

New Radial From Hamilton to Galt

Ex-Mayor Patterson Announces That Construction Will Start Soon.

Galt, May 18.—Former Mayor Thos. Patterson has announced that he has authority from Manager W. J. Coleman, of the Dominion Power and Transmission Company, of Hamilton, for the statement that construction would start in the near future on a radial electric line from Hamilton to Galt. Mr. Coleman has given the information that the charter was granted, and work would commence as soon as preliminaries have been completed.

It is understood that the route will be that already surveyed by the company, via Lynden and Troy, to a point west of Sheffield, and then parallel to the Stone road, entering Galt by way of East Main street, with the idea of making a union station at the terminal of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway.

Construction on the Galt end of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway will be in full swing in a couple of weeks, the first task being that of filling in what is known as the Main street pond, to make room for terminal facilities. Two and a half miles south of the town, large cutting has to be made, and the grading contractors will put a 90-ton team shovel on the work. Every effort is being made to have the Galt-Brantford section of the road running by Oct. 1.

Mad Dog Bit Three On Toronto Streets

Victims Were All Children Playing Out in Front of Homes.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, May 18.—Three small children, who were bitten by a dog which it is believed was mad, are undergoing the Pasteur treatment. After a hot chase the dog was killed by a policeman, who beat it with his club.

The animal dashed down the street without any warning, and commenced snapping at everyone in sight.

Little Marion Volk, 103 Sumach street, was playing on the lawn in front of her home with a friend, Violet Woodman. Both children are very young. Without a minute's warning the dog sprang at Marion, and, knocking her down, commenced to bite her. It chewed her face badly, inflicting ugly wounds across the nose and the upper lip, and then ran for safety as the beast, snapping and frothing at the mouth, dashed up Sumach street.

When the canine reached Blevins' Place, Gordon Adams, 10 Blevins' Place, aged three years, was its next victim. His face was badly bitten and scratched. The dog was scared off, and the child was taken to its home.

The police were notified and soon killed the dog.

FELL 600 FEET

Woman Dashed to Death From Balloon Near Berlin.

Berlin, May 18.—A woman making a trip in a Swiss balloon met a terrible death near Munich today. The aeronauts had intended to end their journey at Munich. When the balloon was close enough to the ground for the occupants to alight, one of the aeronauts fell out and the balloon began to climb out of the car and as the balloon ascended she was unable to get back into it. The car was swaying to and fro and the other aeronaut grabbed the woman and tried to pull her back to safety but was unable to do so. He held on, nevertheless, until the balloon had reached a height of 600 feet when his strength gave out and the woman fell. Her body has not yet been found.

The balloon was brought to earth at a considerable distance from Munich.

HELD FOR FRAUD

Toronto Man Claims He Faked Check Because of Hunger.

Chicago, May 18.—Hunger pleads technically put are said to have enabled R. H. MacClure, arrested by city detectives, systematically to defraud many Loop banks of small sums of money by means of worthless drafts.

MacClure, who comes from Toronto, Ont., would enter a bank, accost some sympathetic-looking employee and tell him how he had been robbed and CONSTIPATION Can Be Cured.

You cannot expect to be well if you allow your bowels to become clogged. What is necessary is to have a free motion of them every day, and to keep them in this condition all the time if you wish to be strong and healthy. If you don't keep them open the system will become clogged up with poisonous matter and produce constipation, headache, dyspepsia, bad blood, etc.

Keep the bowels in good condition by using Burdock Blood Bitters; the remedy that has built up an unrivalled reputation, during the past thirty-six years, as a cure for all troubles arising from a constipated condition of the bowels.

Mrs. Thomas Calder, East Lower Fort Garry, writes: "I am writing you to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I suffered very much from constipation and none of the medicines I took agreed with me. Now I am glad to say that there is nothing like B.B.B. Since taking it I have not been troubled."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Decision Will Cost Govt. a Million

Medical Treatment of Aliens Must Be Paid for by State.

[Canadian Press.] New York, May 17.—A decision handed down today by Judge Mayer in the United States district court, will cost the United States Government about $1,000,000 a year from now on. It holds that the Government must pay for medical treatment to aliens brought to this country and found, after their arrival at Ellis Island, to be suffering from some temporary contagious disease.

The Government sought to collect from the Holland-American Steamship Company $2,167, for such treatment, but the court, in finding for the defendants, declared that the immigration laws make no provision for the steamship company to pay for medical treatment for ailing aliens. Unless overruled by the higher courts the decision will apply to all steamship lines.

Anhut Gave Back $12,000 To Thaw

Claims He Was Using Proper Methods to Free His Client.

