TRAVERS TO TESTIFY
REGARDING STOCK SALE

"I told Mr. Fielding that I had personal knowledge that the stock subscription of the Farmers' Bank was obtained by false pretences." This statement, made by Sir Edmund Oster, K.C., M.P., at the Farmers' Bank investigation, held in Osgoode Hall yesterday, opened the way to a series of questions asked by Frank Hodgins, K.C., and Chief Justice Sir William Meridith, as to what the former minister knew of the bank's situation before the certificate was granted.

CHAS. E. CHAMBERS.
Parks Commissioner for the City of Toronto.

Chas. E. Chambers Appointed
Toronto Park Commissioner

After a Three-hour Debate the Recommendation of the Board of Control Was Defeated and Mr. Chambers Was Given Position Permanently by a Vote of 15 to 7 —Head for Waterworks and Traffic Experts Not Yet Appointed.

Charles E. Chambers was appointed to the position of parks commissioner by the city council yesterday afternoon by a vote of 15 to 7. Hence the two-thirds vote was secured which was necessary to substitute Mr. Chambers' name for that of Thos. Hog, who was recommended by the board of control.
The debate on this question lasted for over three hours, nearly all the members of the council taking part.

visions, who could devise park and boulevard systems. He claimed the present acting commissioner filled the bill as a florist, but the city needed a man to plan a park system for a city of 1,000,000. A man should be hired, he said, who had the technical qualifications. The city had a grand field for an expert landscape architect, but a man who had the proper qualifications was the only one who should be hired. Thos. Hog, he said, was a man capable of doing all these things. He has all the necessary qualifications, he said, and was a young man of broad vision. The controller pointed out that Mr. Hog had already done excellent work in connection with parks. Mr.
Hog, he said, had won the general proficiency honors in his course at the university. He argued that this indicated that Mr. Hog had exceptional achieving power.

CARPENTERS
MAY STRIKE

A strike among the journeymen carpenters of the city is very probable within a week or two. The present trouble arises from the fact that the master carpenters have persistently ignored the request of the journeymen of a conference in order to discuss a higher wage scale.
A minimum rate of 45c per hour is the union demand over the present rate of 37c.
No specific agreement exists between these two bodies, the master carpenters merely stating some time ago that on and after May 1 the scale would be 37c.
At a smoker last night in the Labor Hall, the whole question was thrashed out, when it was decided to give the bosses a few days longer to reply.
"If we do strike, we will be absolutely united," said Mr. M. C. Clark, the business agent of the V. B. C. of A.
HAMILTON CHURCH BURNED.

ALEX. C. LEWIS
IS SECRETARY

Alex C. Lewis of the staff of The Evening Telegram, and representative of ward three on the board of education, was appointed secretary of the Toronto Harbor Commissioners, at a meeting yesterday afternoon. His duties will include the securing of industries for Ashbridge's Bay. Mr. Lewis has been connected with The Telegram for a number of years, "covering" municipal matters. In this line he is recognized as an authority. Thru his experience in the assessment department and newspaper work, he has an almost unlimited knowledge of city property values. His new position offers a great field for work to which he is especially adapted.
The commissioners authorized the engineer to make an inspection of some of the United States harbors, and ordered to collect data to assist in the preparation of his report on harbor improvements.
The tenders to lease Bay-st. docks were laid over till the next meeting.

Attempt to Gold-Brick
Germany

BERLIN, March 18.—(Can.
Press).—If Winston Churchill hoped by his speech in the British house of commons yesterday to induce Germany to abandon the proposed strengthening of her navy, he will be disappointed by the comments of the German afternoon papers. Not a single paper considers this alternative. A few ultra-patriotic organs indulge in the usual abusive reply, but comment generally is restrained to the firm:
The sixty per cent. standard, constituting the British ratio of new construction above that of Germany, as proposed by Mr.
Churchill, has a surprisingly wide acceptance, but it is repeatedly pointed out that Mr.
Churchill's figures are deceptive, and would work out in reality not less than 2 to 1. The Post, referring to this, says:
"Mr. Churchill is attempting to gold-brick Germany."
This, the more politely, seems to be the attitude of the admiralty.

FORCE CHILDREN TO HELP AGED PARENTS

Associated Charities Will Cooperate With Other Cities to Enact Law to Prevent Old
People, as Far as Possible,
From Becoming Burdens on Charity.
To compel children to support their aged parents wherever possible and prevent them from becoming a burden on the city or government institutions, is the aim of a special committee appointed by the Associated Charities, to obtain legislation on the matter.
The committee met in private in the city hall yesterday afternoon and took the first steps in the new movement.
From information received it was shown that London and Hamilton face identically the same problem as Toronto, and it is the intention of the committee to co-operate with these two cities in having a law enacted whereby all children working, or of age, will be compelled to support or contribute to the support of their parents, even when they enter a public institution.
Many parents are squeezed into the charitable institutions by their children when the latter are quite capable of helping to support them. The Associated Charities think that, in justice to these people and in justice to the institutions, these children should be made to pay part or all for their parents' keep. "In Quebec," said Mr. S.
Arnold, a member of the committee,
"there is an act to compel children to maintain their parents, but in Ontario we have none. Here we have a law making the parent keep the child until a certain age, and why should not the grown-up boy or girl support the parent? We will investigate closely before taking action."

NEARLY A HOLOCAUST
WHEN FILM EXPLODED

It Happened in a Smith's Falls Picture
Show—Chief's Coolness Saved Lives.
SMITH'S FALLS, Ont., March 18.—
(Can. Press).—The coolness of the chief of police saved a panic when a fire broke out in the Princess Moving Picture Theatre here at 9 o'clock to-night.
There was a large crowd in the building when the film exploded, and the people were getting ready for a frantic rush when some one got the chief of police outside. His influence and orders kept them in check so that they all got away safe. Meantime the operator in the burning box had to jump out of the window to safety.
Over the theatre were four families, who had to get out hurriedly. In one of these was a dying girl named Breland, but she was saved, tho' now in a serious condition from the shock.
Otherwise no one was hurt, much to everyone's surprise. The fire and water have badly damaged the theatre.

DIVORCE LAW REFORM

Editor World: Will you extend the hospitality of your columns to an English society whose objects and purposes intimately concern many residents in the Dominion?

The reform of the English divorce law is a matter which vitally affects the lives and happiness of many thousands of people within the United Kingdom. But the full effect of this important question is not so narrow or local, nor may it be regarded with indifference by any portion of the empires. There is, first of all, a close connection between the divorce legislation of the mother country and that of the dominions, and the reform of the English law towards bringing them more into line with the course adopted by practically every other Protestant country has assuredly carry great weight with the English legislatures.

But in two other respects the state of the English divorce law more directly affects many residents in the colonies. Firstly, many persons residing in the colonies who have not abandoned their English domicile, are subject to the English laws of divorce. Secondly, according to British law, a wife acquires the domicile of her husband from the time of her marriage, and questions of divorce, so far as she is concerned, being therewith regulated by the English statutes on the subject. The state of the English divorce law is thus a matter of prime importance to these colonial women who marry Englishmen.

The object of the Divorce Law Reform Union, founded in 1904, is to use its whole strength and influence to secure a speedy reform of the English laws of divorce. By cheapening the cost of divorce procedure so that it may be brought within the reach of all classes; the present practically denying this right to the greater portion of the community.

"SAVE THE INEBRIATE"

NO CLEAR SAYING IN SETTING SUTURE Toronto Man Cured of Intolerable Itch

Both Laborites and Unionists Say Will Fight for Modification in Minimum Wage Bill Introduced Yesterday—Miners Show Discontent Over Vagueness of Terms.

LONDON, March 19.—(Can. Press).—The coal mines minimum wage bill, designed to put an end to strikes, passed its first reading in the house of commons to-night. The bill is backed by Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Grey, Chancellor Lloyd-George and Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade. It consists of six clauses and schedule for the mines and safeguards for the owners, these to be arranged by district boards. The minimum wage of the mines and the assumption of work. The enactment is for three years.

An important clause provides that if within a fortnight any district lacks a recognized district board, the board of trade may appoint any person to act in place of the board. There is nothing in the bill to prevent a resumption of the strike should the miners be dissatisfied with the district board decision.

Opposition in Sight. A brief debate followed the introduction of the bill, which does not give promise of a speedy passage. The opposition party is dissatisfied with the absence of penal clauses or measures for compulsory arbitration, and will move amendments with a view to remedying this.

The prime minister said that he introduced the bill with great reluctance, but that it was imperative in the interests of the country. Chancellor Lloyd-George said that the government was confronted by the necessity of the speedy termination of the strike, but that recourse to drastic methods would create a perilous orthodoxy. The bill was far from revolutionary, it had been accepted by many of the owners and would result from a national calamity, which would result from a national calamity, which would result from a national calamity.

