DIVORCEES CAN'T WED

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 2. — Bishop Theodore N. Morrison, in a circular letter just issued to the clergy and laity of the Iowa Episcopal church, announces that hereafter he will not go behind the record of the courts in divorce cases.

Divorced persons who have secured decrees on any other ground than infidelity are prohibited from marrying again.

The practice of hearing testimony of infidelity at the request of the divorcee who had failed to plead statutory grounds is abolished.

DELEGATES HERE

The Party Sent by the Imperial Government to Tour Through Canada Arrive at Quebec.

Quebec, Oct. 2. — The SS. Lake Champlain, which arrived in port about five o'clock this afternoon, had on board the Boer delegates sent by the Imperial Government, on the advice of Lord Milner, High Commissioner in South Africa, to make a tour of Canada and Australia to study modern ways of farming, stock raising, fruit growing, etc.

The party is composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jooste, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lan, of Klerksdorp, Transvaal, and Mr. Rood, of the Bravelo district, same state. Jooste and Lan were taken prisoners in the Klerksdorp laager at Paardeberg and sent to St. Helena. Rood was a fighter from the beginning to the end. Rood and Lan is an Irishman living in South Africa for more than thirty years. They are well educated and speak good English. They have for their mission the making of observations on our ways of cultivating or farming, to give lectures before their own people all around the new British colonies of South Africa after their return. They are in charge of Capt. Kirkpatrick, of the South African Constabulary, who is accompanied by his wife.

The Boer delegates were met on the arrival of the steamer here by G. F. O'Halloran, deputy minister of agriculture at Ottawa, who will leave with them for Montreal on board the Lake Champlain this evening. At Montreal Mr. O'Halloran will put the party in charge of Mr. Moore, of the same department, who will accompany them around the country.

In response to the request for advice from the different provincial departments of agriculture as to the districts through which they want the Boers shown, the department at Ottawa has been assured of the heartiest co-operation. The departments in Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have all volunteered to send guides to conduct the visitors through the provinces.

DIED IN SOUTH AFRICA

R. Victor Carter, musical director of the Krause Conservatory of Music, last evening received a telegram containing the sad intelligence that his eldest brother, Charles V. Carter, had passed away quite suddenly after a few days' illness at Johannesburg, South Africa.

The deceased gentleman had frequently traveled through this district and his visits had resulted in his forming many warm personal friendships here. He had lived for the past seven years at Johannesburg, where he has been very successful. The news of his demise is particularly sad, coming as it does without any warning, that he was not in the best of health, and three weeks prior to a promised visit to his relatives in this country.

Mr. R. Victor Carter's many Maple City friends extend sincere sympathy to him in his bereavement.

PRAISE CHATHAMITES

The Dresden Times in its account of the recent successful concert in that town, to the program of which several Chathamites contributed, says of them:—

The performers vied with each other in striving to please, and succeeded beyond their expectations, as was amply proven by the fact that each number was heartily applauded, to which each performer graciously responded. The rich contralto voice of Miss F. Stephenson, and the full deep baritone of Horace Davis delighted the audience, while the clear, sweet soprano of Mrs. S. C. Walker and the fully rounded alto of Miss Peate were none the less delightful. Miss Peate also rendered in a very efficient manner several most difficult pieces on the piano, one being a selection from "Il Trovatore." Miss Barassin, elocutionist, gave several readings in her own inimitable manner, and was encored at each appearance. Miss Brackin was accompanist, and easily showed herself master of the art and of the instrument. The Mandolin Club, consisting of the Misses Scott, McLaren, Fleming, and Mrs. Walker, gave pleasing selections on the mandolin and guitar. Miss Scott's solo playing being simply superb. S. C. Walker gave several high-class numbers on the phonograph, each of which was excellent, and we tire program was excellent, and we house should they ever revisit Dresden.

CITY BOARD OF TRADE WILL BANQUET MR. TARTE

Important Meeting Held in the Council Chambers Last Evening—Preparations Completed for the Entertainment.

The Board of Trade held a meeting in the Council Chambers, Harrison Hall, last evening to consider the action of their council in inviting Hon. J. I. Tarte to Chatham and of giving him a banquet in the Garner House while he is here. There were present at the meeting Chairman J. Piggott, Vice-Chairman F. F. Quinn, Secretary Scullard and Messrs. Schofield, McKellar, Cowan, Sheldon, Tilsen, W. Piggott, Woodward, W. A. Hadley, Liston, Morton, Austin and Drader.

The President, Mr. Piggott, reported that he had received a letter from D. A. Gordon, of Wallaceburg, inviting the Chatham Board of Trade to go to Wallaceburg with Mr. Tarte, as the guests of the sugar beet people of that place, and that the Council of the Board of Trade had decided at recent meetings, to accept this generous invitation and also to banquet Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Schofield moved that the action of the council be confirmed by the Board and that the invitation of Mr. Gordon be thankfully accepted. The Board were unanimous in this opinion and many expressed the view that Chatham was indeed fortunate in having a visit from Mr. Tarte, and that the banquet would be a very fitting feature of his visit.

Mr. Schofield, who was chairman of the ticket committee, reported that the tickets were printed. Some of them were distributed among the members who were present. Invitations were got out for 300 people. Mr. Hadley, chairman of the banquet committee, reported that he had interviewed Mr. Eberts, of the Garner House, and presented a bill of fare which the Council had given him. This bill of fare proved satisfactory to the members present and it was decided to hold their banquet at the Garner House.

It was suggested that Mr. Tarte be met at the station by the Regiment and Band and paraded to the Fair Grounds, where he could review the soldiers.

The banquet will be given in the evening and promises to be one of the finest banquets ever given in Chatham. Everything has been arranged for by the Board to give Mr. Tarte a right royal welcome. Some little difficulty was met with as to the hour of the banquet. Mr. Eberts named ten o'clock as the hour, but it is supposed that the banquet will start about nine or half an hour later.

A toast list will be prepared to-day. Mr. Tarte, of course, will be the chief feature on the toast list. About twenty other guests have been invited for the evening. The Regiment Band orchestra will be present in uniform and will provide music. Vocal solos will be given by Dr. Mosson, W. H. Brackin, and others. The Board adjourned until Monday night. The Council of the Board will meet this afternoon at five o'clock and complete arrangements and report again to the Board Monday evening.

Only a limited number of invitations to the banquet will be given out, and those desirous of procuring these should call at once on Mr. Schofield, who is chairman of the ticket committee.

J. C. WEIR,
Secretary-Treasurer.

A communication was read from the Lake Erie Coal & Lumber Co. to the effect that if the Board sold any more coal their contract would immediately stop.

