CLEANED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES. The value of farm lands in Canada was $35 per acre in 1914; it is $40 now.

Canada will appoint an Air Board to have control of aeronautics in the Dominion.

German bank balances in Montreal amounting to $5,000,000 are to be seized by the Government.

Pensions will cost Canada $15,000,000 this year, about 22 per cent of our whole national debt for 1919.

Air power is being built up in right to fly over enemy territory.

A proposal is on foot to hold the first meeting of the League of Nations in Washington during the current year.

The British Commons have now passed the second reading of a law to allow women to sit in the House of Lords.

There were 117,735,000 bushels of wheat stored in Canada at the end of March as compared with 77,000,000 a year ago.

Sir Eric Drummond, Secy of the League of Nations, will have a salary of $25,000 and the same amount for expenses of office.

Winnipeg's city council wants a million dollars from the Canadian government for erection of houses of returned soldiers.

The Hudson Bay railway will continue all this summer. The rails are only 98 miles from the terminus and in 1920 there will be an all-rail route from Winnipeg to Hudson Bay.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation, Halifax, will at once erect a brick and stone church to cost $125,000 on a lot 22 1/2 by 153 feet at corner of Coburg Road and Le Marchant Street.

Following years of agitation the British Parliament has finally passed a bill providing for the admission of women to the practice of law - not merely as solicitors, but as barristers as well.

It is reported that seaweed paper is being manufactured in Denmark for newspaper and packing paper purposes. Experiments are now being conducted to determine the feasibility of manufacturing paper from seaweed.

On July 1st next, the United States will revert to the two-cent postage rate. Should Canada decide to retain the present 3-cent rate, one may expect to see attempts made to evade the payment of the extra cent by sending letters from United States post offices.

An Ohio girl who had been notified by the War Department at the death of her brother in France went dressed in mourning and carrying a gold-star service flag to see the parade of the 14th Infantry at Cleveland, and was overwhelmed with joy when she discovered her brother marching in the ranks.

One of the first women to hold a position in the diplomatic service of the United States was Miss Jessie Coggeshall, daughter of William T. Coggeshall, an Ohio editor and politician. When, in 1866 Mr. Coggeshall was appointed United States Minister to Ecuador, his daughter accompanied him as secretary of the legation and had charge of the office for four months after his death.

Edward Vroman, of Waukegan, Ill., announced several days ago that he was going to auction off $500 worth of debts that various individuals owed him and would publish their names. Thursday he mounted a soap box and announced that his plan had resulted in the collection of $4,900 of the amount and that $500 remained.

He asked for bids, starting with $500 and raising $500. Nobody bid. In many factories and business establishments the experience of putting women in men's places during the war demonstrated the fact that, generally speaking, women workers do not like to be 'bossed' by women. The manager of a large factory said he had been obliged to put women in place of certain chief foremen, but the experiment had not proved successful. 'Oh! The girls, he said, did not work as well as when there were men in charge. In the same way, the manager of a firm which employs hundreds of girl clerks remarked that he was glad the war had taught him the value of women workers but his experience showed that the latter worked better and more happily under men bosses than under women.

Don't Be Dyspeptic. The dyspeptic has thought only of the stomach when the real source of trouble is in the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills thoroughly cleanse and purify the digestive and excretory system and in this way put the organs of digestion into splendid working condition. A little patient urging on of these organs when sluggish will restore the habit of healthful digestion.

CLEANING AN UMBRELLA. - To clean an umbrella place a tablespoonful of sugar in a basin, pour over it a pint of boiling water and stir till dissolved. Then open the umbrella and, starting from the ferrule, sponge each gore down to the point. Leave the umbrella open till dry.

Work.

Let me but do my work from day by day. In field or forest, at desk or loom, in towering market-place or tranquil room;

Let me but find it in my heart to say, 'I do my best, and I do it my own way.'

This is my work; my blessing, not my doom; 'Tis all who live I am the one by whom

The work can best be done in the right way. Shall I see it not too great, nor shall I see it not too small;

Then shall I cheerfully greet the laboring hours And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall

At evening, to play and love and rest. Because I know for me my work is best.

-Henry Van Dyke.

'Standard' Times.

Pickering News: It is most amusing to hear some of the arguments against 'daylight saving'. One of the most grotesque in that it interferes with God's way of indicating time.

