

IOWA RAILROAD WRECK

Passenger and Freight Collide, Killing Both Crews.

Waterloo, Ia., June 18.—An Illinois Central passenger train collided head-on with a freight train west of Raymond, Iowa, early today. Both engines and firemen were killed. A mail agent was seriously injured and three passengers slightly hurt. The mail clerk was taken to a hospital. The three injured passengers were able to continue their journey.

JAPAN MAKES DEMANDS

She Insists Upon the Opening of Mukden to Foreign Trade.

Yokohama, June 19.—The Japanese minister at Peking yesterday filed a formal demand on the Chinese foreign office for the opening of Mukden and Tai Tung Chiao to foreign trade. The Chinese officials replied that circumstances were not favorable to the opening of the cities mentioned. The British and American representatives are supporting Japan's demands. United States Minister Conger is also demanding the opening of Harbin, Manchuria.

SHE POISONED FOUR

A German Female Bluebeard Caught by the Fifth.

Berlin, June 19.—The trial of a so-called "female Bluebeard," Frau Przysgodna, began at Allenstein, East Prussia, near the Russian frontier, yesterday. Her fifth husband, Przysgodna, a hotel keeper, caught her putting arsenic in his coffee, and remonstrated that her other husbands, all prosperous peasants, died suddenly. The authorities exhumed their remains and found arsenic in each of them.

THE MARCUM MURDER

The Jury Disagrees and is Discharged—A New Trial.

Jackson, Ky., June 19.—The jury in the case of Jeff and White charged with the murder of Lawyer James B. Marcum, was discharged today, having been unable to agree. At 8 o'clock the jury filed into the court room, and Foreman Richard Millard said: "Your honor, we find there is no chance of coming to an agreement."

TO MEET KING PETER

An Official Deputation Leaves Belgrade for Geneva.

Belgrade, June 19.—A deputation to meet King Peter started this morning for Geneva. Three sisters of the late Queen Draga also departed from Belgrade for Vienna.

It was officially announced last evening at Belgrade that the deputation, which left Belgrade today, will meet King Peter at Geneva and escort him to the Serbian capital, where the new sovereign is expected to arrive not later than June 25.

London, June 19.—The Belgrade correspondent of the Times says it is evident that the country has declared for the Karageorgievich dynasty with surprising unanimity. Not even at Nish, the former Obrenovich stronghold, where King Milan used to reside when Belgrade was dangerous, has a dissenting voice been raised. No more arrests have been made. The press censorship is apparently in abeyance, and all former officials have been allowed to retain their posts.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—The Russian court has gone into mourning for 24 days for the late King Alexander and Queen Draga.

WHEREABOUTS OF GEN. MANNING

IS THE CAUSE OF MUCH ANXIETY

The British Forces in Somaliland Thought in Perilous Situation.

London, June 19.—Ignorance of the exact situation in Somaliland and the prevalence of disquieting rumors at Aden concerning the position of the force of Gen. Manning, commander of the British expedition against the Mad Mullah, are exciting concern. Nothing has been received from Gen. Manning in three weeks, and the most that Mr. Brodrick, Secretary of War, was able to tell the House of Commons yesterday was that his whereabouts was that Gen. Manning had presumably joined forces with Col. Cobbe. The remainder of the secretary's statement on the subject was hardly more informative. Gen. Manning, he said, had not asked for reinforcements, but the Government had ordered 2,500 camels to Aden from India.

Unofficial dispatches from Aden state that three companies of British infantry and four companies of Indian infantry will start for Somaliland today. Mounted infantry are en route from India, and the force for renewing the British campaign against the Mad Mullah, 1,200 Indians, and 4,000 natives. Meanwhile 2,000,000 of the £250,000 cost of the expedition has already been spent, without any apparent result of importance.

WILL NOT CHANGE PURCHASE CLAUSE

Nationalists Will Have to Give In on That Point

OR MEASURE BE WITHDRAWN

Lord Dunraven is Held Responsible for the Stand Taken by Secretary Wyndham.

London, Friday, June 19.—The Daily Mail says it understands that the Government has caused it to be known that unless an agreement can be arrived at with the Irish party on the vital points of the land bill before it is again brought up for consideration in the House of Commons, the measure will be withdrawn. The Government, believing that it is practically impossible in view of the present attitude of the Irish, to carry the bill, have thus thrown the responsibility for wrecking the measure upon the Irish members, who insist upon amendments that Mr. Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland, the introducer of the bill, is unable to accept.

No official communications have passed between the Government and the Irish members, but it is believed that the firm attitude of Mr. Wyndham has already had some effect on Mr. John Redmond, leader of the Irish party in the House, who will regard as valuable and important such concessions as Mr. Wyndham may make. The Mail declares that the Nationalists will not accept responsibility for wrecking the bill, and will be amenable when it is next discussed.

The Home Rule Daily News, which attributes the Government's decision regarding the purchase clause to pressure from landlords, exerted through Lord Dunraven, who is himself an Irish landlord of considerable parliamentary experience. The paper describes the position as a sheer deadlock, which, however, may be completely revolutionized in a few hours.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal, while expressing bitter disappointment at the Government's refusal to yield in the matter of the purchase clause of the land bill, does not make any suggestion regarding the attitude of the Nationalists. It says, however, that if it is to be a success, the bill means it will probably be taken, although any obligations or gratitude to the Ministry will be regarded as cancelled.

TRICKY PLEHVE AND THE TIMES

His New Scheme to Damage the Cause of Finland at St. Petersburg.

London, June 19.—Russian correspondent of the Times says that Governor Bobrikoff, of Finland, recently asserted as an undoubted fact that Finnish refugees were being recruited by Russian revolutionaries abroad. As the statements of the Russian dictator of the Finnish cause, it may be as well to disclose the incidents upon which Bobrikoff's statements are based. The Finnish cause, as is well known, has always found powerful defenders within St. Petersburg, and M. Plehve is evidently not an exception. The efforts have been permanently unsuccessful. It is therefore of great importance that he should create the impression that the exiled Finlanders have been recruited by the revolutionaries.

CHARGES AGAINST M'BRIDE CABINET

Sensational Statement About New B. C. Government.

ACCUSED OF PLOT WITH C. P. R.

Said to Be Willing to Give Blocks 4,593 and 4,594 to Secure Funds.

Vancouver, B. C., June 19.—The World, of this city, prints a sensational charge against the new McBride Conservative Government of having deliberately set aside the rights of bona fide locators of oil and coal claims in East Kootenay, as well as timber leases and licenses in the same district, in order that the C. P. R.'s renewed efforts to secure possession of blocks 4,593 and 4,594 may be facilitated, the understanding being that as compensation for such action, the Government will have their company supplied. It is further indicated that the arrangement of the present Conservative Government was largely the result of the C. P. R. wire-pulling, followed by sleight-of-hand and deliberate breach of faith by Mr. McBride, through which Mr. John Oliver, who had exposed the C. P. R. plot, was quietly ejected out of the ministerial position in which he sought to make assurance doubly sure of the salvation of the two rich blocks to the province.

In the case of one timber lease, that of D. V. Mott, the Government applicant had positive assurance that there could be no impediment. He won his lease by depositing in British Columbia on 10,000 acres of timber, the granting order signed, but is now refused his lease indefinitely and without other explanation from the Government than that it has been decided not to deal with either of the two blocks for the present, until the C. P. R. has been asked to intervene with respect to cancelling the lease. The recent session. Others are similar, deprived of legitimate rights, and may be forced into bankruptcy.

The preparation of the new voters' list began yesterday. The writ for the election will be issued July 16, and returned Nov. 18, and the next session of the new House will open Jan. 21.

STRUCK THE BARTENDER

First for a Drink and Then With a Poker—Charge is Preferred.

Warrants were issued this morning for the arrest of Charles and Henry Clanchan, of Glasgow, for assault on Marsh, of the same place, is the complaint. He alleges that the two defendants, who were together at a hotel bar, some weeks ago, and demanded a drink, although neither of them offered any money for the same. A real war argument followed, and to make it still warmer, it is alleged one of the brothers picked up a poker from near the stove, and smote the mixer of drinks a grievous blow, as a result of which he was unable to leave his room for some time, and as one of the defendants also was ill, the case did not come up until now.

THE ATLAS ASSIGNMENT

Situation Improved by Good Showing of Ames Statement.

St. Thomas, June 19.—The Atlas Loan Company yesterday made an assignment to the National Trust Company of Toronto for the benefit of their creditors. The liquidators of the Atlas Loan Company were much pleased with the statement made by Ames & Co. Mr. Home Smith, as an officer of the court, could not enter into particulars. However, he said, ever that he regarded the solvency of the Ames Company as a fact, and there is a vast difference for a creditor dealing with a company that is insolvent. Further than that, Mr. Smith could not go on.

It must appear to the average business man, however, that the situation has been very much improved by the unexpected good showing of the Ames & Co. It is only guess-work to say what it means, but it can mean only good to the depositors.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS

The Chicago Police Capture a Celebrated Swindler.

Chicago, June 19.—"Prof." A. A. Arthur, a septuagenarian, who has been sought by the police of a dozen cities for nearly a score of years, has been caught at Monmouth, Ill., by Chicago detectives. Arthur has operated under many different names, and when he was arrested papers were found in his possession indicating that he was traveling as the vice-president of a bank, a professor in an eastern college, a tourist, a lecturer and a minister.

