TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

Russian women who become doctors are compelled to submit to very stringent regulations. Among other things they may not practice as regular physicians until they are 40, but must, up to this time, be nurses in charitable institutions of various kinds, or in hospitals.

The Landgraf of Hesse is about to contract a marriage with a young and beautiful actress of the Frankfort Theater. The lady is of noble descent and the daughter of a distinguished officer. The Landgraf is an accomplished musician and much beloved in society. He has been totally blind from his birth.

M. Ville, a professor of chemistry at Paris, announces that he has discovered a new compound, consisting of a mixture of phosphate of chalk, carbonate of refined potash, and sulphate of chalk, which, placed around the roots of the vines, will defy the attacks of the phylloxera, and will at the same time greatly increase the abundance of the crop.

Charles John Gay, an English cartman, after a good record of fourteen years, has just been sent to prison for a month for stealing two oranges, worth one penny, from some goods he was carting for a large firm of jam makers. The court solemnly announced that the gravity of the offense did not lie in the value of the goods, but in the breach of trust towards an employer.

A soldier was court-martialed last month at Venice for breach of discipline and condemned to six months' imprisonment. When informed by the court that he could appeal, he contemptuously tore off his number and other insignia, threw them on the floor, and shouted: "Cursed be your army! You are a lot of assassins!" For this he was condemned to seven years' close confinement in prison.

English rose growers are using blood manure for their vines with much success, it is said. They take sixteen pounds of blood, and as soon as it begins to putrify stir into it four ounces of muriatic acid and four ounces of proto-sulphate of iron, previously mixed, which turns the blood into a dark, dry powder that will keep for any length of time. A half pound of this is mixed with the soil over the roots of each rose bush.

The Reform convention for the county of Monck, held at Wellandport Monday, was the largest the county has ever seen. The meeting unanimously pledged itself to support the present M. P. P., Mr. Harcourt, and that gentleman accepted the nomination. Judging from the attendance and the general good reports from all parts of the county, the coming contest will result in another great victory for the present talented Liberal member, Mr. R. Harcourt. Fully 200 electors were present, most of whom were delegates.

The question of whether or not it is cruel to dishorn cows is now before the Scotch courts, the defense being that it is necessary to cut off the horns of Iris and Canadian cattle to keep them from goring each other in the feeding courts used in Scotland during the winter. One witness testified that experience had converted him to favor dishorning and that he now practices it with all his Guernsey cows, who seem to suffer little pain from the operation and the quality of whose milk is not affected by it. The English courts have held that the practice is a cruel one.

The great Alsopp brewing establishment in England was two or three years ago turned into a stock company and capitalized for $15,000,000, that sum being paid to the Alsopp family for the property, the books of the concern showing a 12 per cent. profit on that sum. Now the dividends have fallen to 5 per cent. and threaten to go lower, and it is estimated that the Alsopp family were disingenuous with the stockholders. The only explanation yet made by the representatives of the family lays the blame for the falling off of the profits upon a bad consignment of barley, which turned out unsound beer, and entailed a loss of $200,000.

At the Woking (England) crematory, the number of cremations is steadily increasing. In three years, from 1884 to 1887, the annual average was 8. In 1888 there were 26. In 1889 the number increased to 46, the total number at the end of the year having been exactly 100. This year there have been several every week. In France, at the new crematory in Paris, there were 35 ordinary cremations in 1889, but the number of still-born children and the bodies from the hospitals and anatomical schools is so large that incineration is continually going on both night and day. The Journal d'Hygiene says that the total number was nearly 3,000 in the year. At Rome the numbers were 119 in 1886, 153 in 1887 and 202 in 1888. At Milan and other Italian towns the numbers are increasing, as also in Germany.

[From the ADVERTISER'S Correspondent.]

NEWBURY, March 10.—Mr. Alfred Dingman and wife were last Tuesday arrested by Detective Graham, of London, on the strength of a warrant sworn out by their father, accusing them of entering his house about a week ago and taking a pair of pants from under his pillow, the pockets of which contained $24. They were examined by Squire Regis, who remanded them to London jail till Friday, when Mr. Dingman, sen., withdrew the charge and they were allowed to go.

The executors of the late Alex. King disposed of his farm situated near the village to Mr. Webster, of Dresden, the price being $3,000.

Last Thursday evening a number of young folks spent a very enjoyable time at Mr. Geo. Johnson's, near the village.

Mr. Arthur McDonald, of this vicinity, is about to move to Sarnia, where he intends starting a livery stable.

Miss Annie Guppy is the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Roome, London.

Mrs. Thos. Robinson, who has been very ill, is improving.

Debate on the Report of the Parnell Commission.

East and Southwest Africa To Be Made German Colonies,

With Emin Pasha as Their Governor.

A Great Thread Man Dead.

LONDON, March 11.—Sir Peter Coates, of the well-known thread-making firm of J. & P. Coates, is dead.

Emin Pasha's New Post.

BERLIN, March 11.—East Africa and Southwest Africa will be made Imperial colonies, and the Government of the former will be administered by Emin Pasha.

The Malta Trouble Settled.

LONDON, March 11.—A Rome correspondent says Gen. Simmons has arranged the Malta dispute and is awaiting a ratification of his labors from London.

Battle with Brigands.

LONDON, March 11.—In an encounter at Elassona between Turks and a band of brigands, says a Constantinople dispatch, over twenty of the former were killed and six of the latter. The brigands were dispersed.

Wissmann Wins.

ZANZIBAR, March 11.—Major Wissmann, after a march of several hours, attacked and captured Bwand Here's fortified position on Sunday. Bwand Heri escaped. A German officer was killed and another officer wounded. A number of Wissmann's native soldiers died of sunstroke. The Arab loss was heavy.

Prince Bismarck to the Peasants.

BERLIN, March 11.—Prince Bismarck, replying to an address of the Peasants' Union, promises to continue, as far as his strength will permit, to work in the interests of agriculture, fostering the farming industry by legislation as far as possible and relieving it from unequal taxation.

A Clergyman Steals a Trunk.

LONDON, March 11.—A clerical scandal at Bristol has caused much comment. Canon Baynes was arrested on the charge of stealing a trunk from the platform of the railway station When arraigned he confessed the truth of the charge, but urged mental weakness as the reason for the act. He was found guilty and sentenced to four months' imprisonment at hard labor.

The "Claimant" Not a Candidate.

LONDON, March 11.—Under the name and title of Roger Doughty Tichborne, Baronet Arthur Orton, the Tichborne claimant was nominated as the Home Rule candidate for Stoke-on-Trent, to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons made vacant by the resignation of William L. Bright, Home Ruler. He failed, however, to deposit his share of the election expenses and the nomination was canceled.

Terrible Colliery Disaster.

LONDON, March 11.—A terrific explosion occurred yesterday in Moorsa colliery, in Glamorganshire, Wales. Three hundred miners were entombed, but a large number have been rescued from the workings nearest the main shaft. Most of those taken out are unhurt, but several received fatal injuries. Heavy falls of rock prevent the explorers from reaching the more remote workings. The choke damp is spreading.

Later.—A fall of debris has blocked up the pit. The number of dead is now estimated at 160. The work of recovering bodies goes on slowly. Eight bodies shockingly mutilated have been recovered from the mine. The rescuers are constantly succumbing to the effects of the gas, and are obliged to make a speedy retreat.

LONDON, March 11.—Four of the miners who were entombed by the explosion yesterday in the Morsa Colliery in Glamorganshire, Wales, have escaped from the pit without assistance. They crawled through a crevice between the roof of the mine and debris. They report that they passed over a number of dead men lying in the heaps and they believe now that none of those in the pit are alive.

British Parliament.

LONDON, March 11.—In the House of Commons Mr. Sexton resuming the debate on the Parnell Commission's report, protested against placing on the records of the House the judges' distorted and preverted views of the evidence submitted to them. The Conservatives, he said, were bound to accept Mr. Gladstone's amendment as an act of moral restitution. In the course of his speech Mr. Sexton said he had a letter marked "private" from Lord Salisbury to Pigott.

Mr. Balfour declared a viler calumny was never uttered than the insinuation that Lord Salisbury was connected with the forgeries. He had the Premier's authority to challenge Mr. Sexton to publish the letter, and he dared him to read it.

Mr. Sexton retorted that he was ready to submit the letter, and others with it, to a committee of inquiry.

Mr. Balfour denied that the Government assisted the Times to produce evidence in America. He denied that the Unionist members of position had used the forged letters to make political capital. Finally Mr. Gladstone's amendment was rejected—339 to 268.

LONDON, March 11.—In the House of Commons last night, in the course of the debate on the Government motion asking the House to accept the report of the Parnell Commission, Sir William Vernon Harcourt maintained that the forged letters helped the Government to pass the Crimes Act. The country perhaps had become wearied of the debate, but that was because it regarded the Government's action against the acquitted men as vindictive and ungenerous.

Coming to the Carnarvon negotiations, Mr. Balfour interposed to the effect that Lord Salisbury had told Lord Carnarvon that he might see Mr. Parnell, but that he must say nothing.

Sir William, continuing, asked whether Lord Hartington, Sir Henry James or Mr. Goschen had apologized for their strictures on those negotiations. After denying the authority of the judges on political questions, he asked what the Government hoped to reap from this shabby prosecution, which would neither injure the Parnellite policy nor assist the Government. He proposed a remedial policy. Instead of a policy of irritation the Government should pursue a policy of peace and generosity.

Old World Wirelets.

Brown & Wingrove, melters and refiners and dealers in bullion, have failed. Liabilities, £300,000.

BUILDINGS BURNED.

Owen Sound Suffers to the Extent of $65,000 or $65,000.

Destructive Fires at Alliston, Belleville, Cleveland and Other Points.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., March 11.—Fire took place here yesterday morning in the Butchart block. The large hardware establishment of R. P. Butchart & Bro., and the furniture warerooms of R. Breckenridge & Sons, were completely destroyed. The adjoining buildings with stock were more or less damaged. Several people were injured by falling walls; among them Fire Marshal Thomas Gordon, who received a serious cut in the head.

The total loss is variously estimated at from $55,000 to $65,000; partly covered by insurance. Following are losses: R. P. Butchart & Bro., loss $38,000; insured in the Western for $3,000, Queen's $5,000, Commercial Union $2,000, City of London $4,000. Breckenridge & Sons, loss $6,000; insured in the Fire Insurance Company for $1,800, Commercial Union $2,000. Creasor, Morrison & Smith, loss $9,000, insured in the Lancashire for $1,100. W. J. Manley, loss, $2,000; insured in the Caledonia for $1,000, British America $800, N. B. & M. Company, $1,000. Mrs. Grant, loss, $1,200; insured in the N. B. and M. Company, for $500. W. K. Ireland, loss, $200; insured in the Mercantile for $1,000. L. H. Alexander, loss, $1,500; insured in the Mercantile for $550. H. Lepan & Co., loss $200; insured in the City of London for $1,000. J. H. Raven, loss, $200; no insurance. W. Craig, $300; no insurance. H. Knight, loss $100. Masson & Masson, $100; no insurance. J. Caton, $300; no insurance. Thompson & Smyth, $1,400; no insurance.

AT ALLISTON.

ALLISTON, Ont., March 11.—Jarrett's large planing mill, on Wellington street, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. Cause unknown. Loss heavy. Insurance, $1,000.

A FARM FIRE.

BELLEVILLE, March 11.—James S. Hamilton's house and barn, eighth concession, Thurlow, were burned yesterday morning with most of their contents. Loss $1,500; partially insured in the Norwich Union.

AT CLEVELAND, OHIO.

CLEVELAND, O., March 11.—Fire at the Eberhardt manufacturing works on Sunday night destroyed the roll and repair departments; loss, $54,000. The concern manufactured harness and wagon hardware.

HOTEL BURNED.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 11.—The Commercial Hotel, of South St. Paul, was burned Sunday. Peter Foley, the proprietor, was badly burned. All the guests escaped.

A BIG BLAZE IN CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 11.—Stern & Meyers' cloth house was burned this morning. Loss, $300,000. The building was one of the most beautiful in the city.

"O'ER YOUNG TO MARRY."

Merritton's Romance—Martha Bye Married at the Age of 14—The Wherefore.

ST. CATHARINES, March 11.—A drama in real life is reported from the valley town of Merritton. Some time ago Miss Martha Bye, 14 years of age, quarreled with her mother and left the parental roof for the walls of a friendly boarding-house. The poor child could not make enough to pay her board at the Cotton Mill, where she was employed, and with tears in her eyes appealed to Mr. Willie Grey, aged 22, to temporarily assist her. Willie's manly bosom swelled with pride that good fortune had thus enabled him to substantially assist the pretty little girl for whom he had always had a kindly feeling. But trouble commenced to brew when Willie commenced to pay Martha's board, for the families were not on good terms, and grave threats were freely indulged in by the girl's parents. Things went on in this way for two weeks, when Willie, faithful to his little charge, proposed flight and marriage that he might protect his fair lady by the rights of a husband. So they skipped off to Niagara Falls, that Eldorado for runaways, and were legally spliced. When Willie and his extremely youthful bride were drinking in the sweets of incipient matrimony, the lad who took the groom's place at the mill was nearly annihilated by the bride's mother, the woman taking him for young Grey. The bride's father predicts that the awful vengeance of outraged Providence will fall upon them, but Mr. and Mrs. Grey seem perfectly content.

