NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—New York is all agog and interest centres on the World's series today. At midnight hundreds were in line waiting at entrances to the British stadium. Indications are that favorable weather will greet the Yankees and Giants at two o'clock and everything points to crowded enclosure at opening with thousands unable to gain admission. The Yankees' Manager is confident, but not cocky and the Giants' leader says he relies on his players. Betting is even.

G. W. V. A. HERE NOT IN MOOD TO JOIN LEGION

Resolution Says that Other Organizations Should Join Veterans Association

COL. O'FLYNN SPEAKS

Poppy Day to be Observed and Christmas Tree Will be Bigger Than Ever

Amalgamation with the Canadian Legion as at present constituted does not find favor with the Belleville Branch of the G.W.V.A.

The subject of amalgamation was before a general meeting of the association last evening and after a fine speech from Comrade (Lieut.-Col.) O'Flynn, president of the Ontario Command of the G.W.V.A., the proposition was turned down.

The suggestion was voiced and seemed to find agreement with the facts, that the organizations desiring amalgamation had their eye on the good financial standing of the G.W.V.A. and for that reason would be very glad to join in a central body if the G.W.V.A. also came in.

The local branch, however, passed the following resolution, moved by Comrade J. W. Day and seconded by Comrade J. W. Price: "That the delegate representing this association at the Dominion Convention that any soldier organization wishing to amalgamate with the Great War Veterans' Association, discard their rights and come under the jurisdiction of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada."

A letter was received from C. Grant MacNeill, Dominion Secretary-Treasurer, expressing his regret at not being able to attend this meeting, on account of being busy on preparation for the National Convention at Port Arthur on Oct. 17th.

Dr. Sharpe will represent Belleville.

HOLD POPPY DAY

The National Poppy Day was discussed to some extent and finally the following motion was passed: "Moved and seconded that we hold Poppy Day during Armistice week, the day to be chosen by the ladies who will be in charge." The following resolution was passed to be forwarded to the Dominion Convention: "Moved by Comrade E. D. O'Flynn, seconded by Comrade J. W. Day, that the Belleville Branch go on record as endorsing all bonuses on pension, or that the same be added to the pension or become a permanent pension."

CHRISTMAS TREE COMMITTEE

The Christmas Tree Committee were nominated for the Christmas Tree this year. Arrangements are going to be made by the Dance Committee for Armistice night dance.

INDIAN RISING OVER DRAWN; TWO BATTALIONS ALL NEEDED

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A correspondent calling from India says:—I have made a careful inquiry into the extent of the Mohlah rising in India, which has been represented in some quarters here in the past few days as growing in seriousness and threatening British rule in India. Nothing is further from the truth. I have seen reports from military officers as well as civilian officials, making it clear it is merely a local disturbance in a district which has always been disorderly, and in which the natives are fanatical Mohammedans.

There is no doubt their fanaticism has been aroused by revolutionary extremists, but, instead of directing a rising against the British, they have confined themselves mostly to attacking the Hindus, whom they have forcibly converted to Mohammedanism or killed. All told there are now 10,000 rebels of whom one in fifty possesses firearms. The rest are armed with knives with which they are expert.

The whole rebellion is confined to two sub-districts of an area of 40 by 45 miles in extent, but the country is thick with jungle and has few roads, and it is difficult for the British troops to penetrate it. At the beginning of the outbreak only half a company of British were in the district and a couple of hundred native police. Now there is about half a battalion, and I have seen a report from the officer commanding in which he asks for two battalions of British or Indian troops to restore complete order.

THE INVERNESS FORMULA

Asserts that Co-operation of all Classes Necessary to Settle Unemployment

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Lloyd George's Highland holiday came to an end this morning when he arrived in London at 7.45. On his arrival in London he saw deputations of the Labor party, business men, financiers and others waiting on his doorstep to advise or consult with him about unemployment remedies and a host of similar clamoring for instructions about the Washington Conference, the Irish Conference, unemployment and half a dozen other subjects which have been more or less neglected during his absence.

The freedom of Inverness was conferred by Donald MacDonald, the Provost, in the presence only of the Council, in order to spare the Premier the fatigue of a large meeting.

PROBLEMS BEFORE CABINET

Lloyd George said: "When the members of the Cabinet return from their brook rest this week they will be encumbered by several formidable problems. One is preparation for a very eventful conference in Washington on disarmament, and another is a conference on Ireland, which is the great problem of unemployment."

"With regard to the conference at Washington, if it be wisely approached and conducted in a broad, courageous spirit, it will constitute one of those outstanding events which should affect human history for generations to come, and so far as the British Government is concerned, we shall certainly do all in our power to make it a success, feeling that in doing so we shall be interpreting the wishes of every citizen throughout the Empire."

THE INVERNESS FORMULA

"As to the Irish conference, I had some hopes we should have started that in the Highlands. I felt that the environment would be very helpful. From no fault of mine, nor my colleagues, we did not succeed in arranging a meeting in Inverness. At any rate, when we enter into this conference next week we shall do so on the basis of what is now known as the 'Inverness formula.' That formula was framed in this chamber, and finally accepted by the chief of the Irish people. There have been so many efforts to settle the Irish question, all of which have failed in the past, that I find myself compelled to check my native hopefulness."

TRUST TO COMMON SENSE

"By the contemplation of past failures, all that I can usefully say now about the conference is this: It can succeed only if those who enter it make up their minds definitely, courageously and resolutely to trust to the common sense of their own people, and not try to reconcile the extremists, who are essentially irreconcilable on either side."

"I am certain that the common sense of the British and Irish people can be trusted to make peace on a basis that will be satisfactory to both."

MISSING FOR THREE YEARS; SUFFERED FROM SHELLSHOCK

KINGSTON, Oct. 5.—To be missing and presumed to be dead since before the signing of the Armistice in November, 1918, and then to be found by his father and mother in a hospital in England, where he was going under a different name while suffering from shellshock, was the experience of a young man named Wood, whose home is in St. Georges, near Brantford, Ont.

The young man and his father and mother spent the week end in Gananoque with friends. They arrived in Canada a few days ago on the Empress of Britain and went to their home in St. Georges yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood had the military authorities do all in their power to locate their son, but all the efforts put forth were fruitless.

Going overseas in July last, the father and mother started a search for themselves, and it is stated that while they were on a visit to a hospital in England they found their son suffering from shellshock. He had forgotten his own name, and was going under the name of Wood Brown.

Needless to say the parents were overcome with joy to find their son, whom they had almost given up for dead. He is a young man, married, and it is understood that his wife is living at St. Georges.

The father of the young man secured permission to bring his son home to Canada.

SIR JOS. FLAVELLE ON RAILWAY CASE

Says Grand Trunk Headquarters Should Have Been in Canada

BIG FIGURES FOR ALL RAILWAY BUDGET IN DOMINION Now Totals $1,625,000,000

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—The railway problem in Canada was dealt with in an address delivered before a packed hall in the Board of Trade rooms by Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Grand Trunk Railway here.

Sir Joseph disclaimed any intention of touching on questions of policy since being in a position of public trust he felt that the proper clearing house for such remarks should be the Parliament of Canada.

He added that he would deal chiefly with the matters touched on in the letter which he recently had forwarded to Premier Meighen.

Sir Joseph then stated that he thought that Charles M. Hays was right when he recommended that the Grand Trunk should have its head office in Canada, and should have its board of directors chosen from among its shareholders on this side of the ocean.

This done, he proposed that the Grand Trunk Pacific Company should be the operating company, that its head office should be at Ottawa, and that its directors should be chosen from this side of the ocean. If the G. T. R. was to compete with the C.P.R.

Sir Joseph said he knew of what he was talking, because he had been asked to be a director. But the scheme had fallen through.

"The Canadian Northern," he said "came to Parliament time after time for money, until it wore out its welcome. The Grand Trunk pursued a similar policy."

"The rejoinder of the Grand Trunk was on the fifteenth of next month we will close down our business." To this the Government replied by appointing a receiver. You have the subsequent story. The Grand Trunk property passed over to the Government, and the latter agreed to assume responsibility for interest payments on the liabilities."

The final result was that the control of the property passed into the hands of the Government which appointed five directors.

Sir Joseph then touched on the universal and adverse criticism which had been the meed of these directors.

"There is no more unhappy chapter in public affairs than that of these men who were honestly trying to administer, this group of railways, a task for which they had not been elected and one of whose fruits they were not responsible."

He referred to the total of $1,625,000,000 invested in these railways. In detail the sums are $182,000,000 for the Intercolonial, $1,851,000,000 for the National Transcontinental, $853,000,000 for the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern lines with all their branches. Of this huge total the people have contributed $720,000,000.

From the first no interest was charged on the C.N.R. loans by the Government, nor on the loans to the National Transcontinental. Interest has been paid on the loans to the other various companies. This interest which the people must pay now equalled $14,000,000 last year.

Jury duty is proving popular in the State of Washington, where the judge permits sampling in any litigation involving the worth of liquor.

Four citizens of Chicago make more than $1,000,000 a year, income statistics show. One has an annual income of $4,000,000.

NEWFOUNDLAND HIGHLY PRAISED

Mr. H. F. Ketcheson Tells the Lions' Club All About Old Colony

TRADE OPPORTUNITIES

Canada Could Easily Sell More to St. Johns if Right Men Were Sent Out

"Newfoundland sent ten thousand troops to the war. They had 4,500 casualties. They so distinguished themselves in every action in which they were engaged that by command of the King, they received the right to be called The Royal Newfoundland Regiment. I just want to add that as a tribute to the wonderful little island colony."

This concluded today a splendid descriptive address made before the Lions' Club by Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, who with Mr. John Elliott, visited Newfoundland during the past summer.

He dwelt on the vast natural resources of the island, but referred particularly to the inexhaustible amount of fish and fish products to be found in the ocean surrounding the colony.

He paid tribute to the many fine people to be found there, although he found their system of education rather backward according to our standards.

He emphasized the tremendous trade possibilities and said that there was so little now was due partly to misunderstandings and partly to the fact that the trade agents sent were political hacks or men who got the position as a favor—at all events men who were not business-like and who fell down on the job. He and Mr. Elliott had had no trouble in convincing the people of St. John's that they could buy advantageously in Canada, and had, as a matter of fact, arranged shipments of goods in carload lots from right here in Belleville to Newfoundland.

Mr. Ketcheson said that he was certainly of the opinion that great deal more trade could be obtained for Canada and won from the United States agents if the proper kind of live, energetic and reliable trade commissioners were sent out from Canada.

He described the seal industries and how millions of them coming down on the ice-floes in the spring were caught easily by the experienced hunters, and how the cod, the mainstay of the island trade, was found just off shore by the boat loads.

Canadian Banks controlled the finances of the island and Canadian money was seen there principally, although they had a silver coin of their own.

The trip had been an eye-opener and he had benefited in many ways from it, he said.

PREMIER SENDS OUT AN APPEAL TO THE WOMEN

Manifesto Announcing Dissolution of Commons and Asking Support, Published

WAR A PROUD MEMORY

On Shoulders of People the Responsibility is Now Placed, Says Meighen

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Premier Meighen's manifesto to the electors of Canada announcing dissolution, says in part:

"To the People of Canada: Parliament has been dissolved. The people of Canada—its men and for the first time its women—are called upon to determine, in what will inevitably be a contest far-reaching and momentous in its outcome, what shall be, through the strenuous journey that very plainly is ahead of us, the character and direction of our policy."

"I have been a member of the Government through eight eventful years, and its leader for something more than one. The Government has conducted Canada's affairs through a devastating war. It has met and surmounted unprecedented difficulties, and survived the crisis that such a war brings in its train. It has formulated policies by means of which the sufferings of the conflict have been and are being ameliorated, and its loss and wreckage repaired. To the demands of those trying years it has devoted all its energies, and is prepared now with vigor undiminished to lead the way through the dangers and unsettledness which, in common with other countries, we are passing through."

