LONDON LANCET UTTERS A WARNING TO SUFFRAGETTES

Mental Diseases Increase in Finland Where Women Serve in Parliament—British Suffragettes After Prison Reform

LONDON, June 1.—The Lancet hands on to the British suffragettes a terrible warning from the Finnish doctor, Granholm, who asserts that there is a certain connection between the votes for women movement and the frequency of the mental diseases. Dr. Granholm has been carefully investigating in Finland, where women both vote for members of parliament and are eligible to serve as such. He has come to the conclusion that domestic life has become unfavorable for the normal development of the young of both sexes, the result being a marked increase in mental aberration. In the municipality of Vuornos, where the doctor asserts he is able to exclude any common causes of mental diseases and where very emancipated views are held by the female population, and particularly by the female teachers, he speedily noticed that the number of lunatics increased from 20 in 1900 to 67 in 1902. The population had increased in that period from 11,888 to 12,137.

REFORM WOMEN'S PRISONS. It has been suggested to the suffragettes many times that they lay aside the suffrage issue temporarily and assist in prison reforms, since they have complained bitterly of the unsanitary conditions of the prisons which they have sampled. That they have agitated among parliamentarians was shown in yesterday's debate in the House of Commons when members discussed reforms in women's prisons. It was suggested that women be appointed as board commissioners as they are better able to understand the needs of their own sex. It was also suggested that a prison garb which is presentable and fit be provided instead of the present shapeless, uncomfortable garments. The Secretary of the Home Office said it was not desirable that the clothing of female prisoners be made less unsightly. The number of female prisoners was increasing, and thought that nothing should be done to make prison life more attractive. Regarding the unsanitary condition of Holloway Jail as stated by a suffragette doctor after her incarceration, the secretary declared the statement was not supported by the facts.

ENGLAND'S RAILROADS. The statistics of the Board of Trade as to the railways of the United Kingdom for 1902, issued last evening, show that the roads have an authorized capital of $6,970,000,000 paid up. Their gross receipts were $97,800,000, expenditures $82,320,000, and net earnings therefore $15,480,000. The miles of line in operation were 23,191; miles travelled, 28,331,000; total gross traffic, 15,170,000 tons; total passengers 1,290,117,000; an increase since 1896, over 6,000,000. The number of third class decrease over 3,000,000 and the second class over 15,000,000.

BABY NEAR DEATH IN SNAKE'S COILS Summoned by Little Girl's Cries, Father Finds Her Being Strangled and is Attacked.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., June 1.—A seven foot black snake wrapped itself around the infant daughter of Edward Schoonover yesterday afternoon and was strangling her just as a python would do when the father heard her cries. After a fight he killed the snake with a hoe. When Mr. Schoonover approached the snake it left the child and attacked him, but a lucky stroke of the hoe cut the reptile's head off. The child, who is two years old, was unconscious when the father picked her up and her body has since become black and blue, showing the great strength of the snake. Mr. Schoonover recently purchased a farm in Winnipauk and he took the child there today for an outing. He placed her in a basket while he worked in the field near by. The snake is one of the kind known as "old settlers." It was almost white with red and scarlet from head to tail. It has been seen in the neighborhood scores of times within the last ten years and has killed hundreds of small chickens.

SEVERAL DROWNED IN FLOODS IN ARKANSAS

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 2.—Several persons were reported to have been drowned, hundreds of others are marooned and thousands of acres of cultivated lands are under water as a result of an almost unprecedented rise in the Red River. The crest of the flood should pass today. Until then an accurate estimate of the monetary loss and the number of dead cannot be had. The latter, however, it is believed will not be large.

SNOW ON NORTH SHORE, VERY MUCH LIKE SUMMER And Frost at Different Points up the Line—Presentations at Moncton.

MONCTON, June 2.—Snowfalls in the northern portion of the province, and the mercury hovering around the freezing point in this vicinity, have marked the opening of the summery month of June in New Brunswick. Passengers arriving from Campbellton on this morning's train report that at that place last night there was a slight snowfall. At New Castle station the platform was covered with frost. In Moncton last night the thermometer got down to within three points of freezing point. Last evening at a regular meeting of the Lady Artists of the city a silk banner awarded by the Grand Board was presented by C. M. Legere, M. P. F. During the evening Rev. Father Herbert was presented with a satin cushion to mark the anniversary of his first year in the priesthood.

