Altho in the longest address he has yet delivered to congress, the president touched upon a variety of subjects, the predominating note was the necessity of a military preparedness to meet the requirements of the next generation as they will affect the American continent.

NEWS FROM THE CITY HALL

CONTROLLERS DISCUSSED THE TRAFFIC PROPOSALS

Report Printed Exclusively by The Toronto World Was Considered at Private Session.

SPEND EIGHTEEN MILLIONS

Scheme Drawn Up by Experts Involves Tremendous Expenditures and Changes.

The joint report of Works Commissioner R. C. Harris, E. L. Cousin, chief engineer of the Toronto Harbor Board, and E. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission, regarding a hydro radial system for the city, announced exclusively in The World yesterday, was discussed at a private session of the board of control yesterday afternoon. Sir Adam Beck and the engineers being present.

The cost of the system, which amounts to $18,517,000, is made up as follows:

West line from terminal to west focal point, 6.2 miles	$4,076,000
East line from terminal to east focal point, Coakwell and Danforth aves., 4.7 miles	$3,120,000
North line, Queen street to north focal point, Duplex ave. and Beir Line, 3.2 miles	7,698,000
East and west yards and freight facilities	1,365,000
Terminal station, water tank, Yonge street, and car house	2,560,000
Total	$18,817,000

The conclusion is that the existing surface system, if provided with more cars and operated with greater efficiency, will adequately serve within the city limits which existed in 1911. It is maintained that the best entrance for the new system is at College street, and that the entrance from the north can be effected by means of tunnels.

An additional expense of $8,000,000 will provide a four-track subway from the water front to College street, and with a terminal at College street one further north, is hardly thought feasible. The idea of a terminal at the water front is to provide for connection with water traffic, and that a trunk line will eventually provide a semi-rapid transit system.

Street Railway Purchase. Among the recommendations made in the purchase of the Toronto Street Railway system at the expiration of its franchise in 1921, is the building of a transportation commission composed of representatives of the city, the Harbor Commission and the Provincial Hydro Commission, and which will have everything in readiness for the taking over of the present lines.

There will be constructed three trunk radial entrance lines, with the necessary terminal areas, and that the east line will come from a point near Coakwell and Danforth avenues, running south, then west to the main terminal in the center of the city, and from that point elevated. The focusing point in the north is the intersection of Duplex avenue and the old G.T.R. belt line, from where the line runs south, elevated over Barnard Park, from where it crosses the main terminal in the center of the city, and from there it runs south, elevated over the Exhibition grounds, under which a tunnel will be built as far as St. Nicholas avenue, then continuing to the main terminal between Yonge and Bay streets. This terminal point will be the focusing point of all.

No Rapid Transit. A rapid transit system at present is not recommended and the engineer believes that no portion of the system should be given over to the use of any other company without the consent of the Ontario Hydro Power Commission. No suggestions are made as to how the scheme can be financed. A reworking of the present street car laws would relieve conditions which exist now, and further, the change of the tracks in the city to a standard gauge. It is also recommended that a tax be taken at once towards the 1914 purchase.

These conclusions and recommendations have been arrived at after a most careful study of Toronto's growth in population and area, and the probable increase in years to come, and there has also been taken into consideration the effect which the construction of the lines will have on the value of real estate.

CITY HALL NOTES

Tax arrears for 1914 were reduced during November by $39,979, the balance still outstanding being $1,053,000.

Insurance of $1000 each on the lives of seven Toronto soldiers have been killed in action will be paid to the beneficiaries.

It has been decided not to employ a superintendent at the civic employment bureau and as a result, P. L. Brown will not secure the position.

A suitable number of copies of Sir Adam Beck's provincial hydro radial proposition will be printed, according to the decision of the board of control yesterday.

Mayor Church announced yesterday that as a result of his visit to Ottawa the military authorities will pay the cost of erecting proper huts at the Exhibition camp for the soldiers.

Attendance at the new technical school, including the evening classes, is well over 6000, according to Trustee Fairbairn, who believes that branches will have to be built eventually to care for the increased growth.

Three building permits, representing a total value of $30,000, were yesterday issued by City Architect Pearce. He will build two detached dwellings at Bathgate at a cost of $9000. H. C. Long will build two detached dwellings on Keele at a cost of $10,000 and N. Hicks received a permit for two pairs of semi-detached dwellings on Oakwood at a cost of $11,000.

