The British first class battleship Agamemnon which stranded on the Longsands Edge while engaged in target practice on Friday was refloated with the assistance of tugs on Saturday and proceeded to Margate for an examination of her hull.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of the tea party to be held at St. Columba, East Point on Tuesday. 31st. From every point of view this stands to be an occasion of re-joyment to all who attend. Don't fail to go and bring your friends with you.

Five lives were lost in an explosion that wrecked the dynamite house of the Western Explosive Company at Tuxford Bay Bowel Island on Tuesday. The dead are one American and four Chinese. No one knows how the accident happened.

The steamer Empress of Ireland arrived at Quebec at 7:45 last Thursday evening after one of the fastest trips ever made. She would have broken the record, had it not been for the delay at quarantine, due to measles and chickenpox in the steerage, necessitating an examination of 735 steerage passengers.

Three state troopers and two deputy sheriffs were shot and killed last Sunday night in a wild riot at the Press-J Steel Car Plant in Schenectady, N. Y. The whole body of employees is now on strike and at least a score of persons were seriously wounded—ten fatally. Rioting followed a day of quiet and occurred without warning.

The Admiralty has loaned Canada a number of naval officers who will proceed to the Dominion and advise on the organization of a new Canadian navy in accordance with the plan agreed upon by the Imperial defence conference. The British government is awaiting ratification by the Canadian Parliament of the decision reached and the work will begin as soon as this is given.

The operating rooms, condenser room and all the rooms under that roof, were on Sunday completely destroyed by fire at the Marconi station Glace Bay. The blaze started in the sparking room, but its discovery was too late to do anything to stop the progress of the fire. The power house was not injured. The dwelling houses, too are all safe, and so are all the barns and other buildings—except the one that was injured.

Two lives were lost and two records broken during the inauguration of the Indianapolis, Indiana, motor speedway a few days ago. William Bourque of Springfield, driver of a Knox car in the 250 mile race and Harry Holcombe, his machinist, were killed. In the frenzied carnival of speed Barney Oldfield covered a mile in 43 seconds. Louis Chevrolet went 10 miles in the marvellous time of 3.55, 1 cutting Oldfield's time of 9.12. These are new records.

The spectacle of six aeroplanes simultaneously winging flights in huge circles over the grounds at Bothany near Rheims France was the remarkable feature of Sunday the opening day of the aviation week. At the finish flight there was a great burst of cheers over the wonderfully impressive exhibition of man's mastery of the air. It dispelled all doubt in the minds of the thousands present that a new era of locomotion confronts the world.

Cable advices have been received in Montreal that Admiral Berezford would sail for Canada on Friday last on the Virginian, reaching Montreal Friday 27th. The Admiral will spend Saturday in Montreal and will go to Niagara Falls for Sunday and on the following Monday will open the Toronto Exhibition. Arrangements are now under way for a special trip through the Canadian West for the famous British Admiral after his visit to Toronto.

The schooner, Lady Adele, formerly of the Magdalen Island; but which was wrecked at Souris last year and purchased a few days ago. On Wednesday last the schooner Lady Sybil was towing the schooner to Picou for repairs. She was leaking badly and when well on in the straits, the pumps clogged and the water gained rapidly. The men on the schooner were taken on board the steamer, and the schooner turned on her side and had to be cut adrift. She is reported ashore at Cape Bear.

August 8 Sporer, an 18-year-old boy of Niagara Falls, went to his death Monday afternoon of last week in the whirlpool rapids after a gallant battle with the giant waves between the lower bridges and the pool. With three companions, Sporer went for a swim in the river at the Old Mill of the Mill Landing. He struck out on one of the middle of the stream and then turned toward the bridges. His companions called to him to turn back for the current is very swift at that point, but he kept on down the stream and was caught in the great sweep, the first break from the smoother water to the rapids. The boy battled for a time against the current, but to no avail.

About seven o'clock last Friday evening the body of a young man, a seventeen-year-old boy, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis of Milton was found in the North River, near its source in the part known as Curtis Creek about half a mile from Milton Station, quite near the iron bridge. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon Louis Moore went down to the shore to cut bog grass found the boy's clothing but could see no sign of the boy. He immediately went and notified his father, who with a number of others began a search for the body. It was found about seven o'clock about seven chutes lower where the unfortunate lad had taken off his clothes to have a bath. It appears that as he could not swim he had ventured out over the edge of the channel where there is a very strong current and had been carried down with the swift running tide to his death. The body was found lying face down, the feet being embedded somewhat in the mud.

Business for This Month.

EXCELLENT VALUES IN SUMMER SUITS.

I am placing some excellent bargains in many departments this month—loose ends and overstocked lines.

Men's Summer Suits are now where attention is centered. They're selling while they last at one-third off, or just the same as if you paid me $10 for a suit and I would hand you back 33 1-3 cents for every dollar given me.

It should be worth saving—should it not?

The suits are splendid and were all the rage this season, being worn by the most particular. Materials are light and dark grey Tweeds, single and double breasted, two-piece. Price $8.25 to $14.50.

A FEW BOY'S SUITS---PRICE CUT.

They're some broken lines—some without a full range of sizes. They will not last long. Get your choice before they are gone. Our customers say there's a saving on every boy's suit sold here. You are the judge. But it's quality we are aiming at—a suit is worth nothing if it's not worth wearing. Our boy's suits are, we think, the best value for the money in this city. See for yourself.