WANTS BRITISH FLEET TO VISIT THE COLONIES

LONDON, June 2.—The Daily Mail, in a burst of enthusiasm over Australia on account of the proposed visit of the American fleet, in an editorial this morning, reminds the Commonwealth that the British Admiralty is not altogether to blame for the withdrawal of the Chinese squadron, which left Australia open to naval attack, because of large detachments of the fleet were stationed at distant colonies, dependent in Europe would be risked, and furthermore colonial contributions towards the maintenance of the navy were not adequately recognized. The Mail suggests, however, that in 1903, the admiralty should despatch a powerful fleet of modern battleships on a voyage to the great colonies of the British Empire, with a view to showing them that Great Britain possesses finer ships than the United States.

MEMBER OF RUSSIAN DUMA ON TRIAL

ST. PETERSBURG, June 1.—The Duma tonight surrendered M. Korsoroff, the socialist deputy for trial, on the charge of having delivered a post-election speech at Ufa, in which he incited armed resistance to the authorities. As the speech was delivered after the elections, it therefore came within the limits of legislative immunity, and the arguments with regard to the handing over of the socialist deputy hinged on the question of principle.

GIRL REVOLUTIONISTS SENTENCED TO DEATH

WARSAW, June 1.—Three girls and eleven men were sentenced to death by court martial here today, for attacking a post car at Sokolow, on the Vistula, R. R., last January. A bomb was thrown at the car killed two and wounded ten soldiers and railroad employees and after the car was wrecked, the safes were looted.

BARNEY OLDFIELD WILL RACE NO MORE

LOWELL, Mass., June 2.—Barney Oldfield has driven his last automobile race, so he says. "Sunday night's accident was enough for me," he said. To show that he is in earnest, Oldfield has obtained employment as a chauffeur for H. W. Whipple, an Andover banker, whose only car is of thirty horsepower and probably could not go over 30 miles an hour. Oldfield says he has cancelled all his racing engagements.

GENERAL BULLER, LEADER OF THE BRITISH FORCES IN NATAL, DIED THIS MORNING

TRIED TO PUT THEIR BOSS ON THE CIRCULAR SAW Attempt of Hindu Mill Hands in British Columbia to Murder Their Foreman.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 2.—A visitor from Golden reports a ferment caused there by an attempt of Hindu employees of the Columbia River Lumber Company to murder their white foreman by throwing him in front of a circular saw. Four Hindus, he says, disobeyed instructions regarding lumber being shipped. The foreman, a Frenchman, hot tempered, reprimanded them severely and threatened to discharge them, saying, "If they were carrying him to the big saw, a young white man came on the scene, picked up a slab, laid out the Hindus, and the others turned and fled."

JOHN MITCHELL MAY RUN IN ILLINOIS ELECTIONS Labor Party Propose to Carry on an Active Campaign.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Organized labor and the union movement of Illinois, particularly, will play a conspicuous part in politics during the approaching campaign, according to a statement made here last night by Secretary Nickels, of the Chicago Federation of Labor. Mr. Nickels in addressing the Central Labor Union of this city last night stated that the meeting of the Illinois State Federation in Springfield, on June 14, John Mitchell, the retired President of the United Mine Workers, would tell his delegates whether he would be willing to accept a nomination for Governor of that state. He predicted that in the event of Mr. Mitchell's acceptance, he would be elected Governor of Illinois on the Labor Ticket.

FATAL FIRE IN A N. Y. BOARDING HOUSE

NEW YORK, June 2.—Fire which started in the basement of Mrs. Mary Mooney's boarding house at No. 313 West 30th Street early today, completely cut off the escape of Mrs. Mooney's twenty boarders and when the firemen came one young woman had fallen or thrown herself from the roof to the pavement and was dead, several others were severely burned and at all the upper windows frantic street women and men were begging to be saved. The dead woman is Marie Beltrami, who occupied a hall room on the top floor.

GENERAL BULLER.

LONDON, June 2.—General Rudver Henry Buller, who has been ill for some weeks past, is dead.

