THE VOLUNTEER ORGANIST.

Nothing as pleasing to all classes has so far this season been offered, to introduce a man of the Opera House next week.

It is a story in a sweet one and is entirely different from the efforts hitherto put forth by any dramatist. The piece may truly be called a semi-religious one, inasmuch as its plot has so much to do with the progressive minister who, notwithstanding his liberal views, does not fail to accomplish in his flock the end which he set out to attain.

Many times it has been undertaken to introduce a man of the Opera House next week.

NEWS OF SPORT

BASE BALL

The Organist Company.

A large number of fans are looking forward to the game to be played on Monday and Tuesday next between a picked team and the Volunteer Organist Company. The visitors have a smart team and have defeated all the lower province teams, including the Cape Breton and Moncton teams. The team is captained by Hallinan, late of the Philadelphia Nationals, and other players are well known college men.

SOCIETY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The championship of the Inter-Society League will be decided on Saturday afternoon, when the two leading teams will meet for their last battle.

At 2:15 the St. Joseph's and P. M. A. teams will play. The chief interest of the afternoon, however, will be centered in the second game, at the conclusion of the first game the St. Joseph's and St. Peter's will play. If St. Joseph's win this game they will pass the St. Peter's, the present league leaders and capture the pennant.

TENNIS.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 14- The match between Cutting of Harvard and Henchav, was the most interesting feature of the second day's play in the tennis tournament for the Maine championship here. Cutting defeated his opponent. The summaries:

Edgar Scott defeated Henchav, 6-2; 6-4.

Amos E. Pinchot defeated Douvener Morris, 6-3; 6-2.

H. Kausaki defeated Francis Rogers, 6-4; 6-2.

J. P. Bowen, Jr., defeated R. Stager, 6-4; 6-2.

Hull defeated Harold Howe, 6-2; 7-5.

GOLF.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 14- The Catholic picnic was today. A great crowd attended and the financial results were very satisfactory.

General Lees, leading amateur in the Outrigger Golf Club of Montreal, played a four ball foursome here today with C. Calder as partner and Clarence Sprague and Rev. G. D. Ireland as opponents. The result was a tie. Lees made the round in 45, the best total, but was two holes down to Rev. Mr. Ireland.

THE RANGE.

SUSSEX RANGE, Aug. 14- As the day advanced the wind increased to a fresh breeze of varying strength and shooting became more difficult.

The scores in the Donville match were up to the average but disappointments were the order of the day in the Prince of Wales shooting in the afternoon. E. F. Gladwin of St. John R. C. won the cup in the Donville with the excellent score of 64. The scores follow:

Donville match 200 and 600 yards. E. F. Gladwin, St. John R. C., up and 10; 64; Capt. E. A. Smith, R. L. 62; Capt. H. Perley, 62nd Fus., 61; D. D. Freese, Sussex R. C., 64; 60; L. Clark, Mt. P. R. O., 63; 54; About 100 riflemen are taking part in the matches and about 60 of these are under canvas on the range. There is every prospect of fine weather for the association and provincial matches tomorrow. The scores in the Prince of Wales match concluded this evening have not been published but there is understood to be a tie for first place between Maj. S. Kinneir of the Sussex R. A. and H. H. Bartlett of St. Andrew's R. C., each scoring 64 out of 70. The Haasen cup and $15 in this match goes to the Sussex team, composed of Maj. G. S. Kinneir, G. O. Maggs, Capt. R. H. Arnold, D. D. Freese and Maj. J. M. Kinneir.

THE TURF.

MONTREAL, Q., Aug. 14- At the trotting meet which opened here today Kingborough, owned by Capt. L. D. Martin of Digby, N. S., won the 240 yards in straight heat. The best time was 2:30.4. The easy way in which the Nova Scotia stallion won the race aroused suspicion that he was aringer. Captain Martin, the owner, was called to the judges' stand just before the third heat, and he satisfied the officials as to the identity of the stallion. Capt. Martin has been doing the Vermont and New Hampshire circuits with Kingborough.

Interesting Race Last Evening.

Another instance of the revival of the old-time races finished here last night, when 200 or 300 people watched a race among three West End crews, the course being from the wharves leading to the ordinary fishing boats being used. The crews were the Blue Rock Stars, composed of Robinson and Buckley; Shamrocks, Walsh and Riorden; and Dufferin Creams, Riorden and Leland. Each man rowed two oars. The Blue Rock Stars got away first and were never headed, leading over the entire course and finishing about four minutes to the good, with the Shamrocks second. Great interest was manifested by the spectators.

WILL HANG BOB DAVIS

TO A SOUR APPLE TREE

Three Criminal Assaults—Three Negroes Wanted—And Three Mobs on the Warpath.

JACKSONVILLE, Florida, Aug. 14.—A posse is hunting with dogs for an unknown man who entered the home of Henry Davis, a farmer, near Baldwin, early this morning, struck him on the head with an axe as he was asleep and made an attempt to criminally assault Mrs. Davis. The man escaped through a window. Davis is in a critical condition and his wife collapsed from his desperate fight. Mrs. Davis is uncertain whether her assailant was black or white. The citizens threaten lynching if the man is caught.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 14.—A special to the state from Greenville says, a posse of one thousand men is pursuing "Bob" Davis, a negro who today attempted to criminally assault Miss J. P. Brooks, the twenty-year-old daughter of J. P. Brooks, a merchant and farmer near this place.

"Miss Brooks made an attempt to defend herself with an iron bar whereupon the negro slashed her across the throat with a meat knife. Davis' brother was lynched twelve years ago for assault on a white woman."

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 14.—Evidently angered because of a search made among their ranks to apprehend a negro who attacked Mrs. Leon Vane, at her home here last night and who she asserted, was a negro soldier, a member of a battalion of negro federal troops stationed at Fort Brown, near here, entered Brownsville today, became unruly and fired several volleys down Main street. As a result Frank Natus, a bookkeeper, is dead, and postman Joseph Domingo is wounded. His arm and hand shattered by a bullet. His horse was shot from under him.

The battalion of Fort Brown is composed of companies B, C and D of the 14th Infantry. Representations have been made to the governor and a request made that the negroes be removed immediately to avoid further trouble.

AS BELIEVED, THERE WAS A WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Pres. Stensland, of the Chicago Bank, Was Not Alone in His Flight to the South.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Testimony indicating that extensive preparations for flight were made by President Stensland and that a woman entered into these preparations was secured by Assistant State Attorney Olsen today through the cross examination of Mrs. Ellen McCracken, housekeeper for Stensland. It was learned that Stensland took with him in trunks and boxes, sheets and other bedding, towels, window curtains, carpets, rugs and a silver dinner set. Some of this is said to have been traced to Baraboo, Wis., but a big trunk said to have been taken by Stensland the detectives have not been able to get a trace of. Telegrams have been sent to all parts of the trunk which is said to be three feet high and bound with iron. The box traced to Baraboo weighed 375 pounds when it was placed on an express wagon at the Stensland home the day of the flight.

