Goes to Ulster Unionists For Justification of the Course Fighting Women Have Followed—Makes Speech in English Court

(Canadian Press)

London, June 17.—An impassioned speech in defence of the outrages committed by militant suffragettes was delivered today in the central criminal court by Miss Alice Kenney, during the trial of suffragette leaders.

Greater interest was taken in today's proceedings than in any previous stage of the trial. The entrance of the accused, Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox, and Clayton, a chemist, alleged to have acted as adviser to the suffragettes in their campaign, found the court crowded. Women formed the majority of the audience, and among them were Mrs. Winston Spencer Churchill, wife of the first lord of the admiralty, and Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the premier.

Miss Kenney devoted much of her speech to the defence of the militant suffragettes, who she asserted had acted in rebellion in order to get their grievances remedied, furnished appeal warrants for the course pursued by the militant suffragettes. If further justification was necessary, she said, "the trickery and treachery of cabinet ministers who had hunted and hounded the women from pillar to post, supplied it. The present government, she contended, had a blacker record on the question of women suffrage than any other. It had treated the aspirations of the women more abominably than any British government had done since 1867.

After shooting himself young Porter managed to make his way to the house. Help was promptly summoned and he was taken to the hospital. One bullet penetrated the lung and the other struck a rib and then glanced off into his back. It is believed that a fit of melancholia is responsible for the attempt at self-destruction. Mr. Porter, the young man's foster father, died recently and Harry has been greatly affected by his death.

Price £150 and Duchess of Sutherland Would Not Bring it Down to £100—Selling Out at Stafford House

(Canadian Press)

London, June 17.—Queens and duchesses are not above the delight of doing a good piece of business, as a recent incident at Stafford House shows. Queen Mary invited herself to take tea with the Duchess of Sutherland there, principally with the object of looking over the furniture and bric-a-brac, which will be sold in consequence of Sir William Lever having taken over the lease of the mansion. The queen is an amateur in old English furniture, and possesses a nice collection of chippendale. While looking around she noticed two chippendale chairs which she considered would make a handsome adjunct to her collection. Her Majesty asked the duchess the price. Her Grace replied that the reserve was £150 and that Her Majesty was welcome to them at that figure.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HIKE WITH MISS GLADYS?
She is Only Going to Walk Some 3,000 Miles and Already 1,000 Lads Want to go Along With Her

New York, June 17—Miss Gladys Mason, vegetarian and pedestrian, is embarking on a long hike. She asked for one man, and got 100. And still they are coming.

Miss Mason is a New York girl who announced recently that she was going to take a little stroll from her home, at 214 W. 85th street to San Francisco, also that she wanted to hire a guard and manager—an athletic young man who liked walking and did not mind a jaunt like that. And she complained that she had not been able to find one.

It pays to advertise. As soon as Miss Mason's complaint appeared in print, applications for the job began to pour in at the rate of 100 or more a day.

She soon found a man to suit her, and after a few more hundred applications by letter, by telephone, by telegram and in person, she began to feel annoyed. She says now she may leave New York earlier than she expected, just to avoid the rush.

It's going to be a strictly vegetarian trip. Miss Mason will not eat meat or drink coffee or tea, and will do her daily twenty-five or thirty miles on two meals. "People eat too much," she says. And her trip is much in the nature of missionary work. She wants to show what can be done by a woman who does not use all her energy just digesting food. She eats fruits, vegetables and nuts, but does not believe in raw food except for people who live a very primitive life.

Miss Mason will be accompanied by a maid, as well as her manager. But she will not insist on the maid walking all the way.

She is distressed by many of the letters from men who would like the job of managing her and her trip.

Jimson—"I see they are building houses out of paper now-a-days." Milton—"Yes, even theatres. I was at an opening performance the other night, and complimented the manager. He said 'Yes, it's a good house—but all paper.'"

STOP ACTION OF HEART TO PERFORM OPERATION

Remarkable Statements Made By New York Doctor in Paris

Paris, June 16—The following very interesting statements, some of which are considered striking by leading lights of French medical science, were made by Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, at his first official lecture at the Paul Beaulieu Hospital.

Dr. Carrel announced that he was now able to operate in the chest cavity with as much ease and safety as in the abdomen.

"It is now a simple cut," he said, "and we open the thorax and operate upon the lungs, heart, and aorta and treat the kidneys and the intestines. We know also just how much the brain, the spinal cord, and the heart can stand as regards the temporary anesthetics required by the operation."

"The heart suffers very little from interrupted circulation as long as care is taken that it has enough oxygen, and it may be stopped for five or even ten minutes without danger; while in the spinal marrow, the circulation may be stopped as long as twenty minutes."

"For the brain, however, four minutes is the limit of safety, and after five it is very difficult to restore normal conditions."

A huge field of work remained, he said in conclusion, to be done as regards operations upon the human heart, and the study of these was of the greatest possible importance. This was especially true of surgery for aneurisms and the shrinking of the aorta or pulmonary arteries.

