Canadians Fighting in Big Battle Inspired by the Unshakable
Belief of Heroic French Comrades—Many Difficult-ties To Be Encountered in Future Fighting.

[By J. F. B. LIVESAY, Canadian Press
Correspondent.]

With the Canadian Forces in France, Aug. 21.—(Via London, Aug. 21.)—Except for minor actions entered into with a view to consolidating our line, the past two days have been relatively quiet on the Canadian front. For the time being, it has resolved itself into a warfare of positions. The enemy holds in force a number of very strong points, and the country is exceedingly difficult. It is the old battlefield of the Somme of 1916, from which the enemy retired in the spring of 1917 to the Hindenburg line. Its defences are practically intact, and these include an elaborate trench system with fortified positions, concrete and steel pill boxes, and a very different position from the open, rolling country over which the great advance of a fortnight ago was made, while the network of wire and permanent defences have been little affected. The weather has eroded the trench system, creating a condition of ground exceedingly difficult for the successful operation of tanks, and without these any considerable infantry advance can only be made with heavy losses.

MAIL CLERKS IN WEST TO TAKE AWARD

Salaries and Conditions Now
Satisfactory to the Western Government Employees.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—Western railway mail clerks, it was said yesterday, will accept the Government award announced yesterday in salaries and conditions. The railway mail clerks will have nothing to do with the inquiry now being held by the civil service commission, their case having been dealt at Ottawa by a sub-committee of the cabinet.

LASSIGNY TAKEN BY SUDDEN DASH

Important Town Captured by Allies in Unexpected Attack.

On the French Front in France, Aug. 22.—The operation which resulted in the fall of Lassigny yesterday began with a successful thrust from the west by a battalion of Chasseurs. Divette wood, a strongly fortified position, which had delayed the French advance for two days, was taken in a sudden dash and the battalion reached the outskirts of Lassigny on the west and on the north. Meanwhile other units, composed of men from Brittany and Paris, took the southern outskirts of Lassigny and crossed through the town, chasing the Germans before them. By noon a complete encirclement had been effected and the town and captured the last enemy occupants who were hiding in cellars.

JOIN CZECHO-SLOVAKS Montenegrin and Rumanian Soldiers Join With Allied Troops.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Rumanian and Montenegrin soldiers are joining the Czecho-Slovak troops now fighting on the Italian front. An official dispatch today says that the difficulties have been removed and Italian army officials are greatly pleased with this addition to their forces.

ST. THOMAS MOURNS THE LOSS OF TWO BRAVE YOUNG MEN

Ptes. Wimbush and Hammersley Pay the Supreme Sacrifice.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, Aug. 22.—More citizens are mourning the loss of two of this city's best known and most highly respected young men, who have given their lives in the great struggle for democracy. Official notification was received here today stating that Pte. Eric Wimbush and Pte. Robert Hammersley had been killed in action on August 8. Both young men enlisted about the same time and had seen one year's service at the front. Pte. Wimbush was the son of Mrs. E. A. Wimbush, 12 Market street. At the time he enlisted he was only 17 years. He had just started to serve his apprenticeship at the Journal Printing office here. His father returned from overseas some time ago, being now employed as night agent of the G. T. R. Eric became attached to the engineering unit at London. He was one of St. Thomas' best known and promising young men. He attended the collegiate institute and for a short time was a student at the business college. He was also a prominent member of the St. John's Anglican Sunday school, and for a time acted as official teacher. Pte. Robert Hammersley was a brother of ex-Sergeant Major William Hammersley, now chief constable of the London and Port Stanley Commission at Port Stanley. He went overseas with the Engineers and also served some time in the trenches. His wife survives him. Mrs. Hammersley is employed at the office of J. W. Poort of the G. T. R. here. Pte. Hammersley comes from a fighting family. His brothers have all served in some theatre or some part of the British army. Constable Hammersley, of Port Stanley, a veteran of the Boer war, has been attached to the British army for many years.

SUB CREW SHELLS LIFEBOATS AFTER SINKING STEAMER

London, Aug. 22.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen says the Dutch steamer Gasconne, operated by the Belgian relief commission, reported as having struck a mine, was fired upon by a German submarine, which also bombarded her lifeboats, one of which was destroyed. Several of the seamen were killed.

The dispatch adds that Dutch sailors made heroic attempts to save their comrades, but that the first mate and five seamen, who were wounded, were drowned. The steamer sunk in 20 minutes.

TWO POUNDS OF SUGAR A MONTH TO EACH PERSON

Householders Will Be Asked
To Decrease Consumption.

TO PROSECUTE OFFENDERS

Fifteen Days' Supply Only Will Be Allowed in Each
Home.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—An appeal will be made in the fall to householders to limit their consumption of sugar to two pounds per member per month, or less than a third of the amount now being used, according to H. F. Koon, a lecturer to the Canada food board, here today. Steps will also be taken, he said, rigidly to enforce the order forbidding homes to have on hand more than five days' supply. Offenders will be prosecuted to the full extent of the regulation and the sugar will be confiscated.

FOCH'S PLAN IS SUCCESSION OF VIOLENT BLOWS

Allies Have Damaged Six
German Armies Since
July 15.

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Allies have damaged six German armies since July 15, and the British are now eating into the seventh, with the spread of the battle northward and over a front of 70 miles. Whether the enemy is prepared or unprepared, allied efforts have had the same results, and the Germans have been outgeneraled and outthought. The allies have been able to strike a succession of blows to cause the enemy irreplaceable losses in men and material, and force him to make more or less disastrous retreats. If that be the marshal's plan, he is pursuing it with skill and unvarying success. Gen. Ludendorff is being forced to expend his resources on a given sector of the front, after which another blow is struck home on another sector.

HIGHWAYMEN KILL MAN WHO REFUSES TO OBEY COMMAND

Boundbrook, N. J., Aug. 22.—Charles Hilbert of Allentown, Pa., was shot and killed near here yesterday when he ignored the command of three highwaymen to stop a truck loaded with $50,000 worth of silk, which he was driving from Newark to Allentown.

The highwaymen drove off in the truck after robbing John Meyer, a boy dealer of $2. The boy ran to Boundbrook and gave the alarm. The truck, with its load of silk intact, was found abandoned near Cranford.

ALLIES HAVE TAKEN 100,000 HUNS

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Allied armies have taken more than 100,000 prisoners since July 18, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris.

Big Picardy Offensive.

With the Canadian Army in the Field, Aug. 18 (Sunday), 8 p.m.—Via London, Aug. 21.—By J. F. B. Livesay, Canadian Press Correspondent.—Speaking on today's victory, Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian forces, said to the Canadian Press: "The Canadians have kept up today our old practice of taking all our objectives and taking them on time. When the full reports for the day come in we expect to have penetrated the boche defences 14,000 yards. We attacked on just as wide a front as at Vimy Ridge, and we have been three times as far as the whole division as any single division was able to penetrate, while we have taken more guns and more prisoners than at Vimy. Our whole attack came as a surprise for the boche."

FALL OF LASSIGNY WILL FACILITATE CAPTURE OF NOYON

Germans Evacuated Town
Only After Most Stubborn
Resistance.

Paris, Aug. 22.—The occupation of Lassigny by the army of Gen. Humbert, newspaper commentators believe, will facilitate the capture of Noyon, towards which the armies of Gen. Mangin and Humbert are pressing steadily. Lassigny was one of the pivots of the German defence system between the Oise and the Somme and was defended most stubbornly.

TRAMWAY AND BUS DRIVERS' STRIKE IN LONDON NEARING END

London, Aug. 21 (delayed).—There are good prospects for ending the tramway and bus drivers' strike on Friday. A conference lasting nearly five hours was held this afternoon, and parties to the controversy reached an approximate settlement on the basis of equal pay for men and women workers. No discrimination between them. The terms will be submitted to the unions affected.

The Converted Fishing Vessel
Seized by Germans
Now Raiding.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Practically the entire fleet of the Maritime Fish Corporation has been destroyed by the trawler Triumph, which was captured by a German submarine and armed, according to reports to the company's office here today. The fleet was operating off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. It was composed of boats of both Canadian and American registry.

A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—A power dory containing Captain Jeff Thomas, master of the Gloucester fishing schooner Sylvia, and two of his crew, arrived here last evening, reporting that their vessel had been sunk by the armed trawler Triumph at 6:30 p.m. yesterday morning when on the fishing banks, 30 miles southeast of south of Canso. The remainder of the crew of the schooner, nineteen men and a boy, have not yet been reported. Captain Thomas believes that they have landed safely at some small fishing village on the Cape Breton coast. The schooner, which was carrying a cargo of fish, was captured by the trawler about 5 o'clock and had no suspicions of her until she came alongside and her commander ordered him to leave his ship and be quick about it. He and his men at once took to the dories. Meanwhile the Germans placed bombs on the schooner and ten minutes later there was an explosion and the vessel sank. As the men rowed away they saw about two miles to the eastward a large submarine on the surface.

