In the Gray of the Year.
In the gray of the year, the longing leaves that with the silent earth in colors rare, The sun dyed the patches, unswayed, Yellow and red and sunset brown, and grieves For the fast-moving, winter-wind—the throe Who rob the gold of autumn and ensue The stinging birds and strip the meadows bare Of everything of beauty life possessive. The gray time of the year, and to the heart The tenderness, the aches and the tears That wake from out the buried yesterday Warm sunshine and bright flowers, and the start Of Love's first summer—like-voiced ways That led to heaven in those golden days.
—William J. Fletcher, in the October Canadian Magazine.

The Kings County Temperance Alliance
PRONOUNCEMENT OF THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL AND APPEAL TO THE CONSTITUENCY.
In consideration of the existing facts and conditions connected with our Municipal Council and the record of its work during the closing term, the Kings County Temperance Alliance finds it imperative to refer to the late administration concerning questions which are of the most vital concern to the conscientious voter and to the constituency in general.

INCREASED TAXATION.
It must have been noticed by all ratepayers who have taken sufficient interest in the proceedings of the Council to study carefully the records of its doings, that there has been a large increase in taxation within the past few years. In 1907 the total amount assessed on the County was $19,611.59. In 1908 this was increased to $21,524.71, while for 1910 the ratepayers are called on for $26,019.23, showing an increase of 40 per cent. Some of this additional taxation may be justified, but a few instances will show how readily the expenditure may be increased without corresponding benefit to the people at large.

SCOTT ACT MATTERS.
In regulating Scott Act matters the Council is culpable of serious disapproval. As the type of Scott Act inspector materially affects the primary object for which the Alliance exists, it was the custom of year to year to wait upon the Council and to ask for the appointment of the man who was considered to be the best qualified for this most important position. In 1907 the Alliance delegation waited upon the Council and urged for the re-appointment of Mr. Ira L. Cox as Scott Act Inspector for the County, but the appeal of the committee was not favored, and a man chosen by the Council is a man chosen by the Council in and in hand. While the primary object of the Alliance is now, as in the past, the total suppression of the liquor traffic by all lawful and legitimate means, it also takes the broader ground that there are allied and kindred evils to be dealt with, and it seeks along moral and economic lines to lift our citizenship to a higher plane, to encourage the independent voter to take a firm stand for right and justice, and to unite all moral forces of the community with respect of party or creed in the carrying out of these higher ideals of public life which means so much for the general welfare of the County. The religious, moral, social and commercial intercourse are all strands which we are weaving in the fabric of citizenship.

OUR APPEAL.
The Alliance makes its appeal to every citizen, and particularly to the leaders in Christian work, the Clergy, our Temperance workers and organists, to take this matter at heart and in hand. While the primary object of the Alliance is now, as in the past, the total suppression of the liquor traffic by all lawful and legitimate means, it also takes the broader ground that there are allied and kindred evils to be dealt with, and it seeks along moral and economic lines to lift our citizenship to a higher plane, to encourage the independent voter to take a firm stand for right and justice, and to unite all moral forces of the community with respect of party or creed in the carrying out of these higher ideals of public life which means so much for the general welfare of the County. Backache Suffering
A wonderful medicine in this man's possession is DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.
Mr. Fred Sumner, Littleton, Ont., writes: "I can honestly say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are a wonderful medicine. For six weeks last fall I could scarcely walk around for pain in the back and legs, and was almost completely unable to get through my daily work. I got through it by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills advertised and bought five boxes. After I had used three boxes, I was greatly improved, and by the time I had them all I was well as well as ever. I would advise anyone suffering from the same to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."
"We have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have done us a great deal of good. We had a severe case of backache and sore throat, and would not be without these medicines for anything."