CARING FOR THE COSTUMES

There are difficulties associated with the tour of a big musical comedy which are only surmounted by watching every detail and keeping an eye on the production from every angle. For instance in "The Pink Lady," which John C. Fisher will send here soon, is found one problem that requires the greatest vigilance. The costumes are naturally built on flimsy lines and they are not calculated to stand the wear and tear of packing and repacking and moving about, as are ordinary gowns. A man is employed who travels ahead of this big company, and sees that everything back of the stage is made spick and span for its approach. The house is thoroughly overhauled and then all the dressing rooms are covered with new sheets of clean cloth, so that not a dainty gown can possibly come in contact with a thing that will soil it.

Hangers are everywhere provided with tissue covers and strips of cotton are laid from the dressing rooms to the entrances upon the stage. This is why the piece has the appearance of freshness and charm all the time, and the stage pictures are so pretty and bright to look upon. A wardrobe mistress and three assistants are on the job day and night and watch each costume as it is put away after a performance. If there is the slightest suggestion of a rip, it goes to the workshop and is furnished up then and there, before the damage can get beyond repair. If it is too great the gown is immediately replaced. These are rather sordid details, but they require eternal vigilance, and that is the price of success in any calling.

Tomorrow is the day for the first showing of the Lubin Co. masterpiece, "The District-Attorney's Conscience," at Gem Theatre, with Arthur Johnson in lead.

Curiosity Killed The Cat But Saved The World

By J. R. HAMILTON
Former Advertising Manager Wanamaker's, Philadelphia
(Copyrighted)

ONE OF the finest little jokes we men have in stock is about the curiosity of women and cats.

We smile indulgently at our wives and sisters and mothers. We wag our finger at them and tell them in our ponderous humor, "Look out my dear, 'Curiosity killed the cat.'" And we do not seem to realize that if it weren't for curiosity we, in this twentieth century, would still be living like pigs and dying like flies.

Here are some of the things curiosity has done:

Archimedes prying up a stone with a stick was curious at the ease with which he had moved a great weight. He discovered the law of the lever, which has made possible most of the mechanical wonders of the present day.

Galileo, curious about the rising of the sun and the movement of the stars, discovered that the world was not flat.

Newton was curious about the apple that fell. Watt about the cover of his mother's tea-kettle. Harvey about our blood. Pasteur about the elements of our blood. How about the tedious stitching and mending of patient women. And so on down the endless list of "amous names."

And yet we laugh at the curious mothers of such curious men. Curiosity? Why a man ought to be ashamed to wag his finger at the most idle curiosity in the world.

You thousands of people who are reading this paper today are simply curious. You thousands of women who turn to your advertising to find out where to go before you begin your shopping tour would probably spend many times more money than you had if you were not curious.

Don't waste a moment's thought on the banter of men. Read your advertising, satisfy your curiosity, see the merchandise that appeals to you. Do not hesitate because the name of some advertiser may. Let your curiosity have its fullest play.

It is time we laid this curiosity joke to rest. Heaven help the son of the woman who isn't curious.

The 'Kaysers' SILK Glove

The 'tips' outwear the gloves

is the World's standard silk glove—all other silk gloves are measured by the "KAYSER" standard.

The development of the "KAYSER" Silk Glove represents the attainment of an ideal, the achievement of which has not been hampered by restrictions of cost or time, nor influenced by a passing demand, for features most aptly characterized as "lasting points."

We could not afford to buy expensive advertising space "year after year," to tell the women of America that "KAYSER" Gloves are the best—in style, fit and finish—if it were not true.

"KAYSER" gloves "cost no more" than the ordinary kind—and are worth double in quality, fit and value.

Don't accept the "just as good" kind, there's a way to tell the genuine—"Look in the Hem"—if you find the name "KAYSER"—you have the kind that "don't wear out" at the finger ends.

FORESTRY CONVENTION OF 1913 IN WINNIPEG
Ottawa, June 11—James Lawlor, secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association, will leave for Winnipeg to complete arrangements for the Dominion Forestry Convention, to be held under the auspices of the Manitoba government and the civic organizations. Mr. Lawlor has had an unusual number of communications regarding the convention, most of which indicate that there will be a very large attendance, and that the discussions will be of a very highest order.

The meetings will have unusual significance to the people of the west in that the problem of forest conservation is being brought home in a locality where forest areas are rapidly being brought under scientific management. According to experts, the wooded part of Manitoba offers a wonderful field for the skill of the trained forester.

An unusual interest will be lent to the convention through the presence of two exhibits of particular attractiveness. The officers of the Dominion forestry service are preparing an exhibit of woods growing in Manitoba and the other western provinces, and experts from the Dominion Experimental Farm will be present with a collection of forest insects whose depredations at the present time are largely responsible for the loss, outside of fire, to which the forests of the prairie provinces are subject.

IN THE COURTS
Chancery Division
Hearing in an important case was had yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice McLeod in the chancery division, when the trial of the case of the Nepsiguit Real Estate & Fishing Co., Ltd., vs. the Canadian Iron Company was commenced. This is a suit brought by the plaintiff for an injunction to restrain the defendants from polluting the Nepsiguit river with waste from their mines at Bathurst, where the defendants operate; and to recover damages for the alleged pollution of the waters in the past. It is alleged that the waste from the iron mines is very injurious to the salmon in the river, and has already caused considerable damage in this way. Luke Bouche, Hon. Chas. E. Dak and Wm. Houghy were examined yesterday, and the hearing was adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

Exchequer Court
The taking of evidence in the case of the King vs. the New Brunswick Railway Co., Ltd., was finished yesterday before Mr. Justice Audette. James Maloney was the last witness examined. Hearing was then commenced in the case of the King vs. the Nashwaak Lumber Company, Limited. This is a suit to fix the amount of compensation to be paid for the expropriation of a right of way for the Transcontinental railway through certain lands belonging to the defendants and known as the Alice, Gibson property, in York county. In all, 307 acres have been expropriated. The Crown has offered to pay $480,000 for these lands, and the defendant's claim is for about $80,000.

