"NATIONAL HERO SERIES" NO. 4

Lord Nelson—Old England's Great Naval Hero

WITHOUT Horatio Nelson, England would have been invaded and perhaps conquered by Napoleon. At Trafalgar he smashed forever the French Emperor's hope of creating a naval power. Never was man more idolized and beloved—not only by all of England's people who breathlessly awaited news of his telling victories, but by every man of his fleet. A true Anglo-Saxon, he detested tyrannous powers and legislative usurpations of every kind. He was particularly opposed to prohibitive enactments governing the diet of his men, who, like him, enjoyed Barley-Malt brews, even as their fathers did for countless generations before. Good beer, according to Lord Nelson, has ever been good food. Budweiser Beer for 57 years has been the product of an institution holding the highest ideals known to the ancient art of brewing. The output, due to Quality and Purity, has increased every year until 7,500 men are daily required to keep pace with the public demand. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

Borded only at the home plant.

CHAPTER II.

Diana stood until the sound of the horse had died away, then she sank into a chair and looked round the room, as if she were asking herself if the whole affair had really occurred or were only a dream.

As she sat there mentally re-enacting the dramatic incident, it occurred to Diana that it would be wise not to tell Mrs. Burton anything of the incident. She knew how terrified her aunt would be, and how for the future she would dread to let Diana out of her sight, for she was a nervous woman, full of apprehension and quick to take alarm; it would be an actual kindness to keep her in ignorance of the episode.

Diana got up and removed all traces of her very amateurish surgery, set the room straight, and at last—seemed ages since she had finished the exercises—went to bed. It is easy enough to do this, but it is not so easy to sleep; Diana lay awake for some time, and when she fell asleep, her slumber, usually as placid and untroubled as that of a young child, was haunted by the vision of the rearing and plunging horse, the sound of blows and an angry voice, the sight of blood which stained her hands beyond cleansing.

And in her dreams, strange to say, she saw the face of the assailant quite plainly; saw that at the corner of the thin-lipped mouth there was a scar, as of a cut, about a couple of inches long. It was only in her dreams that she discerned the face thus plainly; when she awoke in the morning, the remembrance of the man's countenance was as dim and vague as it had been on the preceding evening.

"You look pale and tired this morning, Diana," Mrs. Burton said, as Diana stood at the breakfast-table, cutting bread and butter. "Did you have a bad night? I thought I heard you come down again and move about in the kitchen."

Diana bent over the loaf and colored uneasily; and she would have liked to make a clean breast of it; but she glanced at Mrs. Burton's careworn face, with its chronic expression of anxious apprehension, and replied:

"Yes, I was moving about, aunt. But I am all right this morning. I am going for a long walk; to the top of Oak Hill, if I can; and you will find that I shall return with a tremendous color and a perfectly appalling appetite."

She set off soon after breakfast, and tried to forget the incident of last night; but, of course, she failed to do so. Highway robbery—or attempted murder, which was it?—are not daily occurrences in the lives of village schoolmistresses—and once or twice she caught herself thinking of Lord Dalesford; for she knew that it must have been he. The opinion, founded on hearsay, that she had formed of that nobleman had not, of course, been favorable; and it was not much more so now. He seemed to her to be a reckless, dissipated man, whose only object in life was the pursuit of pleasure of an ignoble sort, in which drinking and gambling figured conspicuously. Brave—oh, yes; he had shown plenty of courage! And good-natured; but, perhaps, it was sheer indolence and the desire to avoid trouble which had held him back from any attempt to find the footpad. And yet, easy as it was to sneer and condemn Lord Dalesford, something within her pleaded for him. Not his good looks alone, though they were striking enough, but a certain easy good temper apparent in voice and manner, and that indescribable something which proclaims the Man.

She thought of him so much that her quick, maiden sensitiveness became annoyed.

"Bother Lord Dalesford!" she said, with a certain irritation. "For Heaven's sake, let me forget him!"

But though she succeeded in driving him from her thoughts, she was reminded of him again as she went down the hill into the road; for the Wrayborough carriage passed her. The earl was seated in it—a tall, aristocratic man, who looked little more than middle-aged, though his hair was white and his face lined with fine wrinkles. He leaned back in the stately barouche, with its powdered and richly liveried servants, one gloved hand, as small as a woman's, resting on one side of the carriage, the other toying with his eye-glasses. His lordship was strikingly handsome, and Diana saw where Lord Dalesford had got his good looks. As she happened to step into the road almost abreast of the carriage, his lordship quickly raised his pince-nez and scanned her. The sight of a pretty girl had always brought a smile to his face, and Diana's beauty brought one there now. It flashed in his dark eyes, which were as bright as a young man's, and curved the delicately-out-lips. With a swift elevation of the finely penciled eye-brows he raised his hat, as if with an instinctive recognition of, and tribute to, her youth and beauty. But Diana, who was not prepared for the salute, let it go unacknowledged, and the carriage rolled past her, leaving a trail of dust behind it.