SINKS SCHOONER PASADENA.
A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—The crew of the Nova Scotia fishing schooner Pasadena has arrived at a port east of here, reporting their vessel sunk by the trawler Triumph on Tuesday night.

THIRD SCHOONER SUNK.
A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—Sixteen of the crew of the fishing schooner Della Gurdie have landed at Gabarus, Cape Breton, reporting that their vessel was sunk on the banks by a submarine. One of the men is injured. A dory containing three men is missing.

General Byng's Army Continues Advance Despite the Bitterest German Resistance—French Have Reached Ailette River In Drive On 20-Mile Section.

HUNS RUNNING AGAIN.
Paris, Aug. 22.—From the heights of Le Piemont, on the Oise front, the French troops are now watching the Germans in their retreat toward the north. The capture of Lassigny, an official communication issued this afternoon says, made the position on Le Piemont untenable, as it was turned from the north, and Gen. Humbert's army last night took the position, writing one of the most glorious pages in French history. It was on this position, the statement adds, that the furious German onslaught against Paris on March 30 was smashed, one French battalion holding the position for thirty-six hours against the desperate assaults of two German regiments.

Le Piemont was finally taken on June 9 by the Germans. It has been recaptured now by the former division of Gen. Fayolle, which forms part of the troops that defended it on March 30.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 22.—British troops are holding virtually all the Arras-Albert Railroad, and have established their posts well east of that line. The British success in the north enabled the tanks to pass beyond the railroad. Some were reported this morning to be working as far eastward as the Bapaume-Arras road.

In their new attack the British early this morning apparently had taken their final objectives on the right, and were well inside the enemy lines.

South of Albert the British crossed the Ancre River. French troops have reached the Ailette River at several points. It is not expected that the Germans will try to hold the Ailette line, but may retreat to the Oise.

Gen. Byng's army is encountering desperate resistance in the region of Bapaume. Achiet-le-Grand changed hands several times late yesterday afternoon and last night. The British are now in that position.

AMERICAN AVIATORS CARRY OUT RAIDS ON TOWNS NEAR VERDUN

With the American Forces in France, Tuesday, Aug. 20.—Two bombing flights were carried out yesterday by American aviators on the towns of Longuyon and Audun-le-Roman, northeast of Verdun. Bombs were successfully dropped on railroad tracks and roundhouses.

Three American reconnaissance planes yesterday encountered and attacked three German machines near Waville, to the north of Verdun. One German airplane was forced down with its tank on fire, and the others were driven away. The Americans returned to their bases safely.

FALL OF NOYON INEVITABLE.

Paris, Aug. 22.—Gen. Humbert's army has made a great advance between the Matz and the Oise rivers and has reached the Ailette River. The French military men say this makes the early fall of the town of Noyon inevitable.

ENEMY POSITION NEAR BAILLEUL IS CAPTURED BY THE BRITISH

London, Aug. 22.—In the Flanders battle area, the British last night attacked and captured a German position north of Bailleul, according to advices from the front today. It is reported that a strong local counter-attack made yesterday morning against the Loere Hospice was repulsed after heavy fighting and that sharp combats took place during the night in this sector.

HUNS ARE DRIVEN BACK ON A 20-MILE FRONT BY THE FRENCH

Paris, Aug. 22.—German troops were forced back over a 20-mile front to a depth of from one to two miles from Lassigny to the Ailette River during the night, according to the official statement issued at the war office today.

French troops maintained contact with retreating enemy between Matz and the Oise and east of the Oise during the night.

MERCHANTS JOYFUL BECAUSE OF SUCCESS OF BIG DOLLAR DAY

Stores Are Crowded and the Clerks Are Being Rushed.

The merchants of London today initiated their second Dollar Day, and it was a wonderful success as compared with their first event, which was launched in the early spring. The weatherman gave it a decided check, but the volume of business reported up to noon today was far ahead of the first venture. All the stores were crowded, and the clerks were being rushed. There was quite a large influx from the country and surrounding points, and the clerks were working at top speed. "We will come close to some of our Christmas shopping day if this keeps up," said one shoe merchant this morning, while looking over the jam of people in his store. "We are endeavoring to wait upon a half dozen people at once."

GENERAL MEETING OF LAWN BOWLERS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

To Discuss the Plans For Big Labor Day Tournament.

The annual general meeting of the London Lawn Bowling Association will be held Friday evening of this week in the Teumeh House at 8 o'clock. Every member of the bowling club of the city is requested to attend, as matters of importance relative to the annual Labor Day tourney will come up for consideration.

BRITISH ADVANCE BEYOND ARRAS-ALBERT RY.; FRENCH PUSH AHEAD ON WIDE FRONT

Four villages—Le Plémont, Thiescourt, Cannetancourt and Ville—were occupied by the French, who have reached the Divette River, the statement says.

The French have reached the Oise on a six-mile front east of Noyon, their line extending from Semigny to Bretigny.

Further east, the villages of Bourguignon and St. Paul-aux-Bois have been taken. The French reached the Ailette River at La Quincy-Bassee. The western outskirts of Pommiers, on the Aisne, west of Soissons, have also been taken.

The text of the statement reads: "During the course of the night, French troops have maintained contact with the enemy, who is retreating between the Matz and the Oise and east of the Oise."

"We have occupied Le Plémont, Thiescourt, Cannetancourt and Ville and have reached the Divette River."

"We have reached the Oise to the east of Noyon, from Semigny to Bretigny."

"Further to the east we have taken Bourguignon and St. Paul-aux-Bois. Passing to the north of this village we have reached the Ailette at La Quincy-Bassee."

"Between the Ailette and the Aisne there is no change in the situation, except in the region of Pommiers, where we have taken the western outskirts of the village."

BRITISH ATTACK ENEMY LINES BETWEEN SOMME AND ANCRE

London, Aug. 22.—British forces attacked this morning between the Somme and Ancre Rivers.

Between two and three thousand prisoners were captured by the British in yesterday's operation, the official statement issued at the war office today announces. North of the Ancre, the statement says, the Arras-Bapaume Railway has been crossed in spite of strong enemy resistance.

British troops have reached the village of Neuf Berquin, north-east of Neuville.

The text of the British statement reads: "At 4:45 o'clock this morning our troops attacked the positions of the enemy between the Somme and the Ancre rivers."

"By nightfall yesterday our patrols had made progress on the left bank of the Ancre River, to the south and southeast of Beau-court."

North of the Ancre River our positions gained yesterday were maintained against hostile counter-attacks delivered during the afternoon and evening on the Miraumont at Achiet-le-Grand front."

"The hostile artillery has been very active throughout the night on the battlefield, and this morning fresh hostile counter-attacks are reported to have developed opposite Miraumont and Iries."

"Between two thousand and three thousand prisoners and a few guns were captured by us in our operations yesterday."

"Further progress has been made by us to the east and north-east of Merville. Our troops are on the outskirts of Neuf Berquin."

"Last night we attacked and captured a hostile strong point north of Baillien."

"A strong local counter-attack was delivered by the enemy yesterday morning against Loerech Farm, northwest of Dra-noutre. It was repulsed after sharp fighting. Further fighting took place during the night in this sector."

NEWS

ASKS DAMAGES.—J. E. Onn has entered action in the county court against Justin Barker of St. Thomas for damages and injuries which he alleges were received when an automobile driven by the defendant and one driven by himself collided.

CLEARINGS INCREASE.—Bank clearings for the week ending Thursday, August 22, show a substantial increase over the clearings for the corresponding period of last year. The amount for this week is $2,209,537, while last year the total for the week was $1,953,662, an increase of $255,875.

NOW "DANGEROUSLY ILL."—Official word was received today by Mrs. John Faulkner, 100 Waterloo street, that her son, Lieut. Jack Faulkner, wounded a few days ago, is now dangerously ill. A cablegram yesterday said he was "seriously ill."

CHIMNEY STRUCK.—A narrow escape from the ravages of lightning during Wednesday's storm by Fred Dick, the florist, when the chimney of his home on Base Line, was struck and completely demolished. No further damage was done. Reports have come in that several other places on the Base Line suffered shock, but nothing serious occurred.

