U. W. OFFICIAL ADULTS COMMUNISM

VICE-PRESIDENT ON STAND AT SYDNEY PROBE

Chairman Bans Question Touching Religious Belief

WAGE SCALE LOW

District Secretary Declares It is Smallest Received On Continent

Canadian Press.

SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 23.—Joseph Nearing, district vice-president of the U. M. W. of A., admitted under examination by R. M. Wolvin, chairman of the British Empire Steel Corporation, at this morning session of the Royal Commission investigating the coal industry of Nova Scotia, that he was a Communist.

Mr. Wolvin was asked to repeat his question several times before he elicited a reply. The comment of the chairman was: "You do not seem very sure of it."

NOT RELIGIOUS PROBE

Under subsequent re-examination of John W. McLeod, United Mine Workers district president, the witness stated he was a Catholic in religion, and the chairman explained that while he had allowed Mr. Wolvin's original question, he had felt at the time that the witness need not have replied. The commission did not propose to probe the religious beliefs of any witness. The vice-president of the Union, continuing under the examination of Mr. Wolvin, declined to subscribe to the educational policy of the Communists, as reported for have been outlined recently in Toronto by "Comrade" Bill Moriarty. He testified further that neither himself or his wife had taught children Communist doctrines.

SECRETARY TESTIFIES

Nearing took the stand at the opening of today's session, and was under examination the greater part of the morning. He was followed by Alex. McKay, district secretary-treasurer of the U. M. W., who tendered the wage scales paid miners in various parts of the continent, and contended that the scale paid in Nova Scotia, was the lowest paid in any organized district. At the opening of the proceedings today, the chairman read the following announcement: "The Canadian Press has agreed to collaborate with the Royal Commission in preparing and issuing the official daily report of the commission's proceedings."

TELLS OF DISCONTENT

In the course of his direct evidence Joseph Nearing contended there had been discontent among the miners throughout the period of his employment beginning in 1910. He attributed this state of affairs to the policy adopted by the company in its relations with the men. In an elaboration of this contention, he produced letters purporting to have passed between company officials which he claimed showed the existence of a "company spy system."

BOY FACES CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Halifax Youth Held For Death of Companion on Golf Links

Canadian Press.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 23.—A formal charge of manslaughter was laid this morning against Garnet Giles, 18, in connection with the death of his chum, Cyrus Little, 16, who was shot and almost instantly killed on Gorse Brook Golf Club course here yesterday afternoon. A police inquiry will be held tomorrow morning to ascertain the exact details of the tragedy. According to the story told the police by young Giles, he had been sky-larking with several other boys, including Little, and that he had been playing with an old .32 calibre revolver for which he had obtained shells. He said that Little had accidentally stumbled in the way of a bullet. The boy died while being carried to hospital.

YACHT DESTROYED

Sinks Off Frying Pan Shoals and Broken up by Choppy Seas

Canadian Press.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 23.—The yacht Mosquito, a 60-foot craft owned by D. B. Roberts, of Hartford, Conn., sank in five feet of water, in Frying Pan Shoals Saturday night, and was broken up by choppy seas. The captain and his one assistant were taken off by a crew from Cape Fear life-guard station.

N. B. Cleric Speaks at 66th Anniversary of Christ Church Cathedral

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—"Saints of God are not mystical figures that merely adorn the pages of the history of the church; they are men and women, like ourselves, but filled with the power of God, because of their membership in Christ, they have surrendered themselves to the flooding of His Spiritual life," said Right Rev. John A. Richardson, Bishop of Fredericton, in the course of his sermon before the congregation of Christ Church Cathedral, last evening. Yesterday marked the sixty-sixth anniversary of the dedication of the cathedral.

BOY IS DROWNED IN POND AT ANNAPOLIS

Falls From Raft and Sticks in Mud—Born Day Titanic Sank

Special to The Times-Star.

ANNAPOLIS, N. S., Nov. 23.—A sad drowning accident occurred here yesterday afternoon in which a 14-year-old colored boy lost his life. He was playing with companions on a raft and a small scow on the brick-yard pond, an excavation filled with rainwater, several feet deep. He lost his grip on the raft, sank to the bottom and stuck in the clay. The boy's name was Jesse John Wallace, but he was popularly known as Titanic Wallace, he having been born on the day of the steamship Titanic disaster. An inquest is being held today by Coroner Braine.

BOYS DOYLE HOAXED BY SPIRIT PICTURE

Research Officer Declares Original is in British National Art Gallery

IN NATIONAL GALLERY

"Do London spiritualists never visit their national gallery? There hung, I suppose hangs now, the original of that picture of St. John and the four recognized children, unmitigated and unexplained. Am I the first to discover the fact that the upper two-fifths of a print of Murillo's Holy Family, is what furnished the basis of this spirit photograph? The St. John was meant by the artist for the Deity, the four recognized children are the Cherubs common in such pictures, two and a half centuries ago, the dove has been blotted out by 'ectoplasm,' and the lower half of the picture, cut away. But I will not dispute that this is the best spirit photograph ever."

HENDERSON LAUDS CANADA RECEPTION

Declines to Condemn U. S. For Ban by Hartford Officials

Canadian Press.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Stating that it would be a mistake to condemn the United States because officials of several organizations took upon themselves the responsibility of cancelling his engagements to speak in Hartford during his recent tour of the United States and Canada, Arthur Henderson, former Home Secretary, told a representative of The Observer on his return to London, that his reception in Toronto and Hamilton afforded a remarkable contrast to that extended to him in Hartford as there was no restriction placed upon the subject of his address in the Canadian cities. The Hartford incident, however, as far as he was concerned was closed.

Bermuda Takes Step To Lift Ban on Mechanical Transport

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 23.—Steps toward lifting the Bermuda ban upon mechanical means of transportation have been taken by the House of Assembly. By a majority vote, the house gave leave to bring up a bill sanctioning the construction of an electric railway from end to end of the island, with branches at various points. At present there are no railroads in Bermuda, and automobiles are not allowed on the highways. There has, of late, been much agitation for quicker means of transportation, than the horse and the bicycle could supply.

BEATTY DUBIOUS OF WATERWAY PROJECT

Cannot Vision Head of Lakes as Terminal For Ocean Steamers

Canadian Press.

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—It has never been convinced that the advantages of a deep water way from Montreal to the Lakes would outweigh the disadvantages of demurrage," said E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in an interview here. "I am not satisfied that ocean-going boats could afford to make their terminals at the head of the lakes instead of at a Canadian seaport owing to the delays involved in long trips through canals. The argument for and against the scheme were very fully discussed by Brigadier-General Mitchell at the Winnipeg Conference."

KAUDBERGARTEN WORK REVIEWED

Annual Meeting of Saint John Association Held Today

Words of Thanks For Aid Given—Statement on Finances Made

The work of the Free Kindergarten Association in the last year was told in an interesting report submitted to the annual meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms this afternoon.

Executive and monthly meetings were held regularly throughout the year. At these meetings Mrs. Pickett's reports of her regular visits to the Kindergarten and her meetings with the teachers were most interesting and much appreciated by the association.

Finances were as usual a matter of some concern, and bills and expenses were dealt with as the members at each meeting thought best. In June membership lists were discussed and a final effort made to make the deficit as small as possible.

People have been very kind and helpful. Mrs. Percy Thomson gave $100 to the general fund. An anonymous gift of $200 was given through Mrs. Holman to be used as a scholarship for a pupil in Mrs. Robinson's tracing class.

A donation of $25 to the fund for clothing from the pupils of Netherwood school was gratefully received. Many donations of clothing and money to purchase boots, etc., for the poor children were received during the winter months.

A gift which has been indeed a pleasure was that of a generous supply of broken biscuits from J. A. Marven of Moncton. Mr. Marven has not only given unlimited quantities of these biscuits but he has arranged to send them in amounts as required.

Christmas as usual brought a special treat to each kindergarten. Under the able management of Mrs. Spangler donations were solicited of chocolates and oranges, nuts and raisins. Individual gifts were a great help and were a part of the success of the treats.

A bridge was held in the Pythian Castle in January, the proceeds being $272.65, and also a bridge at Mrs. McAvity's own home which brought in $40. The Saint John Catholic Women's League has sent a donation of money. Miss McCuskey was appointed a member of the executive.

At an early meeting special honor was paid to Miss Mary Gunn. Miss Gunn has for 21 years been indefatigable in working for the children of the city in many ways and honor was felt to be only due to such a member of the association.

Our thanks are once more due to the press for their faithfulness in reporting our meetings and activities and to the Board of Trade for their kindness in allowing us the use of their rooms for meetings.

The success of the year's work is in a great measure due to Mrs. McAvity's personal success as a president. The association offers its appreciation and gratitude for what she has accomplished.

The financial statement, presented by Miss A. V. Sandall, treasurer, was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Balance on hand, School Board allowance, Dues, Donations, etc.

FARRS HELP TO GOVERNMENTS

H. A. Porter Tells of Meeting of Exhibition Executives

Returns After Attending Meeting of Canadian Association in Ottawa

H. A. Porter, manager of the Saint John Exhibition arrived home on Sunday from Ottawa where he was in attendance at the Chateau Laurier at the second annual convention of the Association of Canadian Exhibitions, a body organized a year ago for mutual advice, exchange of ideas, regulation of amusements and also to be able to take their larger projects before governments and transportation corporations as a national unit.

Nothing that focused directly on Maritime exhibitions was brought up, in fact individual shows were not discussed. All questions and subject matter was general and broadly Canadian. There were at times as many as 40 delegates from the Chateau, and some of these were members of agricultural college faculties from western provinces, members of parliament and others interested in the large scale raising and agricultural industries of their districts.

ALLY TO GOVERNMENTS

In developed at the conference, Mr. Porter said, that the various Class A fairs represented—Toronto, Ottawa, Saint John, Sherbrooke, Fredericton, Charlottetown, Three Rivers, Guelph, London, Brandon, Regina and others—were a powerful ally of the Federal Government and provincial governments in bolstering their agricultural departments and other national resources. In fact it was argued they were an ideal vehicle and demonstration. The fact, he said, about strengthening the hands of exhibition executives in dealing with governments and transportation matters.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

The Saint John fair manager also reported that the new association had a definite understanding as to amendment attraction contracts, the identity with which they have been carried out, who are fakers and who play fair and square.

