

LIBERAL PREMIER'S SUPPORTERS IN SASKATCHEWAN GOVERNMENT WILL NUMBER AT LEAST 45

Martin Expresses Himself As Well Satisfied With Result — Was Thoroughly Confident That His Administration Would Be Returned—Heaviest Vote Ever Cast in the Province.

Regina, June 10.—Saskatchewan decided yesterday not to experiment with group government, and returned to office for another term the administration headed by Hon. W. H. Martin, giving him a majority less sweeping than the one which followed his leadership during the last legislature, but sufficiently large to make him independent of all opposition alignments.

Government supporters will number about 45 in the legislature of 63, when the three deferred elections have been held, in the view of political authorities. The Morning Leader's latest figures are: Government 41, Independent 11, Conservative 2, Labor 1, doubtful 5. This list includes among the doubtful constituencies, Redberry, where Hon. George Langley is 172 down to George Cockburn, Independent, with two polls to be heard from. The political prophets of the Government were surprised at the threatened defeat of the minister of municipal affairs and declared that complete returns would show his election.

The election in Tisdale is to be held June 23. Elections in Cumberland and Isla-la-Grosse, the other deferred seats, are not set.

The vote yesterday was the heaviest cast in the history of the province, and Premier Martin's total in Regina of more than 7,000 is the largest vote ever cast in Saskatchewan for a legislative candidate.

Hon. J. A. Maharg, elected by acclamation for Moose, has not yet been assigned to a portfolio. There were reports of a rearrangement of the cabinet, by which Mr. Maharg, who is president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, might become minister of agriculture. Premier Martin issued a statement last night in which he said the result of the elections was very satisfactory, "and not altogether unexpected." The vote, he considered, was a "gratifying endorsement of the policy of the Government."

MINERS WILL VOTE TO END COAL STRIKE

First Real Important Step To Settle Walkout.

INCREASE IN WAGES

Pooling Scheme Insisted On by Men Likely To Be Dropped.

London, June 10.—The conference of the coal miners' delegates, held here today, decided that a ballot should be taken in all the coal fields on the proposals of the mine owners for a settlement of the strike. This is generally considered a long step toward peace in the coal industry.

The coal mine strike, tying up virtually the entire industry, has been in progress since April 1.

WILL MEAN INCREASE.

London, June 10.—(Canadian Associated Press).—The decision of the miners' executive to hold a ballot of the rank and file in the coal fields concerning new terms, it is confidently expected, will be followed by the men voting in favor of dropping the wage pool scheme, which has been the principal bone of contention. The precise nature of new terms submitted to the men by the owners have not been disclosed, but, broadly speaking, are expected to include a 20 per cent advance in wages on the 1914 scale, including the additions and percentages since made, and also guarantees to the lower ranks of surface workers. This will practically mean that most districts will get a 40 per cent rise over 1914.

NEGRO CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 10.—At least fifteen negroes escaped from the Duval county jail here early today. An investigation revealed that one of the negroes sawed through the door of his own cell and then released the others. Making their way to the jailyard the convicts pushed an automobile against the wall and scaled it. No trace has been found of the fugitives.

Hired "Ghosts" to Frighten Husband But They Killed Him Instead, Claims Woman

New York, June 10.—Dan F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood publisher, met death after attacking two foreigners engaged by Mrs. Kaber to pose as spirits and frighten him into a better attitude toward her, according to a statement which the New York Evening World today says Chief of Police Christensen obtained from Mrs. Kaber here.

The newspaper quotes Chief Christensen as saying that Mrs. Kaber had consulted a woman medium for advice as to how to change her husband's attitude toward her.

The publisher's surly manner after an illness was said to have occasioned the visit.

By advice of this medium, Mrs. Kaber was said to have employed two foreigners to appear at her husband's bedside in the night as ghosts and, as she expressed it, to try and shake a little civility into him.

Aroused from his slumber, Mr. Kaber was alleged to have attacked the two men and to have been stabbed to death by them in the struggle.

According to the newspaper, Chief Christensen said Mrs. Kaber had declared that she refused to pay the two foreigners when they reappeared after the funeral, asserting they had not fulfilled the role of ghosts, as she had intended, and that she would not involve herself by paying for murder.

Mrs. Kaber then was said to have fled to New York to escape the foreigners without advising the Cleveland police for fear of involving

RECEIVES DEGREE AFTER DELAY OF FORTY-FIVE YEARS

Boston, June 10.—A degree for a course completed 45 years ago was awarded Everett E. Haggood by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology today. Haggood completed his course with the class of 1875, with the exception of a required thesis, lack of which prevented him from being graduated at that time. He submitted the thesis recently, however, and today received his belated bachelor of science degree. The graduating class, numbering 631, was the largest in the history of the institute.

BOLSHEVIKI TO AID TURKS IN COMING FIGHT

Greek Forces Massed Along Western Asia Minor Front.

READY FOR DRIVE

British Not To Take Active Part in Offensive.

Constantinople, June 10.—A Netherland, an Orthodox Russian, who has been appointed Russian Bolshevik ambassador to Ankara, has arrived in that city. It is said in Ankara received here. During his trip through Asia Minor, he is said to have made a number of addresses in which he declared the Bolsheviks would assist the Turkish Nationalists in their fight against the Allies.

Greek forces have been massed along the Western Asia Minor front for offensive against the Nationalists. It is estimated that 50,000 Greek troops are available for this struggle, while the Turks have about 60,000 effective men in Bursa and Smyrna. It is understood the British will not take an active part in the offensive.

ORDERED OUT OF MEXICO, MUST FACE TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Cleveland, O., June 10.—Dominic Benigno and Charles Coletti will be turned over by Mexican authorities to the department of justice agents at Laredo, Texas, today for extradition to Cleveland, where they are wanted for the first degree murder of Wilfred C. Sly and George E. Fennell during a robbery last December, according to information received from Cleveland officers at Laredo.

As no extradition treaty exists between the United States and Mexico, it is understood that President Obregon had ordered the men sent out of the country.

OVER MILLION DOLLARS IN PROPERTY CHANGED 'HANDS HERE DURING MAY

Surpasses May of 1920 by $17,058—Total Consideration For First Five Months of 1921 Is $3,094,039—Figures For Year Expected To Exceed 1920.

The total consideration involved in property transfers for the city of London during the month of May amounts to $1,073,066, surpassing the total for May, 1920, by $17,058. That some big year is evidenced by the fact that although there were 358 transfers in May last year, compared to 333 during a similar period in 1921, the latter involves a bigger total consideration.

However, although the total consideration for May of this year is a record for the month, the total consideration on property transfers for the first five months of 1921 surpasses that of a similar period this year by $165,361. Property transfers for these months in 1920 totalled 1,293, compared to 975 for 1921. The number of transfers for 1920 were distributed over the months as follows:

January, 1920, 150.
February, 1920, 136.
March, 1920, 242.
April, 1920, 365.
May, 1920, 398.

Total, 1,293.
January, 1921, 124.
February, 1921, 113.
March, 1921, 175.
April, 1921, 265,832.
May, 1921, 335.
Total, 975.

The considerations involved were distributed as follows:

January, 1920, $371,650.
February, 1920, $419,701.
March, 1920, $753,202.
April, 1920, $355,332.
May, 1920, $1,056,008.
Total, 1920, $3,555,493.
January, 1921, $273,356.
February, 1921, $267,102.
March, 1921, $451,503.
April, 1921, $1,023,322.
May, 1921, $1,073,066.
Total, 1921, $3,094,039.

As may be seen from the above official figures, the considerations during May and April of 1920 are less than those of the same months this year, and if the pace continues, property transfer figures for 1921 will greatly exceed those of 1920 at the end of the year.

HOPES WARTIME CO-OPERATION BETWEEN NATIONS WILL CONTINUE

London, June 10.—Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, United States navy, was a guest at tea at the House of Commons this afternoon.

Mr. Chamberlain, Sir Donald MacLean and John Robert Clynes, representing the Coalition, Liberal and Labor parties, respectively, made complimentary speeches of welcome. Mr. Chamberlain said it was the earnest wish of all parties and creeds that the close co-operation established between the British and United States fleets during the war should be the symbol of the future relationship between the two countries.

The Right Hon. George Lambert, in a humorous speech, suggested that the admiral had better hurry home with Mrs. Sims in case she should be elected a member of the House of Commons. Admiral Sims, in reply, said he only knew one nation that did not boast of the grandeur of its country and its people. That was the British; they did not think it necessary.

CRERAR CLAIMS THAT INQUIRY IS MERELY A POLITICAL MOVE

President of the United Grain Growers Makes Startling Statement.

NOTHING TO CONCEAL

Head of Farmers' Party Declares Commission Not Impartial.

Winnipeg, June 10.—The special session of the royal grain inquiry commission, held at Fort William last Saturday, was not a judicial inquiry, but a political manoeuvre, according to the president of the United Grain Growers, Hon. T. A. Crerar, president of the company, declared in a statement to the Canadian Press, Limited, last night. Mr. Crerar stated his company is determined to resist such unscrupulous attacks, and will protect his interests in the courts to the full extent of his legal rights.

Continuing, Mr. Crerar said the United Grain Growers, Limited, have nothing to conceal from any impartial tribunal. "The present commission, however," he said, "has confirmed our suspicions at the time of its appointment, that it is not impartial, but was appointed for political purposes. In other words, to discredit me and to injure as far as possible the grain growers' movement."

Mr. Crerar declared that the movement from Moscow of reinforcements for soviet troops in Siberia is difficult as the anti-soviet elements control various points along the trans-Siberian railway. Reports from Seoul state that Korean communists are holding meetings for the purpose of deciding on the program to be followed by eastern communists. After the conference, it is said, representatives will be sent to the international communist congress to be held in Moscow.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIK UPRISINGS ARE SLOWLY SPREADING

Tokio, June 10.—Determined anti-Bolshevik uprisings in the region of about 200 miles south from Tobolsk, are reported in semi-official advice received here.

Petrovsk has been occupied by anti-Bolshevik forces and the movement from Moscow of reinforcements for soviet troops in Siberia is difficult as the anti-soviet elements control various points along the trans-Siberian railway. Reports from Seoul state that Korean communists are holding meetings for the purpose of deciding on the program to be followed by eastern communists. After the conference, it is said, representatives will be sent to the international communist congress to be held in Moscow.

CANADA NOT REPRESENTED.

Ottawa, June 10.—Canadian Press.—Canada is not to be represented at the international conference of the welfare of women and children, which is to be held under the League of Nations in Geneva during the last week of June. The decision has been made by the Government on the general grounds of economy.

SOLDIERS ARRIVING FOR TEN-DAY CAMP

Majority of Men To Arrive This Afternoon.

Preparations are being made by Lieut.-Col. F. B. Ware and staff to receive the Huron, Bruce and Middlesex battalions for the summer camp to be held at Carling Heights, June 19 to 18. Col. Ibbotson Leonard, acting major of the brigade, and some of the men arrived this morning, but the remainder of the men will not be in until late this afternoon. The camp will be officially opened and the drills commenced Saturday morning.

On Sunday special services will be held for the Roman Catholics, and at 10:30 general services will be held for the other denominations, to which the public are cordially invited.

After the services, a march-past, led by the band of the R. C. R., will be held before Gen. Panet, O. C. Military District No. 1, and medals will be presented.

BUMPER STRAWBERRY CROP IN BRANT COUNTY

Brantford, June 10.—While the strawberry patch owners of this district would like to see some light, but continued showers to bring along the second crop, all reports from this district indicate a heavy yield, and home-grown strawberries are now being offered here at 20¢ a box, with a heavy drop predicted for Saturday. Local dealers handling the berries, predict that the maximum price when the full crop comes on the market will be ten cents a box, while they expect that at the peak they will be offered at three for a quarter. In Simcoe the pick was started today, but the Brant pick will not be so heavy for a few days yet. The weather to date has been ideal except that a few showers now would be appreciated.

FIREMEN OFFER BLOOD TO SAVE WOMAN'S LIFE

Cleveland, O., June 10.—An appeal for volunteers for a blood transfusion was answered by 372 out of 500 members of the Cleveland fire department on duty yesterday. The crowd went out to save the life of Mrs. David Wilson, who was left in a serious condition from a caesarian operation performed a week ago, when twins—a boy and a girl—were born.

The boy died last Monday, but the girl probably will survive. The mother's blood was found suitable. Coins were matched to see who would be accepted, and Charles L. Trinker won.

WILL TAKE TIME TO EFFECT UNION OF THE CHURCHES

Rev. D. C. MacGregor Is Appointed As One of Committee.

QUESTIONS TO SETTLE
To Decide Property
Ownership.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor of this city has been appointed as one of the Presbyterian committee to confer with the other churches relative to church union. The announcement was made at Thursday's meeting of the General Presbyterian Assembly in Toronto.

"Although the decision was made," said Mr. MacGregor today, "to proceed with the proposed union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches of Canada, time will indicate the final consummation. There are a great many matters that must be straightened out, and I presume that the first move will be closer co-operation between the various negotiating churches in the missionary work in foreign fields, and no doubt the linking up of the various colleges and other educational bodies throughout Canada."

