DNLY TWENTY-EIGHT VOTES FOR CHAPLAIN'S MOTION.

Clever Speech by Prime Minister Balfour-Right of Colleagues to Express Their Opinions-Many Conservatives Did Not Vote.

London, June 11.-There was a absidence of the excitement in the House of Commons yesterday owing the acceptance of the general rumor that a modus vivendi or a concordat of some kind had been arranged in the Cabinet. The debate was continued anguidly, with the confident expectation on the part of the supporters of the Government that Premier Ballour would come up smiling at the end, smooth over everything with his comfortable optimism, and prove that everybody was virtuous, that there was much ado about nothing," and that under the strictest theory of the collective responsibility of a united Cabinet, every Minister was entitled to wide latitude as to his private opinions. This is what he did towards midnight, after there had been a dribbling debate, and after Mr. Asquith had succeeded in ridiculing the sorry plight of the Ministerialists in general, and Mr. Chamberlain in particular; and Mr. Lloyd-George had made a most incisive speech. Mr. Balfour spoke without an air of conviction, and even more carelessly than usual, disclosing indifference to the gravity of the issues raised, by both Sir Michael Hicks-Beach and Mr. Chamberlain, and an open mind ander the strictest theory of the col-disclosing indifference to the gravity of the issues raised, by both Sir Michael Hicks-Beach and Mr. Chamberlain, and an open mind respecting the entire question of fiscal revision. He minimized the question of Ministerial responsibility for the tatements of an individual Minister, and while he reiterated his opinion that no tax could be put upon imported food without the full assent of British workingmen, he enlarged upon the phenomens of a huge tariff war against the United Kingdom, the growth of the ruests in the United States and the insressing ardor of the colonies for closer union with the mother country. In a whimsical vein Mr. Ballour explained that the only reason that the corn tax was put on was because the Government wanted money, and the only reason it was taken off was because the Government wanted money as longer. Reverting to the charges of cardilation made against him, the Premise declared that he himself, though a believer in free-trade, was absolutely open minded regarding the necessity for any attentions in a system which was founded to suit conditions of fifty years ago. He refused not only to make a statement of any finality upon such an important question, but he also refused to compel his colleagues to conform to a standard of opinion upon which he himself had an open mind. He admitted that differences of opinion existed within the Cabinet, but these were not serious enough to cause the resignation of any member.

not serious enough to cause the resig-nation of any member.

He closed with a specious reference to Gladstone's conversion to home rule and Pitt's adoption of free trade without consultation with the general elec-torate, but neglected to add that both statesmen had settled convictions re-specting the policies recommended, whereas he himself did not profess to know his own mind.

Motion Overwhelmingly Defeated.

The division was taken with a full House, and only 28 Tories voted for Mr. Chaplin's amendment, the vote against being 424. The Liberals were united in supporting the repeal of the corn tax, and the Irish members, as they have generally done, voted solidly for the English system of unrestricted free trade.

A Belated Appeal.

Mr. Lloyd-George had cut out Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, but the Liberal leader, after being jockeyed out of his privileges, made a belated appeal for another discussion of the Ministerialists have recovered their spirits, and assert that no resignations will occur, and that the Government will emact the land bill and alose the session with undiminished prestige. They neglect to add that the Unionist party has been hopelessly divided by the discussions of the last two days, and that the country can have little confidence in a Government whose members are as far apart on fiscal and economic policies as the east is from the west.

CANADIAN NORTHERN AID. Debate on the Resolutions Introduced by Mr. Blair.

Ottawa, June 11 .- For the second time this session, the business of the House of Commons was temporarily suspended owing to the failare of the electric lights. Mr. E. B. Osler was speaking in support of the claims of the Chignecto ship railway to consideration, when suddenly the lights commenced to splutter, and in a few seconds the chamber was in darkness. There was a scurrying of bages and officials for auxiliary means of illuminating. Facetious members sought to hasten the longed-for dawn by giving stentorian imitations of the chanticleer herald, and a group of French members struck up a rollicking voyageur chorus. The Clerk, Mr. T. B. Flint, who had been skirmishing around in the dark corridors, made his appearance, gravely bearing a candle which he placed upon the handsomely-bound volume on Parliamentary procedure, by Sir John Bourinot, that always adorns the table when the House is in session. Mr. Osler immediately rose to resume his speech, but his attention being called by his colleagues on the Opposition benches to the fact that The Hansard reporters could not report him without light he again sat down to await the return of the light that failed. After a delay of about fifteen minutes the current was turned on again as suddenly as it had been cut off, and business was proceeded with. The introduction this afternoon of Hon. Mr. Blair's resolution granting aid to the Canadian Northern Railway in Manitoba and the Northwest was productive of an interesting debate, in which the needs of the Northwest for railway communication was emphasized. This evening in supply a numble. pages and officials for auxiliary means railway communication was emphasized. This evening in supply a number of items for arts, agriculture and statis-

EAST ST. LOUIS FLOODED. A Desperate Struggle to Avert

St. Louis, Mo., June 11. Seven miles of water pressing from the south and southeast overcame the city's line of defence shortly before I o'clock yesterday, and 5,000 persons were driven from their homes. Numerous reports of drownings have been received, but East St. Louis police have thus far learned no names of the vic-thus far learned no names of the victime, who are estimated to number thirty.

Undismayed by the defeat which has come in their seven days battle with the flood, the greater part of the fevee builders began work at Missouri avenue, and the street was rapidly transformed into a dyke of sand bags and clay. An appeal from Mayor Cook to the Governor of Illinois for State troops to aid in guarding property was answered by the promise that militia would be sent to East St. Louis at once.

A few hours before the break in the levee, Ned Roberts, a negro, employed as a levee builder, was killed by members of the levee patrol for attempting to tear down ap ortion of the dyke. The negro was angry because he was not allowed to draw his pay at once.

The Gen-eral's injury is not serious.

ORANGEMEN AT WINNIPEG.

The King's Visit to the Pope Subject of Regret.

