General Kuropatkin's plan of campagn has been worked out and that, as pre-viously stated in the despatches, it in volves the playing of a waiting game un the disposition of the army have be completed can be stated with great po ness. It can also be stated that the plans are progressing even more rapidly than expected. Every day is now consid-ered a distinct gain for the Russians and as distinct a loss for the Japanese. For this reason it can be confidently predicted hat the Russians will not do more than harrass the Japanese advance in Corea. The gradual withdrawal of the Russians not mean anything as determining the fighting capacities of the men of the ous country will render impassable in the spring the roads over which the Japanese must come and this is considered to be almost as effective an opposition as would be a Russian army corps. The Russians also count upon a Japanese flank ng movement in connection with a frontal attack, and therefore a Russian force has been disposed along the Tumen Gulf near Newhylers and executiving these is being prechwang, and everything there is being pre-pared to receive the enemy, but for the persent the Russian military authorities believe that the Japanese game at the point has been blocked by the falure of the attempts to bottle up and render immobile the fleet of Vice-Admiral Makaroff, which while free, will be too great a menace to the movement of Japanese transace to the movement of Japanese transports into the Gulf of Pe Chi Li. flagrant example, was brought to the knowledge of the Congo authorities and was investigated by them. This is the case of the boy Epondo, who claimed that his left hand had been cut off by a native sentry in the service of the La Lulonga Rubber Company. The consul, acceptantial by the prisciplantics, went to companied by two missionaries, went to the v.l.age of Bossunguma and proceeded to hold an impromptu court of inquiry.

The injured boy accused the sentry, Kelengo, to his face. The consul then questioned the chief and a number of the headmen. They replied by accusing the sentry. Most of them declared that they had been eye-witnesses of the deed. The consul asked whether there were any more vitnesses and "nearly all those present, about forty persons, shouted with on voice that it was Kelengo who did it." The accused sentry denied the charge. Malcolm. ter, Miss Ida Bremmer Bishop, was united in marriage to Mr. Irvine M. Malcolm. The ceremony took place in the drawing room which was beautifully decorated with potted plants, the decorations being carried out in pink and white. An aisle was formed through the centre of the room by six little girls carrying white ribbons. Through this the bride and groom passed, as Miss Hazel Lockhart played Lohengrin's wedding march on the piano. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. MacOdrum. The bride wore a most beautiful gown of white crepe de chene, over white silk, elaborately trimmed with white silk applique, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations. The little maid of honor, Miss Marion Crockett, was dressed in pink silk and looked very sweet. The bride is one of Moneton's most charming and popular young ladies and all her friends join in wishing both her and her husband much happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm left on the C. P. ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 6, 1904.

GUARD THE PEOPLE'S INTER-ESTS, NOT THE GRAND TRUNK'S.

Parliament, on Tuesday next, will debate portation question with sound railroad and siness judgment, conserving the people's interests and making the new railroad soundly all-Canadian in theory and operatrolled by the people rather than by the corporation. When he addressed the Grand Trunk shareholders in London he did not attempt to praise or even to justify the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme as a whole. He did not tell them that the line would serve the purpose which is the only excuse for its construction. He did tell them that concessions could be secured from the Dominion government so important that the Grand Trunk could agree to the Eastern and Western sections because the whole agreement would be generous enough to offset the fact that the plan as a whole was neither good business nor sound rail-

Critics in parliament will not only discuss what Mr. Hays said, but what he did not say, for, as the Montreal Witness points, notably the Eastern section, was most elequent. Says the Liberal Witness full of possibilities, especially in view o in discussing Mr. Hays' speech:

