CANADA AT WAR

CANADA HAS NOW UNDER ARMS AND FULLY EQUIPPED 150,000 MEN

Very Shortly the Dominion's Quota of Men Will Reach 200,000.

Magill, chairman of the Grain Commission.

"The suggestion," he declared, "has been made by someone who failed to give proper thought to what he proposed."

The Canadian Government could do no more with a 300,000,000 bushel wheat crop in the event of the British market being closed, than could private owners under the same circumstances.

If the British market is glutted, the purchase of the crop by the Canadian Government would not help matters at all.

"Now what," he asked, "could the Canadian Government do with wheat?"

"Canada's 300,000,000 bushel wheat crop? If the British market was closed to private owners, it would be just as effectively closed to the Canadian Government."

The Government could no more market this wheat, in the face of a Russian glut of the British wheat market, than could the private parties now engaged in the business.

"What do the western men suggest?" Dr. Magill wanted to know.

"Do they propose that Great Britain cease operations at the Dardanelles in order that Russian wheat will remain bottled up in Russia?"

HEREDITARY IDEA IS MOOTED FOR FLOWERY LAND

By Special Wire to the Courier. Peking, China, Sept. 7.—To obviate the necessity of again obtaining the recognition of foreign nations, the government has decided tentatively to maintain the form of a republic instead of restoring a monarchy, but to make the presidency permanent and hereditary, according to information obtained to-day in high official quarters.

General Li Yuan Heng, who was reported to have resigned the vice-presidency on September 2, presided to-day at a session of the advisory council, and the newspapers have been authorized to announce a reconciliation of his views with those of president Yuan Shi-Kai.

The Situation.

The unthinking seldom stop to realize the vitally important part which the British fleet has played, and is still playing, in the war. There has been no striking victory such as that of the destruction of the Spanish Armada or that at Trafalgar, when Nelson smashed the combined fleets of France and Spain, but the results, if not spectacular, have been none the less effective. Recently correspondents have been permitted to visit the British fleet in the North Sea and to tell about it, and they have related a heart-gripping story. In perfect and alert shape, these silent guardians of the deep are on the job both day and night, keeping the German fleet securely bottled up and decimating the submarines, which have not yet been able to secure one of them. An incident is that at a naval base, drydocks were seen—built since the war began—capable of taking care of the largest war vessels.

Regarding the strength of the British fleet, it is not enough to say that it is formidable; its position is impregnable—the number and power of its units are invincible.

Vice-Admiral Sir John Jellicoe has under his orders a fleet of 3,000 ships of all kinds, dreadnoughts, cruisers, torpedo boats, destroyers, submarines and auxiliaries. The number includes at least 300 warships.

This tremendous fleet always has steam up, and is always ready. Its activity is perpetual.

In the Eastern theatre the Germans are bending all their efforts to get to Vilna and Riga, and the Austrians, left to themselves in Galicia, are commencing to slow up.

In the Western theatre the deadlock continues. The Allies and the enemy alike have dug themselves into trench systems which it is impossible for either side to carry to any extent.

Germany announces the production of new and powerful flying machines which will supersede the Zeppelins, and are calculated to work great havoc, especially in raids upon England.

Sinking of the Hesperian.

The torpedoing of the Allan Line passenger steamer Hesperian adds one more bloody deed to the murderous list compiled by the piratical Huns. The death list was comparatively small, but it was not the fault of the German submarine responsible for the attack that another such complete horror as that of the Lusitania was avoided. The previous contention of Berlin was that passenger boats were legitimate prey when carrying munitions of war. In the case of the Arabic, and now of the Hesperian, even that excuse cannot hold. Both vessels were on their way from and not to Great Britain. The Hesperian, it is true, had Canadian soldiers aboard, but they were not going to the scene of action as fighters, but returning from the front disabled. The story that there was a mounted gun in the stern is absolutely denied by the Allans. Suppose there had been—what then? Hasn't any vessel a perfect right to try and take care of itself if attacked? In any event, it was not used, as the cowardly deed was done in the dark.

The incident has come as a rude jolt to Uncle Sam. As recently as Sept. 1st Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the States, sent this letter to Secretary of State Lansing:

"My dear Mr. Secretary.—With reference to our conversation of this morning, I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contain the following passage: "Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants being assured, providing that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance."

"Although I know that you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question till the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you of the above because this policy of my Government was decided on before the Arabic incident occurred."