[Canadian Press.] New York, May 17.—John N. Anhut, the young attorney accused of trying to get Harry Thaw out of the Matteawan Insane Asylum by bribing the superintendent, finished testimony in his own defence today.

Although both sides rested yesterday Anhut was recalled to produce his office receipts which would prove his assertion that he had accepted $25,000 from Thaw as a contingent fee for his services in trying to release his client by proper legal methods.

He had begun to prepare the necessary legal papers he said, prior to Jan. 1 last, when half the money was paid to Thaw under their agreement.

Anhut was the last witness. Counsel summed up this afternoon.

THE AGE OF THE ONION

By C. Nine Coe.

Undoubtedly the onion is the oldest vegetable known to mankind.

Seven thousand years have passed since the building of the first pyramid, and even then Egypt was an old country and its people were civilized. Ten thousand years ago the onion was brought into Egypt from India. History can tell us no more. The sacred writings of the Hindoos and the oldest record of the Chinese mention the onion as a cultivated plant—always cultivated.

In the Hindu Kush mountains is said to grow the allium cepa, the onion which have sprung all the onions grown over the world.

Both Pliny and Juvenal, among the old writers, and many Egyptologists of our own time and country have recorded that the ancient Egyptians worshipped the onion; it was admitted as a common offering on every altar and the priests were forbidden to eat it.

Herodotus tells us that garlic was the daily food of the Egyptian laborer, and the Jews when they left Egypt looked back with fondness to these delicacies. "We remember the fish which we did eat freely in Egypt, the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and garlic," so they told Moses.

The Mohammedans, however, do not seem to reverence the allium tribe; on the contrary, they have a tradition that when Satan stepped out of the Garden of Eden after the fall of man, garlic sprang up where he planted his left foot and onion where he placed his right foot. This is the reason why Mohammed could never hear the smell of either, and even faint when he saw them.

ONION RECIPES, BY CAROLINE COE.

About the only luncheon in their own countries of the German, Italian or the Spanish laborer today is black bread with an onion, and in many parts of Italy it is almost the only vegetable in common use, being eaten as we do apples.

Our New England ancestors thought a great deal of onions, and no Thanksgiving dinner or other holiday feast was complete without a dish of them boiled. While this is, perhaps, the simplest way of cooking this succulent vegetable, like all other simple culinary tests, it must be done perfectly.

Although the onion is the most maligned of vegetables, even being associated with vulgarity, it is nevertheless a valuable food, and is held in high favor by the culinary artist. If the food we eat furnishes the chemical elements necessary to insure a sound body, the onion must rank first among vegetables for its health-giving constituents, including nitrogen, potash, phosphoric acid, phosphate of lime, sulphur, albumen, sugar, mucilage and certain salts.

Onions are almost the best nerve tonic known. No medicine, it is claimed, is so useful in cases of nervous prostration, and there is nothing else that will relieve so quickly and tone up a worn-out system. Onions are helpful in all cases of coughs, colds and influenza, and if eaten regularly are very good for the complexion.

As a laxative, as a poultice or as a sleep producer, the onion works like a charm. A drop of the juice will cure earaches, and persistent application is said to cure deafness. Onion juice, too, is a well-known hair restorer. In olden times a famous ointment, called Devil's Mustard, was supposed to cure cancer, to remove tumors, etc. It was composed of garlic, which is of the onion family, and olive oil.

Emperor Nero thought that eating leeks improved the human voice, and as he was ambitious of being a fine singer, he had a leek diet on several days each month. Pliny recommended garlic as a remedy for many of the mental ailments of the country people. Bacon graciously tells of a man who lived for several days on the smell of onions and garlic alone. It is a popular belief that a traveller becomes acclimated quickly by eating onions in every country visited; and the onion eater is supposed to be practically immune from contagious diseases.

ONION SOUP.

"Purée à la Soubeuse."

Chop up a few onions. Fry in butter, taking care that they do not burn. Stir in three tablespoonfuls of white haricots beans, add a pinch of grated nutmeg and rub through a sieve. If the puree is too thick add a little stock. Serve with croutons.

ESCALLOPED ONIONS AND TOMATOES.

Slice very thin a half-dozen onions and place in cold water, bring to boiling point and drain. Line a baking dish with a layer of onions and a layer of tomatoes, add small pieces of butter, sprinkle with salt and paprika. Alternate in this way until the dish is nearly full. Turn over a half pint of milk, sprinkling bread crumbs on the top and bake for half an hour.

STUFFED ONIONS.