DISALLOWANCE.

Manitobans Excited Over the Vetoing of the Tax Bill.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 11.—There is great excitement here, more especially among the legal fraternity, over the disallowance by the Dominion Government of the TAX Act. The effect will be to cause hopeless confusion in connection with the tax purchases and titles. It is difficult to say where the matter will end.

On Saturday in the Local Legislature Mr. Martin moved the third reading of the bill respecting Executive Administration laws in this Province. The bill was explained as one that Mr. Mowat had introduced in the Ontario House as the assertion of the rights of Provinces in the matter of commutation of sentences imposed under the Provincial statutes, and the Attorney-General of Ontario had asked Manitoba to strengthen his hands by passing it in this Legislature. Attorney-General Martin said he knew the bill would be disallowed. He had seen a letter from Sir John Thompson stating that that course would be taken by the Dominion authorities. Mr. Mowat was so satisfied of the rights of the Provinces in the premises that he had offered to leave the matter to the courts whether or not the bill was constitutional, but Sir John Thompson had declined to accept the proposition. The bill passed its third reading.

Tanlbee Dead.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—Ex-Representative Taulbee, who was shot by a correspondent whose nose he pulled, died this morning.

THE BLENHEIM TRAGEDY.

Statements of Men Who Heard the Fatal Shots.

The Birchells Relegated to Woodstock Jail.

Probability that the Case Against Mrs. Birchell Will Be Dropped—A Bogus Bank Book—Thanked God There Was a Hell.

MRS. BIRCHELL'S FATHER COMING.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 10.—The police authorities received a cablegram this morning that Mrs. Birchell's father and sister would sail on the Germanic for Niagara at once.

GOOD NEWS FOR MRS. BIRCHELL.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 11.—When the police officer conveyed the contents of the above cablegram to Mrs. Birchell at Mrs. Baidwin's, a beam of hope enlightened her now emaciated face, but when she realized that her father and sister would soon be by her side her eyes filled with tears and the unfortunate woman sobbed bitterly.

RELEGATED TO WOODSTOCK JAIL.

PRINCETON, Ont., March 11.—Coroner McLay yesterday morning issued a warrant to have Birchell and his wife removed to the Oxford county jail, and they will probably arrive at Woodstock on Wednesday.

THE FATAL SHOTS.

Mr. Rapson, who owns the swamp adjoining the Hersee farm, states that while out cutting timber on Feb. 17, he heard two pistol shots in rapid succession. He supposed the sound came from the Hersee swamp. He was about a mile from the spot where the murdered man was found. This was about 1 o'clock.

George McDonald and John Hickison, of Creditville, were rabbit hunting in the Hersee swamp on Monday, 17th ult., and between 1:30 and 2 o'clock they heard two shots fired. They were at this time about midway between the 2nd con. line and Spruce Lake, and not more than twenty rods from the spot where the body was found. The shots sounded like rifle shots and were fully three minutes apart.

A BOGUS BANK BOOK.

WOODSTOCK, March 11.—In an interview Detective Murray showed a bogus bank book he had found in Birchell's possession. It is a bank book usually carried by confidence men to mislead their dupes. It shows a large balance to the credit of the depositer, but the figures are fictitious and the deposits are all in the same handwriting. It is supposed to have been issued by the "Paris Banking Company (limited), London, Eng.," and showed a balance of £4,000 in favor of the customer. The last entry was made on Dec. 26, 1888, and on the opposite sheet was this:

"Remittted to Imperial Bank of Canada, surplus, by bonds, re land company, representing £4,000 stock at 4 per cent. R. BIRCHELL, Esq., Buscut Rectory, Lachlaie."

"Now," said Mr. Murray, "this book never saw a bank, and Birchell's £4,000 exists only in his fertile imagination. Then there is the evidence that while Birchell and his wife were stopping at Niagara on the Canadian side he opened a small account in the bank on the American side for $150 about the 19th, two days after the murder. This was all the money Benwell was supposed to have. If this be true, the murder was committed for $150."

THANKED GOD FOR A HELL.

WOODSTOCK, March 11.—At Knox Church Sunday night Rev. Dr. McMullen, ex-moderator, referred incidentally to the Benwell murder. He thanked God that there was a hell for people guilty of such crimes, and said that he had no desire to be in heaven with the man who had committed so foul a deed.

DETECTIVE MURRAY'S REGRET.

TORONTO, March 11.—Mr. Douglass R. Pelley and Detective Murrry arrived in the city from Princeton about 9 o'clock last evening, and this afternoon will go on to Niagara Falls. Detective Murray's mission to the Falls is to escort Birchell to Woodstock jail, where he will be confined until the Assizes, which open in October next. Birchell's wife will accompany her husband to Woodstock, but it is not considered likely that the charge against her of being an accessory to the murder will be proceeded with. Murray regrets that Birchell's arrest was so hastily effected by Chief Young. He thinks that had the young man been thrown off his guard and placed simply under surveillance, he would have incriminated himself by his conversation. The detective regards his case as a remarkably clear one. Pelley will probably stay in Toronto until the trial takes place.

PERILS OF THE SEA.

An Iceberg Three Miles Long—Four Weeks on Half Rations—Seamen Saved.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 11.—The British steamship North Cambria from Scotland, came into port yesterday with a plate on each bow stove in by ice. The vessel was for three days in an ice field; part of the time there was a thick fog. The ship nearby ran into an iceberg that reared above the highest mast. A course was made near the sides of the berg and Captain Roberts thinks by the time he was getting clear he might put the length of the monster down at fully three miles.

IN DISTRESS

PORT TOWNSEND, Washington, March 11.—The U. S. steamer Iroquois arrived here yesterday in distress. She left Honolulu Nov. 20 for Samoa to relieve the U. S. steamer Adams, and stopped at Marshall and Gilbert Islands. After leaving Gilbert Island the piston rod of the forward engine broke and the ship began leaking. A succession of gales prevented the vessel from returning to Honolulu, and she was forced to go north. Provisions and fuel run short, and officers and crew have been on half rations since Feb. 13. The crew suffered greatly from the sudden change of the tropical climate to the severe cold of the north. The Iroquois has on board five of the crew of the American schooner Thrasan, of San Francisco, which was wrecked Nov. 25 and eleven South Sea Islanders were drowned.

Restoring the University.

TORONTO, March 11.—There was considerable opposition in the City Council at its last meeting to a proposition to grant the University $200,000 to aid in the restoration. Not a dollar, it was urged, should be given to the University above the $6,000 a year already granted, but it was contended if they wished the city to capitalize this amount and give them a bulk sum it might be done. The question was referred to the City Treasurer to report on.

CANADA'S CAPITAL.

The Doctrine of Provincial Rights Again Sustained.

Another Chapter in the Rykert Jobbery Story.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, Tuesday, March 11.

Sir Richard's resolution condemning Rykert's action in the Sands-Adams case comes on to-day, and all the smoking rooms are speaking this morning as to the probable result. Some think that the resolution should have gone farther and demanded the expulsion of Rykert, but the majority hold that it would be a dangerous precedent to establish—one that might be used at some other time for party purposes. It seems to be the general expectation that the Government will meet Sir Richard's motion with a proposition to refer the whole matter to a committee which will be careful not to report until it is too late for the House to take any action. This was the course pursued in the Baird scandal, when it worked admirably, the Chairman of the Special Committee presenting his report just as the Black Rod was knocking for admittance to summons the Commons to prorogation.

City Solicitor McKelcan, of Hamilton, is here looking after the proposed Grand Trunk "cut off" line at Burlington Beach. The bill authorizing this line was adjourned by the Railway Committee this morning until Thursday next. The bill incorporating the Owen Sound and Lake Huron Railway, was also passed by committee. This line will run from Owen Sound through Tara and Paisley to Goderich, with a branch to Kincardine.

OTTAWA, Monday, March 10.

In the House of Commons to-day, on the orders of the day being called, Mr. Bowell laid on the table letters from Messrs. Hugh J. Macdonald and J. Stewart Tupper on the subject of the Rykert charges, and moved that they be printed in the Votes and Proceedings of the House. Mr. Tupper denies in emphatic terms that he had any connection with Mr. Rykert's Cypress Hill transactions, and Mr. Macdonald is equally strong in the assertion that he was not engaged by Mr. Rykert to conduct any negotiations in connection with the sale of the limit. Mr. Macdonald admits, however, that he was in Ottawa in February, 1883, that he had an accidental meeting with Mr. Rykert, and was pressed by that honorable member to use influence with Sir David Macpherson to secure compensation for Sands for the claims advanced by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. In short, they deny that they derived any advantage from the sale of the Cypress Hill limit except their interest in the $100 paid to Mr. J. B. McArthur, their firm associate, who acted as Sands' solicitor for the purchase of the limit. Mr. Macdonald, however, interviewed Sir David Macpherson at the instance of Mr. Rykert, and urged the Minister to use his influence to protect Mr. Sands against the claims of the railway company.

Mr. Rykert rose and protested that Mr. Bowell should have given him notice of his intention to put in these letters.

Mr. Bowell replied that he had handed the letters to Mr. Rykert, had asked him to read them, and had told him that he was going to lay them on the table.

After this startling contradiction, Mr. Rykert retired from the controversy. Later on, however, he put in some additional evidence showing that he had wired and written Mr. J. B. McArthur, now of Minneapolis, the former partner of Macdonald & Tupper, for support of his statements in the House at the time of the recent disclosures, but was not very successful. He had then sent out his partner, Mr. J. H. Ingersoll, of St. Catharines, to prevail upon Mr. McArthur to make a statement in corroboration of that he had made to the House. He was not successful. Mr. Rykert read a long communication from his partner to the effect that while Mr. McArthur admitted the accuracy of Mr. Rykert's contentions, he was loth to make a written statement, on account of his past professional relations with Macdonald & Tupper, but that Mr. McArthur had finally consented to send a letter for Mr. Rykert to Hugh J. Macdonald for approval, with the recommendation that Mr. Macdonald should send it on to Mr. Rykert. This letter, however, seems not to have reached the member for Lincoln, so that Mr. McArthur's views have not been authoritatively presented.

The following committee to investigate the Bremner charges against General Middleton was agreed upon: Messrs. McNeill, Tisdale, Wood, of Westmoreland; Casgrain, Weldon, of St. John; Girouard and Holton. Mr. Lister, as the promoter of the inquiry, and Mr. Kirkpatrick as a special representative of the accused, will also be members of the committee without power of voting, in accordance with Mr. Blake's suggestion. It is the intention to push the inquiry without delay.

Two private bills, respecting the Brantford, Waterloo and Lake Erie Railway Company and incorporating the Manitoba and Southeastern Railway Company, were read the third time and passed.

Dr. Roome moved his resolution declaring that the Government should establish a health department with a responsible head presided over by a minister or deputy-minister.

Dr. Platt urged the importance of disseminating sound knowledge of the means of preventing disease and the necessity for promoting the education of the people in all health and sanitary matters.

Major-Gen. Laurie and Dr. Sproule supported the resolution in an earnest manner.

Sir John Macdonald put his foot on Dr. Roome for increasing the patronage of Mr. Carling's department. He thought the responsibilities for the promotion and preservation of the public health were better discharged by the Provincial authorities, and pointed out that in order to give effect to Dr. Roome's proposals it would be necessary for the Government to appoint a special set of officers all over the country at an enormous expense. The Premier accordingly suggested that Dr. Roome withdraw his motion.

Mr. Lawrey agreed with almost every word uttered by the leader of the Government, who had struck a true key of the proper method of government, namely, Provincial rights. The First Minister had been forced by circumstances to abandon the heresy by which he had in the past attempted to govern this country. He could not agree, however, with the suggested Dominion Health Convention just now. The subject was a new one, and perhaps at some future time such a convention might be called. In the meantime he thought the best plan would be to let the various Provincial Governments and Legislatures deal with the important subject as they thought best. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Roome withdrew the resolution.

Capital Notes.

Mr. Charlton called attention to an interesting case. The tug Rooth cleared from French River for Fort Erie, towing a raft of timber, but the department seems to have believed that it was intended to take the raft across to the States and so escape the export duty on logs. Consequently the vessel was seized and the owners were ordered to put up with the Government a sum equal to the estimated duty. The logs were never exported, and tardy justice is only now being done by the return of the money. One of the owners of the Rooth is Mr. Jackson, ex-M.P. for South Norfolk. The tug itself is worth more than the raft.

Sir Richard Cartwright's motion of censure on Mr. Rykert will have precedence to-morrow.

In answer to Mr. Cook, Sir Hector Langevin said the amount spent since Confederation in improving the harbor at Collingwood had been $206,000, including $23,000 expended by the Northern Railway.

The Senate to-day debated for an hour and a half the Keefer divorce bill. Several members contended that Mr. Keefer had not prosecuted his wife for her early adulteries with sufficient promptness, and that he should not at this late date be granted a divorce. This view was not entertained, however, and the bill passed on a division.

Senator Almon's bill, legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister's daughter, was also read a second time. The Patent Act, the Industrial School's Escapes Act, the Inter-Provincial Bridge Company Bill, and other local bills were passed a stage.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

—Chief of Police Pow, of Tilsonburg, was thrown out of his buggy the other day and was severely injured about the face.