Not a "Syndicalist Proposal." Critics of the bill, however, had not suggested an alternative. They talked of applying governmental pressure on the subject, but did not indicate how this should be applied. He desired that the demand for a minimum wage was a syndicalist proposal, as the government conceded it to every civil servant.

Labors Want Amendments. J. Ramsay MacDonald, on behalf of the labor party, proposed amendments for the bill, but said that the labor members would halt it if it were amended in such a way as to deprive them of their support, but they would have to ask for some amendments in regard to the safeguarding of the law.

Mr. MacDonald concluded that he thought the house should be glad to accept the bill through this week in a form which would be tolerably satisfactory to all concerned.

Lord Robert Cecil, Conservative member of parliament for Hitchin, characterized the government's bill as the climax of a Liberal policy of engineering strikes, and pointed out that the leader of the labor party in the house of commons had characterized the bill as a "syndicalist proposal."

At a meeting of the miners' federation to-night much discontent was expressed at the indefiniteness of the minimum wage provision, and it is expected that the labor leaders will renew their attempts to secure the schedule of minima by amendment.

The government, however, is anxious to have the miners' strike work on Monday, as the shortage of coal has resulted in the dislocation of railway and public services, as well as business of all kinds and the situation is becoming disastrous. Therefore, every effort will be made to get the bill through.

Must Be Settled First. Charles Fenwick, Liberal member for Northumberland, who is working collier, says he thinks that it will be necessary to take a ballot of the men on the bill before work is resumed at the mines. If so it will be impossible to resume on Monday.

Further rioting occurred in Lanarkshire to-day on account of non-unionists who went into the pits. Serious collisions between the police and miners ended with the arrest of some of the rioters and the injury of others. A similar disturbance occurred at St. Helen's, Lancashire. It is announced that the North British Locomotive Works will shut down to-morrow, throwing 3000 men out of work.

An English laboring man took a mesquite into Canada in 1878. In London recently and was astonished to be told that it was worth $1,785. It was the "Children Bathing" of J. Ward, a famous eighteenth century engraver and painter. It is supposed that others of his mezzotints are owned by humble English families, but it is quite possible that they do not know the value of the pictures.

A railway in England has a box of toys on all its trains, so that children may have something to play with while traveling.

WELL LAY STEEL THRU TOWNS THIS FALL

Oshawa, Cobourg and Other Lake Front Places on New C. P. R. Line May Have Service Over New Road by Next Spring.

Steel will be laid on the new C. P. R. lakeshore line thru Port Hope, Cobourg, Oshawa and other lakefront towns this fall, and the contractors will not operate the line, it is quite possible that the railway will take it over and run it themselves in the spring of 1912.

Work on grading is to commence both east and west from Belleville at once. In a month or so actual construction will start from Leaside eastward. The right of way on this west coast line is not fully agreed upon yet.

Plans are expected to be filed for this part of the line any day now. Construction will also be pressed in the direction of Hinds & Decker, contractors, to make Leaside, Glenside and Belleville their main points of work, but such equipment will be taken in at dozens of different places along the line.

Mrs. Diehl Wants $500 for Injuries Received in Scuffle in Car. Mrs. Pearl Diehl, 27 Edna-avenue, is suing the Toronto Railway Company for $500 and costs for the alleged fallure on the part of the company's employees to compel two drunken men to leave the car on which plaintiff was traveling last October.

James Harper and Donald Johnson boarded the car in question in an alleged intoxicated condition. A fight between the two followed, in which one combatant fell into the lap of Mrs. Diehl, thereby causing grievous injury to herself and her three months' old child which she held in her arms.

Col. Patterson of Osgoode Hall testified that as a passenger on the car at the time he ejected the two men, while the conductor was wasting time in search of an officer. The case is proceeding before Judge Morgan and a jury.

A Medley of Facts and Figures. Support of indigent insane aliens is costing New York more than $5,000,000 a year. The municipal improvements made in Berlin in recent years constitute one of the wonders of the world. The amount devoted to such betterments is $80,000,000.

The record amount of sunshine for London in Aug. is 256 hours, which was attained in 1899, while the least occurred three years previously, when only seventy-three hours were registered.

The value of shipments invoiced thru the several consulates to the Philippines during 1911 was $3,587,810; a decrease of $1,282,410 compared with 1910; to Hawaii $561,096, a decrease of $183,615; and to Porto Rico $463,228, a gain of $27,403.

Statistics now available show that the total receipts of the Italian national lottery for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, amounted to $17,926,302, an increase of $1,829,610 over the previous year. It is two feet high, and as it has reached its eightieth birthday, it is not expected to add to its stature.

The latest contribution to entertaining, the useless, statistics is made by the man who has ascertained the fact that it would require 840,000 men to produce the 70,000 horse-power of the engines of the Lusitania, and that on an eight-hour-a-day schedule it would need 2,520,000 men to drive the steamship across the Atlantic.

In 1910 France exported 4,765,490 pounds of rubber tires, valued at $5,334,887. The sales there to all the leading countries of the world.

The British East Indies supplied the largest amount of wheat to the Kingdom of Great Britain during 1911, valued at $48,418,940.

Last year the consumption of coal in the States was 602,000,000 tons in round numbers in England 300,000,000 tons, in Germany about 250,000,000 tons.

The county health officer of Ventura County, Cal., in his report for the year ending December 31, 1911, says that there were no births nor deaths in the population of 21,000, and no contagious diseases. Neither were there any families in need of assistance.

It is noted that Holland has 658 millionaires, who individually possess at least $400,000 (American currency). Of these 568 there are 202 with only one million florins ($402,000); 110 have one and one-half million to two million florins; 186 from two million to five million florins; fifteen from five million to ten million florins, and only five with over ten million florins.

The sum of $500,000 has been privately subscribed in England as a fund to support the education of mothers, with a view to lowering the death rate among infants. A course in household science has been established at one of the modern universities, the object being to train teachers for the public schools, so that girls may in the future learn something about the care of children as a part of their regular schooling.

HIS DEATH EXPLAINED. That Benjamin Musgrove died from heart failure was the verdict returned at the morgue last night by Coroner J. J. Thompson's jury. Musgrove dropped dead while working on the C.P.R. siding running into the Sauratown-avenue last night. Dr. Hopkins performed the post-mortem.

FIREMEN'S GOOD WORK

Trinity East Church Appreciated Services of the Department. Trinity East Church has contributed $10 to the firemen's benefit fund for the prompt action taken by the department on March 8, when about $200 damage was done by fire to the roof of the building. "We feel that it was their prompt attendance which saved our building from destruction, which if it occurred, would have caused sorrow, not only to the congregation worshipping there, but to thousands in all parts of the Dominion, who have had happy associations with the church since 1843," says a letter accompanying the donation, and which was signed by Rev. H. C. Dixon.

Racing Races for Durnan Baseball in Camp Second Day Basketball Central 52 Woodstock 17

Note and Comment

According to a wealthy member of the Union Boat Club of Boston, Jas. Wray, the Harvard oarsman, and William Halsen, the Union trainer, are ready to enter a triangular sweepstakes with Eddie Durnan on the Charles River for $500 a corner.

Champion Durnan has had no reply to his last call to Dick Arnet, and it begins to look as if it race for the world's championship hereabouts is out of the question.

As the ice is yet 30 inches thick on the bay and the snow three and four feet deep on the baseball diamond, Joe MacDonald suggests that in case the field is clear by opening day he is ready to make a contract with President McCaffery to take the Jersey City and Leafs over on his ice boat for the opening games.

It's only a matter of the weather. With the grounds in condition for the Leafs, the coming champions, are ready to take the field to-day against anything in the world, according to reliable information from the front.

LEAFS LINE-UP TO-DAY AGAINST COLLEGE TEAM

The Mercer Nine Ready to Trim Kelley's Boys at Macon—Working Out the Kinks Second Day in the Georgia Training Camp—Fine Weather in the South.

MACON, March 19.—(Staff Correspondence.)—It was Kink Day at the Leafs' Training Camp and all the crew had a few sore spots from yesterday's workout.

Big Tim Jordan hit town early this morning, but didn't put in appearance at the field until the afternoon shift.

Every pitcher got something to do when Manager Kelley put the squad thru their paces at morning limber up.

Bill Bradley hasn't forgot how to handle bouncers and shot them over to first corner with his old-time speed.

Jack Dalton must be out after Tim Jordan's fence-busting honors. He is keeping the outer garden workers busy chasing grass cutters that would be good for a complete circuit on any grounds.

All the players are rounding to and before the afternoon session was thru most of them had worked all soreness out.

Mighty Tim Jordan was in his glory when batting practice started after the crew had midday hay.

Veteran Jim McGinley was another to show control throwing to batters. Jim has something on nearly every ball and not a few missed the first couple thrown.

The squad is now complete with the exception of Holly, and Eddie is expected towards the end of next week.