THIS WORLD IS AT LEAST OLD ENOUGH TO VOTE.

Chicago Professor Decides That the Oldest Fixed Date in History Was 6,147 Years Ago.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 15.—Professor James H. Breasted, the Egyptologist of the University of Chicago, announced in an article in the Biblical World, published yesterday, that the oldest fixed date in history is 621 B. C. In that year, he says, the calendar was established, the year beginning on what would now be July 13. Consequently the calendar now in use was 6,147 years old last month. The professor arrived at these conclusions during his long exploration trip to the Nile valley, when he compared the astronomical records in the old and middle kingdoms of Egypt. Professor Breasted not recently returned from Egypt.

SCHOONER HARVEST HOME WAS BURNED AT SEA.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—Several vessels reported today that they sighted the burning schooner off Highland Light seen August 12 by the Houson liner steamer Casilda which arrived here yesterday from South America. The captain of the Boston schooner Elita B., stated that he ran close to the derelict but saw no sign of life. The stern was charred and the name on it appeared to be "Harvest Home." The schooner Harvest Home hails from Ellsworth, Me., and was built at Lamorne, Me., in 1870. She registers 78 tons. The captain of the Elita B. concluded that the crew had been taken off by some vessel.

TIED HER HEART TO

GAME TROUT'S JAW

Pretty Lass Baited by Sultors Weds the One Who Caught the Fish She Married.

A pretty lass of eighteen, living in a cabin with her father some miles west of North Point, Ontario, took novel means to decide among three suitors who were ardently pressing their suits for her hand and heart. James was tall, strong and bewitching, but possessed an unruly temper. John was handsome, lax and agreeable, and Peter possessed many admirable qualities, but shot so poorly that Michael Peureux, the father of the lass, declared he would never allow his daughter to wed him.

Thus matters stood a year ago—the father set against Peter and the girl vacillating from the one to the other, while all three sold sedulous court to the interference of their trapping and other pursuits. Finally the father commanded that his daughter make selection.

Choose one or the other, even Peter if you must, but have it settled. Soon they will call you a coquette, and no daughter of mine shall play a man as man plays trout before he kills him. "I will choose, father," the lass replied, "but I must do it my own way."

Summoning the suitors before her she led them to a little pond half a mile from the cabin and, casting in, she landed a handsome speckled trout weighing half a pound. Instead of taking it from the hook she dilly dallyed with the fish, knotted the tough snell, cut the hook and liberated the fish.

"There," she said as the trout slipped into the water and disappeared with a frightened slap of its broad tail, "you have seen me a bit of snell through the jaws of the fish. It will remain there as long as it lives and will neither injure it nor interfere with its feeding. The one who brings me that trout taken in fair fight with hook and line will I marry that day."

"But," gasped James, irritably, "he will not touch a hook for a year and mayhap longer."

"True," replied the girl, "but I am satisfied, for I do not wish to wed this man."

How the three fished day and night, using every known alluring kind of bait, and how they examined the jaws of every trout they caught is an old story at North Point and among the trappers. But the season went without result, and in the winter they dreamed and courted and dreamed again. None had dared use subterfuge and the snell up on a trout, for none had seen by what manner of trick the lass had bound her love promise.

This spring the fishing began, and tug upon his line saw a frayed strand in the mouth of a trout he was drawing toward him he suddenly shook so that he could hardly bring the fish to the bank. It was the love trout attached to the line he dashed for the Peureux cabin.

"You shall have her, for she shall not break her word, but you shall go to shoot or we will go to the poorhouse where I am old," said the father, "I will do my best to teach you." So they were married a few days ago by the settlement priest, and Peter is now spending his honeymoon back of a rifle and in front of a target.

MARRIED AT THIRTEEN.

Young Girl Runs Away and Weds, But Soon Tires of Married Life.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 24.—Bertha Abor was before the court in Ogdensburg, N. Y., on complaint of her father who swore that she was incorrigible, having several times gone to Brockville against his wishes. The girl who is but thirteen years old, produced a marriage certificate, showing that she was married on June 24, 1904, to Frederick Wilson, of Brockville, the ceremony having been performed in Norristown, N. Y., by a minister of that village. Wilson is 23 years old. They lived together for some time, and then she tired of her husband and returned to Ogdensburg. As the consent of the parents was not secured before the marriage the court held that the marriage was void. The girl was sentenced to a house of correction. The girl's father has retained counsel and intends to prosecute the clergyman who married the couple.

UNITED STATES MILITIAMEN COMING

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—On Sunday there will arrive in Ottawa 1,200 United States militiamen consisting of Fifth Massachusetts, Providence Light Infantry, and United States Veterans. They will camp on the exhibition grounds and be relieved by Earl Grey on Monday afternoon.

Controller White of the Northwest mounted police leaves next week for the Yukon. He will look into the condition of the police there and will reduce the force from 185 to 150 men. The people of Dawson want to do their best to get the new police, owing to the absence of Mr. Harbison, the engineer. This morning the tender of Everett M. Nesbitt and Emerson B. Hanson was accepted and the contract signed. The contract price is $9,785.

THE AWAKENING OF ASIA.

(Montreal Gazette.)
A national assembly is now promised in Persia. Its purpose as set out in the announcement is to extend tranquillity, advance the welfare of the people and fortify the government. The Shah has been travelling in Europe and seems to have learned something. It is hard, in view of what has happened in Turkey and Russia, to say what will be the outcome of this experiment. As those at the head of affairs have the sense to make it while things are quiet they may also have the strength to carry it through to a quiet success. Japan's doings have heightened the world's belief in the power of Asiatics to do things.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUG. 15, 1906.

A LABOR ORGANIZER.

An event of no little importance in the industrial life of Canada will be the visit of J. Ramsay MacDonald, now on his way here from England. Mr. MacDonald, who is chief whip of the British labor party, is recognized as a thoroughly qualified organizer, an able exponent of labor principles, and a man to whom is due much of the credit for the firm footing gained by his party in Britain. He comes here to open a campaign in favor of the imperialism of labor, though there is no very definite announcement as to the form this imperialism will take. One thing certain is that if Mr. MacDonald meets with a measure of success equal to that which has attended his efforts elsewhere, he will make a stir in the labor world of Canada, and assist in the development of conditions which must be faced by employers. It may be that his campaign here will tend to place labor on its true footing, to dispel some of the illusions which exist in the minds of numbers of leaders of this class in Canada, and to develop the policy which now prevails in England, that labor should be well paid for what is actually required to be done and not for what the workmen feel themselves qualified to do. It may be that he will teach labor to know itself, to study the underlying economic principles of the country, and not to act solely on the impulse of the hour or as the result of one-sided arguments. At any rate Mr. MacDonald will be well worth watching, and his plan of campaign will be worthy of study.

RIVER WATER.