Fancy Belts and Fancy Hosiery at one-third off for a short time.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula— as ugly as ever since time immemorial. It causes bumps in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Two of my children had scrofula sores which kept growing deeper and kept them from going to school for three months. Ointments and medicines did no good until I began giving them Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine caused the sores to heal, and the children have shown no sign of scrofula since. J. W. McIlwain, Woodstock, Ont.

Fort William Strike Has Collapsed

Fort William, Aug. 25.—The striking longshoremen will return to work in the morning. The difference between the men and the Co., are left in the hands of a conciliation board which has been applied for. Such was the decision arrived at this afternoon at a mass meeting attended by 5000 people mostly foreigners and presided over by Mayor Pelletier.

The Fleet

The charge made by Lord Charles Bessford that the organization and distribution of the fleet was not what it should be has been pronounced against by the Committee of Defence. This is satisfactory, though probably it will fail to convince all the critics.

Suffered More Than Tongue Can Tell From Liver Trouble.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver is a terrible affliction, as its influence permeates the whole system, causing Biliousness, Heartburn, Water Brash, Langour, Coated Tongue, Sick Headache, Yellow Eyes, Sallow Complexion, etc. It holds back the bile, which is required to move the bowels, and lets it get into the blood instead, thus causing Constipation.

The College of the Propaganda.

Anglicans have chosen to call themselves Catholic, and its Roman Catholic with a sinister stress on the adjective. Only throughout the British dominions, with an obscure futility "Missions" in Spain and Italy, is the Church of England found, and the claim of that Church to Catholicity is as valid as would be that of Imperial Rome whose paganism flourished throughout the Empire.

At the entrance of the Piazza di Spagna, the centre of the English district in Rome, is the Piazza Mignanello which recalls Turner, who painted many a picture as he sat at his window here. But the locality possesses a higher interest than ever the memory of Turner can suggest. For it is the entrance to the lecture halls of the Propaganda College. Entering by the Piazza di Spagna is the printing office of the Propaganda. On the right of the printing establishment you see a door surmounted by a cross and a globe with the legend "Bene ergo docete omnes gentes" (Go and teach ye all nations). You have wandered through the gilded aisles of St. Peter's and observed the confessionals ranged beneath its walls with their significant inscriptions "Pro Lingua Gallica, Pro Lingua Hispanica, Pro Lingua Germanica, Pro Lingua Anglica," and so on through all known tongues, but to find the realization of the Church's universality you must come to the Schools of Propaganda. At 8 o'clock on a sunny Roman morning you place yourself under the column of the Immaculate, opposite Piazza Mignanello. The column under which you stood was erected by Christian martyrs at the will of a pagan master. Was it revealed to the holy martyrs that the pile which they were erecting would in after ages proclaim the fact of Mary's sinlessness, and through her, Son's Divinity for Whom they wore their chains?

Presently there comes a band of five or six hundred church students of every race and land under the sun for their morning lecture in the schools hard by. From two sides of the Piazza di Spagna come two more bands of students, the one American with their swinging gate the other you notice as Orientals, Syrians. The Yankee you could not mistake for his very walk proclaims his nationality, springing forward with long strides and looking all around him with the confident self-assurance of the free-born son of Columbia. The contrast in the physiognomy of the American and the Oriental is not less marked, the one fair and clean shaven, the other dark and bearded, denizens of worlds distinct, everything from the restless West. From the placid East they come hither for one end—the priesthood of the One Religion. Other bands arrived and you saw before you a panorama of colour, but sustained by an infinite variety of red, yellow and blue, in every shade and hue. Here was another party of students in detachments of fifteen with red sashes and black stockings plentifully trimmed with pale blue, fastened with buttons of the same colour. Over the cassock they wore an overcoat—the soprano—with wide arm-holer, and a long streamer flying from each shoulder. That of the Americans was black, but as they strode along the wind lifted it revealing the pale blue lining underneath. Here also was a group of Bihemians in black and yellow, and passing close behind them some students from the Emerald Isle in red and black with long tassels hanging from the wide brimmed hats. A band of Poles followed, wearing green sashes. A band of Russians, tall and bearded, came next, flaunting their colours of sky blue and gold. Stalwart Scots in episcopal purple and sul and red, and brown and red, barefooted Franciscans, bailing also from the Green Isle followed. Close upon them came a band

Situation in Crete Grows More Acute.

London, August 14.—Unless Greece complies with the demand of Turkey and forces the people of Crete to haul down the Greek flag which they have hoisted there, the protecting powers of Great Britain, Russia, Italy and France will perform this act using force if necessary. This was the substance of a joint note signed by the four powers, and presented to the Turkish Government today. In order to carry out this policy and to be prepared to use force if necessary to oblige the Creteans to haul down the objectionable flag, each of the four protecting powers decided today to send an additional warship to Crete, the capital of the island of Crete, and at the same time expressed the hope to the Turkish government that in view of the steps they had taken that Turkey will not think it necessary to order her fleet to the Cretan waters. The joint note of the powers to Turkey today is the direct result of a communication from the Cretan government, declaring it was unable to enforce the hauling down of the Greek flag. This action of the powers followed sharply upon Turkey's note to Greece yesterday demanding a formal declaration respecting her intentions as to Crete, and thus creating a situation grave enough to move the powers to action. (Sailors from the ship, the protecting powers have since landed and lowered the flag in strict order.)

Crete

The armored cruiser Giulio Ferris has been ordered to coal in residence to

The Cretan Government has resigned and the administration of the island has been entrusted to provisional committees. These committees have had armed peasants expelled from the fortress which they occupied Saturday night, intending to resist the order of the powers that the Greek flag be lowered. The committee however has not had the flag hauled down.