Boil six small-sized Bermuda onions until they are slightly soft, but not tender enough to fall in pieces. Carefully cut a small slice off the top and dig out the centre portion of the vegetable. Chop this finely and add a tablespoonful of butter, a half teaspoonful of salt, a bit of paprika, and a pinch of pimento chopped in small pieces. To these ingredients add two heaping-tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs and return to the onion shells. Dust grated cheese over the top and bake one-half hour. Serve with a cream dressing made as for the plain boiled onion.

BOILED ONIONS.

Peel the onions and put them into warm, salted water, bringing quickly to boiling point. As soon as they are tender drain quickly and cover with a slightly thickened cream dressing, made of half milk and half cream, to which a piece of butter is added and salted to taste. When this comes to

ONION DRESSING.

The old-fashioned onion dressing, or stuffing as it was called by our Puritan ancestors is made by using one loaf of bread, upon which hot water has been turned and then squeezed quite dry in the hands. Add half a cup of butter, one onion the size of an egg chopped fine, a teaspoonful of finely ground sage, half a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of black pepper. This is the famous dressing used by New England cooks for stuffing turkey or goose, broasts of veal, beef heart, or spare ribs.

BROILED ONIONS.

While the fried onions are considered a toothsome dish to many, they are not particularly healthful, but broiled onions, served with beefsteak or calf's liver, are enjoyed by every one who eats them at all. For this purpose the Bermudas or Spanish are best. Cut them in slices and, after rubbing the broiler with a little olive oil, lay each slice carefully on the broiler and cook under a slow flame, if, as most housekeepers do nowadays, you use gas. When broached one side turn over and repeat the process. Serve immediately with a melted butter sauce, in which there is a little chopped parsley. This dish can also be garnished with parsley, and a steak with a row of white onion slices around and bits of the green between makes a dish that is pleasant to the eye, if not fragrant to every one's nostrils.

AS TOLD BY AUNTIE GERTIE.

CHAPTER I.

I wonder if you have ever heard the story of "THE UGLY DUCKLING," boys and girls. It is one of the Hans Andersen fairy tales and as old as your great-grandmother's darning needle.

It's the story of a poor, little, web-footed creature who was so unbecoming to look upon that not even his kind mother could find it in her heart to be sorry when he ran away.

I am going to tell this tale to you as it was told to me when I was little.

It was summer time. The trees were bright with green leaves. The garden was blooming with a rainbow of sweet-smelling flowers. The hay was stacked high in the meadows and the sun shone warmly on every living and growing thing.

In a secluded spot where the rushes were thick and people seldom walked, a mother duck sat upon her eggs. That is, she sat upon one egg, for all the others had hatched out days before. One little head after another had cracked through the shell and struggled out into the great, new world.

"Why won't this last egg hatch?" fussed the mother duck as she shook her white feathers about and craned her neck to get a glimpse of the poultry yard, where her friends were strutting about with their new broods. "It's as if some waiting here when all my ducklings are out. This last remarkable offered to a neighbor duck lady who had called in to pass the time of day with her and chat in a friendly fashion about the new ducklings."

"Take my word for it," said the visitor, sagely, "that is a turkey's egg. Once I had the same unpleasant experience. After I had had such a trouble to hatch my pets they would not go near the water, although I scolded and scolded. Why don't you leave the stubborn egg and teach your new-born babies to swim?"

Mother Duck looked longingly through the underbrush toward the pond, but she sighed and sat still, saying: "I will wait a little longer and see what happens. If the egg doesn't crack by the end of this week I shall follow your advice."

"Oh, very well," said the visitor duck, in great disgust. "Do as you please." And away she waddled.

At last the egg burst, and what do you suppose the mother saw?

Pour into a glass dish, dot over with spoonfuls of meringue, and bits of apple jelly. Serve cold.

TO DESTROY ANTS.

Mix well two parts of granulated sugar and one part of powdered borax, and place where the ants are most troublesome. Keep the mixture dry and renew often, as it is ineffective if moist.

Add a little water to the seeds scooped out of a cucumber and wash the shelves with the mixture.

Kerosene or boiling water poured over an ant hill or a shelf infested with ants will quickly remove them. Sprinkle cayenne pepper into the crevices of drawers, shelves, etc., to keep ants away.

Tack sticky fly-paper, gummed side downwards, on the under surface of shelves which ants infest.

Tea-Table Talk

"Yes, I am going to 'do' Europe in a suit-case," announced Mrs. Campbell, of Toronto, one day, as we sat at lunch, during the annual convention of the National Council of Women in Montreal, a week or two ago. Mrs. Campbell, with a number of the officers of the council, was leaving on the following Saturday (May 10) for The Hague, to attend the International Council of Women being held at the present time.

Of course, all the delegates within talking distance were interested in the Toronto lady's announcement, and several who had travelled in Europe with stray baggage and loss of trunks, and the frantic endeavors on the part of the owners to make themselves understood by the baggage officials, who spoke in naught but "unknown tongues."

