Constipation, Indigestion and Horrible Backaches

Searched for a Cure for Years—Advised to Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Was Cured.

Where there is poison there is pain. This is a provision of Nature to warn you against conditions that are likely to prove serious.

Constipation is the herald of many diseases and is a source of much suffering. By using one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at bed-time as often as necessary to keep the bowels regular you can cure constipation and the consequent indigestion, and remove the cause of backache, rheumatism and other painful diseases.

"Daily movement of the bowels" is the greatest law of health. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you to form this habit, add to your years, and bring comfort in old age.

Professor A. T. Smith, T. M. Charles, and Dr. J. M. G. C. have all testified to the value of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Constipation and horrible backaches. I have been treated by many doctors, without any result. One day a friend in Boston advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes I noticed great improvement, and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. My head is clear, and I feel like a young man. I think Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are one of the best medicines on earth.

Peace.

And blood and tears shall be us peace, shall be us peace, they say. And moths and rust shall eat us dust. The arms of yesterday— But what can bring to me again, The hell they took away?

The peace of years, the day to come, What matter it to me? I can but bear the shattering gun— And see the face turned to the sun Of him who was so dear to me— O Christ, what matter that war cease, When they have taken away my people!

Fieri prope, $10, for highest standing in theoretical branches of music, won by Jennie Tozer, Newcastle, N. B.

The day of Acadia's closing dawned clear and beautiful, which induced many friends of the institution from neighboring towns to attend. These and the large number of visitors who had been attending the previous exercises made an unusually large gathering. Long before the hour at which the exercises were to begin College Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity. At the appointed time the faculty under the guidance of Dr. I. B. Oakes, entered and took their accustomed places on the platform, governors and Alumni were escorted to seats on the side platforms.

The last to enter the hall was the fifty young men and women who were to receive degrees.

After prayer by Rev. G. A. Blackadder, of the class of '65, four addresses were delivered by members of the Senior class, as follows: 'Man,' by John George McKay, of Little Branch, N. Dr. Paysant, of Wolfville, graduate of Acadia in the year 1860, donated to the college a handsome mahogany cabinet, inside of which were, on one side, ambro types of the members of his graduating class, with the enlarged picture of Dr. Cramp, president of the university at that time; on the other side enlarged pictures of his class mates.

The following speakers were then called upon and delivered short addresses: Rev. Avery A. Shaw, of Brookville, N. Y.; Dr. Coles, of Halifax; Dr. G. E. Crosby; Dr. G. E. Cutten, president of Acadia; and Rev. Chas. A. Eaton, of New York.

At the close of the meeting a dedication service of the Emersona member of the class of 1915, was held in the library, the service opened with prayer by Dr. Cramp, president of the board of governors. Dr. Cutten then gave a short address. He said, in part, that the library had been given by Hon. H. R. Emerson, in memory of his father, H. R. Emerson and that as Hon. H. R. Emerson was deceased since the dedication he liked to think of the building as a memorial to both men.

Mr. Charles H. Gault, librarian of McGill University was then called upon and gave a short address. Mr. Gault would like to see a system of libraries in Canada, somewhat similar to the banking system; one large library and all smaller ones under its head. In this way Mr. Gault would think more and better books could be obtained and circulated around among the smaller libraries. The head library might also be used to store the surplus books in want of circulation. Dr. Cutten closed the service with the benediction.

The annual banquet of the associated alumni of Acadia University was held in the dining room of Acadia seminary at one o'clock. There was a good representation of old graduates. W. M. Manning, B. A., LL. B., of the class of 1911, president of the association, presided with his customary ease and dignity.

Members of the classes of 1875 (188), 1885, 1893, 1895, 1900, 10, 15, 1910 were present. After all had enjoyed the good things provided the toasts were drunk as follows:

Mildard's Lintment Cures Diphtheria

A Fine Complexion.

MAY BE HAD THROUGH THE RICH, RED, BLOOD DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS ACTUALLY MAKE.