In his sack was found a full banking outfit, including 500 imitation drafts on the National Park Bank of New York. The police of Chicago have been working on the case ever since these bogus drafts began to appear over a year ago.

As the Rev. A. J. Posthumus, it is said that the prisoner professed to be a Methodist minister, and that he was alleged swindler, by which he is believed to have obtained $20,000, is thus described by the police: He would deliver a lecture, and when about to leave would be met by a crowd of admirers, who would pay him $25 and sometimes $50, or more. The paper appeared regular in every way, and there seemed no difficulty in cashing it.

Ball in Head Five Years.—Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 19.—Dr. John P. Wilson, of this city, removed from his throat last night a bullet that had been in his head for five years. Dr. Wilson removed the bullet with a special instrument, and the patient was discharged, and the bullet ended near his nose.

NO NEW STOCK ISSUE

The Nova Scotia Steel Company Has Ample Funds.

Montreal, Quebec, June 19.—The management of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company officially states that it has no intention of issuing any new stock at the present time, as has been alleged. Last summer the issue of $500,000 of stock was authorized, but the company has ample funds to carry on the works which it now has under construction.

NEW QUEBEC SENATOR

Mr. L. O. David, of Montreal, Succeeds Senator Tasson.

Ottawa, June 19.—Mr. L. O. David, of this city, has been called to the Senate to succeed Senator Masson, who forfeited his seat by non-attendance at the Senate for several sessions. The new senator is an intimate friend of the Prime Minister, and a gentleman of literary tastes. Like Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he is noted for his amiable disposition. The Premier is to be congratulated upon making the first non-political appointment to the Upper Chamber. The choice of a successor to the late Senator Tasson will not be made for some days yet.

SEIZED A CRUISER

A Sheriff Holds Up Uncle Sam's Warship.

Washington, June 19.—Secretary of the Navy Moody today received a dispatch from Elizabethport, N. J., announcing the seizure by the sheriff of a United States revenue cutter, the "Albatross," at the yard of the New York Shipbuilding Company, one of the companies of the United States Shipbuilding Company. The Secretary took the telegram to the cabinet meeting, where the subject will be discussed.

MURDER AND LYNCH LAW

Escaped Desperado Killed After Desperate Battle With Posse.

Glasgow, Mont., June 19.—William Hardee, the condemned murderer, who, with three other prisoners escaped from the city jail here two weeks ago, after killing one guard and beating two others almost to death, has been shot and killed in the Bad Lands, 75 miles from this city, by a posse of 100 men with the posse under Sheriff Cosner. Charles R. Hill, one of the posse, received a bullet wound in the head in a short time. Fred McKinney, Hardee's outlaw companion, escaped after the battle, his capture is believed to be certain.

When the news reached this city late last night, a posse of 100 men was sent to the Bad Lands to capture the desperado. The guard at the jail was overpowered and Jack Brown, one of Hardee's companions, was taken from his cell and hanged from a window in the county courthouse.

WANTED WASHINGTON

He Was Asked to Tackle South African Negro Problem.

Washington, June 19.—Booker T. Washington, president of the Tuskegee Institute, has been asked by Lord Grey, Cecil Rhodes' successor at the head of the British South Africa Company, to leave his home and to recommend a system of industrial education for the African race, upon which the company has been laboring for years. The British Government proposes to give its assistance to such a project.

Directly after the meeting, Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Washington has announced that he would decline the flattering offer.

"I will devote all my time and efforts to the work at Tuskegee," said Mr. Washington, "trusting that it will indirectly assist in the uplifting of the race in Africa. The work here is such that I do not feel I can leave it even for the few months that would be required by the mission to South Africa."

"I was in correspondence with Lord Grey and Mr. W. T. Stead. It appears that the South Africa Company, which has close relations to the government, faces some serious problems in South Africa now."

BAPTISTS MEET IN CONVENTION

Gathering of Middlesex and Lambton Association.

WARM WELCOME AT BUNYAN

Encouraging Reports and Inspiring Addresses—Work of Circles and Missions.

The annual meeting of the Baptists of Lambton and Middlesex was held at Bunyan last week. The Church Association began at 10 a.m. Wednesday. Pastor Carew, of London, taking the devotional exercises. Rev. T. Brown, M. A., Petroles, preached the association sermon from Romans v. 11. At the close of the excellent sermon Rev. T. Brown was elected moderator, and Rev. T. W. Charlesworth, of Arkona, clerk.

In the afternoon the clerk gave the annual report, after which the letters of the House of Lords today by the Colonial Secretary Chamberlain will give a huge garden party to his constituents at his Birmingham residence on Saturday, when it is expected that he will deal with the subject in a speech.

A very able paper was given by Rev. T. S. Johnson, of London, on "The Importance and Necessity of Church Discipline in our Churches." This was followed by a well-prepared paper on "How May We Realize the Presence and Power of the Holy Spirit," by Rev. W. M. Walker, B.A., of London.

An appeal was then made on behalf of the Baptist Book Room in London and the Canadian Baptist, the organ of Ontario and Quebec Baptists, by Rev. J. W. Gregory, of Mount Brydges.

In the evening a song service was held, conducted by Rev. T. W. Charlesworth. The church was packed to the doors. Rev. J. E. Chute spoke on "Foreign Missions," and Rev. E. Bosworth, of Toronto, spoke on "Home Missions." Dr. Farmer, of McMaster University, Toronto, spoke on "The Educational Work of the Baptists," dealing with Woodstock College, McMaster Hall and Ladies' Moulton Union, and the work of the Baptists in the field of education.

On Thursday morning Rev. W. McGregory, of Parkhill, gave a paper on "How Shall We Develop the Prayer Spirit in the Life of Our Churches?" The circular letter to the churches was read by Rev. E. J. Haines, of Wyoming.

NESBITT READS THE AFFIDAVITS

Of the Three Witnesses Whose Evidence Was Excluded From the Inquiry.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Ont., June 19.—In the debate this morning Dr. Beattie Nesbitt (N. Toronto), in the course of his speech read three long affidavits covering the evidence of the three witnesses whose evidence was excluded by the judges at the inquiry. The affidavits were made by T. W. H. L. Nesbitt, Conservative organizer; Archie C. Davis, insurance agent; Rochester; Alderman George Palmer, ex-press messenger; Rochester. All tell practically the same story regarding statements alleged to have been made by George Wilson, Frank Sullivan's father-in-law, in Rochester in April last. They all state that Wilson told them that Gurney had been purchased by Sir Barbara Straton, that Frank Sullivan had done the buying and that Wilson had seen the agreement signed by Gurney. Wilson told them further that he had received $500 to keep out of the province, and he had regretted that he did not ask more. Dr. Nesbitt concluded his address at 1 o'clock. It is expected that Mr. Gurney will speak this afternoon.

BURGARS AT SANDWICH.

Windsor, Ont., June 19.—The house of Henry Martin, of Sandwich, was robbed while the family was away. A valuable gold watch, a locket and a silver pendant were stolen, and a considerable sum of money, concealed in a bag behind the door, was overlooked. No clue.

RUMORS OF SECRET AGREEMENT BETWEEN RUSSIA AND JAPANESE

Can't Have Passes.

London, June 19.—In the House of Commons yesterday afternoon William Field, Nationalist, and labor representative for the St. Patrick division of Dublin, asked Mr. Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade, if he would not endeavor to take steps to secure free transportation on the railways for members of the House. Mr. Balfour refused to make any such attempt.

Barred From the System.

Detroit, Mich., June 19.—The Michigan Central Railroad has issued instructions to the effect that the striking members of the crews of the Michigan Central car ferries shall never again enter the employ of the Vanderbilt system.

In Honor of Loubet.

London, June 18.—The review of troops at Aldershot, which was to be held by King Edward on June 22, and the unexpected postponement of which caused some alarm regarding the King's health, has been fixed to take place July 8 in honor of President Loubet, who will then be on his visit to England.

RANGING FORCES FOR CAMPAIGN

Chamberlain Will Open Up With a Garden Party.

CODDEN CLUB HEADS HIM OFF

It Has Arranged to Stump the Constituencies Immediately—Free Trade Recruits.

London, June 19.—The opposing sides are ranging their forces for the tariff campaign in the constituencies. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain will give a huge garden party to his constituents at his Birmingham residence on Saturday, when it is expected that he will deal with the subject in a speech.

The Earl of Camperdown, a Liberal peer, will again raise the question in the House of Lords today by a presentation he had of Lord Lansdowne's announcement that Germany will probably withdraw the most-favored-nation treatment from Great Britain, if the other colonies follow Canada's example in granting preferential treatment to the mother country.

Big Frisco Blaze.

San Francisco, June 19.—Fire in the building at 221 Sansome street did $125,000 damage last night. It started in the warehouse of Cunningham, Curtis & Welch.

The Norwegian Flooded.

Montreal, June 19.—The following telegram was received at the Allan Line office in this city: "St. Norwegen, 19 June, arrived safely. Port au Basque. Sends congratulations." A dispatch from Newfoundland states that the steamer is being kept about by her pumps. It is believed the vessel will be taken on to one of the harbors having a dry-dock, where she will be repaired.

CLASS CLOSED SEASON

Miss Laura Quarry's Kindergarten Pupils Give Exercises.