"I have no objection to your making any use you please of the above information."

"I remain, my dear Mr. Lansing, very sincerely yours, "J. Bernstorff."

There was great rejoicing at Washington over what was termed a great victory without bloodshed, but the dream has been shattered into a thousand fragments.

Our neighbors now realize that there is no such thing as German honor, and that German assurances are not worth the paper they are written on. Bernstorff most likely had his tongue in his cheek when he penned the above-quoted epistle.

The Matter of Wheat.

There is an abundance of wheat everywhere, and the fact is now self-evident that the price is not going to reach nearly the figure which was at one time estimated owing to war times.

A billion bushels have been raised in the United States, and the estimate for the Canadian West is placed at 226,359,169 bushels as compared with 143,041,809 bushels in 1914, or an increase of over 82,000,000 bushels. Ontario has also a record crop, and all this means that the United States and Canada will this year have far more wheat to export than ever previously known. The United Kingdom also has a record crop. Then if the Dardanelles are forced the surplus of two years of the Russian crop will be dumped on the market.

One of the many matters discussed by Premier Borden while in the Old Land was the transportation of the crop, and there can be no doubt that he bent every effort to this purpose. At the same time, there will be the submarine danger to be reckoned in connection with all shipments and the added insurance cost.

After reviewing the situation an expert says:

"In spite of all these adverse factors the general belief is that the price of wheat will still be above the average of recent years. That it will be up to that of the past year is not for a moment to be expected."

As far as Germany is concerned, she would seem to be sure of an abundant supply. In the Fatherland every available acre has been made to yield the maximum, the conquered areas of Belgium and France have been cultivated to the limit, and the conquered Russian territory comprises rich agricultural lands.

LETTER FROM PTE. JUBBER AT SHORNECLIFFE

Met Many Men, Whose Names He Gives, Who Are Now on Sick Leave.

Word has been received from Pte. Jubber, who arrived at Shornecliffe, Aug. 18 from Niagara Camp, with the A. M. C. They had two submarines chase them but the escort took them along safe. He was welcomed by a lot of the brave wounded boys of Brantford. He says they are doing nicely and very cheerful. He also met Col. Howard, who was surprised but pleased to see him among them again. Col. Howard looks good and well. Some of the Brantford boys asked that it would be made known that they had not received or heard anything of the good things sent out. Mr. Jubber expects to be in France shortly, as the medical staff are needed very much there owing to so many sick and wounded ones.

The following is a list of the lads he met on leave: Sergt. E. H. Price, Sergt. G. Pilley, Cpl. Baker, Lc. Cpl. J. Dockray, Lc. Cpl. H. Cappin, Lc. Cpl. Gage, Sergt. Woods, Pte. TWENTY-FIFTH VISITED PARIS (ON SATURDAY)

Saturday afternoon the 25th Brant Dragoons, accompanied by their faithful drummer, marched up Brant Ave. on a route march to Paris. In spite of the great heat the ground was covered in two hours and upon arrival in Paris the men went directly to the Y. M. C. A. where by the kindness of the officials they were allowed the privilege of a shower and swim. A market and tents were erected outside the armouries and the Maple Leaf Patriotic Fund provided an excellent supper, as well as breakfast and dinner next day. At night the men were free to see the town and Sunday morning attended divine service at the Congregational Church and heard a splendid sermon. The detachment returned on the radial Sunday afternoon, it being too wet to march.

Sixteen men were signed up for active service on the holiday. Of these the Duffs got 6 and the 25th and 32nd 5 each. A father and his son are two of those who swell the ranks of the 25th. The names:

CARRANZA ISSUES DENIAL ABOUT THE RAIDING

Washington, Sept. 7.—A day's cessation of raiding on the Lower Rio Grande and the announcement that General Carranza had ordered his commander at Matamoros to co-operate in the campaign against Mexican bandits led officials here to believe that the gravity of the border situation had somewhat relaxed. The 4,000 American troops in the vicinity of Brownsville still had orders, however to be ready to handle any emergency.

Carranza's denial (announced through his Washington agency) that his troops had participated in the raids, was received here after General Funston had forwarded reports from Brownsville indicating that Carranza soldiers had fired across the border. The reports explained though that General Nafarrate had disavowed the shooting and had offered to help in clearing the frontier of bandits.

HESPERIAN ARMED?