There was more dust the next day, for a number of carriages drove through the village and up the road to the great house.

"There is a big dinner-party at the Hall, a bachelor party," Mrs. Burton remarked. "It was to have been yesterday, but Lord Dalesford met with an accident the night before; fell from his horse coming from Lowminster. He was intoxicated, they say."

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Edmonton, Alberta, Can. — "I think it is no more than rights for me to thank you for what your kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."—Mrs. FRANK EMBLEY, 908 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.
Beatrice, Neb. — "Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and have two little girls."—Mrs. R. E. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

Diana colored at the partly unjust inference.

"He—he may not have been. I—I mean, so bad," she said, rather stammeringly.

She lay awake that night and listened to the carriages as they drove away from the Hall. From some of them came bursts of laughter and snatches of song; and the horses of one vehicle, a small phaeton, probably, went by at a gallop.

Unacquainted with the great world though she was, Diana could imagine the sort of dinner-party it had been; and, half unconsciously, she sighed as she turned on her pillow and strove to shut out the discordant sounds. Why were men so foolish and so wicked?

By the fourth day, if she had not forgotten her adventure in the lane, she had ceased to dwell upon it. She had spent a very happy day. Finding it impossible to get on any longer without the children, she had gone to some of the cottages and carried off half a dozen of the smaller ones for a picnic in the woods. They had a delightful time, and Diana, having restored the healthily tired and supremely happy children to their complacent mothers, went slowly homeward.

Mrs. Burton met her at the door. "How late you are, Diana," she said. She looked more anxious and nervous than usual, and Diana made haste with a soothing response.

"They were so happy! And they begged to stay a little longer, and a little longer, teacher!" she said, smiling. "I'm sorry if I've kept you, Aunt Mary. Why are you so anxious, so fearful of something happening, dear?"

Mrs. Burton made a nervous gesture with her hands. "I'm not always so," she said wearily. "But to-night—what is that?" she broke off.

Diana, who was in the act of filling the teapot from the kettle, paused and listened.

"It is some one coming up the path," she said easily. "Don't be frightened, Aunt Mary; it is only the postman."

She took the letter from the man, lingered for a moment or two to exchange a few words, country fashion, with the pretty school lady, whom he, in common with all the other young men in Wedbury, "worshipped from afar."

Few letters came either to Mrs. Burton or Diana, and she looked at this one curiously; for it was addressed to her in a handwriting painfully distinct and formal—a business letter, evidently.

As Diana opened it, Mrs. Burton watched her from the doorway, and she started as Diana uttered a half-suppressed exclamation, and, looking up with surprise, said:

"How strange! I wonder what it means? 'Fielding!' I never heard the name before. Listen Aunt!"

"Dear Madam: I have a communication of such importance to make to you that I think it would be better if I could do so personally—I mean, by word of mouth. It would give me great pleasure to come down to you, but stress of business renders it quite impossible; and I am compelled to ask you to be good enough to come up to me as early as possible; in fact, to-morrow, if you can do so. I am presuming that your aunt, Mrs. Burton, will accompany you.

"I ought to say that there is nothing in the nature of my communication to alarm you; indeed, quite the contrary. I am yours very truly,

"John R. Fielding."

Mrs. Burton echoed the name, her hand pressed to her heart, her face deathly pale. "Don't go! You must not go, Diana!"

Diana rose and went to her.

"But why not, Aunt Mary? Do you know him? He is a lawyer, I suppose; his address is Lincoln's Inn. Why are you trembling so? What is the matter?"

Mrs. Burton struggled to regain her composure.

"Nothing—nothing," she said, drawing a long breath. "Yes; he is a lawyer. We must go."

German Forces Now Fighting in Russia.

Petrograd, via London, Oct. 19.—According to information from Warsaw, the Russian army is not anticipating the return of the Germans to that region from which they were lately repulsed with large losses. The Germans' failure there is attributed partly to the inability of the artillery and infantry to advance up and support the advance guard which approached within five miles of the city. The backwardness of the artillery is due to the practically impossible condition of the country as a result of four days continuous rain. The ground between Warsaw and Skirnewecz, Lowicz and Kutono, being dry and marshy, cannot immediately dry or freeze, making an immediate advance impossible. The one railroad from Lowicz, forty-four miles west southwest of Warsaw to Warsaw, which was the Germans only means of transporting their heavy guns, was destroyed by the Russians. Warsaw is virtually untakeable without heavy guns.

A main action is reported in the lower Vistula region, where the Germans are attempting marching toward Krasnik and Lublin. A battle is officially reported as developing south of Prizmysl, chiefly with the Austrians.