"Another important matter to be dealt with will be to secure legislation from both the Dominion and the Provincial Governments. The properties held by the different denominations will involve considerable straightening out, and the time-consuming question of period must elapse before ultimate consummation results. In the meanwhile, it will be found that the churches will gradually draw together, and increased co-operation until the final objective is reached."

BRAMMER AND MASON CHARGED WITH THEFT

Ex-Constable and Companion Alleged To Have Stolen Whiskey.

BIDDULPH FARMERS

McCaffery Tells of Search Being Made of House.

Roy Brammer, ex-constable of the local police force, and Fred Mason, both residents of the city, are on trial at the house of the court today, charged with the theft of whiskey last month from three brothers who live on a farm on the 9th concession of Biddulph Township.

William McCaffery, one of the brothers, in court today, told of Brammer and Mason coming to his place with a third man named Hindmarsh, who had purchased whiskey there on the same night that the theft was said to have been committed. Hindmarsh was handcuffed, and said that he did not know McCaffery, and that McCaffery did not know him. Then, witness stated, Brammer threatened to lift witness full of lead if he made a move. He then told of a search of the house and the stealing of the whiskey.

Brammer showed a badge, he said, and both men pretended to be officers acting under instructions from Licenses Inspector J. E. Keenleyside. Witness and a brother Joseph saw the number of the car which the thieves used, and later in London identified Brammer and Mason as the men who stole the whiskey. The theft is alleged to have been committed in May.

Hubert McCaffery also told of the raid on the house, and of identifying Brammer and Mason in London.

J. M. McEvoy, counsel for Brammer, wanted to know how dark the night witness said that it was moonlight.

When court resumed after the adjournment for lunch Hubert McCaffery was still on the stand. Albert M. Judd is acting for Mason and J. B. McKillop is prosecuting.

WOULD HAVE JAPAN TAKE INITIATIVE IN DISARMAMENT MOVE

Osaka, Japan, June 10.—Resolutions providing that a petition be sent to the Japanese Government asking it to take the initiative in communicating with Great Britain and the United States for the purpose of calling a conference relative to disarmament have been passed unanimously by the disarmament committee of the chamber of commerce here. The committee also decided to conduct an investigation with a view to gathering more information regarding armament restrictions.

REAR ADMIRAL SIMS DECLARES PROTESTS MADE BY U. S. IRISH BECAUSE HE WAS TELLING TRUTH

Repeats At Function in His Honor Today That He Will Not Repudiate One Word of Address Made Last Tuesday — Wires Denby That What He Said Was Nothing in Addition to Statements Previously Made in U. S.

London, June 10.—The reply of Rear Admiral Sims to the request and Secretary of the Navy Denby for an explanation of his speech here Tuesday, expresses the opinion of Admiral Sims that some parts of the speech, to which objection had been taken, had been garbled. This was learned unofficially, but on good authority here today.

In his answer, which is not long, Admiral Sims declares he said nothing in his address which he had not said before in speeches in the United States and in his book.

London, June 10.—Rear-Admiral Sims made no direct mention of United States residents in sympathy with the Irish Republican cause today during a 40-minute address at a luncheon given in his honor by the United States Luncheon Club.

In an apparent allusion, however, to his remarks of last Tuesday, when he addressed the English-Speaking Union, the admiral said: "Perhaps we have used too energetic adjectives on some occasions, but let us hope that will be amicably explained away." The admiral paused a moment and then added: "But I am going on doing the same thing."

This declaration brought from the 200 guests a repetition of the uproarious applause which had greeted the remarks of Wilson Cross, vice-president of the United States Chamber of Commerce in London, in introducing Admiral Sims. "He is stung again, but he says he will stand by what he has said," Sir Cross told the assembled company. "I want to assure him that this company will stand with him—and so will all full-blooded, true, honest-thinking United States citizens."

Always Told Truth.

Mr. Cross alluded to the marked cordiality with which Admiral Sims had been entertained by men among the most notable in the country since his arrival in England and he presented the admiral in the characterization usually applied to Washington—"First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Admiral Sims, in reply, said he had attempted on all occasions to say what he wanted to say, and he believed he had always told the truth as he understood it. He was afraid he had gone to excess in telling the truth, and he feared he had done so the other day—"at least, in the opinion of certain people," he added.

The admiral said he had been accused by critics as "the most popular British admiral in the United States navy," and had been accused of being pro-British.

"I am," continued the admiral, "simply French after I had been naval attaché in Paris for four years. I am pro-British, pro-French, and pro-Allied."

Admiral Sims declared he also had been criticized for advocating an Anglo-United States treaty. This was not so, he said, but he did believe that a decent companionship and brotherhood of the two English-speaking people would make such a treaty unnecessary.

"Now, if that is something I should not say, I hope they will make the best of it," he added.

The admiral recounted his wartime experiences of the cordiality of the relations between the Allied naval commands, interspersing his remarks with anecdotal and amusing references to the outbursts of applause and convulsive laughter from his audience.

Sir Thomas Lipton, Lord Incheape, Harry Gordon Selfridge, Sir Hall Caine, the Earl of Lathom, and other prominent figures, including Lord Curzon, Lord Carnarvon, and Lord Leake, R.N., and numerous other naval officers, together with representatives from the embassies, were among the guests.

WILL STREET RY. PUT GRAVEL ON STANLEY ST.?

"We Can't Do Anything," Declares Manager King.

ALD. WILSON ON JOB
He and Ald. F. J. Watt Have Another Interview With Engineer.

Every party interested in the Stanley street pavement controversy, including the London street railway, which is the bone of contention, is marking time today. Meanwhile workmen are continuing to lay the concrete base on the city's portion of the road, 18 inches on either side of the tracks being declared "out of bounds."

Asked this morning by an Advertiser reporter if it was true that after the city paves the street, his company will put gravel between the tracks, Manager C. B. King of the London street railway said: "We have not said what we are going to do. We can't do anything. I have nothing to say about it." He refused to discuss the tangle further.

Ald. W. A. Wilson has not changed his attitude on the subject and declared to the Advertiser this morning that he never will.

"I will never vote our money to be used to pave street railway tracks," he said. "We did it on the Rectory street job, and are now going to collect the money, which may take us four years. Ald. Watt and I went to see the city engineer yesterday to learn if the street railway company had been properly notified to pave their allowance. This notice has been given, and I will never vote the citizens' money to the street railway company."

Ald. Wilson alleged that it was through the action of Ald. G. B. Drake that the track allowance on Rectory street was paved, and for payment of which the city is now suing the company in the supreme court.

GREEK STEAMER HITS MINE, SINKS IN THE AEGEAN SEA; MANY LIVES BELIEVED LOST

Athens, June 10.—Many lives are believed to have been lost in the sinking of the Greek steamship Bouboulina, which struck a mine and foundered in the Aegean Sea. The Greek battleship Lemnos has arrived at Piraeus from Smyrna with two passengers who were picked up. Details of the disaster are lacking.

240 PASSENGERS ABOARD.
Paris, June 10.—The mail packet Bouboulina, which has been sunk in the Aegean by a mine, had 240 passengers on board, besides a crew of 25, says an Athens dispatch to the Radio Agency. The Bouboulina was formerly the steamer Coronilla. She was built at Newcastle, England, in 1878, and was owned by C. G. Bouboulis of Spazia. Her registered tonnage was 1,312.

THEATRES

AT THE ALLEN.

Enchantingly beautiful things, dear to the heart of all women, but eternal mysteries to men, go to make the feature picture "Habit," playing at the Allen Theatre during the last half of this week, one of the remarkable picture plays of the season. Wonderfully created clothes, some more, some less, all the latest fashion, and excelled in beauty only by the mannishness which parade them, has made the film one of the most beautiful costumed picture plays ever produced. Hundreds of these dazzlingly arrayed models are crowded in one of the big scenes of the play, depicting a sumptuously appointed atelier of a Fifth Avenue importeur to help but sympathize with Mildred Harris, as Irene Fletcher, the leading lady, for clinging to her love for pretty habits. Her habit of loving all things luxurious is the theme of the play, and while the theme perhaps is common enough, it is made the basis of a plot containing enough kinks to make it almost original. Considerable of the mysterious and much that is thrilling has been introduced, which made the picture appealing enough to win much spontaneous applause from the many people who attended Allen's on Thursday. The scenes, especially those of the first part, are built up among luxurious settings. Among the thrills are a fight to death, a train wreck, and a terrific struggle between a woman and a man under the influence of liquor. The love threads it depicts are fairly conventional, for it depicts the love of two men, one poor and the other rich, for a woman with a taste for luxurious things. The cast is well balanced.

One of Booth Tarkington's delightful little stories of boy life, called "Get Rich Quick Edgar," gives a light touch to the program. The picture is one of the best of the series depicting one of the adventures of the boy "Edgar." There is also an episode of the "Son of Tarzan," a thrilling serial story of the jungle. It is the 12th episode, and it is called "Meriem's Ride in the Night."

An Allen News, a Screen Snapshots of Movie Stars, and special music complete a program, which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

Former London Young Woman Becomes Bride of Harristown Minister.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Kingston, June 10.—A pretty house wedding took place this morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. P. Jenkins, Alfred street, when Luella Pasley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Mayell, London, Ont., was married to Rev. James Mayell Wright, Harristown, Ont. Rev. W. T. G. Brown, pastor of Sydenham Street Methodist Church, officiating.

The bride, who entered the drawing-room on the arm of her brother-in-law, E. P. Jenkins, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Lettie Walker, wore a charmingly simple gown of white crepe de chine, embroidered with crystal beads and ending in a long train. Her hat was of white mull with a dainty sprig of orange blossoms, and her shoes were of white with a dainty sprig of orange blossoms. A buffet wedding breakfast was served.

Rev. J. M. Wright and Mrs. Wright left for the west amid many good wishes, the bride traveling in a smart suit of navy blue with a white collar and a hat of black moiré with French flowers.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Davidson, Dresden; Mrs. J. B. T. Tanton and Miss Isabel Tanton, London.

OFF THE RAILS

Among the 27 different first aid teams representing various points on the G. T. R., which tried the recent qualifying examinations in preparation for the Chamberlain trophy competition, the London Station team, recently organized, stood seventh highest, with a percentage of 80, it was announced today. The success of this team, which is the more outstanding when it is considered that the majority of the teams have been long established and well experienced, is highly gratifying to both the officials and men of the G. T. R. in this city.

The London team was excelled only by the Montreal shop team, No. 2, heading the list with 88 per cent, by Guelph with 87 per cent, Montreal shop team No. 2, 86 per cent, Turco, 84 per cent, Stratford Roundhouse, 82 per cent, and Stratford shop team, No. 2, with 82 per cent. Out of the 27 teams entered only 14 were successful in obtaining the 75 per cent required to make them eligible for the championship competition.

JUST THREE ARRIVED.
In the expectation that at least 100 soldiers from west of this city would come to London today for the opening of the camp on Carling Heights, a special car was added, but this morning only three arrived from Windsor. Although the train stopped at every station en route, only three would-be soldiers occupied the car when it arrived here.

ORE TRAINS TO START.
The opening of the ore season on the Great Lakes and on the G. T. R. between Point Edward and Hamilton has been postponed until June 23, according to an announcement made today. It was originally intended that the season should open on June 4, but later on June 15, but it has now been learned that the first ore boat will not reach Point Edward until June 23 at the earliest. When the season opens, freight trains will be sent to the local division of the G. T. R., giving employment to many train crews now on the reserve list.

CHIEF BIRRELL

DECLARES WAR
ON "MASHERS"

Will Clear London of "Side-walk Pests" in the Near Future.

June bugs and mosquitoes are not the only pests that are bothering London this month, for another kind of pest has come to the fore, namely, the "masher."

These pests have a particular fondness for the fair sex between the ages of 12 and 40, and although they are detested, it is a difficult matter for the persons attacked to get rid of them without using force.

Chief of Police Robert Birrell has decided that he will wage war on the "sidewalk rodents" again, and hopes to have a major success in his campaign last autumn, when London's streets were cleared of the asphalt swarms. He has ordered his men to pay particular attention to the activities of the "masHERS."

For the information of those who are not quite clear on the matter a definition of a "masher" follows: a member of the male sex who is mistaken when he calls himself a man, and who makes a habit of accosting unaccompanied girls and women on the street. There are several species, among which are the kind that wear good clothes, carry powder purses, and who make their actions plain themselves in a category known as the "he-flapper," and the kind which are not so well dressed, but who loiter around the corners and make nasty remarks when young girls pass, or speak to the girls without being invited to do so.

Claude Niles was fined $5 and costs in police court this morning for acting in a disorderly manner. He was charged with accosting a young girl about 16 years of age who was walking north on Richmond street to her home at 10:30 o'clock last night. They objected to his forward ways, and he refused to stop. Sergeant William McCullough, Niles' excuse was that he thought he knew the girl.