It was very gratifying to Miss Laura Quarry's friends to see the manner in which she had closed the season at the Conservatory of Music brought to conclusion. The closing exercises were given yesterday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. parlors, when quite a number of parents and friends assembled for the recital. The children, 20 little girls and boys looked very pretty in their dresses and suits of white, and they acquitted themselves well. Miss Quarry and her assistant, Miss Claris, had the children go through various games as well as singing and recitation. A welcome speech was presented by Miss Helen Reid.

In their choruses the children showed careful training and in a duet Barbara Brown and Bobbie Moore displayed talent well developed for their age. Little Misses Ruth and Barbara Brown, Agnes Barron, Grace Armitage, Bobbie Moore, Genevieve Weeks and Kizzie McKinnick took part in a French dialogue. In this and in a German piece, Miss Quarry's training was again evidenced with credit to her and the little ones. The drilling and games were much enjoyed by the spectators, and perhaps being the concluding programme showing the fine worth of this kindergarten institution.

Du Chailly's Funeral.

New York, June 19.—The body of Paul Du Chailly, the explorer, who died in Ladang, India, was brought here today. The funeral will be held next Tuesday.

The Czar's Emissary Accused of Attempts To Break Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

London, June 19.—The story of a secret agreement between Russia and Japan, which apparently originated in sensational newspapers in Japan, is reflected in Berlin, whence it is reported that the object of the present visit of General Kronatkin, the Russian Minister of War, to Japan, is to obtain dissolution of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. It is stated General Kronatkin was chosen as one of the most experienced Orientalists in Russia, and that he is empowered to offer Japan material advantages in the Far East if they agree to adopt a neutral attitude in regard to the development of Russia's Manchurian policy, comprising the recognition of Korea as a Russian sphere of influence. It was supposed that Russia will seek to induce Japan to denounce the Anglo-Japanese treaty, but will attempt to effect its severance gradually.

Some of the London newspapers ascribe the statement to the German Foreign Office, and declare that it is a characteristic instance of the manner in which Germany aims to put England and Russia at loggerheads.

THE CZAR APPROVES

Thanks Editor of the Anti-Semite Journal at Kishineff.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—The Czar, the Novoe Vremya announces, has accepted a copy of a book on Bessarabia written by M. Kroushevan, the editor of the anti-Semite organ in Kishineff, the Bessarabets (the articles in which are held to have been largely responsible for the massacre of Jews at Kishineff), and, it is added, has commanded that the author be thanked in the name of his majesty.

WHOLE FAMILY LOST

Heppner Flood Brings Death to Nephew of Mr. Sam McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McBride and family of seven children lost their lives in the Heppner disaster. Mr. McBride was a son of Mr. John McBride, of Strathroy, and nephew of Mrs. A. M. Gunn, formerly of this city. A dispatch from Heppner says: The McBride family which was lost went down in their house here last night, when the Heppner dam broke, and the windows to Louis McKinney, who, with his family ran into the nick of time, from their house to escape. He saw the whole McBride family perish.

TERROR-STRICKEN JEWS

5,000 Have Narrow Escape From Brutal Treatment of English and Massacre at Novgorod.

Berlin, June 18.—The Tagblatt's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that a report gained circulation at Novgorod Jews, in the Government of Chernigov, precisely similar to that which caused the massacre at Kishineff, namely that the Government had ordered the extermination of the Jews. The people began to make preparations most openly, talked the matter over publicly, and appointed May 22, coronation day, for the massacre. Terror seized the Hebrew population, which assembled in the synagogue on the day appointed. There were 5,000 persons within and without the building, awaiting the beginning of the massacre, but the police paraded the streets in force and prevented the gathering of mobs. Although some persons formed crowds and shouted "Strike the Jews dead," the day, however, passed without any serious outbreak.

Your Nerves Are Weak.

You sleep badly, appetite variable. You eat, but gain no strength. Morning weariness, you need Ferrigno; it makes blood-red, strong blood. An appetite? You'll eat anything of the kind. Strength? That's what plenty of food gives. Ferrigno gives hope, vigor, endurance. Use Ferrigno, and get strong. Sold by all druggists.

When a woman retains her own name as a sort of hyphenated annex to her husband's, it is a sign that he is by no means the entire works of the family clock.

Big Barn-Raising in Vicinity of St. Thomas.

INTERESTING QUAKER WEDDING

Three Walkerville Young Men Saved From Drowning—Mangled by a Hand Car.

ELGIN.

Mr. William Clark fell from Mr. Frank

Stoner's barn, Elgin, a distance of about 22 feet, striking on his head.

A barn-raising took place on the farm of Mr. Sam Day, about a mile south of St. Thomas, and it was an event of some importance.

The structure is a large one, 100 by 46, with 8 1/2 foot basement, 15-foot posts, and 32-foot purline posts. The whole is to be finished in dressed lumber and painted, and will have ample root cellars of the latest design, built by Mr. Hugh Keith, of St. Thomas. The barn will cost $3,000.

On Wednesday, June 17, a Quaker wedding ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Pound, South Yarmouth, on the occasion of the marriage of their daughter, Cora, to Mr. Hugh Keith, of St. Thomas.

Hoboken, N. J. At a few minutes past 4 o'clock, preceded by the bride's parents, the bride and groom took their position in the midst of a profusion of ferns and banks of myrtle and roses, and were directly underneath the beautifully-wrought floral bell, and at once began their own wedding ceremony. The groom, facing the bride, and taking her hand, repeated the following: "In the presence of these friends, I do hereby join you, Gertrude Pound, to be my wife, promising through divine assistance to be faithful and loving husband until death shall separate us;" and the bride in like manner, repeating the same words, with necessary alterations. Mr. and Mrs. Mains, leaving in a short time, their residence, Lawrence County, N. Y., where Mr. Mains takes charge of a large grain and saw mill.

The Saginaw Salt and Lumber Company's mill at Sandwich has reopened, and will run in the future both day and night.

Due to the prompt action of Capt. Gordon Gauthier and his brother Harold, on Sunday afternoon, three Walkerville youths would have been drowned.

Calvin Mapes went sailing in an open boat with two companions, and during the sudden squall the boat overturned.

The accident occurred in the middle of the river, and the three boys were in the hull and called lustily for aid. The Gauthiers promptly responded.

Walkerville is puzzled over the disappearance of Alfred Martin, missing since May 21. The police have been unable to solve the mystery, so far have failed.

Martin was a watchman, and a man of regular, quiet life, he boarded with John Hart, sen., where his effects remain. On Victoria Day he mounted his bicycle, saying he was going with Windermere, and would return in a little while. He has not been seen since.

Members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Twomey, of Windsor, gathered at the residence of their parents on Monday to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their marriage. took place at the residence of Mr. Thos. Alderson, Kintore, East Windsor, on David W. Weston, of Thorndale, to Miss Ada V. Alderson. The marriage came off under a beautiful arch, and was solemnized by Rev. R. L. Wilson, of Kintore.

The groom was assisted by his brother, W. Weston, and the bride by her sister, Miss Bertha E. Alderson. After the marriage ceremony the guests received, and the bride set down to a bountiful repast. The bride's father presented her with a valuable and useful, showing the esteem in which the young couple were held.

The guests were present from Thorndale, Granton and Thorndale. Mr. and Mrs. Weston will reside in Thorndale.

OXFORD.

About 200 people attended the South Oxford Farmers' Institute excursion to the Quich Agricultural Farm. A number from Woodstock joined the party.

Mr. Henry Park, of Oxford Center, has sold his farm of 115 acres to Mr. Walter Jeffrey, of Colborne. The consideration was $40, and this farm is considered one of the best in East Oxford.

Milton, Ontario, a passenger on a trolley car, was injured at Centerville on Wednesday while on his way to Woodstock. His head came forcibly in contact with a post, breaking his nose and giving him a general shaking.

At the North Oxford Farmers' Institute, held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Rose in the chair, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, C. H. Pringle; Vice-president, D. Lawrence, Thameford; Secretary, J. H. Hogg, Thameford; Treasurer, W. I. Hogg, Thameford; James Robinson, Kintore; Robert Young, East Zorra; T. WAY OF RETREAT IN WAR TIME.

Would Entice the Yankees to the Ice North and Then Totally Demolish Them.

Ottawa, June 18.—The Commons of Canada may be tired and cross and of sorts because of the hard fate that keeps them grinding at the legislative mill these long summer days, when the chirp of the robin on the lawn and the twitter of the swallows circling round the tower call them to the woods and the fields; but there are compensations. One of these compensations is Mr. Seymour Gourley, the member for Colchester, N. S., whose power of arresting the attention of a House is greater than that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Gourley made a speech today at considerable length. He spoke from the center of the floor beside the Hansard reporter. That was a necessary measure of precaution, because, as the custom is, his remarks aroused such a running accompaniment of cheers and interjections of various kinds that only by standing where he did could he give his remarks a hearing.

The debate arose over the resolution to guarantee the Canadian Northern Railway for the first year or two, would it be fair to come down on them and demand the pound of flesh and seize the road?

Mr. Haggart.—But you intend to take power to do that if you can.

Mr. Blair.—Yes, The Government, however, would be lenient if satisfied that the company was doing its best. As to whether the Government would insist upon collecting interest on money paid by it as interest on the bonds, it was a question which he had not considered.

