PLEBISCITE ON CANADIAN NAVY

General Election Advocated by Some After Redistribution Bill is Passed

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—There is belief in some quarters that the plan of a plebiscite on the naval question may be coupled with a general election a couple of years hence, after a distribution bill is put through. It is argued that if the government is going to the expense of taking a vote upon the navy, it would be unfair not to take advantage of the opportunity to give the west the additional representation to which redistribution will entitle them. Advocates of this plan claim with so strong a majority as it now has, the Borden government would run no risk in making an appeal to the people, and it would come back with its base of power considerably extended. The whole question will be thoroughly threshed out in caucus soon after Parliament meets.

ARE YOU AS WELL AS A YEAR AGO?

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Point the Way to Health and Strength.

Ask yourself the important question whether you are as strong as you were a year ago. Many a reader has to confess "No." Some weakening ailment has during the past year laid hold of the system, unfitting you for the duties of life and seriously clouding the outlook of the coming days. It may be rheumatism with its sharp twinges of pain, indigestion, headache, nervous debility, depression, and lack of energy, or the pains and ailments which only common folk know. It is well to know that all these weakening disorders arise from an impoverished condition of the blood. Renew and enrich your blood and all your troubles will cease. This is a strong statement, but it is made on the testimony of thousands who once suffered, but who have gained health and strength by the aid of the new, rich blood supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. We can quote thousands of cases similar to the following: Mr. Jos. Grandmison is a young man well known in the town of St. Jerome, Que. He says: "For a couple of years I began to find my strength failing, but did not dream that the trouble was serious. As I grew weaker I began to doctor, but it did not help me. The least exertion made my heart palpitate violently, my stomach seemed out of order and my whole system became so run down that I was finally forced to quit work. I had now been doctoring for almost six months and was very naturally growing discouraged. At this juncture I read of a case similar to mine, cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to try them. I took the Pills faithfully for about two months, gradually growing stronger, and the end of that time I was as well as any man could be. I shall always praise the medicine that rescued me from despair to the blessing of good health." Sold by medicine dealers everywhere or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Act and Provincial License Laws proposed at its sessions of January 20th and April 7th last, viz:
That importations of liquors into districts under Canada Temperance Act or Provincial local option should be prohibited except by Vendors appointed by Government and residing within such districts, that persons arrested for drunkenness be compelled to tell where and from whom they obtained their liquor, imprisonment to be the penalty for those refusing to tell; that no prescriptions from medical men residing outside of such districts be obtainable except where medical man nearest to the patient resides in an adjoining municipality; and that the Dominion and Provincial governments take the necessary steps not only to carry into effect the above recommendations but also to make in all other respects their laws relating to sale of liquors as effective as the laws of Nova Scotia, which provide: That the finding of liquor on any premises shall be, until the contrary is proved, deemed evidence of intent to sell, although no barroom appliances may be present; law officers to have power to search for and seize liquor without warrant, the finding of liquor concealed or falsely labelled to be prima facie evidence of intent to violate the law; prosecutions for second offense to immediately follow first convictions; and no appeal from decisions of stipendiary magistrates.

THE RYDER INQUEST

An Open Verdict Returned and Evidence Sent to Attorney General

Sussex, N. B., Oct. 26.—The inquest into the death of William Ryder was begun at Newtown this morning. Coroner Wallace presiding.

Dr. Burnett thought it was impossible, after any one of the shots was fired, for the injured man to fire the others. It was Coroner Lamb's opinion that the man might have fired the three shots himself, particularly if the shots fired to the left were the first fired. He believed that after firing the first shot or two he had moved to the position in which he was found. From the position of the undergarments, he thought they had been removed after the man reached the position in which he was found. He was still of the belief that a determined man might have removed the garments after the three wounds had been inflicted.

Mrs. Ryder was next witness. Mr. Ryder had been drinking day before. Next day they had had no trouble. He had taken his gun and went away, not returning. Adjourned till Saturday morning. On Monday the Jury, after an absence of less than ten minutes they returned the following unanimously signed verdict:

We find that the late William H. Ryder came to his death by bullet shots through the body, but owing to the want of sufficient evidence we cannot say that they were self-inflicted or otherwise. The jury was then dismissed, and a full report of the evidence as taken by Miss Mabel Thompson will be sent to the Attorney General for review.

