Police Patrol Saves Unused Stradane Workhouse From Destruction.

BELFAST YOUTHS HOLD UP WORKERS; ONE WOUNDED

British Army Authorities Commandeer Ulster Hall For Troops.

Belfast, Feb. 16.—The day opened with the death of a 5-year-old child, who was struck by a bullet yesterday while playing in the street.

A workman proceeding along Seaford street, in the Ballymacarret area, was shot dead at 8 o'clock this morning.

Youthful gunmen held up a number of workers on the Lowmarket district and wounded one of them in the foot.

An attempt was made this forenoon to burn the disused workhouse at Stradane, North Tyrone, which the military had signified their intention of occupying this week. A police patrol noticed flames proceeding from the structure and the entire force was mobilized and checked the fire. Examination showed that petrol had been strewn over the stairs and bedding. The district hospital adjoins the workhouse.

The firearms act is now in force in Northern Ireland, and the authorities announce that it will be strictly adhered to. The possession or sale of firearms without police certificates is punishable by two years' hard labor. The period of grace for the surrender of arms expires Saturday in Belfast and Feb. 28 elsewhere.

The authorities today commandeered Ulster Hall, the commodious structure on Bedford street, ordinarily used for concerts, for the use of the troops now engaged in combating the disorders here. Up to 10 o'clock this morning the total casualties had reached a total of 114, with the deaths numbering 34.

BANK DISCOUNT AGAIN REDUCED

London, Feb. 16.—The Bank of England today reduced its rate of discount to 4½ per cent.

The discount rate of the Bank of England has been 5 per cent since November 3 last when it was reduced from 5½ per cent July 21. Today's action was forecast in a London dispatch last night in which it was pointed out that the treasury had suspended temporarily its issue of five per cent treasury bonds.

The highest rate was reached in August 1914, after the outbreak of the war, when it was set at ten per cent, which had been equalled on two previous occasions, those of the panics of 1857 and 1866. Since then the rate has fluctuated, but the figure set today is the lowest since the outbreak of the war.

PROTEST BRITISH PENSION SYSTEM

London, England, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Angry protests were made in the Commons today against the government allowing civil servants to count the war bonus as part of their pensionable rights. It was asserted that there was a veritable stampede of resignations a few months ago, and that many civil servants retired on pensions greater than their salaries in 1914. A motion against the government's action, however, was defeated by a large majority, the Laborites abstaining from voting.

WILL APPEAL FREIGHT RATES TO BRITISH GOVT.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—Canadian Press dispatch.—"If British Columbia does not win its fight for a reduction of the mountain freight rate scale now being carried over the board of railway commissioners, the case will be laid before the imperial council on the ground that rates are a breach of the terms upon which the province entered confederation," Hon. John Oliver, British Columbia premier, declared last evening. Mr. Oliver said that he doubted the right of the railway board to settle the matter, and expressed the belief that it was wholly a problem for the federal government. The western premier intimated that he would make this clear to the prime minister at their conference this afternoon.

LAWRENCE FACTORIES RUN 4 DAYS WEEKLY

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 16.—The cotton and worsted departments of the Pacific Mills will operate only four days a week, was announced today. The Pacific print works have been on such a schedule for several weeks. In all about 10,000 persons are affected.

DEFENCE OPENS IN AHRENS CASE

Jury Views Boat Used by Prisoner and Wife To Cross River.

A. McDONALD TESTIFIES

Describes Efforts Made at Time To Revive Victim.

Kitchener, Feb. 16.—The jury in the Ahrens murder trial which is proceeding here, viewed the punt in which Ahrens propelled his wife across the river on the night of November 16 last, when she met her death, when the court resumed this morning at 9:30 o'clock. After the punt had been put in as evidence the crown rested its case.

Defence counsel Brackin started at once with the presentation of defence witnesses, the first being A. McDonald, a personal friend of Carl Ahrens. He told of Carl Ahrens inviting him to spend the evening with him and his wife at the cottage on the evening of November 16, the night of the tragedy. He stated that he had been unable to go owing to a previous engagement. He also gave a description of the cottage. He stated that during the winter months there was also a supply of canned goods kept on hand at the camp and that it was only necessary to take along bread and meat to enjoy a lunch at the camp during the off-season months. He stated that he had slept with Carl Ahrens the night of the tragedy at Ahrens' house, and they had talked of the accident. Carl had said that he would like to have an inquest as he thought it would satisfy the girl's father. McDonald also told of receiving a phone call on the night of the tragedy informing him that something had happened.

He telephoned for Dr. Harvey and went down to the scene with him. He described the scene, the place at which the drowning in connection with efforts to revive the victim. Cross examination by Crown Prosecutor Waldron failed to elicit anything further from witness.

Defence witness McDonald grew faint in the witness box this morning under cross-examination by Crown Prosecutor Waldron and had to be assisted to a chair, where his cross-examination was concluded.

He was followed by Norman Schneider, who told of going to the scene and taking a fireman in his car with the lung motor after receiving a phone call from Ahrens. He stated Ahrens had not spoken to him in connection with the scene of the tragedy.

Arriving at the scene, Schneider said he found Ahrens visibly affected. Witness broke down before leaving the box, but was able shortly to gain control of himself.

Two young ladies, Miss Wolfe and Miss Haist, both members of the girls' camp near the scene of the tragedy, told of using the punt and of nearly falling on several times as a result of the propelling pole slipping. They stated they were saved from falling by the quick actions of others in the punt.

Manager J. A. Martin of the Dominion Tire factory, where Ahrens was employed, gave testimony that Ahrens was a good character, and stated he was an efficient and hard-working employee.

Practically the entire afternoon and evening of the trial Wednesday, was devoted to reading excerpts from the report of the preliminary hearing, in which Ahrens gave evidence concerning the death of his wife.

The report was the stenographic copy of the story told by Ahrens at the inquest, and the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Weil.

Prominent in this evidence were three letters written by Mrs. Ahrens to her husband before leaving Carleton Place for Kitchener.

The first was a letter written in 1919, shortly after the pair had separated. This epistle stated that Mrs. Ahrens was practically a nervous wreck as the result of the separation, which they had had, and asked Carl to forgive her. The letter seemed to place most of the blame

Dying Man Repays Loan He Contracted 44 Years Ago

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—A special to the Journal from Kingston, says: Forty-four years ago a prominent citizen of Kingston, who died two years ago, loaned a friend the sum of $400. The man who got the money suddenly disappeared after he got the loan, and although every effort was made to locate him he could not be found. The man in question is now about 75 years old and is dying. His son wrote a letter to a son of the man who loaned the money, stating that he was prepared to make good the payment of the loan with interest at 5 per cent, which amounts to $3,620. The note has been forwarded to an American bank, which has received instructions to pay it.

HOLD SUSPECTS IN MAIL THEFT CASE

Border Police Expect To Solve Mystery of Tecumseh Robbery.

Windsor, Feb. 16.—Expectations by border police that the $8,200 mail robbery would be solved today was materially strengthened by the arrest of two suspects at the Walkerville ferry dock, who were attempting to board the ferry in a green touring car shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police are examining the men this afternoon and believe that they may be the hold-up men who made their getaway with the mail bag after holding up Herbert Jacobs and his wife near the Grand Trunk Railway station, Tecumseh, shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The suspects, giving their names as Lorne Silverman, 34, Jacob Manor Apartments, Detroit, and Shad Wilson, Riverside Drive, deny that they were in Windsor Wednesday night.

They claimed that they brought the automobile over at the Walkerville dock a few hours previous to their arrest. When police searched the car they found a set of 1922 Ontario license markers hidden beneath a seat.

The car more a Michigan license plate, and when traced by the police showed that the license had been issued in the name of M. J. Margolies, brother of "Sam," the former well-known roadhouse proprietor near Mount Clemons.

Two other suspects were taken into custody by Walkerville police today, but were later released when they gave a satisfactory account of their movements, Walkerville police stated. They were detained at the ferry dock.

CYR SENTENCED TO BE EXECUTED

Bracebridge, Feb. 16.—George Cyr was today sentenced by Justice Middleton to be executed on May 17 for the murder of George Withers, of December 13. The trial of Cyr for the murder of Mrs. Solave, with which he is also charged.

Eugene Sullivan, aged 18, was sentenced to three months to two years imprisonment and seven lashes for an assault on a little girl.

NEW PARLIAMENT OF PORTUGAL CONVENES

Lisbon, Feb. 16.—The new parliament elected on January 29, convened yesterday for its first session.

At the time of the parliamentary elections the Lisbon newspapers declared that President D'Almeida would accept the verdict of the new body as the constitutional duty of his office in dissolving the previous parliament. The new parliament, however, strongly democratic, with the Liberals next in power.

CLAIM MOVE TO CUT PAY WOULD VIOLATE ACT

Employees of Company Contend Conciliation Board Necessary.

SPECIAL MEETING CALLED BY UNION'S OFFICIALS

Men Will Discuss Best Policy To Pursue To Gain Rights.

But little doubt exists the Advertiser has been informed that the executive committee of the local street railwaymen's union in session Friday will move that an injunction be obtained to restrain the London Street Railway Company from placing in effect March 1 the proposed wage reduction of three cents an hour.

Leading officials of the union explain there is but one alternative course, namely, to seek the services of a board of conciliation. This would be possible on their own overtime wage demands, the union men assert.

C. B. King, manager of the company, quite recently reiterated the decision that the reduction would go into effect as scheduled. The union men contend that if such action is taken it will be contrary to bylaw 916 of the London Street Railway Act which, they claim, provides that such a step can not be taken without first seeking the advice of a board of conciliation.

The men emphasize the fact that the time for the proposed move is drawing near and that as no action is apparently forthcoming the company other than Manager King's steadfast determination that the new scale shall become effective, a special meeting has been called for Friday to determine definitely just what should be done.

WILL BUILD NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Catholics of the eastern part of the city plan to erect a new church during the coming summer. It will be built by the congregation of St. Patrick's Church, which is in charge of the Redeemerist order.

The new edifice will be erected on the corner of Oakland avenue and Dundas street just east of the residence of the priests. The old church, which is on the east side of the present house, will be turned into a school.

The estimated cost of the church is not as yet known.

CALL STRIKE TO OFFSET LOOKOUT IN DENMARK

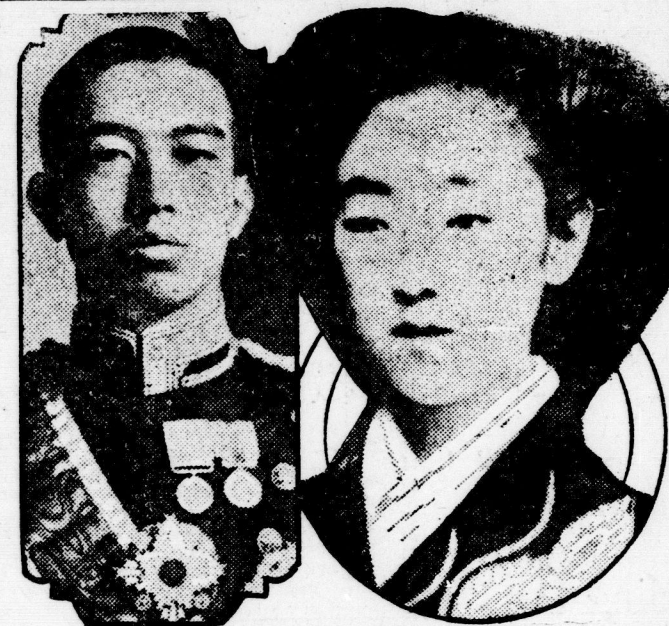

Copenhagen, Feb. 16.—A general lookout declared yesterday throughout Denmark affecting nearly all industries and about 150,000 employees, had not up to the forenoon been met by the retaliatory move of a general strike which some of the organized labor elements threatened when notice of the lookout was given recently. However it is already practically impossible to obtain fuel here and as one consequence the bread supply is endangered.

The trouble between the employers and the men arose because of an attempt to cut twenty per cent in wages, with longer hours. Compromise proposals have been rejected by nearly all the trade unions.

THURSDAY EVENING IN DUNDAS

Centre Church a number of the pupils of J. Parnell Morris will be heard in recital. An interesting program has been arranged consisting of vocal and piano solos, piano and violin duets and quartets. The recital will be under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle.

Prefer Simple Democratic Wedding!

CROWN PRINCE HIROHITO AND HIS FIANCEE, PRINCESS NAGAKO.

TOKIO, Feb. 16.—The coming wedding of Crown Prince Hirohito and Princess Nagako will be simple and democratic.

The ceremonies will follow the Shinto ritual. They will last seven days. During this time a national holiday will be proclaimed throughout the Japanese Empire.

On the morning of the wedding day the crown prince will go to the shrine of his ancestors in the imperial palace.

There he will read a report to his ancestors, announcing he is about to take a wife, and that the union is for the best interests of the nation.

Prince Kaji, brother of the emperor, will officiate as head priest of the imperial household. Prince Hirohito will wear a robe of black silk.

The rest of the day will be given over to festivities culminating in a dinner party attended by 3,000 guests, including members of the imperial household and foreign diplomats.

SEIZED ALCOHOL TAGGED OLIVE OIL

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 16.—Ten barrels of grain alcohol labelled as olive oil, were seized yesterday by prohibition agents at a local railroad station. This was one of seven similar shipments to Baltimore within a week, totalling 15 barrels and all labelled olive oil. The prohibition agents estimated the retail bootleg value of the shipments at $150,000.

JACK CANUCK EDITOR COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Hamilton, Feb. 16.—John Drylie, editor of Jack Canuck, was this morning committed for trial on a charge of defamatory libel laid by William Carroll, who runs a chain of grocery stores. Bail was raised from $500 to $1,000. J. L. Courtell, K.C., who is acting as counsel for the editor, said he would appeal the charge.

Wilfred Fessy, assistant editor, said he had written the article complained of on information given him by the paper's Hamilton correspondent, James Meek, 56 Gregg street.

ASK BUILDING TRADES TO ACCEPT WAGE CUT

Calgary, Feb. 16.—The Western Canadian Building and Construction Industries convention after two private sessions yesterday, issued a statement that labor will be asked to accept reduced wages on the following scale per hour:

Bricklayers, 90c; plasterers, 85c; carpenters, 70c; plumbers, 85c; steamfitters, 85c; sheet metal workers, 75c; painters, 70c; electricians, 75c; stone cutters, 75c, and structural steel workers, 90c per hour. For laborers, a sliding scale from 40c to 50c was adopted.

A resolution requests that labor will co-operate by agreeing to work longer hours per day during the favorable working season.

SIR HERBERT PERROTT, ENGLISH BARONET, DIES

London, England, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Sir Herbert Charles Perrott, baronet, died today. He was late lieutenant colonel commanding and honorary colonel of the 3rd Battalion, the Buffs, East Kent Regiment. He was born in 1848.

CUBS DEBATE ON NATURE AND ART

Members of Lions' Club Provided With Novel Entertainment.

