PROVINCIAL DETECTIVE IN SIMCOE

Believed That Anti-Unionist Agitators Are Due For Prosecution

OTHER NORFOLK NEWS
Woodhouse Women Will Work—A Centenarian Registers

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Simcoe, June 26.—Provincial Detective Miller was here yesterday and his presence in the county coupled with the salutation which Farmer Cross received in Brantford yesterday, is considered a ray of hope for some re-assertion of the hand of the law in Norfolk.

It is reported that tracks of an unusually large boot have been traced across a forested field from the developments of the Villa Nova farm, and that developments are about to follow.

Woodhouse Women Will Work.—The Woodhouse Women's Institute held the second meeting since organization at the home of Miss Eric Bowby, Norfolk road, yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Ward, in the chair. Five new members brought the total up to 27 and after the president, in a talk on "vegetables" had convinced the ladies of the practicability of drying vegetables, Miss Bowby and Miss Stalker were chosen as captains for a contest in this line of preserving surplus food till required. The contest is calculated to increase the membership.

The secretary, Miss M. Burk, reported regarding the St. Willaums convention held on the 15th and Mrs. L. Shary reported as delegate to the Waterford convention. Several of the ladies brought jars of their favorite salads and these were utilized to provide the usual luncheon. July's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Bowby. Distinguished Registrants at Dover. Mary Pickford was the first registrant for whom a registration card was filled out by one of the Port Dover registrars. And it was the real Mary Pickford too, old enough to be the mother of a grown daughter of the same name, and willing to take no second place with Mary of the picture film. The family live on one of the fertile farms of Woodhouse.

Colon Ledfortune, with a few months added to his hundred years' pilgrimage on mother earth appeared for enrolment. Even to-day his advice is an asset to his country. And he has advised that the Port Dover dock is no safe place to fish from. The Minister of Public Works would do well to make his acquaintance when visiting Dover. Mr. Ledfortune continues in good health and busies himself in useful work about the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nichol.

Fruit Outlook in Norfolk.
The following is a conservative estimate of Norfolk's fruit crop:
Apples—On the whole, 40 per cent. of a full crop, with Gravenstein, Russets and Kings carrying heaviest

On Three Months' Leave.
Lieut. Geo. S. Curtis, son of Major Geo. A. Curtis, of Simcoe, reported at New York yesterday homeward bound on three months' leave. He has never recovered from injuries received in a tumble with his plane. He is expected to reach Simcoe at noon to-day.

John A. Rose.
The late John A. Rose, whose death occurred at his home here yesterday, was the oldest of a family of five sons and two daughters of the late Taylor Rose, of Port Dover.

He farmed in Woodhouse for many years and moved to Simcoe about fifteen years ago. Three brothers live across the border. Dr. David, in Florida; William, in California, and Daniel, in Muskogee, Mich. Mrs. P. G. Pearce, of Waterford, and Mrs. William Martin, of Chicago, are sisters.

By his wife, a sister of John H. Maddigan, he had five children, George and Harvey of Chicago, Harvey and Mrs. C. A. Black of Reno, and Mrs. James Price of Detroit.

All of these survive.

Deceased was known as a man of retiring disposition who lived righted to the esteem won about Dover.

SEVERE RULES TO SAVE FLOUR

New Regulation in Canada Compel Use of Substitutes

FOOD BOARD'S ORDER

One-Tenth From July 1 and One-Fifths From July 15—Must Label Bread

Ottawa, June 25.—Compulsory use, by bakers, confectioners, public eating places and private households of substitutes for wheat flour, in prescribed quantities, issued to-day by the Canada Food Board.

In making this measure public Mr. Thomson emphasized the absolute necessity of conserving our small stocks of wheat in order that we may share them during the next few months when their food situation will be extremely difficult.

The order defines as substitutes for wheat flour, "pure and wholesome corn, oats, barley, rice, rye, buckwheat, tapioca, or potato flour, bran, shorts, oatmeal, rolled oats, cornmeal, cornstarch, hominy, corn grits, rye meal, rice, tapioca, or any mixture of same, and potatoes."

Four pounds of potatoes will be considered equivalent to one pound of the other substitutes.

The order provides that on and after July 1, bakers, confectioners, and public eating places, in making any bakery product in which the use of substitutes in certain definite proportions is not prescribed by previous orders of the Food Board.

On and after July 15th, this proportion, so far as places east of Port Arthur are concerned, must be increased to one pound of substitutes to every four pounds of white or standard wheat flour.

Quantities of substitutes available west of Port Arthur are at present too uneconomic to allow of a date being named for an increase equal to that required for Eastern Canada, but such increase will be made just as soon as the available supply of substitutes in Western Canada is sufficient.

On and after July 15th no licensed dealer may legally have in his possession for sale any wheat or standard flour, unless he also has at all times a sufficient stock of substitutes to meet the demands of his customers, at reasonable prices.

Persons at points east of, but not including Port Arthur, must purchase substitutes in the proportion of not less than one pound of substitutes to two pounds of wheat or standard flour, while persons west of and including Port Arthur, must buy not less than one pound of substitutes to four pounds of wheat or standard flour. Dealers are forbidden, on and after July 15th, to sell flour unless substitutes in the proportion stated, or to a greater proportion, are purchased.

Must be Labeled "Victory Bread."
On and after July 15th, every baker must place on each loaf of bread a label or sticker bearing his name and address, and the words "Victory Bread." The latter expression will be a guarantee that the prescribed amount of substitutes for standard wheat flour, required by the Canada Food Board has been used in making the loaf.

Bread which does not bear such a label or sticker may be seized and forfeited to His Majesty.

The order makes it an offense for any person to sell or have in his possession any bread, rolls, pastry or any other product in which white or standard flour is used, which does not conform to the requirements of the Food Board.