CARPET WAS BURNED.—Gasoline being used for some cleaning at the residence of Mrs. M. Reine, 1315 Huron street, caused a small fire yesterday afternoon. Aside from the carpet being burned there was practically no damage done. It is supposed that the fumes from the liquid caught fire in some manner. Firemen were quickly on the scene and extinguished the blaze with chemicals.

VETERANS' BAND APPRECIATED.—The Great War Veterans' Brass Band of this city journeyed to Mount Brydges Wednesday evening to attend a patriotic concert. About twenty, including the band, left from this city in a large auto truck furnished for the occasion. A very enjoyable time was spent, and the band in charge of bandmaster Wilson was highly complimented upon its excellent work rendered during the evening.

PENSION TO BE CONSIDERED.—In Wednesday's issue of The Advertiser it was stated that the appeal of Mrs. Benjamin Askey, was turned down. This statement was an error, as Secretary Cunliffe stated today that the appeal had been turned down, but was let drop until Major Buchanan of the pension boards at Ottawa comes to this city and investigates various cases in which is included that of Mrs. Askey.

DELEGATE AT MONTREAL.—Employed by the local carboys are anxiously awaiting the return of J. Corbett, who has gone to Montreal to meet the Canada War Board in conference on the final settlement of the McCreary award, as it affects the shop men. The delegation shop crafts representatives met in Toronto recently for conference, but what action was taken, if any, has not been made public. It is anticipated that this conference at Montreal will definitely settle the question.

FIVE VOLUNTEERS.—Five more volunteers, four of whom were from the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission at Detroit, were examined by the medical board at the local mobilization centre Wednesday. J. Cotter and A. Bland were found in category A2 and attached to the Canadian Engineers. R. Brown, who was an expert mechanic, was placed in category C1 and attached to the Royal Air Force. W. Willis was also found in category C1 and placed in the Canadian Garrison regiment. G. Lefebvre was unfit for service and allowed to return to Detroit. W. A. Moore of Windsor was placed in the Canadian Engineers. Two men apprehended under military service laws were also examined by the board and placed in A2 category and attached to the Western Ontario Regiment.

Heroic Brothers Die On Same Day

PTE. WALLACE PARSONS. PTE. FRANK V. PARSONS.

TWO BROTHERS FALL ON PICARDY PLAINS AND ON SAME DAY

London Parents Receive a Double Shock From War Records Bureau—Privates Wallace and Frank Parsons Make Supreme Sacrifice.

Over the parapet and beyond in "No Man's Land," the two young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parsons, 12 Rectory street, Frank and Wallace, made the supreme sacrifice in the cause of the Empire.

Grim sorrow entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parsons when their two green parrots, which means so much to those who have loved ones serving their country, was received yesterday, announcing the death of their two sons.

Before having received from this shock another telegram was received, announcing the death of their two sons. Frank, also killed in action on the same date. Few homes, if any, in this city of London have been visited twice by the grim reaper within so short a time.

Pte. Wallace Parsons left London about three years ago with an A. M. C. corps, and after spending some time in England was drafted to France, and when his death occurred he had spent eight months' continuous service in the trenches. Before enlisting he was employed as clerk with the Dominion Express Company. He was 22 years of age.

Enlisted in 1915th. Pte. Vernon Parsons enlisted with the 135th Battalion, and was drafted directly to France upon arrival in England. He was wounded severely at the battle of Vimy Ridge, and after being in hospital for several months returned to France last November, and had been in the trenches ever since that time. He was 24 years of age. Previous to enlisting he was employed as a plumber.

Frederick Parsons, father of the two young heroes, left with a unit for overseas on his arrival in England. He was invalided back to Canada. A brother, Fred, is employed on the Advertiser as night foreman of the stereotyping department.

August 8 was the date the Canadians, under Gen. Hawley's command, broke the German lines and began the present series of great Allied successes.

PTE. IRWIN WOUNDED. The new plant is designed to care for 5,000 inmates, being that part of city east of Egerton street, from the C. P. R. station to the foot of Egerton street. It is located at the foot of Egerton street.

The whole structure is of reinforced concrete. The sewage is carried in through a small tank, which has a screen over it to catch any large matter. It pours into large tanks. These tanks, three in number, are in one building, and are situated above the ground and about twenty feet below the tanks, any one of which may be used as a tank for the sewage.

Double Tanks. They really consist of a small tank set inside a 20-foot tank. These might be termed "detention tanks," as the sewage passes through a slit in the bottom of the smaller tank into the larger one. As it fills up, the water works up into the slit into the small tank and then passes out through large pipes to the filter beds. All solid matter is retained in the bottom of the larger detention tanks and when they fill up to a certain point will be washed out through pipes to the sludge beds, which are located near the river. The sludge is out and may be sold or used for fertilizer.

The liquid matter from the detention tanks pours into large tanks at the head of the filter beds. These tanks gradually fill up and when they reach a certain height the valves open and the water pours out into the large pipes, turning around the side of the filter beds. This forces the water up through the some 118 sprays in the filter beds. The water is then sprayed out of the top of the filter beds. In the meantime, the water has been running into the oil tank.

The water sprayed onto the filter beds, which is a solid bed of hold holes, stone six or seven feet thick, passes through another pipe into a large tank. When this tank is full, the water runs out and passes on to the river, while any solids that may have remained in the liquid matter are carried to the bottom and may be pumped out.

Mayor Somerville was the inquisitive person of the party. He went into every nook and corner and every detail of the whole plant. He expressed his satisfaction with it in the main after he had concluded.

A new feature to the farm of some thirty acres or so was the suggestion of Paving Superintendent Hunter that the city should grow its own food. He suggested that the city should grow its own food. He suggested that the city should grow its own food.

The water sprayed onto the filter beds, which is a solid bed of hold holes, stone six or seven feet thick, passes through another pipe into a large tank. When this tank is full, the water runs out and passes on to the river, while any solids that may have remained in the liquid matter are carried to the bottom and may be pumped out.

CITY FATHERS ALL INSPECTED DISPOSAL PLANT FOR SEWAGE

East End Scheme Completed at Last.

MANY TROUBLES FACED Work Has Been Held Up by Several Unfortunate Occurrences.

Mayor Somerville, along with the members of the board of control, City Engineer Brazier, City Clerk Baker, City Treasurer Bell, Chief Alderman and Engineer Chipman went over the east end sewage disposal plant this morning prior to the acceptance of the same by the city. The plant has been in the course of erection for some three years now, and is just ready to be taken over and operated. It is considered an excellent structure.

The new plant has been the cause of a great many troubles and headaches since its construction was started and since it is a great measure is responsible for the city getting its sewage disposed of in a satisfactory manner.

The contract for the original works called for an expenditure of about $400,000, but it was let to the Arnot Construction Company. This firm had just recently started the work when it failed, and an assignment, Charlesson & Sons of Toronto, were appointed assignees, and they in turn secured Messrs. Chipman & Fowler to complete the contract. This has at last been achieved.

Troubles in Plenty. There have been many troubles in carrying out the work. There was a large list of bills of the Arnot company to be paid, and many of these are still hanging fire. The Arnot Construction Company had a large deposit up with the city and money which the city has been called upon to pay over the contract price will be taken out of this. It is understood that the cost of the work was about $440,000. There is not enough over the contract price to meet these charges, and it is likely that the city will have to get so much on the dollar. It is believed that the state of the Arnot company's finances will lead to the city's troubles being finally settled. The city, however, has endeavored at all times to keep its books clear.

Cares for 5,000. The new plant is designed to care for 5,000 inmates, being that part of city east of Egerton street, from the C. P. R. station to the foot of Egerton street. It is located at the foot of Egerton street.

The whole structure is of reinforced concrete. The sewage is carried in through a small tank, which has a screen over it to catch any large matter. It pours into large tanks. These tanks, three in number, are in one building, and are situated above the ground and about twenty feet below the tanks, any one of which may be used as a tank for the sewage.

Double Tanks. They really consist of a small tank set inside a 20-foot tank. These might be termed "detention tanks," as the sewage passes through a slit in the bottom of the smaller tank into the larger one. As it fills up, the water works up into the slit into the small tank and then passes out through large pipes to the filter beds. All solid matter is retained in the bottom of the larger detention tanks and when they fill up to a certain point will be washed out through pipes to the sludge beds, which are located near the river. The sludge is out and may be sold or used for fertilizer.

The liquid matter from the detention tanks pours into large tanks at the head of the filter beds. These tanks gradually fill up and when they reach a certain height the valves open and the water pours out into the large pipes, turning around the side of the filter beds. This forces the water up through the some 118 sprays in the filter beds. The water is then sprayed out of the top of the filter beds. In the meantime, the water has been running into the oil tank.