AUTOS COLLIDE AND TWO MEN INJURED

Cars Driven by Richard Walsh and Dr. G. B. Peat Clash

With a series of reports that sounded like the shots fired in the rum car chase of the midnight previous, two automobiles crashed into one another at the corner of Douglas avenue and Bentley street at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, injuring two men so badly that they had to be taken to the hospital for treatment and slightly cutting the hand of the driver of the other car, Dr. G. B. Peat, who was hurrying in his Hudson sedan to the Evangeline Maternity Hospital.

Richard Walsh, 109 Hilyard street, driver of the Overland touring car, was badly cut about the head and face, a piece having been almost completely severed from the back of his scalp. John Conway, another occupant of the John Conway, another occupant of the William McCann and John Shields, the other two men in the Walsh car, escaped unhurt.

Both automobiles were badly damaged, the windshield, back window, bumper, radiator and other portions of the front of Dr. Peat's car being smashed, and the left front wheel, running board, radiator and other sections of the Walsh car being crumpled up.

A resident of Douglas avenue took the doctor to the Evangeline Home in his car. Both the wrecked vehicles were removed by a local service station. The accident occurred when the Walsh car was turning into Douglas avenue from Bentley street and as Dr. Peat arrived at that point.

KING RILED, SAYS HE WON'T RETIRE

Tells Political Opponents to Wait and See; Blames Conservatives

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—Annoyed by some newspaper stories to the effect that he had decided to retire to private life, the Prime Minister issued a brief statement last evening, which concluded: "My advice to them (his political opponents) and to all others who have any misgivings on this point would be to wait and see."

Premier King's statement is as follows: "I have no intention of retiring from public life, nor have I ever entertained any idea of the kind. No doubt the Conservative party in Canada would welcome nothing more than my retirement. Any intimation of the kind should be understood by the public as emanating like so much else appearing nowadays solely from that source and as being only a part of a continuation of their campaign of misrepresentation and preparation which became more general than ever in the recent election. "Having failed in one direction our

AGED WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HER BED

IN RESPONSE to a telephone call received at police headquarters Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Detectives Power and Biddescombe, with Sergeant Dykeman, hastened to Glen Falls where they found a woman, named Jane Cunningham, aged 75 years, who had been discovered dead in her bed. The aged woman had been living with a family named Roeker. The officers notified Dr. F. L. Kenney, Coroner, who viewed the body and decided after an examination that she had died of natural causes. No inquest will be held.

Letters to The Editor

REV. MR. HAUGHTON ON PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir,—On my return home this evening I sat down to read The Evening Times-Star, to which I am a subscriber, and was interested to find in the edition of the 18th inst. another "slam" at Prohibition. It is nothing new to find "wet" propaganda against Prohibition in the United States occupying a prominent position in the pages of The Evening Times-Star. I shall appreciate it, however, if you will kindly permit me to say a few words in favor of the 18th Amendment to the Constitution of the U. S. and if you will give what I have to say as prominent a position as the subtle and false propaganda of the "Wets." The article to which I refer of the 18th inst. is headed in bold type, "Volstead Act is Called a Failure." Then follows a statement of the so-called Moderation League, Inc., of New York, as follows: "We cannot escape the conclusion that the Volstead Act has failed utterly to do what it was intended to do—produce temperance and sobriety." I would not reply to such an absolutely false statement were it not for the fact that some of my good Canadian friends might be misled by this sort of propaganda now emanating with considerable zest from the various "wet" organizations (and there are 40 of them) now seeking in various ways to defeat the 18th Amendment and to deprive the American people of the benefits of Prohibition—and the industrial, economic, moral and social benefit of American Prohibition are incontestable. Nothing finer in favor of prohibition could possibly be said than that "Prohibition has helped the home," as appears from the report of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children made on Tuesday of this very week at the meeting of the directors of the society at the headquarters of the society at 45 My Ver non street, Boston. The report stated

I leave it to you, Mr. Editor, if that is not a most worthy accomplishment. Knowing the profound interest of Mr. A. M. Belding in child welfare, I imagine that he might be tempted to make use of a good Methodist word and say "Amen" to that.

KINDERGARTEN TEA SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Funds Raised by Alumnae to Provide For Christmas Treats For Little Ones

The annual tea and sale of the Kindergarten Alumnae held on Saturday afternoon in the G. W. V. A. was a very delightful event and most successful. Miss Edna Colwell, president of the Alumnae, was the general convenor. Red and green were used in a pleasing scheme of decoration and candles of the two colors set in silver candelabra were prettily arranged on the tea table.

Mrs. H. H. Pickett and Mrs. A. F. Robinson presided. The replenishers were Miss Winnifred Ross and Miss Ethel Estey. The servers were the Misses Florence Kierstead, Eileen Ritchie, Vera Corbett, Gladys Weeks, Amy Belg, Bernice Flewelling, Alma Magnusson, Emmie Magnusson, Doris Bromfield, Doris Woodrow and Ruby Isaacs, the members of Mrs. Robinson's training class being included among the servers. Those who had charge in the kitchen were Mrs. Harvey Colwell

Unique in Circuit, Design and Value

IN Model R4, DeForest & Crosley engineers present the Super-Triodyne circuit—a set which embodies all the improvements and refinements typical of The New Radio—a set whose long range, beautiful tone, improved efficiency and unusual simplicity make it one of the outstanding achievements of the year.

Some of the new features developed by three research laboratories—the greatest names in radio—are indicated alongside. But only actual operation will convince you of the ease with which it "tunes out" unwanted stations—even local broadcasting.

The cabinet is in classic Adam Brown Mahogany and the rich, two-tone effect is elegantly expressed in this distinctive, sloping panel design. All batteries, tubes and wires are enclosed.

The efficiency, simplicity, distinctive beauty and VALUE offered in Model R4 will give you a new conception of the miracle of radio. Hear it today! Aerial Equipment and Batteries the only extras necessary.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 23, 1925.

NOW IS THE TIME

The Maritime Provinces have to-day a great opportunity to capitalize the demands being put forward by influential newspapers in Winnipeg and in Toronto for a proper test of the National Transcontinental as the grain route as soon as inland navigation opens, a week or two hence.

Quebec has long been agitating for this method of keeping Canadian trade in Canadian channels, and, as the Winnipeg Free Press has pointed out, the present year, when so much of the great wheat crop still remains to be moved, is the time to utilize the Transcontinental for the purpose for which it was constructed.

We referred on Saturday, and are referring again to-day on another page, to the Manitoba Free Press proposal, which is immensely practical, and in favor of which Maritime organizations of all kinds should unite. Now is the time for Maritime Boards of Trade, our members of Parliament, our National Railway directors, and our port and railway workers to combine in pressing for action on the part of the Dominion Government and the C. N. R., action now, not next year or at some day in the distant future.

"Canada," says the Toronto Star, "has the shortest Atlantic route from the tidal port of Quebec to Liverpool. The National railway line from Winnipeg to Quebec is the shortest possible rail route from the Canadian prairie to any Atlantic port. There is no other stretch of railway on the Continent of America of equal length constructed with grades and curves so favorable for the haulage of heavy freight at low cost."

Can the line of the National Railway between Winnipeg and Quebec be profitably used for the purpose for which it was built, that is, to give an all-year-round outlet to the prairie wheat? The Star answers this question positively by saying there is no doubt as to the practicability of the fall haul, and that the sole question is one of rates. It points out that there can be no reason why the rates on any part of the main line of the National Railway from Quebec to the foot of the Rockies should be higher than on any other part—no reason why there should be a charge of 20.7 cents for hauling a bushel of wheat from Fort William to Quebec, 1,077 miles, when the charge for the haul of 1,290 miles from Edmonton or Calgary to Fort William by both the C. N. R. and the C. E. R. is only 15.6 cents a bushel.

Why does Canada continue to pay from $12,000,000 to $16,000,000 a year to American transportation agencies and to American labor, when it might keep that money at home? The Star points out that with a canal system which has cost the Dominion hundreds of millions, and three railway lines costing not less than $300,000,000 more, all built for the purpose of enabling Canada to profit by its own traffic, "the time has arrived for something to be done about it, even if that something did set aside the hallowed traditions of supremacy of the water haul and the interests of the combines that now control navigation on the Great Lakes."

The thresome theory that nothing can be done and that Canada must simply continue to pay the Americans two dollars in transportation charges for every dollar distributed at home for the carriage of wheat is indignantly rejected by the Star. "We can win if we want to," it asserts. "And it adds: "The interest on the investment represented by the section of the National Railway between Winnipeg and Quebec piles up against the people of Canada whether a pound of freight goes over the road or not. The country could better afford to haul wheat from Winnipeg to Quebec at barely operating costs for the sake of the benefit to the national trade through our own ports, than to let that trade go to build up the railways systems and ports of our commercial rivals. The distribution of the bare operating costs of twelve to sixteen million dollars a year among our own people would be better business than handing it over to our competitors for rendering a service that we are equipped to render ourselves. But there is no need of considering that contingency until it arises, which is probably never will. The problem is only stated to prove that we do not need to lose in the fight to retain our own wheat trade, even at the hardest kind of a hard finish; unless we want to."

When the St. Lawrence ports are closed this traffic should come to Saint John and Halifax. The same arguments which the Star and the Winnipeg Free Press apply to Quebec would apply to Maritime ports when inland navigation is closed. With the powerful support now clearly available from other parts of the country, the Maritimes have an exceptionally fine opportunity for action. The good faith of Parliament and of the C. N. R. officials, who so constantly express a desire to route as much traffic as possible through Canadian harbors, must now be tested. The Dominion Government—indeed Parliament as a whole—cannot be in any way mistaken as to the size of this issue. The Maritimes, without delay, should unite in pressing for favorable action. The national interest very clearly demands that the outflow of Canada's wheat through alien ports, together with the constant loss of employment, be the subject of resolute national action.

President Beatty of the C. P. R. says the country is on the verge of prosperity, that conditions are rapidly improving in the West, and steadily improving in the East, and that "there is every prospect that the future will be good."

The latest concerning "the summerless year 1926" comes from an official of the Meteorological Bureau, Toronto, who says that the prophets who are saying we shall have no summer next year are "expert humbugs."

Odds and Ends

Now he's in again (Boston Post.) "You need not worry about me, my boy," interrupted Mr. Manhattan, "I feel the same about Florida as I do about women: I like to look at them, but I wouldn't want to own one."

