Greeting.

TO all students of Old McGill, greeting. The Young Men's Christian Association of McGill University takes pleasure in extending a hearty welcome to the new students and a cordial invitation to all-new and old-to avail themselves of the privileges of the Association Building, No. 844 Sherbrooke St. If those who are coming to the city as strangers, will kindly write the General Secretary, giving the time and train by which they expect to arrive, members of the Association will be pleased to meet them at the station and be of any service possible.

BEVALS SERVICE 14 Y 4 C.4

Che Student and the McGill Y. M.C. A.

My DEAR FRIEND :

Are you a Freshman or new Student, not having as yet given any anxious or careful thoughts to your spiritual state, and your_ relations to the salvation offered by our Divine Redeemer ? If so, Christ's great invitation-"Seek first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness,"-that is, His pardoning and justifying grace, and the holiness of character which comes of the working of His spirit in the renewed heart,-this should have your first thought in your present new position, where you will have new surroundings, new companions, new temptations, and where every day of delay may remove you further from the great change which trust in Christ will effect. Every hour's delay here is dangerous. There are, it is true, many means of grace open to you, the preaching of the Gospel in the different Churches, and by evangelists ; the reading of the scriptures ; meditation and prayer ; but I may truly say that none of these claim earlier attention than the Y.M.C.A., one function of which is to attract your attention to all other means of spiritual enlightenment and growth.

But perhaps you are already a Christian, and desirous of growing in the Christian life. If so, the call is still quite as urgent, for you have not only the will of your Saviour to consult, but probably also the kind wishes and prayers of loving Christian friends at home; and you are in a position at once to make a new advance in your Christian life by becoming an active member of the Association, and thus making your influence for good felt, as well as further promoting your own spiritual life by all the various means provided by the Association.

Christian, stian life. it, for you aviour to vishes and at home ; to make a becoming , and thus as well as ual life by the Association. You will also enjoy the comfort and strength which proceed from the society of kindred minds aiding each other in love and in good works. They can introduce you to the best friends among your fellow-students; and you will find very helpful their meetings for prayer and praise, and mutual encouragement, their Bible-classes, their library and reading-room, their connection with student missionary bands in Canada and elsewhere. You will also have increased opportunities for personal influence among your fellow-students, and to those members and friends of the University other than students, who take an interest in your higher welfare.

But Christ in His invitation to seek first the Kingdom of God, recognizes the fact that there are other things to be sought, things necessary or desirable in our life here; and He goes on to say "all these things shall be added unto you." You have come to the University for education in literature and science, or for training in the knowledge and skill required for a useful profession. Now we have the sure promise that if we seek first the spiritual life, God will so bless our earnest endeavors after the things really good in this life that we may seek after, or need. You may therefore reckon that, with God's blessing, any time you may devote to the Y.M.C.A., will be more than made up to you, and that now as in time past, the godly student will be the most successful in his College career. I would here say, that as your progress in education is your chief duty as a student, you may confidently ask God for His blessing on your conscientious efforts ; and also on the air and exercise necessary to keep up your strength for this purpose. The Y.M.C.A. also undertakes to aid you in this, one of its mottoes being, "Mens sana in corpore sano."

To sum up the whole matter, I earnestly advise every student at once to join the Y.M.C.A. for his own sake, for the sake of his fellow-students, and for Christ's sake ; as well as for the sake of the University, and for the satisfaction and happiness of all-your Christian friends and relations everywhere. "Them that honor me, I will honor," is a divine promise that will never fail. Your sincere well-wisher,

Identify yourself with the religious life of the University by joining the Association.

Study the calendar.

Consult the list of boarding houses at the General Secretary's Office, Association Building.

Do not buy books until you are sure you will need them. You will find them advertised second-hand on the bulletin boards. Don't take your notes on scraps of paper. Buy good note books.

Don't get up your college work on Sunday. You can't do as much work in seven days a week as you can in six.

Subscribe for the College paper.

Watch the various bulletins, as notices of importance are constantly being posted.

You will never have the same opportunity of influencing others for good as you have while at College. Use it.