Having studied the subject somewhat further since that conversation, it may be of interest to those who follow the "Tea Table Talks"—some of whom may be contemplating a continental trip themselves, this summer—to hear of the methods of others, who have tried this new plan.

Practically all the advices urge the necessity of a special suitcase for the return trip may be packed, and the trunk checked, or stored upon arrival, at the dock of the steamer by which you contemplate returning.

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

Is It Proper?

Dear Miss Grey:—Will you oblige me by answering these questions as soon as you can?

1. Is it proper for a girl of 14 to go with a fellow ten years older than she?

2. What will make my skin white, as I have used buttermilk and it does no good?

3. I am 5 feet 3 inches, with blue eyes and brown hair. What are my colors?

4. My hands have a scale on them. Do you know what would cause it?

5. If a girl saw a boy she liked, and he is a very nice fellow, only drinks a little, do you think she should go with him? A TALL GIRL.

A.—1. A girl of 14 is entirely too young to "go with" anybody, in the way you use the term. In this respect, she should be running around playing with her half dozen boys, and not playing for years yet. Heaps of them to think of "fellows" when she is 20 or more.

2. You might make a trial of a paste simply prepared from oatmeal, sour milk and lemon juice, given in this column today. It is perfectly harmless and has been found most efficacious in removing tan, etc. Remember, though, in any of these simple home remedies, perseverance is required to obtain results.

3. As I have stated over and over again the "becomingness" of colors depends almost entirely on the complexion, whether it is clear, rosy, dark or pale. In all probabilities, shades of blue and brown to match your eyes and hair will be your best colors.

4. This is likely caused from disordered blood. I should certainly advise you to see a physician about it immediately. Neglect of skin disease only makes them harder to cure in the end.

5. The dancer with the "nice fellows" who they drink a little is that poor day they are apt to go a little farther and drink too much. A girl is taking a risk she cannot afford by being too intimate with men of this kind. Be friends—perhaps your influence may count for good, but be careful about letting your friendship develop into a warmer feeling.

Alas, Fickle Maiden.

Dear Miss Grey:—Would you please give me some advice? I have been going with a young lady about three years. Last fall she left me and started going with another boy, but since Christmas I have been going with her again. She promised me not to go with this boy again, as we are not friends. People tell me (and I have reason to know it is true) that she goes with him on the sly regularly. What should I do? We are

KATHERINE LESLIES HOME CHAT

New Chintzes, Cretonnes and Printed Linens

How lovely are the cretonnes, chintzes and printed linens this season! And how they inspire us, with discontent of our old coverings and hangings! Who if she could afford it would not discard all her old furniture coverings and replace them by these new and really charming fabrics found at the shops of the house decorators and special furniture dealers? It is odd to think that while hats and gowns riot in all the new dyes and primitive colorings, that such things as cretonnes and linens show the lovely harmonies of color, and when the colors are used singly they are of the most beautiful kind, and soothing and refreshing to the eyes. These fabrics are a long advance upon the old chintzes with white backgrounds and "sprawling monstrous roses under their slippery glaze. There are chintzes to be had, but they are not nearly as much in favor as they used to be, for the simple reason that the dull softness of these blended harmonies in linen and silk and in cretonne, make more appeal to the cultivated taste, and for hangings and draperies are infinitely more supple and graceful. The colored floral effects upon black backgrounds are not nearly so much in evidence as they were last year, though some in tans and golden browns on the black are exceptionally good. The colored background is much seen, and the flowers and foliage are wrought upon these with charming effect. Persian colorings are also shown and are especially rich and pleasing. Delightful to look upon are the printed fabrics in linen and silk or silk and wool, or in pure linen, whose design is branches with foliage, bearing beautiful strange birds instead of blossoms! These birds, like the cockatrice on that lovely pink China we all love, are surely fabled creatures evolved from some poetic imagination of designer, or painter, but how one dotes upon them! They are of all sizes with gorgeous plumage and wonderful tails, truly inventions of a tropical imagination, and adding to the quaintness and beauty of the fabrics of which they are a part.

Of course all these materials for hangings and draperies must be chosen with an eye to the rooms they are to adorn. They should all blend in harmoniously with walls, rugs, and furniture, so as not to make these look out of place. The lighter, more delicate colorings are better for bedrooms and the deeper and richer for living rooms, etc.

The world admires any man who attends to his own business—no matter how humble it may be. The man flaps about with a bunch of feathers; the woman goes to work softly with a cloth—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The Poets' Corner

MAY.