Whether the sewerage from Fredericton shall or shall not be dumped into the St. John river is a question which for some time past has greatly exercised the minds of residents along that river. At the very beginning it is admitted that Fredericton needs a system of sewerage, and that the most convenient, in fact the only outlet, from an engineering point of view, is in the river. The question is, whether the capital should be granted this privilege at the expense of hundreds of persons along the shore who use the water, and coming down to the fine point, what man wants to drink water from his well, if the filth from his neighbor's back yard flows into it? There was a great commotion in St. John when the statement was published that water passing through the pipes had been polluted by the filthy practices of foreign laborers at Loch Lomond. Not a man or woman in this city but denounced the carelessness which permitted the existence of such conditions. Hence there will be any amount of sympathy for those residents on the river who are opposing the Fredericton project.

On the other hand it is argued that the amount of sewerage which will empty into the river will be very small in comparison with the flow of the river itself, and that it will never be sufficient to contaminate the water. That is all well. That the water matter and filth from a city the size of Fredericton will not hurt the water is a statement which few will be inclined to credit even when backed up by figures. And besides, no man using river water will feel like continuing the practice when he knows what is being emptied into it a few miles above. The river water is none too good now, owing to sewage from places other than Fredericton, but many people still find it to use. They do not, however, see the necessity of making it any worse.

NO MONEY IN IT.

Maritime Province men who went to Western Canada on the Harvester's Excursion will not return millionaires. They are earning forty-five dollars a month. Their tickets to the West and return cost about thirty dollars; food and drink on the way amount to ten dollars more, and the men will easily find of spending the other five dollars. After doing one month's work in Alberta they will return home not a cent richer than when they left.

These same men could have earned forty-five dollars a month in New Brunswick, and would have been just that much better off if they had remained here. But far away noisier when yellow with wheat—green.

Mayor Sears seems to have blossomed out as an orator at Halifax. His paper on tourist associations is reported to have been full of interest, and exceptionally well delivered.

A LIFE CRISIS.
The maid is fair, ah, very fair,
Pink is her lovely cheek,
And though she has a lofty air
Demure she is and meek.

When wearied after playing golf
(She is a perfect dream)
She takes her shoes and stockings off
And paddles in the stream.

A MAN—a fisherman appears,
A blush her brow adorns,
What is it that the maiden fears,
She HATES to show her corns.

"What kind of a memory have you?"
"Bad—very bad."
"In what particular?"
"It remembers things that were better forgotten."—Pick-Me-Up.

Mr. Sillymind is asked whether he will go to the seaside, in spite of the fact that he is in deep mourning.

"Why certainly," he replied, "but as I desire to conform to etiquette I shall select a resort on the Black Sea."—Pettit Parisien.

On one of his early concert tours of the west, before the famous violinist Edward Remenyi was thoroughly familiar with the railway routes of the United States, he inquired in Chicago concerning the best way to reach a town in Illinois.

"C. B. & Q.," replied the hotel clerk, without looking up.

Remenyi was quite dazed, but his sense of fun carried him through.

"Ah," he said gravely. "Then I will take the C. B. & Q. to the turn to be puzzled."

"What does that mean?" he said, looking up at this time.

"Well, what did you mean?" demanded the clerk.

"Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, of course."

"Ah! I meant day after tomorrow."—Youths' Companion.

So you voted for the Socialist candidate. I can't understand you doing that.

"Well, you see, they may not keep them any better than others, but they make so many more promises."—Journal Amuseant (France).

"Edith," said the girl's mother, "why did Mr. Huggard stay so late last night?"

"I don't know," replied the girl, blushing.

"I guess the poor fellow didn't know what to do," chimed in the little brother.

"I heard Edith tell him every once in a while, 'Oh, go away!' but the next minute she'd say, 'Now, you stop!'"—Chicago Tribune.

First Visitor.—Strong sea running to-day, sir.

Second Visitor.—Do you think so?

First Visitor.—I should say so. Look over there. That's my wife swimming.

Well, she weighs sixteen stone, so an ounce, and the sea's strong enough to carry her.—Pele Mele.

Mamma had not noticed the clock striking during all of the afternoon, and thinking perhaps it had stopped, she asked little Rita to go into the hall and see if it were running.

After a hasty survey of the long pendulum swinging back and forth, Rita ran back and announced:

"It's standing still and wagging its tail!"—Harper's Weekly.

"Your Honor," said the arrested chauffeur, "I tried to warn the man, but the horn would not work."

"Then why did you not slacken speed rather than run him down?"

A light seemed to dawn upon the prisoner.

"Get!" he said, "that's one on me. I never thought of that."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MYRIADS OF LOCUSTS
DEVASTATE COUNTRY
Leave Vegetation Ruined in Path and
Defy all Attempts at Annihilation

VIENNA, Aug. 14.—Myriads of locusts are devastating the country in the neighborhood of Debreczin, Hungary.

They are sweeping through the land, eating every green thing they find in their path. The crops on 60,000 acres have already been consumed, so that the ground is quite bare, and the authorities are helpless to stay the advance of the insects.

All sorts of desperate means are being tried without avail to keep back the invading host. Fires have been lighted, but the locusts swarm into the flames until they are extinguished, and the survivors continue their march unimpeded.

Twelve steam rollers are being used at one place, and roller brooms are sweeping up the dead bodies of the crushed insects. But no apparent progress is made. The locusts cover the earth in many places to the depth of several inches and defy annihilation.

FIGHTING WILD BEASTS
IN SOUTHERN AFRICA

Crocodile Attacks Natives, and English
Hunters Have Fierce Fray With Lioness

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 14.—Many fierce encounters with wild animals have been reported of late from various parts of Southern Africa.

An extraordinary escape from a crocodile is reported from the Sidoso Drift of the Tlatta river.

A native, while stooping to wash his head in the river, was seized by a particularly fierce crocodile, which lay concealed in the water.

What followed the native is unable to state, but when he came to himself he was lying on the bank of the river. His throat was slightly lacerated and the back of his scalp was torn off.

From Nairobi, British East Africa, comes the account of a terrible struggle between a hunting party of Englishmen and a fierce lioness.

The hunters were following the tracks of the lioness, horseback, when the beast sprang on its pursuers from the long grass. Mr. Goldfinch, one of the party, was first attacked, and was badly bitten on the thigh. Mr. Lucas was able to get in a shot, but this only helped to infuriate the lioness.

Turning on Mr. Lucas, it felled his pony and threw him to the ground. Before he had time to recover himself the beast pounced on him, inflicting fearful lacerations on the forehead and right cheek, and embedding its teeth in his right arm.

Mr. Goldfinch, seeing the danger Mr. Lucas was in, dismounted from his pony and shot the animal.

ORDERED RELEASED
FROM SING SING

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Charles C. Browne, the former examiner of silks in the government customs service in this city, was ordered released from Sing Sing prison by Judge Hough of the United States court today on a writ of habeas corpus.

Charles C. Browne was convicted in March, 1904, of having conspired to defraud the government by passing silks at under-rate values, and sentenced to serve two years in Sing Sing prison.

