THE PASSING SHOW

When Ocean Liners Dock at Quebec

Here come the people east of us, Sea weary, heavy eyed, From Belgrade on to County Cork, From Naples to the Clyde.

The doubtful ones, the cheerful ones, Brave hearts and sinking, fearful ones, Just like the best and least of us, They gather from the tide, Dear land of noble settlers' fame, May these do honor to your name!

On a day, and there are many such days this summer, when several ships stream forth their burden of new settlers for Canada, the Immigration Building is the most fascinating spot in all the wide Dominion. Here mingle under one sheltering roof, a riot of colors and babel of tongues that represent all Europe.

They mingle for a few hours, with civil and medical examination is conducted, tickets and luggage examined, and food purchased from the canteen for the train journey. Then the long trains are filled—this way for the C. P. R., that way for the C. N. R. "All aboard for Vancouver" shouts the conductor, or it may be Edmonton or Winnipeg, or anywhere in the West—the big, limitless West.

The guards rush the passengers into the coaches, the staunch old Scot muttering: "Mon, mon, this travelling on the Sabbath Day is an awful thing!" The little Russian woman mutely staggers under her heavy burden of bedding which she allows in no hands except her own. Doors are banged, whistles blown and west-bound speed the new settlers.

Quebec, the Mother city, imposing in position and noble in memory of departed voyageurs, is a fitting doorway through which the new-comer may enter the Dominion, trailing her mantle of the promontory, trailing her mantle of the promontory, trailing her mantle of the promontory.

Up the steps of the Immigration Building come the over-seas people today—women and children first and then the men. Their hand luggage is packed in long corridors with numbered sections, and then, seated on benches they await their turn with the officers of the Canadian government, whose duty it is either to allow or reject them as Canadian citizens.

In the case of ships from Scotland the medical examination goes quickly, and listen, the Scotch ladies are singing as they wait. The banding responds to the chorus: "Oh, ye'll tak the highroad and I'll tak the low."

But I and my true love will never meet again, On the bonnie, bonnie banks of Loch Lomond.

ACADIAN CONGRESS AT GRAND PRE

Large Numbers of Acadian Descendants Visited Historic Site Yesterday

The gathering of the Acadians of the Maritime Provinces at Grand Pre yesterday was a most interesting event. Following the severe storm of the previous day the sun shone brightly and nature was at her best.

At 8 p. m. the special train arrived from Moncton bringing about five hundred visitors from New Brunswick and distant points, and the number was considerably augmented by those who arrived later by the Halifax express. Rev. A. D. Cormier, of Moncton, who has been untiring in the promotion of the Acadian Memorial at Grand Pre, had charge of the proceedings and was very largely responsible for the successful manner in which all the details were carried out.

The formal exercises were delayed awaiting the special train which arrived at 11 a. m. from Yarmouth with excursionists from Clare and other sections of western Nova Scotia. The exercises began with high mass conducted at the Memorial church in front of which, occupying seats which were provided, was assembled a company of worshippers comprising probably a thousand persons.

At 2 p. m. in the Memorial Chapel was unveiled the Statue of the Madonna, donated by the Society of L'Assomption. The statue is a beautiful work of Italian craftsmanship, and is an exact reproduction of Murillo's Madonna, standing over seven feet in height on a pedestal of five feet. Addresses were given by Hon. Dr. V. Landry, chairman, who spoke in both French and English; Rev. A. D. Cormier, promoter of the Memorial; Rev. Emile Bourneuf, Middle West Pubnico; Rev. A. Bondreau, Petit de Grat, C. B.; J. P. Chanson, resident Assomption Society; D. T. Robichaud; W. G. Parsons, Mayor of Middleton; Rev. Albert LeBlanc, Andre J. Donat, M. P., and Alfred N. Roy. The band of L'Assomption Society was present and rendered a number of selections.

At 5.30 the party entrained and proceeded to "Gaspereau's mouth" where formal possession was taken of a tract of land donated by the C. P. R. and including what is claimed to be the actual scene of the embarkation of the Acadians on that September day in the long ago. Here an eloquent address was given by Hon. J. Veniot, premier of New Brunswick, a descendant of the ill-fated people. Hon. Mr. Veniot spoke briefly in French but mostly in English, his address being in keeping with the occasion.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR PASTORS

The Acadia Summer School for Pastors opened here yesterday and will continue until next Tuesday. The teaching and lecturing staff is composed entirely of Acadia professors and a large number of pastors are taking advantage of the course. The five morning sessions are devoted to class-room work on the following subjects: "A Scientific Curriculum of Religious Education," by Dr. W. N. Hutchins; "Scientific Ideas of Today," by Dr. F. E. Wheelock; "Contemporary Types of Religion," by Dr. Simon Spidle. The afternoons will be devoted to recreation.

Last evening a reception was given to the members of the school by the Social and Benevolent Society of the Baptist church. Tonight Dr. J. H. MacDonald will give an address in the church on "The Preacher's Use of Current Literature." On the other three evenings the following addresses will be given: "The Preacher's Use of the Bible," by Dr. H. T. DeWolfe; "The Preacher's Use of Testimony," by Prof. Norman Rogers; and "The Preacher's Use of Sociology," by Prof. A. B. Balcom.

The sermon on Sunday morning will be delivered by Rev. A. N. Marshall, D. D., of Ottawa, and in the evening by Rev. F. L. Orchard, B. D., of Amherst.

AMERICANS IN CANADA

It is estimated that there are approximately one million people in Canada who were born in the United States, or about twelve per cent. of the Dominion population. Most of these are to be found on farms in the Western provinces. Nearly one hundred million acres of Western Canadian land has been settled by United States farmers, and the citizens of the United States have accounted for thirty per cent. of such settlement as against twenty per cent. on the part of British. In addition, United States citizens are each year the heaviest purchasers of privately held and improved lands and farms.

Count Zarechivskumny is getting to be a famous author. Anyone would pick him for a man of letters.

Main Building to be erected by Acadia University. A building of which Wolfville may be proud and in which EVERY CITIZEN OF WOLFVILLE SHOULD HAVE A SHARE.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. GEO. MINER

The death of Mrs. Goerge Miner, of Walbrook, occurred very suddenly on Tuesday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Sexton, Falmouth, where she had gone to spend the day. While conversing with her sister she suddenly collapsed and passed away before help could reach her. Death was due to heart failure. She had been seriously ill for some time but of late had seemed in excellent health and her death was a severe shock to her family.

Mrs. Miner was born on Nov. 30, 1858, and before her marriage was Miss Adeline Curry, daughter of the late Nathaniel Curry, of Falmouth. Beside her husband she is survived by ten children, George, Elmo, Brett and Avon, at home; Daniel, in British Columbia; Leah (Mrs. Peter Smith), in Ontario; Lena (Mrs. Peter Martin), in British Columbia; Frank (Mrs. A. B. Cox), Vancouver, B. C.; and two sisters, Joseph, Archie and Mrs. Sexton, Falmouth, and Mrs. Wm. Anderson, Melancon.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from her late residence at Walbrook, the service being conducted by Rev. G. D. Hudson, of Canard, assisted by Rev. John Hardy. A large number of friends were present to pay their last respects to the departed and the funeral services were very beautiful. The choir of the Gaspereau church furnished the music, the hymns sung being, "O God our help in ages past," "Jesus Lover of my soul," and "Rock of Ages." The interment was at the cemetery at Gaspereau.