"Well," said Mr. Manhattan, "a couple of years ago a prominent New Yorker paid $100,000 for some swamp land near Miami. The land was mostly under water and when his family got a glimpse of it they had him committed to an insane asylum. A couple of months ago the family had an offer of $300,000 for the land—the water and the land, I mean, for they both got together—and they applied to the court to have the insane man released. He was naturally strong for accepting the offer, for it showed every one that he was not as crazy as he seemed. However, last month the same property brought $600,000, so the family had him put back in the asylum."

Abutting and Abounding. (Eau Gallie, Fla., Record.) Many years ago in Eau Gallie there was an Irishman who owned a goat and another Irishman who, as tax assessor, taxed that goat at the sum of four dollars. The goat owner took the tax assessor to task in vigorous, Irish fashion: "What do you mean, taking my family pet at four dollars, or any other sum for that matter?"

"That is strictly according to the statutes of Florida in such cases made and provided," responded the assessor. "Show me," demanded the indignant owner.

The assessor thereupon took the statute pertaining to taxes and read to his bewildered fellow-countryman: "All property abutting and abounding on the public street shall be taxed at the rate of two dollars per front foot."

His eyes bulged, however, when a motorcycle followed closely in its wake and disappeared like a flash around a bend in the road.

THE WILY FIGHTER UNCLE JOHN watched his nephew and some other little boys playing as soldiers, attacking a fort. "Tommy," he said, "if you and your side take over the fort in half an hour I'll give you a quarter."

About two minutes later there came an eager cry: "Uncle, can I have that quarter now? We've taken the fort." "That was very smart," said Uncle John, as he handed over the coin. "How did you manage it so quickly?"

"Oh, I just offered the other side a dime to give in," answered Tommy.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS A TRAIN in Arizona was boarded by robbers, who went through the pockets of the luckless passengers. One of them happened to be a traveling salesman from New York, who, when his turn came, fished out $200, but rapidly took $4 from the pile and placed it in his vest pocket.

"What do you mean by that?" asked the robber, as he toyed with his revolver. Hurriedly came the answer: "Mine friend, you surely would not refuse me 2 per cent discount on a strictly cash transaction like dis?"

PROTECTING THE COLLECTION A CLERGYMAN gave out the hymn, "I Love to Steal Awhile Away," and the deacon who led the singing began, "I love to steal," but he found he had pitched the note too high.

MAN'S INSATIABLE DESIRE

MOST everyone is familiar with Emerson's line, "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." The sentence preceding it in the essay in which it appears (Circles) is: "The one thing which we seek with insatiable desire is to forget ourselves."

Poems That Live

REMEMBER. Remember me when I am going away, Gone far away into the silent land; When you can no more hold me by the hand, Nor I half turn to go, yet turning stay. Remember me when no more, day by day, You tell me of my future that you planned; Only remember me! You understand It will be late to counsel then or pray. Yet if you should forget me for a while And afterwards remember, do not grieve; For if the darkness and corruption leave A vestige of the thought that once I had, Better by far you should forget and smile Than that you should remember and be sad. —Christina Georgina Rossetti.

IT HAPPENED the other day. Quite a crowd of people missed a most harrowing tragedy. "Sir," yelled a pedestrian suddenly, "you stuck your umbrella in my eye!"

"Oh, no, sir," replied the genial idiot. "I assure you that you are mistaken."

"Mistaken!" yelled the injured one. "Mistaken! I tell you I know when my own eye is injured!"

"Doubtless you do, sir," replied the genial idiot. "But you don't know my umbrella. I borrowed this one yesterday!"

Dr. Bruce Taylor, president of Queen's university, in an address at the convention of the Canadian Education association in Ottawa, pleaded for simple English with precision of thought and directness of expression, and declared that nine-tenths of the speeches one hears today are quite half too long and also most of the sermons. He thought a beginning should be made in the universities to improve the use of the English language. Who's Who

IN THE DAYS NEWS.

WILLIAM E. JOHNSON.

THE Anti-Saloon League which is planning to launch a drive on European countries has selected William (Pussyfoot) Johnson as its leader. Johnson came into international prominence in prohibition circles when his eye was so severely injured by a prohibition speech in London that it had to be taken out in order to save the sight of the other eye.

Johnson was born in Coventry, New York, March 25, 1862. Acting on Horace Greeley's advice he went to Nebraska and, after completing his studies at the University of Nebraska, he sought a job as cub reporter with the Lincoln, Neb., Daily News.

In 1906 he was named special agent of the Department of the Interior to enforce the liquor laws in Indian Territory and Oklahoma. It wasn't an office job. Johnson wore and knew a fund of $1,000 to have Johnson murdered, the dry sleuth said, "Go ahead and collect the money."

It is told of Johnson that when he heard that one man had sought to raise a fund of $1,000 to have Johnson murdered, the dry sleuth said, "Go ahead and collect the money."

In July, 1908, Johnson was named chief special officer of the U. S. Indian service and in three years obtained over 3,000 convictions for law violations.

Since that time he has played a prominent part in various prohibition activities. He has written many books dealing with the alcohol problem.

POLITICS IN FRANCE

Paris Quotidian: What France is asking is not that a certain minister or a certain ministry, should either remain in power or get out. What France is asking, anxiously, and imperiously, is that there will be opened her a prospect for the future and safety. Until today—by the fault of circumstances perhaps more than by the fault of individuals—she has been compelled to live without a horizon, trailing on from day to day, from week to week, without care of the morrow, always decelerated and always in greater peril and despair. This is the method we must put an end to. For a long time now it has been clear that the old, simple expedients, the clumsy tricks, the paltry shifts, are without avail, and may well indeed be dangerous.

Judge J. B. Moore, of the United States courts, in an address at the University of Toronto: "I am not a believer in secret diplomacy. I know that you cannot make delicate negotiations from the housetops, but I do not believe in deceiving the public. I think my fellow-countrymen are a pretty good lot and they deserve good treatment. In the Washington treaty nothing was withheld from the people that was essential to a public understanding of what was done. That was true, open diplomacy."

A Mediterranean Pact. Jacques Bardoux, in the Warsaw Messenger Polonais: Since the idea of the neutralization of zones, so necessary to peace, has been sown and taken root, why should not Madrid and Paris take upon themselves the initiative of applying the idea to the most essential of routes, to the least open of seas, to the most international lake of all—the Mediterranean? A pact of this nature would take its place in history. To keep within the spirit of Geneva and lend no shelter to the formations of a cabal, the North African contract would have to be open to the North African Powers—Britain, Egypt, Italy, Spain and France would thus be ready to enlarge their guarantee and extend their own security; they covet nothing; they desire nothing; they wish only to guard their own possessions and ensure their own Peace.

SAINT JOHN DELEGATES BRING CHEERY WORD FROM WINNIPEG

NONE AT MEETS UNCONVINCED THAT SEABOARD ISN'T TO BE TRIELED WITH, SAYS SIMMS

Sclanders Feels Atlantic Provinces Have Been Lifted From Isolation Back Into Bosom of Confederation Again

FINE SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION IS SHOWN

Moncton Delegates Pleased With Results; Declare They Have Every Reason for Pride Over Success Attained

THERE was no one at the meetings who was not convinced that the Maritime Provinces were not to be trifled with, said L. W. Simms, president of the Saint John Board of Trade last night on his return from the first session of the economic conference of Canadian Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in Winnipeg last week.

F. Maclure Sclanders, commissioner of the Board, said "I feel that the Maritime Provinces have been lifted from isolation back into the bosom of Confederation again."

Mr. Simms and Mr. Sclanders were the first of the Saint John delegation to return from the conference in Winnipeg. Others of those attending the meetings took occasion to visit other places to the west.

The Moncton delegation also returned pleased with the results of the conference. They agreed, in their interviews last night, that there had been shown a fine spirit of Dominion co-operation and that the delegates from the various parts of Canada had evinced a great deal of inclination to look fairly and sympathetically at the problems of the other parts.

TWO POINTS MENTIONED. Mr. Simms referred to two points which he felt would be a sufficient reward for the time and expense of the meeting even if all other things failed. The first was the fact that the business men of the Dominion had met together in a body representative, in numbers and quality, of all parts of the country for the first time since Confederation, had learned to appreciate the difficulties of the other sections and had gone home with a new idea of the readiness of the others to work with them in ironing out national difficulties.

HIGHEST NOTE STRUCK. He thought there was no doubt that the highest note of the meetings had been struck by A. M. Belding, who had been touring Canada as a representative of "The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star in the interests of the Maritimes. Mr. Belding had not only spoken well but had supplied happy thoughts at many times, he said.

HOPES FOR GOOD RESULTS. He repeated that he hoped for good results from the Dominion Board of Trade but that these two factors were worth-while alone. The Maritime Provinces had been given every consideration, and it was evident that the delegates from the other parts of Canada were most sympathetic to the peculiar needs of these provinces.

Mr. Sclanders declared himself greatly pleased. They had had a splendid opportunity to bring up the Maritime situation to many of the leading business men of Canada, both on the floor of the conference and outside the meetings.

MONCTON MEN PLEASED. MONCTON, Nov. 22.—Senator C. W. Robinson, Dr. O. B. Price, M.P. Leet and S. L. Holder, who represented the Moncton Board of Trade at the Dominion conference of Boards of Trade in Winnipeg, returned to Moncton this afternoon on the Ocean Limited.

DR. PRICE'S VIEW. Dr. Price said, "From a Maritime standpoint, we have every reason to feel proud of the success attained. It is credit to be due both Messrs. Belding and McKenna, of the Saint John Telegraph-Journal, for blazing the path which has ultimately moulded our course to a goal of high achievement. Maritime Province delegates lost no opportunity to present our claims carefully before those representing the various boards and it is not too much to say that every Maritime was on the job from start to finish."

TORONTO PAPER APPEALS FOR THE MARITIMES

Urges Use of Transcontinental for Carriage of Grain From West

RATE REDUCTION TO QUEBEC ADVOCATED

Equalized Charges Would Take Business From U. S. Harbors

By A. M. BELDING

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—The Toronto star has published five long articles on the grain trade of Canada. In the one which appeared Saturday the writer declared there should be an end of building up American railways and ports, and the National Transcontinental route to Quebec should be used for the carriage of grain.

This writer points out that there is no reason why this rail rate from Fort William to Quebec, 1,077 miles, should be 20¢ cents when the rate from Edmonton or Calgary to Fort William, 1,250 miles, is only 15¢ cents, or that the latter rate if applied to the Quebec route would be about 10¢ profit to the railways, which show their best returns during the grain moving season.