Free List Extended
Washington, June 16—The much mooted agricultural schedule of the Underwood tariff bill was suddenly upset again by the majority members of the senate finance committee late today, when a motion was made to reconsider action taken earlier in the day approving the free listing of live stock and wheat subject to a countervailing duty. The proposal now is to strike out the provision for a countervailing duty and leave cattle, sheep and hogs and wheat on the free list, unrestricted. Members of the committee said tonight that this probably would be done by the majority.

There are two classes of things you should never worry about—the things you can help and the things you can't. If you can help them, go to work and do it, don't worry. If you cannot alter them, let them slide, don't worry. Cultivate this attitude and you will never worry at all.

H. B. SCHOFIELD, Commissioner.

ST. JOHN AND THE RAILWAYS

Since the people of Canada lent their credit to make the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific possible, there ought to be no doubt whatever as to that railway's plans for winter Atlantic terminals. The Dominion government holds the Grand Trunk Pacific in its hand by the power of the purse. The government is beginning to spend $18,000,000 in St. John to provide harbor facilities designed to handle the import and export business of the G. T. P. Therefore the government should be well informed as to the railway's plans for reaching St. John on time, and the information which the Board of Trade failed to elicit from Mr. Chamberlain will come more readily if the government asks for it through the Minister of Railways, or the Minister of Marine who represents this province.
St. John has supposed that the G. T. P. would enter this city by means of the Valley railway, that being the shortest route and the cheapest haul. If that plan has been changed the government must know it and the public should be informed.
Talk in Halifax cannot change the more important transportation facts. One of these is that St. John has the short haul by rail and the longest and cheapest approach from the sea. Freight, like water, will run down hill unless there be artificial interference. As St. John should be the first Maritime Province port to be equipped, it should be the first to get the G. T. P. traffic. But while that is true, it must be clear to everybody that when the G. T. P. begins to haul through freight next year it will have no proper means of reaching this port and no facilities of its own at our water front. This is too serious a matter to be ignored by the city and by our representatives at Ottawa.

FRESH AIR AND SUNSHINE

Dr. Livingston Farrand, Executive Secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a recent address declared that not more than one person in every hundred, taking the country as a whole, gets enough fresh air to ward off the ordinary attacks of dangerous infections and contagious diseases. People fail to get enough fresh air, either because their lungs are affected or, more generally, simply because they do not open the windows and doors. For the former class a physician is needed, but for the latter, study of the plain directions how to live, work, play, and sleep in the open air will do more than hospitals and drugs.
Why should anyone living in the country ever have tuberculosis? The death rate from consumption in the country is higher than in many cities. In the country the disease is not caused by dust and dirt, but by poor ventilation in the houses and improper knowledge of how to breathe, coupled, of course, with poor selection of diet and bad cooking. If one drives for miles along a country road any fine day the chances are that he will not see a window raised or a parlor blind up. The sun is kept out so that it will not fade the carpets and the healthful air is thoughtlessly excluded. Consequently the family breathes over and over again in poorly ventilated rooms, not benefiting by the abundance of clean atmosphere and unobstructed sunshine available, and free to those who know their value. Of the several campaigns against the great white plague, that of instructing the people as to ventilation, cooking, and eating is probably the most useful.

ST. JOHN AND OTHER COMMISSION CITIES

Referring to the spread of the commission form of government for cities, Collier's Weekly makes note of the fact that only thirteen states now have no commission-governed cities. In all these states the question has been agitated, and the only obstacles in the way are either unfriendly legislatures or rigid constitutional provisions. In Pennsylvania, for instance, several cities have been fighting for four years for the passage of a bill that would allow them to adopt the new plan, and about the same situation exists in New York.
The list of commission cities, which formerly included only small cities, is rapidly expanding. Jersey City recently adopted the commission form of government, and is the fourth city having a population in excess of 200,000 to introduce it. Denver and St. Paul will become commission-governed cities next year. There are six cities in the list having a population between 100,000 and 200,000. These are Lowell, Omaha, Spokane, Memphis, Oakland and Birmingham. Commission government exists in sixteen cities of from 50,000 to 100,000 population and in thirty-one cities of between 25,000 and 50,000 population.
St. John, which has now been under commission government for more than a year, would not think of returning to the old order of things. With a little more experience in this city will improve somewhat upon even present conditions.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

TUESDAY, JUNE 17

George Henry Cowan, K.C., a prominent Vancouver lawyer, was born on June 17, 1888 in Lambton county Ont. He has been practicing in British Columbia since 1898 and has taken an active part in the flotation of several important companies. He sat in parliament from 1906-1911.
Chester D. Massey eldest son of the late Hart A. Massey founder of the Massey-Harris Company is sixty-three years of age today. He succeeded to the presidency of the business in 1901 and is now honorary president. He is a director of many companies and is much interested in charitable work.