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected. When a girl in her teens becomes pale and listless, if she shows an inclination to tire easily, is listless and inattentive to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. A chemical analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply, and which restore brightness to the eye and color to the cheeks. Miss Delina Arsenault, Urbainville, P. E. I., is one of the thousands of anemic girls restored to health by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: 'I was attacked with anemia, and was in such a miserable condition that I had to consult a doctor, and was under his care for several months, but without getting better. I was growing thinner every day, had dark circles around my eyes. I could hardly sleep at night, but tossed restlessly and got up in the morning with black anticipation of the day's miseries before me. I was always bothered with headaches and pains in the back and limbs. My appetite was poor and I frequently vomited what I did eat. My friends feared that I would not recover. I had often seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised, and finally decided to try them. I used altogether six boxes and they made me as well as ever I was in my life. All the pains and aches disappeared, my appetite returned. I could sleep soundly at night, and the color returned to my cheeks. I also gained seventeen pounds in weight. I am now always well, and for this happy condition I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.'

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box of six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

German Failures.

An English writer summarizes German failures in the eastern theatre of war as follows:

Defeat of the sudden attack on Nancy.

Defeat of the rapid march on Paris.

Defeat of the development of our left in August.

Defeat of the same development in November.

Defeat of the attempt to break through our centre in September.

Defeat of the coat of attack on Dunkirk and Calais.

Defeat of the attack on Ypres.

Settlers Flock to Canada.

During the nine months since the outbreak of the war no less than 37,000 American settlers have come to Canada. Immigrants from Great Britain numbered only 12,000 and from Continental Europe 2700. The immigration from the United States consisted mostly of farmers and is encouraged by the Dominion Government on that account. It is felt that the greater the number engaged in farming operations the better we are able to provide the food supply required in the event of stress by the Empire and our Allies.

American railway companies and American real estate men have at times tried to prevent settlers and tourists from coming to Canada, and they have used arguments for which there was no foundation. It can be authoritatively stated that settlers coming to Canada are not subjected to burdensome war taxes, as alleged, and the greatest care has been taken to prevent unnecessary barriers being placed in the way of intercourse between Canada and the United States.

It must be said these are fine biscuits! How could you say those are fine biscuits? Inquired the young wife. I didn't say they were fine. I merely said I must say so.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A Scotchman who resided at the foot of a hill had a cow, but was rather short of grass for her. The honest man, not knowing what to do with the cow, tethered her on top of a hill, where she got little or nothing to eat but hatter. A neighbor on seeing this remarked to the Scotter: 'Och, yer cow has naething to eat on tap o' the hill.'

She has nae muckle to eat, but she has a grand view,' was the reply.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 4, 1915.

Editorial Brevities.

The Canadian universities have been doing more this year than ever before. They have given a band of heroic soldiers to the defence of the Empire. It is an ever memorable year in their history.

Surely with Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Romania, Serbia, Belgium and possibly Greece pitted against Germany, Austria and Turkey the possibility of another winter campaign ought to be more or less remote.

Readers, when you are preparing to come to town to do some trading just pick up your home paper, glance at the advertising columns and see who wants the trade. We guarantee they will save you some money. The man who advertises certainly has in documents to offer or he wouldn't ask you to call and see him before buying.

At this season of the year care should be taken to guard against the invasion in the homes of the typhoid fly, the advance agent of pestilence. No more efficient agency for the transmission of infectious filth of all sorts could have been devised, and as the fly breeds only in household and barnyard filth, the only means of extermination is by strict cleanliness.

The name of Sergeant Michael O'Leary, whose death in battle was announced last week, but who had won the Victoria Cross by his daring achievement in a previous engagement, will stand high in Britain's roll of honor, and the story of his courage and devotion will live in her history. Here's one for O'Leary, may well be the cry of every Irish soldier as he comes to grips with the enemy.

