WANTS TO HUMBLE ENGLAND The Desire of the German Emperor as Sized Up by a Well-Known French Writer. ALL EUROPE MAY BE ENTANGLED. Can the Kaiser Get France and Russia to Join Him Against Britain and the States? Paris, Jan. 15.—Telegrams from the United States announcing the existence of irritation against Germany are reproduced in the French press and are noticed editorially in some of this evening's papers.

WANTS TO HUMBLE ENGLAND (Continued) "We feel certain," says Deaux, "that Emperor William will not hesitate between receiving a rebuff in the Philippines and declaring war on the United States, but the Americans will suffer no trifling. "The question is whether William can induce Russia and France to join with him, so that the three fleets may balance those of the United States and Great Britain combined, and thus oppose a joint naval demonstration to that nation in the Atlantic or the Pacific. Or, can the Emperor, having failed in this respect, secure the compensation or promise of 17 Bismarck's alliance? "The question all Europe may be dragged in."

YARMOUTH HAD A FIRE. A Number of Stores and Dwellings Fell a Prey to the Flames While a High Wind Blew. Halifax, Jan. 15.—The town of Yarmouth had a narrow escape today from a repetition of the fire disaster which befell Bridgewater four days ago. While a high cold wind was blowing, shortly before noon, flames broke out in the Victoria Block and spread for over three hours, burning out 21, $35, $20, $20 and up to the excellent creation for $100, worth $150, in this clearing sale of fire-burned goods at Dineen's.

More Facts About Our White Goods Sale!

This is the best White Goods Sale we ever had, because qualities and varieties of goods are better this year than ever before. And as for values, we easily discount our past efforts. You'd really wonder how we can afford to sell as we do. Yet it's simple when you know how, and we know. It took years of experience to find out. It meant months of wise and careful planning, and at a time when big sales had a telling effect on manufacturers and factories. They were willing enough to accept big orders during their dull season, while we were equally willing to exchange our ready money for their dependable goods. So you see all parties were satisfied, and now we invite you to become a partner in this transaction and give you the privilege of buying in this way:—

THE TORONTO WORLD ONE CENT MORNING PAPER

THE WORLD INVITES DISCUSSION. The World publishes to-day two communications on the proposed Georgian Bay-Toronto canal route, one from Colborne and the other from Wainwright. The latter is the latest claimant for recognition as the best port for the transaction of the business at the Georgian Bay end of the line. Five towns are now in the field, viz., Owen Sound, Collingwood, Midland, Newford and Wainwright. Which of the five offers the best facilities for the business we are not in a position to decide, nor can we say at the present time that the best policy would be to concentrate the business at one centre. The question is a big one, and cannot be solved in a day or two. In the meantime, The World invites full discussion of the subject. We will be glad to publish the claims of any of the towns interested or give facts of any kind that are relevant to the project. Our principal difficulty seems to be that we possess an embarrassing surplus of space in our Georgian Bay. The trouble will be in making a selection from among so many claimants, any one of which would fill the bill in the absence of the others.

A MADCAP MISSION. If there is any political principle to which the people of the United States are wedded more than another it is the principle of protection. And they believe in it so thoroughly as to frame the so-called Dingleyism is another name for extreme protection. Dingley was, more than any other American statesman, the representative of advanced protectionism. His death is regarded as an event of national importance. He is to be mourned. He is mourned over more than any man who has died since Garfield. The nation in this way testifies its allegiance to the great political principle which Nelson Dingley understood so well, and which he employed so thoroughly in the framing of the so-called Dingley tariff. Dingley is dead, but Dingleyism is as potent as ever. For many years back Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party have given this country to understand that they were able to cause the Americans to modify their views in protection, so far at least as that principle operated against Canada. We were told that neither Sir John Macdonald, nor Sir John Thompson, nor Sir Charles Tupper understood the Americans. Sir Wilfrid led us to believe that the Liberals would be successful where their predecessors had failed. The Liberals it appeared enjoyed the confidence of the United States politicians, and they were besides possessed of "sunny ways," which were able to overcome theirs.