SUE TORONTO FIRM FOR $35,000 DAMAGES

The Taylor-Campbell Electric Company Allege Breach of Contract.

Two more cases, making a total of four, have been set down for the non-jury session of the supreme court of Ontario, which opens at the courthouse on Tuesday, June 20.

Frederick P. Betts, trustee of the last will and testament of Dr. Henry Augustus Betts is suing John J. Shields, Jessie Shields and Annie C. Shields for possession of certain lands in the township of Mosa. The plaintiff claims that a mortgage on this land was given to the Diocese of Huron by John J. McKellar, that he sold it to James Shields, that the latter died intestate, and that the defendants received the property. It is claimed that they have not paid the interest on the mortgage.

The defendants claim that they are owners in fee simple of the land, and that they have been collecting rents and profits from it. They also say that the plaintiff is barred by the limitations act. Crown, Betts & Coleridge for the plaintiff; Meredith & Meredith are agents for Farley and Shaw of St. Thomas, the defendants' solicitors.

A. T. Taylor and E. L. Campbell, trading under the firm name of the Taylor-Campbell Electric Company, have entered a damage action against the Victoria Electric Supply Company, Limited, of Toronto. The plaintiffs claim that on October 11, 1920, they received a written order from the defendants for a large quantity of supplies. They ask damages for breach of contract in refusing to supply the goods and deliver, amounting to $2,211.11, and also for goods sold and delivered amounting to $6,564.52.

They further seek $10,000 damages for breach of contract, and also $35,000 damages for breach of contract to take the whole year's output.

The defendants deny that the plaintiffs sustained any loss or damage by reason of any act or omission of the defendants. The defendants counterclaim $4770.03. They claim that goods which they purchased from the plaintiffs and sold again were returned because of defects.

M. McEvoy for the plaintiffs; Jennings & Clue, Toronto, for defendants.

SIMS WILL FORWARD

REPLY TO SECRETARY

U. S. Admiral Not At All Worried Over Situation.

London, June 10.—Rear Admiral William Sims said this morning he would reply today to the request of Secretary of the Navy Denby, asking him to inform the United States naval department as to his remarks on the Irish question, delivered here on Tuesday. He said he would not make public his reply.

Admiral Sims did not seem perturbed by reports that the United States Senate had taken action calling for an investigation, but expressed curiosity as to when the Senatorial inquiry would be begun.

"I am returning on the Olympic on June 18," he said. "I don't suppose I could book an earlier passage."

Admiral Sims declared he probably would not make any further statement until his return to the United States. He is busy with a voluminous correspondence, which averages about 70 letters per day from friends in England.

DECREASE IN NET DEBT OF DOMINION

The Income Tax Collections Assisted in Settling Up Obligations.

Ottawa, June 10.—Canadian Press.—A decrease of $1,785,845 in the net debt of Canada during the month of May, as compared with an increase of $2,813,586 during the same month a year ago, is shown by the final statement issued from the finance department today. The net debt of Canada now stands at $2,494,802, as compared with $2,818,590, at the end of April, and $2,590,548, at the end of May, 1920.

The decrease in the debt is accounted for by the fact that income tax collections during the past month totaled $3,556,711, as compared with $2,412,802 in May, 1920. This year the tax was collected at the time of making the return, while in 1920 the return was collected at some time previous to the collection of the tax.

The customs revenue for May was $9,239,964, as compared with $19,745,200 in 1920. Excise was $2,990,197, as compared with $3,778,469 in 1920.

Revenue from the postoffice was $1,600,000, as compared with $1,550,000 in May, 1920. War tax revenues included $6,091,874 from inland revenue, as compared with $2,023,811 in May, 1920, and $1,548,513 from business profits tax, as against $1,105,237 in May, 1920.

The total revenue during the past month was $24,413,723, as compared with $18,175,292 a year ago. Income tax collections are now ahead of the ordinary expenditure during the month shows an increase of some $2,000,000. The total for May was $1,962,596, as against $3,959,355 for May last year.

A companion who witnessed the accident, which occurred on the morning of June 9, reported that the victim, a well-known Greek resident of Dundas street, was sitting in a refreshment booth immediately east of the entrance to the Amusement Park at Springbank, suffered severe cuts on his left wrist and hand early Thursday morning, when a huge jar containing lemonade, toppled over and was shattered. Mr. Lewis is resting quietly in St. Joseph's hospital today, weak from the loss of blood. He is not believed to be in serious danger.

Following the accident the unfortunate man was rushed to the Byron Sanatorium, where the flow of blood was stopped. It was discovered that a falling glass had severed an artery, besides lacerating the wrist and hand considerably. Later he was removed to the hospital.

DISTRICT CROPS IN NEED OF RAIN

Farmers Anxiously Awaiting Good Heavy Downpour.

"Let there be rain and lots of it," is the fervent cry of the farmers of Western Ontario. That the strawberry blight so noticeable close to the city has resulted mainly through the lack of moisture is the explanation now advanced generally and throughout this section of the province the unusual scarcity of rain this spring has had a decided effect upon every form of plant or grain.

It was noticed yesterday that having already commenced in the London area, although it is a trifle shorter than usual. The intense warm spell accounts for this start of nearly a month earlier than other seasons. Fall wheat appears generally to be in fair condition, although the crop has not as yet reached the height usually attained. The oats and barley fields also await the coming deluge of rain to help them along.

Particularly noticeable, however, has been the effect of the dry spell on the yield of roots. As the damp soil is positively essential to insure a superior return for mangels and turnips, the growth has been very uneven, and it is only in spots that real progress has been noted. A downpour of rain would be especially helpful in this respect.

Prospects appear brighter, however, for the corn growers. Luckily most of the farmers contrived to make their plantings at such a time as to allow benefit by the few showers that were available earlier in the season, and it is evidently proved of sufficient quantity in most cases to cause germination of the seed. This is the principal factor of corn-raising. Once the corn emerges above the ground, it does not seem to be so entirely dependent upon the rain as other vegetation.

Potato bugs are reported unusually numerous in many localities this year. The keynote of the country's cry remains "rain, and let it come just as soon as providence will allow."

AGED WOMAN IS DRAGGED BY STREET CAR WHEN SKIRT CATCHES IN DOOR

Battered and bruised as she was dragged some 40 or 50 feet by a Normal car at the corner of Adkin street and the Wharncliffe road Thursday evening, an aged woman, who desired to conceal her identity, displayed remarkable composure under such aggravating and embarrassing circumstances. Straightening her hat and brushing off her skirt, she proceeded on her way, refusing aid from those who wished to call medical attention.

It appears from witnesses that as she alighted from the car the door was shut behind her catching her skirt, and before she could disentangle herself, the car proceeded across the street, dragging her along on her back.

The street railway authorities advise that the incident had not been reported to them.

NEW BEAR PEN AT SPRINGBANK ZOO TO BE MINUS BARS

Will Be Completed in Two Weeks' Time, States
E. V. Buchanan.

Work has been started on a new bear pen at the Springbank zoo, and it will be completed in about two weeks. The new pen, which will be a modern type, one, will be of a modern type, rarely seen in Canada, according to E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities commission, who has had the plans prepared. It is to be much larger than the present structure, and an innovation will be introduced in the fact that there will be no iron bars between the animals and liberty.

In the center of the pen will be situated the bear house, the portulacis of which will open upon a large concrete slab. This slab is to be circular in shape, and around it is a wide moat, in which fresh water to a depth of four feet will be kept. On the outside of the moat a high cement wall will be built, over which spectators will be able to peer, the height of the wall being the ground outside being at a comfortable level.

To escape, the bears must jump across the wide moat over the top of the smooth wall, which feat is considered impossible. The wall is too high for the animals to reach the top while standing in the moat, so escape by this means is equally as difficult. In fact, according to Mr. Buchanan, the bears enter the moat at all they will have to swim.

"The absence of bars gives a more complete idea of freedom," declared Mr. Buchanan, "and citizens may watch in safety the bears sport on the concrete slab and in the moat with an unobstructed view. Of course, if some untoward child were to fall over the wall into the moat it might make a good newspaper story. I do not think the bears would harm anyone if such an improbable accident were to occur, as they have given no trouble to date, but we are taking no chances."

The old pen, according to Mr. Buchanan, will be used to house one pair of the five brown bears at the zoo. At Springbank there are two pairs of young bears, and one adult male, whose spouse passed away to the happy hunting grounds some time ago. The quintet live happily in the present pen, but the group will be divided in anticipation of future battles for supremacy.

Some time ago, owing to complaints received from district residents, to the effect that nightly howling of the cubs made sleep impossible, these animals were destroyed. In the Canadian west a bounty is placed on the heads of coyotes, which, according to one authority, "are only wild dogs, anyway."

RESIDENTS THREATEN INJUNCTION IF CITY USES SITE FOR YARD

BURGLARS DISTURBED

Border Municipalities Discuss
Living Costs—Will Ask Government Aid.

WINDSOR, June 9.—Residents of Ward Three in the neighborhood of Hannah and Mercer streets, are threatening legal action to prevent the city from purchasing property at this corner to be used as a public works yard. Yesterday the citizens endorsed a civic bylaw providing for the purchase of this piece of land as the site for an asphalt plant. Injunction proceedings are hinted at on the grounds that a plant at this point, which would also be used for storing coal, would greatly detract from the appearance of the district, while the claim is advanced that the coal dust would also prove a nuisance.

In the meantime, plans to purchase a winter supply of coal for the civic yards are being held up.

Discussions Living Costs.

Representatives of the various border municipalities and different organizations discussed living costs at a meeting held in the Border Chamber of Commerce tonight, in an effort to start a movement for a liberal slashing in the cost of commodities.

Co-operation of the Dominion Government will be sought.

New Masonic Temple.

Tenders for the new Masonic Temple in Windsor will be let in a few days time. It was announced following a meeting last night. Bids have been opened, instructions have been issued to the committee to speed the building as much as possible.

National Credit System.

Fostering of Canada's export trade by the development of a national credit system was advocated by P. N. Main, manager of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, speaking at a luncheon of the members of the Border Chamber of Commerce today. Individual banks are unable to make the necessary long-term credits for trade, and for that reason the organization of government assistance was necessary, he said.

Proved a Hard Nut.

Burglars failed in an attempt to crack the safe of the White Machine Works, 301 Giles Boulevard, Wednesday night. A watchman discovered a car standing in front of the plant, and when he began to investigate the motorist fled, leaving the building and drove away. Entrance was gained by forcing a window at the rear of the building.

Resignation Accepted.

Official acceptance of the resignation of Rev. Hugh McDermid from the pastorate of Walkerville Baptist Church was made on Wednesday night at a meeting of the congregation. Mr. McDermid has accepted the pastorate of the Ontario Street Baptist Church, Stratford. A committee was named to arrange for the appointment of a successor.

DUNDAS CENTRE CHORUS
HOLDS PICNIC; GAMES
CREATE A JOOLY TIME

Among the many groups of picnickers who assembled at Springbank Park on Wednesday to enjoy an outing was that of the chorus of the Dundas Centre Methodist Church, who, with their friends, spent a very merry time. Bountiful tables, decorated with peonies and daisies, provided the best that Mother Earth produces.

Baseball and sports were indulged in and much amusement was created in the various events. Two base-ball games were played. The first one was a friendly practice to get in trim for the final event. Miss Nelles and Miss Davidson captained the first game, the latter's side winning by a close margin. Miss Morris and Mr. Harding were batterers. The second game was somewhat of a professional nature, when the high voices and the low voices were pitted against each other in a world series fashion, and Buzz Wetzel was on the grounds "lookin' 'em over" for the 1922 ball team. The game resulted in a tie and will be played off next year. The batterers were: J. P. Morris and Frank Adams; Harry Allport and E. N. Harding. Rev. W. E. Pescott was the official umpire and rendered impartial decisions, much to the satisfaction of the onlookers.

All entered heartily into the races. Following is a list of the successful contestants:

Coat race—1. Mr. Deacon and Miss Marjorie Tanton; 2. Douglas Morris and Miss Phoenix.

Slow race—1. Edna Purdy, 2. Leona Webber.

Wheelbarrow race—1. Frank Adams and Gordon Morris; 2. Douglas Morris and Leon Adams.

Best lady whistler—1. Miss Marjorie Tanton; 2. Miss Edna Purdy.

Ladies' throwing ball—1. Miss L. Webber; 2. Dorothy Cahill.

Needle and thread race—1. James Gay; 2. Gordon Morris.

Men throwing ball—1. Frank Adams; 2. Harry Allport.

Departmental race—1. Miss Phoenix; 2. Miss Davidson.

Mr. William Heaman acted as judge of the course and at times it was feared for his safety. Mr. J. Parnell Morris was starter.

The picnic committee, who made it possible for such a successful outing, was composed of Miss Mary Best, Miss Edith and Madeline Line, Mrs. J. Parnell Morris, Mrs. J. W. Cahill and Mr. Douglas and Morris, while the sports committee was composed of Frank Adams, Harry Allport, Gordon Morris and J. P. Morris.