This afternoon practice was full of pep, at all times and the boys went after it with a will.

The uniform trunk arrived this morning and the squad made their appearance in Toronto's road uniforms.

Ban Johnson's Circuit Has 276 Players, Whose Season's Salary Totals $700,000

Chicago, March 9.—According to figures obtained at American League headquarters in this city, 276 ball players are the property of the eight clubs in the Ban Johnson circuit—99 pitchers, 39 catchers, 86 infielders and 52 outfielders.

If it were possible to keep all these men thru the coming pennant race, experts figure they would draw more than $700,000 in salaries, with an average of $2,000 each.

To prepare these men at the southern training grounds, it is estimated the club owners must spend $80,000, including railroad and hotel expenses.

GET DOWN TO BRASS TACKS.

The country will not be greatly concerned with the exchange of personalities between Postmaster-General Pelletier and ex-Postmaster-General Lemaire on the question of Canada's naval contribution to imperial defence. Mr. Lemaire may or may not have changed his views since 1902, and Mr. Pelletier's utterances in the last campaign may or may not have been misrepresented, but the question is too important to be side-tracked or obscured for a moment by personal or political squabbles. Their responsibility is the responsibility of the government, and the country looks to the government for action.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's naval policy was far from commendable, but it was at any rate a beginning. The principle was recognized that Canada was under some obligation to assist in the naval defence of the empire. It was not recognized as unequivocally as it might have been, and the Laurier Government should have joined with Australia and New Zealand in tendering efficient aid to the empire at a time when it seemed to be in imminent peril. But that government did take steps towards the construction of some vessels, and thus made a beginning at least.

The situation in which Canada finds herself at present is little short of disgraceful. The national exchequer is filled to overflowing, the country is increasing daily in wealth and productive power. She is more than able to bear her share of the burden of imperial defence, and to look after the ordinary protection of her ports and harbors. Yet we are doing nothing. We are not contributing a dollar to the upkeep of the British navy, and we have, for the least of reasons, decided to have no vessels, guns or fortifications of our own. We believe that the people of this country are anxious to build up a great shipbuilding industry, and are anxious to have our war vessels, as far as practicable, constructed in our own shipyards; they are no less anxious for Canada to chip in her share of the cost of imperial navy protection and efficiency. Some delay may be necessary before formulating a well defined policy of naval construction, but it is no hesitation nor pleads to decide that we are at present sponging on the British taxpayer. To remedy this state of affairs, we should place a sum of money annually at the disposal of the British admiralty. Mr. Maclean, M.P. for South York, suggested that ten million dollars would not be too much in view of our last annual surplus of nearly forty million dollars. The Montreal Star, while commending Mr. Maclean for bringing up this vital subject for discussion during the budget debate, suggests a sum of annual contribution one big contribution now of thirty million dollars.

It is for the government to act. If the senior partner in a private business advanced money out of his private pocket year after year to benefit the business, he would certainly expect the junior partners, who had amassed big private fortunes in the business, to share with him future expenditures made for the benefit of copartnership. Canada is not contributing one cent toward the expenditure of a partnership in which she is deriving enormous profits. Every day that passes without anything being done by this country is simply another day of sponging, of humiliation, and national shame. It is up to the government to act. It is parliament to be prorogued without anything being done?

WHO WILL BE THE DARK HORSE? Some of the supporters of President Taft, and some of the supporters of ex-President Roosevelt seem to be getting cold feet. The Roosevelt men are complaining that the Taft managers are out to beat Roosevelt, even at the sacrifice of their own candidate, and the president's supporters say that Roosevelt is trying to overthrow them by combining the anti-Taft forces in the convention upon some candidates not yet agreed upon. Many Republicans will cordially welcome the suggestion of a compromise candidate and staunch Republican newspapers like The New York Press believe that neither Taft nor Roosevelt can be elected, even if nominated. It may be that Senator La Follette's candidacy will prevent any nomination being made on the first or second ballot, in which event anxious eyes will seek for every corner for the dark horse. Who will be? In previous conventions combinations were formed against the favorite by the field. Thus the anti-Plane men combined on Hayes in 1876, and the anti-Grant men on Garfield in 1880.

1880; but there were no such principles or issues at stake in 1876 and 1880 as there are now. The Progressives will not combine upon a candidate who is not of their household, and the friends of Taft will not accept a man who will be a mere deputy for Colonel Roosevelt, and put to the sword every officeholder who has been faithful to the president. If a dark horse is nominated at Chicago, it will probably be some man unknown to the country and never before dreamed of as a presidential possibility. That he will be one of the delegates to the convention is more than likely. Many a delegate unknown outside of his own district will go to Chicago with hope in his heart, a frock-coat in his valise, and a great speech ready to be delivered at the first opportunity.

IRELAND'S WORST ENEMIES. The World has often said that it is no more use for rabid partisanship on one side than the other. The rabid man is no credit to himself, nor to his party, nor to humanity. Of course, the rabid man does not care about humanity, but only a small portion of it with ideas similar to his own. Dr. Johnson fully realized this when he uttered his celebrated remark about patriotism.

The World has cultivated and hopes to continue to cultivate a spirit of decent Canadianism, and we regret that any of our fellow-countrymen should fall in proper respect for the government under which we live. The World has this to say about the meeting in Massey Hall on Monday night, under the auspices of the A. O. H. We have advocated home rule as it exists in Canada for Ireland and the British Islands generally—they have it already in the Isle of Man—but it is almost hopeless to advocate home rule when its chief supporters give such weapons to its opponents as the A.O.H. did, as they have often done before on Monday night. The fact is that the meeting showed the spite of American Republicans rather than loyal Canadians, and there was nothing but contempt for the established order of things in Canada, as displayed in the procedure and decorations. What does the A. O. H. think of the Union Jack anyway? Why is the national anthem never sung at meetings held under its auspices? King George is King of Ireland and would continue to be King of Ireland the Great Britain were sunk under the sea. When Douglas Hyde lectured in Massey Hall the Italian orchestra was asked to play the American tune, "God Save Ireland," and not knowing it by that name, it being "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," and "paving Irish about it, they played "God Save the King." The chairman almost wept at what he called the disgrace and shame of such proceeding. Of course, the A. O. H. is ridiculous when it acts like that, but there is much worse than the merely ridiculous behind such demonstrations. The movement now is chiefly one of Yankee Republicanism, opposed in every way to British and Canadian democratic institutions, and responsible more than any other body for the delay in granting home rule to Ireland. That was undoubtedly evident in May, 1882, and outrage and dynamite and familiar adjuncts of those who refuse to recognize the British flag or to honor the British sovereign. We still believe in home rule for Ireland, and we hope soon to see it achieved. But it will be in spite of and not because of the A. O. H. The genial spirit of true Irishmen is far away from the bitterness and rancor that tears the crown from the harp of Ireland, and insults the great Anglo-Ireland empire at an assembly of Canadian citizens.

THE DIRE RAVAGES OF KNIGHTHOOD. Our distinguished fellow-countryman, Sir Henry Pellett, and his distinguished guest, Sir William Bull, are holding a conference in this city in regard to the noble order of knighthood of which they are illustrious members. Also Sir Henry is to give a dinner in a few days to the eighteen knights resident in Canada. But why a dinner, inasmuch as we are informed in the statistics handed out to the press that one hundred of the six hundred knights die annually! Men suffering from so painful and fractious a disease or who find themselves in such a state of moral lundity, are to be consoled with rather than joyfully invited to a banquet. Indeed, this knighthood seems to be the most awful disease prevalent in these parts nowadays, and it looks as if Dr. Hastings should intervene and enquire into a mortality that strikes down its victims so relentlessly. Perhaps Dr. Hastings has some attenuated serum which might be efficacious in warding off the malady or a cultivation which if injected into these knights in districts would prolong their days. And finally why Canadians should be jumping over one another to get into an order entailing such a double demerit is beyond comprehension. They must be possessed by some demon or intuition which to us at this moment is not explicable.

SHOULD SUPPORT THIS AMENDMENT. The amendment proposed by Mr. W. K. McNaught for all radial railways bills is one that should commend itself to the legislature and the government. It is impossible to contemplate without apprehension the situation that would gradually grow up in the city as a whole after another required a tight of entry into the city's territory. It used to be said that an Englishman's house

Before Cartwright, K.C. Master. Meyer v. Clarke—N. E. Heelan, for plaintiff. J. A. Macintosh, for defendant. Motion by plaintiff for an order requiring defendant to refund for examination and answer questions which he refused to answer on his examination.

Emmerson v. Cook—W. Proudfoot, K.C., for defendant. E. H. Cleaver (Burlington), for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the county court of Ontario of Dec. 18, 1911. This was an action for $600 damages for that the defendant maliciously and without any reason or probable cause, as is alleged, laid a charge against plaintiff of unlawfully stealing a quantity of milk, of which charge plaintiff was honorably acquitted. At the trial judgment was given plaintiff for $350 damages. Appeal argued. Judgment reserved.