John Edwards stated before Official Arbitrator Drayton yesterday that his property at 1319 Bathurst street was worth $16,000 before the war, but that hill improvement had been made, and that in his opinion the work had depreciated the value by $3225. The claim for this amount of damages from the city is made on the ground that the grading lowered the street level and made the house more inaccessible.

The works commissioner will also be asked to make a report on the improvements made on the roads in the city, with a view to securing an express service. All three clauses were carried.

A communication from the Toronto Hydro-Electric System, regarding an application for an additional appropriation of $1,375,000, was referred to the next meeting of the treasury board. The works commissioner is now to furnish a copy of the report of their engineer regarding Earlecourt.

BUS SERVICE PLAN IS TURNED DOWN BY CITY

Mayor is Not in Favor of Granting Rights to Any Person.

BOARD OF CONTROL MEET

Express Service to Cover Greater Toronto is to Be Considered.

The question of allowing a bus franchise to Robert McBride came up yesterday before the board of control yesterday, and it was explained that the company McBride represents proposes to spend $25,000 on the scheme at North Yonge street, and maintain a five-mile service 18 hours a day, including Sunday. At night they would offer a half-hour service if it was required, and the books of the company would be open to the city auditor once a month.

Controller O'Neill observed that the idea would adjust the present situation, but Mayor Church is not in favor of giving such rights to any person. I think the city should operate the buses, the "my policy." The matter was held over for another conference, and finally refused.

An express service for a greater Toronto was advocated by the mayor, who moved that an application be made to the railway board for Canada, for a service which would give equality of service to all parts of the city. For some time past this question has been the cause of discussion, particularly in the Eastcourt district, and the second clause in the motion relates to that section in which the railway board is asked to furnish a copy of the report of their engineer regarding Earlecourt.

WILSON WAS BITTER IN ATTACKING HYPHENS

President Called for Legislation to End Reign of Anarchy.

HEARTILY APPLAUDED

Republicans Joined Democrats in Manifesting Approval of Sentiments.

administration plan for the army and navy passed without a ripple of applause, and his references to pan-Americanism were only punctuated with evidences of approval. Republicans and Democrats alike joined in an emphatic demonstration at his words of condemnation for those he assailed so unreservedly.

Poison of Disloyalty. "There are citizens of the United States, I blush to admit," he declared, "born under other flags, but welcome under our generous naturalization laws to the full freedom and opportunity of America, who have poured the poison of disloyalty into the very arteries of our national life; who have sought to bring the authority and good name of our government into contempt, to destroy our industries wherever they thought it effective for their vindictive purposes to strike at them, and to debase our politics to the uses of foreign intrigue. No federal laws exist to meet this situation because such a thing would have seemed incredible in the past. Such creatures of passion, disloyalty and anarchy must be crushed out. They are not many, but they are infinitely malignant, and their association with us is a danger to our peace. Let us close over them at once."

The president took pan-Americanism at the very outset of his message, and he stood so far as we are concerned, on a footing of genuine equality and unquestioned independence. We retain unabated the spirit which was so frankly embodied in our national motto. We still mean to make a common cause of national independence and of political liberty in America, but that purpose is now better understood, so far as it concerns ourselves.

The moral, the president said, was that the states of America were not hostile rivals, but co-operating friends, and that their association was likely to give them a new significance in world affairs.

"Separated, they are subject to all the cross-currents of the confused politics of a world of hostile rivalries," said he. "United in spirit and purpose, they can be a potent force in the world's history. This is pan-Americanism. It has none of the spirit of empire in it. It is a feeling of national development, of the spirit of law, and independence, and liberty, and mutual service."

Stand Firmly on Rights. Great democracies, the president said, are peaceful, not seeking war, and without thought of conquest or domination. "But just because we demand unimpaired development and the undisturbed enjoyment of our own lives, upon our own principles of right and liberty," he declared, "we resent from whatever source it may come, the suggestion of a common cause with all partisans of liberty on this side of the sea, and have deemed it an important duty to make plain to the people of all outside countries that we ourselves should be have no American trade as a whole for the independent nations and political freedom."

National Training. From that point, the president emphasized the need of a national training for the youth of the United States, and then referred to the plans outlined for the army and navy, which he urged congress to sanction and put into effect, "as soon as they can be properly scrutinized and discussed."