S. S. SEAPOL ARRIVES SAFELY AT ST. JOHN

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 9.—The British steamer Seapool, which struck a rock early Tuesday morning, 300 miles off the coast, arrived here tonight with word that when 90 miles east of this port she had picked up a message from the Charlot asking for assistance. The Seapool's master expressed the opinion that the steamer was probably sinking but that the crew would be rescued by ships in the vicinity. A dense fog and numerous icebergs off the coast made navigation very difficult, the captain added.

The Seapool arrived in fair trim with her cargo undamaged. She docked here for repairs to her stern, which was shattered below the water line.

WORK OF UNCLE IS TO BE INTERPRETED BY HIS NEPHEW

TORONTO, June 9.—The Toronto Star prints the following in its news columns today:

Hume Cronyn, M.P., who is to be chairman of the T. S. N. arbitration board, is closely connected with one of the best-known of Toronto families—the Blakes. He is, indeed, a nephew of the late Edward and S. H. Blake. As was the latter who drew up the street railway agreement for the city, it is of interest to note that his own nephew will have the task of carrying out its most important provisions.

Hume Cronyn is a double cousin of William Hume Blake of Toronto, a fact which recalls a remarkable intermarriage which took place between the two well-known Irish families many years ago. William Hume Blake, had two sons, Edward and Samuel, and daughter, Sophy. These married, respectively, Margaret Cronyn, Rebecca Cronyn and Verschoyle Cronyn, daughters and sons of the late Benjamin Cronyn, Bishop of Huron. Hume Cronyn is the son of Verschoyle Cronyn and Sophy Blake.

EVERY DAY IS MONDAY IN KOREA.

Every day is Monday in Korea, says Asia. From early morning the thump-thump of the washing paddle sounds on the bank of stream and canal. Until late at night the rattling of the ironing sticks tells of the washerwomen, whose work is never done.

The crowded hut may be dirty and malodorous, but the gentleness of the household must appear immaculate in loose white trousers and jacket, and his wife must have her spotless jacket, full of reason and voice, and for that reason the white is the "decent black" of Korea. Originally the color of mourning, it became, like black in the west, the badge of respectability and sobriety. Though it is losing its vogue in the ports and larger towns, it is still in the interior, the ordinary garb, winter and summer, of a large part of the population.

All save the poorest, however, keep bright-hued feast day silks laid away in the family chest, and the children and young girls are always as brilliant as butterflies.

There is the interminable washing and ironing. Then there is the sewing and the household sewing in Korea is no small task, for all the garments worn by the family are taken apart before each washing and sewed together again after they are beaten smooth with the ironing sticks.

OAK HALL

QUEBEC WILL NOT BREAK LAST TIE WITH BRITAIN

Hon. Louis Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, Declared in Speech At Toronto—Was One of Ten On Whom the University of Toronto Conferred Honorary Degrees—Appeals For Better Understanding Between the Two Provinces.

TORONTO, June 9. — Honorary degrees were conferred by the University of Toronto tonight upon ten men eminent in public affairs and in literature. One of these, Hon. Louis Taschereau, premier of Quebec, who received the degree of doctor of law, was given an ovation by an audience that was made up largely of prominent persons of this city. Hon. Mr. Taschereau was only one of the recipients of university honors to give an address, and it was received with manifest pleasure and generous applause.

The premier of Quebec spoke in English. The keynote of his address was an appeal for a better understanding between the people of the province of Ontario and the province of Quebec. Speaking of the attitude of his province on the question of appeals from Canadian courts to the privy council, Hon. Mr. Taschereau said Quebec would not pull on its end to sever this, the so-called last tie, with the mother country. This sentiment was received with hearty applause.

Premier E. C. Drury, LL. D., also was the recipient of the degree of LL. D. In presenting Hon. Mr. Drury to Sir William Meredith, chancellor of the university, for the degree, Sir Robert Falconer, president of the university, remarked that a large number of Canadian statesmen had come from Quebec.

"Present weather conditions," said President Falconer, "are that the average are will not be a short one and the people of the province are resting comfortably as the Ontario ship of state sails on its way."

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred, in absentia, upon Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, who has gone to England, and upon Right Hon. Jan Christian Smuts, premier of South Africa. Other recipients of this degree were: Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., and F. W. Merchant, director of technical education for Ontario.

The degree of doctor of letters was conferred upon Wilfrid P. Mustard and Duncan Campbell Scott, F.R.S.C. The degree of doctor of science was conferred upon J. M. R. Fairbairn and R. A. Ross, E.E.

A reception was held by Sir Robert Falconer, heads of colleges and deans and staff of the university, following the convocation.

"I fully appreciate the great honor that has been conferred upon me this evening," declared Premier Taschereau, in opening his address. "If I feel bound to tender my warmest thanks to the University of Toronto on my own behalf, I also feel that a similar acknowledgment is due from the province of Quebec, in whose name I may be permitted to speak, for I cannot ignore the conclusion that my official position rather than my humble personality is the recipient of this coveted and most honorable degree."

"I am sure, Mr. President, that if it was your intention to reward 32 years of a busy and arduous legal career, it was also your earnest desire to mark the good relationship that exists among the legal fraternity and the rapprochement which all men of thought and good will, I might say all true Canadians, are particularly happy to see maturing between the two great provinces of our fair Dominion. It is in this spirit, Sir, that I thank you from the bottom of my heart for your kindness towards me and my fellow-countrymen of Quebec."

"May I be permitted, now that I carry the full weight and authority of doctor-in-law of the University of Toronto, to deal shortly with some legal problems that may be of interest to Canada as a whole and are much discussed in my province. I want to be very frank, feeling that frankness and open talk between Ontario and Quebec are the best results, and I wonder whether, in the past, we have not sometimes been sinners in this respect. "I believe that I shall not shock even a Toronto audience when I state that 80 per cent of the population of Quebec is French. Two hundred years ago my ancestors came from Old France, for the freedom of which Ontario's young and noblest blood has been recently shed. I am proud of my ancestry; the history of my family is that of our Quebec families. But I beg of you to remember that real Canadianism, I say of the country, loyalty, the British fairplay to all are as true and vigorous in my own province as in any other of the Dominion."

A Sacred Heritage.
"Our forefathers, when they opened Canada to civilization, brought with them, in addition to their implements to till the soil and level the forests, a set of laws which in the olden days made the greatness of Rome and afterwards became the foundation of the civilization and progress of France. "These laws respond to French ideals, French traditions, French characteristics, French customs. Is it therefore surprising that they have been retained by the people of Quebec, who consider them a sacred heritage, which they will bequeath to their sons as pure and unadulterated as they received them?"

"I impose the French laws on England, they will fail. Rule France by the laws of England, the result will be disastrous. Each people has its own mentality. The laws must be made to fit the people; the people cannot be made to fit the laws."

"If you will agree with me so far, I will ask you to go a step further and grant that, in our Canada, inhabited by the two great races, the English and the French, each retaining its ethical traditions and ideals, customs and modes of thought, even whims and fancies, uniformity of law is an impossibility. "I am well aware that some of our best legal minds, prompted by a real Canadian spirit, have advocated an all-Canadian code. I will unhesitatingly pay tribute to their disinterested motives and genuine desire to improve our Canadian legislation, but, to my mind, they are chasing a rainbow. History supports my contention. When Canada was ceded to England, the British statesmen of 1763 understood that the possibility of imposing even on the little group of sixty thousand Frenchmen left in Canada, their own civil laws, British wisdom and foresight prevailed then and our ancestors retained their heritage."

"Now, that we are 2,000,000 with nearly two additional centuries of a peaceful and undisturbed exercise of these laws, can it be expected that the time for a change has arrived? "I pray, gentlemen, do not throw in to the melting pot your English and our French laws; they will not blend, and the result, I feel sure, will be unsatisfactory to both provinces."

Healthy Competition.
"I believe in a peaceful and healthy competition, between the sister provinces, in the legal field. Let both races vie with each other in the framing of their laws, with their respective wants and ideals in view, and fear not the result. Might I add that, in the British Isles, uniformity of laws does not exist and I am not aware that the mother country is a sufferer from this condition of things."

"How does Quebec feel on the advisability of appeals to the privy council, we are often asked? And then come the resulting questions: Are we not a self-governing country? Does not Canada possess judicial minds big enough, to sit in court of last resort? Why leave the ultimate interpretation of our laws to men who often know very little of Canada? Is not the privy council the rich man's court? Are not the long delays and heavy expenses incident to these appeals, a serious impediment to the best administration of justice?"

"Strange to say, these objections do not, as a rule, come from the French province of Quebec. "Although we feel that too many cases are brought before the privy council, and that the class of appeals should be restricted, although we also know that matters are so arranged that the assistance of an English counsel is almost necessary, with all the resulting reticence and refreshers, which sometimes do not retain, but surely never refresh our poor clients. Nevertheless, I believe it is the general desire of my province, that, especially in constitutional cases, the right of appeal should be maintained."

Confederation a Compromise.
"The Canadian confederation was a compromise. Half a century of martial progress and development, the wisdom and foresight of the men who framed it. But when so many conflicts of a racial, religious or ethical nature are liable to arise, have we not all a greater sense of security from the fact that the decisions to be rendered will come from the men who preside over the privy council, men remote from our local strifes and disputes, unprejudiced by their surroundings?"

"To express my thoughts in a few words, I will venture to say that in a country such as ours, which is blessed with minorities, the privy council is the protection of these minorities. Solicitors for minorities is not unknown to British fairplay and constitutional principles."

"Enjoying this blessing, if we want Canada to progress in peace, harmony and concord—and surely this is our common desire, as we feel that national unity and material development hinge on a true Canadian spirit—is it not necessary that some of those vexed questions, unfortunately have divided us in the past should be finally settled by men whose decisions will not be open to the charge of sectionalism or provincialism. To my mind there is nothing so destructive to respect due to the law—and after all it is this respect the foundation of our civilization—as to see the members of a court, on a racial or religious question, divided apparently according to their own religious or racial feelings? Such things have happened and such a result cannot satisfy public opinion."

"I am aware that decisions of the privy council, what might call international matters have sometimes been open to the reproach of being founded on imperial interests at large, with the result that Canadian interests suffered heavily. I claim for myself a degree in diplomacy, but leave the answer to this reproach to those who wish to retain for Canada the full and unfettered rights and privileges of her young progressive neighborhood."

One of the Last Ties.
"The appeal to the privy council is a tie, one of the last ties we are sometimes told, between Canada and the mother country. A tie may be broken, but it will not pull on its end; Quebec will not pull on her end, but let us hope there will not be too many unwise pullers on the other end. "Perhaps you will find that I am talking too much of Quebec, but a last point of view of this good old province may be of some interest to you. "My fellow-countrymen have the deepest respect for the administration of justice, feeling that progress, both moral and material, rests upon it. Imbued with this idea they think that justice should be administered by men versed and trained in law, in other words by judges."

"Canadian judiciary is second to none in the civilized world for legal science, honesty and uprightness. Impachment is only to be found in our statute books. I believe that our system of judicial appointments is the best, as it makes the judges independent of politics and places them above popular fancies. But, precisely because our judiciary is above reproach, as much at least as any human institution can be, we are in our province, that the judicial field is becoming daily too much encroached upon by commissions. I believe in a captain to steer his ship, in a soldier to command soldiers, and in a judge to expound the law."

A Most Precious Blessing.
"Far from me the idea of criticizing any commission, past or present, but speaking for the future, I wonder if we should not stop and pause and all agree that judges and courts of justice are certainly the best medium to mete out to the people human justice, which, with all its shortcomings and failings, is, after all, one of God's most precious blessings to mankind."

I have perhaps expressed opinions that are not shared by all of you, but it is the privilege of a lawyer to disagree with his conferees. If we all agreed, our income tax would become rather a light burden."

A point on which, however, we are all agreed, is that the University of Toronto has given the bar men remarkably well-equipped to serve the ends of justice as lawyers and on the bench. This I know from personal association, but I am at the same time voicing the general feeling of members of my profession in Quebec, who closely follow the judicial life of your province."

In the annals of our Canadian parliament, how many names of your great statesmen there are that will everlastingly testify to the very high standard of education and broad culture which they received in the University of Toronto."

"Much as we as your university deserves for numbering among its graduates so many of the leading men of our country, there is something to my mind that should render its name even more illustrious. It is for the University of Toronto to fashion the hearts and brains of succeeding generations according to the highest standard of Canadianism, that is to leave no place to racial animosity and religious antagonism and, while teaching the youth loyalty and devotion to their province, to

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multifid coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and contains no soap) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Multifid will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multifid coconut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Be sure your druggist gives you Multifid.

GERMAN MILITARY PARTY DEJECTED OVER SENTENCE PASSED ON WAR CRIMINAL

Do Not Consider Ten Months in Common Jail a Light Punishment.