"What has been accomplished both in war effort on its many fields and in our more domestic after-war activities, designed to steady and direct the transition from belligerency to peace, is a total so vast when related to our population that even yet we cannot adequately measure its merits or its proportions. We are still close to the events. A useful standard, indeed the only useful standard by which to gauge the efficiency of Canada's performance, is a comparison with the corresponding achievement of any other nation. By such standard neither this nor any future generation of Canadians need ever fear to have their country judged. If the leadership of the Government in all this work is subjected to attack, we are prepared to meet that attack. But neither the Government nor the National Liberal and Conservative Party that supports it seeks to monopolize or to turn to partisan advantage credit that belongs to the whole nation and that constitutes now its richest legacy and assets for the future; much less would we take to ourselves any part of the glory that belongs alone to those who braved the foe in battle. History will, with the utmost impartiality, separate the permanent from the transient and distinguish big things from small; will condemn where there has been mistake, and will do full justice to plans boldly conceived and unflinchingly carried through."

"The war is a memory, and a proud memory, but it is no longer an issue. Canada from 1914 to 1918, under the splendid leadership of Sir Robert Borden, passed through one of those crises that reap the soil of the people. We must now face with courage the gigantic task of reconstruction. We must sustain and improve services already established for assisting those who especially suffered from the war; we must map out our course; we must choose policies that accord with our aspirations as a nation, that are suited to the present stage of our development, to our surroundings in the world, and to the troubled age in which we live."

"On the shoulders of the people themselves the responsibility now is placed. They must decide, and I pray that the gravity of that decision every man and every woman will fully comprehend. They must decide between sure and ordered progress and perilous experiment; they must decide between the certain

AN UNPLEASANT SPECTACLE

"NOW, gentlemen," said Judge Lazarus, in summing up the Arbuckle case, "this is an important case. We are not trying Arbuckle alone—actually, in a large sense, we are trying ourselves. We are trying our present day morals, our present day social conditions."

And he might have added that the womanhood of the community, or a section of it, was on trial. The press reports relate that when the decision was announced that Arbuckle was not to be held for murder but for a less serious charge, hundreds of women in the court burst into applause, and not content with applauding they swarmed around the slapstick king and sought to shake his hand.

The Detroit Free Press commenting on what it regards as in some ways the "most sickening thing that developed in the course of the court examination," provides a serious problem for people who contend that there is something finer, fairer and cleaner in the nature of woman than there is in the nature of man.

Perhaps it would be easy to make too much of the incident. The women who crowded the court room and gave such an exhibition of their bad taste were probably not representatives of the womanhood of the community from which they came, and were certainly not representative of the womanhood of the country.

The incident however, furnishes an additional reason why there should be a general clean-up in the moving picture business. The fact that the heroes and heroines of the screen are able to exercise such an influence on emotional people makes it all the more desirable that their lives and characters should be such as to bear inspection.

TRADE FIGURES

A heavy decline in Canadian trade, both export and import, for the year ending August 31, disclosed by Government reports, affords ground for some interesting comparisons, particularly in connection with the trade between this country, Great Britain, the United States and Germany.

Great Britain $288,858,581—$148,134,580.

United States $455,011,563—$683,309,850.

Germany $8,417,127—$2,065,260.

Study of the returns shows that Great Britain was a heavier buyer of Canadian vegetable and animal products than the United States, but in fibre and textiles, minerals and metals chemical products and especially wood and paper, the United States was the larger customer.

The trade figures disclosed that while our trade with the world at large is declining, due in a very large measure to the general depression, our business with Germany is slowly picking up and we are also doing more business with Australia, the Argentine Republic, Mexico, the Netherlands and Italy.

The latter country bought from Canada goods valued at $48,202,387, compared with $24,235,481 in 1920 and $19,338,175 in 1919.

There is food for thought, food for political orations in the comparison of our British and American trade. We sell twice as much to Great Bri-

Scot's Response to Scotian Fetes

LONDON, ENG., Oct. 4.—The Tercentenary of the grant of the Charter of Nova Scotia, says the Glasgow Herald, cannot fail to evoke a response in Scotland, although the historical interest attaching to it is not with out an element of melancholy.

Although Scotsmen have been great colonizers and Scotland can claim a large chapter in the history of British colonization, the efforts of Scotland before the union to establish colonies were uniformly unsuccessful.

King James knew as much about the sale of honors as any modern politician can do, and he based great hopes on the offer of a baronetcy and 26,000 Nova Scotian acres in return for contributions in men or money to the great scheme.

The Scottish dream of a Scottish colony in Nova Scotia was nearly a century later realized by the establishment of a British colony, but the distinctively Scottish element in the settlement had vanished.

Yet the idea is in many respects a good one, for it would provide an element of certainty now lacking in all problems of identity except those in the one domain where it has come into general use.

ALBERTA WOMAN HOLDS SECRET OF HIDDEN TREASURE

Was Cashed When Prospectors Were Attacked by Indians Years Ago

WORTH OVER $85,000

Cash is Found to Place, But Woman is Missing—Search is on WENTSCHKE, Wash., Oct. 4.—Some- where in the Province of Alberta lives an elderly woman who holds the secret of where nuggets and gold-dust valued at $85,000 were hidden almost half a century ago by a party of pack- stricken miners during their mad flight from the arrows and scalper knives of Indians of the war path.

The woman is Mrs. Eliza Tuttle, a daughter of the long-vanished frontier and one of the ill-fated party, which in those rough days of the sixties was hurried across the Great West by the hostile Indians and forced to abandon both saddles and other effects, as well as the treasure, in a desperate effort to save their lives.

A VAIN EFFORT

Since then, and for many years, she has spent much time in the vicinity of what is now Quincy, Wash- ington, but what was then a long stretch of dangerous wild land, in a vain effort to recover this uncharted wealth, so desperately cashed away. She always maintained that if she could discover where the saddles were hidden she would be able to walk directly to the spot where the gold was cached.

For many years a systematic search was conducted to recover this frontier wealth, but always in vain, and at length people came to look upon Mrs. Tuttle's efforts as something as foolish as chasing the proverbial "will-o'-the-wisp." But now further substantiation has been given her story. A few days ago, while out trapping coyotes, two hunters in fixing their concealed traps, unearthened the cached saddles, together with some papers, which, although terribly ravaged by the process of time, could be deciphered, and these gave ample proof to every word of Mrs. Tuttle's hair-raising stories of the early frontier days and their trials and perils.

A FORTUNE IN GOLD

It appears that the party of prospectors, with which Mrs. Tuttle journeyed in her girlhood, had prospected up into the British Columbia mining district and on the banks of the Columbia river had dug from out the earth and washed from out the river a fortune in gold. They were freight- ing their treasure homeward when overtaken by a tribe of Indians which had been trailing them through its land for some days, and the prospectors were so outnumbered by their foes that their avenue of escape was open to them, save that of instant flight. In the rush that followed every- thing was abandoned.

By an ill-freak of fate, Mrs. Tuttle was often within a few feet of the cached saddles in her numerous searches for the treasure, but never could locate it. Now after she has been missing for many years, having picked up and left for Alberta in effort to retrieve her fortunes, the saddles are found. But Mrs. Tuttle is lost. Yet $85,000 is awaiting her upon her return.

"Cause this here ain't gonna be no fine minstrel show," says the Quinte Sun. The enthu- siasm which is necessary for the suc- cess of amateur enterprises along this line, was present in barrelluffs. Some twenty-odd men were in at- tendance.

THURLOW APPEAL

OFF FOR MONTH

Two Important Witnesses on Stand Monday Afternoon Before Adjourment

ASSESS AT FULL VALUE

Township Contends County had Raised Equalization from 56.8 to 100 Per cent.

The appeal of the Township of Thurlow against the 1921 equaliza- tion bylaw of Hastings County Coun- cil was laid over until Tuesday, No- vember 1st, after the hearing of the evidence on Monday afternoon of Mr. M. J. Haney of the Point Anne Quar- ries and Mr. W. J. Hume of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Com- pany. Their witnesses were put in the box to try to prove that the assessment of business and indus- trial property in the township was to the full value and in sum instances in excess of 1920 values, those being the values under consideration.

Thurlow contends that the county council raised the equalization from 56.8 to 100 per cent. on the basis of sales of farm lands sold within the year under view and that as business property was already assessed to full value by the township assessor, the equalization was far too great. Thurlow hopes to cut the equaliza- tion at least one million dollars if the contention is proven.

PENNY BAGS IN USE AGAIN

W. C. A. at Meeting Decide to Resume This Method of Collecting Money

MISS BRISTOL APPOINTED Graduate of McDonald College Succeeds Miss Rogers at Hospital

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.A. was held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mikel, the President, in the chair. The reports of the various offices were read and adopted.

Owing to ill health, Miss Rogers, the dietitian at the Belleville General Hospital, had to resign and her place has been filled by Miss Bristol, a graduate of Macdonald College at Guelph.

The collection of the penny bag money was discontinued in the spring, during the summer, but now this will be continued as soon as possible. A reorganization is taking place and conveners and collectors will be appointed. The ladies feel that the penny bag system should be carried on as in fourteen months over $1,700 was collected in this way. People who have penny bags now can be filling their bags as collectors will likely call in a few weeks. The proceeds from these penny bags are equally divided between the Hospital and the Home.

Miss M. Smith, the social service worker for the city gave her monthly report. The unemployment question had improved during September and no emergency relief had to be given, which is very good news. There are several elderly people who will need care, but by legislation the children are now compelled to care for their parents, which relieves quite a responsibility from the social service worker. During September Miss Smith made several calls and she has organized and systematized her winter's work.

The Dorcas Society will meet regularly from now on at the Belleville Home for the Aged, and the ladies are very desirous of having any clothing, shoes and especially stockings legs so they can be refitted.

The lady on duty for the hospital this month is Mrs. Van Bueckirk and the lady on duty for the Home is Mrs. M. Gilbert. The number of patients admitted to the hospital this month was 117 and the number now in is 51.

Many gifts were received at the Home this month which are very gratefully acknowledged.

MADOC'S ANNUAL FAIR HAS BEST DAIRY EXHIBIT FROM TORONTO TO OTTAWA

Splendid Attendance and Over Two Thousand Exhibits at Centre Hastings Exhibition—This Year's Show Excels All Previous Efforts.

Real old-fashioned autumn weather greeted the big social and agricultural event of Centre Hastings on Wednesday at Madoc village fair grounds where the annual exhibition of the Madoc District Agricultural Society was held. Jupiter Pluvius had a chance to destroy the work of the energetic officers of the association, for just about noonday there began a downpour of the watery element. The morning had opened cool and bright with every indication of fair weather but before long the sun went under a cloud and the atmosphere became quite cold. The arrival of the rain was a discouraging symptom, yet the executive felt encouraged to hope for a fine afternoon and they were not disappointed. The storm passed and after an hour or more of additional gloom the sun came out for the rest of the day.

CROWDS CAME EARLY Visitors were on the grounds early and the throngs were well on their way to the fair and many were already there before the rain was over. It was not long until one of the largest gatherings that ever usurped the grounds was there for the day's enjoyment. While it is said that the "gate" was a little below that of last year, the crowd was very large. Doubtless the threatening attitude of the weather kept the farthest distant away, although many Bellevillians arrived during the early afternoon and the motor brought many from places farther away still. Hundreds of motors were on the grounds.

If the crowd was one of the features of Madoc Fair, so with its exhibits. Never in the society's history has the show of this year taken as a whole been excelled. There may have been classes where the entries had been smaller than at some previous shows, still on the average and considering the quality of the exhibits, the 1921 fair was the equal of any of the past or perhaps the superior of all of them. The entry-list numbered two thousand two hundred.

Madoc, occupying a central position in the county, it was not difficult to see why the fair is peculiar in some of its features. Nearly every fair possesses an individuality and Madoc is assuredly in line in point of originality. It could be mistaken for no other fair in the district. It also possesses qualities that resemble those of other exhibitions, but in most of these it excels.

COMMUNITY GATHERING

Wednesday proved the great community value of the rural fair. It has been said that the small fair has to give way to the metropolitan exhibition. Well, not the slightest sign of that tendency or destiny can be seen at Madoc. This show is healthier than ever with every indication of a long and useful life for many decades. A look around the grounds showed why these gatherings are so important in the life of the community, as one saw friend meet friend from another township and witness the effect of these meetings and clashes of ideas.

Secretary W. J. Hill is the backbone of the Madoc Fair as the president and officers own. He has had a good president, Mr. W. H. Kells, and a capable galaxy of officers to help to put the 1921 event across.