—The Parkhill Council at its last meeting appointed Mr. Noah Fried, of Stratford, as superintendent of works, constable, etc., at a salary of $400 a year.

—An epidemic of measles is sweeping over Hamilton. Forty-four cases were reported to Dr. Ryall during last week; also seven cases of scarletina and one case of typhoid fever.

—Rev. A. W. Richardson, B.A., of Georgetown, has accepted the call extended to him by the Congregational Church, Brantford, and will enter upon the pastorate in September next.

—A young lady visiting Mr. Ed Rawlings here, had a watch sent to her by a friend in Austria. The parcel arrived all right, but upon examination at the customs office it was found that the cases were present, but the works were conspicuous by their absence. Tracers are at work and the movement will probably be found.—[Petrolea Topic.

—Wm. Riseborough, the Culloden young man arrested by Chief Pow of Tilsonburg, on Friday last for horse stealing, has given information which led to the arrest Monday of Hugh Douglas, of Springfield, on the charge of being the accomplice of Riseborough in making and passing the forged note for $73 on A. Jackson, M.C.R. ticket agent at Tilsonburg. Riseborough now turns out to be the person who swindled J. P. Martyn, of St. Thomas, out of $53 on a forged note last January.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, March 10—11 p.m.—The pressure continues low over the western portion of the continent, and it has decreased considerably over the eastern portion. Pimples to Scrofula Terrible skin and scalp disease. Psoriasis 8 years. Head, arms and breast a solid scab. Best doctors and medicines fail. Cured by Cuticura at a cost of $3 75.

Cured by Cuticura

I used two bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, three boxes of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and am cured of a terrible skin and scalp disease, known as psoriasis. I had it for eight years. It would get better and worse at times. Sometimes my head would be a solid scab, and was at the time I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My arms were covered with scabs from my elbows to shoulders, my breast was almost one solid scab, and my back covered with sores varying in size from a penny to a dollar. I had doctored with all the best doctors with no relief, and used many different medicines without effect. My case was hereditary, and, I began to think, incurable, but it began to heal from the first application.

ARCHER RUSSELL, Deshler, Ohio.

A Grateful Mother.

I thank you for your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and feel that in doing so I might be able to save some person from a heavy doctor's bill, which I know it has done for me. My baby was seven weeks old when I began to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES for a disease which had spread itself all over its head and face. I was nearly distracted; had been to the doctor's, but got no satisfaction. Before two days' use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES the scabs began to loosen, and in three weeks I could hardly believe that it was the baby I used to dread people seeing. He is perfectly cured, and has a beautiful growth of hair coming. I am very grateful to you.

MRS. GEO. MOREMAN, Verdun, Lower Lachine, Montreal P. Q.

Cuticura Resolvent,

McCOLLOM'S

Rheumatic Repellant

Has won an excellent reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, as a wonderful rheumatic cure, and in numerous instances where it has been thoroughly tested during the past 16 years, it has proved the most reliable remedy known for this distressing complaint. It is neatly put up in $1 bottles, agreeable to take, operates well on the liver, kidneys and blood, and effectually removes rheumatism, gout and neuralgia from the system. Prepared by W. A. McCollom, Druggist, Tilsonburg Ont., and sold by wholesale and retail druggists.

LONDON PRESBYTERY.

Resignation of Rev. D. McGillivray Presented and Accepted.

Able Papers on Interesting Topics.

The Holy Spirit and His Work—Elements of Pulpit Power—The Ministry of Money—Christian Union.

The London Presbytery met in the First Presbyterian Church this morning. Rev. J. Allister Murray presided at the afternoon session and Rev. G. Sutherland at the morning. Rev. W. S. Ball, of Vanneck, read a very interesting paper on "The Holy Spirit and His Work." The speaker would not consider for a moment the arguments and contentions of those who refused to believe in the actual personality of the Holy Spirit, and proceeded without comment to the work and power of that person of the Godhead. The first work of the Holy Ghost was to reveal the soul to itself and convince it of its sin. Scripture showed that the Son came to prove the Father to the church and the world, but the Spirit's mission was one of regeneration. It came into the world in its ignornorance and blindness. It first made the sinner anew, when he was enabled to see himself in his natural and fallen state. The Scriptural term for this new creation was "being born again." It was the Holy Spirit, the speaker claimed, that was responsible for the great penticostal cry which has been so often repeated in these latter days, "What must I do to be saved?' The proper understanding and following of the Spirit's law of procedure in revealing to the sinner his shortcomings and his need of heavenly aid would in a great measure do away with the shallow preaching of the present day. The most important work of the Holy Spirit was that of convincing the converted soul of the genuineness of eternal things. All sinners whom the Spirit awakened to see themselves were also prepared for the second and subsequent lessons in spiritual growth.

At the conclusion of the paper several of the clergymen commented on the thoughts and subjects brought out by the speaker.

Dr. Thompson followed with a paper on "The Elements of Pulpit Power." The one element that rose higher and overshadowed all others, and one which could not under any circumstances be dispensed with, was the Holy Spirit of God. The Spirit, contrary to what many thought, did not in any way ignore other and natural assistants, but made constant use of all ordinary and helpful measures. It was manifestly essential that to have pulpit power the minister should be a true child and follower of God. The manifold advantages of an elocutionary training could not be slighted, although some preachers endowed by nature with good elocutionary powers did not feel the need of any such course. No power of any description, no matter how helpful it may appear, should be accepted in preference to spiritual power. The personality of the preacher was a very important qualification and coupled with a wise adaption of the preaching to the wants of the times and the understanding of the listeners would greatly facilitate the acquirement of pulpit power. It would be found very beneficial if there was a more positive character in the preaching than was the case at present.

Rev. Mr. Ball made a few remarks, holding that nothing had or ever could equal the power of the Word of God. The great power of the Church of Rome was in the manipulation of missapplied and misquoted passages of the Holy Writ to substantiate the most monstrous absurdities taught in their creed.

Rev. Mr. McLaren, of Aylmer, followed and spoke very strongly against using Scripture in a joking way. He held that passages once used in that manner lost their force and weight when repeated on after occasions.

Rev. Mr. Henderson made a few remarks about Christ as the Prince of Preachers. His earnestness and intimate knowledge of the Scripture should be imitated by all his true followers.

Revs. J. Currie, D. Currie, W. Roger and Sutherland made short and complimentary speeches on the paper, and were in turn followed by Rev. J. A. Murray in a brief and eloquent summary of the discussion. He dwelt upon two kinds of pulpit power. One simply drew crowds and made the church pay from a financial and commercial point of view. Although this should be easily seen through it was nevertheless much sought after. Christ's popularity was far from this. He taught the simple truth and all who had made themselves truly popular since that time had but emulated his example. Courage was a very important help to the minister of the present time. The reverend gentleman held that three of the most prominent and glaring vices of the present time were covetousness, drunkenness and impurity, and they all needed the spirits of heroes to speak plainly on these subjects.

EVENING SESSION.

Rev. D. Currie, B.D., of Glencoe, read a paper on the "Ministry of Money." He held that although money was perverted by some to be the root of all evil, it was possible for the possession of money to be a blessing, and many good men in the past had been wealthy. The possession of wealth was sanctioned by the Word of God. Its possession, however, entailed great responsibilities, but the Bible inculcated the principles upon which it should be used. All our possessions, money and everything else, should be subservient to the will and pleasure of God. This use includes not religious purposes merely, but in every relation and duty of life, though the claims of religion at home and abroad should be first. All churches should be comfortable, neat, even beautiful, but it was also desirable that the congregation should pay their debts promptly and conduct all their business in a business-like manner with financial integrity. They should pay their minister promptly and liberally and raise him above the need of receiving perquisites. The interest of a congregation in foreign missions shows its religious life. Much good work was hindered by the lack of funds which were in the possession of the people, but which are not contributed as freely as they might be, and the revival that was greatest needed was in the direction of liberality. There is no institution where so much work is done for little or nothing and its affairs conducted with so little expense as in the church. Everyone should contribute—the poor and the rich according to their ability, and the giving should be conducted systematically by laying aside a set proportion.

Rev. Mr. McLaren spoke on the necessity of conducting all the schemes of the church in a systematic manner. In the opinion of many the proper proportion for giving was one-tenth.

Rev. Mr. Roger followed in the same strain, holding that systematic giving was the most comfortable way of contributing to the church calls and in addition was the way in which Christians were directed to give by the Bible.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland said there were plenty of members of the church whose pocket-books had never been baptized, and for this reason they were somewhat stingy in contributing to the funds of the church.

Rev. Mr. Gordon advocated the educating of the children in giving, holding that there was no time when training was so successfully accomplished as when taken in the youth.

Rev. Mr. Murray did not see any reason for taking a melancholy view of the subject, because the Presbyterian Church had greatly increased in the liberality of its contribution of late.

Mr. McMaster spoke on the "Ministry of Discipleship." He held that it was of the most vital importance to have the indwelling of the Holy Spirit in the hearts of the pew-holders. There were a great many people in the church who have very little knowledge of the Word of God, and for this reason they were prevented from accomplishing the work which might otherwise be expected from them. There was a good deal of Christianity in the hearty shake of the hand. All work should be taken hold of with earnestness. There was no good result in doing work in a slipshod manner.

Mr. J. A. Young spoke on the advisability of every member and adherent of the church having something to do in advancing the interests of the church. Every kind of work that can be done for Christ requires instruction. If the ministers would occasionally give a sermon on how the people should conduct themselves in the pew. Impress on them the importance of every department of the service. Many in the pew drift away in a strain of thoughtlessness, and as the instruction came, for the most part, from the pulpit this manner of work would do away with this mistake.

Rev. Mr. Roger spoke on the desirability of closer relationship among evangelical churches. Two theories claimed the attention of those who sought this object, but both were somewhat extreme; one was organic or corporal union, and the other claimed that there was nothing wanting more than what now existed—that there was at present a real union. The speaker held that a middle course should be found. The chief need was a union of spirit and brotherly love; but this should be accompanied by an outward and visible union. The honor of God was involved in the matter. The church in its present condition was hindered by petty strifes and rivalries, which must be very painful to the Almighty. The divisions of the church had a tendency to rivet the fetters of Romanist superstitions, and they had perverted more to its doctrine than anything else.

The discussion at the close of the paper was taken by Revs. Ball, Roger and Murray. The Presbytery then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

TUESDAY MORNING SESSION.

The Presbytery met this morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. James Brown, moderator. The records of Glencoe, South Westminster and Hyde Park not having been attested by the Moderator or presented, reference to them was dropped out of the minutes and thus changed they were sustained. The election of moderator for the next six months was proceeded with, Rev. Mr. Hamilton being called to the chair.

The first business taken up was the resignation of Rev. D. McGillivray from the charge of St. James' Church of this city. Messrs. Hugh Wyatt, Wm. Brown and Wm. Webster, delegates from the church in question, were called on. They all requested the Presbytery on behalf of the congregation to ask Rev. Mr. McGillivray to reconsider his action. His ministry had been a very satisfactory one, both in financial as well as in spiritual matters, and on these grounds they asked that the connection between pastor and people be not severed.

Rev. Mr. McGillivray followed, and praised his congregation for their past liberality in giving, but he thought that the burden upon them should be lightened by the union of his church and the First Presbyterian. A united church of the 200 families would be very desirable. He had a pretty hard field when he went to the church. They had a bad debt of $4,000, with five years' interest, but they had since that time raised about $20,000. He was of the opinion that if the two pulpits were vacant the churches might come to some consideration, and for this reason he asked that the tie be severed.

Rev. Mr. Henderson asked if Mr. McGillivray had any reason other than for the purpose of cementing the proposed union.

Rev. Mr. McGillivray—I have. I think that a change would be beneficial to me and to the congregation as well.

Rev. Mr. Ball said that there came a time when a minister, although entertaining the best feelings towards the congregation, might desire a change. When his exertions in bringing the church to a healthy state had taxed his utmost efforts, a change would be very beneficial, and he would be able to recuperate. He was pleased to see the good feeling existing between Mr. McGillivray and his people, and was more than glad that they had not delayed in showing it. In his opinion it took a hero to place himself as a candidate to have himself criticized and gone over by people who said they were hunting for a minister. He would move that his resignation be accepted, but it was with feelings of sorrow that he did so.

Rev. J. Currie moved that Mr. McGillivary be asked to reconsider his action on the ground that two vacant pulpits in the city was not to be desired.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland supported Rev. Mr. Currie's motion. In his opinion there was room for both congregations in the city. He was of the opinion that no man in the city had contended with such obstacles as had Mr. McGillivray, and he thought that he could well bear the strain.

Rev. Mr. McGillivray—I will press the motion without any further consideration. I am deeply thankful for the kind words spoken here, but I think that I have made no mistake.

Rev. J. Allister Murray said that his sympathies were with the amendment. Mr. McGillivray had undertaken a great work and he had done it well and had always been a stimulant to the other clergymen. He could not see why he should be discouraged now. He had fought the best part of the fight and the victory must now be near at hand. The Presbyterian Church in the city was in a very active state, and as the city was growing there was a possibility if Mr. McGillivary stayed in the city that the forces of the mission in the north end might be allied to the St. James' Church.