Winnipeg, June 11.—The Orange Grand Lodge of British America opened its ses-sions here yesterday with about one hundred delegates in attendance. Fifty delegates were delayed in reaching the delegates were delayed in reaching the city owing to the C. P. R. accident at Rot Portage, but arrived during to-night. The chief business of this afternoon and evening's sessions was the reception of Grand Master Sproule's address and the reports of other Grand officers. Regret was expressed by the Grand Master at the recent visit of King Edward to the Pope. He could not see why his Majesty should desire to visit is Hollness the Pope, who is head of the church which believes in his infallibility, and which has, since time immemorial, been the enemy of much that Protestants hold dear. The protest against this visit wired to the King by the Protestant Association of England had his commendation, because the history of the past had left behind it a lingering suspicion that such visits and secret conferences might be the toperunnel of something not in the interest of the sacred rights that Orangemen hold.

Reply of Attoroney-General to Mr. Macdiarmia's Pertinent Questions in the Toronto, June 10.-In the Legislature to-day Mr. Macdiarmid asked :l. Is any member of the family of Sir John A. Boyd in the employment of the Province of Ontario and in the receipt of moneys directly, or indirectly, from the funds of the Province? 2. If so, what are the names of the members of the family of the said Sir John A. Boyd? 3. What is the appointment of each? What is the salary of sach? 5. What sums of money have been received by Sir John A. Boyd, K. C. M. G., or been paid to him by, or

C. M. G., or been paid to him by, or through the Province in respect of services rendered by him to the Province, as arbitrator, referee, commissioner or otherwise, in any matter, since the first day of January, 1898?

The Attorney-General, in reply, said that David Boyd, who received a salary of $1,500 in the department of mines, was the only member of the family directly in the employ of the Government. There were two others holding office in connection with the Supreme Court of Judicature—Lawrence, who received a salary of $1,600 a year and $400 in fees, and Phillip, who received a salary of $700 in the same office. the other information asked for could be obtained by reference to the published returns.

C.P.R. ENGINE DROPS INTO MOOSE LAKE.

Engineer Johnston and Fireman Knott Carried Down to Death-Scene of the Accident East of Port Arthur

Rat Portage, June 11.—The regular passenger train going east was seld at Scovil, fourteen miles east of this tows, until four o'clock, while stidge gangs completed the work of repairing the trestle bridge over the upper oprtion of Moose Lake. It was thought safe snough at a c'clock to allow the passinger train to cross. The engine, No. 828, no ef the latest imported from Scotland, logether with a carload of fish, crashed through the structure, taking Engineer W. Johnston of this place, and W. Knett, all fireman, to watery graves. The rest of the passenger train very fortunately stopped on the track, thus averting a great catastrophe. The cause of the accident as far as can be learned, was due to the slipping of the trastle.

The company have been trying to fill this in for some time, but there seems to be no bottom to the lake. There was riginally from 60 to 80 feet of water at the bridge. Engineer Johnston, who lost the life at the post of duty, was one of the C.R. Company, having heave thad an excident of 22 years, sange ever had an excident of the control of the cont

COLLINGWOOD BOY SHOT. Seven-year-old Howard Brown is Dead.

Collingwood, June II.—Howard, the seven-year-old son of Mr. Geo. W. Brown, butcher, was out driving last evening with an elder brother and a driver employed by his father, when a lad named Shirk, who was carrying a gun, attempted to climb into the rig. The gun was discharged, the contents lodging in the child's right side, penetrating the vital organs, causing almost instant death. The dad Shirk, who is almost twelve years of age, feels his position very keenly. It was decided that an inquest was unnecessary, as it was purely accidental. Mrs. Brown, mother of deceased, is visiting at St. Catharines, and has been notified by wire of the sad occurrence.

ANARCHISTS ACCUSED.

Foundering of the British Steamer Arequipa Laid to Their Doors.

London, June 11.-The London Times prints a despatch from Times prints a despatch from Valparaiso, Chili, which says the engines of some of the steamers in the bay there have been tampered with, presumably by Anarchists, a notorious leader of whom is at Valparaiso conducting an agitation. The correspondent adds that this possibly explains the delay in getting the engines of the British steamer Arequipa to work the night she foundered off Valparaiso.

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 10.—It is reported that the village of Enidge, in the district of Adrianople, consisting of 500 houses, was attacked on June 2 by Bashi-Bazouks and the entire population, with the exception of 200 men, masskered. The village was pillaged and the loot was carried off to neighboring Turkish villages.

COUNTY COURT

The County Court is still in progress at the Court House. The case of King vs ,Haskill, for indecent assault, was ncluded yesterday. The jury found Haskill guilty, but recommended mercy on account of his youth. The sen-

The next case was that of King vs.
Jubenville, for attempting to shoot his wife. It is still in progress.

This case is the result of a family quarrell. It appears that in Jubenand the hired man and the family are forced to sleep in it together. The dehis action, as he claims that his wife had improper relations with the hired man, which, of course, she denies. The had improper relations with the hired man, which, of course, she denies. The case is still in progress.

A very humorous incident occurred yesterday afternoon. County Clerk James Holmes was getting the jurors in their places and called out the name of Josiah Johns. Josiah did not answer, and after a few more attempts to make him hear a young girl who was in the audience, evidently a witness in some case, caught the County Clerk gazing at her. She at once thought she was wanted, and marched up to the front and took her place in the jury box. Both counsel, Messrs. Sayer and Smith, allowed her to be seated, evidently too gallant to question so fair a juror, who in a case of emergency was willing to step into the breach. Everyone laughed—even to the judge. Constable Peters was the first to recover. He approached her and, after explaining the awkward position in which she has placed the court, conducted her to her place in the audience.

The case of Jubenville was completed this morning. The jury, after being out for a short while, brought in a verdict of guilty. His wife pleaded for him and he was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

THE ORUELTY CASE

"I'd like to have that item about oruelty to that horse in Chatham Township corrected," said Humane Officer James McGregor to The Planet this morning. "The horse belongs to the Jew Kovinsky and became paralized on the road out in the Township not from being beaten but natural causes. The Jew sent to the city almost immediately for Dr. Begart and the horse was removed to the barn of Mr. Miller at the corner of the 3rd concession and the Prince Albert road. The beast is being properly taken care of and will recover all right. I investigated the case on Tuesday and these are the facts."

The by-law is a good one and should be carried out."