BOSTON SYMPHONY ENSEMBLE

At Wolfville September 21, 1923

Of the prominent members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the players which director Augusto Vannini included in his Boston Symphony Ensemble, are the most noteworthy. We will hear such well-known artists as Georges Mager, the first solo trumpet player of the famous Boston Symphony. It will be recalled that Monsieur Mager toured the country a few years ago as soloist with the famous French Military Band. Mr. Wendler, the French Horn player, is ranked as one of the leading artists on his instrument. Mr. DeVoto, the pianist, is well-known as the head of the piano department of the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. Langsdon, the cellist of the Boston Symphony, and who comes from the Hague, Holland, has concertized with the greatest success all over Europe. And so with all the players of this wonderful Boston Symphony; they have been chosen not only for their brilliant artistry, but for their musicianship and experience, as well.

We all know that an orchestra of this kind is not merely made up of artists, but that in order to acquire a perfect ensemble, continuous association, playing and concertizing together is necessary. Indeed, here lies the strength of this organization.

For the Wolfville concert on Sept. 21, numbers will be chosen from the selections of the Pop season as well as masterpieces from the Symphonies. Watch for Posters and Prices.

WEST END DEFEATS EAST

In First Game of Play-off Series for The Acadian Trophy

The first game between the West End, winners of the first series of the Town Baseball League, and the East End, winners of the second series, was played on Wednesday afternoon and resulted in a win for the West End by the score of 9 to 4. It was a poor day for playing as the wind was very strong on the campus, and very few turned out to see the game. Referee Carl Angus handled the game in his usual very capable manner.

For the first few innings the playing was very close. The East scored a run in the first innings but the West tied the score in the second. In the third the West took a lead of two runs but in the fourth the East again tied the score. The East Enders then went to pieces and allowed the West to score six runs in the next two innings, while they were able to score only one. The teams were as follows:

West End.—C. Munro, c.; D. Munro, p.; West, 2b; Eagles, 1b; Russell, cf.; Burgess, 3b; Spencer, rf; Patriquin, ss; Morine, lf.

East End.—Cohen, 2b; Ritchie, p.; Williams, 3b; Dick, ss; Hansford, lf; Johnson, 1b; Boates, cf; Kenzie, c.; Grant, rf.

The second game will probably be played next week when the East End will do their best to turn the tables on their opponents, and if they do the third and deciding game should prove most interesting.

WOLFVILLE BOY MAKING GOOD

The following taken from "Church Work" refers to a former Wolfville boy, whose many friends here are glad to hear of his success.

The Rev. Clarence R. Quinn formerly of the Parish of Westmoreland, N. S., and lately of Trinity Parish, Y. d. d. Diocese of Albany, has been preferred to the parish of "Christ", Hudson and entered upon his work August 1st. During his incumbency at Whitehall the church has been restored and a rectory and parish house built. In the town and district Mr. Quinn took a very active part in all public movements and will be much missed. He leaves the parish excellently organized and free of debt.

Hudson, a beautiful and historic city of over 14000 population is situated on the Hudson River between Albany and New York. Christ Parish is one of the oldest and strongest in the diocese of Albany.

Moir's Biscuits are so light and flaky, so crisp and delicious, they coax the appetite without exhausting it.

AUTOISTS COURT DEATH ON LEVEL CROSSING

Lawrencetown, Annapolis Co., Aug. 18—On Friday an engine from Kentville was speeding down the track about noon hour as the train from Halifax was due. When a motor party driving along the highway, apparently not realizing their danger attempted to cross the track and avoided being struck broadside by the engine by a very narrow margin. This shows the great need of a signal bell or some other safety appliance for the upper crossing, which is very dangerous, as cars from either direction are unable to get a clear view of the track and approaching trains.

Healthy people are usually the happiest and happy people usually healthy. The moral is significant.

Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER

Aside from the limited number of single track minds found in every community, the people generally appreciate and accord liberal support to the local newspaper—that very intimate medium through which is mirrored each week the collective community activities.

Your home newspaper bridges the gap; its chronicles of local news and views complete a circuit of information impossible to attain through any other medium of human locomotion or mechanical device.

It is a human institution, and therefore is imperfect; but the courageous and sincere newspaper unalterably stands four square for what it believes to be the ultimate good of its own district and province and country.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

With the re-opening of the public schools which in the country districts takes place next week and in the towns the week following, activity along the line of what is unquestionably our most important institution will be in progress.

CURFEW NEEDED AT WOLFVILLE

The adoption of the curfew in Wolfville would, we sincerely believe, tend to the moral welfare of the youth of this community, assuming, of course, that such a regulation was properly enforced.

That the public streets of any community are an unsafe place for boys and girls after nightfall will be readily admitted by thinking people and the moral upbringing of the young is the most serious problem at the present time which any community has to face.

BUSINESS GOES WHERE IT IS WELL TREATED

As has been previously and often stated in the columns of THE ACADIAN, the business man who sends away from his home town for his printing cannot consistently complain if the buying public follow his example and send elsewhere for their supplies.

CO-OPERATION

On every side Nature flaunts this lesson in man's face. The seed itself is nothing. Sun, soil and moisture must co-operate with the latent germ in order to produce plant life.

The strongest man is weak alone. Only by working with others or winning others to work with him can he achieve worthwhile results.

The biggest business is bound for failure if its workers do not co-operate. It is a machine whose parts do not work together. It may run for a while on its own momentum, but it is headed for the dump-heap.

To co-operate is to join forces and something more. It is to join hearts as well as hands, and slip a little soul in the bargain.

Not to co-operate is to court loneliness, life-rust and loss. The A. B. C. of success is this—Be a Bee!

LESSONS IN ETIQUETTE

(By Miss Vera Dence) A real gentleman is always helpful and considerate to the weaker sex. When in the home of his best beloved, and his future mother-in-law, perchance, does have a coughing fit at the dinner table, he should quietly arise, and with a manner full of respect and consideration, bend her on the back with his fist until her cough is relieved.

PRACTICAL POINTERS

The mark caused by scorching a garment while ironing can be removed by plunging it in cold water and leaving it until the next day.

Everyone knows how difficult it is to drive a nail into a wall without cracking the plaster. The next time you try it dip the nail in hot water and you will have no trouble.

To keep one-piece dresses from sagging when hung up to dry, pin at the centre of the front hem and at the centre of the back hem.

Gather bay-berries in summer and put them in a bag, not too tight, for winter use. Such a bag is good for cleaning irons if they are rough.

Formation of cream of tartar crystals in grape jelly can be prevented by following this method. To each quart of jelly add, when jelly is done and ready to pour, one teaspoonful of soda and stir while cooling until foam settles. Then pour in glasses and when cold cover with paraffin. It will keep indefinitely.—The Pathfinder.

GOLF DEFINED

An eminent public man, who devotes a part of his time to golf on the links of a country club near Washington, was once asked to explain the game.

CANARD

Miss Pauline Eaton, Boston, is the guest for two weeks of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. H. Eaton, Canard. Captain Fumeaux and Miss Fumeaux are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dickie accompanied by Mr. Fred Dickie and Miss Mary Dickie, returned on Monday from a delightful motor trip to Digby and Barton where they were guests of Dr. Walter R. Dickie and Mrs. Dickie.

