TOWN COUNCIL

Fees for Circus License
Increased

THE JURY'S VERDICT

Strongly Censures Sale of Cheap Firearms
Minors

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening. His Worship the Mayor, Murray and Couns. Doherty, Mowat, McLean, Jardine and McLennan in attendance.

The clerk read a communication from Archibald McKenzie, calling attention to alleged encroachment on his property on corner of Union Terrace and Athol St., and asking that rods be placed along street bank or other means used to prevent further inroads on the property.

The matter was referred to Public Property and St. Com.

Some accounts were passed.

Coun McLean brought up the matter of a public park. He had been interviewing some persons with the view of obtaining an option on a site. Mr. D. W. Doherty would be willing to lease a part of his farm or would sell the whole of it. Coun McLean thought the price asked rather high. He had been in conversation with Mr. McDonald in regard to securing a piece of the McMillan property, but Mr. Trueman of St. John was away from home and nothing definite could be obtained until he returned.

The matter was left in the hands of the committee.

The Council went into Committee of the whole for the consideration of bye-laws. Coun Doherty in the chair.

On resuming business, a by-law amending the by-law relating to exhibition licenses was passed whereby the rate per day for circuses was made from $50.00 to $100, and for sideshows from $10 to $50.

A by-law amending the water by-law was passed. This by-law provides that in all future contracts with the town for water service the town shall have the right to shut off the water at any time to maintain the efficiency of the water system for domestic and fire purposes. Water can be supplied to parties outside the town limits, subject to above conditions.

The revised by-law relating to Government of the Council, Rules of Order, etc., were reported favorably and passed a second reading.

SMALLPOX AT TRACADIE

Chatham, N. B., June 3.—A case of smallpox has been discovered in a French family at Tracadie and Dr. Lozier has ordered the quarantining of the house. Some days ago Dr. Meighen attended the family, which was suffering from skin eruption and at the time it appeared to be chickenpox. Later on Dr. Lozier was called in and he at once declared three members of the family—the mother and two daughters—were suffering from smallpox, and he had the premises quarantined. He also notified E. A. Strang, chairman, of the Board of Health for Chatham, as one of the family had come here about two weeks previous to the symptoms of the disease and was working in the Riverview Hotel.

FISH AND GAME

New Association Formed
For Protective Purposes

The following sentences from a circular letter sent out by the promoters of the proposed Fish and Game Protective Association are self explanatory:

Fredericton, June 1.—At a meeting of a number of gentlemen on the twenty-seventh, ultimo, it was decided to organize a Fish and Game Protective Association for this province, and the secretary was instructed to address a circular letter to the leading sportsmen of the province asking their support in the formation of the club.

In a letter as short as this must be, it is impossible to set out the great advantages which such an association would be, not only to the sportsmen but to the province at large.

The Miramichi and St. John Rivers especially have been spoiled and nearly ruined for fishing purposes by the illegal netting and fishing carried on openly and with absolutely no regard, either to the law of the land or to the unwritten law of sportsmen.

It will be the endeavor of the association to stop this poaching and netting by such means as may seem most efficacious.

Prosecutions will be carried on and complaints from each locality heard and passed upon by the general committee.

Associations, such as this, have met with success, in other provinces of Canada, and in some of the United States, and have proved of immense benefit to the country.

At the meeting before mentioned it was decided to call another meeting to be held at the Queen Hotel, Fredericton, on June 12th at 8 o'clock, at which your attendance is respectfully requested.

Our plans for the future have not been formulated except in a general way.

It has been suggested that the annual dues be not more than two dollars. That in addition to the usual officers there be a general committee and local committee in such towns as may be decided upon.

We should impress upon you that this club is not local in any sense but is for the benefit of the provincial rivers generally.

DEATH OF MR P A PERRON

The many friends of Mr P. A. Perron, resident engineer of the Department of public works, in Bonaventure County and formerly resident of Campbellton well learn with regret of his death which occurred at the hospital in Montreal on May 28th. The cause of his death by Cerebral Meningitis. He was taken ill at Ottawa and died within a fortnight. Mr Marcell M P was present at his bedside and attended the removal of the remains to the maritime express last Thursday. The funeral took place at Maria where his widow and children reside. The deceased was 50 years of age. He was well known throughout Bonaventure having been connected with the building of the B. C. R., and the various public works there.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

15 Year-old boy Shot by his brother

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

Strongly censures sale of Cheap firearms to minors

A terrible tragic event occurred in New Carlisle on the last day of May, when Joseph Ernest Belanger aged 15 years died from a bullet wound, only surviving about four hours after the fatal bullet entered the abdomen. The younger brother, John Belanger, who had the rifle in his hands at the time of the fatal accident, was 12 years and 6 months.

INQUEST AND VERDICT JUNE 1ST.

"We, the sworn jurymen, at an inquest held at New Carlisle, on the first day of June, 1907, find that the deceased, Joseph Ernest Belanger came to his death on the thirty-first day of May, 1907, at New Carlisle, in the County of Bonaventure, from the effect of a bullet wound, the bullet entering the abdomen and causing internal hemorrhage, which led to death.

"We also find that the death-dealing bullet was discharged from a rifle in the hands of a younger brother, John Belanger, but we do not think that blame should be attached to him, as the action of the rifle was faulty thus causing it to be prematurely discharged in the process of putting down the lever.

"We further state that we are strongly of the opinion that the sale of cheap firearms to minors should be prohibited.

"We also consider that more frequent and widespread warning should be given by the Public Press parents and guardians of minors to the danger of permitting boys

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is not a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of the now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, above brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, flatulence, heartburn, and indigestion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Take one or two doses and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

DRUNKENNESS IS DUE TO BAD COOKING

Mrs Clarence Burns, President of Little Mothers, Raps Bad Cooks

Bad cooking was denounced as the chief source of most of the tenement social evils by Mrs. Clarence Burns. Little Mothers, who are taught how Association, in addressing a meeting of the Home Economics Association.

"Much of the disease, divorce and drunkenness of our tenement life is due to 'poor cooking,' said Mrs. Burns, who has carried an untiring and remarkable successful personal campaign for improved conditions into New York's tenement houses.

"In my years of work among the Little Mothers who are taught how to make good wholesome food, as well as instructed in other household arts, I have noticed the most pleasant results in their home conditions, temperaments and life," she said. "If the W. C. T. U. would open cooking classes through out the land, in addition to their other good work, they would do much to hasten the doom of drunkenness," said Mrs. Burns. "I believe there is no class of girls who know less about house keeping, and especially cooking, than the tenement house girls of all large cities.

"One of the most pathetic things I have noticed in the tenements is the utter helplessness of many mothers in knowing how to care for their little ones. I have seen children one year old sipping beer and eating sausage, while scores of infants, nine and ten months old are permitted, even encouraged in the drinking of tea and coffee. They are allowed to eat pickles or anything they want. The husbands fare little better, because the woman do not know how to prepare the proper kind of wholesome food.

"It is not surprising then to find three or four saloons in every block of many districts, patronized most liberally. It stands to reason that if the system is not kept well-nourished by proper food it will crave stimulants. A laborer who gives to work on a scant and badly prepared breakfast, will patronize the first free lunch counter he sees, for his lunch and with it several drinks.

"A great mistake is made by many cooking classes that teach how to make such impractical concoctions as cream puffs, iced jellies and other dainties not at all in keeping with the intent and purpose of the young women being so educated. What we aim to teach our Little Mothers is how to buy food and to cook practical dishes, such as making good wholesome soups, corn bread, puddings—and to use chocolate instead of so much tea and coffee for the children. Besides we furnish the children with typewritten recipes for the articles.

"The terrible condition of our tenements as well as bad cooking have driven men and women both to drink, and it is not surprising when you know just how bad they are. Of course in other classes of society where drink is prevalent there is another reason. The drinking habit here is largely confined to useless members of society who do nothing but kill time in trying to spend hard-earned fortune."—New York World.

Every man his own Doctor

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowels complaints. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of these five preparations cost but $1.25. For sale by all Druggists.

High Trousers, few Brains.

Cleveland, May 20.—W. H. Elson, superintendent of instruction in the Cleveland public schools, was asked tonight about the flashy socks, shirts and neckties affected by many of the high school boys, and the custom of taking rests in the bottom of the trousers.