THE TURKO-ITALIAN WAR

Malta, October 24.—It is reported here that the Italian casualties in the attack on and the capture of Benghazi greatly exceeded the official figures. The estimate received by officials here is that the losses of the Italians are 1,200, and it seems likely that this figure is not greatly exaggerated.

In letters received here from Benghazi, the writers estimate the casualties among the inhabitants resulting from the bombardment by the Italian fleet at 4,000.

London, Oct. 26.—Four hundred Italians were killed or wounded in the fighting around Tripoli on Monday and Tuesday, but all newspaper correspondents were forbidden to communicate the extent of the casualties, according to a news agency despatch received here today from Tripoli, which escaped Italian censorship by being filed at Valetta.

Rome, October 26.—Italy formally notified the Powers today of its annexation of Tripoli. Now masters of the coast of Tripoli and Cyrene, the Government will consider the Turkish garrisons as rebels.

Tripoli, October 26.—The last remaining Arabs in the vicinity of the Italian outposts were driven off on Tuesday. About forty were shot. Two or three hundred prisoners were sent to an Italian island, probably Lampedusa. The disarmament of the Arabs was shown that almost every house, both in front and behind, the position occupied by the Eleventh Bersaglieri, was a miniature arsenal.

The aerial scouting expeditions are doing enormous service in locating the Turkish detachments. The Turks have fired at the aeroplanes without result.

Split in British Labor Party

London, Oct. 26.—Chancellor Lloyd George's national insurance bill for the consideration of which the House of Commons agreed to allocate most of the time of the autumn session, threatens the labor party. At a meeting of the party to-night the majority decided to support the bill. Messrs Snowden, Jowett, Lansbury and Thorn are among the dissenters, and refuse to abide by the decision. They intend to form a separate group.

Fatal Accident on Intercolonial

Mr. Malone was thirty years of age and belonged to Stanley, York county. He was married to Miss Hayes, a sister of Andrew Hayes of Chatham.

Queens-Sunbury Recount Off

Fredericton, Oct. 26.—Judge Wilson this morning confirmed Col. McLean in Queens-Sunbury seat on the grounds that the judge had the jurisdiction to grant the application on side of the electoral district of Sunbury and Queens and that the affidavits were not in conformity with the provisions of the act.

...ready to make with PURITY FLOUR

After seeing a batch of big, golden-crust, snowy white loaves, that you have baked from PURITY FLOUR, you will, indeed, be proud of your cooking-ability—and proud of your wisdom in deciding to pay the little extra it costs to procure such high-class flour. You will admit, too, that we are justified in the pride we take in milling this superb flour.

PURITY FLOUR

"More bread and better bread"

PURITY FLOUR is milled exclusively from the best Western hard wheat—the world's finest. More than that, PURITY FLOUR consists entirely of the high-grade portions of the wheat. The low-grade portions are separated and excluded during the PURITY process of milling. Such high-class flour, of course, expands more in the baking. It makes "more bread and better bread."

It makes lighter, flakier pastry, too, if you just take the precaution to add more shortening. On account of its unusual strength PURITY FLOUR, for best results, requires more shortening than ordinary flour.

Progressive dealers, everywhere, sell PURITY FLOUR and take pride in recommending it.

THE POWER OF SYMPATHY.

Mothers Too Often Form a Habit of Constant Reproof.

Although conscious of the power of sympathy, many loving but over-zealous mothers not only forget to show affection, but form a habit of constant reproof. Naturally enough, the children, unless exceptionally callous to their surroundings, become sullen and resentful. How can they realize that the reproof is an expression of affection?

When Johnny comes rushing into the house full of enthusiasm over some new play or new idea, and eager to tell his plans, such a mother explains, "How many times have I told you to wipe your feet before you enter the door?" The greetings silt his enthusiasm, and hurt and wound his mother's mother kissed her boy when he showed his drawings to her; and the boy, when grown to manhood, said that her kiss made a painter of him.

There is sound psychology in the statement that if you believe a man is honest he will be honest; that if you trust a young man he will prove trustworthy; that if you praise a child he will deserve praise. Benjamin West's mother kissed her boy when he showed his drawings to her; and the boy, when grown to manhood, said that her kiss made a painter of him.

A RAVENOUS INDUSTRY.

How the Paper Makers Are Destroying the Forests of the United States.