Farm life is often spoken of as monotonous, but is there any reason why it should be? The environment of farming is far more varied, more interesting and attractive than city life. Those who must sit at a desk in a shower of dust and endure heat during summer and dreary weather in winter from eight to twelve hours a day may find life monotonous, but the farmer surrounded by nature in all her charms.

The Germans profess to think they are blockading Great Britain by means of their submarine fleet, and that they are shutting off trade. In stead of halting off, British trade is increasing. Official figures show that the imports in April were valued at £73,028,888, or £12,051,455 more than in the same month last year. There was a falling off of £2,777,059 in exports. A comparison with German trade figures would be interesting.

Italy, like the other warring nations, is calling on the women folk to take up many duties hitherto discharged by men. A force of eleven thousand women will be enrolled and trained for police work. The satisfactory manner in which women are discharging the occupations they have been called upon to fill in Great Britain and in other countries has already aroused speculations as to what will happen when the war ends. The old conditions can never be entirely restored.

There were those who had their doubts about the fighting qualities and staying power of the Russians, but they doubt no longer. Russia's only troubles have been lack of munitions and railway facilities. There are those today who speak lightly of the Italians. The latter will probably prove their mettle quite as satisfactorily as the Russians have done. The nation is united as never before, and it is in readiness for the struggle against an ancient enemy. This war will wipe out more than one old score.

Lord Northcliffe, probably better known as Sir Alfred Harmsworth, and who has been characterized by the London Daily News as a greater menace to the welfare of Great Britain than Germany, is a well known newspaper man in Great Britain. He was born in 1865 at Dublin, and made a strike in 1904 as a journalist, his publications pandering to the lowest class of society. In many respects Harmsworth is the English prototype of William Randolph Hearst, the American yellow journalist.

Out, by W. J. Taylor, Limited, 'Honest Weight' is an amusing tale of two rival fishermen as related by one of the French Canadian guides who accompanied them on their outing after 'de beeg wan.' Three Swedish there were is also a humorous story relating the experiences of a vulgar, rambling trio, showing how everything turns to ashes to those without a purpose. 'Sport in and around the Rocky Mountains,' 'Care-free Days in Newfoundland,' etc., and the regular departments which letter are full of interest to the fisherman and golfer, make up a very interesting early summer issue.

'The Glistening Lure' is the title given by Bonnydale Dale to a story of a fisherman's life in the open sea, the pages of Jane Red and Quail which is published at Woodstock, N.S. and is a very interesting and well written book. It is a story of a fisherman's life in the open sea, the pages of Jane Red and Quail which is published at Woodstock, N.S. and is a very interesting and well written book.

More Men Needed.

More men, more men—Lord Kitchener's appeal to the Empire. Men! Yes, that is it. Clean men, men of firm, determined, hard granite, fitted with a patriotic desire to do something for their country. To that quality of manhood, there is opportunity to do something large in a practical way. Canada stands well in the present crisis, the heroic deeds of the overseas contingents have stirred the Empire to its heart's core and we are getting the glory of it. It is well, however, to look at the facts, the majority of those who so far have made Canada famous are English born, the spirit of loyalty came with them to Canada, and at the call of the Empire they volunteered without hesitation to face war's hardships for God and the King. Old soldiers some of them, carrying medals and scars who know what fighting is, who had soul enough in them to offer to defend it against a militarism which would crush the world. It is true that Canada has not been found wanting, her roll of heroes grows, nobly they have stood the test. As in the South African war there has been a loyal response to the call to arms, but not in proportion to the population. We want more native blood in the heroic battalions at the front.

Prison Reform.