The water sprayed onto the filter beds, which is a solid bed of hold holes, stone six or seven feet thick, passes through another pipe into a large tank. When this tank is full, the water runs out and passes on to the river, while any solids that may have remained in the liquid matter are carried to the bottom and may be pumped out.

A DEMOCRATIC PICNIC.

TODAY THE FIRST grand picnic for all returned men of the district, together with their wives and families, and for all nurses who have served overseas is being held at Port Stanley. This is the first occasion of the kind, but it should not be the last; every effort ought to be made to insure its becoming an annual event at which those who have offered their all for the empire can meet, renew friendships and enjoy together the good times of peace as they shared the horrors of war.

The whole spirit behind this enterprise can be summed up in two words: "True Democracy." Those who conceived the idea and carried it through had one great aim: To bring together in good-fellowship men of all ranks in the common ground of blood-friendship, to wipe out all distinction between colonel and private and bring about the realization among all who attend of the fact that all who wore the khaki honorably overseas are brothers; to make every man in Western Ontario who is in France or elsewhere a member of "The Battalion," the all-embracing unit composed of every private, sergeant, lieutenant or colonel who fought the great fight.

Thanks to the initiative and energy of a few returned officers, this plan for a great reunion was developed and perfected, and the enthusiasm which they displayed being infectious, hearty co-operation was offered on all sides. It became possible to transport the overseas men and nurses to the lake at a nominal cost, and more than that, to arrange that no charge should be made for the families, however numerous. Then individuals came forward to offer services at reduced prices while the picnic was in progress, with the result that many forms of recreation were put at the disposal of the veterans at a fraction of the usual cost.

The spontaneity with which those who had anything which would add to the enjoyment of the veterans have offered it is one of the most encouraging signs. It shows the desire of the people, when opportunity offers, to express in any way possible their gratitude to the men and women who went "over there" to defend civilization from the Prussian beast. This feeling is ever-present in the hearts of the people, but it is only occasionally that means of expressing it in a worth-while way seems to be afforded.

In arranging an affair of this kind, officers and other members of the Canadian army are handicapped by an order which forbids the soliciting of donations towards the prize lists. This can be overcome by the public volunteering such assistance, and it would be a graceful action if next year, when the picnic is mooted, a committee of civilians should get together and see that nothing is lacking to make the day a memorable success. This year the officers who have taken the initiative have had to do most of the work, and they have reason to be proud of their success. Next summer some of the burden might be shared by others.

OPTIMISM.

ADVICE RECENTLY has been given not to be too optimistic. While it is wise not to overdo it, there has been in the last month reason for optimism, and in fact more reason than we anticipated. It is the optimism in a new country that counts. It takes the place in the Canadian and American soldier of the belief in the British soldier that "it's dogged as does it." The dogged British bulldog tenacity, that did not know when it was beaten, that caused Richelieu to say of them "No mongrels, boys, these Island Mastiffs," has won on many a battle field. It will not hurt that quality that sticks to it even against great odds, to add optimism.

A new country breeds optimism. Even the German-Americans are joining the neutral nations in hoping for victory for the Allied nations. Their new viewpoint has been gained in optimistic America that gave them hope and opportunity denied to the German in Germany. If the Germans in America could let their relatives in Germany have a view of the difference between a land of real freedom, like America, and the militarism that holds Germany in chains, it would not be long until they too, filled with optimism and independence, would gladly embrace democracy and all its principles.

READING WAR NEWS.

MORE VITALLY interesting reading matter is to be found in the newspapers of today than ever before has been open to the citizens of Canada. All the histories, biographies and fiction in the libraries of the country are overshadowed in importance and in interest by the news dispatches from Europe, Palestine and Mesopotamia. Yet there are persons who say that they cannot read all this news eagerly as they did in the early part of the war; they seem to have wearied of war news.

On the fields of France, soaked in blood, the Allies are attacking and driving before them the hordes who were gathered together to overrun France, Britain and later this continent. Kaiser Wilhelm is waking from his dream of world-conquest and in this awakening is having the agony of seeing his hosts falling back towards the frontier of his empire. Can the history of each backward step be uninteresting?

The progress is slow, it is said, and little ground seems to be gained from week to week, this makes it uninteresting. That is true only in so far as it concerns the casual reader. Those who have obtained maps and followed from day to day each forward or backward step of the Allied armies are gleaning over their maps today. They are able to trace the connection between every stroke of the Canadians, the British, the French, the Belgians and the Italians. The plans of General Foch unfold themselves before their eyes, and the study of the huge battlefield becomes more absorbing than anything which can be imagined by those who are missing it.

It is not too late for anyone to begin this method of reading war news, with the newspaper and map together. The Germans are being driven out of villages, woods and from hills which are all marked. Every mile can be traced and a knowledge of the situation can be gained which is otherwise impossible. It is not unlikely that the foe may dispute every yard of territory until he is within Germany itself. The newspapers will tell the story hour by hour, concisely and clearly. The interest aroused in the mind of the reader all depends on whether he wants to be enlightened and interested.

THE QUAKERS.

THE QUAKERS, known as the Society of Friends, are a very peace-loving people. It has been claimed that when a Quaker goes to law it is almost impossible to defeat him, because it is one of their rules that the Quaker must submit his view of the case to the judgment of the members of the society to which he belongs. If they decide in his favor they will all back him up with all their money until a favorable decision is reached.

When the Quakers decide to assist the Allies, it means that they believe the Allied cause is just, and as in a lawsuit, they will support, by every means in their power, the cause they believe to be just.

There is a town of Quakers called Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, and more than ninety per cent are openly supporting the war. The following extract shows how earnest and determined they are to destroy militarism and obtain justice, liberty and abiding peace:

"On Sunday evening, July 28, the council held the first of a series of community patriotic services in the open air, which was the largest and most representative community gathering in Swarthmore's history. A declaration of loyalty to the war and to the president was adopted, in which the president is declared to have 'written for all mankind a new Declaration of Independence.'"

"The address said further: 'There is no voice heard among us except the voice of sincere patriotism and of whole-hearted devotion to the holy enterprise in which America is at present engaged. We are proud of the part that our country is taking in the cause of the world freedom. Our hearts, our arms, our goods, our lives are entirely at your command for the support of this righteous war. We are prepared to go with you to the end. Although we live in a historically peace-loving neighborhood we seek no peace that comes short of breaking completely and forever the power of Prussian militarism, thus insuring for all mankind justice and liberty and abiding peace.'"

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Today opportunities are offered by the merchants of making one dollar do the work of two, and few can afford to miss the chance in these times.

Spain sent no note to Germany recently, but in the note she is reported to have sent she informed Germany of her intention to use interned German vessels to replace Spanish vessels torpedoed. Clear, is it not?

Scarcity of sugar is no light inconvenience, but if everyone will sacrifice his or her share, none will suffer heavily. Let no one be able to say he is keeping more than his share; such a statement means he is depriving others of their portion.

It is reported that officers of one of the raiding German submarines spent an evening ashore at a New York theatre. This is incomprehensible; surely they would have chosen a more suitably vicious way of spending the evening.

It must sometimes be more than difficult for a medical board to decide whether a soldier who dies from some derangement of his organs would have suffered in the same way if he had not joined the army. Its decision may mean the difference to a widow and family of comparative comfort with a pension or a heart-breaking struggle without one. When there is doubt, would it not be well to give the widow the benefit?

MURRAY FOR CANADA.

[Rochester Democrat.]
We all know that Canada has done nobly on the battlefield in France, but it is doubtful if we realize just how heavy a price she has paid that freedom might not perish from the earth. Some figures recently made public give eloquent testimony in this respect. Starting with a regular army of only 2,000 men, Canada has raised and trained an army of 450,000. Of this number 43,000 have given their lives for the cause, and 115,000 have appeared on the casualty lists as wounded or sick. About 50,000 have been returned as unfit for further service. 2,234 are still in German or neutral military prisons, and 384 are set down as missing. The quality of service rendered by the Canadian soldiers and nursing sisters is indicated by the fact that some 10,000 of them have been decorated or have received distinctions of one kind or another. And this is but a part of the great work done by our loyal sister nation to the north. The least we can say in the light of this record is "Hurrah for Canada."

PRESIDENT WILSON'S IDEALISM.

[London Spectator.]
In what then does President Wilson's idealism consist? To many ecstatic imaginations in Great Britain, it may seem a very dull and plain thing to say, but in our belief his idealism is chiefly represented by his determination to beat German militarism to its knees—to beat it what came what, at whatever cost, and without any gain to the United States except the triumph of an honorable principle. That, after all, is idealism of the most intense and splendid kind.