The forests of the United States cover 550,000,000 acres, or about one-fourth of the area of the country. Forests publicly owned contain one-fifth of all timber standing. The timber privately owned is not only four times that publicly owned but it is generally more valuable.

Forestry is not practised on 70 per cent. of the forests publicly owned and on less than 1 per cent. of the forests privately owned, or on only 18 per cent. of the total area of the forest.

The original forests of the United States contained timber in quantity and variety far beyond that upon any other area of similar size in the world. They covered 550,000,000 acres in the United States and 5,200,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber, according to present standards of use. There were five great forest regions—the northern, the southern, the central, the Rocky Mountain and the Pacific.

The present rate of cutting is three times the annual growth of the forests of the United States. The great pineries of the Lake States are nearing exhaustion and great tracts have been made upon the supply of valuable timber throughout all parts of the country.

The heavy demands for timber have been rapidly pushing the great centers of lumber industry towards the South and West. In consequence, the State of Washington has led for several years in lumber production, followed in order by Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Wisconsin and Arkansas. In 1908 the production of yellow pine lumber amounted to eleven and one-quarter billion feet; the Douglas fir of the Northwest held second place with three and two-thirds billion feet; while white pine came third, with three and one-third billion feet.

The annual cut from the forests, including waste in logging and in manufacture, is 20,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood.

There is used in a normal year 90,000,000 cords of fire wood, 49,000,000,000 board feet of lumber, 118,000,000,000 bawn ties, 1,500,000,000 staves, over 122,000,000 sets of heading, nearly 500,000,000 barrel hoops, 3,000,000 cords of native pulp wood, 165,000,000 cubic feet of round mine timbers and 1,250,000 cords of wood for distillation.

In 1909 4,002,000 cords of wood were used in the manufacture of paper, of which 794,000 cords were imported from Canada. The demand for pulp wood is making a severe drain on the spruce forests, which furnish the principle supply. The Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture is conducting investigations to determine what other woods, such as scrub pine, white fir, tassel oak and the like, can be successfully used.

A larger drain upon forest resources is made by the demand for specialties, of which 123,754,000, equivalent to three and three-quarters billion board feet, were used in 1908. Spruce oak, hitherto the chief source of supply, is not plentiful enough to meet this demand indefinitely, and in many parts of the country the supply of chestnut, cedar and cypress is dwindling; however, seasoning and treating methods are being found, largely through the work of the Forest Service, by which cheaper and more plentiful woods, such as lodgepole pine in the Northwest and ironwood pine in the South, are made fit for use as ties. Timber to the amount of two and one-half billions feet was used in 1907 for mine timbers. A great saving has been effected in the naval stores industry, also largely through the work of the Forest Service, by the introduction of the so-called "cup" system of turpentine—instead of the old destructive system of "boxing." The new systems insure a larger product of better quality and prolong the life of the longleaf pine forests upon which the industry depends.

A very pleasant social gathering took place in the assembly room of the Methodist church when the young ladies of the circle entertained the members of the congregation. A large number attended and all spent a pleasant evening. Games and music helped to pass the time pleasantly and a dainty lunch was served. It is planned to give social evenings at frequent intervals during the coming winter so that the members of the congregation may become better acquainted.—Campbellton Graphic

Know an Auto From Hood to Tires

Expert knowledge of automobile construction is essential to car owners and drivers alike. To the owner it means certainty when judging a car, and a great saving in cost of up-keep. To the driver it means a greater demand for his services, a larger salary, and a permanency of position. To both it means knowing if a car is right, and when not right, exactly what to do and how to do it.

All this valuable knowledge is set forth in the Automobile Course of the International Correspondence Schools—the most thorough and practical Automobile Course in the world. The subjects covered are: Gasoline Automobiles, Gasoline Engines, Automobile Engine Auxiliaries, Automobile Carburetors, Electric Ignition, Transmission and Control Mechanism, Bearings and Lubrication, Automobile Tires, Automobile Operation, Troubles and Remedies, Overhauling and Repairing—information that enables you to thoroughly understand any auto, from hood to tires, and how to handle it.

This Course has been prepared by recognized experts actually in the business. In other words, it is practical as well as theoretical.

NAVAL BATTLE WITH HORSES.

How 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paez, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. It is a matter of history that he, to whom more than any other man, apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually attacked and captured with his cavalry a fleet of ships.