Subsequent demonstrations of approval greeted the president's declaration of the government of our own lives, to remain justly neutral toward the warring nations abroad, his assertion of friendship for Mexico, and his generous recommendations for an increased merchant marine.

But chief attention centered about the delineation of the plans for national defense, the proclamation of pan-Americanism, and the virility of the president's attack upon Americans who, he said, had brought the good name of the government into contempt. He delivered his denunciation in crisp phrases, and congress seemed to hang on every word. Cheers arose from every part of the hall when he concluded it, and the demonstration reached its climax when the president urged enactment of laws to purge the nation of its internal "evil."

Army of 140,000. He endorsed the program already announced by the secretary of war, and in brief for a standing army of 140,000 men, a militia more directly under general control of 400,000 men, and a strong and better balanced navy. To meet the increased expenditures this program will entail the president recommended internal revenue taxes of various kinds, including an additional tax upon income stamps used on commercial paper, and a stamp upon the iron and steel industries.

Evidently he does not desire any tariff tinkering for the purpose of increasing the revenue of the government from customs.

Merchant Marine. The ship purchase bill is to be re-introduced with some modifications as an administration measure. Tho it will provide for ocean fleets under government ownership and control, the president declares that no obstacles will be thrown in the way of private capital entering the shipping business. On the contrary he recommended that all laws which have heretofore prevented vessels seeking American registry be repealed, and he intimated that the government will gladly retire from the steamship business whenever private capital shows itself ready to build up an American merchant marine. His policy, he declared, will open up trade routes, especially with the Americas.

Mr. Wilson was much less definite in handling the railway situation. He admitted that the roads would soon be unable to deal adequately with the problems of transportation, and recommended that a commission be appointed to study the situation. While trying to believe that the roads had some ground for complaint, he declared that the work done by the Interstate Commerce Commission was admirable.

BENEFIT FOR NINETY-SEVENTH. Cecil Fanning Will Sing at Massey Hall on Saturday.

Cecil Fanning, the celebrated baritone, who is coming to Massey Hall Saturday, Dec. 11, to give a recital, assisted by H. R. Turpin at the piano, has stated that he will donate the proceeds of the concert to the 97th Battalion, the new battalion that is being formed by Americans in Canada. The concert is being held under the auspices of the American Club, and judging from the program, should be one of the best recitals of the season.

COSTUMES FOR SKATERS TO BE MOST ALLURING. Outdoor Sport Likely to Supercede Dancing in Popularity in Near Future. DEMANDS OF FASHION. Heavy Wool and Crepe Serges, Broadcloths and Tweeds Share Favor in Decree.

Skating costumes promise to be very alluring this winter, for it is said on excellent authority that owing to such unprecedented conditions skating will out dance from its almost unrivaled popularity. Out-door sports are continuing to monopolize much of milder's daytime hours, and in this, as in every other diversion, her costume must be above criticism. Heavy wool serges, crepe serges, broadcloths and tweeds share favor for the suit in question, always with its generous trimming of fur, silk braid and fut-tus.

Among the novelties for the out-door enthusiasts are shown charming little sets of wool caps, scarfs and gloves in white or colors, with broad stripes and trimmings of fringe. These contrast with the suit in a one-tone material.

Actual Scenes of the Battle of Ypres Among Those Thrown on Screen. An audience of less than 100 was on hand at Massey Hall yesterday afternoon, to applaud the films depicting the Canadian forces in training and on actual service, which are being shown afternoons and evenings for the remainder of the week. These pictures have been authorized by the government, and are the work of Lieut. J. W. G. White, D.C.M. (wounded), of the 7th Battalion, First B. C. Reserve, and the 5th Western. The first views shown yesterday afternoon were of St. Elieville and wounded men, hospital life at Shorncliffe, two wonderful reviews by the King, and incidents of Sir Robert Borden's stay in London. The films were first shown in Ottawa two weeks ago, and have since been enthusiastically received at all points.

CRY FROM FRANCE IS FOR MORE BLANKETS. Secours Nationale Makes Appeal for Destitute People Without Shelter. WARM GARMENTS ALSO. Portable Houses May Be Forwarded if Arrangements Can Be Made.