Members of the Lions' Club were entertained at luncheon in the Tecumseh House Thursday by a debate, the subject chosen being "Resolved, that the works of nature are more pleasing to the eye than the works of art." Cub C. M. R. Graham and Cub Archer championed the affirmative, while Cubs MacFie and Parsons upheld the negative side of the argument.

Owing to the fact that Cubs Graham and MacFie each brought two visitors to the luncheon, and these gentlemen were appointed judges, no decision was announced, although Col. Beattie, upon whom was deputed the responsibility for pronouncing on the merits of the debate, reserved decision until next week.

The debate assumed humorous characteristics soon after its inception. Colonel Graham, in his opening remarks, referred to nature in its beauty as compared to the "infinite effort of man."

"A study of nature makes you forget everything that man has to offer," he declared. "The birds of the air present the most wonderful symphony that the world has ever known. Art is inspiration and tends to show that all men are equal."

Cub Parsons, in his reply, defined art as "the employment of means to accomplish some end," and pointed out that art, according to this definition, included all industrial development. He pointed out that harnessing of Niagara Falls for electric power development is art. He humorously drew attention to the appearance of many Cubs without false teeth and wigs, which, he declared, were works of art improvised to assist nature.

Cub MacFie, referring to the oratory of Cub Graham, asserted that "nature made him and God clothed him. Without art London would be a forest without a city. We must have ways of art to improve nature." Col. Beattie and Rev. T. D. McCullough also spoke.

98-Year-Old Woman Has Real Thrill When 274th Descendant Arrives

SABETHA, Kan., Feb. 15.—Bertha Perkins, who will be 98 years old next April, had a real thrill over the week end, when three additional great-grand children arrived in three Sabetha homes, within a period of 48 hours. They brought the number of her descendants up to 274.

"Good, and old-fashioned cooking," is the recipe Mrs. Perkins gives for her longevity. It is no wonder people do not live to old age like they used to, considering the rich foods they put into their stomachs nowadays. People do not eat enough coarse food. Corn bread once or twice a day would improve their health.

"Work is the best tonic. Why, I do something every day. In the summer time I take care of my vegetable garden. Last summer I raised so many vegetables I had them to pass around among the neighbors."

MOTORIST HELD AFTER ACCIDENT

Arthur Callier of Windsor Is Placed Under Arrest by Provincial Police.

BAILED TO FEBRUARY 24

Charge Is Laid Following Smash On "Battle Hill."

Arthur Callier of Windsor was taken in charge by provincial officers in that city Wednesday and taken to Glencoe Thursday morning by Provincial Officer Arthur Palmer, charged with reckless driving as a result of an accident on "Battle Hill" on the Longwoods road near Glencoe. Clarence Treast and L. D. Siddall were seriously injured, and their horse killed when a motor car, alleged to have been driven by Callier, struck the buggy in which they were driving.

According to Palmer the men were driving home at 1 o'clock in the morning, and were almost at the summit of the hill when a big motor car shot into view over the brow of the hill and crashed into the buggy with terrific force. The horse thrown stantly killed, and the men thrown into the ditch, the injuries to Treast proving to be of a very serious nature.

The motor car did not come to a stop till it reached the bottom of the incline. It is understood that Callier spent the night in a farmhouse nearby, and then proceeded to Windsor. The injured men were later conveyed to their homes by neighbors.

Callier was brought before Magistrate McKenzie at Glencoe Thursday morning and was bailed in the sum of $2,000 to appear in court on Feb. 24 at Glencoe.

NAME COCKTAIL PRINCESS MARY

London, England, Feb. 16.—Habitués of one of London's most exclusive west end clubs are exulting over the success of the city's first "cocktail tea dance," something new in London, at which three cocktails concocted in honor of Princess Mary, who is soon to marry, were introduced. They have been christened "The Princess Mary Cocktail," "The Wedding Ball," and "The Royal Smile."

LABOR COUNCIL WOULD CURB "WILDCAT" STOCKS

The London Trades and Labor Council will ask the executive of the Dominion Trades Congress to approach the federal government with a view toward enacting legislation to prevent the use of the mails by promoters of the so-called "wildcat" stock corporations.

It is claimed that individuals have been going through the country endeavoring to sell stock under the pretension that it has been endorsed by the grand lodge officers of the masonicists' union.

PROTESTANTS PLAN DEFENCE LEAGUE IN CITY

Public School Supporters Will Launch Campaign at Mass Meeting.

SUPPORT SOUGHT FROM MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

Dr. Edwards of Kingston To Speak in Masonic Temple, February 27.

That the vigorous campaign of Bishop M. F. Fallon to obtain more concessions in the allotment of taxes in Ontario for Roman Catholic education is soon to encounter vigorous opposition on the part of the Protestants of the province is evidenced by the fact that a branch of the Public School Defence League is being formed in London.

The objects of this league are to combat further concessions to the Roman Catholic citizens, and the first sht in the battle will be fired on Feb. 27 at the Masonic Temple, when the Public School Defence League will hold a mass meeting.

Tentative arrangements have been made whereby Dr. Edwards, former Conservative M.P. for Frontenac, and minister of public health for Canada under the Meighen administration, will address this gathering.

Other speakers will be trained, including Dean Tucker, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral.

Dr. Edwards has interested himself in the Public School Defence League in other parts of Ontario, and for this reason his services have been obtained for the meeting.

While those in charge of arrangements for the meeting, which will be open to the public, are reticent regarding details of the meeting at the present time they informed The Advertiser this morning that an official announcement will be made on Friday.

It is claimed that the status of separate schools in Ontario and the rights of salary to further consideration by the legislature for additional revenue for taxes will be fully and fairly discussed at this meeting, along with arguments advanced by Bishop Fallon and Archbishop MacNeill of Toronto in support of the Catholic cause.

Prior to the meeting the aims and objects of the Public School Defence League of Ontario will be laid before members of the London Ministerial Alliance with a view to obtaining the support of that body in Protestant churches of the city.

PREDICT BONOMI WILL BE RETURNED TO POWER

Rome, Feb. 16.—Return of the Bonomi ministry to power was forecast at the chamber of deputies today. The cabinet has been in eclipse since February 2 when it presented its resignation in the face of strong attacks in the chamber on both its foreign and domestic policies, principally on its attitude toward the vatican and the premier announced intention to recognize the death of Pope Benedict officially. Attempts to have other leaders form a new ministry failed. Signor Bonomi will ask endorsement today of his cabinet.

MISS HELLO GIRL WARNS TELEPHONE USERS COURTESY ALWAYS IS BEST POLICY

Every man, woman or child who takes down a telephone receiver and is not instantly greeted with a prompt "number please" immediately assumes a martyred air and commences bewailing to the world in general about the inferior brand of telephone service.

However, there is another side to the story which seldom comes in for any consideration.

Pity the poor telephone girl!

Her lot is a hard one and her reward—well, it is not very often the courtesy to which her patience and long-suffering entitle her.

Those citizens who have forgotten the good old adage that courtesy costs nothing should take warning. Don't imagine that because you are safe within the four walls of your home or office that you can vent your spleen upon the unfortunate operator without your sin finding you out.

Telephone operators are like head waiters. They know you and according to your desserts are rewarded.

Several prominent citizens would be more than amazed if they knew how badly they were in the black book of that chosen few, the telephone operators in modern life, Miss Telephone Operator.

When asked the question: "Who was the most discourteous man you ever knew?" Contrary to expectations, a youthful London operator was quite ready with a retort.

"Conscience doth make cowards of us all," so those citizens who have been arranged, consisting of vocal and piano solos, piano and violin duets and quartets. The recital will be under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle.

said the Hello Girl, "a certain man is the limit. If the line is busy and you tell him so, he gets busy calling information to 'cut 'em off, cut 'em off.' When that man gets on a line he thinks it is a case of 'Let the rest of the world go by' and nobody has a right on the wire but 'yours truly.'"

"No, I have never met him so I don't know whether his special brand of courtesy applies to telephone girls only, but apparently it does, because if he talked to everyone as he does to me he wouldn't have a friend in the world."

"Have we any come-back? No, I sometimes buzz the receiver in his ear, that's all. Rather feeble means of retort and it only brings down more explosives on my innocent head as he yells for the chief operator."

Beside the discourteous gentlemen, we have to deal with those clever youths who, if they have to wait even a moment, while away their time by singing: 'Hello, Katie, are you powdering your nose or just naturally busy elsewhere,' with a sarcastic infection on the last words. You can be sure that sort of performance doesn't get them any better service. If they ask us our names we give them information. That's our come-back in that case."

It won't be necessary to put the cap on unless it fits, but from this interview it is easily learned that those Londoners who are apt to be so say the least, somewhat forgetful of what becomes a gentleman, should remember that "murder will out" and Miss Operator is not very long before she knows who you are and what kind of treatment to expect from you.

Apparently it is up to discourteous Londoners to put the brakes on their bad temper and stop, look and listen, when telephoning, lest they get too deeply into the black books of the "Hello Girl."

PLAN MEETINGS TO FURTHER SCIENCE

Local Chamber of Commerce Will Endeavor to Awaken Interest in Commercial Subjects.

Announcement of the first of a series of meetings to forward science in industry, to be held February 21, was made at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors. Subjects to be discussed will be coal, water and the use of chemistry in the steel, iron and brass industries. The lectures will be handled by competent authorities. It was reported that the agricultural section of the chamber had appointed strong committees, who were working hard on the following questions, as suggested at the initial meeting of that body—hydro on the farm, city market expansion, farm help, a restroom on the market, space for parking cars, milk distribution and the inspection of herds. A committee of city members has been selected to attend all meetings of the agricultural section, including Lieut.-Col. Brown, J. H. Laughton, H. S. Fry, Gerald Pearson, Miss Mary Grant, Major Gordon Ingram, A. E. Silverwood, C. A. Mahon, Ald. Childs, E. V. Buchanan and E. S. Little. A communication received from the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce relative to transient traders' licenses was referred to the retail section. The St. Catharines chamber advocates a change in the act in order that the present maximum charge of $350 may be increased. C. R. May was appointed a member of the directorate, replacing D. H. McDermid, resigned. Mr. May is secretary of the Rotary Club and has always exhibited a keen interest in Chamber of Commerce endeavors. E. H. Morrow, director of extension work at the Queen's University, Kingston, will address the members March 1. He is an outstanding authority on commercial education, and has shown great interest in the movement in London recently to teach business subjects at the university.

ACHES AND PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

Sometimes They Are Unbearable. There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some rheumatics suffer more in dry, warm weather than in moist, cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time. The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, causing aches and pains. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla has given entire satisfaction in thousands of cases. Do not fail to try it. AUDITOR FINDS PROFIT SMALL Confirms Report That Refund for Gas Users Will Be Slight.

NO DIRECTORS' FEES PAID

Deduction of Ready-To-Serve Charge Would Mean Operation at Loss.

The intimation contained in a recent issue of The Advertiser, that there would be little left of the ten cents set aside by the City Gas Company by order of the legislature to go back to the people, is seemingly confirmed in the report of Auditor A. G. Calder to the city.

This report was put before the finance committee Wednesday night, no action being taken on it, other than to have it printed in the minutes. It showed that in 1920, the company, outside the readiness-to-serve charge of $60.123, suffered a loss of $613.49. From May to Dec. 31, 1921, the company shows a profit of $6,275 after crediting to the customer's refund account $20,253. Included in the latter amount is $6,395.52, readiness-to-serve charge, and if this item is deducted there will be a net loss of $29.51.

The information on the readiness-to-serve charge is looked upon as important, inasmuch as an action was launched last week in an effort to have the monies collected by this charge refunded to the people. The amount has been generally estimated at $55,000.

No Director's Fees Paid.

Mr. Calder found that the five officials of the company were paid salaries totalling $11,520 annually. No director's fees are paid and no dividends have been declared during the past couple of years. He found that the total salary and wage roll of the company was $107,096 in 1921, and $116,989 in 1920.

Production costs per 1,000 feet of gas, he found to be as follows: 1920, $1.14078; 1921, $1.114; May 3 to Dec. 31, 1921, $1.1865.

The last item on cost is of interest to the consumers. The legislature in granting the company a rate of $1.25, ordered that it set aside 10 cents per thousand, and if it was found that the company was making an excessive profit, a portion or all of the ten cents might be ordered refunded. As the cost of producing has been $1.18 to date, it is certain that the whole ten cents will not be refunded. Mr. Calder also points out that depreciation of the plant has not been provided for in the cost figures, but will do so when completing the audit after May 3, when the period expires.

Surplus Increased.

The report gives the state of finances of the company at the end of December as follows: Assets, $341,785.57; liabilities, $295,657.10; surplus account, $299,098.47; capital stock, $256,999.00. Total, $341,785.57.

It is to be noted that the total of the surplus account at the end of 1920 is given as $287,165, and at the end of last year had increased to $290,098.

The gas appliance department, a subsidiary branch, showed a loss of $5,449.42 last year.

The total revenue received by the company last year was $378,524.31, plus $25,628.59 received for by-products. The total expense plus $2,496 for depreciation was $383,843.36.

The committee took no action on the report other than to order it printed in the minutes.

Ald. Ashplant has the matter of paying the aldermen for their services on the council sent onto the council and the outlook is that there may be a merry discussion on the subject. There are some sharp opinions held on this subject both for and against. Ald. Ashplant says that the legislature would not have put the measure on the statutes if it did not deem the paying of the aldermen desirable. He declared that the aldermen would feel more responsible.

Mayor Opposes Move.

Mayor Wilson said that it would destroy the spirit of public service but stated that he would let the aldermen thresh it out among themselves at the council meeting. Ald. Judd is strongly opposed to the proposal.

Ald. Ashplant wanted to know if the recommendation of J. G. Richter, that Messrs. Steel and England be retained on the assessor's staff has been carried out.

Mayor Wilson said that the two had been retained until the valuation of West London had been completed and then they were let out. It was about Feb. 1.

Ald. Ashplant wanted to know if others had been put in their place. "No, their services were no longer necessary," replied the mayor.

Several bowling and billiard hall proprietors asked the city to reduce its license fee, inasmuch as they were now being called upon by the province to pay a fee almost double that of the city. Mr. Catalano, J. J. Dyer and others were in the deputations.

Mayor Wilson said that the city could not give up its revenue from this source and did not think that the aldermen had a right to step in. He suggested that the city take the matter up with the provincial authorities.

The deputations asked, that if they were forced to pay the two licenses, that they be allowed to keep open until 12 o'clock and the extra hour might in a measure reimburse them.

Tenders Received.

Five tenders were received for firemen's uniforms. Four firms, Selkirk, Firth, Tip-Top and Orth's, tendered on the uniforms, the prices running from $23 to $33. One firm tendered for the chief and assistant chiefs' uniforms at $77 each. The tenders were left to the chairman and the chief.

Ald. Ashplant wanted to know if the city employees were being paid their bonus this year. He pointed out that if such was the case and the council decided when the estimates were up to cut off the bonus, this would be retroactive to the first of the year.