The penalty for violations of the new regulations is a fine of not less than $100 and up to $1,000, or imprisonment for a period of three months, or both fine and imprisonment.

TOLL ROAD PURCHASE NO NEARER

County Council Sends Back Agreement Proposed by the City

OPPOSE LIMITATION

Cannot Bind Future Councils as to the City's Expenditure

"That this Council is still of the opinion that the several toll roads in the County of Brant should be acquired and the tolls thereon abolished, and that this Council is prepared to carry out the proposed agreement relating to its object the purchase of the Brantford and Paris and the Brantford and Oakland toll roads, and that it is not in favor of the agreement proposed by the City Council. But this Council cannot undertake to bind not only the future representatives of the County, but also the future representatives of the Legislature of Ontario as to any changes that may hereafter be deemed advisable in legislation affecting highways adjoining cities, and therefore cannot agree to accept the restriction contained in the resolution passed by the City Council on June 21, as this would have the effect of binding not only all future Councils of the County, but also the future Legislatures of Ontario."

That the Clerk be instructed to refer this matter back to the City Council, together with a copy of this resolution, and request their further and immediate action thereon.

Up to City Again
The next move in the purchase of the toll roads is up to the city, as a result of the above resolution, moved by Councillor Stewart, and seconded by Councillor Greenwood, and carried 6-3, at last night's special meeting of the County Council.

The council objection to the stipulation made by the city, that the latter's contribution to the construction and maintenance of suburban roads should not exceed the amount in the dollar on the city's assessment roll, and the game of batllecock and shuttlecock is no nearer a finish than before.

Warden Pitts expressed the opinion that the city had made its ultimate concessions, and would come no further to meet the county, while Councillor Stewart, and seconded by Councillor Greenwood, favored dropping the question entirely at the present time.

The purchase of the toll roads will sit in abeyance, however, until the City Council adheres to the decision reached last week, a deadlock will ensue which will necessarily result in the purchase falling through.

The County Council also made a grant of $350 to the W.H.A. fund for the extension of the Nurses' Home.

City Limits Contribution
In opening the meeting, County Clerk A. E. Watts read the resolution passed by the City Council last week, limiting the city's expenditure for construction and maintenance, to one half mill on the dollar of its latest assessment roll.

Would such an agreement abrogate forever, the possibility of the city's being assessed for a greater sum than one half mill on the dollar for suburban road purposes?" inquired Councillor Seace.

Mr. Watts expressed a doubt whether the legislature would ratify the terms set by the city, while Councillor Greenwood pointed out that the city's assessment roll was likely to increase in the near future, and that the percentage of one-half mill would be a sufficient proportion.

"The city might just as well 'come clean, first as last,' opined Councillor Crichton. They seem to be anxious to buy the roads."

Mr. Watts pointed out that the purchase of the roads could not be completed for six months or more, as it must be passed by the Legislature.

"Is the half-mill rate at present fixed by the Legislature intended to cover both construction and maintenance, or construction only?" was a point raised by Councillor Seace.

Mr. Watts believed that this was a question which would have to be settled by a judge were it ever raised, as the point was not clear.

Mr. Seace believed that the half mill included both construction and maintenance. The worst feature of the city's resolution was that it bound the county, not only in the purchase of the toll roads, but on the whole suburban area for all time to come.

"Would the Legislature allow such an agreement?" inquired Councillor Greenwood.

"Very probably, if we both agreed," replied Mr. Seace. "It seems to me the city is bluffing, and I am in favor of calling their bluff, by endorsing the proposal, with the exception of the joker clause, and throwing it back to them."

"The city has come part way, and will come farther, if we stand firm," declared Crichton.

"They may not," interposed the Warden. "They claim that they have complied with our demands in toto, and that they have made their final offer."

"I think the city has come far enough for us to go back at them," declared Councillor Seace, "and place the onus for any delay upon them."

"I don't think we can draw them any further," observed Warden Pitts. Councillors Crichton and Seace felt that further concessions could be obtained.

Councillor Douglas recalled the failure of past movements to abolish the toll roads, and believed the county was losing money by delay in the matter.

"If the present owners of the Paris road repair the road, they will not sell it," pointed out the Warden.

"We can expropriate it, if we are willing to pay a higher price," explained Mr. Watts.

"If the road is repaired, it will be worth a higher price," considered Councillor Seace. "Let's put the matter up to the city," he urged.

"I don't think the city council will take any notice of any further resolution we send them," declared the Warden. "It will mean that the entire affair will be dropped."

Councillor Greenwood agreed with the Warden that the county should make a more propitious offer.

"The city will only go as far as we make them," observed Councillor Crichton.

"I doubt whether they will go any farther," insisted Warden Pitts.

"Councillor Seace then introduced his resolution, which carried, Councillors Smith, Douglas and Eddy voting 'aye.'"

Grant to W.H.A.
The Warden drew the attention of the Council to the request made by the W.H.A. for a grant to aid in the addition to the Nurses' Home.

"Has any sum been asked for?" inquired Councillor Greenwood.

"No definite sum—the larger the better, I suppose," replied the Warden.

"There is no doubt the hospital is doing a big work, and its needs are growing," observed Mr. Greenwood.

"The nurses need a larger home," admitted Councillor McCann.

"They are crowded to the limit," observed the Warden.

"We should encourage the W.H.A. in its work," considered Mr. McCann.

Councillor Greenwood moved that a grant of $400.00 be made.

Councillor Douglas moved in amendment that $250.00 be given.

"I was going to move that we give $500.00, the same as the city," observed Councillor McCann.

"I was going to suggest $1,000.00," added Councillor Seace.

Warden Pitts considered that $400.00 would be a satisfactory sum.

"Where is the money coming from?" inquired Councillor Crichton.

"The new licenses fixed for junk dealers will provide it," replied the Warden.