He took an appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals and lost. He then jumped his bail of $12,500 and fled to Canada. The Canadian government refused extradition on the conspiracy charge, but extradited Browne on an amended charge of being a fugitive from justice. A secret service agent started with Browne for New York from Montreal on July 28 last. His attorneys expected that he would be brought to New York. U. S. Marshal Hendel went to Poughkeepsie, where he met the secret service agent and Browne and took the prisoner direct to Sing Sing prison.

A LESSON IN SIMPLICITY.

Prof. Thomas R. Lounsbury, the noted grammarian of Yale, believes in simple English. He opposes those who would substitute for simple terms pedantic ones. Discussing this question he said: "There was a little boy who began to keep a diary. His first entry was: 'Got up this morning at 7 o'clock.' He showed the entry to his mother, and she, horror-stricken, said: 'Have you never been to school? 'Got up,' indeed! Such an expression. Does the sun get up? No, it rises.' And she scratched out 'Got up at 7' and wrote 'Rose at 7' in its place. That night the boy before retiring ended the entry for the day with the sentence: 'Set at 8.'"

W. B. Wallace, presiding officer of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of New Brunswick, will make an official visit to St. Stephen chapter this evening.

Charles W. Osborne,
New Power in Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Changing of securities, and never seemed to feel the need of rest.

It would hardly be correct to say that in the twenty-five years of service he was not absent, for it must be remembered that he had some time off after the madman Norcross threw the bomb in the Sage office. Mr. Osborne at the time was conducting a negotiation with a customer. He was carried from the building minus a considerable portion of his clothing, and for a time it was feared that his skull was fractured.

The quiet, well-poised man who sat behind the cashier's desk in the office in the Bank of Commerce Building had much to do with the engineering of affairs in such a way that the death of Russell Sage produced scarcely a ripple on the surface of Wall street. Had the situation been less ardently handled there might have been a storm in which many financial craft would have foundered.

Mr. Osborne, like his late employer, did, takes a keen delight in driving fast horses. He always owns a team at least, and frequently he may be seen on the the driveways in the Borough of Brooklyn. He has been a resident of the transatlantic borough for many years. Mr. Osborne lives in unassuming style. In summer time he makes his home in Englewood, N. J., where he has a cottage on Hillcrest avenue.

By the terms of the will of Russell Sage, Mr. Osborne is one of the three executors and he will share with them fees of nearly $1,000,000. His salary with Mr. Sage is said not to have exceeded $5,000 a year, but by careful management he has accumulated a fortune of his own.

BUDGET OF NEWS

FROM UPPER CANADA

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 15.—Thirteen baggage men dropped work at noon yesterday at the Union station and jumped the first out-going excursion train, leaving piles of work for the men left on the job.

They were off to the western haw-fields for big pay and the trip.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—The Baptist church contemplates issuing its own

Sunday school paper in Canada.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug. 15.—The work of erecting the Grand Trunk Pacific track laying machine here has been completed and everything is in readiness for laying of steel on the Lake Superior branch.

Finding it impossible to secure sufferent help at the present wage of $2

to the lay mind, but by careful comparison with similar records of previous years, the prospective value of this season's grain harvest is seen to be almost unparalleled in the history of grain cultivation in the United States. While the estimate of spring wheat condition is rather below

the average of the previous good years, that of winter wheat is above the average of the previous good years.

Even those careful estimates that were made at the time of harvesting winter wheat, have been proved to be too low by many million bushels. The official and later estimate, made up to the first of this month, shows the winter and spring production, at the present reckoning, will give an aggregate yield that has never been surpassed even by the bumper crop of 1901. The 1906 yield is now estimated at 672,244,000 bushels, contrasted with

602,974,400 bushels in 1905, and 746,400

in the record year of 1901. A continuation of the extraordinary industrial and commercial activity is thereby assured on this continent. The average yield per acre of 15.5 bushels for spring and 14.7 for winter wheat are the highest on record.

MONCTON MAN FINDS

WIFE HAS LEFT HOME

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 15.—When

Anthony Gallant returned home from work last evening, he found that his wife had gone, and on enquiry learned that she had taken the train for Boston. He cannot account for her strange action. The woman also let her infant child behind in the care of neighbors. Gallant was a hard working, industrious young man and kept his family in comfortable circumstances. He had only lately spent considerable money purchasing clothes for his wife, and recently his wife asked him for ten dollars, giving several excuses for the money. The girl in whose charge the infant had been left said

Mrs. Gallant had gone out to spend the afternoon, but it appears that in company with another woman, she took the train for Boston. She was formerly Miss Lena Pettipas, Shediac.

WILL APPEAR BEFORE

N.F.'D GOVT. COMMISSION

MONCTON, Aug. 15.—W. D. Reid, manager of the Reid Newfoundland railway, is arranging with the Intercolonial to send Cedric Steves, an I.

C. R. boiler-maker, to Newfoundland to appear before the government commission to give evidence respecting conditions of sub-pans and nettings, under the Reid Company locomotives. Steves leaves tonight. The island government is evidently making a determined attempt to put a stop to numerous forest fires, which are supposed to have originated through locomotive defects.

Geo. McKnight, blacksmith in the

I. C. R. shops, had a hand badly crushed by a large steam hammer falling on it.

TORONTO'S MAYOR ROASTS MUNICIPALITIES UNION

Merely a Rope of Sand, He Says -- Thinks It Was Apathetic During Fight With Telephone Monopoly--
Many Interesting Speeches Made.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 14.—The sixth annual convention of the union of the Canadian municipalities opened this afternoon under most favorable auspices. The weather was delightfully cool, the air bracing and clear. The opening session was marked by a felicitous address, in which the mayor of Halifax, Mr. Lighthall, pointed out the need for concerted action to conserve the resources and safeguard the rights of municipalities. The most notable feature of the business session was a recommendation made by Mayor Fleming of Brandon, urging the formation of provincial unions with a strong central head.

Mayor Coatsworth of Toronto rather ruffled the gathering by a somewhat severe criticism of the union, which he upbraided for not upholding the hands of Toronto in the fight against the Bell Telephone Company.

The meeting of the union was held in City Hall, which was prettily decorated. The parade front of the building is studded with shields and flags and bunting running from each corner to the top of the clock tower. Over the entrance in white and red electric lamps are the words: "Municipal Home Rule." The letters "Welcome U. C. M." outlined in flowers on the grassy slope at the western side, glazes of different shades. Delegates of the city council chambers in which the sessions are being held, are confined exclusively to plants and flowers. As the delegates, who include Mayor Coatsworth and Hon. Sec. Lighthall, Westmount, Asst. Sec. Wilson, Montreal, Mayor Oliver and Mr. Oliver, Sherbrooke, editor of Union Journal, and Mayor Dyke of Port William, Mayor Sharp and Mrs. Sharp, Winnipeg; Mayor Fleming and Mrs. Fleming, Brandon; Alderman McLean, St. John; Mayor Judd, Alderman Forest, London; Mayor Consenau, St. Laurent; Alderman Nesbitt, St. John; Alderman McGoon, Westmount; Alderman McGee, Montreal; ex-Mayor Cooke, Ottawa, arrived at the City Hall they were received by a guard of honor of the city police, who lined the centre walk on the main floor.