"If his proposal is regarded as revolutionary," he says, "with a canal system which cost Canada into the millions and three railway lines costing not less than $300,000,000 more, all built for the purpose of enabling Canada to profit by her own traffic, and when we find ourselves handing over to our business rivals their earnings of $12,000,000 to $16,000,000 a year, helping to build up their port cities to the loss of our own, it would seem that the time had arrived for something to be done about it."

"The country could better afford to haul wheat from Winnipeg to Quebec at barely operating costs, for the sake of the benefit to the national trade through our own ports, than to let that trade go to build up the railway systems and ports of our commercial rivals. The distribution of the bare operating costs of $12,000,000 to $16,000,000 a year among our own people would be better business than handing it over to our competitors for rendering a service we are equipped to render ourselves."

As already pointed out, the adoption of this policy would greatly benefit Maritime ports, and Maritime Boards of Trade and members of Parliament should acquaint themselves with the arguments presented by the writer in the Star.

MONCTON, Nov. 22.—Louisa Fougere, a 15 year old Sheldae boy who was found in an unconscious state in the woods near his home Thursday night, died in hospital here yesterday, without being able to give any explanation as to what had happened. An inquest was ordered and a jury empanelled, but no evidence was given before adjournment was made to Tuesday to bring witnesses to the city.

It was believed that Fougere was suffering from a fractured skull, but X-ray examinations revealed no breaks and the exact cause of death will not be known until a post mortem examination ordered has been made.

BISHOP'S LETTER READS. In the Anglican churches throughout the diocese yesterday a letter from His Lordship Bishop Richardson was read, drawing the attention of the congregations to the need for increased giving to meet the budget apportionment for the missionary funds, and for all of the other extra-parochial funds dependent on the congregations' support. Next Sunday, St. Andrew's Day, will be observed as a day of special intercession for missions.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE. Henry Bald, of Barbados, British West Indies, was in the city yesterday. Speaking of conditions in the West Indies, he said there had been very little noticeable change in the last few months. He believed that the people of the West Indies were looking to the Canada-West Indies trade agreement to do a great deal of good for both countries. He is at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

A Slashing Good Stroke Of All-Canadian Business them in demanding the actual carriage of the grain, in place of empty words and phrases bespeaking a desire to carry it through Canadian channels.

LET us hope that the Dominion Government—that Parliament as a whole—will be ready to translate this opportunity into action. But let us make sure that they do. Let us unite with the West in pressing this question immediately to an issue, demanding that, when inland navigation closes, the Transcontinental be employed to carry to Canadian Atlantic ports, to the limit of its capacity, the traffic which must otherwise be diverted to alien outlets.

Hurls Bandits Off Wagon and Escapes

TRURO, Nov. 22.—Two masked men made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up Harry S. Johnson, of Valley Station, near here, Saturday night. Johnson failed to stop his horses when ordered to by the desperadoes, who then fired a shot and climbed aboard the wagon, only to be thrown off by the would-be victim, who whipped his horses and made good his escape.

it was built. A Liberal Government, having in mind that it was Sir Wilfred Laurier who committed Canada to the vast expenditure involved in the building of this and other railways to and through the West, can scarcely fail to grasp the importance of the national service that can be done by recovering the immense traffic which Canada has lost and is losing in an increasing degree; nor should any Liberal Government be blind to the chance here afforded to demonstrate that the greatest Liberal chieftain was not merely a visionary or a dreamer in the matter of railway expansion, but that he was right when he told this country that its economic prosperity depended to an extraordinary degree upon keeping the whole enriching stream of Canadian traffic in Canadian channels.

Yarmouth Man Is Found Dead In Home

YARMOUTH, Nov. 22.—Aubrey Nickerson, a well known jeweler of this town, for many years in the employ of McLaughlin Bros., of Yarmouth, was found dead in his home yesterday. He resided with his sister, Mrs. Maud Cripps, and on Friday was, so far as known, in his usual good health. He was about town Friday evening until quite late. When he reached home his sister had retired for the night. Mrs. Cripps heard her brother moving about the house but did not hear him come upstairs. She supposed he had lain down on a lounge downstairs, as he frequently did. About 7 o'clock in the morning, when Mrs. Cripps went downstairs, she was horrified to find him lying dead on the kitchen floor.

HOLDS PANTRY SALE

The Season's Most Favored Models

A new idea in an overcoat has come into great favor for Fall. A broad shouldered coat with wide, deep lapels; straight hanging and with plenty of length. This is the practical overcoat. It's warm because it hangs close to the body. It's dressy because of its cut. Worn with a muffler, it's perfectly good for the coldest weather. It's just right for most winter weather—between a topcoat and an ulster. You can wear it to the office, to the theatre, on a trip—almost anywhere, and it will be right. A Society Brand idea, and a good one.

Deaths

Mrs. James M. Johnston Suddenly stricken with a heart attack while in the street on her way home after visiting relatives in the North End of the city, Mrs. James M. Johnston, passed away last evening at her residence, 166 Carmarthen street, at 7:10 just three hours after she had been brought to her home in the ambulance, which had responded promptly to the emergency call. Her tragically sudden death was a great shock to her relatives and friends.

Mrs. Johnston was born in Hants county, N. S., and was of Loyalist descent. Her great-grandfather was Rev. James Murdoch, the first Presbyterian minister in Nova Scotia. She had resided for a number of years in Campbellville. She is survived by her husband, who is a well known local contractor, four sons, two brothers, two sisters and nine grand children. The sons are W. Harvey Johnston, of Campbellville; Albert M. M., of Millinocket; J. Kenneth, of St. Paul, Alta., and Edward O., of Trail, B. C. The brothers are Gilbert and Kent Harvey, of Ellensburg, Wash.; and the sisters are, the Misses Mary S. and Carrie E., of Yakima, Wash.

Mrs. G. Steen APOHAQUI, Nov. 22.—Mrs. George Steen died at her home, Pleasant Ridge, a few days ago, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Steen was 82 years of age and was a daughter of the late Augustus and Jenima Sharp Dagnino. Her father was a native of Italy and came to this country when only a lad, crossing the ocean in an old time sailing vessel. After considerable roving in the West Indies, he settled in Millstream, where he was a competent miller and farmer and a highly respected citizen.

Mrs. Steen is survived by her husband, one son, Alexander, and two daughters, Annie and Blanche, all in their teens at home. One sister, Mrs. Clifford Price, Saint John, and three brothers, William D. Dagnino, Milo, McE., Augustino Dagnino, of Frysburg, Me.; Benjamin, of Millstream, also survive. Mrs. Steen was a member of the Methodist church.

She underwent a serious operation in the General Public Hospital, Saint John, where she was a patient for several months. She returned home in March somewhat improved, but suffered a relapse and passed away.

Alex. McHarg The death of Alexander McHarg occurred on Nov. 20 at the residence of his sister, Mrs. R. S. Howe at Headline, Queens county, N. B., after a week's illness. He was a native of Oliville, N. B., but had resided in the United States for many years. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Howe, of Headline, and Mrs. R. S. Howe, of Headline, and two brothers, James, of Saint John, and Edward, of Jerusalem, N. B.

The Woman of Tact Veers Away From the Family Skeleton Closet, She Admires Our Things That She Likes and Keeps Silent About the Rest, But Above All She Manages to Bring Out Our Own Best Qualities.

THE British Ministry of Health has advertised for "fifty women of tact" to act as assistant inspectors in one of their branches of work.

A very famous man once told me that his idea of a woman of tact was one to whom a man could be married for five years without ever finding out whether her hair was her own or not.

THE woman of tact has intelligence enough to recognize that it saves time and energy, and painful bruises to walk around a stonewall instead of trying to hit it down with your head.

THE tactful wife does not ravenously heckle her husband, and make him an object of derision for the ribald. She does not make him a person of small importance in his own home, and blatantly assert her own authority.

WHEN she wants a thing, she doesn't go after it hammer and tongs, and irritate a tired and busy man so that he refuses her what she asks just because he is weary and cross, and feels like hitting something.

IF she is married to a self-opinionated man, she first suggests casually to him the thing she wants, and tells him that, of course, she has to dress well because she has to live up to having such a handsome husband, and that everybody expects it of the wife of such a prominent man.

IF SHE is married to a stingy man, she doesn't try to wheedle pennies out of him. She goes and gets what she wants, and tells him that, of course, she has to dress well because she has to live up to having such a handsome husband, and that everybody expects it of the wife of such a prominent man.

THE tactful woman never corrects her children in public because that humiliates them and makes them surly, nor does she continually nag them about their defects, because that breaks down their morale and kills their faith in themselves.

SHE tells Mary how pretty she is when her face wears that lovely sweet expression, and Mary conquers her high temper for fear of breaking up that angel look.

THE tactful woman never loses a friend because she always does and says the right thing. She gives us enough and not too much of her society. She keeps her fingers out of our family pie, she doesn't attempt to force her religion, her friends, her doctor, nor her dentist upon us.

IN A WORD, the tactful woman is the living exponent of the golden rule. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger Company.

Family Menus

Breakfast. Boiled P. with Top Milk. Fried Eggs on Toast. Jellied Prunes. Coffee.

Dinner. Liver and Bacon. Mashed Potatoes. Creamed Cabbage. Fruit Gelatine with Cream. Tea or Coffee. Milk for Children.

Supper. Cream of Celery Soup. Crackers or Toast Strips. Whole Wheat Pancakes. Syrup. Tea. Milk.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Boiled Rice—Allow two-thirds of a cup of rice to one quart of water. Add one teaspoon salt to water and bring to a brisk boil. Wash and drain the rice and add to the rapidly boiling water. Keep uncovered and boil briskly for 12 or 15 minutes, then shake up and set on the back of the stove or over a low flame to dry out. This should take about 20 minutes.

Fried Eggs on Toast—Four eggs, four tablespoons of butter or bacon fat, toasted bread. Heat the butter in a frying pan. Break the eggs into cups, slip them gently in the hot butter or fat and fry until the whites are set. Then baste them well with the fat. Take the eggs up, drain well from fat and serve on slices of buttered toast.

Jellied Prunes—Cook one-third pound of prunes until soft; remove stones, and cut meat in pieces. Soak one-half box of gelatine in one-half cupful of cold water and add one pint of the syrup in which prunes were cooked. Add one cupful of sugar, one-quarter cupful of lemon juice, and the prunes. Mold and chill. Serve with or without cream.