Councillor Greenwood, seconded by Councillor Douglas, moved that the sum of $350.00 be granted. The resolution carried unanimously.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS AGT BADLY

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid says a well known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog, and thus the waste is retained in the blood, to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have a stinging pain in the back or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urines so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

COLLEGE MEN DINED.
By Courier Leased Wire.
London, June 25.—The masters and fellows of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, were entertained at dinner last night by the Harvard Club. A large silver vase in commemoration of the fact that John Harvard graduated at Emmanuel College, was presented to Emmanuel by J. H. Severin, Liberal member of Parliament for Bristol division of Lambeth, who is a Harvard graduate, made the presentation. About 50 persons participated in the function, including a number of military and naval officers.

THE SITUATION.

The remaining members of the Austrian rear guard, left on the Piave have surrendered and a dispatch from Rome states eighteen officers and 1,607 of other ranks gave themselves up. The entire area is once more clear of the invaders. Instead of fulfilling their boast that they would take Venice a day after crossing the River, they have been forced back a badly routed and discomfited set of warriors. Their losses are now placed as at least 250,000, together with much war material and munitions. It is now announced that the Diaz troops are making an attack in the mountain regions.

Russia still continues to be a big problem. Some think that allied help would serve to bring about an effective rally, and others that such a course would stir up resentment and further the aims of Germany. Meanwhile it is reported that the peasants of the Ukraine, in spite of arrests and hangings, are rising more and more against their new task masters and that fires have been inaugurated and general destruction of produce.

Speaking in the Reichstag yesterday, Dr. von Kuehlmann, Foreign Secretary, made the important statement that the war could not be ended by force of arms and diplomacy would have to be used. In this regard he made the complaint that the stubborn allies would not come to terms. Certainly not on any Teutonic basis.

STREET CAR FARES.

Brantford is not by any means the only community in which the question of street car fares has had to be faced. The running of such systems, like everything else these days, has largely increased in cost both with regard to labor and material and old time rates do not begin to meet the demands of upkeep.

In Montreal it has been decided to make the ordinary fare from five o'clock in the morning until midnight six cents and at certain hours only will transfers be given. Between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m. the levy will be fifteen cents straight. Brantford of course, is not concerned about any all night service, but it is with regard to the day program and the best course to take in the matter should be promptly faced by commissioners and citizens alike. To go on under present conditions will be to land this city year after year into a deficit with regard to this municipal utility. The thing had better be faced right now and handled in a definite and common sense manner.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

Matters with regard to Ireland steadily do not get any better. When the Government not long ago made the announcement that it was going to undertake conscription and Home Rule at the same time the declaration came with such unexpected suddenness that it was supposed the Cabinet had secured some prior assurance that such a scheme could be successfully carried through. After events speedily demonstrated that there was no such understanding and the administration, as so often before with other administrations, is face to face with the same kind of deadlock. Under the circumstances Home Rule will not be accepted and conscription would mean a force in the Emerald Isle of such dimensions as to be out of the question.

Lloyd George frankly admits that the problem is the most baffling he has ever faced and he is not by any means the first Prime Minister to come to that conclusion. Meanwhile the fact is undoubted that many of the residents there are seeking to help Germany and that, too, with the approval of a vast number as witnessed by the recent incident of the election of a Sinn Fein candidate in East Cavan. Arthur Griffith, the man who dined the Nationalist standard bearer, was one of those arrested in the recent round-up as a man of traitorous designs and views and now the people have sent him to Westminster. The best friends of Ireland are heart sick over the fact that even in the time of world peril the same old sores should be kept open. One thing at any rate is certain and this is that United States sympathy has been practically altogether annihilated.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Fall fair announcements have commenced to appear before even one chance to fill a verandah chair in comfort without a hot water bottle at the western extremity. It may be good advertising, but savors somewhat of rubbing it in.

It is not believed that the dirty "There's one more river to cross," has been officially adopted as an Austrian army song.

It is announced that 300,000 more Greek troops will soon be available. As the individual with a cold, and who hasn't one, will aptly remark "Day they continue to increase."

There is to be compulsory use of substitutes for flour. If the same thing could be ordered with regard to money, a whole lot would rejoice a heap sight more.

Those doctors who are bestowing orders for whiskey by the wholesale need themselves to be bottled up.

The Hun who goes to smash all the rest of us with his war bludgeon, now admits that the conflict cannot be ended by force of arms. Oh, yes, it can, and the Allies will attend to the operation.

The name of Lt.-Col. Machin is evidently an abbreviation for Mochinians.

HEADING FOR CENTURY MARK

The Former Empress of the French is Still Alive to Witness Heroic Struggle of That Country

Born on May 5, 1825, Eugenie Marie de Montijo, former empress of the French, was descended on her father's side from a Spanish family of high nobility, the head of which in 1492, received the title of Count de Teba at the hands of Ferdinand and Isabella. Her mother was a Scotch woman, the daughter of William Kirkpatrick, a merchant in Malaga, Spain. After their marriage the Count and Countess of Teba moved to Granada, and later to Madrid. Two daughters were born to them. The eldest, of these subjects, was married to the Duke of Aosta and Berwick. The younger was Eugenie. On March 15, 1839, the Count de Teba died, leaving his wife and children in comfortable circumstances.

After the marriage of the eldest daughter the Countess in 1849 took up her residence with Eugenie in Paris. Here the young lady became celebrated for her beauty, her amiability and her rare mental gifts. The son of the then American Minister to France, William C. Rives, fell madly in love with her. His family objected to the match on account of religious differences. Young Mr. Rives returned a bachelor to his ancestral home in Virginia, but eventually married and became the father of Amelie Rives.