At a further request of Mr. McGillivray his resignation was accepted, to take effect on the last day of the present month.

The Presbytery then adjourned.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and conver the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

ONTARIO'S GRAND OLD MAN.

Mr. Thos. Ballantyne, M.P.P., on making the presentation of a life-sized portrait to Hon. Oliver Mowat the other day, spoke as follows:

The occasion on which we have this day met is of so unique a character as to be almost, if not wholly, without a parallel in the history of British constitutional government. Not within the memory of living man has a Premier enjoyed uninterruptedly so long a reign as yourself. While there have been repeated changes in the Imperial and the various colonial administrations in different quarters of the world, it has been the rare fortune of yourself to have been at the head of the affairs of Ontario for an unbroken period of over seventeen years. As the First Minister of the Crown in this your native Province, you have been successful in four general elections, each succeeding the other, and it needs no foresight whatever to see that we are on the eve of a fifth, which will prolong your benign rule for a further Parliamentary term. There is another example in a by-gone generation of a great statesman being maintained in office, as you have been, during crucial times, for a period approaching to two decades. In his case the country was menaced with danger, and he earned for himself the appellation of "the pilot that weathered the storm." The distinction, sir, is one which equally applied to you; for with persistent, powerful and determined foes, yours has been a constant and successful warfare for the rights and privileges of your Province. It is by these contests that the "Christian Politician" has also earned for himself the title of the "Plucky Premier," and it is as the "hero of a hundred fights," in not one of which were you ever worsted, but as the victor wearing the laurel wreath in all, that you will be as much known to our successors as for the practical wisdom and beneficence of your long course of legislation. We learn from history that in times of strife and conflict there have been usually but few measures passed for the welfare of the people. The history of our own times in Ontario has presented a remarkable exception. Although bound to the necessity of ever having the sword girded to you side, your equanimity of temperament, calm and judicial tone of mind, great capacity for labor, desire for the good of your fellow-men, and far-seeing statesmanship have at the same time given the Province a vast body of law but a small portion of which, and that relating to a single department or branch, would have satisfied and made the reputation, in a period even of peace, of a man of less attainments and a more easily satisfied sense of public duty. The one example of the codified statutes, having relation to our highly-prized system of municipal self-government, drew from the late Chief Justice Harrison, a publicist, whose views were opposed to yours on most matters pertaining to government, but other than your own, the very highest authority on this question, the splendid tribute, "that these acts were the most complete and perfect code of the kind that he knew of in any country in the world." Time will not suffice to give even the merest catalogue of the host of measures framed by your busy brain and pen, and crystallized into the legislation of the Province for the happiness and welfare of all classes of your fellow-men. And it is not only as a lawgiver that we feel the blessedness of your influence. That influence is felt in a hundred different ways, but certainly in none so much as in the outstretched hand for the relief of the sorrowing and afflicted of the human race. In every movement for the lessening of suffering, the education and care of those bereft of their faculties, the shelter, comfort and sustenance of the hapless class for whom there is no cure—the amelioration, in short, of all sorts and conditions of men; unable through their misfortune to take their part in the battle of life, you have been so pre-eminently first that to you there has been no second. People sometimes ask where is your reward for the life of toil and devotion you have given your country. Sir, this itself is "your own exceeding great reward"—a greater I am sure you would not desire; a greater or better it is not in the power of anyone to bestow, as it is not in the power of anyone to take from you. You will feel it sustaining influence in life, and it will remain with you to the last. We look upon this feature of your great and good career as more to be envied you even than the impulse you have given the country by your liberal encouragement in the vast extension of its railway system and the opening of ordinary public roads, more than the perfecting and partial sustenance of our splended educational institutions; more than your example and guidance in lessening the evils of intemperance, and in teaching the diverse races of the country the lesson of toleration and moderation in their sentiments towards each other—the lesson indeed, of the universal brotherhood of man. It was not to be expected, sir, that so shining a mark should have escaped the shafts of the calumnious and the seekers after their own desires. You have been subject to open assault and the foulest and most insidious of secret conspiracies, but the fiercest light and the darkest shadow which have been cast upon your every act have failed to reveal the slightest blemish in your life and conduct, and "wearing through this track of years the white flower of a blameless life" the people have stood nobly by you, and will continue to do so while you have health and strength and desire to serve them, and to fight their battles. With your sense of modesty and justice you would scarcely pardon us did we omit to mention the aid and assistance you have received in your councils and measures by a band of able and devoted colleagues. You have always had the sagacity to discern talents in others, the wisdom to call them to the service of the State, and the magnanimity to allow free soope for their exercise without those petty inter-positions which, it is said by persons who are versed in what is called statecraft, many Prime Ministers are in the habit of placing as a bar to free action of their associates in the Government. Having reposed confidence in men, it is your habit to trust them, and you win from them in return their warm esteem and regard, and the devoted labor of their lives. Equally wanting in justice and generosity should we be if we failed to acknowledge the invariable courtesy and kindness we have received whenever we have had to see you on public business. Constantly recurring interviews with individuals and deputations on the greatest possible diversity of subjects of public importance must have made the life of a busy man like yourself a burden, but it must be gratefully confessed that you have allowed yourself to be at all times easy of appoach, and you have borne these frequent inflictions with extraordiany patience and resignation. This exemplary spirit added to your other qualities of head and heart, has done much to win for you, as the father of your people, the affection of your children. Desiring therefore to preserve the lineaments of one so univerally revered and loved, we beg your acceptance of this portrait of yourself. The artist has faitfully "held the mirror up to nature," and produced a work which we trust will for many generations recall to your children and their children the beauties and graces of a nobly spent life and be preserved to future ages as a treasured possession of the people of this Province.

The portrait was subscribed for by the honorable gentleman's Parliamentary following. Mr. Mowat made a feeling reply.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE.

Mr. Dryden's Dog Bill—Measures Advanced to a Second Reading.

TORONTO, Monday, March 10.

The House sat for less than two hours to-day. The principal business was the second reading of a number of bills of private members, among others being the following: To amend the act to incorporate Huron College—Mr. Meredith. Respecting the sinking fund of the town of Palmerston—Mr. Allan. Respecting the old cemetery and the Methodist Cemetery in the town of Sarnia—Mr. Mackenzie.

The following bill was read a third time: To consolidate the debenture debt of the county of Middlesex—Mr. Ross (Middlesex).

Mr. Hammell asked whether Mr. Marriott, who is teaching in School Section No. 5, township of Sarnia, is qualified to be a teacher in the public schools of that township. If so, how is he qualified and by whose authority?

Hon. G. W. Ross said that he was informed by the inspector of the division that Mr. Marriott is not qualified to teach in the township of Sarnia.

Mr. Stewart asked whether it is the intention of the Government to cause an investigation to be made with a view to ascertaining what has become of the large sums unaccounted for by the late Police Magistrate for the county of Dufferin, from fines imposed by him during the years 1886 and 1887.

Hon. J. M. Gibson pointed out that as the Dominion Government and the county councils were the parties interested in fines imposed under the Scott Act, the Government did not propose nor had it any interest in causing such an investigation. The Police Magistrate concerned had been superseded by the present official, Mr. Gray.

Mr. Dryden moved the second reading of his bill for the amendment of the act to impose a tax on dogs and for the protection of sheep. The bill places a considerable tax on dogs, namely, an annual tax of $1 for a dog and $3 for a bitch, and for each dog and bitch respectively thereafter $2 and $5. Every municipality, however, which wishes, is to have the right to refrain from imposing the tax. Mr. Dryden accompanied his motion with a few remarks, touching the uselessness of a large proportion of dogs that are kept by people who have no use for them, and the special harm done in the destruction of sheep. The bill was sent to the Special Agricultural Committee.

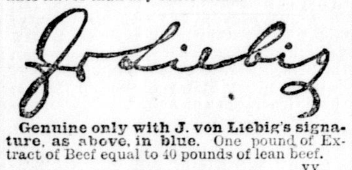

Before the House adjourned, Mr. Meredith complained that there was a lack of copies of the statutes, which occasioned a good many members serious inconvenience. The Librarian, he said, had reported that some of the members hid the books under their desks. As Mr. Meredith said this his eye wandered round, no doubt accidentally, to Mr. Tooley.

The adjourned debate on the second reading of the Bill to provide for the secrecy of the ballot, was allowed to stand until Wednesday next.

Keep It Up, Gentlemen. It Does Us Good. Figures Won't Lie!

Notwithstanding the combined efforts of jealous rivals to put as under, we are out on top as usual. Look at the record for 1889. Policies issued for nearly $3,500,000. Not bad for a young company, you will say. True, it took some of the old fogies 10 years to write up the same amount. Why, we declined more applications last year than some of the other companies wrote up altogether. How do we account for it, you say. Well, we have plans to suit everybody. Our premium rates are as low as any other company. Our policy is the most liberal, being nearly unconditional; almost a simple promise to pay at death or maturity, as the case may be. The policy-holders are entirely free from all liability; but are, nevertheless, allowed to participate in the control of the Company's affairs and to monopolize nine-tenths (9-10) of the profits of the business. Each policy-holder has one vote for every $1,000 of insurance held by him in this Company. These privileges are secured by the act of incorporation. If you are not insured, or want more insurance, take a policy in the MANUFACTURERS'.

THE expense for cremating a body in Paris is 60 cents; on this continent it is about $25. But it costs a great deal more where the cremating agency is a child playing with matches.

TORONTO TELEGRAM: While the members of the Opposition in the Local Legislature are hurling their oratorical thunder—at least as much oratorical thunder as they can muster up—at the Ontario ballot system they seem to forget that they have never raised a breath against what would be regarded even in autocratic Russia as an outrage on liberty, namely, the Dominion Franchise Act.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS, wife of the recently deceased leader of the Confederates in the United States Civil War, writes to say that she is preparing a biography of her late husband, which will be published at an early date. In order to make the book as complete as possible, she will be greatly obliged if the friends of the family, whose personal collections of Mr. Davis would throw light on any event of his life or tend to illustrate his character, will record them and forward them to her. As she will endeavor, as far as possible, to tell the story of Mr. Davis' career in his own words, she will regard it as a real service to be furnished with copies of any letters from her husband relating to any public topic that his surviving friends may have preserved.

THERE are lots of Tory newspaper compliments to the honesty, integrity and ability of Hon. Alexander Mackenzie now that he is irrecoverably ill. But what did these same journals say of him in 1878? Were they telling the truth then or now?—[St. Johns, N.B., Telegraph.

These are very pertinent questions, but we venture the belief that they will not be answered by the men who so shamefully slandered Hon. Alex. Mackenzie when he was able to take an active part in public life as a leader of the Liberal party, and who now pursue the same tactics with regard to Hon. Mr. Mowat, Sir Richard Cartwright and other well-known public men. They, too, we suppose, will in due course be praised, in order that their successors in active leadership may be vilified. It is a way which the more unscrupulous organs of the Tory party have.

HON. MR. CHAPLEAU, a member of the Dominion Government, has prepared a bill for submission to Parliament which will prove very objectionable to trades unions. The second clause reads:

Whatsoever, whether verbally or in writing, and whether acting for himself or for any corporation, company, association, person or persons whatsoever, shall make it a condition for future employment or for the continuation of actual employment, that any other person applying for said employment, or desirous of retaining the same under either a verbal or written contract, shall become a member of any association or union of which said applicant or employe is not then or does not desire to become thereafter a member, is guilty of a misdemeanor and liable, on summary conviction, to pay a fine of $50, and in default of immediate payment, to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding six months.

The bill will no doubt be vigorously opposed by the friends of trades unionism. It is an outcome of the row which recently took place between Chapleau and the printers employed in the Government Bureau at Ottawa.

LIBERTY may not always be a blessing. In Belgium any one may establish a school and teach it. A father has the right to select whatever school suits him best; he has also the right to "reject" them all and leave his children to enjoy the bliss of ignorance. "The right of ignorance is a precious right!" said Deputy Jacob, the leader of the Conservatives. Eighty per cent. of the Belgian day laborers cannot read or write—that is, 15 per cent. of the total population. Deputy Jacob is a typical Tory. When popular education, by the agency of the taxpayer, was first proposed in Great Britain, it was bitterly opposed by the Tories, who held to the doctrine that if the classes were educated they would not "keep their places," but would desire to improve the position in which it had pleased Providence to place them!

WHAT the farmer wants, pertinently remarks the Lindsay Post, is a reduction of public expenditure, a return to simple ways and to the practice of economy, not alone on his own part, but on the part of those who administer and expend public money from the Premier down to the lowest clerk in the department. Then the farmer wants "equal rights" under the tariff. He wants tariff reform and tariff reduction, so that as the largest consuming class the farmers will not have to bear the biggest share of the taxes. Many more reforms the farmer wants; and he can secure them all if he will not allow himself to be led away by partisan appeals or by sectional issues. Even race and religious cries will be raised to divert the attention of the farmers from the hard times, the low prices and the high taxes. If the farmers are again deceived and humbugged they will have themselves to blame. The remedy is in their own hands. If they do not act and act in the right direction it will be their own fault. The opportunity will soon present itself. They can speak with no uncertain sound; or forever after they must keep silent and meekly bear whatever loads and taxes the monopolists may heap on them.

