Turkey Will Join League of Nations When Peace Signed

Ismet Announces This at Near East Conference—Means Supervision Over Christians in Turkey—Stands Firmly Against National Home for Armenians.

Lausanne, Dec. 14.—Turkey will join the League of Nations as soon as peace is signed at Lausanne, Ismet Pasha announced at the Near East conference today. As the League exercises general supervision over minority populations, Ismet's announcement was interpreted as meaning that Turkey will accept the league's supervision over the Christian peoples of Turkey.

Lausanne, Dec. 14.—Turkey accepts in principle the application to the national minorities in her territory of clauses on this subject inserted in the Austrian, Bulgarian and other peace treaties, so Ismet Pasha declared at this morning's session of the Near East conference, and also the granting of amnesty to the members of these minorities.

Turkey, said Ismet, likewise agreed in principle to the plan for her seeking admittance to the League of Nations.

She refuses, however, the demand for the creation of a national home for the Armenians and the exemption of members of the minorities from military services.

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hiram, "I had a rough yesterday. Life was a very drab sort of thing, and no worth the effort of breathing—too full of trouble and disappointment—just work, and work, and work. Then a little girl took me into her confidence. She showed me neatly wrapped little packages. She told me about daily shopping expeditions. She spoke of things that were being got by some other little people in need. She was completely wrapped in the delights of Christmas, and to her it was a pretty good sort of work. Life was full of adventure. Of course a rough couldn't stay where she was—could it?"

THE OSCILLATING VACUUM TUBE

The action which takes place in a simple oscillating vacuum tube circuit may be understood from a careful study of the operation of the circuit shown in the diagram.

The circuit consists of an ordinary three electrode vacuum tube with the usual source of potential connected with the positive terminal to the plate through a key "K" and a coil of wire "P". The grid circuit is completed through a coil of wire "G" which is placed in inductive relation to the plate coil "P".

In studying the operation of this circuit the filament terminal connected to the negative pole of the plate and filament batteries is considered the point of zero potential as in discussing most tube circuits. The coupling between the coils "P" and "G" is tight so that they act like the primary and secondary of a transformer, that is, a varying current in "P" would produce a varying current in "G". When filament is heated to incandescence and the key "K" is closed a current flows from plate to filament through the plate coil "P" and the battery in the plate circuit. While this current is building up in "P" a voltage is induced in coil "G" which impresses either a positive or negative potential on the grid. If the charge on the grid is positive there will be an increase in the plate current (in accordance with the theory of the vacuum tube) which tends to make the grid more positive. This building up of plate current and grid potential goes on until a further increase in grid potential cannot cause any decrease in plate current, since all the electrons emitted by the filament are reaching the plate. The plate current is then said to be at its saturation value.

Momentarily, the plate current is unchanging in amplitude and due to this condition the grid immediately loses its positive charge and drops to zero. The dropping off in voltage on the grid causes a corresponding falling off in plate current which results in a voltage being induced in the grid coil "G" which makes the grid slightly negative. The negative charge on the grid has the opposite effect on the plate current from a positive charge, that is, the plate current is reduced. This action continues until the plate current reaches practically zero value, at which point the grid loses its negative charge and again resumes zero potential. The plate current then returns to its normal value which causes a repetition of the events described, that is, the grid will have alternate positive and negative charges with corresponding increases and decreases in the plate current. The frequency with which this train of events takes place is dependent upon the values of inductance and capacity which are contained in the circuit.

An output coil inductively coupled to the coil "P" will have an alternating current induced in it, dependent in frequency upon the constants mentioned above. This circuit is similar in principle to the circuits previously described in these columns under the headings of "Audio frequency oscillator" and "The separate heterodyne."

CAR DRIVER SHIFTS FROM USUAL PLACE AND AVOIDS DEATH

others fear internal injuries. At the same hour in the same pit, William Syme, a driver, took a notion to ride on the rear of the coal car he was driving instead of on the front end, as is customary. (Toronto Globe.)
New and clever methods of swindling leaders of fraternal societies out of their money are revealed in a warning received by the officers of Ramezes Temple, Mystic Shrine, in this city.

A series of discoveries would indicate that there is a place in Chicago where criminals have obtained membership cards in fraternal orders, or forged receipts for dues paid for membership. With these cards or receipts in their possession swindlers have been making a tour of the United States, introducing themselves at the headquarters of societies and getting money on bad checks or through loans.

The place where the cards and receipts have been issued has been discovered, and police officers in all parts of the United States and Canada have been directed to search for the swindlers.

Well-known members of almost every fraternal society in the United States have been swindled during the last few weeks. A warning has been sent to each individual Noble of the Shrine here, advising caution in meeting with strangers.

CONSIDERATION OF MARITIME CLAIMS BY NEW C.N.R. HEAD

Any Reasonable Request Will Receive Attention, Says Sir Henry Thornton in Halifax Address.
Sir Henry Thornton spoke at a banquet in his honor last evening in Halifax, tendered by the Halifax City Council and the Board of Trade. He dealt with many problems affecting the operation of the National Railways in Canada and promised consideration to any reasonable request. He said that at the head of the National Railways were determined to administer them with scrupulous and equitable interference.
Addressing himself to maritime railway problems, Sir Henry said in part: "Some allusion has been made to the advantages of the city of Halifax, as a headquarters of the National Railways system, and the matter is both universal and chronic. The city of Montreal was first in the field—and by no means backward. The city of Toronto almost moved me to tears, and last Monday night I had the privilege of hearing the same thing from the lips of the citizens of Belleville, Ontario.
"I have had a growing impression since I entered the Maritime Province, that there was not discouragement here, not despair, and not pessimism, but withal, somehow, amongst you, in the minds of all of you, there was a feeling of disappointment, a feeling that perhaps through circumstances which could not be controlled by me, through the working out of our transportation system or for other reasons, there is a feeling in your minds that the Maritime Provinces have not fully enjoyed that prosperity which you think is your due. I say that you have that feeling, it is in no sense indicative of discouragement or despair, and I believe that in your hearts you have that patriotic optimism which would lead you to co-operate with any effort, or with any institution that desired to help you. If I am correct in my judgment, I can only say that we, who are charged with the administration of the Canadian National Railway system, propose to join hands with you

BENEFITS OF HYDRO.

The Times prints today what is an interesting article dealing with the magnificence of the task that confronts Sir Henry Thornton. The Canadian National Railways employ an army of men, and these provide the human element with which he must deal. The Globe says:

SIR HENRY'S ARMY.

The Toronto Globe in a very interesting article dwells upon the magnificence of the task that confronts Sir Henry Thornton. The Canadian National Railways employ an army of men, and these provide the human element with which he must deal. The Globe says:

EAST AND WEST

In the course of an article on the relations of Eastern and Western Canada a writer in the Montreal Gazette says: "All those who choose to study the steady and progressive development of Canada must notice, very obviously, the rapid strides that the west is taking, not only in regard to her agricultural areas but her urban areas as well, the latter developing steadily and surely into busy hubs of commerce and industry, where but a short time ago there merely existed the clap-netted, muddy streets which have made way for paved boulevards, lighted, trolleyed, telephoned and newspapered centres, boasting homes and institutions, comforts and luxuries equal to any in the world."

MR. R. FRASER ARMSTRONG.

It will remain to the credit of Mr. R. Fraser Armstrong that he has successfully demonstrated in these provinces the value of the town-manager plan. He did it in the town of Woodstock. So great has been his success that he has been called upon to explain in other provincial towns the merits of the plan, and a number of them have had its adoption under consideration. The people of Woodstock had made up their minds that by this plan they could get more efficient town government, and Mr. Armstrong was chosen to put it into effect. For four years the annual reports of the town's affairs have aroused deep interest in other towns and cities. Mr. Armstrong's ability has now been recognized in a larger field, and on March 1st he goes to take a responsible position on the staff of the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada with headquarters at Toronto. The Press of Woodstock, in a warm tribute to his merits, says: "He will retire with the respect and confidence of every citizen, as well as every man who has had dealings with the town during the last four years. Not only that, but the people of the town are under a great obligation to him for the ability he has shown in proving that his judgment was right in advocating the town management form of government, which in the near future, he followed by many others. It has been a great success under Mr. Armstrong."

HON. MR. ROBB TO 'LEAVE FOR HOME TODAY'

Ottawa, Dec. 14.—(Canadian Press)—Premier King said last evening that Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who has been conducting negotiations for a trade agreement with the Australian Government, will probably sail for Canada today. He will bring a draft of the agreement which is subject to ratification by the parliaments of both countries. There will probably be no announcement regarding the terms of the agreement until after the opening of parliament.

BREAKERS OF THE LAW.

The Eighteenth Amendment is unpopular. President Harding tells Congress. As the prohibition law will not yield to its enemies, the President declares that its enemies must yield to the prohibition law. He demands a "rigorous and literal enforcement" of the statute, and will call legislation to the attention of the Federal officials to devise means to that end.