It was all good and irrefragable reasoning, but it was all about the original proposal of the Grand Truak Company before the government had tagged on to its trans-Canada part of the scheme. Concerning the trans-Canada part of the scheme, Mr. Hays evidently thought it the part of wisdom to say nothing whatever. He could not have said with regard to that that it was going to bring new business to the company's existing lines. On the contrary, it must necessarily take away some of the business that those lines would otherwise have. * * * * What interests the public is that Mr. Hays looked so askance on the part of the road of which the government makes its principal boast that he neither boasted of nor referred to it. We should certainly have taken much comfort had Mr. Hays, with his practical knowledge, told the shareholders of this, as of the other, that he would stake his reputation as a railway manager, that it would be a paying and profitable line. Of course he could not do so. * * * The moral of Mr. Hay's speech is that the Grand Trunk Pacific, as planned by the management of his company, is a business proposition of first-class quality, one that business men will welcome everywhere, and the need of which everyone at once recognizes. So good and ready-made a proposition it is, indeed, that it may well be asked whether the government is not doing a great deal too much for it. The Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick links of it, on the other hand, constitute what our French farmers are in the hebbt of calling, with a shrug of their shoulders, "un chemin de fer politique." (A political railway). It was all good and irrefragable reasoning whose costly Eastern section at least could not have been undertaken on business principles. And the amendments now to be passed upon by Parliament are simply so many new concessions to the company will doubtless swallow the dose."

Likely enough. Still, in advance of that swallowing, there will surely be a renewed demand that the government tell the country more definitely what the route is to be, and how it expects to prevent Cana dian freight from pouring out at American ports as Mr. Blair said it would. It is admitted on all hands that the scheme is even more objectionable today than it was would have been contests in almost every when Mr. Blair tore it to pieces last year, and as practically the entire discusbe one of great importance. It is not to hinted that this and that modification was to be made, and that in the interval, also, certain gentlemen have promised this com munity and that one that the railroad would come to its door. The government. it must be assumed, is now prepared to take Parliament fully into its confidence. The men who stand up for the taxpayers at this juncture and who show themselves government does not appear to have acted in an improper or high-handed manner in this matter, but is simply trying to have the treaty conditions fulfilled, to which everybody has a right, and it is against the treaty, as well as against morality or policy, to allow matters drift, and to regard as enemies the office of such a powerful government, who have come to enforce such rights."

The British will now feel that they must arrange this matter at Lhassa even that city of mystery. The situation i the report that Russian rifles were founamong the Thibetan wounded.

THE PRICELESS FRANCHISE One might infer from the discussion of the St. John franchise act now being car ried on that the people of this city, tax payers and tax dodgers alike, men who who never pay, one and all prized the privilege of voting more highly than gold and precious stones. There are in this suggested that every citizen who is consumed by a devouring interest in civic election day. There are other honest mer who will tell you that something more than a more liberal franchise act is re quired to make more than thirty-five per cent of the voters care fifteen cents worth who is mayor or who are aldermen There may be extremists among these hones In 1902 when the civic election fever raged in St. John and the public-spirited taxpayers had their annual opportunity to change the complexion of the city council what happened? Out of nearly 9,000 men who should have voted only 5,200 were qualified and of these the mad rush to the polls included less than 3,200. Last critizing a large number of the aldermen and more cause for critizing some of the heads of departments for whom they are responsible, only about 2,000 votes were cast. It may be said of last year that there were contests in but two wards and that this fact accounts for the small vote. But had there been anything like : proper interest in civic matters there ward in the city.

Until there is such interest and until the than a mere matter of routine to which do not vote and who complain about the managed, will have only themselves to

PUTTING ON MORE STEAM.

Halifax is initiating a "forward" move

The Halifax board has issued a repor dealing with the "Forward Halifax" move and makes suggestions which apply to St. John as well: "A great deal of stress would have to be laid on making Halifax a manufacturing centre. The board might use its influence to hasten the establishment of the shipbuilding works. In addition it might by various means encourage the establish-place and an attractive city for tourists

ment of a number of smaller industries for which the city is adapted. "The Tourist Association has done great deal of good for the city in the past, and we think its work might be taken over by the board. The same lines might be followed and others added. For instance, the board might institute an Old Home Week; it might mature plans to make Halifax a summer town; it might gradually make it a convention city, making arrangements for larger and more valuable conventions as the place comes to have more hotel accommodation. "The attraction of Halifax at present is largely in its environs. It will become more attractive to tourists according as it is made more attractive internally. So tred on originating a scheme of beautification that might be carried out in time to the great improvement of the city, not only as a summer town but as a residential place. Internal beautification is a work that the board might very well and tion with its tourist branch." crease of properly applied energy is not needed as sorely here as in Halifax it is needed nevertheless.

