PROSPECTS OF THE APPLE MARKET

Likely to be Competition in North West Between Maritime Provinces and British Columbia.—Co-Operative Associations Will Rule Markets.—Prospects Generally Fair.

(Bulletin published by Fruit Division, Ottawa.)

It is yet too early to offer any forecast as to the actual price of apples, but not too early to note the conditions of the markets. The European markets, without exception, may be considered ready to receive the usual quantities exported from America. The industrial disputes have been settled, and there is no immediate appearance of any disturbance that would lessen consumption.

The prospects in the United States are not quite so reassuring. The crop for home consumption is certainly above the average and very evenly distributed, so that there will be no large demand from any particular section of the country. It must be taken into consideration that this is Presidential year with somewhat more than the usual tendency towards stagnation in business, which will undoubtedly lessen consumption, and it is quite possible that if prices should be offered in the European markets, there will be a large surplus available for export from the United States.

Our own Northwest is usually counted upon to take a large quantity of fruit, and conditions are such that, under the usual price, there will be strong competition, however, in selling. British Columbia will undoubtedly have a surplus for sale in the Northwest Territories. The Northwest Pacific Coast growers are well organized to invade the Canadian markets. Indeed, authentic reports show that they have perhaps taken special pains to organize for sales in the Canadian Northwest. Ontario will have a large surplus in the hands of those who habitually trade in the Northwest and who are not likely to desert that market this year. Though Nova Scotia will not have so large a crop as last year, there will still be a surplus of early fruit that will find its way to the Northwest. The success of Nova Scotia, early fruit in the Northwest last year was encouraging to the Nova Scotian growers, and it is not at all improbable that several hundred carloads of Nova Scotian fruit will be distributed in these markets this season.

There is this to be said, though, with reference to the marketing of the apple crop, that the largest shippers this year will be the co-operative associations. Consequently, the danger of over-loading the markets is greatly minimized. The prospects, therefore, in a general way, look favorable for a late year for fruit growers and, though the high prices obtained for small fruits will not compensate for the short crop, conditions are likely to be much better for all varieties of tree fruits.

Dominion Atlantic is Taken Over on a 999 Years' Lease

Now Nova Scotia Section of C. P. R. (Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, July 20.—The Dominion Atlantic system, extending from Yarmouth to Truro on the I.C.R. and from Windsor to Windsor Junction, with several lines of considerable importance, is now the property of the C.P.R. Company, and the improvements now being carried on all along the line are promoted by the company.

At headquarters yesterday it was ascertained that the 999 years' lease of the Dominion Atlantic to the C.P.R. has been signed and approved of by the Governor-General-in-Council, yet for reasons best known to the operating department, the Nova Scotia section is still being run by the management located at Kentville, which has always been the headquarters of the railway.

There are several large bridges on the line, and the C. P. R. has started to put all these structures in first-class condition, some being repaired, others are rebuilt. It is understood that one million dollars will be spent on the roadway, after which the transfer will take place and the name of the Dominion Atlantic will disappear, to give place to the Nova Scotia division of the Canadian Pacific.

PATENT FUEL FOR LOCOMOTIVES

The patent coal fuel, that we have already referred to in the News sold here by Mr. W. J. Kent, was lately given a fine test on the I.C.R. and with most satisfactory results.

The Ocean Limited with a train of eleven cars on a run from Moncton to Truro used but three tons of this patent fuel whereas some seven or eight tons of ordinary coal would be required.

In addition to this great saving in quantity of coal consumed the tubes were much cleaner than when the ordinary coal was used and the work was more than fifty per cent. lighter for the firemen.

The cost if we are correct in the quantity used on this trip, is also considerably in favor of this new clean patent fuel.—Truro News.

OBITUARY

JAMES ALBURN NEILY

The citizens of Bridgetown were startled and saddened to learn on Sunday morning last of the sudden passing away of James Alburn Neily. Although he had been in ill health since an attack of la grippe last winter, it was not generally known that his health had steadily declined since that time, nor that the inroads of disease were gradually sapping his naturally fine constitution, and as he occasionally made his appearance on our streets only his closest friends realized that the dread messenger was hovering near.

About two weeks ago he suffered a severe and alarming attack of laryngitis, the acute feature of which was subdued by his attending physician, and it was hoped that his fine constitution might rally from the attack, but he gradually grew weaker until the end came on Sunday morning.