On the strength of his promises and relying on the potency of his "sunny ways," the people returned Sir Wilfrid to power and commissioned him to make his reciprocity treaty with the Americans. He has been negotiating with them for several months now, but he has been unable to secure any of their views of their ways. For Sir Wilfrid Laurier assumes that the Americans do not understand their own business, that they are injuring themselves by holding on to protection. He went to Washington both as a special agent and as a plenipotentiary. He has a special agent, a plenipotentiary, a plenipotentiary, requesting justice for his fellow-countrymen at the hands of the Americans. It was presumptuous on the part of an academic statesman, such as Sir Wilfrid is, to attempt to convince the practical Americans of the errors of their protection. He is a lack of wit, a lack of wit, a lack of wit. After a few preliminaries before the Police Magistrate this forenoon, the Crown prosecutor, Mr. J. Blagden, G.C., moved that the prisoner be removed to jail till Thursday next, in order to afford him sufficient time to arrange for the line of procedure to be followed by the Crown, but was refused.

BURNED TO DEATH. Mrs. Paul Parker and Her Two Children Cremated in the Electric Furnace at the Crematorium, Ont. Jan. 14.—Last night at about 11.30 the house of Paul Parker, at Havelock, was burned down. Mrs. Parker and her two children were burned to death, only their bones being found this morning.

HIRSH WALKER'S FUNERAL. Floral Offerings Were Elaborate and There Was Special Music. Detroit, Jan. 15.—There was a very large attendance at the funeral of the late Hiram Walker here. The room were permeated with the odor of great floral offerings. The services were conducted by Dr. McArthur of Grace Church, assisted by Rev. Mr. Patterson of St. Mary's Church, Walkerville. Harold Jarvis and Mr. Scripps-Ellis sang as a duet "Lead Kindly Light." After the lesson Mr. Blagden sang "The Christian's Good-Night." The choir sang "The Christian's Good-Night." The pall-bearers were all old employees of the Walker firm, as follows: Thomas Weston, J. Blagden, P. Walsh, J. E. Ellis, Walter Carter, J. Fuller, Andrew Betram and John Stuart.

CECIL RHODES IN LONDON. Ex-Premier of Cape Colony Looking After Cape to Capra Railroad. London, Jan. 14.—Mr. Cecil Rhodes, the former Premier of Cape Colony and manager of the Cape to Cairo railway, and general-director of the British Chartered South African Company, arrived in London from Cape Town to-day. There is considerable interest in his visit, which is considered as a preliminary to his proposed scheme of building a railway from Cape Town by railroads. He will endeavor to get the Government to guarantee the interest on the bonds of a railroad from Buluwayo to Lake Tanganyika.

INCALCULABLE GOOD, AN EXPRESSION OF FAITH. Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done me an incalculable amount of good. I think they are the best, surest and quickest acting cure for nervousness, unhealthiness of the heart, insomnia or sleeplessness, anemia or impoverished blood, loss of appetite, general debility and ill-health. For nine years, before I commenced taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, my heart was weak and in an unhealthy state. Its action was so much impaired that I could not walk across the street without suffering great distress, my heart fluttering and beating so rapidly that I could scarcely breathe, causing faintness, loss of strength, and leaving my nerves all unstrung. My sleep was very much disturbed. I had no appetite and there was little strength or vitality in my blood; I was always excessively nervous. I have now taken three boxes of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and since taking them I have a hearty appetite, my business hour. Before taking these pills it was a frequent occurrence for me to be away from business. As a result of taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills I am perfectly healthy and strong and give me no distress or trouble whatever. They removed all nerve trouble, made my nerves strong and gave me healthy sleep. These pills made my blood rich and strong and gave me a healthy appetite. Dr. Ward's Pills have given me perfect health, restoring my lost strength, in place of constant weakness. I have a hearty appetite and am able to do my business without any trouble and nervousness. In justice I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine. Signed, Miss N. Millard, Walton St., Fort Hope, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at drugists, or mailed on receipt of price by THE DOCTOR WARD CO. Limited, 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