Woman's Health
When Forty-five.
A Critical Period When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a Real Blessing.
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are absolutely the finest medicine that ever a woman took. At special periods a woman needs a medicine to regulate her blood supply or her life will be a round of pain and suffering. It is at such times that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold, for they make new, rich blood, that banish the secret symptoms of disease that only women and growing girls know. They strengthen every vital organ for its special task, and bring rosy cheeks and shapely forms that tell of womanly health and happiness. Mrs. Richard Lobb, Red Deer, Alta., says: "At that critical period in my life known as the change I suffered so much that I hardly hoped to pull through. I doctored for months, but did not get any relief, and I grew so weak that I could hardly walk about, and it was impossible for me to do my housework. Only women who have suffered similarly can tell how much I endured—the constant misery, the dragged-out feeling and the terrible backaches that beset me. No woman could have been in a more wretched condition than I was at this time, and it was then that my attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a half dozen boxes and before they were all gone there was a good improvement in my condition. Then I got six more boxes and before I had used them all I felt like a new woman and was enjoying better health than I had done for years. Not only have Dr. Williams' Pink Pills proved a blessing to me, but they also worked a great change in the case of my daughter, who was in a very miserable condition after childbirth. I believe would have been in their graves now but for the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Considering I have seen them do for others, I am justified in my enthusiasm for this medicine. I never lose an opportunity to recommend it."
Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE IMPORTANCE OF DRAINAGE.
HOW TO KEEP WATER, THE GREAT ENEMY OF ROADS, OFF AND AWAY FROM THEM.
Important road construction problems were discussed as follows by Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist of North Carolina and president of the Appalachian Good Roads association, in an address delivered by him before the Appalachian Engineering Association at Winston-Salem, N. C., on May 6 last.

The Problems of Road Building.
The location of a road is really the only permanent part of a road, and therefore in determining the location it must be very carefully worked out, so that when once the road is constructed there will never be any question regarding any change in its location. In constructing a road, between two points the shortest distance is, of course, desirable, but it will often be found that the "longest way" around is the shortest way home, and that the shortest distance between two places is not the practical route for a road on account of the excessive cost of constructing the same. We have often seen roads that were located apparently so as to make the shortest distances, and the result has been that the road followed up one hill and down another regardless of how steep the rise and how sharp the descent. Roads located as this one are passable, but a team can haul only from one-third to one-tenth of what it could on a well graded road. We have often seen roads that were muddy a good part of the year, and we have passed over them at different times of the day without ever having seen the rays of the sun strike the surface of the road. It has given thought to the reason why roads probably have found that the road was located on the north side of a hill or in rather heavy woods. This is a mistake that has often been made and is still being made, but every road engineer should as far as possible avoid locating a dirt road on the north slope of a hill or mountain unless it is absolutely necessary, and in that case the woods should be trimmed up so that the sun's rays will be given every possible facility to reach the road's surface and keep it dry. This does not apply as much to roads that are to be surfaced with stone.

Lime-Sulphur Plant at Kentville.
A busy scene presented itself at the Niagara Spray Co. plant in Kentville last week. The work of installing the machinery for the manufacturing of a concentrated Lime Sulphur spray having been completed, the steam was turned on and the works set in motion. Judging from the appearance about the plant the Niagara Spray Co. have by expenditure of a lot of money provided for the wants of the fruit growers of the valley, by being in a position to give them a Lime Sulphur spray at a big reduction on last spring's prices. It is only by manufacturing on a large scale that any concern can bring down prices to the lowest minimum rate.

While looking over this equipment last Wednesday we were much impressed with the layout made, more particularly in the large tanks erected for the time being, left for New York State, where we understand he is to build another plant for the Niagara Spray Co. of that place, after Nova Scotia to make the return to the Company here.

In connection with the location of a road the character of the soil of which the road bed will be made should be carefully investigated, for it will be found that certain soils are very difficult to hold or to drain and make the maintenance of the road after it is completed and surfaced with some suitable material very hard and expensive. It will be very often found that certain soils are composed of materials that are naturally adapted to the construction of a road-bed, and building the road across them very materially lessens the cost of its construction.

In making a survey for a road between two points there may be two or more routes that will seem available, and one or more of these will have certain features that are more favorable than the others. Each route should be carefully considered as to what grading should be necessary to bring it to the grade required, what will be the expense of the culverts and ditches necessary to take care of the water and what will be the cost of maintenance. Another question in regard to the location which must be given a certain amount of consideration is the number of people that will be benefited by the road. All these questions must be carefully considered before a definite is decided regarding the location, and whatever location is decided upon it ought to be a permanent one.