LIBERALS VOTED AGAINST CAN-ADA

The Liberal party was given an opening on Thursday, when the Grand Trunk Pacific bill was up for consideration, to make it imperative upor the company to purchase all possible supplies in Canada. Mr. R. A. Pringle, Conservative M. P. for Cornwall and Stormont, submitted an amendment to the bill, by which he sought to add a clause making it binding upon the Grand Trunk Pacific to use Canadian made supplies. He called attention to the fact that while the Canadian Pacific bought all it could in national markets, the Grand Trunk dealt with foreigners. Every Conservative member of the railway committee voted for Mr. Pringle's proposal, but a large section of the Liberal party, headed by Hon. A. G. Blair, voted it down. Thus a chance of striking a vigorous blow for Canadian industries was lost. It was another case of placing private opinions before the welfare of the country. With such a clause in their charter, the Grand Trunk Pacific would have been compelled to spend millions among our manufacturers and this would mean employment for

THE ROYAL COMMISSION.

Apart from any prejudices of partizanship, every patriotic Canadian will feel that the report of the royal commission on the Gamey charges has gone too far. It will be a positive plow to the respect with which the bench in Canada has been regarded, and rightfully regarded, hitherto.

Above and beyond the mere political considerations of the case this is to be deplored.

When all is said and done the royal commission was appointed to perform one duty on behalf of the public. That duty was to answer the question, Where did the money come from ? The money was there." Its presence and existence was one fact in the case which could not be got around or gainsayed Like the corpse in a murder case, it was there and the one chief duty of the judges was to discover where it came from and how it came to be there. In that duty the commission lamentably disappointed the public. If the sweeping finding of the judges is correct there is no alternative of the public but to believe that the judges consider not only that the Government is blameless, but that a disgraceful conspiracy was hatched; that from some source-certainly not Mr. Gamey's bank account-a large sum of money was forthcoming around which was to be woven a tale of perjury to implicate honorable and innocent men -ministers of the crown. There was no two ways about it.

Now, what is the position of the judges to-day before the people of the Province: They failed to find where the money came from. They declare that they positively found where it did not come from, and, without going further, they confiscate the cash, and denounce Gamey as not to be believed on oath. If they had gone further and performed their duty + if they had found a tittle of evidence to justify the obvious inference of their judgment that the money was supplied as part of a conspiracy of perjury to defame an innocent cabinet there might be a reason for the sweeping inference which amounts to an indictment, but there was absolutely nothing to base it on. On the contrary, they throw aside the evidence of Gamey and those who corroborated him; also the circumstantial facts arising from the desperate position of the Government. the peculiar dealings between a minister of the crown and the member for Manitoulin-even the "try to forget some things" incident is brushed aside, and from the mass of evidence pre sented, the judges, without ever having reached the kernel of the casethe discovery of where that damning bundle of bank notes came from-take upon themselves to declare that Stratton and the Government are completely innocent; that Gamey is fraud and a perjurer and that the cash shall be confiscated. In view of their failure to perform what was entrusted to them, every fair-minded man will feel that they have gone too far-that the rehabilitation of the ministers who appointed them is altogether too complete. If their failure to find where the money came from was unavoidable, then cautious judges would at least hesitate to con demn the accuser though they might report the case against the accused as not proven. In the face of the Shanullivan revelations and a doze other facts which the public is seized of, if the judges were not, the public verdict on the judgment will be, to say the least of it, that the finding wa

Jack Pleasance, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, is authority for the statement that the hotelmen of the Maple City will give $150 toward a celebration to be held in Chatham any holiday after the first of July. Besides giving this donation they will give any such project their utmost aid and attention.

"Mme. Patti, the famous singer, who will tour again in Canada and the Republic this year," said Marcus Mayer, her former manager, to a reporter, "is not a woman of caprices. When she does not sing, it is because her voice is not in condition."

"On the day of a concert she does not speak to anybody, and in conversing with her on these days she will either nod her head or shake it in replying to questions.

"If she should have a crying spell, she will be unable to sing. Only once during my management of her last tour do I remember this to have tour do I remember this to have happened. She has a woman companion who has been with her for the past thirty years, and on one of our trips Mme. Patti was so upset by her companion she shed tears and could not sing that evening.

"Mme. Patti sings only twice a week and is more careful of her voice than she would be of a child if she had one. She has for a pet a small dog that she takes with her on her travels."

Mr. Hare's Favorite Stories. The late Augustus W. Hare, the English writer, used to tell a story of Dean Stanley, who was a cousin of his. Stanley was proverbially absentminded. On one occasion he was driving in Sicily with a friend. It was bitterly cold. Stanley had his traveling bag with him and dehis traveling bug with him and de-cided to put on an extra wrap. Roars of laughter from the street urchins awoke Stanley at last to the fact that he had put on a nightshirt over his coat. Mr. Hare was fond, too, of repeating a story of the Khedive Ismail of Egypt. Nassau Senior was to be received by his highness, who had been warned that Senior kept a diary "Oh, yes, I quite under-stand," said Ismail. "M. Senior is the/trumpet and I am to blow down it," Every story teller has his fav-orite schoolboy's answer. Mr. Hare's was this: "A lie is an abomination unto the Lord, but a very present unto the Lord, but a very present help in time of trouble."

SUGGESTIVE EMBLEMS.

Caged Birds and Spiders Seeking Flies on Marriage Licenses. The marriage license blanks printed and issued under the authority of the state of Maryland contain emblems which furnish cynics of both sexes with material for comment. These blanks are in three sections, each surrounded with an ornamental printed border. The first section is the authority for the clergyman to perform the marriage and is retained by him. The other two sections are the clergyman's certificates of the marriage, one being given to the contracting parties and the other being returaed by the clergy-man to the office which issued the li-

The emblems referred to are used to embellish the borders on the certifi-cates of the marriage. Four birds ornament the certificate to be given the contracting parties. Various inferences may be drawn from the fact that two of the birds are free and happy, flying about a twig, while each of the other two is on a perch, moping, in a cage. One of the cages is at the top of the border and the other at the bottom with the free birds in the intervening

Even more suggestive is the ornamentation on the border of the certificate which the clergyman is to return to the clerk's office. This is a repre-sentation of a spider in its web, in which an unfortunate fly has been entangled. The hungry spider is por-trayed as about to hasten to clutch the unhappy victim. No motto accompanies either ornamentation.