Mr. Roche drew attention to the clause forbidding amalgamation, the pooling of rates with the C. P. R. No doubt it was put this way because the C. P. R. would not be now operating. He suggested that it should be made to read: "The C. P. R. or any other company that may be chartered in the future."

Mr. Borden said that in such a discussion as this it was a mistake to argue that the Grand Trunk Pacific was non-existent. It would soon have its charter, and then would be a very real entity.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier explained that even if the C. N. R. and the G. T. Pacific amalgamated, that would make only one transcontinental railway. There would still be two transcontinental systems in competition.

Mr. Blair, in response to a question by Mr. Borden, said he knew nothing of any such proposed amalgamation except that some of the members in the press. He was in no position to make any announcement as to its possibility or probability.

At this stage the discussion was closed by the arrival of 6 o'clock.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

In the evening the supplementary estimates were taken up, the Government being desirous of passing, without unnecessary delay, a number of items of expense for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

The discussion on the mounted police revealed the fact that the force in the Yukon had been raised from 250 men to 300. About eighteen months ago there were rumors of a conspiracy at Skagway by a party of American outlaws to take possession of the Yukon territory by force. The Canadian Government at the time treated the matter as a joke, but by way of being on the safe side, sent 50 men into the territory.

These men have since been sent there, as their services have been found necessary for general police work.

Mr. Fisher, discussing the vote for quarantine, said that during the past year there were 26,000 cases of smallpox in the United States and that 19,000 were in states contiguous to Canada.

UNSIGHTLY DUNDAS BLOCK MAY NOW BE REPLACED.

Ratepayers Believe They Have Solved the Old Difficulty.

Blocks Between Waterloo and Wellington See Their Finish.

At the meeting of the board of works last night, Mr. Wm. Abbott, representing the ratepayers on the north side of Dundas street, between Waterloo and Wellington, informed the aldermen that as soon as the widening of the sidewalk in that block was finished, the property owners would be prepared to move in the direction of having a permanent pavement constructed. Mr. Abbott came before the committee to urge the removal of two trees in front of the property of Mr. Wm. McDonough in order that there would be no interference with the walk. But the committee had to look at the matter in many ways. It had in its possession a letter from Mr. McDonough protesting against the removal of the trees, and threatening to hold the city for any damages that might arise from such a move. The city's right to cut down the maples was also questioned, and the engineer could not find any bylaw which gave him the power to have the trees taken down. He will see Mr. McDonough and endeavor to win his permission to have the trees removed.

The widening of the sidewalk four feet was decided upon as the best way out of the difficulty which has existed over the construction of a new pavement, and Mr. Abbott said that the members were overjoyed to learn that it would never carry. The idea of the petitioners is to have the cost borne by the city.

Boss & Alexander, gravel contractors, complained of the conduct of the aldermen, who were claiming that they had been very unfairly dealt with. Mr. Grady produced a letter from the aldermen, in which they stated that their statements as to the cost of the sidewalk were untrue. The matter was left with the engineer, and if the contractors do not come to time they will be dealt with. The aldermen decided to recommend it to the council, some of the members were overjoyed to learn that it would never carry. The idea of the petitioners is to have the cost borne by the city.

Mr. Tarte's Interlude.

There is a beautiful simplicity about Mr. Tarte's prescription for perpetual prosperity. Raise the tariff, he says, and the result will be "higher wages, permanent employment, a higher standard of living, and assured dividends for the manufacturers." The plan is so easy. It requires no statesmanship; it imposes no tax on the brain power of the Government. A few strokes of the pen would do the trick. The Finance Minister could invest his goose quill with all the potency of an enchanter's wand. He has only to wave it and the blessings of higher wages and big dividends would be poured over the country. It is a get-rich-quick scheme on a national scale, but a stupid Government refuses to shake the cornucopia. Mr. Fielding does not appear to realize what a good fairy he might be. Perhaps the very simplicity of the thing excites some suspicion. It seems too good to be true.

The country heard the same story in 1878, but the National Policy failed to deliver the goods in eighteen years. A new remedy was tried six years ago, and now wages are good, employment plentiful and manufacturers are making money. We are told that these conditions cannot continue unless we adopt a tariff diet that looks like the old concoction warmed over.

Some of Mr. Tarte's arguments, or rather his assertions, for he did not trouble himself with reason or logic, call for a passing glance. The time of prosperity, he said, was the time to raise the tariff. The same advice is always given in times of depression, as in 1878. Evidently the tariff is made to be raised all the time. That is usually the experience in countries inoculated with the virus of protection.

Mr. Tarte pointed out that wages in the United States were much higher than in free trade England, but he did not explain why wages were much higher in England than in Germany or any other protected country in Europe.

"A high tariff does not exclude imports," said Mr. Tarte. There is a measure of truth in this which is generally ignored by those of Mr. Tarte's economic creed. A high tariff enables prices to be raised to the tariff level. Foreign manufacturers are attracted by these higher prices, and send in their goods over the tariff wall, reaping the same profit as before, while Mr. Brock, who seconded Mr. Tarte's resolution, contradicted him flatly on this point. He argued that the Government was collecting $13,500,000 in customs taxation in excess of the public requirements, and that this sum would not be taken from the people's pockets if the tariff were raised, as they would not import the goods then. Mr. Tarte and Mr. Brock should have put their heads together before the debate and endeavored to patch up their logic. The plea that stiffer protection all-round is needed by the agricultural interests will be news to the farmers of Canada, who know the prices of their products are fixed in the British market, and that a tariff can only increase the cost of what they have to buy. The Finance Minister very properly remarked that the discussion raised by Mr. Tarte had only an academic interest at present. A government cannot create prosperity, but it can unsettle or destroy it; and it would be the height of folly to disturb the happy prevailing conditions by overhauling the whole tariff schedule.

Discouraging Immigration.

The Toronto Trades and Labor Council has published in England a strongly-worded manifesto, warning British workmen not to emigrate to Canada. The authors of this document say there is no real demand for anything but farm labor in Canada, and that representations to the contrary are made by manufacturers with the object of inducing British workmen to come to this country so as to force down the rate of wages. They point to the increase in the cost of living in Canada and draw a gloomy picture of the outlook for skilled labor here. The Canadian immigration agent in London writes to the press contradicting these assertions. He insists on the fact, which cannot be denied, that Canadian manufacturers cannot get sufficient help. They claim that in the iron and steel industries alone ten thousand and more men are needed. The labor men argue that if manufacturers are protected by the tariff against the competition of foreign goods, the workman should have a corresponding protection against the competition of foreign labor. They claim a monopoly of the home labor market, as the manufacturers claim a monopoly of the home market for their wares. The National Policy was advocated on the ground that it would make work for the Canadians, and that the benefits of possessing the home market would be shared between Canadian labor and capital. The workmen have the best of the argument as against the protected industries, but the public interests must prevail. It would be a national disaster if a tariff wall could be erected so high as to give the home industries a monopoly, and it would be equally disastrous if the workmen could put a ring fence around the country. Canada's paramount need is population. She needs first of all settlers who will cultivate the soil, but her mechanical industries should keep pace with the growth of the population. It will be a misfortune if they are handicapped and restricted during this era of expansion, as it may be very hard to recover lost ground. Workers are the best asset Canada can have at this time. They are needed if the country is to reap the fullest advantage from the present prosperity. Every new producer adds to the volume of wealth and increases the demand for the products of labor. Workers make work for others. It would be a great calamity if any influence could succeed in checking or discouraging immigration at this juncture, when the country is at the turn of the tide.

The Opposition still sticks to Gamey because it doesn't let go. He might tell where the money came from.

A cable dispatch says the Ban of Croatia has been expelled from the Diet, but there is no danger of his highness starving.

Mr. Balfour's comment on the Serbian situation shows that one government in Europe is in no hurry to grasp the hand of a sovereign who proclaims that he ascends a bloodstained throne by "the will of God."

The fact that 25,000 people paid to see the Ringling circus here suggests that the Western Fair Board would not be wise in discouraging the circus features of the exhibition. Even the sideshows have a perennial charm for a certain class.

After the discouraging experience, financially, of Chicago and Buffalo, the city of St. Louis shows a great deal of courage in undertaking a world's fair, but the promoters evidently intend to try to eclipse all others. Canada will exhibit on an extensive scale, and should repeat her Chicago and Buffalo triumphs. The Dominion Government has asked a preliminary vote of $150,000. The St. Louis scheme contemplates grouping kindred exhibits, and the Canadian exhibits must be scattered through the several buildings at the fair grounds. One space has been reserved for a large display, and here will be shown a cold storage plant with perishable products. There will be a Canadian building in a good place, and to cost $25,000. An elaborate scheme for the dissemination of Canadian information has been devised. As to the general scheme, the Government will be in the United States, and recent information concerning Canada, and the fishery products and exhibit them. The manufacturers at large will be asked to make their own exhibits. It is not yet determined whether there will be a Canadian live stock exhibit as certain St. Louis raisers object to showing at St. Louis because of the hot weather.