A First Class Improved Road must be so graded as to permit of the hauling of a maximum load at all times and also prevent washing by rainwater. The locating and grading of a road are so closely allied that it is hard to separate them from each other, for the location must be such that the grade can be maintained. No grade should be permitted of over 4-1/2 per cent, for this is the maximum grade over which a team can haul for a certain distance the same load that it can haul over a level road. It is also the maximum grade that a road can have and yet not require "thank-you-mans" on the surface of the road to turn the water on the surface into side ditches to prevent washing of the middle of the road. In some localities the cost of constructing a road so that it will have no grade over 4-1/2 per cent is very great, but I believe that it will pay to construct any road be-

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 14, 1910

Rev. Mr. Cooper.

A considerable portion of our space is this week taken up with a sort of political post-mortem wall from Rev. Mr. Cooper, the former clerical apologist for the Murray government. The article is so insolent in its tone that its author probably did not anticipate its publication in our columns, but his present position is really so pitiable and the obscurity upon which he is entering promises to be so impenetrable that we had not the heart to deny audience to his pathetic swan-song. This must not be regarded as a precedent, however, for in future we will probably be too busy in dealing with living issues and living political factors to devote much space to Mr. Cooper and his poor political story.

Mr. Cooper states that his declining of the nomination offered to him by the Queens county convention caused genuine surprise and sincere regret. He is a clergyman and we are not accustomed to look for falsehood from those holding this sacred office, we are bound to believe Mr. Cooper when he says that the convention, when it offered him the nomination, had no inkling of the possibility of his declining to run again. We are forced to believe that though having enjoyed the support of a delegate from Queens for two legislatures he had not the courtesy to inform the officials of that party of his intentions until a nomination had been actually made, and that upon his unexpected declination, the convention was able without preliminary canvass or consideration to immediately name a successor. We are bound to inform him, however, that some days before the convention the writer was informed by a delegate who afterward attended it that a nomination would be offered Mr. Cooper which he would decline and that his attitude upon the temperance question that made his candidature in Queens an impossibility.

Our correspondent does not directly tell us the reasons that led him to decline the nomination but he does specifically assign his "persecution" and "losses" to not following Mr. Tanner and Mr. Grant upon the prohibition question. Certainly he has lost nothing from politics except the nomination previously referred to and it would consequently appear that we are not so very far apart after all in our diagnosis of the cause. It is rather harsh, however, in Mr. Cooper to refer to his constituents as a "mob" and as animated by the "persecuting spirit" which lit the Smithfield fires, merely because they insist upon their members giving effect to those convictions upon the temperance question held by Mr. Cooper, himself when he was a plain minister of the gospel down in Yarmouth county and before he developed into a practical politician.

Our correspondent labors to convince our Kings county readers of the strength of his position upon the temperance question. "No man in Kings county," he says, "will ever propose the repeal of the Scott Act." Most certainly the Scott Act will be never repealed in this county for the wretched provincial legislation enacted at the last session by the aid of Mr. Cooper. It is a thorough going measure of provincial prohibition such as Mr. Cooper in his legislative capacity has ever opposed that is destined to take the place of the Act which Kings county reformers have found their sorrow a most expensive and unsatisfactory instrument for combating the liquor evil. Three years ago in the legislature Mr. Cooper prophesied, as he does now, that the whole province would speedily be under the Scott Act. Since that time the Scott Act counties have been reduced from twelve to ten, and at this rate the province will be wholly under the Act about the same time that Mr. Cooper is again elected a member. It might have occurred to our correspondent that since he has so signally failed to convince his own constituents in Queens of the soundness of his temperance theories, there would be little chance for him to succeed better with the equally intelligent and sincere residents of this county.

Mr. Cooper evidently appreciates our comparison of his record to that of Wolsey, and to make the simile more striking, quotes with apparent sincerity the hypocritical words which Shakespeare puts into the mouth of the duplicitous cardinal when justly charged with the consequences of his acts. "There is this difference, however, between our modern Wolsey and his distinguished prototype: the latter, at the end of his devious career, recognized the justice of his punishment. The former reviews a legislative record such as few public men would be proud of and defiantly boast that he would do the same things again if only he had the chance. This, fortunately, he will never have. In reviewing his course in the legislature Mr. Cooper cannot point to a single instance where he took a moral stand against the party machine. On the temperance question the only controversy he has shown has been in resisting every advanced step until his government was driven to its adoption. While maintaining as he does that the Scott Act is all sufficient, he nevertheless gave the government legislation of last session a full-out support. When the government harassed by the presentation of its supporters for bribery was driven to introduce legislation to shield the billers, the most liberal members of the legislature withdrew their support from the measure, but Mr. Cooper was not one of them.