Mr. Neily was a son of the late Samuel Neily, well-known in the business element of Bridgetown some forty years ago. Early in life Alburn went to the North West, and settled at Regina, then in its infancy, and threw in his fortunes with the development of that city. With the marvellous development of this city of the west his business interests developed and he acquired considerable property.

About fifteen years ago he came back to his native town and married Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ruffe, returning with his bride to Regina, where they continued to live until last autumn, when Mr. Neily arranged his business affairs so as to take a year of freedom and enjoy another visit to his old home and to spend the winter in the South. Mr. Neily, however, presented his carrying out his plans of travel, and he has remained here at the home of Mrs. Neily's parents up to the present time.

Besides his widow he is survived by two brothers, E. D. Neily of this town, and Owen, residing in Toronto. He was exceptionally considerate and devoted to his family relations, and deep sympathy is felt for the bereaved wife and other relatives. He was also highly esteemed and respected, not only in his native town but in his adopted city of Regina, for many fine qualities of Christian manhood and good citizenship. Messages from friends in Regina, since the announcement of his death, evince a depth of wide-spread sympathy and regret.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the Baptist church. (See local notice.)

MRS. RUPERT TANCH

There passed away at her home in Granville Centre, July 14th, Eunice Eliza, wife of Robert Tanch. Mrs. Tanch was a daughter of the late Joseph and Hannah Troop, and was born in this place in 1852. In early life she obtained a license to teach and for several years taught in the public schools in the county.

In 1877 she married and settled at Victoria Beach. Later she removed to her home neighborhood, where she has since resided. For fifteen years Mrs. Tanch has been a invalid, having never taken a step in that time and for the most part been confined to her bed at times suffering intensely. During all these years she has been patient and submissive, never questioning the ways of the Lord concerning her affliction, but willing to wait until all mysteries shall be explained. To her family she has been invaluable in her usefulness. She never spent an idle moment, and when pain compelled her to lay by her work. A devoted husband and six loving children mourn their loss, but the consciousness of duty well done, and that she awaits them on a happier shore, is a balm to the wounded hearts of the bereaved.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. W. Neish and Rev. F. P. Groatorex. By her request, Mr. Groatorex, who had performed the marriage ceremony, spoke from the words, "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord." The remains were laid to rest beside her parents in Wadville cemetery.

One of the sons is J. W. Tanch, of the graduating class of Acadia, 1912. —COM.

Moral Reform Work

Bridgetown will be visited by two prominent Christian workers next week, who will conduct a series of meetings in the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches. Rev. J. W. Aikens of Toronto and Mr. W. L. Clarke, of the same city, are the men mentioned. Mr. Aikens is one of the most conspicuous men in the Canadian Methodist church. After ordination he went to Port Matland, where at once his ministerial career gave splendid promise. His following fields of labor were Hantsport, Truro, Brunswick St. church, Halifax, and Amherst. From Amherst he was called to the important position of secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform Society of the Canadian Methodist church, and for about three years he has been travelling in the interests of his department in every province of the Dominion. Recently Mr. Aikens has been called to the pastorate of the Metropolitan church, Toronto, the leading Methodist church in Canada, will enter upon his duties in that church in June, 1913.

Mr. W. L. Clarke, who is associated with Mr. Aikens in the work of special meetings in Bridgetown, is one of Canada's most successful business men, and is also a pronounced success in work amongst men and boys. Below we give an outline of the meetings, the details of which will be announced in the churches next Sunday.

11 a. m. Presbyterian church—Rev. J. W. Aikens.
11 a. m. Baptist church—Mr. W. L. Clarke.

There will be no service at 11 o'clock in the Methodist church.
Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a meeting for men in the Court House to be addressed by Mr. Clarke.

Sunday evening, at 7.30 o'clock a grand mass meeting will be held in the Methodist church, addressed by Mr. Aikens.

Each evening during the week a public meeting will be held in the Methodist church, conducted by Messrs. Aikens and Clarke. Mr. Clarke will conduct a meeting each afternoon at three o'clock for young men and boys, and also, one or more meetings will be arranged for mothers. The particulars of these meetings will be announced next Sunday.

The choirs of the churches are requested to assist in the music, and the towns' people generally are invited to lay aside all engagements possible, and enter heartily into the work of the week.

PERU RUBBER SCANDAL

Report of Sir Roger Casement, Treated Secretally by the Newspapers—Likely up in the House.