FISH EVERY DAY, COPELAND ADVISES

New York, Dec. 14.—Fish, because of its food value, ought not continue as a one-day-a-week commodity, but should become a seven-day-a-week food, Senator-elect Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner of New York City, said at the annual dinner of the Middle Atlantic Fisheries Association, at the Hotel Pennsylvania. More than 80 per cent of the New York residents buy fish only on Friday, it was said.

New York, Dec. 14.—Fish, because of its food value, ought not continue as a one-day-a-week commodity, but should become a seven-day-a-week food, Senator-elect Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner of New York City, said at the annual dinner of the Middle Atlantic Fisheries Association, at the Hotel Pennsylvania. More than 80 per cent of the New York residents buy fish only on Friday, it was said.

Transformer Prices.

The Council then took up the matter of granting authority to the Civic Hydro Commission for the purchase of three transformers. Mayor Fisher recommended that the council be authorized to purchase three transformers as recommended by the committee—the price not to exceed $28,500. After considerable discussion regarding the prices from the various companies, it was finally decided to ask each to submit another bid. They will be opened at 8 o'clock Friday afternoon at a special meeting of the Common Council.

Mr. Thornton's $1,000 Saving.

Mr. Thornton said that $1,000 would be saved by buying the Packard and machine. He declared he had been informed that a transformer could be purchased for $1,000 less than the price quoted by Mr. Krubs. He had stated as much to the Common Council on Tuesday and he wished to back up his statement, he said. The difference, he said between the C. G. E. price and the Packard price was $200. By purchasing the transformers a saving of $1,000 would be effected, he maintained.

Mr. Thornton referred to the August estimate prepared by Mr. Krubs regarding the sub-station. He said that "it certainly was not fair" that Mr. Krubs had figured in the August estimate that two transformers could be purchased for $8,000. Mr. Krubs figures, he thought, were incorrect.

Replying to Mr. Thornton, he declared that an increase in the voltage estimate from 13,200 to 66,000 volts, which was the figure mentioned in the contract, certainly would make a material difference in the price of transformers. In this connection, he said that the Westinghouse branch in Halifax had got in touch with him over the telephone last evening and asked leave to forward another bid. The company's later figure reached him yesterday afternoon. It was $4,463—or $27 less than the C. G. E. bid. He would recommend the acceptance of the Canadian Westinghouse bid.

Commissioner Frink remarked that if the Westinghouse machine was the best obtainable, then "by all means let us get it. We don't want any second rate machinery around here," he said.

Mr. Krubs suggested that the best procedure to follow now, in view of the publication of the prices, was to call for new bids from the companies that had tendered.

Commissioner Frink thought that this would expedite matters and he moved that the companies be requested by telegram at once to quote a price on a transformer, as specified by Mr. Krubs. They will be received at the office of the Common Clerk not later than 2 p. m. Friday morning. Delivery also must be stated in the offer.

This motion carried unanimously.

Survey Amended.

Following consideration of the hydro proposals, after extended discussion, it was decided to authorize an expenditure of $8,000 for the completion of the city survey by G. Munro-Good. The contract, stipulating this amount, will be entered into, in order that the matter will be closed. Commissioner Bullock recommended that the work be carried on until the end of January next. The other commissioners, however, favored a setting of the question once and when Commissioner Wigmore's motion that the section of Tuesday's committee report dealing with this be adopted was supported by all the members.

Mr. Fisher recommended that the Amen. Holden, McCleary Co. be notified that the Council would make no exception regarding interest charges in cases where the time limit for the payment of taxes had been exceeded. This was adopted.

Winter Carnival.

The winter carnival scheme of the Rotary-Y. M. C. I. organizations was heartily endorsed by the Council members, when a letter from D. J. Corr, secretary for the skating meet exercise, was read, requesting that all the Council members attend the meeting in the Board of Trade rooms on Friday evening. Commissioner Wigmore thought it was a move in the right direction and commended the executive for its idea. His motion to acknowledge the letter and that all the commissioners be present at the meeting carried.

Musquash Firewood.

Mayor Fisher reported that after more careful consideration of the one tender submitted for the Musquash wood cut during the city's operations down there, he would recommend that this tender from A. A. McIntyre be rejected and that new tenders be invited. This recommendation carried.

Commissioner Thornton, on a question of privileges, declared that he had been incorrectly reported on the vote Tuesday afternoon regarding adjournment until Wednesday. He had intended "yes" for this. Commissioner Frink also had voted affirmatively.

Assessors Re-appointed.

T. T. Lantulum and James Collins, on motion, were re-appointed assessors for the year 1923.

A Raw Deal in Oysters.

(Detroit News.) Four years ago in Baltimore, Stewart Johnson entered an oyster eating marathon. As he finished his thirty-eight he fell in a faint. Twelve hours later when he was restored to consciousness in a hospital the judges slapped him on the back and proclaimed him a winner in a field of 88 entries.

From that day on Johnson has been unable to meet the gaze of the meekest oyster without flinching. Even the sight of pearl beads gave him the willies. To escape these grim spectres he fled inland.

Through the sleeper window in Philadelphia he saw a woman with a sea gull on her hat. He thought of a sister-in-law at Atlantic and stayed on the train.

At Pittsburgh a travelling salesman was an indelible pencil in his face. The pencil bore a blue point.

At Akron he passed a scales factory. This brought visions of mermaids.

When Johnson reached 3839 Baker street, Detroit, he smiled. Here he would slip the Letho-like draught of fortune. Here the sun would rise oysters, set oysters and during the day shine on nothing but the three mile limit of oysteration. But for the fourth time Tragedy stalked from the wings.

Johnson paused on his way to the Bell Laundry Co., where he leaves, to order a thick tender steak with mushrooms in a restaurant at Twelfth and Baker streets.

He nibbled the juicy morsel Joe Shamlin, a driver for Buchanan & Huff, coal dealers, slumped into the seat beside him. Shamlin whispered something to the waiter.

Johnson moved back his belt buckle a notch and delved with unplumbed ecstasy into the heart of the steak.

Johnson came with a dozen raw oysters. These he set before Shamlin. Johnson shut his eyes. . . . Several minutes passed. . . .

"Gimme another dozen raw oysters," shouted Shamlin.

Johnson gulped slowly. . . . Somehow the steak began to seem tough and stringy. Another pause. . . .

Once again:

"They waiter, bring on a third dozen of those oysters," bellowed Shamlin.

Johnson dropped his fork and clutched the table with both hands. He saw a hospital. . . . a nurse. . . . doctors. . . . white robed attendants. . . . The room whirled.

"Ho hum," yawned Shamlin. "Now waiter if you'll bring me just one more dozen of those oysters."

There was a roar. Johnson whipped his razor out of his pocket and brandished it in Shamlin's face.

"Eat one more of those oysters and I'll—"

"Fine you $10," concluded Judge John Faust Monday after Johnson had found guilty of disturbing the peace.

"After this I'm going to eat in a 'vegetarian joint,'" said the former oyster champion as he left the courtroom.

PREPARE FOR SCOUT TAG DAG

Preparations for the tag day for the Boy Scouts' Association are well under way. The tag day is not taking the form of a house to house canvass and tagging will be limited to the busy corners and some of the central districts. Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell is the general convenor and has been energetically at work obtaining workers and allotting to them their various tasks. The ladies in charge will provide lunch for the workers at the headquarters for tagging, the Y. M. C. A. building, and tags will be distributed from that centre. TRANS-CANADA TRIP BY THE CANADIAN CLUB

Opportunity Will Be Given to Members to Attend the Vancouver Convention—Month's Excursion.

(Montreal Gazette). A Trans-Canada excursion, along similar lines to that conducted with such notable success last summer by the Montreal Board of Trade, is the latest project to be taken up by the Montreal Canadian Club. This excursion will take place late next summer, either in August or September, so as to coincide with the annual convention to be held at Vancouver some time next September.

A decision was reached to start tentative arrangements for such an excursion at a special meeting of the executive of the Montreal Canadian Club, held yesterday afternoon with the president, Dr. J. L. Todd, in the chair.

At the close of the meeting it was stated that this project had been considered by the executive during the past six weeks, and they had talked the matter over with a number of the leading members of the Canadian Club here. The latter had been generally enthusiastic over the idea, and unanimous in the opinion that if a sufficient number of members would take it, such an excursion would be a splendid thing to educate members as to the country they lived in, and also to further the ideas and objects of the Canadian Club movement.

With this encouragement the executive started yesterday to take the necessary preliminary steps. A sub-committee was appointed to interview the authorities of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, as to the character of special trains, the cost of such a trip for each individual, the best routes, advisable stopping places, and so on. Naturally, stopping places will be suggested not only with a view to studying the country, but with the object of meeting local Canadian Clubs, for mutual instruction.

As soon as these details and plans have been collected, the sub-committee will report at a further meeting to be held by the executive, when they will be collated into a descriptive circular, which will be forwarded to each of the 2,400 members of the Montreal Canadian Club. These will all be invited to take their families along, the idea being as far as possible to make it a Canadian Club family affair.

Itinerary Outlined. The general scheme of the Canadian Club Trans-Canada Tour, it was stated, was to charter a special train, or two if necessary, for the whole trip. The party will leave the Windsor station, Montreal, by the Canadian Pacific, as did the Board of Trade excursion, then proceed west to Vancouver, with stops at strategic points of interest, and stop at Vancouver for the Canadian Club Convention there.