LIGHTER VEIN

MET HIS MATCH
Dr. Abernethy, a famous Scotch surgeon, was a man of few words, but he once met his match—in a woman. She called at his office in Edinburgh one day and showed a hand badly inflamed and swollen, when the following dialogue, opened by the doctor, took place:—"Burn!" "Bruise!" "Poultice!" The next day the woman called again, and the dialogue was as follows:—"Better?" "Worse." "More poultice." Two days later the woman made another call, and this conversation occurred—"Better?" "Well, yes?" "Nothing!" exclaimed the doctor. "Most sensible woman I ever met!"

PROCEEDED IN SILENCE

Two friends had settled down to their coffee, cigarettes and game of chess in a tea-shop, when a third, a discordant third, joined them. He was unwelcome, obviously so; but that did not prevent him "chipping in" every moment with advice to the players. They endured him in silence, till at last the pint of a shilling beside the board caught his eye. "Hullo!" he said, "I didn't expect to find you chaps playing for filthy lucre." "Indeed?" said one of the flyers. "But it isn't the filthy lucre we object to; it's the filthy looker-on." Then the game proceeded in silence.

TOO ANXIOUS

She—"John, I have packed my trunk, but I'm afraid you won't give me the key to the box on the porch water. They need water every day."
He—"Oh, don't worry yourself about that."
She—"And, oh, John, you'll forget to feed the canary. The thing will die of hunger."
He—"Oh, I'll not forget. Don't worry yourself a moment."
She—"But I'm quite sure you'll forget to keep down the curtains."
He—"Oh, that's all right. I'll keep the house as dark as a tunnel."
She—"John, I'm not going. You have some reason for being so anxious to get rid of me."

POLITICAL CANDIDATE

"Well, did you discover anything in Stump's past life that we can use against him?"
Detective—"Not a thing. All he ever did before he came here was to sell awnings."
Political Boss—"Why, that's just what we want. We'll say that he has been mixed up in some decidedly shady transactions."

CANADIAN PULPWOOD

Annual Statistics Issued by Dominion Forestry Branch, Ottawa

The bulletin now being issued by the Forestry Branch, Ottawa on the pulpwood consumption in Canada for 1912 is a compilation of statistics obtained from the sixty pulp mills now operating in Canada. Of the many facts revealed by these figures, there are, at least, three points which should be of special interest to the general public, to the forester, and to the trade, respectively.

In 1912, nearly two million cords of pulpwood were cut in Canada, forty-seven per cent of which was manufactured into pulp by Canadian mills, an increase of three per cent over 1911. This means that more than one half the pulpwood cut in Canada is exported in unmanufactured form, principally to the United States. It is estimated in the bulletin, that had this exported pulpwood been manufactured into pulp in Canada the increase in the national dividend from this source would be more than $6,000,000. Yet all the provinces, with the exception of Nova Scotia, have placed restrictions on the exports of raw material, and the fact that, in spite of these restrictions, the quantity of wood exported in the raw state increased from 1911 to 1912, as well as the falling-off in Canadian prices for pulpwood during this period, seems to indicate over-production in the local market.

Of perhaps special interest to the forester are the statistics showing forty per cent increase in the use of balsam fir in the manufacture of wood-pulp. To quote from the bulletin—"News print can be satisfactorily made from a mixture containing over forty per cent balsam fir and sixty per cent spruce, and the prejudice against balsam fir is rapidly disappearing." Balsam fir is especially adapted for pulp, the wood being free from resin and having very long strong fibres. It is, however, good for little else, and is at present viewed by the most common species of Canadian trees, the development of a market for this wood will be viewed with satisfaction by both the forester and the privy owner.

Of interest to the trade is the successful introduction of the sulphate process in the manufacture of chemical pulp. In this process sulphate of soda is added as a source of alkali and to make good the mechanical losses—ten per cent approximately—in the process of recovery of the soda. Three large Quebec mills used this process in 1912 with excellent results. Spruce, with a small percentage of balsam fir, was the wood used. As these are the principal Canadian pulp woods, the substitution of this method for the old soda process is not improvable.

CLOSING OF METHODIST CONFERENCE

Charlottetown, June 16.—The Methodist conference closed tonight with public meeting addressed by Rev. S. T. Bartlett, Toronto, general secretary of the conference, and J. W. Annet, of Toronto, secretary of the laymen's mission movement, and a resolution of appreciation of his work.

The following laymen were appointed on the special conference committee for the year: W. D. Baskin, G. A. Henderson, J. J. Westfall, R. R. Machum, F. O. Sullivan, J. A. Lindsay.

The Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada was urged to ask the federal parliament to amend section 208 of the criminal code, to make more effective the meaning of the words immoral, indecent, obscene, as the present meaning is capable of such interpretation as to prevent enforcement of the law as applied to theatrical performances.

Satisfaction was expressed at the steps being taken by Presbyterians and Methodists to establish a girls' industrial school in the maritime provinces. Conference urged the Dominion parliament to place so-called boxing bouts in same category as prize-fights which are a violation of the criminal code.