It is said that the emblems referred to have only been used since Governor Smith has been in office. Prior to that time a border was the only embellish-ment of marriage licenses.—Baltimore

What We Are Worth. If Pierpont Morgan owned the world instead of only a part of it he would be worth about $400,000,000,000. If he owned the United States his wealth yould amount to about $94,300,000,000. The United States has the greatest total wealth and the smallest debt of on a per capita basis Great Britain is the richest. While the property and money of that mighty nation amount to only $59,000,000,000 as against our $94,800,000,000, its wealth amounts to $1,442 per person, while in the United States the wealth amounts to only $1,235 per capita. The second richest nation in Europe is France, which has wealth aggregating $48,000,000,000, or $1,257 per capita. Germany's wealth foots up $40,000,000,000, or $709 per capita. In addition she has $800,000, 000 lent or invested abroad. Russia, with its immense territory and population, has wealth amounting to only $32,000,000,000.—Nashville American.

Subsistence supplied to American soldiers and sailors is superior in quality, quantity and variety to that issued by any other nation in the world. The ra-tion includes fresh meat of different kinds, together with poultry on holi-days, fresh vegetables, butter of the best grade obtainable and the better varieties of canned goods, besides nuts, fruits, tea, coffee and milk. It is related that a European officer who was in Manila when a consignment of many tons of candy arrived for the United States troops in the Philippines thought States froops in the Philippines thought the American officers were joking when they explained the purpose for which the confectionery was intended. When he was finally convinced he remarked, with a sigh: "Wonderful! You Amer-Europeans are poor and cannot.'

Some Indian Names. Is it any wonder the interior department has started in to rename those Indians whose names are "uncouth?" Here are a few Chickasaw and Choc taw names taken from the rolls of the Dawes commission: Excellent Love, Ugly Bogle, Cora Tuggle, Indian Territory Spears, Chick and Chow (twins), Okla and Homa Hate Fobb, Mealy Tecumseh, Hilly Wolf, Lying Hampton, Sweet Magnolia Brown, Sweetann Cole, Selly Brate Smith (born July 4), Pleas Jonathan Kieth, Epluribus Guest, Fancy Nora Brown, Nervus Jackson, Always Billy, Dethadue Watts, Dicy Jiggetts, June Love.

Flooding a Mine. Sea water was used recently to extinguish a burning colliery of the Do-minion Coal company in Nova Scotia. Through a sluice cut from a dam on the shore of the ocean sea water was poured in at the rate of 3,500,000 gallons an hour. To flood the mine 450,-000,000 gallons of water was needed and six days' time was required.

Why Britain Lags.

If we are lagging behind in the connercial race it does not follow that Mr. Burrell is right in attributing our slowness to "too much education." The nations which are beating us in the race are those whose sons are better educated than ours—the German and the American.—London Hospital.

LATE SIR OLIVER MOWAT

M.A.P. Veices London the Great's Regret at His Falling Out.

Many in London felt a twinge of keen regret the other day when the news came that Sir Oliver Mowat, after a long and sturdy struggle with the grim enemy, had fallen out at last. The peculiar and searching eloquence of the little Ontario lawyer had often graced important gatherings and functions in London, and there is a general and deep sorrow for his loss among those who were privileged to make his acquaintance on this side of the Atlantic. He had dropped in his harness at his eighty-third milestone, although this is no extraordinary feat for a Canadian. Dwellers in the great Prairieland seem to have a knack of sticking to hard work till they are eighty or so, and then retiring for a well-earned rest from their labors. Some hold on longer, as for example the gay and lively Lord Strathcons, now going on for eighty-four, who still attends to the business of his various bank and railway directorates and the Canadian. High Commissioner. bank and railway directorates and the Canadian High Commissioner-ship, and may be expected to knock off for a holiday in five years' time off for a holiday in five years' time or thereabouts.

Sir Oliver Mowat's public career began long before the federation of the Canadian provinces, and he was thus familiar with the various courts of the succeeding Governors-General—Monck, Lisgar, Dufferia, Lorne, Lansdowne, Stanley of Preston, Aberdeen, and Minto. An interesting period it has been since 1867 in the history of Canada, and the Vice-Regal sojourners in the Dominion have history of Canada, and the Vice-Regal sojourners in the Dominion have enjoyed the life as well as the Canadians themselves. Things are more prim about Rideau Hall now perhaps than they were thirty years ago, when there was much ircedom and fun at official headquarters. The and fun at official headquarters. The Marchioness of Dufferin tells a story of 1873: "Two men dined with us; one, the Speaker of the Legislature in Manitoba, who has lately been tarred and feathered by the people, and who came to relate his experiences of that operation."

The gifted Marchioness shared to the full ber husband's powlarity in the full her husband's popularity in Canada, and her homeliness won the Canada, and her homeliness won the hearts of everybody. A baby girl came to Rideau Hall in 1873, and as the Queen volunteered for godmother, the new "Canadian immigrant" became Lady Victoria Blackwood, with Sir John Macdonald as her goddather. Lady Dufferin had the whole of her six children at the Christenius ceremony. her godfather. Lady Dufferin had the whole of her six children at the christening ceremony, and Lord Basil Blackwood—not then four—got himself into a scrape by climbing over a pew at an important juncture in the proceedings and knocking down a pile of prayer-books. Lord Basil has been busy in South Africa for the last three years, and Lady Victoria, the Ottawa baby, has for the last eight years been the wife of the brilliant young Lord Plunket.—From M. A. P.

Curious Facts About Shad. In Candian rivers the schools of shad come in from the sea about the middle of May, says Prof. Prince, the Candian Commissioner of Cus-toms, and continue during June; but toms, and continue during June; but in the United States rivers they are often very much earlier. Dr. Perley speaks of them as appearing in January at Charleston, N.C., on the soast off New York they come inshore in March and early April, and at Boston in the latter part of April. An old Massachusetts fisherman, in 1881, when he was nearly 90 years of age, stated that about April 1, the shad in millions ascended the Atlantic coast rivers, and continued during April and May. He added the statement—a very remarktinued during April and May. He added the statement—a very remarkable one, which exact scientific observations have confirmed, that the first schools coming in, in early spring, were males, no females ever accompanying them. The females follow eight or ten days later, and the later schools are larger female fish with enlarged roes containing eggs in a more advanced condition. eggs in a more advanced condition. In such a river as the St. John, New Brunswick, they ascend 50 or 60 miles up the main channel and turn They frequently wander over the fields submerged during the spring freshets, and deposit immense quanriries of spawn of which much is inevitably lost when the water re-cedes. The choice of spawning grounds appears to be most erratic, as tributaries, which present every as tributaries, which present every apparent favorable feature are passed by, and others uniformly chosen which possess no superior advantage, so far as can be judged. Some shad fishermen assert the same erratic choice in the selection of the spawning sites in the rivers frequented by the shad. Thus one fisherman quoted in The American Angler, July, 1897, declared that on the eastern side of the Delaware River, at Marcus Hook and Tinicum, he always caught fine, large shad, that were full of solid roe, while directly opposite on the western side, directly opposite on the western side, the shad were not in such fine condi-tion, and seemed to be in a spawn-ing state; that is, the spawn of the female and the milt of the male oozed constantly from the fish.

a Successful Trapper.