That the war and its devastating consequences are still living, vital to anyone who visits the Secours Nationale at 51 West King street, the headquarters for French relief in Ontario. "There is a falling off in endeavor," said Mrs. Sidney Small, one of the most steadfast workers that the call of patriotism has produced, "a falling off for which it is hard to account. Yet the need becomes more and more as great as ever. There are thousands of French refugees utterly destitute in the isolated parts of northern France and it is for them we want blankets and warm clothes as the season advances." "What we want particularly are blankets—blankets, blankets, blankets!" she continued, becoming more and more earnest as the need grew greater because of her mental vision, "in one village alone in France 600 children were left roaming helplessly about without father or mother, after an onslaught by the enemy."

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat. Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More. "It certainly gives most anything to be able to eat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman who has tried Sargol, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood, much of the fat and flesh promoting elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. To correct this condition of fat, once a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six splendid stimulative agents. Taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by the leading druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

CLOTHING IS NEEDED. Secours Nationale Issues Urgent Appeal for Assistance for Victims of European War. SYMPATHY ASKED FOR SOLO PIANIST. A Picture of Him Plodding All Over the City Searching for Good Instrument. There must be an impression that the life of a solo pianist is singularly unheroic. We read from time to time that M. Ivanoffsky has selected a certain piano as the one best suited for this temperamental visitor, calling at wareroom after wareroom, testing the pedals, mechanism, leaning on the bass with a succession of mighty blows, and with rampant vehemence, hears him say to the manager: "No, this will not suit. I regret it, but there is a bigger chest measurement and more sonority." One imagines such a personage going on in every city, and the reason for the critic's statements that pianists are a sad and melancholy crew. The thoughtful and discerning folk do not take much stock in these stories of selection. They know well by some artist of the amazing excellence of some piano has been bought, a matter of bargain—like beef, or woolen underwear, or any other article of merchandise—the laborer offers an advertised endorsement by any distinguished musical visitor of the Goulay piano? No, and you never will need to seek that sort of publicity. They do not sent out a piano without payment, either for a visiting musician or for a Toronto studio. They make an instrument so honest and so supremely good from pedal to top, that they can depend upon merit alone. Merit has sold the Goulay for twelve years. Merit has brought countless laurels to the Goulay warerooms, a success that was not appreciably halted even by the war.

MEMBER IS ADDED TO MUNITION BOARD. F. Perry Was Formerly Attached to British Colonial Office. OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 7.—W. L. Hitchens, Lloyd George's personal representative on the munitions board, announced this morning that a new member of the board has been appointed in the person of F. Perry, who was at one time a member of the British colonial office. Later on he was secretary to Lord Milner in South Africa, and for some years chairman of the Witwatersrand National Labor Association in South Africa. Mr. Perry, who has resided in Canada for some years as representative of a large private banking house in London, has been in England for the past few weeks and spent some time in the munitions department in order to gain a first-hand knowledge of the requirements of the British Government.

TO WARD OFF WINTER COMPLEXION ILLS. To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all winter, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Rough, chapped or discolored skin, inevitable in this weather, is gently abraded by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, the latter being applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Creams, powders and rouges, so popular at this season, because of their spurious expansion and contraction of the skin, due to changing temperatures, I advise you to try this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or two your complexion will look remarkably youthful and healthy. Winds and dry-dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every wrinkle, however produced, by using a harmless soap produced by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salolite in 1/2-pt. witch hazel.

U.S. LABOR OFFICIALS FOILED GERMAN PLOT. Von Hintelen Wasted Much Money in Efforts to Promote Strikes. NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—United States Attorney Snowden Marshall declared today that Franz Von Hintelen, German agent who is accused of coming to this country to incite strikes in munition factories, armed with a large corruption fund, was "double-crossed" and despite the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars failed to accomplish his mission in any effective manner. Mr. Marshall gave the major credit for Hintelen's failure to the stand of five officials in the labor organizations.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 8.

The Transportation Report

Two exceedingly important schemes dealing with the transportation services of the city have been laid before the citizens this week.

A feature of the transportation report, which appears in the very first lines, is the recognition of the fact that Toronto, as regards population, is different from the majority of cities in its growth.

The inconsistency of this is remarkable at the outset. After taking the development of the city into account, and stating that its development depends upon the provision of adequate transportation facilities, to deny these to the people will require more explaining than the report provides.

The assumption that 35 minutes will satisfy the people who wish to travel from the central area to the outskirts is a decidedly rural one.