May! queen of blossoms,
And smiling flowers,
With what pretty music
Shall we charm the hours?
Wilt thou have pipe and reed,
Blown in the open mead?
Or to the lute give heed
In the green bowers?

Thou hast no need of us,
Or pipe or wire;
Thou hast the golden bee
Ripened with fire;
And many thousand more
Songsters, that thee adore,
Pilling earth's grassy floor
With new desire.

Thou hast thy mighty herds,
Tame and free-livers;
Doubt not, thy music too
In the deep rivers;
And the whole plummy flight,
Warbling the day and night—
Up at the gates of light,
See, the lark quivers!

—LORD THURLOW.

to wear in travelling. The sea salt works havoc with the fineness and freshness, so desirable in a tailcoat suit, and sitting for hours in a steamer chair causes sad wrinkles in a skirt. In addition to the deck clothing, steamer rugs and cushions are required for the ocean voyage, and a deck cap or scarf, all of which can be packed away just before reaching land.

And now for the travel outfit. It is generally conceded that a well-made suit gives the best satisfaction. It should be accompanied by a crepe de chine or silk blouse, to match, washable chambray gloves, comfortable boots, a quiet hat and veil, and becoming underwear. Several cotton crepes of heartwear, as well as a removable dress of quiet colors, and one of silk or voile, made with a removable yoke and sleeves, so that it may be appropriate for dinner or theatre wear.

For underwear the cotton crepe is valued by many travellers, while others usually prefer silk. As it is advocated thin travellers to obtain the services of a chambermaid to do a little laundry work for one overnight, three suits of underwear will be found sufficient. Take two pairs of walking slippers, low and one high, and a comfortable pair of bedroom slippers. If evening slippers are needed, these may be purchased en route.

One traveller solved the hat problem very nicely, while on a European trip. She wore a plain black hat of good Mohair, simply trimmed with a colored ribbon mount, and for "dress" affairs converted it into a very chic piece of headwear, by the addition of two plumes, which she carried separately in a compartment of her suit-case.

It is wiser, so they say, who have travelled in this way, to take little clothing, and buy more en route, according to one's needs, than to spend all one's money on a trunkful of apparel at home, only to have to pass by the tempting showings of Parisian and London stores.

So my friends, when we "do" Europe, by all means let us be in a suit-case, thus avoid the confusion and weariness of mind which invariably attend the pursuit of a stray trunk in any land.

There are over 616,000 women dress-makers in England.

It is figured that the average woman spends 242 days going into the mirror between the ages of 16 and 70.

In the United States there are 2,153 women journalists and 7,335 women clergymen.

Of the 100,000 teachers in Germany, only 29,000 are women.

And Then Just Managed to Win Out From Joe Keenan's Berlin Team—Berlin's Four Errors Proved Costly, Joe Had Two of Them.

The Live Oak Hall

Berlin, May 17. — In a see-saw contest Hamilton nosed out Berlin before a large crowd by a 6 to 5 score today. While the visitors had a poor day in the field, their errors were not as costly as the four the locals gathered. The visitors were strong with their hits, but runners on base were few. Keenan's runners were stranded.

In the ninth inning, with the score one against them, the locals rallied and got runners to bases on Miller's base clout, and on a sacrifice by Earl. Garlow then came up and shut off any scoring.

Ward, who started for the locals, gave away to Bramble, when the Kolts gave to him for a double and a single in the the eighth, when three safeties were gathered from his offerings. Lee used three twirlers, Smith, Weyman, Garlow, in the last and losing round. The chase was by Berlin and since by Hamilton for first base, drove in two runs with a single. The score was:

Ottawa, May 13. — Brantford's luck continued on Saturday. In the fourth of their second game at Ottawa, Pitcher Coose knocked down wicket liner and blistered the pitcher's hand. Thereafter he was slain to all parts of the park. With the 8 to 0, Kane took him out in the end and substituted Clearmont, who would not have been so easily won. The score for a time was 6 to 0, with a score of 11 to 4 before 4,000 people. The fielding of Shaughnessy, Ca

VEST POCKET ESSAYS

Modern Inventions

BY GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

The Oriental rug is not strictly a modern invention, but the prices now obtained for them are.

The Oriental rug was originally woven by hand in some far off corner of the desert by a family and its descendants. It was woven out of camel's hair or silk in fantastic Oriental designs which the designer carried in his head and altered whenever he had a lapse of memory.