"Yes, I know," he replied. "I have been wondering whether all this is a necessary adjunct to the curriculum. I sometimes think that a shirt with a high collar and department runs to hose instead of canvas.

"I am of the opinion that in most cases there is a law which governs the length of one's trousers. It may be stated in a general way as: The higher the trousers the fewer the brains."

Do not neglect the children

At this season of the year the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels is likely to have immediate attention. The best thing that can be given is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by castor oil as directed with each bottle of the remedy. For sale by all Druggists.

WOMEN BRAVER THAN THE MEN.

New York, June 3.—Captain J. Kock, leader of the famous Finnish Red Guards, the revolutionary militia of Finland, although searched for by the secret police of Russia, is over Europe, arrived here and is staying with friends, says the World today.

There is a price of many thousand roubles on his head, but Captain Kock declares he will continue his work for the liberation of Finland and that uprisings greater and more terrible than those of the past will confront the Russian Government. The Finnish Red Guards consists of 10,000 men and 5,000 women, all armed with the latest model Mauser rifles, well drilled and capable of being mobilized at a moment's notice.

In an interview Captain Kock said: "The best soldiers in my army were the women. I had a division of women led by women officers and they did splendid service and were sometimes braver than the men. I rejoice to think of my women troops. They were the best shots and runners. The women soldiers in the Red Guards were the working women, domestic servants and peasant girls. We had a strong army which was excellently adapted to secretly equipped."

In telling how his country was relieved of Russian oppression by a general strike and without bloodshed Captain Kock said: "We disarmed the Russian police and soldiery and banished them from our country. The women played a most important part in this work. Our women are great and brave."

SCOTTISH HERRING CUR-ING EXPERIMENT

OTTAWA, May 31.—Notwithstanding the controversy carried on amongst firms interested in the Maritime Province fisheries, unfavorable as well as very favorable opinions being expressed by reliable parties, the government decided to continue the work begun by Mr. Cowie, the Scottish herring expert, in 1903 and during the present three different herring centres on the Atlantic coast will be visited by Mr. Cowie and his staff.

Mr. Cowie arrived in Halifax from Scotland on April 21st, and immediately arranged to commence operations at the Magdalen Islands. The backward season has greatly impeded the work, at during the next three weeks, (until the third week in June), the schools of spring herring which abound around the Magdalen will be cured by the Scottish method. Latter, at the end of June, the staff will move to the Gaspé shore, and near Percé will cure and barrel a sample pack of the large fat herring which come ashore at that time a year. In September and October, Grand Manan will be the centre of operations and the local fishermen will be relied upon to supply the herring for the test. The Fisheries Department have arranged that Mr. Cowie shall visit local packing establishments all along the coast wherever desired. He will be present when the local employees are cleaning, salting and barreling the herring, and he will give hints during the work with a view of producing the best herring required by the great markets.

As far as possible, he will supervise the work as the herring curers who desire expert assistance.

his men. Crouching beneath him he had a disabled native who loaded each rifle
in turn, and just by way of encouraging the others he picked off the prominent men outside the stockade with a deadly steadiness.

If Joseph detected anything like cowardice or carelessness, he pointed his rifle with a threatening frown toward the culprit, with instant effect.
Presently, however, things began to change. By sunrise he was of the sudden assault of a single chief, but an organized attack. Before long Joseph ceased to smile. By sunrise he was of the roof running from one weak point to another, encouraging, threatening, fighting and swearing very hard. More than once the enemy reached the stockade, and on one sign, one or two of their dead lay inside the defense.

He was everywhere at once urging on his men, kicking them, pushing them, forcing them up to the stockade.
But he saw the end. Half dazed, the blacks fought on in silence.
In the midst of it a hand was laid on Joseph's shoulder.

"There!" cried a voice, "that corner.
See to it!"

Without looking round, Joseph obeyed, and the breached corner was saved. He only knew that his matter, who was almost dead, had come to life again. There was no time for anything else.

For half an hour it was a question of any moment. Master and man were for the time being nothing better than madmen, and the fighting frenzy is wildly infectious.

At last there was a pause. The enemy fell back and in the momentary silence the sound of distant firing reached the ears of the little band of defenders.

"What's that?" asked Meredith sharply. He looked like one risen from the dead.

"Fighting among themselves," replied Joseph, who was wiping blood and grime from his eyes.

"Then one of them is fighting with an express rifle."

Joseph listened.

"By heaven!" he shouted. "By heaven, Mer—sir, we're saved!"

The enemy had apparently heard the shot. Perhaps they also recognized the peculiar sharp crack of the express rifle amid the others. There was a fresh attack—an ugly rush of "hellish" men. But the news soon spread that there was firing in the kitchen and the sound of a white man's rifle. The little garrison plucked up heart, and the rifles, almost too hot to hold, dealt death around.

They held back the savages until the sound of the firing behind them was quite audible—even amid the heavy rattles of the musketry.

Then suddenly the firing ceased—the enemy had divided and fled. For a few moments there was a strange silence. Then a voice—an English voice—cried: "Come on!"

The next moment Guy Oscar stood on the edge of the plateau. He held up both arms as a signal to those within the stockade to cease firing, and then he came forward, followed by a number of blacks and Durnovo.

The gate was rapidly disencumbered
of its rough supports and thrown open.
Jack Meredith stood in the aperture,
holding out his hand.

"It's all right, it's all right," he said.
Oscar did not seem to take so cheerful a view of matters. He scrutinized Meredith's face with visible anxiety.

Then suddenly Jack lurched up against his rescuer, grabbing at him vaguely.

In a minute Oscar was supporting him back toward his tent.

"It's all right, you know," explained Jack Meredith very gravely; "I am a bit weak, that is all. I am hungry; haven't had anything to eat for some time, you know."

"Oh, yes," said Oscar shortly, "I know all about it."

CHAPTER XVII.

THREE days after the arrival of the rescuing force at the plateau Guy Oscar had organized a retreating party, commanded by Joseph, to convey Jack Meredith down to the coast. He knew enough of medicine to recognize the fact that this was no passing indisposition, but a thorough breakdown in health. The work and anxiety of the last year,
added to the strange disquieting breath of the slimy grove, had brought about a serious collapse in the system which only months of rest and freedom from care could repair.

Before the retreating column was ready to move, however, it was discovered that the hostile tribes had finally evacuated the country, which deliverance was brought about not by Oscar's blood stained track through the forest, not by the desperate defense of the plateau,
but by the whisper that Victor Dur-novo was with them. Truly a man's reputation is a strange thing!

And this man, the mighty warrior whose name was as good as an army in central Africa, went down on his knees one night to Guy Oscar, implored him to abandon the stimulating plateau, or at all events to allow him to go down to Loango with Meredith and Joseph.

"No," said Oscar. "Meredith held this place for us when he could have left it safely. He has held it for a year. It is our turn now. We will hold it for him. I am going to stay, and you have to stay with me."

For Jack Meredith this was at this time nothing but a constant, never ceasing fatigue. When Oscar helped him into the rough litter they had constructed for his comfort, he laid his head on the pillow, overcome with a dead sleep.

"Good old chap," said Oscar, patting him on the shoulder.

"Gby," and Jack Meredith turned over on his side as if he were in bed, drawn up the blanket and closed his eyes. He did not seem to know where he was, and what was worse, he did not seem to care. Oscar gave the signal to the bearers, and the march began.

There is something in the spring of human muscles unlike any other human power, the power of thought may be felt even on the pole of a litter, and one thing that modern invention can never equal is the comfort of being carried on the human shoulder.

The slow, swaying movement came to be part of Jack Meredith's life. Indeed, the life itself seemed to be nothing but a huge journey thus peacefully accomplished. Through the flapping curtains an endless procession of trees passed before his half-closed eyes. The uninter-mittible gabble of the light hearted bearers of his litter was all that reached his ears. And ever at his side was Joseph, cheerful, indefatigable, resourceful.

There was in his mind one of the greatest happinesses of life—the sense of something satisfactorily accomplished—the peacefulness of the unconscious, the necessity for effort is past and left behind—that lying down to rest which must surely be something like death in its kindest form.