Now when the good and true electors of Queens have found him out and have decided to dispense with his services he cannot recognize the justice of his treatment but sees in it "but the fate of place, and the rough brake that virtue must go through." For such a public man experience can do nothing. He is fit for little else but a government job.

Our Local Government.

When the present local government of Ontario, of which Sir James Whitney is Premier, came into power, a Royal Commission was appointed for the purpose of inquiring into the causes relating to the alleged public school book monopoly or ring. As a consequence of that inquiry the public were made aware of the fact that an organized swindle had been in operation in Ontario for a number of years, and that a number of publishers had suddenly become rich, even though it was fully ascertained that they were generous in contributing to the party treasury, and towards the campaign funds of the government, presided over by the immaculate Ross.

When a government permits, to put it mildly, the public to be swindled by a ring of publishers in the supply of school books for use in the public schools of the province, it is certainly about time for their dismissal, or the punishment of whoever is responsible for the outrage.

If a province has a Superintendent of Education, and a Council of Public Instruction, one would imagine that that particular province would be safe from graft and abuses surrounding the supplying of school books to our children.

Nova Scotia has a Superintendent of Education and a Council of Public Instruction. These gentlemen are not fools, and yet the people are being robbed systematically. First, the books are prescribed by the Council of Public Instruction, and no others are permitted for use in the public schools, so you are compelled to buy a certain set of books, at a set price, and from the only people enabled to sell the very books prescribed. Suppose we compare the prices paid for school books in Nova Scotia, with those paid for similar books in Ontario.

In Ontario the Primer, with 96 pages, costs 4 cents; in Nova Scotia, 15 cents. Part II (Second Book) 128 pages, costs in Ontario 6 cents; in Nova Scotia, 20 cents. 2nd Reader, (3rd Book) 224 pages, costs in Ontario, 9 cents; in Nova Scotia, with 190 pages, costs 25 cents. 3rd Reader, (4th Book) 352 pages, costs 14 cents in Ontario; in Nova Scotia, with only 122 pages, it costs 35 cents. In Ontario, the 4th Reader (5th Book) with 416 pages, costs 16 cents; in Nova Scotia, with only 224 pages, it costs 30 cents.

In Ontario a set of readers with 1216 pages sells for 49 cents. In Nova Scotia a set with 1054 pages sells for $1.45. In Ontario the Arithmetic with 252 pages, is sold for 15 cents, and the Advanced Arithmetic, with 143 pages, at 40 cents. We are compelled to pay 55 cents for what Ontario only pays 49 cents. The Ontario Grammar with 224 pages, sells for 9 cents; the Nova Scotia Grammar with 172 pages, sells for 30 cents.

We suggest that the time has arrived when a revelation in provincial politics, and in the educational department would be conducive to the public good.

Rev. Mr. Cooper's Letter.

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN. SIR,—In your paper of the 23rd Sept. you wish your readers to believe that the Liberal Convention lately held in Queens county to nominate candidates for the coming election was a piece of deception. The delegates, you say, only went through the form of offering me the nomination, and it was understood that I was to decline. My refusal to accept was not much of a surprise. Now, sir, when you wrote that article, you were sitting millions of miles away from that broad platform of truth whereon public questions should be discussed—much more questions of an offensive personal character. My declining the nomination unanimously offered me, caused genuine surprise and sincere regret. I never told any one what my intentions were, and only two out of the thirty-seven delegates present had the least inkling that there was a possibility even of my declining to run again. From first to last everything was fair, above board and genuine. The contrary assertion for which you could have had no reason outside of your own imagination, being false, is altogether opposed to the principles of moral reform, and is certainly discreditable to a journal wishing to be considered respectable.