Carrots a la Duchesse—Cut the carrots into slices and boil them in one pint of stock, also put in some peppercorns and a bouquet of mixed herbs. When the carrots are quite tender take them out and keep hot in a deep dish, while you strain the gravy and reheat, make a smooth paste with a dessert-spoonful of flour and a little melted fresh butter; stir it into the saucepan and continue stirring until it boils up, then pour over the carrots and serve.

Lemon Snow—Two ounces gelatine, one quart water, the whites of three eggs, the juice of three lemons and the grated rind of one, sugar to taste. Soak the gelatine in the water for one hour, then boil it up with the grated rind of the lemon, and sugar according to taste. Take the pan off the fire, strain the lemon juice and add to it. Beat up the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth. Let the pan stand for 10 minutes, so that the contents may cool a little; then stir in the whites of the eggs very gently. Put it away in a cool place until the following day.

Timely Views On World Topics

THE work of Locarno is one of the most important steps toward the creation of a United States of Europe.

Thus stated Jan Oudegeest, one of the three secretaries of the International Federation of Trade Unions, in a recent speech.

"If mutual guarantee pacts containing provisions for arbitration similar to those now concluded for western Europe are inaugurated also for the other nations of Europe and thus a bridge is built to the Little Entente, which has done such splendid work in maintaining peace in eastern Europe, J. Oudegeest then indeed no European war will be possible for many years to come, especially if Germany joins the League of Nations and thus strengthens its power in the world.

"The next battle cry that we must raise is 'Free Trade! Free Transport and Communications! Down with Customs Frontiers!'

Predicts Disarmament Spirit.

"The decisions of Locarno, which guarantee the frontiers of Germany, France and Belgium, will exert a powerful influence on the financial and economic situation of the whole of Europe.

By accepting the resolutions concerning the treaties of guarantee the Socialist and Labor International at its congress in Marseilles, smoothed the way for Vandervelde's work at Locarno.

There is now a possibility of the growth in France and Belgium of a spirit favorable to disarmament, for disarmament would in all probability tend to raise the value of the franc and thereby improve the situation of the workers."

For instance, I rode the other day from the docks of the United States Lines in Hoboken to the ferry boat for New York. Here was a line of cars bearing people whose minds were filled with thoughts of their recent inspection by the customs officials. As the cars crept along they were halted from man who reached into the capacious bootlegger pockets of his vest and stealthily hauled out strings of amber beads and other knickknacks. These he offered to sell.

His price, he said, was "Twenty bucks! Cost you twice that over in the city." All his appearance, manner and tone was studiously suspicious. He was the beau ideal of a smuggler.

The taxicab driver told me his daily receipts frequently go to $200 or $300. He isn't breaking in any tariff law. He simply is profiting from respectable travelers who are eager to profit from lawbreaking.

REFERENCES MADE TO DOWAGER QUEEN

Special Services Conducted in Some of Saint John Churches on Sunday

In keeping with the nation's mourning for the Queen Mother, Alexandra, fitting reference was made in the city churches yesterday to the dead Queen's exemplary life and many acts of kindness.

In Trinity church the choir sang the special anthem "Souls of the Righteous in the Hands of God."

In St. Paul's church after Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot had spoken of the late Queen's life the congregation stood while James F. Browne played upon the organ Chopin's Dead March.

In Mission Church, at the Mission church, St. John the Baptist, at the 11 o'clock service a solemn requiem of the Holy Eucharist was held.

PREACHER'S WORDS INSPIRE HEARERS

Evangelist Wells Gives Two Sermons in Coburg Street Church Services

Evangelist John H. Wells made a deep impression on his hearers when he gave forceful addresses before large congregations in Coburg street Christian church yesterday morning and evening.

"Side tracked," was the theme of Mr. Wells' evening address and he used the story of the healing of the blind beggar to illustrate his message.

Archbishop Roy Is Given Last Rites

QUEBEC, Nov. 22.—His Grace Monsignor Paul Eugene Roy, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Quebec, who has been seriously ill for the last three years, received the last rites of the church this afternoon in the St. Francis d'Assises Hospital, where he is a patient.

The last sacrament was administered to His Grace on his personal request. His condition is not more serious than it has been for the last few months, but the Archbishop expressed the desire that the ceremony take place this Sunday.

Men of St. John Baptist Society Discuss Burning of House

"Does a house burn up or down?" This was the question argued at an open debate in the rooms of the Men's Society of St. John the Baptist church, St. James street, yesterday afternoon.

Some of the talkers contended that the materials consumed into gases, a house must be said to "burn up."

Others maintained that, although some of the results of the combustion did go upward, they eventually came down to earth again and, therefore, a house "burned down."

On a standing vote the audience decided that a house "burned down."

WAR-TIME WAGES MAY BE DEMAND

Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen Hold Meeting in Chicago

Present Agreement Will Expire in January—Speculation on Situation

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The International Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen met here today to consider demanding "wartime wages" from all railroads on the continent.

The conference which opens today is a special meeting called for the specific purpose of considering the negotiation of a wage agreement with the railroads. The present agreement expires January 1, although a clause in the contract permits cancellation of its provisions on 30 days' notice.

The rail organizations point out that their pay was slashed by the Railway Labor Board—a total of 12 per cent. being taken from the high point in wages that prevailed in wartime. One cut came in 1921 and the second in 1923.

NO PLANS MADE. Today's meeting, David J. Robertson, Cleveland, president of the Brotherhood, pointed out, has no set plans. Committees are to be appointed to draw up suitable scales, which will be submitted to the delegates at the meeting. No preliminary demands were organized.

President Robertson refused to predict what action would be taken, but admitted that negotiations with the various roads would probably follow. Other rail brotherhoods may join in the move for increased funds, it is believed here. Divisional meetings of the Railway trainmen were held earlier in the month, and plans for demands are believed to have been formulated.

Terrier Clings To His Dead Master

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Efforts to remove a dog from the knee of his dead master, who was drowned when his motor-car plunged into a swollen river, were described at an inquest on George Garnet, Higham, of Oswestry, and his wife.

Prints Annual Memorial Of Father To Shame Brother

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—For the last ten years a small item has appeared annually in the memorial column of the Denver Times, expressing the tender memory of a daughter for her dead father. Each memorial being signed, "Your only daughter, Flora E. Bishop Stevens, Kansas City, Mo."

To the ordinary reader the memorial was merely a formal expression of grief, but at her home at 2824 Olive street Mrs. Stevens, now a widow, said that the simple words of the memorial were intended by her to "shame" her brother, Frank Lee Bishop, a banker of Denver.

This method was selected by Mrs. Stevens, she said, because of an incident at the funeral of her father, when her wish that an old friend of the family be one of the pall bearers was not carried out.

Frank Lee Bishop was indicted recently by the Federal Grand Jury and the County Grand Jury at Denver in connection with the failure of the Globe National Bank, of which he was vice-president. Having not been on terms of correspondence with her brother, Mrs. Bishop recently sent another notice to be printed in the same newspaper. It read:

"The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly small. Your only sister, Flora E. Bishop Stevens. 'I had no other way of getting even with my brother,' Mrs. Stevens said. 'I hope my notice reached him, so he knows that at last he is being repaid in kind for what he did for me. 'He ignored my pleas for part of my mother's personal belongings. He has been in politics for many years and has become a millionaire with great influence in Denver, but I haven't heard from him in 30 years.'"

A Severe Illness Caused Constipation

Mrs. Wm. Hill, Wapella, Sask., writes: "Three years ago I had a very severe illness, and ever since I have suffered with constipation. A few months ago a friend advised me to use which I did, although not expecting any results, but I am pleased to say that since using them I have had perfect use of my bowels without any trouble or pain, and have never had bleeding piles since. Now, I never fail to recommend 'Laxa-Liver Pills' to all my friends."

ANOTHER EFFORT AT SETTLEMENT SEEN

Anglo-Turkish Negotiations Over Mosul Council's Aim, Geneva Thinks

Canadian Press Despatch. GENEVA, Nov. 23.—In League of Nations circles, it is believed the League Council will make another attempt to have Great Britain and Turkey settle their controversy over Mosul by direct negotiations as a result of yesterday's decision by the Permanent Court of International Justice. The decision was a victory for neither Great Britain nor Turkey.

MAY ALSO REFUSE. If Turkey should refuse to accept the Council's boundary decision it is considered possible in Geneva that

Don't Cough Your Head Off Don't Cough All Night Long

Mrs. Thos. Gilbert, Welland, Ont., writes: "Some time ago I took a very severe cold, and it settled on my lungs. I coughed day and night, and had such severe pains in my chest I could hardly bear them, but finally I sent and got a bottle of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

After I had taken a couple of doses I found that my cough was relieved and the pains were all gone, and by the time I had finished taking the whole bottle I was completely rid of my trouble. Now, I will never be without a bottle of 'Dr. Wood's' in my home." Put up only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Britain likewise will refuse it and will continue in military occupation of the Mosul region. However, it is considered probable that the court's reference to the Council's general function of conciliation will lead to new efforts for Great Britain and Turkey to settle the dispute amicably among themselves.

Fox Hunt Holds Up Express in England

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Llanharan, Glamorganshire, hunt had an exciting adventure a few days ago, the hounds in full cry taking possession of the Great Western main line in hot pursuit of a fox near Llantrissant. The Fishguard-London express was approaching at top speed, and the huntsman, realising the imminent danger of the pack's signalling the driver who brought his train to a standstill a few yards from the hounds.

The huntsman, having safely driven the hounds up the embankment, the express, after a short delay, went on its way to Cardiff.

MAKES APPEAL IN CATHEDRAL

Father Daly, C. S. S. R., Speaks for Sisters of Service

Asks For Volunteer Workers; For Prayers and Financial Aid

The congregations in the Cathedral at the various masses yesterday heard a powerful address by Rev. George Daly, C.S.S.R., on the work of the Sisters of Service in the western part of Canada. He told of the need of helpers in the church's work in the vast expanse of country as yet partly settled, of the great extent of territory to be covered by the priests in charge of the various mission stations and of the consequent fact that some of the outlying places could be visited only once a month, once in six months and some only once in a year.