General Buller was born on December 7th, 1839, was educated at Eton and entered the army in 1858 being attached to the 60th Rifles. He served in China in 1860, in the Red River Expedition in 1867, the Ashanti War in 1874, Kaffir War in 1878, Zulu War 1879-80, being made Brevet Lieutenant Colonel, winning the Victoria Cross, and receiving the honor of C. M. G. He was Chief of Staff in the Boer War of 1881 and was attached to the Intelligence Department in the Egyptian Campaign of 1882, being mentioned in despatches and receiving various other honors in that war. He served through the Sudan in 1895, winning the rank of Major General. He was made Quartermaster General in 1887 and for a short time served as Under Secretary for Ireland. He received the appointment as Adjutant General in 1890 and held this office until 1897, being then transferred to the command at Aldershot. In 1899 he went to South Africa, first as General commanding the forces against the Boers and afterwards as General Officer Commanding in Natal. He conducted the operations for the relief of Ladysmith which was successfully accomplished, after many defeats, during an investment of one hundred and eighteen days. Following the relief of Ladysmith he conducted the operations resulting in the expulsion of the Boer army from Natal and in returning to England was appointed in command of the First Army Corps at Aldershot. In April General Buller contracted a chill in London and this indisposition was followed by a severe attack of laudis and other complications. Early in May a hopeful view of his recovery was entertained by his physicians and the turn for the worse was unexpected. General Buller married Lady Audrey Jane Charlotte, daughter of the Fourth Marquis Townshend.

GLOBE TROTTER WINS; BUT LOSES HIS WIFE

Man Who Pushed Cart Around the World Returns After Completing Task.

VIENNA, June 1.—The Viennese, Anton Hauslian, who, in consequence of a bet, on September 15, 1896, to make a tour of the world pushing a light cart containing his wife and child, returned today to Vienna, having completed his task. During his seven years' wanderings Hauslian walked 21,250 miles, his daily average being twelve miles. His equipment which comprised a tent and cooking utensils, weighed 400 pounds. During his tour he wore out 104 pairs of shoes and took 18,000 photographs. He traversed Europe, America, Australia and China, and got into trouble during the Russo-Japanese war, narrowly escaping being shot as a spy. The excitement caused by this incident caused his wife to suffer from a nervous attack which finally resulted last year in her death. Hauslian's most trying time was in Arizona, where he saw no house for six days and had no water for four. He returned in good health, but owing to the death of his wife he receives only $5,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 2.—According to the Russ. Finance Minister Korkoroff has sent a letter to the cabinet proposing the immediate issue of an international loan of $100,000,000 to cover the deficit in the 1903 budget and other expenditures that cannot be deferred. The approval of the Duma would have to be obtained. The money will be supplied as follows: $50,000,000 to the deficit; $20,000,000 to famine relief; and $30,000,000 to the Ministries of War and Marine, principally for the augmentation of munitions of war and military stores.

REV. BILLY SUNDAY GIVES HIS OPINION OF PARSONS

Harris Abuse at Presbyterian Ministers Who Met to Hear Him Speak.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 1.—Rev. "Billy" Sunday, the evangelist, delivered an address to the Presbyterian ministers of Pittsburgh last night. His words caused consternation among the preachers, some of whom left the First Presbyterian Church, their dignity stung, but most of them remained to the end. Rev. Sunday, who is a former professional ball player, has been conducting a revival at Sharon, near here, and came to Pittsburgh to speak on "Why Some Ministers Fall." The evangelist said many of the ministers of the present day were "fudge-eating mollycoddlers, who were continually springing burn barrels on their congregations." He asserted that few ministers of today are anything but stiff, salary-quacks, willing to accept social distinction, and that many of them are qualified candidates for the "Hannu" house. Continuing he said: "Some of you ministers are controlled by riches and not by the Bible. Many of you are grafters, pure and simple. You know, this, too. There are some of you preaching today that should be carrying the hod. "What we do want is to tear down the seminaries and stand the professors on their heads in mud puddles. A seminary and its teachings are of no more use to preaching than a crow's legs are to a setting hen. "I am no osteopath. I am a surgeon and my line is to cut out the abcess in the side of the Church."

WHEN WHITE MEN "GO FANTY."

When a white man abandons the life to which he has been brought up, and through his lot with a colored race, he is said to "go fancy." Such lapses from civilization are by no means uncommon in Africa, India, China, Japan, and, indeed, in almost every country into which the white man has forced his way. A curious case of cutting oneself off from civilization occurred in Persia some years ago. A rich English traveler was captured by hill-robbers at the edge of the desert, about midway between Isfahan and Yezd. They held him to ransom, which was to be arranged for by a friend of the Englishman, who was staying at Teheran.