London, Sept. 7.—The American Consul at Queenstown, Wesley Frost, telegraphed yesterday to the American Embassy that the Admiralty authorities had not been informed officially that the Hesperian had been torpedoed without warning, but that they believed that this was the case. None of the officers of the Hesperian, except an assistant purser, has yet arrived at Queenstown. This man and various passengers interviewed by Mr. Frost agreed on the statement that no warning was given.

Mr. Frost's message also said that 45 unorganized Canadian troops were on board, most of them invalided, and that the Hesperian had a 4.7 inch gun mounted astern.

The consul had been unable to learn of more than two Americans who were on the Hesperian, both members of the crew and both reported to have been saved.

NO DOUBT A SUB. From stories told by survivors the detailed account of the disaster is gradually being unfolded. Most of the passengers say there is no doubt that it would be made known that a German submarine, and some of them say they heard the lookout shout "Submarine in starboard quarter."

All agree the Hesperian was struck on the starboard side, between the foremast and the bridge. Lifeboats were launched in the darkness, but without panic. The fourth and fifth boats were lowered unevenly and overturned, the occupants being thrown into the water. Some of them were injured.

At the London office of the Allan Line it is said that all passengers reached Queenstown safely. Some of the rescued, however, say they heard cries for help from persons in the water.

A woman in one of the lifeboats stopped a small leak by removing a stocking and stuffing it into the hole. Three Sisters of Mercy were among the last to depart from the Hesperian. One of the passengers asserts that 60 persons were crowded into a lifeboat having a capacity of 40.

MONTREAL MAN SAW THE TORPEDO

London, Sept. 7.—Mr. Chantaw of Montreal says he was leaning over the side and saw the torpedo strike the Hesperian.

WEALTHY LADY A VICTIM.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 7.—Ellen Carboney, aged seventy, a wealthy owner of a ladies' emporium in this city, is a victim of the Hesperian torpedoing. She was returning from her semi-annual trip to London, with tall fashions. She had a local reputation as a writer and poetess. Her body was recovered and will be sent here for interment.

AN ARMAGEDDON

and sympathetic references to the sacrifices and hardships of the army during the grilling year of war, while the battleships marked time in their long wait.

"But if battle comes for us, it will not last long," an officer said. "Every day's waiting only sharpens our eagerness."

The only color visible in that vast assembly of fighting ships, stretching into the misty horizon or standing out against the green background of the harbor, was the blue uniform of the crews and an occasional signal flag fluttering from the halyard.

WHOLE FLEET PUT TO SEA

While on board the flagship of Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, a message was brought to the Commander-in-Chief, who called a secretary and spoke briefly to him. Word was passed around that the whole fleet had been ordered to weigh anchor and proceed to sea. Guests on board a destroyer at the mouth of the harbor watched that unprecedented procession of naval power make its exit, led by graceful light cruisers and flotillas of destroyers.

"But are not German submarines waiting outside?" was asked. "No doubt two or three are always there," an officer replied, "but the destroyers know how to keep them off."

Cutting through choppy waves and leaving foaming wakes, the destroyers, attendant satellites of the great fighting ships, run in and out at their superior speed, as busy as bees. The destroyers were always on the move, flotilla blinking its signals to flotilla. It seemed that if a line had been drawn between the stern and bow of any two battleships it would measure exactly the same distance as between any other two, so steadily were the intervals kept. The crews were out, and the slight added impression to the fleet's grey armored might. There was the first Dreadnought, and others of all classes since her evolution of naval warfare, up to the latest type, the Queen Elizabeth.

20 DREADNOUGHTS COUNTED. The head of the column was lost in the mist of approaching nightfall and black clouds from the funnels. Eight, sixteen, twenty Dreadnoughts were counted as they went past with clockwork regularity, and out of other smoke clouds in the harbor more Dreadnoughts were coming before the King Edward VII. and other pre-Dreadnought classes had their turn.

The commander of the destroyer which the correspondent was aboard looked at his watch and said it was time to go, as he must take his appointed place in the fleet. At 80 knots he cut across the bow of a battleship, taking his guests to the landing place. As the destroyer rounded the headland the correspondent had a last glimpse of that seemingly endless column of ships, still not free from the harbor, on its way on an unknown errand in the North Sea. Its numbers and gun-power were suggestive of an Armageddon which overwhelmed the imagination, should it ever engage the German fleet.