The awe inspired by Victor Durnovo's name went before the little caravan like a moral convoy and cleared their path. Thus, guarded by the name of a man whom he hated, Jack Meredith was enabled to pass through a savage country literally cast upon a bed of sickness.

In due course the river was reached and the gentle swing of the litter was changed for the smoother motion of the canoe. And it was at this period of the journey, in the forced restfulness of body entitled that Joseph's mind seemed to his things to either be determined to write a letter to Sir John.

He was, he admitted to himself, no great penman, and his epistolary style tended, perhaps, more to the forcible than to the finished.

"Something," he reflected, "that'll just curl his back hair for 'im; that's what I'll write 'im."

Malta had been devastated, and it was within the roofless walls of Durnovo's house that Joseph finally wrote out laboriously the projected capillary invigorator.

Honored Sir [he wrote]—Trusting you will excuse the liberty I take up my pen to advise you something—while writing this word Joseph closed his left eye—that my master is taken seriously worse. Having been on the sick list now for a matter of five weeks, he just lies on his bed as weak as a newborn babe, as the saying is, and doesn't take no notice of nothing.
I have succeeded in bringing him down to the coast, which we hope to reach tomorrow, and when we get to Loango—a poor sort of place—shall at once obtain the best advice obtainable—that is to be had.
However, I may have to send for it, but money being no object to either master or me, respectfully beg to say that every care will be taken to hasten his recovery.
I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
JOSEPH GORDON.

"Here," said Meredith to his servant:
"you may as well read it for yourself."

He handed the letter to Joseph and leaned back with a strange rapidity of movement on the sofa. As he lay there with his eyes closed he looked remarkably like a dead man.

At that moment Marie came into the

Tired, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes—Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children—How Thousands of Mothers
Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involve; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly.

The fits of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nervous depression, "the blues," sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement
of the female organism.

Do you experience fits of depression with "restlessness," alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying?

Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound, pain in the abdominal region, and between the shoulders; bearing-down pains; nervous dyspepsia, and almost continually cross and snappy?

If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women can testify to this fact.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.
Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., writes:
"I have been a sufferer from nervous
debility for many years. My husband and I have no children. I have been suffering from nervous prostration, and I have no desire to live until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to get some relief. My recovery was slow but it was sure and I have never regretted the money spent for the Compound as it brought back my good health."

Women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine that holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of female ills, and take no substitute.

Free Advice to Women.
Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Ly-
dia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., writes:
"I have been a sufferer from nervous
debility for many years. My husband and I have no children. I have been suffering from nervous prostration, and I have no desire to live until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-
pound, and to get some relief. My recovery was slow but it was sure and I have never regretted the money spent for the Compound as it brought back my good health."

Marie bowed gravely. She went to Meredith's side and looked at him with a smile that was at once critical and encouraging. Nestorius, holding on her skirt, looked up to her face, and seeing the smile, smiled too. He went further. He turned round and smiled at Joseph as if to make things pleasant
all round.

Marie stooped over the sofa, and her clever dainty fingers moved the cushions.

"You will be better in bed," she said.
"I will get Mr. Gordon's room made ready for you—yes?" Then she turned to Joseph with that soft, smiling way which seems to run through his blood
however much it may be diluted.

"Hoop Mr. Meredith," she said, "to Mr. Gordon's room. I will get it once and see that the bed is got ready."

By daybreak next morning Joseph was at sea again, steaming south in a coasting boat toward St. Paul de Landa. He sent off a telegram to Maurice Gordon in England, announcing the success of the relief expedition, and then proceeded to secure the entire services of a medical man. With this youthful disciple of Aesculapius he returned forthwith to Loango and settled down with characteristic energy,
to nurse his master.

ANSLOW BROS., Publishers,
Campbellton, N. B. June 6 1907

That Northern New Brunswick is one of the best hunting and fishing resorts in America is a fact that is pretty well known to people throughout the length and breadth of Canada and the United States, but there are thousands of sportsmen and tourists who have not yet heard of this grand country. Five years ago the publishers of the Advocate issued an illustrated edition which had a large circulation and we have it from competent authorities that this was the means of inducing many parties to come to this section of the country to hunt big game.

This year we intend to issue an illustrated magazine containing well written stories of the hunters and tourists in Northern New Brunswick. These stories, besides being interesting, are true to life and are the very best class of literature to advertise our resources, both to the sportsman and tourist. This magazine will be entitled "Sport in the Mic-Mac Country" and besides a large local circulation, will be widely distributed throughout Upper Canada and the United States. Ten thousand copies will be issued.

Besides choice literature interesting articles on the situation, history, industries and resources of the North Shore towns will be illustrated.

As the cost of issuing such a magazine will be in the vicinity of one thousand dollars it is obvious to our readers that we will need the patronage and support of all our business men. This issue will be of great benefit to the whole North Shore. We ask the co-operation of all who have the interest of our town at heart.

HOLD ON TO THE INTERCOLONIAL.

The policy of the people of Nova Scotia, at least their wisest policy, is to hold on to the I. C. R. like grim death to his victims. The I. C. R. can handle all the freight offering so far between Nova Scotia and the West and can make such arrangements as may be necessary to do so in the future. To hand over one-half, may be more, of its freight from Halifax to St. John to the C. P. R. would deprive it of a good deal of its profits and would cripple its earning powers. The people of Nova Scotia were proud of Hon. Mr. Blair when he took the control of this part of the I. C. R. from the C. P. R. some years ago, and we believe it would be a bad day's work for one of Mr. Blair's successors to put the people's road again under that yoke. In a few years the I. C. R. must be prepared to take charge of the freight brought by the Grand Trunk Pacific to Moncton. In the meantime it had better be getting ready for that freight by double tracking and obtaining a supply of freight cars. Hold on to the I. C. R.—New Glasgow Eastern Chronicle.

BREWERY TACTICS.

Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, in the Wesleyan of the 22nd ult., writes that he has in his possession the original of a letter written by a brewer to one convicted of illegal sale in a Nova Scotia Scott Act County asking the latter (who at present is not engaged in the liquor business) to demand of the temperance leaders, their consent to an arrangement by which the importation and sale of a certain mild liquor called "Hopnada" would not be interfered with. The brewer threatens that, in case the temperance people should not agree to this compromise, he will bring in the organizer who, as he states, has already been the means of upsetting the Dunkin Act in two Quebec counties and the Scott Act in thirty-seven of Ontario to persuade the majority of the electors to declare for license. He declares he has some $225,000 invested in his brewery and cannot afford to see his business in Nova Scotia falling off. He says he is willing to pay $2,000 into a fund to fight the temperance people and adds that the Montreal and Toronto brewers and liquor dealers, who are thoroughly disgusted with Nova Scotia, have promised to join him for any amount he may wish them to subscribe. It does not appear that this honorable gentleman, who is licensed by the government to manufacture intoxicants, has any special desire to corrupt and ruin the manhood of nation, but is merely determined by any means in his power to realize a profitable dividend from the $225,000 he has invested.

As we have already stated, the element of private profit is the worst feature of the liquor business. To eliminate that, the national government must take over the direct manufacture, importation and sale of all intoxicants. So long as private parties are allowed to manufacture liquor they will find a way of selling it, legally or illegally. So long as private parties in prohibited territory (as doctors, druggists and other licensed vendors in Prince Edward Island and Scott Act Counties) are allowed to keep liquor for what is considered necessary use, no prohibition law will be effective. The sooner the churches and temperance societies wake up to this fact, the better for the temperance cause.

A SENSIBLE PLAN.

The Advent Baptists, Methodists, and Presbyterians of Hopewell Cape, N. B., have agreed to hold their services in the same building thus saving the expense of erecting heating and keeping in repair the two extra buildings that would otherwise be required. This is a wise move and might with great profit be initiated in many villages and towns of Canada and other countries. While much unnecessary expense can be saved by such a small measure of denominational co-operation, we see no good reason why the three sects above mentioned, along with many others, could not make up their minds not only to worship in the same house but to meet at the same time, uniting into one congregation and employing one pastor, and using the money and ministers thus dispensed with in building up the cause of Christianity in places where now there is neither church nor pastor. Before Christianity becomes the regenerative force it should and was designed to be, its professed followers must rise above all petty and hindering divisions and present a united front to the evil influences that are undermining the foundations of society.