LONDON, June 9.—Sir Ernest Pollock, the solicitor-general, replying in the House of Commons today to a question by Horatio Bottomley, Liberal, as to whether Sir Ernest was satisfied with the results thus far of the trials of war criminals in Leipzig, said it would be improper to make a statement at this time. He added, however:

"Perhaps Mr. Bottomley might be glad to know that a sentence delivered in my presence caused great dejection among the military party of Germany, and that the officers there certainly did not think it a small sentence to have one of their number sent to an ordinary prison in order to carry out a

GIVING EACH OTHER THE LIE.
One of the favorite charges made by the Government against Mr. King is that he talks free trade in the west, and protection in the east. Mr. King refuted the charge in his speech on the budget, and showed that he had everywhere advocated the same policy. It is likely that those who invented the falsehood would have clung to it, if it had not been for a wholly unexpected incident. Immediately after Mr. King sat down, Mr. Stevens, the Conservative member for Center Vancouver, arose, and said that Mr. King had succeeded in placing on Hansard what was practically a verbatim copy of a speech which he had delivered all over Canada. He thus flatly contradicted those Conservatives who charged that Mr. King had said one thing in the east, and another in the west.

Mr. Stevens' object was to belittle Mr. King by trying to show that he had only one speech for all occasions. But in trying to carry out this policy of petty detraction he forgot the bigger thing, forgot that he was giving the lie direct to his own party friends, and acquitting Mr. King of the graver charge of inconsistency. His admission, as recorded in the pages of Hansard, cannot be withdrawn, and needs only to be quoted to silence the parrot-crier that Mr. King advocated protection in the east, and free trade in the west.

Of course, Mr. King's speech on the budget was not a verbatim copy of his speeches in the country. The same material must be used more than once, the same facts and arguments must be driven into the public mind by repetition, to counteract the policy of falsehood on the other side. The policy of petty detraction is one of the signs of the Government's weakness. Other instances may be given. On the official bulletin of the Liberal and Conservative party we find this: "Leader King may chafe inwardly at his elder statesmen. But look what happened to the Kaiser when he let Bismarck go! Now the relations between Mr. King and Mr. Fielding are of the most cordial kind. They are deskmates. Mr. Fielding has twice been chosen to move the tariff amendment. The Opposition has the highest regard for both. They were both nominated for the leadership in a free, open convention, not a hole-in-the-corner meeting like that which chose Mr. Meighen leader. Mr. Fielding polled the vote of which any man might be proud, and accepted the result in a manner which did him honor. The Government and its friends may well recognize that nothing is to be gained by trying to make mischief and excite jealousy between Liberal leaders. The Opposition at Ottawa is a band of brothers, not a nest of traitors, such as overthrew Mackenzie Bowell."

If Mr. Fielding had been chosen leader of the Liberal party the Tories would be singing a different song. They would be saying that Mr. Fielding was too old to match against a young, vigorous man like Mr. Meighen. It would not be true, because Mr. Fielding has all the vigor of youth. But the fact that it was false would not lessen its attractiveness. For let it be remembered that ten years ago the Tories were saying that Mr. Fielding was too old a man to negotiate the reciprocity agreement and was no match for the representatives of the United States.

In pursuance of the same policy of mean detraction, the Conservative bulletin says that Mr. King has struck his flag to the Farmers, and that the Liberal party is a mere lean-to of the Farmers' party. But Mr. Meighen says, "These Farmer leaders have made themselves a political annex to the Liberal party, servile tools and minions of the official Opposition, ready to do whatever they are bid to do." He called the Farmer leaders a dilapidated annex of the Liberal Opposition. "Somebody is lying."

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

Year by year the subject of technical education is receiving increased attention in Canada. In the first annual report of the director of technical education for the Dominion it is stated that this year marks the most important advance made in industrial and technical education since the passing of the industrial education bill of 1911. The opportunities for instruction have been materially widened by the opening of new schools in a large number of centers, and by a remarkable increase in attendance at both day and evening classes. The organization has been strengthened also by a more direct adaptation of courses to meet the needs of workers and industries. The report states, however, that unquestionably the most important step has been the passing of the adolescent school attendance bill, which secures to adolescents of all classes more equal and adequate opportunities for training and, at the same time, tends to increase our national resources by providing the means for rendering available for more effective service a much larger proportion of the potential talent in our youth.

It is asserted that in late years there has been a tendency to give attention in discussing the means for improvement in education mainly to the varying factors which modify instruction for those at present in attendance at elementary and secondary schools, and to overlook the large body of young people who drop out of school at an early age.

In a recent work, entitled, "Problems of National Education," by Twelve Scottish Educationists, edited by John Clark, lecturer on education at Aberdeen University, the opinion is expressed that better education and more education are an urgent necessity, national and democratic, and that it is required to mobilize the intellectual resources of the nation against the arduous times that lie ahead, when "parts" developed by education will be of more and more account.

Experience tends to show, says this work, has indeed shown, that brains, capacity, talent—whatever name we prefer—are not the prerogative of any one class, but are diffused in an irregular and uncertain fashion through all classes, though unfortunately in many cases arrested, stunted, perverted, through lack of training. All this store of potential capacity must be conserved for the nation. Every source of energy must be tapped. In order to recover the concealed gold the whole body of ore must be treated. Every child of every grade of society must have his chance. No one will henceforth be precluded from the full advantages of education until he (or she) has proved his inability to benefit by them. Equality of opportunity will become a reality, so far as legislation can make it. No distinction between higher and lower grade will be drawn artificially. It will be left to reveal itself automatically in process of treatment.

Greater variety of method will be rendered possible, and will be adopted. Material refractory under one course of treatment may respond to a different method. For example, many pupils, particularly boys, who appear to show no aptitude at all for school studies, the practical bearing of which they may fail to appreciate, not infrequently develop ability in some special direction when they are released from school thrown on their own responsibility, and brought to concentrate attention on studies relative to their employment. And there are numerous other varieties of pupils for whom education at present does far less than it might do. The future will endeavor to prevent this waste and failure, and to secure for each and all their chances in life.

The principles thus expounded and the exposition of the ends to be attained indicate that Ontario is not alone in attacking this problem, and in the words of the director's report, "that our means of attack has the support of thoughtful and experienced educators in a country that, admittedly, has been foremost in educational thought and practice."

EDITORIAL NOTES.
It is to be hoped that speaking wives will not become too fashionable in London.

London and Lobo were friendly rivals in attracting the thousands of farmers and their families who attended the respective picnics.

Although the summer camp at Carling Heights may have a warlike aspect, it is really a revival of the peaceful times prior to 1914.

Admiral Sims advises the British to disregard "resolutions forced by jackasses' votes." Is this a case of twisting the jackass's tail?

The Germans have apologized to the French for attacking them in mistake for the Poles. This is certainly a change of front from the old goose-stepping days.

The list of Indians who will attend the great gathering of the Six Nations include a Teakettle, a Burning Log, a Wheelbarrow, a Lost Kettle, a Button, a Half-Town, an Eel and an Elm. How are the mighty fallen!

The abolition of the "strap" as an instrument of punishment in our public schools is not favored by local officials. After all, for giving children correct understandings and good "soles" there is nothing like leather.

It is likely that some of the animals from the St. Thomas zoo may be accommodated at Springbank Park. This is understood that this city will have nothing to do with white elephants, being already in possession of one in the shape of a buffalo.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

Today's most popular jazz selection will be out of date a year hence, or less, but "Home, Sweet Home" still makes hearts weep wherever English is spoken, though it is a hundred years old this year.

It has power to turn back the footsteps of the wandering boy and to call home the exile. And, strangely enough, the song came from the heart of a wanderer who never knew home. John Howard Payne, an actor and soldier of fortune, who was born in America and died in New York.

Measured only by the standards of material success, John Howard Payne's life was a failure. Most of it was a struggle with poverty. One winter night, when wandering homeless in the streets of New York, he passed a cosy home, and there came to his ears from the parlor the strains of his own "Home, Sweet Home."

Years after his death in Tunis, Algeria, John Howard Payne's body was brought to America, and a grateful country paid its highest tribute to the wanderer who sang: "An exile from home, splendor dazzles in vain! Oh, give me my lowly thatched cottage again. The birds sing merrily that come at my call; Give me them and the peace of mind, dearer than all, Home, sweet home, sweet, sweet home, There's no place like home."

THE LAW LORDS OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

[Westminster Gazette.]
As it seems to be taken for granted that Sir Edward Carson is to be lord of appeal in ordinary, in succession to the late Lord Moulton, the unusual constitution of the law lords in that event invites some notice. Under the act of 1876 four law lords, with life peerages, were provided for. An act passed in 1912 raised the number to six, the present strength. Originally there was a general understanding that there should be one law lord as representing Ireland and another as representing Scotland. But with Sir Edward Carson's appointment as lord of appeal, Lord Dunedin and Viscount Cave, Under the new constitution four of the law lords have been Tory or Unionist members of parliament, and only one a Liberal member—Lord Shaw of Dunfermline.

The salary of a law lord is £5,000 a year ($30,000), with a pension of £2,750 a year "after fifteen years service (including service in high judicial office), or on disablement through permanent infirmity."

LIVING AT PEACE WITH THE NEIGHBORS.

[Detroit News.]
A cardinal principle of American policy is, and always must be, a genuine understanding with our neighbors. Canada, to the north, long has been a friend by virtue of mutual good-will and common aspiration. To the south, the changing fortunes of unhappy Mexico, and the constant menace to American life and property resulting from revolution and rebellion, have made neighborliness more difficult, though it never has been absent from the earnest desire of the American people.

SLIDING SCALE OF REPRISALS.

[London Times.]
It was announced at military headquarters, Cork, that owing to the burning of houses of loyalist farmers in the Crossbarry (Upton) neighborhood, three farmhouses of prominent and active Sinn Féin farmers were burned as an official reprisal. The statement continued: "It is the intention to carry on these official reprisals in that proportion, or, if that proportion does not have the desired effect, in greater proportion. That is to say, if there are continued burnings, and if two loyalist houses are burned, three Sinn Féin will be burned officially, and if that does not stop the thing, six will probably be burned."

OTHERS' VIEWS.

ITS RIGHTFUL PLACE.
[Brooklyn Eagle.]

The same forces that opposed the treaty and the league are sure to oppose President Harding's efforts in having the United States co-operate with the rest of the world. For this reason those who earnestly want to see this country assume its proper place and shoulder its fair share of responsibility and obligations in maintaining peace should welcome every move the administration makes looking toward this end.

THE OTHER FELLOWS' VIEW.

[Western Chronicle, Australia.]

Round-table meetings by the parties to disputes should be added to the existing machinery of conciliation. At such conferences, the tedious formalities of courts are absent and each side is able to approach the other with a candor and frankness impossible under the restraints of legal procedure. Many trade disputes arise through lack of mutual understanding, and through the inability of the other, and in round-table meetings these bars to agreement need not and ought not to be present.

PLOWING A LONE FURROW.

[Indianapolis News.]

It is a great pity that this Government is not today co-operating and working with other governments in the League of Nations with proper reservations—for the benefit of humanity. It is a pity that no League of Nations exists, one, different perhaps from the one now operating, but still a League of Nations. It is a pity that the League of Nations is a matter of such thankfulness to the President, Mr. Harding and Secretary Hughes realize that it is only through combined action that the world can be redeemed and civilization saved. They clearly have no sympathy with the slogan of "America only," which is hardly more than a translation of "Deutschland über Alles."

TO REST FROM OVERWORK.

[Ottawa Journal.]

Mr. Lloyd George has been ordered a complete rest, following "a severe chill and overwork." Only surprise is that he did not break down long ago. Reading day after day of the tremendous problems that have been put up to him for solution, realizing in a hazy way the vital and far-reaching consequences of the decisions he is called upon to make, contemplating the amount of mental and physical labor entailed merely in keeping informed on such issues, imagining what it must be like to be the voice of the world, and the international turmoil, men of affairs have been long amazed at the way in which the British prime minister has been able to stand up and have asked "How does he do it?" Mr. Lloyd George must have a wonderful faculty for sudden and immediate concentration of thought and for seizing upon salient facts to the exclusion of the irrelevant. It is also certain that he is able to shut off the throttle at will, to dispose completely of his worries for periods of recreation and rest, to free his mind of the involved and become interested in the things in life. There is a load that has been a heavy burden to many men that Mr. Lloyd George never had to carry—personal concern. Mr. George is the most natural of men. He is all that is good in "the man of straw." He is not one of his characteristics. The really great do not need it. The British Empire, indeed the whole world, may well pray for Mr. Lloyd George's early recovery.

SAD TROUBLE IN GOTHAM.

[New York World.]

It is only a question of time before prohibition enforcement in New York is mired beyond all hope of rescue. About 4,000 persons have been arrested under the law since the beginning of April, 1,079 cases have been presented to grand juries, 466 indictments have been returned, and from this enormous grist the mills of justice have ground out six convictions for violation of the law. Of the six persons convicted not one is serving time.

The impossibility of trying all the cases which would accumulate if prohibition were continued at the present rate constitutes only a primary difficulty; it is useless to try them when juries will not convict. The inadequate machinery is clogged, and even if it were dug out it would not work while the people of New York as a majority oppose prohibition. Enforcement is reaching an impasse.

THE SECRET OF HEALTH.

[London Daily Express.]