From Vancouver the Canadian Club party will proceed to Prince Rupert, B. C., either by boat or train, and will then embark on special train for the return trip east, following very much the same itinerary as the Board of Trade excursion. It is planned to keep the whole trip within a month from leaving Windsor station to the return arrival at the Bonaventure station. The members of the executive are enthusiastic in their hope that the idea will be taken up by sufficient members of the Canadian Club and their families to make the excursion possible. In no other way, they considered, could members secure so comprehensive and economic a trip through the main parts of the Dominion in so short a time, a trip which they believe should be undertaken at least once in his life by every Canadian.

RATS CAUSE GREAT LOSS TO RAILWAYS

Appear to Know Working Hours and Invade Sheds When Men Leave.

London, Nov. 18.—(By Mail).—Of the forty million rats which it is estimated exist in Great Britain and Ireland, a large number are known to occupy railway premises, and if their activities were not restrained, would cause serious damage and involve railways in heavy expenditure. In grain-growing areas, of which the territory served by the Great Eastern is a notable example, drastic measures are required, and rat-catchers are employed at Ipswich, Norwich, and in the London area. The reports of these men indicate that

Our home folks in these Provinces by the sea naturally ask for RED ROSE TEA when they want the very best.

RED ROSE COFFEE is free of dust—settles clear as a bell—no egg needed.

for the eight months ended September 30 last about 6,500 rats were destroyed on the Great Eastern system.

On electric railways rats eat the rubber used in insulating material and get into station and other tanks, contaminating the water. Warehouses, hotels, refreshment rooms, and goods sheds, where foodstuffs and other commodities are stored, are ideal houses for rats, and the predilection of the rodent for making a nest of paper also brings the rat into railway offices, where precautions have to be taken to preserve the records and other documents. It has been noted that in railway goods sheds rats appear to be familiar with the working hours of the men, and make their appearance immediately the staff has gone off duty.

All railway companies adopt precautions and cooperate with the local authorities and with agricultural and other sections of the community in rat destruction. It is claimed that more work in dealing with the rat evil is done by railways than by any other organization.

In spite of all that is done, however, the rat flourishes and inflicts a loss on railway companies in payment of claims which it is estimated at tens of thousands of pounds a year, to which has to be added the cost of the staff employed in keeping down the depredations. The damage is not confined to the consumption and spoiling of food, but a certain amount is done to the buildings where rats make their home. Attention is given by railway management to methods of prevention as well as destruction. Buildings are rendered, as far as possible, rat proof by the use of reinforced concrete in place of timber.

WOMAN AGED 90 OPERATED LIFT

Witness in a Will Contest Tells of Visit to Home—Physician Also Testifies.

New York, Dec. 14.—Testimony that Miss Emily F. Southmayd operated the private elevator in her home in West Forty-seventh street two years ago, when she was 90 years old, in taking a carpet salesman to the third floor of her house to discuss an order for carpets, was heard before Surrogate Foley and a jury in support of Miss Southmayd's will, which is being contested by a nephew and three nieces on the ground that she was not competent when she made the will. Witnesses for the contestants had testified that she could not operate the car and that as a result she got caught between the floors one day.

The witness, Bernard J. Kuntz, was asked by Edmund L. Mooney, attorney for the contestants, if he had not stated at one time that Miss Southmayd wore such shabby clothing that he asked his credit department, as to her ability to pay the bill of several hundred dollars. Mr. Kuntz replied, "I went to our credit department, as I always did when I did not know the customer, and was told who she was. I told your assistant I was surprised when they told me she was worth several millions of dollars, because she didn't look as if she was."

Dr. Lewis F. Brissell, who had been Miss Southmayd's physician from 1914 testified that she suffered from enlargement of the heart and high blood pressure, but no more so than other persons of her advanced age, but that she kept her "badly scared." He said he believed she was of sound mind in 1915, when the will was executed, and also in later years.

The hearing will continue today.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF TOURISTS IS URGED

Fredericton, Dec. 13.—Dr. H. M. Doolittle, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Automobile Association, spoke tonight before the Fredericton City Club. He dealt with the necessity of encouraging motor tourist traffic of all kinds and with the financial advantage it would be to New Brunswick. He urged free camping sites and other means of assistance.

DODO: ODD BEETLE, LIVES ON MORPHIA

Scorning All Bug Dainties, Doubles in Size on Drug Diet

Classified by Scientist—The Dermestes Vulpinus is a Born Fur-Eater and $100,000 was Offered in London for Its Riddance.

(New York Times)

Dodo, the beetle, is on a hunger strike. Since the day on which he was first taken to the office of Deputy Commissioner Dr. Carleton Simon at Police Headquarters, now nearly two weeks ago, he has stolidly refused to partake of fish, flesh or fowl. Not even the choicest dainties procured by sympathetic keepers have been sufficient to induce him to eat, and his only nourishment has been a daily allowance of two grains of morphine, more than enough to kill two men. Nevertheless, this remarkable drug addict is apparently thriving on his singular diet, and, according to Commissioner Simon, he has almost doubled in size since his arrival.

A month ago Dodo and his family were evicted from their home in a package of morphine in the Narcotic Bureau at Washington by Bronson McCarver, a personal friend of Commissioner Simon. When routed from the family dugout, the entire household was forwarded to Commissioner Simon. They have died one by one until now Dodo alone remains. On their arrival in New York every variety of food was offered them, but they would eat nothing but their favorite drug. Detectives of the Narcotic Bureau vainly sought to classify these unusual bugs. Lieutenant Moon insisted that they were domesticated cockroaches, the package open? He wants to publish a notice of this incident in the Museum Journal.

"This insect is related to the larger beetle, which destroys bacon, ham, &c., by boring in the rind."

When questioned as to the habits of the insect Commissioner Simon stated that it usually bores into the cube of morphine and, once entrenched, proceeds to eat its way out. He then gave a demonstration by prodding Dodo with the end of a pen. The bug, which had been sleeping, was on its hind legs, stretched and made for the nearest cube, which it attacked with surprising voraciousness, drilling in much the same manner as a woodpecker on the limb of a tree. After a few moments it ceased to eat and rolled quietly over on its side.

Eventually the insect addict may be turned over to the Museum of Natural History, but Commissioner Simon says that for the present at least Dodo will continue on exhibition at Police Headquarters.

The African gray parrot is ranked the best talker.

ONTARIO PEAT AS FUEL

Large Supply in Sight and Demand is Good as Coal Substitute.

(New York Times)

The recent state of the coal-mining industry in the United States, Canada's main source of supply, has caused that country to turn attention to the more general use of peat, of which there are large bogs located in Ontario. The lack of known coal resources in that province has made the problem one of paramount importance, and even though the coal mines of the United States get back into their normal stride in a short time it is unlikely that the coal needs of Ontario will be fully supplied.

A survey of the peat situation in Canada by the Canadian Pacific Railway shows that there are about 87,000 square miles of bogs in the Dominion, and to date 106 have been surveyed with an aggregate area of approximately 224,191 acres. These contain 150,000,170 tons of fuel and 20,588,110 tons of litter. Forty-six of these bogs, which have been surveyed, are in the Province of Ontario, with a total area of 132,821 acres, containing in the neighborhood of 110,109,000 short tons of peat fuel, and 816,444 tons of peat litter. During the last year four bogs were surveyed in the province, a total of 11,089 acres being investigated. Three of the bogs are situated near the cities of Fort William and Port Arthur and the fourth near Verona. All these areas are found to contain peat suitable for fuel.

The excessive moisture of peat in its natural form is one of the greatest drawbacks of successful production. From 92 to 99 per cent of peat as it is found in nature is moisture, and this must be reduced to 28 to 30 per cent before it can be used as an efficient fuel. In that form it is known as standard fuel, and has a heating value compared with anthracite of one and a half tons to one ton. The big advantage of peat over coal is the complete absence of ash, which in coal amounts to between 10 and 25 per cent. At present peat is advocated for cooking purposes, and in the furnaces during the fall and spring months.

Much money has been expended on experiments and improvements at Alfred, and production now ranges around eight tons an hour, although plans are under consideration for increasing the rate to ten tons, the only handicap being a lack of power. Investigations and experiments carried on there during the last year or so are now complete, and operations on a commercial scale have commenced. Production extends over a period of fifty to sixty days, or from May 1 to Aug. 31.

There is an active demand for peat fuel," says a railroad bulletin, "orders coming in from widely separated points in Ontario, shipments being made to some twenty-odd towns. One or two trial shipments have been made to Montreal, but it is doubtful if a permanent market will be found there. According to the Hon. Harry Miller, Minister of Mines for Ontario, the entire output of the Alfred bog has been requisitioned by coal dealers as a substitute for coal. The gross tonnage will amount to approximately 6,000, and will retail to the consumer in Ottawa at $10.00 a ton and at Peterboro at $14 a ton.

"Canada annually expends huge sums on the importation of coal from the United States, and will continue to do so until by the further development of her own vast coal and coal substitute resources, the Dominion will be independent of outside sources for her coal supplies. The development of the peat bogs at Alfred is a step in the right direction, and when the success which is being made of this venture by the Government becomes known, it is safe to assume that private capital will become interested in exploiting other bogs."