Evans v. Walters Passengers' Assurance Co.—M. Wright (Belleville) for plaintiff. S. Denison, K.C., for defendant. An appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of the county court of Hastings of Dec. 12, 1911. Plaintiff, a steam engineer, brought action to recover $600 from defendant for two weeks' total disability from appendicitis claimed that he was not paid for total disability during that period. At the trial the action was dismissed with costs. Judgment: The court do, that the effect of the want of notice required by the policy is fatal to the plaintiff's right with other defence. It may be a matter for the legislature to consider whether in accident policies there should be a certificate of discharge imposed on the right of the court to find whether the conditions imposed are reasonable under all the circumstances. Appeal dismissed, but I do not think it is a case for costs.

Count of Appeal. Before Moss, C.J.O.; Garrow, C.J.J.; MacLaren, J.A.; Magee, J.A. Magee, J.A. DAVEY v. POLEY-RIEGER Pulp-Mill, K.C. v. Poley-Rieger, W.M. K. Cowan, K.C., for plaintiff. An appeal by plaintiff from part of the judgment of a divisional court of June 8, 1911, on plaintiff's appeal from trial judge. The court do, that the damages and costs awarded to plaintiff are excessive. An injunction restraining defendants from discharging into the tail race of plaintiff's mill a volume of water much greater than was formerly discharged therein by defendants' predecessors in title, and for damages for trespass in entering on land which plaintiff alleges to be his, and breaking down the stone wall which had been erected and maintained by plaintiff there for over twenty years. The trial judge dismissed the action with costs. The divisional court varied that judgment by holding that the title to the tail race was vested in defendants, that the defendants were entitled to discharge the water into the tail race, and that defendants were only entitled to discharge into the tail race 100 h.p. of water, but that the defendants had the right to enlarge the tail race to such an extent as would enable the increased discharge needed by them. Judgment: The judgment appealed from is varied by declaring party entitles in common to the small triangular piece of land for their respective raceways, with all necessary directions and variations consequent on such declaration. No costs of appeal. Magee, J.A. dissents.

Re Gladstone v. Wright—J. Jennings and H. C. Macdonald, for plaintiff. H. E. Dewart, K.C., for defendant. A case stated by the senior judge of the county court of the County of York, Ontario, on an appeal from a judgment of the County of York, Ontario, made on March 12, 1910, at the City of Windsor, fraudulently made use of a certificate of discharge to which he was not justly entitled, contrary to the Canada Shipping Act, and that at the time and place aforesaid he did make such a false representation for the purpose of obtaining for himself a certificate of competency, contrary to the Canada Shipping Act. The county judge found him not guilty, but at the solicitation of the crown, and at the request of the defendant, a reference was made on the questions: (1) Was I right in holding that the use made by defendant of the document was not an offence under the act? (2) Upon the evidence, was I right in law in holding that the defendant did not make such a false representation as to constitute an offence under the act? Judgment: The questions asked are answered in favor of defendant. Acquittal sustained.

Bullen v. Wilkinson—W. J. Elliott for plaintiff. W. E. Raney, K.C., for defendant. An appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of a divisional court dismissing his appeal from the judgment of Sutherland, J., of May 19, 1911. This was an action by plaintiff for specific performance by defendant of a contract to sell a certain house on lot 10 of Matland-street, Toronto, and that if defendant cannot convey all the lands he be released to convey such portion as she can convey, and compensate plaintiff by way of abatement from the purchase money for the balance. The plaintiff is a widow, and her husband has title only to a right-of-way. At the trial the action was dismissed with costs, and the appeal of plaintiff from the judgment of the divisional court from said judgment was also dismissed with costs. Judgment: Appeal dismissed with costs.

Supreme Court of Canada. Editor World: Will you answer a question about the supreme court of Canada? In the event of a constitutional question being submitted by parliament about the ne temere decree who selects the judges to try the case? If the court is asked to decide whether the Pope can make laws for Canada I would respectfully protest against those judges sitting on the case who have already acknowledged their allegiance to the Pope by walking in his procession in their robes of office as judges. I am informed that one judge carried his judicial robes in the procession, and even if he is a Quebec fanatic, he will probably see the absurdity of pretending to sit in judgment on the Pope's decree. He has already surrendered his authority as a judge, and I hope he will be left off the list. His judgment would be interesting, but would not carry weight. The chief justice of Canada, I believe, at Port Arthur. Judgment: Plaintiff's appeal allowed to extent of increasing amount awarded the sum of $712.12, and defendant's appeal dismissed. Judgment for plaintiff for $712.12, with costs of action, including motion for judgment on further directions, and costs both on county court and on county court, with one-half the costs of reference on county court, with no setoff of costs.

How Nerve Cells Are Broken Down. Every man or woman who works with the brain uses up daily an enormous amount of nerve force. Millions of tiny nerve cells are broken down and must be replaced, if mental and bodily efficiency is to be maintained. If brain fog, headaches, sleeplessness or irritability set in, the evidence is plain that nature is not rebuilding as fast as work is breaking down. You cannot allow this depleting process to continue long if nervous prostration or paralysis is to be avoided. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will help you to get the balance on the other side of the account, so that each day will add a little to your stock of health and vitality. A man whose work is largely mechanical may keep going with health below par, but the brain worker must have a clear head or fall behind in the race. Restore the wasted nerve cells with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and know the joys of good health and success.

Divisional Court. Before Falconbridge, C.J.; Britton, J.; Sutherland, J. Greer v. Matthews—A. Moss for defendant. H. E. Ross, K.C., for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the county court of Middlesex of Dec. 15, 1911, and a motion for an order allowing him to advance further evidence. Argument resumed from yesterday and concluded. Judgment reserved.

Farmers' Bank v. Heath—S. Denison, K.C., for defendant. J. Bicknell, K.C., and J. Gordon for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the order in chambers of Clute, J., of Mar. 1, 1912, dismissing an appeal from the order of master in chambers of Feb. 15, 1912, dismissing an application by defendants to set aside the order made in chambers of the writ for service out of the jurisdiction and the service of same. Appeal argued and dismissed with costs to plaintiff in absent event.

Conors v. Reid—S. F. Hayd, K.C., for defendant. J. M. Ferguson for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the county court of Ontario of Dec. 18, 1911. This was an action for $600 damages for that the defendant maliciously and without any reason or probable cause, as is alleged, laid a charge against plaintiff of unlawfully stealing a quantity of milk, of which charge plaintiff was honorably acquitted. At the trial judgment was given plaintiff for $350 damages. Appeal argued. Judgment reserved.

Emmerson v. Cook—W. Proudfoot, K.C., for defendant. E. H. Cleaver (Burlington), for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the county court of Ontario of Dec. 12, 1911. An action by a farmer against a horse, which it is alleged arose from defendant's negligence, and counter-claimed by defendant for $180 damages for wrong done to horse, and $28 for wages. At the trial the jury answered certain questions and couldn't agree on a verdict, whereupon the judge ordered a new trial. Defendant appealed from this, claiming that on the answers he was entitled to a judgment, and that cross-appeal, containing that on the answers he was entitled to judgment. Appeal argued and judgment reserved.

Evans v. Walters Passengers' Assurance Co.—M. Wright (Belleville) for plaintiff. S. Denison, K.C., for defendant. An appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of the county court of Hastings of Dec. 12, 1911. Plaintiff, a steam engineer, brought action to recover $600 from defendant for two weeks' total disability from appendicitis claimed that he was not paid for total disability during that period. At the trial the action was dismissed with costs. Judgment: The court do, that the effect of the want of notice required by the policy is fatal to the plaintiff's right with other defence. It may be a matter for the legislature to consider whether in accident policies there should be a certificate of discharge imposed on the right of the court to find whether the conditions imposed are reasonable under all the circumstances. Appeal dismissed, but I do not think it is a case for costs.

Count of Appeal. Before Moss, C.J.O.; Garrow, C.J.J.; MacLaren, J.A.; Magee, J.A. Magee, J.A. DAVEY v. POLEY-RIEGER Pulp-Mill, K.C. v. Poley-Rieger, W.M. K. Cowan, K.C., for plaintiff. An appeal by plaintiff from part of the judgment of a divisional court of June 8, 1911, on plaintiff's appeal from trial judge. The court do, that the damages and costs awarded to plaintiff are excessive. An injunction restraining defendants from discharging into the tail race of plaintiff's mill a volume of water much greater than was formerly discharged therein by defendants' predecessors in title, and for damages for trespass in entering on land which plaintiff alleges to be his, and breaking down the stone wall which had been erected and maintained by plaintiff there for over twenty years. The trial judge dismissed the action with costs. The divisional court varied that judgment by holding that the title to the tail race was vested in defendants, that the defendants were entitled to discharge the water into the tail race, and that defendants were only entitled to discharge into the tail race 100 h.p. of water, but that the defendants had the right to enlarge the tail race to such an extent as would enable the increased discharge needed by them. Judgment: The judgment appealed from is varied by declaring party entitles in common to the small triangular piece of land for their respective raceways, with all necessary directions and variations consequent on such declaration. No costs of appeal. Magee, J.A. dissents.