VACANCIES

Disposed to discuss the vacancies in th New Brunswick cabinet the Sun prints the effect that Mr. James Barnes desires to become attorney general. It may be which upon careful investigation they are Mr. Barnes' ambition in this instance as the office of attorney general is now very much occupied by Hon. Mr. Puzsley, who as far as is known, will continue to fill it. Moreover Mr. Barnes is not a law yer, and the Richibucto Review, in stat ing the claims of Kent county says it is the surveyor-generalship Mr. Barnes wants and asserts that he is the mar best qualified for that important office. Contemplating another aching void i the cabinet the Carleton Sentinel, speak ing in behalf of Mr. W. P. Jones, says there is a strong feeling that Carleton county, "which has not had a portfolio since the days of Hon. William Lindsay will be given substantial recognition in the appointments soon to be made." Kent county, as the Review points out, has not had a portfolio since Confederation. The Sun, in its cabinet making, gives

St. John one position in the cabinet, but without office. Its programme would give St. John a forecastle member in place of the two portfolios recently held by this city and county, an arrangement to which the Sun would subscribe as likely to cre here. Premier Tweedie has had consider able gratuitous advice in regard to these vacancies. He intends to appoint no one until after the session. On the contrary, it must necessarily take away some of the business that those lines would otherwise have. * * * * What interests the public is that Mr. Hays looked so askance on the part of the road of which the government makes its principal boast that he neither boasted of nor referred to it. We should certainly have taken much comfort had Mr. Hays, with his practical knowledge, told the sharcholders of this, as of the other, that he would stake his reputation as a railway manager, that it would be a paying and profitable line. Of course he could not do so. * * * * The moral of Mr. Hay's speech is that the Grand Trunk Pacific, as planned by the management of his company, is a business proposition of first-class quality, one that business men will welcome everywhere, and the need of which everyone at once recognizes. So good and ready-made a proposition it is, indeed, that it may well he asked whether the government is not doing a great deal too much for it. The Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick links of it, on the other hand, constitute what our French farmers are in the habit of calling, with a shrug of their shoulders, "un chemin de fer politique." An Interesting Review of the Situover those of March, 1903. St. John,

> The situation in the molasses market has been of great interest to the trade ever since January, when the arrival of a cargo of new crop Porto Rico at this por broke the combine price for that article and the later arrival of new Barbados did the like for the product of that island.
> Owing to the large stocks of last year's crop held in the provinces the demand has thus far been moderate, but everybody has been waiting to see what the next mov > would be with regard to the price of new crop goods.

> It now appears that any further decline need not be reckoned on. With regard to Barbados, the very unusual fact has developed that a cargo has lately been shipped to Virginia. Indeed it is said this is the first cargo sent there, at least for very many years. A cargo of Antigua molasses has also been sent there. The United States demand is said to be due to a snortage in the New Orleans crop. Another notable fact is that Antigua molasses is today quoted higher than Barbados, which has seldom if ever been the case before. Late cables from Barbados say the market there is firm.
> Coming now to Porto Rico, that market is a cent higher than it was a month ago, of the port of Ponce, which last year exceeded 8,000 hogsheads. This year we are onvinced 4,000 will not be reached, or alling off of 50 per cent; while at Mayaguez, which last year exported 5,000 hogs-heads, this season's output will scarcely come up to 1,000, a difference of 80 per cent. There are now alone left the ports of Fajardo, Humacao and Arroyo, the ex ports from which we are unable to report rith exactitude; but with regard to Ar with exactitude; but with regard to Arroyo the conditions applicable to Ponce also rule there. To be more lucid, the canes are ground in centrals, lately inaugurated there, so that the decrease from this port will be more or less on the same scale as from Mayaguez and Ponce. We are to our regret unable to give you any figures with reference to Humacao and Fajardo, but we are inclined to believe that the decrease there will be at least 20 to 25 per cent."