Bolivar was endeavouring to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some eight Spanish gunboats, which moved up and down the stream as he did. Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Paez, who was second in command, he appealed for counsel, saying that he could never cross the river so long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only we could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy."

Paez decided that he would have these ships or die, and he accordingly told his regiment of cowboys to follow him. Paez himself had been a cowboy on the plains of the Orinoco and was the idol of his men. So when he spurred his horse into the stream, calling on his men to follow, of the 2,000 cowboys and their mounts, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, there was not a single man to hold out in this unique assault upon the gunboats. It being night, the Spanish fleet were taken quite unawares. The cowboys wriggled from their places in the bows of the vessels, letting their ponies swim back to shore. Having thus cut off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought well, and every gunboat was captured.

THE EDIBLE CRAB

Something of the Caprons Life of This Half Fish Half Animal.

The edible crab is obliged to moult or cast off its shell many times during its life. This moulting appears to be unpleasant and painful to the crabs, as it is during the act. When the crab is moulting it is not only obliged to escape from the carapax or shell, but also from the hard covering of their legs, delicate mouth-parts, and even antennae—turning themselves inside out, as it were. It is not surprising that they perish during the ordeal. The crab crawls up into some secluded nook or cove in shallow water to moult, out of the way of its hard-shelled relatives, for the helpless, newly-moulted, or soft-shell crab, if found, is devoured by them, as well as by several species of fishes. Fortunately for the crab, the soft covering hardens rapidly, and in a few hours it has a new and strong armour, and it then goes fearlessly out into deep water.

Boosting.

Things may be coming your way but be careful that they do not come with such force as to carry you away with them. There are tides and tides. Some are natural, some are supernatural and some are dangerous, because they move with a force which is too strong for our character and will. "Beware of uncontrollable circumstances." This was an expression which first fell from the lips of Wellington. The editor of a periodical remarks:—

"Old salts, who are forever yarning about wrecks and their causes, have a theory that what is called a 'boosting' sea accounts for more than one of the disasters that have occurred in the long history of shipping. A 'boosting' sea is a sea that runs heavily after a steamer, and if the vessel does not actually 'poop' the vessel, yet, by the roll of billow after billow, accelerates its speed to a degree unguessed by the navigator, until finally the ship, having unconsciously overrun its course, brings up upon a rock or hidden reef, and is reported at Lloyd's as 'lost.'"

Monuments in Queer Places.

There are monuments in all sorts of out-of-the-way places, but one that is really unique is that erected in a river. It stands in the Parramatta River, New South Wales, a stream known the world over for the rowing events that have taken place upon it. This monument, which is in memory of the world-famed rower, Scoble, is also unique from the fact that it has been used as the winning-post of the races for the world's championship, and is still used as such for local events.

The Emperor Gorges Himself.

The "Hoi Pao" says that an American doctor recently visited the palace at Peking to examine the baby Emperor, who, it was found, had gorged himself with a meal of swallows' nests (a sort of glutinous material), and thus provoked a raging thirst. The indisposition yielded easily to the doctor's treatment. The Emperor sleeps in a gigantic bed, big enough for six people! He rises at six, at once has a meal of rice-gruel or rice, and then goes to pay his respects to the Dowager Lung-yu.

A sculptor recently produced the likeness of a celebrated personage in whose biography it was mentioned that he regarded architecture as a very secondary art. The son of this man once visited the artist's studio for the purpose of examining the bust, when, after considering it with the eye of a connoisseur, he inquired: "Could you not express more nobly his contempt for architecture?"

The heart of a man is divided into many compartments, mostly isolated. Sometimes there is a door between two of them, or a window, or a hole, or a passage, or a tunnel, or a bridge, or a road, or a highway, or a byway, or a lane, or a path, or a track, or a trail, or a rut, or a groove, or a furrow, or a channel, or a stream, or a river, or a sea, or an ocean, or a world.

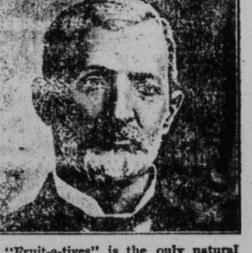

TRIED EVERYTHING WITHOUT RELIEF

Until I took "Fruit-a-tives"

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910.

"I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation, Indigestion and Catarrh of the Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever. I have now taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good. I have recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit tablets too highly!"