Eugenie made the acquaintance of Prince Napoleon, as he was then called, when he was living at the Elysee in his character as president of the French Republic. From the first he was attracted to the brilliant young Spanish girl. But when he became emperor, in 1852, his mind was set on an alliance with some European royalty. At that

NO FURTHER DISCUSSION OF WILSON'S PROPOSAL

By Courier Leased Wire

Amsterdam, June 24.—There will be no further discussion of President Wilson's four principles of a basis for general peace by Count von Hertling, the Imperial German chancellor. This announcement was made by the chancellor in the Reichstag in the debate after the speech of Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann. Proposal of a league of nations after the war is not looked upon with favor by Count von Hertling, who intimated that such a league might make it unprofitable for Germany.

"I originally had no intention of taking part in this debate," said the chancellor. "The reasons for my contemplated reserve are obvious. I have had the experience of having together with my predecessor's remarks in previous speeches. If we spoke our willingness for peace that was regarded as a symptom of weakness and our impending collapse. By others it was interpreted as a crafty trap."

"Did we speak on the other hand, of our 'unshakable will' to defend his four points, and save in principle, criminally thrust upon it. It was said that it was the voice of German militarism to which even the leading statesmen must submit willy nilly. 'I went a step further on February 24, and expressly stated my attitude toward the message of President Wilson, in which he discussed his four points, and save in principle my assent to them. I said that these four points might possibly form the basis of a general world peace. No utterance of President Wilson what ever followed this, so that there is no object in spinning any further the threads they started."

There is still less object after statements which have since reached us, especially from America. These statements indeed made it really clear what is to be understood from a peace league of peoples for the maintenance of freedom and justice. time, however, his throne was considered so unstable that first one and then another Princess refused his advances. Finally he determined to marry the daughter of the Emperor. Early in January, 1853, he started his ministers by announcing that he had determined on an alliance with Mile. de Montijo. The news excited much opposition, not only in the Cabinet, but among the French public. An alien empress, not of royal blood, was distasteful to them. But the emperor stood firm. The royal marriage took place in Notre Dame Cathedral, at the end of January, 1853.

Three years elapsed between the Emperor's marriage and the birth of his only child. This occurred March 16, 1856. With the birth of the Prince Imperial, troubles arose between Eugenie and the Bonaparte family. She was jealous and suspicious of her husband's friends. The Emperor's heart of the Parisian populace. She was spoken of as the handsomest woman in Europe. She set off her superb engagement with the Zulus in June of that year he met his death. His remains were interred beside those of Napoleon III., at Chiselhurst. A few years later Eugenie made a pilgrimage to Zululand, and visited the spot where her son had met his death.

"Our opponents made it clear that they would be the kernel of this league of people and that it would in this way be difficult to isolate the uncomfortable upward strivings of Germany and by economic strangulation to extinguish her. I considered it as against this quite proper that the foreign secretary make a statement on the details of our political position in the East from Finland to the Black Sea and in my opinion he fulfilled the task thoroughly."

"On the other hand," continued Count von Hertling, "some of his statements were given a more or less unfriendly reception in wide circles."

The chancellor said he would not go into the question of the responsibility of the war. "There are already testimonies that Germany was not to blame," he added. "No further Takes Four."

"I feel obliged to clear away the misunderstanding, which it seems we obtained in the interpretation of the second part of the state secretary's statement," he continued. "The tendency of the utterances of the state secretary was purely to ascribe the responsibility for the continuation and immeasurable prolongation of this terrible war to the enemy powers entirely in the sense indicated on February 24, for it goes without saying that there can be no question of lessening our energetic defense or our will, or of shaking our confidence in purely to ascribe the blame to the enemy."

"Now, as before," he added, "the ruler of the empire, the princess and the peoples, stand closely and confidently together. They trust in our incomparable troops, our incomparable army leaders and our united people, which are unshakably standing together, and we may hope that the Almighty, who hitherto has helped us and led us from victory to victory, will reward his faithful German people."

Little is known of Eugenie's life in the interval between the declaration of war against Prussia in 1870, and the disaster at Sedan. So occupied was she with ultramontane theories and complaints that the crisis which occurred on the capture of the Emperor found her utterly unprepared for its terrible sequel. The story of her flight from the Tuilleries is the most dramatic episode in her history. The first vague news of the Emperor's capitulation had reached Paris on September 3, 1870. The Italian Ambassador came to warn Eugenie that her life was in danger, owing to the popular feeling, and that it was time to fly. Prince Metternich and Ferdinand de Lesseps aided in her escape from the Louvre. She was driven first to Dr. Evans, an American dentist. In the evening, accompanied by Dr. Evans and his nephew, she took the train, and by a roundabout way through Belgium, reached the seaport town of Deauville. There she took refuge to England.

The royal refugees made their home at Chiselhurst. Here the Emperor died on January 3, 1879. The Prince Imperial gained the reluctant consent of his mother to join the British expedition to South Africa in 1879. In his engagement with the Zulus in June of that year he met his death. His remains were interred beside those of Napoleon III., at Chiselhurst. A few years later Eugenie made a pilgrimage to Zululand, and visited the spot where her son had met his death.

urgency for an Irish settlement as a necessity of the war and added: "I again venture to put forward the suggestion which I made in this house something like 15 months ago. I would ask if it is not possible—and I speak not to Irishmen alone—to take advantage of the presence here of the representatives of the great dominions of all parts of the empire to suggest, advise and present some scheme of settlement which might be acceptable to all parties in Ireland. I do not believe the imperial war cabinet could perform a task more vital to the interests of the empire, or more valuable to the prosecution of the war than to pave the way for a settlement in Ireland."

Sir Edward Carson asked the government to give a frank explanation of their policy of offering recruits land. He argued that such a policy could be only "satisfactory and just if applied to the whole kingdom and dominions. When Irishmen refuse to assist England, because they could not get home, he would remind them it was not a question of assisting England, but of assisting civilization to drive back barbarism. He asked Irishmen to turn their eyes to the west to see what Irishmen in America were doing.