It would appear that the name of the king of local trappers is Thomas Henderson, who lives in Omemies and operates on Pigeon Creek. We have it on good authority that in less than three weeks this spring he trapped 406 muskrats, 8 mink, and 3 raccoons. In addition to this fine catch he secured 36 mink between fall and spring. He sold the mink pelts at $3 apiece, the raccoon at $1.25, and the rats at 29c. each, making a total of $277.49 for his catch. In this connection it would be interesting to know the total value of the small fur secured in this county every year—it must amount to a very considerable sum. That there is need of better protection every trapper is ready to admit. Take muskrats, for instance, it is an open secret that kittens are slaughtered in the fall, when only 5c. or 6c. can be obtained for the pelts. The fishery overseers should be empowered to agt as game wardens.—Omemee Post.

MURDER BY FOOTPADS. Fatal End to Robbery at Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 10.—Two men were shot, one fatally, by footpads here yesterday. John Baldes of this city, and Benedict Kessler and John Weidman of Altoona, Pa., delegates to the State convention of German Catholic societies, were returning from a banquet, when they were stopped by two highwaymen and ordered to throw up their hands. All complied with the demand, and the footpads started to go through the pockets of the three men. They secured Weidman's money and railroad ticket, and had taken six dollars from Baldes, when he made an outcry. This enraged the robbers and they backed away and began firing at the men. Baldes was shot three times in the stomach and cannot recover. Kessler was shot in the knee. Weidman was uninjured. The footpads escaped. Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 10.-Two men

KING AND QUEEN ASSASSINATED

Bloody Military Uprising in Servia Wipes Out the Obrenovitch Dysasty.

Premier Markovitch, Three Ministers and Queen's Brother and Sister Also Killed.

Special to The Planet.

Belgrade, Servia, June 11 .- A miliary revolution broke out here last night. The troops, who revolted un-der the leadership of Maj. Angikovics, surrounded the palace, assassinated King Alexander, Queen Draga, the latter's sister, the queen's brother, Nikodem; Premier Markovitch, Ministens Petrovitch and Tudorovics, Gen. Pavlovitch, the former minister of war, and some of the members of the royal guard.

laimed king. A new government was formed and the following proclamation issued: To The Servian People:

Monday evening, in which Mrs. McKnight denied killing the baby. Late last night Smith again called at the woman's cell at her request, and this time she made a complete confesion. In her first statement she admitted giving Mr. and Mrs. Murphy capsules of strychnine and quintine mixed. Last night she said: 'à didn't intend to harm them. I did give the baby the strychnine. It woke up and cried while its mother was gone, and I mixed up a little strychnine in a glass with some water and gave a spoonful to the haby. I didn't mean to harm the little thing at all. I confessed all to the Lord this afternoon, and I feel that He has forgiven me. I resilly didn't mean to harm any of them. When Getrude came home and found the baby dead she got awfully nervous. She came to me and said: Mary, can't you give me something to quiet me, something that, you take yourself.' I said that I would and I reality didn't think that I would hurt her if I gave her one of the capsules. She had spasms right after that, and I suppose that it was the strychnine that killed her. I really didn't mean to hurt her. Then John sseemed to feel so badly about after Gertle died that it would be better if he were to go, too. John was feeling had one night, he couple of weeks after Gertried died. He ceme to me and wanted something to quiet him. I had two or three 6f the capsules on my dresser, Last night the king and queen wer shot. In this grave and fateful moment friends of the fatherland have ombined to form a new government While the government makes this announcement to the people, it is con-vinced that the Servian people will gather round it and lend it their aid to maintain order and security throughout the land.

The government hereby makes snown that from to-day the constitution of April 6, 1901, comes in force. A meeting of the national representatives, dissolved by the proclamation of March 24, is summoned to meet at Belegrade June 16. sed one night a couple of weeks after Gertrude died. He crme to me and wanted something to quiet him. I had two or three of the capsules on my dresser, and I told him to go and get one of them, I didn't mean to hurt him, but I thought that it would soothe him, and then I thought that it would soothe him, and then I thought that it would soothe him, and then I thought that it would soothe him, and then I thought that it would soothe him, and then it is were to go anyway. He helped himself, I don't know whether he took one of two. Then he went to bed, and hy mad, byte he called me. Mother came, too, and he began to have those same spasma. I suppose that the strychnine was workling. He soon died."

The whole of the confession was given soluntarily and Mrs. McKnight signed water Prosecutor Smith had written and witten four. It is rumored to-night that Mrs. Motknight has confessed to the murder deserved other relatives. This assertion lacks confirmation.

The body of Glory Whalen was found on Thursday morning, and the same day Mulheron left Collingwood, boarding a freight train for Meaford. He was seen there by Chief Owen on Friday. Hefore the story of the murder had reached the Owen Sound police, Chief McAuley saw two men on Division street bridge. He went up to move them on, quietly taking hold of one of them by the arm. The man turned an ashen face on the officer, and seemed about to collapse with fear. Under these circumstances the officer questioned the men closely, and finally tripped them up in half a dozen lies. Then the man who had shown signs of nervousness slipped quietly away up through Queen's Park Mulheron, for he it proved to be, got away also. •••••• passages in Melheron's statement that will scarcely bear publication, but may have a most important bearing on the case, should the man he mentions be taken into custody. Mulheron claims that the peddier told him he camped with several tramps in a bush on the outskirts of College where they milked cows and in a bush on the outsiles of colling wood, where they milked ows and stole provisions. In concluding his statement Mulheron said that he believed the peddler guilty, and that he ought to hang for the crime.