Mayor Wilson said that the bonus

"NEMO" Self-Reducing Service

This service is designed particularly for stout women. It is based upon the supporting and reducing power of Nemo Self-Reducing Straps. Their function is to reduce and re-shape the abdomen by eliminating excessive fatty tissue, which so often accumulates on the abdomen in the groin section, directly over the muscles and under the skin.

No. 360—Nemo Self-Reducing Corsets for medium to full figures, front steels are shorter than corset top, prevents digging in; low bust and long skirt gives straight lines; white coutil; sizes 22 to 36. Price $4.50

No. 327—Nemo Self-Reducing Corset for medium to full figures, very low bust, with elastic inserts, slightly higher in back, long skirt, elastic inserts in back, white coutil; sizes 22 to 36. Price $5.00

No. 320—A popular model for the stout figures, has self-reducing straps that reduce and support the abdomen, elastic inserts in the back, heavy white coutil; sizes 22 to 36. Price $6.00

No. 322—Similar to No. 320, but higher in the bust. Other Self-Reducing Models ranging up to $7.75

"NEMO" REGULAR MODELS

The Nemo Kopservice Line is perfectly adapted to that large class of women who do not require abdominal reduction, but are too heavy in hip and thigh.

No. 511—For full figures, has long, flexible skirt with bands of Lastikops webbing, which take care of over-developed hips; pink coutil; sizes 22 to 36. Price $7.50

No. 514—For medium and full figures, has very low bust, with elastic inserts, elastic inserts in back and sides, diagonal boning in front insures straight lines over abdomen; pink coutil. Price $6.50

"NEMO" WONDERLIFT MODELS

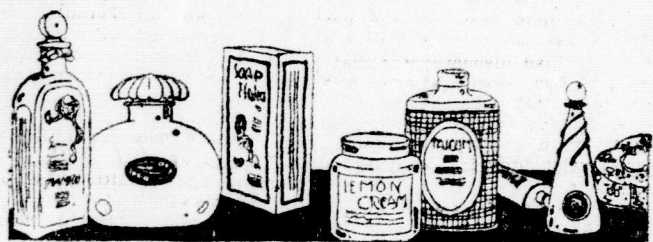

A very large number of women, if once correctly fitted in a Nemo Wonderlift Corset, can never be persuaded to wear any other model, because in cases where the abdomen is abnormal the "Wonderlift" Bandlet holds the organs in correct position, producing the best style effects.

No. 560—For medium to full figures, the "Wonderlift" Bandlet has a band of Lastikops webbing, adjustable to the wearer, yet concealed beneath the corset skirt; very low bust, with elastic inserts; white coutil; sizes 22 to 36. Price $7.75

No. 554—Similar model to No. 560, but medium bust.

Circlet No. 1500—Adjusts quickly, no hooks or eyes, simply slips over the head and fastens at the waist, takes care of the bust, also shoulder flesh; sizes 34 to 48. Price $1.50

Wednesday evening the dramatic students of Miss Topley-Thomas of the Institute of Musical Art presented the "The Dream Lady" by Netta Syrett under the direction of their instructor, with incidental music composed by George Winterbottom, organist of New St. James' Presbyterian Church.

The cast was as follows: The king, Miss Leona Kirkwood; the queen, Miss Jennie Kirkwood; the princess, Miss Ruth Tanner; the prince, Miss Violet Burgess; Astoria, Miss Mac Fenton; Arlette, Miss Helen Fenton; the Dream Lady, Miss Phyllis Johnston; Nanina, Miss Madeline Schrieber; Denise, Miss Dora Chantler; Angela, Miss Daisy Chantler; a Lady of the Court, Miss Olive Ross.

The orchestra under the direction of Mr. Winterbottom consisted of Misses Rowena Weld, Marian Sharpe, violinists, Miss Eva Cooke, Harold Chown, cellists; Mr. Darling, flutist, and Miss Dorothy Davis, pupil of Mr. Thomas Martin, pianist.

Miss Madeline Schrieber contributed a song during the production of the play.

GRAND VAUDEVILLE DELIGHTS PATRONS

Pictorial Program Includes Tom Moore in Clever Comedy.

The Goldwyn production, entitled "From the Ground Up," being presented at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, provides an excellent vehicle for the versatile talents of the star, Tom Moore. The story is that of a young Irishman, an emigrant, who starts in life as a ditch digger, and rises to fame and fortune, likewise winning the girl of his heart.

Tom Moore is at his best in the portrayal of the happy-go-lucky son of Erin, and is also very pleasing in his representation of the well-groomed horseman, and the successful contractor.

The star is well supported by an excellent cast, especially worthy of mention being Miss Helene Chadwick, who plays the part of the daughter of Mr. Mortimer, the bankrupt builder. The play, which is founded on the book by Rupert Hughes, is full of good wholesome comedy, and is a story that is human and truthful in every respect.

The vaudeville, which is also being presented during the remainder of the week, is of a high grade character, and provides excellent entertainment.

Little Allright, a Japanese artist, is very clever in his exhibition of juggling and balancing, presenting various originalities.

Haller and Loy delight with their comedy and singing. A ventriloquist turn is a feature of this act, which was much appreciated by the audience.

The Colonial Trio provide a high grade entertainment in their excellent playing of the saxophone, trumpet and various other musical instruments.

Patterson and Newton are very witty in humorous songs. The Silverlakes present a turn of great daring and skill, providing real thrills by the dexterity of their performance in midair.

The film program is augmented by the Kinogram, "Getting Canada's Coal" and a two-reel comedy film featuring Buster Keaton.

The entire program presented is clean and of a highly entertaining nature, being well received by a capacity house both at the afternoon and evening performances Wednesday.

REPORTS EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS IN NICARAGUA

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, Feb. 16.—A very strong earth shock lasting thirty seconds was felt here at 10:14 o'clock yesterday morning. Granada, on the northwest shore of Lake Nicaragua, reports that part of its cathedral was badly damaged, as well as other buildings. The Omotepe volcano, on an island in Lake Nicaragua, is still active as is also the volcano of Concepcion situated near the town of Masaya, 13 miles from Granada.

DISCUSSION WAXES WARM

Ingford Declares Plans and Specifications Were Prepared in a Month.

Who spread the report that Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board of education, was present when the plans were taken for the new college institute and approved of the same?

During an animated discussion at yesterday's gathering of No. 3 committee of the board relative to the new institution, Trustee Smith declared that when a leading man in the city comes to him and says he has a plan that he should and watched the plans being taken it was coming to his mind.

The chairman's remarks evolved from a discussion which arose originally from a consideration of "extras" for the new building to the point of $8,000. Trustee Bice failed to understand why there should be such extras.

Omitted For a Time.

Architect Carrothers explained that he had to the great rush to get the school under way certain details had to be omitted for the time. Trustee A. A. Langford pointed out that the plans, specifications, etc., were prepared within a month. Trustee A. E. Silverwood remarked that some people had said that Trustee Smith agreed. After further discussion, Trustee Silverwood pointed out that the board would come in $2,000 of the expected expense, $2,000 of which would be deducted for sidewalks. The trustees did not agree that this was an all-out showing.

Trustee Smith favored a special trustee to thresh out the question of "extras" and asked to know why the original plans for a room school were changed to a room building. They were never changed," replied Trustee Langford vehemently.

Member of Committee.

Trustee Smith held otherwise and Trustee Silverwood related that he had been told what he knew concerning taking of the levels of the school. He was a member of the committee and never knew the sed was turned as he asserted.

Trustee Silverwood asked the architect whether the levels were taken if it so were the members of the committee present. He desired to know further whether anyone had been consulted.

Trustee Bryden Campbell insisted on knowing just who was present the time. Architect Carrothers replied that the contractor and him were there.

Then you assume responsibility. Trustee Silverwood. "No, I don't," retorted the architect. "We followed the plans. We didn't move it up or down six inches."

Let's get this cleared up," suggested Trustee Silverwood. "Trustee Smith says he doesn't know anything about it."

Talbot Street Baptist Church Opposes School Dance

AT the regular monthly business meeting of the Talbot Street Baptist Church held Wednesday evening (15th inst.), the following resolution was unanimously adopted, viz., that this church put itself on record as emphatically opposed to the action of the board of education of this city in granting permission to the students to hold a dance as part of the program on the occasion of opening the new collegiate institute which is soon to take place, believing that the board's action in giving such permission is adverse to the best interests of the young people and not in accordance with the wishes of a large number of the parents and ratepayers of this city.

SUBMITS REPORT ON NIGHT CLASSES

Principal Mooney Shows 3,090 Pupils Attended Collegiate During Past Quarter.

A report on the cost of the collegiate institute evening classes for the term ending December 31, 1921, has been submitted by W. H. T. Mooney showing an aggregate attendance of 3,090 pupils during October, November and December at a total cost of $1,692.50 including expense for janitor service.

While the trustees are unanimous in their stand that education shall be made as free as possible, they have expressed a desire for a comparative statement for 1921 and 1922 in order that they may be able to come to a decision with reference to the proposal to refund all charges to those who show a 90 per cent attendance record.

Principal Mooney pointed out as the greatest difficulty encountered with these classes the great effort required to keep pupils at the classes after a term. He believes that a refund would tend considerably to obviate this condition.

The present fee, he explains, is $2.50 for three months. The expense last term averages 54.8 cents per pupil for two hours an evening. Trustee Silverwood holds that if a refund should be deemed fitting and proper and can be accomplished at the collegiate, the same can be done affecting the pupils at the London Technical and Art School.

DESCRIBES CONDITIONS IN GERMAN WAR PRISON

Members of Pro Patria Loyal Orange Lodge paid a fraternal visit to Beaver Lodge in the Orange Hall, Tuesday night, when the Blue degree was conferred. In addition to this visit, J. B. Armitage, County Orange Master for South Huron, was present and addressed the members.

The feature of the evening was an address, "Let Us Forget," delivered by F. Beasley, a Huron College student who spent over three years as prisoner of war in Germany. He described the conditions of prison life, and the attitude assumed by the Germans toward British prisoners of war were vividly described by the speaker who illustrated his remarks by photos and souvenirs which he brought with him on his return to Canada.

Rev. Roy D. Mess of the city also addressed the meeting, which was well attended.

as to what the school will provide for the science room was next taken up and the architect submitted a report as to the best purchase. Trustee Silverwood urged that immediate action be taken in securing this equipment as the day for opening was near at hand.

The architect pointed out that it would be at least 60 days before the equipment would arrive as it would have to be specially made.

"Then why was not this done 60 days ago," questioned Trustee Silverwood.

"It couldn't be done then," explained the architect.

"No, they couldn't think of it then," suggested Trustee Smith.

"It appears to me as though they were pretty slow last year," commented Trustee Silverwood.

Principal Mooney urged also that certain shelving be placed in the rooms in readiness for the opening February 20. It was suggested that this work be left to the superintendent of works but the architect's opinion was that the latter "would be having so much to do he wouldn't be able to turn around."

Trustee Silverwood emphasized the need for greater haste and pointed out that furniture was needed for the principal's room. "We'll have to get this," he warned, "the man can't get on the spot."

WILL OPPOSE BUILDING DAM

Alderman Ashplant Claims Undertaking Would Considerably Increase Tax Rate.

WANTS POPULAR VOTE

Declares Interested Persons Hold Amusement Park Site at Springbank.

Final arrangements for placing the Springbank dam question before the city council commission were made at a quietly convened meeting of the utilities, held last Friday night, after the meeting of the heads of civic departments, called by Mayor Wilson. To this meeting, following the press release, were invited the members of the finance committee on Wednesday night, Mayor Wilson explained to the aldermen, the proposal in regard to the dam, which the council was to be asked to agree to. Ald. Ashplant said he would oppose it.

He holds that the dam scheme should be kept over until next year and the people given a chance to vote on it. He alleges that the scheme for the dam is being pushed this year by certain private citizens who were interested in a tract of land at Springbank on which they wished to establish an amusement park.

Decide to Build Dam.

Mayor Wilson reiterated to the fact that the utilities commission had held a special meeting and decided to go ahead with the dam if the council would supply the money by debentures. The meeting in question was held last Friday night after the meeting of the heads of the departments.

The yearly payments to raise the money for the sinking fund and interest charges of the cost of construction will be cared for out of the one mill park rate, said the mayor.

Mr. Ashplant said that this was nothing more or less than camouflaging the scheme to the tax rate. The cost of the dam would mean an increase in taxes.

Mayor Wilson said that the additional charge to the park rate would not increase the parks mill rate on account of the increase in the assessment total. He stated that he wanted it understood that he was not trying to foist any scheme on the council. He had discussed the matter with many organizations, and they believed that the dam would not only be a thing of beauty, but also a benefit from a health standpoint. It would also provide considerable employment.

New Last December.

Ald. Ashplant held that the parties behind the scheme knew as much about the dam last December as they did today, and they could have put forward their propaganda then just as well as they could now, and the people would have had an opportunity to vote on it then. There were many objections to adding to the debt of the city, and he was opposed to adding to the debt of the city without first having a vote of the people.

Mayor Wilson told the alderman that he knew that the reason all money bylaws were withdrawn at the last election was that the university bylaw should not be endangered.

Ald. Ashplant—And now you want to "soak them afterwards."

Mr. Ashplant would see that the great benefits would come from the dam. It would beautify Springbank, provide swimming pools; in short, do something for the rising generation.

Are Other Interests.

Ald. Ashplant stated that there were other interests besides the public interests behind the scheme. The mayor said he did not know of them, and told the alderman that if he did, he should make his knowledge public.

The alderman said that a member of the chamber of commerce had told him, that there were a number of people who had got hold of a piece of property below Springbank Park, and they were greatly interested in having the dam built. They would establish an amusement park and make money out of it. There was not the slightest doubt in his mind that this was correct. He could not see how the matter would differ if it were left until next December, when the people would vote on it. In the meantime costs would be down.

The mayor contended that the dam could be built cheaper now than in a year from now, as the Chippawa machinery could now be secured for almost nothing.

Ald. Ashplant returned to his charge, that the construction of the dam would increase the mill rate. The chairman said that the erection of the dam would mean that $12,000 a year would have to be raised in the taxes to care for the dam, but the mill rate would not be increased on account of the higher assessment.

MAY COMPLETE
SALARY REVISION

Gathering again in special session Thursday night, the members of the salary committee of the board of education fully expect that they will be able to complete their revision of the salaries of the teachers.

The public school teachers commenced in December last. Trustee Smith, chairman of the board, hopes to call a special meeting of the board Friday, and has expressed a desire that a report from this committee be in readiness for consideration.

It has already been reported that the public school teachers expressed general satisfaction with a tentative scheme as outlined at the last meeting, but certain changes in Collegiate Institute salaries are expected, however.

Trustee Rev. A. A. Bice will provide, and the committee will consider its attendance, as usual, to members only.