Dr. Bray—I think we are very lucky in having that contract, but the only sale we have made has been a car to the Lake Erie through Tilsen.

Mr. Jones—Mr. Tilsen told me the other day not to sell him any more coal. He has sometimes asked me if I had a spare car down at the water-works and has often got it. A gentleman addressed the Board on behalf of Kenneth Campbell, who is out of town, in regard to the enormous charge on one of Mrs. Campbell's house. He said for the past three months it was ten times what it had been in any previous three months. Dr. Bray—Mischievous boys must have been meddling with it. Mr. Sheldon—49,000 gallons could not have run away that way. Why it would have flooded the place. The matter was left over until next meeting, and in the meantime Mrs. Campbell was advised to get a plumber to investigate the cause of the trouble. Meeting adjourned.

UNDER BRITISH CONTROL

Paris, Oct. 2.—A despatch here from Saigon, capital of French Cochinchina, says:—The Siamese Government has just issued a large quantity of paper money with the assistance of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank. Siamese credit is thus placed under the control of Great Britain.

ARTISTIC PHOTOS

Of all the amateur photographers in this city, T. W. Smythe, perhaps, has been the most successful. He is an enthusiast and his hobby is scenery. In his collection of views he has taken about Chatham are some very pretty pictures. Not only has Mr. Smythe the knack of choosing artistic and beautiful pieces of landscape to photograph, but he takes excellent pictures. One wonders how it is that the beauty of the scene never impressed itself when the original was seen, and an inspection of the place where the picture was taken causes a realization of its beauty. The attractiveness was there all the time, but it had escaped the notice of the casual observer.

FOURTEEN PERISH

Explosion in a Coal Mine—Only one Body Recovered—Eight Others Escaped.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—A despatch from Black Diamond, Washington, says:—Fourteen men were working in the fourth level on the south side of the Lawson mines last night, when an explosion of fire damp occurred. All are supposed to have been killed. Five bodies have been taken out. A special train is leaving Seattle with the coroner and physicians. The Lawson mines are the property of the Pacific Coast Company. FOURTEEN ARE DEAD.

Black Diamond, Wash., Oct. 2.—Only fourteen men are dead. There were twenty-two men working in the level. Eight got out alive. There are still thirteen dead men in the mine, only one body having been recovered.

A FINE LIGHT

With his accustomed enterprise, Wm. R. Peek, the popular proprietor of the Hotel Rankin, has installed a new and modern system of acetylene gas lighting for his house.

The plant has been installed at the rear of the hotel and is entirely free from any danger by explosion owing to the regulation of the generation of the gas.

Mr. Peek has 104 lights of this gas, including all rooms in the house. Last evening it was utilized for the first time and proved in every way a pronounced success. The light given is bright and steady and the installation of the plant is another decided acquisition to the already elaborate equipment of this fine house.

THE PLACE FOR FICTION.

A paragraph is going the rounds which credits Leon Daudet, the son of the famous novelist, with the expression of opinion that the enactment of a law forbidding the sale of fiction to women and children is necessary, comments the St. Thomas Journal. He is said to hold that the modern novel is as injurious as morphine and cigarettes. It creates a morbid appetite for romance which is responsible for most of the unhappiness and dissatisfaction in the world, which in turn breeds crime. There can be no doubt whatever that much of the fiction accessible to children to-day is positively injurious. And even a sadder side of the question is the fact that a large proportion of parents not only lack the ability to select wholesome reading for their children, but their appetites for vicious literature is as keen as that of the boys and girls whose standards are fixed by life in the factories and departmental stores.

Individual liberty has been carried to a length that has converted it into license, and publishers are permitted to send from their presses millions of copies of books and papers containing tales that are destructive of the best impulses of the human heart. The heads of girls are so filled with thoughts of impossible heroes that they have no relish for the sober duties of life; while boys are fed with a class of cheap and nasty literature that fertilizes every evil propensity they may have, and chokes every incentive to noble conduct.

The fiction of Dickens, of Thackeray, of Kingsley, George MacDonald, Gilbert Parker and George Elliot will not harm any boy or girl, but unfortunately it is being displaced by the trash from the pens of such writers as Marie Corelli and Hall Caine.

TARTE AND TARIFF.

Says the Stratford Herald:
 Does Hon. J. L. Tarte foresee a big tariff war? Affirmative answer is found in the wide founded rumor that during his recent visit to Toronto he dared to predict that in the near future, certainly within the life of the present Laurier Government, the greatest tariff war in history would be initiated between Continental Europe and the United States. This opinion it is future alleged had not been arrived at hastily, but after by enquiry, conference, investigation and otherwise Mr. Tarte had looked through and through and all round the subject.

Those who might reasonably be suspected of knowing something of Mr. Tarte's mind, aver that a firm conviction based on expected tariff developments of world wide scope, and commercially speaking, revolutionary in character, is behind the energy, enthusiasm and intensity of the campaign Mr. Tarte has launched; presumably it would seem useless justified by special information the minister is seized of.

This anticipated huge war of tariffs was the inevitable result, though long coming in this case, of Americans seeking outside markets for their own surplus product, while by almost unaccountable tariff walls shutting out us far as possible all foreign imports, competitive in nature; moreover, this protective policy has made of the United States a great manufacturing nation. That nation has now an enormous export trade in manufactures to Europe. Its products exceed home demands to an enormous degree.

If, however, by high tariff walls on the other side of the Atlantic, American surplus products were kept on this side they would then follow the lines of least resistance which under existing conditions would be across the border into Canada. In this connection Hon. Mr. Tarte is reported as stating that with such a state of affairs as that obtaining the Canadian market would be swamped with American manufactures within a fortnight, and Canadian manufacturing and kindred industries ruined.

The necessity of avoiding such a ruinous experience therefore was evident. It could only be avoided in Mr. Tarte's opinion by high tariff walls.

This was the keynote of the fight he had entered upon and which was arousing the people from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There were evidences that this was the only policy by which a Canadian Government could at the present time hope to survive.

As a campaigner, Mr. Tarte is credited with saying that the present tariff discussion promises to be one of the finest. It was not a party question, it was business. Mr. Tarte is known to have wished that he was a newspaper man at the present time, that he might say "Come on MacDuff" to every anti-protectionist, who dared to expose the low tariff cause. He would surely lash him to defeat. Tarte was at a loss to know how any public man or journal understanding the tariff situation as he did, could take any course other than that he had mapped out. He believed he had the people with him.