FELL DEEPLY IN LOVE. Before the release could be effected, the captured man fell deeply in love with the youngest daughter of the chief of the marauders. Despite the entreaties of his friend, he put the old life behind him, married the girl, and became a full-fledged Persian robber. On the father-in-law's death the renegade Englishman succeeded the former as head of the robber gang. A well-known British war correspondent relates how he was once entertained by a friendly Arab, whose tent wall pitched a few miles south of Gerara. During dinner—which was a typical Arab meal—the conversation was carried on by means of the few words of Arabic known to the newspaper man, and when words failed, signs were used. The inevitable hook was produced, and the two men puffed away in contemplative silence. At the end of half an hour or so the guest was utterly astounded at hearing his entertainer say in perfect English: "Hang it all, let's have a decent smoke!"

MARRIED DUSKY DIVINITY. A few years ago a captain in one of the Northwest Provinces of India, became infatuated with a handsome hill-girl. The mess soon lost its attraction for him, and the society of the uncivilized maiden became preferable to that of the station ladies, with their latest London and Paris fashions. He eventually married his dusky divinity and "went under." He is still perfectly happy and contented, and, incidentally, he has no desire to return to the trappings of society. In Japan there are many Europeans who, fascinated by the charms of the East, have put the West far behind them. Within a few miles of Tokio there lives a man who was once a familiar figure in London. In the autumn of 1902 he went out to Japan on a yachting party with some friends. He became enamored with a peach-and-cream complexioned native, wooed and married her, and disappeared from the world that had known him. A wealthy Frenchman, when on a visit to the Far East, met a charming daughter of Japan. He fell madly in love with her, and asked her to become his wife. This she consented to do on condition that he agreed to live in the land of the Mikado. It was a terrible wrench for him to abandon his beloved Paris, but he felt that it would have been a still greater sacrifice to

TIME FOR BRIDGE, SAYS AID. SCULLY

Talks to Sun About Proposed Structure Committee of Council to be Named to Deal With Matter

The oft-discussed and much debated bridge across the harbor at Navy Point, that a steel bridge should be built at or near Navy Island to connect the east and west sides of the city for the accommodation of foot passengers, teams, electric railway and steam cars; and further:

"Resolved, that a small committee be appointed to take up the matter with the Provincial and Dominion governments, the Saint John Railway Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, with a view of getting their assistance financially in building said bridge."

Owing to the fact that Aid. Scully's motion came before the Common Council late in yesterday's meeting it was decided without debate to have His Worship the Mayor appoint the required committee. In consequence of this action, Aid. Scully had no opportunity of advancing arguments in support of his motion.

In conversation last evening with a representative of the Sun, Aid. Scully expressed the opinion that it was time the inconvenient and expensive ferry system gave way to a modern bridge connecting St. John West with that part of the city on the eastern part of the harbor. The building of such a bridge was agreed upon at the time of the union into which, he said, Carleton had been practically forced. This condition of the union had never been lived up to and as a consequence every family in Carleton had to pay $30 to $40 in ferry tolls, and each business firm on the West Side had to pay $100 to $200 for the privilege of having their teams use the ferries. He himself during the past year had paid out $412 for that purpose and at the present time had to compete with concerns that were not hampered as he was. The whole use of the ferry constituted an indirect tax upon the people of Carleton.

Dealing with the matter of charges on railway cars the alderman said that it cost $1 at the present time to have a freight car taken from the East Side to the West Side, whereas if the same could be taken across the harbor on a bridge the cost would be only $2.

As far as the ferry service was concerned the alderman said he had been informed by the chamberlain the usual yearly deficit in the ferry department amounted to from $1,000 to $1,500. In fact in only one year in the past five had the ferries come near paying expenses. The committee which had been provided and another would have been laid up in hospital.

The committee which will consider the matter will be appointed shortly by Mayor Bullock.

PENALTY FOR PLUMES ON WOMEN'S HATS

Legislation Sought in England to Prevent Wholesale Destruction of Birds.

LONDON, June 1.—No plumes of foreign birds except ostrich, eider duck and wild birds used for food, will be worn on women's hats after December 31, if Lord Avebury's bill to prohibit importation of plumes and skins becomes law.

The penalty for importation for sale or exchange is $25 on first conviction and $50 for second and subsequent convictions, with forfeiture and destruction of the feathers. But if a woman is actually wearing prohibited plumage when she arrives in Great Britain and is not to sell it, then no offense is committed.