WHAT SMALL COMMUNITIES CAN DO

It is really marvelous what small nations and small communities can do to build up trade and make themselves rich and prosperous. Take the cases of Belgium, Holland and Switzerland. The first with its eight millions of people and wonderful foreign trade, and the second with its six millions and equally wonderful commerce, have been the marvels in this regard for a long time. Both, however, have extensive colonial empires and are blessed with a seacoast and an unusually fertile soil. Belgium having large coal measures besides. With Switzerland, however, it is different; small in area, with not a mile of seacoast, no minerals, only a few fertile valleys, it is a wonder how the country is able to support a population at all. Yet it has a population, and a wonderful one. But little exceeding three million, it has nevertheless a foreign trade of over five hundred millions yearly or more than $150 per capita, as compared with Canada's one hundred dollars. This exceeds Japan's trade by one hundred millions. With one-twelfth the area of Spain and one-sixth of Spain's population, its imports and exports surpass those of the Spanish nation by nearly two hundred millions of dollars. A large part of this trade consists of manufactured specialties. These are largely made in the homes of the people from materials furnished by the manufacturers who receive and pay for the finished product at stipulated rates, no less than 130,000 people being employed in this primitive fashion. The exports exceed $230,000,000 in value, among the items being: watches; and their parts, $23,375,000; silk and manufacture of $32,180,000; cotton embroideries, $37,675,000; cheese, $12,000,000; chocolate, $7,400,000; machinery, $14,000,000; cotton manufactures, $14,805,000; lace edging, embroideries, etc., $14,000,000. These are remarkable figures indeed. Another export is that of condensed milk to the value of six millions.

The money made from tourist traffic is estimated to amount to at least a hundred millions a year, there being fully one hundred and sixty millions invested in hotels throughout the country. All this goes to show what can be done by a small but intelligent and industrious population inhabiting a land of small area and few resources, and gives us some faint conception of the infinite possibilities of a country so vast in size and in resources as the Dominion of Canada.—Ex.

DEDICATION OF THE METHODIST CHURCH CAMPBELLTON

On the 22nd ult., the new Methodist Church was opened and dedicated. The auditorium was tastefully decorated with potted plants and in spite of the inclement weather all the services were largely attended. In the morning the Rev. M. R. Knight, President of the N. B. and P. E. I. Conference preached from the text "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto Salvation." At the close of the sermon, the trustees came forward and presented the building to the pastor, Rev. George Morris, handing over the keys to him, after which he conducted the ritual dedication service, assisted by the Rev. M. R. Knight, and the Rev. W. G. Watson of Mt. Allison University. A choir of sixteen voices under the leadership of Miss Mowat provided special music.

A brief Sunday School session was held at the usual hour in the afternoon, immediately followed by a good fellowship service at which all the Protestant denominations were represented. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Roy, a Baptist Clergyman from Nova Scotia, and short addresses were given by Rev. J. E. Purdie of Christ Episcopal Church, Rev. T. P. Drumm of St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Rev. Dr. J. H. McDonald of Fredericton Baptist, Rev. M. R. Knight, president of Conference, and Rev. W. G. Watson of Mt. Allison University. Mr. Cecil Mersereau sang a solo, and the choir sang an offertory anthem. At the close of the service the congregation joined most heartily in the hymn "Blest be the tie that binds."

In the evening, the service opened with an anthem by the choir, and Professor Watson of Mt. Allison preached a scholarly sermon from the text "And He showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb." Mr. Bert Cochrane sang a solo, and the choir rendered an inspiring offertory anthem, and after the benediction sang a short response entitled "The Lord will Hear."

On Monday night the young women of the church conducted a social for the members of the congregation. Everyone was greeted at the door and made welcome and a spirit of the greatest friendliness and sociability prevailed. After a short advertisement-guessing contest there was an informal program which was enthusiastically received. Miss Margaret Currie gave a piano number, Mrs. Sharpe a violin solo, Mr. Bert Cochrane sang, and a fine male quartette favored the audience with a couple of numbers. The program closed with a humorous pantomime of "The Near Sighted Man in the Picture Gallery" which caused a good laugh. Refreshments were served, and the young folks gathered around the piano and sang college songs. Everyone voted the affair a decided success.

On Wednesday night a service of Retrospect and Prospect was held in the Sunday school room. Mr. Appleton spoke on the church of the past, Mr. Reid on the church of the present, Mr. Keith on the church of the future and Mrs. Morris on the ideal church.