The crusade against over-indulgence in exercise is excellent. The super-athlete dies young; the man who takes no exercise is always ailing. Moderation here, as in all other things, must be observed. To keep fit, stay in the open air and walk. Avoid strenuous games which leave you over-tired. Dance and swim, but avoid gymnastics and drill. Never make a fetish of any game. The man who sets out to achieve happiness is always miserable. The man who deliberately sets out to keep fit finds a wreck. Forget yourself and breathe fresh air. Then health is yours.

"GIVE THE KIDS A CHANCE."

[Indianapolis News.]

Great are the sorrows of the credulous—when they wake up. While the outlook—especially with Harvey in England—is not rosy, faith is not yet forbidden, at least not to those who expected little or nothing from Mr. Harding's association of nations. Events are no mean missionaries, and the administration has surely not been in nervous to their influence, as is proved by its participation, through representatives, in the deliberations of the supreme council, the reparations council and the conference of ambassadors. In recently introducing Irvin Cobb to an expectant audience, little Jackie Coogan said: "Give the kids a chance; he'll do the best he can." There is to be hope, and cheerful while we can, and never well to surrender in advance.

THE DESPISED WILD FLOWER.

[Omaha Bee.]

Wild flowers are to be found in field and wood as always, but Dr. Edgar T. Wherry of the United States department of agriculture, is out with a warning that the more showy ones will be obliterated completely by the depredations of automobile parties unless immediate and far-reaching steps are taken to preserve them. Laws forbidding the picking of wild flowers within the domain of the owner of the property do not prevent great masses of dogwood or azalea, or whatever bloom is in season, being plucked by passing motorists, he admits. The only way to preserve wild flowers is to domesticate them, he concludes. Experiments have shown the possibility of this, although in some instances the soil has to be treated to render it more apt in order to make such gardens a success. The idea is a good one, but it is doubtful if those who so ruthlessly gather the spring blossoms really care enough for them to dig them up and transplant them. It is up to the nature lover, then, to take up this plan.

Poetry and Jest

SONG.
[Sir Walter Scott.]

A weary lot is thine, fair maid,
A weary lot is thine;
To pull the plow by brow to braid,
And press the rue for wine,
A lightsome eye, a soldier's mien,
A feather of the blue.

A doublet of the Lincoln green—
No more of me ye knew,
My love!
No more of me ye knew.

This morn is merry June, I trow,
The rose is budding fair;
But she shall bloom in winter snow
E'er we meet again.
—He turned his charger as he spoke
Upon his bride reins a shake,
Said, "Adieu forevermore."
My love!
And adieu forevermore.

EXPERIENCED.

[Christian Register.]

A Japanese "boy" came to the home of a minister in Los Angeles recently and applied for a position. Now it happened that the household was already well supplied with servants, so the minister's wife said: "I am sorry, but we really haven't enough work to keep another boy busy."

A BABE OF CANADA.

[John Cottam.]

Babe of the tender seas,
E'er ye nodding o'er a man-child,
Now he's nodding o'er a grandchild,
Rare spirit-bud of grace!
Babe of unselfish soldier
Who lived our years in hell,
Who for his friends lay down his life
Too many times to tell.

SPANISH DOUBLOONS

BY CAMILLA KENYON

"I get you, Miss Browne, I get you!" said Mr. Tubbs with conviction. "Victory ain't within the grasp of any individual that carries a heart like a cold pancake in his bosom. What this party needs is pep, and if them that was calculated on to supply it, don't, why, there's others which is not given to blowin' their own horn, but which might at a pinch dash forward like Arnold—no relation to Benedict—among the spears. I may be rather a man of thought than action, ma'am, and at present far from my native heath, but if I remember right it was Ulysses done the done-work of the Greeks, while certain persons that Miss Higlesby-Browne, you can count—count, I say—on old H. H."

"I thank you, Mr. Tubbs," I thank you," replied Miss Browne with emotion. As for Aunt Jane, she gazed upon the noble countenance of Mr. Tubbs with such ecstatic admiration that her little nose quivered like a guinea-pig's.

CHAPTER VI.

The Cave With Two Mouths.

Obscure as were the directions which Hopperdown's niece had taken from his dying lips, one point at least was clear—the treasure-cave opened on the sea. This seemed an immense simplification of the problem, until you discovered that the great wall of cliffs was honeycombed with the island was composed of porous as a sponge. You could stand on the edge of the cliffs and watch the green water slide and out of unseen caverns a roar of the waves beat broke far in under the land.

One of the boats which had conveyed us from the Rufus Smith had been left with us, and in Mr. Shaw, with the Honorable Cutbush and Capt. Maghinnis, made a preliminary voyage of discovery. This yielded the information above set down, plus, however, the thrilling and significant fact that a hidden place of the treasure, and more over, a cave with the specified two openings, ran under the sea, and protected the treasure from the sea.

Although in their survey of the coast the voyagers had covered only a little distance on either side of the entrance to the bay, the discovery of this great point turned all thoughts from further explorations. Only the Scotchman remained exasperatingly calm and decided as to admit that the treasure was as good as found. He refused to be swept off his feet even by Mr. Tubbs' unwelcome taking to double everybody's money within a year, though the favor of certain financial parties with whom he was intimate.

"I'll wait till I see the color of my money before I reckon the interest on the hiding of the treasure," declared the Scotchman. "The question is: Wouldn't it be too likely and convenient? Sampson would maybe not choose the spot of all others where the first comer who had got wind of the story would be certain to look."

Miss Browne, at this, exchanged darkly significant glances with her two main supporters, and Mr. Shaw, to the fore, offered to clinch matters by discovering the grave of Bill Halliwell, with its marked stone, on the point above the cave within 24 hours.

"Look for it if you like," replied Mr. Shaw impatiently. "But don't forget that your tombstone is neither more nor less than such a boulder as there are thousands of on the island, and buried under the tropic growth of ninety years besides."

Miss Browne murmured to Aunt Jane, in a loud aside, that she well understood now why the treasure explorer had not discovered the South Pole, and Aunt Jane murmured back to her that there had always been something so sacred about a tombstone that she could not help wondering if Mr. Shaw's attitude were really quite reverential.

"Well, friends," remarked Mr. Tubbs,

W. B. Trites, the novelist, tells a story about lavender honey. "In the highlands behind the French Riviera," so his story runs, "the mountains all summer long are purple with lavender. The bees, feeding on this lavender, produce a honey with a delicate, elusive lavender flavor—lavender honey, the finest in the world. 'Well, there was an American who used to spend his summers at Castellane in the heart of the lavender honey district. An Englishman runs a summer hotel there with English servants. It's a nice place—cheap and primitive, but clean. 'Now this American got married in due course, and on the wedding journey he took his bride to Castellane, promising her, as a great treat, lavender honey every morning for breakfast. 'But when the bride and bridegroom came down to breakfast the first morning of their stay at Castellane there was no honey on the table. 'Where's my honey?' said the American bridegroom angrily. 'The English waiter glanced at the bride and coughed. 'I, sir— 'Where's my honey?' shouted the bridegroom more angrily than ever. 'Then the waiter glanced at the bride again, bent over the bridegroom and murmured hoarsely: 'Ethel ain't workin' here this season, sir.'"

THE SOWER.

[By Charles G. D. Roberts.]

A brown sad-colored hillside, where the soil
Fresh from the frequent harrow, deep and fine,
Lies bare; no break in the remote skyline.
Save where a flock of pigeons streams aloft.
Startled from feed in some low-lying
Or far-off spires with yellow of sunset shine;
And here the Sower, unwittingly divine,
Exerts the silent forethought of his toil.

THE SOWER.

[By Charles G. D. Roberts.]

Alone he treads the glebe, his measured stride
Dumb in the yielding soil; and tho'
Dwell in his heavy face, as spreads the blind
Pale grain from his dispensing pen, he
This plowing churl grows great in his employ—
Godlike, he makes provision for mankind.

Miss Joyce Hutton and Mrs. Hope Gibson emerged victorious from the final of the Ontario Cup play yesterday afternoon on the local links, thus giving the honors evenly divided between Toronto and Hamilton for a night.

Sensational Play. During the progress of the two matches there were as plentiful as brilliant golf, with the match between Miss Hutton and Miss Emsley as the most sensational of the play thus far. Miss Emsley was four down at the fifth, and the match at the 18th, and carried Miss Nesbitt to the 20th hole before the latter beat her, one up. Miss Emsley made a putt in from the edge of the green at the 18th, holding out in three to halve the match at that stage. The end was Miss Hutton's rubicon, and she paid a toll of 10 before she got safely over. Miss Nesbitt got off to a poor start in her match with Mrs. Gibson, taking even for the first hole. Mrs. Gibson went out in 43 to Miss Nesbitt's 47, and the match was even at the 10th hole. As Mrs. Gibson turned in an 84 card at the 18th, and Miss Hutton's 85 to the 20th hole, the latter again had the best of the day.

Miss Nesbitt furnished one of the finest bits of golf of the day, when she made the 18th on two. Miss Hutton's cup victory was preceded by a splendid performance in the driving competition, which she won with a total of 599 yards in three days. The approach and putting competition resulted in a four-cornered tie. Miss Snow, Rosedale, Miss Hutton, Mrs. A. L. Rodgers, Lambton, and Mrs. K. Rowe, Hamilton, are the four, and they will settle the question this morning at 11:30.

The consolation rounds provided some splendid golf, as well as the prize competitions, and they had their share of the gallery again—a gallery that promises to be in the hundreds for today's final. Four of these matches were decided at the 18th hole, and one at the 20th. Miss Capreol beat Miss Nesbitt, three up. The former's splendid play was a duplicate hit with seven up and six to go. London Lacrosse Team Expect Win Tomorrow

Full Squad Out Tonight For Final Workout Dr. Stevenson, M. L. A., Faces Off First Ball.

Dr. Hugh Stevenson, M.L.A., will face off the ball in the opening game of the lacrosse season here tomorrow afternoon at Tecumseh Park, with the locals facing Stratford.

Billy Harcourt of Toronto will handle the game, and this insures the pastime being kept going at a pace pure and clean.

A full turnout of the squad has been ordered for tonight, and quite a bit will depend on what is done at this session in regard to the line-up for the game.

Stratford is sending down a much better team than that which faced St.

Many some weeks ago, and they are just as eager to wipe out that little affair with a win as the London side is to forget their trip to St. Thomas a few days back.

The London defence has looked better than ever this week in the workouts, and it will be some attack to penetrate them. Their possessive weight, speed, and it will take fast, close passing to fool them much. The home looks much better. Dingle will be on tomorrow with Linton, and this pair will put some life into the London attack.

Lacrosse has never had to turn away any crowds in London, but there is every indication that a good many old-time enthusiasts will beat back to the old days tomorrow afternoon for a couple of hours, and along with them will be a good many of the younger fans. Every youngster under 15 years accompanied by an adult will be allowed in free.

ENTRIES FOR CLOSED EVENTS OF M. A. A. MEET CLOSE SATURDAY

Six Hamilton Athletes Will Come Up With Bobby Kerr, Who Will Act As Starter.

Entries for the closed events included on the sports program of the London Manufacturers' Amateur Athletic Association for the athletic meet which will be held next Saturday afternoon will close tomorrow. Secretary David Allen stated that a number of entries have already been made, and the mails today and tomorrow are expected to bring forth many more.

Bobby Kerr of Hamilton will bring six crack athletes to represent Hamilton at the big meet. Kerr will act as starter of the 12-mile marathon race and will also officiate at the other sports.

The prizes which will be presented to the winners of the events have been purchased by the members of the committee, and will be on display in R. H. & J. Dowler's windows on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The motorcycle races will be confined only to amateur riders. Toronto men have expressed their intention of participating in the five and ten mile race.

Bill Lightfoot Leads Twilight Athletes of "Y"

W. Wanless, Lower School Interscholastic Champion.

The twilight meets of the "Y" Athletic Club out at Queen's Park have gone through six events of their program, and Bill Lightfoot, the middle-distance runner, leads with a total of 28 points. The leader has taken first in two events, second in two, and fourth in the remaining two.

Bill Wanless, champion of the Lower School section at the Western U. interscholastic meet is second. A Bennett and Ken Robinson are tied for third place.

The 220 hurdles, standing hop-step-and-jump and five-mile run will be held next Monday night.

ST. MICHAELS WIN FROM LUCAN ST. PATRICKS 10-0
The St. Michael's nine of the Holy Name Baseball League of this district, defeated St. Patrick's of Lucan on Sunday night last evening in a regular fixture by a score of 10 to 0. The winners took the lead right from the start and not at any time were in danger of being beaten. The Lucan battery was strong, but poor support was given them. The St. Michael's used a new southpaw in the last inning and he proved very effective.

IMPERIO WINS 2:10 TROT AT DETROIT

Ran More Than Half Mile of First Heat—Close Finishes in All Races.

DETROIT, June 9.—Imperio won a good race at the close of the Dexter Park meeting, when he would have been given the gate after the first heat under ordinary circumstances.