Lord Avebury stated yesterday: "The idea of my bill is to check the wholesale destruction of birds going on throughout the British Empire and other parts of the world simply to provide plumes for millinery. All the ornithologists in England are behind me, and I have the whole-hearted support of the Selborne and the Wild Bird Preservation Societies. The birds to come within the bill are the white heron, from which osprey plumes are taken, crowned pigeon, albatross, lyre bird and birds of paradise. The birds are most beautiful at nesting time, when they are mostly caught, so that when one is taken it means the destruction of a whole family. In this way many beautiful species are gradually dying out. I am sure if ladies really knew how cruel the traffic is they would never wear the plumes, and if they cannot get them in London, they will go to Paris and bring them back for their own use. Nearly all of the plumes and skins from different parts of the world come to the London auction rooms, and then the goods go back to the continent to be worked up. Pass this bill and at once these great auctions will be moved to some foreign port, and London will lose that part of the trade as well as the shop trade of the customer. Sales in London during the last six months of 1907 19,742 skins of birds of paradise were catalogued, 141,000 skins of the feathers of the feathers of nearly 115,000 birds, and immenses quantities of skins of species of ornamental plumage birds."

The only thing he did possess of value—the rags he wore," says his biographer, Zuinglin, "was a rag."

TREASURED RELICS FOR WESTMINSTER ABBEY

The announcement that a public museum is to be opened at Westminster Abbey suggests a refined gold and silver, for the abbey and its contents are, of course, the most precious national museum England possesses. All that the announcement means is that some of the things which were either hidden away altogether from the public eye or were difficult of access are to be collected together in one place where they can be readily inspected.

An unusual crypt in the cloisters immediately under the Monk's Dormitory has been chosen for this purpose. The floor has been laid with tiles, and the electric light has been installed, and when the alterations are completed it will form a convenient chamber which will admit a number of treasured relics.

ANCIENT CUSTOM. Chief among these will probably be the wax effigies which are now collected in the Oratory or Chantry Chapel. These effigies as we learn from the Deapery Guide to the Abbey, are the remains of an ancient custom at the funeral of a great man. His "wax effigy" or representation, dressed to imitate life, was carried before him to the grave. After the burial it was set up in the church under a canopy of temporary monument. It is here, customary to affix short laudatory poems or epigrams to the wax effigy, which were of wax, and adorned with esocobeds.

Underneath this table here lies the subject of all verse.

Sidney's sister, Pembroke's mother, etc., was probably one of this kind. The "herse" which was a wooden platform decorated with black hangings, and containing the wax effigy of the deceased, usually remained as a permanent in the Abbey for about a month. In the case of Henry VIII's herse was adorned with angels of wax, the valence fringed and adorned with esocobeds.

In the Abbey the royal effigies can be traced back to the fourteenth century. Edward I's is the earliest of which there is any record. Like most of the other early figures it seems to have lain for a long while on the top of his tomb, but up to Henry V's time the embalmed bodies of the sovereigns and not the effigies, were carried on the funeral cars. The earlier effigies were not wax, but made of wood, some with heads, hands and feet of plaster, a few had wings, and the faces were painted. Their battered remains are collected in a cupboard, and are so ghastly a sight that they are not likely to be brought out to decorate the new museum.

JEWELRY DON'T LIKE THEIR STAGE CARICATURES. BOSTON, Mass., June 1.—An appeal is to be made to the theatrical managers of the country by the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, an international organization, to eliminate caricaturing the Hebrew race on the stage. At the meeting of the executive board at the Hotel Touraine today a resolution to this effect was passed and the president of the order, Adolph Jarus, was instructed to see that it was carried out.

Even plays of Shakespeare's plays are condemned and the order will attempt to prevent the production of those who portray the Jewish character in a poor light and also the teaching or use of this literature in the schools of the country.

BALLOONISTS' OUT FOR A NEW RECORD. QUINCY, Ill., June 1.—The balloon "Chicago" with Charles A. Cozy, Charles H. Litchfield, and Captain G. H. Dumbough, left Quincy at six o'clock tonight. The balloon's capacity is 110,000 feet of gas. The balloon crossed the Mississippi River, fifteen miles after leaving the ground and was going down at an altitude of about 2,000 feet as darkness came on. The balloonists want to beat the record of the German balloon which started from St. Louis last year.

HORSE CARS DISAPPEAR FROM NEW YORK STREETS. NEW YORK, N. Y., June 1.—The old Fulton street horse car line in the downtown district is no more. The five ancient cars, all that remained of the equipment were withdrawn at noon today. The old line has been a heavy loser in recent years and it was because of this that the receivers of the New York City Railroad Company, which owns the Fulton street line equipment, decided to discontinue. They withdrew the cars and horses, leaving to holders of $500,000 Fulton Street Railroad Company bonds only a few blocks of track with no cars to operate upon it.