A monster midway, rid as far as possible of the old-time gambler and crook, plied a busy trade. New wrinkles, never seen before, festooned the ever present and time-honored styles of entertainment. There was nothing to irritate those who object to the fair. The special constables of the society did their work well. Madocers love and always did love a horse race. The management staged three fine events on the grass track, a free-for-all, 2.35 class, and an actual farmers' race.

Mr. Clayton Tucker, of Stirling, was starter and had as officials Thomas H. Thompson, M.P.P., and W. E. Tammon, judges, and Dr. Hay as timer.

FREE-FOR-ALL The free-for-all was won by a Belleville horse, K. L. Lambert, owned by Dr. Benson. This race was carried off in three straight heats. Lens Rivers (L. Ferguson) of Peterborough, owner, ran second in each heat and Rhoda Ashburn, a Kingston mare, owned by J. B. Howe, was third. The time was 2:35, 2:31, 2:40.

2.35 CLASS The 2.35 class proved an interesting race, the third heat being a real race for all who was worth to maintain her slight lead. The six horses in this trial bunched in all the heats. The result was: Lady Paramount, L. Ferguson, Peterborough, 1:11; Hal E. M. Conter, Tweed, 1:22; Leo Stewart, M. Coulter, Tweed, 1:52; Sedella, R. Purley, Frankford, 3:34; City Patch, Blake, Collins, Plainfield, 5:45; Clairfield, J. Vaneau, Trenton, 6:66; Time—2:29 3/4, 2:34 1/2, 2:37 1/2.

FARMERS' RACE The farmers' event proved as much pleasure as any trial on the card. This was open to horses that had never won public money, and were owned and driven by farmers' sons, best two in three, mile heats. There was some talk of protesting certain of the animals on the ground of previous money-winning, but all that entered, ran. It was a mixed race, all right, with the modern bicycle sulky, four-wheeled buggy, old style steel tire sulky, all competing. The four-wheeled sulky ran well although at great odds, outlasted the bikes. The disadvantage against the fair all to themselves trying to follow the animals and get them in the proper place in the summary, so much were they bunched as they ran up the home stretch. They succeeded in getting the first four in each heat and fittingly the race did not extend beyond the second heat. That was the cause of the confusion. The summary: Red Bird, Lewis Ament, Vernon, 1:11; Angus, M. Wickins, Frankford, 3:2; Whisky Brino, W. Scrimshaw, Bonarlaw, 3:2; Bartlett Jr., W. Radcliffe, Bonarlaw, 4:4; Major, J. Gallivan, Stirling, 4:4; Brino Boy, W. Andrews, Rawdon Mack, Ed. Chappelle, Read, 5:1; Nellie Patch, B. Collins, Plainfield, 5:1; Joker, C. Bailey, Stirling, 5:1; ("Tied for second and third money.") Time—2:52, 2:57.

The first heat was given a standing start.

LIVESTOCK SHOW

The exhibits in horses formed one of the best attractions of the fair. The heavy and light classes were both well filled. The directors in charge of these were W. J. Jeffrey, J. A. Moore, James A. Caskey, W. H. Kells, Simeon Fox, W. E. Tammon, W. Miller, and Chas. Thompson. In cattle there were a number of fine herds of pure bred exhibits. Mr. E. B. Purtele, of Bloomfield, who handled the judging, was highly complimentary of the entry and the competition. Handling this department were J. S. Hill, C. J. Smith, Jas. A. Caskey, H. Wood, A. Forestall, F. Peacey.

Ayrshire—Bull calf, Hector Wood; heifer calf, Hector (1st, 2nd and 3rd); herd, Hector Wood; bull 2 yr., Hector Wood.

Jersey—Arthur Tutts won first yearling bull, first and second bull calf, first and second milk cow, first and second two-year-old, first and second one year, first and second heifer calf, and the prize for herd.

PREMIER SENDS OUT AN APPEAL

(Continued from page 1.) fruits of a strong and stable government which can be the only product of class alliances and the balancing of groups; they must decide between a tariff policy which, in Canada's position, is the very root of her prosperity and the progressive absorption of Canadian industries and with their Canadian manhood and womanhood in the ever-expanding system to the United States.

"To the women of Canada I make special appeal. The Government now in office, supported by the party which I have had the honor to lead, extended to you three years ago the Federal franchise. Your rights of suffrage are now in every respect the same as the suffrage rights of men. This was done voluntarily as an act of justice. The services of women in the war had been such that in the judgment of the Government and the party that supported it, their qualifications for franchise had been demonstrated and their right of franchise had been earned. Nevertheless there were those opposed to us who resisted the government's action in this regard and who still insist that such action was wrong. My appeal to women is not, however, on any ground peculiar to themselves; but my appeal to them is earnestly and thoroughly to study the great issue that now confronts our country and conscientiously to seek a conclusion on that issue from the standpoint of country-loving Canadians; to refuse rigidly to be moved by reckless and unsupported clamour of public men or by the cry of prejudices or by class appeal. Through the long struggle of the war the women of our country proved themselves equal with men in stern, unselfish patriotism and fervent devotion to duty. I confidently hope that in the execution of the trust reposed in them now, they will prove to be a steady and enlightening force in our public life, that they will show further an example of public conduct dictated by love of country alone and will thus vindicate to all the world their right to share with men responsibility for public affairs."

SIX TEAMS TO PLAY Merchants' Cup Winner for Winter to be Determined This Fall

Formal organizations of the Belleville Soccer League as it will be known was completed last night at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. The Rev. D. C. Ramsay, President of the Belleville Amateur Athletic Association, was in the chair and had charge of the proceedings. Affiliation with the B.A.A.A. was agreed to after a lengthy discussion in which statements were made that the B.A.A.A. should aim to assist budding teams more than it does. Mr. Ramsay straightened things out and things proceeded smoothly thereafter. Six teams are in the running. And the first game will be played tomorrow. Generally speaking, games will be played on Saturday afternoon and double headers will be the rule. Next Saturday will see the Tigers Baker team play the 34th Battery. Future games will be decided later. Play will determine the holder for this winter of the Merchants' Cup, the team winning the most games being declared champion. There is not time for a full series of home and home games. Play will be resumed in the spring, all being well and a real season of soccer is foreseen.

Rev. Mr. Ramsay is the head of the soccer league and Mr. F. Walsh is secretary, that office being relinquished by Mr. Sydney Taylor as he is connected with one of the teams.

GERMAN MARK AS SPECULATION

Thousands of New Yorkers Play With Almost Worthless Hun Paper

EXPECT IT TO "RISE"

Peddlers Hawked German Paper When Wave of Buying Was at Height

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Speculation in the German mark in the United States since the armistice has reached an unprecedented point, according to international bankers here. Thousands of people in all walks of life, hoping to get rich quick, it was stated, have invested heavily in the German currency, which recently collapsed to a point below one cent for the first time in financial history.

The buying first started in the midsummer of 1919, when the mark whose pre-war value was 23.8 cents was selling at 7 1/2 to 8 cents apiece. New York appeared to be the distributing centre. Banks and foreign exchange houses were flooded with orders from small investors. Small foreign exchange houses sprang up on prominent corners, cigar stores and other business houses began to do a flourishing business in the mark.

Hawked Hun Paper—While the wave of mark buying was at its height, peddlers hawked the German paper on the streets and one distributor is known to have made a house to house canvass.

Bankers said this buying continued as the value of the mark declined, when the German industrial recovery failed to materialize as quickly as the "get rich quick" investors had expected. Some weeks ago when the German paper began to hit new low levels, many of the small investors as well as others began to "cash in" and they are believed to have taken hundreds of thousands of dollars in losses.

Wave of Buying Checked—Many of the speculators, however, bankers assert are holding their marks for a new rise and are buying the currency at the new low rates and equalizing their losses. But the wave of buying has been greatly checked, they declared.

While bankers are reluctant to discuss the probable outcome of these speculations, they declare, however, that only a readjustment of reparations payments, improvement in Germany's economic situation, or the extension of commercial credits to German manufacturers for raw materials, will bring about an improvement in the value of marks.

Moles, 59 King Street east, were in collision on the Provincial highway two miles below the town, and as a result Mrs. Hunt is in St. Vincent de Paul hospital suffering from severe cuts and loss of blood. The occupants of the car which suffered the most damage were Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. J. C. Watrous, 37 Bethune street, and Mrs. C. G. Griffin, of the same address. The breaking of the windshield in the collision caused the injuries to Mrs. Hunt, who was badly cut about the head and parts of the body, and had an artery severed. Mrs. Watrous was thrown from the car, but escaped with bruises, while Mrs. Griffin and Mr. Hunt were but slightly hurt. Mrs. Hunt was removed to the residence of M. J. Higgins nearby, whence she was taken to the hospital, where she is being attended by Dr. W. E. Harding. Twelve stitches were placed in one wound.

KNEE CAP BROKEN.

Walter Sells, Joycelite, Victim of Motorcycle and Car Collision.

KINGSTON—Walter Sells, Joycelite, sustained a broken knee cap when he was thrown from the rear seat of a motorcycle, driven by Thomas Kantish, that crashed into a Ford car which was driven by James Joyce at the corner of Princess and Montreal streets. The injured man was removed to Dr. A. W. McCarthy's surgery where his wounds were treated, and he was removed to the Hotel Dieu in R. Reid's ambulance. The accident happened while the automobile was turning round. The driver apparently did not see the motorcycle, which came along Montreal street at a good rate of speed, and crashed into the back of the car. The front forks of the motorcycle was bent and the machine was otherwise damaged. A crowd soon gathered about the spot and a policeman took the names of the men and the license numbers.

COTTAGE BURNED AT EASTVIEW

Building Owned by Rev. J. D. Boyd Destroyed Just After Vacated

Kingston—A two storey cottage at Eastview Park belonging to Rev. J. D. Boyd was burned to the ground. It had just been vacated by Mr. Edward Connors and family who had occupied it this summer. There were only two families living in the nearest cottages but, assisted by men who were working nearby on the road, they did what they could to put out the flames. They could not save the cottage but they prevented the fire from spreading to nearby cottages, though Aid. Litton's cottage twice caught fire and several other buildings were scorched. The burned cottage was only two years old and is a complete loss.

WIND DAMAGES ARCH

Model on Memorial Arch Was Smashed by Cyclone

Kingston—A model of the memorial arch which had been erected on the R.M.C. grounds, was smashed to pieces by the cyclone on Friday, and will be a total loss. This model has been built to give a general idea of what the real arch will look like when finished, and the storm will set back the erection of the memorial for some time. Several trees were blown down on the grounds, but outside of this the military college escaped any serious damage, even though very much exposed to the wind.

FELL 45 FEET FROM VIADUCT

Strangers in Port Hope go out on High Bridge Mistaking Directions

FREIGHT TRAIN NEARS

One Held on and is Rescued—Other Gets Broken Bones in Drop

PORT HOPE, Oct. 4.—Ernest Bryson and his friend, a young man about the same age, had a thrilling experience here last night that should be featured in the movies. They arrived in Port Hope on the evening train from the east and when they enquired the direction to the town they were told to go under the viaduct. They understood they were to go over the bridge and just as they reached the centre of the viaduct they noticed a freight backing up from the station. They considered the accommodation on the viaduct rather close for comfort so they threw themselves over the side of the bridge and hung on to the sleepers. But the freight was slow in backing up and the men became so fatigued that Bryson had to drop the cries for help from the other man attracted the attention of some persons nearby and he was pulled up on the bridge again.

The place where Bryson dropped was near Peacock's coal sheds and the bridge at this point is about 45 feet from the ground. Bryson in his fall was painfully injured, his right leg being broken at the knee and his right ankle broken. His back was severely injured and he was also cut about the face and is resting quite comfortably today. Both men came here from Trenton and their story is that they were looking for work. Bryson had no fixed place of abode but previous to going to Trenton had worked in Oshawa for three months.

GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

Depend Upon the Condition of the Blood—Keep it Rich, Red and Pure.