I will mail you free to prove merit samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean stomach weakness always. And the Heart and Kidneys as well have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy claims to treat the "inside nerve". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free Book Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by A. M. G. McDonald.

BRITISH SEALER SEIZED SHE WAS FISHING DURING CLOSED SEASON

Washington, June 4. The secretary of treasury has received a telegram from Captain Sworth of the Revenue Cutter "Rush" stating that he had seized the British sealer schooner "Charcetta G. Cox" which was found illegally catching seals in fair weather ground off Alaska. The "Cox," it is said evidently was taking seals during the closed season within the area of the award in the article of the tribunal of arbitration agreed by the Governments of Great Britain and United States. She had 77 skins on board. The department has directed the commander of "Rush" to deliver the Cox to the British authorities at nearest port in British Columbia in accordance with the joint recommendations of the two Governments in case of seizure, the "Rush" also reported the presence of Japanese sealers in the same vicinity with a large number of seal skins on board. The Japanese sealers, however, are not subject to seizure outside of territorial waters.

Town and Country.

See new hats at Parisian going for hal price.

The cold easterly wind continues and there is frost nearly every night.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Duncan Chamberlain, River du Loup, on the arrival of a baby boy at their home.

The lobster catch has been very good since the opening of the season, and bids fair to be an exceptionally good one.

The marriage is announced to take place on June 15th of Miss Hectorine Poirier only daughter of Mr. H. G. Poirier of Turjeon N. B. to Doctor J. N. Michaud of Bathurst N. B.

Joseph J. Douc, lobster packer of Lower Carleton, died at his home on the 31st of May, aged 29 years. A wife and two children survive.

There will be a practise shoot at the range on Friday evening 8th to commence at 7 o'clock sharp. Members please take notice. This will be a good chance for those who cannot attend practices during the day time.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will observe the annual Flower Mission Day on Tuesday 11th. Members and friends will kindly carry flowers to the meeting for distribution among the sick and shut-ins.

Mr. W. G. Fenwick of Bathurst has placed in Driver Holmes' stable in Fredericton the speedy black pacing gelding, Abbott W., sired by Abbott Wilkes, 211.

From this time until Oct 1st, the meetings of the Campbellton Division S. of T. will be held on the first and 3rd Monday in each month instead of weekly as at present.

By Order
K. Girdwood R. S.
The engagement is announced of Dr. J. N. Michaud of Bathurst to Miss Hectorine Poirier of Turjeon, daughter of Mr. Poirier of Poirier and Gosselin. The marriage will take place on the 25th instant. We extend congratulations.

A basis of agreement has been reached between I. C. R. machinists and General Manager Pottinger and Mechanical Superintendent Joughins. The increases agreed upon are as follows: Machinists now receiving 15 cents are increased to 20 cents per hour; men receiving 20 cents are advanced to 22 cents; 24 cent men advanced to 27, and those receiving 27 to 29 cents, from the first of last April.

The results of the voting for representatives for the I. C. R. employees' Provident Fund were announced Wednesday evening. J. W. Nairn, engineer, Truro, and J. Stewart, engineer, Moncton, were the successful candidates polling 2,054 and 1,556 votes respectively. J. A. Theberge, station-master at Rogersville stood third with 1,222 votes, and Despatcher E. L. Desjardins of Lewis fourth with 949.

The Richards Co.'s new tug which is being built here by Mr. H. H. Lamont is still on the stocks, she not having been launched last Wednesday as stated in the Campbellton Tribune and the Chatham World. It is expected that she will be launched next Tuesday or Wednesday morning. There is considerable work to be done on the interior and the deck houses. Mr. Ruddock has a crew of men setting up the engines.

The deal carriers of Chatham struck last week for $2.00 a day. The Miramichi Lumber Co. compromised by giving the men $2.00 a day but making six men do the work of seven. The Snowball Co., are putting machinery to take the strikers places. The men had been getting $1.75 a day. The Miramichi Pulp and Paper Mill is now paying its night men 1.80 and its day men $2.00. In the Dominion Pulp Mill across the river, the company has agreed to pay $2.00 a day.

Frank Goodwin of St. John received a telegram Sunday telling of the death of his father, Alex. Goodwin, at Tracadie. Mr. Goodwin had not heard from his father for some time. Deceased came Scotland and was the father of six sons and six daughters. The sons were: Alexander, of Bathurst; Frank, of St. John; James, of New Hampshire and William, Joseph and Peter, who went to the Klondike and are supposed to be dead. Mrs. Goodwin is still living.

Mr and Mrs Jos Annington Jr. are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a young daughter on Monday, June the third.

Heine L. O. L. No 64, will meet to night at 7 o'clock. Business of importance. Full attendance specially requested, fourth degree.

The foundation of Dimock Opera House is nearing completion and work on the building will be rushed along with all speed.

The first shoot of the Dominion Rifle League took place at the range on Tuesday. Messrs John White and C. W. Anslow tied with a score of 71 points, Dr Cates 65, F F Matneson 63, F. Carter 62.

The Railway wharf presents a very busy appearance at present. Vessels are arriving daily and there are at present two barques, one barkentine, one steamer and three schooners in port. The steamer is unloading coal for the Interprovincial Navigation Co. One schooner is loaded with hay and another arrived a few days ago with a cargo of molasses for F F Reid Co.

Hugh McKenzie deck-hand of the dredge St. Lawrence is missing and many stories are afloat as to what has become of him. One of the stories was that the missing man while under the influence of liquor had fallen over the wharf and was drowned, but there is nothing to prove this statement. The crew of the dredge have grappled around the vessel and hopes are still entertained that the man will turn up. McKenzie received his pay yesterday.

Torrie Bros. Moving Picture shows which appeared in the Curriers Bunk on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, were very poorly patronized by the public. This Company was brought here by the Citizens Band and we think should have been better attended by our people. The pictures were exceptionally fine and we are sure the audiences enjoyed them as well as the singing of Edwin T. Haines, the male soprano. Apparently the attraction of the evenings was the free concert given by a medicine (?) company at the upper end of town. We cannot understand the action of the town Council in granting license to a company of this kind. If this company's goods are all they claim, which we very much doubt, why then are they not handled by our local dealers? But of course people like to be gulled, and apparently Dr Kelly is finding lots of easy marks on whom to unload his cures.

TRAINMEN ARRESTED

Collision Caused Death of Man and Blame was Placed on Train Crew

Ottawa, Ont., June the 4—F. Graham, conductor, J. A. Lightman, brakeman, members of the crew of the Grand Trunk train which killed Alexander Roeborn last Friday in a collision at Beatty's Station, were arrested in Ottawa today and will be placed on trial. Engineer H. Champness of the crew upon whom it is alleged, the chief blame for the accident rests cannot be found.

The proceedings were taken on instructions from the crown attorney at Parry Sound. There have been two cases in which trainmen were arrested for lives lost in wrecks. One was the Guelph and the other the Myrtle wreck. In both the previous cases men were convicted and are now serving sentences. The activity of the officials in bringing home responsibility for loss of life in railroad accidents is due to the railway commission which has been investigating wrecks, reporting the circumstances to the provincial crown officers and criticising them for not taking criminal proceedings. The Beatty's Station accident was due to the train running past a station where it should have stopped. The conductor says he was new to the road and depended on the brakemen to tell him when they were approaching the stations, which are in bush country and not easy to see—Sun.

Graduating Recital of Miss Mary E Richards

Wolfville, N S June 1st—Last evening, in Alumnal Hall, an eloquent recital was given by Miss Mary E Richards of the Senior class of Acadia Seminary. Her readings were all taken from Shakespeare's play "The Merchant of Venice", and though the various selection called for the employment of a wide range of elocutionary power, in no instance was of Miss Richards found wanting, nor did she fall at any time to command the utmost attention from her audience. She was particularly happy in her interpretation of the "Court Scene", not only by having her audience under complete control but by the ease and excellence with which she impersonated the different characters. The pleasure of the occasion was very much added to by the assistance of Miss Burnmeister whose piano solos were thoroughly enjoyed. The following is the full programme.