The situation of the German forces, as gathered from the official reports, is about as follows on the Russian frontier:

The German army from East Prussia, now near Mlawka, is intercepted in its efforts to pass through Plozsch to Warsaw, by masking the fortress of Novo Gorgiewsk; the Thorn—position forces are following the left bank of the Vistula and have occupied the Kutono-Lowicz district; while the Silesian army is attempting to beleaguer Inzow and extends to Sandomir.

Immigration & Finance.

Canada's growth has been retarded in many directions by the speculative mania caused by immigration. A few have been enriched, but hundreds of those who have been lured into this country by the advertising methods of the Government have been literally robbed of their all and emigrated for life through the sharp practices of speculators, and often by perfectly honest men who have themselves been deceived by inflated values. Prices have been raised all over the country until, at least in many parts of British Columbia, an unfair burden has been put on those whom our country most needs—the farmers and fruit-growers, who must make their profits out of the land—Principal Mackay, in Westminster Hall Magazine (Vancouver, B.C.)

Enemy Beaten by Speed and Gunnery.

London, Oct. 19.—Superior speed won for Britain Saturday's Naval clash off the Dutch coast, when four German destroyers were sent to the bottom by the cruiser Undaunted and her accompanying flotilla of destroyers.

The first story of the battle was brought here to-day by the crew of the steam trawler, Unity, which witnessed the fight.

The German destroyers were on patrol when they were located by the outlook of the Undaunted. The Germans put on full steam and frantically attempted to escape, but they were no match for the cruiser or the British destroyers, which had from three to five knots advantage in speed.

According to the crew of the trawler, the British flotilla had no difficulty in rounding up the Germans. The latter were completely outclassed as marksmen. The British craft quickly got the range, while nearly every shot fired by the Germans went wild. The whole engagement lasted less than an hour when, with the German war craft at the bottom of the sea, the British rescued the few survivors who were floating in the water.

Dangerous Throat Trouble Prevented by Nerviline

IT ENDS MISERY OF COLDS QUICKLY.

Don't wait till night. Get after your cold now,—this very minute, before it grows dangerous you should apply old-time "Nerviline."

Rub your chest and throat, rub them thoroughly with Nerviline. Relief will be immediate.

Nerviline will save you from lying awake to-night, coughing, choking and suffering from congestion in the chest and acute pain in the throat.

Nerviline will break up that dull neuralgic headache—will kill the cold and chill at its very beginning—will save you from perhaps a serious illness.

To take away hoarseness, to break up a grippy cold, to cure a sore throat or bad cold in the chest you can use nothing so speedy and effective as Nerviline. For forty years it has been the most largely used family remedy in the Dominion. Time has proved its merit, so can you by keeping handy on the shelf the large 50c. family size bottle; small trial size 25c. sold by any dealer anywhere.

Germans Killed Jellicoe by Cable.

As an example of the news which is being published in South America about the present war, the following remarkable message, which appeared on September 10 in the Diario del Plata, of Montevideo, a journal described as "pro-Germanic," is significant:—

GREAT BRITISH LOSS.

The Death of Commodore Jellicoe. Killed in the Naval Battle in the North Sea.

(By Our Direct Service from London.)

London, Sept. 9.—By Royal proclamation it has been made known to the English nation to-day that Commodore Jellicoe was killed in action while commanding the British Fleet.

"This news was known some days ago, but its circulation was kept back by the censorship. The victory in the North Sea was attended by great sacrifices of life and ships.

"Admiral Jellicoe was perhaps the foremost man in the British Navy. Formerly he kept up an intimate friendship with King George, who repaid to the North Sea, accompanied by his son, when he received news of the death of Jellicoe.

"When the present King George visited Montevideo in 1891 the warship which carried him here was commanded by Jellicoe.

"The official announcement of the death of the illustrious Admiral has caused a profound sensation in London, which had been greatly depressed by the rumors which were circulating.—Special Correspondent."

Sulphate of Ammonia.

St. John's Gas Light Company.

Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your Works, and I found 20.5 per cent. of NITROGEN, Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manure.

Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

Yours truly,

D. JAMES DAVIES, B.S.C., F.C.S., Analyst and Assayer.

The Right Way.

On some bright future day, maybe, the kings themselves will do their slaving, when wanting strife they'll go and scrap, and let their people do the haying. Then rulers of all grades and kinds must each one wield his private swatter, when they're made up their blooming minds on blood and death and far and slaughter. The angry king will not command his subjects to go forth in armour; he'll take his broadsword in his hand and swing it like a husky farmer. And while to scenes of gore he flees, and lops the arms from rival princes, his countrymen will trim their trees, and raise large crops of prunes and quinces. A few dead kings would make no odds, except to courtier and fawner, so let them battle for their gods, and for their crowns and misfit honor. I cannot see a reason why good men should into battle frolic, and lose their legs, and bleed and die, because some monarch has the colic. Most men who on grim horrors sup, on field of battle at this writing, would scratch their heads and give it up, if you should ask them why they're fighting. Some king or emperor or czar has told them they must march to glory, and from their persons have the tar knocked by the foe—the same old story. And so I'm waiting for the day when men no more to war will rally, and kings who suffer for a fray will do their scrapping in the alley.