They hold the opinion that standard time was a gift made to us by God, and to interfere with this is a way to a great sacrifice. Standard time was introduced about thirty-five years ago as a result of an article written by a Canadian, Sir Sandford Fleming, and was adopted by an international conference held in Washington in 1884.

By standard time the earth was divided into 24 zones running from north to south, and the time in each zone varies one hour from the zone adjoining it. Then, in standard time a person may go 20 feet east or west and find a difference of an hour, while, in solar time he must go 15 degrees or one twenty-fourth of the distance around the earth to find a difference of one hour.

A Builder of Health.

Nothing can be of greater assistance in building up the system than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this food-cure forms new rich blood, and nourishes and restores the feeble, wasted nervous cells. Gradually and naturally the system becomes better equipped, and you feel again the joy of living which comes only to people in good health.

Trouting.

By LUK. In the Spring of 1917 Rollins said to me one day, "How would you like a troutling trip into Deep Creek?" "Fine," I answered. "I caught trout in nearly every stream in the Maritime Provinces, and had a reputation in those days of being crazy about fishing."

He told me of his troutling experiences in the Adirondacks, Colorado, Wyoming, and Northern California.

I owned a pair of ponies, built exactly for mountain work; Fanny, a bay Mustang; and Top-top, a black genuine Indian pony, each weighing about 750 lbs. In preparation for the trip and scores of subsequent trips I purchased for $7 to a score of hand light buggies, and transformed it into a truck-board with regulation equipment. In my partnership with him, I furnish the rig, an horse feed; he supplied the bedding and the grub.

We drove by good country road to the old Talmadge mill in Little Bear Valley, 24 miles, by logging road it is a point one-half east of Saverbrook mill, 1 mile; then packed the ponies by Government trail, 4 miles farther east, to an open glade among eagle-trees, called Sheep Camp.

We arrived just in time to get everything ready for the night. We pulled brush on a sandy spot and buried it, swept away the ashes, matter down dried bushes and tips of pine boughs, then spread out tarpaulin protected blankets over this. We then looped a long rope across, an overhanging limb 30 feet above the ground, attached a larley sack containing our catables, and drew it up out of reach of prowlers.

There is no experience on earth quite so much like what heaven is reputed to be, as lying in such a bed 5000 feet in the air, on top of such a mountain, in such surroundings, and gazing into the impossibilities of the empyrean blue. We fell asleep, reciting alternately the 19th psalm. The next morning we found the rim of Deep Creek canyon about 500 yards east of camp. The name "Deep Creek" was suggested by the depth of water. I thought in food that is plenty, but by the thousand foot walls of the canyon I thought red. Fish-hooks and lines I had one line, a blinker and a half dozen hooks of assorted sizes. Reaching the creek, while Rollins was getting ready, I cut a willow pole, attached my line, strung an angle worm on the hook, spit on the bait, and saying, "Here's for luck," threw into an inviting, deep, swirling pool. As fast as excited hands could do it I landed seven speckler beauties. Rollins gazed spell-bound. I've started forward another pool, fished my line, said, "Here, you said you used to be crazy about troutling. All I've got to say, - you are still crazy."

Opportunity for Retail Merchants

THE next few years will mark a tremendous change in the business of retailing.

Motor Transportation, now reduced to a low-cost basis must revolutionize local trading just as Railroad Transportation revolutionized national trading.

As men everywhere grasp this idea, as they seize the opportunity for business growth that now presents itself, the retail business will be operated on a higher, more efficient plane. The public will be better served. Larger and more varied stocks will be offered for sale. Better and bigger stores will appear.

The Ford One-Ton Truck makes available this opportunity. It is Motor Transportation at low cost - low first cost, low maintenance cost, low operating cost.

Both types have the Enclosed Cab with the two-way windshield which gives the driver proper protection from the weather.

See these complete trucks. Seize the opportunity to enlarge your field of business. Let us solve your delivery problem.

A Bean Disease.

Bean crops, more especially in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and sometimes in Ontario as well, suffer through a disease called anthracnose, which attacks the stem, leaves, pods and seeds, causing dark spots, resulting in greatly decreasing yields and in inferior quality of crop. When infected seeds have been planted and the weather is wet or cloudy the disease (the growing plant develops rapidly).

Considerable proportions of the crop are sometimes marked only by bare stalks or small sickly plants, bearing a few faded leaves. The disease is carried over from year to year and propagated by a fungus that retains its vitality on the seed. Beans grown on poorly drained soil are more apt to be injured by this disease.