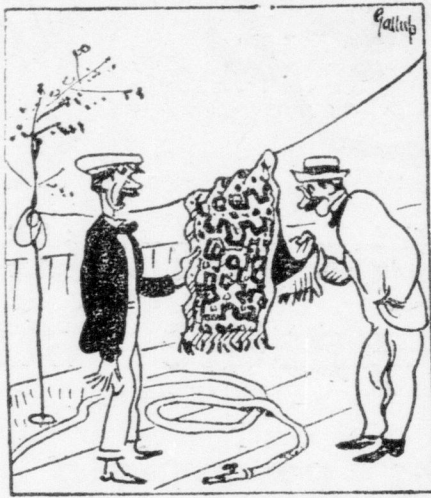

The Oriental rug was the most useful thing about the Oriental family. Whenever a family set up housekeeping it began by weaving a rug. This took from six months to ten years, according to the rug and the family. When the rug was finished it was used for a carpet, a bed, a saddle, a wind-break, a table, a wall, a wheat bin and for many other useful purposes. After an Oriental rug had been mellowed by several generations for such use, it becomes soft and beautiful and can be smelted for several rods on a damp, muggy day.

Some years ago people began to import these rugs from America. They are now very popular. If a rug is treated kindly it will last forever and in another century the importance of an American family will be determined by the number of Oriental rugs its ancestors have bequeathed to it.

Oriental rugs are now sold in such vast numbers that it is all the Oriental rug weavers worked day and night they would still be several years behind orders. They are also so valuable that a small rug of good quality and unblemished is worth $300 for a ished descent will often sell for $100 a square foot. Rich Americans now collect Oriental rugs instead of postage stamps and enlarge their houses from year to year to accommodate their collections.

Oriental rugs are divided into two kinds, like money—real and counterfeit. Many a man has paid $300 for a genuine Oriental brought from the desert by camel and has found the first time he turned the hose on it that it was woven in New Jersey by an exile out of Georgia cotton and that its colors would make the Marathon running records look sick.

Happy Jack Mulroney Pays Death Penalty

Electrocuted at Sing Sing for Murder of Paddy the Priest.

[Canadian Press.]
Ossining, N. Y., May 19.—John Mulroney, who was to have been put to death as a murderer on March 17, but won a reprieve of sixty days by declaring in a personal appeal to the governor that he was going to his death as a martyr of a criminal "code of honor," was electrocuted at Sing Sing Prison early today. "Happy Jack," as he was known to his comrades, wore to the last the smile that had won him his nickname, and called back to the inmates of the death cell a cheerful "good-bye." Charles Brock, the former police lieutenant, and the gunmen involved with him in the Rosenthal murder, were among the fourteen who answered.

Mulroney preserved such calmness that just as he was placed in the chair he turned to the witnesses and said: "Tell them I was not afraid." A single contact between the chair and dynamo at 5:30 a.m. was all that was necessary, whereas usually two or three contacts are made.

The murder of which "Happy Jack" was convicted was that of Patrick McQueen, known as "Paddy the Priest," a New York saloon-keeper, who was shot while standing with his bar on the night of Oct. 3, 1911. John D. Dowling, who died before he could be tried, and Mulroney both signed confessions to the murder, but in the death-house Mulroney repudiated his admissions, claimed an alibi, and asserted he had accepted the conviction following a "crook's code of honor" not to squeal on the other fellow. Justice Kelsky, of New York, decided, however, that there were no grounds for a new trial.

British Columbia To Have London Building

[Canadian Press.]

London, May 19.—The old Continental Bank at Lower Regent and Charles streets, one of London's best-known landmarks, and famous for many years as a rendezvous for supper parties, has been sold to British Columbia, and in a few weeks will be torn down, with three adjoining buildings, to make way for a big office building, to be the London headquarters of the Canadian province. The owner of the Continental is, Signor Oddone, who is the proprietor of the Gambirino Cafe, and of the Imperial Restaurant, just above Piccadilly Circus.

The decision of British Columbia to go to Regent street, is a severe blow to Earl Grey, who has been trying to make Aldwych Crescent the centre for the colonial government buildings.

Baptists To Have Their Own Lessons

Will Not Use the International Sunday School Series.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 17.—The southern Baptist convention, by an overwhelming vote, today decided to abandon in their Sunday school series prepared by the inter-denominational committee, known as the international series, and to substitute instead lessons prepared especially for Baptist Sunday schools.

While this action is now binding on individual churches, yet the lessons that henceforth will be used by the Sunday school board for use in the Baptist Churches throughout the south will be those especially prepared with the view of setting forth Baptist doctrine.

The action of the convention was on a memorial presented by Rev. S. E. Tull, of Paducah, Ky., and was supported by several Baptist associations in Kentucky. The change also was favored in a report by a special committee appointed a year ago, of which Rev. E. C. Dargan, president of the convention, was chairman.

SLEEP-DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After a Few Doses Are Taken.