The following members of the Dominion Alliance Council: Revs. George Morris, H. E. Thomas, C. F. McFarish, A. C. M. Lawson.

A LOOK INSIDE
NEW IMPERIAL

Work There Now Is In Final Stage

HANDSOME FINISH
Will Be Entirely Different From Any Theatre in Eastern Canada—The Work Described—Seats Exits, Etc.

Work on the Imperial Theatre, King Square in its final stage. All the heavy construction is done and wood tris are now being made at doors, windows and throughout the immense auditorium and rental suites in front. The plastering has been finished for more than a week and during the present week plastic art workers will commence affixing highly ornamental relief designs and finishing, such as ceiling, cornices, rosettes, cornices, dado, eadings, friezes, and so on.

AN IDEA OF IT

Some idea of the finished theatre may be gleaned in a general line-up of the decorative and furnishing schemes. The proscenium front will be a mass of heavy plastic relief arches, surmounted by a gigantic sounding board, conceived and elaborately decorated. The balcony front will be richly faced in plastic designs and topped with brass railing and padded plush standing rails over the house will be richly upholstered as well. There will be two large chamber boxes, the central plastic curtain enclosure being gorgeously draped and finished with brass. There will be three tiers of loggia boxes, likewise finished with brass, fabric and plastic decorations.

The Imperial's electrical equipment is immense and thoroughly up to the minute. The switchboard on the stage is a formidable affair and there are smaller switchboards in the John-Manville fireproof operating booth; also in the cellar where the main power generator will supply the new theatre with power and light in connection with the local electric plant. The illuminating lay-out for the interior is carefully planned and the lights will be quite unlike conventional shapes and sizes. Fixtures will likewise be a revelation, new designs and ideas galore being introduced. The electrical system is the most exacting law of the United States and fully meeting all Canadian law. The outside electrical display will aggregate more than 1,000 lights.

A 17-ton boiler will supply heating for the Imperial and tenants. The asbestos-wrapped piping is entirely concealed throughout the building, but the radiators are placed so as to insure a comfortable interior in coldest zero snaps. Three sets of double doors at the main entrance will offset King Square blasts in deep winter time. Ten square blasts for fire protection and twelve standpipes are installed. To meet the demand these standpipes might make upon the city water supply, Commissioners Wigmore is anticipating next year's programme by laying a new and larger main along Imperial Place this summer.

OPENED IN AUGUST OR SEPTEMBER

Courtyards on the Landsdowne and Dufferin sides of the Imperial are to be concreted and graded. These will be used in handling crowds. There will be nine direct exits to the open air in the theatre besides the main double doorways and the staircases leading to them from the balcony. More than one-half of the houseful of people will be seated on the ground floor, on concrete piers a foot high. The remaining 800 will occupy balcony seats. The Imperial will be entirely free of posts, the balcony being carried on a 14-ton structural steel cantilever truss, a dozen large iron pillars at the rear aisle imbedded in concrete, the main walls and the great mass of masonry and concrete walls forming the front of the building.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE
ALWAYS CREATES ENTHUSIASM

Thousands Endorse It

Thousands of ladies throughout the world are thankful for Newbro's Herpicide, because it is that wonderful hair remedy and scalp prophylactic they owe their soft, long, beautiful hair. "Mary J. Terry, of Lovejoy, Ill., writes: 'My hair came out until there was just a scanty cover for the scalp. I tried everything I ever heard of or read about until I finally used Herpicide. There is nothing like it. My hair is now covered with new hair. I shall forever praise Herpicide.'"
Dandruff troubles come from dandruff. Newbro's Herpicide removes this dandruff and prevents further accumulation. It also stimulates a flow of blood which nourishes the follicles. The scalp being healthy the hair does not come out and the new hair is allowed to grow. There are other preparations which they say are "just as good" as Herpicide. It is not advisable to try them. Instead of doing any good they may do positive harm.
No one is ever disappointed in Newbro's Herpicide. The results are almost always the same, highly satisfactory, as is indicated by the fact that Herpicide has been sold for years and has thousands of satisfied friends. It is the only "genuine, original dandruff germ destroyer." There is nothing "just as good."
Newbro's Herpicide in 50c. and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.
Applications at good barber shops. Send 10c. in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Superfluous Hairs Vanish Like Magic

(Beauty Culture)
A thick paste made of powdered delonite and water and applied to any hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off, takes the hairs with it. The skin should then be washed to entirely remove the delonite and it will be absolutely free from every trace of hair on the face. This is an easy, inexpensive method of removing hairs and is entirely devoid of pain. Using the delonite will in no way mar or injure the skin.
Thick, glossy eyebrows and long, silky, curly lashes, add greatly to personal beauty. Frequent applications of pyroxin to brows or applied at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger will produce the above results, but care should be used to not get pyroxin where no hair is wanted.

How Davy Jones, Outfielder, Broke Into Major Leagues

By TOM ANDREWS

The passing of Davy Jones, outfielder of the Detroit ball club, in the Toledo club of the American Association recalls the story of how Davy first broke into the big leagues. Davy, who has been one of the star outfielders for several years, is a native of Wisconsin, having been raised at Cambria, where he played amateur ball. He joined the semi-pros and soon broke into the Three-Eye league, playing at Rockford, Ill., under a famous old star, Hugh Nicol.