When a doctor tells you that you are anemic, he simply means, in plain English, that your blood is weak and watery. But this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak, watery blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, irritability and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches, the muddy complexion that disfigures so many faces. To have good health, a good complexion must be kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood enriching tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who occasionally use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

Mrs. E. E. Cook, Simcoe, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is in an anemic condition; she says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run down condition of the system. I suffered from pains in the back, twitching of the nerves and muscles, my appetite was poor. I had indigestion and would get drowsy after eating. My hands and feet were almost always cold, and though I was constantly doctoring, the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until a friend from Hamilton came to visit me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I have reason to be grateful that I did, for after using seven boxes I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I cannot praise them too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GALSWORTHY PLAY SPLENDIDLY DONE

Crowded Theatre Glimpses Fine English Company in Ultra-Modern Drama

WHAT GOOD IS GENTILITY
"The Skin Game" as Picture of Present-Day England Called Over-drawn

It is to be hoped that the Galsworthy picture of present-day England presented to a Belleville audience which filled Griffin's theatre last evening is as over-drawn as some other scenes by that gifted but not inspired writer. The story is not one that leaves the pleasant impressions of after-war conditions; and is unsatisfying. That, of course, is nothing new to people who have dipped a little into the Galsworthy ink-spillings, which are alluring but not always convincing.

All this is not, however, to say that the piece was not excellently done. It was. There wasn't a weak spot in the cast, just as there were no outstanding people in the company; yet all combined to present a very smoothly conceived and executed entertainment. "The Skin Game" is entertaining, vastly, but surely as over-drawn, as it is ultra-modern in theme.

Doubtless most people have read reviews or advance notices of the play; last night's audience appeared to come well prepared to hear and see what it did hear and see—with a few exceptions. And if Belleville was being given a glimpse of what a well-balanced English company could do with unconventional (although sometimes highly melodramatic) lines, an English company was being given a glimpse of what a Canadian audience could achieve in (1) Talking out loud during the action of the play; (2) Tittering at the wrong thing; (3) sitting tight-mouthed at a delicious bit of humor that at least called for a smile in appreciation. True, it takes all kinds of folks.

The play itself was done convincingly. There are splendid bits of characterization, bits of high tragedy, of real comedy, and the piece abounds in clever lines.

Mr. Reginald Danes as the Squire was excellent. The auctioneer, Mr. Lindo Lang, knows what effective stage business means and is careful not to overdo it. Mr. Matthew Boulton as "Horablower" with his Lancashire accent, gave a fine presentation and carried off his difficult role with nice restraint and good judgment.

The women's parts were equally as well cast. Miss Audrey Cameron as the Squire's daughter (in a slight love entanglement with the son of the new-rich nobody but at the same time remembering that she was above him in station) won all hearts. Miss Alleen Wyse as the mistress of the fine old country place threatened by the smoking chimneys of Progress, carried through her exceedingly difficult role without loss of dignity. Miss Stephanie d'Este as "Chloe" managed to make herself appear what her lines, and the action of the piece, called for—a somebody whose social position was under a cloud. Her costumes aided her in this characterization, admirably.

Other parts, servants, tenants, and people of no particular station in life, were convincingly taken.

The end is abrupt and unexpected. A great deal is left to the imagination of the audience, and audiences in country are not used to this.

But Hiltner's question to himself at the end leaves the observer something over which everyone may ponder: "What good is gentility if it cannot stand fire?"

WEDDINGS

DELONG—GILMOUR.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Gilmour, Lacombe, last Wednesday evening at 9 p.m., when their daughter, Jean, was given in marriage to George Earl DeLong, younger son of the late Thomas Richard DeLong and Mrs. Wm. Wallbridge of Rossmore P. E. County, and assistant superintendent at the Dominion Experimental Farms at Lacombe. The groom is a graduate of the Ontario-Business College of Belleville and Guelph Agricultural College.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The Rev. A. T. Barnard was the officiating clergyman. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with a profusion of Autumn flowers and foliage. The bride was dressed in a wedding gown of white satin with lace and a veil held in place by a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo. The bride and groom entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. F. H. Reid.

After the ceremony a buffet supper was served. The table was centered with the bride's cake and decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white. The bride and groom left on the midnight train for Banff, where their honeymoon will be spent. On their return Mr. and Mrs. DeLong will make their home at the experimental farm where lately a house has been built for the assistant superintendent.

A large number of guests were present, many from a distance. The Edmonton Journal.

FUNERAL OF MRS. COLE

Badgley, W. Gilbert, R. R. Way and Mr. Boyav.

HOW CANADA VOTED IN FORMER ELECTIONS

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—How have different parts of the Dominion voted in the past? Recent history, in this regard, is of importance in endeavoring to solve the puzzle of the present election, with its confusion of parties and independent candidates. The election of 1917 can hardly, perhaps, be taken as a reliable guide. It was held in the stress and strain of war, with the idea dominant of securing a conclusive peace. Members elected were endorsed either by the Prime Minister or by the Leader of the Opposition. The Independent vote which, from 1895 onward, had generally returned a few members, the whirligig of fortune that it was this same Thirteenth Parliament which saw the gradual loosening of old party ties, the growth of the Independent vote from the cross benches of the House, and the final emergence of the National Progressive party with Hon. T. A. Crerar, former Minister of Agriculture in the Union Government, as its leader.

In 1917, with the exception of Quebec and Prince Edward Island, the Union Government swept every province. In Quebec, out of 65 members returned, 63 were supporters of the Opposition. Prince Edward Island divided evenly with two members each way. After the general election of September, 1911, the political complexion of the House of Commons was:

FORD AND OWEN SAFE; HAD BEEN FEARED LOST

Fort William, Oct. 4.—The steamer J. C. Ford and barge Owen are loading pulpwood at Nipigon, according to the best authority, the Fort William Bulletin could secure. This was the election which marked the defeat of Reciprocity with the United States. Under previous Liberal administrations, from 1895 onwards, Liberals lost ground in Ontario but gained in Quebec. In 1896 there were 49 Liberals returned from Ontario and 49 from Quebec. On the same occasion there were returned 44 Conservatives from Ontario and 16 from Quebec. In the election of 1905 the Liberal representation from Ontario had dropped to 36 while the Conservative increased to 48. Liberal representation from Quebec increased to 53. The number of Conservatives returned from Quebec dropped to 11. In 1911, when the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier went to defeat after fifteen years of office, the Conservatives increased their representation from Ontario to 72; the Liberals dropped to 13. In Quebec, Conservatives jumped ahead to 27; Liberals fell to 37.

Since 1896, the representation of the prairie provinces in the House has been largely increased and would have been increased still further, no doubt, had a Redistribution Bill been brought down prior to the general election. In 1896, Manitoba elected two Liberals and four Conservatives (the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were not created till 1905); in 1900, 2 Liberals and 3 Conservatives; in 1908, 2 Liberals and 5 Conservatives—repeating the latter figure in the election of 1911.

Saskatchewan in 1908 elected 3 Liberals and 1 Conservative; in 1911, 3 Liberals and 1 Conservative. Alberta in 1908 returned 4 Liberals and 3 Conservatives, and in 1911, 6 Liberals and 1 Conservative. Under the distribution in force, Quebec with its 65 seats will, in the coming election, return nine more members than the three prairie provinces and British Columbia combined. Ontario with its 82 seats will return 26 more members than the four western provinces mentioned.

How Real Prince Scored on Fakir in French Town

NEULLY, Paris, Oct. 4.—"He eats it alive, a real fire-eater from India, a real Hindu," exclaimed the speaker in front of his hallyhood at the Neully fair, some nights ago. "If you don't believe he is a real Hindu speak to him in the Hindu language and he will answer you."

A distinguished looking gentleman stepped up and commenced addressing the fire-eater in Hindi. The latter was silent and perplexed. The dark stranger spoke to the hallyhood man in all the known dialects in India but still the latter remained silent. "You're not talking Hindu but ed the speaker to the stranger, "you're not talking Hindu but gibberish, if you're a Hindu why don't you eat a little of this fire?"

"I can't just now, I am on a diet," replied the Prince of Kapurthala—for it was the gentral Hindu prince seeing the sights. The Prince has been quite a figure around Paris and Deauville this season. He reached the third round in the mixed doubles, teamed with the Princess in the world's hard-court tennis championships at Saint Cloud.

TORONTO YOUTH SHOT; DIES ON SPECIAL TRAIN RACING FOR HOSPITAL

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Kenneth Rook, aged 23, living at 780 Logan Ave., Toronto, died last evening on an improvised special C.P.R. train racing from Toronto toward Toronto. The youth was accidentally shot while tramping the Muskoka bush with ex-controlier R. H. Cameron on a duck-shooting expedition. Mr. Cameron stumbled and the gun he was carrying discharged itself into the side of his young friend and companion. With a cry the lad fell. After a hurried and agonized examination of the wound, and anxious attempt to stem the flow of blood, Mr. Cameron started a one-mile run through the rough bush to summon assistance. Arriving back at Toronto in an exhausted condition he despatched an automobile at full speed to Bala to summon a physician. Meanwhile the wounded youth was being brought into the little hamlet. It was manifest that his condition was most serious. The arrival of the doctor confirmed the worst fears. The physician said it was essential that he be removed at once to a hospital.

Telegraph wires were set in operation. A special train was improvised from the engine and the caboose of a freight train which had pulled into the C.P.R. station at Toronto. The injured lad was placed on board and with Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Rook, the lad's mother, and the doctor, the train started on its 112-mile race with death toward Toronto.

But it was too late. The train had scarcely got under way when the youthful victim breathed his last. Chief Coroner G. W. Graham was notified and the body was taken to Humphrey's Undertaking Parlor to await the decision of the Coroner as to whether or not an inquest will be held.

Trent Towns With New Rinks and Others Mooted, Looking Forward to Winter Sports

Lakefield with a new $15,000 rink, Warkworth with its $9,000 one, Norwood with pledges amounting to $4,000 also for rink purposes and both Havelock and Hastings inclined to get busy in the same direction, comprise a list of Trent district municipalities for winter sports that is highly encouraging.

Both Lakefield and Warkworth are going in for the best hockey they can provide. The northern village is talking both intermediate and junior O.H.A. teams, and as for the curlers, they are looking forward to a bigger season than ever, in keeping with their city-sized rink.

Norwood is seriously considering the construction of a new rink, but it is not definitely known whether the promoters of the scheme have overcome the financial obstacles. They look toward their smaller neighbor, Keene, and find the Otseabe men well equipped for the winter games. On the other hand, Norwood's curlers, Wildman, Jack McKelvie, Tom Finlay, Fred Kempf, and the rest of the faithful who have been keeping their hand in the game under the greatest disadvantages, feel that they are entitled to a new rink however modest.

Hastings is stirring to the conviction throughout the Trent district that adequate accommodation for winter sports and games is not only an attraction for the young people, a desirable social and healthful influence, but it is also needed by the older folks, especially by those men who follow curling.

CAMPBELLFORD'S PROSPECTS After one of the biggest lacrosse seasons in Campbellford's history, which practically every citizen feels should have brought the intermediate championship to the Trent, the fans are gradually realizing that they have the nucleus of a good hockey team. Cliff Weston, Len Hill, Johnston Graham and three or four other prospects would make a tidy intermediate O.H.A. team, and other material not yet fully uncovered may be available. It is stated that one of the seven famous Schnarr brothers of Mitchener has been working in Campbellford this year.

Barney Gannon of the lacrosse team is credited with hockey ability and experience. As far as players go, the hockey crowd are confident that they can turn out a couple of fast teams, intermediates and junior, providing they can make satisfactory financial arrangements with the owner of the rink.

POTATO CROP CALLED GOOD

Much Better Than Was Expected and Prices Have Begun to Slide

MORE FALL WHEAT IN Prices of Apples in Lake Shore District from $5.00 to $6.00.

REGINA, Oct. 4.—Despite severe weather conditions, the largest oat crop in the history of the province and the second largest wheat crop are foreseen by the Statistics Bureau of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Potato digging is general in the Province and reports are practically unanimous to the effect that potatoes are turning out very much better than was expected earlier in the season. The crop has matured considerably during the past few weeks and while it will no doubt be less than average, the shortage will be much less than was formerly expected.

Apple picking is also very general. In some of the apple sections the crop is comparatively good, but on the whole is below average. Northumberland reports a good, fair crop of high grade apples with prices up to $5.00 per barrel. L.O.B. Simcoe County reports Northern Spies as being more plentiful than other varieties and being marketed at $3.50 three runs. Dealers buying apples readily at good prices, is the report from Durham, while in Dundas prices are quoted from $4.50 to $4.80 per barrel. The severe windstorm of last Friday did a great deal of damage to apples still on the trees in Dundas County and in Lennox and Addington and some other Eastern Ontario sections.