Do not neglect the children

At this season of the year the first unnatural looseness of child's bowels should have immediate attention. The best thing that can be given is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by castor oil as directed with each bottle of the remedy. For sale by all Druggists.

Plants

Mr Fraser will be at our store Friday and Saturday of this week in connection with a large shipment of plants which we have purchased from Fraser Bros. Moncton. Customers will find it to their advantage to call while Mr Fraser is in town.

CHAPTER XVI.

It was nearly dark when the little coast steamer secured by Maurice Gordon for the service turned her prow northward and steamed away.

"The truth is," Durnovo took an early opportunity of saying to Oscar, "that my nerve is no longer up to this work. I should not care to undertake this business alone, despite my reputation on the coast. It is a wonderful thing how closely the nerves are allied to the state of one's health."

"Wonderful!" exclaimed Guy Oscar, "I've been too long in this country," he exclaimed Durnovo. "That's the fact, I'm not the man I was."

Guy Oscar smoked for some moments in silence, then he took his pipe from his lips.

"The only pity is," he said judicially, "that you ever undertook to look for the simlacine if you were going to funk it when the first difficulty arose."

Without further comment he walked away and entered into conversation with the captain of the steamer.

"All right," muttered Durnovo between his teeth—"all right, my sarcastic, grand gentleman. I'll be even with you yet."

In due time Masala was reached. As the canoes suitable for up river traffic were by no means sufficient to transport the whole of the expeditionary force in one journey, a division was made. Durnovo took charge of the advance column, journeying up, to the camp from which the long march through the forest was to begin, and sending back the canoes for Oscar and the remainder of the force. With these canoes he sent back word that the hostile tribes were within a few days' march, and that he was fortifying his camp.

This news seemed to furnish Guy Oscar with food for considerable thought, and after some space of time he called Maria.

She came, and, standing before him with her patient dignity of men, awaited his communication. She never took her eyes off the letter in his hand. Oscar noticed the persistency of her gaze at the time and remembered it again afterward.

"Marie," he said, "I have had rather serious news from Mr. Durnovo. It will not be safe for you to stay at Masala. You must take the children down to Longue, I will send two men down with you, and will give you a letter to Miss Gordon, who will see to your wants at Longue."

"Yes," said she softly, "I know."

The next morning brought further rumors of approaching danger, and it seemed certain that this news must have filtered through Durnovo's fortified camp farther up the river. This time the report was more definite. There were Arabs leading the tribes, and rumor further stated that an organized descent on Masala was intended. And yet there was no word from Durnovo; no sign to suggest that he had even thought of securing the safety of his housekeeper and the few aged negroes in charge of Masala. This news only strengthened Oscar's determination to send Marie down to the coast, and he personally superintended their departure before taking his seat in the canoe for the up river voyage. The men of his division had all preceded him, and no one except his own boatmen knew that Masala was to be abandoned.

Despite disquieting rumors, the expedition was allowed to depart from the river camp unmolested. For two days they marched through the gloomy forest with all speed. On the third day one of the men of Durnovo's division captured a native who had been prowling on their heels in the line of march. Victor Durnovo sent captor and prisoner to the front of the column, with a message to Oscar that he would come presently and see what information was to be abstracted from the captive. At the midday halt Durnovo accordingly joined Oscar, and the men were brought before them. He was hardly worthy of the name, so disease stricken, so miserable and half starved was he.

"Ask him," said Oscar, "whether he knows that there is an Englishman with a large force on the top of a mountain far to the east?"

Durnovo translated, and the man answered with a smile. In reply to some further question the negro launched into a detailed narrative, to which Durnovo listened eagerly.

"He says," said the latter to Oscar, "that this plateau is in possession of the Masala. It was taken two months ago. The blacks were sold as slaves; the two Englishmen were tortured to death and their bodies burned."

Oscar never moved a muscle.

"Ask him if he is quite sure about it."

"Quite," replied Durnovo after questioning. "What a pity! I always knew it. I knew it was quite hopeless from the first."

He passed his brown hand nervously over his face, where the perspiration stood in beads.

"Yes," said Oscar slowly, "but I think we will go on all the same."

"What?" cried Durnovo. "Go on?"

"Yes," replied Guy Oscar, "we will go on, and if I find you trying to desert I'll shoot you down like a rat."

"About as bad as they can be, sir. That's how things lie," Joseph set down his master's breakfast on the rough table that stood in front of his tent and looked at Jack Meredith.

Meredith had a way of performing most of his duties outside his tent, and while Joseph made his discouraging report he was engaged in buttoning his waistcoat. He nodded gravely, but his manner was not that of a man who fully realized his position of imminent danger. Some men are like this. They die without getting at all flustered.

"There's not more nor two or three out of the whole lot that I can put my trust in," continued Joseph.

Jack Meredith was putting on his coat.

"I know what a barrack room mutiny is. I've felt it in the atmosphere, so to speak, before now, sir."

"And what does it feel like?" inquired Jack Meredith, lightly arranging his watch chain.

But Joseph did not answer. He stepped backward into the tent and brought two rifles. There was no need of answer for this came in the sound of many voices, the clang and clatter of varied arms.

"Here they come, sir," said the soldier servant, respectfully, mindful of his place even at this moment.

Jack Meredith merely sat down behind the little table where his breakfast surrounded by hostile tribes, and made desultory raids from time to time. These little forays on the summit were able to repulse, but a combined attack from, say, two sides at once would certainly have been successful. Meredith had no reason to suppose that his appeal for help had reached Masala, infused as the intervening forests were by cannibal tribes. Provisions were at a low ebb. There seemed to be no hope of outside aid, and defeat was life in his sun-faded face. Jack Meredith, who was no soldier, found himself called upon to defend a weak position, with unreliable men, for an indefinite period.

Joseph had a rough knowledge of soldiering and a very rudimentary notion of fortification. But he had that which served as well—the unerring eye for cover of a marksman. He was a dead shot at any range, and knowing what he could hit, he also knew how to screen himself from the rifle of an enemy.

Above all, perhaps, was the quiet influence of a man who never flinched from danger or seemed to be in the least disconcerted by its presence.

"It seems, sir," said Joseph to his master later in the day, "that you've kinder stumped them. They don't understand you."

"They must be kept in check by fear. There is no other way," replied Meredith rather wearily. Of late he had felt less and less inclined to exert himself.

"Yes, sir. Those sort of men," Meredith made no answer, and after a pause Joseph repeated the word significantly, if ungrammatically, "Those sort of men."

"What do you mean?"

"Slaves," replied Joseph sharply, touching his hat without knowing why.

"Slaves! What are you talking about?"

The man came a little nearer.

"Those forty men—lastwise thirty-four men—that we brought from Masala; Mr. Durnovo's men that cultivate this fast stood untouched. He leaned his elbow on the table and watched the approach of the disorderly band of blacks. Some ran, some hung back, but all were armed.

In front walked a small, truculent looking man with broad shoulders and an aggressive head.

He turned himself before Meredith, and, flanking with a wave of the hand to indicate his followers, said in English:

"These men, these friends of me, say they are tired of you. You no good leader. They make me their leader."

He shrugged his shoulders with a hideous grin of deprecation.

"I not want. They make me. We go to join our friends in the valley."

He pointed down into the valley where the enemy was encamped.

"We have agreed to take £200 for you. Price given by our friends in valley."

The man stopped suddenly. He was looking into the muzzle of a revolver with a fixed fascination. Jack Meredith exhibited no haste. He did not seem yet to have realized the gravity of the situation. He took very careful aim and pulled the trigger. A little puff of white smoke floated over their heads. The broad shouldered man with the aggressive head looked stupidly surprised. He turned toward his supporters with a pained look of inquiry, as if there was something he did not quite understand, and then he fell on his face and lay quite still.

Jack Meredith looked on the blank faces with a glance of urbane inquiry.

"Has anybody else anything to say to me?" he asked.

There was a dead silence. Some one laughed rather feebly in the background.

"When I think I will go on with my breakfast."

Which he accordingly proceeded to do.

One or two of the mutineers dropped away and went back to their own quarters.