London, July 15.—The report of Sir Roger Casement on the outrages in the Putumayo rubber district of Peru is beginning to be taken up by the home papers, here as a sensational matter. The fact that the population of the district was reduced from 50,000 in 1906 to 8,000 in 1911 attests the horrible savagery with which the wretched people of the place were treated. There was slaughter by famines, which was often purposely brought about by the destruction of the crops, over whole districts.

Starvation was also inflicted as a sort of death penalty on individuals for their failure to bring in their quota of rubber. Death by a bullet was also supplemented, by flogging and other tortures. The case is also cited in an antiquarian named Augustus Walcott, who remarked, when a father and son were beaten with swords and hung up by the neck till they died. The antiquarian, because of his remoteness, was also hung up and beaten with a machete till he became unconscious.

The matter is likely to be taken up in the house of commons immediately and drastic steps to coerce Peru for a reform of the abuses are expected to be forthcoming. The situation is regarded as being comparable to the Congo in which Great Britain, though she was not responsible, led in the demand for cessation of the outrages. In Peru Great Britain and British subjects are directly involved and the facts cry out for speedy remedy.

HYMENEAL

PICKLES—SPARKES

The home of Mrs. Florence Sparkes, Campbellton, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday evening, June 25th, at six o'clock when her daughter, Primula Maude, was united in marriage to Mr. Wesley Smith Pickles, of Campbellton, son of the late Rev. F. H. W. Pickles of the New Brunswick and P. E. Island Conference. The house was prettily decorated with potted plants.

The ceremony was performed on the lawn by Rev. H. W. Cann in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was unattended and was gowned in a tailored costume of dark blue serge and large white hat with black willow plumes. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas. After a beautiful wedding supper the bride and groom were taken on an automobile trip around town by Mr. Murray Fawcett and later left on the Maritime Express for a wedding tour to New Brunswick towns after which they will reside at Campbellton. Among the many valuable gifts received was a substantial cheque from the bride's mother and brother, G. Arthur Sparkes, of McDonald and Sparkes' tailoring establishment. The bride was a popular professional nurse in Brookline, Mass., for some time and received many expressions of esteem from friends there. Many former associates met the bridal party at the I. C. R. station and showered them with congratulations and numberless good wishes.

Ed. Mr. Pickles is a Lawrencetown boy, and has been contracting in painting for two years in Campbellton, N. B.

FRANKS—DANIELS

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Daniels, at Belmont, N.H., on Thursday, July 4th, when their daughter, Blanche Bertrand, was united in marriage to Henry Clifford Franks of Lexington, the ceremony being performed at twelve o'clock, noon, by the Rev. William T. Boyd, in the presence of immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The attendants were all young relatives of the bride. Miss Beth Holmes, of Swainscott, Mass., acting as bridesmaid, and Warren Daniels as best man, while two little nieces, Eleanor and Constance, were flower girls. The bride was lovely in a dainty white dress of silk chiffon, carrying bride roses, while Miss Holmes was dressed in pink, with bouquet of pink roses, and the flower girls were in white, with yellow and white roses.

The corner of the room where the bridal party stood had been transformed into a bower of beauty with hemlock and spruce boughs, just enough buttercups being scattered here and there to add a touch of color; buttercups, daisies and ferns being judiciously used about the remainder of the room. Red, white and blue was the color scheme used in the dining room, where, after an informal reception, the company sat down to partake of the good things provided.

The young couple returned the same day to Lexington, where a reception will be given early in the fall to Lexington and other Massachusetts friends.

Annapolis Co-operative Port of Shipment

S. B. Chute, manager of the Central Co-operative Association informs the Outlook that the first shipment of apples will probably be made by the association about Sept. 10th. Shipments will probably begin from Annapolis about Oct. 1st, and at least five steamers will be loaded at that port during the season. Mr. Chute estimates the yield this year at about one-half that of last season or at a million barrels. His own orchard now includes 250 acres, and the crop prospects are splendid.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF SCIENCE

Teachers Combine the Delights of a Summer Outing at Yarmouth with the Acquisition of Useful Knowledge to Aid Them in Training Youth of Provinces by the Sea.

(The Monitor-Sentinel)

From all over the Atlantic provinces teachers have gathered at Yarmouth to attend the 26th session of the Summer School of Science. One of the local papers said that Yarmouth had "a peaceful invasion."