We Invite YOU to An INFORMAL DISPLAY

Of Fall Ready-to-Wear, Millinery, Dress Goods, Silks, Furs, Etc., Etc.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

THE chief attraction, of course, will be on the second floor, in the large and spacious Millinery and Ready-to-Wear Departments.

While admitting that the display of new Fall styles is perhaps a little early, nevertheless we feel that we owe it to our many patrons to display the new goods as early as possible, hence this INFORMAL DISPLAY.

In Millinery, large hats with drooping, rippling brims are the very latest French creation, while, of course, these do not rule, as some very chic and dainty effects are shown in smaller shapes. The tendency this season seems to be either a large shape or a very small shape, going from one extreme to the other. The smaller effects make a decided military and naval appearance. A very smart French model is the "AEROPLANE," which is one of the very latest French ideas.

In Suits simple tailored and belted styles seem to predominate, while the Russian blouse effect is the latest. Skirts are moderately wide and shown in a variety of styles.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

The County Council met at the Court House on Saturday afternoon and with Warden Cook in the chair, passed two by-laws. One of these is for the borrowing of $8,500 for the erection of the Puttun and two hogback bridges. This will affect oil vendors in the county who were previously allowed to sell their wares without paying the license fee. RECORD AT BRANT.

That deservedly popular amusement resort, the Brant, notched a record on Labor Day. In the afternoon the house was packed and hundreds had to be turned away and by 2:30 p.m. the house for the night had also been sold out. Between two and three thousand people were present at the two productions. Marie Dressler and Charles Chaplin are the two greatest fun makers now on the stage and their presence in one film, was, of course the great attraction. Over 50,000 saw the same film at the Theatre, Toronto, in one week, and it is a scream from start to finish. Bumper houses here are a certainty and the management hope to make a return date.

Trafficking in Messages.

Special Wire to the Courier
Athens, Sept. 6, via Paris, Sept. 7.—The arrest of two men and a woman charged with trafficking in messages addressed to King Constantine and the general staff of the Greek army by representatives on both sides in the war, has caused a sensation. The persons arrested are charged with plying a regular traffic in information impartially to either side.

BALFOUR WRITES LETTER TELLING ABOUT THE NAVY

Splendid Review of Present Naval and Associate Conditions of War.

London, Sept. 6.—Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, has contributed a letter to the British press in which he says:

"I claim no gifts of prophecy; I make no boast of the future. But of the past I can speak with assurance, and it may interest you to know that while the losses inflicted upon the German submarines have been formidable, British mercantile tonnage is at this moment greater than when the war began.

"It is true that by this method of warfare many inoffensive persons, women and children, as well as neutrals as well as belligerents, have been robbed and killed. But it is not only the innocent who have suffered, the criminals also have paid a heavy toll. Some have been rescued and are prisoners of war; but from the very nature of submarines it must often happen that they drag their crews with them to destruction, and those who send them forth on their unhonored mission wait for their return in vain.

"Herein lies the explanation of the amazing change which has come over the diplomatic attitude of Germany towards the United States. Men ask themselves why the sinking of the Lusitania, with a loss of over 1,100 men, women and children, was welcomed throughout Germany, with a shout of triumph, while the sinking of the Arabic was accepted in melancholy silence.

"HAVE MEASURED EFFORTS.

"Is it because in the intervening months the United States has become stronger or Germany weaker? Is it because the attitude of the President has varied? Is it because the arguments of the Secretary of State have become more persuasive? Is it because German opinion has at last revolted against lawless cruelty? "No. The reason is found elsewhere. It is found in the fact that the authors of the submarine policy have had time to measure its efforts—that the deeds which were merely crimes in May, in September are seen to be blunders.

"Mr. Balfour begins his communication as follows: "Much has been written about Germany's military methods and aims on land; not so much about her methods and aims at sea. Yet in truth the two are so intimately connected that neither can be understood apart from the other.

"In 1900 Germany first proclaimed her policy of building a fleet against Great Britain, and, from the point of view of her own ambitions, the policy was a perfectly sound one. She aimed at world domination; and against world domination the British fleet from the time of Queen Elizabeth to the present has always been found the surest and most effectual protection. The Germans have every reason to be aware of the fact that the Great must have succumbed to his enemies, and Prussia would scarcely have shaken off the Napoleonic tyranny.

FREEDOM OF THE LAND
"Whatever may be thought about the freedom of the sea, the freedom of the land is due in no small measure to the British ships and British sailors.