RECITAL AT CANARD

The auditorium of the First Cornwallis Baptist church, Upper Canard, was crowded to its utmost capacity on Sunday evening, when Mr. R. Arthur Harris, B. A., A. A. G. O., organist and choir master of the Church of the Redeemer, Astoria, New York, gave a recital.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS?

A crack in your chimney is a sure sign that you are going to move. If you dream of smelling smoke it is a sign you are asleep and had better wake up.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

To learn to think and act for yourself. To waste nothing neither money, time nor talent.

If you have a place of business, to be found there when wanted. To spare when you are young that you may learn to be patient.

To do all the good you can in the world, and make as little noise about it as possible.

Don't permit anyone to criticize your husband, and, above all, don't do it yourself even to an intimate friend.

Fortune does not change men it unmasks them.—Necker. Have thy tools ready—God will find thee work.—Kingsley.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY Bible thoughts remembered will prove a permanent heritage to other years.

AUGUST 24 THE GOODNESS OF GOD:—Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.—Psalm 145:16

AUGUST 25 CURSING OR BLESSING?—Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

AUGUST 26 CHOOSE YE:—Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.—Romans 12:9.

AUGUST 27 THE JOYFUL REWARD:—Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.—Matthew 25:23.

AUGUST 28 THE BEST GIFT:—Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.—Acts 3:6.

AUGUST 29 GET UNDERSTANDING:—A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not; but knowledge is easy unto him that understandeth.—Proverbs 14:6.

AUGUST 30 THE PRECIOUS JEWEL:—There is gold, and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.—Proverbs 20:15.

MARK TWAIN'S WITTY NOTICE TO BURGLARS Stormfield the home of Mark Twain in Reading, Connecticut, was burned recently.

Once burglars broke into Stormfield, but were frightened away before they could steal anything, and one of them was later caught and sent to prison.

To the Next Burglar. There is only plated ware in this house now and henceforth.

You will find it in that brass thing in the dining-room over the in-urner by the basket of kittens.

If you want the basket, put the kittens in the brass thing. Do not make a noise—it disturbs the family.

You will find rubbers in the front hall by that thing which has the umbrellas in it—chiffonier I think they call it, or pergoles, or something like that.

Please close the door when you go away. Very truly yours, S. L. CLEMENS

TO RENEW OILCLOTH When oilcloth has been down for a few months and is losing the shiny surface it can be renewed easily and made to last twice as long if treated in the following way: Melt a little ordinary glue in a pint of water, letting it stand on the top of the oven till well dissolved.

Wash the oilcloth thoroughly and let it dry. Then at night when the traffic of the day is over go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in the glue water. Choose a fine day for it, and by morning the glue will be hard and will have put a fine gloss as good as new on your floor.

Some folks will do most anything for money. Why, some women will even go to the extreme of marrying men for money. Keep Minard's Liniment in the house.

DISCOVERY OF LAKE HURON

Q-Who discovered Lake Huron and when?
A-In 1615 Father Le Caron, a Recollet priest, while on a mission to start a mission in the Huron Country, was the first white man to see Lake Huron which he called "mer Douce des Hurons". Sweet or Fresh water Sea of the Hurons.

TO MARKET APPLES IN SMALL PACKAGES

(From The New York Times)
The shipment of apples in small containers direct from the growers to the consumers is one of the proposals that will be considered by the producers at the Eastern Apple Exposition and Fruit Show, to be held in New York next November, according to Herschel H. Jones, Secretary of the committee arranging the details of the Apple Show. The small consumer heretofore has been eliminated in the plan of distribution because apples were shipped in barrels or boxes which were too large for the needs of the average consumer.

Another difficulty encountered by the Eastern apple growers in marketing their fruit in competition with the highly standardized packing system of the West, has been poor methods of packing, according to B. D. Van Buren, head of the apple grading inspection work of the New York State Department of Farms and Markets. In a statement issued through Mr. Jones Mr. Van Buren says in part:

"Apple growers in the East, as a whole, have not packed well enough for the best trade among the discriminating consumers. Consumers in all the Eastern cities are waiting and longing for the opportunity to buy a package of Eastern apples packed and graded as carefully as the Northwestern box apples. If the growers in the East will grow and pack in such a way as to meet the demand that is already here, this demand will increase to an almost unbelievable extent. In the coming Apple Exposition special attention will be given to smaller packages than barrels, and it is hoped that a practical package of less than a bushel contents will be shown that will meet the approval of growers, consumers, retailers and dealers. There is a chance that the Eastern fruit growers may develop a small unbroken package that can go direct from the packer to the consumer which will prove more popular in the future than the Western bushel box has ever been. Mr. Van Buren believes that dealers in Eastern apples and commission receivers should all co-operate with the growers in making the Apple Exposition a success. Eastern apples can be grown and supplied to the Eastern consumers more economically than the apples from any other section. It is up to the Eastern grower to organize his business so that he can supply a larger part of the demand for apples in the Eastern markets."

The little ball lay on the Green The Golfer took a club, He tried a stroke and missed it clean, And someone said "You Dub".

The little ball may still be there, We will not vouch for that, But the Gofer broke up all his clubs And jumped upon his hat.

Moral: Stick to Checkers.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

The child's brain is susceptible of the highest development, but it should be developed along the line of its inclinations and for practical purposes. If ever there was a time when sanity in education was needed, now is the time. Our schools and colleges are educating the youth of this land away from the natural tendencies and from the human instincts of well developed boys and girls.

The education of today seems to destroy initiative, self-reliance, courage, and a desire for self-support. The educational system of today has apparently destroyed the desire on the part of children to be contributing members of society. They seem to think that the state owes them something because it gives them a free education. There are very few boys learning to be master mechanics. The majority are trying to find an elevator by which they can ride to the top story of Success. Success was never reached by an elevator. The mountain peak of Success can be reached only by climbing over the rocks and by enduring the hardships, dangers, and difficulties.

If the manufacturing plants of this country had to depend upon the American master mechanics, the factories of the land would have to close. The majority of the master mechanics controlling the factories today have been trained in foreign schools. There are very few apprentices. We have permitted the tyrannical labor unions of the country to destroy the school of apprentices. The idea of organizations or institutions arbitrarily saying how many apprentices they will permit to be trained! Such a tyrannical suggestion from an organization should not be permitted. Such a doctrine is a damnable curse to the manufacturing plants of this land. Men of brains and money should spend their time and money and their energy in founding, erecting, and directing technological schools for the training of boys and girls in the great mechanical trades of life. There should be a great technological school in every city of this land, and our boys should be encouraged to learn trades, to master trades, and to become masters in their trades. We have too many counter hoppers, too many clerks, too many nonentities, and too few technically trained mechanics coming from the public schools of our country.

They Had No Banks

In pioneer days the general merchant often kept the money of his customers for them - there were no banks. Buying and selling were largely by barter only.

The coming of the branch bank filled an important need in every community, and to-day the wise farmer, business man or private individual keeps his money in the bank and makes full use of the many services it has to offer.

Mrs. L. H. Moore has sold her residence at the corner of Acadia street and Highland avenue to Dr. D. U. Hill, who will take possession the middle of September.