THEY have a school for physical culture in New York. It is adapted to the wants of the female portion of the community and if the experiments undertaken in it are all as successful as was the address and illustrations on the topic "Artistic and Correct Dress," by Mrs. Jenness-Miller, given the other day, no doubt the graduates of the school will have a healthy influence on the fashionable world. A natural system of dress for women, said Mrs. Miller, should be absolutely without ligatures and bands. The gown she wore illustrated how unnecessary corsets were to a good fit. It was of olive green plush and hung in short full folds from the waist. When she disappeared to change it for another she asked to be timed. She was back on the platform in two minutes and a quarter, although she had to go down stairs to the dressing-room. She reappeared in a pink gown of India silk, made in one piece on what she called the gown-form foundation. This, she said, was a good model for schoolgirls' dresses, because it did not cramp them in taking proper exercise. Then she disappeared to put on a street gown—time, 2:20. This, she said threw little weight upon the hips or the back. A woman who can change her attire in two minutes and a quarter will be in great demand by the average impatient male. With such a hepmeet domestic felicity would be promoted, and late-comers at public entertainments would be few—that is, if the customary excuse of men for such dilatoriness is not a slander.

PUT A STOP TO IT.

The following letter from the pen of Registrar Pattullo of Oxford is published in the Woodstock Sentinel-Review:

This terrible tragedy by which a respectable young Englishman has been wickedly lured to Canada and here foully murdered in the center of one of our oldest communities, may do much harm to Canada in England, where the conditions of our society are even yet very imperfectly understood. I think, therefore, that the English press should be drawn to the fact, already abundantly made plain, that the murder was not committed by a Canadian, if indeed it was even planned on this side of the ocean. This much may with safety and propriety be affirmed, and it is a cause for profound gratitude to all Canadians that our country and Province have been spared the disgrace of so inhuman and villainous a crime against an innocent and unsuspecting stranger.

The suggestion is a good one; but to be as effective as it should be it should include a recommendation to the authorities in both countries to aid in the suppression of these swindling agencies. We have not the slightest doubt that Birchell, whether or not he was guilty of the murder of poor Benwell, grossly deceived both that victim and Pelley, and no doubt he had other dupes. But it is an ascertained fact that Birchell is not the only sharper who has coined money out of the gullible old country people, and it is equally patent that the good name of Canada has been tarnished by the deception practiced by those who have misrepresented the situation here and the possibilities opened up for their dupes. The crime of murder has not hitherto been charged against these men, but there can be no doubt that many of them, besides Birchell, have systematically deceived and robbed their fellow-beings.

The common practice has been to represent to those replying to their advertisements that they either were large farmers in Canada or were the agents of large farmers, who were ready, for a liberal premium to teach applicants how to be "gentlemen farmers," and at the same time to make a good living. In some cases these swindlers have had confederates in Canada who readily supplied references favorable to their old world associates, and gave such plausible explanations as to throw even the suspecting off their guard. But in more than one case money has been filched from old countrymen simply as a "premium" for an introduction to a farmer willing to aid a young fellow to study agriculture in Canada.

Is it not time that a stop were put to a practice so pernicious in its results? Canadians do not need to be told that a willing young man can receive the very best instruction from leading agriculturists in Ontario without paying one penny of premium. Indeed, we know of many good farmers who would be willing to give the necessary instruction and board and lodging in return for services rendered, always provided the novice were ready to fall in with the regulations governing work on the holding. Why should not the British public be made aware of this fact?

It seems to us that this is a matter for the several Governments to tackle. Everywhere it is recognized as desirable that moneyed men should be induced to come to Canada and farm. What better farming country could they desire than Ontario? Let the fathers of families in Britain be told this by those in authority, and be also informed that we have plenty of farmers ready to teach new comers in return for the labor given, without a premium. It is about time that this fact were given as widespread publication in Great Britain as has Benwell's dreadful and untimely end. Then, let the British moneyed young men, who wish to begin life in Canada, be requested not to put their trust in "fake" advertisements in metropolitan journals, and offering big returns for "a consideration," but to apply direct to Hon. Mr. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, who is farmer enough to be able to give them advice on the subject, and, if need be, supply a list of noted agriculturists, someone of whom, we doubt not, would be glad to give tuition on his farm on the far from onerous terms indicated.

A DEFINITION of a journalist as given by the Pall Mall Gazette is one who is professionally and habitually engaged as editor of a journal or upon the staff of a journal in the capacity of leader-writer, writer of special articles, artist, special correspondent, literary manager, assistant editor, sub-editor, or reporter in supplying journals with articles of illustration, correspondence or reports. A newspaper man must possess the foregoing requirements to be a member of the English National Association of Journalists.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There are now 115 high schools and collegiate institutes in Ontario. The cost per pupil has recently decreased.

In the Judicial Committee of the Swedish Parliament the majority of members consists of graduates of the normal schools. Two teachers, two mayors and an attorney, five men who passed through normal schools instead of classical schools. "This is significant," says the Faedrelandet (Faderland), "since it shows that our normal schools not only aid in building up a profession of teachers, but that its students can be found aiding the nation in its legislative council."

In Russia, Servia, Roumania and Bulgaria (not to speak of Turkey) over 80 per cent. of the population are illiterate. In Spain 63 per cent., in Italy 48 per cent., in Hungary 43 per cent., in Austria 39 per cent., in Ireland 21 per cent., in France and Belgium 15 per cent., in Holland 10 per cent., in the United States (white population) 8 per cent., in Scotland 7 per cent., in Switzerland 2.5 per cent., in some parts of Germany 1 per cent. In Sweden, Denmark, Bavaria, Wurtemberg and Saxony only rarely a person is found who cannot write, and he is usually in advanced years.

According to the recently-issued report of the Ontario Minister of Education, in 1888 there were 7,794 public school teachers, 2,824 being males, and 4,972 of these females; 258 held first-class ceatificates, 2,651 second-class, 3,971 third-class, and 916 other certificates, including old county board certificates. The highest salary paid was $1,500—the average salary to males $424, and to females $292. There are now 5,626 school houses in the Province, distributed as follows: In rural districts 5,209, 230 in towns and 187 in cities. The log school house is fast disappearing, there being only 584 in 1888, as against 1,466 in 1850. In the same period brick school houses have increased from 99 to 2,086; 5,497 school houses are freehold and 129 rented. The number of maps now used amounts to 44,971; in 1850 there were only 1,814,.

It is interesting to find the following statement in the annual report of Mr. Girardot, school inspector for the county of Essex, where there is a large French-speaking population:

I am happy to say that the new regulations regarding French schools are carried out without any opposition, and that during the nineteen years I have been inspector I never found a single French Canadian who was not anxious that his children should be taught English with French. Being the language of the country, people know that its use is absolutely necessary, and that, with the two languages, they have immense advantages. If we compare the present position of our young French-Canadians in this country with their position 25 years ago we will find that quite a number occupy, not only here, but also in Detroit, good positions in the different professions—law, medicine, Government and municipal offices, teachers, business men, etc. These are proofs of their wonderful advancement in education, and that they do not intend to be behind others.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The fourth number of the Illustrated American shows a decided improvement over all former numbers. The colored supplement is entirely different from anything hitherto presented to the readers of that handsome and artistic paper. It is called "Wonderment." It is a fac-simile of a water-color by Mr. W. J. McCluskey of New York, an American artist who is rapidly pushing his way into the front ranks. The contents of the number are unusually interesting. The frontispiece is headed "The Man of the Day." It gives a wonderful likeness of Emperor William II., dressed in hunting costume. As no man in the country is attracting more interest than this young monarch, his picture will be looked upon with great interest. Another great feature is Mardi Gras in New Orleans, which is copiously illustrated by special staff correspondents and artists, sent to attend the carnival, from the main office. The other features are My Trip to Brazil, by Byron P. Stevenson; Historic America, III; Governors Island; The Chicago Library; Life-Saving Service of the United States. Other illustrations: The Chicago Breakwater; The Shakespeare Statue in Chicago; Model of the United States Steamship Maine; Three Generations of Astors.

Coughing

IS Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

"IT'S ONLY A COUGH" has brought many to untimely graves. What is a cough? The lungs, throat or bronchial tubes have been attacked by a cold; nature sounds an alarm-bell telling where the disease lies. Wisdom suggests "TRY Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry;" it has cured thousands of persons. As long as you cough there is danger, for the cough is a Danger Signal. Use "Wistar" and be cured. None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on wrapper.

"SIZING UP" THE SITUATION.

Speculations as to the Future of the International.

Varying Views—The Six-Club League Idea.

Kilrain a Jonah—Football in the Old Country—Sporting News in General.

BASEBALL.

TO-MORROW'S LEAGUE MEETING.

The meeting of the International League at the Tecumseh House to-morrow will probably bring baseball matters to a definite position. Detroit now professes its determination to stay with the International, but Detroit has said a good many different things recently, and its loyalty to its last love is perhaps slightly regulated by its inability to gain the other object of its affections. The six-club league now seems probable. Manager Fessenden has the option, as before stated, of the Buffalo grounds, and a club may be located there. This, with Toronto, Hamilton and London, on the Canadian side, and Detroit, Saginaw, or one other American club, will make a league that would give any amount of good ball for the coming season. If all the clubs are as sanguine and enthusiastic in the matter as the Tecumseh directors, baseball ought certainly to have a prosperous career this summer. To-morrow's meeting will probably throw a light on the situation and give a definite idea of what are now but surmises.

The Toronto Globe referring to the meeting says: "A special meeting of the International League will be held at the Tecumseh House, London, to-morrow, when, if Detroit stays in, the first serious movement to rehabilitate the league will be taken. The Toronto, Hamilton, London, Detroit and Saginaw club delegates will constitute the representation at this meeting. The Toronto club on Saturday telegraphed President Mills requesting him to call a meeting."

A dispatch from Detroit also refers to the prospects as follows:

"The directors of the Detroit Baseball Club have decided to stay by the International League, and to do all in their power to put the league on a solid foundation. They came to this conclusion at a meeting held to-day. President Mills issued a call for a special meeting of the league to be held at the Tecumseh House London, Wednesday afternoon, when the question of how the league can be reorganized will be discussed. The players of the Detroit Club have been ordered to report at Detroit, April 1."

The Detroit Free Press sizes up the situation pretty well as follows:

"The management of the Detroit club has made superhuman efforts to place the team in a major league, and the fact that they failed is evidence that the feat is impossible. Bereft of the joys of baseball, the existence of large numbers of Detroiters during the summer would be a desert, and by these a proportion of the baseball loaf will be gladly accepted."

"There is one thing the management would do well to look after. The International champions have been in a state of harrowing uncertainty as to where they were to play the coming season. It is but a trifle more than a month to the opening of the season and the players are still in doubt. The Brotherhood is perfectly unscrupulous, and unless the Detroit players are soon given some definite information they may yield to Brotherhood blandishments and leave Detroit in the lurch."

CLEVELAND, March 11.—When asked concerning Detroit's position to the Brotherhood, Secretary Brunell said; "That was a mere bluff at the League. We couldn't think for a moment of taking in Detroit. Why, that man Stearns has been known for the past five years as the greatest living barterer in baseball flesh and blood, and we would be going right back on our principles if we were to think for a minute of having anything to do with him. Besides all this, Detroit is no ball town. They won the International League championship up there last season and lost $12,000 in spite of it. We don't want any such town in the Brotherhood."

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE MEETING.

The International League will hold a special meeting in London at the Tecumseh House on Wednesday afternoon.

A SERIOUS BLOW.

Pitcher "Jack" Horner, formerly of Toronto and Hamilton, who is coaching the Yale team, struck a Yale man named Poole on the temple with a pitched ball, and it is feared that he may not recover.

STILL ANOTHER LEAGUE.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., March 11.—The North Pacific Baseball League, with capital stock of $10,000, has been organized here. The league is to include the cities of Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane Falls, Helena and Butte. One hundred games will be played.

CURLING.

The inter-provincial match has been postponed until March 15.

FOREST CITY CLUB VS. LONDONS.

A commercial traveler of this city has offered a prize of four Glengarry caps to be played for between the Forest City and London Curling Clubs. The match was to be played to-morrow, but will probably be postponed owing to the thaw.

THE RING.

Kilrain is a Jonah. In the past year he has only been successful in one of his ventures—his meeting with Vanquelin. It is doubtful if the Baltimore slugger will ever again find a snap exactly as soft. On the other hand he lost his fight with Sullivan; received an adverse decision from the lower court in Mississippi; went on a sparring expedition with Muldoon, during which a man was killed. Then in the interim, in an effort to make a few dollars, he tackled young Corbett, of California, and was ignominiously defeated, thereby losing his stock in trade—his reputation—and finally the Supreme Court of Mississippi confirms the decision of the lower court, and Kilrain will have to serve two months in jail and pay a fine besides. If this does not prove that Kilrain is a Jonah, we don't know what the meaning of the term is.—[Spirit of the South.

A PUGILIST'S MOTHER.

Jack Hefferon and John Carter, heavyweights and local pugilists of some note, fought 24 rounds Saturday morning near Mill Creek, four miles from Wilkesbarre, Pa. The fight was for $100 a side, London prize ring rules. After a desperate fight Hefferon was declared the winner in the 24th round. Both men were badly punished. Among the 80 spectators present was Mrs. Bridget Hefferon, the mother of one of the contestants, who cheered her boy on. When he was declared the winner she clasped him to her arms, after which she took him home and dressed his injuries.