WORKING UNDER CAR

At the time the fire started A. H. Purdy, foreman of the shop, with an assistant, William Brophy, were working under the Kanop car. It is thought that sparks from an electric drill ignited some gasoline under the car and immediately there was a sudden burst of flame. Before the two men could get clear, Purdy received severe burns on his arms badly burned. The injured man rushed from the shop to the street and was treated in a near drug store.

WINDOWS BLOWN OUT

The heat was intense and the large glass windows on the second storey facing on Union street were blown out. One piece of flying glass struck John Cairns, stockholder for the McLaughlin Company, on the left side of the face. He was attended by a doctor and it was found necessary to use five stitches to close the wound.

At the time the fire started A. H. Purdy, foreman of the shop, with an assistant, William Brophy, were working under the Kanop car. It is thought that sparks from an electric drill ignited some gasoline under the car and immediately there was a sudden burst of flame. Before the two men could get clear, Purdy received severe burns on his arms badly burned. The injured man rushed from the shop to the street and was treated in a near drug store.

WINDOWS BLOWN OUT

The heat was intense and the large glass windows on the second storey facing on Union street were blown out. One piece of flying glass struck John Cairns, stockholder for the McLaughlin Company, on the left side of the face. He was attended by a doctor and it was found necessary to use five stitches to close the wound.

FIRE IN REPAIR SHOP

The firemen directed a few good streams of water on the burning cars and arms: Officers of Carleton Tower Lodge, No. 87, Knights of Pythias; teaching staff of the New Albert School; Leonard Fisheries Limited, and Smith Brothers Fish Market.

John E. Ring

The funeral of John E. Ring, which took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, 46 Guilford street, West Saint John, to the Church of the Assumption, was very largely attended. All walks of life were represented in the long funeral cortege.

Mrs. William Pyne

The funeral of Mrs. William Pyne took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 189 Adelaide street, at 3:30 to St. Paul's church for service at 8:30. Ven. Archbishop A. H. Croft conducted the service. Interment was made in Fernhill cemetery. There were very many beautiful floral offerings.

U. N. B. Team Chosen For Imperial Debate

At Fredericton the following team was chosen to represent the University of New Brunswick against the Imperial debating team: D. H. Fulton, E. A. Stewart and B. S. Kierstead. The debate is planned for the evening of January 26 next. In this city the Imperial team will debate one chosen from St. John lawyers. The debate will take place immediately before the Imperial team's going to Fredericton.

MUST GO TO COURT.

In the local Police Court this morning Harry Orr, who was arrested on Saturday night charged by Mrs. Marjorie Cogle with assaulting and beating her in her house in Albion street, was ordered to appear this afternoon at 2:30 by Magistrate Henderson. Orr had made a deposit of $20 at the time of his arrest, but on learning of the extent of the matter, His Honor refused to accept the deposit and gave instructions that Orr be produced this afternoon. The woman had two black eyes, a cut on the face and one on the head.

REPORTED GRANGE TO RECEIVE $30,500 FOR CHICAGO GAME

FLAMING GHOST OF GRIDIRON IS PROFESSIONAL

Ends College Career Before 85,000 Spectators on Saturday

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 23.—The suspense is over at last. While an entire nation has wondered for the last few weeks just what a 22-year-old soccer-topped youth would do with the chances for fame and glory shoved under his freckled nose, Harold "Red" Grange, the most-advertised football star in the world, decided on Saturday after he had led his team to victory against Ohio State, 14 to 9, to turn professional football player for the next few weeks at least.

Grange, in deciding to play professional football is in a position to earn a fortune within the next few weeks on the chalk lines and another fortune awaits him in other fields. Although the terms under which Grange will play professional football were not made public, it is reported that Grange's share of his Thanksgiving Day game will amount to about $30,500.

SCHEDULE FOR THE BRITISH PLAYERS

The British badminton team who arrive here on the steamer Montrose next Saturday will have a busy session during the month they are playing matches in various centres across Canada. The team which is composed of six past and present English badminton champions, has the following schedule mapped out for them:

Will Decide Rules Question On Tuesday

Definite decision on whether girls' or boys' rules for basketball will obtain for the City Ladies' League this year will be made at a meeting in the Y. W. C. A. tomorrow night at 9 o'clock. Miss Marion Belding, secretary, has received word as to the decision made at a conference at London, Ont., on this matter, affecting all of Canada, and this ruling will be made known tomorrow night.

Trojans' New Coach Sees Charges Score First Victory of Season

Along The Sport Trail

WITH more than a dozen bowling leagues in operation now, this great national indoor winter pastime here bids fair to chalk up one of the greatest seasons in its history. Some of the leagues now running include Modern, Commercial, Clerical, Printers, Bankers, Diamond, Foresters, McAvity's Telephone Company, Inter-Association, Civic and Civil Service, and a few others and in this respect, Saint John leads the way in the Maritimes. There are some consistently good bowlers in these groups who are ready to maintain Saint John's high name in the bowling world. It was a Saint John boy, the late Vincent Kelly, who set up a Canadian record of 176 here a few years ago. Kelly also holds the high three-string Canadian record. It is believed, Many of the local boys have tried hard to beat Kelly's mark but it still stands and anyone who can beat it will have to approach near to a world's record. Along in the spring when the leagues are fairly well decided, a tourney probably will be held to decide the city championship. The Brunswick-Balke-Collender trophy will be competed for also next spring.

OUT in Casper, Wyoming, the other night, a couple of teams played a game of football, with a pigskin that was enamelled white, on a field that was flooded with electric lights. This is a fact. But it sounds more like a nightmare. Like that chap who, after playing two or three strenuous matches at the billiard table went to sleep and went through all the agonies of a crack shot enchainé by the worst possible conditions. As he himself described it, he was playing "Oo, a table enchainé With a twisted cue And elliptical billiard balls."

CANADIANS have been keeping a watchful eye on proceedings to get Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, into the same ring with Tommy Milligan, English champion, and will read with disappointment that difficulties respecting the Milk Fund proceeds has blocked the way temporarily. In the past, these bouts for the lactical fluid were billed as charity affairs but the only charity ever handed out was to the boxers who appeared on the line-up and then they only got a paltry few hundred thousand. The Boxing Commission has stood firm on their demand that 50 per cent of the gross proceeds go to the charity concerned but Mr. Tex Rickard says otherwise. Mr. Rickard says the Milk Fund should take its chances with him and split fifty-fifty after all expenses are paid. It is probable, however, that Milligan and Walker will meet under strictly Rickard colors. Milligan has had only one bout on this side of the water and that was with a tough bird by the name of Morris Schlaifer. Mr. Morris "schlaifer" so hard that he opened a bad cut over Mr. Milligan's optic and the British boxer went home but not till after trying Mr. Morris into more knots than there are in installment furniture. Milligan is one of those rare specimens among British boxers who can remain in a horizontal position after the final bell and a meeting with Walker should cause much interest.

THE GOOSE who hangs 'em high had his hand damaged the other day while out shooting. While out after duck Goslin's gun burst and a piece of the barrel flew back, lacerating his hand and splashing fifty after all expenses are paid. It is probable, however, that Goslin was quite playful with each other in the recent mud series in Pittsburgh.

A GREAT HULLABALLOO is being beaten up across the border over "Red" Grange's decision to play professional football and the learned professors and others are holding up their hands in horror at the thought that the "flaming ghost of the gridiron" should stoop so low and vile as to try and earn some of Uncle Sam's greenbacks by tearing off several touchdowns. Mr. Grange adds fuel to the verbal conflagration by insisting he is entitled to cash in on his reputation. "People who talk to me about commercializing college football wouldn't lend me a nickel and I can get the money now. Two years from now, I wouldn't get a cent." All of which seems rather fair and reasonable to us and shows on the part of young Mr. Grange such financial qualities as would certainly entitle him to rank as one of Florida's best realtors—a job he is reported to have offered. We have a suspicion that those engineering students at college are going to try and earn their way by following their profession and the same applies to the medical, law, and other students. The idea of commercializing these pursuits must fill the learned professors with horror and dread. Why the difference in regard to football? Is there any great pow-wow when a college baseball star is signed up as a pro. by one of the big league teams? Why pick on "Red"? The majority of sport followers will say "Let him go to it. I wish I had the chance."

The Inside Dope

When the United States Lawn Tennis Association was having its many and varied battles about the player-writer rule, one man dreamed that professional baseball ever would have such a problem. But the well-known problem has arrived and it may be one of the most important subjects for consideration at the annual meeting of the major leagues in December. The tennis association charged that amateur players who permitted the use of their names and reputations over newspaper articles were professionals. Baseball is now complaining that professional players who sell their names for newspaper articles are amateurs and should not be allowed to write. The Baseball Writers' Association, it is understood, will consider a proposal asking major leagues to prohibit players from signing up with newspapers and syndicates, and a motion may be made to expel from the association any member who writes articles under players' names. The movement against player-writers was started by the umpires during the late world series when they complained to Commissioner Landis about criticism directed against their judgment in articles that were supposed to have been written by Muddy Ruel, Roger Peckinpaugh and Bill McKelch.

Articles from men like John McGraw are both interesting and useful because McGraw knows what he is talking about and his articles are intelligently handled. There is some doubt though that the men who care much about the opinions of substitute players, rubbers, bat boys and program sellers around a world's series game. As a rule, they say very little and what they say isn't worth very much. The sale of names in important events like the world's series has become such an abuse that legitimate sources of news are closed to reporters who make a living trying to get and write what the public is most interested in. Information that the newspapers are entitled to in many times withheld because the person in possession of that information has a syndicate to look out for and provide with exclusive news. Commissioner Landis will have a difficult problem to handle, but the public hardly would protest if he would take the only way out and refuse permission for any players to write for newspapers or syndicates about the world's series or important games.

ST. ENDELANDERS STILL LEAD OVER ARSENAL

Tottenham's Defeat by Bolton Was One of Day's Upsets

London, Nov. 22.—The National morning that is being observed for the late Queen Alexandra's birthday on Saturday when, despite the excellent matches carded in the First Division of the English League, the attendances dropped far below normal. All players wore black armlets in memory of the Dawagor King. For the most part all the playing fields were overhung with fog. Arsenal's victory by the old goal in five was rather fortunate for Hollo headed the ball through his own nets, thus giving the Highbury club the lead. The accident happened, however, when Arsenal had the advantage in the general run of play. The game, coupled with Sunderland's handsome victory over West Ham United, served to keep the margin between the two teams as it was, no point only continuing to divide them in the aggregate.