A Fire Alarm.

At 3.15 a.m. to-day an alarm of fire from Box 33 summoned the Central and Western Fire Companies to the stable owned by Joseph Butler, at the head of Flower Hill where a slight fire was in progress. The firemen were on the scene promptly and succeeded in controlling the blaze before much damage was done to the building, though a valuable horse was smothered by the smoke. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Digby From London.

The Furness Liner Digby, Captain Trinick, seven and a half days from London, reached port yesterday afternoon, bringing a small mail, 550 tons of cargo and as passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Messrs. Mimmo, Ferguson, Moore, Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley, Edwards, Miss Barnes, Miss Brooks. She leaves again about noon for Halifax.

During the passage heavy weather was continuous, but for which a quicker run would have been made. The Digby sails again this evening for Halifax.

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Eczema—and itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally eczematous—delays are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 60c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Beals Becker.

Red McThee says: This morning after always sad. An' 'fore this safe an' sane Fourth had chucked kill-em-quicks for horns July the fifth copped out the bolt for all the feels that would be felt on any after morne. An' yet in 1888, July the fifth, some old 'stork picks to start Beals Becker out. 'Twas out in El Dorado, too, where Kansas cyclones up an' blew birth-places all about.

But somehow Beals came through all right an' got his normal weight an' height. An' when he came nineteen he joined the team at Little Rock to show the folks what baseball stock he'd stored up in his bean. Three years of bushin' made him fit to pack his little tray-lin kit an' board the Pirate ship. He didn't quite outshine the moon and went to Cincy pretty soon. 'Twas there he got his grip.

But Cincy never keeps good men, so Dooin copped off Becker when he hit his topnotch gat. Beals leads the Philly hitmits now an' shows the old league gard'ners how to play that left estate. He hits well over Three-00 an' often makes his bingles go for more than just one base. He does his playin' all left hand. But, that ain't such a bad birth-brand consid'rin time an' place.

It's quite as foolish as it is annoying to keep on coughing since "PHORATONE COUGH MIXTURE" is guaranteed to soothe and heal the irritated parts at once, and to rapidly destroy the very cause of this aggravating nuisance. Hundreds of persons are complaining every day about the cough or cold they have had for a long time, and they are not able to get rid of it.

Don't let a cough or cold hang on to you day after day and run the chance of catching and developing the "cough" that is not easy to throw off. You will avoid all this worry (about the cough or cold you have) by obtaining "Phoratone Cough Mixture" at once.

Gin Pills

FOR THE KIDNEYS

Sell Well in The United States As Well As Throughout Canada

These wonderful pills—doing their work so well and helping to cure so many people—form a bond of union with our good friends to the South. Here are three letters from various parts of the United States, showing the demand for Gin Pills, a truly Canadian product which has helped and is helping thousands of Canadians to get well.

Letters from Massachusetts, New York and Indiana.

I received two boxes of your excellent Gin Pills and they relieved me so much that I am quite pleased with the results. I gave an order to my druggist for some more but they have not come and I, being in a hurry, I borrowed a box from a lady friend, who is also using them. I am sending her 8 boxes which I would ask you to send at once.

Being troubled with my Kidneys and Stomach, I was recommended to try Gin Pills. I purchased a box at a nearby drug store and I can sincerely and truthfully say that they have been wonderfully effective, and I am now feeling splendid, having nearly finished the box. I'll continue their use for a time longer so that they get at the seat of my trouble.

Will you please send me a box of Gin Pills. When I sent for the last box, I was all crippled up with Rheumatism and my face was so badly swollen that I could hardly see out of my eyes, but after taking about a dozen pills, I felt better, and after taking them a few days, I had no more pain. I never intend to be without them as I have tried so many other pills and got no results.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER advertisement featuring an image of a tin and text: 'We unhesitatingly recommend Magic Baking Powder as being the best, purest and most healthful baking powder that it is possible to produce. CONTAINS NO ALUM. All ingredients are plainly printed on the label.'

Evening Telegram. W. J. HERDER, Proprietor. W. F. LLOYD, Editor. SATURDAY, October 24, 1914. A Last Desperate Attempt.