Kaufman Charged With Working In Shoe Store On Sabbath Day

Judgment was reserved by Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett, Thursday morning, in the case of Louis Kaufman, shoe merchant, charged with a breach of the Lord's Day Act.

Constables Barryman and Snell stated in the witness box that they had looked over some paper coverings on the windows of Kaufman's store at 730 O'Connell Sunday night and had seen several men working. Two were in their shirt sleeves. They were carrying shoe boxes.

Mr. Kaufman stated that no work had been done on Sunday and that the constables were mistaken, and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Edward Wolfold, who admitted that he was in his shirt sleeves when the officers knocked at the door, also declared that there was no work being done.

"Our swearing is just as good as theirs," said Wolfold. "Four of us swear that we didn't do it, and two policemen say we did. Let them come to me about it. I'll tell them. I'm doing enough work at the Empire Brass Co. without doing anything else on Sunday. We never handled any shoe boxes. I was just looking at some oil-cloth. I was all dressed up in my Sunday clothes, and I don't work when I'm dressed up."

Aaron Wolfold said that there was no work going on in the store. "Have you got any more evidence?" asked Chief Birrell.

"Where shall I get 'em when they didn't see anything?" demanded Kaufman.

"I'll reserve judgment in this case till Monday," stated the court.

BUILDERS AGREE THAT SUM BE HELD

Collegiate Contractors Express Willingness That $15,000 Be Kept as Guarantee.

The board of education is in receipt of communication from the Kingston Construction Company expressing willingness that a sum of $15,000 be withheld from final payment for the Collegiate Institute as a guarantee that any minor defects will be remedied as soon as possible.

This does not constitute a new contract, it is pointed out, but an addition to the original agreement, and will in no way interfere with other obligations.

While the school will be occupied, the trustees state, on Monday next, irrespective of what transpires, a formal ceremonial is set for March 2. On the following evening, it is explained, the students will hold their own entertainment. Hon. Dr. Grant, Ontario's minister of education, will be asked to officiate at the opening formalities.

Transfer of collegiate equipment now in use in the Alexandria and Lord Roberts public schools will commence on Friday afternoon.

What has been promised as the first word of praise yet to be heard for the new structure comes from Dr. Merchant, of Toronto, formerly of the normal school, city, who conducted a thorough inspection this week, together with Trustees Silverwood and Campbell.

Dr. Merchant expressed himself well pleased with the building, and actually astonished with its appearance and condition, as judging by reports in a London evening paper, he had inferred that the school was next to falling down.

CHARGES RAILWAY BROKE CONTRACT

Canada Corn Products, Ltd., Sues G. T. R. for $900 Damages.

Three county court writs were filed at the court house Thursday morning. The Canada Corn Products, Ltd., through Fraser and Moore, have issued a writ against the G. T. R. for $900 damages for negligence and breach of contract in the carriage and delivery of two cars of hominy feed shipped by the plaintiff from Bridgeburg, Ont., on September 23 and 26, 1919, and consigned to the plaintiff's order in Buffalo, N. Y.

The London Housing Commission, through G. N. Weekes, have issued a writ against Robert and Sarah Neely for $388.94 for payments due to plaintiffs by defendants under agreement of purchase of property on Garfield avenue.

E. H. Braund on behalf of Thomas E. Wright, has issued a writ against Frederick H. Coles for $241.94 for work done and material supplied.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.—Matthew 5: 7, 8.

FROM blossom time to time of snow is but a pleasant road to go. Come, let us travel side by side. Until the last-blowed bud has died. From time of snow to blossom time. The way leads through a dismal clime. But if together, love, we fare, We shall not sigh for roses there.—Laura Blackburn.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.

FRIDAY—Brotherhood of Trainmen holds supper and dance at Masonic Temple.

THE BANK CLEARINGS for this week were: $2,529,848, and for the corresponding week last year, $2,713,846. A decrease of $183,998.

BOTH NO. 1 AND NO. 2 committees of the London Trades and Labor Council convene at the Labor Temple Tuesday evening next to outline plans for 1922.

GEORGE MURPHY, vice-president of the trades and labor council, and Donald Wright will address the local members of the Brotherhood and Railroad Trainmen at the regular meeting of the latter body Feb. 26.

UPHELD AS A TRIBUTE to the board of education of 1921 and all other of the local educational officials involved, it is reported that the new Victoria public school, South London, has been completed with $12,750 still unappropriated from the original amount authorized. A portion of this, it is expected, will be used for certain necessary "extras."

PLAN INDUSTRIAL HISTORY COURSE

Western University and Labor Council Will Co-operate.

After six months' endeavor by Lieut.-Col. Brown of the Western University and members of the Labor party, more prominently W. J. Stewart, a workers' extension class is practically a reality.

At the regular session of the trades and labor council Wednesday night, Delegate Stewart reported that he had conferred recently with Col. Brown, who suggested that a class of at least 15 be instituted at once, and other classes to be formed as the membership grew.

Although Col. Brown suggested economics as the study, Delegate Stewart pointed out that in his opinion this subject was a trifle advanced for beginners, and urged in turn that "Industrial History" be the study.

He explained that the classes would be of two hours' duration, one hour for lectures, and one hour for open discussion. It is proposed that for the time at least the labor men will supply their own room, while the university will supply the lecturer or professor.

A resolution, moved by Delegate J. P. Thompson, authorizing Delegate Stewart to make the necessary arrangements, was passed without opposition. The delegate urged again, as the question had occupied their attention for the past six months.

Delegate William Tite, representing the local machinists, presented a report of his visit before the board of health, requesting for a general inspection of local dental parlors. He was subsequently accorded a vote of thanks.

SCOTTISH RITERS BANQUET WOMEN

Luncheon and Entertainment Provided in London Masonic Temple.

Valley of London, Scottish Rite Masons, Wednesday night, in the auditorium of the Masonic Temple, tendered to the ladies of the order a reception ceremonial.

Floral and national emblems, symbolic of the craft, were entwined in elaborate decorative designs around the walls, balcony and stage of the auditorium.

The first part of the evening's program was taken up with a concert which comprised a meretricious entertainment.

After the concert a luncheon was served in the refectory of the temple, succeeded by a presentation of the American Beauty roses and small pins, which carried in miniature symbols of the ritualistic work of the day previous.

Wednesday evening some 130 candidates were elevated into the higher degrees of London Lodge of Perfection from all parts of Ontario. The work of conferring degrees was largely conducted by the Murton Lodge of Hamilton, Wednesday, which put on the ninth degree.

The fourth degree, according to program, was put on under the direction of William G. McArthur; the fifth under the direction of Dr. C. Ziegler; the sixth under the direction of A. M. Grick; the twelfth was put on by the Windsor Lodge of Perfection; the thirteenth under the direction of J. S. Barnard, and the fourteenth under the direction of W. H. Rath.

In the intervals between the morning, afternoon and evening sessions of the reunion luncheon is served to the members and candidates in the dining hall of the temple.

STILL WORKING ON McDONALD CASE

That the case of William McDonald is being investigated, is the last word that has been received by the relatives of the London man now languishing in Kingston penitentiary, serving a five-year sentence for the crime of another, he contends.

The minister of justice at Ottawa has his aids looking into the case, and it is believed that a whole review of the evidence will be made, and various defence witnesses, not heard at the trial, interviewed, before a report is made.

Relatives of McDonald expect that the department officials will come to London to look into the statement that McDonald was in London, attending a funeral of a relative at the time the first forgery he was charged with, was committed.

SEES DANCE AS SOCIAL MENACE

Rev. J. W. Hibbert of Kingsville Wants Church to "Set Face Like Steel."

FEARS "CUSTOMS OF DAY"

London District Methodists Prepare Memorials For General Conference.

At a meeting of the London District Conference in Dundas Center Methodist Church, Thursday morning, J. W. Hibbert of Kingsville, president of the London Methodist conference, expressed his appreciation of the purpose of the meeting—that of preparing memorials to the general conference.

"The church must set its face like flint against certain degrading customs of the day," said Mr. Hibbert. "Anything which threatens to weaken the spiritual vitality of the church is a direct menace and we must not stoop to compromise. A high standard of holiness must be set before young people, even at the sacrifice of our own popularity. No compromise should be affected, particularly where dancing is concerned. It is a menace and a degradation to both church and home-life. We must teach young people the great truth, that they are not here to be entertained, but to minister unto, but to minister."

Question Raised.

Rev. A. E. Thompson of Centennial Methodist Church, Rev. Judson Kelly of Colborne Street Methodist Church, and Mr. Beal were appointed a committee to prepare a memorial on the question brought up by Mr. Thompson, of whether the widow of a man who has not been actively engaged in the work of the church should be entitled to an annuity, in the case of his death.

Under present rulings, Mr. Thompson claimed it to be the case that after serving the period of ordination, a minister could at his own request, remain without a charge for a year; renew this request year after year, to engage in other work, and yet on the occasion of his death, his widow as long as she remained such would be entitled to an annuity. Such a man after the year of his ordination paid nothing to the superannuation fund and consequently, Mr. Thompson thought, his widow was not entitled to the benefits of the conference, which would at least be $200 a year.

Sees Objection.

W. E. Milson claimed that the objection lay in the principle which would allow a man to go year after year, nominally a member of the ministry and yet engaged in other work of perhaps a more lucrative character.

One delegate voiced the opinion that in a matter of this kind it was necessary to deal with a specific case, as no ruling could be made to which exception could be found, and which would prevent infringement upon the rights of deserving people.

A. E. Thompson proposed a memorial that henceforth the Epworth League constitution be printed in the discipline, and adjourned at 12 (noon), to assemble again at 1:30 o'clock.

IMPOSE TAX ON BILLIARD ROOMS

Local Poolroom Proprietors Called Upon To Pay New Provincial Levy.

Billiard and pool room proprietors, as well as the owner of the National Bowling Alleys, have just been called upon to make the first payment on the new provincial tax on such institutions as their, and the result is that a general protest is going up from the seventeen local businessmen affected. They are asking relief from the city legislature.

"For years the city has taxed these institutions, the present tax being $25 on the first table or alley, and $10 for the remainder. Now the province comes along and levies a tax of $20 a table."

On the basis of the tax collected by the city last year, the total of which was $1,500, the province this year will impose and additional tax of $3,300. This will mean that the total tax paid in 1922 by the seventeen billiard and pool rooms and one bowling alley will be $4,330.

EXPECTS NO RAISE IN WATER RATES

It is a well-established fact that there are few things that can be purchased today for the same price as in 1908. Public utilities officials declare, however, that in London fresh water is one of these. The water rates at present, they say, are the same as in 1908, and there will be no change for 1922 seemingly.

Waterworks operating estimates for the ensuing year will claim the attention of the public utilities commissioners at their regular gathering Thursday afternoon, and General Manager Buchanan is of the firm opinion that there will be no move to raise the rates this year.

It is reported, also, that work undertaken by the Ohio Well Digging Company is temporarily held up, the drillers having returned on short vacation to their homes in Massillon. They have been engaged without a let-up since August last in a search for water in this district. They return Monday to complete their final tests.

Chief Seeks Firemen With Small Heads To Wear Undersized Helmets

FIRE CHIEF JOHN AITKEN is looking for small-headed firemen.

A peculiar circumstance places the chief's department in a strange position, hence the chief's unique quest.

The firemen are provided with leather helmets. There are those who contend that the firemen should wear these helmets at all fires. Otherwise, if a fireman is injured in the head, while going without a helmet, his insurance would be valueless.

But at the present time all the firemen cannot wear helmets, because many of them are big-headed, and find that their helmets have shrunk. They look something like a pimple on an elephant.

The chief wants the city to provide a number of new helmets costing close to $10 each. Mayor Wilson says in a big order and asks that the chief "get along" until the estimates are reached and the city finds out whether it has the money to spend.

In the meantime the chief's only hope is to get small-headed men.

WILL WAGE BLUE LABEL CAMPAIGN

E. W. Kennedy Arrives in London To Organize Open Shop Fight.

E. W. Kennedy, of Niagara Falls, third vice-president of the International Cigar-makers' Union, and Jas. Sullivan, of Hamilton, organizer throughout the Dominion for the same organization, reached London Wednesday to direct a "Blue Label" campaign among the labor men of the city.

It is more than a year now since the local cigar-makers and their employers encountered difficulties. One with another, and while the employees went on strike in certain shops, they were "locked out" in others.

Addressing the London Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night, Jas. Sullivan explained that the cigar-makers had just emerged victors from a strike in Tampa, Florida, at a cost to headquarters of $1,000,000. "We have to date spent $35,000 in London in the same way, and we will continue."

The speaker elucidated that a campaign is to be launched immediately among the labor men of the city to fight the "open shop" movement.

CELEBRATES HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

Just as gay and debonaire as he was 62 years ago, when he arrived in London, J. B. Cox, veteran grain buyer on the London market, celebrated his 80th birthday Thursday by wearing two huge roses on his coat lapel, and receiving the congratulations of numerous friends, both from the city and country.

"J. B." as he is affectionately known to practically every farmer who attends the London market, could make the present-day housewife weep with tales of the distant past when eggs were five cents a dozen and two fine chickens could be purchased for 25 cents.

Mr. Cox has always taken a great interest in St. George's Society, and is one of the Englishmen of the old school. He thinks that Canada is the greatest place to live in in the world, but believes it would be a whole lot better if he of the old-time strength could be sold again.

THE 'Reminder's Unnecessary Now

A traveler's wife was recently heard to remark: "Walter, be sure to leave enough money this week."

"Walter" has since opened a Huron & Erie Joint Savings Account with his wife.

Both may deposit and withdraw their savings. It is not necessary to keep much money in their home. The wife uses Huron & Erie checks to pay grocer, butcher and other monthly accounts.

Provision is made, in the event of the death of either, that the amount of deposit immediately passes to the survivor.

Any two or more persons may own a Joint Account. Let us open one for you.

PREDICTS SOLID UNITY OF LABOR AND AGRARIANS

C. F. Swayze Moves Reply To Speech From Throne in Ontario House.

INDORSES HYDRO POLICY

Believes Opposition Will Agree With Premier When
"Smoke Clears Away."

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—The declaration by C. F. Swayze, Labor whip, that the Farmer and Labor members of the Ontario Legislature were as solidly united at the present time behind Premier E. C. Drury as they were at the close of last session, and the claim by W. M. Warren, U. F. O., that the election of D. M. Ross in North Oxford was an endorsement of the government's record, were features in the addresses in the Provincial House this afternoon, when the reply to the speech from the throne, presented yesterday by Lieut.-Governor Henry Cockshutt, was moved and seconded.

Practically every supporter of the government was in his seat when the house opened, while there were many vacancies in the opposition benches, chiefly out-of-town members, who had not yet reached the city.

Copies of the new Ontario public school histories, written by Professor George W. Wrong, were laid on the seats of the legislators before the session opened.

Wellington Hay, Liberal leader, and G. Howard Ferguson, leader of the Conservatives, are expected to start off the debate tomorrow afternoon.