THE TRIGGER.

Acceptance or rejection of places on the team of twenty to represent Canada at the National Rifle Association meeting on Bisley Common next July fell due Monday. The fifteen who are accepted are as follows, in the order in which they won their places: Corporal H. Marris, 13th Batt., Hamilton; Sergt. D. M. Loggie, Newcastle Field Battery; Sergt. C. M. Hall, 79th Batt., Granby, Q.; Pte. J. E. Hutchison, 43rd Batt., Ottawa: Sergt. W. M. Goodwin, 13th Batt.; Capt. E. G. Zealand, 13th Batt.; Capt. F. B. Ross, 13th Batt.; Pte. J. H. Simpson, 10th R. G., Toronto; Lieut. Desbarats, 3rd Vics., Montreal; Lieut. D. L. Hooper, 82nd Batt., Charlottetown; Capt. H. Silver, 63rd Batt., Halifax; Col.-Sergt. M. B. Henderson, 62nd Batt., St. John, N. B.; Pte. C. A. Wurdatt, 45th Batt., Bowmanville; Lieut. W. Hova, 14th Batt., Kingston; Sergt. J. Horsey, 45th Batt., Bowmanville.

FOOTBALL.

The Rugby fixture between the Champion County (Yorkshire) and the Rest of England came off in the presence of upwards of 10,000 spectators. Each side was fairly represented, and a capitally-fought game ensued, and resulted in favor of Yorkshire by one goal and three tries to one goal and one try.

The thirteenth contest under Rugby Union rules between the representatives of Scotland and Ireland came off at Raeburn place, Edinburgh, in the presence of a very large attendance, and resulted in a victory for Scotland by a goal and a try to nil. Ireland has won but one match in the thirteen.

In the presence of about 13,000 people the Queen's park and Vale of Leven met Feb. 22, at Glasgow, for the second time to play off the final match for the Scottish Cup. In the previous encounter the contest was left drawn, but upon the present occasion the victory rested with the Queen's Park, after a grand game, by 2 goals to 1. The gate money amounted to $4,000.

The London correspondent of an American paper who interviewed General William Booth states that the chief of the Salvation Army said to him: "Give my greeting to my American brethren and say to them that I loathe football and will not permit any of the staff of the Army to indulge in it. No soldier of Christ should waste his precious time in kicking a bloated leathern sphere. Football leads to excitement of the passions, to profanity and abrasion of the limbs. If the staff want recreation let them scrub their neighbor's house." What's the matter with scrubbing their own houses and giving their wives a rest?

THE KENNEL.

Pure-blooded dogs are very rarely sheep-killers. It takes the mongrel to do that successfully, and failure to discriminate between the mongrel and the blue-blooded thoroughbred pointer or setter has given rise to an unjust prejudice in some sections of the country against them.

BECKY BOUND FOR CHINA.

The collie bitch "Becky," owned by McEwen & Gibson, of Delaware, which took second prize at the Chicago dog show recently, has been sold to Mr. E. J. Moss, agent for a large tea company in Foo Chow, China. Mr. Moss was anxious to get a well-bred animal, and will shortly take it on its long voyage.

A BIG COFFIN.

For the Body of a Young Woman Who Weighed 428 Pounds.

PITTSBURG, March 11.—The funeral of Miss Lizzie Kramer, of Franklin street, took place Sunday afternoon from the residence of her brother, Frank H. Kramer, Pasture street. The woman was the heaviest person living in the Seventh ward, and probably the heaviest woman in Pittsburg. Her weight was 428 pounds. The Kramer family is one of the best known on the hill, where they have lived for many years. There are five sons and one daughter still living. The children were all large, but Lizzie was larger than any two of her stalwart brothers. She was 28 years old.

From youth she was disposed to excessive corpulence. As a school girl, when on the streets, she attracted general attention. During her later years she was seen out very seldom. Her weight became so great that she did not care to walk far, and she did not like to be stared at by people on the streets. She therefore did not go out more than two or three blocks from home, and that far rarely. The cause of her death was a cold, which developed into pneumonia. Her funeral was largely attended. The undertakers who supplied the coffin said it was the largest they ever made. It was 5 feet 9 inches long, and 25 inches across on the inside. It was all that six strong pall-bearers could do to lift it into the hearse.

THREE MURDER CASES.

A True Bill Against Mary Ann Mountenay—The Newmarket Homicide—A New York Mystery.

COBOURG, Ont., March 11.—At the Assizes yesterday the grand jury brought in a true bill for murder against Mary Ann Mountenay for killing James Lawson in the township of Murray in December last.

THE NEWMARKET CASE.

NEWMARKET, Ont., March 11.—The jury last night returned a verdict that Robt. A. Smith, merchant, who was found dead in his cellar recently, came to his death by a pistol shot by some person or persons unknown.

MURDER MYSTERY IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A partly decomposed body of a well-dressed woman of about 25 years of age was found yesterday in the cellar at No. 3 Eldridge street. From appearances the woman was murdered. The body lay in a corner with a cloth thrown over it, the cloth being tied over the head and face. The face was cut and bruised, the body covered with bruises, the skull fractured and the nose and jaw bone broken. None of the tenants in the house recognized the body. The woman must have been dead several days The bruises indicated that she had been terribly kicked. Shreds of skin were hanging from her finger nails, indicating an awful struggle with her murderer. The police think the murder was not done in the cellar, but that the body was moved there after the deed had been committed elsewhere. The entrance to the back cellar where the body was found is by a stairway in the hall. Isaac Jacobs, the crazy Hebrew who shot and killed Herman Rogozinski, wounded Mrs. Rogozinski and shot and killed himself, was the janitor of a school in the upper portion of the house about a month ago. It was said he had a number of wives. The police think the murdered woman was one of Jacob's wives, and that he killed her before his onslaught on the Rogozinski family. That was three weeks ago.

FARMERS VS. MILLERS.

Grievances Discussed—North Plympton Farmers Propose Building a Joint Stock Mill.

WYOMING, March 11.—A large and influential meeting of the farmers of North Plympton was held in Brydges' Hall, Camlachie, recently, to consider their grievances against the millers and the advisability of building a farmers' joint stock mill as a means of redress. The feeling in favor of building a mill was very strong, and a large committee was appointed to canvas the public for single shares at $25 each, to build a roller mill, and to report at a public meeting to be held at the same place four weeks later. The most enthusiastic part of the meeting was the unanimous passing of the following resolution:

That this meeting of the farmers now assembled to consider our grievances against the millers' combination, also what steps should be taken for redress of the discrimination of the above against the farmers, having carefully considered the facts, be it therefore resolved that in justice to ourselves this meeting memorialize the Dominion Government through our member as follows: First, whereas the roller mills in general do take the following enormous toll for gristing:

Wheat by measure.	Flour.	Bran.	Shorts.	Toll—
lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.
60	36	10	3	11	for every 60
59	35	10	3	12	for every 60
58	33	10	3	14	for every 60
57	30	10	3	17	for every 60
56	28	10	3	19	for every 60
55	25	10	3	22	for every 60
54 and 53	20	10	3	27	for every 60

Further that there are several grades of flour made from the same wheat, and the farmer seldom or never gets any of the higher grades to which he is entitled, but is generally sent away with second or inferior grade, the toll being kept from the best.

Therefore this meeting of the farmers of Plympton now assembled at Camlachie do earnestly petition, yea, even demand, that our Government shall protect the farmers by legislation against the discrimination of the millers, and would suggest as follows:

First, that the farmer shall be entitled to 52 pounds of bran and shorts, as follows:

Wheat by measure.	Flour.	Bran.	Shorts.	Toll—
lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.
62	40	10	2	8	for every 60
61	39	11	2	8	for every 60
60	38	11	3	8	for every 60
59	37	11	4	8	for every 60
58	36	12	4	8	for every 60
57	34	14	4	8	for every 60
56	32	16	4	8	for every 60
55	30	17	5	8	for every 60
54 and 53	28	18	6	8	for every 60

Also that on good wheat weighing 58 lbs. and upwards the farmer shall be entitled to the proper proportion of the fine or high grade; further, by the roller process the farmer cannot get back the flour from his own grist.

Be it therefore enacted that the millers be not allowed to take in for gristing dirty or musty wheat; that all parties wishing to have such wheat gristed must do so by special arrangement; that the grain testers be made to hold one bushel, to be weighed on a fine adjusted beam to be so fixed that the further end shall not have more than one inch of a drop below the level.

But while this meeting does not expect that the Government can legislate on the above at the present session it does demand that the Government do take cognizance, and forshadow such an act to be brought in the next meeting of the Dominion Parliament.

A RUSSIAN EXILE,

Who Will Visit London on Thursday Evening.

Over Ten Years in Siberia, Besides Seven Years in Solitary Confinement—Some of the Sufferings from Which He Escaped But Three Months Ago.

Felix Brant, probably the first Siberian exile who has escaped to Canada, and certainly the first who came hither by way of the Canadian steamers from Yokohama to Vancouver, is now in Toronto, and his experience has been one of particular hardship. His knowledge of the treatment of Russian exiles has been purchased at the price of eighteen years' imprisonment and confinement, ended at last by a skillfully contrived escape from the horrors of Siberia to the freedom of the Dominion. Eighteen years ago Felix Brant incurred the displeasure of the Russian Government, being suspected of political propagandism, of which, in fact, he makes no secret of having been guilty, and from that time until three months ago, when he left the shores of Siberia for Japan, he endured the vengeance of the Czar of all the Russias. Nearly eleven years of that period were spent in the exile from which he has just freed himself; but so much less severe in hardship and horror was this period of Mr. Brant's life to his seven years of almost unbroken solitary confinement at St. Petersburg that preceded it that he admits having felt for the first week or two after his arrival at the remote Siberian village in which he was doomed to pass so many weary years as if he could ask for nothing more.

He is a man of medium size, with mild, brown eyes and a face in which gentleness and melancholy seem to strive for mastery—the last man in whom we would expect to find a Nihilist, a demagogue or a political agitator.

During the seven years he was confined at St. Petersburg he had no books, papers, visitors or anything else to relieve the monotony of the weeks, months and years. On one occasion, after being three years confined, a lady and gentleman were shown into his cell. The occurrence was so unusual that he ran around the cell like an animal, laughing stupidly all the time. The visitors thought he was mad.

The prisoner almost forgot how to speak, his speech being slow and painful. One resource which he adopted as likely to retain his reason was the composition of a poem on Russian history, which contained 278 verses. To learn this thoroughly required considerable effort on the part of his memory.

When at last he found himself in a Siberian village of 1,500 inhabitants to which he was consigned, he was delighted to be able to talk, walk the streets and indulge in the benefits of pure air and sunshine. When at liberty Mr. Brant had been bred in Russia to be a lawyer, and had studied at Moscow University, afterwards being engaged for several years as a journalist. Such occupations are forbidden exiles, however, so he made his living at painting signboards and bookbinding. These brought him in about $10 a month, which was scarcely enough to subsist on, yet many others made much less. All correspondence to exiles was read by officials, in many cases every word excepting "my dear" and the signature being scored out. He managed to save some money and traveled 5,000 versts to the Pacific coast, the trip occupying two months. He got to Japan through the kindness of an English captain, and from there to Vancouver, and thus was free after eighteen years' life as a prisoner and an exile.

He has been six weeks in Canada, and is overjoyed at the kindness which is being shown him. He has studied hard at English and can now speak fairly well. He has been stopping at Berlin, where he recently gave a lecture on the details of his experience, and a number of London gentlemen having interested themselves in his behalf, have asked him to come here Thursday night and tell his story. No doubt a large audience will be present. Mr. Brant is already evolving schemes, whereby the hardships of his late fellow-sufferers may be alleviated, which he may soon make known to a London audience. Meanwhile, the premature grayness of his hair and beard, the sunken eyes and the mournful melancholy of his face tell more vividly than words can do a story of undeserved miseries such as it falls to the lot of few to suffer and survive.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

If any one ever heard at any theater anywhere a queerer commentary than this, let that person be produced. 'Twas at the Winter Garden—wasn't it?—during the last engagement of Charles Keen and his wife, Ellen Tree. The play, "Henry VIII." The act drop fell. Then thus spoke, a hoarse whisper, louder than a brakeman: "Well, forever, Elizar Ann, I do believe he's agoin' to marry that there Ann Bullen. Well, if I had knowed that, we wouldn't have came. Not one step."—[New York Tribune.

Fatal Accident Near Vienna.

VIENNA, Ont., March 11.—A sad accident occurred about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the death of Mr. Seene Koyle, who lived about one mile east of Straffordsville, Ont., by the falling of a limb. Mr. Koyle had gone into Mr. Herron's house to warm himself. Just in front of the house is a large poplar tree, which Mr. Herron was preparing to fell, and had climbed up the tree and sawed a large limb nearly in two. Mr. Koyle went out to see the limb fall, and stood watching it about twelve feet from the base of the tree. When the limb fell the butt struck him just under the left ear, breaking his neck.