Pamphlet No. 45 of the Central Experimental Farm and available from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, states that anthracnose can be most easily observed by gathering sound pods from a field as early as possible as is available. Three pods should be immersed in a solution of copper sulphate consisting of one pound dissolved in eighty gallons of water, or a solution of formalin, one pint to thirty gallons of water, or corrosive sublimate one oz. to eight gallons of water. Other control measures are contained in this pamphlet.

Love levels all things with the possible exception of the head.

"Congratulations, My Daughter, You Are Looking Fine"

"AND why shouldn't I look well after using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"

"It's that what has made such a change in your appearance? You were so pale and thin, I was rather anxious about your health."

"Why, I have gained fifteen pounds, and I feel so well, too."

"And you have such a good, healthy color. Your blood must be rich and red."

"I knew you were suspicious of anything that our doctor did not prescribe, so I said nothing about it to you."

"Well, I will not have any doubts about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the future after what a healthy looking girl it has made of you."

"Yes, and I feel so differently, too. I was so nervous and irritable that I was very easily annoyed and upset. Then I would have those fearful nervous headaches. But, thank goodness, that is all over, and I know what to give credit for the change."

"I am very glad you are so well again and think Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a very valuable medicine, since it has done you so much good."

Mrs. Gertrude M. Rurrell, Clementsport, N.S., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results. For a number of years I was afflicted with nervousness and six years ago had a complete breakdown. I had no control of my nerves and had terrible hysterical spells. I could not sleep, had night sweats, awful dreams and nightmares. My physician gave me medicine so put me to sleep every night, and another kind to take every two hours during the day, but it did not seem to do me any good until while I was taking it, I never really expected to get well. Hearing about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food one day, I gave it a trial, and the results from my first box encouraged me, so I continued its use, and found my nerves getting steady and stronger. My appetite improved and I gained in strength, ambition and flesh. Now I am able to do considerable work, and can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a good tonic for the whole system."

(Alonzo W. Daniels, J.P., says: "It gives me great satisfaction to vouch for the testimony of this young lady and the benefit she has received from your wonderful discovery.")

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 0 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. On every box of the genuine you will find the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 9, 1919

Editorial Brevities.

Next to longing for the dear old home the returning men are keen for renewed acquaintances with the dear old job.

Some of our prominent fruit growers are of the opinion that present indications were never more favorable for a bumper apple crop.

An Anglican church at Bridgeburg, Ont., has acquired a former motion picture theatre which the sector uses in illustrating sermons at special services.

Out in Manitoba the government has taken hold of the housing problem in a way that looks like business. To prevent delay in negotiating with Ottawa, the administration has made available at once a million dollars for the municipalities which will make application for money.

Canadian Commoners are strongly of opinion that no more titles should be conferred on Canadians resident in Canada. With an attendance of twenty-three at the last meeting of the House of Commons committee on the subject, there was a majority of twenty for the motion.

The town of Bridgetown has provided a public hitching yard, an example that ought to be followed by Wolfville. A by-law of that town prohibits teams from being hitched on the streets, and the public is requested to use the public hitching yard which is provided by the merchants free of charge. A very great advantage would follow to all if such an arrangement were made here.

The entertainment to be given by 'The Give Service Girls' on Friday and Saturday of next week can be a sure of a most liberal patronage. Nothing that has been undertaken by this organization since its inception has been other than a success. Wolfville people are proud of the Give Service Girls and the splendid things they have accomplished. This opportunity of showing appreciation will be taken advantage of.

Montreal Gazette:—The Court of Review has decided that a newspaper sued for libel should have the right to establish the truth of allegations made against a public man who complains against it. The principle is a good one. While there are public men liable to forget their duty or who show unfitness for the places to which they aspire, or for which they have been chosen, anyone concerned should have a right to point to the fact and comment thereon. Only sinners could profit from any other rule.

Clever Wolfville Girl.

Miss Gladys E. Vaughn has been added to the staff as Loan Service Secretary. She is a graduate of Mt. Allison College, Canada, where she took her B. A. and M. A. degrees in 1910-11. Miss Vaughn did post-graduate work at Harvard Medical, Minnesota Medical and Yale Graduate School. For the past three years she has been on the Minnesota State Board of Health. She takes up her work with the National Tuberculosis Association after attending the Institute in February. Bulletin of the National Tuberculosis Association, New York.