But three horses were in the 2:10 trot, the headliner of the card, which drew a large crowd and drivers agreed to waive distance. In the opening heat Patrick Todd set the pace, and Imperio broke on the first turn. Allen Dillon took the lead at the quarter and held it, Imperio running more than her a mile.

The center evidently was just what Imperio needed, for he shot out ahead the first time around and took it easy in 2:12 1/4, a corking mile for a trotter on this track. Imperio also went about as he pleased in the third, Allen Dillon failing to pick up on him.

McAleryon marched away with two heats in the 2:15 class, the first one a very tight finish with three of them noses apart. In the third Miss Peter Toddington rushed away to the start, and held it until near the end, breaking when Dutch Reed overhauled her.

CHATHAM, June 9.—Wilson's Leamington four carried away the News trophy at the annual tourney of the local club yesterday, after a see-saw battle with Barrie's London Thistles, by a score of 13 to 11. Wilson was one up with six ends to play, and they were on even terms after that.

It was one of the most successful turnouts ever held by the local club, with hard competitors the rule throughout.

TURF NEWS AND GOSSIP

BY BERT E. COLLIER.

(All Rights Reserved.)

Sir Clarence. Here's the one we've all been waiting for. The gang at the track claims he can beat the best of the shadow. The crowd-eyed world knows that's stepping some. Goes in the fifth at Montreal and should be at a fair price. Chief Spencer and Sweet Bouquet are the best of the balance. Mabel Curtis is the whispered good thing in the day's opener. She has been working fairly well, and will have a good boy in the pilot house. Baby Vamp can repeat that last winning effort without much trouble. White Socks is a sleeper. Spectacular Girl at July odds is the one I most fancy in the fourth. Burgess and Lady Luxur have the long end of the purse in the sixth between them. If the going happened to turn sticky the latter would be on the bill fairly all the way. Sol Gilesey is the clockwork sleeper; he's due for an awakening, and this may be the day of days. Down in old Kaintuck the smart word is Ruby. Goes in the first, and sure is well mounted. "Dutch" is the better she likes it. Bettina hasn't raced to best private form of late. One best bet of the day—Sir

CLARENCE. Best take a chance bet.

Ruby, Spectacular, White Socks, Lady Luxur, Bucknall to show. Equal Rights is highly regarded by those close to the stable. Has little to beat and should turn the trick. Jim Heffering appears to be in a soft spot. Nuff said!

Montreal Selections.

First race—Mabel Curtis, Baby Vamp, Rosalee.

Second race—Kohinoor, White Socks, Hush.

Third race—John Douglas, Lucy Prin, Superba.

Fourth race—Spectacular Girl, Padua, Martha Luckett.

Fifth race—Sir Clarence, Chief Sponsor, Sweet Bouquet.

Sixth race—Burgoyne, Lady Luxur, Etah.

Seventh race—Sol Gilesey, Haddy Dear, Bucknall.

Latonia Selections.

First race—Ruby, Clem Theisen, Dr. Carmen.

Second race—Lechares, Dad, Autocrat.

Third race—Honolulu Boy, Whirling Dun, Dresden.

Fourth race—Guvnor, Dark Horse, White Star.

Fifth race—Fallacy, Mellora, Bettina.

Sixth race—Equal Rights, Bright Trash, Noontime.

Seventh race—Jim Heffering, Kallipolis, Inspector Hughes.

Best bet—Ruby.

WOLVES CHASE HORNE FOR SECOND TIME

Flint Goes Up Into Fourth Place With Final Defeat of Aces.

SARNIA, June 9.—Bay City opened up their heavy hitters against Horne in the eighth and ninth, compelling his abdication for the second time in the series. Winters taking up the bat for the second consecutive day.

After running up a fat lead in the early innings, the Hurons had a narrow squeak when the Wolves came through with six runs in the eighth and ninth. Sensational feuding by Cuyler and Worley featured the contest.

In the seventh, Horne struck out three men. With the score tied when the Hurons came to bat, O. Kelly laced out a double to right. Laurent filling the bases, when he hit Kaylor and walked Horne. Watson fled out to Cuyler, but Mahrer scored the winning run with a nice single to left.

Irish-Russian Treaty Found In Dublin Made Public by Government

Memorandum Alleged To Have Been Written by Dr. McCarran—Asks For 50,000 Rifles For Ireland—Writer Demands Full Plenary Powers.

London, June 9.—The Government is, it is stated, captured at the same time, signed "Dermot O'Hegarty," described in the white paper as one of the Irish Republican Parliament's secretaries, addressed to Desmond Fitzgerald, Sinn Féin minister of propaganda, is dated June 15, 1920.

In the document is a period of ten years.

Wanted 50,000 Rifles.

Dr. McCarran's memorandum says that he would only consent to head the mission to Russia if accorded plenary powers, declaring "Casement (Sir Roger Casement, who was executed in 1916 for treason), had not full powers from home, with the result that Devoy (John Devoy of New York, editor of the Gaelic American), constantly was undermining him from New York."

"I am sent," the memorandum continued, "I intend to ask for at least 50,000 rifles to run into Ireland. I suggested this to their man here and he agreed it was a possibility."

Question of Hostages.

"The memorandum adds: 'I shall also discuss the question of hostages; that is if England murders any of our soldiers, in or out of prison, they will agree to execute a Britisher as a reprisal. They have them.'"

Dr. McCarran advises "in order to get quick action cable Pawstitt (J. I. Pawstitt, known as the Irish consul-general in New York), that is 'Cavehill, New York.'"

The writer then gives code phrases to be used in signifying full or reserved acceptance or rejection of his proposal.

Conclusion.

"The party to send these cables to is The Irish Overseas Shipping and Trading Company, Limited, in other words, 'Outlook.'"

KING GEORGE IS READY

LONDON, June 9.—A high official in Belfast is quoted today by the correspondent in that city of the Evening News as stating that a hint has been given to the Government that King George, if invited, would visit Dublin to participate in the opening of that body.

The duration of the treaty proposed is for 10-year period.

The fifteen articles of the treaty include pledges of the resources and influences of the two governments to promote the recognition and sovereignty of each other by the nations of the world; their efforts to prevent the transportation of arms, munitions and military supplies for use against either country and a number of commercial clauses.

Both parties declare in favor of universal disarmament and the formation of some kind of a league of nations for compulsory arbitration of international disputes.

The duration of the treaty proposed is for 10-year period.

The structure work on the magnificent new home for the Car Owners' Garage Company, Limited, at 89-91 York street, has been commenced, and the following facts will prove to the public that the building will be, in structural design, a great improvement in the garage business, and a real acquisition to the city of London.

The structure will have 110-foot frontage and a depth of 147 feet. It will be built of brick—two stories back, to meet the present three-story building at the rear.

The storage capacity alone will take care of over 50 cars day or night, and allowance is made for other spacious departments throughout.

Among other original features will be a ladies' rest room. The main offices will be on the second floor, as also will be the mail order department.

The repair and workshop will be located on the west side, and direct access from York street into both repair and storage buildings is the intention.

In fact, this building will be a model one, and the service and repair ends will cater to the car owner in a satisfying manner that has never heretofore been inaugurated anywhere in Canada.

The Car Owners' Garage Company, Limited, mean business, and good success is crowning their efforts. Interested parties are invited to call and talk it over.

No Uncomplimentary Remark Made About Representatives, Say the County Councillors

Norfolk County Council Passes Resolution Repudiating Report Received From Simcoe Wednesday Night.

SIMCOE, June 9.—After discussing the report carried by The London Advertiser in today's morning edition, in which members of the Norfolk County Council were alleged to have made strong comments on the value of government agricultural representatives and upon too paternal interference of the Government with the affairs of the people, the county council instructed County Clerk Jonathan Porter to forward to The Advertiser a copy of the following resolution, with the request that it be given the same prominence as that sent by its Simcoe correspondent.

The Resolution.

"Moved by H. P. Hawley, reeve of North Walsingham, and seconded by Samuel Disher, deputy reeve of Walsingham, that this council in session assembled record its protest against the sensational and in the main false report which appeared in The London Advertiser of this date and yesterday's procedure, and that the clerk be requested to wire The Advertiser a copy of this resolution with the appended notation."

Notation—Reeve Schuyler, who spoke of the value of the services of agricultural representatives only as to possibilities as compared with those of such proposed representatives, was very cautious to make no remark of an uncomplimentary nature regarding the representatives. "Not worth their salt," was not used by him or any other speaker, and Reeve Langford did not discuss the point whatever.

Did Not Confine Remark.

It was Edward Buck who introduced the phrase, "Too paternal." He did not confine the remark to the Government, but included councils and laid part of the blame for the drift of the country to the drift of the Government of citizens often seeking to shift their responsibilities.

"We believe that the whole article is an unfortunate misrepresentation of the council of Norfolk County, and are desirous that the stigma should not be allowed through the publication of the report to rest upon our present or former representatives from the department of agriculture to each of whom it is intended to forward a copy of the resolutions."

The story referred to in the above dispatch was received by The Advertiser over the phone on Wednesday night from its regular correspondent at Simcoe, and was written by an experienced newspaperman from his notes, the facts given him being as recorded. The correspondent has been asked to explain the incorrectness of his story as compared with the facts stated in the above resolution.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION
ENTIRELY IN POWER
OF PEOPLE, SAYS CODY

Ex-Minister of Education Replies to Question Before Anglican Synod.

TORONTO, June 9.—In a discussion at the annual meeting of the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Toronto, here today on the question of religious instruction in schools, Rev. F. E. Powell of Toronto suggested that the synod get in touch with the Presbyterian General Assembly, as well as with other Christian denominations, with a view to having religious instruction in all the public schools. He stated that the present minister of education seemed favorable to it.

"The former minister of education missed the chance of his lifetime," said Mr. Powell, with reference to Rev. Canon Cody, who was present. This caused a hearty laugh.

In Hands of People.

Canon Cody spoke on the question. He said that when he was minister of education he continually received requests from religious bodies regarding the matter of prayers, reading of the Scriptures, etc., in the schools. His reply to these had been that they had the matter within their own power, under the existing regulations, to secure what they sought. By the laws of Ontario, Dr. Cody said, the school sessions begin with the reading of the Scriptures and with prayers, and if the ratepayers wished it they could have the schools closed in the same manner. They could even have a weekly recitation of the commandments, Dr. Cody added.

Dr. Cody paid a high tribute to his successor in office, Hon. R. H. Grant. "There is no truer friend of true education than the present minister," he said. "He is a good, loyal member of our church, and I want to speak in the warmest terms of admiration for him."

FOUNTAIN FOR CENTRAL SCHOOL AT INGERSOLL

Big Eight's Victoria Day Celebration Was a Financial Success.

INGERSOLL, June 9.—The exceptional success of the Victoria Day celebration under the auspices of the Big Eight fraternal society is indicated by the financial statement prepared by Treasurer M. J. Comisky. It shows a net surplus of about $1,100. The celebration was one of the most successful ever held here. The society will provide a fountain for the Central school grounds.

FLORENCE

FLORENCE, June 9.—The committee of the Oakdale Farmers' Picnic met in Oakdale on Thursday evening, May 25, and decided to hold the annual picnic on August 24.

A union meeting of the Oakdale and Rutherford congregations was held in Oakdale Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, May 30, at which a call was given to a minister.

The "Go to Sunday School" movement was recognized in Oakdale S. S. Sunday last.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Mack McCallum, Wednesday afternoon.

Crops around Oakdale are looking much better since the recent showers, hay will be rather short, wheat is looking good and is coming out in head. Quite a number of corn fields are being cultivated, while on a number corn is just through the ground nicely and will grow fast if the weather continues warm.

TALBOT STREET CONGESTED WITH PARKED AUTOS

City Bylaw Will Be Resurrected by Police To Relieve Problem.

ST. THOMAS, June 9.—Talbot street for the past couple of fine days has been more or less congested with parked autos, both sides of the thoroughfare being used as a resting place for all sorts and sizes of cars. In consequence, the bylaw dealing with offences of the kind will be dusted up and given the police staff to enforce.

The bunching of cars on Southwick street, which may at any time seriously interfere with the passage of the fire apparatus, will also be demobilized and a return to the old parking grounds again will mean police prosecution.

Roy Scott Discharged.

Roy Scott, who was charged a week ago with the theft of an auto tire from Mr. Gray, was dismissed by the magistrate this morning.

The testimony given by the witness failed to connect the accused with the robbery.

Urns and Plants Stolen.

Reports from many sections of the city are coming to the police of expensive urns and plants being stolen from verandas and lawns, and even the local cemeteries are disordered by unknown vandals.

Charged With Heinous Offence.

A charge of heinous character has been laid against a prominent resident of East Aldborough by a young woman residing in the neighborhood of West Lorne. The man will be heard next week, but the story to be told by the complainant will be too unseemly for publication.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross Hurt.

Skidding on some loose gravel, the auto driven by George Brown of Yarmouth hit the buggy in which Mr. and Mrs. Cross were driving yesterday on a sidereal south of the fifth concession, breaking the vehicle and throwing the occupants out on the roadside. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cross were badly shaken up, and Mrs. Cross bruised on the head. Mr. Brown took Mrs. Cross to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Martin, nearby, and a physician called, who attended to her injuries.