There is a slight increase in the acreage in fall wheat and the fact that the harvest was finished so early has been responsible for an unusual amount of work being done getting the land in shape for next year's crop, which should result in a larger acreage next year.

The milk flow has been well maintained for the season of the year and prices for dairy products have been reasonably steady, although there has been a slight drop in cheese prices in some sections.

GLIMPSE AT THE WORLD OF SPORT

EVEN MONEY BETTING ON RESULT OF WORLD'S SERIES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Two years ago the cops in Cincinnati would pull a stranger around the corner and ask him if he didn't think the Reds were wonderful.

Last year the same guardians of life and limb in Cleveland would hurl at anyone with a New York hustle "Wait until the Indians get through with you."

More enthusiasm was shown over the Yank-Indian series due perhaps to the fact that all New York was behind their one club in the pennant race.

There is no lack of interest in the series but New York is waiting for the classic in the characteristic blasé manner. There are no pictures of "Our Champions" in all the store windows. There are no placards around bearing pictures of McGraw and Huggins. The only New York record store which is interested is "At the gate" and it is sure to be shown there when the Giants and the Yanks start at Wednesday.

Fifty thousand are expected at each game. The Giants have sold all their boxes and reserved seats and the Yanks have only a few reserved seats left.

Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, established his headquarters today at the Commodore Hotel. He refused to pick a winner, saying that it would be a hard fought series that might go nine games.

Both clubs will work out today on the Polo grounds. The Yanks will have the field from 11 to 1 o'clock and the Giants will work from then until Manager McGraw decides they have enough.

The Giants will be the home club in the first game Wednesday and will wear their new white uniforms. The Yanks will make their first appearance in new field gray road uniforms. They will then alternate every day.

YANKS EXPECT MUCH OF RUTH

Giants a Wonderful Team Without Any Star of Same Magnitude WHO WILL LEAD OFF? Fans Have Gorgeous Time Figuring Out "Dope" on the World's Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—New York plunged into a sea of baseball argument today and at the same time divided itself for a rosters' war when the Kilties and Giants meet in World Series combat at the Polo Grounds, Wednesday afternoon. On the subway, the elevated, the buses and in surface cars and hotel lobbies—everywhere—baseball fans were debating the respective merits of the various players. Whether the speed and the resourcefulness of the Giants can overcome the punching power of the Kilties is one of the big points at issue. Kilty rooters expect big things of "Babe" Ruth, home run king, who is undoubtedly the greatest individual figure in the series.

Meanwhile the offices of the opposing clubs were making final preparations for the post-season classic. At the Giants' headquarters all the tickets had been reserved, it was announced, and there talk centered about McGraw's pitching selection for the opening game.

"Toney is his best bet," declared an old-time player. "Fred will make Ruth and Meusel and the rest of that Kilty slugging crowd pop 'em up to the infield. McGraw wants to take that first game and Toney's the boy to do it."

Other Giant followers thought McGraw might start Artie Nehf, the young left-hander, and still others favored Phil Douglas. McGraw said nothing. Neither did Hughey Jennings, nor Cozy Dolan, the two coaches.

Kilty headquarters was filled with baseball players and last-minute ticket-buyers. Miller Huggins, manager, went into seclusion, leaving word that he wanted to give his nerves a rest and do some figuring on the dope. It is generally agreed that Huggins will start Carl Mays, the submarine hurler, but "Bob" Shawkey has been going so good in the last few games he has pitched that Huggins may spring him as a surprise.

Fans from all parts of the country are pouring into the city and hotel managers are counting on filling their accommodations. The seating capacity of the Polo Grounds is given as 35,000, but ambitious ushers always have been able to find seats in the aisles and on the rails for at least 3,000 and there is standing room for many more.

The record attendance at a series, 236,000, undoubtedly will be broken if the series goes to six or more games.

UNITED STATE MASSING FORCES ON PACIFIC COAST

Half of Navy's Total Air Force Established on Western Shores HALF FLEET ALSO Greatest Fighting Craft and Most Modern Ships Face Far East

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The United States navy is establishing one-half its total force on the Pacific Coast.

Thus with half the great American fleet already assembled in Pacific waters, fifty per cent—and the most modern and strongest fifty per cent—of this nation's naval strength will be facing the potential trouble zone of the Far East.

For many years world statesmen have contended that a country's naval force constituted its greatest political influence on international affairs. In recent months these statesmen have agreed, too, that the only source of sufficient friction to embody thoughts of possible conflict lay in the Pacific. It was held by American authorities, therefore, as not necessarily significant, but merely precipitable, to shift half the American fleet into Pacific waters.

With the recent arrival of the dreadnaught Pennsylvania and the despatch of two mine-layers, which permitted two cruisers that had been doing mine-laying duty to return to their regular position, this phase of the fleet re-organization has been virtually completed. The Pacific now rolls under the nation's greatest fighting craft, all of the oil-burners—the most modern vessels in the fleet—being located off the west coast.

For similar reasons, it was deemed advisable to place half the navy's air strength on the west coast also. Scores of fliers have been moved from the east coast positions to the Pacific air force during the past two months. Among these have been some of the country's most notable.

The Pacific fleet air force is now made up of seven air squadrons, each being divided into sea-plane patrol forces, combat forces and spotting forces.

Reduction of the air forces on the East Coast to effect the transfers to the West Coast are being accomplished by material diminution of the outlays at East Coast stations.

THE SOCCER LEAGUE. Belleville Soccer League organization will be completed tonight at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. of representatives of the six teams entered. The business will be chiefly the election of officers and the drafting of a schedule of games.

FOOTBALL AT COLLEGE. The Grand Trunk football team will meet Albert College team on Thursday, kick-off at 4:30 p.m., on the college grounds. There should be a good game, as it is their first meeting. The College boys will rely on their speed to pull them through against the experience of the Rail-rovers, who have lined up the following team:

Goal: J. Gorman; backs, Taylor, Summers; halves, Grant, Robinson, Gill; forwards, Hickin, Binney, Harvey, Knott, Lancaster.

BEGIN KNOCKING DOWN THOSE LITTLE WHITE PINS

The five-pin fiends get down to business tonight. Only the first two weeks are scheduled so far, but Mr. Russell Woodley, secretary of the League, told The Ontario today that subsequent dates would be announced shortly.

The games framed by are: Oct. 4—Bowlers vs. Intelligencer. Oct. 5—Elkists vs. Teachers. Oct. 6—Office vs. K. of C. Oct. 7—Ritchies vs. Excelors. Oct. 8—Shops vs. K. V. A. Oct. 10—Tabernacle vs. Carlers. Oct. 11—Bowlers vs. Elliott. Oct. 12—Intell. vs. Teachers. Oct. 13—Tabernacle vs. Ritchies. Oct. 14—K. of C. vs. K. V. A. Oct. 15—Office vs. Shops. Oct. 17—Excelors vs. Carlers.

JOHNNY EVERS FAVORS GIANTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Johnny Evers, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, favors the Giants for the world's series. He says the Giants are a greater team than many think, but readily admits that Babe Ruth may prove a stambling block to the Giants' success. "Outside of Ruth though, I think the Giants have the edge," he declares.

"HAD I BEEN RICH—"

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Probate has been granted to one of the most unusual wills ever filed at the surrogate court for the County of York.

"Had I been rich, I would have left her an income for life," said private Clifford Frederick Norton of his sweet-heart, Miss Jessie Youngman, of Lowestoft, Eng., in his will. "She has been a splendid true and loving girl, and in event of my not marrying her for reasons I know not of, I hope she will find a good and true man and one that will treat her with every kindness, and let's hope she will be happy for life."

Clifford Frederick Norton was a young English immigrant to Canada who purchased a city building lot, some farm lands near Severn Bridge, and lets near Welland and Windsor, Ont. His real estate in Ontario is appraised at $1,525.00 and he had assets in England valued at $1,453.00.

SCHOOL FAIR AT WELLINGTON

Many Exhibits Shown at First School Fair by Local Children

WELL WRITTEN ESSAYS New Consolidated School is to be Built in Coming Year—Will be Fine Building

Wellington. — Considering the changeable weather, and the fact that came from the Lake on Friday morning, the children of the Wellington consolidated school area, and their parents, were most fortunate in the date chosen for the first school fair, under the consolidation. Sept. 29th was an ideal day for this important event in the life of the community, and it was the beginning of what will no doubt become an annual event, with developments next year and in years to come. The men and women of the district took a keen interest in the children's fair, and helped to make it the success it was. The Women's Institute provided refreshments and had a tent that filled a useful place, as mothers and children came in from the surrounding villages, and could procure eatables. In the morning, members of the School Board and other helpers were busy erecting a tent for exhibits, and making other necessary arrangements. There were about 450 exhibits, and these had to be in place by 10.30 a.m. Mr. A. P. MacVannel, Agricultural Representative, and Mr. F. P. Smith, Inspector of Public Schools, were here for the day, and made short speeches to the people from the band stand.

At 1 p.m. the drill competition commenced. This was followed by songs and public speaking contest. Leonard McCartney was the only one who ventured on the speaking contest, and he gave a fine informing speech on the method of crushing rock, etc. for a county road.

The first prize on "A School Fair" was won by Jessie Kerr, who removed into this locality not long ago. She wrote:

"Now I can't tell what people here in Prince Edward said about the first school fair held here, but I do know what people in another part of the Province said about the first school fair they heard of taking place there. Some said it was a regular nuisance to care for, and cart live stock and vegetables, cooking and sewing, to such a thing, and not get anything but a few cents and a piece of bright colored ribbon.

"Others didn't like the idea of their children gathering dirty insects, tearing their clothes climbing for leaves, and running for weeds and flowers. "After all, when you come to think of it, if they do have to run for flowers, weeds, etc., they didn't do it for nothing, even if they didn't get a prize for it. The Nature Study objects they had gathered would have something to do in teaching them the names of objects of Nature.

"Nowadays all parents and grown-ups are like the children, and look forward to the school fair, for they are eager to have their children compete with others. A school fair has a lot to do in teaching the boys how to raise live stock and be diligent workers of the soil. It also has a great deal to do in teaching the girls how to cook and sew, and be gardeners as well. All the work will help them later on, when they grow older, and they will be able to tell others who are beginners that it was through the rural school fair that they got a great deal of knowledge that was worth a lot to them. And to end up, I really must say that I would rather attend a small country fair than the biggest exhibition ever was."

The first prize on "Prince Edward County was won by Irma Blackman, aged 11. She wrote:

"Prince Edward County is situated in the greatest chain of lakes in the world. It is separated from the main part of Ontario by Murray Canal. There is water all round it. "This county is one of the most prosperous in Ontario, and is very often called 'the garden county of Canada.' The roads are very good but not very well laid out. The scenery is very beautiful and we have lovely spots for camping, such as the Sand Banks, Coneseon Lake, The Outlet, Indian Point, and Glenora, where the far-famed Lake-on-the-Mountain is situated.

"The soil is very fertile and almost any crop may be grown, and hence we have mixed farming. Each farmer has enough wood for fuel. There are in the woods hard and soft woods. There is abundance of small fruits, such as berries, cherries, pears and plums. All kinds of vegetables grow well. A number of farmers have pure bred stock, which pays very well.

"One of our greatest industries is that of canning. Peas, beans, tomatoes, pumpkins, berries and cherries are canned, and these are sent all over Canada. The chief town in Pictou

It is announced that more spinning-mills, iron and steel works, galvanizing and tin works have re-started manufacturing.

situated on the Bay of Quinte. This is a very pretty town. There are two incorporated villages: Bloomfield and Wellington, which is situated on Lake Ontario.

"One of the great drawbacks to Prince Edward is the fact that it is cut off from the rest of Ontario, and thus it is very expensive to send produce out of the county, or to bring in any. Pictou has a good harbor, but there are few boats that come in.

"We are all very proud of our County, for it is prosperous, and it is our home."

The first prize essay on "The Best Day I Ever Spent" was won by Irma Bonter, aged 12. She describes a motor trip with her parents and other friends to East Lake, Cherry Valley, Salmon Point, South Bay, then Glenora.