The humanizing tendency in prison reform in the United States, appears to be having excellent results. It is said that when the warden of Sing Sing recently asked for a party of 800 volunteers from among 1700 prisoners to go to Auburn prison, because Sing Sing was overcrowded, not one responded and it was necessary to draft the required number. The fact is explained by saying that the new order of things at Sing Sing is pleasing to the men. Another illustration comes from the New Jersey State Prison. An old man who had refused to accept a parole a year and a half ago because he declared himself innocent, and would not go out without a free pardon, was granted it recently, but refused to go for some days because the deputy of the wash house was short of help, and only when the necessary help was provided did he go forth, feeling out of place and home sick. Commenting further on the change that has come about in prisons where humanity first has replaced safety first the Boston Globe says:—

'At Jackson, Mich. the men are making their plans and are preparing to construct for themselves a dormitory, which sounds as attractive as those given to educational institutions by beneficent alumni. They will have apartments for four and six men each, with shower baths, and with their window screens instead of bars between the men and outdoors and liberty. Long term prisoners work on the farm. Others handle the business administration of the prison and its industries, with a profit of thousands of dollars annually to the State. The prison receives daily more newspapers than the Boston Public Library receives and the papers are not censored. When the men leave Jackson on parole at the end of sentences they succeed because they are not handicapped and have learned more than self control while in prison.'

A Straight Goods Talk.

The whole world searches daily for the man who can deliver without extra embellishments, the Straight Goods—whether it be in the shape of an accurate story, a job honestly performed or a service happily carried out. Who is it that can hear the account of an event, or see the actual occurrence and then tell in simple, truthful language what actually took place? Or who is it that, having been given work to do, can go ahead and do it honestly and thoroughly as though every move were watched—and done in gladness and smiles? Whoever can, has the Straight Goods, and delivers them.

Whenever you tell a thing be sure that truth and fact alone dominate. Take pride in a reputation for accurate reporting—handing over the Straight Goods. It is the strongest and most lasting policy. Private life lacks it. Business craves it. Every activity awaits it with open arms. Be known as a dealer in Straight Goods.

The London Daily Mail has been carrying on a movement to secure contributions of tobacco for soldiers at the front. With each package sent will be a post card addressed to the donor to be used as an acknowledgment. Dr. Cowie has been looking after the matter here and has secured 100 names of Wolfville people who are glad to assist. The contributions will be sent to members of the first contingent, who for months have been bravely fighting our battles at the front.

The Best Medicine for Little Ones.

Thousands of mothers say Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they would give their little ones. Among them is Mrs. Howard Hodgkins, St. Catharines, Ont., who says: 'I am a user of Baby's Own Tablets and think them the best medicine in the world for little ones.' Once a mother has used the Tablets she will use no other medicine because she feels the Tablets are absolutely safe and knows they never fail to banish all the simple ailments of little ones. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Work at the Wolfville Tabernacle.

The annual meeting of the Tabernacle Society was held on May 20th. The reports of the Executive Committee, Sunday School Superintendent and Treasurer clearly indicated that the year then closing had been the most prosperous in the history of the Society.

The Sunday evening services have been well attended especially during the winter months, when they have been conducted by the young men of the College Y. M. C. A. assisted by the members of the Y. W. C. A. special services conducted by S. W. Stackhouse were held for three or four weeks, in which a large number indicated a desire to accept Christ as their Saviour. Many of these meetings were seasons of refreshing. In order to conserve the interest and keep a Society modeled after the Christian Endeavor has been organized. It holds its meetings on Tuesday evening.

The Sunday School is an important part of the work at the Tabernacle. The enrolment is about seventy, average attendance about fifty. Mr. Charles Patridge is the efficient superintendent. Good literature has been provided, which finds eager readers.

The principles of Temperance and the necessity of cherishing high ideals has been constantly urged. Special attention has been given to missions, under the direction of Miss Annie E. Fitch. In this work the young people have manifested considerable interest, and are contributing monthly to that object. Returned missionaries and others have at various times addressed the school.

Mother's Day was duly observed. The 'white flower' was worn by all in honor of mother, and the claims of such upon their reverent and loving obedience earnestly enforced. A room has been fitted up for the meetings of the Girl's Club. This work is under the direction of the College Y. W. C. A. Miss Mildred Brown has taken a deep interest in his department.

The income of the year was $204.22, of which $122.00 was special donations. The expenditures, including the last $100 of the mortgage and interest, were $197.78. The Society

A Dog and a Man.