Cardiff City's enterprise in spending freely to engage new players, for the most part recruits from the Scottish League, brought a gate of forty thousand on Saturday when they drew with Newcastle United at Cardiff. There was no scoring and Cardiff thus earned one point which helped them on their way.

For the third week in succession, Manchester City rang up a three to one score against their opponents, their victim on Saturday being Bury. The latter were rather unfortunate and were their sportsmanship yesterday that they lost them at least one goal when they stopped to appeal on off-side instead of obeying the whistle. This was their third successive defeat and placed them in a position of great jeopardy. Following upon their magnificent win over Huddersfield town a week ago, Aston Villa's draw with Everton was something of a surprise, for they were fully expected to secure a third defeat in four games played. Sheffield United attack yesterday was led by Amateurs for the first time in many years. Huddersfield occupied the centre position. He found the net once in the game against Leeds and was responsible for the "Blades" fine victory. The crowd, however, has been coming back strong since their bad beginning, and out of their last eight games they have dropped only one and drawn one.

ANOTHER NEEDED TO DECIDE TITLE

Nationals and Canucks Play Third Scoreless Draw of The Season

Plying their third scoreless tie of this season, Fairville Canucks, 1924 champions, and champions, the toughly rivals, Nationals, forced the 1923 championship into an extra game on Saturday night when they battled to a bloodless draw on the Sand Cove grounds last Saturday before a large crowd of enthusiastic players. The day was ideal for good football, and a bitter and hard-fought game, but the Canucks, who were playing for all he was worth. Next Saturday's game probably will be played on the Sand Cove grounds. On Saturday, Captain Fritz, Ed Snodgrass, Peters and Mulcahy showed up well, while for the Nationals Whittier, Monteith and Armstrong shone. The series tackled fiercely and seldom did anyone get away on long runs.

SECOND HALF

The wind which has hampered the work of the Nationals during the first period, seemed to be to their advantage in the second and punts by Whittier took the play close to the Canucks line. The Canucks soon strengthened their weak points and after several scrims near their line Peters cleared with a punt to touch at the 25-yard line. By some good work on the part of the three-quarters the Canucks rushed the play to the National 10-yard line, but the Nationals soon punted back to mid-field. The play for the last few minutes of the regular playing time was of the hardest type. Every man was marked hard and no player was given a chance to get under way before being brought down. The teams lined up as follows: Canucks—Peckback, Peters; three-quarters, Millet, Curren, Snodgrass, Mulcahy; halves, Fanjoy, Sherwood, Fritz; forwards, Bryant, Phillips, McColgan, Merritt, Duff, Doherty, Corbett. Nationals—Fullback, Curtis; three-quarters, Daley, Monteith, J. Armstrong; halves, Stockford, Higgins, Akerley, Roberts, Williams, Armstrong, Foshay.

The Fade-Out

Unsteadiness of Peck Was Real Cause of Downfall Of Washington Senators

By HENRY L. FARRELL United Press Staff Editor. Any one who fiddles around with baseball play, trying to find out a player's worth in a table of averages or trying to judge him temperamentally by past performances, knows that it is a very uncertain process. The truth of this was never shown more certainly than in the late world's series when Roger Peckinpaugh blew up and lost the championship for the Washington Senators. You might say that it was the inspiring batting of the Pittsburgh Pirates against inferior pitching that enabled the National League champions to rally and pull one of the most amazing comebacks in a world's series, but the score books always will show that it was the erratic fielding of Peck, who committed two grievous errors in critical moments, that caused the downfall of the Senators. The dope before the series opened showed that the two teams were very evenly matched, but Peck's unsteady hitting pitched in, to combat that offensive strength the Senators had to have a great infield, the greatest infield that ever played ball.

SENATORS DEFEAT COUGARS AGAIN

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—For the second time in three days Ottawa Senators defeated the Victoria Cougars tumbling down to defeat when they emerged victorious over the world's champions at the Auditorium last night by a score of 2 to 0. This match marked the conclusion of the two-game exhibition series which the teams played here in aid of the Humane Society and the French Academy of Moncton, by 31 pins here Saturday night, total scores being Halifax, 1,409; Moncton, 1,378.

HALIFAX DEFEATS MONCTON BOWLERS

HALIFAX, Nov. 22.—Halifax bowlers retained their hold on the Marven Challenge Cup when they defeated the French Academy of Moncton, by 31 pins here Saturday night, total scores being Halifax, 1,409; Moncton, 1,378.

In a Junior basketball fixture on the Y. M. C. A. floor Saturday, the Nationals A. C. team defeated Trinity by a score of 11 to 9 in a five minute overtime game. Wm. Sargeant handled the whistle to the satisfaction of all.

H. A. NEVERS IS ENGAGED FOR WINTER MONTHS

Young Nationals Team Puts Up Hard Fight Saturday

PROBABLY the most interested spectator of the several hundred present at the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday evening who saw the Trojan Seniors score their first victory of the season, 65 to 34, over the newly-formed Nationals A. C. in the City Basketball League series, was Hubert A. Nevers, Maine, who has been engaged as coach for the Trojan Seniors and the girls' team, Trojan Rovers. This is a rather radical departure in local basketball circles, but in their efforts to improve themselves and make themselves worthy representatives of this city in the proposed Dominion basketball finals, the Trojans decided to inject new ideas and new methods into their teamwork and they have secured Mr. Nevers' services for the winter months. The new coach has played professional basketball for six years and for the last four years has filled positions in Maine as coach. He has played with the Pine Tree A. A., Bangor and has coached R. C. I., Houlton, and Cherryfield Academy, Me., in addition to filling several important referee's assignments all over the New England states. His first practice with the Trojan Seniors took place on noon today. On Wednesday and Friday nights the Trojan Rovers will practice under his direction.

PLENTY OF FIGHT.

The Nationals showed plenty of fight in Saturday's game which was attended by a large crowd and kept the Trojans hustling to pile up the score. But for the uncanny defence work of Henry Hollies and Les Kerr the Nationals' score would have been much larger. Seldom has a finer exhibition of defence work been turned in on a local arena. The Trojans' magnificent play was freely commented on. "Beet" Malcolm, who captains the team this year, and Gordon Wilson, "Cyke" Lee and Plumpton showed up well on the forward line for several of the Nationals, who showed considerable promise. Ed Yeomans was the star. The rangy center lad put up a great game against the famed Malcolm, while Boyce, Whittier and Urquhart worked like beavers on the forward line. Kirk and Pollard looked after the defence. "Bunt" Shaw handled the whistle very well for the game.

Two games were carded for the intermediate section, the Knox church quartette defeating the Harriers of the Y. M. C. A. by an 18 to 12 score, while in the second game the High School team defeated the East Saint John outfit, 29 to 11. High School, which is being coached by "Bunt" Shaw again this year, showed two of last year's team, Brown and Regan, on the defence. The forward jump is new and light but quite accurate and the team is expected to do well in the inter-scholastic circles this year. Ed Yeomans handled the whistle for this game while Walter R. Golding was referee for the other intermediate game.

The size of the crowd augured well for the league this year, all the seats being taken and a large number being forced to stand. The Nationals-Trojan battle aroused great enthusiasm, both teams being cheered to the limit by their supporters.

HISTORICAL MOVIES ADAPTED TO SCHOOLS

Yale University and New Haven School Board Co-operate

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 23.—To discover how motion pictures may be used as aids in teaching American history, Yale University and the Board of Education of New Haven have entered into a co-operative arrangement whereby two members of the Yale faculty will devote a share of their time to assisting New Haven High School teachers in the classroom presentation of historical films.

The motion pictures to be used were prepared by the Yale University press and approved by a committee of the faculty. A complete set of the films have been presented to the city. In addition the Yale "Chronicles of America" will be used.

One class of prospective teachers from the Connecticut State Normal School will be given a film course in American History throughout the year by the Yale Department of Education to enable them to carry on the work as it is believed the movies will play an increasing part in the study of history as well as other subjects.

Unknown Shrapnel Splinter Is Found

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A splinter of shrapnel over two inches long has just been discovered in the shoulder of a man who did not know that it was there, although he had carried it in his shoulder for some years.

The man, whose name is Harwood, was admitted to the West London Hospital with a large lump on the shoulder, which he said was caused by someone hitting him with a chair at a political meeting a week ago.

Examination showed that the piece of shrapnel was the real cause of the lump.

Harwood states that he must have been wounded at Ypres, although the wound never troubled him.

president; L. D. Dewar, secretary-treasurer; L. A. Gilbert, manager, and Rev. W. S. Godfrey as coach. S. P. McKenzie was also appointed press representative. On motion of L. A. Gilbert and L. Raymond a hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Godfrey for his splendid services rendered last year as coach, which was highly appreciated by all members of the club and citizens of the town. The reverend gentleman is a very able instructor, knowing the game from all angles, and the boys are very fortunate and grateful to have a man of his calibre to assist them. From all appearances, Campbellton will have a strong lineup to represent them in the hockey circles this year, having all of their players of last season with additional material.

DISCUSS WATER SUPPLY OF CITY

With Lake Menzies West Has Enough For 20,000 People

Work Proposed For Winter—Loch Lomond Weekly Analysis Shows Purity

An informal discussion on the water supply of the city and its preservation from pollution took place at a committee meeting of the City Council this morning. Commissioner Wigmore said that with the acquisition of Lake Menzies the city now had available a sufficient supply for a city of 200,000 on the western side of the harbor.

The matter was introduced by Commissioner Frink who asked if the water department were taking any steps to stop some leaks which existed in the Loch Robertson dam.

Commissioner Wigmore said these were not dangerous and would have been attended to this summer if there had been funds available for the purpose.

Commissioner Frink also referred to the number of cottages which he saw on the shores of Loch Lomond and expressed his fears that the water would be polluted if people were allowed on the shores.

NO DANGER FOUND Commissioner Wigmore said the Board of Health regulations were very strict and they were well enforced. An analysis of the water every week showed that no danger existed as yet and there was always the chlorine treatment.

Commissioner Frink said he hoped that it would never come to a chlorine treatment for one of the greatest blessings we enjoyed was the privilege of going to the tap and taking a drink of water uncontaminated by chemicals to purify it.

BOUNTIFUL SUPPLY Commissioner Bullock asked about the dam at Spruce Lake. He said it was in a dangerous condition. Commissioner Wigmore said a new dam was needed but the condition was not dangerous. It was proposed to build a new concrete dam outside the present one and this could be done without any interruption to the water supply.