The opening address was delivered by Mayor Macleith, who welcomed the visitors and referred to the great awakening all over the land in municipal affairs. The interest in municipal affairs is growing throughout the Dominion, and even greater interest that at present should be taken in the municipal government at all times, the work of union is extending, and it is being strongly aided by local unions, which have been most active.

SAID NICE THINGS ABOUT HALIFAX.

Mayor Sharpe of Winnipeg made a felicitous reply. The members of the union were more than pleased with the splendid reception accorded them. He regretted that westerners were not such fluent speakers as those of the east. Even those of the progressive west have something to learn regarding the way they do things in the historic city by the sea. One thing most noticeable to him was that the police of Halifax stand to orders and salute as the people pass by. They do not do that in their west, but they should do it. Halifax was one of the most beautiful cities he had ever visited. When in Montreal he had been told that that place was the gateway of Canada, and he also heard the name being about Port William and St. John, but of all of them he thought that Halifax was the best gateway to the great Canadian country. The claims of Halifax seem paramount with its admirable location and beautiful harbor. Canada today was one of the most prosperous countries under the canopy of heaven. Every one of us should be proud of Canada from east to west. The great west owes a debt to the east, for it

DONALDSON LINE WANTS DREDGING

Their Agent Visited Sand Point Yesterday

Mr. Nairn Asks That One Hundred Feet
Be Dredged Out so as to Make it More Convenient

Alderman McGoldrick, chairman of the Board of Public Works, accompanied by T. M. Nairn, of the Donaldson Line and Director Cushing, visited the west side yesterday morning to inspect No. 4 berth, which is used by the steamships of the Donaldson Line.

From the head of the wharf to Union street is a distance of 100 feet, and Mr. Nairn wished to have this dredged out so as to make room for the steamers. At present the berth is about 45 feet long, and as some of the Donaldson liners are over 500 feet in length, they overlap the vessels lying in the berth below them. This makes it very difficult to work the after hatches. If the berth were dredged out to 100 feet, the vessels would be able to approach 100 feet closer to the street all the trouble caused by the Donaldson boats overlapping the others would be obviated.

Alderman McGoldrick expressed himself as greatly in favor of the scheme, and intends bringing the matter to the attention of the council. The only difficulty the alderman can see in the way of this plan is that the street might fall in during the dredging operations, but if it can be protected there should be no trouble in digging out the 100 feet required.

While in Carleton Alderman McGoldrick inspected the dredging operations which are now under way and thinks the work is coming along very satisfactorily. The dredge is now at work on the northern berth, the southern berth being nearly completed. Those at the present rate of progress the crabs ought to be sunk within the next twenty days.

OGILVIE FLOUR MILLS VISITED BY FIRE

Damage to the Extent of $3,000 was Caused Yesterday Afternoon—
Business Not Interrupted

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—Damage to the extent of $3,000 was caused by a fire which broke out this afternoon in the elevator of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co.

At one time it seemed as if the whole of the building of the company was doomed, but the prompt arrival of the fire brigade and the excellent work of the employees confined the fire to the cupola in the top of the building. Within an hour after the alarm had been sent in all danger had passed. There were 20,000 bushels of flour in the elevator at the time of the fire and while the damage by fire is small, the damage by water will be considerable. An overheated bearing on one of the pulleys at the top of the building is supposed to have been the cause of the fire. The three mills of the company have an output of 9,000 barrels a day. The management stated last night that there will be no interruption in the business of the company.

Boards Struggle in Bed-Room at Midnight

John Cook Received a Couple of Bad
Knife Wounds at Mispic Boarding House

John Cook is now in the hospital recovering from the effects of a couple of knife wounds inflicted on him Monday night.

Cook is employed in the St. John Pulp Company's mill and lives at Mispic in a boarding house conducted by Charles Wason. On Monday night his landlady informed Cook that as the house was crowded, he would have to share his bed with Richard Wiley, who had secured work in the mill and was coming to board with him. Wiley came up to Cook's room about midnight in a somewhat intoxicated condition and got into bed without observing the usual formality of undressing. After remarking with him without effect, Cook extinguished the light and also got into bed. He was then attacked by Wiley, who seized him by the neck of the shirt and pulled him down. Wiley's clothes and retreated to the opposite side of the room. Wiley seized Cook with a large jack-knife, and finally freed himself from Wiley's clutches and retreated to the opposite side of the room. PONGEE AND TAFFETAS.

40c.—There is something delightfully practical about pongee and its near relatives, tussah and Rajah, which makes them favorites for a great variety of uses. They are extremely summer fabrics yet nothing could be found more serviceable than the pongee blouse for all-year-around wear.

pleasing little "kimono" coat made in pongee with straight bands of taffeta and a narrow Venice lace to trim it, is shown. The shirtings of the front and back form a yoke and a very pretty fullness below. Either the sleeve shown or a shorter one may be used while the front may be closed with buttons if desired. A soft material is necessary to the best development of the cost and those suggested are taffetas, cashmere and a light weight broadcloth. For the medium size 3 1/2 yards of 27-inch material are needed.

40c.—Sleeve, 2 to 10 yards.

At St. Andrew's rink last evening "judges" night was a huge success. Now that the gentlemen have Friday nights for fast skating there was very little trouble in carrying out the rules which are in force only on "ladies" night. Tomorrow night the 2nd band will furnish music. On Monday night the first fancy dress carnival will take place. It is twenty years since a "roller" carnival has taken place here.

SAVED COMPANION FROM WATERY GRAVE

Ten Year Old Lad Gallantly Held on to Six Year Old Playmate Till Help Arrived

Rupert Powers, a Western Union messenger boy, ten years of age and son of Millage Powers of Dorchester street, gallantly saved Oscar Johnson, the six-year-old son of John Johnson, proprietor of the West End House, South wharf, from a watery grave.

The two boys were on the South wharf when Powers went out in a row boat. Young Johnson went down the steps and in pushing the boat from the wharf slipped and fell into the water and immediately disappeared. Powers tried to reach him when he came up, but failed and he went down a second time. When he came up Powers caught him by the arm and held him to the side of the boat. The little fellow was unable to get his companion into the boat, but held on to him and kept him above the water. A few minutes later a man coming along the wharf saw the two boys and jumping into the boat, pulled the young lad up out of the water. The accident occurred about a quarter past eight o'clock last evening.

Johnson was very modest in speaking of his share in the rescue, but certainly deserves credit for his presence of mind and his prompt action which undoubtedly was the means of saving his little companion from drowning.