He was a dog,
But he stayed at home
And guarded the family night and day.

He was a dog
That didn't roam;
He lay on the porch or chased the stray—
The tramps, the burglar, the hen away;

For a dog's true heart for his household beat
At morning and evening, in cold and heat.

He was a dog,
He was a man,
And didn't stay
To cherish his wife and his children fair.

He was a man
And every day
His heart grew calmer, its love beats rare.

He thought of himself at the close of day,
And, cigar in his fingers, hurried away
To the club, the lodge, the store, the show.

But—he had a right to go, you know!
He was a man.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Brown's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in.

"After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORLEA BRADLEY, 254 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

When women take chances or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as—Painful menstruation, displacement, inflammation, leucorrhoea, sterility, irregularities, etc.

has been developed, the Finn has managed to keep himself free from this fatal scourge. And he owes his freedom to the wise laws which prohibit the sale of alcohol anywhere but in the towns, and these are so distant and so few that in Finland sobriety reigns supreme.

The poverty and sterility of the land is heart breaking, and yet the Finnish peasant is neat in dress and appearance, and fairly prosperous, as the returns of the savings banks show.—Sunday at Home.

A drunkard died in Oswego, N. Y., the other day. He left the following as 'his last will and testament.'

'I leave to society a ruined character, a wrecked example, and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents as much sorrow as they can, in their weak state. I leave to my brothers and sisters as much shame and mortification as I can bring on them. I leave to my wife a broken heart and a life of shame. I leave to each of my children poverty, ignorance, a low character, and the remembrance that their father filled a drunkard's grave.' Other weak men are paying the penalty of broken laws in prison cells.

Making God's Plan Our Plan.

The simple thought of a life which is to be the unfolding of a divine plan is too beautiful, too captivating, to suffer one indifferent or heedless moment. Living in this manner, every turn of your experience will be a discovery to you of God, every change a token of His fatherly counsel. Whatever obscurity, darkness, trial, suffering, falls upon you; your defeats, losses, injuries; your outward state, employment, relations; what seems hard, unaccountable, severe, or as Nature might say, vexatious—all these you will see are parts of constitutive elements in God's beautiful and good plan for you, and, as such, are to be accepted with a smile. Take your burdens and troubles, and let them, and wrongs, if come they must, and will, as your opportunities, knowing that God has guided you for greater things than these.—Horace Bushnell

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, in sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. At any drug store.

Form Good Habits.

Habits are formed like masonry. Every thought seems small, as every brick seems small. And yet I notice on the building that is going up behind my dwelling, that small bricks are, one by one being set in mortar day by day by skilful hands, the wall thickens and rises and solidifies, and the huge structure is piled up at last. Taken singly these bits of burnt clay are of no great significance, but all of them together are of tremendous significance. Now, a man's life is made up of little thoughts, any one of which is not much, but the multitude of which are like bricks in the hands of the builder. The walls of your character are going up day by day, and you are building, not only for time, but for eternity.—Exchange.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA Looking Backward.

The constant looking backward to what might have been, instead of forward to what may be, is a great weakener of self confidence. This worry for the old past, this wasted energy, for that which no power on earth can restore, ever lessens a man's faith in himself, weakens his efforts to develop himself for the future to the perfection of his possibilities. Nature, in her beautiful love and tenderness, says to the weakened and worn and weary with the struggle:

'Do in the best way you can this trifling that is under your hand at the moment; do it with a good intention; do it with the best preparation your thought suggests; bring all the light of knowledge to aid you.'

Do this and you have done your best. The past is forever closed. No worry, no struggle, no suffering, no agony of despair can change it. It is much beyond your power, as it is and a million years behind you. Take all that past with its sad hours, its wasted opportunities and grace, as so many lights in hope and confidence, and the future is yours; the past has gone back, with all its messages, its history, its records to the God who lent you the golden moments to use in obedience to His law.