In reply to a query as to the height of his corn, the Saltford Sage says he will not tell how high it is, as he wishes to retain his reputation for veracity; and besides it wouldn't be any use to tell what it measures today, as it would be at least eight inches higher tomorrow.

ADD FOOLISH SAYINGS.

[The Independent.]
We often hear it said that a man of German origin cannot be blamed if in his secret heart he sympathizes with the Kaiser and his gang. On that line of argument every Italian ought to sympathize with Nero, every Spaniard with the Duke of Alva, every Russian with Ivan the Terrible, and every American with Benedict Arnold.

THE BOOK WORM.
[By Vincent G. Perry.]

Raymond Walsh was a puzzle to the villagers of Willgreen. At the age of 22 he was not even giving marriage a thought. Nothing seemed to interest him but books and his estate. Sarah Morley, who had been postmistress for thirty years (this was a fact kept the village posted on his activities. The first year he had been home from college he had taken a correspondence course in law, then he had switched off to short story writing and later had studied the keeping of bees and the culture of mushrooms. He was always trying to catch a butterfly, but kept on with the old things he had learned, adding to his ho-ho-ho almost monthly. He was always sending away for and receiving books to his house. He had inherited a love for horses. It was necessary for him to hire two stablemen, a kennel man, a bookkeeper and a gardener besides his household servants, but he supervised everything personally.

Raymond did not find time for social life. He did not interest him in the least. He attended church every Sunday morning and sat in the Walsh pew. He did not like to go to the village. Raymond did not find time for social life. He did not interest him in the least. He attended church every Sunday morning and sat in the Walsh pew. He did not like to go to the village. He was always trying to catch a butterfly, but kept on with the old things he had learned, adding to his ho-ho-ho almost monthly. He was always sending away for and receiving books to his house. He had inherited a love for horses. It was necessary for him to hire two stablemen, a kennel man, a bookkeeper and a gardener besides his household servants, but he supervised everything personally.

Fido home with you, of course. He is right at home here."

Raymond was laughing. "I knew it all along," he too, confessed. "I never saw him before that day. He is just a poor dog I picked up. I wanted to meet you, and that was the way I went about it."

BURIED AT GODERICH.

GODERICH, Aug. 21.—The funeral of Bert Potts took place from the family residence, Cameron street, today, and was very largely attended. The Oude fellows had charge of the funeral, and a large number of Oddfellows from other towns attended. There was a number of beautiful wreaths and sprays.

A Single Application Will Banish Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty.)
Here is a home treatment for removing hairs that is quick, painless and inexpensive. With some powdered talc and water make enough paste to thickly cover the objectionable hairs, apply and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin, and it will be left soft, clear and hairless. This treatment will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be careful to get real talc—no Advt.

PINKIE IS SET FREE.

The Jones family heard Pinkie's mother calling him in the night to come back home. But Pinkie was a prisoner and couldn't get away. But at last the tender-hearted little William, who was Farmer Boy, took Pinkie into the edge of the Great Forest, so that he could go back home to his dear mother. Little William left Pinkie in a patch of bullberries, so that he could hide from any enemies.

But what do you suppose Pinkie did? He said to himself: "Now that I am free, I feel as if I'd like to go back to the nice Farmer Boy who gives me lots of warm milk and lovely things to eat." And he started back to the farmhouse.

And next morning little William was startled to see little Pinkie fast asleep in the kitchen, curled up on the feather cushion in the old rocking chair. And what do you think? Why, the doors were all locked and the windows were fastened. And little William was puzzled, and he said to himself: "How in the world did that little runt of a Coon get into this house?"

But Farmer Jones discovered the wonderful trick of little Pinkie when the little runt came back to the farm in the night. And he had climbed in.

STOP DANDRUFF!

HAIR GETS THICK,
WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Girls! Draw a cloth through your hair and double its beauty.

Spend a few cents! Dandruff vanishes and hair stops coming out.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair: soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff, is merely a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Danderine. It is now all drug stores recommend it. Apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there is an appearance of abundance, freshness, softness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will, you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair. Your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp. It never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

Poor Dye the Trouble.
Dear Cynthia Grey,—I am asking you if you could help me concerning a dye. The first time washing it I soaked it in salt and water, but when I got it out I found patches of dye where I had pressed my hand on it in the water. Hoping to hear from you soon, yours,
Ans.—I am afraid the trouble is in the dye, and now the color has run there, and now the color has run there. It seems difficult nowadays to obtain wash fabrics that do not fade or run in color when washed.

Save the Elderberries.
Elderberries may be canned, just as any other fruit. Add a little lemon to give flavor. Here is the recipe for elderberry chutney—Three quarts elderberries, 3 onions, 2 teaspoons whole cloves, 2 tablespoons ground ginger, 1½ cups brown sugar, 2 cups seeded raisins, 1-3 teaspoon red pepper, 1-3 teaspoon mustard seed, 2½ cups vinegar, 1½ cups water. Cook till thick and put in sterilized jars. Elderberry, plum or grape catsup: Two quarts fruit, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon each of cloves, cinnamon and allspice, 1-4 teaspoon cayenne, mild vinegar to cover. Cook the fruit in the vinegar until soft. Rub through a sieve, add sugar and spices, cook and seal.

Send Designs Back.
Dear Cynthia Grey,—I am returning "Cherry" lace patterns and thank you for sending them to me. I am sending "Cherry" one of mother's lace patterns, which she never returned. (SUNFLOWER '05). Ans.—May we have your address, "Cherry," so I may return these patterns?

Ans.—A method advised by a reader is to mix a very little Paris green in a teaspoonful of honey; remove all food and place this on the shelves where the ants infest. Gum camphor sprinkled around the shelves is also said to chase ants away, and others have found powder of borax for ridding the house of the pests.

Moisten a cloth in water, sprinkle with common baking soda, and rub the white spot well. This has been found a very good way to restore the color. To rub with alcohol is another method that sometimes proves successful.

Why Insanity May Not Always Be Due to Disordered Brain

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG.
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

Your soul is as much in your sole as in your brain. There is no proof that there is intellect in your toes than in the brain. The elements of the brain or in the nerves and heads of the elements called the grey matter.

You read and hear much about the "convulsions" of the brain, ridges, furrows, curves and valleys. At Johns Hopkins University, in his new department of experimental psychology of John Hopkins University, in his new books and monographs, ideas and thoughts have no more to do with mind and thought than if the brain were like a football or a bladder.

Prof. Shephard Ivory Franz of the Government Hospital for the Insane is another research worker who has helped to prove that the word "brain" is incorrectly used, because it does not mean mind, intellect, thought and feeling, as most writers and speakers employ the word.

Brain Sound, Yet Insane.

The functions of the brain are not strictly physical activities, not merely mental or intellectual. They are simply short circuiting, links, yards, switches, turntables, depots and central stations to link up the memories, ideas and imaginations of the senses and muscles, internal structures and the external world.

Men like Franz, Watson, Dunlap, Lashley and other ultra-modern investigators are hard at it as they announce day after day new facts to help to throw the mistaken belief that the brain thinks or holds the mind.

Jefferson says there are no centres of speech, centres of thought, centres of sight, centres of sound, etc. These so-called centres are merely the narrowest, most concentrated spots at which the lines of wireless communication between the senses and the muscles or other structures are gathered together. There must of course be such exchange as the brain.

Sanity does not rest with the brain. Many an insane man has a sound brain yet his mind is cracked. Many a sound mind is associated with a diseased brain. Indeed, there are scores of different injuries, diseases, operations, tumors, diseases of the brain, which affect all or any part of the human brain, which do not affect the intellect and good judgment of the individual.

Other Organs Responsible.

There are more insane persons with deformed glands, mouth, liver, stomach and other structures than with cracked brains. Injuries and diseases of the brain may cause fever, confusion, delirium or unconsciousness, but change there are so many vital, living, active, movable, sensitive and exchangeable always taking place through this great central depot, but that does not mean that thought, feeling, memory, perception or anything is stored up more in the brain than in your

Answers to Health Questions

MRS. T. B. W.: Q.—My little boy, who is nine years old, often complains of being out of breath after he has been out playing. What do you think causes this?

A.—Your son's trouble is most likely caused by over-exertion. However, you should have his heart and lungs examined and also have his tonsils and adenoids removed.