Your article further says: "Mr. Cooper will be remembered as a warning to our public men to stand by their convictions"—say rather as an evidence of the persecuting spirit which still lives in the heart of self-styled moral reformers. The spirit which lit the fires of Smithfield still lingers among us, and would if it could, put some of us to torture and to death, even as in the days of old. The bitter things said against me, the persecution I have suffered and all the losses I have sustained have all been the result of my standing by my convictions, and refusing to bow the knee to Messrs. Tanner and Grant.

Don't you honor the man who is willing to sink "Half his present reputation for the freedom to think." And when he has thought, he is as strong or weak. "Will risk rather half for the freedom to speak." Caring not for what vengeance the mob has in store. "Let that mob be the upper ten thousand or lower." As regards the rest of your article, I simply affirm—and those who know me will believe me—that from beginning to end of this temperance controversy I have acted conscientiously. I regret nothing I have said or done in this matter, and would do the same again if I had the opportunity. I believed I was right in 1907; I believe I am right now. I venture to predict that before long I shall be splendidly vindicated. No man in Kings county shall ever propose the repeal of the Scott Act. That Act has done too good work there. It will not be repealed in Yarmouth, Shelburne or Queens or any other county. Of course this may be denied, but I am content to wait and see, assured that the policy I have advocated will ultimately be adopted by every county in the province.

You are pleased to make a quotation from Shakespeare which, before it can be seen to be apt even from your own point of view, you must change and garble. In reply I will quote words from the same play and the same cardinal "without one change. These words I utter from the depths of my heart:—"If I am rebuked by ignorant tongues, which neither know My faculties nor my person, yet will be the chastisement of my doing, let me say "Tis but the fate of place, and the rough brake That virtue must go through. We must not mind."

Our necessary action, in the face of so many malicious insinuations, which ever, as Mr. Cooper's letter, do us wrong. That is notwithstanding, but benefits no further. These vainly longing, "What we do best, by sick interpreters, come weak on us, or not our own; what words, as if, hitting a greater quality, is cried up for our best. If we still stand still, to fear our motion will be weak or cold at all, we should take heed where we sit, or sit, or stand, or move."

on those of them who live in Kings county, the duty of visiting the office of THE ACADIAN and laboring with its editor; for if to tell the truth in the prior duty of a moral reformer, nay, even a simple moral man, I know no man who more sorely needs to be reformed than the writer of the article I am criticizing. As you seem fond of poetry permit me to conclude this letter with a few lines from an American author. They so accurately describe the self-styled moral reformer—who is a politician before everything—when he sits down to misinterpret and misrepresent his opponents: "There is one thing he owns in his own single right. It is native and genuine—namely his spite: Though when sitting as censor, he privately shows A censor of vanity 'neath his own nose. I am, sir, your obedient servant, C. F. COOPER, Caledonia, Oct. 3, 1910.

Mr. E. Graham has moved into his new studio, which is one of the best in the province. A number of changes have been made, all of which add to its convenience and ability to turn out first-class work.

Induction at St. Andrew's

The induction of Rev. George W. Miller to the pastorate of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, this town, took place on Tuesday evening. Owing to an accident in the lighting plant there was some delay in opening, but the exercises were interesting and successful. There was a good attendance of the congregation and friends, a number coming from a distance to be present. Rev. Mr. Muir, of Annapolis, preached an able and eloquent sermon from Hebrews 12:1. Mr. Muir is a young man, a Scotchman, lately come to this country, and was recently called to the Annapolis church where he is doing good work. His address was greatly enjoyed. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Halifax, the moderator of the Presbytery, Rev. Dr. Stewart, of Pine Hill college, presided, and conducted the service of induction, afterwards addressing the new minister in an appropriate and helpful manner. Rev. Mr. McMillan, of Kentville, narrated the steps leading up to the settlement and Rev. Mr. Henry, of Canada, offered the induction prayer. The address to the congregation was given by Rev. Dr. McMillan, of Halifax, and was concise and full of wholesome admonitions. The pleasure of the occasion was increased by the rendering of a beautiful solo by Miss Edith Thomson. At the close of the exercises the new minister was introduced to the session and people, and was heartily received. He will begin his work here on Sunday next.

A Bad Fire.