Re Gladstone v. Wright—J. Jennings and H. C. Macdonald, for plaintiff. H. E. Dewart, K.C., for defendant. A case stated by the senior judge of the county court of the County of York, Ontario, on an appeal from a judgment of the County of York, Ontario, made on March 12, 1910, at the City of Windsor, fraudulently made use of a certificate of discharge to which he was not justly entitled, contrary to the Canada Shipping Act, and that at the time and place aforesaid he did make such a false representation for the purpose of obtaining for himself a certificate of competency, contrary to the Canada Shipping Act. The county judge found him not guilty, but at the solicitation of the crown, and at the request of the defendant, a reference was made on the questions: (1) Was I right in holding that the use made by defendant of the document was not an offence under the act? (2) Upon the evidence, was I right in law in holding that the defendant did not make such a false representation as to constitute an offence under the act? Judgment: The questions asked are answered in favor of defendant. Acquittal sustained.

Bullen v. Wilkinson—W. J. Elliott for plaintiff. W. E. Raney, K.C., for defendant. An appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of a divisional court dismissing his appeal from the judgment of Sutherland, J., of May 19, 1911. This was an action by plaintiff for specific performance by defendant of a contract to sell a certain house on lot 10 of Matland-street, Toronto, and that if defendant cannot convey all the lands he be released to convey such portion as she can convey, and compensate plaintiff by way of abatement from the purchase money for the balance. The plaintiff is a widow, and her husband has title only to a right-of-way. At the trial the action was dismissed with costs, and the appeal of plaintiff from the judgment of the divisional court from said judgment was also dismissed with costs. Judgment: Appeal dismissed with costs.

Supreme Court of Canada. Editor World: Will you answer a question about the supreme court of Canada? In the event of a constitutional question being submitted by parliament about the ne temere decree who selects the judges to try the case? If the court is asked to decide whether the Pope can make laws for Canada I would respectfully protest against those judges sitting on the case who have already acknowledged their allegiance to the Pope by walking in his procession in their robes of office as judges. I am informed that one judge carried his judicial robes in the procession, and even if he is a Quebec fanatic, he will probably see the absurdity of pretending to sit in judgment on the Pope's decree. He has already surrendered his authority as a judge, and I hope he will be left off the list. His judgment would be interesting, but would not carry weight. The chief justice of Canada, I believe,

GIVING IT TO TORONTO. Editor World: The city can find out how it is getting the worst of it up at the legislature by putting a tracer on the joy jaunts of the country members in the evenings and the connections of the gentlemen who act as guides and entertainers on these jaunts. There would be a fine scandal in this, and the people would know what was going on. Sir James ought to get the facts quick. Rich Hill.

How Nerve Cells Are Broken Down. Every man or woman who works with the brain uses up daily an enormous amount of nerve force. Millions of tiny nerve cells are broken down and must be replaced, if mental and bodily efficiency is to be maintained. TORPED BY DILIGENTNESS AND TERRIBLE SICK HEADACHES

Both Completely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives."

"I was a dreadful sufferer for many years from Sick Headaches and Biliousness, or Torpid Liver. I tried many remedies and physicians, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I finally used 'Fruit-a-tives' and after the first box, I was so much better that I continued using these fruit tablets and presently entirely cured of my ailment.

"I certainly can recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to anyone who suffers from Headaches, Biliousness or Stomach Trouble." Mrs. I. S. A. YACKLIE. Thousands of people have had the same experience as Mrs. Yacklie. They have tried doctors and taken all sorts of medicine, only to find that "Fruit-a-tives" is the one and only remedy that actually cures these troubles.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices, and the greatest Liver and Biliousness remedy. It acts directly on Liver, Kidneys and Skin—sweetens the stomach and purifies the blood. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

Corruption and graft received $200 for his services. Here Mr. Rowell interrupted the premier. "The statement made by the hon. member is a gross misstatement," said Mr. Rowell. "He cannot point to any occasion on which I ever defended the government without justification."

The Boundary Question. The harping of the Liberals on the Manitoba boundary question was a result of ignorance, Sir James thought that Hon. Mr. Mackenzie had said that the province would be returned to the Dominion after the war.

Timber Sales. In reference to the lament of the Liberals about the depletion of forests, Sir James said that the government was not selling timber lands, but was selling them to the people.

Seasonable Recipes

Salt Pork (Country style)—Cut fat salt pork in quarter inch slices and score the rind in three or four places. Cover slices with boiling water, dip them one by one, on each side in sifted flour and let cook slowly in the frying pan until brown. If cooked slowly enough, the greater part of the fat will be extracted. Serve with creamed potatoes.

Nut Bread—Sift together three times, four cups of flour, one scant cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and two heaping teaspoonfuls baking powder. Add one cup of nut meats, chopped fine, and one cup and a half of milk. Stir to a smooth dough. Turn into a bread pan and let stand twenty minutes. Bake about forty minutes.

Cocoanut Tea Cakes—Roll paste to one fourth of an inch in thickness, shape cakes like a lady finger, place on a tin and bake in a hot oven. When nearly done, brush over with beaten white of egg and sprinkle with shredded cocoanut. Return to oven to finish cooking.

The following dishes are examples of tissue-building and repairing foods in good combinations. Macaroni with cheese and milk. Bread and rolls with milk. Creamed vegetables. Bread pudding containing eggs, milk, bread and sugar.

It is estimated that Sheffield, England, consumes approximately 500 tons of meat per week, of which about 10 tons is frozen and chilled.

Home Helps

Grocers are firm friends of Windsor Table Salt. They like to see it, because it is pure and clean and good. Ask any grocer for his best salt, and he will give you Windsor Salt every time. Not because it costs more—it does not—but because the grocer knows that Windsor Table Salt pleases their customers. 57

WINDSOR TABLE SALT

NURSERY

A sound baby means a sound mind; and it is the duty of parents to see that their children are well equipped with the right kind of body if they wish their lives to be successful. Surely the solution of the problem concerning the boy; how he is to be cared for, what to do with him when he goes wrong, how to reform him, lies with the mothers of the babies to-day. I know it goes back farther than this, but until the state looks after the parents, the mothers will just have to do the best they can with the babies. So give the little man the best body you can, make him as fine as you can; and the big fellow should be just what you want. Let the baby grow up naturally, don't tease him to walk if he doesn't attempt it himself, don't teach him tricks. Baby's own actions are far funnier than anything you could possibly show him. Above everything else, don't exhibit him to admiring friends to be handled and teased. Don't even let daddy play with him if he only comes about 6 o'clock in the evening. For that is baby's bedtime and nothing should interfere with it.

After proper feeding, nothing is so vitally important to a baby as plenty of sleep. The young baby will sleep nearly all the time if he lays down with breakfast at six, he will sleep until both-time. And again after his bath and so on up until five to time to feed. For the first three hours until he is fed every two hours, then every three or four hours until he is one year old, when the time between meals is four hours. The baby three months old sleeps between meals until six or seven at night, when he is undressed and put to bed. He should sleep until the next morning. When he is six months old, he will take a long nap after his bath, and another in the afternoon. When he is a year old, he may only take one nap a day; but he needs at least two hours until he is nearly a year old. Always be sure to let him sleep until he is thirteen or older. Lack of sleep is the cause of much ill-health among children. Elinor Murray.

Making Over

There are several features of the new gowns which lend themselves well to the home dressmaker's problem—making over. Gowns are to be made of two or more materials, and on skirts and waists there is a good deal of over drapery. Take an all-over embroidery dress of last year, leave the front and back panels as they are, but in place of the side gores, put three scant flounces after the style of the double and triple decker skirt of a few summers ago. To keep the flounce effect on the waist, add a fichu. The sleeves will be set in, but since this makes the long, plain shoulder just like the kimona sleeve, it is likely that the kimona sleeve will be quite as much worn as the newer style. The shoulder seam is usually concealed by trimming, so that if a new sleeve is necessary, it can be inserted, cut on the same lines as the old one.

Last year's skirt can be freshened wonderfully by a set of the new lingerie collar and cuffs. Good gowns of silk or chiffon can be made over with the aid of the popular and useful tunic. Elinor Murray.

The Big "Hanky Panky" Show. Low Field's all-star, jollie follie, two-bit "Hanky Panky" Company will begin a week's engagement at the Alexandra Theatre, commencing Monday, March 25. This army of funsters in this big musical jumble of justification comes direct from a triumph run of 200 consecutive nights in Chicago, where all records were broken for attendance and laughter.