Evelyn Harvey, another young hopeful writer, wrote a fine essay on "What I Would Do With Ten Dollars." This was awarded a second prize. Evelyn apparently based her essay on her actual experience, as she happened to meet her uncle at Pictou Fair, who gave her ten dollars.

The members of Epworth League had a fine social evening on Friday, Sept. 30th.

Some friends from the two Meetings here attended the Conservative Friends' Quarterly Meeting at Bloomfield on Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Alma Starr, of Newmarket, were there also.

Miss Helen Harris returned last week to Kingston to begin her second year work as an art student at Queen's University.

R. Black, the Jewish pedlar who had a dry goods and grocery store here, has left the store, and apparently left the district. Jonathan Hutchinson has taken the same store which is at the east end of the village.

David and Germsse Vandervoort have rented their farm and German, with his wife, has come to live at Mrs. T. Noxon's.

Howard Arkett had a letter from Alred Young, formerly Friends minister here. Mr. Young is now pastor of a Congregational Community Church in West Denver, Colorado. He says they are getting on fine.

One of the School Board members speaking at the school fair last week, said that in twelve months from now, the new consolidated school would be built. We are now in a position to give the public some idea as to the kind of building this will be. After a considerable amount of delay, and much hard work on the part of the consolidated school board, the final plans submitted by their architects, Messrs. S. B. Coon and Son, Toronto, have been approved.

Specifications are now being drawn and, as soon as completed, tenders will be asked for. The site upon which the new school is to be built is centrally located in the village of Wellington, being about the highest point. It will show to good advantage. The schools that will unite with Wellington are the two on the Lake Shore Road, the school known as Swamp College, the one in Gilead, the one near Hallowell station, and part of the school at Niles' Corners.

The grounds, it is understood, will be about six acres in extent; a considerable part of which has been the gift of the Dominion Canners. A large well is now being sunk and splendid prospects are shown of a good supply of water. The school building, when completed, will contain in the basement, lavatories, play room and lunch room for the boys, lavatories, play-room and lunch room for girls, with a cafeteria between. Across the corridor there will be a room for manual training, boiler room, fan-room, and gymnasium. On the ground floor, entrance to vest-bullet, opening into a spacious corridor running the full length of the building, with an entrance at each end. On this floor there will be found three class rooms, library, teachers' room, the Principal's office, and a fine community hall with a seating capacity for 400 people.

On the second floor there are to be two class rooms for high school work, the laboratory, two other class rooms and domestic science room. Every class room throughout the building will have its separate cloak room. The top of the building will be decorated with a town clock, the gift of the late W. E. Niles.

This will be the first consolidated school of its kind, that is, for rural and urban municipalities united, and there is every evidence that it is creating interest in circles outside of Wellington, as well as to the citizens here. As Mr. J. E. Benson, Inspector of the Board of Education at Windsor, wrote to the chairman of the School Board some time ago: "I understand that this is the best consolidated prospect in Ontario and you will be watched closely. I hope your work will be so successful that consolidation will sweep the province."

HAPPENINGS AT PLAINFIELD

Community Club is Expected to be Organized Next Week

FATHER AND SON BANQUET Zion and Plainfield Churches Hold Anniversary Services

PLAINFIELD—It is expected that the Community Club which has been a subject of conversation and conjecture for some time will be organized next week.

Bethany Sunday School workers held a fathers and sons banquet last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Badgley. Rev. Mr. Starpe was a guest from this burgh and reports an excellent time and an attendance of over sixty. This is a worthy work indeed.

Miss M. Arkdills of Roslin was a guest at the home of Miss Myrtle Harrison on Sunday.

Mrs. Balfour of Sandhurst and her daughter, Mrs. Allison of Adolphustown, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. Pittabell and Mr. McCreeley. They state that Friday's storm was well nigh a tornado in their home section. It wrecked the roof of the fine Methodist church at Adolphustown, besides doing much damage in many lesser ways. In this locality the harm done was comparatively trivial.

The anniversary services at Zion and Plainfield churches were largely attended and very satisfactory. Rev. E. Farnsworth of Ganungton was the preacher for the day and gave sermons of intense interest and unusual evangelistic fervor. This concludes the list of anniversaries for the year, except those conducted by the general department. Miss Maude Arkle gave an excellent solo in the evening and the choir did good service also. The decorations of the churches were pretty and reasonable.

The pastor is using a bulletin board, making weekly announcements of the church events and the congregations practically fill the church every Sunday evening. The League and Sunday School are also profiting thereby.

Both telephone lines being put out of order for some time.

THE TORTURE OF INDIGESTION

Thousands Made Miserable By This Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Relieves It

What is indigestion and what causes it? As you know, solid food must be changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up as nourishment by the blood.

The stomach acts as a churn. It is covered by a strong, muscular coat and lined with a soft, delicate membrane which secretes the Gastric Juice which digests or dissolves solid food.

When food enters the stomach, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from end to end, or churns it, with the gastric juice to dissolve or digest it.

But—if the stomach muscles are weak—or if the dissolving fluid is poor or indigestible—then food cannot be digested properly and you have indigestion.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the most wonderful medicine in the world for strengthening the stomach muscles and providing an abundance of pure, full-strength dissolving fluid to completely digest every meal.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" does this because it keeps the kidneys active, the bowels regular and the blood pure, which insure pure Gastric Juice.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" will correct your indigestion or Dyspepsia and enable you to enjoy every meal. Try it.

Value of Cement Plants Topic at Thurlow Assessment Appeal; Mr. Kilbourn Cross-Examined

The question of values of cement plants was the first matter under consideration today at the court house at the resumed hearing of the appeal of the township of Thurlow against the equalization of the assessment of the County of Hastings for the year 1920.

The Point Anne plant No. 4 he considered practically obsolete. Lehigh Plant No. 5 had been allowed to get into a state of unrepair and it was now being improved.

Mr. Kilbourn went into the history of both the plants at the Point. The replacement value last year of No. 4 would be $162,050 on the buildings and $441,570 on No 5 on 1920 values.

NO KIDNAPPING JUDGE DECLARES; MRS. BROWN FREE

Interesting Case Over Control of Child Concluded in Belleville Court

CHILD IS CARED FOR Mother's Conduct all to her Credit Says Judge in Summary

Mrs. Lavinia Brown was today acquitted by Judge Deroche on the charge of taking Lillian Brown, her child, on September 20th from the control of Orval A. Brown, father of the child.

Mr. E. J. Butler argued that all the acts of the woman showed good faith. Crown Attorney Carnew dwelt upon the question of domicile, submitting that all the circumstances showed a lack of faith in the legality of the steps she had taken.

The question of the right to possession of the child did not enter into the present case. The mother still has the child in her keeping. Mr. Butler stated that the question of right could be decided only under habeas corpus proceedings. Mrs. Brown left the court room with the child.

The Judge's Summary. The county judge said the circumstances under which Brown and his wife left Belleville might indicate an intention to reside permanently in the State of Michigan, outside of the jurisdiction of the disposition of the furniture, and would lead the wife reasonably to believe that that was their domicile. Even the question of domicile as far as the furniture was concerned, was open to argument. The argument seemed more strong in favor of the domicile in the U.S. than it did against. In any event it was such that the wife might believe such, and on that point her decree of divorce was legally obtained. The question of the validity of the divorce did not enter, although the grounds on which it was obtained were not those that would be sufficient in Canada. The judge believed Mrs. Brown acted in good faith, obtaining the bill of divorce on grounds that were sufficient in the State of Michigan, and which in her mind were quite right. Whether Brown was served with notice did not enter into the present case.

"I am satisfied she believed she had the right to the divorce," said the court, adding that in his opinion under this she believed she had a right to the control of the child, which the decree gave her. With that in mind she took control of the child, perhaps not in the best method, however.

Mother Had Supported Child. Whatever rights the parties had, the court was not considering. Apparently she had by her own will been the chief support of the little girl. Her placing of the child in a home where she could be cared for while the mother was working, was all to the mother's credit.

"I think in the law also she acted in good faith and I therefore find her not guilty and she is discharged."

With that in mind she took control of the child, perhaps not in the best method, however.

THREE KILLED; TRAIN HIT CAR; LAB OF 3 DYING

COURTLAND, Ont., Oct. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Laford and Miss E. Rober, residents of South Walsingham, were instantly killed; and three-year-old Guy Farrell is lying in Tillamook Hospital, because their motor car, in which they were riding, was struck by the Washburner as it crossed one mile west of here just before noon today. They were going to Simcoe fair and Mr. Laford, who was driving, evidently failed to notice the approaching train.

King's Efforts To Cut Expenses Starts Discussion

LONDON, Oct. 3 (Canadian Press Cable).—King George, who will go to Manchester next Saturday to re-open the Royal Exchange, has expressed a desire that no expense be incurred for decorations of anything else except a formal reception.

This announcement, while evidencing the King's active interest along these of economy during times of stress, again arouses a certain amount of discussion as to whether the general public does not prefer to witness some of the old-time pomp associated with Royal movements.

Fifteen Hundred Nobles of Mystic Shrine to Invade This Oasis

DRILLS AND CONCERTS
Belleville Will Have Big Contingent of Candidates to Walk Sands

Fifteen hundred fezzes are expected in Belleville next week for the fall ceremonial of the Nobles of Rameses Temple, (Toronto) of the Mystic Shrine, who will invade the city on October the sixth and pitch their tents in this oasis. Belleville nobles have been bestirring themselves for some time and a big program of entertainment has been prepared for the tarboosh-wearers. Mr. H. F. Ketcheson is the local potentate's aide for the season.

Nobles will be here from all parts of the desert of Canada and the United States.

The program will be somewhat as follows: patrol drill and band concert 8 p.m., parade 3.30, first and second selections of the ceremonial in Belleville Armories at 4.00, supper in the City Hall at 6.00, band concert and ceremonial at 8.00 p.m. The route of parade is not yet settled.

The Belleville committee is composed of H. P. Ketcheson, Col. L. W. Marsh, E. T. Cherry, W. J. Cole, F. Quick, J. V. Jenkins, J. O. R. McCurdy, W. J. Hume, R. L. Zufelt, J. S. McKeown and R. H. Spencer.

The children of the prophet are coming from Toronto by special train and will bring their brass band under the direction of W. M. Murdoch.

A big crowd of novices will walk the desert sands for the first time. Belleville is sending up quite a large contingent of candidates.

Fall Work Is Well on Way

Following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The weather recently has been all that could be desired for corn cutting, silo filling, potato digging and general fall work on the farm.

The corn borer has been doing injury to the crop in Bruce, and is reported to be operating to some extent as far east as Victoria county. Kent also reports that this pest has been doing much harm to late corn, more especially in the Chatham district. Norfolk says that the borer has been so bad on some of the late maturing corn that some factories are refusing a good deal of it on that account.

Hay is being bought in Bruce for $18 a ton and baled for shipment to Manitowlin Island. The Huron representative says that he was talking to a man recently who has 200 tons of hay to sell. He also tells of another farmer who got three tons of hay per acre from ten tons of timothy, and who recently made a second cutting which averaged a ton per acre—a most unusual experience for the district.

OSGOODE HALL.

Before Middleton, Judge—Dunbar vs. Temple: H. J. Smith (Trenton) for plaintiff, moved for directions as to handing over certain assets. H. J. Scott, K.C., for C. V. M. Temple. W. Lawr, for Arthur Temple et al. Judgment: I think the proper thing to do is to direct the $17,000 securities as they are to be transferred to the original trust fund, this to be without prejudice to any action that may be brought against Mr. Temple for any alleged misconduct or negligence. The assets in his hands at ways formed part of the trust estate as the transferring device was nugatory and void, and as these have been followed in their transmuted form any loss may have to be borne by the fund. This should not now be determined.

Laying Plans for Drive To Aid Gravenhurst Hospital

Belleville was well represented at the luncheon at the home of Mr. Robert McLaughlin, Oshawa, on Wednesday, when representatives of the various municipalities were entertained by Mr. McLaughlin and the question of the rebuilding of the consumptive hospitals at Gravenhurst was considered. There were over one hundred men at the meeting, those from this city being Mayor Hanna, John Elliott, R. J. Graham, J. Bone, A. McGie, Dr. J. A. Faulkner, A. Y. Snider, J. O. Herity and D. Elliott. Dr. Tennent was down from Toronto to the meeting and others present were: Col. Alger, of Stirling, Canon Armstrong and Col. Bywater of Trenton.