The pastor read a letter from Rev. Mr. Thompson of Tryon, P. E. I., formerly pastor of this church.

A SUCCESSFUL DOUGLASTOWN MAN

The following clipping was taken from The Calgary News Telegram, a western paper:— Three seasons ago an American firm of lumbermen bought two sections of land near Stavely, which has been farmed under the management of Mr. E. Kirkpatrick. These gentlemen have not seen the land, but that they were fully satisfied with their investment is proven by the fact that last July they bought another section of land near Stavely. Mr. Kirkpatrick, who is considered one of the best farmers in the Stavely district, when interviewed said: "We have a beautiful crop, the wheat will go 37 bushels to the acre. We have seeded our fall wheat. In this country they let the stock and cattle graze on the fall wheat and it doesn't injure it at all." Mr. Kirkpatrick is a Douglastown man, having gone west about seven years ago. His many friends will be pleased to learn of his success.

JACQUET RIVER

Oct. 24—Most of our young men have gone to the woods, but a few still remain to keep things lively.

All are looking forward with interest to the opening up of the skating rink as soon as Jack Frost shall make his appearance among us.

Leonard Firlotte, the eleven-year-old son of James M. Firlotte was the victim of a very sad accident which occurred here on Sunday Oct. 15.

The child while rumaging through a trunk of tools found a dynamite cap and began digging it out when it exploded scarring his face very badly and blowing off three fingers from one hand and injuring two on the other.

The doctor was immediately summoned and the child is doing very well.

The parents have the sympathy of the community as Leonard was a very bright boy and the eldest of the family.

Another accident comes to us from Nash's Creek where James Landry had his arm almost cut off in the mill where he saws shingles.

The flesh was cut diagonally from the elbow to the wrist leaving the bone exposed parts of which were also injured.

The patient suffered a great deal at first, but is improving as well as can be expected.

This is the third serious accident Mr. Landry has had within a year, and as he has a wife and several small children they have the deepest sympathy of all.

CAMPBELLTON TOWN COUNCIL

The Town Council met on Tuesday evening 24th inst. under the chairmanship of His Worship Mayor McDonald.

At the opening of session there were present Councillors Lunam, Pinaut, Mowat, White, Miller, MacKenzie, and Alexander.

The Town Clerk read the minutes of the last meeting which were confirmed.

His Worship stated that as they had the visit of two deputations the regular order of business would be suspended and it was agreed to receive the deputations.

Mr. F. M. Murray was then heard before the council on the matter of dredging.

Mr. Murray stated that the main reason for his appearing before the council was due to the fact that in his bill which would later come before the council there was an item for 2 days demurrage on the schooner which he had just finished unloading.

This was caused by having to unload the schooner of part of her cargo at the government wharf there being only 9 feet of water at the coal wharf in sufficient depth for ordinary vessels.

There are no berths in this port where vessels of over 12 ft draught can discharge.

At low tide there is only 7 feet of water at the market wharf, and if present conditions continue, the council will require to pay large sums for the coal.

For the benefit of all importers and shippers Mr. Murray thought that something should be done to get the various wharves dredged, a job which would only take about one week.

The various wharves are all government property, and pressure should be brought to bear on the Minister of Public Works to get this work started next spring.

Mr. Murray in conclusion said that a petition should be prepared and if necessary taken to Ottawa, and that the member for the county be asked to further the petition.

Several of the councillors joined in the discussion and in a reply to a question from His Worship Mr. Murray stated that the Shives Lumber Company had done some dredging at this wharf some years ago, and that an ordinary bucket dredge could do all that was required.

A special committee was then formed consisting of His Worship the Mayor, Councillors Alexander and Mowat, to acquire all the necessary information and dates and to report at next meeting.

His Worship then introduced the second deputation consisting of Messrs. F. M. Anderson, W. P. Gray and John M. McLean, a committee from the Temp and Federation.

Mr. Anderson who was the first speaker stated that a meeting of the Ten per cent Federation had been held in the Opera House on Sunday evening and a committee appointed to look into the matter of the increase of liquor drinking in the town and a several speakers had stated at the meeting that there seemed to be some apathy on the part of the police, the delegation desired to know from the council what the duties of the police were with regard to the enforcement of the Local Option Act.