A. C.: Q.—Will you please tell me what to do for rheumatism and aching joints?

A.—The name "rheumatism" does not mean anything definite. You must have an examination made to find the exact cause of your trouble. In the meantime dry heat, hot applications, Swedish movements, massage, manipulation, orthopedic exercises and exercise may help assuage the pain.

MRS. J. T.: Q.—Is buttermilk fattening?

A.—Buttermilk is fattening, but not so much so as milk. Milk contains more fat and butter, and therefore is more fattening.

A. C.: Q.—Will you please tell me if you consider Prof. Franz's treatment for tuberculosis a success?

A.—Prof. Franz's treatment of tuberculosis has not yet been proved or confirmed.

S. G.: Q.—What can I do to remove superfluous hair on the face?

A.—Apply a little of the following to the affected parts:

Calcium sulphide 2 parts
Starch 1 part
Zinc oxide 1 part

Mix this into a paste with a little water.

J. J. S.: Q.—What shall I do for pains around my sides and back?

A.—This may be due to some muscular strain from over-use of a particular muscle which should be given a kind of exercise or use vibrator on different sets of muscles. BOBBY AND THE CLAM-MEN.

Bobby piled his tin buckets high with sand.

"Which it was gold instead of just sand," Bobby thought.

"Oh, you would!" cried a squeaky voice, and Bobby was surprised to see the top of his three tin pails.

"Who're you?" exclaimed Bobby, rubbing his eyes to make sure he was awake.

"We're the Clam-men," replied one of the little fellows, peering out from behind a long, bony arm. "And this hand is for you, until some of you people come along and dig us up and carry us away in baskets or bags."

"Well, what do you want us for in your land?" asked the smallest Clam-man.

"Make soup or clam-chowder out of you," I guess," replied Bobby.

"But I've never seen a Horse Radish before," laughed Bobby.

"Well, when you see Clam-men you'll generally see me," laughed Horse Radish.

"Unless he's hanging around the Oyster family," exclaimed the largest Clam-man. "He'd be with them right now if he hadn't gone away on their summer vacation."

"I'd like to take a four-months' vacation," Bobby thought.

"What's that?" asked the second Clam-man. "Funny they're so tight-shelled about their vacation."

"What's that?" asked Bobby.

"Horse Radish asked. 'We couldn't go if we didn't want to go with them.'"

"The second Clam-man declared. 'I'd rather take a four-months' vacation than go with them.'"

ONE PORTION FOR TWO By Juanita Hamel

Some of us know the power of thought not only in directing our purposes, but actually in transforming ourselves, our bodies and our dreams. Others go ever so much farther and declare there's nothing so REAL as a wish.

What would YOU think if—during the honeymoon when you'd carefully prepared a surprise dish for HIM, his favorite viand, and with each ingredient had added perfect love—if when you lifted the cover, there should be CUPID laughing up at you? But, then, what could be a more APPROPRIATE portion for two?

Solving the Coiffure Problem the Right Beauty Way For You

BY LUCRECIA BORI
The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

There are two things which distinguish the coiffure of the really beautiful woman. One is its extreme simplicity, and the other is its consistency. Elaborate coiffures, fortunately, are no longer the fashion. But in any case they are never successful.

The woman whose hair—nature grown otherwise acquired—is piled up in monumental curves and misarranged loops, makes herself conspicuous by the wrong kind of coiffure. She is a failure in the eyes of the public, and she is a failure in the eyes of her own husband.

Let the arrangement of the hair follow the lines of the head, so the hair appears truly growing out of the head instead of being plastered on from the outside. The hair should be arranged to follow the lines of the head, so the hair appears truly growing out of the head instead of being plastered on from the outside.

Experiment Until You Find the Most Becoming Coiffure For You.

with tall piles of waved and fussed hair in commanding attention.

Of course, if the coiffure is not pleasant or the face is plain into homeliness, then an elaborate coiffure may be a blessing, acting as a sort of camouflage for the unattractive features. But for the average woman who wishes to appear in good taste always, the coiffure should be simple, and—most important—selected not so much to suit her personality and features.

Abroad you will see the famous beauty clinging year after year to exactly the same kind of coiffure. Usually it looks extremely simple, too, but when you see her in the flesh, you will wonder how on earth the hair can be so that it seems as though plastered in a cloud of brushed into place. But the coiffure so selected and adhered to is one that fits the contour of the head had been taken bodily from the fashion papers and affixed to the head, which is the impression one gets very frequently when observing some elaborately coiffed ladies. Ringed, marcelled, waved, one

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Madge Did To Help Lillian Prepare To Appear Her Best For Robert Savarin's Eyes.

I pushed Lillian's door open quietly, waiving the courtesy of a knock for fear of waking little Marion. As I had shrewdly guessed, Lillian was not asleep, but lying with wide open eyes staring at the ceiling. At my entrance she turned her head from the bed, and putting her hands to her hair, began to take the hairpins from the shining silver mass.

"What time did you say they would be here?" she asked, going to the dressing table and beginning to brush the beautiful, wavy hair which for so long she had hidden under atrocious dyes because Harry Underwood wished his wife to disguise her age.

"The train reaches Weshawken at 6:30," I returned. "I imagine it will be here, I fancy Mr. Savarin will lose no time in coming."

I had not meant anything by my little speech, and I was surprised to find Lillian's cheeks suffused with a flush.

"He will be most kind, of course," she said, a little coldly.

I resolved to keep my tongue wary in the future. It was most unlike Lillian to be "touchy," but evidently comment upon Robert Savarin's disguised admiration disturbed her.

There were many little signals, also, which told me that Lillian's interest in the artist with the romantic past and the man who had been the hero of a romance, was not a passing fancy. Never had I seen her more captivated as to the gazing of her hair, more nervous and more nervous as to the gazing of her hair, more nervous and more nervous as to the gazing of her hair.

"Sit down and let me do your hair," I said with decision. "You have been through too much in the last few hours."

To my surprise she submitted quietly. "What a magnetic touch you have, Madge," she said after a little while. I had brushed her hair carefully, and I had combed it high on her head in the style which became her best. "I was nervous as a witch when I sat down, and now the jumpiness is gone."

"I'll just keep on being your maid, then," I returned. "I'll be with you dressed. What dress do you want to put on?"

She stepped to the closet, and pulling it open, looked from one to the other of the pretty gowns hanging there.

"I know Mr. Savarin will understand," she said uncertainly, but do you think that his sister, this Mrs. Cosgrove, might expect me to wear a black gown? I haven't one that is suitable."

I could hardly believe my ears. Lillian Underwood of all persons, deprecating her own judgment in dress for fear of the criticism of a woman from an obscure mountain town! I knew that she did not even for near relatives believe in mourning costumes, yet here she was worrying because she wore-out shell of a woman not a kind-woman of her own, whose last days she had made one of.

"What nonsense!" I exclaimed, almost not quite forgetting to pick my voice low on account of Marion. "Here, let me select one."

I pushed her unceremoniously aside, and took down a gown which I had seen Lillian frequently wear when at work. It was a simple little gown of dark blue linen with embroidered collar and cuffs, and it fitted Lillian's figure perfectly.

"There!" I said, coming out of the closet, "do you get into this. Or, wait, don't use that expression, Madge."

"Don't use that expression, Madge?" she asked, as she turned to her dressing table. "It always makes me shiver."

A Spiritual Crucifixion.

As she bustled herself with cold cream and rice powder, the simple freshening lotions which so many dainty women use, my thoughts went to the fact that she had made her shiver the time when "doing her face" meant covering its surface with make-up of rouge and liquid preparations, turning it into the ghastly travesty of a corpse upon which Harry Underwood insisted.

What a spiritual crucifixion her life underwent! And now, when his desertion of her, his entanglement with Grace Harper, his freed her from every moral obligation toward him the legal tie of marriage had been made hopeless, the happiness that might have been hers with Robert Savarin.

"Counting on Robert,"

As I fastened the gown at her waist and shouldered my own fingers through the coils of her hair, before my eyes flashed the picture of the future stretching before me. I could not help but think of the problem of how best to manage Marion when she came.

"Dear child," she said softly, putting up her hair, "I have my baby, and my work. I haven't time to be unhappy. Put everything else out of your mind and set it to the problem of how best to manage Marion when she comes."

"You will have to distort the truth, of course," I replied promptly. "Tell her you have had to take her grand-mother to see another physician, or something of that sort. And I would give her no time to think. Have everything ready so that when you want to speak her you can tell her of Mr. Savarin's coming, and then simply keep her in a state of action until she has started. I think you can count on Mr. Savarin for the rest."