"The Steam Coal of Salesmanship"

Man, by taking thought, cannot add a cubit to his stature.

But he can by thought, and by concerted action on accurate conclusions, do much to add growth and give rejuvenation to his business, particularly in these times.

On the high seas of business, with a fair wind and the barometer steady, progression is an easy matter.

In heavy seas and against a headwind, the consumption of fuel must be greater. Then he should pile on the Steam Coal of Salesmanship—Daily Newspaper Advertising.

Then is the time to crowd on steam—to use Daily Newspaper Advertising with the greatest degree of confidence.

The Daily Newspaper is the medium of the moment—the axis of opportunity; flexible, powerful and instantaneous in its ability to create Sales.

Advice as to the best ways and means of doing this will be given to those who inquire of us; or consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

Issued by Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, Head Office, Toronto.

Who Pays For Advertising?

THIS is a direct and reasonable question; and in the case of Daily Newspaper advertising, intelligently used, the answer is simple: Nobody. It pays its own way.

Nobody pays for the new carburetor that gives added mileage to your motor car. It pays for itself in the gasoline it saves.

Nobody pays for an improved cash system in a modern department store. It pays for itself in economy of human time.

Nobody pays for well planned and written Daily Newspaper advertising. It pays for itself by reducing the cost of sales and by increasing production. And it often receipts old bills for folies with advertising labels.

The advertisement in your own local Daily Newspaper tells you the best things to buy and where to buy them. Every new purchase helps the whole community to command cheaper and better goods.

QUALITY DAY, MARKET DAY AND BARGAIN DAY LINKED

Retailers of San Jose, Calif., Stage Three-Angled Shopping Fair With Points of Appeal to All Types of Consumers Within Trading Radius of City, Which Throngs Streets and Stores With Shoppers.

The Merchants' Association of San Jose, Cal., decided that something must be done to stimulate buying, and a committee of progressive men set to work to do it, never thinking they would furnish to the merchants themselves such positive proof of the advantages of combined effort.

With the idea of awakening the people of the community to the fact that San Jose has tremendous buying power and, therefore, can sell at right prices, a strong committee perfected arrangements for a three-day "Shopping Fair," with a special designation for each day.

"Blue-Ribbon Thursday" means just that. The "prize" articles, the "cream" of the stock would be piled off as "bargains," but a real saving offered in first-quality goods.

"Bargain Friday" featured genuine bargains in every line, with a special effort from the salespeople to give efficient, quick and cheerful service.

"Market Saturday" carried the idea of replenishing household stores from the lists of attractive offerings in the

Better Styles Better Values Better Service.

Almost every line was well represented. Grocery, shoe and drug stores, women's wear, department stores, jewelry and book stores, tobacco shops, furniture stores, men's clothing, hardware and even a restaurant or two, all united to put the event over in a way that would be long remembered.

Shoppers who thronged the streets during the three special days were quick to note whether there was a yellow card in the window, as the newspapers urged, before entering a store. And the yellow cards got the crowds. The entire town was on dress parade, the store windows having been made exceptionally attractive for the Shopping Fair. Each merchant displayed his best special, and Blue Ribbon Thursday proved a decided success, being marked by fewer sales than ordinarily prevail on a regular sale day, but of higher-grade merchandise.

Bargain Friday was meant to appeal to the average buyer's well-known love of a bargain. Many of the merchants had secured desirable goods in large lots especially for this sale, and the results far exceeded the expectations of the committee.

Low prices prevailed on market Saturday. This is the day on which the housewife "stocks up" for Sunday; and especially were the grocers swamped with orders for specials offered in their morning ads.

Throughout there was splendid co-operation between the committee, the merchants and the daily papers—without which no venture can succeed.

A Real "Fair."

The A. O. H. Hale department store stressed the "fair" in "Shopping Fair."

The principal departments on both floors were set apart in booths. The uprights of the skeleton frame were narrow strips of wood cloth-wrapped, and the "roof" was "V" shaped, like a tent. Instead of a solid covering, the roof or canopy top was formed of long strips of gingham, three inches wide, in plain colors, spaced several inches apart, and ending in points that hung over the edge. Small pennants, strung on wire, draped the booths and were festooned from booth to booth across the aisles. These pennants, cut from plain gingham in yellow, blue, red and green, gave an atmosphere of festivity to the store interior, and actually created the "buying mood." The gingham was most suitable for the small pennants. Being stiff, they hung down straight without the necessity of hemming the goods.

To further carry out the idea of a "fair," a peanut and popcorn booth was erected in the centre of the store, where a girl dispensed "pink lemonade" free to the tired, thirsty crowd. A runway, festooned with gay gingham pennants, was built above the infants' and dress goods departments, connecting with the south balcony. Here a daily fashion show held the crowds each afternoon, displaying dresses and suits made famous by national advertising, while hundreds of pairs of gloves, bought specially for the occasion, attracted shoppers at $1 per pair.

For Blue Ribbon Thursday only the Arcade featured blankets of wool and cotton, in an attractive blue-draped window. The Valley Hardware Company offered a splendid thirty-one-piece dinner set with each range sold on Thursday. A table arranged for our in the window attracted prospective stove purchasers.

Many merchants who were induced to participate in the three-day Shopping Fair were men who had never favored the individual "dollar day" idea. Their concerted effort brought home to them in dollars-and-cents results the value of community effort.

EXEMPTION FOR WIFE OR HOUSE?

Interesting Income Tax Case Up in Renfrew.

Renfrew, Dec. 14—The decision of County Judge McNamara, of Pembroke, in allowing the appeal of W. H. J. Derham, who, with his wife, boards at a hotel in Renfrew, upon an income of $2,000, is meeting with strong disapproval on the part of citizens, many of whom urge the town to carry an appeal to a higher court. The judge took the view that the spirit of the act was to exempt married men, irrespective of the precise definition of a "dwelling house," and that in Derham's case the hotel was his "dwelling house." His claim came up before the Municipal Court of Renfrew a month ago and was dismissed. Assessor J. B. Stewart said that in making the assessment he carried out the view of the Assessor's Guide, which only exempts "heads of a family who keep up a house," and he added that a hotel cannot be so classified, as it pays a business tax. The view obtained from the municipal authorities is that the decision gives wives out all distinction between married men occupying portions of dwelling houses and tenants, and those boarding in hotels with their wives. Louis J. Kehoe, of Ottawa, argued the case on behalf of Derham, and S. T. Chown represented the town.

BIG FRENCH WINE YIELD
1922 Production 1,796,424,000 Gallons, The Greatest Since 1875.

Paris, Dec. 14—The largest wine harvest in nearly fifty years has been registered in France in 1922. The yield is 68,000,000 hectoliters (1,796,424,000 gallons) the greatest wine production since 1875, when the total was 83,000,000 hectoliters. The 1910-1914 average was 47,000,000 hectoliters and in the period from 1915 to 1919 the yields dropped to 38,000,000 hectoliters.

When the results of the wine harvest in Algeria and Tunis are added to that of France the total wine yield for this year will reach 76,000,000 hectoliters. Besides all this is estimated that there are 9,000,000 hectoliters of wine in stock on hand.

This year's registration reveals the fact that even the City of Paris has vineyards whose output has increased from 8 hectoliters in 1921 to 200 hectoliters this year.

Steubenville, Ohio, Dec. 14—John Borram of Tiltonville, Ohio, obtained the release of her husband from jail on a bootlegging charge on a unique manner. On Saturday she appealed to Sheriff Edward Lucas for her husband's release, declaring she needed his help in supporting her five children. When Sheriff Lucas refused to release the man Mrs. Borram left her five children in his care and disappeared.

County officials announced that Borram would be released and sent home to care for the five children. Mrs. Borram has not yet been found.

We proved conclusively that truthful advertising, backed by solid, substantial value giving, is the only avenue that leads to success. It is expected that about 500 telegrams of protest against the two-cent tax on receipts will be sent to Premier Mackenzie King from the province of New Brunswick, according to the estimate made by Miss Frances Alward, secretary of the New Brunswick Retail Merchants' Association. Miss Alward said yesterday that she thought practically all the members of the Retail Merchants' Association would send telegrams and that in several of the towns of the province the Boards of Trade would also send telegrams urging the repeal of the receipt tax. She had also been informed that several wholesalers and manufacturers would send forward telegrams of protest from New Brunswick.

C. N. R. WANT TRACKAGE IN WATER STREET

Lot Near the Foot of Duke Street is Involved.

Commissioner Bullock is to Negotiate—No Word from Power Co. re Street Lights—Request That the Queen Square Loop Service be Resumed.

A further communication from the C. N. R. in connection with their application for additional space for extension of trackage in Water street was presented to a committee meeting of the Common Council by Commissioner Bullock this morning. He explained that the land involved consisted of a lot near the foot of Duke street, of which the city had erected a brick warehouse and which, until two years ago, had been leased to T. McAvity & Sons. Since that time the only occupant was the Memorial Workshop, which had received free occupancy last year, but was this year paying $250 and was likely to vacate soon.