Mr. Eben Lang, of Hortonville, has sold his farm at that place to Mr. Leslie Wiltshire, of Windsor, who will take possession the coming fall. Mr. Lang is negotiating for a farm further up the Valley.

The gales on Tuesday night caused considerable havoc among the apple orchards, blowing off a large quantity of half-grown fruit. The damage, in consequence, to the early fruit will be considerable, while the thinning out incurred should improve the quality of the late varieties.

The town manager with a staff of men visited the source of water supply last week and gave the reservoir at the dam a very thorough and complete cleaning. This is a work that has been neglected for some time and the system will be much improved by the attention which it has received.

There are two qualities in tea which appeal to the average consumer. One is the flavor, and the other the number of cups it makes to the pound. MORSE'S TEA possesses both of these qualities—it has the flavor which people like, and from a single pound package you can make 140 cups of good tea.

About five o'clock on Sunday afternoon the fire alarm was sounded in consequence of a blaze in the garage of the Royal Hotel. The firemen promptly responded and soon had the fire, which had made considerable progress when discovered, under control. The building was saved in a badly damaged condition. It is supposed that the fire was caused by boys who had access to the building and it apparently originated in the second story.

The new "Capitol" theatre at Kentville was opened on Monday evening when two full houses witnessed a fine program of pictures. Among those present were a goodly number from Wolfville, who were greatly pleased with the improvements made and the fine appearance generally presented. The announcement which appears in this issue of pictures being shown during the coming week will be of interest to our readers and a careful perusal is invited.

Mr. B. I. Fry accompanied Miss Hazel Corker of the "Canadian Opportunities and Tourist Guide" to Hantsport on Thursday of last week, and reported on his return that the Mayor and Town Councilors gave her a most cordial reception, and that Mayor Murray called a special meeting of the Council at once when, after giving her proposition their due consideration, they accepted it as of direct benefit to the future prosperity of Hantsport. Mr. Fry also stated that on introducing Miss Corker to the business men and manufacturers of the town they likewise gave their support with a request for advertising rates, as it is their belief that the proper method to get business is "to go after it."

LET EVERYBODY HELP

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN.
Sir:—Your editorial on "Road Makers" in your issue of August 17th was read by the writer with a great deal of interest, and you are to be heartily commended on bringing this matter before your readers. How much would be saved in expenditures on maintenance of our roads if your suggestions were really carried out by property owners and highway users? Perhaps 30 per cent in some cases, perhaps 50 per cent in others. Your article could very well be reproduced in the leading journals of the country.

Would it be too much to ask that your suggestions be followed out a little more in our own town? With limited appropriations, those responsible for keeping up and improving the town property can hardly do more than a small part of the work which urgently calls to be done on all sides. There are little things that each citizen can do. Wolfville is on the main thoroughfare through the province, and of course any pleasing features will boost the province and town. Putting a little earth here, opening out a water-course there, cutting weeds and grass from sidewalks, removing waste paper etc., would help wonderfully in preventing damage to our streets as well as greatly improving appearances.

The ladies of the Club are co-operating and a tea will be served on the grounds on the above date. It is to be hoped that all Club members as well as others interested will avail themselves of this opportunity to participate in this interesting form of sport. Admission is free and a general invitation is extended. A dance at the Club House is being arranged for, notice of which will appear later.

A MOST SUCCESSFUL SALE

That a bona fide sale may be put on at any time and under any circumstances with satisfactory results has been fully demonstrated in this town during the past week. Last week Mr. G. D. Jefferson's boot and shoe establishment staged a sale under the management of the Phillips Sale Co. which has proved far in excess of all expectations. The sale was preceded by an efficient advertising campaign in which newspaper space and posters were freely used.

On Friday morning when the doors were opened after being closed for some time while the stock was tagged and arranged, a throng of buyers besieged the store and the sale has continued since with unabated interest. Patrons have found the goods and prices as represented, which, after all, is the secret of successful business. It was Mr. Jefferson's object to reduce his too heavy stock, comprising all kinds of footwear of the best quality, in order to make contemplated changes in his store, and in this he has been most successful. On Saturday evening the large number of salespeople employed were kept busy waiting on customers and all through the sale things have been kept humming.

Reference to our advertising columns will show that the sale will continue until the end of this week, and that attractive bargains will be offered in many lines. This event affords a rare opportunity for securing good footwear at unusually reasonable prices.

The Boy Scouts returned from Sunken Lake on Monday and report a most enjoyable camp. Yesterday morning Scout Master Brown left with the boys on their annual trip to Chester. The patrol to win the trip this year are the No. 2 Baptist. Mr. Henry Watson, of Hortonville, also accompanied the party. They expect to return a week from tomorrow.

---Now that fresh fruits are here
Why not make the most delicious Jams and Jellies you ever tasted?

More customers every day are adopting the sure, economical, Certo method of making Jams and Jellies.

It means delicious quality, never possible the old way, and your Jams and Jellies keep perfectly.

Why boil away your fruit or risk the loss of valuable fruit and sugar by following old-fashioned methods, when the Certo method never fails? The Certo way takes a little more sugar, but the sugar does not boil away, and you get at least 50% more Jam or Jelly from same amount of fruit and your Jams or Jellies will cost less.

We supply with every bottle of Certo, a book of recipes. Everything is clearly explained—you cannot go wrong.

We heartily recommend Certo—a pure fruit product; contains no gelatine or preservative.

LAST SUNDAY'S SERVICES

Canning was fortunate indeed in having the opportunity of listening on Sabbath morning to Rev. W. J. Wright, of Grace Methodist Church, Parrsboro, who occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church and whose sermon was very thoughtful and helpful; and in having in Christ Church in the afternoon, Rev. L. J. Donaldson, Rector, of Trinity church, Halifax, whose forceful sermon was listened to by a large congregation. Dr. Patterson, of Acadia, occupied the pulpit of United Baptist church at the evening service, which was a very beautiful one. The danger of becoming satisfied with physical values rather than spiritual was forcibly brought before the congregation. A man's worth is very often measured in terms of dollars. A man cannot be measured in this manner. In family life too often the standard is material rather than spiritual and also in education and even in the church we find this but the true essence of value is always the spiritual worth. Rev. H. T. Wright presided at the service, the Benediction being pronounced by Rev. G. A. Logan, of Upper Canard Presbyterian church. We hope to have an opportunity very soon again of listening to the President of Acadia.

MARRIED AT YARMOUTH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bain, Hebron, Yarmouth county, was the scene of an interesting event on Thursday, August 16 at 9.30 p. m. when their daughter, Nellie Crosby Bain, was united in marriage to Mr. Roland Coffin Spicer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spicer, of Canning. Rev. Mr. McLuckie officiating. The house was attractively decorated for the occasion with plants and cut flowers. The bride, who was charming in a gown of blue with hat of peach color, was attended by her niece, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bain, who made a charming flower girl. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bain and on Saturday amid the good wishes of a host of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Spicer left for Dorchester, Mass., where they will reside. Previous to their departure for Hebron a shower was given in honor of the bride and groom elect by their friends in Canning.