Miss Vaughn has recently resigned her position with the National Tuberculosis Association, New York City, and sailed from there April 8th, on the "S. S. Orduna" for England, France and Germany. She is to be engaged in executive duties for the Y. M. C. A. and her contract covers six months, three months in England and the balance of the time on the Continent. Miss Vaughn was all ready to sail for France in October, but was delayed by the outbreak of influenza, and later the signing of the Armistice caused her contract to be cancelled.

The Legislature.

Two per cent. beer is numbered among the forbidden fruits in Nova Scotia. On Friday, the bill to amend and consolidate the Nova Scotia Temperance Act passed its third reading in the House without the clause permitting the sale of liquors with a low percentage of alcohol. The bill, as passed, contains a number of amendments making the prohibition legislation more stringent and more effective.

The Drink Question.

Great Britain does not take kindly to the prohibition idea, but the magnitude of the drink evil was so appalling and its interference with industrial life so serious that the government was compelled to take action when the nation was most deeply engaged in its death struggle with Germany. A policy of restriction was decided upon as a war measure, and the remarkable result in London is made known in official returns recently made public. The returns begin with 1913, the year before the war, and end with February in the present year. Given in weekly averages, the convictions on account of drunkenness for 1913 were 1,250; for 1914, 1,371; for 1915, 994; for 1916, 556; for 1917, 320. In 1918 the weekly average down to the time of the armistice was 199; then to December 1, 239; and thence again to the end of the month, 215; in January, 217, and in February, 266. The figures testify to the successful operation of the restrictions, which were put into operation in 1915. The Englishman loves his beer, however, and already relaxations have been made in the law, and an increase granted in the supply of beer and spirits.

Woman's Rights.

Many persons must have wondered when the newspapers announced that the Emancipation of Woman bill was presented in the British parliament why the measure placed the age at which women should be entitled to vote at thirty. It has since been explained by the speaker of the House of Commons that it was adopted because otherwise the number of women voters would have been far in excess of the men—by about one million. It was that women and men should be about equal that the age of thirty was selected. It was proposed to reduce the age proviso from thirty to twenty-one years, but the President of the Local Government Board said the proposed reduction would increase the electorate by between three and four millions, an increase which the government could not undertake during the present session. The bill, which is likely to be adopted, proposes to remove the disqualification which prevents women from holding certain civil and judicial appointments; amends the Franchise Bill of 1918 so as to place women on an equal with men, and enables women to all and vote in the Upper as they are already entitled to do in the Lower House. It is a forward step in the woman movement.

War Memorials.

Current Opinion for March says:—'Let us not step back now and in the erection of our war memorials seek to satisfy a utilitarian purpose. Let us not dishonor the noble spirit we would commemorate by using the sentiment of the hour merely to obtain a desired material end. If we need for the good of the community in which we live parks or playgrounds, concert halls or community houses, yes, even hospitals or schools or churches, let us have them, but do not let us call them war-memorials, for by so doing we shall depreciate the spirit which such should memorialize. A name on a building or to a park conveys with the passing of years to convey special meaning other than designation. Our war memorials if they are to pass on to coming generations, must themselves be clothed with this spirit, so it were, must speak the language understood by all people—the universal language of art—must be beautiful, as beautiful as it is possible for genius to conceive and man to create. Likewise in connection with any structure the question of material, whether stone, marble or bronze. Local stone has advantages both economically and sentimentally. In all memorials simplicity, scale and proportion should be aimed at rather than profusion of detail or excessive costliness of material. It is the artistic, imaginative and intellectual quality of the work that gives it its final value.'

A Valuable Medicine For The Baby.

Baby's Own Tablets are a valuable medicine for little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colic and simple fevers; banish colic and worms and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. S. P. Moulton, St. Stephen, N. B., writes:—'I have used Baby's Own Tablets for a long time and find them a most effective and valuable medicine. I would not be without them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.'

The Earning Power of Small Savings.

If a person through the use of Thrift and War Savings Stamps saves 25 cents a day and allows this money to accumulate for 10 years, then, on the 1st of January, 1929, that person will be able to draw out $1,122.62. If this person continues to save in this manner for 20 years then in 1939 he or she may draw $2,953.30. If the process were continued for 30 years then on January 1, 1949 $5,766.66 could be withdrawn.

For a good return over a long period it is a smart for the average person to get anything better than an investment in War Savings Stamps.