There is to be put on shortly a campaign in Belleville and other cities in aid of the Gravenhurst institution and plans were laid accordingly.

Half Drugged French Officer Warns Taxi Chauffeur

SMASHES A WINDOW
Driver Responds and Causes Arrest of Parisian Thieves

PARIS, Sept. 29.—Parisian bandits' latest trick, the success of which depends upon chloroforming their victim in a taxicab in which they had begged a lift, failed today, the first time tried, when the half-drugged passenger had sufficient presence of mind to attract the attention of the chauffeur, who brought about the arrest of the thieves.

Jean DeLisle, an official of the Finance Ministry, entered a taxi before a Montmartre restaurant, and was asked by two men who had followed him, to take them along, as they were going his way. M. DeLisle cheerfully agreed.

Half way home he noticed a peculiar odor and began to feel faint. He had just time to smash a window before he collapsed. The chauffeur, warned by the smashing of the glass, pulled up alongside of two policemen, who arrested the two men inside. The prisoners said they were Italians and admitted their intention of robbing M. DeLisle.

President of Amateur Union Lauds Belleville as Center of Sports and Good Fellows

What the executive of the Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, think of Belleville as a sporting city and place of entertainment, is evident from a letter which Mr. Charles Keeber received today from the president, Mr. J. W. Ward, who is general secretary of the Central Y. at Hamilton, and a former Albert College student, who attended and acted as starter at the provincial games held here a week ago.

Mr. Ward says: "Since my return from Belleville last week I have been endeavoring to find time to write you to express my appreciation of the work of you and your committee in making plans for the Ontario Track and Field Championships. Had you been favored with good weather, I am confident we should have had one of the most successful meets in our history. In rushing away to catch the train I did not have an opportunity to thank the officials for their splendid co-operation and I would be glad if you would convey to them my thanks and also to the Lions' Club for their many courtesies to the visitors. Belleville certainly lived up to its reputation as a most hospitable city. I regret that your city had such hard luck in the weather, turning out so badly, but from every other standpoint things were O. K."

URGES PARK COMMISSION TO CONTROL ATHLETIC FIELD AS WELL AS PUBLIC AREAS

The only cure for the present parks situation is the creation of a parks commission in Belleville, according to ex-Alderman Major R. D. Ponton, speaking to the Lions' Club. This commission would have control of athletic fields in addition to the parks system and would be sustained by a yearly grant from the City Council.

U. S. FEAR FLOOD OF EUROPEANS

SEEK TO EVADE LAW
Traffickers in False Passports Evidently Reaping Big Harvest

LONDON, Sept. 29.—With the spread of unemployment in Europe, United States officials expect a more determined effort than ever to be made by thousands of jobless to go to that country.

Some of the European countries have already exhausted their annual immigration quotas, although there are many months to go before the fiscal year ends.

There is increasing evidence of attempts to evade the United States immigration restrictions by the use of faked passports, and consuls are constantly on the lookout for them. They seem to come largely from Russians obtaining them in other countries and from Poland, Palestine, India and Turkey, all of which countries have exhausted their quotas for this year.

PATERSON-BELL.
Foxboro Presbyterian Church was, on Wednesday, Sept. 28th, the scene of a happy event, when the Rev. Neil David Paterson, B.A., B.D., of Russell, Ont., a former student pastor at Foxboro and Miss Margaret Bell, daughter of Mr. John Bell, of Foxboro, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. A. S. Kerr, M.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Belleville, tying the nuptial knot in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The interior of the sacred edifice had been decorated with flowers of the season in profusion and the whole scene was one of great appeal. The bride was given away by her father and was assisted by her sister, Miss Ellen Bell as bridesmaid, Mr. Gladstone E. Wood, student pastor at Foxboro, acting as best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of Mr. Bell where a sumptuous wedding luncheon was enjoyed.

Rev. and Mrs. Paterson were accompanied to Belleville by a motor party and left on the International Limited for a honeymoon in the western part of the province. The bride was the recipient of many fine gifts.

They will reside at Russell, near Ottawa, where the groom is the pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

SIMMONS-TELFORD

At high noon, on Sept. 28th, the wedding took place at 222 Albert street, of Viola Telford, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Telford, and Wellington Simmons, B.Sc., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Simmons, of Kingston. The Rev. D. Ramsay, pastor of John Street Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. The attendants of the bride were her sister, Miss Verna Telford, and little Miss Eleanor Simmons, sister of the groom. The groom was supported by Mr. Roy Gordon, of Kingston.

The bride, who looked particularly charming, entered the drawing room on the arm of her father to the strains of the Loheingly bridal choros, played by Miss K. Greenman, of Ottawa. During the signing of the register the appropriate selection, "Patil," was feebly sung by Mr. George Troman, of Toronto.

The drawing room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and leaves, while the color scheme of the dining room, where luncheon was served, was pink and white, the floral decorations being bridal roses.

The bride was gowned in white net, coral crepe and georgette, and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of Ophelia roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid was becomingly attired in a frock of pink tulle with a black picture hat. She carried a sheaf of pink roses. The dainty flower girl was dressed in a sheer organdy frock and carried a basket of daisies. The mother of the bride wore a gown of grey Canton crepe embroidered in jet, and the mother of the groom was dressed in bisque Canton crepe. The bride's travelling suit was of reindeer broadcloth with beaver trimmings and hat to match.

LABOR-PROGRESS PARTIES UNITED
IN W. HASTINGS

That is Distinct Possibility in Respect to Coming Election Campaign

MR. MIKEL DECLINES
Belleville Branch of I.L.P.
Formed and Ready to Enter
Political Arena

Labor and the National Progressive party will in all likelihood throw their joint hat into the political ring
in West Hastings in the forthcoming elections. The political situation in the riding is beginning to take form with the possibility of three candidates or more battling for the honor of representing West Hastings.

A Belleville branch of the Independent Labor party was formed last evening at a meeting held in the C.O.
F. Hall, Front street, about sixty men being present. Mr. George E. Foster, head of the Trades and Labor Council of this city, occupied the chair and explained that the purpose of the meeting was to organize for political purposes. It was decided to proceed at once with the formation of the Belleville branch and Ald. John Ballinger was honored with the presidency. The other officers are: F.
Smith, secretary, and G. A. McDonald, treasurer.

Ald. Ballinger, taking charge of the meeting, called for a discussion of the I.L.P. platform which was taken part in by Messrs. S. Large, Mc-Crodon, Smith and W. C. Mikel, K.C., of Belleville, and James, J. W. Galloway and Milne, of Trenton.

Mr. Galloway, who is head of the Trenton council, spoke at some length setting forth the aims of the Independent Labor party. The Farmers' party was anxious to combine with Labor in the riding.

A committee was appointed to get in touch with a committee of the U.
F.O. to consider the question of putting an Independent Labor and U.F. candidate in the field in West Hastings, and of holding a joint convention in the near future. Ald. Ballinger, the chairman, said perhaps Mr. Mikel might be a candidate. Mr. Mikel however, stated that he had no ambitions to be a candidate.

Peterboro, Sept. 27.—At a meeting of West Peterboro Conservative Association, J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P., was selected to represent the Conservative party in the coming Federal election. Three candidates were nominated in the following order: J. H.
Burnham, R. Denne and J. F. Strickland. Mr. Denne, who ran as a Government candidate in the West Per-terboro by-election last February, declined the nomination, and declared he would support the choice of the meeting. A standing vote failed to decide the issue, and a ballot was taken with the above result. The meeting, which was representative, pledged its support to the successful candidate and endorsed a resolution of confidence in Premier Meighen and his tariff policy. At the by-election West Peterboro had five candidates in the field. This time it will be a straight fight between Mr. Burnham and Mr. Gordon, M.P. The latter represents the Liberal interests here.
The following officers were elected by the association: President, Dr. Morrison; vice-president, J. Lynch; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles Wright; third vice-president, W. H.
Langford; secretary, V. G. McElder-y; assistant secretary, J. W. Worth;
treasurer, W. J. Howden.

Calgary, Sept. 29.—Addressing a Farmers' Convention at MacLeod yesterday, Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture in the Alberta cabinet, declared that in his opinion, the Provincial Government, was in office for the purpose of administering the affairs of the province, and not for participating in Dominion elections; and there should be no connection between the provincial government and the Dominion government, with respect to policy.

This Report Spells Efficiency

THE AMOUNT of work being carried on by the police may be imagined from the figures which Chief of Police Alex. Kidd made public today covering the first six months of the year.
No less than four hundred and six cases were brought into the court, covering most of the offences under the criminal code, except murder, manslaughter, arson and similar serious offences.
During the half year ending June 30th, the amount of property reported stolen was $6,519, and the amount recovered $6-295.32, which is a very high percentage. In this total are included three motors, all recovered through the work of the police.

The fines in this period have been quite high.
Fines and fees collected totalled about $4,000.
Lost property to the extent of $362.63 was recovered.

CAMPBELLFORD HAD ITS OWN HYDRO SYSTEM IN 1889 AND STILL OWNS FINE POWER PLANT

A pioneer in the municipal ownship of electric power, the town of Campbellford remains in full possession of its water rights, with its own generating plant supplying the energy
that lights its homes and its streets, drives the wheels in its factories, and furnishes a surplus for sale to the Hydro-Electric Commission. In the Central Ontario power system it stands aloof and alone in its independence, steadfastly refusing to divest itself of its resources and make the leap into the Hydro pool. Some day it may make the plunge, but for the present Campbellford prefers the position of producer and seller of power instead of merely a consumer and customer of the Hydro. Its plant at Crowe Bay, a couple of miles above
the town, represents an asset valued at around $200,000. The two generators have a capacity of approximately 2,500 horsepower, and the potential production at this point is about 5, 100 horsepower when the flood of water
is fully harnessed.

Above the dam is a storage system that is said to be better than that of most of the power plants on the Trent system, although not so good as at Heatley's Falls, and the further development of the resource at Crowe Bay can be carried out more cheaply than at any place on the river, according to one authority.

Extensions, however, are not contemplated, not while the municipality has a surplus which it sells on a consumption basis to the Hydro. If,
the demand from the town's industries were pressing closely upon the maximum output of the power station then it would be soon enough to discuss the fullest utilization of the available unharnessed horsepower
now going to waste, with incessant roar that sounds always above the everyday activities of the town. And that waste perplexes Campbellford's invertebrate optimists. Why shouldn't this community be one of the leading industrial centres in Eastern Ontario—not a busy, thriving town, but a full-blown city? Heatley's Falls above, Ranney's Falls below, the one exploited and the other an unfinished Hydro project well on the way to completion, two lesser units fully developed,
and still other power to be had close by, a total potential production of at least 50,000 horsepower, say the unshaken optimists, and only a fraction of it used at home. True, this is a digression, but an inescapable one,
when any Campbellford man discusses the town's rich heritage of electric power.

The steamer Brookville will continue her regular Tuesday and Friday runs to Picton for a month at least,
but the service to Trenton and Belleville will be discontinued as the steamer Belleville will cover the Bay boat.

FIRST DAM IN 1889

Thirty-two years ago Campbellford
boasted of its own dam and power house. Its first venture in a municipal lighting plant and waterworks was made in 1889. The Hydro-Electric scheme was not broached in Ontario until 1902, when it was originated in Kitchener, then Berlin, by the enterprising business men of that city, whose expanding industries were crying out for increased power. And it was not until 1909 that the first Hydro-Electric development system began operations. Campbellford then had its own hydro-electric scheme, which had passed through its first stage of growth. The plant built in

OFFICIALS SCORE JUDGE
Allegation Made that Arbuck-

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Roscoe Arbuckle, now enjoying his freedom on bail, will face his trial on a manslaughter charge within a few days, it plans of the District Attorney Brady materialize.

Mr. Brady, in a long statement issued last night, said that Judge Lazarus, who indicted the film comedian for manslaughter, had accorded Arbuckle's case unusual treatment, and charged that "if Arbuckle were unknown and unimportant he would have been held for murder and treated precisely the same as were other defendants of disrepute."

Judge Lazarus held that the evidence introduced by the District Attorney during the six-day hearing did not warrant the comedian's being held for murder.