The city had a great water supply now on the west side, he said and with Menzies Lake they could supply a city of 200,000 on the west side of the harbor. This winter it was proposed to build a wooden gateway in the canal leading from Menzies to Ludgate lakes and let the water down only when it was needed.

The pulp mill, the Commissioner said, was now using its limit of 4,000,000 gallons a day.

Commissioner Frink was given authority to purchase horse for the public works department, payment to be from appropriation.

HAS 107-YEAR OLD SAINT JOHN PAPER

Harry Bond Owner of Copy of Quaint Edition of 1818

A copy of one of the earliest newspapers published in Saint John is the property of Harry Bond, of Harris street. It was at one time the property of Mrs. Bond's father, the late John A. Lowrey, who made a hobby of collecting articles of this nature.

The name of the paper is "The Star and New Brunswick Literary, Political and Commercial Intelligencer," and the date is August 28, 1818.

It is a quaint publication of four small pages. Little attention seemed to be paid to whatever news of the city there may have been at that time and the European news was months old, having to come by sailing vessel from the other side of the big water.

That from the United States was now up to date because of the shorter sail from the news source.

The advertisements are in contrast to the display of the present time and are mostly business cards with here and there a merchant telling of receipt of certain goods by such a vessel.

Names prominent in the life of the city are to be found in these announcements. They include Venner, Thomson, Robertson, Gilbert, Simonds, Godard, Humbert, Fagan, Wheeler, and people. One advertisement with the name of Richard Lawton attached tells of a black boy of 19, intended to him as an apprentice, having run away.

Calling on all to beware harboring or concealing him.

Local News

HERE FOR WINTER

H. A. Seeley, assistant marine superintendent for the C. G. M. M. here, arrived in the city during the week end for the winter season.

WORK IS BEGUN

Work was started this morning on the extension of the cattle sheds in West Saint John, by the contractors, Kane and Parker.

SOLDIER DEAD.

The body of Rutherford Crothers, a returned soldier, who died in the Lancaster Military Hospital yesterday, was forwarded to Sussex for burial today.

ON TWO CHARGES.

George Marshall, 42 was charged this morning with being drunk and with assaulting and beating the night porter of the Edward Hotel. On the first charge, Marshall was fined $8, and was remanded on the second.

TAKEN IN AGAIN.

James Pyne, who was told on Friday by Magistrate Henderson that if he did not leave town, a thirty day sentence awaited him, was up this morning on a charge of drunkenness. He was remanded.

OUT OF ORDER

A despatch was received this afternoon at the local Marine and Fisheries Department from the United States tug Balcamp announcing that the southwest gas buoy off Cape Sable was not burning. The C. G. S. Dollard has been ordered to relight the buoy.

RETURNED TO HOME.

Charles Patterson was this morning sent to the Municipal House for three months for vagrancy. He had been there before and had only been out for a short time. John Campbell, charged with vagrancy and house-to-house begging, pleaded guilty, and was sent to the Municipal House for three months, his second term there lately.

OFF UNTIL WEDNESDAY.

The case of T. Arthur Merritt, charged by Charles Hillden with using insulting and abusive language, was again postponed today until Wednesday, owing to the inability of James Merritt, a witness, to attend court.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Friends of Archelus Purdy, formerly of Upper Jemseg, but now residing with his daughter, Mrs. E. P. Dykeman, at Wentworth Hall, were sorry to learn that he had the misfortune to fall on Saturday evening, breaking his hip and three ribs.

GIRLS ARRESTED.

Two girls, Florence Woodland, 22, said to be of Newfoundland, and Jessie Carr, 18, said to be of Sussex, were arrested early this morning by Detective Saunders and Kilpatrick on charges of vagrancy. Detective Saunders gave evidence that they had been told to leave town some time ago but had failed to do so. They were remanded.

CIRCLE ENTERTAINED

On Friday evening the members of the J. B. B. sewing circle were entertained by Mrs. Margaret McCormick at her home, 151 Chealey street. The prize, a watch, was won by Miss Mary Conlogue. Music was enjoyed and dainty refreshments served.

BOYS CAUGHT STEALING.

On Saturday night, Sgt. Dykeman answered a phone call from the manager of Woolworth's store, King street, where he was informed by C. L. Laing that four boys from the West Side had been found stealing. Mr. Laing was successful in catching one, a lad of six who had stolen from the store. Mr. Dykeman put the boy on a car for home after giving him a warning. Mr. Laing said that the next time charges would be preferred against any offenders taken.

DEATH IN FAIRVILLE.

Early this morning Mrs. Rosanna E. Haggerty, widow of Bartholomew Haggerty, died at her residence, 18 Mill street, Fairville. She was a life-long resident of Fairville and one of its best people. She is survived by two sons, John and William of Fairville, and two daughters, Mrs. Patrick Griffin of Bangor, Me., and Sister Mary Clarice, of the St. Dunstan's Convent, Fredericton. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning at 8.30 to St. Rose's church.

TO DEBATE IN MONCTON.

Tomorrow night in Moncton a composite debating team from Saint John Pythian lodges will wrangle with the flower of Moncton's Pythian debaters on the subject: "Resolved, that public ownership and operation of public utilities would be better than private ownership and operation." The Saint John team will take the negative side of the much-discussed question, under the leadership of Ralph H. Gale, of St. John Lodge, No. 30, North End.

The other members of the team will be Randolph Bennett, of the High School faculty; T. R. S. Smith, manager of Excelsior Life Insurance Co., and Frank R. Gearson, accountant with R. P. & W. F. Starr. Mr. Gale, the leader, is superintendent of the General Public Hospital.

BUSINESS STATEMENT.

The Maritime Clothing Company has suspended operations for an indefinite period, according to a statement given to The Times-Star this morning by Nathan King, manager. Mr. King said that while the firm had made no assignment, certain rumors as to the firm's financial condition had been circulated, which had injured the credit standing. Stock, which was extensive, would require some time to inventory and that was being done now.

Mr. King said that the firm had met all its obligations as they came due and was confident that the clothing on hand would more than cover the liabilities in the event of an assignment, which he did not consider likely.

Rev. C. T. Clarke, Fairville, Speaks of Question in N. B.

Inspectorship, Board and Vendors Have Reference in Minister's Address

Rev. C. T. Clark, of the Fairville Baptist church, speaking at yesterday morning's service, on the temperance situation in New Brunswick, said that in the past the temperance issue had been made a political football, by both parties, but today the temperance sentiment was united, and no government could remain long in power that played fast and loose with the prohibitory law. He said the temperance vote was of great interest in the last provincial election and that 89 out of 48 members of the new house stood pledged to the support of existing legislation. He said the eight requests which the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance had presented to the Veniot Government in April, 1924, and which had not been acceded to, had been handed to the new Premier immediately following the election, and that his reply had been eminently satisfactory.

CHIEF INSPECTOR.

Mr. Clarke said that while temperance people generally were disappointed over the delay of the new government in appointing a new chief inspector, they were inclined to be patient as the Government had requested, and have confidence. He spoke along the same lines with reference to the Board of Liquor Commissioners. As to vendors, he said that while there were still too many in some centres, the situation was, on the whole encouraging.

No vendors were appointed for Queens, Kings, Sunbury, Victoria or Northumberland counties. There were none in Saint John County, outside of Saint John City, none in York county outside of Fredericton, none in Carleton County outside of Woodstock, and but one, in Albert. Mr. Clarke gave the chief inspector and the Government credit for honoring petitions, which had been presented from some communities requesting that no vendors be appointed for those places. He characterized the former Government as being a wholesaler and exporter of the hope and confidence that the new Government, and all the officials entrusted with the administration of the Prohibitory Act, would use existing legislation for the suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquor as was intended.

At the evening service Rev. Mr. Clark read the poem "A Welcome to Alexandra" written by Alfred Tennyson, in 1863, and paid a tribute to the memory of the late Davager Queen. The congregation stood while the organist, Mrs. E. C. Girvan, played the Dead March in Saul.

FIRST WINTER S. S. HAD ROUGH VOYAGE

The C. G. M. M. steamer Canadian Mariner arrived in port yesterday morning to inaugurate the winter port season for 1925-26. The Mariner had a very rough trip out from Swansea, encountering head winds almost the entire voyage which occupied 16 days. The vessel docked at No. 1, Sand Point.

The Canadian Mariner is in charge of Captain Paulkwick. Among the other officers are: Chief officer, H. Robson; second officer, George Welch; third officer, Cecil Hunt; chief engineer, Charles Robertson. The Canadian Mariner will load here for Cardiff and Swansea and will sail about December 2. The C. G. M. M. also won the honor last season of having the first steamer of the winter port when the Canadian Leader reached here on November 20, two days earlier than the official opening this year.

Junior Basketball Is Hotly Contested

Junior basketball league games on Friday and Saturday of last week were hotly-contested and good crowds watched some exciting contests. On the Y. M. C. I. floor Friday night, the East End boys' club defeated the M. R. A. team, 98 to 7 while on Saturday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. the St. David's team defeated the East End outfit, 11 to 7. Tommy Sommerville starred for the winners, getting four of his team's points while Titus shone for the losers, getting six of the seven counts. The Y. M. C. I. team defeated the St. John Baptist quintette by a 22 to 9 score. Dolan, McGrattan and Lawlor shined for the winners. In the third game of the afternoon, Nationals defeated the Trinity outfit, 11 to 9. This game went the full limit and overtime was necessary to decide the issue. Noble, Nationals, and McLean, Trinity, were the high scorers of the game.

In the evening, Zion defeated the Ludlow street outfit, 16 to 3, Campbell showing up well for the losers. In the second game of the evening, St. Andrew's defeated the St. David's team, 32 to 6.

U. N. B. Society is Formed in Moncton

At a meeting of graduates of the University of New Brunswick, held in Moncton on Friday, it was decided to form a U. N. B. society similar to those in Fredericton, Saint John, Charlottetown and other cities. C. J. Milligan, regional counsel of the C. N. B., was chosen president; O. L. Barbour, vice-president; Mrs. George Clark, secretary-treasurer; L. D. McLean, H. H. Trimble, and Miss Bernice MacNaughton, members of the executive. A resolution congratulating the U. N. B. football team on its victory in Upper Canada was ordered sent to the captain of the team and the manager.