The country is still on a war basis so far as conditions are concerned. Our prices are going to stay up and the price of labor will stay up. The cost of production is going to stay up. It can't come down immediately. —Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario.

Employees Planning on Becoming Capitalists.

The other day Mr. William Latham of the Halifax Shipyards laid aside $1,000 of his earnings, and invested them in War Savings Stamps. He wanted to set an example to his men, and has induced many of them to follow his lead. It is claimed that the way the men can solve their difficulties is for each man to build to a capital of his own and thus be independent. Mr. Latham wished to show his men that these small Government $4.00 Bonds, which are now available, give every man an opportunity to do this easily and safely at a high rate of interest.

Shoes That Stay the Route

It isn't the flash of the first two rounds of freshness that counts. Shoes may look good on your introduction to them; in the pink of condition; fit for the route; but they may only LOOK it. What they do when you get into them, how they stand the grueling of wear is the point. Hart Shoes are built for any route and all sorts of feet. They have the unaffected punch of real style, quality, workmanship and a fit that stays right through to the finish.

'Ella Comes to Stay,' a bright comedy by Henry V. Raymond, was successfully presented by the pupils of Acadia Seminary in College Hall last Friday evening, under the direction of Miss Marguerite Ammon, teacher of elocution. The parts were all well taken, the costumes and stage effects were arranged and the whole affair most creditable. A large orchestra, directed by Mrs. EDITH JONES, teacher of music, presented an excellent program which was much enjoyed. The specialty, 'Candyland,' which followed the play, was cleverly rendered.

The May meeting of the Daughters of the Empire was held on Tuesday, the 6th. The Regent presented a Life Membership certificate to Miss Mary Black. Miss Black and Miss Grace Shaw were made Life members by the Give Service Girls, and are the first Life members of Sir Robert Borden chapter. It was voted that $10 per year be paid to THE ACADIAN for insertion of THE I. O. D. E. notices. The subject of THE I. O. D. E. was introduced, and after some discussion a War-Savings Club was formed, with Mrs. Della Wolfe, president, and Mrs. Black, secretary. The Regent called attention to the fact that the Chapter has an enrollment of 92 members, and of these, only 43 are in good standing in the matter of paid-up dues. It is urgently requested that those who are in arrears endeavor to pay their dues before the June meeting.

RENNIE-SHAW

A quiet wedding took place on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ritter, 414 Sixth Avenue, when Mrs. Ritter's sister, Miss Grace Catherine Shaw, of Wolfville, N. S., was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Rennie of Regina. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. B. Hierman in the presence of a few Nova Scotian friends of the family. The bride was dressed becomingly in blue taffeta, and wore a corsage bouquet of sweet peas and the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls. Miss Lillian Stoung played the wedding march. The bride and groom were unattended. The rooms were prettily decorated with carnations, sweet peas and pot-plant. A buffet supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Rennie left on the midnight train for Regina. The guests included Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Hierman, Mr. and Mrs. H. Deane Cross, Mrs. Rosalie Parker, Mrs. Alice Campbell and Miss Lillian Stoung.

Billtown.

A very pleasant reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Card when about eighty neighbors and friends were here on Thursday evening, April 27th, to welcome home their son Horace. These were responded to briefly by Mr. J. M. Card, Mr. Card and Sargent John. Mr. Card enlisted in British Columbia. After a vacation spent in this country he will return to the west, where he has a good position awaiting him.

Peterkins' Problem.

Aunt Julia looked thoughtful, and Peterkins ran to her quickly and took hold of her hand, patting it which as he did his mother's hand which was trying to coax her into seeing things his way.
"Dear Aunt Julia, the party is going to be so lovely, can't you leave the wine out of the pretty fountain? Father used to like it and I have heard him say that it had not been for mother's love and influence, he would have been a drunkard. Couldn't you leave the wine out and have punch like mother does at her parties?"
Aunt Julia laughed. "Why, you funny, funny little boy! Run along and play like any normal, healthy child and don't bother your head over what we have to eat and drink. Isn't he ridiculous?" she questioned her maid, still laughing. "Run along now, I am very busy."