The question of cost cannot be ignored. We do not desire to press this point for any plan to reform the present city transport system must involve large sums.

We would like to see the Humber Valley district developed quite as much as anyone could desire it without actual material interests there, but we would like also, as we have

It is to say, the plan was not to have the best possible scheme, but the best possible after avoiding these forbidden grounds.

APPEALING TO HIS WEAK POINT

That is to say, the plan was not to have the best possible scheme, but the best possible after avoiding these forbidden grounds.

A stubborn obstacle to the success of the new plans appears to be the determination of the engineers to locate the main terminals on the waterfront instead of at the city centre, or some place convenient to the centre.

We heartily approve of the recommendation that "the city should at once make a definite declaration of policy" on the acquisition of the street railway franchise in 1921.

There is a danger that the people will reject the bylaw as it stands, even though supported by the press and many of the representatives of the city.

The inconsistency of this is remarkable at the outset. After taking the development of the city into account, and stating that its development depends upon the provision of adequate transportation facilities, to deny these to the people will require more explaining than the report provides.

The Humber Boulevard

Mr. R. Home Smith has expressed his entire willingness to conform to any reasonable wish of the city council, provided the city carries out its agreement with him in connection with the Humber boulevard.

Mr. Home Smith is willing to give the additional land necessary for the widening of the streets already constructed.

We would like to see the Humber Valley district developed quite as much as anyone could desire it without actual material interests there, but we would like also, as we have

APPEALING TO HIS WEAK POINT

"Why say, Percy, that civilian outfit is a year and a half out of date. Come in and get a khaki suit."

The Traction Report

Editor World: As a Toronto ratepayer who has suffered many traction inconveniences and paid high taxes, and now finds our city all sewed up, I confess that I can see no way out of the net in the Harris-Gaby-Cousins report.

It does not deal with Toronto's local traction grievances other than to put them over for another six years! It does not try to overcome the double fares; the old street railway franchise is not considered with a rapid transit tube, or what I would call a living spinal column.

Nothing is done to let in the existing radials on terms advantageous to the citizens. Buy them all out first on a fair price—if they can be bought, and I've heard no man say so far that they can't be bought on good terms.

The Old Veteran

Did you see his old eyes glister. When the soldiers marched away. As he proudly stood to listen. To the band that autumn day?

Did you hear him tell the story Of the day so long ago. When for England, home and glory. He marched off to meet the foe?

Sixty years ago my mother Came to see her son depart. And beside her stood another. Who had won my happy heart.

And "The Girl I Left Behind Me." That the band played loud and clear. Meant my Kate. My tears near blind. For today she is not here.

In old Devon she is sleeping. Close beside the rock-bound sea. You must just excuse my weeping. For so much comes back to me.

As I hear again the rattle Of the drumbeat call her sons. Yes! and grandsons to the battle. To defeat the savage Hun.

LOCAL OPTION BYLAW MUST BE SUBMITTED

Judgment Handed Down Compelling Owen Sound Council to Take Action.

PROMISE OUTLAWED

This Contention of Man Who Appeals From Verdict in Breach of Promise Action.

By a judgment delivered by Mr. Justice Riddell at Osgoode Hall yesterday, the town council of Owen Sound are compelled to prepare and submit a bylaw at the coming municipal elections, to repeal the local option bylaw already in force.

The council claimed that on the revised petition there was not the required percentage of names, but it was pointed out by Mr. Justice Riddell that whereas there were 437 names on the voters' list, yet a large number were duplicated, and the number of names only totaled 365.

In his decision, Mr. Justice Riddell agreed with the applicants that the required percentage of persons appearing on the petition, an objection was raised by the council that as Grier was an employee of the town he could not apply for the order, but his lordship held that even if he was an employee this did not affect his rights of citizenship.

On behalf of W. J. Setchfield, an appeal has been commenced by Hartley Dewar, J.C., against the judgment in favour of Laura Saunders, who lived with Setchfield for a number of years at De Grassi street. At the assizes Miss Saunders was awarded $7000 for breach of promise.

Mr. Dewar asks for a new trial on the ground that any promise made was nullified by the statute of limitations by the lapse of over six years. It is also claimed that the damages awarded were excessive.

The appeal of the Algoma Steel Corporation from the judgment of $8000 awarded by George Pratt, J., in favour of the company in October, 1914, has been dismissed by the first appellate court.