CANADA MISREPRESENTED IN BRITISH JOURNALS

Canadians are Free Traders, Writes Ed
Farmer, but Demand High Protection Against British Competition

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—Cables from London today state that in commenting on the Sabbath Act of the Canadian parliament, the Newcastle Daily Chronicle says that for a new community containing elements which, to say the least of it, are not particularly inclined towards religious observance, such an enactment seems a fairly tall order, and that there should be some pretty hard problems presented to the authorities when they come to enforce it.

Ed Farmer, of the Tribune on Canada and protection, by Edward Farmer, states that if the naked question of free trade were left to the people of the Northwest, the result would be overwhelmingly against protection. The manufacturers' association was prevented from contributing to a bribery fund to be employed among the poorer class of settlers. Canadians, declares Mr. Farmer, dread British competition more than anything else, and would destroy any government which sought to treat the former generously. Instructed Canadians, he adds, are glad Mr. Chamberlain's plan of putting the Empire on a protectionist basis is about over.

A Story of France in the days of Louis XV., and how the work of a traitor was foiled by the energy of Madame Pompadour.

"It is useless to destroy the papers," the Princess remarked placidly. "That will only send Mademoiselle de Beau Sejour to join our pleasant party at the Bastille. Madame de Pompadour is a great and beautiful woman, but like all really ambitious men and women she has no mercy, and she naturally does not wish to take our places in the cells. She is fighting for her life and love as you are. Come, Vicomte, be reasonable. In five minutes it will be all over and you will return a hero to Versailles. Remember what awaits you there."

Every sentence in this calmly terrible speech made Andre feel more misery than he could have believed a man could endure.

"Why be in any doubt?" she began again. "Oh, for God's sake—" he pleaded. "No, you must hear me out. The proof of my treachery is here; they, these men, will find it on me!" she had drawn a paper from her breast. Do you know what that is? It is a copy of the secret despatch; it is addressed to the agent who would convey it to England, and it is signed."

She held it up and in the flickering light Andre could see the red mystic sign of the crossed daggers and the cipher number. He shivered as she replaced it in her bosom. "The game is up for me," she said in her impassive voice. "That paper will send me to the scaffold, and unless you arrest me it will send you too."

"You are mad," he cried incoherently, and he really believed what he said. "You are mad."

"Was the woman mad who tricked you at Pontenoy, who has tricked and befuddled me at every turn since you came back? I have betrayed your country, your King, your army, and yet you, a noble hating treason, loving France, hesitate to arrest the traitress whom you have sworn to bring to justice. It is you who are mad, my friend, not I; or shall I say, she had dropped her eyes and had curried. "Monsieur is too good."

"You are mad," he said, leaning heavily on a chair and peering down into her eyes. "Yvonne, of course; Yvonne of the Spotted Ankles," she lifted her dress a few inches. "Yvonne whom at the bidding of another woman you were to make your tool. Did you? I think not for the Vicomte de Nerac can be more easily tricked by women than I can. What they please, the traitress, the unscrupulous libertine in France. But you must take your revenge on Yvonne now!"

Yvonne! Andre's brain reeled. Yvonne who had saved his life, was a traitress, the traitress whose crimes merited condign punishment, whom now, by the devilish device of fate, he must arrest and send to a felon's death to save himself and Denise.

He seized her arm. "Who and what are you?" he cried, beside himself, for the torture of the fascinating, yet riddle-racked him beyond endurance. "That," she replied with her slow smile, "is my secret and it will perish with me. Do your duty, Vicomte, and return to Versailles. Madame de Pompadour awaits you; the blood of the noblesse, her foes, will atone in her eyes. She has triumphed, and so have you. Go back to your King and tell him the proof of his royal intrigues, destroy the noble traitors who would have destroyed you, and in revenge, the sweetest things the world can give a man, are yours. Are they not enough?" She was coolly taunting him, and out there in the court-yard saved my life once, more than once, for you could have killed me in the cabin at Pontenoy; you and the Chevalier—God rest his soul—enabled me to save the honor of Denise—Denise!" He paused for emotion. "You have enabled me to save my own honor. Why you did these things I do not know. But I would tonight, and now, take you past the Barrier of St. Louis, and I would then bid Versailles and you adieu forever. God alone can judge you, not I—but Denise—there is Denise—"

"Then Denise herself must decide," she was mad after all; stark mad. He stood helplessly picking at the embroidered upholstery of the chair. Mad, mad; they were all mad.

The woman had glided towards the door on the right. Andre looked up excitedly. Ha! She was gone—fled. Then he, too, must escape at once. He snatched up the papers, seized his cloak, and darted towards the window, only to start back with a cry.

On the threshold of the doorway stood Denise.

He stood spellbound. Yes, it was Denise.

CHAPTER XXX.

She came forward with outstretched hands. "Andre," she asked with passionate eagerness, "you are safe?"

He took her to his breast, looking into her eyes. "Sweetheart," he whispered, "why are you here?"

"Because you sent for me," she began innocently.

"Sent for you?" he repeated in dull bewilderment. "Mad," he muttered, "mad, mad." His brain was beginning to break down.

"Yes," she whispered, for his face frightened her, "you sent for me. See, read."

Andre took the strip of paper from her. After a few minutes he was able to spell out these words: "I am in great danger. You alone can save me. Come at once to Paris, Carrefour de St. Antoine No. 3. Andre."

The paper dropped. The writing was his, at least it appeared to be. Could he have written it? He searched his whirling thoughts recalling the events of this awful night following on the heels of the discovery of the traitress in Madame de Pompadour's room after the scene at the inn, the discovery of Denise, the interviews that followed, the finding of the Chevalier and Mont Rouge, the gallies to Paris, and their flight that had happened in this salon. He snatched at the paper again; he had not written it, no, it was clever, the work of the only woman who could do it—"No. 101."

Denise was watching him in terror, for his lips moved, yet he said nothing. "A girl called Yvonne," she whispered, "brought it to me at midnight; she conducted me to this house, and I have been waiting here ever since, waiting for you. Yvonne has disappeared and the doors were all locked. There is only the woman who—"

They both turned sharply at the rustle of a dress and stood hand in hand gazing in silence, for there had entered the girl whom Andre had seen gliding with Gustave at "The God with the Spurs of Gold."

Andre mechanically whipped off his hat. Denise mechanically answered the courtesy of the lady who had entered, for this was a gentlewoman of their own rank, whose beauty would have adorned the great hall in the Chateau de Beau Sejour.

"We agreed," she began quietly, "that Mademoiselle la Marquise was to decide. Monsieur le Vicomte, what I have to say is for the ears of Mademoiselle alone. Permit me to show you where you can wait. I shall not keep you long! She pointed with her fan to the door and then held out her fingers.

Andre walked out of the room like one in a dream. The door closed. The two women were alone.

"I can be tried," the stranger said quietly. "You have heard of 'No. 101'; you know of the stealing of the secret despatch. I am the thief. I am 'No. 101'."

Denise recoiled with a cry of horror, her eyes fixed on the girl's face with an expression of indignant stupefaction.