During the war between the National and American leagues in 1900 Henry Killies, then part owner of the Boston (A. L.) club came to me and asked if I could land Jones and Pitcher Claude Elliott, but especially Davy, who were then with Rockford. I undertook the task, and, looking over the schedule, found that Rockford was scheduled at Decatur, Ill. Taking the night train out of Chicago I landed at Decatur the next morning at five o'clock.

At the hotel I found the clerk half asleep, but not too much so to talk baseball. He gave me a history of most of the players and told me that four scouts were at the hotel trying to see Mr. Nicol about Jones and Elliott. Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Chicago and New York being the clubs seeking the players.

It was evident that quick action was necessary, so at six a. m. I went to Jones' room, knocked lightly and received a quick "Who's there?" The rest was easy. Davy was anxious to get into the big league and we agreed on terms within a few minutes. I had a contract ready and signed by $200 and at 7 a. m. we had Claude Elliott out of bed and gave him instructions to meet us in an office across the street immediately. Claude appeared at 7.30 and it took less time to get him to agree to terms than it did Davy. A young woman, notary public was secured, the signatures, and after arranging some advance money it was all over.

The train for Chicago left at 8 o'clock and I had barely time to catch it having to go without breakfast, but it was better than waiting till evening. To say that the scouts were disappointed in putting it mildly and Hugh Nicol was about as mad as a wet hen when he discovered that Jones had been signed, for Jim Hart of the Chicago club had offered him $2,000 for Davy's release.

But then, it was during war times in baseball and the reserve rule out no figure. Davy jumped into prominence and he had a successful career as a major league player, and he says he never regretted the time he signed with Boston at 8.30 o'clock in the morning.

Likely to Take New Grip on the Land Question in Britain—T. P. O'Connor Writes of the Chancellor

(By T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P.) London, June 12—Everybody is asking what is to be the future of Lloyd George. For some months he has been in the shade; indeed people, without knowing the reason, remarked that he was not taking as active an interest in politics for a year and a half as he used to. He is deputy speaker of the House of Commons by virtue of his office as chancellor of the exchequer and as such he is entitled whenever Asquith, the prime minister, is absent, to take his place. This Lloyd George has done at question time, but on other occasions when he might have performed the same duties he has been absent.

This has been injurious not only to him but also to the Liberal Party and to the house. For a house left without a leader of authority, official and personal, is inclined to go wrong. Not all ministers are tactful and often a tactless minister gets things into a tangle which it requires the tact and the prestige of one higher up in the ranks to set right.

Now Lloyd George has plenty of tact, he has official authority and he has great personal popularity and if he were only available when these tangles arise, no man would get his government and his party more effectively and more rapidly out of the mess. But he has been absent and things have been allowed to drift or when it was impossible to put things right. It is now known that one of the causes was the heavy cloud that was hanging over him from his knowledge of the unscrupulous nature of the Marconi deal of his thoughtlessness and simplicity in taking up shares in the American Marconi Company.

Troubles Tell on Him Everybody now knows and even the bitterest Tory acknowledges that Lloyd George acted with perfect innocence and that all the loose and ridiculous talk about corruption must be dismissed even in the most hostile speeches, and he has emerged from the whole terrible ordeal without losing anything in the esteem of his friends; rather they are bound to him more closely by their resentment of all the unjust abuse which has been poured upon his head.

But though Lloyd George knows this and though his excellent courage can carry him through anything, it cannot be denied that the ordeal has told upon him severely. He is, in spite of his courage, a very sensitive man; he can be easily upset; though he has a wonderful power of sleep in all kinds of uncomfortable conditions, he can suffer from sleeplessness when he has to face worry or sorrow. He suffered terribly from sleeplessness after the devastating grief that came upon him in the loss of his favorite daughter, and used to have to keep a light beside his bed to read through the dreary watches of sleepless hours. And though he has not, I believe, suffered from sleeplessness during the recent crisis, still it has visibly told upon him. He has looked pale and drawn; something of his old fire has gone out; there is a certain painful uncertainty about his expression as if he did not know when some ruffian would throw an insult at him. He delivered his budget speech with subdued voice and manner, some people, by the way, held that this made it the best budget speech he had ever delivered, largely because it was free from passion or provocation. And he has lost for the moment his place as first in the running for the premiership in case anything should happen to Asquith.

What then is his future? Does this mean something permanent or transitory? I have little doubt as to the proper answer to this question. The Marconi scandal will die away, but it is not yet dead. It will not be dead until we have the bitter debate in the House of Commons which is sure to follow the report of the Marconi committee, and until Lloyd George feels the whole thing over and done with, it is impossible for him to get rid of the hideous nightmare. But that debate must come soon, and then I have no doubt that this man, who has wonderful recuperative powers, will be himself again.