F. W. Lynde has been awarded $568.47, judgment by default against F. A. and Alice Ida Harrington, under a mortgage upon property on Balsam avenue, Balmly Beach.

The first appellate court list for today is: Saunders v. Setchfield (cont.); Re Scarth; Massey v. Bromley; Gram v. Windsor; Peppiatt v. Reader.

BILL FOR COURT COSTS HALTING SETTLEMENT

Troubles of Women's Home Guard Over Funds Not Yet at an End.

Although it was announced on Monday night by Lieut.-Col. Galloway of the Women's Home Guard that the action for an injunction restraining Miss Desjardins and her associates from drawing money out of the Dominion Bank or the Bank of Montreal had been settled out of court, the question of who should bear the cost of the litigation has not been considered.

Miss McNab refuses to pay the costs, which are gradually increasing and now amount to $80. The lieutenant-colonel explained yesterday that the whole matter had been caused through the obstinacy of Miss McNab, and in his opinion she should pay up.

HOCKEY Clubs Repeat Practice Work

SOLDIER TEAM IS FIRST ON THE JOB

Second Depot Regiment First to Submit List of Players - Hockey News.

The first military team to submit names of soldier players for registration with the O.H.A. is the 2nd Depot Regiment, C.M.R., Hockey Club, Major T. B. Balfour, O.C., which is now stationed at Hamilton, and which has entered a team in the intermediate series.

Ingersoll, Bracebridge and Warton intermediates are the latest clubs to send in their entries to the O.H.A.

President James T. Sutherland of the O.H.A. has made the following announcement: "I desire to announce that I have appointed Mr. Frank Diageo, manager of St. Michael's Hockey Club, Toronto, and Mr. George McKay, manager of the Bank of Toronto (Kingston), as my appointments to the executive of the O.H.A."

At Canadian first practice there was only one English player in uniform, that being G. Howard MacNamara, the big defence man of last year's Shamrock, now defunct. MacNamara weighs fifteen pounds less than he did last season, and he still tips the beam at two hundred and twenty pounds.

Ottawa Journal: Having just one pro team in Toronto this season is going to go a long way towards giving the N.H.A. one of the best seasons it has enjoyed since the Queen City was taken into the league.

Past President Wettlaufer of the O.H.A. thinks that young Hillier of the Berlin team will be the sensation of the winter. The lad is a very dextrous stick handler, with great speed and a good shot.

Dr. Jerry Lafammande has his first appearance to coach the Argonaut candidates. Mian and Stewart, late of Kingston Frontenacs, are going to make him all his trouble to beat them out for a place on the Scullers' team.

The practice hours at the Arena today are: 1:30 to 2:00 a.m.—Toronto Pros. 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.—St. Michael's. 3:30 to 4:00 p.m.—De La Salle. 4:00 to 5:00 p.m.—Upper Canada. 5:00 to 6:45 p.m.—Argonauts. 7:00 to 7:45 p.m.—40th Battery.

Riverside brought out the same squad that worked on Monday and they lined up in nice style. The forward line caused the defence to work overtime, keeping them out, and it was nip and tuck all the way.

St. Andrews, Upper Canada and De La Salle had the early afternoon hours, and each school had a big turnout. It will take a week or two to get a line on the material.

Two more players turned up at Toronto's second practice. One is G. MacNamara of last year's Shamrock club, and the other is Piet, who started hockey with St. Michael's and afterwards drifted to Detroit, where he played two years and then got into difficulty with the O.H.A. and moved on to Calgary.

Piet, who is only a little fellow, lacks condition, but he shows the real thing that he knew, which led of a hockey stick say he is.

The rest of the squad had a lively workout, and again the chief feature of the practice was the speed all exhibited. The fast boys had Kutz, the Coblander on his toes, and he showed that he could keep pace with them if he loosened up.

Granites Re-Elect Their Tankard Skips—Hamilton Thistles Ready.

Last night's snow flurry was another reminder that winter is at hand, even if the cold weather did seem that moderate.

The curling clubs are getting ready for an active winter. Even the county council will not object to the old men indulging in their favorite pastime.

Queen City has several new additions to their membership this year, and must be counted in the open competitions. They have not yet elected their Tankard skip.

At a meeting of the skips of the Hamilton Thistle Club, J. A. Thompson and E. A. Wardell were unanimously elected Tankard skip.