TRAVESTY OF FREEDOM

There is something intensely sad about the case of the young Syrian immigrant girl, Alenandra Yousef, aged 16, who threw herself from the window of a car on the Michigan Central Railroad between South Rockwood and Newport the other night and broke her neck. The poor girl came to America to marry Joseph Abadeely, to whom she had engaged herself in her native land, but on arriving at Montreal last May she was taken into custody and sent to a hospital as being afflicted with granulated eyelids, a disease looked upon as contagious and incurable, and therefore a bar to her admission to the United States. She was kept in the hospital a long time, but was finally allowed to go. Her lover met her and took her to Detroit. Both were arrested, the girl on account of her sore eyes, and the man for bringing a sick and dangerous person into the country. The man was released and the girl detained. Surrounded by strangers in a strange land, the girl naturally became despondent. She wept incessantly in jail, and last Wednesday would have strangled herself had not the matron prevented her. To add to her misery her affianced deserted her.

On being removed from Detroit jail and put on board a train, without any idea where she was to be taken, she became desperate and threw herself from the window of the car toilet room.

The immigrant inspector, on being asked for an explanation, said:—"We are often interrupted in the discharge of our duties by friends of immigrants, so we have to be cautious many times. We frequently mislead people as to our movements."

Competent physicians say the unfortunate girl was not suffering from either of the maladies for which she was to be deported. Her brother had come from Iowa to obtain for her the legal advice and assistance to which she was entitled. The young man was not allowed to see his sister. On the contrary, arrangements seem to have been hurriedly made to take her to

 Electors of the City of Chatham.

Ladies and Gentlemen,
 I have been requested by a large number of ratepayers from every section of the city to allow my name to be put in nomination for the mayoralty for 1903.

Having been a member of the Council Board for a longer time than any other who is now an aspirant for the position of mayor, and having been chairman of the Industrial committee since its inception (which position has involved a large amount of labor and considerable expense to me) I feel that I am quite justified in according to the wishes of my friends. I am therefore a candidate for the high and important office of mayor of my native town for 1903 and most respectfully solicit your votes and influence.

I am, ladies and gentlemen, Your obedient servant,
 GEO. W. COWAN.

BRUTAL CRIME

Body of a 10-Year-Old Girl Was Found Buried Under a Blacksmith's Steps.

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 2.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of little Julia Kachinsky, the 10-year-old adopted daughter of Mrs. Kachinsky, has been cleared up by the finding of her body buried under the back steps of Joseph Beck's blacksmith shop. Beck is in jail and an enraged populace are threatening to lynch him if they get the chance. The child started for church last Sunday morning and stopped in the blacksmith shop to get a knife which her father had left there to be sharpened. This was the last seen of her alive. Beck has told the story that she left his place for church in the company of a young boy, but a search of the surrounding country failed to show any trace of her.

While searching for evidence, Chief English discovered some fresh sand on the black muck at the back of the blacksmith shop. He determined to push his investigation and made a visit to the shop at nine o'clock last night. On forcing their way in they were surprised to find Beck there. He seemed badly frightened, and said he thought they were burglars. He gave no reason for being in the shop at that hour, however.

On digging beneath the steps the officers soon came upon the body of the child. It was doubled up and the head was down at least two and a half feet. The child had been choked to death after being assaulted. Beck is held on a charge of murder in the first degree.

The coroner's jury adjourned until this afternoon when they will investigate further.

BURNED HER FEET

Barbarously Scorched a Clerk's Wife to Make her Give up Husband's Money.

Toledo, O., Oct. 2.—While Edward R. Leonard, a telephone inspector, went to the grocery Tuesday night, two masked burglars entered his house and finding Mrs. Leonard alone, demanded money. She declared she had none, but the robbers reminded her that her husband had drawn his pay during the afternoon, and as he made a habit of turning his pay over to her on reaching home she must have it. She denied having it and at that the thugs bound her with ropes and bed clothes, placed a rag in her mouth and threw her on the floor.

They then took the coal oil lamp from the table and searched the house, but found nothing. They next pulled off the woman's shoes and stockings, poured kerosene oil from a can over her feet and set fire to it to induce her to tell where the money was. When that did not bring forth the desired information the robbers took rage and soaked them with oil and placed them against the soles of the woman's feet and set fire to them. She could not yell on account of the gag being in her mouth. When asked if she would tell where the money was she nodded yes. They then poured oil over the room, piled stove wood up, saturated it and gave the woman the choice of telling where the money was or burning to death.

She still refused to yield, and they fired the room and skipped. As they went out the back door Leonard came in at the front door. The flames were extinguished and the woman released by her husband. She is in a critical condition and gave the description of the men.

The Leonard home is located in a sparsely settled part of the city. Neighbors saw the two men leaving the house. The whole thing took place inside of an hour.

UP AGAINST IT

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 2.—Charles Mahoney, a Windsor detective who came here after "Dad" McDonald, wanted for an alleged robbery, is up against a hard proposition in securing his man. He failed to get the necessary papers before leaving Windsor, and McDonald has employed attorneys to secure his freedom by means of a writ of habeas corpus. The application has been made before the circuit court here, but if Mahoney can get the necessary papers in time he will apply to the United States authorities for extradition papers, thus taking the matter out of the hands of the local authorities.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

New York, Oct. 2.—The body of Jennie Larsen, a young Danish woman, 20 years old, was found in the apartment of Louis Appleford on the third floor of a tenement in Harlem yesterday. She had been dead for days, according to a medical expert; the body was mutilated and much decomposed, and gas filled the room where it was found.

Despite the gas and stench which first revealed the tragedy, Appleford, in a desecrated mental condition, was the room when it was entered by police.

The woman's abdomen had been gashed in several places. Appleford was arrested. He said the young woman was his niece. He had caused her to come from Denmark 10 days ago, he said, to be his housekeeper. Appleford is 53 years old, and a conductor on a line of horse cars. Coroner Scholer's opinion is that the girl was strangled to death. He did not believe a criminal operation had been performed. Appleford, when questioned by the police, would say little except that he had turned on the gas in the room for the purpose of committing suicide.

A girl is as liable to sow her affections in bad soil as a young man is to sow his wild oats.

OUR - NEIGHBORS - TO - THE - NORTH

ONE VIEW OF CANADA WITH SIDE REMARKS ON AMERICA'S NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES.

The following, from the pen of A. T. Macdonald, formerly editor of the Banner, appears in the Washington Times of Sept. 28:

There is no doubt whatever as to the appalling ignorance of our people generally regarding the extent and resources of the great Dominion to the north of us. We are so apt, in our own self-complacency, to forget that Canada is not fairly entitled to the libelous statements of the extremists who speak of "the frozen north," and we are too prone to believe that Rudyard Kipling knew what he was talking about when he alluded to the colonial empire's mistress as "Our Lady of the Snows."

But let us not forget that to the great northwest of that marvelous country thousands upon thousands of our people are "trekking," as Cy Warman calls this migration, to the Canadian farm lands.