"It takes time, as well as money, to create a great fleet, and German statesmen were too wise to suppose that they could at once call into existence a navy able to contend on equal terms with a power which, they saw clearly enough, was the most formidable obstacle to their aggressive projects. But they did not on that account doubt the immediate advantage which their maritime policy conferred upon them. They calculated that a powerful fleet, even though it were numerically inferior to that of Great Britain, would nevertheless render the latter impotent, since no British Government would dare risk a conflict, which, however successful, might leave them in the end with naval forces inferior to those of their power.

"This is the policy, clearly, though cautiously, expressed in the famous preamble to the Navy Bill. It is unnecessary to add that the German navy league entertained much more ambitious designs. So far neither the designs of the German Government nor those of the German navy league have met with any measure of success. The British fighting fleet has become relatively stronger than it was thirteen months ago and there is no reason to suppose that during the future course of the war this process is likely to be arrested.

THE POLICY OF TRIPITZ.
"It is indeed plain that after six months of hostilities Admiral von Tripitz and the Government which he serves arrived at the same conclusion. They saw that the old policy had broken down and that a new policy must be devised; submarines they thought might succeed where Dreadnoughts and cruisers had failed.

"The change no doubt was adopted with extreme reluctance and many searchings of the heart. Admission of failure in itself is unpleasant. Though we cannot regard a Government responsible for the Belgian atrocities as other scrupulous or humane even the most reckless Gov.

"PEG O' MY HEART."

Oliver Moresco's production of the J. Hartley Manners' comedy "Peg O' My Heart" with Kitty O'Connor and the New York company will be the opening attraction at the Grand Opera House Tuesday.

This refreshing play with its wild Irish heroine who has the merry wit and the many true epigrams, so brightly spoken, will recall to local theatregoers the two capacity weeks that were filled with laughter and tears last season. "Peg" is a brood of a girl—a captivating rough little rascal, crude from the "Old Sod" which she rambled over in a cart, at whose tail her Ecclesiastic father orated for Ireland and Liberty. The rambling ceased one day and Peg suddenly found herself amid the aristocratic grandeur and artificiality of an English household where she is to be polished up and made a lady out of. As the story goes however, she does most of the polishing. Peg has a troublesome time of it from the moment of her arrival at the Chickster home, for she is a natural unfettered soul and it is hard for her to adjust herself to all sorts of social rules and regulations to which she is a stranger. Incidentally though, she keeps the daughter of the house from coming with a married man, while she herself runs away with the heart of Jerry, who turns out to be a baronet.

Miss O'Connor is supported by a distinguished cast of players. The management have arranged special prices for the occasion—$1, 75c, and 50c.

JUNIOR STARS RECORD SOME VERY FINE GAMES

The Junior Stars won the championship of the Junior City League yesterday when they defeated the Climbers in the first two games of a three game series.

MORNING GAME.
The morning game was a hard-fought contest, going at last to the Stars after 16 innings, the final score being 19 to 14. Leonard pitched the first three innings for the Stars and was then replaced by Walters who finished the game. The features of the game were the fielding of Sidsworth and the hitting of Ward, Batteries: Climbers; Buckborough, Carpenter and Monahan; Stars, Leonard, Walters and Williams.

AFTERNOON GAME.
Stars vs. Climbers—Leonard of the Stars opposed Carpenter in the afternoon game and pitched a good game, although ragged support at critical times allowed the Climbers to become dangerous. They had a good chance to tie the game up in the 9th, but a fast double play after one was one, finished the game, and gave the Stars the championship. The final score was 4 to 3. Batteries: Stars, Leonard and Walters; Climbers, Carpenter and Monahan.

STARS DEFEAT HAMILTON.
The Junior Stars defeated the Zion Church team of the Hamilton Intermediate League yesterday afternoon at Tutela park in a fast seven innings game of baseball by a score of 6-0. Davis for the Stars pitched good ball and was well supported, while Buller for the Zion team was unable to locate the plate. Batteries: Stars, Davis and Walters; Hamilton, Buller and Smith.

A PROTEST.