In their letter the C. N. R. offered, if the city was willing to tear down the warehouse at its own expense, to pay $800 a year for the right to maintain tracks on the lot. Commissioner Bullock said that the railway was paying nothing for the track rights up to that point and thought that the city should get $840, which represented six per cent. on $9,000—the value placed on the warehouse by independent valuator. He said that he would like the matter settled, as the building was in need of repairs. It was referred to Commissioner Bullock for further negotiation on the basis of his suggestion.

Commissioner Thornton presented a petition from the residents and property owners in Rock street, asking that a light be placed at the corner of Rock and Blair streets. The commissioner said he had received many similar requests, but in view of the city being in the near future, he questioned whether the expense at present would be justified. The petition was referred to him for future action.

To the Mayor he said he had received no reply from the Power Company in connection with his request for a revised schedule of rates for city lighting in view of the company's prospective reduction in rates for domestic and commercial lighting.

Town Planning. In the matter of town planning, the Mayor read a notice which it was proposed to publish, notifying the public that the matter could be brought before the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for approval of the St. John scheme. On motion of Commissioner Frink, the Common Clerk was authorized to publish notices of the proposed legislation, and that the plan and scheme would be open for inspection at the office of the city engineer.

The Mayor said the Chamberlain's report on the tax relief was in hand and could be presented at any time desired. The matter was allowed to lie on the table.

The Mayor asked for information in connection with a reported break in the amount of rental in the original figure of $50 for the three lots. Commissioner Bullock submitted a draft of a new lease for three lots at the foot of Mecklenburg and Queen streets to Simms, Ltd., for seven years from November 1, 1922. The suggested rental was $50 a lot instead of $20 for the three lots, on condition that the premises were not used for any obnoxious manufacture, the Avenue, under the auspices of the North End Sub-division of the Catholic Women's League. Eighty members and friends participated. Mrs. G. McKinstry won first prize, Mrs. Edward Toole second, Miss Grace Doherty third and Miss Kathleen Coghlan the consolation. Miss M. McCloskey was general convenor and was assisted by an efficient committee of twenty ladies. Refreshments were served. The house was artistically decorated and the function was considered one of the most successful held under the auspices of the sub-division.

The question was referred back to Commissioner Bullock for further report.

Street Railway Matters. Commissioner Thornton asked if anything had been done in connection with repairs to the Rodney railway trestle. Commissioner Bullock replied that the manager of the New Brunswick Power Co. had notified him that work would be commenced on Monday.

Commissioner Wigmore said there were many complaints regarding the operations of the loop car on the west side. He thought that the matter of operating the whole loop should be taken up with the company in the interest of the public.

As the city had purchased a playground in Beausfield for West St. John, Queen Square had been eliminated as an athletic field and the company might again operate the cars through the square. On motion it was decided to ask the company to resume the service on the whole of the Queen Square loop.

Manchester Liner Believed Not Seriously Damaged—A Collision Nearby.

A Boston despatch says that the British steamer Manchester Spinner, blown aground on the western side of Long Island in Boston harbor, on Tuesday, was floated at high tide today. Five tugs and the use of her own kedge anchor set her free. It was believed that she sustained no serious damage.

The tug Juno, operated by the Boston Towboat Company and one of the fleet sent to assist the Manchester Spinner was rammed and sunk by the army quartermaster steamer General Thomas S. Jessup, a short distance from the stranded vessel. The tug's crew scrambled to safety over the Jessup's side.

SHOP BLINDS UP AT NIGHT IN HOLIDAY SEASON

Request Made in Hope of Lessening the Fire Hazard in City.

Following a conference with Chief Blake, of the fire department, Commissioner Thornton this morning issued a request to store-keepers, particularly in the business section, to leave their blinds up at night during the Christmas season. He said that if this were done, in the event of fire breaking out in any of the shops, it would be more likely to be noticed before it had become very apprehensive.

The commissioner said that many of the shop-keepers pursued this practice all the year round and some of them left a light burning in the store. He felt that this was a protection not only from fire dangers but also from thieves.

A warning of the dangers surrounding the use of naked lights on Christmas trees has also been issued by the safety department and it is hoped that these warnings will tend to cut down the fire hazard.

Sterling Rise Wins Words of Praise From New York Paper

Return of London as World's Central Market—England Has Fairly Fought Her Way Back to Something of Her Old Position.

(Canadian Press) New York, Dec. 14.—Stating that the advance on New York rate of exchange on some European countries, in continued progress for a month, has this week reached proportions which make a sudden descent of the highest importance, the New York Times today finds a seeming paradox in the seasonal rise of the pound sterling. "Something of the spectacular," it says, "has been imparted to the movement of the last few weeks when it is considered that the rise has followed the payment of $100,000,000 interest money by Great Britain to our treasury—a transaction which ordinarily would involve the sale of sterling bills on a very large scale—and is a scarcely less immediate sequel to the announcement of the Treasury last week intended to restrict our import of merchandise from Europe."

U.S. HOLDS DRY GUILTS LIABLE TO 2 PENALTIES

State and Federal Governments Both May Punish

Crime Double, Says Taft, in Liquor Matter—Same Act May Constitute Two Offences, He Decides in Pacific Bootleg Cases.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The doctrine of double jeopardy, as upheld by the Supreme Court in the United States this week when it ruled that both the Federal government and the state government may punish violators of the prohibition laws. "The case was that of Arthur Magrini and four others who were charged by the Federal District Court in the State of Washington with making, transporting and possessing liquor and having a still. The defense pointed out that the same charges had been brought against them in the Superior Court of Whatcom County, Washington, and they had been fined $250 on each count. They held that they could not twice be placed in jeopardy and subjected to two punishments for the same acts, one under the national prohibition law and the other under state prohibition laws. The Supreme Court took a different view."

Speejacks Home After 35,000 Mile Trip as Flier Starts Out

New York, Dec. 12 — Home again after a 35,000-mile jaunt around the world during which she was twice reported lost at sea, the Speejacks 90-foot power boat built by Albert Y. Gowan of Chicago at a cost of nearly half a million as a "Honeymoon Ship" for himself and his bride has returned after a fourteen months' absence. Grown fears for the safety of the Speejacks were occasioned in October, 1921, when a wrecked motor yacht off Lower California gave rise to the report that the adventurous party of circumnavigators had been swallowed up by the Pacific.

Again in September of 1922, friends became alarmed when the boat was several weeks overdue at certain stops. The log of the Speejacks is expected to reveal many thrilling adventures in the South Sea Islands, where the party cruised, stopping at Tahiti, the Society Islands, Samoa, Fiji, the New Hebrides and New Caledonia.

Their visit to one island made possible the marriage of a pair who lacked a minister to unite them. Mr.

Thousands have found a way to regain the radiant joy of health

The charm and magnetism of perfect physical poise—the glow and sparkle that so many women lose needlessly—

Today we know how to keep them! Health and vitality are normal, not exceptional: ebbing strength and vigor are always due to some violation of Nature's law.

Thousands suffer because they neglect the body's two most vital needs: removing daily the poisonous waste and building up the worn-down tissues from day to day.

The fresh, living cells of Fleischmann's Yeast contain a natural food—with the very elements which help the body perform these two vital functions.

Like any other plant or vegetable, yeast produces the best results when fresh and "green"—not dried or "killed." Fleischmann's Yeast is the highest grade living yeast—always fresh. It is not a medicine, it is a natural food. It helps to "tone up" the whole system and assures regular daily elimination. Results cannot be expected unless it is eaten regularly.

Everywhere physicians and hospitals are prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast to correct constipation, skin disorders and to restore appetite and digestion.

"I have found it simply wonderful"

A Massachusetts woman was run-down, weak, anemic, and a steady loss in weight alarmed her and her friends.

Then she began to eat Fleischmann's Yeast. "I have been eating it for three months now," she writes, "and have found it simply wonderful. Before I started to eat it, I weighed only 104 pounds. I have gained sixteen pounds, and my indigestion has disappeared."

Eat two or three cakes a day regularly—plain, or spread on crackers, or mixed with water or milk. If you prefer, get six cakes at a time. They will keep in a cool, dry place for two or three days. Begin at once to know what real health means! Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast. All grocers have it.

THE PROGRESSIVES IN U. S. CONGRESS

Washington, Dec. 14—(By Canadian Press)—All indications are that the effects of the recent formation of a progressive bloc in Congress, backed up by great numbers of progressive men and women throughout the United States, will be far-reaching both in a political way and in a legislative sense.

In some quarters, it is the fashion to make light of the movement and to say the progressives will break up because their leaders in Senate and House are too much given to individual action to work together in harness. This view, however, is probably incorrect. To a large extent, the progressive group and the farm bloc are co-operating. In fact, the personnel of the progressive group and the farm bloc is the same. Much of the legislation which is favored by the progressive group is agricultural and is strongly demanded by sentiment among the farmers. In other words, sentiment and the farm bloc are co-operating. ### AUTO DRIVER IN LUCK

His Car Collided With Truckload of Dynamite—Sustained Only Minor Injuries.