"I have decided to make a holding for manslaughter, finding there is enough in the defendant's conduct to warrant his trial on that charge," said Judge Lazarus.

"I feel also bound by the Grand Jury whose indictment for manslaughter was voted after having more evidence than I was permitted to hear."

Arbuckle heard the decision without movement or comment.

The District Attorney moved that Arbuckle be released on his own

$5,000 cash or $10,000 bonds fixed in the Superior Court charge of manslaughter, growing out of a Grand Jury indictment.

DIES ON THE SPOT
Great Damage Done to Prop-

Narrow Escapes

KINGSTON, Oct. 1.—Donald Maclean, aged 13 years, son of Mr. Andrew Maclean, Sr., 53 King Street, was instantly killed yesterday when he was struck on the head by a piece of the roof of Martello Tower, during the terrific windstorm which was blowing.

The young lad, together with the young son of Mr. A. Madigan, Jr., and the son of Judge Lavell, were coming along O'Kill street, and were about fifty feet from the corner, when the accident occurred. The wind had been blowing at a terrific rate, and the boys were kept busy dodging falling pieces of trees. When opposite the gate at Dean Cappou's
a huge piece of the roof of Martello Tower, which had been ripped off
the roof by the tremendous gale,
and blown a distance of over 200
yards, crashed down on young Maclean, striking him a terrific blow and killing him instantly. The piece weighed over 200 pounds and so great was the velocity of the wind that the piece of roof was blown completely over the large residence of C. Birmingham on the corner of Barrie and King streets. At the time that it hit the unfortunate boy,
the huge piece of roof smashed down
the fence alongside of Dean Cappou's residence.

Immediately when it was seen that the boy had been struck, two passersby rushed to the lad's assistance and bore him in to Dean Cappou's house, where a hurried examination disclosed the appalling fact that the boy had been instantly killed. Coroner Mundell was summoned and pronounced the death of the boy an accident, deeming no inquest necessary.

Storm Was Sudden Affair

Carrying death and devastation in its wake a wild storm which for a few moments took on the proportions of a cyclone, shortly after noon
today swept over the city, blowing roofs off houses, breaking in windows, levelling trees, hurling down huge signs, putting the power and electric lines out of commission and generally doing more damage in the few minutes of its duration than any storm that even the oldest inhabitant can remember. Indeed, as one old-timer put it, the only other storm that he could remember to equal it in intensity and severity was that of some thirty years or more ago when a storm that raged at that time lifted the roof off the cotton mill completely and turned it over like a leaf. It was in this same storm that some sheds in Cape Vincent were blown down and a young man was killed.

The storm came up with surprising suddenness just as most of the people employed down town were starting home for their midday meal with the wind and rain coming together in one concentrated outburst that lasted some ten or fifteen minutes and that swept everything before it, the velocity of the wind at one time reaching a maximum of 48 miles an hour according to the meteological authorities at Queen's University.

Gen. MacDonald Hurt
Major-General Sir Archibald Macdonell, commandant of the R. M. C., is in the General Hospital suffering with a broken shoulder blade as the result of a fall from his horse, which became frightened during the storm.
The general was riding above Bar-rieffield hill when the storm broke,
and his horse, which was very high-
spirited, became crazed in the fury of the storm and became unmanageable. It slipped on the wet road and fell heavily, pinning the general beneath. Fortunately help was nearby, and he was rushed to the General Hospital where Dr. R. J.
Gardiner reduced the fracture.

Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the

THE TOLL GATE IS A WILLIAM S. HART MASTERPIECE

Three years ago William S. Hart conceived the idea for a great western story. In the months that followed he worked over it, dreamt of it, and polished it to perfection. He was confident that it would make the greatest motion picture of his career. But Mr. Hart would not attempt the filming of the story until he could put into it the full expenditure of time, money and care that it deserved. Now the famous western star is making his own production with his own company and under his own supervision. It was natural that he should start at once, producing his great story as a photoplay. It was natural that he should put into the production every ounce of energy, ingenuity, and dramatic talent that he possessed, that he should secure the best supporting cast available, in short, that he should move heaven and earth to make this story his film masterpiece. The result has been that after six months of the most arduous labor "The Toll Gate" has reached the screen. It is Bill Hart's own story, the one that he has always longed to do. The public will undoubtedly hail it as the greatest Hart picture ever produced.

"His Noisy Still" a Sunshine comedy, the last chapter of the popular serial "Velvet Fingers" and a Chester-Outing picture rounds out a well balanced program.

THE SKIN GAME

What gives every indication of being one of the most interesting and important theatrical events of the season, will be the presentation by William A. Brady, in association with the Readean Company of London, at Griffin's tonight, of John Galsworthy's play "The Skin Game."

Originally produced in London it was hailed as Galsworthy's most brilliant contribution to the theatre, and where it enjoyed a year's run. "The Skin Game" duplicated in New York the success it achieved in London. The American production was made under the direction of Basil Dean who staged the original at St. Martin's Theatre, London. For the American tour this year, Mr. Dean has assembled an all English cast of players, approved by Galsworthy himself.

Taking as his theme the class conflict that is daily being waged all over the world—the conflict that ensues when the new order endeavors to rub elbows with and eventually turn out the old, Mr. Galsworthy has laid his stirring story in a remote country district in England. There one is introduced to the Hillcrests, who stand for that community, and there one meets also the Hornblowers, the self-made, aggressive newcomer whose motto is progress at any cost. It is with the feud between these families that "The Skin Game" deals, and Mr. Galsworthy, in its exposition, is declared to be at his best as a dramatist.

Requisite on the Farm.—Every farmer and stock-raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil on hand, not only as a ready remedy for ills in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great efficacy. As a substitute for sweet oil for horses and cattle affected with it far surpasses anything that can be administered.

Planning Child's Winter Clothes

Although colder weather brings another consideration into dressing the kiddies, many mothers find it feasible to keep them in wash clothes throughout the year, relying on underwear and top coats for warmth. There is a great deal to commend this practice in communities where steam heat is the accepted thing. Sweaters have become so popular in the nursery that nearly every child's wardrobe contains one or a dozen as circumstances may permit, and these, of course, help solve the problem of keeping the child comfortable in an inadequately heated house.

What Paris has to say on the always pertinent subject of juvenile fashions may be an inspiration in planning the youngster's school and playthings. Paris reports that the cut of the original and tres novelty effect is more than ever apparent in children's wear at the present moment. This is true of the garments made for little girls and of "hobbledeboys."

STRAIGHT, SILHOUETTE. The last-named styles follow quite a distinct trend in the silhouette, being absolutely straight. There are no sleeves set into the corsage, even in the simple frocks. It is the shoulder which is developed into a sort of sleeve by a prolonged treatment, descending a little way over the upper part of the arm.

The waist is barely indicated by a belt in self material. This belt is narrower in the more elaborate

TITLED LADIES PROUD OF THEIR COOKING ART

It is an interesting fact that in other lands, such people of importance as titled ladies, literary men, and army officers, do not disdain to set before the public their knowledge of the art of cookery. Baron Brisse, of France, has compiled an excellent cook-book, and England possesses a comprehensive library of fine cookery and household economies, written by well-known men and women. In America, Miss Celestine Bastia, who long ago wrote the famous "French and English Creole Cookery Book," is almost the only society woman who has ever had published a collection of choice recipes.

Among the many excellent books of this type, none is more highly thought of in England than the "Dudley Recipe Book," written by the late Georgiana, Countess of Dudley, and though it is now out of print, one recipe is given here.

OCCUPATIONAL GOOD LOOKS

The New York Post says:—A Spanish scholar, impressed by the number of women engaged in earning their own living, has made a study of the influence of the various callings and recreations on women's personal appearance.

Women who indulge in sports will read his findings with dismay. He contends that they cannot become professions without doing irreparable harm to their beauty. "The bicyclist loses in time her grace, the hockey player becomes mannish, the horseback rider stout. If not massive, while the tennis player develops flat feet, big hands, and a red, distorted face." It is not the view ordinarily held. It departs so far from the truth that it is difficult to avoid the feeling that Castilian ideals of beauty are quite different from those of other countries.

It is in his remarks on the beauty of actresses, however, that the Spanish runs most directly counter to current opinion. With the courage

What Shall I Do?

ANSWERED LETTERS.

"Bob" — If the man has a good reputation in your community, I can see no harm in your accepting his invitations occasionally. But you would be foolish to do so often, because that would keep other younger men away. And of course it would be sheer folly for a girl of 18 to give her entire time to a man of 38, or to think of marrying him.

"X. Y. Z." — Of course it isn't right for a married woman to accept the attentions of any man other than her own husband, or for any married man to devote himself to another woman than his wife. You knew that without asking me. Everyone does. What I imagine you really want to know is whether you have a right to object openly and strenuously to your husband acting that way. I think you have. And I hope you will be able to make him see the danger and injustice of his attitude.

"Shorty and Sporry." — It is never proper to speak to anyone you have not been introduced to properly by mutual friends. No lady ever speaks to a strange man. It is not always necessary; but it is always wiser and easier to have a companion, if not a chaperone when you go riding.

"Brown Eyes" — Don't pamper your boy friend's senseless jealousy by neglecting to speak to all your friends, girls and boys both, when out with him. He has no right to object, so let him get mad and get over it; and if he doesn't get over it, break with him entirely and make friends with someone who has better intelligence and better breeding.

"Dimple" — If your friend's mother has invited you to their home, it is perfectly proper for you to go. Don't let him kiss you good-night until he is an accepted suitor and has the right to do so. Any decorative or useful thing for her new home would be a suitable thing to give your sister for her wedding present; consider her needs and the amount you can spend, and then buy what you would like to have in similar circumstances.

"Anxious Chloe Mc" — Try to think of some plausible excuse for writing a few lines, pleasant, but not too eager note to the young man you met on your vacation, and ask him a question that he will want to answer. That will be the nicest way to start a correspondence. If he doesn't answer promptly and ask you to write again, don't.

"Mrs. M." — Believe that the simplest and surest way to remove peach stains from your tablecloth is to put it away until cold weather, then wash it as usual and let it freeze on the line. Freezing will usually remove peach stains.

"Slim" — Ear puts are never pretty if they are exaggerated; I don't like them anyway, and they are rapidly going out of vogue. Why don't you wear your hair hanging in curls or a braid? At any rate, do it as simply as possible, making the outline conform to the shape of your head and you will be in better taste.

The sister or brother of a very popular sister or brother usually suffers by comparison. But if you cultivate a jolly, friendly manner and try to become popular by making yourself loved and wanted rather than by envying your brother.

Famous Alma Tadema Home Bought by Business Man

The wonderful home which Sir Lawrence Alma Tadema designed and built for himself in St. John's Wood half a century ago, has passed into the hands of a London business man who intends to keep up his new possession in the style of its great originator.

Fifty years ago the house was noted throughout Europe, and frequented by every eminent artist, musician, scientist, or writer who visited this country. Alma Tadema collected material from all parts of the world to beautify his home.

The front door, framed in bronze acanthus leaves cast from a house in Pompeii, and set in a marble wall, leads into a little entrance hall paved with Persian tiles, which, in the old days, gave hospitable welcome to hundreds of callers, both strangers and friends. Alma Tadema's private library and waiting room is designed after the style of a Roman atrium, though the fountain in the marble floor has long been silent.

FOUND LONDON VERY CHANGED.

Miss Brady, who has just returned from a trip abroad, has some interesting comments on conditions over there.

"I found less changes in Paris than in England," says Miss Brady; "Paris seems more her old self, but in England war seems to have left more trace. There the invaders did not mow down homes as they did in France, but day by day sees more English families having to give up the old homes of centuries. You see war's traces at every turn. You go to the theatre, expecting entertainment and you are confronted with serious plays that leave you as perplexed as when they began. They settle nothing. As for the people, not only are soldiers suffering, but the women, I was asking a friend to hurry one day, instead she asked to sit down quietly."

"I can't hurry any more," she said. "You see, I was so shell-shocked in an air raid that I take a relapse now and then."

Miss Brady visited our Woodbine meet this week and was delighted with its beauty. "It is as lovely as the race courses abroad," said she. "You've everything but the mannequins."

Surely no greater contrast could be had for fair Bihel Barrymore this week than petite and dark Alice Brady.