"The Vicomte de Nerac," the stranger proceeded, "knows what you know now, and he will return to Versailles a hero," she paused. "If he will arrest me. He has the despatch; he has a letter which will convict the Comte de Mont Rouge, who, Mademoiselle, by loaded dice, sent you to be the thief of the Court. It has also been seen to come here; it has also been discovered that I am in this house, and unless he returns to Versailles with that despatch he will be ruined and Madame de Pompadour will also send you to the Bastille, for she has proof that you were in her room this night. The Vicomte is in great danger, and you were summoned here to save him for at your bidding alone will he do his duty and arrest the traitress—myself."

Denise's indignation had already begun to melt. She freed the necklace at her throat as if it were choking her.

"Shall I now ask the Vicomte to return?" The girl moved towards the door.

"Wait—one moment! You are—" "Wait—one moment!" "You are—" Yvonne," she whispered.

The stranger sat down and unconsciously began to tear up one of the sheets of paper littering the floor. "I am," she answered quietly.

"He took it from the English agent," she said to Denise, "the fact that the secret despatch which you stole!"

"He took it from the English agent," she said to Denise, "the fact that the secret despatch which you stole!"

"Ah! Again Denise had guessed the truth. "You once saved the Vicomte's life," she went on.

"I helped to do so."

"Yet you are a traitress?"

"And you gave the Vicomte de Nerac a should have continued to be if you and the Vicomte de Nerac had not been in the room together."

The other looked up quickly. "Was my brother?" she corrected gently. "The Chevalier de St. Amant is dead."

"Ah!" she cried with sudden conviction. "The Chevalier de St. Amant is your brother?"

The other looked up quickly. "Was my brother?" she corrected gently. "The Chevalier de St. Amant is dead."

RIOT AND DEATH ON
BROOKLYN STREET CARS.

Several Inspectors Arrested Yesterday--Police Aid in Assaults on the Public, and 1,000 Deputies Are Sworn in to Protect Passengers--Hospitals Filled With People Injured by Thugs.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—An outcome of the rioting over the ten-cent fare to Coney Island and the arrest today of a number of their inspectors on the charge of brutal assault, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit discontinued operating the surface cars to Coney Island below Kings highway tonight. Sheriff Michael Flaherty of Brooklyn is swearing in one thousand parties tonight to be placed on the cars going to King's highway for the purpose of arresting any B. R. T. employee who places a hand on a passenger. The police have shown themselves utterly incapable of dealing with the situation, and in fact are openly winking at and assisting in the assaults on the general public. Sheriff Flaherty, in an interview tonight, censuring the situation said: "I am advised by the district attorney of the county that Judge Gaynor's decision that five cents is the legal fare to Coney Island is the law and that every time a passenger is ejected for refusing to pay extra fare there is a case of assault. The police are doing nothing to protect the people of this borough, and as the chief police officer, it is my duty to step in. I have instructed these deputies to arrest every B. R. T. employee who lays his hand on a passenger. I expect the assistance of the police; if they don't choose to assist me however, I will tackle the situation alone. The conditions today constitute a public disgrace. Murder and riot are imminent. The temper of the people is strained to the breaking point and something must be done immediately."

Brooklyn today is in a pent up state and business everywhere is practically at a standstill. The hospitals are filled with people who have been brutally assaulted by thugs in the employ of the car company. Already two deaths have occurred as a result of injuries received. Hundreds are walking about with black eyes and general contusions. The action of the police in assisting the thugs caused the arrest of the fare and then refusing to arrest the ruffians who openly assaulted passengers is said to be due to the fact that many of the prominent Tammany politicians are large holders of B. R. T. securities and would suffer pecuniary loss in the reduction of fare. District Attorney Clarke of Kings county tonight has caused the arrest of Chief Inspector Maybury and five of his men on the charge of assaulting passengers. The situation is one of extreme gravity and there is talk of the military being called out should it not improve within the next twelve hours.

A typical outrage was the treatment accorded Jacob Greenblatt, a youth, today by Col. Roberts, a B. R. T. lawyer, who advocated the killing of passengers who refused to pay the second fare. Col. Roberts threw the lad down, knelt on his chest and choked him so severely that when Roberts was pulled off and Greenblatt got on his feet he fell unconscious to the ground. Instead of arresting Roberts, Sergeant Callahan took Greenblatt before Magistrate Voorhees at the Coney Island police court, who held him in $100 bail on a charge of assault. This eminent jurist from the first stepped into line with the B. R. T. thugs.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Following the arrest tonight of three division inspectors of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. on charges of assault in the third degree, the company shut off entirely all of its surface lines leading to Coney Island, taking the position that this was the only way to stop rioting which has been in progress since Sunday morning at the points where a second fare was demanded by the company's employees. The elevated and express trains service to the seashore resort were augmented. The arrested inspectors are Wm. Hefferman, Wm. C. Newberry and Frederick J. Dulliver, all of whom were taken into custody on warrants sworn out by passengers who had been ejected from cars. The employees were bailed in the sum of $500 each.

The stoppage of the surface car traffic had the effect of quieting the disturbances tonight and the company declares it will not attempt to run the surface cars through to Coney Island at rush hours until the danger of rioting is past.

Counsel for the company today wrote to the acting corporation council declaring that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's line was not a public utility and was entitled to police protection. He declared the company is a legal one according to the laws of New York state, is doing a legal business and is entitled to police protection when its rights are assaulted.

The surface cars which were stopped tonight, were run during the morning and early afternoon on a schedule, or half hour headway. There were many disputes at Neck road and Gravesend avenue, and a number of passengers were dragged, protesting, from the cars. Sheriff Flaherty of Kings, said today he was prepared to swear in 1,000 deputies if the situation should demand such a course, and he did issue commissions to several scores of whom he sent to the scene of the recent disorders. The stoppage of traffic tonight meant the employment of further deputies at this time necessary.

The company has experienced but little difficulty in collecting second fares from elevated railroad passengers to Coney Island.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit stops its surface cars at the second fare limits despite threats that the small bus actions to annul the charter for these roads from Neck road to Coney Island would be instituted.

HON. MR. TEMPLEMAN SPEAKS
WHEEL OF THE PROVINCES

East He Says is Sharing in the Great Prosperity Which Now Exists all Over Canada—Refers to His Visit to Moncton, Glace Bay and Other Growing Towns.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—Hon. William Templeman, minister of inland revenue, has returned from a trip to the Maritime provinces. He visited St. John, Halifax, Sydney, Charlottetown, Moncton and other points.

"Notwithstanding the rush to the wheat fields of the Canadian west," said Mr. Templeman, "the east is sharing in the great prosperity which now exists all over Canada. There are evidences of a beautiful harvest in all the provinces down by the sea, and the prices the farmer is obtaining for his produce are in advance of previous years."