TWO-PLATOON SYSTEM IN FIRE DEPARTMENT

ST. THOMAS, June 9.—Although not yet coming under the notice of the council, the provisions of the amended act of the fire department two-platoon system, now governs the local department. The section provides that the chief of the fire department shall not keep a platoon on duty for more than 24 consecutive hours after which the platoon working the 24 hours shall be allowed 24 consecutive hours of duty. One platoon shall work day work of ten consecutive hours, while the other platoon works night work of 14 consecutive hours. Each platoon to alternate every seventh day from night to day work and vice versa. No deduction shall be made from the pay or the holidays of the employees of a permanent fire department by reason only of the provisions of this act applying to and being in force in the municipality. The provisions of the new legislation are new to the committee governing the department and a rearrangement of the local regulations will be necessary before the directions of the act may be made practicable.

Government Responsible For Gambling Stain On Country's Character

Moderator Dr. Gordon Designates the 1921 General Assembly As "Historic"—Numerous Resolutions Occupy Closing Hours.

TORONTO, June 9.—(By Canadian Press).—"We are now bringing to a close what may in future be regarded as an historic assembly," said the moderator, Dr. C. W. Gordon, after reaching the end of the docket of the Presbyterian General Assembly shortly before 11 o'clock. "I am not going to let anyone persuade me that anything untoward is going to befall the Presbyterian Church."

Continuing, the moderator said that the men who had voted against union were to be commended for the very fine spirit they had shown in the assembly. The assembly, he said, had been through with a great burst of speed this afternoon and evening in order to finish tonight.

The assembly adopted a resolution moved by Dr. J. McCartney Wilson of Calgary, embodying greeting to the Church of England.

The union committee, which will have in hand the negotiations with the Methodist and Congregational Churches was empowered also to conduct any conferences pertaining to union with the Anglican Church.

The assembly listened to brief addresses from representatives of the Bible Society, Dr. Boyle and Dr. Cooper.

Government Responsible

A series of resolutions was submitted by D. N. McLaughlin, secretary of the social service department, and adopted by the assembly. The spread of the gambling habit was greatly deplored, especially at the race tracks, and the Government of Canada was held responsible for "this stain on the country's character."

Dr. Gordon pointed out that Premier Meighen had put himself on record as an enemy of the gambling evil.

Another resolution urged the employers of labor to get at the bottom of the social unrest and complaints of the workers.

Dr. Rochester, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, in a brief address said the amusement business had risen up to menace the Sabbath and he hoped the churches would support the alliance in fighting this new danger. A resolution thanking Dr. Rochester for his work was adopted.

In response to a letter from St. Robert Borden, suggesting a pronouncement on the league of nations the assembly adopted a resolution placing itself on record as endorsing the league.

CATERPILLARS HOLD UP TRAINS ON C. P. R. IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Steam At 200-Pound Pressure
Used To Clear the Rails.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 9.—Trainmen report millions of caterpillars or army worms between Fredericton Junction and Harvey, on the C. P. R. line, and that train travel has been greatly impeded. An official today said that for miles the forest had been stripped of foliage, and the tracks are covered with these worms, which grease the rails so badly that freight trains are having a hard time getting over this section, and passenger trains have to double or cut and be conveyed in two sections. All C. P. R. trains have been equipped with special steam jets which are placed in front of the wheels and a 200-pound pressure of steam is used to help clear the worms off the rails. The condition arising from this invasion is said to be the worst ever experienced by the C. P. R. in this district.

"SOUND ASLEEP AS THE GRAND TRUNK"

Photograph Interjects Humor
Into Evidence Before the Arbitration Commission.

MONTREAL, June 9.—Detailed evidence was furnished today before the arbitration commission sitting to inquire into the value of the Grand Trunk system prior to its acquisition by the Dominion Government, tending to show that the line was not in such good shape as the company's experts had indicated, and this evidence took up the whole of the day, most of it being very technical. It dealt with local conditions at a number of Ontario points and was supplemented with photographs showing each spot touched upon.

A humorous point was interjected into the evidence when a photograph was shown of a navy sound asleep at his job.

"I suppose that was a Government employee," said counsel for the Grand Trunk.

"Well, he seems to be about as sound asleep as the Grand Trunk has been for the last forty years," retorted the witness.

AMBASSADOR OF IRISH REPUBLIC TO UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, June 9.—Dr. Patrick McCartan has been known in the United States as "ambassador of the Irish Republic to the United States." He is a member of the British Parliament from King's County, but like the other Sinn Féin members, chosen at the general elections in 1918, did not take his seat. In January, 1919, a John F. Ryan, described as a lawyer of Buffalo, N. Y., was indicted by the federal grand jury in New York City charged with treason. It was alleged that Ryan was associated with others in plotting to bring about the defeat of the Allies. It was stated by the authorities at that time that Ryan was believed to be in Mexico.

ORDER PERMITTING ONE-MAN CARS IS MADE PERMANENT

May Be Operated Across L. and P. S. R. and Pere
Marquette Tracks.

ST. THOMAS, June 9.—The Dominion Railway Board has made permanent the interim order issued some months ago, permitting the operation of one-man cars on the local street railway. The order allows the city to run its cars over the London and Port Stanley Railway crossings at Talbot and Wellington streets and the Pere Marquette intersection at Wilson avenue. The city directs the municipality to pay one-half of the cost of protection at the L. and P. S. crossings and the expenses of a watchman at the Pere Marquette lines from 6 o'clock in the evening until midnight. The board took no action in the requisition of the Pere Marquette to have the city pay all the expenses of the watchman at the Wilson avenue crossing.

An Economic Success.

So far the one-man car has been an economic success, and no general inconvenience has been complained of by the patrons of the system. The deficit, however, in the monthly accounting is still very much in evidence.

GREEKS READY FOR ATTACK ON TURKISH ARMY

Both Armies Confident of Victory in Impending Battle in Asia Minor.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 9.—A Greek offensive is announced for the end of the week, and both sides apparently are confident of victory. Speaking of the impending attack, Fazl Pasha, in command of the Turkish troops, said: "We are not alarmed over British aid to the Greeks. Let them come and enter our traps."

British Aeroplanes.

The entire Turkish forces, estimated at 100,000, with 50,000 effective, occupy virtually the same locations between Bursa and Smyrna as they did last March. The Greeks, reinforced by British aeroplanes, tanks and gas shells, have 120,000 men, of whom 80,000 are effective as a fighting force. The Greek morale, owing to quarrels, was poor until lately, but has vastly improved, owing to the British support.

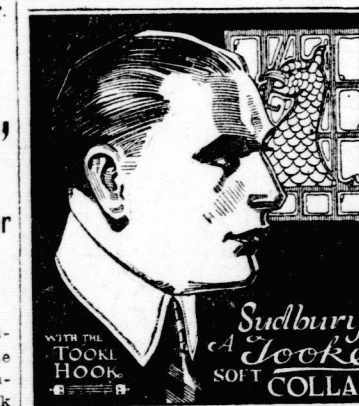

The Real Issue.

There are many conjectures as to the outcome of the offensive. It is pointed out that the issue now is between the British and the Bolsheviks, and the latter are ready to send troops to assist the Turks.

EACH CHURCH MAY RETAIN OWN CREED

Ex-Moderator Dr. McMullen
Suggests Scheme To Avoid Future Friction.

CLEAR CONSCIENCE

Anglicans Could Also Enter
Such Union With Perfect Safety.

WOODSTOCK, June 9.—Rev. Dr. McMullen, for 50 years pastor of Knox Church and ex-moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly and one who has for many years favored church union, today made the following comment on the action of the General Assembly in Toronto:

"I am strongly in favor of church union and I regret to see that there is in the General Assembly such a considerable minority vote against it. As the property of the Presbyterian Church is devoted to principles set forth in the subordinate standards a minority protesting against any abandonment or changes of these might obstruct the obtaining legislation vesting the property in the united church of the patrons of the system. The deficit, however, in the monthly accounting is still very much in evidence."

Risk Is Involved.

"The drawing" up of new articles of faith involves this risk. To head off the danger I am of the opinion that the proper expedient would be to have no new articles of faith, but let the churches come into union bringing with them their present articles of faith, and let them follow their present usages and modes of worship, including the sacraments. The consequence of this would be that no church entering union could be charged with altering in creed or forfeiting its property, and is it not an assumed truth that not one of the churches is changing its creed for the sake of union?"

With Clear Conscience.

"Any minister in the united church charged with error or heresy would have the right to claim that he believed under articles of faith he subscribed to before union. I can see no reason why the three churches, and the Anglicans also, could not by this method enter union with perfect safety as to property and a clear conscience as to creed."

ANGLO-FRENCH TREATY NOT UNDER DISCUSSION

LONDON, June 9.—J. Austen Chamberlain, the Government spokesman, stated in the House of Commons this afternoon that the question of arranging an Anglo-French alliance, even without possible participation by the United States, was not under discussion.

Recently the French newspapers have been discussing the question of a closer alliance between France and Great Britain, and it was indicated that the United States Government would be sounded as to its attitude toward such an alliance.

A Danger Signal— Tender and Bleeding Gums

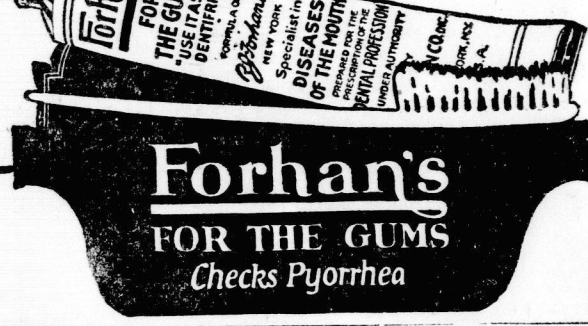

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them. Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

BRITAIN URGES UPON FRANCE DRASTIC ACTION

Points Out Insufficiency of the Neutral Zone in Upper Silesia.

LONDON, June 9.—Great Britain is now urging on France the insufficiency of the neutral zone in Upper Silesia and the necessity of re-establishment of the authority of the control commission throughout the entire area. This would involve pushing back the Poles on an extensive front, which has already been begun by the British forces, and of making a slight adjustment of the German line.

Logical Sequence

This proposed action against the Polish insurgents, it was stated today in official circles, is the logical sequence to the ultimatum sent to Germany demanding the halt and withdrawal of the troops of General von Hoefler, leader of the German defence forces. It was reported yesterday that Germany had acquiesced in this demand.

Government officials today held that since the allies sent their ultimatum to General von Hoefler they are duty bound to take some drastic action toward the Poles, in which it is hoped that France will co-operate.

DRUGGIST KEPT STORE OPEN TOO LONG, IS CHARGED

L. S. Haight Alleged To Have Sold Ice Cream After Hours.

TRAIN IS DISCONTINUED

Michigan Central Takes "Curtis Street Special" Off the Schedule.

ST. THOMAS, June 9.—A charge, not appearing on the police calendar for years, that of keeping one's business premises open after the hours prescribed by the local ordinance, was preferred today against L. S. Haight, proprietor of a drug store on Tabbot street. Complaint was made to the city solicitor of Mr. Haight's alleged violation of the bylaw, and coming before the magistrate, the hearing was adjourned for a week. Mr. Haight, after moving to more enlarged quarters, installed an ice cream section, and served his customers after what is understood as "business hours." The accused acknowledged keeping his store open beyond the customary business period, but Mr. Haight claims that he cannot be prohibited from conducting an ice cream service during the hours allowed the proprietors of similar centers of entertainment.

The question has been put by other commercial concerns, if they placed a soft drink fountain or an ice cream dispensing department in their stores, would they be liable to a penalty under the bylaw if they admitted people to transact one or the other of the subsidiary undertakings, while at the same time they might be pricing a pair of ice cream pants or lemonade shirts.

Express Train Discontinued.

"The Curtis Street Special," a business express run over the Michigan Central in connection with another express train has been temporarily discontinued.

Rev. (Capt.) E. W. Edwards, M.C., B.A., will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the pupils of Alma College at the Central Methodist Church, Sunday.

The laying of 35 and 100 pound rails on the local division of the G. T. R. Wabash has been finished. On side track a lighter rail has been used.

To Open Cheese Factory.

The new Presbyterian Church at Dutton will be opened July 10.

NEW GARAGE BEING ERECTED

The Car Owners' Garage Company, Limited, which recently purchased the Cowan property on York street, have awarded the contract to R. G. Wilson & Son for the erection of a substantial brick building 110x147 feet, which for the most part will be two stories high and will join up with the three-story building now located on the rear of the west half of the site. The plans call for a model garage, with a storage capacity alone of over 50 cars, and will also allow for spacious departments throughout. Many of the structural features are entirely new to London, and contain ideas, that when carried out, will assure efficiency and economical service.

The company have also garages operating at Port Burwell and Aylmer at present, and will continue the proposed system throughout Ontario as the demand warrants.