Tributes to the services rendered the province by Lieutenant-Governor Lionel H. Clarke, J. A. Calder, M. L. A. for North Oxford; D. Racine, M. L. A. for Russell, and John O'Neill, M. L. A. for Southeast Toronto, whose deaths occurred during the recess, were expressed by Premier Drury. Wellington Hay, G. Howard Ferguson, J. E. Thompson of Northwest Toronto, and the mover and seconder of the reply to the speech from the throne.

Swayze Moves Reply.

Mr. Swayze, Labor member for Niagara Falls, in moving the reply, stated that the opening of the session found the Farmer and the Labor branches of the government as firmly united behind Premier Drury as they were when the last session closed. Any divisions that there may have been were all smoothed out, and the coalition was firmly knit. He said that the large proportion of legislation passed since this government came into power, as compared with measures intended solely to benefit

Will Fly Up In Sky Until He Explodes In Ceiling of World

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 15.—Lieut. J. P. MacReady, holder of the world's altitude record, is preparing to fly to the ceiling of the world—the altitude at which he estimates his body will explode.

MacReady, dissatisfied with his recent flight record of 40,800 feet, revealed today that he is building a super-charger to carry him 55,000 feet into the air. Before he reaches the altitude his body will burst like a balloon because of the lack of external air pressure, MacReady believes.

The importance of the revelations expected justifies the experiment, regardless of the consequences to himself, MacReady said.

When he explored the 40,000 foot level recently he found an air pressure of only three pounds per square inch. Fifteen thousand feet higher he believes may bring a collapse to the plane, a failure of the engine, an inefficiency in the super-charger or an explosion of his body. The newly-constructed craft will care for the first three possibilities.

His body was puffy and the tissues had begun to feel the strain of the altitude, when MacReady made his record. He pushed the nose of his plane upward, but its mechanical limit had been reached. Then he said he determined to explore the higher region.

MacReady has not decided when his experiment will be attempted, and said only personal friends would know of it until the flight had been made.

"I feel sure that my constituents in North Renfrew will appreciate the attitude of the prime minister. I do know that there is a feeling abroad among people generally today that they will endorse and back up a government that will adopt a policy of careful husbanding of our resources."

He said that the rural districts received less than 1 per cent of the hydro power developed. He endorsed the statements of the premier at Hamilton, and believed that the great majority of the people of the province would also endorse them. He emphasized the difficulties under which the farmers of the province were laboring with falling prices of their commodities, which, he claimed, had gone down much faster than had manufactured goods.

Mr. Warren complimented Attorney-General Raney on his stand against profiteers, and made a strong plea for reforestation on an extensive scale.

MAKES VISIT TO ST. JOHN'S LODGE

Deputy District Master C.
Moore Addresses London
Body.

Right Worshipful Bro. C. Moore, district deputy for District No. 3, paid an official visit to St. John's Masonic Lodge No. 20, in the lodge rooms in the Masonic Temple Tuesday night.

Several addresses followed the putting on of the ritual work carried out under the direction of Worshipful Master Daniel C. McArthur.

The chief speaker at the meeting was the district deputy who spoke to the members on the work of the grand lodge and the children's hospital grant which the brethren are making.

Rev. Thompson of the Centennial Methodist Church also spoke giving an address on "Canada and the Future."

Mr. Thompson spoke of the race future that lay before a race, the Canadians who possessed all the admirable traits of the English, Irish and Scotch.

Making Payment.
The taxpayer must now decide whether he will pay the full amount when he files his return or whether he will pay it in installments of 25%.

If he chooses to pay in the date of his declaration, the amount he is forwarding, and place his signature at the bottom of the page. Where possible payment should be made by check or money order, indicating clearly whose tax is being paid.

Separate checks should be sent with each individual return. If the London Restaurant Company decides to pay the taxes of all its employees, and sends in a check for that purpose, they should indicate clearly how much of the payment is to be credited to each taxpayer.

Otherwise, the London Restaurant Company will be credited with the total amount, and the various taxpayers will be billed for their individual taxes in due course.

Partnerships are not taxed. If a partnership check is received, information should be forthcoming as to how much of the payment should be credited to each partner. The income tax act refers to individuals and corporations, and all payments made should be clearly identified as "payment on account" of some individual or corporation.

If Jones, Limited, sends in a check in payment of taxes other than for the limited company, it must be clearly indicated for whose tax the payment is intended.

If remittances are made by money order, it should be clearly shown or explained to the postmaster, bank or express company issuing the same, for whose payment the order is intended, no matter by whom drawn.

Individuals in business trading under a name other than their own must file under their own name. If John Smith is trading under the name of J. Smith & Co., he files as John Smith, and the check should clearly indicate that payment is on account of the tax of John Smith.

If Mrs. Anna Shaw is the owner of a business known as the Chatham Clothing Company, the return is to be made in the name of Anna Shaw and any installment payments or correspondence should be made in the name of Anna Shaw.

While February was set as the probable date for the opening of the Victoria school, it is now problematical as to whether plans will be carried out as expected.

At the last meeting of No. 2 committee the question of a report was left to Trustee Rice, chairman of the committee and at that time Trustee Silverwood asked questions regarding the floors and the origin of the lumber used.

He cautioned the officials to make sure before the school was finally accepted from the contractors.

OUTLINE PLANS TO AID CITY CHILD'S WELFARE
The committee appointed to consider the proposed general conference of all city organizations engaged in child welfare work met on Monday evening, Feb. 13, at the Victoria school. A program was outlined for submission to the general committee meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 20, at the Victoria school. The suggestion was made that representatives from each organization in the city actively engaged in child welfare work to speak on various phases of the work, and a general discussion of each topic to place.

"DEAD" BOY WAKES UP
ROME, Italy.—Rocco Cesari, 5, of Pizzo, was declared dead by a physician who duly signed the death certificate. Seventeen hours later, while the mother was giving her a last kiss, he opened his eyes.

On Thursday morning Trustees A. E. Silverwood opened his inquiry to ascertain definitely as to this question and on Thursday afternoon he applied for a copy of the original specifications of the school in question.

"I am not sure," Trustee Silverwood explained, "whether this lumber comes from the same source as that which was used in the new collegiate institute, but I intend to find out. It may be that it is of the same grade, and if such is the case it will certainly raise a controversial question on the board. I am asking for a copy of the specifications of the school this afternoon as I will need it for private investigation of my own."

INGERSOLL CLUB TO MEET IN CITY
Will Attend Joint Luncheon With London Kiwanians.

Friday will be Ingersoll Day at the London Kiwanis Club. At the Teacup House at 12:15 the Kiwanis Club of Ingersoll and London will hold a joint luncheon, the Ingersoll Kiwanis providing the entertainment. Vern Buchanan of the Ingersoll club will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Buchanan is well known to the London members and a worthwhile address is anticipated. Accompanying the Ingersoll Kiwanis on their trip to London will be three kinds of curlers and their hockey team.

At the Thistle Club at 3 o'clock, and at the Westminster rink at the same hour hockey and curling tournaments will be staged between the London and the visiting club.

Thursday, Feb. 23, will be "Ladies' Night" with the Kiwanians of the city. On that night they will dine in the Teacup House, and hear Capt. C. E. Jenkins of Brantford, and also take part in the enjoyment of frolic and fun to be dispensed there that has been arranged by the program committee. Members are urged to make a one hundred per cent attendance at the Friday luncheon and the hockey and curling scheduled to follow. Those who are unable to participate in the sport are requested to range themselves along the side lines and act as rooters.

Police Find Empty Bag After Robbers Escape in Large Auto.

Special to London Advertiser. WINDSOR, Feb. 15.—Held up by two armed bandits on the Tecumseh road, nine miles west of here, at 10 o'clock tonight, Irby Jacobs, Tecumseh postmaster, was forced to hand over a mail-bag containing $6,100, which he was taking to the G. T. R. depot.

The money represented the total taxes collected in Sandwich this week.

Jacobs and his wife had just locked up the postoffice in the village a short time prior to the robbery, and head, then seized the mail-bag from

Take Shackleton's Body To Antarctic Isle.

MONTEVIDEO, Feb. 15.—Funeral guns boomed in Montevideo today as the body of Sir Ernest Shackleton, noted British explorer, was carried aboard the British steamer Woodville, which will take the dead explorer on his last voyage into Antarctic seas.

Salutes were again fired as the ship, with the Union Jack flying at half-mast, shortly after noon passed into the harbor, where she will remain until tomorrow before starting on the ten-day voyage to the island of South Georgia, where the explorer died on Jan. 5, and where, in accordance with the wishes of Lady Shackleton, his body will be buried.

they were but 200 yards from the station when two men leaped from a ditch at the side of the road and halted the horse Jacobs was driving. While one bandit held the horse, the other pointed a revolver at Jacobs and his wife and forced them to get out of the buggy. Then the two highwaymen ordered them to keep their hands above their heads and walk back toward the postoffice. The bandit who held the horse's head, then seized the mail-bag from Elect New Officers At Annual Convention in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—Strong exception to the restrictions of legitimate business activities by what was termed paternal and meddlesome legislation, was voiced in a series of resolutions adopted at today's concluding session of the annual convention of the Ontario Retail Clothing Merchants' Association.

Under the heading "Any Suggestion to Investigate Retail Merchants' Profits by the Government Should be Watched," the convention went on record as declaring that the experience of the board of commerce "has taught us that every attempt of this kind has been for the purpose of holding up the retail merchant to view, and ridicule him, so as to take away the attention of the masses from the other classes."

Declaring that minimum wage legislation was of a meddlesome and paternal character, and that the government has no right to interfere with the operation of a private industry, the convention directed that its executive consider asking the trade from the operation for the minimum wage law.

The section endorsed the holding of an annual textile and fashion show by the textile manufacturers.

The following officers were elected: President, R. F. Fitzpatrick, Toronto; first vice-president, J. C. Begg, Hamilton; second vice-president, George Grey, Chatham; third vice-president, Don Johnson, Ottawa.

C. P. R. BATTLES RATE CUT PLEA

Denies Schedules Discriminate Against Province of British Columbia.

LANIGAN STILL ON STAND

Declares Road Has Not Made "2 Per Cent Reasonable Surplus."

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press).—Denying that there had been any discrimination against the province of British Columbia, or that the freight rates as at present in effect were unfair or unreasonable, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company began its opposition today to the application of British Columbia's attorney-general for an equalization of rates.

W. B. Lanigan, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, who was on the stand during the whole of the first day's hearing, said in effect that the British Columbia application asked that the mountains be levelled, or, on the drawing up of rate schedules, that they be treated as non-existent.

The Canadian Pacific Railway asked dismissal of the application, claiming that its present rates had been applied only after careful investigation and approval by the board of railway commissioners.

Lanigan on Stand. Mr. Lanigan was still on the stand at adjournment this evening, and his examination will continue tomorrow morning.

Lawyers from all parts of the dominion are taking part in the hearing, which promises to last for several days.

At the opening the C. P. R. filed its answer to the application, denying that its rates were unreasonable or discriminatory, but that they had been approved by the board after hearings in 1904 and 1909.

Counsel for the C. P. R. submitted that their rates were affected by water competition to the Atlantic seaboard. The British Columbia case, it was also contended, rested partly on the Connaught tunnel, which was a C. P. R. improvement.

The C. P. R. memorandum submitted that the complaint of the attorney-general of British Columbia should be dismissed and the general structure of rates maintained.

Mr. Lanigan, of the C. P. R., giving evidence, quoted the judgment in the western rate case of 1914, and said the board then found that "any industrial enterprise has a right to a reasonable surplus over and above the fixed charges and dividends," this reasonable surplus being placed at 2 per cent.

Cites Small Earnings. Witness declared that the C. P. R. had not made 2 per cent from 1917 to the present. In 1917, he said, the actual cash investment of the C. P. R. was $14,393,395. The net revenue was $44,577,336, and the surplus $12,420,918. The return on investment he placed at 5.473 per cent and the surplus represented 1.525 per cent on cash investment.

These figures were exclusive of hotels, steamship, telegraph lines and news department.

The 1918 figures showed a surplus of $2,203,621, and a return on investment of 4.172 per cent. The surplus, which was subject to still further reduction by reason of dominion government taxation, amounted to only twenty-seven one-hundredths of 1 per cent on the cash investment, Mr. Lanigan declared.

Dealing with 1919, Mr. Lanigan said the total investment was then $28,221,727. The return on investment had been 4.078 per cent and the surplus one-tenth of 1 per cent.

Senator McCoig's Idea.

SENATOR McCOIG, in addressing the Liberals of West Elgin at Dutton, referred to senate reform. This is rather unusual, for most men in public life of senate reform before they become senators. SENATOR McCOIG recognizes that the senate is part and parcel of our system of government, and that, if it is going to render service to the people in keeping with the money they are paying for it, the senate must get more in touch with the world of today.

The agricultural interests of the country feel quite keenly on this point, for it is a fact that they have been overlooked in the appointments made to the senate, with the result that there are few men in that body today who are closely in touch with the situation the farmer has to face. This being the case, it is only natural to suppose that the agriculturalists, as a whole, should look upon the senate as something for which they pay, but from which they expect very little in the way of service.

SENATOR McCOIG, if we mistake not, would like to see the senate made more of a business proposition, place it in closer contact with the people, and perhaps do something to limit the length of appointments to that body.

It is fair to assume that SENATOR McCOIG regards an appointment to the senate in a light somewhat akin to that of a judge, for the senators are called upon to judge or pass on the legislation that is put through the Commons. A judge serves for a number of years, according to his age, when he becomes retired. It is not likely that SENATOR McCOIG is going to propose anything that will bring into existence another pension list in this country, nor do we know that he has any plan embodying an alternative course. It would cause no surprise, though, were he to make some move by way of a resolution, looking to something more definite in the way of appointment and service in the Senate.

Some of the members of that body have given a shameful service for the money they drew from the people of the Dominion. By so doing they have brought the whole senate into disfavor in many sections. SENATOR McCOIG has always shown a wholesome fearlessness in anything he started out to do. If he can carry his crusading spirit to the senate chamber with him and keep it burning, he is entering a big field for reform, because senate reform from within is a subject that has not been very much exploited.

Provincial Bonds.

THE VERY apparent purpose of the campaign now being carried on from Toronto is to force this province into a tremendous electrification of railroads policy.

The DUKY government is being splendidly mauled because it has failed to show signs of being forced into a line of action, the wisdom of which it falls to see, and the financing of which by the province is not considered sound or advisable by very competent businessmen who have gone thoroughly into the matter.

The point is made many times by radical advocates that the whole scheme is a municipal proposition, and that the municipalities, being liable, should be able to do as they pleased in the matter.

The municipalities vote on the bylaws, to be true, but after all that does not finance the scheme. Were this all there is to the plan the bonds for raising the money could never be sold, because no person would buy them. A Toronto investment house, listing what it has to offer, mentions this:

"Province of Ontario guaranteeing hydro-electric commission 6 per cent bonds. . . ."