Toronto, Dec. 14—Bruce Aldridge, of the Woodstock Apartments, Elm Grove avenue, bears a charmed life. While driving his Ford coupe on the Highway near Hamilton, it collided with a truck load of dynamite, but Aldridge escaped with a severe shaking up and a cut above the head. The auto was dented and completely wrecked. The truck was also badly damaged, but the dynamite, which had not exploded, was thrown from the car. The truck was quickly transferred to another truck and moved. The usual road which gathered and scattered appeared promptly when the rumor spread that the truck was loaded with explosives. Aldridge was brought to his home by a passing motorist. He was en route to Toronto at the time. The car is owned by the Provincial Contracting Co., where it is employed. Aldridge confined to his home, he is much better.

Gatun Arena Will Allow of 100 Starting Abreast—A 50-Yard Straightaway.

Constriction of what is said will be the finest swimming arena in Central America has been started at Gatun Locks, Gatun, Central Zone, Panama. The arena, according to an announcement of the Bureau of Clubs and Playgrounds of the Canal Zone, will contain a fifty-yard straightaway course for racing, with enough width to allow of the starting of a hundred contestants abreast. Two regulation A. A. U. steel diving towers with travelling rings and aerial glider, besides two water polo arenas, will also be constructed.

Through the efforts of Homer Baker swimming has been made so popular in the Canal Zone that the bureau intends to invite Miss Helen Wainwright, and possibly Miss Gertrude Artelt, to make the trip there this Winter. Baker who is the Physical Director employed by the United States Government, has supervised the swimming periods of the Fourteenth Infantry and was instrumental in inducing Ethelda Bleibtrey, Olympic champion, to make a tour of Panama last Spring. The appearance of the woman title-holder served to arouse great interest in swimming at Gatun Lake.

No decision was reached regarding proposals for the Gyro Club to raise funds for the sending away local amateur skaters at a meeting of the executive of the club last evening. W. Grant Smith, president of the club, was in the chair.

REVIEW OF VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Annual Meeting of St. John Ambulance Association - A. C. Skelton Re-elected President.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick St. John Ambulance Association was held last evening in the G. W. V. A. rooms with A. C. Skelton, the president, in the chair. Mr. Skelton was re-elected president. A review of the year's work showed that much success had attended the work of the association.

In his introductory remarks Mr. Skelton said the credit for the entirely satisfactory report was entirely due to the secretary, Miss Irene Barber, and called upon her to present it. The possibility of giving lectures in medical jurisprudence to the course was suggested by Dr. J. Roy Campbell.

The report was in part as follows: Increased interest was shown by the greater number of re-examinations and also in the formation of teams by classes of both sexes. While the objective of the St. John Ambulance Association is that all persons shall be capable of helping themselves and others in case of accident until the arrival of professional aid, it has always been the endeavor that this instruction should first be carried to those who are most likely to have need of it, and it is because of this that the co-operation of the Workmen's Compensation Board and the Police and the training of student teachers by the Department of Health is so much appreciated.

The Workmen's Compensation Board has covered much ground since our last annual meeting. The instructor Mr. Redfern having given classes in many of the industrial plants in Westmorland, Albert, Queens, Sunbury and Kent Counties. We look forward to more instructors becoming available and a First Aid room with well stocked kit and qualified workers to attend to those who are injured becoming an acknowledged necessity in every plant.

The following classes have received certificates or are in progress: At Provincial Normal School, ten classes; Frederick (W. A. D. re-exam.), 1; St. Martin's, instructed by Miss Travis, of Hampton, 1; Moncton, 1; Campbellton, instructed by Miss Farris, public health nurse; St. Stephen, 1; St. John, 18; making a total of twenty-eight classes held during the year.

The classes held in St. John include ladies' classes in First Aid and Home Nursing, Police Class and re-examination, Millis class, A. D. re-examination, industrial classes from W. H. Thorne & Company, New Brunswick Telephone Company, one arranged for at the Nashwag Pulp Mills and Junior classes being held at St. John and Rothesay. Frederick reports two industrial classes in formation. St. John Centre reports the presentation of a Silver Cup by John Thornton, Commissioner of the Department for local competition, also the purchase of a stretcher.

Those who assisted with instruction on re-examination in St. John were Doctors Curran, Davidson, McGregor, Peat, Corbet, Peat, Dunlop, McCarthy, Skinner, Briggs, Nugent, Lacey, Allingham—Mrs. Langstroth and F. C. Thomas have shown interest and will instruct. Nurses: Miss Agnes Warner, Mrs. A. G. Schofield, Miss Dorothy Purdy V. A. D., Miss Alice McLean, W. A. D. re-exam. Regarding the Senior Trophy Competitions we are assured of a good team from the St. John Police force by the Lord St. John's Police Troop.

For the Wallace Nesbit General Team Trophy we have entries from the W. H. Thorne Company, Nash-weak Pulp and Paper Mill, N. B. Telephone Company and the Millitars; and for the Lord Drummond Cup which is offered for competition this year for the first time we are entering two teams of five members each. In the Wallace Nesbit Junior Competition last year the first place was won by the Second Rothesay Company of Girl Guides and the second by the Sixth St. John Troop of Boy Scouts.

The Speakers: In moving the adoption of the secretary's report, Colonel MacLaren made a plea for general membership in the association to assist the local branch. He congratulated the association on the great advance made in recent years and drew attention to the salient points of the report, the making of first aid training compulsory for normal students, the Workmen's Compensation Board's comprehensive way of conducting its campaign for first aid in cases of emergency, the training of the St. John police as a matter of routine and the training of citizens generally, cadets, scouts, girl guides and industrial employees. He showed how important first aid training was in emergencies and the benefit of women learning correct methods of home nursing.

The treasurer, C. A. Robinson, reported total receipts of $10,182.82, and a balance of $837.11, with $280.45 worth of books and supplies to the credit of the association. Mayor Fisher was called upon to present the prizes to the members of the police force, and he complimented them on their fine showing, and also paid a tribute of appreciation to the association for the work which it had accomplished. Hon. H. A. McKeown prefaced his address by saying that he never saw a policeman give evidence but what he was impressed by his efficiency, manliness and straight-forwardness. He congratulated Chief J. J. Smith who had risen from the ranks and had no doubt the force that it was a credit to himself and to the community. In an interesting manner the Chief Justice reviewed the history of the ancient and honorable order to which the association traced its descent. The president so many who would receive awards from the association he took as an indication that the spirit of the former still lived.

Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts extended congratulations and said that much of the success must be traced to Dr. MacLaren who had interested himself keenly in furthering the work on his return from overseas. It was through Dr. MacLaren's urging that he had first come to assist in having the Normal school students trained in first aid, and words of praise for the police and made special mention of the important part home nursing courses might play in rural communities. He advocated approaching the Women's Institutes in this matter. The Chief Justice then presented the certificates to the women. Dr. J. Roy Campbell presented the awards to those who had been re-examined, and Colonel MacLaren presented the certificates to the militia.

The Wallace Nesbit trophy, competed for by cadets, scouts and girl guides of the province, was presented by Mr. Skelton. The winning troop, No. 2 Rothesay Girl Guides being unable to attend, Miss Catherine McAvity took the award on the troop's behalf. The members of the troop are: Helen Allison, Kathleen Blanchet, Katherine Peters, Margaret Peters and Sylvia Frink. The winners of the second award, the Campbell, Miss Lillie Cromwell, Miss Dora Day, Miss Alberta Graham, Miss Kathleen McGovern, Miss Vivian McKinney, Miss Gertrude McManus, Miss Iris Morse, Miss Frances Stetson, Miss Edith Swetka, Miss Frances Taylor and Roy Earton.

B. O'Neill and Miss F. McDowell. The branch had arranged for a home nursing class, which Miss Marie Grimmer would instruct.

Dr. Campbell brought a new suggestion to the meeting in recommending that lectures in medical jurisprudence should be included in the course of instruction. The election of officers resulted as follows: Patron, Lieut-Governor Hon. William Pugsley; president, A. C. Skelton; vice-president, W. S. Allison; secretary, Miss I. E. Barber; treasurer, C. A. Robinson; executive committee, W. L. Neville, Dr. J. Roy Campbell, W. K. Ganong, Miss Lillian Hazen, L. A. Langstroth, Col. Murray MacLaren, C. G. M. P. E. Judge H. O. McInerney, K. C. Verdict Against John Sullivan, of Rogersville, Returned by Newcastle Jury—Mercy Recommended. At Newcastle yesterday, before Judge Chandler, John Sullivan of Rogersville was found guilty of unlawfully wounding Rev. Father Timothy Jalliet, a member of the Trappist community of monks. The alleged wounding took place on August 21 last. Sentence was to be pronounced today. Sullivan, a 40-year-old man, was conducted to the court by the Crown and Hon. Robert Murray of Chatham appeared for the defence. According to the evidence the priest had been bleeding in the face by the accused with a jack knife. There was some evidence of ill feeling on the part of the accused towards the priest. The accused, described by his lawyer as a man of low mentality, declared that he had been whittling a stick and had accidentally run into the priest, wounding him unintentionally when he threw up his hands. The jury found the accused guilty of unlawful wounding with a strong recommendation for mercy. The accused is seventy-four years old and was employed by the C. N. R. for thirty-two years.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS Relieved Her of Headaches Headache seems to be habitual with many people, and some, if they are seldom free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief. In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to the removal of the cause, and with the cause removed the headaches will vanish. It is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of every description than Burdock Blood Bitters, and it does on every organ of the system. Mrs. Douglas Risenborough, 280 McKenzie St., Sarnia, Ont., writes: "Having suffered from severe headaches for a considerable length of time I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and found that it helped me wonderfully. It relieved the headaches, and I noticed a decided improvement in my health."