BRIDGE PLAY WITHOUT PARTNER

A Variation That Meets a Want Long Felt.

The Partner as a Source of Mistake Eliminated by Four Hand Bridge—Scoring the Worst Feature, But That is Made Easy by the Method Explained Here.

One of the peculiarities of bridge is that all the mistakes that are made all the rubbers that are lost, all the declarations that are disastrous and all the tricks that get away are clearly the fault of the partner. All that is necessary to confirm that statement is to listen for a moment to the remarks made after every social game for prizes.

"If it hadn't been for that fool woman making diamonds that only five to ten and not another trick in her hand, I should have been 'top score'."

"I am sure it was a good no trumper, and she had the ace of hearts and two hours of club in her hand, but she took the last two tricks on it! Why, if I had played the hand—"

Every person who plays bridge for any length of time, must acknowledge that the majority of tricks lost in the play are due to the partner's lack of understanding of the hand. It is astonishing how few partners can see through the backs of your cards, and then are so careless in minor suits. They seem to have no idea of the make that would best fit your hand. The four hand bridge game for prizes does not see your ace, or they don't know the eleven rule, or something of that kind. It is a perfect nuisance.

When you are tied to a partner of this sort all through a rubber, it is bad enough, but when you are tied to one at the table time after time and see the smile of mingled satisfaction and derision that the figures mean to your adversaries when they realize that you have not cut either one of you for a partner—well, it is perfect torture. Of course they do not see that the shocking plays were all your partner's fault and that they are the cause of the name "no trumper." If you have any legitimate excuse you would quit the game. All that keeps you at the table for another rubber is the hope that the scores at the end of partner next time so that the adversaries shall see whose fault it was and shall realize that what you are doing is not so bad as they think.

Well, they have invented a variation of bridge which does away with all these troubles and puts each player at the table on a perfect equality. It is called "Four Hand Bridge." It is an American improvement on a game they call "the game." It is so great that it is almost another game. For want of a better title most people call it "four hand bridge."

The great objection to it so far has been the very complicated process of adjusting the scores at the end. In adjusting the scores at the end, an expert account could figure out what each score was, but that is not the exception. Skat players have had the same difficulty for fifty years.

Four hand bridge is for four players and the table is complete with four hands. These four players, one knows just how long the game will last. There are no rubbers, each hand being played.

This prevents the wicked partner from making it spades because he has twenty-four cards in his hand. It is further prevented by the fact that the dealer has no partner. Many refer to the dealer as a dummy, but that is not so. He is a dummy, and should have the room as soon as he has his cards. He is not a person as dummy, so that problem is solved.

The four players cut for choice of seats and cards and the first deal, although the deal is not worth anything. The cards are kept in four separate columns, one for each player. It is not necessary to have different divisions of the cards, because they are all dealt together and put down as a lump sum at the end of each deal.

The deal passes the table as usual. The dealer in each hand is the one to make the declaration, the values being the same as in ordinary bridge. If the dealer passes the table, the player sitting opposite him, who is not his partner, remember, but simply his neighbor, is obliged to sort the cards he has in front of him and to declare according to the following invariable rules:

If he finds three or four aces it is a no trumper, no matter what the rest of the cards may be. If he cannot find at least three aces it cannot be no trumps, even if he finds all the kings and queens in the pack.

When there are not three aces the longest suit must be named for the trump. If two suits are equal in length the trump must be the one with the greatest number of pips on the cards, counting the ace as 11, the king, queen, jack and 10 as 10 each, and all other cards at their face value. If two suits of the higher rank in scoring value must be declared, hearts outranking spades, and clubs outranking diamonds.

With such cards as the following, for instance, the declaration being hearts, the player would say: "A K 5 4; C A K 10; D 8, S, K J 9 8"—the declaration must be spades, because it has the greatest pips, the hearts count 32, the clubs 33 and the spades 34.

If a declaration is made and the cards are exposed, when dummy's cards are exposed, which is not correct, the adversary who has led a card can take back his lead and demand that the declaration be changed, or he can let the declaration stand as it is. If the latter is chosen and his card remains, if the table had played to the first trick the strenuous players to the first trick the strenuous other players' winnings. Thus:

A	B	C	D
-106	92	-14
-238	-184	-28
-106	-182	-280
-280	-	-	-280

In this method the 160 deducted from A's score is the sum of B's 92 and C's 14. B's 182 is the sum of A's 106 and C's 14 and D's 280.