On Wednesday, the indefatigable Local Secretary was in Digby to meet as many teachers as possible, and begin the welcoming en route to Yarmouth.

Upon arrival, the cool, salt-laden breeze was a most agreeable experience to those who have been dwelling inland. The famously picturesque green lawns and beautifully kept hedges, the flower-bordered walks and decorative climbing roses, were applauded with well-merited admiration.

The opening meeting in the evening at the Opera House was attended by a most enthusiastic audience, and "standing room only" was cheerfully greeted by many tardy scholars.

The Mayor, the Chairman of the School Board, and the Supervisor of Schools, gave the greeting from the town and schools.

Mr. B. B. Law, M.P., remarked upon the good personality of the teachers. He also emphatically announced that the coming of the Summer School of Science was one of the greatest privileges that the town has had for many years, and assured them that Yarmouth would do all in its power to give them a good time.

Some of the clergy extended a hearty welcome, impressively causing the teachers to feel the exalted position they hold. They portrayed the work in which the teachers were engaged by assuring them in beautiful words that the science taught by them is in part the same science they preach.

A very pleasing feature, and one that gave warmth to the greeting, was the presence of ladies upon the platform. Words of welcome from the Kritisophian Society were presented by Mrs. Hill, who spoke of the delightful friendships made by the bond of intellectual improvement. She also read a postcard welcome from an older member of the Society.

Mrs. H. A. Nickerson sang most sweetly two solos and a duet with one of our popular singers, Mr. S. O. Hood, Jr.

The Press and the Board of Trade added to the words already said. President Starratt replied to the address, vouching for the sincerity of the towns-people, as he had lived eleven years as teacher in Yarmouth, and knew their kindness of heart. He referred to the great Cameron, who was a member of the Summer School of Science in its infancy, to the fact that Yarmouth had the first large attendance, and gave the first grant to the School.

Several of the classes are exceedingly large, so much so that the Botany and Agriculture could only be accommodated in the Curling Rink, and have to be divided into three groups, for field and laboratory work. Literature, another very large class, is held in the vestry of Zion church. Some classes are held in the Academy, some in the Central School across the street. The four buildings are not far apart, so that students get a breath of fresh air going from study to study.

At the Curling Rink, on Thursday evening, the Mayor held an informal reception where the citizens and visitors became better acquainted.

At the Curling Rink on Friday evening, Mr. C. L. Cleaves of New York, gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on Bird Photography, exhibiting pictures of the birds taken by himself.

On Sunday, July 14th, special services for the Summer School were held in two of the Yarmouth churches at 11 a. m. in Providence Methodist church, and at 7 p. m. in Zion Baptist.

Last evening, Tuesday, July 16th, Dr. G. W. Hay of St. John gave a lecture on his trip to the country of Lorain Doonee.

The very large audience listened with marked attention to this truly beautiful account of a three weeks' stay in the Doonee Country.

We are told that the next treat in store is an excursion around the harbor and over to Markland and to the Island of Puffin, given by the people of Yarmouth, so that they may have a chance to enjoy a trip by boat to some of the most beautiful and interesting spots in the neighborhood of their town. It also affords an opportunity to observe one of the oldest geological formations in the province and to study the plant and bird life which abound.

The list of those attending the summer school of science is not yet complete, every day adding to the number enrolled.

THE FARM

THE CARE OF CREAM FOR BUTTER MAKING.

(By Geo. H. Barr, Chief of Dairy Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.)

The manufacture of butter in creameries or what is known as the gathered cream plan is becoming more and more general throughout Canada. The advantage of having fresh warm skim milk for feeding purposes, the desire to avoid the risk of getting disease in their herds from the mixed skim-milk from a larger number of farms, together with a lower cost of hauling and, in most cases, a lower cost for manufacturing the butter, makes the system popular with many milk producers.

On the other hand, the fact must be recognized that in most cases a change from the system of separating milk at the creamery to that of gathering the cream, has resulted in an inferior quality of butter being made, for the reason that the quality of the cream separated at the farms when delivered at the creameries, is not as fine as that from milk separated at the creamery.

Cream which is separated on the farm can be delivered to the creamery in as good condition as that which is separated at the creamery. It is simply a question of the patron who skims his milk at home taking proper care of the cream and having it delivered to the creamery often enough.