By all accounts the Germans seem to be making a most desperate effort along the coast of the Channel to turn the flanks of the Allies. They appear to be rushing fresh men to this portion of the battle field in order to get through and turn the flanks of the allies. The fact that they have large bodies of cavalry which appear to be useless and are being mowed down, indicates that they have a use for them, should the line of the allies be broken, and that they intend to use them to harass the rear and the retreat, can they but break through. The great rushes of the earlier part of the war were at length brought to an end by the steady pertinacious and determined rearguard action on the west fought by Field Marshal French. Then followed the fight in the Marne and the driving back of the Germans and the taking up of new positions. The new lines have taken up nearly six weeks to establish. They now entered from the Swiss border near Belfort in a wavy line northward to Verdun, another way line to Compiègne, and a third line to Neuport on the coast of Belgium. It is this latter line that has been under development the past month. Meanwhile every effort to break through the lines established have been frustrated by the allies, and the allies made the pace in extending the last line to the coast. It will be in the mind of many of our readers that desperate attempts were made at Belfort, at Nancy, at Toul, and St. Mihiel, at Rheims, at Soissons, at Roye, at Langres, at Arras, at Lille, at Hazebrouck, to break through, but while ground was given and taken, the line remained intact. The line has now closed to the coast and the Germans are making their most furious effort to break through along the coast. The result of the engagement will be awaited with confidence, particularly as warships are rendering great service, where the German forces are near enough to the coast to be reached by ship guns.

Obituary. ERIC COEN. With feelings of great sorrow, we have to chronicle the death of one of our most promising young citizens in the almost sudden passing of Mr. Eric Coen. Up to Monday last he appeared in his usual health, but on Tuesday morning he was suddenly stricken with a severe pain which had apparently symptoms of appendicitis, and was treated accordingly. As no relief seemed to come, Dr. Fraser was called in on Friday morning and at once saw the serious condition of the patient and that he was suffering from peritonitis. Two operations were performed to relieve the pain. It was impossible to save him, and he passed peacefully away last evening just before nine o'clock. Of a bright disposition, and courteous bearing, Eric Coen had many friends who will miss him in the city, while those in the outports, especially on the West Coast where he has been travelling of late years in the interests of his firm, the Standard Mfg. Co., Ltd., will be sorry that he can no longer come to them. He was only 21 years old and took an active interest in the various sports and only this summer had started a small baseball club among the employees of the Standard Factory, with whom he was a favourite. The shock is deepening in its suddenness and one can hardly realize that the active and well figure of last Sunday has left us, but we may be sure that though we see the body no more, yet death has given the soul of Eric Coen new life, and that however we may sorrow, the ever-abiding comfort of a Great All-Father and the faith that somehow, somewhere it will be best is a refuge that nothing can gain say. To his mother and father, his sisters, Marguerite and Mildred, and his brother Arthur who feel his loss so deeply, the heartfelt sympathy of the whole city will go out, and the Evening Telegram joins in the general expression of regret at the loss of one so young and popular. The funeral will take place to-morrow, Sunday, at 3 p.m., from his residence, 32 York Street.

DEED. On Friday, October 23rd, at 8.40 p.m., of peritonitis, Eric Henry, aged 21 years, eldest son of George C. and Ada Coen. Funeral on to-morrow (Sunday), at 3 p.m., from his late residence, 32 York Street.

Fishery Report. Oct. 17. From P. J. Wade (Salmon Cove Point to Colliers North Point)—The total catch is 1070 qts, and for last week 3. Eight dorles and skills but no boats are fishing. Prospects are discouraging and the bait supply is insufficient for local use. The above catch to date includes 920 qts. landed at Conception Harbor by three Labrador schooners. Squid was taken on only a couple of occasions during the week.

A Startling Discovery

In the shaping of human events the merest strands of chance play an important part in the weaving of events. Marian, for many months now, had been gloriously unconscious of the deception of Jack Meadows, by means of which he had led the Chiff Dwellers editor to accept and pay for her manuscripts, thus, in effect, supporting her with his own funds ever since his departure for home and then for the other side of the sea.

one of my first tasks after I joined the editorial staff of the Chiff Dwellers was to rewrite some of her work, and with it into some semblance of presentability. "And I suppose the young lady involved is blissfully unconscious of the whole arrangement?" asked the other. "Oh yes, quite! It's a perfect joke of the office. Isn't it disgusting that a supposedly reputable magazine would stoop to such a thing? This is one of the reasons why a young writer who finds it so difficult to break in over the line of acceptance."

EMBARGO ON SUGAR.

LONDON, To-Day. An official statement this evening says the Government has prohibited the importation of sugar into the United Kingdom with the object of preventing German and Austrian sugar reaching here from neutral countries.

FRENCH CAPTURE ALTKIRCH.

PARIS, To-Day. The French to-day captured Altkirch, Upper Alsace, at the point of the bayonet. Two German aeroplanes were seen coming towards Paris to-day from Compiègne but a squadron of French machines pursued the Germans and the latter disappeared northward.

THE WELCOME OF CANADIAN CONTINGENT.