These three methods have been the only ones known to card players, and they struggled along, in spite of its cumbersome nature.

Many persons who play four hand bridge do not take the trouble to figure out the scores at all on account of the bother, but simply matters by calling the top score the winner and deducting the difference from each of the others. While it is quite fair for the top score, it is not fair for the others, as it will be evident if we take the results of the first example given. A would collect 78 from 164 from C and 28 from D, giving him 312; but this would be rather hard on B, who is really a winner of 3 points instead of a loser of 78.

The method suggested by the Sun, and which may be found equally applicable to other games in which scores have to be adjusted in this way, is to add up the four scores and then divide the total by the number of players to get the average. If this average is deducted from the score of each player, the result is as if the same proportionate reduction had been made in each of the four scores which are now in use all over the world.

Suppose we take the figures already used for the four players:

A	B	C	D
-168	-92	-14	-86-360-4-90
-90	-90	-90	-90
-78	-2	-78	-4

If each of these last figures is multiplied by four it will give exactly the same result as that obtained by the previous methods, but as the larger figures are never necessary, the operation being the essential thing, nothing can be shorter or simpler than this method of averaging.

In all that tournaments the rule is to play for a fourth of a cent a point and after the larger figures given in the previous method have been obtained, they have to be divided by four to reduce them to dollars and cents. By the method suggested by the Sun, the amount in cents is arrived at immediately.

It will thus be seen that the scoring the great objection to four hand bridge is removed and there is no reason why it should not be a popular game for those who are continually victimized by bad partners.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ORIGINAL JEFFERSON BARRISTER WITH DAVID GARRICK.

Thomas Jefferson's great, great, great grandfather, Thomas Jefferson, the First, was a man of extraordinary mimic ability. Living in a provincial English town, he possessed such natural powers of impersonation that when he went up to London and stopped at a well-known inn, his arrival was always hailed with delight and his visit was always an long hilarity.

On one of these occasions, when rows of the character of Sir Philip Gougeon, a friend of his, was in an upper room. The actor's curiosity was aroused by the fact that the landlord and his wife were so popularly invited the unknown Mr. Jefferson to join him, and from that moment, for the generations, the Jeffersons have been prominent in the dramatic world, until today Jefferson the Fifth stands before the theatrical world in the person of Thomas Jefferson.

There was a play which centered about the character of Sir Philip Gougeon, which had interested a number of actors including Joseph Jefferson, the Third, and stars Charles Burke, and success. Joseph, the Fourth, father of the present Thomas Jefferson, who had just having played the old version himself for some years, thought he saw great possibilities in the part and suggested that Don Boucault wrote a new version which Joseph Jefferson produced at the Adelphi Theatre, London, in September, 1865. The play instantly captivated the English public. It was seen in all parts of the United States, being played by Joseph Jefferson and for the past ten years by Thomas Jefferson, his son. The strong evidence of approval which greeted his work through the country established the fact that Thomas would still be an actor of great worth if his name was not Jefferson.

THE NICKEL HAS A GREAT SHOW.

The beautiful allegory, "Mary of Magdala" was put on at the Nickel yesterday before delighted crowds and will be shown today for the last time. This is a religious film of special interest, different from anything yet shown in Biblical picture-stories. The long film entitled, "The Barzee's Daughter," brought forth continued expressions of admiration as the delightful scenes were unfolded in bewildering succession. The scenic wealth of this picture is marvellous, the nearly all the surroundings being Southern France and historic embattlements. "A Spiritualistic Seance" made more fun than a person could carry for the ten minutes it lasted. In the line of music the Nickel loomed up strong again. Miss Wren made a distinct hit in her costumed rendering of the patriotic number, "I'm the Girl From Our Own Great West," and was encored every time. "Somebody That You Know and I Know, Too" was a dainty, catchy tune, accompanied by exquisite slides. Orchestral selections were appropriate and new, the phrase of Faure's "The Palms," in the show in Biblical picture being an artistic treat.

GENEVA, June 1.—Wine is so plentiful at the present moment on the shores of Lake Maggiore, from the village of Brione to Orselina, that it is given freely to tramps who pass for a drink.