When it comes to the all-important point of selling the bonds the whole thing becomes one of provincial responsibility, and right there is the very important reason why the government should not be stampeded into any wholesale plan entailing the expenditure of millions in a doubtful proposition.

Back To Farming.

MIDDLESEX County and the district adjoining London is becoming increasingly important as a farming centre. This is borne out by the fact that within the last three weeks numerous graduates of the O. A. C. and other agricultural colleges have come to London, with a view to buying farms in this vicinity.

These O. A. C. men as a rule have been in the employ of either the Dominion or Ontario government, and in the course of their work have been over the greater part of agricultural Canada. They have had a chance to see how farming is carried on in every province, and have not been slow to add to their experience. They have looked over scores of farms in the course of their travels, and it is a significant fact that when they are finally ready to "go back to the land" that they should come to London and look for farms in Westminster and London Townships.

Only this week the editor of one of the most influential of farm weeklies, a graduate of the O. A. C., and a practical farmer in every sense of the word, visited the office of the local agricultural representative, asking for information on some valuable farm properties close to the city. He has made a close study of farm and market conditions, and is satisfied that Middlesex is about the best county in the province, and that London and Western Ontario markets are pretty hard to beat.

Saving Children.

WHEN MEN, women and children are starving to death we have no business to waste time discussing the causes.

After we have done our best then we shall be justified in probing into causes and telling these people what we think of them and their methods. A Canadian committee, working under the comprehensive name "Save the Children Fund," is organized at Ottawa to deal with Russian famine conditions, especially reported against the financial feasibility of them. Not only were the traffic and operating experts supplied with all material that had been given to the commission before their appearance, but they were taken over the proposed lines, and several of these experts were familiar with the country as Mr. ARNOLD, mentioned by the chairman several times, who had his assistants make the investigation, and from these made his report, deeming the time he spent on the ground quite sufficient, with his great experience, to arrive at his conclusions. The chairman is therefore mistaken in stating that Mr. COEM was brought in as an expert to report on the proposed radicals. He was brought in to give the experience of the interurban lines at Cleveland, of which he was president, and which had common factors, in our estimation, with some of the proposed radicals.

The Brantford Expositor is inclined to the view that PREMIER DUKY's stand, in accepting the report, which was unfavorable to hydro radial extension, is right and proper. The Expositor points out that "the citizens of Ontario are strong supporters of the general development of the hydro-electric system. They realize that it has brought the benefits of hydro-electric power within the reach of the vast majority of the people. When the system is further extended by local transmission lines it will be a still greater public service. But the people of Ontario, outside the districts vitally interested in these projected radial lines, are by no means convinced that they can be made financially profitable and not a burden upon the province. For this reason the DUKY government will be supported in its present attitude until the evidence is overwhelming that the roads can be successfully operated as a financial investment."

Canada needs leadership, writes a very earnest editor. Surely, And Canada needs some followers to give a leader a chance. Since we've developed the idea of getting up on our hind legs and kicking political leadership is a much bigger job than it used to be.

The editor of the St. Catharines Standard is in high glee. He has read that the National Council of Women are asking for legislation that entitles a wife to half the husband's income. He smiles to think what a relief after having for years handed over the whole week's takings with the seal unbroken.

The Montreal Gazette discusses at some length "Women in the Pulpit," basing its remarks on a recent service in the East End Methodist Church, taken entirely by women. The Gazette man is over-cautious in his remarks, and saves his hide by remarking: "Without expressing an opinion in favor, or the reverse. . . ."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation has an interesting way of stating a case. Referring to labor values in various countries, he estimates that an ounce of gold today buys the labor of an American workman for 17 hours. The same ounce of gold buys 50 hours of labor in England, 96 hours in Japan, 117 hours in France and 202 hours in Germany.

Retailers claim they are not holding up prices, and that the reductions they get in prices are being passed on to the consumer. It would be a popular course to ride the merchants and tell consumers that they were being robbed. Facts are against this, though. Competition is too keen in nearly every line to permit merchants to hold up prices. Selling is the very life of their business. They must sell in order to keep turning stock into money, and right now every merchant knows that price is a big factor in business.

Now that HEARST papers are running advertising matter in Canadian papers, appealing for a moderation of Canadian sentiment in their favor, it is well to look over what one of the Great United States papers has to say of the HEARST outfit. The Los Angeles Times has the following:

"There is no more horrible chapter in the history of the Great War than that which deals with the sinking of merchant vessels of neutral nations without warning by German submarines. No more cruel and heartless method of making war has ever been practiced. The sinking of the Lusitania will remain as one of the most atrocious acts recorded in history, although it was applauded by a group in our own country at the time. It will be recalled that the HEARST papers reported it as a praiseworthy strategic feat on the part of the Germans."

It's pronounced - kaw-ro-nay-shun with accent on the third syllable.

It means-crowning, giving one sovereign authority, the ceremony of raising one to high rank. It comes from-Latin "corona," crown.

It's used like this-"The coronation of Cardinal Ratti as pope will take place soon."

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL

DIGESTION

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

GOOD flow of healthy gastric juice depends upon many factors. Regularity in times of meals is one of the greatest. A lot of people are careless in this respect and consequently good food is often blamed for poor digestion when it was really a broken schedule that caused the upset.

Efficient mastication is another factor in putting the stomach in a good humor to receive food, and in sending the food down in such a shape as to be taken care of with ease.

The pleasant sensations from the sight, smell, and taste of food not only make the mouth water, but the stomach as well. Some foods stimulate a flow of gastric juice aside from any pleasant sensations they may produce and are of great value when the appetite fails or when for some reason the stomach's responses to food are weak.

Water is such a food and may be taken a few minutes before or at the beginning of a meal with positive stimulating effects.

The most efficient gastric stimulants are those substances which give flavor to meats; hence the advantage of meat early in the meal. It is also well to begin a meal with soups containing extracts of meat, as bouillon, consommé, and other kinds with meat stock as a foundation, when the stomach responses are feeble.

In this fact we find the chief reason for beef broth for invalids, but since beef broth itself has little if any fuel value, it could be accompanied with some real food which it will help to digest.

The state of mind is another factor affecting the flow of gastric juice. A general nervous state is very quickly reflected in the stomach.

A successful tea-meeting marked the close of the first anniversary services of Askin Street Methodist Church since the extensive improvements to the edifice.

The credit for the tea is due to the following: Mesdames (Rev.) R. Hobbs, Cottam (president of the Ladies' Aid), Johnson, Mitchell, Thompson, Kewell, Lucas, Bonser, Westcott, McTaggart, Cooper, Deacon, Caldwell, Nash, Ye, McFarlane, and Richter.

The subsequent program included speeches from Rev. Dr. Daniel, Rev. W. M. Walker and Rev. Geo. Jackson. This was followed by a choice musical program, including an anthem by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Fred Simpson, the solo, Miss Golding; quartet, Messrs. Griffiths and Adams and Misses Land and Golding.

Rev. Mr. Hobbs expressed regret at the absence of the following gentlemen expected to be present: Rev. Mr. Leggett, J. G. Stuart and Rev. Mr. Baker of Chatham.

A very interesting game of hockey was played on Blackfriars rink Saturday forenoon between the Asylum Junior Hockey Club, resulting in favor of the former by 5 goals to 1. Rob. W. Bucke acted as captain for the asylum boys and Harry Underwood for the choir boys.

Mr. Fetherston, city, gave an organ recital in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Wlarton, the other evening, which was well attended.

A good program has been arranged for the meeting of the Catholic Club on Friday night. A debate on the proposition, "Resolved, that the city of London would be better governed by three paid commissioners than by the system now in vogue," will be discussed by Messrs. John W. Pocock, and James Ward, who will support the affirmative side, and the negative by J. McDougall and D. A. Dibbs. Music and recitations will be given by Misses K. and N. Moore, Messrs. Redmond, McCarthy and LeBel.

The quarterly rally of the Methodist Young People's Union was held last evening in the Wellington Street Methodist Church. The president, Mr. Wm. Jeffrey, occupied the chair after singing a hymn, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Harris. Mr. Jeffrey arose and announced the first speaker, Rev. H. J. Uren. After another hymn, Rev. C. Atkins of Ingersoll was introduced and gave an interesting address.

The annual meeting of London Lodge of Perfection 14 degrees, A. and A. Scottish Rite, was held in their rooms last evening at the Masonic Temple, the I. P. G. M., Ill. Bro. Alex. Findlay, 32, presiding, and members in attendance from Woodstock, St. Thomas, West Lorne and other places. After routine business the following officers were elected for 1897: I. B. G. M., Ill. Bro. A. B. Munson, 30; S. G. W., P. E. A. G. McWhinney, 18 degrees; J. G. W., Bro. S. W. D. Broderick, 14 degrees; G. Sec. P. Pr. J. Callard, 18; Treas., Ill. Bro. R. B. Hungerford, 32; G. Orator, Bro. A. READ YOUR CHARACTER

(By Digby Phillips.)

NO. 128-THE FULL, ROUND, STRONG VOICE.

The full, round, strong voice is usually, as perhaps you have noticed, also a cheerful voice.

It is not the voice of the dreamer, or the abstract thinker. It is not the voice of the aggressive man or woman, of the person whose pent-up impatience and energy demand an outlet for relief.

It is the voice of a practical individual, who can become energetic upon occasion, but always consciously for the purpose of accomplishing some practical, beneficial end.

Women of this type don't undertake vigorous house-cleaning to relieve their energies. They do it for the purpose of getting the house clean, and don't do it any oftener than is really necessary for that purpose. As a result of this temperamental don't play golf because they take a sturdy delight in "whamming" the ball as far as they can, but because the game "sets them up" physically and mentally. In youth they may be energetic as a result of the example and emulation of youth around them, but in more settled years they do not, for instance, take to anything as violent as horseback riding. They find the automobile much handier and more comfortable.

And just as they are capable of being energetic physically, for a purpose, they are usually capable of pushing their mental work when necessary, but not otherwise. And they become aggressive when the prize is worth fighting for, and fighting is the method which promises the most success. Of all physical classifications they are the least susceptible to disease, because on the average they are strong constitutionally, though in many cases not muscularly.

TO THE EDITOR

GLASS HOUSES AND STONES.

Editor Advertiser:

Sir,-Kindly permit me to call attention to some modern instances that illustrate the wisdom of the old saw about "those who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Pastor Bingham quotes from near the end of the Apocalypse of John to prove that Revelation has ceased, forgetting that an exactly similar quotation is found near the end of the book we call Deuteronomy, and if one quotation proves his contention then the other wipes out nearly the whole of our Bible books, and leaves him nothing to go ahead on to prove anything with that he prizes.

Elder Jensen refers to some testimony which is contradicted by many persons, some of them "Apostates" who proved their position by getting out of what they say is a delusion at the sacrifice of all they had in the world outside of their lives; forgetting that all he claims for the people in Utah that are of his persuasion has been said and can not be contradicted in favor of the Moors of Granada; if his evidence proves that Joseph Smith was divinely authorized, a better proof than the evidence proves that Mohammed had equal or better authority and leaves him between two stools, to sit on the floor.

Friend Lush takes issue with De Valera's expression about being a British subject, and refers to that no more; does refer to the honor of being a British citizen or of British nationality, which is a totally different matter. He refers to the history of the Spaniards, forgetting that British or English history is almost exactly a duplicate of it; from the treachery of Hengist to Vortigern and the Kentish people down to the present when the dealings of politicians in Britain is about on a par with their treatment of the French in their treatment of the French who helped win the war and are losing the peace, just as the Kentish people helped win their war and lost their peace. I have a harder criticism on De Valera than Lush stated. I am satisfied that he is a grafter that has less regard for streams of blood and tears in Erin than he has for the streams of cash that come from foolish zealots in other countries, a man who will sell the bones of Irish people if he can collect the cash himself.

All of which goes to prove that it is wise to think of our own houses before we throw rocks at the houses of our neighbors.

Yours respectfully, JAMES W. EASTON.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL.

Editor Advertiser:

Sir,-During the past few years there have been advocates for the consolidated schools. Among the reasons given was the depopulated condition of the rural districts and the small attendance. There has almost everywhere been a slogan, "Scrap the little red school house," the only convenient facility of rural education.

On the other hand, the United Farmer movement is trying to bring about conditions that rural districts will have a tendency toward repopulation. Do the advocates of the consolidated schools ever expect there will be an increase in rural population? Do they realize the little red school has in the past accommodated two and a half times the present attendance, judging by local conditions?

They must know that some of the greatest men of Canada received in the little red school the foundation of their education from a teacher with a model school certificate.

Lastly, but not least, comes the cry, "Inefficient teacher," and a two-year normal course at least. In my opinion, the outcome of the present educational advocates will locate all our rural educational facilities in the towns and villages, and in the suburbs of the cities, and put the teaching profession into the hands of the few.

LEGAL QUERIES

Dear Sir,-May I ask through the Question Column of your paper the law in regards to hens roaming at large, even after or before gardens are planted? If the owners are notified to keep them shut in and fail to do so, what is the most legal way to compel them to do so, and can they be compelled to keep them in all the year round?

Ans.-Yes. Lay an information in the police court.

NOT THE ONLY ONE.

Mike met his friend Pat in the pub on the corner.

"I've been sacked, Pat," he said dolefully.

"When what'll ye do, Mike, questioned Pat.

"I'll just go back to my former job," remarked Mike.

"And what was that?"

"Lookin' for work, begorra!"

THE DESIRED EFFECT.

Doctor - "Did that medicine straighten your husband out all right?"

Wife (joyfully) - "Yes, we buried him yesterday."

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millersdale, Sask., writes: "I feel that I must write to you before another day passes, I am so happy and so grateful to your special medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better."

"I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die. In fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks."

"This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken. However, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout."

"I am nearly seventy years of age, and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework."

"You may use this letter if you wish, as it may be of some help to others as well as as happy as I am."

SOCIETY and NEWS of INTEREST to WOMEN

RE-ELECT FORMER BOARD OF Y.W.C.A.

Directors Choose Mrs. Donald McLean As First Vice-President.

At the annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board, held at Lennox, Wednesday afternoon, the following officers were re-elected, with the exception of Mrs. Donald McLean, who was elected as first vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the departure from the city of Mrs. Archibald Graham: President, Mrs. C. B. King; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Cameron; treasurer, Mrs. W. M. Bruce; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Angus Graham; second vice-president, Mrs. D. G. Westland; third vice-president, Mrs. Alex. Calder; fourth vice-president, Mrs. C. Glass.