"Take it away," said Meredith, indicating the body of the dead man with his teaspoon.

"And look here," he cried out after them, "do not let us have any more of this nonsense! It will only lead to unpleasantness."

Some of the men grinned. They were not particularly respectful in their manner of bearing away the mortal remains of their late leader. The feeling had already turned.

The position was not a pleasant one. For three months the plateau had been

The man came a little nearer.

"Those forty men—lastwise thirty-four men—that we brought from Masala; Mr. Durnovo's men that cultivate this ere simlacine, as they call it. They're different from the rest, sir."

"Yes, of course they are," he said. "We do not hire them direct; we hire them from Mr. Durnovo and pay their wages to him. They are of a different tribe from the others—not fighting men, but agriculturists."

"Ah!" Joseph paused. "Strange thing, sir, but I've not seen 'em handling any of their pay yet."

"Well, that is their affair."

"Yes, sir."

Having unburdened himself of his suspicion, the servant retired, shaking his head ominously. At any other time the words just recorded would have aroused Jack Meredith's attention, but the singular selfishness that seemed to be creeping over his intellect was already acting as a clog on his mental energy.

The next morning he was unable to leave his bed, and lay all day in a state of semi-somnolence. Joseph explained to the men that the leader was so disgusted with their ungrateful conduct that he would not leave the tent. In the evening there was a slight attack made from the southern side. This Joseph was able to repulse, chiefly by his own long range firing, assisted by a few picked rifles, but the situation was extremely critical. The roll of the big war drums could be heard almost incessantly, rising with melancholy from the forest land beneath them.

Despite difficulties the new crop of simlacine, the second within twelve months, had been picked, dried and stored in cases. Without on the plateau stood the bare trees, affording no covert for savage warfare, no screen against the deadly bullet. The camp was placed near one edge of the table land and on this exposed side the stockade was wisely constructed of double strength. The attacks had hitherto been made only from this side, but Joseph knew that anything in the nature of a combined assault would carry his defense before it. In his rough and ready way he doctored his master, making for him such soups and strength giving food as he could. Once, very late in the night, when it almost seemed that the shadow of death lay over the little tent, he pounced upon some of the magic simlacine leaves and mixed them in the brandy which he administered from time to time.

Before sunrise the next morning the alarm was given again and the little garrison was called to arms.

He took his station on the roof of a hut in the center of the little stockade, and from there he directed the fire of

Here's the Cure for Sick Kidneys

TEST THEM FREE

Perhaps you are skeptical about GIN PILLS. So was Mr. Brown. He had tried so many things for his kidneys, without getting any better, that he had just about made up his mind that he couldn't get well.

When he first read about GIN PILLS he laughed. The second time, he thought. The third time, he said "he would write for a sample just to see if there was any chance of getting well."

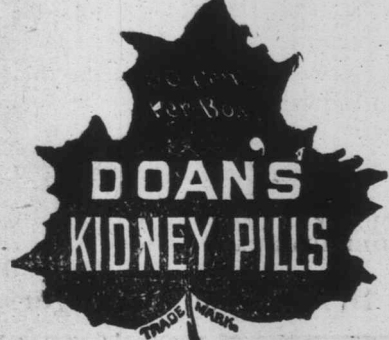

He was pretty nearly tickled to death over that box of GIN PILLS. They did him so much good that he would have paid $5 a box for the second, if necessary. The dizziness, headache, and backaches stopped. Those shooting pains in hips and legs died away. Urine lost its high color. He slept through the night without being disturbed by bladder trouble. His appetite began to pick up and he felt better than he had been for years.

34 John St., Hamilton, Ont.
Being a sufferer from my kidneys and distress in the head, and could get nothing to help me, I saw in the papers what good GIN PILLS were doing. I got a sample box, and they did me so much good, I bought three boxes and am taking them. They have worked wonders for me. I can recommend them to any similar sufferer.

GEO. A. BROWN.

Don't be prejudiced. Give GIN PILLS a fair trial and they will cure you just as they cured Mr. Brown. Mention this paper and we will send you a free sample. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg, Man.

CURE ALL KIDNEY TROUBLES.

Mrs. Helen Revoy, Marmora, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for five years with my back. I tried a great many remedies, but all failed until I was advised by a friend to use DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. I did so, and two boxes made a complete cure. I can heartily recommend them to all troubled with their back. You may publish this if you wish."

GERMANY AND UNITED STATES.

Their absence From Present day alliance is commented upon in Enrope.

London, June 1.—The European policy in the Far East and the friction between United States and Japan is engaging the attention of Weekly Review of London. The "Spectator" this week, comments on the absence of America and Germany from the system of alliances now embracing Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan, and after dealing with the various reasons to animate America and Germany in holding aloof, the paper says one object of these alliances is to enable Europe plus Japan, to press its advice on China with irresistible weight. This, however, as means of preserving peace in the Far East will not be possible unless Europe is united and the "Spectator" therefore urges that Germany should be invited to enter the European ring and enquiry should be addressed to Washington asking whether America intends to await events or join Europe and Japan in a scheme for securing in the Far East a long period of opportunity for peaceful and fruitful advance. The "Saturday Review," in an editorial article dealing with the relations between United States and Japan draws attention to the great sympathy of late in America towards Japan as indicated by the welcoming of Japanese immigrants to South America and the fostering of trade and commerce with the island empire. This review then dwells upon the assumed identical ethnic origin of the Japanese and the Indians of Latin America, and says that perhaps among the surprises of future will be development of a wide-spread Japanese influence on the Latin American continent based on unsuspected ethnic grounds which may upset "That manifest destiny" of supremacy over the American continent, which American statesmen have been proclaiming since the early days of Republic.

VALUABLE MEDICAL PRESCRIPTION

Recommended by a Well-known Toronto Doctor, Whose Love for Humanity is Greater than His Prejudice Against Proprietary Medicines.

The following very valuable prescription, by an eminent and successful physician, will be appreciated by many who are suffering from la grippe, cold, cough, pneumonia, or any throat, lung or stomach trouble, or run-down system, as it is a certain cure, and will save many a doctor's bill. It is almost a certain preventive as well:—"When you feel that you are taking cold or have chilly feeling or aching in any part of the body or head, or feel weak, tired, dizzy, unfit for work, pain in the head or back of the neck, do not neglect these dangerous symptoms, but send immediately to your druggist and get a bottle of Psychine (pronounced Si-keen), and prepare as follows:

"Psychine, 2 teaspoonfuls.
"Sherry, whisky or water, 2 teaspoonfuls.

"Choice of the latter can be made according to the judgment and preference of the patient."

"Mix thoroughly and take regularly before each meal and at bedtime."

This prescription has been used in thousands of cases and has been so universally successful that a number of leading physicians regularly prescribe Psychine in their practice for any of the above troubles, or any run-down, wasting or constitutional difficulty. It is the most reliable and valuable home remedy. It tones up the entire system, giving a feeling of youthfulness and vigor, adding many years to the life of those who use it.

"Years ago I was almost a physical wreck and was suffering with lung trouble. Friends and neighbors thought I would never get better. I began to despair myself. Losing faith in my physician, I procured another one who recommended the use of SHERRY. It was surprising beyond description the effect it had. I seemed to gain with every dose. Within two weeks I was able to attend to my household again. There are no symptoms of consumption about me now."

ANOTHER VICTIM OF BARK ADEONA.

Found on the shore at Point du Chene Thursday evening.

Another one of the victims of the wrecked Swedish bark Adeona, has been given up by the sea. On Friday evening a young man attending his herring nets along the shore at Point du Chene found the body of a man on the beach, and examination showed that the unfortunate had been in the water for some time and was in an advanced stage of decomposition. The flesh had been eaten off his face and hands apparently by fish and the features were scarcely recognizable as those of a human being. The boy was clad in seamen's heavy wearing apparel and it is supposed is one of the unfortunate crew lost off the Adeona, blown ashore during the disastrous storm that raged along the coast last fall.

The body was found about half a mile below Point du Chene. Coroner Smith of Shediac, was notified and after viewing the body ordered it to be given decent burial.