A devastating fire occurred on Tuesday afternoon by which Mr. Howard Moore, of the ridge, lost all his farm buildings, with most of their contents. The fire caught in a barn from children playing with matches and was carried by the high wind to the adjoining buildings and the house. A large amount of hay, oats and other produce, including about a hundred barrels of apples, was consumed, but most of the household furniture was removed. There was no insurance, and Mr. Moore estimates his loss at about $5000. So strong was the gale, that sparks from the burning buildings were carried a quarter of a mile, setting fire to hay of Mrs. John Martin, which, with an adjoining barn, was also consumed. Mr. Moore is an industrious young man and has the sympathy of friends and neighbors in his heavy loss.

THE ACADIAN had a pleasant call one day last week from Mr. H. S. Congdes, the clever editor of the Dartmouth Patriot. She was a professional singer before her marriage to Major Braslan, a representative of the largest firm in the world. Her fine soprano voice has lost none of its charm, and will be heard often, we expect, during the winter in Wolfville.

A good idea of Rev. C. P. Cooper's veracity may be gained by reading his letter in yesterday's Western Chronicle, in which he says that this journal "refuses to insert my reply, which refusal is both contemptible and cowardly." In our issue of last week, it will be remembered, we acknowledged the receipt of his letter and promised that it would appear to-day. In another place will be found this letter which is referred to at greater length.

The situation of readers of THE ACADIAN is called to a communication from the Kings County Temperance Alliance, with regard to affairs of Kings county. This communication, which appears on our fast page, should be read by every elector of the county, as it deals with matters in which all are interested. It is thus one people news "getting busy" about municipal politics. The "machine" has too long held sway.

Problems of Road Building.

keep the water out of the side ditches, so that there will be no chance whatever of seepage under the road. The engineer must study the topography of the country through which the road is passing and determine the amount of rainfall and thus the amount of water that he will have to take care of by means of his side ditches, culverts and bridges. I might say here that after the engineer has made his estimate regarding the amount of water that he must take care of at any certain point along his road it would be a very safe plan for him to double this estimate in making his calculation for the size of the culverts or bridges, for the reason that occasionally cloudbursts may take place, and more land may be cleared or burnt over, which will give him an excessive amount of water, a great deal more than he would have calculated from the topography of the country and the amount of rainfall. His road must be able to withstand such a flow of water, for if not it means a very large cost to the country or state for repairs. Wherever it is necessary to carry water from one side of the road to the other it should always be carried under the surface of the road, either through concrete, metallic or other special forms of culverts, which will prevent any of the water from coming into contact with the roadbed. As often as possible the water should be taken out of the side ditches and discharged into the adjoining fields in order to prevent the wearing action of an increased volume of water on the bottom of the ditches. The grade of the ditches should also be kept at a minimum in order to prevent the cutting action of swift running water. On the other hand, they should be given a sufficient grade so that the water can rapidly be carried out of the ditches, for otherwise there will be a tendency for water to seep under the road.

We may consider the wearing surface of the road as its roof, which must be kept as impervious to water as possible and so constructed that the rainfall and melting snows will flow freely and quickly into the gutters on each side. On the other hand, however, the water must not flow so fast as to give it a cutting action and thus fill the surface of the road with slight depressions. Too much slope from the centre of the road to the side ditches is bad not only on account of the cutting action of the water, but it will also cause wagons to all travel in the same track, and there will also be a tendency for all vehicles to slide over the road. The road surface should have a gradual fall of about 1 to 40.

In preparing the roadbed careful attention should be paid to the character of the subsoil, as in many instances a soil will be encountered upon which it will be almost impossible to construct a satisfactory road without very careful attention to surface and subsurface drainage. After the surface has been brought to the right slope it should be thoroughly rolled and any depressions that may be observed should be filled in with material of the same consistency and character as the balance of the roadbed. Any soft places that cannot be satisfactorily hardened by tamping should be cut out and filled in with the good material. This applies not only to the surface of a dirt road, whether it is to remain as such or is to be finally surfaced with macadam, sand clay or gravel, but it also applies to any weak places that may develop in the surface of any other material.