Mr. Gray and Mr. McLean also spoke. Chief of Police Hughes in reply to His Worship stated that he felt that the officers under him were doing their duty as far as he could see and said that he knew he had the moral support of the citizens.

Councillor Lunam as Chairman of the police committee spoke strongly on the remarks which had been made that the police were not acting on information received and stated that it was manifestly unfair to insinuate that the police were incapable.

After most of the councillors had taken part in the discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the Police and License committee with power to act.

The regular order of business was then reverted back to which was mainly the receiving and adoption of reports for the payment of accounts.

Our wandering reporter had been informed that there were a number of molasses barrels standing near a hundred miles from Sugarloaf St.

He got a bit of a scare when on investigation he found they were oil barrels!

Campbellton Graphic.

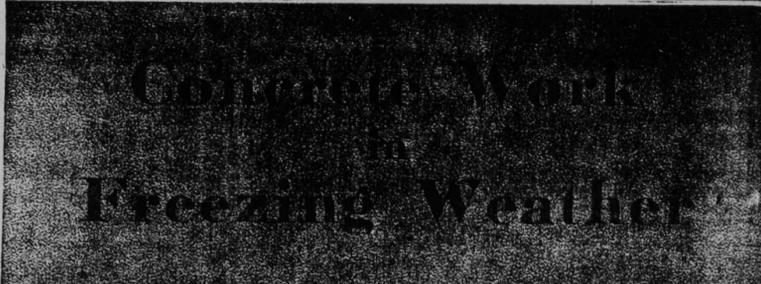

FIG. 1. SHOWING SIMPLE METHOD OF WATER HEATING.

UNTIL a few years ago, although concrete had already been generally adopted throughout the country by contractors and farmers for almost all structural work, it was the practice to stop all work on this form of construction as soon as the cold weather set in.

It has been found, however, that concrete work may be carried on in cold weather successfully, and with but very little more trouble than under ordinary circumstances.

This fact is of great benefit to the farmer, as it is in the colder period of the year that he is able to find time for building and making the many articles around the farm to which concrete so readily adapts itself.

With a few simple precautions it has been found that concrete can be used, not only in freezing weather, but when the thermometer has been actually below zero.

If the concrete freezes before it starts to "set," it will not be injured, but if the freezing takes place after the "setting" action has started up, the concrete is likely to be damaged when it thaws, owing to the expansion of the melting water forcing the particles apart and making the concrete crumbly.

On more regular in size. Where concrete work is being done on a large scale, it is advisable to use the two-barrel heater shown in Fig. 2. This allows the water to be constantly replenished without reducing the heat of the water in the barrel from which the hot water is taken.

Most farmers, however, possess large boiling kettles, used during butchering time, or for making soft soap, etc. One of these will do equally well.

Concrete will, on its own account, develop a certain amount of heat in the "setting" process.

But in cold weather, some outside assistance, in the form of artificial heat, is necessary. The best way to develop this artificial heat is to warm the materials before mixing.

This shortens the time that it takes the concrete to "set" and lengthens the time necessary to bring it to the freezing point. Bear in mind that the less water used, the quicker concrete "sets." Therefore, it is advisable to use as little water as possible in the mixing during cold weather.

HEATING SAND AND STONE. Sand and stone may be very easily heated by making use of two pieces of stove pipe, one piece for the sand and the other for the stone.

The pipes are laid on the ground in such a position as to allow the wind to make a good draft. The fire is then built in one end. The flames pass through, heating the whole pipe, and as fresh fuel is added, the cinders are pushed along the pipe and gradually work out at the other end. The sand and stone should be piled on top of the stove pipes, and will soon thaw out and become heated. In very cold weather, the cement may be heated by laying the bags on top of the sand, but this is not absolutely necessary, as the cement itself must be kept dry until used, whether the weather be hot or cold.

TEMPERATURE REQUIRED. Materials should not be heated to too high a temperature. A good way to judge the proper amount of heat is to make them just hot enough to be comfortable to touch. Care should be taken not to use any frozen lumps of sand.

PROTECTING CONCRETE IN POSITION. After the concrete has been placed in "forms" it should be protected so as to keep the heat in as long as possible.

This is more essential in thin structures than in massive walls and foundations for the latter will hold their own heat longer on account of their thickness.