LONDON, To-Day. Never has Canada played so conspicuous a part in the London and Paris Press generally as during the past ten days in connection with the arrival of the first Canadian Contingent. No daily or weekly can be scanned which does not contain flattering eulogies on the Canadians and the quality of men sent over. The Illustrated London News, published to-day, heads the page of varied snap-shots unrivalled since the William the Conqueror portrait. The Minister of Militia appears in the centre of the page which shows types of the contingent. The text at the foot of the page says in physique, smartness and sturdiness the Canadians leave nothing to be desired. Major General Sam Hughes is warmly congratulated on all sides on the news of his promotion, which appears in the evening papers.

position it can retrench itself and start another siege battle such as that which occurred on the river Aisne in France, southward of the PIRAZA Canal.

mans still hold the river Vistula, except in front of the fortress Ivangored, where they were driven back by an attack from the stronghold. The Austrian army, which was so often described as routed and destroyed in the battles of Galicia, has sprung into life again and is attacking the Russian left wing. The Austrians, however, the Germans are attempting another barrier at the river San, north of Jaraslou. The Germans claim a victory over the Russians west of Augustowa, following fighting reported by them yesterday in the direction of Ossowetz, south of Augustowa. It shows the Russians to reinforce their advance from East Prussia in the government of Grodne, East Suwalki, doubtless with the object of compelling the Russians to reinforce their army in that region. All these movements, however, have brought the Belgians no nearer their goals which cannot be attained until an army is destroyed or one of the other of the contending forces become too exhausted to fight further. The Admiralty to-night issued a report in which it was said that the German cruiser Karlsruhe had captured 13 British steamers in the Atlantic.

Takes Off Dandruff Hair Stops Falling

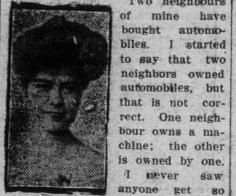

Girls! Try this! Makes hair thick, glossy, fluffy, beautiful—No more itching scalp. Within ten minutes after an application of Danderrine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. A little Danderrine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy. Just moisten a cloth with Danderrine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderrine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that's all—your hair will have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderrine.

At the Crescent.

The Crescent Picture Palace has a great show on to-day. Last night the large audience present at the Crescent were delighted with the great war feature "The Battle of Manila." This picture was photographed at the actual engagement in and wavy, and beside the army, the American Navy is shown in action; the "Universal Animated Weekly" is a real full of current happenings and is most instructive as well as interesting. "When He Wore the Blue," a Nestor farce comedy made for laughable purposes. The world-famous "Bertie's Brothers" the French acrobats, are shown in their great trapeze act, a wonderful feat of agility and strength. The extra picture put on instead of the usual song—"Mr. Kildick, we understand, being still unwell—is a comedy reel entitled "A Quiet Smoke" but is anything but quiet. This is a very fine show and well worth seeing. Go to-night and put in a pleasant hour at the "Crescent."

Two Automobiles.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Two neighbours of mine have bought automobiles. I started to say that two neighbours owned automobiles, but that is not correct. One neighbour owns a machine; the other is owned by one. I never saw anyone get so much pleasure out of anything as the man who owns his automobile gets out of that machine. It is not at all an expensive car, in fact it is of the make which people who care more for the appearance of having money than for anything else on earth, are ashamed to own, but it is efficient and comfortable, and swift enough to pass most of the other cars on the road under the guidance of his skilled driver. And if the returns in pleasure of the sun expended could be properly computed, I am sure the investment would be found to be paying at least fifty per cent interest. For it is never too maddy or too cold or too stormy, too early or too late, for its owner to take that car out, if there is need of its services. Moreover, although built for five, it can carry six or even seven on a pinch. All the children of the neighbourhood have had rides in it; it seldom has an empty seat, and when there does chance to be one, the owner will often hail some unknown person on the highways and byways and offer him a lift. I saw this car go by the other day and someone remarked how shabby it looked for a comparatively new machine. "Yes," I said, "but it is a glorified shabbiness." The other man bought his machine about the same time and it still looks like a new car. Why shouldn't it? Its owner, or rather its slave, only takes it out now and then when the weather conditions are just right; he spends golden hours when he might be out under summer skies, in the garage polishing and repolishing; he delights to let children enter his car for fear they will scratch some of his highly polished surfaces, and he wouldn't give a muddy wayfarer a lift any more than he would a mud turtle.

Yes, his car looks like new, and it may last a little longer, but I call it a poor investment for all that. And yet I don't suppose it is for him, since his idea of happiness probably consists of riding around in a spotless car and exciting admiration and envy. It's all in the point of view. The above sums up many people's whole conception of happiness—the pleasure that comes from having a hearty, happy-go-lucky good time they are utterly ignorant of, or indifferent to—I don't know which. Poor creatures, what a flat, tasteless thing life must be to them! And yet I suppose they pity anyone who doesn't think as they do. Perhaps after all, it is they who are right and I am in the wrong. But, somehow, I can't think so.