"The great cry is the scarcity of men to do the work. This applies to almost all branches of trade. The Dominion Coal Co. in Cape Breton is probably the greatest sufferer in this regard. Some hundreds of miners were imported from Britain and still the demand for coal is greater than the output can meet. Under the auspices of this great industrial concern new cities have sprung up. The latest example is that of Glace Bay, which has a population of anywhere from 12,000 to 16,000. The Sydney steel works is particularly busy. Between Sydney and the Soo enough of rails can be turned out to lay 4,000 miles of road each year. The quality seems to be excellent. The company is shipping rails to Vancouver by water for the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern railway. The Vancouver street railway has also purchased rails from Sydney. When this can be done there is no need for importing."

"Yesterday I was present at the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new I. C. R. work shops at Moncton. The whole city took part in the demonstration, showing how the people appreciate the successful efforts of the minister of railways to improve the people's road. The passenger train service on all the government railways cannot be surpassed in Canada. As a consequence the tourist traffic is heavy and the trains and the hotels well filled. The outlook is that Mr. Emerson will be able to close the financial year to make a still better showing than last year, and that he will carry out his promise to make deficits a thing of the past."

Mr. Templeman leaves for the Pacific coast at the end of the week. He goes by way of Toronto.

THE FIRST LONG TRIP THEY EVER ENJOYED.

Aged Couple From the Washademoak are Making a Visit to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carpenter, with their grandchildren, sailed for Boston on the S. S. Calvin Austin, Saturday, August 11, to visit friends. After a delightful voyage they were met upon their arrival and driven in an automobile by F. C. Stinson, of Everett, Mass., to the home of their relatives, 19 Kewlin street, Dorchester, Mass., where they will reside during their stay in Boston.

Mr. Carpenter has passed his 83rd birthday, and Mrs. Carpenter will soon celebrate her 77th. On Jan. 9th, 1896, they observed their 55th wedding anniversary at their home on the Washademoak, where they have lived the greater part of their lives.

Mr. Carpenter is well known by those interested in ship building, as he devoted his entire life to that trade up to 20 or 25 years ago. He served in the capacity of foreman builder on many vessels. Yet strange to say, neither Mr. nor Mrs. Carpenter had ever been over a hundred miles from where they were born until they had taken this trip.

They will return about the last of September.

EXHIBITION TICKETS WILL BE GIVEN AWAY

Every New Yearly Subscriber to The Star Will Receive a Book Good for Thirteen Admissions.

The opportunity afforded by the Star to all persons desirous of securing season tickets to the exhibition is one which should not be neglected. There are thousands of men and women in St. John who buy the paper on the streets every evening. They would save money by having it delivered regularly at their homes when their names are on the subscription list, and in addition to this they are now given a chance to obtain absolutely free of charge, thirteen admissions to the exhibition. All that is required is that they pay three dollars, the regular charge, for one year subscription to the Star, and the book of tickets will be thrown in. Thirteen tickets means a saving of at least three dollars in attendance at the exhibition and all this can be had by anyone who applies.

NORTH END CHURCH LEAGUE.

There will be a game of base ball on the Shamrock grounds this evening at 7 o'clock sharp between St. Luke's and Victoria's. As these two teams are evenly matched a good game is expected.

LITTLE CHARLES MYERS

STABBED BY COMPANION

Frank Cullinan Responsible for Knife Wound—The Victim in a Rather Serious Condition.

Little Charlie Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Myers, of 49 Wright street, lies in a serious condition, as the result of a knife wound, inflicted by his companion, Frank Cullinan, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cullinan, of Celebration street.

According to the story of Mrs. Cullinan, her son left his companion to buy some candy. Following young Cullinan was a cat. The Myers boy, without any provocation, struck and knocked Cullinan down, and then picked up a stone and threw it at the cat. Jumping up Cullinan, holding a jack-knife, said that he would cut Myers' dog. It was then the young Myers ran into the knife, the blade penetrating between his ribs.

Young Myers' story differs greatly from this. He said he was playing on Celebration street with Frank Cullinan at noon yesterday. With the boys was a dog. Cullinan picked up a stone and struck the dog. This occasioned Myers to strike him. When the latter turned to leave young Cullinan ran up behind him. As soon as he (Myers) turned around he received a knife thrust on his right side. Cullinan, Myers says, then ran home.

Dr. Bishop attended the wounded boy, he having been summoned, as soon as the stabbing had been done. The doctor has hopes of Myers' recovery, although the boy's condition is serious.

FLOUR AND SUGAR AT REASONABLE PRICES

Both of These Commodities are Cheaper Than They Were Six Months Ago.

Everybody uses flour and sugar, and at the present time these necessities are reasonable. During the summer there has been an almost steady decline in the price of both commodities. The market is now such as would not indicate any advances in the near future. Several cuts have been made in flour lately. On August 4th Ontarios dropped ten cents and it was thought that Manitobas would follow at once, but the cut in the latter was not made until yesterday when Ontarios dropped ten cents. Other Manitobas flours are expected to follow.

The present jobbing price of best grade Ontario flour is now $4.55 per barrel, and of Ollivie's Manitobas $5.35 per barrel, the difference being ninety cents.

For a time last year there seemed to be a small sized market in sugar, due to short crops and to an attempt made by French manipulators to corner the market. This failed, and conditions have become normal. Standard granulated is sold at $4.55 per hundred, and Austrian bag sugar at $4.45 retail.

WERE VERY LATE GETTING HOME LAST NIGHT

Steamer Victoria Touched Bottom Near Hampstead—Arrived After Midnight.

The steamer Victoria has had pretty good luck this summer but last night she narrowly escaped being delayed for some hours by grounding. While the steamer was laid up for repairs the Victoria is running daily return trips to Fredericton. Last night on the way to Fredericton while rounding the point just below Hampstead, but after about fifteen minutes she got clear without requiring assistance. The Victoria was very late in arriving last night. She is supposed to reach Fredericton in half-past ten, but it was almost half-past twelve when she got in. There were, of course, no street cars, and only three cars were at the wharf to accommodate some sixty or seventy passengers.

STURGEON FISHING ON THE ST. JOHN RIVER

John Roderick, of Boston, is sturgeon fishing on the river at John O. Vanwart's. He is having great luck and is catching three or four big fish every day. They all run over one hundred pounds in weight, and Mr. Roderick has a live sturgeon in captivity which weighs upwards of one hundred and fifty pounds. These fish he is packing in ice for shipment to Boston and it is said that his business is a most profitable one.

CANNOT ACCEPT CHALLENGE.

The manager of St. Luke's base ball team wishes to state that his team cannot play the Milford Stars on Thursday night as there will be a league game on that night.

Charlie Myers, the young lad who was stabbed yesterday on Celebration street, is reported to be resting easily today and no serious consequences are now anticipated.

The funeral of the late Michael McGuire took place at 2.30 this afternoon from the general public hospital to the Cathedral, where Rev. Father O'Keefe read the burial service. Interment was in Fernhill.

The meeting of J. S. Edwards Lodge, Manchester Unity, I. O. O. F., is postponed till Wednesday, the 22nd inst.