Let us not forget, too, that Canada's waterways are superior to ours, that Canadian men are crowding the lakes with Canadian-made boats, and that in the new Ontario there is now in progress a development such as no section of this country has ever seen.

And so when we speak of Canada let us remember that the tide has set in from here to there, and our sons and our daughters are peopling her west-for 60,000 went from Nebraska, Minnesota, and the Dakotas this year.

And let us remember, too, that Canada's greatest mines are her undiscovered mines, that her greatest tracts of arable land are still virgin, that her timber reserves are protected, and of such vast area that figures are appalling—in that they surprise us and make us wonder at our own ignorance.

Do not let us forget, too, that in our neighbor's land crimes meet their just punishment and divorces are practically unknown.

Only a few weeks ago a cabinet minister was criticized for spending $40,000 in a search for murderers of two Americans in the Yukon. His answer was: "This government will spend $40,000, or $400,000, if necessary, in enforcing the laws of this land. Americans are entitled to the protection of our laws if they obey our laws."

In the Dominion of Canada is located three-fourths of the productive soil of North America. It is as yet only scratched. This year's crops aggregating 50,000,000 bushels are being harvested.

Canada may not have 65,000,000 or 70,000,000, but the 5,500,000 within her borders are proud of their country, of its government, and of its prospects, and have every reason for being so.

Our trade with Canada is our most profitable trade, and this in spite of tariff laws dictated too often by jealousies.

For the eleven months ending May 31, 1922, the report of the Canadian department of trade and commerce is out. In the eleven months referred to the export of home products from Canada were valued at $172,925,915, a trade which represented an increase of $17,500,000, or approximately 10 per cent, over that of the same eleven months of the preceding fiscal year. The imports during the first eleven months of this year are valued at $175,728,000, representing in that respect a gain over the year previous substantially the same as that made in the export trade.

Hence the balance of trade is small, and is usually in our favor. Canada has large areas of rich land in process of location and development. During the term referred to the exports of Canadian products to the United States increased only a few hundred thousand dollars, while the value of Canadian products sold in Great Britain increased compared with the previous year, by more than $13,000,000.

In colonial circles in London a tendency is apparent to cultivate trade with Canada, and to this end certain exemptions and favors are proposed in the way of tariff duties, etc.

The make-up and tastes of the people, together with emigration from Canada to the United States, and then back to the newer lands in western Canada or to the mines of British Columbia and the Klondike, are the factors which are potent in preserving and building up its trade. In these disquieting days it behooves us to cast our eyes abroad for markets—but, above all, it is our bounden duty to study our neighbors' actual condition, so that we may with only a few newspaper notices that we have read pertaining to the more or less fortunate or unfortunate who have gone to that distant land to seek their fortunes. Volumes can be written of the many sufferings that have been endured in Alaska by our own people. The gold hunter will undergo more hardships than any other class of people. Confronting disappointment after disappointment, yet his heart is always filled with hope.

In the play of "Alaska" that Lincoln J. Carter sends us, he shows quite a number of these people together with the scenes that surround them, the mode of living and methods of transportation. In one scene, Christmas Eve, the interior of Uncle Dalton's Cabin, is little "Mite," the only child on the island. A rudely constructed Christmas tree is placed there for her delight. Each and every one of the ruddy miners during the long lights of dreariness have thought of the approach of Christmas time, and have made for little Mite snow shoes, sleds, whips, dolls, and other things dear to a child's heart, and a more touching scene has seldom been presented upon a stage than the one wherein the little child comes to receive her toys. As the great, big Santa Claus asks her "Is there anything more?" her little heart does guess you can't give it to me," and Santa Claus in his rollicking way says, "Well, I reckon I can, I am supplied with almost everything. Now come, little one, trembling with emotions, exclaims, "I want my Uncle Jim." Her Uncle Jim, was the only relative the child had on earth and through the machinations of the villain had been accused of murder, falsely so, it is true, but through the kindness and connivance of Rev. Father Renard, the good priest, he had contrived to disguise Uncle Jim, as Santa Claus and when little Mite made her request, "I want my Uncle Jim," in an instant Jim's disguise was thrown aside and his big burly arms gathered the youngster to his heart, moistening the eyes of everyone that witnesses it and many other interesting features in this play that will make you think, cry and laugh. Miss St. George Hussey, one of the most irresistible Irish comedienne, exploits her troubles, wit and humor as the Widow Casey."

Perry, O'Dell & Dee's Comedians will be the program for the Grand on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 8 and 9, which are Chatham's fair dates.

Thomas Martin, of the firm of T. Martin & Son, says that there is supposed to be a pavement on St. Clair street, but it can't be located. A horse hitched to a single wagon got stuck there. Even the merchants are not sure there is a pavement there they haven't seen it for so long. Mr. Martin says that the Board of Works forget that there is the north side to the river, until they began looking for votes.

BLUNDERING AGAIN

"I noticed in the Banner editorial column on Wednesday that they complacently announced that the rate on apples shipped to Winnipeg is $1.60 per barrel and to Liverpool, 60 cents," said a local shipper this morning.

"Now, if the person from whom the Banner got their information will only come around to me I will give him a contract of shipping 50,000 barrels of apples from me to Liverpool at that rate."

"Now, the impression created by that editorial ought in my opinion to be corrected. As a matter of fact the rate on a barrel of apples to Liverpool is $2.25 and to Winnipeg, $1.14. That is for small quantities. In carloads the rate is reduced a little, but it is nowhere near the Banner's quotation."

NIGHT SLEUTHS

A well-known Maple City young lady ran into a house near Joseph St. last evening. She was very much excited and stated that a man had been following her all the way from King St. The girl works in one of the city stores and her labors had kept her down town late. It was about ten o'clock. Chas. Gammage and some other young men who happened to be calling at the house, rushed out, but could find no trace of the shadow. The girl was too much excited to give an accurate description. Mr. Gammage accompanied the young lady home, which was reached without seeing anything of the man. Mr. Gammage states that on Wednesday when he was going home he met a young lady who requested protection because a man was following her. Mr. Gammage, on investigation, saw a young fellow skulking in the shadows. He thought he recognized the fellow, but he isn't sure.

Indications That a Proposition Has Been Made to Settle Strike.

This Morning's Session of the Conference Was a Very Brief One.

Special to The Planet.

Washington, Oct. 3.—According to the Post this is the plan of settling the coal strike that will be proposed to-day at the conference between President Roosevelt, the coal barons and President Mitchell of the Mine Workers.

The coal presidents will decline to accept any plan of strike settlement which proposes to treat with President

Mitchell, but will propose that the men return to work with the understanding that their grievances as individuals shall be submitted to a board of arbitration, the coal presidents to agree to abide by the decision of this board, the members of which he appointed by the president.