Reviewing the various negotiations in which he had participated for the settlement of the Irish problem, Sir Edward concluded that they would show the Dominions and America that Ulster had not been unreasonable in trying to find a settlement. He would say to his fellow Irishmen, whether from the north, south or west: "For heaven's sake vindicate your country and your honor and take your share in the war for freedom."

Sir James Henry Dalziel asked how long the government was going to allow the scandal of young men going to Ireland to escape military service. Chief Secretary Short in reply agreed that the scandal had existed for a considerable time, but after consultation with the law office, it had been decided to issue immediately a proclamation calling these men for service. They would be taken under escort and handed over to the military authorities in England.

Margaret Garrett's Husband
By JANE PHELPS

CHAPTER XXI
"When we were married, and before," Bob went on, "you showed every sign of a sane and a well balanced nature. You deceived me entirely. Wait—I don't mean that you willfully deceived me; there was nothing to bring out the traits in your character, those in mine, which are making life impossible for me."

"I don't understand you at all, Bob," I spoke rather sharply. His talk was all so much Greek to me. I had not as yet grasped one salient point. It seemed futile for me to try. "Wait—I must tell it in my own way. You'll soon understand. I tried to love and to care for you. I naturally turned to my old friends, the friends mother loved. They welcomed me with open arms, and would have welcomed you. But you would have none of them. Your ideas of life and mine were totally different. You were satisfied to keep house, to sew, to mind the children, always with me sitting by to see. Mine were to enjoy my friends, to try to broaden myself by contact with clever minds; to bring into life something besides sound money making; and the discussion of the price of food and the qualities the servant did or did not possess. But at every turn you thwarted me, innocent aspirations. Because I was starved for companionship I bought an interest in John Kendall's publishing house; only to have it prove another bone of contention, even though John was one of my oldest and dearest friends. I think the trouble started because of these things. I have tried to do my duty by you, especially before and after the boys were born. But Margaret love will not be coerced. I have tried to love you—as a wife should be loved, as you want me to love you—but it's impossible. I suffer in telling you this as you suffer in hearing it. But I feel that I cannot live this lie any longer. I respect you, I admire your many sterling qualities; but I do not love you. I am still a very young man, and this knowledge is embittering my life. I had to tell you."

"But—what?" I stammered, still unable to grasp one tittle of what his words implied. I had not the strength to fight the first sharp anguish. The shock bewildered me. That he really meant that he did not love me any longer—was too awful. That he never had loved me—impossible.

"I shall leave it to you, Margaret, to decide what shall be done. I think it wiser that we separate, and—"

"Separate—never!" "Let me finish," he said in the same tone, but his face quivered. "I am sure that is the best way. I will do all in my power for you financially—always. The boys will go with you, I to see them whenever I choose. But Margaret, I am standing still. I cannot grow because I have no possible help at home. Had you cared for the things for which I care we might have gone on indefinitely, because then we would have had something at least in common. But as it is we have nothing, absolutely nothing."

"The boys—"

"Always the boys will be out together to love and to care for you. You must know and understand. Had I not half a man under the existing conditions. I crave understanding, freedom and I have never had."

LUMBER CUT.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, June 25.—Lumber cut in the United States, amounted to $5,831,339,000 feet in 1918, the forest service to-day announced. That was approximately 10 per cent. less than in 1916.

A THOUSAND LBS. OF PTOMAIANE POISON.
Windsor, June 25.—More than a thousand residents of Essex county are ill from ptomaine poisoning as a result of eating chicken pies Sunday at the annual celebration of St. Jean Baptiste Society, held at Puce, near Windsor.

A majority of the patients are being attended by doctors, but none is believed in danger. The pies were home-made and were supplied by members of the society. It is thought the chicken used was of the cold-storage variety.

Ptomaine poisoning from cold-storage chickens has occurred before in the border cities. After a recent banquet given in aid of the Patriotic Fund here, a hundred men and women became seriously ill.

RICHTER COUNTY CHOPS.

The following is a summary of reports made by agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture: Brant states that beans are looking very well, as flies and other insects have done little damage so far. One farm in Dundas is reported to be growing 105 acres of beans, some of which were nipped by frost on the night of the 19th. Cattle on hand, but that some grass-fed animals are going on the market for local trade. Prices over the Province range from 12c to 15c a pound for presentable beef cattle. The demand for dairy cows is still strong, running all the way and milking qualities. The milk flow is at its best, and the weather has been too cool for flies to give annoyance.

Nothing better for the children these warm days than a pair of those Strap Slippers at $1.25. Coles Shoe Co., 122 Colborne street.

KERENSKY IN LONDON

By Courier Leased Wire
London, June 26.—The Cabinet met yesterday under the presidency of President Poincare. At the suggestion of the Minister of Blockade it ratified the agreement entered into between the Allies and Sweden.

Former Premier Kerensky is on his way to America. Ex-Premier Kerensky has been in London for several days. He has kept in retirement, however, and few Russians have been aware of his arrival. His health is bad and those who have seen him say he has gone through remarkable adventures in escaping from Russia and in his journey to England. The presence of Kerensky in London, of course, is known to the British Government as it is impossible under the present strict passport regulations for any alien to enter the country without the Government knowing of it.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE CONVENTION HELD

North Brant's Work During Past Year Reviewed at Annual Meeting

The annual meeting and convention of the North Brant Women's Institute was held at the Y.M.C.A., Brantford, Thursday, June 13th, the President, Mrs. G. T. Wood, of Grandview, presiding at both morning and afternoon sessions.