AUSTRIAN DRY CONGRESS MEETS IN VIENNA

Probably the biggest accession to Austrian prohibition ranks is the recent declaration of the National Socialist Labor Party for prohibition. The party organ, "Der Deutsche Arbeiterpresse", comes out openly for prohibition and invites a free discussion of the alcohol problem in its columns. The members of the party under the leadership of Dr. Walther Rühl are total abstainers and prohibitionists. They favor introducing a bill for prohibition in the national parliament as soon as they get into power. In the election next fall, when a new House of Representatives is to be chosen, prohibition will be one of the prominent questions in the party platform. Richard Soyka, representative of the Prohibition Foundation among the students of Austria, has been addressing a large number of college and general public audiences and circulating large quantities of temperance literature. His work has even extended to the army where he was recently invited to deliver an address on America's prohibition before the training school for soldiers. He reports overflow meetings as evidence that interest among the students is growing rapidly.—Forward.

KEEPING FOOD WITHOUT ICE

Keeping food without ice has been overcome to a large extent by the home-made iceless cooler. This convenience may be made by anyone who has a saw and hammer. The iceless cooler is a screened frame work of open shelves, having a solid base, a solid wooden top, a screen door with a curtain constantly kept moist by means of a pan containing water, set upon the top of the cooler with wide wicks of material which serve as carriers of the water from the pan to the curtain. The size practical for a small family measures 42 inches high, 14 inches wide and 16 inches deep. A large cooler may be made 48 inches high, 16 inches wide and 18 inches deep. There are two methods used in building the box part: (1) by taking a grocery or merchandise box and cutting out large openings on all four sides, leaving enough at the corners to make the framework strong; (2) building the framework of 1x2 inch material and fastening to a solidly built wooden top and bottom. After the frame work or box has been made, cover three sides with galvanized screen and make a screen door for the front. The shelves should be movable and made of slats so as to allow the air to circulate in the cooler. Curtains for the box may be made of either used or new material, cotton flannel, outing flannel, cotton or woollen blanket material or burlap. Make the curtain in two parts, one to fit the door, leaving the rest sufficiently large to cover the remaining three sides of the cooler. Hang the curtain with loops, upon screw eyes around the top of the cooler. When ready for use, place a pan of water on top of the cooler and put a number of wide wicks made of cast-off woollen socks, split open, or pieces of woollen blanket in the water. These should feed the water from the pan to the curtain. A pan to catch the drips may be placed under the cooler. The coolness of the iceless cooler depends upon the evaporation as the water flows down through the curtain. Evaporation takes place and heat is drawn from inside the box. If parents only knew as much as they think their children do, there would be a whole lot of highly educated people in this old world. When planting vegetables 10 ins. apart it takes 62,726 plants for an acre of ground.

AMID THE APPLE BLOSSOMS

The Barrie (Ont.) Examiner Gives Account of Weekly Newspaper-men's Trip Through Annapolis Valley

It was felt by the good people of the Annapolis Valley that an adequate impression of that famous fruit district could not be secured from train windows, so when the special arrived at Kentville the station yard was filled with automobiles manned by members of the Kentville and Wolfville Boards of Trade, ready to convey the travellers to Grand Pre. A brass band sounded a welcome and Mr. Harris, editor of the Advertiser, with his wife and daughters, was soon busy greeting many old friends in the party.

Kentville is a thriving town of about 3000, is the centre of the big apple shipping, is a railroad-centre, has several other industries, many fine residences and all the appearance of a most desirable place to live.

A few minutes after arrival the scribes started on a drive which will linger long in the memory as one of the most delightful experiences of the trip. First a visit to the experimental farm beautifully located on a hill at the edge of the town and then out into the apple country. For twenty miles we drove through an undulating country over excellent roads while on all sides were the blossoms of those orchards which have brought fame and wealth to the Annapolis Valley. A week past their prime it was said, yet a wonderful gladsome sight, even the Ontario folk used to orchards and trees. As for the men and women from the Middle West, they could not find words to express themselves. One did not need to be told that the Valley was prosperous. The writer has never seen a farming section looking more uniformly so. Fine homesteads with comfortable houses and good barns, both well painted. In a drive of twenty miles, not a poor-looking place was noticed.

Mr. Pineo, Assistant Manager of the United Apple Growers' Co-operative Co. in whose car the writer had the pleasure of riding, gave a lot of information concerning the apple industry in reply to numerous queries. From the territory between Annapolis and Windsor, the Valley shipped 1,500,000 barrels of apples last year. As soon as the apples are picked they are put in big packing houses. There are 104 of these in the Valley of which Mr. Pineo's company owns 52. The market is almost entirely in Great Britain and this district has a big advantage over Ontario in being able to put its apples on board ship for 35 cents a barrel. Last year the grower got $3.75 net for his Spies, and run of the orchard yielded about $2.00 a barrel, which is near an average. The yield per acre is about 100 barrels and the orchards vary in size from 2 to 100 acres. Land is worth from $30 to $500 an acre according to the orchard. Negroes constitute the greater part of the hired labor. Mr. Pineo said that the Valley had had three fine crops in succession and there was every indication of a bumper crop this year. With a shortage of apples in Ontario we will know where to go for this fruit. Incidentally it may be stated that the United Apple Growers of Annapolis is a splendid example of how growers can improve marketing conditions by co-operative effort.

Under date of August 16th the Bank of Montreal's crop report has the following to say concerning conditions in the Maritime Provinces: All crops making good progress. Nova Scotia a heavy hay crop is mostly harvested. Roots making good progress. Apple prospects continue favourable. Pasture is exceptionally good. Record all round crops expected. New Brunswick hay crop is somewhat short. Roots rather below average, but improving rapidly. Pasture varies greatly. Prince Edward Island general conditions satisfactory. Excellent hay crop of good quality. Roots making good progress.

In 1922 Canada produced minerals estimated to be worth $180,622,000, an increase of practically $5,000,000 over the previous year. You can make a better show before your banker if you have an inventory of the farm. Ask for Minard's and take no other.

Today very little remains of the French village, but the "old well" in the willows and the cross which marks the ancient burying ground, all serve to remind one of the days of long ago. The Dominion Atlantic Railway has transferred to the Acadian people the site of the old Roman Catholic church, upon which a chapel has been erected—designed as nearly as could be recalled after the original chapel. It was consecrated last year, and will be used as a treasure house for Acadian memorials.

Fourteen acres of land are being converted into a public park. This will be a most interesting memorial of other years. Not far from the village is the mouth of the Gasperau, where the unhappy people were embarked on their mournful voyage.

At Grand Pre we very unexpectedly ran across a former resident of Simcoe County in the person of Mrs. Oscar Chase, formerly Miss Libbie Little, daughter of the late Robt. Little, of Killisnoe. She taught school at Holly for some time. It was a pleasure to answer her many enquiries concerning old friends in this part of the country. Accompanying Mrs. Chase was her daughter, Miss Susan Chase, who was the first woman to take the degree of B. Sc. A. from Toronto University and now has a fifty acre fruit farm of her own. In Halifax, we met another daughter, Dr. Margaret Chase, who is in the pathological department of Dalhousie University. Mr. and Mrs. Chase have a fine 80-acre fruit farm and a beautiful home. Their address is R. R. No. 1, Greenwich, N. S.

SHORT SKIRTS DANGEROUS TO MEN

Swiss insurance companies have raised their rates as much as 15 per cent for the reason that short skirts, high heels and low necks increase the likelihood of women falling and hurting themselves. In this country it is the men who are made the unusual risks because of the selfsame short skirts, etc. Their necks are so badly stretched and weakened that they have little resistance to a severe fall. And while on this subject of skirts: Short skirts are hygienic, a news dispatch says. Women who wear them exercise their eyes, exercise a healthy and so short skirts are hygienic.