This is the second member of the ill-fated crew whose body has been washed ashore. Two or three weeks ago a body was found at Buctouche and was supposed to be one of the Swedish sailors who left the Adeona in an attempt to reach shore. In all some seven or eight seamen together with the captain were lost.—Times

Beware of Ointment for Catarrh that contains mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

GRAND RIVER.

It is quite a while since we have seen anything about our bright little village.

The fishery has again started along the coast. Codfish has been caught in a good many places. The first salmon of the season was caught here this morning by Mr. B. Couture.

The steamer service has been more or less late this season. The people were overjoyed to see the Lady Ellen put in her appearance after having undergone repairs at Quebec and should give every convenience. The S. S. Campana is also expected down on Tuesday this being the second trip of the season.

Mr. Elton LeMarquand paid a flying visit to Little River East last week.

The farmers are busy putting in their crops at present, fender being so scarce it is quite a hard task to get through.

Several schooners have discharged and loaded cargoes at this port already this spring.

We hear wedding bells will ring on Sunday next when Mr. Z. Beaudin and Miss Annie Jones of Little Pabos will be united. We wish them joy.

Tetter Cured

A lady customer of ours had suffered with tetter for two or three years. It got so bad on her hands that she could not attend to her household duties. One box of Chamberlain's Salve cured her. Chamberlain's medicines are for sale by all Druggists.

CAR INSPECTOR INJURED ON I. C. R.

Moncton May 31.—Havelock Mitton, car inspector at the I. C. R. depot, had his head severely jammed while coupling hose on the Maritime Express last night. Mitton was between the engine and the baggage car when the shunter ran into the pullman car at the rear. In the jolt Mitton's head was caught between the drawbars and a severe scalp wound inflicted. He was knocked out for a few seconds and it was at first feared he was fatally wounded, but the injuries proved to be superficial only. Besides his head being bruised and out, one shoulder was slightly injured.

Another Horror on Ohio Track.

Elyria, Ohio, May 31.—Four persons were killed and 13 injured in a rear end collision on the Cleveland and Southwestern Railroad here last evening. The front car was filled with holiday excursionists. Miss Supress, daughter of Max Supress manager of the steel plant here had two legs cut off. Motorman Fraundland, who was in charge of the car which caused the wreck, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by prosecutor Stevens, charging him with manslaughter.

Bad Fire on Ocean Liner.

New York, June 3.—The fire on the steamer Oceanic which was discovered in the steerage shortly after one o'clock this morning was not brought under control for 2 hours. The crew was called to quarters and did what they could to extinguish the flames but when they spread to the cargo outside aid had to be called. In the after hold were 1876 bbls. of glucose, which burned like oil and that part of the cargo was aflame. It was below the water and there was nothing spectacular about the blaze. The crew closed the after compartment and then the firemen drowned on the flames. All the bedding and other perishable fittings of the steerage were destroyed in addition to a quantity of freight. Among the cargo was some theatrical scenery belonging to Forbes Robertson who recently left for England after a successful season in America and this is said to have been burned or damaged. The origin of the fire is unknown but the suspicion was prevalent today that it was the result of incendiaryism. The loss will reach several thousand dollars. It was stated that the sailing of the steamer on Wednesday will not be delayed.

EMMERSON

LIBEL SUIT.

Case sent up to the Circuit Court for trial on 18th.

Late on Friday afternoon the Hon. Wm. Pugsley, premier and attorney general, placed in the hands of the Lieut. Governor his resignation who immediately sent for the Hon. Clifford W. Robinson and called upon him to form a cabinet. Mr. Robinson accepted the premiership. Friday night the new premier announced to his honor that he had selected his government as follows:

Premier, provincial secretary and attorney general—Hon. C. W. Robinson.

Commissioner of Public Works—Hon. C. H. Labllois.

Surveyor general—Hon. F. J. Sweeney.

Solicitor general—Hon. W. P. Jones.

Commissioner of agriculture—Hon. L. P. Farris.

The governor accompanied by his secretary, R. S. Barker, met the newly appointed cabinet, with the exception of Mr. Farris, who is in England, in the executive council room where the oath of office was administered by the clerk of the executive J. Howe Dickson.

The new premier intends to act as attorney general until he has opportunity to consult fully with the members of his government and with his supporters regarding the selection of a man to fill the portfolio. He expected to be able to announce his decision in four days. It is understood that other changes in the government will also be announced soon. Report says two new members are to be appointed. Premier Robinson is being warmly congratulated by hosts of friends.

Baltimore, May 27.—Mrs. Anne R. M. Lyceet, the mother of twenty-one children, who had first and second babies at all meals to accommodate them all, died today at her home, 1512 Henry st. She was 55 years old and was married when 16. The oldest living child is 35. The husband is 60. Mrs. Lyceet has always said that she found it no more trouble to raise twenty-one boys and girls than she did a few. She and her husband started housekeeping at their wedding, and all the twenty one were born in one house.

THE NEW PREMIER.

Mr Pugsley resigns and hands over reins to Hon. Mr Robinson.

The suit brought by Hon. H. R. Emmerson against the Fredericton Gleaner for criminal libel was tried before Police Magistrate Marsh in Fredericton on the 29th and 30th ult. The suit was brought because of the following paragraph in an editorial in the Gleaner of March 27th last:—

"This minister was Mr. Emmerson himself, and one of the places from which he was ejected with two women of ill-repute, with whom he had been keeping company, not long since was the St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal."

Premier Pugsley, J. H. Barry and ex-Attorney General White appeared for the prosecution and Mayor McLeod, J. D. Hazen, C., and the defendant's brother, O. S. Crockett, M. P., appeared for Jas. E. Crockett editor of the Gleaner.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson on the stand said that on Thursday, June 8th, 1906, he was travelling from Dorchester to Montreal, accompanied by his mother, sister and daughter. Stopping at Moncton Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. G. Allan met him and asked him if he would take Mrs. Allan in his private car as far as Montreal, and Mr. Emmerson agreed. Mrs. Allan had been a very intimate friend of his late wife, and he had known her since her childhood. The party left Moncton for Montreal on Friday morning, June 9th, arriving at Montreal about 6.30 that evening. At Levis, Mrs. Beuthner, a friend of Mrs. Allan's, was taken on board. He did not know Mrs. Beuthner intended to come on board, till Mrs. Allan mentioned it just before they reached Levis. He had met Mrs. Beuthner one summer, knew she had visited Mrs. LaBillois, and believed her to be eminently respectable. He considered Mrs. Allan to be of the best repute.

At Montreal, Mrs. Emmerson left for Toronto, Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Beuthner left the train, and Mr. Emmerson and his sister and daughter went to Ottawa.

Saturday night Mr. Emmerson returned to Montreal, and went to St. Lawrence Hall to see Mr. Joseph Peters of Moncton, who was staying there. Looking over the register he saw the names of Mesdames Allan and Beuthner and went to their room for a short talk. He then took them to the Oxford restaurant for supper. Returning, he left them and went to his own room and retired. About midnight, he was awakened by the ladies knocking at his door. Hurriedly dressing, he admitted them, and they said they had been insulted by the porter. Mrs. Beuthner was hysterical and wished to leave the house. A porter came and apologized for what the other had said, but Mrs. Beuthner determined to leave. Then Mr. Emmerson asked one of the ladies to settle his account for him while he finished dressing, and then all three drove to the Albin Hotel, which house he thought was one of good repute.

Mr. John Lloyd, night clerk in St. Lawrence Hall, employed there for 36 years, said that two porters had brought complaints to him about 1.30 in the morning. The Court forbade witness to state what the complaints were.

Then one of the ladies came very angry, and about ten minutes afterwards came again and paid her bill and Mr. Emmerson's. Then the three left.

Porter Harry Dean said that about midnight he saw two ladies go towards Mr. Emmerson's room. Shortly afterward, he noticed Room No. 9, taken by Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Beuthner, with door open and empty. About 1.30 he heard loud voices and laughter of ladies and a gentleman in Mr. Emmerson's room, and knocked at the door. In two or three minutes, a tall lady whom he recognized as one who belonged to No. 9, opened the door, and he told her the occupants must not make such a noise.

He reported to night clerk. Then he came again and told the occupants they must keep quiet or leave. One of the ladies followed him, and the gentleman went in another direction. Soon he saw the three leave the hotel.