There were about 200 delegates present and twelve branches reported, showing a fine year's work largely for Red Cross and other patriotic work. While at the same time, in most of them, care was taken to promote interest in regular up-to-date institute work, child welfare, medical inspection of schools, duties of citizenship and kindred matters. Mrs. Kerr of St. George, in the address of welcome, congratulated the delegates on the work accomplished and gave valuable suggestions of what might be done another year. Mrs. Simpson of Onondaga, in replying, emphasized several matters concerning all citizens, requiring attention, that all have a square deal and a chance to be good Canadians with clean hands and pure hearts.

The president in her address spoke of this as women's year, benefits received in improved temperance legislation, wider opportunity from the duty and privilege of the franchise, the harmony and co-operation of all the branches had made the splendid record of the year possible. The need of greater effort even than in the past for Red Cross work, for food production and conservation, writing for our soldiers and the starving millions was pointed out. Our country is worthy of our best efforts and we cannot fail when it is a point of honor to succeed. Special features of the year were the luncheon and dining of the thousands of patrons of the Ontario Provincial Plowing match at Oak Park in October, the emphasizing of a room in the G.W.V.A. for the sending of $100 for the cot at the Princess Patricia's Hospital, England.

The secretary-treasurer reported receipts for the year $9750, several thousand dollars in excess of the earnings of any previous year. Balance on hand May 31st, Branches, $729; district $84; membership, $866. Mrs. G. T. Wood, Grandview, president and Miss Callaghan, St. George, secretary-treasurer were re-elected by acclamation.

The vice-presidents are, Mrs. A. B. Rose, Echo Place; Mrs. M. N. Simpson, Onondaga; Mrs. D. Miller, Glenmorris; Auditors, Mrs. Peifer, Paris and Mrs. Henry T. Simpson.

At the afternoon session the principal speakers were Miss M. MacMurchy, Toronto, who gave valuable information on the New World for Women, its opportunities and duties, the necessity of developing the resources of this wonderful country, moral and spiritual, that it may be worthy of our heroic men's sacrifice and made a fit place to welcome home-coming warriors, deserving our best.

The address of Mrs. E. M. B.A. on Child Welfare, was replete with statistics on the need of greater attention to children if we would save the thousands that die the first year, need of more nurses to care for the mothers, greater care all along life's pathway. The truly wonderful work England is doing alone these lines, expending $15,000,000 for it this year, in spite of the tremendous demands of this war.

Mrs. Kerr, St. George, by request gave information on what that institute has accomplished by medical school inspection, medical clinics and dental inspection and their plans for this year along these lines.

A special feature was an address by Mr. McBeth of Hamilton on Community Economy its need and usefulness at the present time. The important list of necessities that the department is prepared to supply districts taking up this work and the fine offers of assistance the Red Cross officials make. Mr. Clark, Cambridge, explained what has been done there toward securing a suitable building, water supply, &c.

The instrumental duet by Mrs. Connor and Mrs. Barton and the vocal solo by Miss Agnes Peath were greatly appreciated.

Miss Annie Thompson's rendering of the national selection "We don't know where we're going but we are on the way," touched all hearts. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Williamson, sec'y Y.M.C.A. for cantons and generous treatment. The singing of God Save the King closed a very successful convention.

CLOSING RECITAL AT CONSERVATORY

Capt. L. Bishop Was Guest of Honor at Concert Last Night

The fourth and closing concert of the Brantford Conservatory of Music was held last evening in the Conservatory's recital hall, and proved to be one of the most successful in the history of this well known institution. There was a capacity audience which listened with much interest to every number.

Considering the program only, it was one upon which it would be difficult to improve. The performers, however, displayed not only talent, but in some cases skill of a high order, and gave their numbers with a uniformity of excellence which showed every evidence of careful study and well directed teaching.

Miss Alberta Bullock and Miss Eloise V. Baird gave their exacting numbers an intelligent interpretation, displaying a well developed technique, and an abandon which is so necessary to an artistic performance.

Mrs. Grace Ogle, in her difficult numbers, showed perhaps a slight nervousness, but each performer rendered their selections with a precision of execution and a delicacy of expression.

Mrs. Lettie Allen Rush possesses a most pleasing and well trained contralto voice, she sang with most exquisite taste the songs "Bride of Day," and Mendelssohn's "O Rest in the Lord," with organ and orchestra accompaniment, and was sung with the poetic conception and artistic rendition of an artist.

Mr. W. Norman Andrews, the chairman, in calling upon Captain Leonard Bishop, said: "Capt. Bishop is one of our Canadian heroes, who responded to his country's call, went to the front, was wounded, invalided home and his military 'honors' has again settled down to civil life. We are delighted," said the chairman, "to have Capt. Bishop back with us again. Needless to say, the Captain walked to the platform amid the applause of the audience. With a splendid bass voice he sang with excellent effect "Rage Thou Angry Storm."

The graduates, Misses Bullock, Baird and Ogle (piano) and Mrs. Lettie Allen Rush (vocal) were each made the recipients of a number of dainty bouquets of flowers.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. F. C. Thomas, was particularly hearty and successful in number at the organ, was most effective. The examiner, Mr. Tattersall, whom Mr. Andrews introduced as the cleverest "critic" in Canada, in a few remarks heartily congratulated the Brantford Conservatory of Music and its staff on the efficient work accomplished.

The Rev. Mr. Martin of our city spoke of the recognized educational value of the Conservatory to Brantford. The Rev. Mr. Baird from Exeter, who with his wife, came to Brantford to attend the graduation of their daughter, who had been a student at the Conservatory for the past two years, said: "It is with a feeling of pride I bear testimony to the efficiency of the staff and the splendid work done by the Conservatory under the direction of Mr. Andrews and Mr. Thomas."