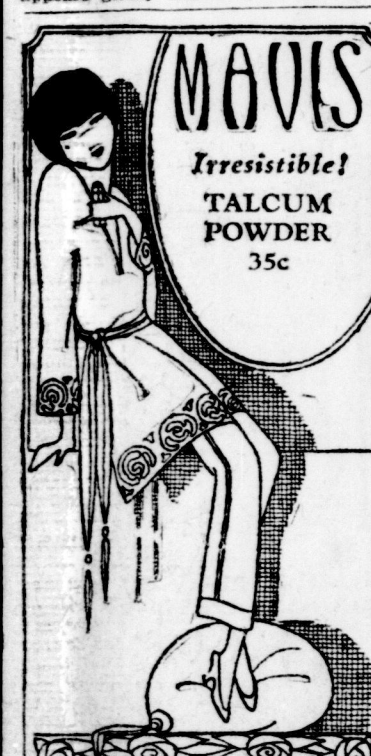

Mrs. Frank Glass opened the meeting with religious exercises. Much regret was expressed by the members owing to Mrs. Graham leaving the city. Mrs. Graham has been indefatigable in her work for the organization, having accepted the office of vice-president for four years ago, and also acting as convener of the house committee.

Acting upon the recommendation of the finance committee, the board passed a resolution that the insurance be increased on the property. An interesting report of the traveling aid committee was given by Mrs. Rowe, which showed that 400 cases had been cared for during the past month. The need of a transient home was emphasized, where girls who appeal to the Y. W. C. A. for protection could be harbored, this home to be run under the jurisdiction of the Y. W. C. A.

Chic Hats For Medium Height

BY MARIAN HALE.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The coolie hat, a Marie Louise design, is an interesting variation of "just hat." The queer pointed crown which begins at the edge of the brim is of shimmering beautiful silver cloth and gracefully draped with peacock feathers.

Such a crown, however, is a dangerous thing for the girl who is either above or below medium height. The too tall girl will find her height greatly emphasized by the wearing of pointed crowns, while the really short girl is apparently shortened by the spreading sides of the crown. Only the girl who strikes, in height, that happy medium can successfully wear a coolie hat.

The hat is lined with metallic cloth in soft blue.

The flowing veil, which is quite an important part of the new spring hat, is black embroidered in gold.

WITH THE BRIDES

PATTERSON—DIXON.

A quiet wedding took place Friday, Feb. 10, when Ethel Dixon was married to George W. Patterson, Rev. W. L. Armitage officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will reside in London.

DE JAUSSEURAND—ARNEY.

A pretty wedding took place at St. James' Church at 10 o'clock on Wednesday, when Emily Arney was married to Harold E. De Jausseurand, Rev. W. L. Armitage officiating. Mr. and Mrs. De Jausseurand left on a honeymoon which will be spent in Hamilton and Buffalo.

PINKHAM—FOLEY.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, Feb. 14, when Margaret Foley was married to Wilfred James Pinkham, both of this city, Rev. A. C. Bingham officiating. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Adair. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham will reside in London.

SANDFORD—TRAVERS.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson, Adelaide street, was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday evening, the 14th, when their niece, Miss Freida Thompson Travers, was married to Mr. James Sandford of this city. Rev. Dr. McCrae performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Following the ceremony a dainty buffet supper was served. The young couple will take up their residence in their pretty new home at 723 Adelaide street.

COULSON—DAY.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 at the home of the bride's parents, York street, when Irene Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Day, was married to Mr. Jerry Coulson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Coulson, Horton street, Rev. Canon Gunne officiating. The bride, looked charming in her lovely wedding gown of ivory satin, trimmed with chintilly lace and pearls, and the wedding veil caught with orange blossoms and a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The wedding march was played by Miss silver, artistically decorated with spring flowers, and the ceremony took place under a bell of white flowers. Miss Monte Helene Day was her sister's bridesmaid, and was gown in orchid canton crepe and carried Ophelia roses. Mr. James H. Day was the best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a dainty buffet luncheon served. The bride's mother was gown in black chamoise and wore a corsage of Richmond roses, and Mrs. Coulson, mother of the groom, wore a becoming gown of black satin. Mr. and Mrs. Coulson left on a honeymoon, which will be spent in New York, the bride traveling in a smart gown of navy canton crepe, a baronette satin hat to match and a lovely seal coat, the gift of the groom. Upon their return they will reside in London. The groom's gift to the bride was a jewel case, to the pianist, a bar-pin, and to the best man, a pearl tiepin. Guests were present from Burford, Brantford and Toronto.

AN OLD-FASHIONED TEA.
The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church put on an old-fashioned tea meeting in the town hall, Wardsville, last night. Mr. P. J. McGregor introduced a splendid program, consisting of musical quartets, recitations and an address by Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ellwood, William and Miss Atkinson, Misses Nellie Jackson and Beatrice McDonald, Wattle Quigley, Mrs. Arthur Wilson, J. A. Faulstich, and an address by Rev. Dr. Huser. A dainty supper was served by the ladies' aid.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

A BREEZE FROM THE SOUTH.

Dear Miss Grey and Boxites.—Just a long-distance call from far-off California to ask how you all are faring in the east.

I am spending a few months in California, and thought perhaps the Boxites would like to hear about the San Joaquin Valley, which is a tract of country of large extent, lying between the Sierra Nevada Mountains and the Coast Range.

Of course, most of the leaves are off the trees and vines now, but just imagine one vast expanse of grape vines and orchards stretching away as far as the eye can reach. Overhead the blue sky, and in the distance to the east the foothills and snow-capped mountains of the Sierra Nevada.

California is a very large state, and a great variety of climate may be experienced within its limits. Just as in Ontario, it is much colder in some parts than in others.

California is a very fine state, and I would much prefer it to any of the middle west states which I have seen, but I still think that Ontario can hold its own with most places, and I have not seen so beautiful a river as the St. Clair since leaving Canada. Here peaches, apricots, figs, nectarines, olives and oranges are grown, and especially grapes. The latter are mostly dried and shipped as raisins.

When you see Fresno on a package of raisins you will know it came from the San Joaquin Valley. Packing the raisins into cartons gives the women and girls here plenty of work, also the other kinds of fruit in their season.

A great many Japs and Mexicans are employed in the vineyards and groves. An occasional Hindu or a Chinese woman wearing trousers may be seen on the streets here.

Being away I didn't hear how much the quilt brought, but I hope a goodly sum, and I hope the Boxites are all well and enjoying themselves.

I hope to be back home in good old Lambton before long, and will sign myself as of old

MOLLY MAGUIRE.

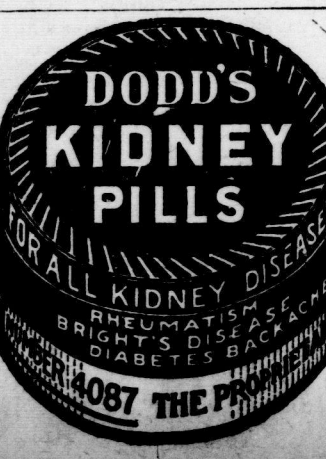

It is sweet of you to remember us all and think enough of us to write and tell about your visit. Your letter is like a warm breath in the Mail-Box, as we are experiencing quite cool weather just now.

PEACH SENDS WORDS.

Dear Miss Grey.—We are taking The Advertiser, and like it fine. I saw where Miss E. O. was asking for the words of a song, which I am sending, and hope it is the right one. Will you please send me the words of "Let the Rest of the World Go By"? I will send a mite next time.

PEACH.

Am mailing you the words asked for, Peach, and thanks for filling Miss E. O.'s address. We will be pleased to hear from you again sometime, Peach.

Personals

Miss Pearl Williams, of Toronto, is a guest with Mrs. W. Jones, Waterloo street.

Mrs. A. Berryhill, of Port Hope, formerly of London, is spending a few days in London, the guest of Mrs. V. L. Mallough, 50 Hydro street.

The many friends of Mrs. John Tarry, Grosvenor street, will be pleased to hear that she is recovering after undergoing a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Nigh, Belmont, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Ina May, to Orville W. Bowes, Delmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bowes, Avon, the marriage to take place quietly, Feb. 28.

Mrs. Fred Phelps was a tea hostess Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of Miss Beatrice Seaborn. The tea table was attractive with sweet peas, tastefully arranged, and was presided over by Mrs. Ernest Marshall.

Mr. Stanley Meredith is entertaining at a dinner party Friday evening previous to the Drama League ball, taking his guests on later to the dance. The guests will include Col. and Mrs. Ibbotson Leonard, Miss Gibbons, Major Mortimore, Mrs. Becher, Mr. Gallow and Miss Margaret Glass.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church entertained at a musicale and tea Tuesday afternoon in the Sunday school. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. R. Roope and Mrs. Emerson Nichols at a table attractive with crimson tulips and centered with a silver candelabra. The guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. D. A. Curle; Mrs. D. C. MacGregor, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris and Mrs. Nelson George. During the afternoon a charming musical program was given, the artists including Mrs. Robert Durst, Mrs. Palmer Smith, Miss Frances Cullis and Miss Gertrude Morgan.

A well-attended and charming affair of Tuesday was the silver tea given by the Women's Association of Knox Church, in the Sunday school room. Valentine decorations were used, with spring blooms and tall red candles decking the tea table. The guests were received by Mrs. T. A. Symington, Mrs. J. Ferguson and Miss Ferguson, and the tea table was presided over by Mrs. John Stevenson and Mrs. J. M. McEvoy. A bright

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

An interesting costume.

3540-3523.—Effective and youthful is this smartly fashioned model, with its simple and artistic lines, and comfortable new sleeve. One could wear the blouse with any "slip" or foundation skirt. As here shown it is combined with a smart two-piece skirt. As illustrated, the blouse may be finished with the fullness held by the belt in straight line effect, or bloused over a sash or girdle of silk or ribbon with loop and ends at the side or a smart bow over the back. Beaded crepe and charmeuse will be attractive for this style. Crepe de chine, tulle, satin, velours and duvetyn are also good.

The blouse, 3540, is cut in seven sizes, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, and 36 inches bust measure. It will require 3 1/2 yards of 40-inch material for a medium size. The skirt, 3523, is cut in seven sizes, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38 inches waist measure. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 1/2 yards. It will require 2 1/2 yards of 44-inch material for a medium size. If desired the blouse may be finished in skirt length, thus forming a very pleasing chemise dress. Any "slip" or skirt may be used in place of the skirt illustrated.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps. Address all pattern orders to Pattern Department.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting of the University Women's Club, which was arranged for Feb. 18, has been postponed until Feb. 25, when it will take the form of a dinner in honor of Dr. A. E. Marty, who will address the club. Every woman graduate of the city, whether or not a member of the club, is invited, and may learn particulars by phoning Mrs. L. P. Shanks, Talbot street.

UNITED CLASSES GIVE SOCIAL.

A delightful valentine social was held in New St. James' schoolroom on Monday evening, when the members of the various organized classes and the Young People's Society united for the occasion. A splendid program of games and songs was much enjoyed. After light refreshments, served by the senior girls, the gathering was brought to a close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

TRINITY CHURCH A. Y. P. A. ENTERTAINS.

The young men of Trinity Church A. Y. P. A. entertained the ladies of the congregation at a valentine party Tuesday evening. Rev. J. Hale opened the evening with a short speech, relating the origin of St. Valentine's Day. A delightful solo was given by Mr. P. Clowes, accompanied by Miss K. Clarke. Games followed, and a dainty supper prepared by the men, in charge of Messrs. B. Clarke, R. Clarke, H. Chambers and Phil Clowes, was served. A toast to the old friends was proposed by the president, Mr. Bruce Clark, and responded to by the hostess, Miss A. Chambers. Following supper a comic sketch was given by Messrs. H. Chambers, P. Clowes, R. Clarke, B. Clarke, J. Clarke and R. Rolfe. The prize guessing contest was won by Miss A. Chambers and Mr. R. Rolfe.

VICTORIA M. C. BAZAAR.

The bazaar given Tuesday, under the auspices of the Victoria Mothers' Club, in the kindergarten room of the school, was most successful, and a large sum was realized to carry on the relief work in the district. Valentine decorations were used throughout, with spring flowers tastefully arranged.

Following the initiation at the 28th annual reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry Wednesday a delightful home was held in the Masonic Temple for their friends and wives. The hall was artistically decorated with flags and foliage, which formed a canopy, and large baskets of flowers were hung from the balcony. The stage was banked with flowers and palms, behind which an orchestra played excellent dance music. A vaudeville act was given early in the evening, also a delightful musical program, which was followed by a vaudeville act. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, and a dainty supper was served in the banquet-room downstairs. The excellent arrangements were due chiefly to the entertainment committee, including Messrs. W. L. Stuart, Bert Kane, A. J. Smith, James Gray, Albert Trick, A. M. Messer and H. C. McBride.

The Straight Girlish Lines Approved by Fashion

To be truly chic, women know they simply must attain the slim, straight lines of the girlish figure, and how to accomplish this without sacrificing health, comfort and digestion!

Nemo Self-Reducing Corsets, for women of medium-full figures, meet the demand for a corset at once healthful, comfortable, durable and stylish.

The Nemo Self-Reducing Straps—slightly tighter than the portion of the corset they cover—afford a constant gentle massage which gradually drives away superfluous flesh, so that eventually the figure becomes permanently smaller and lighter. Other important features combine to make these corsets ideal for reducing the excess fatty tissue which is such a detriment to health.

ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

by JOHN FOX JR.

WHITE ARROW, a boy of 15, escapes from the Shawnee Indians, by whom he has been reared, and takes refuge in a settler's stockade of pre-revolutionary Kentucky. He states that and that his mother, taken prisoner with him, was killed.

The Indians attack the fort, and a Virginian, mortally wounded, recognizes White Arrow as his son. White Arrow's real name is Erskine Dale.

DAVE DANIEL, a pioneer, acts as guardian and sends Erskine to Red Oakes, the great Dale plantation on the River James. Erskine is kindly received by his father's younger brother, COLONEL DALE, and by his cousins, BARBARA and HARRY.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"I wish you'd come along," Barbara laughed.

"I wouldn't like to lose my hair," "I'll watch out for that," said the boy with such confident gravity that Barbara turned to look at him.

"I believe you would," she murmured.

Everybody had gathered for the noon-day dinner when they swung around the great trees and up to the back porch. Just as they were starting in the Kentucky boy gave a cry and darted down the path. A towering figure in coonskin cap and hunter's garb was halted at the sun-dial and looking toward them.

They saw the tall stranger stare wonderingly at the boy and throw back his head and laugh. Then the two came on together. The boy was still flushed, but the hunter's face was grave.

"This is Dave," said the boy simply. "Dave Daniel," added the stranger, smiling and taking off his cap. "I've been to Williamsburg to register some lands, and I thought I'd come and see how this young man is getting along."

Colonel Dale went quickly to meet him with outstretched hand. "That night the sunset of Hugh and Harry going back home with the two Kentuckians was broached to Colonel Dale, and to the wondering delight of the two boys both fathers seemed to consider it favorably."

The boy pined Dave with questions about the people in the wilderness and passed to sleep. Dave lay awake a long time, thinking that he was sure to see him. They were Americans now, said Colonel Dale—not Virginians, just as nearly a century later the same people were to say:

"We are not Americans now—we are Virginians."