The Newspaper Reference Book of Canada, beautifully bound and printed, will be a welcome addition to every newspaper library. The book, as its name implies, is mainly intended to afford to the newspaper press in England, the British colonies and the United States, accurate and recent information concerning Canada, and comprises in comparatively small compass statistics and data which could not otherwise be obtained, except from a large number of public documents, histories and other sources such as are within the reach of but few outside of Canada. At a time like the present, when so much attention has been attracted to the Dominion abroad, the need of such a work and its practical value to the journalist will be readily apparent. An effort has been made to embrace within the scope of the volume every important interest and feature of Canadian affairs likely to concern the intending immigrant, the investor, or the man of business. A well-arranged and comprehensive index, a prime necessity in a work of this character, facilitates reference to any subject upon which information is sought. The latter portion of the volume comprises several hundred biographical sketches of representative Canadians in all walks of life, accompanied by well-executed portraits. This feature of the book will much enhance its value as, in the event of any of the subjects being brought prominently into public notice, these sketches and illustrations will be readily available for newspaper reproduction. The publishers are the Press Publishing Company, Limited, 116 King street west, Toronto.

In Safety of Legislature He Hints at Underhand Practices of Stratton's Counsel.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, June 18.—The debate on the question of the Ringling circus here suggests that the Western Fair Board would not be wise in discouraging the circus features of the exhibition. Even the sideshows have a perennial charm for a certain class.

After the discouraging experience, financially, of Chicago and Buffalo, the city of St. Louis shows a great deal of courage in undertaking a world's fair, but the promoters evidently intend to try to eclipse all others. Canada will exhibit on an extensive scale, and should repeat her Chicago and Buffalo triumphs. The Dominion Government has asked a preliminary vote of $150,000. The St. Louis scheme contemplates grouping kindred exhibits, and the Canadian exhibits must be scattered through the several buildings at the fair grounds. One space has been reserved for a large display, and here will be shown a cold storage plant with perishable products. There will be a Canadian building in a good place, and to cost $25,000. An elaborate scheme for the dissemination of Canadian information has been devised. As to the general scheme, the Government will be in the United States, and recent information concerning Canada, and the fishery products and exhibit them. The manufacturers at large will be asked to make their own exhibits. It is not yet determined whether there will be a Canadian live stock exhibit as certain St. Louis raisers object to showing at St. Louis because of the hot weather.

The Newspaper Reference Book of Canada, beautifully bound and printed, will be a welcome addition to every newspaper library. The book, as its name implies, is mainly intended to afford to the newspaper press in England, the British colonies and the United States, accurate and recent information concerning Canada, and comprises in comparatively small compass statistics and data which could not otherwise be obtained, except from a large number of public documents, histories and other sources such as are within the reach of but few outside of Canada. At a time like the present, when so much attention has been attracted to the Dominion abroad, the need of such a work and its practical value to the journalist will be readily apparent. An effort has been made to embrace within the scope of the volume every important interest and feature of Canadian affairs likely to concern the intending immigrant, the investor, or the man of business. A well-arranged and comprehensive index, a prime necessity in a work of this character, facilitates reference to any subject upon which information is sought. The latter portion of the volume comprises several hundred biographical sketches of representative Canadians in all walks of life, accompanied by well-executed portraits. This feature of the book will much enhance its value as, in the event of any of the subjects being brought prominently into public notice, these sketches and illustrations will be readily available for newspaper reproduction. The publishers are the Press Publishing Company, Limited, 116 King street west, Toronto.

RUSSIANS AFTER THIBET

The Thin Edge of the Wedge Has Been Inserted.

Victoria, B. C., June 19.—Advices received by mail from the Orient tell of Russian aggression in Tibet, as well as Manchuria, Mongolia and Korea. A dispatch to the Tokio Asahi says their Chinese resident minister in Tibet telegraphed to Peking early in May that 180 men, apparently Russian engineers, had entered the eastern part of Tibet.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Bright's Disease and He Tells All About It.

Lovett, Ont., June 15.—Though well past the three score and ten mark, C. A. Harris, postmaster here, still carries his age well, besides holding the respect of the entire community. And Mr. Harris credits a large share of his wonderful health and vitality to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Speaking of the matter the postmaster says:

"In 1897 I was at the point of death from Bright's Disease. I was a complete wreck. I could not even dress myself. But now I am, I may say, a well man and I attribute it all to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Harris' experience has led many people here to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and they have proved that the remedy that always cures Bright's Disease makes short work of any of the earlier stages of Kidney Disease.

A G. T. R. PURCHASE

System Said to Have Secured Toledo and Western.

Toronto, Ont., June 19.—It was given out on fairly steady yesterday that the Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad is now the property of the Grand Trunk Railway. This will give the Grand Trunk a short line from Toledo to the Mississippi River at East St. Louis. The mileage of the new line is 451 miles. The Grand Trunk makes connection with the Toledo line through the Detroit and Toledo Shore line, which was purchased by the Grand Trunk and Clover Leaf in December, 1902.

With the addition of the transcontinental lines and the recent acquisitions in the United States the Grand Trunk will be one of the largest in the United States. The mileage will be about 9,000 miles.

London, June 19.—The friends of the Grand Trunk are most pleased with the progress of the traffic returns. The aggregate increase from Jan. 1 to date is $431,288, which with a gain over the corresponding period last year of $120,037, make the current receipts $550,000 greater than in the corresponding period in 1901. The traffic returns are now realizing more than double the market expectations.

A WARM DEBATE OVER NEW POLICY

Messrs. Balfour and Chamberlain Make Statements.

WILL STAND BY THE COLONIES

The Premier Challenges the Liberals to Move a Want of Confidence Vote.

London, Thursday, June 18.—Prime Minister Balfour and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain made statements in the House of Commons last evening which are interpreted by the Opposition and the latter's press supporters as being most important declarations, developing a new fiscal policy. Those who are most eager for a general election contend that this has been brought appreciably nearer by the ministerial utterances. It will be recalled that a few days ago the Government issued a telegram from the Governor of New South Wales, in which satisfaction was expressed at the "declaration by the British Government that every self-governing colony shall be secured in the free exercise of its rights to enter into closer trade relations with the mother country."

Mr. Balfour, replying to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in the House of Commons on the same day, said he did not know what declaration the Governor referred to, but, anyhow, the Government could not regard with indifference any attempt to penalize a British colony for giving special commercial advantages to Great Britain.

THE LIBERAL LEADER.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, receiving an answer from Mr. Balfour that he had no information, and that there was nothing to explain or withdraw, moved the adjournment of the House in order to discuss the subject, and the subsequent debate was peppy, and drew forth the above-mentioned statements.

Sir Henry said that Mr. Balfour's and Mr. Chamberlain's speeches had roused false hopes in the colonies, which might be bitterly disappointed. He asked Mr. Balfour to say if the Government had a definite policy or to make a positive declaration that the changes assumed by New South Wales are not and may never be the Government's accepted policy. He further wanted the Prime Minister to say that the country shall not be gradually committed against its will and without its knowledge to changes so vast and critical.

MR. BALFOUR'S REPLY.

Mr. Balfour taunted the Liberals with not challenging the Government to a debate on the whole subject of its fiscal policy. He said they were afraid to move a vote of want of confidence in the Government. Dealing specifically with the passage of the Governor's speech quoted above, Mr. Balfour said: "This Government is unanimously at one with the Government of New South Wales in favor of an investigation. Are we to use our power, sit silently by and watch the process of intimidation going on? Would they tell the colonies that he had nothing more to hope from us if they suffered or giving us preference? This paragraph in the Governor's message does express the opinion of his majesty's Government, and we do not think it raises false hopes in the colonies. It is only so if the Liberals mean to abandon every colony."

MR. CHAMBERLAIN.

Mr. Chamberlain assured the house that Mr. Balfour expressed the opinion of the Government when he said that the colonies ought to be secured in their right to enter into trade relations with the mother country. He said: "We do contemplate a policy of closer trade relations between them and ourselves." He added that he had been asked whether there had been any hostile feeling against a recent visit for giving the mother country special preference. His answer was that there had been. Having recalled the circumstances which had led to Germany's penalizing the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain stated that in the German press it had been asserted that the object was to drive the colonies out of the British Empire. The Government disapproved of a policy which made such treatment of a colony inevitable. It was a humiliating position that Great Britain could not go to the assistance of her colonies in such circumstances. He had also been asked how such cases could be dealt with in the future. It was possible that they might not arise. It was a fact worth noting that no more was heard of the British colonies now that it was believed that the colonies like Germany would be exhausted. It was possible that if Great Britain could get something to negotiate with countries like Germany, she would join in seeking a modus vivendi. He did not believe the German would put Great Britain in a position in which it would be necessary to take retaliatory measures, but they did the British would not look at their action with indifference, and should try to meet them. The leader of the Opposition had not correctly judged the state of opinion in the colonies if he thought this question was not urgent. Canada ought not to be forced to seek elsewhere the reciprocal trade denied her here. It was the colonies which raised this issue in the first instance.

Canada's Superior Cattle.

London, June 19.—New force has been given to the arguments for the admission of Canadian store cattle by the rest of British. The Secretary of the Canadian Store Cattle Admission Association, of Edinburgh, writing to the papers, says that by the exclusion of Canada's store cattle, the Board of Agriculture is providing itself the British farmer's worst enemies. Actual experience at the block proved that Canadian cattle were much healthier than British.

CLOSING HOURS OF THE ASSEMBLY

Reports in Regard to Church Life and Work.

A TEMPERANCE RESOLUTION

The Final Sederunt—Resolution of Thanks—Moderator's Review—A Water Trip.

