good one in this fellow, make no mistake. Medio McKinney is being carefully schooled and is showing speed.

Some of the family of Henry Winters are showing class. Johnston Bros. have a good one in Glen Winters, a three-year-old.

W. A. Jenkins has a fine pair in Morgan and Allen Winters. Jun, the latter is out of that great old race mare, Miss Delmar, and he looks all over the winner. Both are very pretty chaps, and will go along when ready.

George G. McCormick's horses are doing fine work, and in them he has a pair that will be worth watching in the near future. Both are good.

Jimmy Mallin had a few gallopers out on Saturday, and Erskine's Encke had a nice going colt, was also given a half in 1:52 1/4.

Dr. Fitzgerald was as fine a yearling trotter by Belshire, out of Miss Electra, as has ever been seen in these parts. He looks all over the good one, and should step fast. The old horse himself is looking like the picture of health, and is showing no signs of being the worse for wear. He's a wonderful old horse.

Sunday Belle (2:10 1/4), Flora D. (2:13 1/4), sired by that old campaigner, Paddy R. Robert Bars, Prescott Bars, Flying Jib, Jerry, Elsie Girl and Billy W. are going steady, and will be ready.

Dan McEwen, the dean of the Canadian trotting turf, is in good health, and in spite of the great amount of work he is doing, looks to be younger than ever. He will be ready with his charges when the bell rings.

A Divorce Granted.

After many years of patient suffering you can be divorced from corns by applying Putnam's Corn Extractor, which acts in 24 hours without pain. Refuse a substitute because "Putnam's" is the remedy that is safe and painless.

Grand Trunk New Offices.

The Grand Trunk Railway system, with their new organization in Europe, have opened a fine suite of offices at 17-19 Cockspur street, London, Eng. One of the best locations in the city. It is just opposite Park Mall, and the majority of the traffic from Westminister and the west end of London passes through this thoroughfare to the city.

There is a fine view of the city, and the commercial sections of the metropolis. Canadians who visit London will find these offices complete in every way, and the company are desirous of having all visitors from the colonies make their headquarters in London their rendezvous, where they can have their mail addressed, make appointments and do their correspondence. This is an innovation of the transportation lines of the colonies, and no doubt will be taken advantage of by many overseas visitors to the mother country.

TOTAL ECLIPSES OF THE SUN AND MOON

But Will Only Be Seen in the Vicinity of the North Pole.

Washington, May 31.—Two interesting spectacles in the coming month will occur during the coming month. These events will be eclipses of the moon and sun, the former on Wednesday, June 3, and the latter on Monday, June 17. The moon will rise totally eclipsed, and the sun will last about one hour, while the sun will only be in totality near the north pole.

Of chief interest will be the lunar eclipse, which will be visible over about half the earth. Only a few white men, namely, Commander Robert E. Peary and his crew, who are now on an Arctic expedition, and, perhaps, a few others, will have an opportunity of observing at totality the eclipse of the moon. The eclipse will be visible in its partial eclipse, the region near the north pole is the only part of the globe where it will be seen as a total eclipse.