THE STEAMER GRANVILLE.

The Fine Craft Which Will Ply Between St. Joh., and Bridgetown

The new steamboat Granville, built i John McGowan's shipyard, at Shelburne, says the Shelburne Gazette, is a fine example of that clever and conscientious craftmanship which has earned for Shelburne. burne its reputation as one of the best ship building ports of the province. She is the largest steam-propelled craft yet built here, and being designed to accommodate quite a number of passengers, ifitted in fine style. Besides the main an men's cabin, she has a ladies' cabi smoking room, and a number of staterooms. All her interior accommodations are finished with polished hardwood, and present a natty-looking aspect.

The new boat will register about 160 The new boat will register about 160 tons, gross. Her dimensions are: Length over all, 107 feet; breadth of beam, 20 feet; depth of hold, 9 feet. The appearance of her underbody, with its easy lines, suggests possibilities of considerable speed, though we understand the engines with which it is proposed to equip her are not sufficiently powerful to propel a boat of her tonnage at her best speed. Our master builder, Winslow McKay, designed the model and superintended her construction.

The Granville will be employed in the freight and passenger service between St. John (N.B.), and Bridgetown and other ponts of Annapolis Basin, a service which now affords employment to five or six schooners. Captain Collins, who will take charge of her, has been in town during the past week and expresses himself well pleased with his new command. It is interesting no note that she is the third steamer that Mr. McGowan has built for the same company, a fact which testifies to the satisfactory character of Shelburne workmanship. ponts of Annapolis Basin, a service while

The Apple Business.

A. D. Welton, the Port Williams fruit dealer, is in the city, says the Halifax Her-ald, looking after the shipment of 10,030 land to come down from the Annapol Valley yet, and that the total shipmen this year will be about 400,000 barre's nearly all of which amount has been for warded via Halifax. Mr. Welton estimates that, taking the home market figures into consideration more than a half million barrels of mer-chantable apples were harvested in the valley last autumn, which averaged $2.75 a barrel. The outlook for this year, he said is excellent. The snow, which came on early in the winter, remained, protecting the roots, and as a result the trees are already beginning to out foutly the roots. are already beginning to put forth strong, hardy buds.

Burnett, was also another of the fortunate passengers who escaped possible injury in the wreck which occurred near Chaplin, by her remaining in this city over Sunday. After leaving Sussex, Miss Burnett became ill, and was compelled to remain over at Montreal for some days, where her physician, as well as her father, Dr. Burnett, advised her to take a direct journey to Vancouver, notwithstanding which she stopped over at Moose Jaw."

Mr. Osman rose to a question of privilege as chairman of the committee on public accounts and said:—

In the Sun of today in a report of the proceedings of the public accounts committee was found the following statement: "Kent county bridges received $718.35 but examination showed that a large portion of this expenditure was paid the caretakers while very little went for repairs to the bridges themselves."

This was a very unfair report. The total sum expended on bridges in the county of Kent during the year was $718.35. The sum of $100 was paid for caretaking on the Rexton bridge to Pascal Hebert, who had to attend to the draw on that bridge. The impression sought to be conveyed by the report was that very little had been expended on the bridges of Kent but as a matter of fact the expenditure on permanent bridges in Kent county during the year 1903 was $8,194.28. Reporters who were admitted to attend the meetings of the committees should endeavor to tell the truth.

Mr. Copp rose to correct a report which appeared in the Moncton Times in regard to his attitude towards the fourth section of the Moncton bill.

The facts were that when the bill was before the committee he and Mr. Legere opposed the section as was originally drawn but after a conference with Mr. Chandler an amendment was drafted to which they agreed. But when the committee met again another member of the committee moved that this amendment be struck out and this was done.

All the remaining sections of the bill were passed.