SIR WILFRID

pre-almost aggressive—and certainly important in the led—into the American market undisturbed by customs duties. The presence of other hands, however, is a matter of opinion. Sir Wilfrid and his party would induce themselves as long as the Americans. The latter know their own business. They have declared against reciprocity time and again. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier were a practical statesman, he would never have gone to Washington to make a reciprocity treaty. We have no fault to find with the Americans for refusing our request for reciprocity. If we were in their position, we would probably treat the Canadians just as they have treated us. If Canada desires access to the markets of the United States, let it become a member of the Union. That is a fair proposition. Canada should either stop her importation and whining or else apply for annexation. If we pretend to be a nation we must have the dignity of a nation. There is no use in whining after favors, no application for concessions for which we have no legal or moral claim. Little wonder the American press is making fun of us as a tin-pot nation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier ought to come home immediately and save the country from further disgrace. We would rather empire than have been, why doesn't he come home and develop this empire? We can profit greatly from the Americans, not by protracting them for favors, but by adopting the tariff system that has made them the greatest commercial and industrial nation in the world. Of all the mad missions ever undertaken in the political world the wildest was the mission of the "English free trader" Laurier to the United States, asking them to abandon that principle of protection which is the most pronounced and ingrained principle in their fiscal creed. Dingley's death and funeral is an emphatic redeclaration of that principle.

THE SEARCH UNJUSTIFIABLE. The principal of the Gladstone-avenue Public School made a mistake in permitting his pupils to be searched for the ring of the lady teacher that was alleged to have been stolen within the school premises. The ring in question no doubt was of value to its owner, but its loss was of slight importance compared with the injury to which one thousand pupils were subjected by being searched. If an individual loses his purse in a store he cannot order the employees to be searched. Neither could a policeman issue such a command, nor any other officer of the law. The teachers were ordered the children to be searched had neither legal nor moral justification for their action. The ring was lost through the carelessness of the principal. There was no evidence to point to any particular pupil having taken it. The search of each pupil without evidence to justify the search constituted a slander for which those who ordered the search are civilly and legally liable. The teacher who lost the ring appears to have had an exaggerated idea of her own personal misfortune and too little consideration for the moral feelings of her pupils.

DID HE BURN THE BOX? Joseph L'Heureux Charged With Having Saturated a Child's Bed with Urine and Firing It. St. Hyacinthe, Que., Jan. 14.—Joseph L'Heureux, accused of attempting to murder his stepson, a 7-year-old boy, by saturating his bedclothes, some time previous to the boy's retiring for the night, and then setting fire to the bed while the lad was sound asleep, was brought here this morning in custody of His Honor Judge Gauthier, on a warrant issued at the request of Detective Gus Haynes of the Canadian Service of Montreal.

After a few preliminaries before the Police Magistrate this forenoon, the Crown prosecutor, Mr. J. Blagden, G.C., moved that the prisoner be removed to jail till Thursday next, in order to afford him sufficient time to arrange for the line of procedure to be followed by the Crown, but was refused.

Montreal Bank Teller Can Blame the Grip for the Suddenness of His Drop.

Now Said to Be $60,000 Short.

In the Police Court on Saturday the Prisoner Pleaded Not Guilty to the Specific Charge Laid.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—(Special)—At 10 o'clock this morning Detective Grose of Grose's secret service walked into the Police Court, having in charge Albert E. Musson, a clerk employed in the Merchants' Bank of Canada. The arrest was made on a warrant issued by Judge Desnoyers, on complaint of Mr. W. M. Ramsay, who charged Musson with having stolen $5,000 or about the 3rd of September last.

How He Was Caught. Musson was teller in the savings bank branch at the head office, in which capacity large sums of money passed through his hands. He had been in the service of the bank for a dozen years, and had held this responsible position for a year or two. Some days ago he was laid up with grippe, and a depositor came during his absence to draw out a large sum of money which he had deposited in a lump some months before. The teller, who could not find the customer had such an amount to the credit of his account, went to the post office outside the wicket when he was