In the story where they get married and live happily ever afterwards the hero doesn't marry a suffering souffrette.

Mr. Pineo's company owns 52. The market is almost entirely in Great Britain and this district has a big advantage over Ontario in being able to put its apples on board ship for 35 cents a barrel. Last year the grower got $3.75 net for his Spies, and run of the orchard yielded about $2.00 a barrel, which is near an average. The yield per acre is about 100 barrels and the orchards vary in size from 2 to 100 acres. Land is worth from $30 to $500 an acre according to the orchard. Negroes constitute the greater part of the hired labor. Mr. Pineo said that the Valley had had three fine crops in succession and there was every indication of a bumper crop this year. Are you through as a manufacturer—or were you fully protected?

WHEN fire sweeps through a factory destroying material, equipment and buildings, there is always that all-important question, "was it fully insured?" No insurance or partial insurance may mean that the owner's career as a manufacturer is finished.

With this agency to plan with you—to examine your property and cover your fire risk with the sound protection sold by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company—you will have ample finances to continue business.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK THAT

Tennyson could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000? That's Genius. Some men can sign a cheque and make it worth $50,000? That's Capital. The Government can take an ounce of silver worth 50c. and make it worth one dollar? That's Money. A mechanic can take material worth $5 and make it into watch springs worth $50. That's Skill. Howard Chandler Christie can take a 50c. piece of canvass and paint a picture on it worth hundreds of dollars? That's Art. A merchant can take an article costing 75c. and sell it for $1.00? That's business. Girls can buy a hat for $2.99 but prefer one that costs $29.99? That's Vanity. The author of this jingle can write a cheque for $50,000, but it wouldn't be worth a cent? That's Tough.

IT BURNS soft coal "beautifully". That's the way, Jim, the furnace expert says it—"beautifully". And he means just that. He has one in his home and burns only soft coal. The Air-Blast Ring introduces the additional warmed air required to burn up the extra carbon (volatile carbon gases) that form as soot in an ordinary furnace. The All-Cast Sunshine was the furnace used for official tests of Western Canadian soft coal. Furnace installation—Pipe, Pipeless or Duplex Register System—all backed by our Bond of Satisfaction.

ANNAPOLIS DAY AT EXPERIMENTAL FARM

Kentville, Aug. 20—Today was Annapolis County Farmers' Day at the Nova Scotia Experimental Farm, with beautiful weather and a large attendance making the affair a memorable one.

About forty-five cars, filled with people and well laden with lunch baskets motored through the Valley and enjoyed the beautiful scenery en route, arriving at the Experimental Grounds before noon and going at once to the picnic grounds, where tables were quickly spread for luncheon.

After lunch, the different parts of the farm were visited and the testing plots examined. The ladies were especially interested in the flower plots, the green houses, the poultry and livestock and all felt that it was a most profitable visit.

Speeches were made in the afternoon the addresses being given by Dr. F. W. Patterson, president of Acadia University, Wolfville; Dr. M. Cumming, of the Agriculture College, Truro, Hon. D. A. Cameron, Provincial Secretary and Prof. W. S. Blair, superintendent of the farm. Dr. J. B. Hall, acting as chairman. All these were exceptionally good, giving information of much value.

At the close, a hearty vote of thanks to all who spoke and to Prof. Blair was moved by E. C. Shaffner and seconded by Mr. Elliott and unanimously carried.

DANCE AT EVANGELINE BEACH

The dance at Evangeline Beach last Friday evening was the most successful of the season thus far. There was a good attendance of exceedingly nice people and nothing happened to in any way mar the pleasure of the occasion. For the first time the Casino was tastefully trimmed for the dance and presented a fine appearance. Flags were displayed in various parts of the hall and the bower of evergreens which occupied the platform presented a most pleasing effect. The Middleton orchestra rendered a delightful program in their usual good style and nothing was lacking which was necessary to ensure the comfort and pleasure of those in attendance. Manager Manning is to be congratulated upon his success in procuring an evening of rare enjoyment with none of the objectionable features which too often mar the enjoyment of affairs of this kind.

JUST CHICKEN FEED

A herd of humans is much like a home garden. In the crowd you will find the common cabbage head, satisfied to take time to grow. There are the creeping cucumbers, the smelly onions, the flat turnips, the snippy parsnips, the green table varieties.

Along the fence you will find the row of sunflowers bowing and nodding in the breeze of attention, and how much like some men the sunflowers are. The sunflower cannot be happy until it tiptoes to the highest possible position. A sunflower must look down on the carrots and smile on the sweet peas. The higher the sunflower grows, the higher it wants to climb.

But when the frost comes and the sickle slashes—when the sunflower has gone to seed, what happens? It's nothing but "chicken feed".

BUSINESS ETHICS

Have clergymen less professional courtesy than men of other callings? A story that comes from the little village of Russet would seem to indicate this, says the Hoosier Independent.

A number of years ago, when there was but one church in Russet, a young man became its pastor. He was the spiritual adviser of all who lived there. When the young people were to be married, they went to him; and when death visited the home, he was called upon to render the last sad office. He was the pastor of the one church of the community and consequently these offices fell to him.

However, his health failed him and he accepted a lucrative position in the community. Some of the godless said that if the church had been able to pay him more, he might not have become so unhealthily, but there are always those who are ready to speak disrespectfully of the pious. He remained an influential member of the church.

Now he remembered that when he was pastor, while the collection on Sunday had been usually very meagre, the wedding fee had always been generous and that it had been the custom to remember the pastor in some tangible way at funerals. Of course he had never charged for such services—nothing could have been further from his thoughts—but the people had been usually very appreciative at such times. He remembered it. Said he: "Why not retain this part of my pastoral work? It will give me an opportunity to do religious work, while no longer actively engaged in the ministry". The more he thought of it, the more the idea appealed to him. When he heard of anyone that was sick, he called. Why shouldn't he? It was neighborly to do so. Besides, was he not still interested in the spiritual welfare of the people to whom he had formerly ministered in an official way? He attended the young people's socials and took advantage of every opportunity to remind them that he was still at the old stand when anything in the line of marrying was required. It was always done in a delightfully humorous way.

And as the years passed circumstances seemed to favor him. When his successor was called, it was only natural that in the case of weddings or funerals the man who had formerly been the pastor should be called on. The new minister was a stranger, while he was well known. He was indeed in a very real sense a big brother in the church. And under the circumstances it was not at all wonderful that his successor's pastorate was brief; that he never did become intimately acquainted with the people. He left presto. And after that the pastorate were always brief. Some said there was a reason, but those who spoke thus were unkind.

Finally a man became the pastor who had a large family. It was a struggle for him to make ends meet. Said the wife one day at the breakfast table, "John, you really ought to have a new suit of clothes. Alice says the people are making remarks about your shabby appearance." The husband sighed. "Perhaps," said he, "I can do so in another year. You know there are the children to educate." Said Alice, clapping her hands, "O Dad, there's to be a fashionable wedding next month, and you know the fee will be big. That will help, won't it?" But the fee went to the Big Brother of the church. And there was another vacancy in that parish.