A section was passed making road superintendents commissioners under the labor act. This will do away with all present labor act commissioners. There was also a section passed authorizing the government to appoint inspectors of wooden bridges not to exceed ten in number; also three inspectors of masonry and one inspectors will receive salaries. Hon, Mr. Labillois said that much better results would be obtained by having regularly trained inspectors. At present there were

Methods--Quite a Revolution-

Halifax Tuesday. While in Amherst she was stenographer for Mr. Simms Lee. She made many friends here who deeply regret her departure.

Miss Elsie Townshend has returned home after spending a few days with friends in Sackville.

The question that seems to be agitating the people of Amherst is a name for the new hospital. The hospital aid society has been very successful so far, and though there was much illness among its members, including Mrs. George Christie and Mrs. B. C. Munro, who have not been able to assist, otherwise the society has handed money to the treasurer, so the good work still goes on. The society will furnish two wards and give about $300 worth of household linen and furnish the operating room at a cost of $900. The society is deserving of all possible encouragement.

Mrs. Stewart Jenks and H. J. Halifax Tuesday. While in Amherst she Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Jenks and H. J. Logan, M. P., went to Springhill Wednesday to attend the wedding of Mr. J. Frank Outhit, of Parrsboro, to Miss Jennie Lambert, of Springhill.

New Franchise Act-

Fredericton, March 31-(Special)-The nunicipalities committee by a vote of 10 to 9 this afternoon voted to give the fran chise in St. John civic elections to all tax-payers who were only one year in arrears.

There were three propositions before the municipalities committee. One was that a were attending the Lambert-Authit wedding at Springaill, on Wednesday, returned home today.

Mr. J. E. Lusby and his two daughters,
Audrey and Minnie, left today for to spend the Easter holidays with friends in plebiscite be taken in St. John on the question of allowing franchise without payment of taxes. There was also a proposition not to disfranchise a ratepayer unless he is more than one year in arrears of taxes. The third proposal was that a ratepayer be not disfranchised unless three years in arrears.

Attorney General Orders Investigation Into Miss Duncan's Death.

Fredericton, N. B., April 1—(Special)—
The authorities have reason to believe that Mary J. Duncan, a domestic employed by Dr. L. W. Bailey, who died rather unexpectedly on Wednesday came to her death as a result of a criminal operation.

She belonged to Lower Pokiok, parish of Prince William, and the body was taken there yesterday morning for burial. This parning Coroner McNally, Dr. McGrath and Detective Roberts left for Lower Pokiok armed with authority from the attorney general to take charge of the body and hold a post portem examination and Desperate Work at Port Arthur. London, April 1.—A correspondent of the Times, at sea, in a wireless telegram via Wei-Hai-Wei describing the last at-tempt of the Japanese to bottle up Port Arthur, says:—

Vice-Admiral Togo waited until better weather before again attempting to bottle up Port Arthur. The officers who conducted the first attempt insisted upon their right to complete their work. The admiral consented and the same officers were rosen, but the crews and stokers were The moon disappeared at midnight and the sea was like glass when the desperate enterprise was begun. When within two miles of the goal the frenzied motions of a searchlight showed that suspicion had been authorised and suddenly activated to the morning session the prisoners, elected from new volunteers. been awakened and suddenly a solitary gun announced that the Japanese had been discovered. The Russians sprang to minutes the Japanese craft were enclose in a semi-circle of gun flashes.

"It was just 1.30 in the morning when the Chiyo Maru led towards the east side of the entrance. The fuses were set and the crew pushed off just in time. The charge exploded, sinking her 100 yards from a point on the east side of the entrance.

" "The Fukui Maru next passed on the port side of the Chiyo Maru and dropped anchor. Just as the officers and crew oushed clear there was a dull explosion She had been struck and sunk in the exact place which the Japanese desired, by a torpedo from within the harbor. "So close were the defending destroyers that the Yonayama Maru was fouled corched by the flame of the discharge rom a Russian six pounder.