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions, because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles; to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine, so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, lifeless kidneys, so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system. So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered or what else has failed to cure you.

Strikers Fought To Stop Men Working

Twenty Went Back After Having Been Out Two Months.

[Canadian Press.] Paterson, N. J., May 19.—Through a line of police two blocks long, twenty hands formerly employed by the silk mill of the American Price Company, went back to work today after a strike of more than two months. Hundreds of pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World sought to prevent their return, but the police guard was too effective. There was a lively scuffle for a time, and six pickets were arrested.

The I.W.O. mill is a comparatively small one, employing normally thirty hands. The return of its strikers with demands unsatisfied is heralded by the manufacturers as meaning the near end of the strike. Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, on the other hand, maintain that the fight will go on unabated, and that few others will yield.

ANARCHY PREVAILS

Refugees From Mexico Tell of Terrible Conditions in the South.

[Canadian Press.] Galveston, Texas, May 19.—Nearly two score refugees from Mexico, who have just arrived aboard the steamer Noruega, report conditions in the southern republic acute, in some instances bordering on a state of anarchy. They boarded the steamer at Vera Cruz and Tampico.

The refugees included businessmen and their families, employees of foreign concerns operating in the larger cities, a Methodist missionary and three men who are said to have been officers in the federal army during the regime of the late President Madero.

The Noruega had the largest passenger list of any steamer arriving at this port this season.

"SOME HALL MARKS AND CANNA EAT"

So Bobby Burns tersely describes the rich, but still poor, dyspeptics. But their case is not now so desperate as when Burns wrote. For the man who has the food now can eat without suffering for it, if he just takes the meal with a Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablet.

These remarkable tablets banish the troubles of the chronic dyspeptic—the man who is bilious—the sufferer from heartburn, gas on the stomach or occasional indigestion. You can eat hearty meals of wholesome food—and digest them, too—if you take Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets.

Compounded by expert chemists, after probably the best formula known to medical science, they are quick and certain in their action, giving prompt relief from all forms of stomach trouble, toning up and strengthening the digestive organs and bringing about permanent cures.

A man is no stronger than his stomach. Fit yourself for your best work by taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, for at your druggist's National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

Trying To Settle Street Car Strike

Representatives of Both Sides in Conference at Cincinnati.

[Canadian Press.] Cincinnati, Ohio, May 19.—Announcement of the settlement of the street car strike was expected today as a result of conferences between officials of the Cincinnati Traction Company and representatives of the union organization. The representatives of the company and the strikers discussed a basis of settlement all day yesterday and adjourned the matter today. Just what was accomplished at the first meeting could not be ascertained except that progress had been made, and that the prospect of the strike being called off had brightened.

Pending the result of the conference, no action was expected to be taken by Judge Geoghegan on the application of Mayor Hunt for a receiver for the traction company. Arguments on the application were scheduled to be resumed in the common pleas court, but it was expected that Mayor Hunt would ask that action be deferred for twenty-four hours. No attempt was made by the traction company to operate cars.

It is believed that despondency caused by illness was responsible for Keidel's alleged act.

FORCED INTO PORT

Canadian Auxiliary Steamer, Was Driven Into Charleston Harbor.

New York, May 19.—The Canadian auxiliary steamer yacht Veremere arrived today from Charleston, S. C., with her owner, W. G. Prethorne, of Toronto, on board. The Veremere left New York five months ago, and cruised in the West Indies. Off Charleston, a two-days gale drove them into port, where all the guests were landed. The yacht then proceeded north, having head winds, and south up to Sandy Hook. Last night about 50 miles south of the lights a large school of whales was sighted. One of the whales which

Camorristi Kill Defino After 10 Years Search

[Canadian Press.]