The British eye-witness, in his latest report, says that it is obvious that the enemy is a few that can be overcome only by the force of overwhelming numbers of men and guns. The man behind the hammer and the shell requires much pounding by fire if he is to be crushed. The creature, once being strengthened, will smite those to be until their work is done.

Canada's Word.

O Canada! A voice calls through the mist and spume,
Across the wide, wet, salty leagues of foam
For aid. Whose voice thus penetrates our peace?
Whose? Thy Mother's, Canada, thy Mother's voice.

O Canada! A drum beats through the night and day,
Unresting, eager, strident, summoning
To arms. Whose drum thus throbs persistent?
Whose? O'd England's, O' Canada, O'd England's drum.

O Canada! A sword gleams, leaping swift to strike
At foes that press and leap to kill brave men
On guard. Whose sword thus gleams fierce death?
Whose? 'Tis Britain's, Canada, Great Britain's sword.

O Canada! A prayer beats hard at Heaven's gate,
Tearing the heart wide open to God's eye.
For righteousness. Whose prayer thus pierces Heaven?
Whose? 'Tis God's prayer, Canada, Thy Kingdom come!

O Canada! What answer make to calling voice and beating drum
To sword flash and to pleading prayer of God
For Right? What answer makes my soul?
'Mother, to thee? God, to Thy help! Quick! My sword!'

—Ralph Connor, in Princess Mary's Gift Book, the profits on the sale of which go to the Queen's Work for Women's Fund.

The Ideal Young Man.

There is no parent or parents on earth but have the desire that their children should grow up to be lady-like women and gentlemanly men.

A minister in a Canadian city asked one hundred ladies in his congregation to give him, in a few words, what, in their individual opinion, constituted an ideal young man. Here is the best answer received:

Dear ———, Replying to your request for the necessary qualifications of an ideal young man, I would say, first, he must be a Christian; second, he should be pure in mind and have high ideas; third, he should be neat, bright, it should be charitable and with a kindly spirit; fifth, his associates should be of like character; sixth, his forms and places of amusement and habits should not be such as to lead him to degradation; seventh, he should be able to make the best of what he has and not be envious of others; eighth, he should be ambitious, but not let ambition make him selfish.

'Do you believe the world is getting better or worse?'
'Better.'
'Why do you think so?'
'Our baby has cut all his teeth, and it's nearly three weeks now since we have been kept up all night with him.'

Your Pride in Your Town.

Your pride in your town is about the best kind of pride you can have. It is an unselfish pride. It is pride in your neighbors, and what they have done. For they have made the town—not only paid for the pavement and built the school house, but planted the trees and showed their faith in the place by making it their home.

But pride in your home town requires something besides pride. You ought to help it to grow and to improve. You ought to do your share by siding in movements for the town's good and by voting good men into office who will best look after its interests.

Then, and not until then, will a citizen have a real right to speak of his town with pride. It will be a town in the making of which he had a part. Not only will he be proud of the town, but the town will be proud of him.

A certain little girl was discovered by her mother engaged in a spirited encounter with a small friend who had got considerably worked in the engagement.

'Don't you know, dear,' said the mother, 'that it is very wicked to behave so?' It was Susan that put it into your head to pull Rafe's hair.

'Well, perhaps it was,' the child admitted, 'but kicking her shins was entirely my own idea.'

'Ah, indeed! What is your name?' John Smith.

'Is the lady of the house in?' inquired the posthumously agent.

'No,' replied the lady's husband, wiping his hands on the kitchen apron he wore. 'She's gone to a college meeting.'

'Then I guess you're the party I want to see. I have here a patent dish-washing machine, especially adapted to the use of men who do their own housework.'

'What sort of assistant has ye gotten G'ordie?' asked a Scotchman of his friend, 'we seldom get a glimpse of him, six days of the week he's invisible and on the seventh he's incomprehensible.'

'Brought by Smith, costume by Robertson, wig by Jones, scenery by Brighton,' muttered the man in the hat.

'What are you driving at?' asked his neighbor.

'I'm trying to discover who wrote the play.'