"The Japanese kept their presence of mind throughout and their steadiness was hown by the fact that before she had been fouled by the destroyer the Yonoya ma Maru passed to starboard of the Chiyo Maru and then between her and the Fukui Maru and reached the centre of the hannel where she was hit by a torpedo which sunk her on the west side of the channel, her bow pointing toward the shore. None of the crews on the transport was drowned.

The enterprise failed to block the channel completely, because there were only four transports. It is believed, however, practicable for the large battleships, and rest until the channel has been closed.'

Most of the Wretched Beings From Babes to 84 Years Old Are County Charges and are Given a Miserable Pittarce to Keep Body and Soul Together -S. P. C. A. Interested.

The Amherst Telegram of Saturday The officers of the S. P. C., in Halifax on Thursday, received word from a gentle man living in this county that there was a terrible case of sickness, destitution and suffering at the village of Maccan, a few miles from Amheret. The officials of that society at once communicated with Amherst, and requested that the facts of the case be at once investigated. A representative was sent down on Thursday and the conditions of affairs as he found them is shocking in the extreme. The case is probably the worst in the history of Nova Scotia, and it is indeed surprising that such a state of affairs could run along for such a space of time. All through the past uch a space of time. All through the pas winter, with the heavy snows and biting cold, seven human beings ranging in age cold, seven human beings ranging in age from one to eighty-four years, have been crowded together in a wretched three roem hovel, sick, cold, hungry and filthy. DIES FROM INJURIES,

Wm. Daley of Albert Jumped from Maritime Express and Fell on mead.

Accident Took Place at Moncton Station on Friday Night and Man Died Saturday ... Inquest to Be Held.

Moneton, N. B., April 3-(Special)-Wilian: Daley, aged thirty-three years, belonging to Albert, Albert county, who was picked up in Moncton I. C. R. yard Fri-day night in an unconscious condition, died Saturday afternoon in the hospital, Daley regained consciousness Saturday and stated that he fell off the train and re ceived the injuries which caused his death.

When found he had a bad cut in the head, and was badly bruised about the face. It seems he was on the Maritime express riday night seeing D etor Carnwath and Joseph Carnwath, of Riverside, off to Montreal, where the latter was being taken for an operation. Before he started to get off the train it had got up quite a speed, nd was nearly 200 yards from the depot. It is supposed he was getting off and fell, striking his head against the rail and sleepers. Deceased had been about Moneton all Friday.

Coroner Purdy empanelled a jury Saturday night, and will hold an inquest. The ody will be taken to Albert tomorrow

Sunday morning. Conductor Wilbur had a clear line to St. John, and was being followed, about twenty minutes later by a train of a dozen cars containing im-migrants, who disembarked at Halifax, from the Allan liner Bavarian.

At 9.45 o'clock Sunday morning, Conductor Wilbur's special passed Rothesay station. He was scated in the cupola of his van when the train passed the sta-

Suddenly, about 500 yards west of the platform Conductor Wilbur saw his train go to pieces. There was not very much of a shock. The engine and a box car attached kept the rails, then nineteen cars began to dance. They plunged and reared like frightened steers; two of the first calls to leave the rails plunged over on ow side, to the right of the roadbed and clear of the track. Then came ten more carloads of cattle. The first of this ten left the rails and at right angles shot to the side of the roadbed and through the wire fencing. The nine others with cattle followed suite. All left at right angles and lined up side by side like horses in a stable.

son liner and sent to Glasgow, to be slaughtered for the Scotch market.

Mr. Sterm was anxious to have cars brought from the city, the cattle loaded into them and taken on their journey, but the F. C. R. officials wanted to get the immigrant special through, and when this was done the chance of reloading the stock would be good. The cattle were being fed by the men who accompanied them.

According to actual count there were fifty head of cattle destroyed. These are estimated to be worth from $60 to $70 per head, so that the cattle loss at all events amounts to the vicinity of $3,500.