Like all Celts and like all men of imagination and nerves, Lloyd George has great ups and downs. He can look one day as if he were going to die and the next he is in rude health and the best of spirits. He can be as tired as a dog so as to be unable to carry on a conversation even with an intimate friend, and in two days of motoring and golf, be again the most talkative and the gayest of party friends. And, similarly, when

HELPLESS CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

Toronto Lady Took "Fruit-a-lives" And Cured Herself

4 Home Place, Toronto, Dec. 19th, 1910. "I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without benefit. I saw "Fruit-a-lives" advertised and decided to try them. After taking one box, I was much better. When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone. After taking five boxes, I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-lives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. "Fruit-a-lives" cured me." MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

is only one man in the ministry who can undertake the gigantic task. And that man is Mr. Lloyd George. He is the man who already has raised the question; who has been brought up from childhood in the consideration of its pressing importance; who saw it working all around him in his little Welsh village where his first years were spent; into whose soul its iron has entered and is there today still ranking. Besides he is the man above all others in the ministry who has the necessary daring and tenacity to take up so gigantic and difficult a task. Of all his qualities the one in which he most stands out from the brilliant men around him is his excellent power of initiative. To draw his salary, to have the fame of a great politician, to have official power and the admiration, most of it artificial and insincere, are mere empty glitter to him. Soft, human, kindly, intensely impressionable as he is, Lloyd George has in the roots of his character an adamantine base of courage and resolution. Not once but a dozen times which might have ended in his political ruin.

Apart from his early association with crisis and its tyranny, he has been brooding over the land question for years. Once when I was his companion during a vacation, although he was too tired almost to join in a conversation, he was deep for hours every day in the perfect library of books on the land question which he had taken with him. It was he who started the private land committee whose investigations have set the Tories into such a rage, and he has read diligently every word they have reported; it was he who got the investigation, but it is right to add in every step he took, he had the most cordial cooperation of Mr. Asquith, with whom his relations are those of warm personal sympathy as well as political agreement. And he was always full of the subject.

Strengthened by Ordeal The ordeal through which Lloyd George has recently and so undeservedly and wantonly had to pass, will perhaps increase his fitness for the task which he has next to take up. He will bring to that task a spirit not frightened for he is incapable of fear, but perhaps more considerable of weak and trembling brethren. The poet sings what he has learned in suffering, and the statesman similarly is strengthened for his work by passing for some time through the valley of the shadow of suffering, however undesired.

This is the future I predict for Mr. Lloyd George and for that school of advanced capable and most effectively representative in the public life of today. It is this sense of the great work which he has still to do and which he can do better than anybody else, that accounts on the one hand for the rage and the terror combined which have assailed him from the landlord ranks and on the other hand for the personal devotion which has never wavered even during his darkest hour of trial.

Several seizures have been made at and near Woodstock lately by Inspector Colpitts, under the Scott Act. American officers had chased a man named McMullen from their side of the border, and Canadian officers were on the lookout for him on their side. His house is directly on the border, and was seen by the American officers unloading several cases of liquor from a wagon on the Canadian side. The Canadian officers found several cases secreted and seized them.

In such cases the small muscular fibres of the nose have become weakened and do not keep the pores closed as they should be. Instead these pores collect dirt, clog up, and become enlarged.

McGraw's Review Of the Big Leagues

By JOHN J. MCGRAW, Manager of the Champion Giants

I am convinced that the Philadelphia club is the one the Giants will have to beat to win the pennant.

It has long been my opinion that the Phillies are playing beyond their natural speed, but perhaps this is the first season they have hit their normal gait under the efficient management of Dooin and Locke.

Alexander, Seaton, Chalmers, and Rixey were the four twirlers who carried the burden in the early part of the year. Then Chalmers and Rixey showed signs of declining.

Good of the Game Demands That Notice of Umpire's Recommendation be Taken

If President Hooper of the N. B. and Maine League is correctly quoted in press despatches in the matter of the suspension of Manager Fisher of the Fredericton baseball team, there will be a change of heart on the part of the patrons of the game, particularly those who saw last Friday's exhibition here.

The umpire in Friday's game—whether or he was there by Mr. Hooper's authority or not—was the umpire and he ordered certain fines imposed on players who did not properly conduct themselves and for one of these players he recommended suspension.

There is no desire to press the matter against any other player; there is nothing of personal thought, whatever either as regards him or his team, but for the good of baseball in New Brunswick, if there is any tendency to bring disorder into the playing of the game, the time to show that it will not be permitted is now. It is too good a pastime player should not enter into the case.

KING SQUARE WORK
Some of the business men on the north side of King square complain of lack of protection about the excavation for the School for the Deaf. It is said that on Saturday night a young man, while hurrying along that side of the square, tripped over the ropes that are used to warn passersby and fell headlong into one of the holes.

ENJOYED OUTING
Through the generosity of a prominent citizen the students and teachers of the School for the Deaf were enabled to enjoy a backboard drive to Rockwood Park on Saturday. The day proved very enjoyable for all, and the pleasure derived from the outing was exceeded only by the gratitude of the students and teachers to their benefactor for the kindness shown them. It may also be said that the same citizen has recently donated to the institution several games which are much appreciated.

AERIAL TRUCK TO BE WATER TOWER

That is Commissioner's Plan For Better Service — Stream of Water 250 Feet

An illustration of what the local fire-engines can do when in proper working order was given this morning on the McLeod wharf at the foot of Duke street. No. 3 engine has just been overhauled and filled with new rubber suction valves, and the test was made to show the result of the repairs.