The programme was as follows:

LABOR WILL NOT WAVER

By Courier Leased Wire
London, June 26.—At the opening of the conference of the Labor party here this morning, W. F. Purdy, the presiding officer, made it clear there would be no wavering among the members of the party in their determination to bring the war to a successful conclusion. Having spoken of the necessity of reconstructing the party, Chairman Purdy said:

"But let us not forget that all plans for reconstruction and all hope of re-building a better social and industrial life after the war depends on one cardinal fact—which, whether we will it or not, is ever present—and that is the winning of the war out of a spirit of revenge, but because Labor, the world over, has everything to gain by the crushing of that spirit of militarism and domination which has been the outstanding policy of the Central Powers for generations."

"The Russian and Roumanian peace conditions," continued the speaker, "throw an illuminating light on the peace terms they would impose if they obtained victory. We cannot and will not accept any such terms. The trade union labor movement has declared that they want no immediate peace. The war aims of the movement represent what we are fighting for, not negotiating for. These principles admit of no compromise." They respect the principles on which we believe a genuine and world peace can be secured."

Mr. Purdy appealed for unity in the party and the nation, without which, he said, their war aims could not be secured. As far as labor was concerned, he declared, after the war a strong industrial organization, backed by a strong political Labor Party was the hope of the future.

In addition to many British representatives the conference was attended by Albert Thomas, the French Socialist leader; Hjalmar Branting, the prominent Swedish Socialist; Emile Vandervelde, the Belgian minister of munitions and Camille Huysmans, the Belgian STRIKE IN HAMILTON By Courier Leased Wire Hamilton, Ont., June 26.—The Hamilton outside civic employes are the latest to threaten a walk-out unless their ultimatum for an increase of five cents an hour is complied with at once. Engineer Gray is afraid the waterworks system will be tied up unless the concession is made. There is also much unrest among the clerks in the city hall over war wages.

BRANTFORD C.O.R. MEN BEAT HAMILTON

Won With Five Wickets to Spare at Niagara Camp Last Week

An interesting cricket match took place on June 20th between the 1st Battalion 2nd C.O.R. of Hamilton and the 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R. of Brantford at Niagara, resulting in a win for the Brantford men by six wickets.

The 1st Battalion 2nd C.O.R. batted first and amassed the respectable total of 88, of which Corp. Skitt made a well placed 39 and C.Q.M.S. Church a very patient innings of 12.

The 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R. innings opened disastrously as Sergt. Bugden had the misfortune to be caught off the third ball. Sergt. Stokes and Sergt. Franklin succeeded in putting on 32 before being separated. Sergt. Franklin being brilliantly caught at short slip off a very hard chance for a hard hit 25. Disaster again overtook the 2nd Battalion 2nd C.O.R. as C.S.M. Smith and Sergt. Roberts were bowled in consecutive overs, but C.Q.M.S. Winyard and Sergt. Stokes then proceeded to put the game on ice, and were never separated.

HULL WOMAN HAD FAINTING SPELLS

Mrs. Thibault Overcomes Troubles by Taking Tanlac—Husband Praises It Also

The value of Tanlac in the treatment of stomach trouble with its many ills, is further evidenced in the case of Mrs. Valada Thibault, who resides at 27 Pupinea avenue, Hull.

"I had been suffering," said Mrs. Thibault, "from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run-down condition for over a year, and I just don't know what I would have done without Tanlac, as I had reached the point where I don't believe I could have held out much longer. I always suffered terribly with indigestion after meals and what I ate seemed to do me no good. Every-thing I would eat would do me no good, causing gas, bloating and much pain, and such tight, depressed feelings in my chest that I could hardly breathe. My nervous condition kept me from getting any sound sleep and I was unable to do my housework, would have fainting spells and sometimes just fall to the floor completely exhausted. I couldn't even sweep the floor and while I just tried everything I kept getting worse."

"One day an aunt of mine told me how Tanlac had helped her and advised me to try it, and the results are I am feeling much stronger and better in every way. I have taken three bottles and feel like a new woman without the least trouble. Gas has stopped forming on my stomach and no matter what I eat I'm never bothered with indigestion. My health is better already than it has been in a long time and I'm just improving every day. I rest well at night and my nervousness with all that tired feeling is gone, and I am certainly very thankful to Tanlac." "Mrs. Thibault, who witnessed his wife's statement, said, "Yes, it's really remarkable how my wife has improved in health since she began using Tanlac and I heartily endorse every word she has said in recommending it. She had been in such wretched health for more than a year that I had become uneasy and bought all kinds of medicines. But Tanlac is the only thing that has ever done her any good and I will be glad to personally tell anybody just what it has done for her."

HOW TO WIN A WOMAN'S HEART

Different Receipt is Asked For But Dorothy Dix Makes a Stab At It

A young man who is in love asked Dorothy Dix for a reliable recipe for winning a maiden's heart.

"There are some roads, though, that come so near to always leading to the feminine fancy that it seems worth while to erect a few guide posts along them for the benefit of anxious lovers."

I was sent once upon a time by the newspaper upon which I was employed to interview a convicted burglar who had twenty-four loving wives in various parts of the country. He was a most ordinary and common-place creature, with neither good looks, education, a prepossession of money, nor any other quality to dazzle a woman's eyes and capture her imagination. Therefore it was with unbounded curiosity that I asked him to reveal to me the secret by which he had won so many female hearts.

FILMETS

Most anybody can make a rabbit run, out is a real trick to make a rabbit run in a desired direction and a still greater one to make him pursue his natural enemy, man. Yet that is just what Br'er Rabbit is made to do in the Mack-Sonnett comedy "Two Tough Tondrests."

Like any well-brought-up small boy in the Spring, Mabel Normand is devoted to top spinning. Look in the big Goldwyn "loop" around the noon hour and you'll not find the sprightly star sunning herself in a steamer chair as Madge Kennedy does, nor gathering butterflies with Mae Marsh, but strenuously throwing one top after another. A circle of juvenile admirers always surrounds her, but not one of them is younger in spirits than Mabel Normand.