The stock is Edgar Smith, the lyrics by E. Ray Goetz and the music by A. Baldwin Stone. The successful authors of "The Never Home," "Tillie's Nightmare," etc. "Hanky Panky" has no veneration for history or literature. Cleopatra appears concurrently with a sequized Wallingford—known as Sir J. Rufus Wallingford, recently elevated to British peerage. Hugh Cameron is Wallingford, Flora Parker is Cleopatra, Carter De Haven is Blackie Daw, who turns against the emboldened Wallingford, and is his bitter enemy. William Rausmitz, in the person of Max Rogers, shares a large financial venture with Herman Beirweiser, presented by Bobby North. Their "angel" is Solomon Bumpki, personated by Harry Cooper. Billy Montgomery, of Montgomery and Moore fame, appears as Rausmitz, and is assisted by wife, Florence Moore, plays Wallingford's typewriter, Christina Scribales, Myrtle Gilbert, Lillian Let's, and 50 beautiful women in many changes of costumes, with a lavish scenic equipment, complete one of the biggest shows on tour in the country to-day. Seats are now on sale.

The Big Gaiety Company. The Big Gaiety Company, who play at the Gaiety Theatre next week, starting Monday matinee, come here with the best of newspaper criticism. The company is entirely new in its entire make-up, new faces, costumes, scenery, electric effects, etc. No pains or expense have been spared by the management to make the newest of shows the best of any attraction on the Colborne Circuit. Mr. Gus Fay is the star, and the opening burlesque is "A Florida Enchantment." The excellent of the olio is one of the features, offering among others, Gus Fay, Eddie Lovell, Al Herman, The Maddest Musical Quartet, The Maddest Musical Quartet, Clara, Madam, The Ah-Ho Poole, Vera and Benton and Al Bannan.

The Girls From Reno. "The Girls From Reno," the merry, musical, melodious mixture coming to the Star next week, comprises with a very few exceptions, none by lovely members, the ever-shining dominion. My, who in their gorgeous gowns and dazzling effects add materially to the splendour of the entire attraction, some extremely rich electrical devices will be introduced in the grouping of the two scores of pretty girls who will be seen in many charming, novel and most fascinating ensembles. The offering itself is in two burlesques, "Business is Business" and "High Life in Reno." The great sensation will be Madam, Duke, new dance attraction, which caused a great sensation in Paris, by Mlle. Polaire, and will be seen in its entirety, as produced in the French capital.

World's Visible Shows Decrease And Wheat Market Strengthens

Buying Force Receives Impetus From Big Falling Off in Available Supplies—Corn and Oats Firm.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Buying force in the wheat pit received impetus today from a big falling off in the world's available supply total. Forecast of a cold wave strengthened coarse grain and indirectly had also a bullish effect on wheat. The latter cereal finished 1-8c to 3-8c net higher, corn up 1-4c to 1-2c, oats at an advance of 1-16 to 1-32, and hog products dearer by 3-16 to 12-16c.

At the outset wheat speculators who had contemplated aggressive bear operations felt the necessity for a second thought in view of cable despatches telling of further decreases in European stocks. There was likely fear of crop damage reports as the snow and ice disappeared in the winter crop belt of the United States. On the other hand, the huge pile of contract wheat in store here was not diminishing to any appreciable extent, whereas shipments to this city continued from Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. Northwest standing important selling which took place on all wells, the wheat market averaged well above last night's level, except during the first hour. The highest point of the day was reached after the news of 2,700,000 bushel decrease in world's stocks.

Corn irregular, Oats Strong.

It was the general impression in the corn crowd that one of the largest shorts was trying to cover May, but meanwhile selling July. There was a great deal of realizing by longs on the bulge. Prospects of an extension of the feeding season kept the bears subdued and induced purchasing of futures here by the southwest. May wheat ranged from 70 3/8c to 71 1/2c, closing steady at 71 to 71 3/8c, a gain of 3-8c to 1-1/2c net. Cash grades were at a standstill.

Predictions of additional delay in seeding made a strong market for oats. Speculators who were buying corn were also grabbing deferred deliveries of the companion feed stuff.

Northwest Receipts.

Receipts of wheat in cars at primary centres were as follows:

Week	To-day, ag. ago.
Chicago	70 3/8
Duluth	64 1/8
Minneapolis	134 1/8
Winnipeg	376 3/8

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, March 19.—Business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable was quiet to-day owing to the fact that the demand was principally for March-April shipment, which exporters cannot very well fill on account of the scarcity of wheat here and near at hand. Cables on the whole were stronger and bids were 1/4d higher. The local and outside demand for oats for prompt shipment was fairly firm, and the market is active. Mill-feed is scarce and firm. A fair trade is passing in butter, of which supplies are ample to fill all requirements at present. Eggs firm—selling to large increase in consumption and smaller receipts. Provisions firm under steady demand.

CATTLE GRADE SHOWED SIGNS OF WEAKNESS

Prices as a Rule Were Easier—Hogs $7.50.

The railways reported 77 car loads of live stock at the city yards, comprising 120 cattle, 971 hogs, 266 sheep and lambs, and 22 calves.

The quality of cattle with the exception of two or three steers, that had been prepared for the Easter trade, was generally medium and common, but there were a few loads of good cattle that did not arrive in time for the market, that were offered for sale.

There was a fair trade for all cattle offered, at prices that were reported by leading commission dealers as from $5.00 to $6.00 easier than on Monday, quality considered.

Common light steers and heifers, as well as common rough cows, were hard to sell, as the demand for them is not good, even at lower quotations. There were few cattle went over the $5.00 mark, and the bulk of those sold to-day went under $5.

Union Horse Exchange

There will be sixty head of "bush horses" on sale at the Union Horse Exchange, Union Stock Yards, to-day. They will be good opportunities for farmers to secure a horse to work all summer and see the horse to their own satisfaction.

There will also be 100 head of good mares and geldings on sale, besides.

Sale at 10 a.m.

Abram McLaughlin Dead

Live stock and horse trade generally will be easy to hear of the sudden death of Abram McLaughlin, who died at the home of his wife, Mrs. McLaughlin, at 1127 York-st., on Friday last, at the age of 78 years.

Mr. McLaughlin was a kindly disposition, good-hearted and true, and well liked by all who knew him. He had been a member of the Toronto market for many years.

Union Stock Yards

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 1,200 head, comprising 152 cattle, 41 hogs, 1 sheep, 1 calf and 4 horses.

The Swift Canadian Company bought 12 cattle, 100 lbs. each, at $6.25; 41 hogs, at $7.00.

The Swift Canadian Company bought for the Harris Abattoir Company 60 good choice butchers' steers, 1,100 lbs. each, at $6.50.

Rice & Whaley sold on Monday: Export cattle—113 lbs., at $6.50; 100 lbs., at $6.00; 100 lbs., at $5.50; 100 lbs., at $5.00.

Representative Sales

Corbett & Hall sold 5 car loads of stock: Butcher's steers and heifers, 5,000 lbs., at $6.25; cows at $6.25; bulls at $6.25.

Dunn & Lavack sold: Butcher's steers, 4,000 lbs., at $6.25; cows, 1,000 lbs., at $6.25; bulls, 1,000 lbs., at $6.25.

George Cameron sold 185 hogs, 160 lbs., at $7.50; 25 hogs, 160 lbs., at $7.50; 25 hogs, 160 lbs., at $7.50.

Winnipeg Wheat Market

Winnipeg, March 19.—The local market was quiet and the opening in options was 1/2c lower on new May and July.

Winnipeg's closing figures are as follows: May, 98c; July, 98c; August, 98c.

May advanced 1/2c over the opening. The closing prices were, however, unchanged.

Some firmness was shown here, and new May was 1/2c lower for the opening.

Chicago Gossett

Recent government figures on the supply of wheat in country elevators and millers' hands, together with the known consumption of wheat so far on the crop year, show that there was something radically wrong with the crop estimates of last year. The first estimate was 600,000,000 bushels, the revised estimate 620,000,000, and the final estimate 640,000,000, showing a total of 1,000,000,000 bushels, or 200,000,000 bushels more than the original estimate. In the light of these figures, we are compelled to change our views on the wheat situation, inasmuch as the outlook now is for a slow but steady increase in the supply of wheat in the country, and with excellent new crop prospects, it will take some time before the market is able to sustain prices, and we cannot advise purchases of wheat conscientiously any longer.

Erlickson Perkins & Co. (J. G. Besty), are wired the following advice from Minneapolis as to the effect that interior elevators are having on the market, but the farmers are not selling on the recent decline. It is our opinion, therefore, that fairly liberal receipts may be looked for some time to come. We do not care to express an opinion about May wheat, and would advise our friends to ignore it as a trading proposition, but purchases of July wheat in the weak spots still seem to be profitable.