The intake hose was dropped over the wharf and when the engine started it sent a stream from a 1 1/2 inch nozzle was sent a distance of fully 250 feet. Nos. 2 and 7 engines have been overhauled recently and No. 4 will go to the repair shops tomorrow to receive new suction valves and a general overhauling.

Commissioner McLellan is planning to convert the Hayes Aerial ladder truck, which has not proved of much use, into a water tower. This can be done at an expense of about $150, by placing an extension at the end of the extension and connecting a length of hose to it. This experiment has been tried in other cities and the result has been an efficient water tower which does the work of a regular tower costing thousands of dollars.

THE MARATHONS

It is expected that after this afternoon's game between the Marathons and St. Croix, Nolan, who has played second base since the beginning of the season, will sever his connection with the local club.

This afternoon's game was to begin at 8.15. The plan was to have either Tarbell or Dedrick on the mound for the Greeks and Conly probably doing the honors for the St. Croix aggregation. Lynch, who has been out of the game for about a week with an injured jaw, will resume his position at third for the St. Croix this afternoon.

THIS IS DOG DAY

Only Few Owners in Court In Response to Summons

Not more than a dozen dog owners appeared in court this morning in answer to charges of keeping dogs without a license. The cases of those who appeared, however, were taken up but on account of the policeman who made the report in some cases not being in court, hearing was adjourned until this afternoon.

Of the dozen who did appear, about as many different excuses were offered for their failure to procure the necessary permission to harbor a canine. Some said that they had procured licenses, either they had received the summons to appear in court, but they were asked to pay the cost of the summons, fifty cents which they did, and departed. One said that he gave his dog away to his aunt in Norton, while another said that his pet was now at Courtenay Bay. A young lady said that the dog belonged to her brother and anyway it was only a pup.

ST. JOHN AND THE G. T. P.

Merchants See Need For Action In The Interests of This City

The fact that no steps are being taken to provide terminal facilities at St. John to handle the business which will be coming east over the Grand Trunk Pacific and the National Transcontinental Railways next year is arousing the business men of this city. This feeling has grown the stronger since the visit of Premier Borden and the railway officials to Halifax where they promised all sorts of facilities. There is some feeling that St. John is to be side-tracked in favor of Halifax and around the streets this morning there were many expressions of the opinion that steps should be taken immediately to ascertain the government's intentions with regard to the city.

The fact that St. John is nearly 100 miles nearer the west than Halifax by the I. C. R. from Moncton and will be much nearer via the Valley Railway line when it is completed gives St. John men a strong argument why the traffic should be handled through this port.

WANTED TO TREAT THE STREET ROLLER TO DRINK

Here's An Odd One From Lower Cove—Police Court Prisoner in Nobby Array

Two men charged with drunkenness, were fined $8 or two months in jail each and one was remanded on a like charge. The last mentioned was arrested in St. James street by Policeman Ross, who said that he saw the prisoner walking up and down past the street roller, asking it to have a drink.

Michael Clancy, charged with breaking windows in a restaurant in Mill street, the damage amounting to $4, pleaded guilty and was remanded.

With long black coat, silk hat and cane, Knock Graves appeared on the prisoners' bench in the police court this morning. He was arrested last night by Policeman Kane after a rather strenuous day about town. There were three charges against him and he was remanded on all three. They were drunkenness, indecent action and fighting with Philip Bushan on Sunday last.

He pleaded not guilty to all the charges and the patrolman who made the arrest testified in reference to the first two and produced evidence in the fighting case will be heard tomorrow.

John McKenick pleaded not guilty to being drunk, addressing windows on the Marsh road and was remanded.

A young man who was arrested last night for breaking a window on charge of assaulting Frederick Carson by striking him with a bottle, cutting his face, pleaded not guilty and was remanded. Carson, who was held as a witness along with another man named Garter, appeared with his face covered with court plaster and testified that the prisoner had met him in the street and drawing a bottle from his pocket, struck him on the nose. The case was stood over until this afternoon.

HARBOR SEAL IS SENT TO TORONTO GARDENS

Animals For Rockwood Being Brought Here in Return

Yesterday afternoon a fine young seal which had become entangled in the nets of Messrs. Lord & Harmed on the West Side, was brought to the South Market Wharf, where it attracted considerable attention. It was in a large oak party filled with water and was being shipped by express for the Rockwood Park Zoological Gardens, Parks Department, at Toronto, in exchange for some animals promised to send to Rockwood Park here.

The scientific name of this animal is "Phoca vitulina." It is described in the American Cyclopaedia as being found in the waters of the shores of New Brunswick and sometimes on the coast of Maine. It occasionally makes its way up the rivers for some distance. It is usually called "harbor seal" because of its frequenting small bays and harbors, and was formerly much prized by Indians on account of its hide. Seals are said to be very tractable and are capable of being highly educated. This seal is a good looking specimen less than a year old and already weighs quite 100 pounds. A second seal is now wanted to make up the pair promised the Toronto Park in exchange. Any fisherman who finds one in his net is asked to capture it alive and without injury and to communicate at once with J. R. Armstrong, honorary treasurer of Rockwood Park.