Peterkins stumbled blindly out of the room. Aunt Julia had snubbed him, snubbed him completely. But Peterkins' heart was very brave and he knew that he had done right. He hustled up his father to tell him all about it. Big Peter listened in silence, then he gripped Peterkins' hand tight, so tight that it hurt and the little fellow looked up wonderingly. His father was blinking his eyelids very fast, just as he had done that memorable day when Peterkins' baby sister had only come to live one little day. He had held Peterkins in his arms and looked down at the small face on the lace edged pillow that Peterkins' mother had made with so much love and care. Big Peter had slipped his finger in the tiny rose leaf band and he had swallowed many times and blinked his eyes then just as he was doing now.

"You—you are a fine boy, Peterkins. I am proud of you," he said finally. "I think we can make your Aunt Julia see that a little child can lend some times."

There was no champagne in the punch that day and everybody had a good time. Peterkins ran around and summoned all his little friends and Aunt Julia herself left the guests and saw that the children were well supplied with ice cream, cakes, candies and all the good things she had provided. When it was all over and the last guest was waving goodbye from the big gate, Aunt Julia sat down on the steps beside a happy, tired little Peterkins and put her arms around him.
"Can you find a white ribbon badge to pin on Aunt Julia, I think?" she asked, using his nickname just as father and mother did. "I am never going to serve wine again in my house or anywhere else, and when you go to your temperance society give this to your leader and tell her to enroll me as a member."
Peterkins looked down and saw a crisp bill of three figures in his hand. All at once he forgot that he was tired. His very heart sang for joy. That bill would furnish the room his little band had been trying to make attractive for the men who had nowhere to go except to the saloons. He hugged his Aunt Julia, then his mother and father.
"Thank you, thank you, Aunt Julia," he cried, then he zipped his father by the hand. "Let's go tell Mrs. Carry Lou now. She will hurry and get the rooms ready right away."
So, many people profited by one little boy's bravery in standing up for the great cause of temperance. Is there not something that you can do?—A. Marie Crawford.

Heating the House.
The proper temperature for various rooms of the home are as follows: The living room should be 70 degrees, no more. It should be occasionally aired so that it does not become close. The doors should be kept closed into the hall. The dining room and kitchen should be heated to 65 degrees. Most kitchens rise higher than that. The bedrooms should be heated 60° at all, except for the little 'tins' that the occupants use them for dressing. Disease Comes Through The Blood.
TO CURE COMMON AILMENTS THE BLOOD MUST BE MADE RICH AND RED.
Nearly all the common diseases that afflict mankind are caused by blood impurities. Bad blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, neuritis and rheumatism, debility and indigestion, scurvy and other nerve troubles. It is bad blood that causes skin diseases like eczema, and all rheum, pimples and eruptions. The severity of the trouble indicates how impure the blood is, and it goes always from bad to worse unless steps are promptly taken to enrich and purify the blood. There is no use trying a different medicine for each disease, for they all come through the one trouble—bad blood. To cure any of these troubles you must get right down to the root of the trouble in the blood. This is just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. They make new, rich red blood. They supply purity and enrich the blood, and the disease disappears. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured thousands of cases after other medicines had failed. Here is proof of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to cure Mrs. M. S. Sills, who resides near the town of Naperville, Ill. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. I was very much run down in health, suffered from frequent spells of indigestion, biliousness, and sick headache. I had almost constant pain in my head and my heart was a source of dread. In fact I felt so miserable that I had to give up my work. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I did, and the result was simply marvellous, and can best be summed up by saying that they made me feel like a new woman, and fully restored my health. I would advise every woman and girl who has poor blood, or is run down in health, to give these wonderful pills a trial. I am never without them in the house.
At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement. They make the appetite, breath and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Don't Forget the Garden.
Don't forget to include the home garden as one of your main lines of work the coming season. If you have not already made your plans for a garden do so at once. Select fertile soil and prepare your ground as soon as possible. The seed supply should also be looked after and ordered at the earliest possible date in order to prevent disappointments and delays in planting. See that the garden includes a good variety of vegetables, and also plant it so that it will continue to work for you and supply your table with fresh vegetables throughout the entire summer and fall. Too many gardens are abandoned after the first crop of vegetables is harvested in the spring.

Starting Something in Pelton.

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
"You see, Mr. Pell, I'm trying to start something in Pelton," said the young woman, looking at the man who sat opposite her. "I am never going to serve wine again in my house or anywhere else, and when you go to your temperance society give this to your leader and tell her to enroll me as a member."
Peterkins looked down and saw a crisp bill of three figures in his hand. All at once he forgot that he was tired. His very heart sang for joy. That bill would furnish the room his little band had been trying to make attractive for the men who had nowhere to go except to the saloons. He hugged his Aunt Julia, then his mother and father.
"Thank you, thank you, Aunt Julia," he cried, then he zipped his father by the hand. "Let's go tell Mrs. Carry Lou now. She will hurry and get the rooms ready right away."
So, many people profited by one little boy's bravery in standing up for the great cause of temperance. Is there not something that you can do?—A. Marie Crawford.