Wooden "forms" are non-conductors, and will retain the heat in the concrete up to a certain point, but the concrete should be protected on top by a covering of canvas or heavy paper, with a layer of ten or twelve inches of manure on top of this. Straw will also answer the purpose. If manure is used, care should be taken to prevent it from coming in contact with the concrete, as it will discolor it, and possibly even seep through sufficiently to weaken the structure.

PROTECTING THIN STRUCTURES. In the case of thin walls where extra cold weather calls for additional protection, heavy paper should be nailed to the vertical posts of the forms, (see Figure 4,) thus leaving an enclosed air space between each pair of posts. These air spaces will have about fifteen degrees higher temperature than the outside air.

The "forms" should always be left on longer in cold weather, as it takes longer for the concrete to harden.

There is no reason why concrete cannot be used with complete success in cold weather if these simple precautions be followed.

LORD ROSEBERRY'S BET.

How the Great English Politician Gave a Good Tip.

On one occasion Lord Roseberry was in a railway carriage on his way to a race meeting at Ascot. Opposite him sat a continental traveller, who was rather inclined to be inquisitive. Seeing his lordship's opinion of the course, he did not know reading the Racing Calendar, he remarked: "Suppose you are going to the Ascot meeting?" "I am going as far as Ascot," replied his lordship. "Pity young swells get fleeced by blacklegs. Some noblemen, I hear, drop fortunes on the turf." "Indeed!" "Do a bit myself sometimes—about a tanner or a pony is my cut. Know anything good for to-day worth my while looking?" "I am not a tipster." "Beg pardon, sir, you reading the Racing Calendar, so thought you might know." "Well," replied his lordship, "I give you the straight tip will it be of service to you?" "Depends if I fancy it." "Put your tanner or pony on Lord Roseberry's Cheveron for the Welter Cup."

NAVAL BATTLE WITH HORSES.

How 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paez, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. It is a matter of history that he, to whom more than any other man, apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually attacked and captured with his cavalry a fleet of ships. Bolivar was endeavouring to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some eight Spanish gunboats which moved up and down the stream as he did. Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Paez, who was second in command, he appealed for counsel, saying that he could never cross the river so long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only I could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy."

The Butter Trade of Canada.

In the year ending 1910 Canada shipped only 4,577,330 pounds of butter, worth $2,928,724. Canada's imports of butter on the other hand amounted to 527,454 pounds, worth $104,301. These imports into Canada last year are given below, with the rate of duty that had to be paid on coming into the country; and also with the changes in that rate which would be effected under reciprocity.

Prince Arthur as Footman.

Prince Arthur of Connaught who will probably come out to Canada with his father, or young Arthur, as he is usually known about the Court and to his intimate friends, was once stationed at Aldershot, where some engagement had prevented him from changing into the prescribed uniform before going to a State ball.

Winnipeg's Growth.

"Now, Nora," said the departing physician to the Irish girl, who was nursing a bad case of fever, "if the patient sees snakes again, give him a dose of this medicine. I shall be in at six."

Utilizing Waste as Fuel.

The greatest work which has been carried out by the British in Egypt, since their occupation of that country, has been the construction of dams along the Nile for the purpose of producing water for irrigating the Nile valley.

The New Boarder Again.

"For ten years," said the new boarder at a Montreal boarding-house, "my habits were as regular as clockwork. I rose on the stroke of six; half an hour later I sat down to breakfast; at seven I was at work, dined at twelve, ate supper at six, and was in bed at nine-thirty; and only hearty food, and hadn't a sick day in all that time."

SWALLOW'S NEST OF BANK-NOTES.

How a Mouse Stole $18 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Fibersheim in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kroner bank-notes to line their nest. The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the tissue being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed. The nest of the missing notes were only discovered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground.

Last Call.

Professor Leacock tells the following story about a young man who sometimes drank more whiskey than was good for him: He had been making a night of it, but had forsaken his cup, and was acquainted with an undertaker named George, and got the crazy notion at three o'clock in the morning that he must see this particular man.

Dogs were formerly indigenous to the Indian, but since the advent of dog licenses, whereby a dog, without a valid license, is presumed to be guilty until it is proven innocent or shot, they have been grafted on family trees, with their own separate heraldry, as substitutes for children, thereby furnishing considerable consolation for race suicide.

Some one sent the manuscript of a story to a literary friend, with the request that he would criticize it. The friend returned it, with the following note: "My dear Blank: Your book contains much that is both new and good; but what is new is not good, and what is good is not new."