That the mine workers will agree to such a proposition is regarded here as altogether unlikely.

National President, John Mitchell; Thomas D. Nicholls, president of district No. 1; Thomas Duffy, president of district No. 7, and John Fahy, president of district No. 9, of the United Mine Workers of America, arrived in city at 12:50 a. m., to-day. The entire party will attend the conference at President Roosevelt's express invitation.

The railroad presidents invited to the conference arrived last night and spent the night on their special train. Atty-Gen. Knox and Commissioner of Labor Carroll D. Wright will attend the president's conference.

Mr. Mitchell and his party were here early. They breakfasted at the Reuter Hotel, and immediately afterward Mitchell was joined by President Gompers, of the Federation of Labor. They left the hotel together, and Mitchell was not seen again until he made his appearance at the White House conference at 11 o'clock.

Mitchell declined to discuss the situation from any point of view in advance of the meeting, merely saying that under the circumstances he could not be expected to talk.

Mr. Mitchell and his associates were in cheerful mood and all contended that the miners were prepared to hold out indefinitely if their demands were not granted, the demands still being as originally outlined by the Shamokin convention.

At 11:25 o'clock when the conference over the coal strike situation had been in progress but 15 minutes, the railroad representatives left the conference room and were closeted in a room on the lower floor of the White House.

The general supposition was that they either had received a proposition and had retired to consider it or had retired to prepare one of their own.

Soon after retiring to their room the railway representatives left the White House. They refused to say anything, except that they were coming back at 3 o'clock for a further conference.

President Baer was asked by a number of newspaper men where he could be seen, and he responded: "Gentle men, we are trying to get just where we can confer and where you cannot see us."

Secretary Cortelyou said that a statement would be given out in a short time.

It is expected that Hon. J. Israel Tarte will deliver an address in both English and French at the big Peninsular Fair, Oct. 8th.

FOR CONGRESS

New York, Oct. 3.—Conventions were held yesterday in the congressional districts within the boundaries of the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond.

Interest in the nominations centered in that to be made in the eleventh district by the democrats because Tammany leaders had announced earlier in the day that Wm. S. Devery and his colleagues would not be allowed seats in the convention. Devery, on hearing this, threatened mandamus proceedings and said if it was too late for the method of attack he would attack the legality of the convention proceedings if a nomination was made without recognizing him and his associates.

Before the convention met Secretary Smith, of Tammany, announced that the leaders recognized the legality of the selections of the Devery delegates and that they would be given seats.

The nomination went to Wm. R. Hearst, editor and proprietor of the New York Journal. He was placed in nomination by former State Senator T. C. O'Sullivan and Wm. S. Devery made a speech seconding the nomination.

Hearst's republican opponent is Henry Birrell.

PLACEBO PRESCRIPTIONS.

An Old Doctor Tells a Secret of His Profession.

"Never tell a patient that there is nothing the matter with him," said the old doctor, who was revealing the secrets of his profession. "If you do, you make a lifelong enemy and lose your patient, who sends for another doctor. Give him something, if it is only flavored water. If the disease is only imaginary, cure the imagination with a harmless dose, and your patient gets well. In the profession we call such prescriptions 'placebos,' and more wonderful cures are effected by placebos than the world knows of. So, also, when you run across a patient who announces the first thing that he cannot take certain sorts of medicine, don't tell him he must. Agree with him and give him the medicine, if he needs it, in a disguised form.

"There are thousands of people who labor under the conviction that they cannot take quinine and will tell you that they have never taken it in their lives, while at the same time they may be taking large doses of it. The taste of quinine is hard to disguise, but if administered in a pill the patient can be made to take it and never suspect what he has swallowed. The trouble is the patient is apt to recognize a quinine pill by its appearance, to suspect, bite into the pill and thus discover your ruse. To obviate this difficulty druggists now have pills of quinine made in odd shapes and colors. Pink pills, containing nothing but quinine and a little harmless coloring matter, are a favorite form for use in cases where an antipainful cramp has to be medicated. In giving a placebo it is not wise to have it taste too well. The patient is apt to suspect if you do. And be sure that you gravely impress upon the patient that only a teaspoonful is to be taken at a time and that at stated intervals. The whole virtue of a placebo exists in the solemnity and importance with which you surround it."

FLOWER AND TREE.

Salpiglossis is a pretty, showy annual, easy to raise and worthy a place in the garden.

The birch grows farther north than any other tree. Next comes the Siberian larch and then the fir.

The dark spot in the center of a bean blossom is the nearest approach to black that occurs in any flower.

Sunflowers may be transplanted quite easily if the work is done on a rainy day or in the cool of the evening.

Preserve a green lawn in the center of the garden, however small. This is needed to set off the flowers and for purposes of relief.

Mignonette is so unobtrusive that its presence is often betrayed by its sweet scent merely, but a large bed of mignonette should be in every garden.

Dissolve fresh lime in water, allow sediment to settle and saturate earth in which small, white worms have been noticed with the clear solution thus made.

That "it is never too late to set out roses" is a true word about gardening. But "the earlier the better, so long as the first is out of the ground," is a maxim no less worthy of dependence.

A Spiny Monster.

For sheer ferocity of appearance, unredeemed by any milder facial attributes, a lizard called after "Moloch horrid king" Moloch horridus is pre-eminent among reptiles. The body of this Australian reptile is so covered with spines that, as it has been put, nature seems to have endeavored to ascertain how many spines could be inserted on a given area. But, unlike its tutelary deity, who seems really to have spelled himself Moloch, the lizard does not demand the blood of children. It is, indeed, vegetarian and only fiery in that it has a curious faculty of absorbing and drying up water. A specimen placed in a shallow dish was observed to attract the water like a piece of blotting paper.

Ancient Trades Unions.

Seven thousand years ago there were trades unions in Nineveh and Babylon, and so strict were their rules that in some cases the penalty of death was inflicted for infringing them. Each man's work was strictly defined, and even the number of hours that he was allowed to work was stated in the charter of his guild or union. Later exactly the same state of affairs existed in Pompeii, and inscriptions have been discovered stating specific appointments of officials to trades unions. The most powerful of these appears to have been that of the Fishermen's guild.

Deceptive.

"Dey oughter pass a law," said Hungry Higgins, nursing his leg, "ter compel people ter call deir dogs be appropriate names."

"Wot's de matter now?" inquired Dusty Rhonda.

"Why, a woman down de road said if I didn't git out o' her yard she'd call Fido. O' course I laffed. Den she called Fido, and Fido didn't do a t'ing. He was a big brindle bull!"

A "Bird" Anyway.