Lillian didn't answer, but she went swiftly and noiselessly from chiffonier to closet, getting Marion's wardrobe together, and her last expression told me that she was indeed "counting on Robert Savarin."

It is well that the planetary operations for this year are weak, since they are adversely placed, threatening annoyance and disturbance rather than disaster. Under such conditions a little safeguarding of the interests presents itself, and it is better to be safe than sorry. Letters, writings, contracts, etc., are under an unfriendly transit, and should be used with caution. Also, the possibilities of quarrels, disputes and litigation should be avoided. These warnings should be heeded.

Sweet as a Smile

A smile of satisfaction from radiant youth and beauty—wearers of clothes washed with Sunlight because the garments cleansed with retain all the "charm of their newness"—the preservation of fabrics in their original freshness and smart appearance.

No other Laundry Soap in Canada is so pure as Sunlight.

The Universal

This story is told of a Missionary instructing a class of Oriental maidens in the English alphabet:

What comes after "S"? she inquired. A bright little maiden piped up "LIPTON'S." Wherever the English language is spoken "LIPTON'S" is synonymous with "T."

This reason is simple. Lipton's own the finest plantations in the world. They grow the very choicest Tea. They grow, dry, blend and pack it themselves. Consequently they can absolutely guarantee its quality and flavor to the consumer.

No other firm selling Tea in Canada can give this guarantee.

WIFE AND LITTLE BOY

SAVED BY
DR. FOWLER'S
EXTRACT OF
WILD STRAWBERRY
BOTH HAD DYSENTERY

Dysentery comes on very suddenly and is one of the worst and most dangerous of all bowel troubles. The pains in the bowels become intense, the discharges occur with great rapidity, and are very often accompanied by blood. Unless these discharges are checked the sufferer becomes weak and languid, and very often death ensues. There is only one remedy to use in all cases of dysentery & any other looseness of the bowels, and that is "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."

It will cure where all others fail. It has been on the market for 73 years. Don't accept a cheap substitute and thus endanger your health.

Mr. W. J. Metcalfe, Toledo, Alta., writes: "I wish to state that we have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry with good results. I will say that it can't be beat. It saved my wife and little boy, last summer, when they were very low with dysentery. We always have a bottle of it in the house, and would not be without it if it cost five dollars a bottle."

The genuine "Dr. Fowler's" is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price, 35c.

INFANTS-DELIGHT

TOILET SOAP
THE very thought of purity conjures up a vision of whiteness. INFANTS-DELIGHT is pure white, fragrant, soothing and refreshing. It is borated to soften the water. Conveniently curved to the hand. Send us three of these ads—all different—for beautiful Mother Goose Book in colors.

Dept. 4 TORONTO.

To Keep Fit

The best work is demanded from all at this crisis in the world's history. We can't do our best when the system is full of poisons.

The liver and kidneys must be kept active so that the blood will be properly filtered. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most effective regulators of these important organs.

They will help you to keep well and active and to do your best work.

Give Your Hair Life and Lustre

Velnor, the Modern Shampoo, Easy to Apply and Inexpensive.

Try a shampoo, tonight! Get a 50c carton of Velnor, the new, science-created shampoo, from your drug store. See how refreshing and cooling is this rich, creamy lather! See how soft, wavy and lustrous it leaves your hair, how easy to handle and dress.

Proper and regular shampooing will give your hair new life, restore lost tints, add new charm and lustre. With Velnor Shampoo—which comes in concentrated powder form, and contains none of Nature's own ingredients than you can get in an ordinary liquid preparation—a home course in shampooing is quite inexpensive. The 50c carton contains six individual sachets, each enough for one shampoo. Because it is so convenient, concentrated and measured out it is the most economical shampoo you can buy—Advt.

20 MILLION PEOPLE USE CASCARETS--WHY?

Only True Tonic for Liver and Bowels Costs 10 Cents a Box.

Cascarets are a treat! They live your liver, clean your thirty feet of bowels and sweeten your stomach. You eat one or two Cascarets like candy before going to bed and in the morning your head is clear, tongue is clean, stomach is clear, breath right, and cold gone and you feel grand.

Get a 10 or 25 cent box at any drug store and enjoy the nicest, easiest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Stop sick headaches, biliousness, indigestion, furred tongue, offensive breath and constipation. Mothers should give Cascarets, feverish, bilious children a whole Cascaret any time.

BATTLE OPENS WITH CRASH AND TANKS ARE UPON ENEMY ALMOST IMMEDIATELY CUT OFF THICK FOG

British Attack Below Arras Is Rendered Effective by Surprise—German Strongholds Are Transformed Into Shambles by Iron Giants.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 21, 3:30 p.m.—(By the Associated Press.)—Having smashed into Gen. von Below's seventeenth army during heavy fog, dawn today on a front of more than ten miles, the British tanks, supported by the heavy artillery, moved forward throughout the day made steady progress, capturing villages, killing prisoners and guns and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

Coming directly at the heels of the battle of the Somme, the scene of which virtually has been repeated in new operations, this blow exploits to the limit the confusion created among the Germans by the battle of the Somme. Heavy fighting has occurred along the front of the British tanks, which have been moving forward since the storming of British infantry, who were aided in this task by tanks.

It was the embankment that the enemy, armed with countless machine guns, fired a hail of bullets in an effort to keep the British from coming further, but while they were doing it, they themselves were being hit by the tanks, not only from the front and side, but from the rear, as the tanks moved up close to the rear of the infantry, and from the front, where the big guns, firing from an avalanche of steel from the north.

As it inevitably, as along this embankment the exact situation is obscure, while General Paschevich's German defence have broken down from the British tanks, which have been moving forward since the storming of British infantry, who were aided in this task by tanks.

The battle opened with a sudden crash, the sound of the tanks, which were moving forward since the storming of British infantry, who were aided in this task by tanks.

Heads Million Dollar Business

A few years ago this young man was a store clerk working day in and day out behind a counter.

Early in life he started a savings account, it grew and grew. He claims that the greater part of his success is due to that fact because when the opportunity came he had some money saved up to help him through.

All that he is, all that he has done, has been accomplished solely by systematically adding to his savings account, getting the thrift habit and staying with it.

PAINTING AND TRIMMING FOR THE WESTERN FAIR

Grounds and Building Being Prepared
For a Record Attendance.

These are busy days at the general offices of the Western Fair, with entries coming in fast and space in the different buildings practically all allotted. It is expected that this year's fair will be the best ever held in London. The staff will move out to the grounds on the morning of Labor Day, Monday, September 2, where all business in connection with the fair will be done until the exhibition is over.

The new automobile entrance and driveway will prove a boon to car owners and drivers. Unusually large entries are expected in the live stock department this year, and the fair management has endeavored to make ample accommodation for all comers. The new coin-controlled turnstiles will be in operation at all gates and grand stand entrances.

With practically all buildings repainted and the new subway and entrance completed, the grounds this year will present a better appearance than ever. The best attractions possible have been secured, a big up-to-date midway has been arranged for, and the purely agricultural features will be as prominent as always, so that this year's fair should break all records for interest and attendance.

SIX JOYOUS DAYS

OF CHAUTAUQUA FOR

PEOPLE OF LONDON

Big Tent To Be Pitched at Queen's Park Aug.

24th.

Commencing Saturday, August 24, London will have six joyous days of Chautauqua, no regular program being given on Sunday.

The Chautauqua, which consists of a most entertaining and instructive program of musical numbers and drama, comes here through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A.

This organization will spend the next six days in London, Ontario, and will give a series of 600 season tickets, and as soon as these are sold, the price of the tickets will advance from $2 to $2.50, the regular price for a Chautauqua season ticket.

Tent at Queen's Park.

Queen's Park has been selected as the place to pitch the huge Chautauqua tent, where an entirely different program will be given each afternoon and evening, as well as the Junior Chautauqua at 9 o'clock each morning.

Many London citizens have heard of Chautauqua, and this summer, while touring through different cities at the time when the big attraction was being staged, all are enthusiastic in their praise of Chautauqua as an entertaining and educational attraction, and as the same program will be given here as in other Canadian cities, Londoners have a rare treat in store.

Two Extra Numbers.

Chautauqua patrons will have two extra numbers, who was recently injured in a motor accident, will be replaced by Dr. Frank Bohm, lecturing on "The Mind of Germany." He returned in June after spending a year in Europe on special diplomatic missions for the United States Government, and this lecture is said to be one of the year's best numbers.

Dr. W. Davidson will give an address Saturday afternoon on the "People of Ireland," and that same evening an illustrated lecture on "Beauties of Ireland." The musical numbers will be given throughout the week as shown in the program.