An Interesting Report

On page eleven of Bulletin No. 19 of the Inland Revenue Department, which has recently been issued, Prof. A. McGill, of Ottawa, who has had charge of making exhaustive analysis of baking powders for the Government, remarks in referring to imperial baking powder, that "this is an excellent powder," etc. This is a very flattering testimonial, considering that the majority of baking powders in the market are condemned by him as being unfit for use. Baking Powders containing Alum and Phosphate, Prof. McGill remarks, "are entirely objectionable, and ought not to be allowed a place in any well-appointed bakery." As the cost of imperial baking powder is very little more than the numerous cheap adulterated goods referred to, consumers will find it to their advantage to use "imperial" which they can depend on as being always reliable and the best possible to be had. ywt

The Late London Township Tragedy.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

When an unusual number of fires occur in a city, from what there is reason to believe suspicious circumstances, or if a death takes place in a way that cannot be accounted for, an inquest of inquiry is held, the object being, if possible, to determine the cause, and if the least thred of even circumstantial evidence is seen, it is followed up closely by our lynx-eyed detectives, with the view of bringing the guilty parties to justice, which is all right and proper. Now, although at the inquest on the body of the late Mr. Sifton, at St. Johns, the foul play theory got a set back; and although the verdict was correct enough as far as it went, viz., that "the deceased came to his death by drowning while under the influence of liquor," does that fully meet the entire circumstance of the case? I think not. Now, why was he drowned? True, he was not murdered in the sense that that term is commonly used, but his death was brought about by some cause and through the actions of some parties, and whoever those parties are they must be more or less, directly or indirectly, responsible for his death—call it drowning or murder or what you like, but on the great day of accounts I venture to say it will be called murder. I will ask the jury the privilege of supplementing their verdict. First, no doubt Mr. Sifton himself was responsible; next, the parties who received treats from him at the hotel and gave him treats in return, thereby assisting in getting him into a state of intoxication, together with all his boon and barroom companions, who on all former occasions by their influence and actions assisted in creating in him an appetite for strong drink. Next, the hotel-keepers who sold him the liquor on that and on all former occasions will run the chance some day of reading the word "murder" in letters of blood. Next in responsibility I place all friends of the liquor traffic together with all those who voted for the repeal of the Scott Act last May, and last, although perhaps not least, I will draw into line the weak-hearted, so called temperance men, who did not do their duty at the polls in sustaining the act by their vote and influence. Hoping that each will take home to himself whatever part of the foregoing as may be suitable to his case, and resolve from this out and for ever that whatever others may do his skirt shall be clean. Yours truly, A. C. ATTWOOD.

The great lung healer is found in excellent medicine sold as Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

What Is It?

To those who have never used Wilson's Wild Cherry, we beg to explain that it is a preparation for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Loss of Voice, and kindred diseases, which has been in successful use for twenty years. It is a purely vegetable medicine in the form of syrup, pleasant to taste, and gives immediate relief to sufferers from diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Wilson's Wild Cherry never disappoints. Try it for yourself and family. Sold by all druggists.

"Oh, no," said one of them; "I was just saying to Minnie that nothing should separate us, but really I didn't expect it to happen so soon." And the beating of his own heart was the only sound he heard.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is afflicting Canadian Women.

Now some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true." It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 60 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., MONTREAL.

Live Stock Markets.

EAST BUFFALO.

March 10.—Cattle—Offerings, 120 carloads of good and superior grades of butchers' cattle. Active demand; values advanced 10c to 20c per cwt. Common cattle not improved. Export stock rather dull, at $4 25 to $4 75; a good supply of this class of cattle, equal to medium exports, sold freely at $4 25 to $4 40; middle weight butchers, fairly fat, of 1,150 lbs to 1,250 lbs, sold at $3 75 to $4 10, and all the offerings were taken early; light butchers' in particularly active demand, at $3 50 to $3 85; mixed butchers, best, $3 to $3 50; common to fair, $2 15 to $2 60; stockers, $2 65 to $3 35; yearling do., $2 50 to $2 75; feeders, $3 to $3 25; coarse green cattle, $2 30 to $2 75; stock bulls scarce and higher, $2 40 to $2 75; fat bulls, $2 50 to $3 25; good to extra milch cows, $3 to $5 higher, at $35 to $45; common neglected. The supply of calves was light and the demand good. Good to extra veals were quotable at $5 to $6 50, though fancy ones sold as high as $7.

Sheep and Lambs—Offerings, 60 carloads. Market opened rather sluggish, owing to the large amount of common and medium stock compared with the extra grades, which alone seemed to be in demand. Common stock was hard to sell and prices were a shade lower. Extra lambs were scarce and in good demand. Extra lambs were scarce and in good demand, but not quotably higher. Choice to extra sheep, though there was a too liberal supply of sheep below that grade. Lambs active for particularly good; the best sold at $7 15; choice to extra, $6 75 to $7 10; good to choice, $6 60 to $6 75; fair to good, $6 25 to $6 65.

Hogs—Offerings, 75 cars; active on New York and local orders; mediums and heavy, $4 35; Yorkers, $4 30 to $4 35; pigs, $4 30; some extra selects sold above these quotations; roughs, $3 50 to $3 75; stags, $3 to $3 25.

CHICAGO.

March 10.—Hogs—Estimated receipts, 22,000; official Saturday, 12,692; shipments, 7,512; left over, none; light, $3 25 to $4 15; mixed packing, $3 95 to $4 10; heavy shipping, $4 to $4 12½; rough grades, $3 85 to $3 90.

Receipts of cattle, 13,000. Market fairly active.

MONTREAL.

March 10.—There were about 250 head of butchers' cattle, 40 calves, 20 mutton critters and 15 spring lambs offered at the East End abattoir to-day. Trade in cattle was slow as the drovers were asking higher prices than have been asked for some time past, and the butchers were unwilling to pay it, preferring to wait for larger supplies. The highest price paid during the early part of the day was 4½c per lb., though some of the best beeves were held at higher rates. Pretty good stock sold at about 4c per lb., with rough steers, bulls, common dry and milkmen's strippers at from 3c to 3½c per lb. Good veal calves are in demand at pretty high figures, but some of the calves brought out to-day were rather small and lean for killing now. Prices were from $2 50 to $12 each. Some of the sheep offered to-day were in fine condition and prices have an upward tendency. Sheep sold at from $5 to $6 each and spring lambs at from $3 50 to $5 each. Fat hogs sold at from 4½c to 5c per lb., but there are not many of them coming to market.

The Horse Market.

MONTREAL.

March 10.—The receipts of horses via the G. T. R. for the week ending March 8, 1890, were 344; left over from previous week, 67; total for week, 411; shipped during week, 193; left for city, 65; sales at these stables for week, 84; on hand for sale, 64. The horse trade at these stables during the week has been a little better than that of last. The prospects for next week are encouraging. There are a number of American buyers in town and a good trade is expected. Receipts of live stock at Point St. Charles stock yards last week were 632 cattle, 71 sheep, 181 hogs, 151 calves.

The Oil Market.

PETROLEA.

March 11.—Oil opened and closed to-day at $1 09½.

The following shows the business on the Petrolea Oil Exchange for the week ending March 11:

	Opened.	Closed.	Highest.	Lowest
Feb. 28	No regular.
March 1	No regular.

LONDON AND PRECINCTS

P. M. Corneil, of Glencoe, on Monday fined P. McCallum and E. Heesdwell $1 each for being drunk and disorderly.

David Joyes, of Westminster, was committed to jail to-day in default of payment of a fine of $5 imposed by Squire Jarvis for assaulting Jesse Corbin, of the same place.

Among those present at the Grand Black Chapter meeting in Brampton are Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald, Rev. Rural Dean Cooper, Rev. Wm. Walsh, James Bownlee and H. Walker from this district.

The latest edition of the Ontario Gazette contains the appointments of H. G. Lindsay, Mount Brydges, as notary public, and of W. R. Westlake, Arva, as clerk of the Eighth Division Court in place of the late B. E. Sifton.

Mr. John McHarg, stationmaster of the G. T. R., this city, in company with Mrs. McHarg, were at Niagara Falls to-day assisting in the celebration of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Packham, the former a well-known conductor. The 25th anniversary of Mr. McHarg's wedding will occur next month.

The Central C. L. S. C. held their regular meeting in Wesley Hall last evening, the President in the chair. The subjects, "Sound," "Light" and "Heat" in connection with the study of physics, were taken up and ably discussed by the members. The meeting proved a very pleasant and profitable one to all present.

A couple of blacksmiths at a leading carriage shop in this city had a lively set-to this afternoon during the temporary absence of the members of the firm. A little blood was spilled, but the damage to each other's feelings was the most serious result. The omnipresent ADVERTISER man was on the scene.

Two splendid new passenger coaches for use on the 7:45 a.m. train from this city to Detroit are standing at the Grand Trunk depot. The cars are finished throughout in highly-polished maple and oak, and are provided with heavily-cushioned reclining chairs. At each end is a lavatory with all modern appliances. They were examined by quite a number of persons who declared them equal to Pullman cars.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

TORONTO, Tuesday, March 11.

The Municipal Committee held a lengthy meeting this morning, deciding the fate of several very important bills. The bills introduced by Messrs. Wood and Lees, regarding the surrender of the rights of toll-road companies, were ordered to be sent out to the municipalities and companies interested in these roads for their consideration, and if returned with general favor, legislation will follow next session in the direction of the two bills.

Mr. Waters' bill amending the Municipal Act so as to give power to councils to open up roads in municipalities where they had not been reserved in the original survey, passed.

Mr. Bishop managed to get the committee's approval of his bill to regulate traveling on public highways and bridges. The object of the bill is to make it compulsory for persons overtaking a vehicle to turn far enough to the left to avoid a collision.

In the Private Bills Committee the bill incorporating the town of Walkerville passed. Mr. Sol. White opposed the incorporation, apparently in the interests of the town of Windsor.

Mr. Aubrey White gave evidence before the Public Accounts Committee regarding the causes which led to the defalcation of Dulmage, the Rat Portage bushranger. His evidence was substantially the same as the statement made by Mr. Hardy in the House.

At the instigation of Mr. French the committee summoned Mr. Marling, Deputy Minister of Education, the inspector of separate schools and the secretary of the Ottawa Separate School Board, to explain the method of apportioning the separate school grant. Mr. French's motive is obvious. It was clearly stated by the Minister of Education in the House that there were no irregularities in the Ottawa separate school grant distribution but the Opposition desire to make it appear by a little fuss that there is something wrong.

The Duty on Wool.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says the wool schedule as now agreed upon by the subcommittee of the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee, makes the duty on wools of both the first and second class 11 cents per pound.

Killed in Battle in the Last 35 Years.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

"Did you ever think how few people are killed during wars?" asked Thomas Sloane of Boston as he sat in the Colonnade last evening.

"Well, here is a memorandum I made recently regarding deaths in battle since 1856. The entire number killed during these 34 years—exclusive of those who died from disease—is about 2,253,000. In the Crimean war 750,000 were killed; the Italian war of 1859 resulted in the slaughter of 45,000; in the American civil war, 800,000; in the Danish war (1864), 3,000; in the Austro-Prussian war 45,000; in the Franco-German war—France 155,000, Germany 60,000; in the Turko-Russian war, 250,000; the South African wars, 30,000; the Afghan war, 25,000, the Mexican and Cochin Chinese expedition, 65,000; and the Bulgarian-Servian insurrection 25,000."

The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly laid before the public in the columns of the daily press, proves that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—an absolutely pure combination of six of the finest remedial oils in existence—remedies rheumatic pain, eradicates affections of the throat and lungs, and cures piles, wounds, sores, lameness, tumors, burns, and injuries of horses and cattle.

"At this point I could bear the suspense no longer.

"'Oh, Aunt Hilda,' I cried, 'tell me only one thing, is she alive or—or dead?'

"'She is dead to you, Paul; she is in the town of St. Par, in Southern France, at the convent of the Holy Sisters—she is a nun.'

VI.

"I think I gave you last evening, my friend, a history of the few more important events that occurred during my first year in the village of St. Par. If I did I must have mentioned the good brothers Barsad, in whose employ I was during the greater part of my sojourn there. Did I not speak to you, my friend, of the good brothers?"

I made no reply as I found it was never wise to differ from him in anything which he might say. He had such a firm belief in the certainty of his powers of recollection that upon several occasions my drawing his attention to inaccuracies of this nature had led us into argument. Indeed, once when this happened he had refused during the remainder of the evening to again speak of his history, and that notwithstanding I had consented to admit I was in error. He seemed not to notice my silence, however, and continued:

"Ah, my friend, the villagers were not mistaken when they called the brothers good. It had not until then been my good fortune to meet two such venerable and saintly old men, nor have I ever since seen their like. They were, in truth, as I have said, far advanced in years, both of them having watched the varying changes of over three-quarter of a century, and it was related of them in the village, that during the whole of that time there had never been a falling out between them. After I had lived for some time in the home of the brothers, I found no difficulty in believing this to be true. I do not recollect ever seeing the one sit down to a meal until the other was first present. I will remember one evening coming in late from the fields, and finding Suger sitting, as was his custom, in the little yard before the house, and seeing that the table was already prepared for our simple meal, I showed some signs of impatience at being obliged to wait, for I was very hungry. The grave old man turned toward me and slowly said:

"'Be seated at the table, my son, and begin to eat; it is not well that young hunger should remain longer unsatisfied.'

"I replied, 'will you not be seated, Father Suger, it is now so long since the noon hour?'