Mrs. Spenders—That's what I call a "duck" of a bonnet.

Mr. Spenders—Yes? I'd call it a "pelican."

Mrs. Spenders—A "pelican"?

Mr. Spenders—Yes, on account of the size of the bill.

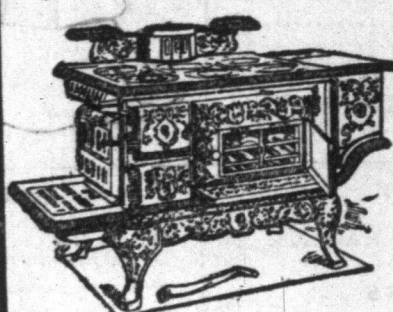

The records left by the Phoenicians, Assyrians and ancient Persians show that among all those nations the use of perfumes was very common.

SIGHTS OF OLD PANAMA.

City Once as Beautiful as Any Depicted in Storied Romance.

Following the English style, dinner is a full dress and ceremonious affair. After dinner comes the promenade along the esplanade, a charming walk around the old battery overlooking the prison, says the Catholic World. Our way borders the sea; behind us lies the city, with its Moorish towers, its red tiled roofs; back of it rises Mount Ancon; to our left is the little Indian hamlet of La Boca, at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and the green hills of the Andes in the distance; along the horizon oceanward stretches the bay. What words can describe it? A study in color as the rays of the setting sun turn to crimson, green and gold its islands; the stately palmetto trees that fringe its banks, the white beach and far away the ancient towers of San Anastasio, sole landmark of the once beautiful city of old Panama.

The story of this beautiful city, old Panama, reads like one of the romances from the "Arabian Nights" that so delighted our childhood. Its houses of aromatic wood, hung with costly tapestries, adorned with paintings and sculptures that a king might envy; its 800 magnificent churches, with their services of silver and gold, their frescoes of pearls and precious stones; its pleasure gardens; its broad driveways, chief of which was the king's highway, over which the royal horses bore the treasures to Puerto Bello and the ships ready to sail with them to Spain. Into the midst of this Asiatic splendor came Morgan and his buccaners, and this struggle, one of the most memorable on our continent, the first of white against white, led to the destruction of the flower of Spanish chivalry and the capture of Panama. So pass the glories of the world!

SWIMMERS' CRAMP.

It Is Not So Very Dangerous if the Victim Will Keep Cool.

If swimmers could be trained to keep cool under all circumstances, there would be comparatively little drowning among bathers and summer pleasure seekers. Cramp is usually assigned as the cause when some good swimmer drowns. But cramp ought in reality to be nothing serious. Usually it affects only an arm or a leg or maybe only a hand or foot. Any moderately good swimmer can keep afloat with one arm or even without the use of that, yet good swimmers drown often as a result of cramp. If such fatalities were analyzed, they would be more properly classed as drowning from fright and loss of nerve. This comes from the fact that every one is taught in childhood to fear the water and comes as a grown man and a swimmer to fear cramp. The average opinion is that the man who is attacked when swimming in deep water is as good as drowned. Therefore, when a swimmer feels a leg or arm begin to cramp he is frightened in most cases entirely out of his wits. He loses his head, begins to splash and paw and struggle and then goes down.

What the swimmer should remember is that he can keep afloat with very, very little effort if he will turn on his back and keep his chest inflated. It is the simple matter of floating, which every swimmer knows and finds very easy. If the swimmer will keep cool and float, the cramping limb will frequently relax after a little and he will find himself as well as ever.

Pat's Trouble.

Pat had come over to America with the expectation of finding money lying around loose, only waiting for some one to pick it up. Of course this was long ago. Pat had soon become disillusioned and was always glad to get hold of odd jobs which would net him a little something to help him keep body and soul together. Finally, becoming tired of the struggle, he decided to end it all and was very industriously tying a rope around his waist when his landlord happened in on him. After watching him curiously for a few minutes he asked:

"What's up, Pat? What are you trying to do?"

"Troyin' to choke meself, av coorse," was Pat's answer.

"Choke yourself? You can't do it that way. You'll have to put the rope around your neck."

"Sure an' I tried that, but I couldn't breathe."

On Sure Ground.

A well known artist overheard a countryman and his wife ridiculing his picture, which represented a farm scene. He was so incensed that he at last interposed with the remark:

"That painting is valued at £100.

Allow me to ask if you are familiar with works of art?"

"Not very familiar with art," replied the farmer, "but I know something about nature, young man. When you make a cow that gets up from the ground by putting her fore feet first, you do something that nature never did."

A Deep Thrust.

Miss Kutt—I see Miss Gadsby has a new gown.

Miss Snarl—I presume it is a cheap looking affair.

Miss Kutt—Rather. It's off the same piece as your new one.

Both Sided.

"Grymes and his wife quarreled for six months over naming the baby."

"How did they settle it?"

"Easily. It was twins."

His Firm Belief.

Willie—Pap, what is the difference between firmness and obstinacy?

Father—Merely a matter of sex, my son.

COLLISION WITH A COMET.

What Such a Catastrophe Would Mean For the Earth.

Although it is exceedingly improbable that the earth may be destroyed by collision with a comet or some huge meteor, still the fact that such a contingency is possible is sufficient ground for discussion on the subject and for imagining what the result might be. says the Woman's Home Companion.

The earth is moving around the sun at a velocity of eighteen miles a second, while the sun, with all its attend-ant planets, is being hurried on toward the great fiery constellation of Hercu-les at a far greater velocity. The very fact that small meteors exist proves the possibility of the existence in space of meteors of inconceivable magnitude. Even great black dead worlds may lie in our path, like breakers in the path of a ship. Fifty miles a second is not an unusual velocity for heavenly bodies, and some are known to move at a speed even in excess of a hundred miles a second, five hundred times the speed of a rifle ball. Small meteorites, which reach the earth at a velocity of from twenty to thirty miles a second, are instantly consumed by the friction generated with the atmosphere. Large meteors, however, occasionally reach the earth, escaping destruction from their size, but are found to have their surfaces fused from heat generated by the passage through the atmosphere.

Although it is not probable, still it is possible, that the earth may some time encounter such a shower of small me-teors, perhaps in the form of a comet, that the heat of combustion from fric-tion with our atmosphere and the poi-sonous gases thereby generated might destroy all terrestrial life.

Ancient Lightning Rods.

The ancients did not have lightning rods constructed as ours are, but they had lightning conductors, which shows that they knew how to protect them-selves from the danger that lies in a thunderstorm. Even so long ago as the tenth century lightning was di-verted from fields by planting in them long sticks or poles, on top of which were lance heads. It is said that the Celtic soldiers used to try to make themselves safe from the stroke dur-ing a storm by lying on the ground with their naked swords planted point upward beside them.