Olive Tell, the Empire All-Star Corporation's beautiful star, has a fact that is as unusual as it is old for Miss Tell collects all sorts and sizes of beads. In Miss Tell's collection are some very curious and valuable beads given her by an Indian—a Chippewa Chief—which had formed part of the ceremonial dress of his tribe for years.

CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

By Courier Leased Wire. Hammond, Ind., June 25.—Alonso Sargeant, engineer of the train which caused the disaster to the circus train near Gary, Ind., last Saturday was arrested charged with manslaughter while at the inquest to-day. Sargeant, called as a witness, declined to testify on advice of counsel.

WRESTLED ON STREET CORNER

Chicago, June 25.—A wrestling match at the busiest corner in Chicago attracted such a crowd yesterday that the police had trouble in handling the traffic.

At State and Madison streets in a sixteen foot ring plotted on a truck, Danny Goodman and Walter Jacobson, professional lightweights, mauled one another while a crowd cheered. The motor truck on which the ring had been constructed, moved from corner to corner for the purpose of advertising a benefit boxing show to be held at Camp Grant, July 4, when "the soldier boxers" of the Rockford cantonment meet those from Canada in bouts.

PRINCESS TRAINS AS NURSE

London, June 25.—(via Reuter's Limited).—Princess Mary, daughter of King George, will this week begin a course of regular training as a nurse at Alexandra Hospital. The Princess will attend the hospital two days each week and will undertake the usual work of a probationer in order to make herself efficient in the care of children.

GOOD WEATHER IS NEEDED IN WEST Harvest Will Not Be Record One, But May Yet Prove Satisfactory By Courier Leased Wire. Winnipeg, June 25.—The Free Press prints its fifth crop report for this season to-day. "It is fairly evident," says the report, "that the Canadian west is not having a great crop this year, but with good weather from now on there is reasonable hope of a fair crop."

Rippling Rhymes

COSTLY VICTORIES.
Red Bill he gained a mille of ground, and whooped with a triumphant sound, and sent his wife a wire: "Our German Gert is with us yet! We're winning victories, you bet, just like a house afire!" His men went forward, wave on wave, to run against a hand-made grave provided by the foe; they fell in swaths like standing grain, and lay there rotting in the rahu, in many a ghastly row. This cross the Kaiser lightly bears; it's little that the war lord cares how many men go down; that curb no foe with old Red Bill if he can gain another hill or reach a ruined town. Oh, he exults at each advance across a mille of battered France, whatever it may cost; to capture some old swamp or fen, or to capture some old swamp or fen, he'll exhaust. The manhood of his harried land is lying dead upon the sand it feeters in the sun; while he takes in a barn or two, and telegraphs the Potsdam crew, "Another triumph won!" The young, the stalwart and the brave, he's sending to a yawning grave, with never pause or truce; we all know what the end will be; oh, Bill, where is thy victory—oh, Wilhelm, what's the use?

DRIVEN AWAY LIKE ANIMALS

Description of Germans' Treatment of Men, Boys, Women and Girls in Invaded France.

Elinor Glyn, the English authoress, who has written the battle line of France, writes as follows in the Detroit Free Press:

The last little town that I must tell you of before reaching Chauny in Gravelines, is ruined. Like Royle, according to the reports of the commission the Germans here committed their usual brutalities, deliberately stealing the furniture and pillaging the houses as they felt inclined.

When the Ninth Corps Reserve were there under Gen. von Boehm he forced all the women and girls to roll in the fields. Most of them were gently bred creatures who had never done manual labor; they were driven out like slaves and forced to work under pain of punishment.

Then in October, 1915, this corps has changed for a Corps of Guards. The unhappy people thought that this would bring them better considerations, as the Guards officers were presumably gentlemen. But quite the contrary. These brutes passed their lives in continental brutality and the most scandalous cruelties and inflicted levies on the town worse than their predecessors.

As late as February 15 of this year 250 women were taken from 15 women old to 60 among whom were 122 men and boys and 139 women and young girls. They were all collected and driven off in the direction of the front. For what purpose no one knew, nor have they been since heard of.

Think of the agony of mind of the mothers seeing their young daughters carried off. Girls carefully brought up herded together with men and women of all classes, and then pitched away like cattle for some hideous use.

Some of the poor women left behind have gone mad, and one distraught creature followed after the departing troops shrieking for mercy for her girls, until she fell in the road.

These heartrending scenes finished, the Germans only waited until the convoy of poor slaves was driven off perhaps four kilometers from their homes, when they began a general pillage, stealing everything of any use. Huge lorries drew up in the streets and were filled with the furniture and belongings of the victims (I am quoting from the attested papers in front of me). Then the beating and flogging were lavished on all who remained.

When finally the brutes were obliged to evacuate Gravelines, they destroyed all the implements of agriculture, and began setting on fire the mills for the granges which contained corn, but the fortunate appearance of the first French troops prevented them from carrying out their whole program of devastation.

VETERAN METAL EXPERT IS DEAD

Dr. James Douglas, Born and Died in Canada, Dies in Boston

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, June 25.—Dr. James Douglas, for many years president, and lately chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, died in Boston, Mass., at his home here today in his 81st year.

Dr. Douglas was rated one of the foremost metal and mining authorities in the world. He was also a historian and writer of note and a philanthropist. He amassed a large fortune in his business.

He was born in Quebec, Que., and educated at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, where he graduated in 1858, later receiving the degree of doctor of laws from McGill University for his work in the field of hydro metallurgy. In this he was associated with Dr. T. Sterry Hunt, famous for his copper research.

Coming to the United States in 1875 Dr. Douglas went to Phoenixville, Penna., where he took charge of a copper plant. Previously to this he had been professor of chemistry in Morrill College, Que., later giving up that profession for that of mining engineering.