Next to a dozen cars of live stock were cars of miscellaneous freight. First came box cars laden with coal, then a car of rolled tar paper and casks of oil, then two cars of sugar and one car of of steel billets. These heavily laden cars crushed the frail cattle cars together and all were jammed into a mass of broken wood. Only one car, that loaded with coal, telescoped to any extent, and it was high in the air, piked on top of another broken car of coal. In the rear of the derailed and demolished cars were six freights, a van and a ished cars were six freights, a van and passenger car containing the dozen cating getting a complete picture of the wreck, tlemen, who were looking after the stock.

These cars were not damaged and held to cars.

The wreck is the worst seen in years in this province and it all happened within a few moments. For those few who saw the accident the scene was awful. As the cars crashed upon each other, the sounds of breaking of wood, and overturning freight, were belittled by the death cries of cattle, the bellowing of injured bullocks, and the frightened cries of the stock. It made a horrible medley and the scene was one of wild disorder. To the right of the track, about twenty-five yards Wrecking Crew's Good Work, right of the track, about twenty-five yar away, two bullocks, which escaped in some miraculous manner, were bellowing in their fright. How they got clear of the wreckage and gained such a safe place within a couple of minutes, is a Immigrants Help the Cattlemen.

The cattlemen on the train hastened to The cattlemen on the train hastened to work in saving as many of the 200 head of cattle as they could. The danger signal was put out by Conductor Wilbur for the special train load of immigrants that was only 20 minutes following. This train was brought to safe standstill at the Rothesay station and, hearing of the wreck, only a few yards ahead, the sturdy Britishers hastened from their cars and Britishers hastened from their cars and greatly aided the cattlemen in getting the uninjured stock from the overturned and crushed cars.

The cries of the suffering and injured bullocks were wild, while the bellowing of the other cattle was in seeming sympathy with their more unfortunate brothers. The sights that met the view of the rescuers were sickening. In one place a dozen head of cattle were crushed into almost a head of cattle were crushed into almost a pulp. Last fall certain enterprising citizens of Parrsboro purchased and imported the steamer Kilkeel. She was at that time a straunch, strong, speedy, litle boat, fitted entirely for the carrying of freight, but with no passengesr accommodations. During the last month she has been laid up and has been altered to give excellent accommodations for about fifteen passe

The afterhouse has been fitted up as a peat little cabin to have eight berths and eitting and dining accommodations. Engineers quarters have been provided off the engine room, and a most excellent galley has been constructed in the fore part of the

This boat is now one of the fastest, trimmest and most comfortable little steamers that plies in the bay. Her owners have about completed arrangements for her summer's running. We are informed she is to make a weekly round trip between St. John, Parrsboro, Windsor and return touching at necessary intermediate ports. At Windsor she will connect with the trains of the Midland railway, and at Parreboro with trains on our own road as nearly as the tides will allow. During the remaining part of the week she will run from St. John to Amherst and return calling at intermediate ports.-Parrsbor

Mary A. Troop:—
"It will perhaps interest your readers to hear that on my way back from Jamaica on board the Elder-Demoster liner Port Royal, I passed in mid-Atlantic a St. John ship lying water-logged and abandoned by her crew.
"She was a complete wreek, only the foremast with the yardarm hanging to it. All the bulwarks were gone, but a tattered flag, which had been rigged up on a jurymast as a signal of distress, attached to the corner of the cabin, was still inwith rather sad hearts, not knowing wha had been the fate of the crew.

"I made inquiries at Lloyds immediately on my arrival here and was rejoiced to find that her people were taken off by the steamer Cairnisia and landed at St Michael, Azores, on the 14th inst. It was at 8 a. m. on the 8th inst. that we passed the wreck. You may imagine my surprise when we got up to the derelict to find that she was a vessel hailing from New Brunswick, namely the Mary Ann Troop, 1,118 tons. Your nautical friends may be interested to know that when seen by us she was in latitude 34.07 N., longitude 58.87 W., which placed her 333 miles from Bermuda, northeast of that island.

"I find on inquiry that she had left Pensacola with timber for Rio Janeiro on or two to learn particulars as to the fate of the crew and whether they were all