Lola, aged five, had spent the afternoon at a neighbor's. She had been having like a lady, said her mother when she returned.

THE ELECTRIC CURE IS POPULAR

AS PLEASANT AS IT IS EFFECTIVE

It is grand to put on an electric battery while lying down and feel its exhilarating influence in every nerve and muscle. There is no, indeed, any pain or discomfort in any way. There is not the slightest shock or irritation, but a gentle, soothing warmth that rises direct to the nerve centres. This kind of electricity cures, and the cure it gives is permanent.

People will sometimes try an ordinary battery (made no doubt for commercial purposes), and find that the current which irritates the nerves, and conclude that electricity is not suitable. It will not do any good in such a case. The current must be given without shock—without irritation of any kind—and in this way the very weakest individuals can be built up.

No one is too weak to use electricity. In such cases a longer building-up process is required, and the electric current is given in smaller quantities, as water is to extinguish a fire which is burning in a very small quantity. It is possible to supply a very strong current, free from all inconvenience.

How much more pleasant it is to be treated in this way while resting, than to be pouring medicine into the mouth, or to be subjected to a course of painful operations, is a fact which is well known to all who have tried the Electric Cure. The Electric Cure is a permanent cure for all cases of Rheumatic aches and pains, Neuritis, Headache, Heart Trouble, should seek a permanent cure. Don't say—"It might not do me any good." It will do you good if you resort to the right means. It will do you good if you resort to the right means.

There is a book for its distribution, which covers this subject fully. You should not be misled by any of those who are not in possession of perfect health. It tells the nature of weakness and disease, and how a cure can be secured. It is the most valuable and most reliable history of many cases in which the book will give you nothing to get it.

Are You Going West This Spring? If so, exceptional opportunities are now being offered by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, via Chicago, in connection with colonial and settler excursions. Obsolete Laws. What should be done with obsolete laws; that were enacted many years ago when conditions were different and when public sentiment was quite unlike that of the present day? Almost any lawyer could cite scores if not hundreds of statutes that are very severe in themselves, but are never enforced, and ninety per cent of the people do not know that they exist.

The so-called "blue laws" are in this category. It is the law which permits a railroad company to run only one train a day each way over its road on Sunday. So are many others that have long been virtually dead, but they have never been repealed by the legislature or invalidated by direct decision of the courts. The result is that many claim that such laws are harmless, and that even upon rare and unexpected occasions they may be invoked with advantage, but the judgment of less lenient citizens is that every law should either be enforced or wiped off the statute book. Disregard for one law breeds disregard for other laws, and weakens respect for laws generally. Furthermore, an old law that is invoked as a trap to catch the unwary is nearly always invoked through motives of personal vengeance rather than the public good.

Ohio is struggling with the problem of its dead letter laws. It has a constitutional convention; something New Jersey has not had since 1844 and is not likely to have for many years to come. The remedy which Ohio is considering is that of limiting the life of every law to ten years. If an enactment remains on the statute books for a decade, it expires at the end of that time. If it is a good, necessary law it is re-enacted; if not, it passes out of existence.

There is much to be said in favor of such a plan. It would reduce the number of laws; it would eliminate obsolete or unenforceable laws; it would insure up-to-date laws rather than acts half a century old; it would provide a body of enactments representing the spirit of the times and existing conditions, rather than those of a past era.

On the other hand, it might deprive the state of many valuable, fundamental enactments which present-day legislation dare not repeal, but which they might refuse to re-enact. It would also to a degree remove the decisions of the courts defining personal rights and privileges in so far as they were affected by the expired statutes. The only way New Jersey could obtain the remedy Ohio is considering is by a

A Man With Piles Cannot Work

The depressing, undermining influence of piles seems to affect mind as well as body until the sufferer from this annoying ailment feels miserable and utterly cast down.

The itching, stinging sensations which accompany piles are had enough. The search for cure and thought of a surgical operation do not tend to cheer up. Many get discouraged and expect their futures to be ruined by this wretched ailment.

It is so easy to relieve piles by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment that it seems strange that anyone should neglect to give this treatment a thorough trial. If you could only see some of the letters from cured ones who had suffered ten, twenty or thirty years of misery, you would no longer doubt the effect of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the relief and cure of piles.

How Many Factories Do You Run?

Just One? You think so--But aren't you also trying to run a "Power Factory" in connection?

- Had you thought of it in that way?
- You don't try to run a paint factory to supply the paint you use, do you? Nor a smelter to convert iron ore into the steel bars that go into your product? You aren't managing a lumber camp to provide your lumber?
- Of course not. You let the paint manufacturer make your paint, buy your steel from the rolling mill, and order lumber from a lumber company.
- You know that the paint business is in the hands of men who've made a lifelong study of paint; steel men have spent years learning to make the best steel as cheaply as possible; lumber men have scoured the northern forests to provide you with just the kind of wood you need.
- Isn't it equally good policy to buy power from those who are in the power business? The manufacturer of power is even more highly specialized than the manufacturer of paint, or steel, or lumber. Is it not reasonable to suppose that power specialists can provide you with better power than you can produce yourself? With Niagara Falls harnessed for them, isn't it natural that they should sell you cheaper power?

- Central Station Power Service not only relieves you of the operation of an expensive power factory, by providing cheap, reliable power; but it also includes expert solution of all your power problems.
- After reducing the cost per unit to a minimum, specialists see that your plant is so arranged that every power unit is used to the best advantage.
- They assure maximum efficiency at minimum cost.
- Central Station Electric Power Service is the best worry insurance you can find—it guarantees your entire time and attention to the business in which you are a specialist. A contract for "the power that pays" is your policy.
- Dictate a note, now, asking a power specialist to call upon you, or use the telephone.

"NIAGARA POWER BACKED BY STEAM RESERVE"

GRAHAM AND FOSTER DIFFER ON QUEBEC BRIDGE BUNGLE

Former Minister Carefully Explained That Late Government Relied Entirely on Board of Engineers—Hon. Mr. Foster Held That Defence Only Made Matters Worse.

OTTAWA, March 19.—(Special.)—George P. Graham, not content with letting sleeping dogs lie, insisted on making a lengthy statement in regard to the late government's connection with the Quebec bridge. He brought down on himself a vigorous denunciation by Hon. George E. Foster, of what he termed the "utter abandonment of the responsibilities of a government" by the late administration.

Mr. Graham prefaced his statement with the remark that he thought it necessary to reply to a criticism made on the other side of the Atlantic, and which had been reprinted in Canada. He reviewed the history of the contract at length and the differences which arose in the board of engineers over methods of construction.

Of the three members, Mr. Vantellet held out for single intersections, embodied in the tender of the British Empire Bridge Co., while Messrs. Modjeski and Fitzmaurice stood for double intersections, as set out in the tender of the St. Lawrence Bridge Co. Mr. Fitzmaurice had resigned, being replaced by Mr. Macdonald, who took the same position as his predecessor.

These two outside engineers had been brought in and took the same view. The tender was awarded to the St. Law-

CLERGUE INTERESTS EXPLAND

Will Take Over Sault Dry Dock and Shipbuilding.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., March 19.—(Special.)—The World was informed to-night by John O'Boyle of the former Sault Drydock and Shipbuilding Company, that arrangements were made at a meeting between members of the company and representatives of Clergue interests whereby the charter of the company passes into the hands of Clergue and his French and Belgian associates.

So far as is known the site selected when the by-law passed is still in view, but the Clergue interests are negotiating for a site east of that point, and there is every probability that the dock will be constructed there.

A young man in Paris has won a prize for waiting continuously for an hour, during which he executed 3,002 complete turns. He stood the test with comparatively little fatigue, and explained his condition by saying that he waited eight hours a day as a rule.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET SHOWS DECIDED IMPATHY

Conflicting News Regarding Winnipeg Deal Puts Curb on Trading.

World Office, Tuesday Evening, March 19.

Conflicting news regarding the report of completion of the deal whereby the Winnipeg Electric Railway had been turned over at a big price to a New York syndicate, rather nonplussed traders in the very near future, while, Winnipeg kept absolute silence, no information being obtainable in regard to possibility from that end.

In the stock market, Winnipeg Raily responded early in the day to the announcement, and the price got up to 99, an advance of about 3 points. It was rather hard to sell the stock, however, and this quotation was held only for a moment. Later trading put the price put thru as low as 96 1/4, and at the close no bids were in evidence.

Outside of Winnipeg Railway, the Toronto market was very quiet and showed very little change from the narrow speculative movement which was in evidence yesterday. Trading in the usual leaders was on a restricted plane and while one or two of the specialties were selected for particular operations by floor trading brokers, such instances as were in evidence did not prove at all prolific of feature. On the whole, the market showed a firm undertone, but not accounting for anything more than the maintenance of this tendency.

Rio proved in somewhat better demand than yesterday and the incoming of a small buying order for the stock carried the price up to 116 1/2. Sao Paulo, on the other hand, was quoted lower in the afternoon of the day was at a fractional loss from last night.