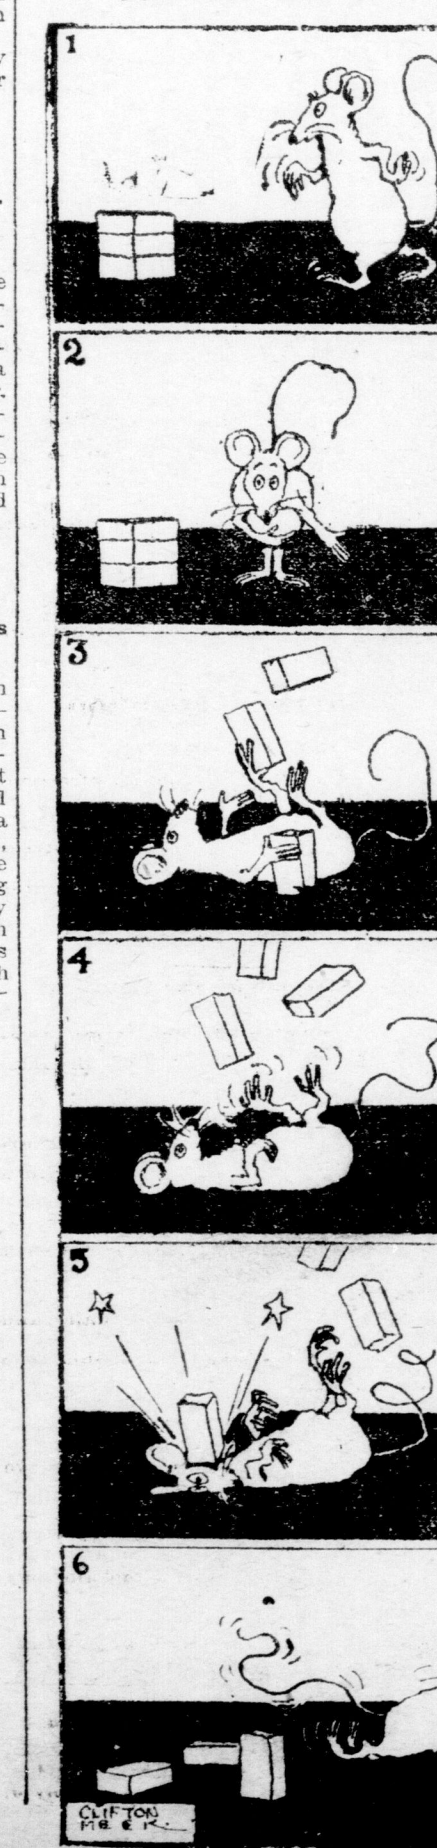

New York, May 19.—After a pursuit of ten years around the world, agents of the Camorra of Italy last night found Angelo Defino, said to have turned traitor to the organization in Palermo a decade ago. Five previous attempts had been made to kill him. The one last night succeeded. Bullets fired by three strangers who entered a Brooklyn dance hall, where Defino was sitting at a table, chatting with friends, killed him instantly. In the turmoil following the shooting the murderers escaped.

Defino, who came to the city in 1911, was employed by a contracting firm. He was telling his friends the story of the world-wide chase after him, and declaring that at last he felt safe when he met his fate.

Can't "Put It Over" Police of London

Windsor Motorists Attempt a Trick That Fails and Mean a Fine.

Motorists may be able to get away with a lot of old tricks on some of the police of some of the cities and towns of Ontario, particularly so in Windsor, but when it comes to setting the police of London they are like infants attempting to do a man's work. Several owners of automobiles who reside in Windsor arrived in London Sunday and after changing numbers with each other so that one number would appear on the front of the machine and a different one on the rear they started in to have some fun. The police have been up against that game before, however, and as a result several owners of automobiles who reside in Windsor will shortly make their inaugural bow before Police Magistrate Judd.

Floating Drydocks A White Elephant

Boats Will Not Go In For Repairs at Montreal Owing to Cost.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, May 19.—That the $2,000,000 floating drydock placed here last fall is likely to be a white elephant is confessed by shipping authorities. It was thought that shipowners would use the dock for all repairs needed by vessels, but it has been found that no company will put a ship in the dock while there is the slightest chance of sending it to British ports for repairs. A case in point is that of the Elder-Dempster steamship Benquo, which will get a much-required scraping when she gets to South Africa where the work can be done by cheap black labor. As the shipping companies are getting cheaper insurance by reason of the dock being here, it is suggested that, while they will not use it, they are not entitled to the advantage, and that it should be taken to Quebec.

WINGHAM FIREMEN INSURED BY COUNCIL

Town Will Carry $1,000 on Each Member of the Department.

Mrs. Smith and child were unable to attend as the little one had a bad attack of bronchitis at Clinton, and had to be taken back to London. The Kidneys Are To Blame

WHEN A WOMAN'S BACK IS NOT STRONG.

Women are coming to understand that weak, lame and aching backs from which they suffer are due to wrong action of the kidneys.

The kidneys are overtaxed—given more work than they can possibly do—then they cry out in protest through the pain in the back.

When the back aches and pains it is almost impossible to do her housework, for every move and turn means pain.

On the first sign of backache Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken so as to avoid all this suffering. Mrs. Harvey W. Brownell, Northport, N. S., writes: "I now take pleasure in writing you, stating the benefit I received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About a year ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back, and was so bad at times I could not sweep my own floor. While looking through B.B.B. Almanac, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills were a great kidney remedy, so I thought I would try a box or two. I did so and found great relief. After using five boxes I was completely cured, and I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure."

Price, 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct, specify "Doan's."