SWISS COMES HERE,

JOINING FORCE FOR

SERVICE IN SIBERIA

That the army is the greatest melting pot that the world has ever known for bringing together all nationalities and classes of the world was again proven beyond doubt at the local mobilization this morning, when F. A. Greppi presented himself before the board and expressed his wish to join up with the Siberian expeditionary force that is now being recruited in this city and throughout the Dominion.

Swiss By Birth.

The young volunteer, who passed 22, and who hopes to obtain a commission in the battalion, is a native of Switzerland, being born in Zurich. Six years ago he left that country and went to the United States, where he gained employment with the Burroughs Adding Machine Company and rapidly rose until at the time of his leaving that firm to enlist he was sales manager in South America, a position which he has held for the past three years.

Mr. Greppi has traveled extensively throughout the different countries of Europe, and speaks five different languages, besides his native tongue, which will be of great advantage to him in the army as well as helping him to gain his commission. The languages are French, Russian, Italian, German, Swiss and English. Two years ago he was in Germany for a number of months, being sent there on business in which he was detained for some time, returning via Holland.

Brother an Ace.

Mr. Greppi has a brother in the French Aviation Service who just the other day crashed to his death after successfully downing his 19th and 20th Hun planes over the German lines in France. The young man left Detroit last evening, and today stated to the advertiser that he was anxious to go to Siberia and get a crack at the Kaiser.

CHURCH PARADE FOR

LABOR MEN WILL BE

HELD IN SEPTEMBER

Laborers' Union Likely To Be

Formed, Say T. and L.

Council Members.

At a meeting of the local trades and labor council held last night in Duffield Hall, it was decided to hold a labor church parade on St. Andrew's Church on the first Sunday evening in September.

Delegates Wright, Hessel and Ferguson were last night appointed to interview Mayor C. E. Somerville and Publicity Commissioner Gordon Philip, with a view to obtaining support from them in an effort to induce delegates at the Dominion Labor Congress to be held next month in Quebec, hold their 1919 convention in this city.

Laborers' Union Likely.

It is likely that a laborers' union will be organized in this city in the near future, according to information given out at last night's meeting. The report of No. 1 committee on the city fire hall meeting was adopted, and the delegates did not take kindly to the action of the city council in placing the onus of the question on the shoulders of Fire Chief Aitken.

The title of the delegates to the Dominion Congress were last night instructed to bring up the broad laws existing in Ontario at the present time with a view to a change in the provincial laws. The local brewers will also introduce a resolution at the congress, urging the Government to change the liquor laws, so that two and a half per cent alcohol can be permitted in temperance beer instead of two and a half per cent proof spirits as at present. This resolution was endorsed by the trades and labor council at the meeting last night.

Reconstruction Plans.

A communication was read from the labor committee at Ottawa advising the local council of reconstruction plans for labor after the war, and requesting that the local council advise Ottawa of any steps taken in this direction here.

Organizer A. Sullivan of the cigar-makers' union was present, and in a stirring address to the meeting he urged the co-operation of all local labor in regard to strikes in the factories of a Hamilton and a Toronto firm. He stated that the latter firm had raised its wholesale rates from $50 to $70 per thousand for cigars, and yet the workers in the factories were held down to starvation wages.

The union men expressed their discontent at this action, he said. "They were locked out, the factory transferred, and yet the workers in the factories were held down to starvation wages."

Turned Labor Down.

"The Hamilton company," continued the speaker, "built up its business by organized labor, and then turned organized labor down. Quite recently this firm was fined for the same reason."

The Government requests labor to work in harmony with capital, and yet the Hamilton company, which is a shareholder in this firm, "this firm urges its men to enlist and do their duty for the organization last night," and yet returned men, after being discharged from the army, on returning to this firm for their situation, have found them taken by child labor. These firms have opened their eyes, and they will continue the fight against us in our battle for a fair wage, and the London Board of Trade, which has officers here, has pledged its support to this firm in its local branch to aid in obtaining cheap labor to combat us."

Pledged Support.

The meeting pledged its support to the cigar-makers in the fight, and it was urged that all union men in this city and in the Dominion of Canada should cease to patronize the offending firms, thus bringing before them the importance of organized labor throughout the Dominion.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO MAKE DOMINION-WIDE APPEAL.

Fixed For Week Commencing September 15.—In Urgent Need of $500,000

For Its War Relief Work.

It has been officially announced that the Canadian Order of the Knights of Columbus will make a Canada-wide appeal for financial assistance in erecting and supplying army huts and chapels for the boys in England and France.

The extensive work of this order in the past necessitates this move, and it is hoped that every big-hearted, loyal Canadian will contribute to the success of this worthy cause.

Last year, under the direction of Mr. J. L. Murray, state deputy for the Province of Ontario, $50,000 was collected in that province alone for the work, which has grown in unprecedented proportions. This has made the Dominion-wide appeal imperative to carry on this splendid and noble work.

The effect of the Knights of Columbus is bringing to our brave fighting lads in France and England and to the Canadian boys in the trenches who cannot fight, is heartily recognized.

The organizing force is working at top speed, and everything seems to be well in hand to make the week of September 15 successful. Appointments urging the necessity of the appeal will be made shortly.

THOUSANDS OFF TO

ENJOY GREAT PICNIC

FOR RETURNED MEN

Veterans of District Accept

Invitation Almost Unanimously.

Today is a banner day for the returned soldiers of Western Ontario, who are holding their annual outing at Port Stanley this afternoon. It is believed that over 4,000 picnicers are present at the lakeside, practically every returned soldier in this military district being out, accompanied by his wife and family.

Four bands are in attendance at the picnic, the Canadian Garrison Regiment Band parading from the armories to the London and Port Stanley Railway station at noon today. The Western Ontario Regiment Band and the Army Medical Corps Pipe Band paraded from the armories to the station to strain at 1:30 p.m.

The bands are making their rounds through the streets at 15-minute intervals. In addition to this the Macdonald-Lewis Juvens Pipe Band is sending the skirl of the pipes over the lake, as the merry throng enjoy themselves at their outing.

The sports' program began shortly after 2 p.m., there being aquatic events for the men and foot races for the women and children on the beach. The military patients from all local hospitals are present at the Port, and the committees in charge have arranged to provide refreshments for these men.

In the evening a grand fireworks display will be shown from the tower of the lake if the weather proves favorable, and the returned soldiers will be allowed the freedom of the Casino for dancing. Band concerts will also be in order all day, and judging from the crowds who left today for the lakeside the affair is proving a grand success.

BLOSSOM END ROT

AFFECTS TOMATOES;

IS BEYOND CONTROL

Unequal Moisture the Cause, and Loss Is Serious.

This week a tomato grower in the east end of the city has gathered four or five bushels of rotten tomatoes from his four thousand plants; a rueful harvest after all his high expectations of the spring and early summer. Tomato growing has enjoyed an exceptional vogue in the London Junction section of the city this year, but the producers of the fruit haven't enjoyed unalloyed bliss.

Neither have growers in other parts of Ontario for that matter. Mr. McCubbin said, "Since the initial cause of blossom-end rot is weather conditions, it is impossible to do anything for it. It is possible to prevent it, absolutely, by growing tomatoes in greenhouses, but the grower who has made a study of it of the opinion that it is due to pressure of sap on the tender tissue at the blossom end of the tomato, resulting in a rupture of the cells, which becomes infected with fungi or bacteria that causes the fruit to rot."

Unequal Moisture.

"Unequal moisture, that is an excessively wet period, followed by excessive drought, is responsible for the tenderness of the tissue. Absorption of water from the ground is irregular. During the moist period, there is excessive loose, soft growth. Following this, the sap from below comes up and bursts the tender tissue. Growing tomatoes in the green house, blossom-end rot is prevented by supplying water regularly. About one year in three we have a certain amount of it."

Affects Flavor.

Apart from the straight loss in the fruit from blossom-end rot, Mr. McCubbin drew attention to the loss through inferiority of quality. "While there is no loss in the quantity of the fruit, keeping when canned," he said, "the part next the rot ripens quickly, while the other end comes up and bursts. The flavor, under the circumstances, is not up to the standard."

Western Front Has

Been Reduced More

Than Fifty Miles

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—As a result of the Allied successes during the past month the battlefield in France from Rheims to the North Sea has been reduced in length more than 50 miles. General March told the newspapermen today in his mid-week conference.

When the Germans began their last advance the line stretched for 250 miles. It is now less than 200 miles. In commenting on the shipping situation, General March divulged for the first time the fact that Brazil had given a ship to the C. E. for two trips.