A few of the specialty stocks showed a measure of firmness, higher prices being carried by Leocadia preferred, which touched 90; Porto Rico, which was up another point; Maple Leaf preferred, which touched 100; and General Electric, which responded to the recent announcement of a new stock issue by moving up about 1/2 point to 114 1/2. Elsewhere prices were comparatively unchanged.

The market, on the whole, was characterized by extreme dullness and showed the effect of a dearth of public interest. Speculative operations would seem to be about the only thing promised for the near future.

HOME RULE WOLF AND ULSTER LAMB.

W. H. McKee, Eagle House, Weston, sends a very lengthy communication, of which the following appears to be the kernel:

Editor World: I put it right up to you Canadians who are so proud, and justly so, of your glorious heritage, are you prepared to view with indifference the spectacle of my compatriots, who only crime has been unwavering loyalty to the crown and constitution, and faithful adherence to the principles of law and order, being ruthlessly handed over to the tender mercies of the pathetic and ignorant, and the unscrupulous, cattle-malmers, Molly Maquirers and Fenians?

Is my language strong? Would any language be too strong for men who are the political leaders of those who are connived at the murder of Cavendish and Burke in Phoenix Park, Dublin, that most peaceful of cities, that the indignation of the whole civilized world? How irresistibly ludicrous is the pathetic appeal of Redmond to Ulster Unionists to assist him in settling at once and forever the question of Irish government and join hands with him in building a happy and peaceful country. "Can the Briton change his skin or the leopard his spots? Are these people so greatly changed since the days of the late W. E. Gladstone referred to them as "marching thru rapine to the disintegration and dismemberment of the empire? What utter nonsense is this peace and unity between factions so diametrically opposed that unless were a mythical creature, the wolf and the lamb shall lie down together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox." But the time is not yet. I ask you again what would you do in the event of the French-Canadians of Quebec setting about securing Canada for themselves, and coming up to the Massey Hall, Toronto, to prosecute their propaganda? I can imagine an outbreak of public sentiment that by comparison would pale the Belfast incident into utter insignificance. Many still are alive in Canada who remember what is known as the Fenian Raid of 1867. Did not every loyalist shoulder his gun at the first sound of strife and fight stubbornly in defence of hearth and home? Inscribed with the name of Canada, inscribed with the name of fallen heroes, testify eloquently to the unquenchable spirit and dauntless courage of the Irish people. And yet these men who are so loudly clamoring for home rule in Ireland to-day are the kith and kin of that same rebel who, when he was a young man, had his men who have not hesitated to do the most treasonable utterances, who have openly declared that in the event of the struggle in a death grip of a possible Armageddon, Ireland would be found on the side of the enemy. Think you the Nationalists will be satisfied with the rule of their rule on the colonial plan? Their ultimate aim is complete separation. Who supplied the shew of was to carry on the struggle? Offices: 73 Front Street East, Toronto.

PORTUNES IN OIL: To say that a flowing oil well is a deluge of dollars, is not in any sense overstating the case, as can be verified absolutely by reference to many of the gushers that have come in recently in California. The most spectacular of these has, of course, been the Lakeview Gusher, which began flowing on March 15, 1910, and soon acquired such force that it got beyond control, tore out the casing, toppled over the derrick and taxed the entire resources of the Union Oil Company to construct tanks and reservoirs to contain the oil. This was accomplished, however, after the greatest oil fight in history, and it is estimated that over 75 per cent. of the entire flow was saved. This gusher has recently stopped flowing, the estimated total production being around 15,000,000 barrels. Needless to say, every person who held stock in the company to any extent made a fortune.

As a field for the safe and profitable employment of capital there is absolutely nothing else in the country that equals California Oil. The records of the United States Government show that oil operations may be conducted with the utmost assurance of success, while the dividends that are being paid month by month and the stocks that have climbed to ten, twenty, fifty and even a hundred times their original prices, eloquently tell their own story of the profits. To those who would employ their money where it will combine safety and profits to the greatest possible degree, the California oil industry offers unrivaled opportunities. The industry is moving forward on the flood tide of prosperity and success, and a thorough and searching investigation will convince even the most conservative and skeptical of its tremendous money-making prospects and its practically unlimited future.

PROFITS IN OIL LANDS: The profits that have been made from the increased value of oil lands run to tremendous figures. United States government records show that on Jan. 1, 1909, 463 oil companies in the principal fields held 936,808 acres of oil land. Before the discovery of oil this land could have been bought for a very few dollars per acre. Since that time a great deal of it has been sold at prices ranging from $500 to $10,000 per acre, though much of it is valued at over $20,000 per acre. If the average advance in value had been $1000 per acre, this land would show a profit for the stockholders of these companies of about $400,000,000. The industry is now earning about 10 per cent. per annum on that valuation.

WHAT INVESTMENTS IN CALIFORNIA OIL COMPANIES HAVE MADE:

	Has since had a value of
$100 invested in Sauer Dough Oil Co.	$2,800
$100 invested in New York Oil Co.	2,800
$100 invested in Monte Cristo	4,000
$100 invested in Peerless Co.	4,800
$100 invested in Kern Oil Co.	4,800

$100 invested in S. F. and McK. Co.	6,250
$100 invested in Carbon Oil Co.	6,400
$100 invested in Kern River Co.	8,000
$100 invested in Pinal Oil Co.	10,800
$100 invested in Lucille Oil Co.	15,000
$100 invested in Home Oil Co.	40,000

The above is in addition to the dividends, which, in most cases, have been several times the original investment.

You can see from the various lines of proof that we have given you just how THE DOMINION OIL COMPANY properly proves itself to be the equal of any in California's famous field. It is impossible to put everything on paper. We cannot keep you informed of the actual happenings from day to day, so you should write to us for additional proof, in case you are not satisfied now. We want to tell you, however, that to delay is to run the risk of the rejection of your application, for, as you have read elsewhere, we do not intend to sell shares of this stock at any such price as the present one now the earning power of the DOMINION OIL COMPANY is established and their well producing.

Write us at once for prospectus and statements before you solicit your consideration and co-operation by inviting you to join us in helping to develop a great property that will be an honor and credit to corporate enterprise. Our faith is strong that this is a proposition worthy of thought and investment and that it can soon be made a property of tremendous earning power.

There are now being offered for public subscription 100,000 shares of the Treasury Stock at 50c per share, which will leave 400,000 shares still in the treasury. It will be the aim of the directors to maintain and keep as large a treasury balance as possible in both money and stock available to meet at a moment's notice any and all contingencies that may arise, and thus effectually safeguarding the interests of all shareholders.

If you would join one of the most progressive and promising California Oil Companies, let us have your subscription to-day for a block of this valuable stock. The stock of the Dominion Oil Company for development purposes is what we offer and what we sell you. Experts have pronounced the property as in proven territory. It has competent management, small capitalization, large acreage, no debts, fine equipment, unlimited market for the oil, and all in all, is a business opportunity that rarely comes to the individual investor more than once in a lifetime.

Kaiser Caused Lively Flurry War Clouds Formed, Then Faded

Report That German Emperor Wouldn't Carry Out Plans for Trip, Following Churchill's Speech, Made Europe Very Uneasy, But Cheerful News Came Later.

BERLIN, March 19.—(Can. Prer.)—Misgivings aroused by the announcement of a change in the emperor's plans were quickly allayed this afternoon by another notification issued by the officers of the court marshal, which now states that the official arrangements for the emperor's departure on Friday will now be carried out.

In the morning surprise was caused by the announcement that the emperor had postponed his departure for Vienna, Venice and Corfu, scheduled for March 22.

Blamed Churchill Speech.

There was a strong disposition here to connect the emperor's action with the speech delivered yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in the British House of Commons.

This was strengthened in consequence of the emperor in the course of the morning paying a long visit to Admiral Albert F. Von Tirpitz, secretary of the imperial navy, immediately after which a number of the leading officers of the admiralty staff assembled in conference, the object of which, however, was not disclosed.

The negotiations which followed on the trip to Berlin of Viscount Halsane are being continued, but any hopes of their success which may have been entertained are gradually falling. The negotiators would now be satisfied in all probability if they could achieve no more than a simple removal of the sources of misunderstanding which have hitherto existed.

The bourse was weak to-day. Government stocks were generally lower.

German Paper's Share Rebuke. COLOGNE, Germany, March 19.—In replying to the Churchill speech the Cologne Gazette adopts an unusually sharp tone. It says in substance that Great Britain must decide from the standpoint of her own interests what increase of her fleet is necessary, but that Germany must do the same thing. It continues: "Germany will hardly ever have a navy equal to that of Great Britain, but if Germany's navy is to be destroyed, the victory must cost the enemy so heavily that England will hardly have any resources left to defend its great international interests."