Stevens' Strike and Hall's Big Mit.

Stevens' Strike and Hall's Big Hit, the wells of the Chatham Oil Company on the 8th concession, were both shot this week. One good result of the shooting Is an increase in the supply of gas so that enough can be again secured to keep the engine running. Hall's Big Hit has been putting forth a lot of oil since it was shot. The well on the Doyle place is. shot. The well on the Doyle place is being pumped night and day and is, producing about 50 barrels in 24 hours. Already three cars have been shipped and another car is ready.

HEAD ST. WEST

Head St. West is the worst piece of street in the city. This is due to two causes—no sewer and shade trees. One might almost add another — tack of the city of the city enterned. enterprise on the part of the citizens. Initiative steps were taken to put down a sewer, but a petition sufficiently signed was put in against the work and it was stopped for two years. In the spring and fall, water lies on this street, making it not only unhealthy but impassable.

QUEEN ST. PAVEMENT

Queen street ratepayers, that is the majority of them, are highly in favor pavement for their thoroughfare. There are at presen two petitions for pavements, one for bittulithic, the first and one for brick. The bittulithic was sufficiently signed, then the brick petition came out and some who had signed the first signed the second one, too, and a few of those speak of going back to the bittulithic again.

"I'd like to see a bittulithic pavement," said Wm. Potter this morning. Travellers from London say that it is the best pavement London has. Then there's so much brick going down that I'd prefer something else for Queen."

Wm. Brader, who is a pretty heavy Queen street ratesayer, says, "Brick pavements are awfully hard on the horses' knees and this bittuithe pavement makes almost a perfect street for driving on All the traffic would come right down Queen street if if were so paved."

A committee from the Merchants' nd Manufacturers' Association, Port Huron, was in the city to-day. They ave held excursions to Detroit, Bay have held excursions to Detroit, Bay City, Saginaw and London. They were, in London last year and had a crowd of 2,200 people. The excursion this year will be held on or about the 22nd off August.

Mayor McKeough and Ald. Piggott entertained the committee to-day and drove them about the city. The visitors were very much impressed with Chatham and thought that it would be an ideal place for a picnic. Should they decide on this city, the presended such a large crowd will be a great thing for Ch atham.

They party consisted of W. C. Britton, District Passenger Agent, Perre Marquette, Saginaw; A. L. Marzolf, Agent Pere Marquette, Port Huron; J. T. Percival, secretary Business Men's Association, Port Huron; T. C. Wood, F. F. Purkins, W. H. Hoyman, Lew. A. McCarthar and W. G. Biddlecombe.

Mayor W. E. McKeough Ald Wal-

Wood, F. F. Purkins, W. H. Hoyman, Lew. A. McCarthar and W. G. Biddle-combe.

Mayor W. E. McKeough, Ald. Walter Piggott and L. E. Tillson accompanied the party in a drive through the city. The visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the Maple City and will in all probability at the next meeting report favorably of their visit to the association they represent. The visitors were taken round the principal residential streets of the city and were also shown through the factories, and returned 17 Tecumseh. Park in films to see the Varsity-C. M. C. ball game.

"Chatham is a very fine town," remarked one of the delegates, and is far above my expectations. We took 2,200 people to London last year and expect to have more this year. What we would like to see here the day of our picnic would be good cricket and lacrosse games. The people of Port Huron never see either of these games and it would be something attractive for them."

mty four of the 246 Graves of Camndians in South Africa Have Yet to Be Found and Located-Difficulties of She Work - Governor-General Organ-Exing a Committee in This Country.

A most interesting and somewhat athetic document has come into the essession of the writer, Lally Bermared, dealing with the work done by the Canadian South African Memoriand Association, who held the fourth masseting of their Central Committee
The Ottawa on the ninth of January

Out of the 246 Canadians who fell charing the war, she says in The Temento News, that 230 were buried for South Africa, and 11 at sea, while five were interred in England. Out of the 230 graves in South Adrica, 156 have been "definitely located" and that leaves 74 yet to be found and identified. Possibly very five people who scan these figures exam have any idea of the difficulty—seven at this early date after the war—of Jocating with exactness the graves of the men who fell in action ear died on the march. In a country where distances trayersed by the through were enormous, and where climatic conditions and a thousand exhrumstances would render the work and identification extremely difficult. This, as before remarked, will be done through the co-operation of the Loyal Guild of Women, with the Imperial Daughters of the Empire. And thanks to the efforts of Memorial Association, they will be able to feel assured that the graves they are tending are those of Canadians, for the work of identification has been most thoroughly carried out, and could we but know the details in full of the work it has necessitated, we would doubtless find what tremendous difficulties there had been to surmount.

In a country like South Africa, where the population is certain to augment in extraordinary strides under the new regime, the preservation of graves in the veldt, and a group of several, possibly "two hundred yards from a farm house," will make the work of the Loyal Guild of Women one of no little difficulty. The immediate erection of substantial memorials will facilitate their efforts, to an immense degree, and insure the respect of the incoming settler for

Finally, it might be well to recall, in connection with this subject, how much we owe to the Boers, in the way of gratitude for their conduct in respecting both the sufferings of our wounded, and leaving undisturbed the graves of our dead, and with this tribute to the vanquished, we take leave of a subject of sad import to many Canadians.

THE EGOTIST'S PICTURE.

An egotist sat down one day
To look the family album through.
The dust of years upon it lay;
The clasp with verdigris was blue.

Aunt Hattie's picture made him smile; He laughed at dear old Uncle John, And marveled at the funny style Of all the clothing he had on.

At Cousin Grace's photograph He looked awhile and turned his head Endeavoring to choke a laugh, For she, so gladsome once, was dead.

How awkwardly she seemed to stand. The happy bride of long ago! On Reuben's shoulder lay her hand. He had his oiled hair parted low.

At last the egotist espied At something far away, squint eyed And seemingly a little dazed.

His ears hung out like wings; his hair Was plastered down across his brow; His clothes, alas, what boy would dare To venture out in such things now?

The egotist gazed for awhile
Upon the homely boy; then o'er
His features broke a sickly smile;
He was an egotist no more.

THE FORSAKEN.