Dry Irritating Back Of Bronchitis Instantly Relieved By "Catarrhazone"

No Failure, Cure In Every Case Treated by Catarrhazone. Catarrhazone can't fail to cure Bronchitis; its so healing, soothing and balsamic that every trace of the disease flies before it. When you inhale the pure piny vapor of Catarrhazone, you send healing medication to the spots that are diseased and sore. Isn't it rational to apply medicine where the disease exists? Certainly! and that's why Catarrhazone is so successful. It goes where the trouble really is, gets where a spray or ointment can't penetrate. For the relief and complete cure of bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, throat trouble, we guarantee Catarrhazone in every case. You don't take medicine—you don't take drowsy drugs—just breathe the balsamic essence of Catarrhazone; it does the rest safely and surely. "For three years I was seriously bothered by a bronchial cough. At night I would awaken with a dry irritable feeling in my throat. I couldn't cough up anything, but very soon coughed my throat into quite an inflamed condition. Once I got Catarrhazone Inhaler I was all right. I took it to bed, and in an attack awakened me a few minutes use of the inhaler gave me relief. Catarrhazone has cured me and I strongly urge everyone with a weak throat to use it regularly. (Signed) J. B. BEAMER, Catarrhazone will not disappoint you. Get the complete $1.00 outfit; it's guaranteed. Small size, 50c; trial or sample size, 25c. at dealers everywhere.

FRENCH OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

PARIS, Oct. 23. An official announcement given out this afternoon, says: On our left wing the very considerable German forces whose presence was reported yesterday, have continued very violent attacks in the entire region between the sea and the Canal de Le Bassée. Generally speaking the situation of the allied forces has been maintained. If the Allies have had to cede at certain points they have advanced at others. The enemy also has evidenced very great activity in the region of Arras and on the River Somme. To the north and south of the stream we have progressed particularly in the region of Rosters. In Santene, in the region of Verdun and in the region of Pont-au-Mousson we have had some partial success. On the rest of the front there is nothing to report.

Official.—In general, the enemy are making a new effort on a large part of the front, especially between the northern coast and the Oise. They are employing newly formed corps composed of soldiers recently instructed, some very young, the others rather aged, and others taken a little from all classes.

A FRENCH VERSION.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—(Official). On our left wing the action continues with great violence around Arras, La Bassée, Armentières. The allies have lost some ground at some points around La Bassée, but have won some at the East of Armentières. Generally speaking, on this part of the front the situation remains the same. To the north of the Aisne our artillery destroyed three German batteries.

A GERMAN VERSION.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(Official). On the Yser Canal yesterday we gained successes south of Dixmunde and our troops advanced. To the west of Lille our attacks were successful and we took several villages. On the rest of the western front it was generally quiet. In the eastern theatre of the war Russian attacks near West Augustow have been repulsed. We captured several machine guns. There is no definite news from the southeastern field of war.

BRITISH OFFICERS KILLED.

LONDON, Oct. 23. The British casualty list issued today but dated October 18th, shows 19 officers killed including Lieut. Sir R. G. W. Duff, of the Second Life Guards. He was 29 years old. News has also been received here of the death in action of Lord John Spencer Cavendish, son of Lord Cavendish and youngest brother of the Duke of Devonshire. He was a major in the First Life Guards.

BELGIAN REFUGEES.

ROSENDAAL, Oct. 23. Twelve thousand Belgian refugees passed through Rosendaal for Antwerp and other Belgian cities Thursday. Nearly forty thousand refugees so far passed through here for Antwerp, Malines and other cities.

BLOWN UP BY MINE.

LONDON, Oct. 23. The Swedish steamer Alice, bound from London was blown up by a mine in the North Sea and sunk in three minutes. Her crew was saved.

ABANDONED FOOD SUPPLIES.

LONDON, Oct. 23. A despatch from Warsaw says that in the German retreat from Warsaw the soldiers had to abandon their food supplies, and many of the prisoners are exhausted from starvation. One complete unit of 800 men was captured by the Russians.

KAISER'S NEPHEW KILLED.

LONDON, Oct. 23. Prince Maximilian of Hesse, son of the youngest sister of Emperor William, was killed in the fighting on October 12.

At the City Hall.

The regular weekly meeting of the Civic Commission took place last evening, the Chairman, Mr. W. G. Gosling, presiding, and the following members being present: Messrs. Harris, Ayre, McNamara, Bradshaw, McGrath, Morris, Anderson and Withers.

A letter from Rt. Rev. Mons. Roche, V.G., was read. The Monsignor acknowledged receipt of the resolutions of sympathy forwarded by the Board on the death of His Grace Archbishop Howley, and wished to convey the thanks of the clergy and the Archdiocese in general for the same, and also for the kind and sympathetic references made at the meeting by the different members of the Board.