Burdock Blood Bitters is a remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-four years, so you don't experiment with some new and untried medicine. It is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RUSSIA DISGUSTED WITH RED DIET NOW TURNS TO RELIGION

Wave of Nationalism Sweeps the Country and Tendency to Claim Bolshevism for Many Evils Grows Daily.

London, Nov. 30.—(By Mail)—One of the Petrograd men of letters, who after a long term of imprisonment have been expelled from Russia by the Soviet Government and have now arrived in Berlin, Professor Pitirim Sorokin, of Petrograd University, publishes in the Berlin Russian daily, "Dni," an account of the opinion held by the Bolshevik regime, writes a correspondent of "The London Morning Post." The Russian intellectuals of but a little time ago, who were only too prone to idealize the Russian people, and particularly the illiterate, brutal Russian moujik, whose ideals were coupled with atheism, internationalism and pro-Semitism, have had a very definite awakening. Professor Sorokin says: "Today the intellectual classes of Russia are living through a period of religious revival. The growth of religious fervor among the educated classes of contemporary Russia is an undeniable fact. The causes of this revival are various, but the fact is indisputable. In a similar way the intensive propaganda of internationalism accompanying the break-up of Russia, the constant disparagement of national Russian culture, customs, and traditions, the transformation of Russia into a market place for adventures of all nationalities, has created a tremendous outburst of 'nationalism' both among the uneducated classes and among the intelligentsia. In the Russian nationalism is taking place everywhere. In the theatres last season only Russian operas were performed, and more particularly the national works of Rimsky-Korsakoff, Borodin and Moussorgsky. In the concert halls the most popular works, repeated dozens of times until they were finally forbidden by the Soviet authorities in consequence of the demonstrations which took place, were Tchaikowsky's '1812' and the 'Sis March' both of which contain several bars of the imperial national anthem. Everywhere the mention of the word 'nationalism' in public speeches and lectures is applauded. 'The growing anti-Semitic movement in Russia may be rightly considered as one of the by-products of this nationalist revival. Anti-Semitism has penetrated not only among manual workers, but professors, professional men, students, and even the majority of Communists of Gentile extraction.

are violently anti-Jewish in their views. "At the same time Russia is losing all the enthusiasm she ever had for various Socialist-Communist theories and teachings. The sins of Communism have been credited by the masses to Socialism in general."

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Montville, Alta., writes:—"After three years' service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed, and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so aching I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved. RED ARMY CALLED
FINEST IN WORLD

German Traveler Says That Russia Could Muster Six Million to "Walk Through Europe."

New York, Dec. 14.—Interesting details of the strength, equipment and morale of the Russian Red Army at the present time were brought here by Dr. Robert Fluhr, a mining engineer of Berlin. Dr. Fluhr served through the war on the Eastern front. He has just spent five months traveling through Russia. There, he said, he conversed with Trotsky and several other Communist political and military leaders. In his opinion Russia is in a stronger condition than she has ever been before, and is governed with iron discipline, not only in the army and navy, but in the civil administration itself. No matter how high an official may be, he has to obey orders the same as the man in the street, Dr. Fluhr said. The soldiers could call their officers "Tovarich," which means comrade, but they had to obey orders implicitly and were compelled to salute their superiors when they were on duty. Of duty, in the streets, a theatre or a restaurant, a soldier does not have to notice an officer.

"The Red Army, as the active force is called," the doctor said, "is composed of 1,500,000 troops, well drilled and equipped with every kind of modern weapon, including light and heavy artillery, bombs and airplanes. These soldiers are all young men who did not fight in the World War and therefore are not tired of fighting and being away from their families, like the men in the other armies in Europe. It is not an exaggeration to state that the Soviet Red Army is the finest in the world at the present time.

"The officers are men of the first revolutionary army and veterans like General Brusiloff of the old Russian Army under the late Czar. Many officers who fought under General Wrangell and other Russian leaders against the Soviet have changed their views and joined the new army. In addition to these regular troops under arms and ready for active service, every city of importance has its civil guard of young men who have undergone the same hard military training as the army and are ready to mobilize and take the field within twenty-four hours' notice.

"How many troops do you think Russia should command in case of war?" was asked.

See Russia Aggressive.

"At least six million officers and men who could walk through Europe if they were commanded, to do so by the Soviet of Moscow," was the reply. "Do you think that Russia is likely to make war on any nation in the near future?"

"After studying the matter carefully during the last five months and making inquiries of persons in position to know, I believe that if the Allies continue to hold aloof from Russia the Soviet forces will go through Eastern Galicia, Poland, Bessarabia and Rumania without the slightest trouble. There is no army in those countries that could stand up against them to block the passage of the new Russian soldiers. For the first time in the history of Russia there is discipline all over the country. The Soviet has an excellent secret service system, and people who try to plot against it are very soon found out. Traitors have short shrift."

"How are the soldiers paid?"

"By rations of food, clothing, tobacco and all things they need for their daily life and also a certain amount of the regular paper money. The troops are in good health. They fare much better than the ordinary civilian."

"Where do the Soviet soldiers get their arms and ammunition?"

"Chiefly from Koola, about three hours' rail journey from Moscow, which is regarded as the Essen of Russia. They have also the supplies which were captured from Wrangell's army."

"Did Kemal Pasha receive a great part of his guns and ammunition from the Soviet to make war on the Greeks in Asia Minor?"

"Yes, Russia not only furnished the Turkish Nationals with fighting materials, but also supplied gold roubles to help them in their war against the Greeks," was the answer. Dr. Fluhr going on to say that officials in Moscow had told him that Russia did not wish to control Constantinople in any way, but simply desired to have a free entry to the Black Sea, through the

"Has the Russian Army any cavalry?"

"Yes. They have very fine cavalry. I saw a parade and march-past of three divisions three weeks ago near Moscow, which included Cossack cavalry mounted on the finest army horses I have ever seen in Russia or in any other country before or since the war. The army comes before everything in Russia today and the spirit that has been instilled into officers and men is wonderful to those who remember what the Soviet forces were like two years ago. The men look smart in their uniforms and carry themselves with dignity when they walk in the streets."

Discussing the political outlook, Dr. Fluhr said:

"The Government is in the hands of the old Communists. People who wanted to join the order after all the fighting was over were told by the Soviet that their services were not needed and were sent away. There is not likely to be any change in the Russian programme. The Government at Moscow is solid and will stay. The sooner the Allies realize that the better it is for them."

Dr. Fluhr spoke of the lack of factories and said that the harvest this year had been good, but not sufficient to feed the whole country. He prophesied that Russia would forge ahead as soon as she could produce her own grain supply. He said he saw an opportunity for the United States to open up trade relations with Russia as she needed all kinds of machinery and tools, particularly farm tractors. He remarked that the transportation system was being revived and there were two daily express trains between Petrograd and Moscow.

BATTLE OVER IMMIGRATION

Strong Opposition in Congress to Restrictions That are Being Imposed.

Washington, Dec. 14.—(By Canadian Press)—A conflict is ahead in Congress over the question of immigration restriction. Strong opposition is rapidly developing to the present law restricting immigration to 3 per cent of the number of nationals now in the U. S. On the other hand, some elements are advocating still further restriction.

Secretary Mellon's reference to immigration in his annual report is suggestive of the growing opposition to the present restrictive legislation. He points out that the immigration laws have caused a shortage of labor and he is in sympathy with those who would make those laws less restrictive.

While the present session of Congress will probably not undertake general immigration legislation of an important character, the question will inevitably come up in the new Congress, after March 4.

Great industrial concerns, employing vast numbers of men, are finding themselves short of labor and compelled to increase wages in order to get enough men. The case of the U. S. Steel Corporation is an illustration.

Farmers complain of lack of adequate help and if it turns out that the farmers' organizations come to the conclusion the immigration restrictions are shutting out desirable help for the farms, the existing law will be overthrown.

Many students of the immigration question are coming to the conclusion that, with Canada encouraging good immigrants, and South America drawing immigrants heavily from Europe, the U. S. is making an economical and sociological mistake to restrict immigration too sharply, especially if there is anything like proper selection. The next time Congress takes up the subject, it is certain that any movement to cut the 3 per cent limit will be hard fought, while there will be a strong effort to increase the limitation.