FOSTER TALKING AGAIN.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 2.—The Commons made a beginning of morning sittings today. Hon. Mr. Foster asked if the return respecting paroled prisoners which he moved for some time ago was ready. Hon. Mr. Lytton answered that extra efforts were being made to prepare the return in order that it might be brought in as soon as possible. It had been found that if only one man was kept at the work it would occupy him eight hours a day for fifteen months. On motion to go into supply Hon. Mr. Foster proposed to discuss for a short time certain matters relative to the Yukon. He was acceded, he declared, by the public interest. Proceeding, he read from correspondence commencing in 1892 between Rev. John Pringle and members of the government in which the former protested.

ANDY HAD A WONDERFUL THIRST—FOR KNOWLEDGE

There was rather a busy session in the police court this morning. A large number of spectators were present.

The bench of repentance was occupied by five prisoners. Two drunks were fined four dollars each. James Lavings was charged with being drunk yesterday, for which he was fined $4. He was also charged with fighting with James McCormick on Water street on May 21st. McCormick said that Lavings assaulted him. The prisoner was remanded to jail. He is also charged with breaking furniture in his home on George street.

Andy Irvine questioned if Polloeman Rose had any right to enquire why he was walking about Water street at one o'clock this morning, and as a result was sent to jail for two months in default of paying an eight dollar fine. St. John Man Will Have Seen Three Generations of Actors Playing Rip Van Winkle.

Mr. James Anderson, St. John's veteran newspaper man, will be one of the most interested in the audience at the Opera House tonight. In the early forties at the old Duke street theatre here, he saw Joseph Jefferson, the third of that family and grandfather of Thomas Jefferson, play the part of Rip. More than twenty years later he saw Joseph Jefferson, the fourth, greatest of all the family, play the same bill in Lamer's Dramatic Lyceum.

Tonight he will see Thomas Jefferson in the Opera House in the role made famous by his father and grandfather.

STRIKER FINED $8 FOR INSULTING STRIKE-BREAKER

Tom Murray Convicted on the Charge Laid by Hardy of the Telegraph

Those Murray, a union pressman, who is on strike, was arrested last evening at the instance of Henry J. Hardy, a non-union man, who charged Murray with using abusive language to him on Saturday afternoon last. The case was taken up in the police court this morning.

Henry J. Hardy gave evidence that on Saturday afternoon about 5.30 o'clock, defendants followed him, his wife and another gentleman up Coburg street and called them "Rats," and said they were going to blow Murray up.

Murray was with three others who took him away. Murray comes around the Telegraph building daily, meeting at him, and has been pointed out to him, so he recognized him.

To Mr. Mullin—Witness said that his real name was Henry J. Hardy, but that he had used a non-de-plume of Rogers for an advertisement. Could not remember the full name he used, and refused to answer when or where he used the name of Rogers. "I have been employed by the Telegraph and Times for the last two months in the capacity of mechanical foreman. I remember if I am a British subject or where I came from."

The magistrate said he would not force him to answer the questions. Continuing Hardy said: "I refuse to answer if I advertised for printers under the name of Butler."

Mr. Mullin said: "We will get you where you will have to answer."

Mr. Mullin—"Do I take that as a threat?"

Mr. Mullin—"Take it as you like. How did you come to take the word 'Rat' to yourself?"

Hardy—"The name was called and I was pointed out. I have no complaint to make of being called 'rat.' It is the other things called me that I complain of."

Mrs. Annie Hardy, wife of complainant, gave evidence that Murray, with three others followed her husband, another gentleman, her daughter and herself up Coburg street on the opposite side of the street. One said "You rat, if you are looking for fight come over and we will give you all you want." The gentleman friend with witness and her husband went across the street and got into a fight with Murray.

Mr. Mullin informed the court that no witnesses could be put on for the defense and he would leave the case for the court to decide.

The magistrate said that if the lady had not been present it would not have been so bad, "but where is the man in the city who has sisters, a wife, or a mother that won't punch the man who insults them? The biggest scoundrel in the city will have respect for a woman. Murray, I'm sorry to see you here. I thought you were a hard working fellow and would not be found calling names. Whatever the difficulty is, the remarks should not have been made in the presence of a lady. You will be fined $8."

EXCHEQUER COURT

The Exchequer Court was resumed this morning, Judge Cassels presiding. The case of Caroline Coppitta vs. The King will be heard Wednesday morning.

In the case of Chamberlain vs. The King, the Chamberlain case, Messrs. Curry and Mot made application to put in further evidence. E. H. McAlpine objected on behalf of the crown, the ground being that such procedure was not permissible after argument or counsel had been heard, and was sustained by the court.

In the case of Barrett vs. The King it was decided to forward the arguments of counsel in writing to the judge as counsel had not received copies of the evidence.