It is admitted by all creamery authorities that finer butter can be made from cream which is sweet when delivered at the creamery, than from cream which is sour and curdled. It is also well known that any taint that may be in the milk or cream will be to some extent carried into the butter. Therefore, the producer will see at once the responsibility resting upon him in securing a fine flavored butter at the creamery.

In the production of fine flavored cream, the same precautions must be observed as those which are necessary in furnishing milk to separator creameries or to cheese factories. The following are some of the essential points:

FEEDS THAT WILL INJURE THE FLAVOUR OF BUTTER AND WHICH SHOULD NOT BE FED TO MILCH COWS.

1. Turnips and turnip tops.
2. Rape or rye.
3. Decayed ensilage.
4. Leeks, onions or apples in large quantities.

OTHER CAUSES OF TAINTS IN CREAM.

1. Cow's udders and teats in an unclean condition at milking time.
2. Milking in unclean stables.
3. Using unclean, wooden, galvanized or rusty milking pails.
4. Separating the milk in the stable.
5. Improperly cleaned separators.
6. Keeping the cream in cellars or

7. Keeping the cream for several days at a temperature over fifty-five degrees.
8. Cows drinking water from stagnant ponds, or the leakage from barnyards.

CONDITIONS THAT ARE NECESSARY TO PRODUCE FINE-FLAVOURED CREAM.

Pure Water.—The cows should have at all times an abundant supply of pure water to drink. When cows are compelled to drink the water of swamps, muddy ponds or sluggish streams and ditches, in which there is decaying animal matter, including their own droppings, there is a constant menace to their health and unless the cows are in good health, they cannot give first-class milk. Moreover the mud, often full of foul germs, which collects on the legs, flanks and udders of the cows and falls into the milk at the time of milking, is a direct source of infection.

Salt.—When cows have free access to salt at all times, they will keep in better health, will give more milk and the cream from this milk will have a better flavour, and keep sweet longer, than when they do not get any at all, or receive it only at intervals.

Milking.—Cleanliness in the stable is desirable at all times, but especially at milking time should the stables be clean and free from dust. The udders, teats and flanks of the cow should be brushed before milking. Only bright, clean tin pails should be used to milk in. Galvanized pails are difficult to keep clean, and bad flavours have been traced to their use.

THE HAND POWER SEPARATOR.
 The hand-power cream separator is the most reliable and best method of skimming milk at the farm, and the only method that can be recommended. Nearly all the separators on the market will do efficient skimming if properly handled.

Handling and Care of the Separator.—It is important that the separator run smoothly. Any trembling or shaking of the separator while skimming will cause a loss of butter fat in the skim milk. Only special separator oil should be used, and it is well to make a run about once in three weeks, using kerosene oil on all the bearings.

In skimming, three things must be observed: (1) The speed of the separator must be maintained according to the directions sent with it. The only reliable way to do this, is to count the number of revolutions of the crank by the watch. A low speed means loss of fat in the skim-milk. (2) The flow of the milk into the separator should be uniform. (3) The temperature of the milk should not be under ninety degrees, and for that reason, the best time to separate the milk is immediately after milking. A low temperature is also liable to cause loss of fat in the skim-milk. The faster the milk passes through the separator the less complete is the separation, and a thinner cream is given. One of the questions often asked by patrons is: "Why does my test vary so?" When one knows that the speed of the machine, the flow of the milk, and the temperature of the milk all affect the test of the cream, it is not difficult to understand why it may vary considerably. A variation in the test does not necessarily mean any loss to the patron. Every separator has some device for changing the test of cream. In most cases the adjustment is at the cream outlet. If so, by turning the cream screw in, the cream will be richer, and by turning it out, the cream will be thinner.

All the parts of the separator which come in contact with the milk or cream should be washed in luke warm water, to which has been added a small quantity of sal soda or other cleansing powder, and then thoroughly scalded with boiling water each time the separator is used.
Location of Separator.—In some cases the separators are placed in the cow stables. This may be a convenient arrangement, but it is not by any means a proper place for separating milk, unless a special room, well ventilated and lighted, is partitioned off to exclude the stable odours and dust. This room should have a smooth cement floor, which can be easily cleaned.

Advantages of a Rich Cream.—It is doubtful if there is any one thing which injures the quality of gathered cream butter so much as thin cream. Thin cream is responsible to a large extent for the old sour cream flavour so frequently found on gathered cream butter.