There was long ago on the shore of the Adriatic sea a stronghold known as Dardania, on the highest tower of which there was an iron rod that was used as a means of telling when a storm was approaching in summer. A soldier was always stationed near the rod when the sea had a threatening look, and it was his duty to frequently put the iron point of his javelin close to the rod, watching for the spark that would tell him it was time to warn the fishermen by ringing a big bell.

Their Teeth Betray Them.

"There is only one feature of an ac-tor which will 'give him away' when disguised in a perfect makeup," re-portedly said a theatrical friend, "and that is the teeth. Let a man do what he will with all kinds of paint, beard, whisk-ers and what not, but the teeth will disclose his indubitable identity di-rectly he opens his mouth to speak a line or to emit a laugh.

"If myself, when sitting in the front of a house watching other people's per-formances, have frequently been puz-zled myself as to the identity of a cleverly made up player, but no sooner has the said player disclosed his 'fo-ries' than I have at once spotted him, provided, of course, he has chanced to be a man whose face I know moder-ately well. Strangely enough, hardly any one is aware of this curious truth, but it remains an undeniable fact all the same."

Raising the Wind.

It seems incredible, but is neverthe-less a fact, that as late as the year 1814 an old woman named Bessie Mil-le of Pomona, in the Orkney islands, sold favorable winds to seamen at the small price of sixpence a vessel. For many years witches were supposed to sell the wind. The Finlanders and Lap-landers made quite a trade by selling winds. The old woman, after being paid by the credulous sailors, used to knit three magical knots. The buyer was told he would have a good gale when he untied the first knot, the second knot would bring a strong wind and the third a severe tempest—Irish Times.

A Sand Tree of Prussia.

We are accustomed to regard sand as utterly barren, but the plants native to the coast sands of Prussia have been enumerated by naturalists, whose esti-mates vary from 171 to 234 varieties. Of these one of the most available is the Arundo arenaria (marram), which thrives only in sand and in the salt air of the beach. This in time serves to prepare the soil for larger plants.

Her Neighbor.

"I can't understand your dislike for Mrs. Nixdore," said Mr. Goodart. "She seems a nice, quiet, home loving wo-man."

"Think so?" replied his wife.

"Yes. She certainly appears to be a busy little body."

"You've got the 'little' in the wrong place."

Scheme That Failed.

Tom (tensely)—Would you be sorry to hear that I am going to marry Edyth?

Mayme—Indeed I should.

Tom—Why?

Mayme—Because I really like Edyth.

There are two sides to every ques-tion, and it's surprising how much there is to the other side when you hear it fairly presented.—Atchison Globe.

TWO CASES OF TYPHUS.

Story of a Turkish Doctor and a Modified Prescription.

Mr. Oscanian in his book, "The Sul-tan and His People," says that a Turk-ish physician was called to visit a man who was very ill of typhus fever. The doctor considered the case hopeless, but prescribed for the patient and took his leave. The next day, in passing by, he inquired of a servant at the door if his master was dead.

"Dead!" was the reply. "No, he is much better."

The doctor hastened upstairs to ob-tain the solution of the miracle.

"Why," said the convalescent, "I was consumed with thirst, and I drank a palful of the juice of pickled cab-bage."

"Wonderful!" quoth the doctor, and out came the tablets, on which he made this inscription: "Cured of ty-phus fever, Mehemed Agha, an uphol-sterer, by drinking a palful of pickled cabbage juice."

Soon after the doctor was called to another patient, a yaghiikgee, or dealer in embroidered handkerchiefs, who was suffering from the same malady. He forthwith prescribed "a palful of pic-kled cabbage juice."

On calling the next day to congratu-late his patient on his recovery he was astonished to be told that the man was dead.

In his bewilderment at these phe-nomena he came to the safe conclusion and duly noted it in his memoranda that "although in cases of typhus fever 'pickled cabbage juice' is an efficient remedy it is not to be used unless the patient be by profession an upholster-er."

A Poor Compliment.

"People don't often insult you when they mean to be gracious," said an ac-tress the other day. "Insults are the cre-ations of ill nature and not mere mat-ters of words. But I had an experi-ence that made me laugh and yet irri-tated me."

"Somebody take one of your snow scenes for a spring landscape?" in-quired an amiable friend.

"No," replied the actress; "this was not a matter of professional pride. A tradesman sent me a bill in which he unintentionally charged me only about a third of what I owed him."

"Thought he stood a better chance of getting it, I suppose," interrupted the facetious friend.

"Now, hold on, Billy, and let me tell the story. Well, there was the second time he had sent a bill for less than I owed, and I wrote him a note calling his attention to the error. This morn-ing I got a letter from him in which he 'thanked me for my honesty.' A man may thank you for your courtesy or for your kindness, but when he thanks you for being honest it is an insult. One might as well praise a man for not beating his wife."

The Soil Was Not Congenial.

It was Aunt Rebecca's first visit to her niece, a city girl who had married a few years before and begun house-keeping in a pretty town in southern Michigan.

"Myrtle," she said, looking out of the kitchen window one morning, "you have a fine patch of ground here that seems to be going to waste. Why don't you plant peach trees? They grow beautifully in this climate."

"No, aunt," replied the young wife; "the soil is too poor. I have tried it. You remember those canned peaches you sent me your before last? They were the finest I ever saw—finer than any that grow here. Well, I saved the stones, and, without saying anything to Robert about it, I planted them out there in the yard, but not one of them ever came up—not a single one!"

The Royal Color.

Purple has always been considered the royal color. The ill fated Charles I. was, however, at his own desire, crowned in a robe of white. Although he was seriously reminded that of the two exceptions to this rule, Richard II. and Henry VI., who wore white satin robes at their coronations, both had come to a violent end, one at Ponte-fract castle and one in the Tower, Charles I. was resolute in his decision, and, when, twenty-three years after-ward, almost to a day, his body was conveyed to its grave through a heavy snowstorm, the superstitious could not help remarking that the third "white king" had suffered a violent death.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional reme-dies. Deafness is caused by an in-flamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the re-sult, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by cat-arrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DIMINISHED VITALITY.

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality.

They don't stop to think that vital-ity is the principle of life—that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends.

Diminished vitality is early indicat-ed by loss of appetite, strength and en-durance, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitalizer.

WORLD OF SPORT

BOWLING

Wilson Taylor and Alex. H. Von Gunten played off their match of the singles. Mr. Taylor won, the score being 29 to 12 in his favor.

FOOTBALL

S. J. Courtney is in Detroit to-day, where he is representing the Chatham club at the annual meeting of the Peninsular Football League.