The request of S. Knight for share of patronage re repairing carts, etc., of the Council, was referred to the Sanitary Superintendent.

The offer of J. McNeill to supply Dutch Bulbs for the parks will be considered.

The Health officer will be asked to report on the advisability of permitting an old house near 35 Hayward Avenue to be used as a stable.

W. & G. Rendell will be instructed to erect a fence of squared timber to enclose their vacant land east of Cochrane Street. This led to the discussion of the fencing of vacant lands throughout the city. It was decided that on all vacant lands between Shea & Co.'s and Patrick St. a close board fence must be erected, except where the fences are in good condition, and suitable to the surroundings. The question of fencing the property at the corner of Hutchings St. will be referred to the Solicitor, as the owner has already been instructed to improve it.

The Public Works Department will be asked to consider the erection of a railing at the front of the Court House.

Owing to lack of funds the Board is unable to install water and sewerage for Mrs. Skeans, Field Street, though she offered to refund the cost of same in monthly instalments.

Water connection to a house on William Street will be made as requested.

The Engineer will attend to the placing of a pipe, instead of a small bridge, over the drain near T. Cornick's house, Mundy Pond Road.

The Engineer will report as to drainage before J. Deer can erect house at the junction of King's Bridge and Portugal Cove Roads.

The Water Committee did not approve of the erection of a hydrant on the Cove Road.

A special meeting will be held next week to discuss some methods for the collection of outstanding water and sewerage rates.

A drain of concrete and cobble stone will be laid near the residence of Mr. R. Shortall, Cross Roads.

Tenders will be invited for the supplying of hay and oats to the Sanitary Department.

The uniforms for the Sanitary Inspectors will be supplied as heretofore.

The Water Committee will inquire into the placing of a hydrant at Harvey & Co.'s premises for the watering of vessels.

Rheumatism Crippled Her.

Zam-Buk Gave Quick Relief.

For rheumatism, sciatica, and stiffened muscles, nothing can equal Zam-Buk. Mrs. Mary Harman, Wheatley Ont., writes: "About four years ago I had rheumatism very badly. It affected my right arm and leg, and was so bad that I could hardly move my hand. I was quite helpless, and could not do my work—could not even dress myself, but had to be attended to like a child. The rheumatism in my leg made walking almost impossible, and at times I could hardly move across the house. A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I obtained some and had it rubbed thoroughly into the affected muscles. It was soon evident that Zam-Buk was doing its work, and in a short time I could walk around the house with ease. My arm got better, I could dress myself, and needed very little personal attention. I continued with the treatment, rubbing Zam-Buk in thoroughly every day, and in a few weeks' time the rheumatism was driven completely out of my system. The cure was permanent, too, as since that time I have never been troubled with rheumatism."

Mr. Lawrence Cameron, of Richmond, P.E.I., says: "I have been a great sufferer from a sore and crippled back, but after persevering with Zam-Buk I am completely cured. I feel that I cannot praise this remedy enough."

Numerous other similar cases could be cited. Zam-Buk has benefited many. Why not you? Use Zam-Buk also for eczema, piles, cuts, burns, bruises, cold sores, chapped hands, or for any disease or injury of the skin. At all druggists and stores, 50c. or post-paid from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

Highlanders Parade.

The Newfoundland Highlanders will hold their last Church Parade for the season to-morrow, attending 10 service at the Kirk. Over fifty recruits have joined the ranks during the past month, and it is expected that to-morrow's turn-out will be a large one.

For Our Soldiers.

Yesterday, at Government House, the Women's Patriotic Association held an exhibition of the articles of clothing made by the different workers throughout the island, for our soldiers at the front. The articles included socks, shirts, pillowcases, hospital jackets, knitted caps, handkerchiefs and were forwarded from Spaniard's Bay, Carbonear, Fermeuse, Stephenville, and Twillingate, the latter place contributing 1,144 pairs of socks. At many other outposts the workers are busy sewing and knitting, and their contributions will be received in due time. In the city about 800 ladies are engaged four days a week making garments.

A shipment of 5,000 yards of flannel arrived yesterday by the Digby and will be distributed to the different centres, when cut into suitable lengths. The various church guilds are working steadily, and the members of first aid classes and nurses are making bandages. Some young ladies who contributed so much to the supplies of the Volunteers while in camp, are now making garments for the relief of the front.

All the clothing received is of the best material and workmanship, and the first shipment will probably be made by the next Tabasco.

10 Cent "Cascarets" Is Your Laxative

Best Liver and Bowel Cleanser and Stomach Regulator in the world—Work while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pils, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

"Keep your 'insides' pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove undigested, sour food and foul gasses, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe or sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Severe Colds, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.