A ratepayer off Terrace Hill in conversation with The Courier to-day said that there was considerable feeling on the Hill over the placing of the pupils taken from Grandview school. Scholars living in the northern part of this section were being forced to walk all the way to Central School, when Victoria was very much nearer. This was not in accordance with the statement made by Inspector Kilmer that all pupils would be sent to the school nearest their homes. "It looks like discrimination," he said. "Why could not pupils living midway between Central and Victoria, and others, be transferred to Central to make room for the Hill pupils at Victoria, so as to save them a long walk, more especially in view of the winter season approaching?" A petition of protest, also in view of unsatisfactory transfer arrangements, is being circulated and needless to say, very largely signed. A public meeting has been suggested by some of the ratepayers, but has not yet been decided upon.

SIGHT RESTORED

Queenstown, Sept. 6.—An extraordinary incident is related by one of the Canadian soldiers, Chambers of Turro, Nova Scotia, rescued from the Hesperian, and who had been rendered blind at the front through the action of German gases. He had been thrown into the water, and struck out manfully to save himself, when suddenly, after he had been swimming for some time he found that the sight of one eye had been completely restored. The man was so astonished and overjoyed that, while still in the water, he shouted out to those near him that he had regained his sight. He swam about 500 yards before he was picked up and brought safely to Queenstown.

RECTOR PREACHES (Continued from Page 1) of Man raised as He was in agony, and there comes to mind the words, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." The highest type of morality known cannot save one soul or release one life, and the childlike acknowledgment that there must be, a truthful obedience, and as you go, and life's shadows deepen, you will eventually come to acknowledge their place in life. Many difficult problems lie before us in the coming year. Many new thoughts will be thrust upon us, concluded the rector, and to all of us Christianity is a mystery, and I only ask that you seek after light, lean towards God, feel for him into the darkness and He will be near. Do the duty that seems nearest to your mind, and you shall not be left in solitary, and the words are true to-day as of old, "As you go you shall be cleansed."

COL. ASHTON'S LETTER. Dear Mr. Jeakins— Everything goes along nicely with us. We have 40,000 Canadians in camp here and more are coming in all the time to supply deficiencies as drafts are sent to the front. The Second Division is sitting on the finishing touches and will be away shortly. Our future is all very cloudy but we are working hard to get into fighting shape. The Battalion is shipping well and the Brantford boys are a credit to their home town and mother regiment. There are no better men in the Battalion and I have had absolutely no trouble with them. I am in command of this camp with three infantry battalions and the East-ern and Borden machine gun batteries as well as administering my own command, so you can imagine I am pretty busy. From reports I see that Canada is still recruiting men and working them into shape. All will be needed. This war is only beginning. It is hard to imagine that men—supposedly sensible thinking men can stand on one side and not jump into the game. What were they born for? Are they blind? Don't they want to take a man's part in this the greatest and most momentous event in the world's history. What are they waiting for? It is this hanging back and not giving us men and munitions at the start that is costing all these lives. It won't be any good to come forward too late. We are going to win but we are paying a terrible price for our slow progress. Best love to all my Brantford friends. Kindest regards to Mrs. Jeakins and yourself. E. C. Ashton. GIVEN SIGNED RING. In the afternoon the children of the Sunday school presented the rector with a signed ring. A pretty worded address was read by Master Harry Hunt, and little Kathleen Noble made the presentation. Mr. Jeakins was manifestly deeply touched and gave the youngsters a 4 digit address.

HONORED BY THE MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE. Yesterday afternoon the Ministerial Alliance held a banquet at the Y. W. C. A. at 5.30 attended by the members and their wives. During the proceedings Rev. Mr. Lavell, the President, made fitting reference to the approaching departure from the city of Mr. Jeakins for active service. The following resolution, moved by Rev. G. A. Woodside, seconded by Rev. Mr. Kelly was carried amid loud applause. "Resolved, that as an association, we do hereby record our appreciation of Rev. C. E. Jeakins, B. A., B. D., our esteemed brother and fellow laborer in placing himself at the disposal of our government or chaplaincy in the 58th Battalion for Overseas service. That as a workman we have found him both ardent and efficient in the religious communion to which he belongs, and that we have seen in him a fine sympathy in all other religious and humanitarian activities within the city. That we assure him his genial presence, his clear cut messages and kindly judgment will be missed in the councils of our association. That we commend Mrs. Jeakins and Master Reginald, as well as himself, and his work to the guidance of the Divine Spirit and the sustaining grace of our loving Lord and Father, praying that our brother's separation from his family, as well as from the city, owing to continuance of the war may in the mysterious providence of God, be of the shortest possible duration." Mr. Jeakins in returning hearty thanks to the manner in which he felt it to be his duty to respond