No matter how carefully the roadbed may have been constructed, weak places are sometimes overlooked, and after the road has been in use for a short time these begin to develop. If they are repaired at once little or no damage will result to the road as a whole, and the repairing can be done at slight expense. On the other hand, if they are allowed to go for some time the cost of repairing them is not only increased, but they will permit water to seep down through them and begin to undermine the road.

The above four problems in regard to road construction apply to all classes of roads regardless of how they are to be surfaced, and the roadbed should be constructed just as carefully for a macadam, sand clay or gravel as a dirt road.

More Than Enough is Too Much. To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, eat less and eat better, and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

In the short space of three hours, the other day, a dirt road across the great State of Iowa, reaching from the Mississippi to the Missouri, a distance of three hundred and eighty miles, was put in first class condition by a prearranged plan, the whole distance had been divided into short sections, and at the given hour men and horses with the famous split-log highway drags did the work. The incident illustrates the popularity and the possibilities of the good roads movement.

For Chapped Hands. Chapped skin whether on the hands or face may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It is also recommended for sore nipples, burns and sores. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

Exodus Not Yet at an End. DOMINION ATLANTIC RAILWAY.

We hear a good deal about the tide of immigration which has set in from the American to the Canadian West. We do not hear so much about the exodus from Canada. This exodus is, however, still going on notwithstanding the fact that it is now overshadowed by the movement in the other way. American returns show that during the twelve months ending with March, while 103,785 Americans left the United States to settle in Canada, 172,000 Canadians left Canada to settle in the United States. It is probable that most of the Canadians going to the United States were from Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. The factories and cities of New England are nearer to that part of the Dominion, both geographically and in community of interest, than is the Canadian West.—Toronto Sun.

TUMOR OF YEARS GROWTH. Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winnipeg, Man.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a tumor of the uterus. The doctors said it was a tumor, and that it could not be removed. They said that if it grew larger it would cause my death. They found that my organs were affected and said I could not live more than a few months in the condition I was in. After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for two years, and I took it constantly for two years, and I still take it. I feel like a new woman, and my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women." Mrs. ORIELA BRADLEY, 24 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have drowsy pains, inflammation, nausea or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills.

One Barrel of Flour Instead of Two

YES, in the old way there was one kind of flour for bread and another for pastry.

Now, OGLIVIE'S ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR, it makes not only the very best bread but also the very best cakes, pies, biscuits, rolls, muffins, popovers, pancakes, dumplings, anything that you want to make or bake from flour.

"ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" saves money and trouble. Instead of having two barrels of flour in the house you can get along much better with one. And you can be certain that it is always uniform—will always come out right whether for Bread or Pastry.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD is made from the finest grade of wheat in the world, Manitoba Red Fyfe wheat, and milled by the very finest machinery, in mills that are a model of cleanliness.

"ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" is a trifle more by the barrel than ordinary flour but this trifle extra proves real economy when the leaves are counted. For "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" goes farther than ordinary flour—farther in actual quantity of baked product.

Even if "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" cost a great deal more than ordinary flour it would be well worth it for its more nourishing. You can't afford to buy inferior flour at any price. You can't afford to skimp on health. And you do skimp on health when you buy flour just because it costs less than "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD".

Business Better. I have a thousand dollars less on my books the first of April 1909, than I had April 1, 1908. For the first three months of this year, under prohibition, I have done $1,100 more business than I did in the same three months of 1908, under license. Some of the saloon men circulated the statement that there was an increase in taxation, but upon investigation I found it was not so. There had been a very decided increase in the attendance of our public schools. I find an increase of 25 per cent. in my cash sales and collections, and in addition to 'hopeless' debts which are being paid up, I am selling more goods to reformed drunkards.

This is the testimony of John D. Barnhart, a well-known hardware and furniture dealer of Decatur, Ill., which city of 25,000 voted 'dry' April 6, 1908. This city (Decatur) cannot be beaten for business since the saloons were closed," writes Ammann & Company, manufacturers of brick.

Despite the fact that there has not been too strict enforcement of Prohibition in Decatur for its first year by officials who were none too friendly to the law, there has been a steady increase in buildings, new houses going up every day," writes Joseph Lappan, president of the Frank H. Cain Shoe Company. There has been less drunkenness, less carousing, a much more decent city than before, and arrests for drunkenness have fallen off 40 per cent. General business in the city is better.—The National Advocate.