By Duncan Campbell Scott

Once in the winter, Out on a lake
In the heart of the north-land,
Far from the Fort
And far from the hunters, And far from the hunters, A Chippewa woman, With her sick baby, Crouched in the last hours Of a great storm. Frozen and hungry, She fished through the ice With a line of the twisted Bark of the cedar, And a rabbit-bone hook Polished and barbed; Fished with the bare hook All through the wild day, Fished and caught nothing; While the young chieftain Tugged at her breasts, Or slept in the lacings Of the warm tikanagan. Of the warm tikanagan.
All the lake-surface
Streamed with the hissing
Of millions of ice-flakes, Of millions of ice-flakes,
Hurled by the wind;
Behind her the round
Of a lonely island
Roared like a fire
With the voice of the storm
In the deeps of the cedars.
Valiant, unshaken,
She took of her own flesh,
Baited the fish-hook,
Drew in a grey trout,
Drew in his fellow,
Heaped them beside her, Drew in his fellow, Heaped them beside her, Dead in the snow. Valiant, unshaken, She faced the long distance, Wolf-haunted and lonely, Wolf-haunted and lonely,
Sure of her goal
And the life of her dear one;
Tramped for two days,
On the third in the morning
Saw the strong bulk
Of the Fort by the river,
Saw the wood-smoke
Hang soft in the spruces,
Heard the keen yelp
Of the ravenous 'huskies
Fighting for whitefish;
Then she had rest.

Years and years after,
When she was old and withered,
When her son was an old man
And his children filled with vigor, leg, and I have no doubt this is so. A doctor told me one day, as we stood together by the island lake, that one of his first cases had been that of a man whose arm a swan had broken with its wing.

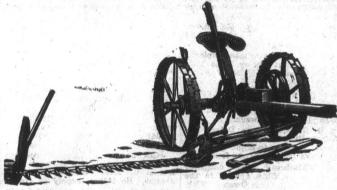

"The accident occurred in Arkansas, on Swan Lake, a body of water where these birds abound. A huntsman was 'fire-hunting,' when a swan, making for the light, flew straight at his head. He put up his arm to shield his face, and the powerful wing of the white bird struck him like a club. Both bones in the forearm were broken; it was a compound fracture.

HON. JOSEPH HOWE THE GREATEST ORATOR B.N.A. HAS PRODUCED.

"I shall depend upon the sober second thought of my countrymen to come right at last, and do me justice, and I hope that justice will be done me by-and-by," said Joseph Howe. After the neglect of 30 years, the province which he loved so well is about to erect an enduring monument to his memory. Nova Scotia, boastful that she has been the birth-place of more great men than any other province, has proved singularly callous to her famous son. Worshiping him at first, some men turned their backs on him, and heard his name with hisses. The act which would be considered by Canadians to-day the wisest in the career of Howe was the sin which his enemies could not forgive. Howe opposed Confederation, therefore Canadians are unmindful of his claims upon their respect and honor; Howe accepted Confederation, so a faction in Nova Statis hat diships the statistics of the confederation of the con

Greatest Canadian Orator. Joseph Howe was undoubtedly one of the finest characters this country has produced. As an orator the only man who can be compared with him man who can be compared with him is D'Arcy McGee, and the Irishman was not a Canadian in the sense that Howe was. Mr. Joseph Pope says of him in his "Life of Sir John Macdonald," he was incomparably the greatest orator that British North America has produced. The most eloquent appeal ever made by a Canadian was that of Joseph' Howe in Detroit at the International Commercial Convention. On that occain Detroit at the International Commercial Convention. On that occasion Howe's oratory was such that the United States delegates would have decided in favor of the continuance of the Reciprocity Treaty had the vote been taken on that day. And yet in this magnificent oration Howe repudiated annexation, flung it back in the faces of the Americans who yet hung spellbound on his words. Despite the fact that he was an Imperialist of the Imperialists, Howe was probably more popular in New England than in any part of Canada outside his native province. New England than in any part of Canada outside his native province. No man of the day was in greater demand at large gatherings in the Eastern States. He did not think of the most pleasant things he could say to Americans, and his Boston sprackes might have been delivered in say to Americans, and his Joston speeches might have been delivered in Halifax. No characteristic of Joseph Howe's was more marked than his fearlessness. The people of the Unit-ed States have never failed to love and respect this quality. Undazzled by the glare of party politics, they formed a truer estimate of the great Canadian than the mass of his own

His son Joseph was born in 1803, and received little regular education. At the age of 13 he went into the office of The Halliax Gazette as printer's ''devii.'' For 11 years he set type, wrote poems and sketches, and mastered the somewhat varied accomplishments of a journalist of the time. one of his contributors at the time. A Famous Libel Suit, Until 1835 Howe never spoke in public. A libel suit was brought against him in that year, and arrayed for the prosecution was able legal talent. Howe defended himself, and it took the jury ten minutes to ac-quit him. At this time there was not an incorporated city in Canada. Towns were goverened by magistrates appointed by the Crown, and in no sense responsible to the people. Howe's attack on the system landed sense responsible to the people. Howe's attack on the system landed him in prison, and brought against him the charge of libel. His speech destroyed the reign of the magistrates, inaugurated responsible Government in the Lower Provinces, and established the freedom of the press. The year 1835 also saw Howe's entry to public life. His official record may be briefly summarized. Until 1863 he was a member of the Nova Scotia Assembly almost continuously. Twice he was Premier. In 1863 he was appointed Fisheries Commissioner, in 1867 he was elected to the House of Commons. For 11 months he was President of the Privy Council, resigning to accept at the hands of Sir John Macdonald the Secretaryship of State. In 1872 he was made Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, an office he held but a few months, when his death occurred. —A Skin That Burns with eczema is not only unsightly but a weariness of the flesh. It takes a man a long time to find out he is not as good looking as he fondly imagined. The Confederation Issue.

From the fact that Confederation was the most important event in Canada's history, there is a tendency to judge public men who touched the great question by their attitude toward it. In the beginning Howe opposed it. The Nova Scotia House, while he was in Opposition, pledged the province to the noble vision, without appealing to the country. In the election of 1867, based on the Confederation issue the Province of Nova Scotia returned only two members out of 88 in favor of it. sion was the cry, and Howe was its mouthpiece. The strife was bitter. The extremists called for armed rebellion, and were rebuked by Howe in a notable passage: "I hope to live and die for Nova Scotia, and must be careful for her reputation and my own. In all the struggles of the past for the elevation and ad-vancement of our country, it has been my boast that no life was lost been my boast that no life was lost nor a pane of glass broken. I owe it to the living that this policy shall not be abandoned. I owe it to the dead who in honor and sobriety fought by my side that in the autumnal season of my life I shall not go mad and turn our country to a shambles."