IT was a merry cavalcade that swung around the great oaks that spring morning in 1774. Two coaches with outriders and postillions led the way—the older ladies in the first coach and the second blossoming with flower-like faces and starred with dancing eyes. Booted and spurred, the gentlemen rode behind, and after them rolled the baggage wagons, drawn by mules in jingling harness. Harry on a chestnut sorrel and the young Kentuckian on a high-stepping grey followed the second coach—Hugh on Firefly clamped the length of the column. Colonel Dale and Dave brought up the rear.

The cavalcade halted before a building with a leaden bust of Sir Walter Raleigh over the main doorway, the old Raleigh Tavern, in the Apollo Room of which Mr. Jefferson had rapidly danced with his Belinda. Both coaches were quickly surrounded by bowing gentlemen, young gallants, and frolicsome students. Dave, the young Kentuckian and Harry would be put up in the tavern, and for his reasons, Hugh elected to stay with them.

Inside the tavern Hugh was soon surrounded by fellow-students. He pressed Dave and the boy to drink, and Dave, who had declined and took the lad up to their room. Below they could hear Hugh's merriment going on, and when Hugh came upstairs a while later his face was flushed. With him came a youth of his own age, with a devilish grin and a suave manner, one Dave Grey, to whom Harry gave scant greeting. One patronizing look from the stranger toward the Kentucky boy, and within the latter a fire of antagonism was instantly kindled. Harry snorted out his explanation:

"Tory."

That morning news came from New England that set the town a-quiver. England's answer to the Boston tea-party had been the closing of Boston harbor. In the House of Burgesses the news was met with a burst of indignation.

Hairs Will Vanish After This Treatment

(Tollit Hairs)
You can keep your arms, neck or face free from hair or fuzz by the occasional use of this cream. It does not irritate the skin, and you need have no fear of marking or injuring the skin. A thick paste is made by mixing some of the powdered delatone with water. Then spread on the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and all traces of hair have vanished. Be careful, however, to get real delatone. —Adv.

INFANTS DELIGHT ITS WHITE TOILET SOAP

Thinks Day of Wireless Phone Is Near At Hand

BY HERWARD CARRINGTON.

ROBABLY the day of the wireless phone is near at hand. Exit "central"—enter "ether" space!

When wireless phones come into practical daily use one of the most delightful things about them will be that there'll be no more "central."

We shall no longer hear the old refrain "I'm ringing your parish," only to be told after half an hour's wait that "the line is busy."

For, if we have wireless phones of our own, the ether of space will be open to us. We shall only have to "tune out" interfering parties in order to reach and talk to anyone we wish—provided the one we're calling is really at home.

What is the mechanism involved in wireless telephony?

First of all, there are two chief varieties of wireless waves—the "damped" and the "undamped." Damped waves die quickly. Undamped waves go on for a long time before they die out.

Until lately most wireless telephone waves have been damped waves. Hence they do not carry far. Undamped waves could not be satisfactorily obtained, as they can be in wireless telegraphy. But with the aid of recent improvements undamped waves are being more and more nearly obtained.

That means that the range of the wireless telephone is getting greater and greater.

The first method tried in attempting to produce undamped waves was the so-called "talking arc," in which the variations in the current were obtained by speech. The actual arc light "talked."

At first it was an uncanny feeling to hear a voice issuing from an arc light—"spooky," in fact.

But now we're used to it. This method still is frequently used for advertising purposes. This is only a small glass globe containing an alternating current dynamo, reaching more than 30,000 revolutions a minute.

These calculated that frequencies of approximately 40,000 a second were necessary to render wireless transmission of speech possible. The dynamo gave that number.

The method devised by Professor Fessenden utilized an alternating current of more than 30,000 cycles a second. No interruptions in the transmitted speech were heard in this system.

Poulsen, on the other hand, employed an electric arc operated in hydrogen gas, thus producing undamped oscillations.

Other devices later were added and greater perfection was made possible. Introduction of the audion was a great help. This is only a small glass globe that looks like an ordinary electric light bulb.

It was exhausted of air and contained a fine coil of wire and a metal plate. That made Marjorie Daw's husband a woman friend. After all, maybe Mary was the matchmaker.

Marshall Neilan selected both Miss Daw and Marjorie for roles in "Penrod." They made love for the movies and found they were making love in reality.

And now it's old shoes and rice for that.

Marjorie Daw was then somewhat of a novice in screen acting. She has since appeared in "The River's End," "Dinty" and "Bob Hamilton of Placer."

Harron's first important engagement was with Mary Pickford in "Through the Back Door."

Miss Pickford told me last summer that Marjorie Daw is her only intimate woman friend. After all, maybe Mary was the matchmaker.

Wireless Marvels

CARRINGTON says:

THAT wireless telephony requires no exchange. THAT when wireless phones become general you can reach anyone anywhere simply by "tuning out" those who interrupt.

Lays 6 Miles of Cable in Mile-a-Minute

A SUCCESSFUL attempt has been made recently in Sweden to lay telegraph and telephone wires from an airplane.

Six miles of cable was laid between two stations separated by woods and rough country. Telegraphic communication was in working order in eight minutes, six of which were consumed in laying the cable.

This new application of the airplane is looked upon as of vast civil, military and naval importance, particularly in districts where there is little, if any, means of communication.

The apparatus used in tests was light in weight, required small space, and could be installed readily in any machine. The wire container was located in the pilot's cockpit, and attached to the wire as it was dropped were small weights and signal flags.

It was found possible to lay cable at a flying rate of over 150 miles an hour.

Reel Romance Is Real One For Marjorie Daw

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The romance of Marjorie Daw and John Harron in "Penrod" should prove to be the greatest love story ever filmed. It was a real one.

I have just received a wire announcing their engagement. The wedding will be early in the spring.

Harron met Miss Daw shortly after he went to California to enter pictures in 1920, following the death of his brother, Robert Harron, a great film favorite.

Marjorie Daw was then somewhat of a novice in screen acting. She has since appeared in "The River's End," "Dinty" and "Bob Hamilton of Placer."

Harron's first important engagement was with Mary Pickford in "Through the Back Door."

Miss Pickford told me last summer that Marjorie Daw is her only intimate woman friend. After all, maybe Mary was the matchmaker.

Marshall Neilan selected both Miss Daw and Marjorie for roles in "Penrod." They made love for the movies and found they were making love in reality.

TO RAISE SEWER SERVICE CHARGE

City Engineer Brazier Proposes Material Increase in Rentals.

Residents of the city who are securing sewer service on the rental basis are going to find their charge materially increased in future, if changes suggested in the bylaw proposed by City Engineer H. A. Brazier are accepted by the city council.

At the present time the bylaw calls for a rental of ten cents a foot. This fee is charged where residents connect up with a sewer adjacent to their property, but on which their property does not front. They are allowed to have service on a basis of ten cents per foot frontage.

The engineer now proposes to charge a rental per foot equal to the cost per foot that is charged to the residents whose property abuts on the sewer.

The proviso is made that in the event of a sewer being laid on the street on which the rent-paying resident lives, he will be allowed a certain rebate in his cost in lieu of the amount previously paid in rent.

Amendments to the bylaw for submission to the council are now being prepared.

DECLINES INVITATION TO DISCUSS RADIALS

Hamilton, Feb. 16.—In reply to the Canadian Club's invitation to speak on hydro radicals, Sir Adam Beck, while thanking the club for the honor says: "I am leaving for the south in a day or two for a holiday with my daughter, who has been ill, and I do not expect to be able to accept any invitations for some time to come, as I will, no doubt, have many pressing matters before me on my return."

TO NAME DELEGATE TO LIBERAL CONVENTION

By Saturday of this week all the delegates from the 36 Western Ontario provincial ridings will have selected their delegates to the Ontario Liberal convention to be held in Toronto March 1 and 2. The meeting of the London Liberals will be held Saturday evening in Hyman Hall at 8 o'clock.

Several of the meetings throughout the country ridings took the form of joint meetings, at which the officers were elected for the year as well as the delegates appointed for the convention.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR RAIL BROTHERHOOD

HOLD BANQUET AT CHALMERS CHURCH

A very successful banquet was held in Chalmers Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening.

W. K. F. Harris of St. Andrew's Church, speaking on the subject of loyalty to the church, drew attention to the manifold opportunities which boys of the present day enjoy as compared with the opportunities of their parents, and urged that they do their utmost to encourage work in the church.

B. Waugh officiated as toastmaster. The toast to the fathers was proposed by Bill Young, and the response by J. A. Eadie; to the sons by Rev. Geo. Young and response by Orval Eadie.

About 20 fathers and sons sat down to the nicely decorated table and enjoyed the splendid supper prepared by the Ladies' Aid of the church.

Appetite Good,
Gained 20 lbs.
Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loversburg, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, fell 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

SHOWS INCREASE OF 218.34 PER CENT IN LAST DECADE

Interesting information on the increased cost of civic government in London has been prepared by City Treasurer James Bell, for perusal by the department heads who have in hand Mayor Wilson's scheme for controlling all legislative matters relating to the municipality by a commission.

Mr. Bell first sets out in tabular form the comparative departmental costs and mill rates for 1915, 1918 and 1921. This shows a jump of ten mills or $948,000 from 1915 to 1921, general taxes being responsible for three mills. The school rate on the same period jumping from 9.130 mills to 14.813 mills.

Outstanding conclusions from the treasurer's figures are the following: From 1911 to 1921, the increase on the council's expense amounted to 163.48 per cent and in the same period the increase in receipts other than taxation was 147.39 per cent.

The increase in expense on schools was 198.18 per cent and the increase in school expense has been 255 per cent. In the same period the tax rate of the city has mounted 68.75 per cent. In the ten years the total increase on the cost of civic government was 218.34 per cent.

Figures showing the increase on the gross debt show that in the ten years the general city total went up

FIND GEORGE CYR GUILTY OF MURDER

Bracebridge Jury Return Verdict After Three-Hour Deliberation.

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont., Feb. 15.—George Cyr, a young French-Canadian, was late tonight found guilty by a jury of the murder of Mrs. Andrew Solave, in the township of Chaffey, nine miles from Huntsville, on Dec. 13, last.

The case was given to the jury at 8 o'clock, and the verdict was returned at 11 o'clock. Mr. Justice Middleton will pronounce sentence later.

The prisoner and his mother were the only witnesses for the defence. Cyr gave the jury a detailed account of all his movements on the day of the shooting, and declared he had not been near the Solave home. He also affirmed he had never owned or carried a revolver in his life.

The crown then produced three witnesses who swore they had seen Cyr with a revolver. Mrs. Cyr declared her son was at home at the time the shooting was said to have taken place.

Cyr was indicted on three counts, namely, shooting and killing George Winters, killing Mrs. Andrew Solave, and shooting Andrew Solave with intent.

Mrs. Solave was found in her home with a bullet wound in her back. The story told by her husband was that on his return home from the bush, accompanied by Winters, they met Cyr coming out of the house with a revolver in his hand, and that Cyr immediately opened fire on them.

Winters later died of his wounds.

SHOOT'S WIFE, MOTHER, THEN ENDS OWN LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—George A. Boden, attorney, shot and killed his wife, Mary Boden, 37 years of age, and her mother, Mrs. Julia Taylor, 66, and then ended his own life today in his wife's home here.

Failure to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who had sued for divorce, was indicated as the cause of the triple tragedy, police say.

BEDARD FACES MURDER TRIAL

Guelph Prisoner Formally Committed To Appear At Assizes Opening Monday.

TURNKEY GIVES EVIDENCE

George Everson Tells His Story of Attack On Governor McNab.

Special to London Advertiser.

GUELPH, Feb. 15.—John Bedard, alleged murderer of Governor John McNab, late of the county jail, was today formally committed for trial at the assizes which will open at the court house on Monday next before Mr. Justice R. W. Meredith. The preliminary hearing was held before Magistrate Watt at the police court, C. W. Bell, K.C., Hamilton, is defending Bedard.

Turnkey George Everson, called as a witness, told the story of going into the corridor a few minutes after 5 o'clock on the evening of Thanksgiving Day with the meal for Bedard, McArdle and Hobson, and with Governor McNab directly behind him. As soon as he got inside of the corridor he was attacked by McArdle, who grabbed him by the throat, and at the same time time Hobson grabbed McNab by the throat and got him backed up against the open door.

Did Not See Blow Struck.

The witness did not see Bedard strike anybody, but he heard Mr. McNab cry out: "Don't kill me." He also stated that as he was getting the better of McArdle the latter called out: "He's got me, boys, slug him," and it was at that time that he received the wounds on his head and cheek from some one, but he could not tell who it was, as his back was turned. He was told later by Mr. McNab that it was "Frenchy," as Bedard was known, who did the slugging.

Mr. Kearns produced the top of the tap which is alleged to have been used by the accused man in doing the "slugging," and he identified it as having come from the opposite corridor, which was occupied by Cook and Wallace. He swore that the cloth with which it was covered came from a sheet or a pillow slip, and that he found several strips of a similar material in Bedard's cell afterwards. He did not find the tap himself, but it was picked up by Mr. McNab soon after the assault took place.

Mr. Everson was very closely cross-examined by Mr. Bell, but he made no change in his story, admitting that he did not see Bedard strike the late governor.

Chief Rae Testifies.

Chief Rae was called, and told of his being present at the bedside of Mr. McNab at St. Joseph's Hospital, when the latter made his dying declaration, and when he said that he could not last much longer. This statement was placed in evidence, and was to the effect that Mr. Mc-

Nab, believing he was about to die, said that he was "slugged" by the accused as he was held by Hobson. This statement was taken on Tuesday afternoon, and death occurred on Thursday.

Two doctors testified their belief that the assault hastened the death of Mr. McNab, though Dr. Lindsay admitted in cross-examination that deceased had been under treatment by him for Bright's disease for some three years, that his weight was not up to normal, and that he was weaker than usual due to kidney trouble, loss of appetite, high blood pressure and other symptoms.

Leaps To Death From Seventh. Story Window of Bank Building

HAMILTON, Feb. 15.—Olive Routledge of Trenton, who came here a week ago from St. Catharines, committed suicide here this afternoon by leaping from the seventh story window of the head office of the Bank of Hamilton on King street.

Her hurrying body, which struck the pavement with a sickening thud, narrowly missed striking pedestrians.

At noon the woman called at Frank Morrison's office, in the Bank of Hamilton Chambers. Mr. Morrison was out, but the caller told his stenographer she wished to see him on legal business and could wait.

While the stenographer's attention was momentarily diverted the woman raised the window, and before the horrified stenographer could halt her, she had stepped onto the ledge and dived head first to the street 140 feet below.

REPORT 10,000 IN REVOLT IN INDIA

BOMBAY, Feb. 15.—Unconfirmed reports reached here today to the effect that the Bhil tribesmen are engaged in an outbreak, fomented by followers of Mohandas K. Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, in the Etawah Jungle district near Godhra.

The Bhils, who have a notorious record for lawlessness, are said to have been incited by the Banias, the merchant class, who exercise considerable influence in this district.