It was some time before the church had a pastor again. Candidates came and preached, but somehow they decided it was not just the church they desired. Finally a young man came. He knew the circumstances. He was an intimate friend of the last pastor, and the wife had told him about the fashionable wedding that her husband did not get. Said he, on hearing about it, "If that church will have me, I'm their man!" "What!" said the wife of his friend. "You watch!" said he.

Rev. George Shaw became the pastor of the Trine Memorial church of Russet a year ago. In speaking about it to a correspondent of the Independent, he said: "There was only one thing that attracted me to the pastorate. You know I played right tackle on the Varsity football team. I love a real game, and I'm having it here. I could tell you some funny things. When I started in, the Big Brother became righteously indignant. To think of any one hinting that he was mercenary! Why he was so popular that he simply couldn't refuse to marry people and to preach their funeral sermons. He did refuse at first but the people would not hear of it. Since that time he has decided never again to refuse a good thing when he saw it. In fact many of the people of the community had already asked him to officiate at their funeral when they died. Would he have him disappoint them?"

"What did you do?" asked the correspondent.

"It's a long story," came the reply. "But what finally got him was the address I gave before the Rotary club three months ago. We're both Rotarians. I'm the chairman of the Business methods committee and I gave a talk on Business Ethics. You should have heard it. They said it was good. Anyhow, that address is the talk of the place still. Mr.—hasn't officiated at a funeral since."

"A girl came to me the other day," continued the young minister, "and said: 'I promised Mr.—years ago that when I got married I would have him do it, but,' she said, 'do you think I would be really married by a manager of a dairy farm?' He's that now, you know. He's not a real minister any more, is he? I said 'Do you think you would be?' 'No!' said she. 'I don't.' 'Well, I said, 'I wouldn't want to be married by a dairy farm manager myself!'"

"They told me," he continued, "that if I got the enemy of Mr.— I might as well resign. But they haven't asked me to resign yet. On the contrary, they voted to increase my salary, but I told them that that was not necessary now; I would have more spending money than my predecessor had had!"

WHEN AND WHERE TO FLY A FLAG

Some Rules Which Govern The Flying of Our National Emblem

(War Department Bulletin) Many inquiries concerning the proper method of displaying, hanging, and saluting the flag are being received in the War Department with the evident object of securing some authoritative statement relating to the subject. In this connection it should be remarked that while it is within the province of the War Department to prescribe rules and regulations governing the matter in question for observance within the Army, yet it is beyond its province to prescribe any such rules or regulations for the guidance of civilians or to undertake to decide questions concerning the subjects that are presented by civilians.

There are, however, certain fundamental rules of heraldry which, if understood generally, would indicate the proper method of displaying the flag. There are also certain rules of good taste which, if observed, would preclude the improper use of the flag. The matter becomes a very simple one and the answers to the various questions which arise will be evident if it is kept in mind that the national flag represents the living country and is itself considered as a living thing. The staff edge of the flag is the heraldic dexter or right edge. When the nation's flag is carried, as in a procession, with another flag or flags, the place of the national flag is on right i. e., the flag's own right. When the national flag and another flag are displayed together, as against a wall from crossed staffs, the national flag should be on the right, the flag's own right, i. e., the observer's left, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag. When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staff the national flag should be in the center or at the highest point of the group. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of any other nation in time of peace. When the flags of two or more nations are to be displayed, they should be flown from separate staff, or from separate halyards, of equal size and on the same level.

It should not be festooned over doorways or arches nor tied in bowknot nor fashioned into a rosette. When used on a rostrum it should be displayed above and behind the speaker's desk. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor to drape over the front of the platform. For this latter purpose as well as for decoration in general, bunting of the national colors should be used.

Under no circumstances should the flag be draped over chairs or benches, nor should any object or emblem of any kind be placed above or upon it, nor should it be hung where it can easily be contaminated or soiled. No lettering of any kind should ever be placed upon the flag. It should not be used as a portion of a woman's costume or a man's athletic clothing. A very common misuse of the flag is the practice of embroidering the flag on cushions and handkerchiefs, and the printing of the flag on paper napkins. These practices, while not strictly a violation of any present Federal law are certainly lacking in respect and dignity and cannot be considered as evidence of good taste. The war department sees no objection to flying the flag at night on civilian property, provided it is not so flown for advertising purposes. When flown at half mast the flag is always first hoisted to the peak, the honor point, and then slowly lowered to the half-staff position in honor of those who gave their lives to their country, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the head of the staff, for the Nation lives and the flag is the living symbol of the Nation.

When flags are used in connection with the unveiling of a statue or monument they should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony. The flag should be flown on all national holidays but can be flown upon any patriotic occasion, a town celebration.

WHY NOT TO CANADA?

Differences of opinion there naturally will be over many Canadian problems but there hardly is room for two views on the question of Canada's need of population. A Montreal Star representative, who has been investigating conditions at Ellis Island, the immigration headquarters at the entrance to New York harbor, points out that before the end of November 77,342 British subjects will have been absorbed into the United States, the great majority to become American citizens. The Star says: "If the casual reader will pause for a moment to think what that means, he will see that it means only this: By the end of November, seventy-seven thousand odd people, born in the British Isles, will have been lost to the British Empire as citizens. Seventy-seven thousand odd people, with British traditions, British basic qualities, British ideas and ideals will have been absorbed by another nation. Canada will have lost the opportunity of securing any one of those seventy-seven odd thousand potential Canadian citizens. So, for that matter, will Australia and South Africa." Why so many go to the States, why so few come to Canada, is a problem demanding serious and thoughtful consideration by Canadian public men. The opportunities of life in Canada are so many, so varied, so alluring, that it should be possible to win for Canada a very considerable percentage of those who annually come across the ocean to make their homes in the neighboring republic. That "this country upholds British traditions, is administered under the principles of British justice, holds the British ideals of freedom and offers an equal chance to every man and woman who has the courage to take hold with both hands," should make it easy to secure for Canada a very large proportion of the British immigration, but the tide continues to flow, to rise higher, on our neighboring shores, and the fact is a matter of apparent indifference to Canada, although every Canadian knows that population increase is the essential of growth and prosperity. Nova Scotia offers some opportunities for thousands, but settlers for it is province are rarely heard of or seen.

"SPOTS" AND "FACES" OF PLAYING CARDS ARE HISTORICAL SYMBOLS

Few people know what the figures on playing cards indicate, or how they first came to be used. Playing cards are believed to have originated in France several centuries ago, and the cards were supposed to indicate the different classes of people in the French kingdom. Ecclesiastics were represented by hearts, and the early cards of that suit show a cape, in form like a heart.

The spade was originally a pike-head, typifying the nobility or soldiery, while artisans were represented by a stone tile, now known as a diamond. The trefoil, or clover leaf, represented the farmers.

The four kings were originally David, Alexander, Caesar, and Charlemagne. The queens were Argine, Judith, Esther and Pallas.

The kings represented the four great monarchies, and the queens birth, fortitude, piety, and wisdom. The knaves were either knights or servants of knights.

They were having a botany lesson, and the children were asked by their teacher if they knew what made the leaves turn red in the autumn.

Up hopped a hand, but it was the only one.

"Well, Johnny," asked the teacher.

"Please, miss, replied Johnny, "they blush to think how green they have been all the summer."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Glycerin for Lubricating
When your egg-beater or meat-chopper works hard, try putting a little glycerin in the bearings. This acts as a lubricant, and will not taste in the food.