Heating the House.
The proper temperature for various rooms of the home are as follows: The living room should be 70 degrees, no more. It should be occasionally aired so that it does not become close. The bedrooms should be heated 60° at all, except for the little 'tins' that the occupants use them for dressing. ANCIENT CUSTOMS IN ACADIA

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
The invention of the automobile has supplanted the once favourite horse-drawn coach, and now the aeroplane may, to a large extent, take the place of the automobile. But, however science progresses, there still are places where the ancient order of things endures and the people are contented following the simple customs of their ancestors. One may yet be seen drawing drays in that part of Nova Scotia known as the Land of Evangeline. It is quaint to see such a sight on the street of a place or town. Unlike horses, oxen have their greatest strength in their necks. The drays are 20 feet long and 10 feet wide, and are pulled by the oxen with leather straps. Bulls hitched to the drays are they move along. The tips of the horns are nearly always decorated with brass knobs. A pair of oxen will walk along leisurely drawing a load of four tons. If you try to get the driver he will tell you that they are evenly trained and do their work just as well as horses, and you can see them in places where horses would be difficult to manage. They plough and draw logs with the same gentle temper as they show when yoked to the drays.

There are other old customs still surviving in the Land of Evangeline, and these add to the attractiveness of one of the most picturesque, romantic and historic regions in America. Silvery bays and rivers, shores of golden sand, hills and valleys covered with fragrant pine or towering pines or fruitful apple trees, sunny slopes and freshening sea and land breezes give health and pleasure to thousands of tourists every year. Across the Bay of Fundy from St. John, New Brunswick, to Digby, Nova Scotia, is a delightful trip occupying a few hours. Approaching Digby Bay is dotted with the crabs of the Bay of Fundy. The crabs are taken by the Bay of Fundy fishermen. They are taken by the Bay of Fundy fishermen. They are taken by the Bay of Fundy fishermen.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."
Mrs. E. R. CARVER, R. No. 4, Hellam, Pa.
Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."

Largest Tunnel in The World
Notwithstanding the war, the largest tunnel in the world is well under construction in France, its object being to give Marseilles, Constantinople and the interior of the country a general by rail and water. The canal will provide ample waterway for barges. The new harbor and the cutting of a ship canal, actually tunneled through solid rock for five long miles, joining the old harbor and the Mediterranean to the River Rhone. The Rhone's upper stretches are placid and already are used extensively for barge navigation, but near Marseilles the stream is far too turbulent for commerce. A range of hills had prevented the construction of a canal in days gone by. Now with France energized by the war and with the necessity for the canal emphasized thereby, the tunnel is being cut and the canal will soon be opened. The work was begun in 1912, and has been continued through the war. By his canal and locks already available, barges can be sent from the Mediterranean to the English Channel.

Real Christianity Essential to World Peace.
Dr. S. E. B. Taylor quoted in the North American, Philadelphia, says: "The world cannot be reconstructed by a formula. No mere agreement among diplomats can heal the wounds of war. No international constitution, however perfect in its phrasing, and no mere economic revolution, however sweeping in its scope, can bring about the universal reign of peace and good-will among men. Such a peace is the fundamental requirement of every human heart, but it cannot be realized through force. It cannot be realized through government, and it cannot be realized through law alone. World democracy can and will be realized only through the practical application of the religion of Jesus, and nothing but faithfulness on the part of the Christian church need delay its realization."
No mere intellectual agreement can end war. Unless we remove the envy and greed behind these agreements, the thirst for domination and the lust for power, the peace treaties will turn out to be scraps of paper. Mere sanitation cannot clean up our cities. Sanitation will help, progressive building codes will help, and the church must not be indifferent to these things—but until the human heart is cleansed, the body will remain impure. No mere agreements will settle the strife between capital and labor. There must be an agreement based on fundamental justice and something more. What is needed is a full realization of the psychological fact that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Christianity transcends any system of equality—and when the joint board of employers and employees seriously begin their negotiations with intent, or strikes or arbitration could possibly bring it.