Court adjourned till Monday.

On Monday, the Judge sent the case up to Circuit Court, where it meets on the 18th inst., in Fredericton, Judge Landry presiding.

BOY MISSING.

Harry Ogulger has not been seen since Monday—Searched

At the time the body of John Lobb, the thirteen-year-old boy was found in Lobb's pond on Monday night, Mr and Mrs Thomas Ogulger of 49 Magazine street, were worrying over the absence of the fifteen-year-old son Harry, who left his home at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon and has not been seen since. Stories were heard yesterday that young Ogulger had been seen in company with Lobb on Monday night and search was made yesterday in the pond in case Harry had been drowned. It is considered impossible for a body to float out of the pond and as every inch of space, with the exception of some ground covered by six or seven large, heavy spars, were gone over the father was somewhat relieved.

He said last evening that he hardly believed the boy was drowned. As far as he could learn the last time that the lad was seen was one o'clock Monday afternoon, when he left his home in company with a lad named Kelly. Kelly left him at Portland bridge a few minutes later, and the father has heard nothing from the lad since.

A story was heard that he had been seen at Westfield and two men went up to look for him, and had not returned at a late hour last night.

A woman who was reported to have said she saw him going past her house on the South Bay road was found to have remarked that a boy passing looked like him, then a rumor spread that he had gone up on one of the steamers. The father, who was feeling very badly said: "I hear so many stories I do not know what to think. He was a boy who never left his home."

TO HELP YOURSELF.

Cultivate These Qualities and They Will Well Repay You.

A good memory for faces and facts. A sympathetic voice. The American voice tone, thus avoiding giving offense through not recognizing or bowing to people or saying to them what had better been left unsaid.

An unaffected, sweet, distinct and sympathetic voice. The American feminine voice is a target which has been hit many times and very justly. Learn to be appreciative of the natural and true tones, and to every woman and avoid the shrill voices that remind one of a large concourse of hens.

Cultivate the charm of making little sacrifices quite naturally, as if of no account to yourself.

Cultivate the habit of making allowances for the opinions and feelings of others as well as their prejudices. We can't all see things from the same angle in this world. If we did it would be a mighty dreary, monotonous old sphere.

Cultivate the art of listening without impatience to prosy talkers and of smiling at the twice or thrice told tale or incident. It really won't hurt you to hear it over again, and, then, remember that you are never so charming as when you are making other persons think they are interesting.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

When frying eggs have the fire low and slide them about the pan to prevent burning the thin whites.

Bacon should be soaked in water for three or four minutes before being fried to prevent the fat from running.

When making layer cakes spread the batter around the pans with a spoon, making it thicker around the edges than in the middle.

Apples alone with olive oil, or apples and celery with equal parts of olive oil and cream mixed, form a light, nourishing and easily digested meal.

A custard cannot be boiled. Boiling at once curdles the egg. But a custard put in a jar in a saucepan of water and heated in a water boiling round the jar with good effect.

Cucumbers fried with onions are an old English relish for eating hot with cold sliced meats. Fry the onions first after they have been shaved quite thin, then add the sliced cucumbers and dry thoroughly.

A SOLDIER'S GRAVE.

Discovered in London, Ont., in Out-of-the-Way Cemetery Corner.

Dr. H. J. Morgan of Ottawa has been instrumental, with the assistance of Mr. G. B. Harris, Eldon House, London, Ont., in discovering the grave in that city of an officer who took an active part in the defence of the western frontier of the Province of Ontario (then Upper Canada) during and subsequent to the rebellion of 1837. The grave was found to be in an out-of-the-way corner of the English cemetery, and in a capital place to be covered with coal ashes. All traces of it would inevitably have been lost within a few months. Upon a stone, which was found to be broken in three places, was the following inscription:

"Colonel the Honourable John Maitland, C.B., commanding the London and Western Districts, Lieutenant-Colonel of the 32nd Regiment, and youngest son of the Earl of Lauderdale. Died at London, Upper Canada, on the 18th January, 1839. Erected to his memory by the officers of the 32nd Regiment, which he commanded for upwards of twenty years, as a mark of their esteem and regard."

Of the officer above mentioned an account is published in Dr. Morgan's "Celebrated Canadians" (Quebec, 1892). He was the third son of the eighth and the brother of the ninth and tenth Earls of Lauderdale. Born March 5, 1739, he entered the army in 1757 as ensign in the 52nd Regiment, and was present with that corps in the expedition to Copenhagen, under the command of Lord Cathcart.

Subsequently he served in Spain and Portugal under Sir John Moore, and was in the Peninsula (1810-11) as A.D.C. to Sir William Houston. Returning to England, he was appointed A.D.C. to his uncle, Gen. Sir Thomas Maitland, and accompanied that distinguished officer to Malta on his being appointed commander of the forces in the Mediterranean and Lord High Commissioner of the Ionian Islands. Here Maitland was appointed inspecting field officer of the forces. In 1814 he obtained a majority in the 52nd Regiment, and in 1815, when not quite 20 years of age, he was gazetted lieutenant-colonel of the 22nd Regiment, which command he continued to hold till his death. Coming with his regiment to North America in 1820, it was his good or evil fortune, according to the view taken by the reader of the circumstances, to be present throughout the rebellion of 1837. In 1838 he was placed in command of the London and western district, whose militia forces he organized. His most brilliant exploit was the repulse of a band of American brigands at Point Pelee Island, Lake Erie, on March 8, 1839, for which he received from the late Queen a C.B. Contracting a severe cold on the march to and during the attack on the island, he died, unmarried, a victim to consumption, at the age of 39, on March 8, 1839, for which he received from the late Queen a C.B. Contracting a severe cold on the march to and during the attack on the island, he died, unmarried, a victim to consumption, at the age of 39, on March 8, 1839, for which he received from the late Queen a C.B.

And, after all, what great difference does it make to say that you are not well? If you are not well don't talk about it. To do so only exaggerates your consciousness of physical discomfort; also it casts a shadow of gloom over other people. They grow hesitant about asking you how you feel. It gives them cold chills to be continually told that you are "not very well" or "not so well" or "about the same."

Probably you've said these things so often that you say them now as a matter of course. It seems incredible to you by now that you should ever feel really well, because you've unconsciously made a habit to be ailing.

Do you know that a good deal of this is imagination? If you brace up and told people cheerily that you are feeling fine chances in ten you would feel tiptop pretty soon. You'd forget the ailing habit.

And, after all, what great difference does it make to say that you are not well? If you are not well don't talk about it. To do so only exaggerates your consciousness of physical discomfort; also it casts a shadow of gloom over other people. They grow hesitant about asking you how you feel. It gives them cold chills to be continually told that you are "not very well" or "not so well" or "about the same."

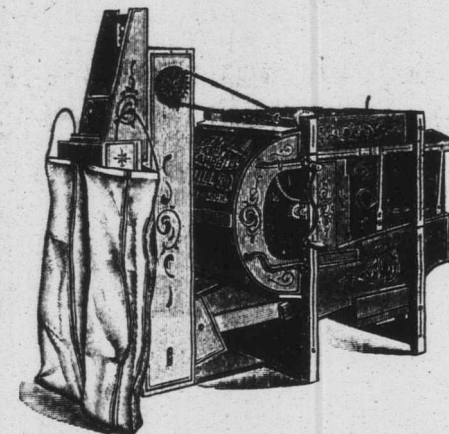

Consider the splendid people who have conquered desperate ills in order to get their work done. The woman who has something to do doesn't have the time to complain of not feeling well.

Perils of India.

The perils of living in a country where wild beasts and snakes—especially snakes—are numerous, are strikingly shown in a statistical abstract on India. During the year 1904 no fewer than 24,034 persons were killed, snake bites accounting for 21,880 deaths; while tigers killed 799, leopards 399, wolves 244, and other animals 728 persons. The administration of Bengal supplied the highest figures in each class. The number of cattle killed was 98,529, leopards, with 212 to their credit, proving to be the most destructive. The tigers were a good second with 24,037 victims. Snakes killed just over 10,000 animals. On the other side of the account it is reported that 65,146 snakes and 15,191 wild animals were killed, rewards being paid to the amount of £7,313.