Lemon Will Help
When you have finished cleaning your chicken or any fowl for baking, rub the inside and outside with a piece of lemon before putting the dressing in. This has a surprisingly good effect.

To Keep Flowers Fresh
Household flowers will stay fresh longer than usual if you put a few slices of white soap into the water in which they are kept.

Soda Dissolves Grease
When washing greasy cooking utensils, add a little soda to the water.

Prick the Skin
If you prick the skins of apples before putting them into the oven to bake, they will not burst and will retain their shape.

To Whip Cream
When cream won't whip, add the white of an egg and chill; then the two will whip.

Brightening Serge
If your blue serge suit has become shiny, sponge it with hot vinegar and press it on the wrong side with an iron moderately hot.

To Prevent Premature Browning
When you are roasting meat and it becomes brown before it is entirely cooked, place a pan of water in the oven with the meat.

Tar Stains
Successfully to remove tar stains from clothing, put a little clean lard on the spot, then wash thoroughly with a pure soap and warm water.

Freshening Rolls
When it is necessary to serve rolls which are not quite fresh, put them in a paper bag and sprinkle it slightly with water. Let them stay for a few minutes in a hot oven and they will be just as delicious as when freshly baked.

Salt to Delay Freezing
On winter wash days try putting a handful of salt in the rinse water; this prevents the clothes from freezing before they are on the lines.

SCHOOL "HOWLERS."

A Toronto school inspector tells a number of good stories in one of the Canadian magazines.

"Who made you?" asked the primary teacher. The little girl addressed evidently wished to be accurate in her reply: "God made me so long."

"Boys" said the teacher, "can any of you quote a verse from Scriptures to prove that it is wrong for a man to have two wives?"

He paused and after a moment a bright boy raised his hand. "Well, Thomas," said the teacher encouragingly, "Thomas stood up, and said, solemnly, 'No man can serve two masters.'"

History and Scripture were never more thoroughly mixed than by the boy who wrote, "Titus was a Roman Emperor, supposed to have written the Epistle to the Hebrews; and his other name was Oates."

Here are a few culled at random: "The food passes off your body by evaporation through a lot of little holes in the skin, called capillaries."

"A circle is a round straight line with a hole in the middle."

"In Austria the chief occupation is gathering Austrian feathers."

"The two most famous volcanoes of Europe are Sodom and Gomorrah."

"Climate lasts all the time, and weather only a few days."

"The blood is purified in the lungs by inspired air."

EVERY INCH A KING

It is significant that the Great War, which saw the collapse of autocratic monarchy in Europe, has resulted in a greatly enhanced appreciation of two monarchs who reign with a zealous regard for the constitutional rights of their subjects. King Albert of Belgium and King George of England have in many ways doubly endeared themselves to their people. There are at least two well-authenticated stories in praise of the true kingliness of their characters.

Some little Belgian children who were playing outside a ruined village, stopped on hearing the Angelus and drew near one of the wayside shrines. As they stood beneath it with their heads bowed they began to recite the Lord's Prayer. On reaching "Forgive us our trespasses," the voices stopped. It was not long since the Germans had ruined their village; how could they pronounce the words "as we forgive those who—"

For several moments the children were silent. Then they heard a man's voice behind them: "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation—"

Steadily the strong clear voice led the children through the prayer to the solemn amen. And when they looked up there was a tall spectacled man in uniform surrounded by a small group of officers. He was their King, Albert the Good, who had proved himself their King indeed by insisting on their saying the greatest prayer of all—the prayer of forgiveness.

The other story is equally touching. Two English Tommies were standing at the corner of a street in a French town. "Have you ever seen King George?" asked one.

"Oh, yes," the other replied, "many times."

"Ah, but you have never seen him cry!" I have. The King once visited our hospital; he went round all the beds of our ward, talking to every man. At last he came to a poor chap who had lost both legs and one arm—a terrible plight for a poor fellow! The King stood looking at him for a moment and then said, "My poor lad, how old are you?"

"Eighteen, sir, was the chap's reply."

"My God!" cried the King, and he burst into tears."

During his reign King George has done many things that stand him credit, but when all else is forgotten those tears will be remembered. They reveal the kindly soul. We may some day dispense with monarchies entirely, but we can never do without the kindly spirit. If kings are to last, they must be "every inch a king."—Youth's Companion.

The Great Western Stampede

Bucking steers and unbroken horses featured the Stampede. Top right, Mayor Webster interrogates a brave.

CLATTERING horses of the cow-boys, nodding head-dresses of the Indians with their stolid squaws and families, cow outfits, real old-time chuck wagons and other figures of the last great west, led the modern motor about the streets of Calgary, during the great stampede. Cow-boys and cow-girls, decked in all the bright colors which their predecessors wore in the early eighties—these were the prominent notes in the great symphony of color.

Calgary took on the appearance of frontier days with hitching posts along the main streets and the old cow-town ponies stood in front of the skyscrapers of the modern city.

In the great parade in which several thousand participated, Mayor George Webster struck the keynote in his wonderful leather chaps, blue silk shirt, pink handkerchief and huge Stetson hat. The stimulating contrast of the new and the old was evident in the roar of the big airplanes overhead while the pioneers' and old-timers section of the parade, venerable Red-river carts, original Hudson's Bay vehicles, squeaked their way over the pavement that covers the virgin sod they travelled many years ago. They were driven by the men of 1860, 1870 and 1880 and drawn, in many instances, by venerable nags that looked as if they, too, had survived the days of the rutted prairie trails to walk through a city that was but a dream when their work began.

There was the real old-time prairie schooner, complete with trailer. The stove in the ancient wagon was going full blast and all the housekeeping requirements were there. On the trailer were a load of ducks and geese, some spare firewood and tied behind, walked a white goat and a cow. The Sarcee, Blackfeet and Stoney Indians, resplendent in all their feathers and war-paint, beaded garments and ermine tails, were everywhere in evidence. Clerks

Back about 1905, Alberta cow-boys visiting Calgary, gave up the practice of hitching their ponies on Eighth avenue but during stampede week, the chuck wagons were parked in front of modern retail buildings, horses were tied in front of dignified banks—the cow-boy literally "pitched camp on the main drag." To add to the great wild west picture was to see "Tony," a black pony ridden by a typical westerner, make his way through a cafe or to see Mrs. Duck, Thief making her way up Eighth avenue, just previous to winning the first prize for travois turnout. The tepee poles crossed over her horse, dragging behind and the family followed, quite comfortable except for the car track crossings.

The buffalo barbecue was a new interest to the present generation, even if old-timers were quite at home in enjoying their buffalo sandwiches. Five buffaloes were obtained from the Wainwright herd and the committee served over twelve thousand sandwiches.

Of all the striking pictures of the old, wild west, that have ever been presented to the world, the great Calgary stampede will live forever in the minds of those whose imagination grasps in significance the passing of the last great west. And it is thus passing in pictures that are a dazzling succession of brilliant colors.

The new Banff-Windermere motor highway, forming as it does a link in a 6,000 mile chain of good roads, was used by hundreds of visitors who motored from the western States and from British Columbia, and who afterwards toured the Canadian Pacific Rockies. From every viewpoint the great Stampede was an unprecedented success.