Despised by Countrymen. Every constitutional means that could be used to free Nova Scotia from Canada was seized on by Howe. He went to England and argued his case with all his eloquence before the British Parliament. He was supported by John Bright, but was defeated. Seeing that his cause was lost, Howe accepted the inevitable, and when the original terms upon which Nova Scotia was taken into which Nova Scotia was taken into the Dominion were changed in the in-terests of that province, Howe ad-vised their acceptance. His death, before the wisdom of Confederation was apparent to all, robbed his de-clining years of the tribute which was their due. So he appealed to posterity to judge him. NIAGARA FALLS.

Is Lord Kelvin's Prediction Near Through

Above the roar of Niagara. Falls some people think they can hear the great cataract's knell being rung by science: Lord Kelvin's prediction that the falls in the course of time will disappear is, they apprehend, near fulfilment. Man has already begun to turn to account some of the tremerdous energies of that lean of near fulfilment. Man has already begun to turn to account some of the tremendous energies of that leap of waters. Immense power works are in operation on the New York bank of the Niegara, and three companies are preparing for the development of electricity on a prodigious scale on the Ontario side. Is this conversion of hydraulic into electrical power likely to continue until the water shall be wholly diverted from its course over the falls into penstocks carrying it into power-houses at the foot of the bluff? Some alarm on this point has recently been expressed in New York State by persons who think that the great scenic features of nature should be conserved, even though demands of science and industry have to be denied. The protests that have been made against the mechanizing of the falls are the subject of a special news article and an editorial in The New York Tribune of Sunday. Artists, photographers, lovers of natural scenery, power interests, and persons concerned in the tourist traffic were interviewed, and a considerable volume of opinion was found inclined to the view that the upper waters will in a comparatively short time ume of opinion was found inclined to the view that the upper waters will in a comparatively short time be conducted to the lower level through power canals and tunnels. By several practical men, however, the opinion was expressed that the falls would remain, notwithstanding any drain kept up on power account. It is pointed out that the river is higher above the falls than at them, and that consequently the tapping of the stream at points slightly above the brink of the cataract will only accelerate the movement of the stream. That acceleration is not likely to be brought at such a rate as to cause any contraction of the great storage basin, Lake Erie. Until that mill pond declines markedly from its present volume there is little danger of power development greatly checking the investigated. to the view that the upper waters volume there is little danger of power development greatly checking the impetuosity of the falls. Lake Erie is a shallow reservoir. Its bottom is not far below the level of its outlet, so that the upper Niagara is reasonably certain of continuing to flow as strongly as ever, even though half a dozen power vents are opened for it at the falls. It is complained that the developments on the Canadian side are marring the opened for it at the falls. It is complained that the developments on the Canadian side are marring the scenery, because the buildings are unsightly. That complaint is unfounded. The fact that all the contracts for power development have been made with the Queen Victoria Park Commissioners is in itself a guarantee that the natural grandeur and beauty of the spot will be protected. Aesthetic considerations have been taken into account in all the agreements. Unsightly buildings are not likely to be seen on our side if the commissioners continue the present policy of fostering the natural scenery.

It has often been cause for aston-ishment that an animal so remote as a bird in the line of development from man should be the only creafrom man should be the only creature in the least degree capable of imitating the human voice. A talking horse has from time to time been advertised; but for practical purposes man's only mimic is the bird. An American naturalist has recently written to prove that birds are not singers, but whistlers; that is to say that the notes are produced through a tube—to be technical through the a tube—to be technical, through the slit known as the glottis—not by the below the whole sixthction is beside the point. Anyone who has seen a bird singing will have seen both the vibration of his throat and the variations in the extent to which he opens and closes his beak or mandibles; and given these accompaniments, together with the production of an articulate language, whistling and singing become identical, in spite of technical terms suggesting a distinction. People are accustomed to the idea that only a few species of birds, such as the parrot and the jackdaw, can be taught, but in the wild life almost all birds are mimics to some extent, and probably more of them than people pronably more of them than people realize could be taught to imitute human sounds. The starling has astonishing skill in taking off other birds; and even the racuous jay can produce a song, or a whistle if the word is preferred, which would de justice to a thrush.—London Globe.

IT WAS NOT PERJURY.

Mr. M. F. Smith Only Sware to Mistake.

Toronto, June 11.-In giving evidence at the trial of an action in the High Court of Justice on the 20th day of May, a witness, M. F. Smith, stated that he had, in making a statutory declaration, committed perjury. The witness, Smith, in admitting under oath that he had been guilty of perjury, explains that he did so under the belief that any incorrect statement made under oath, whether innocently or inadvertently made or not, was perjury. The facts in regard to the incorrect declaration, admitted by Smith to have constituted perjury, are as follows:—The witness, Smith, made a statutory declaration as to the amount of the pack of the Oshawa Canning of the pack of the Oshawa Canning Company for the year 1900, relying for the amounts upon an employee; that subsequently tree witness Smith checked over the figures of his employee and found the amounts stated in the declaration to be in excess of the actual amount of the pack. The parties inferested in the litigation have inquired into the circumstances connected with the making of said declaration, and have all admitted that the witness, Smith, before any money or other advantage could accrue to him or to the Oshawa Canning Company, made the matter right, and that no money or other benefit was obtained by the said witness, Smith, or the Oshawa Canning Company as a result of such error in said declaration.

The above statement is given to the public, in justice to the man who, up to the time of his erroneous admission of perjury, had held a high place in the estimation of his fellow-towns-

The Premier, in an exhaustive reply, seviewed the services of Queen's, and said the Government were disposed to sasist the School of Mines for its usefulness to eastern Ontario. At the same time he urged the claims of the University of Toronto, said there must be no duplication of Provincial aid to universities, and declared that the aid to be given to Toronto must only be limited by its necessities and by the Province's power to give. Mr. Whitney ioined in the expressions of co-operation with Toronto University, while Mr. Harcourt endorsed these declarations of attachment.