WINDSOR IS WEAK

Windsor has finally awakened from its state of lethargy and will have a team in at least one of the many branches of athletics. Friday evening there will be a meeting at the Crawford House to reorganize an association football league. Chatham, Glencoe, Essex, Leamington, Ridgetown, Sandwich, Detroit and Windsor will send delegates to elect officers and arrange a schedule. The clubs of all the towns except Windsor have been practicing for several weeks, and unless the home boys start in at once they will have little chance of retaining the Walker's cup which they have held so long.—Windsor Record.

BASEBALL

"You might state in your paper," said Manager Pete McAuley, of the C. M. C. Club, "that I have quit the game for ever. You might also say that Mr. Jack Austin and his prompter are welcome to the championship of Kent."

"As for Mr. J. Austin's letter in your paper, I decline to take any notice of it, as I consider the writer and his push beneath my notice. 'I thank you very much for your favors during the past season.'"

We are indeed sorry to hear that Mr. McAuley is quitting baseball. He is recognized as the father of baseball in Chatham, and is indeed one of the best managers the city ever had. He has done much for baseball, this past season putting on some excellent games, and has for some seasons past practically kept the game alive in Chatham. The news of his intention to retire will be received with sincere regret by all lovers of the good game.

SPLENDID CONCERT

A most successful concert was given in the Oddfellows' Hall, Merlin, last evening, under the auspices of the Raleigh Agricultural Society. The program was under the direction of Dr. Bell, who deserves great credit for providing for the people of Merlin such an excellent musical treat.

It is not often that the people of Merlin are privileged in hearing such talented soloists as Miss Webster, Miss Florence Stephenson and Miss Mary Brackin, of this city, who appeared on the program. Their excellent contributions were heartily received and the encores were very generous.

C. LeRoy Kenny, of Toronto, humorist, also appeared on the program, and made a decided hit.

The following program was rendered:—
Instrumental—Miss Brackin.
Oh, What a Lovely Dream—Mr. Kenny.
"Oh, Promise Me"—Miss Stephenson.
Nightingale Song—Miss Webster.
Selected—Mr. Kenny.
Beauties' Eyes—Miss Stephenson.
The Glass Window—Mr. Kenny.
The Creole Love Song—Miss Webster.
The Rosary—Miss Stephenson.
The Gay old Farmer—Mr. Kenny.
Good Bye—Miss Webster.

ROBBERS HELD OFF.

Williamsport, Pa., October 2.—Five masked men this morning attempted to enter the door of the Montoursville, Pa. Electric Company's power house with the supposed intention of overpowering the engineer and looting a safe in the office. Engineer Bly, however, the noise made in breaking down the door, got a revolver and opened fire, killing one robber and wounding two others. During the fight Bly was shot twice in the hip and leg. He will recover. Bly managed to reach the whistle and sounded an alarm. While doing so, the robbers dragged their dead companion out side, stripped his body of all papers and valuables, and escaped. The dead man was not identified, and he is believed from the general appearance of the body, to have been a professional thief.

DAY'S DESPATCHES

REMANDED FOR A WEEK.

Collingwood, Oct. 2.—W. H. Brown, who was arrested last evening on the charge of conspiring to murder his aged mother in order to secure $1,500 insurance on her life, came before Magistrate Nettleton, at 2.30 p. m., to-day. The magistrate remanded him for a week.

HOLDING BACK COAL.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Considerable indignation prevails in Ottawa to-day as a result of the announcement made at the public meeting last night that there is coal enough in the city to last until January. Scores of people tried to buy coal to-day, and were refused. No statement was made in behalf of the dealers.

TURKS ROUTE ALBANIANS.

London, Oct. 2.—A despatch from Constantinople of yesterday's date, says the Turkish troops who were sent to pursue several Albanian chiefs overtook the latter, and a short engagement ensued. The Albanians were forced to retreat. The troops pillaged and burned two villages. The garrison of Mitrovitza has been reinforced by three battalions of infantry and one battalion of artillery. The Greek Legation has informed the Porte that 150 Greek notables have been murdered by Bulgarians in the districts of Monastir and Salonica within the past two months.

THE DEFI THROWN DOWN.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—The Dominion Alliance lecturer, John A. Nicholls, has created a stir in temperance and anti-prohibition circles by issuing a challenge to Edwin Dickie, secretary of the Ontario License Holder's Protective Association, or any speaker Mr. Dickie may depute to have half the time to discuss the Ontario Liquor Act, at any of Mr. Nicholls' referendum campaign meetings in the province. Mr. Nicholls is ill-dressed to address a series of mass meetings in Toronto next week, and the outcome of the challenge is awaited with interest. Mr. Nicholls is the prohibition de Lochbriere, E. King Dods, and others in the Dominion plebs.

EXPLORER BALDWIN.

New York, Oct. 2.—On board the steamer Germanic, which arrived to-day from Liverpool, was Evelyn B. Baldwin, of the Baldwin-Ziegler Polar expedition. Mr. Baldwin says:—"We have succeeded in placing our deposits on the north coast of Franz Josef Land, the jumping-off place for next year's campaign. We have been most successful considering the difficulties of heavy ice packs met. We did considerable sledging and exhausted our sledges and supplies. We went as far as we were able with steam before sledging, and had barely coal enough to return. For a party of 42 persons we were the most harmonious company that ever sailed north. I do not know what has been said about us, but anything contradictory to this statement is mere talk. I expect to confer immediately with Mr. Zeigler."

NEW BUILDING

The contract was let this morning at 11 o'clock of Wm. Baby's large new $7,000 grocery store and building, which is to be built on the south east corner of King and Third streets. The sub-contracts have been let as follows:—
Jacob F. Finnistere, carpenter work.
James Oldershaw, brick work.
C. M. Cooper, plastering.
Westman Bros., heating and plumbing.
Geo. Stephens & Douglas, metal work.

The site is the house where Joseph Eberts has been living. The house is being torn down and work will begin on the new building at once. Mr. Baby's sons, it is said, will run the grocery.

Contractor Robert Cucksey has secured the contract for the new mahogany fronts and other improvements which Mr. Baby is having done to the Taft Block, which he lately purchased. Besides the mahogany fronts the stores will be generally fitted up with the latest interior fixtures, including metallic ceilings, etc. The stores are now occupied by Joe. Kenny, Mrs. Weldon and Alex. Hall. The second named will be a drug store, but who will run the drug store Mr. Baby will not disclose.

We have not advanced the price of our tobacco. Amber smoking tobacco, Bob's Currency and Fair Play chewing tobaccos are the same size and price to the consumer as formerly. We have also extended the time for the redemption of Snowshoe tags to January 1st, 1904. The Empire Tobacco Co., Limited.