Vancouver, B. C., June 18.—The last public evening meeting of the General Assembly was occupied with the consideration of reports on church life and work and on Sabbath observance and legislation. The report on church life and work was presented by Rev. M. L. Leitch, of Stratford, who reviewed its leading features in a hopeful spirit.

The committee on church life and work, of which Rev. W. J. Clark is convener, confined the questions to the conditions of the homes of the people, but unfortunately received replies from only 28 out of 55 presbyteries. With regard to family worship and thanksgiving at meals, it is plain that in very few cases has there been an effort to obtain exact information as to the facts. Family worship is said to prevail in from 5 to 35 per cent of the families. These are the extremes mentioned. Fifty per cent of the presbyteries most frequently stated. As far as honest dealing and endeavors to meet financial obligations are concerned, there is an evident inclination to boast of the honesty of Presbyterians, as of some other denominations. The majority claim with greater or less emphasis, that the standard of the spiritual life of our people is higher than it was in the past. The report was adopted.

AS TO TEMPERANCE.

The resolution on temperance was as follows: "That the assembly, recognizing the intimate connection between the peace and safety of the home and the suppression of the liquor traffic, and the testimony as to the debasing character of that traffic, and the fact that the church shall make no compromise with a traffic so antagonistic to all human happiness, and in the wonderful growth of temperance sentiment manifested in the result of the recent plebiscite in Ontario, and hopes that the people will continue to exercise their influence in this direction."

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

The report of the committee on Sabbath observance and legislation, of which Rev. D. R. Drummond is convener, notes many signs of advance. The whole Dominion is now organized with 400 branches and 20,000 members. During the year conference has been held with various cabinet ministers, viz., the Minister of Militia, the Postmaster-General, who is also Minister of Labor, and the Minister of Railways and Canals. Facts were laid before each of Sunday work in their departments, and in Victoria a letter was given of an earnest desire to have all such reduced to a minimum. The recommendations are: (1) The General Assembly reaffirms its faith in the need and therefore the right of all men to a well-kept Sabbath. (2) The General Assembly urges upon her ministers, Sunday school teachers and parents the earnest endeavor to teach upon the sacredness and worth of this day. (3) The General Assembly invites each of her members to a hearty defense of the day, and in particular to such personal interest in the purpose and the observance of the day as will result in a minimum Saturday trading, social gathering, traveling or pleasure-seeking during its whole course.

OTHER REPORTS.

When the assembly convened for the last sederunt on Wednesday forenoon the Moderator, Rev. J. H. Macdonald, presented the report of the committee appointed to deal with the matter in dispute between the Victoria Presbytery and Mr. Swartout, a missionary to the Indians on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The finding of the committee completely exonerates Mr. Swartout from all blame in connection with matters alleged by the presbytery as reasons for withholding his ordination, and recommends that the presbytery take steps to ordain Mr. Swartout as soon as possible. This finding was adopted. The committee appointed to define the duties of the members of the Central Indian Mission situation recommended that the fullest liberty of investigation be given to the mission to the mission be allowed, and, if necessary, that a commission be sent to Central India to investigate matters at first hand.

THANKS.

Dr. Campbell presented a resolution presenting the cordial thanks of the assembly to the committee of arrangements in Vancouver, and others, who had made the meeting so pleasant. A few well-chosen words of the moderator reviewed the assembly, in which all the work had been done in such splendid spirit, and which he regarded as one of the finest in the history of the church. The assembly joined in singing "The Church of the Living God." Dr. Wright led in prayer, and Dr. Fletcher, the moderator, pronounced the benediction and dissolved this assembly to meet in St. John, N. B., on the first Wednesday in June, 1904.

Thrashed the Schoolmaster.

Essex, Ont., June 19.—James Smyth, principal of the public school, was brutally beaten, it is alleged, by Samuel Smith, a blacksmith, Wednesday. Smith has a boy about 9 years old, who refused to attend school. The principal overtook young Smith on the street and on the latter refusing to accompany him to school, picked him up and carried him in the direction of the school. The father heard his son crying, and grabbing up several horsehoes, overtook the teacher, and it is alleged, struck him on the head with the shoes, and then, it is alleged, kicked him several times.

A FATAL FIGHT

A Man of Seventy Kills Bad Indian Who Attacks Him.

Cornwall, Ont., June 19.—The Indian John Francis, who was found dying on the roadside Wednesday morning in the village of Hogansburg, has since died. Francis received a gash in the neck five inches long. He had been fighting during Tuesday, and about 10 o'clock that night attacked an old man named John Edridge, while he was crossing the Logan's bridge. Francis knocked the old man down twice, when Edridge drew his knife and it killed the mortal wound. Francis was found by a villager, merchant, he procured a doctor who dressed the wound. The Indian was weak from a loss of blood. Edridge is given credit to drink, but is an inoffensive old man 70 years of age.

A Negro and a White Tramp Hiding in the Bush—Police to Effect Their Capture.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Collingwood, Ont., June 19.—Repeated reports have lately come to the town of there being seen in the bush in the 10th con. of Osprey, in the county of Grey, a negro and white man who subsisted by stealing chickens, ducks and other feathered fowl from the neighbors in the vicinity. These two persons are supposed to be the perpetrators of the murder of Glory Whalen in the vicinity of Collingwood recently. Lawyer A. A. Bond, Chief Police Officer, and Night Policeman Best left last night for the locality in which the men are said to be. It is their intention to swear in twenty special constables and surround the bush today, and thus effect their arrest. All the constables will be heavily armed as the men are believed to be desperate characters.

A STATUE FOR YOUNG

Montreal Will Likely Place One on the Harbor Front.

Montreal, June 19.—Mr. J. X. Perreault, at a meeting of the Chambre de Commerce, submitted a resolution to the effect that a statue should be erected by the citizens of Montreal to the memory of the Hon. John Young. He had been the first man to suggest the building of the Victoria bridge and the prime mover in having the St. Lawrence Canal system made and in improving the Montreal harbor. The statue, it was suggested, should be placed somewhere on the river front. Those present unanimously agreed with the proposal and a special meeting will be called to take steps towards carrying it out.

STOCK MARKETS.
NEW YORK.
H. C. Beecher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Co. today:
New York, June 19.—In spite of the profound weakness in Americans in London, the declines in our market were not serious, and were quickly recovered. The stock market seemed to be better supported than for some days, and the selling was of a less urgent character. It was again rumored that Mr. Schwab would soon resign from the presidency and the rumor considered that his resignation would have a good effect upon the stock. The most encouraging feature in the market was the strength of the coal stocks, particularly the Pennsylvania and Ontario and Western. There was a rumor that pressure was being brought to bear by the English stockholders on the Ontario and Western management to pay a dividend, but this was not confirmed. The market became dull after the first hour, but the advances were maintained. It remains to be seen how the market will act when the traders try to take profits. Sales to total 24,000 shares.

CHICAGO EXCHANGE.

This is the actress of well known name, She has travelled the country "from Chiel to Galt," Like many a lady of footling fame, She writes "to keep healthy take Abbey's Salt."

PEOPLE WHO TRAVEL suffer much from different conditions of food and drink. Abbey's will keep the bowels well regulated so that you may eat and drink with impunity. ABBEY'S SALT will be found in the "grip" of almost every traveller. It banishes the effects of a convivial evening. Cures indigestion. Gives a bright eye and a clear head.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt is the traveller's boon companion

HER EARNEST TRUTH

Lucy shook her head sadly at her as Bethel kissed her with that peculiar little ripple of mirth breaking from her perfect lips.

"Give him my dear love, Lucy, and say my heart is with his master, where I will follow it sure and swift as my sympathy."

"Then she left the room, rapidly as she had come, and joined her guests, making mirth for them with wonderful wit and spirit."

Oh, she was a rare actress, this woman of the starlike eyes, which held tonight such a world of miserable unrest.

Seating herself by the harp, the only instrument she was mistress of, her clear rich tones called the gentlemen from their wine to hear her sing, with much sweetness, "Bid Me Discourse," Ariel never held more subtle charm than she.

CHAPTER XXVII.
Brimley came to her side as she finished, and implored her to entertain them further, and striking the strings sharply, she complied, singing in stirring tones, "The Halls."

Through "The Halls," then she rose with a half-sigh. It was rare indeed that she poured out her soul in song, and most hearty and sincere were the thanks she received from her delighted guests.

"Come, Brimley," she said, "I command now that you sing for us, and let it be that quaint old song, 'Once I loved a maiden fair.'"

Seating himself at the piano, Brimley complied:

"Once I loved a maiden fair, but she deceived me,
She to Venus compared to my mind, believe me,
She was young and among all our maids the fairest,
Now I sing, ah, well a day! brightest hopes are fleetest."

"Maidens wavering and untrue, many a heart have broken,
Sweetest lips the world has known, falsest vows have spoken,
Pare thee well, faithless girl! I'll not sorrow for thee,
Once I held thee dear as pearls, now I abhor thee."

As the last strain died away, Brimley looked round to receive the thanks of his hostess, which she was generally so ready to bestow, but she was nowhere to be seen, and as the company insisted upon his continuing to entertain them with song after song, he could not search for her.

Meanwhile, with a large black hooded cloak, covering her from head to foot, Bethel hurried on, a shadow amidst shadows, flitting beneath the lovely light of the moon, past park and pleasure, till she came to the border of the wood. At the door of the keeper's lodge she paused a moment to gain breath, with her hand pressed pitifully upon her painfully beating heart, then she lifted the latch and entered.