"'No, my son,' he said, 'I will await my brother's coming, I do not care to eat until the food first has his blessing.'

"It may seem strange to you my friend, that he should call me son, seeing that I also appeared well advanced in years, but you would not deem it so if you had seen him. There were few in the village who remembered ever hearing him called by any other name than that of Father Suger, and, indeed, my friend, the benignity of his countenance would have commanded that reverent address from one to whom the story of his godly life was wholly unknown.

"But to me, my friend, he became more than a father in mere mode of formal address; ah, yes, much more than that. How often after returning from labor have I thrown myself down upon the grass at his feet, and felt encouraged and strengthened by his wise and kindly words. And, ah, my friend, how often upon those occasions have I sorrowed secretely, for it was only then that I fully realized how great a loss had been mine when my father was taken from me during the unknowing days of my childhood.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vege table preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children'spanacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 35 cents.

The Waste of Manure.

Readers of the WESTERN ADVERTISER will recognize that the above is no fancy sketch. It is a picture of a barn yard from "real life." There are thousands just like it in Canada. It shows how manure is wasted—hundreds of thousands of dollars worth every year. But still the owner stands idly by or wades through that yard half way up to his boot tops looking at the big round dollars running to waste with every shower of rain. Commencing in the fall the farmer forks the manure out of the windows under the eaves, leaving it there to leach and rot the side of his stable all winter long, and then next spring or summer he drags the "mortal remains" to the field and hopes to grow big crops. He has been spending a large percentage of his strength for nought. A great portion of his manure has gone down the rivulets and creeks to fertilize the river bottoms. With too many men that expression "barn yard manure" is a terrible misnomer—a delusion and a snare. I. P. Roberts, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Cornell University, N. Y., is a practical farmer as well as a professor and he carried on a series of experiments last season to determine actually what loss horse manure suffers when thrown out in a pile unsheltered from the weather just as is represented in the above picture, which is from one of a number of photographs he had taken. The details of the experiment we need not give but it was conducted with the utmost care and fairness. Computed at present prices of commercial fertilizers a ton of horse manure (fresh) was worth, including the straw bedding worked into it, $2 45. After exposure for six months it was worth only $1 42, determined by chemical analysis; A LOSS OF $1 03 PER TON OR 42 PER CENT., nearly one half. Can farmers run their business on such a system as that and expect to prosper? In another experiment with mixed horse and cow manure in a compact mass exposed to the weather the loss was not so great (about 10 per cent.) but still far more than any farmer can afford to lose. In articles which have appeared elsewhere in the ADVERTISER a better plan of dealing with manure is suggested. Read it, bearing in mind the above lesson.

LONDON AND PRECINCTS.

The city dweller is already beginning to look about for a country cottage to spend the hot weather in.

It is evident that women intend to fascinate beholders this summer with parasols of bright and striking plaids.

A new idea in coffee-spoons is to have each one of a set shaped like a different flower, with a long stem for a handle.

The case against the Water Commissioners brought by John Chapman, of London West, has been further postponed to Monday next.

Mr. Thomas Bailey, porter at McCallum's wholesale, who had several ribs fractured through boxes falling on him, is still laid up with his injuries.

W. T. Rutherford, formerly a well-known cigar dealer, formerly of this city, and now of Winnipeg, has been visiting in this neighborhood on his wedding tour.

James Scanlon, the man arrested yesterday for stealing boots from Pocock Bros., came up this morning before Magistrate Parke but was remanded until to-morrow.

Two drunks appeared before the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning. One of the couple was a frequent visitor and his face was covered with marks of a recent fray. He was fined $10 or one month's imprisonment. The other man was discharged.

Gone to Chicago.

Mr. Thomas McClure, for the last eight years with R. C. Mactie & Co., left this morning for Chicago. About twenty of his most intimate friends assembled at his house last night and presented him with an address and a diamond ring. Mr. A. W. Fraser, traveler for the same firm, read the address and Dr. Gardiner made the presentation. The company spent a few hours in a social manner. Mr. McClure's friends are very numerous in this city and they join in wishing him every success in his new sphere.

Forward to the Fight.

The deputations to wait on the Ontario Government in reference to the amalgamation of London South left to-day for Toronto. The following gentlemen went to represent the amalgamationists: Messrs. E. R. Cameron, John Marshall, T. Alexander, L. K. Cameron, J. S. Dewar, J. D. Clarke, W. Blackwell, John Pritchett, E. Parnell, W. Row, Mayor Taylor, Ald. Taylor, Anderson, Garratt, Jones and others. Among the "antis" who went are Messrs. J. R. Minhinnick, F. B. Leys, C. Hutchinson, W. J. Clarke, J. Osborne, J. Balkwell, J. Kilgour, Geo. Shaw, J. Brown, J. Lang, J. Looney.

On Saturday Next.

At the Grand Opera House at the Saturday matinee and in the evening McKee Rankin will present "The Runaway Wife." It is spoken of as a beautiful and touching dramatic story, which appeals directly to the hearts of an audience by its homely pathos and humor. It illustrates life as it exists at the present day in the homes of the rich, us well as the poor, and contains that "one touch of nature which makes the whole world kin." The story of the play transpires in England and America, and the interest aroused in the first act is carried throughout the play. It teaches a lesson which all could profit by learning—it is, in fact, a play in which, judging from freely expressed opinions, no serious fault can be found. The plan opens Thursday.

Who's Got That Horse?

Sheriff Glass has issued a writ of replevin against John Peters, J.P., for "unlawfully taking possession of and detaining a horse, the property of Elizabeth Stinchcome, of London West." The horse in question, it is claimed, was given to Mrs. Stinchcome six years ago by Mr. William Peters, with his brother's consent. There was a sale recently and during it the horse was put into a stable on land which both the brothers, John and William, claim to own. It is asserted by Mrs. Stinchcome that the horse was taken by Mr. John Peters, who said it was his. Detective Graham searched the premises of Mr. Peters but found no horse. The search was certainly thorough as Graham went so far as to look in the house for the missing quadruped, but he found nothing. Search was diligently made for the animal and it was at last recovered in the Bernard House stables. Further developments will be awaited with interest. Squire Peters claims to own the property on which the horse was located, but denied possession of the animal.

The Twelve Temptations.

William J. Gilmore's scenic, ballet and panoramic spectacle, "The Twelve Temptations," in three acts, was presented at the Grand Opera House last evening to a large audience of both sexes, who all appreciated the performance. While the ending of the first act was just a little flat, through what was apparently a hitch in arrangements of lime lights, the remainder of the show went with a snap. The ballet was a prominent feature and was very creditable. The scenic effects, however, are the mainstay of the piece. The scenery and mechanical apparatus were splendidly managed, the closing scene being particularly gorgeous. The story is built on the temptations of the hero who, under the influence of the Snow Queen, seeks to find treasure which eleven of his predecessors had lost their lives in attempting to discover. Goblins, dragons, sprites, fairies and other supernatural characters afford the brightness which makes the piece interesting. Mr. Albert Hosmer, Jacques Kruger, Mai Estelle and Jessie West do the leading parts. The four policemen in their eccentric maneuvers with the first ballet gained hearty plaudits. To individualize on a company of such combined excellence is a matter of difficulty, however. To sum up a worthy representation of "The Twelve Temptations" as presented, it should be said that it is a spectacle which anybody can enjoy from the fact of the magnificent manner in which it is put on. Another large house should greet the company to-night.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Sad Death of a Toronto Newspaper Man at a Detroit Hotel.

W. C. Paull, an advertising agent for the Toronto Mail, was found dead at the Benedict Hotel shortly after 7 o'clock this morning.

He was discovered by Frank Dwyer, the night clerk, lying across his bed with his clothing on. At first it was thought he was sleeping, but when called he did not answer and it was then discovered that he was dead. Coroner Toomey was summoned and the body was taken to Geist's morgue. An inquest will be held to-morrow morning.

Paull came to this city on Feb. 28 and registered at the Benedict, stating that he had been sent here by the Toronto Mail to look after advertising interests here. The clerk at the hotel says Paull has been drinking heavily, and at one time became so bad that Dr. Duff Stewart had to be sent for. Yesterday Dr. Stewart advised him to go to some hospital, but he refused. At 3 o'clock this morning the night clerk looked into Paull's room and found him sleeping.

A telegram has been sent to the Toronto Mail asking for instructions as to what shall be done with the body. The deceased was about 38 years old.—[Detroit News.

Mr. Paull was one of the parties who started the London Evening Times here some time ago.

THE KNIFE.

George Hopper the Noted Pickpocket Stabbed by a Woman.

NEW YORK, March 10.—On Saturday two men drove to St. Vincent Hospital and left there a man who was suffering from a terrible stab in the abdomen. The sick man said he was Geo. Harris and lived at the Barrett House. He stated his wife had stabbed him with a carving knife. Saturday evening detectives were told by an old gambler that Harris had been stabbed by "Tom" McCormick, the burglar.

The police identified the wounded man as George Hopper, otherwise known as "Slim" Harrison and "Dutch Alonzo," a well-known expert pickpocket, who came here from a Canadian prison three weeks ago. The detectives arrested Tom McCormick and took him to the bedside of the injured man in the hospital. Harris said: "I was not stabbed by that man. A woman did it." McCormick was discharged. The police said they believed McCormick had stabbed Harris, but that the pickpocket would not "give his enemy away." McCormick is 50 years old and has spent many years in prison. He was charged with the murder of "Big" John Casey, the bank burglar, who was killed in 1871.

A Good Corn Sheller for 25 Cents.

A marvel of cheapness, of efficacy, and of promptitude, is contained in a bottle of that famous remedy, Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. THE LATE HOLOCAUST.

Overwhelming Grief of the Father and Sister—A Terrible Bereavement.

MONTREAL, March 11.—The fire which occurred at St. Michel Saturday morning destroyed property to the value of $10,000. Mr. Colleretts burns are very serious and may result fatally. The names of the victims are Stephanie Panet Colleretts, the mother, aged 36; Oneisime, aged 11; Corinda, aged 10; Wilfred, aged 8; Neonime 6, Ernest 5, Ernestine 3, and Zeophile aged 23 months. Thus all that is left of a family of eight children is Delia, a beautiful girl of 13 years, who for the past six years has been in the Convent of the Sacred Heart at Recollet, where she was at the time of the terrible tragedy. She was at the bedside of her suffering father yesterday mourning as if her young heart would break. Her sorrow is made even more pitiful to her by the anguish of her father, who, seemingly delirious, constantly calls out, "Oh, my wife, my wife." A verdict of "Death from accidental burning" was returned by the jury, who agreed that the fire took from a stovepipe in the back kitchen, although there were reasons to justify the supposition that it might have taken from an exploding coal stove.

DESPERATE DEEDS.

A Wealthy Horse-Buyer Entrapped and Murdered—How the Body Was Disposed of.

PEKIN, Ill., March 10.—The body of Bernard Junghaus was found in the Illinois River Saturday. He was a horse-buyer, of Peoria, and a man of considerable means. There was an ugly wound on the head, and his watch, chain, ring and money were missing. Four policemen surrounded a den kept by Link Hummell and Bill Luckey last night and endeavored to arrest them for the murder of Junghaus. As the policemen burst in the doors the two ruffians dropped through a hidden trap door and escaped to the river by means of a sewer. Two Cyprians living with them were arrested, and the murdered man's watch, chain and ring were found on them. Junghaus was enticed into the den Friday, his skull split open and his body conveyed to the river by means of the trap and sewer. He had drawn $2,000 from the bank Thursday and intended leaving for New York Friday. He was 58 years old. The police have orders to kill Hummell and Luckey on sight, as they are desperate characters and have committed many crimes.

On to Washington via Northern Central Railway.

Under the supervision of personal escort, the excursion to Washington via the Northern Central Railway in Pullman sleepers and day coaches on April 8 bids fair to run beyond its limit. The special train is scheduled to leave Suspension Bridge 4 p.m., via N. Y. C. and H. R. R., stopping at points between there and Elmira. Excursion tickets, allowing a stay in Washington until the 17th, will be sold at the exceptionally low rate of $10 from Suspension Bridge

Those contemplating this trip would do well by applying at once for itineraries and details to Mr. W. E. Fraser, 19 Exchange street, Buffalo, N. Y. 71-u

The subscribers having bought the business formerly carried on by G. Park, Covent Garden Market, who is retiring from business in this city, will be found at Mr. Park's old stand with a full supply of pork of every description, also fresh eggs and butter. We are retaining Mr. Park's old curer, so that patrons will find our meat cured in the same style as formerly. We hope by fair and honest dealing to retain the patronage of the old customers and all others who may favor us with their orders. All purchases delivered to any part of the city. THE "NORMA" CIGAR.

All competent judges of a good cigar are unanimous in pronouncing the "Norma" one of the finest 10-cent cigars made in Canada. This cigar has all the delicate flavor of an imported cigar, without any of its attendant faults. The cigar is the product of H. McKay & Co., of this city, who invariably use the best tobacco leaf, most carefully prepared. The result of this strict attention to qualily of raw material is that the "Norma" stands to the front of all 10-cent cigars, and although there is a prevailing idea that a cigar manufactured at home cannot be equal to an imported article, this prejudice is being rapidly overcome by the growing popularity of the "Norma."