Be a University rather than a faculty man.

Keep up with your work. When once behind you cannot catch up:

New students are urged to connect themselves with the college societies. By doing this they will not only derive the benefits which the different societies aim to confer, but will get to know students of other years and other faculties.

Do not treat the men collecting subscriptions or College societies or other objects, as public enemies,' but rather lighten their work by subscribing as often and as promptly as you possibly can.

It is the duty of every student to support in every way he can all the athletic interests of the University. If you are in doubt about any matter do not hesitate to ask a Professor or Senior Student; they will always be glad to give you any advice or assistance, and it may save you much trouble and annoyance later on to be set right at the beginning of the session.

BEFORE MAKING PURCHASES REFER TO OUR ADVERTISEMENTS, and patronize as far as possible those whose ads. appear there, mentioning this hand-book.

The General Secretary desires to be considered the friend of every student. His office hours will be announced at the beginning of the session.

Take every opportunity of improving yourself socially; your studies will not suffer for an occasional evening spent in social intercourse.

The importance of taking good healthy exercise cannot be too strongly impressed upon all. Make inquiries and find out what sports are engaged in; then choose what suits you. We would put in a strong plea for the gymnasium; three to five hours spent in it every week will repay any student. Remember "Mens sana in corpore sano."

Have your letters addressed to the Faculty which you intend to enter.

Register your name and address at the Association office.

Gowns may be obtained from the Janitors of the various buildings.

¹ COLLEGE YELL-M-C-G-I-L-L. What's the matter with old McGill, she's all right, oh yes, you bet !!!

You can get nearly all your books secondhand by referring to the notice board.

Take your own notes on all the subjects and revise them at least once a week.

If you are a Theological student be sure and join in the class scraps and don't wear a white tie.

This is distinctively a college organization, including in its membership men of every department in the University. It extends the privilege of a religious influence, non-sectarian in nature and profession. It seeks to develop a Christian character at once broad and true, and hence will commend itself to the thoughtful student.

Membership.

Any man of good moral character, either student or member of the Faculty, may become a member on payment of a minimum fee of $1.00 and after election at the semi-annual meeting by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

The Active membership is composed of men of the above standing who are members of an Evangelical church. Others rank as Associate members.

Meetings.

During the session of 1900-01, the religious meetings of the Association will include a course of addresses on Sunday afternoons from 3 to 4 o'clock, by prominent members of the University and friends from the city, on subjects of a practical character.

Bible Study.

Classes will be formed in the various faculties at the opening of the session, under the following arrangement : Second, third and fourth years of each faculty will take up a course in the Acts and Epistles. The first year will study the life of Christ from the Gospels.

Rugby Football Club.

This is at once one of the most popular and most prosperous of the various athletic organizations in the college. It embraces three teams, known as the senior, intermediate, and junior, respectively, besides the various faculty and year teams. Practice begins on the college campus about Sept. 15th, but it is hoped and expected that all who intend to play will endeavor to get into condition prior to that date.

It is necessary to obtain a certificate from the Physical Director at the College Gym. before beginning practice.

R. TAIT MCKENZIE, B.A., M.D.

Every man on coming to McGill should undertake a regular course of exercise. If likely to take part in Athletics or Football, get your measurements and certificate from the Director as soon as possible after entering college and thus save trouble and delay later on. (See regulations in Calendar.) To many, Football and Hockey have certain disadvantages which prevent them from being followed systematically enough to do any good. To such men we would specially recommend regular work in the gymnasium (19 University street). The class meets three times a week at 5 p.m., and the work is so arranged that three-quarters of an hour at least of vigorous all-round work can be had without the risk of over-exertion.

The best way to get a new gymnasium on the College grounds is to show that the old one is appreciated.

Make the gymnasium hour fill a place on your time-table like any lecture and you will find it an hour gained.

Don't be afraid to make the Director your confidante in all matters pertaining to your physical life. He can help you in many difficulties and will always be found glad to do so.

Be regular in your attendance that you may graduate a better man physically, as well as morally and intellectually, than when you entered college life. (R