The room was cheerful with the fire and lamplight, a cosy homelike place, with Lucy seated by the fire, as if she had been there all her life, knitting away busily as she chatted to the dark-faced man by her side.

Both sprang to their feet as Bethel entered, breathless, a sweet combination of smiles and tears. She threw herself on the keeper's breast, kissing his bandaged hand in an agony of loving compassion. He smiled down upon the lovely, glowing face, and caressed her tenderly, drawing her to a couch at the far end of the room and seating himself beside her as he again drew the dark head to his breast, whispered:

"So you could tear yourself away from your gay company, my queen, to see your poor wounded sweetheart. Kiss me, beloved, I have not looked upon your face before today, and it seemed as if the sun had forgotten to shine."

Throwing back her cloak, Bethel wreathed her arms about his neck and pressing her face against his cheek, said:

"I can see that Lucy is going to scold me, tell her that she must not."

"Certainly not, my queen; that is a privilege I reserve to myself."

"Yes, Dan, and I would certainly rather hear you scold than another praise."

Lucy lifted her mild eyes from her work, saying in a slightly vexed tone:

"I do think it rash and foolish in you to risk the chance of discovery by leaving your guests. You know, Lord Lufton will be looking for you."

At the sound of his rival's name the man's face clouded and Bethel sighed, as she looked at Lucy reproachfully. Dan drew himself up with dignity, saying:

"'Tis hard I can claim neither wife nor child, but must take their affection upon sufferance in secret and in fear. Oh, what have I done that heaven should try me thus? I fear sometimes that the end of all will be that I shall lose my reason. I wonder if the mild feeble sorrow and despair?"

He looked so wild and altered as he spoke, that Bethel besought him in bitter pain-wrought pleading to be calm, to rest assured of her love and faith, her unflinching endeavor to gain peace, happiness and safety for him, and share it with him. Her voice held such a passion of persuasion that at last the man grew calm and almost content. Then she begged him to tell her if he suffered much pain with his hand, he confessed he did, but said he felt the pain in a certain sense a pleasure, for he was assured this new wound would completely destroy all traces of the old, which the disfiguring scar the barber had made, had failed to do.

Lucy rose and said, since Bethel had been so indiscreet, she would return to keep watch and warn her should she approach her discovery.

With tidily womanly ways she made the place completely bright before she left.

When she was gone Bethel drew close to her husband's side, saying softly: "Did Lucy bring my little Beth to see you yesterday?"

"Yes, God bless the little fairy! Oh, Bethel, what a lovely, lovable beauty she was! How sweet it would be to keep her here always."

"But you can't do that, you know, darling, unless you consent to take Lucy, too, and pretend she is your wife, and do you know, darling, I could not make a home away from our fellows, I should die."

"You shall not take me alive, my queen. Never fear, your husband will never again be disgraced by a false life. See, it is I who must comfort you now. Look up, love, to me; let me make a home away from our fellows, I should die."

"They shall not take me alive, my queen. Never fear, your husband will never again be disgraced by a false life. See, it is I who must comfort you now. Look up, love, to me; let me make a home away from our fellows, I should die."

AFRIKANDER WON SUBURBAN AFTER A FIERCE STRUGGLE

Three-Year-Old Worked From Ninth Place to Victory.

Greatest American Turf Function—A Fine Race Witnessed.

THE TURF.

AFRIKANDER WON SUBURBAN.

New York, June 18.—For the first time in the score of years of its history the Suburban handicap, the greatest of American turf events, today, Africander finished first in a splendid field of fifteen, after a struggle of which he was giving weight. His victory was marred by a claim of foul made by Geo. Odum, rider of Herbert, the second horse, but the judges decided that the winner had earned his prize, and let the race stand as run. Charles Dwyer, owner of Africander, proprietor of the Hampton stable, in whose colors Africander ran, were $18,000 in the stake, and made a generous present to Little Fuller, the New Orleans graduated jockey, who piloted their horse to victory. They also had back the horse to $100 in the winter betting, driving his odds to 50 to 1. Thirty thousand persons saw the race, and the winner, who seemed sure to win in the stretch, shrilled from every point, and yells of encouragement greeted Odum when he mounted the stairs of the judges' stand to lodge his claim of foul. Little Fuller meanwhile was enjoying the first fruits of victory, and, seated in the floral horse, he was being borne across the lawn. He paled a bit when suddenly summoned from that height of joy to the judges' stand, but set forth his case well, and Odum's claim was not allowed. Five minutes of intense anxiety, which even the women were quiet before the red board went up, followed, although agreeing that the Africander and Herbert bumped in the stretch, were of the unanimous belief that the best horse won, and Africander would also have been first with clear sailing. Thirteen hours of steady rain had turned the track into deep muddy swamps. The fourth race, 2 miles and 50 yards—Monarch, 2 to 1; Alister, 4 to 1; Croppie, 15 to 1. Time, 1:42.5.

Chicago, July 18.—McCheeny, carrying 127 pounds and giving away weight to fourteen other starters, won the Austin selling stakes today at Har-lem, by three lengths. Sam Pullen was second, and Hermania third. McCheeny had home, closed out the fourth race Monarch set a new mark for a mile and 50 yards, Monarch's time being 1:42.5 against 1:43.2 of the record. Weather fine, track fast.

London, July 18.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family, drove from Windsor Castle to Ascot to witness the races, with positions and outsiders in scarlet and gold liveries. As usual, the gathering of society in ladies' day at the races was very large, and their majesties were accorded an enthusiastic reception. Gold cup was won by Maximilian II.

What The People Have Found Out.

When Malta-Vita was first brought out, a laboring man was heard to say, "It tastes good and I like it but I want something substantial. I don't mind if I do feel a lump in my stomach after a meal, I must have something solid that will help me to lift big stones and that will put steam behind my hammer." But—there's always a "but"—experience has shown the fallacy of his first conclusion and to-day thousands of laboring men find that Malta-Vita, eaten twice a day, gives abundant strength for the heaviest work.

The office man said—"I think that I must eat meat to give me life. I have to think quickly and my brain must be alert. Meat, I believe, will give a man stamina and grit. I know I feel heavy and sleepy after my meals but"—that but again—"that wears off after a while." After eating Malta-Vita for breakfast and supper for a week, he said to his wife, "Do you know, I find I feel brighter and can do more work on Malta-Vita than I can when eating anything else."

Malta-Vita contains all the food properties of wheat, combined with the tonic and digestive qualities of barley malt. It is palatable and nourishes both body and brain.

GAVE CLOSING EXERCISES
Pupils at Harding's Hall Entertain Friends.

Very Large Audience Assembled at Y. N. C. A. Auditorium.

The students of Harding Hall Girls' School gave their closing exercises in the Auditorium last night, and the affair was an appropriate conclusion of a successful year. The care that has been given to their training during the past year was in evidence, the young ladies providing an excellent programme in a very thorough manner. The artistic nature of the programme will be seen from the numbers given by the students, who received well-deserved applause from the audience. The audience was a large one as well as appreciative, evidencing the popularity of the school.

The programme was given in two parts, the second being the operetta. The first part of the evening was devoted to the following numbers, and the several encores they won: Piano solo, "Chère de la Roseau-La Fontaine"; Miss Nellie Tylter; trio, two mandolins and guitar, (a) Intermezzo (Cavaleria Rusticana), (b) Prison Song, (c) Traviata; Misses Alice Baker, Violet Moore and Beatrice Wyatt; French recitation, "Le Chêne de la Roseau-La Fontaine"; Miss Nellie Tylter; two mandolins and guitar, (a) Intermezzo (Cavaleria Rusticana), (b) Prison Song, (c) Traviata; Misses Alice Baker, W. H. Wolfe and A. C. Baker; German recitation, "Das Kind und das Eschlein"; Dieffenbach, Miss B. Moulé; dumb-bell chorus, by members of the physical training class; piano solo, Miss Elizabeth Butterworth; reading, Miss A. C. Hartley, B. E.; scarf drill by the senior students; "Song of the Sea"; Mrs. Calder-Stock.

The operetta, which concluded the evening's entertainment, was delightfully rendered. The title of it was "The Two Hours," and it was cast as follows: Time, Miss Beatrice Moulé; Dawn, Miss Marion Green; Noon, Miss Mary Ross; Evening, Miss Violet Moore; and Night, Miss Nellie Tylter. The affair was a very successful one, and the evening's programme was much enjoyed and spoke eloquently for the training given at Harding Hall.

Luncheon for the Day's Outing.

THE Luncheon should be the crowning success of the picnic—and it will be if planned with a little care. It need not be expensive, in fact it is better if not too elaborate, but everything should be tasteful, everything of the best "QUALITY."

Here is a little list of things that carry easily—that are always appropriate.

Olives.
Baby, Queen and Mammoth at 10c, 15c and 25c.

Pickles.
One thinks of them first when the picnic luncheon is considered. There is a wide variety here for choice, especially in small bottles. Just the thing for outings. Plain mixed Chow Chow from 10c to 35c per bottle.

Ginger Ale.
Most convenient and perhaps the best drink for basket lunches.

Crackers.
Not less than a hundred varieties for choice.