THE FEAST OF CHANUKAH

(From Tract Commission)
The Feast of Chanukah, also known as the Feast of Dedication, and by other appropriate titles, occurs this year on December 15, and will be observed in Jewish homes and in the House of God for eight days thereafter, starting from the evening of December 14.
This festival is a minor holiday and is reminiscent of the Maccabean victory in the battle for Israel's faith when the prophetic promise was verified: "Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."
It recalls in particular the eventful years of 168 to 166 B. C. E. in Palestine. During that period Antiochus Epiphanes, or "the mad man," King of Syria, had resolved to quench the lamp of religious liberty and resorted to the crude tyrannies of imperialists to compel all subject peoples to speak one language and worship according to a ritual approved by the appointed priests of his empire and their religious heads who naturally followed the polytheistic liturgy of the Greeks, then in a state of decadence.

The enforcement of this royal decree was mandatory on all peoples, including the Palestinian Jews. In compliance with this tyrannical edict the Temple on Mount Moriah (Jerusalem) was desecrated and the altar of the high priest was displaced by a hideous idol, the work of man's hands, and an abomination of human shame and self-degradation. Throughout the country many wealings, fearing the mandate of Antiochus, yielded to the promptings of their affrighted hearts and listened to the tempting voices counseling treason to the God of their fathers. These cowards submitted to the blasphemies of the monarch and worshipped the idolatrous images. It seemed as if Israel and his sacred heritage were doomed to be swept away by the rising tide of heathenism.
The enforced obedience to these idolatrous practices of paganism which were an abomination to the Jew and a source of irritation was a factor in fanning the flames of revolt that soon broke out when imperialistic tyranny added oppression to violence. The hatred germinated in the hearts of the Palestinian Jews against Antiochus resulted in a revolt that instantly led to war against Syria.

This insurrection was headed by a priest of Modin, Mattathias by name, a member of a princely family who rallied a small band of loyal followers to defy the king and wrest freedom for his countrymen from the tyrannies and blasphemies of the mad emperor.
Supported by Judah, his son, to whom tradition has given the name Maccabees, and his four heroic brothers, the Asmoneans led to triumph the handful of embattled Palestinian farmers who, by their invincible strength, and death-defying zeal for their God and country, defeated all the Syrian generals, sent against them in successive campaigns covering a period of four years.
The final victory of the insurgent Maccabees happened according to the Hebrew calendar on the 25th day of Kislev, corresponding to the month of December, in the year 165 B. C. E. Following the victory the Temple at Jerusalem was renovated, the idolatrous images removed and the altar rededicated to the worship of the one and only God.
The sanctuary thus rededicated rose from the dust of its desecration in greater beauty. Israel now became endowed with new strength for the spiritual contest through the ages against error and superstition. In the Jewish religious school and in many Jewish homes, the celebration of Chanukah with its lights, symbols of cheer and hope, recounts these historical events and emphasizes the firm conviction that the day will come when justice, love and mercy will be exalted and selfishness and hatred between races and religions laid low. This festival voices the hope that all men will eventually be banded together in one covenant of love and righteousness and all mankind will turn to God alone as Ruler of the World.

REAL HOT AIR

"Speech" was the interesting theme discussed by Dr. R. L. Jones, of the Western Electric Co., of New York, at the Royal Canadian Institute, Toronto, on Saturday evening. If a million people talked steadily, and the energy of their voices were converted into heat, they would have to talk an hour and a half before they could heat a cup of tea, he said. Vibrations of speech were instantaneously reproduced on a screen by a streak of light as sensitive to sound waves as is the diaphragm of a telephone receiver. Dr. Jones traced the history of speech from the first meaningless exclamations.

MARK OF APPRECIATION

About forty members of the Dominion Lodge, I. O. G. T., Murray street, enjoyed a social evening last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Chapman and during the evening a set of dishes was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, who have been very faithful workers in the lodge and are held in high esteem. The presentation was made by the chief temple, Charles Crook, who spoke appreciatively of Mr. and Mrs. Brown's work. Mrs. B. L. Kirkpatrick gave an appropriate reception and Mr. and Mrs. Brown replied in a pleasing manner. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

OUR OWN REFS.

The possibility of a great Bolshevik league of strong peoples in eastern and central Europe has lain in the minds of many observers. The fall of the Bolsheviks in Germany two years ago removed the immediate likelihood of that country's enlisting under the red banner of Moscow, but did not remove all apprehensions on the subject.

SO WHAT THE SEED.

(Arthur D. Wilnot, in Moncton Transcript). In virgin soil and rich soil thou the seed, The living seed that had and has its life, From God and trusting to the loving strife Of heaven's sunshine and the rain its need To satisfy, and tending, never heed A passing doubt - see how the happy bird Doth mount, and mount, of faith a living word. The promised harvest brings a golden seed. And when the sky grows dark with threatening gloom, And when the tempest breaks, be faithful still, And trust the sunshine in a glorious bloom Will blow again and give thy soul its will. Its will to live and grow into the light Until satisfied with living light. Salisbury, N. B.

IMPORTANCE OF FLOOR MANAGER

is Position in Retail Store Business

"There is no one Force that Reflects So Definitely the Policy of the Store as Does the Floor Manager," Says Executive in Los Angeles.

No matter how efficient a store's adjustment division may be, its efforts to represent the ideals of the establishment are dependent to a very large extent on the attitude of the floor managers.

This was the viewpoint recently expressed by John V. Barker, manager of the adjustment division of Bullock's department store of Los Angeles, Calif., who is regarded as one of the foremost authorities in the U. S. on this phase of retail merchandising.

Mr. Barker, in discussing the varied and complex problems of a retail adjustment department of a retail establishment, pointed out that the floor manager is, in the very largest sense, the right hand man of the adjustment division and that, in view of his intimate relations with the selling end of the business and his contact with the customer, he is in a position really to express the policy of the house in carrying out its ideas.

"The modern store," said Mr. Barker, "houses within its walls a hundred specialty shops, each demanding a specialist as buyer or manager, who is allowed a certain amount of capital with which to operate and on which he is expected to show a profit as definite as though he were a mile away from the adjusting department. Each is operated in accord with the general policy of the business, sharing in its proportion of the general overhead expense, and one of the problems is to be broad-minded and tactful in dealing with the manager or buyer. He stands as shown by the balance sheet at the end of the fiscal year.

But in a great organization operating under a uniform policy, applying absolutely without deviation to all departments, the section manager must save said to him the idea that many adjustments he would consider unfair from the purely merchandising standpoint must be accepted graciously as charge-backs to his section.

"It has been said that the modern store does not in reality sell merchandise as much as service, and study into the cost of operations of the modern store does not in reality sell of the business will demonstrate that the cost of service continues at tremendously large portion of the expense, and in an attempt to meet the wishes, care the wants of patrons, the frankly attitude must always be maintained.

The adjustment manager as well as the floor manager, must, if successful in the handling of transactions, be a salesman in the best sense of the word. The customer may be absolutely wrong in the attitude which is being taken and while in some instances it may seem necessary to refuse requests, it is also true, in almost 100 per cent. of cases, that an adjustment can be reached satisfactory to the customer."

Aid in Opening Accounts. Ninety per cent. of adjustments which cause irritation and trouble, according to the experience of this authority, are with credit customers, and not less than 75 per cent. of the total time and expense attached to the adjustment department relates to this class of customer.

For this reason the extent to which the store's adjustment policy is dependent on the floor managers ought to be readily apparent. Mr. Barker points out, for in the matter of opening new charge accounts the floor manager is, or ought to be, a very important factor.

"By close co-operation with salespeople, and through the approval of checks tendered in payment, the floor manager is in a position to obtain a great quantity of information which can bring to the attention of the credit department, and thus, in many instances, arrange for the opening of very desirable accounts.

If merchandise has been brought back to the section in a damaged condition and a salesperson has stated that it will be referred to some one in authority and a replacement made and the matter is overlooked, the question will probably come to attention a month or two, or even six months, later. There is no one who can control a situation of this kind as well as the floor manager, if he has the confidence and commands the respect of those in the selling sections under his supervision. Cash transactions are usually settled almost immediately, as the cash customer is not disposed to permit the matter in which his money is invested to drift along indefinitely. It can be said without contradiction that 90 per cent. of adjustments which cause friction are with credit customers."

Discussing some of the new problems of the adjustment division which have developed with modern retail merchandising trends, Mr. Barker called attention to the present consumer demand for sheer fabrics in hosiery, lingerie and other types of apparel.

"Because of the peculiarities of these fabrics, we are confronted with new adjustment problems arising from lack of knowledge on the part of the customers as to the degree of service they should expect to receive from the merchandise purchased," he explains.

"The house furnishings sections have their own peculiar types of problems, due to the fact that a period of months sometimes elapses between the placing of an initial order for the furnishing of a home before the matter is finally completed. In the interim there are many conditions which arise, with the result that the making of exchanges and changes in the original order, differences crop up which are often very difficult to straighten out.

"We spend thousands of dollars to bring people within our doors and then, through some ill-advised attitude on the part of an individual, drive the customer out, never to return. There is no one force in the business that reflects so definitely the policy of the business as does the floor manager. The extent to which he keeps himself informed as to the happenings in the sections under his control, the firmness and promptness with which he acts, the tactfulness and broad-mindedness with which he approaches and handles the problems presented, both from within and from without, determine in the largest degree his efficiency."