Fruit Cordial.
A small bottle in the luncheon basket will wind up the meal admirably, diluted with a sufficient quantity of water. All flavors.

SERVICES WERE APPRECIATED.
A number of the Anglican clergymen in the Diocese of Huron made the occasion of their attendance at the synod the opportunity of showing their appreciation of services rendered by Rev. Prof. Burgess, of this city, towards their several parishes. They waited on Prof. Burgess yesterday and presented him with a set of Smith's Dictionary of the Bible, Smith's Analytical Concordance and a beautiful brass inkstand, together with an agate penholder and ivory paper knife. The presentations were a complete surprise to Prof. Burgess, who made a suitable acknowledgment.

MR. GIBBONS' KINDNESS.
Through the extreme kindness of Mr. George C. Gibbons, K. A special car was first sent to the home to convey the little ones to the circus, and eventually to leave them at their destination. Subsequent to the show the children were bountifully served with a lunch, the entire day's proceedings being under the personal supervision of Mr. Gibbons, to whom the trustees are sincerely grateful for this, another of many pleasures he has given to their little charges.

COMMISSIONS GIVEN OUT

Officers of Salvation Army Are Located for Next Three Years.

Brigadier and Mrs. McMillan Leave for British Columbia.

After receiving the welcome intelligence that in every respect the Salvation army in Western Ontario had prospered wonderfully during the last three years, the officers who have been in session here since Tuesday concluded the convention last night. The meetings held were as fruitful of good results as any in the history of the local corps. Last night's session was similar to those of yesterday, in that it consisted to a great extent in farewell addresses to Brigadier and Mrs. McMillan, who have faithfully and successfully conducted the army's affairs in this district for the last three years. Another very important feature of the session was the announcement of the commissions which the officers had received for the next three years. The public was invited to last night's meeting, and quite a large crowd attended it, and showed much interest in all that went on.

The evening's proceedings were commenced in a unique way. Those participating in the usual parade, together with a large number of the delegates, were attired in Hindoo costumes, which were prepared by Mrs. Coombs, wife of Major Coombs, who spent several years in India, and who is consequently familiar with the apparel of that country. The procession was headed by a strong band. After marching down the main streets, the procession returned to the citadel.

The substance of all addresses that were delivered was that much regret was felt at the departure of Brigadier and Mrs. McMillan, who had endeared themselves as commanders of this district for the last three years. Every joy and success was wished them in their new charge, that of the Pacific Province. Along these lines, Sergeant Major Andrews, of this city, made a few remarks of farewell on behalf of the local corps.

Mr. Austin, of Windsor, spoke of the personal character of Brigadier McMillan. He had known him for years and described him as a man who put his whole soul into whatever work he took up.

CORPS HAVE FLOURISHED.
A report on the advances made by the different corps in this district was read by Major Andrews. In no single department had there been a falling off. Both as regards finance, attendance and membership, the work had prospered splendidly. The increases had been steady and gave evidence that the army was on the advance over the report of three years ago. The children's classes were experiencing the same success. The figures given showed that when Brigadier McMillan took charge the corps in Western Ontario numbered 4,700 souls. Now the membership is 7,700, an increase of 2,920. The same expansion had been felt in the other provinces. Two thousand, two hundred and ninety people attended the meetings of the army club, and the number of the army's buildings had been repaired.

NEW ALLOTMENTS.
The last duty, and he said it was a pleasant one, performed by the brigadier before his departure, was to make allotments of the commissions for the next three years. The commissions were given as follows:

Major Cooper and Capt. Maisey, from Brantford to Woodstock.
Ensign Brown and Lieut. Thompson, from Brantford to Woodstock.
Ensign Campbell and Lieut. Burrough, from Aylmer to Ingersoll.
Adjutant Scott and Capt. Kitchen, from Palmerston to Petrolia.
Ensign Howcroft and Lieut. Henderson, from Palmerston to Essex.
Capt. and Mrs. Brand, from Strathroy to Palmerston.

BRIGADIER AND MRS. McMILLAN.
Who Leave London to Take Charge of the Army in British Columbia.

Lieut. Alex. McMillan, son of Brigadier McMillan, who has been connected with the commissioners' office at Toronto and who accompanies his father to the Pacific Coast, sang a farewell song, and the evening was brought to a close by the entire company singing "God be with you till we meet again."

Brigadier and Mrs. McMillan and their families, leave today on the C. P. R. for the Northwest. Brigadier Hargrave, who succeeds Brigadier McMillan, is expected to arrive here on Saturday.

—Word has been received in this city that Dr. Harry O. Brunton, formerly a resident of London, was married on Wednesday, June 17, to Miss Cora Dorothea Hillenbrand, of Cincinnati.

COLORS OF 26TH REGIMENT DEPOSITED IN ST. PAUL'S

Ancient Custom Followed With Usual Ceremonial.

His Lordship Bishop Baldwin eloquently Addresses Soldiers.

A tribute to the good conduct of the Twenty-sixth Regiment in camp on Carling's Heights was paid by his Lordship the Bishop of Huron last evening, on the occasion of the depositing of their regimental colors in St. Paul's Cathedral. This ceremony, which is as old as the carrying of regimental ensigns, possibly is an interesting one, and the depositing of the colors by the Twenty-sixth was watched by a large number of people. The church was filled with soldiers and civilians, who heard the brief but powerful address of the bishop.

The regiment arrived at 8 o'clock, under command of Lieut.-Col. McEwen. On reaching the cathedral doors the color party advanced. The doors were closed and the band and drums took up a position to the right and left of the doors. The color party halted at the church steps, and the officers were brought to the front. The adjutant, Capt. Becher, approached the door, according to custom, rapped three times with the hilt of his sword, and the door was opened by the wardens, to whom the adjutant stated that he had a message from the commanding officer of his regiment, which he wished to deliver to the color of the church.

The doors were again closed, and the wardens retired with the message. The adjutant, coming to the front, the adjutant was presented to him, and the latter said to the adjutant: "Very reverend sir, I have been directed by Lieut.-Col. McEwen, commanding the Twenty-sixth Regiment, to inform you as rector of this cathedral, that he desires admission for the purpose of requesting that the colors of his regiment be deposited in this church."

This permission having been obtained, the adjutant and the rector proceeded to the main entrance, the main doors of which were thrown open. The rector, very Rev. Dean Innes, accompanied by the clergy and choir, formed a procession. The clergy consisted of the bishop, the dean, Canon Young and Hill, Canon Dunn, honorary chaplain of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, Rev. Mr. Robinson of the Thirty-second Regiment, and Rev. Mr. Higgins of the Thirty-third Regiment. Following this procession came the choir, the regiment, and the congregation, all of whom joined in singing the hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The regiment were there in their red coats, and made an impressive sight, marching as they did in one body into the sacred edifice, where the front seats were occupied by them. The synod adjourned for the time that the services were in progress, so that there were a hundred more clergymen in attendance, besides numerous citizens, attracted by this old ceremonial.

CHURCH WILL KEEP COLORS.
The rector stood on the church steps when he reached this part of the cathedral, facing the congregation. The commanding officer's duty was then to address the rector, as follows: "Very reverend sir, I have come with the colors of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, to request that you will permit these venerable emblems of loyalty to rest within the walls of this sacred building." In reply the rector stated that he gladly accepted the honor. The church would take every precaution of the colors, to see that they were kept and preserved. This was followed by the lieutenants carrying the colors, turning about, and facing the men, presenting arms, the organ at this time playing "God Save the King." One by one the colors were transferred to the hands of the dean, and Chaplains Dunn and Robinson carried them to the communion table, where they were laid in accordance with the ceremony, to signify that they were in the safe keeping of the church. There were the King's colors and the regiment's colors, both of which will hereafter remain in the cathedral.

Prayers were then said, after which the bishop made his address. This did not occupy more than twelve minutes, but it was very impressive. In the first place the bishop expressed his pleasure at having the opportunity of thus addressing the regiment, and referred to the conduct of the men at present in camp. He had heard from the chaplains that the conduct of the men had been exemplary, while the early hour services every morning had been well attended, and they were set good examples. He then brought out three ideas of life that he wished to impress upon those present. The first was the center for our life, the victories over our foes and the guidance for our feet. In regard to the first of these he pointed out that the army of Great Britain had been built up on the principle of subordination, with one chief over it. In the solar system there was the sun as the center, and there were no such things as collisions nor catastrophes. So there should be one center for man's life, and that living center was Christ. He appealed to the men of the army to be in union with this living center.

As to victories, every man could have a great victory—a victory over self. The greatest foe we had was depravity of the heart, and he called upon all to obtain a victory over self and then carry the captive self, chained with divine grace.

The third point in respect to guidance was enlarged upon. Too many, he said, were ruled by passion, and carried away with vice. The great thing was to get the right kind of a guide, and as a test he said the guide should have two things, first to know the way, and secondly he should have the power to render protection. That guide could be found in Christ. He prayed that God might bless them in their work, and he appealed to them to make every day's march one nearer to the city of God.

Referring to the colors, his lordship said that he knew how the army of England had followed those colors for ages, and much blood had been spilled for them. He rejoiced with the men and hoped that some day they would stand together under the banner of the King of Kings.

The doxology was then sung by all, standing, followed by the National Anthem. After the benediction the regiment marched back to the camp grounds, leaving the church at 5 o'clock.