Many patrons have the idea that a large amount of cream should give a correspondingly large amount of money, forgetting that they are paid only for the butter fat in the cream, or the butter made from the fat.
 If all the cream sent to cream gathering creameries tested thirty per cent. fat, it would mean thousands of dollars of extra money in the pockets of the patrons from more and better stock, and the quality of the butter would be very much improved.

Vessels for Holding Cream.—Many patrons keep the cream in earthen crocks, or in open pails. Crocks are liable to get broken or chipped, and experiments conducted at the O.A.C. Dairy School, Guelph, show that earthen crocks if chipped in any way, cause an undesirable flavour in the butter. Cream kept in open pails is exposed to the air too much and for that reason is apt to become tainted. A well soldered plain bottomed tin can about eight inches in diameter and twenty inches deep is the best vessel in which to keep cream. This style of can is easy to keep clean and handy to put into a tank of water and ice. When two lots are mixed, the cream should be well stirred.

WHERE TO KEEP THE CREAM.

Keeping Cream in Cellars.—A great deal more than half of the cream sent to the creameries is kept in cellars. Our own experiments proved that we could not keep cream sweet for thirty-six hours, or for delivery every other day, in cellars which were as cool as the ordinary run of farm house cellars; also that the cream when left uncovered developed a strong cellar flavour and the butter had a tendency to become rancid.

Keeping Cream in Water and Ice.—We have found that the easiest and best way to keep cream sweet and clean in flavour is to put it in a shotgun can and place it in a tank of water and ice immediately after skimming. We can recommend an insulated tank. This tank is made with a space of four inches filled with planing mill shavings on all sides and on the bottom, the cover also being insulated in the same manner. It is lined inside with galvanized iron. Such a tank is a little expensive, but it is certainly a great saver of ice. An ordinary wooden tank is next best. All tanks should have covers, as they help to keep down the temperature of the water and cream.
 Table IV shows the advantage of keeping the cream in an insulated tank with water and ice, compared with the best results we could get by keeping it in the cellars. The cream was divided into two lots immediately after skimming, one lot set in the cellar and the other set in water and ice.

creamerymen and patrons should remember that a reputation for fine goods will ensure the highest current price and often a premium in addition. This enviable position can only be reached by every one doing his or her best and by having the closest co-operation and harmony in all the work relating to the creamery and the farm.

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT NOTES.

1. It pays to make cows comfortable at all times.
2. It pays to treat cows with invulnerable kindness. They should never be driven fast or worried by dogs.
3. Pure water should be provided for the cows, and they should be prohibited from drinking stagnant, impure water.
4. A box or trough containing salt, to which the cows have free access, should always be provided.
5. Care must be taken to avoid feeds that will taint the milk.
6. The udders and flanks of the cows should always be washed or brushed clean before milking is commenced.

It will be observed that when the cream was cooled to 55 degrees soon after skimming, it kept perfectly sweet for thirty-six hours, or for delivery to the creamery every other day. This temperature can be secured at most farms with the ordinary well water if an insulated tank is used. If this temperature cannot be secured with water alone, ice should be used.
 To keep cream sweet for eighty-four hours, or for delivery twice a week, it must be kept down to forty-eight degrees. To do this, ice must be used. The lot kept eighty-four hours at fifty-four degrees was cooled in an insulated tank with water from the well at forty-eight degrees and changed night and morning. It was quite sour when delivered at the creamery.
 We were able to keep cream perfectly sweet for eighty-four hours, but it did not have the clean pleasant flavour which is found on cream kept for shorter periods.
 Keeping the cream for longer than two days at the farms has no doubt much to do with the old cream flavour so common in gathered cream butter, and we can scarcely expect to have this defect remedied so long as cream is gathered less than three times each week.

 These results show that the cellar had three times as much acid as that cooled in water and ice.
Keeping Cream in a Refrigerator.—Some people have recommended cooling the cream by placing it in a refrigerator immediately after skimming.
 The following table shows the results of dividing cream equally into two lots, cooling one lot in ice and water and the other in a first-class refrigerator.

TABLE VII.

Cream kept in	Average temperature.	Average acidity.	Ice used
Refrigerator	53.9 deg.	.415 p.c.	221 Lbs.
Ice and water	54.8 "	.330 p.c.	178 "

There were 43 lbs. more ice used in refrigerator than in the water. The average temperature of the cream kept in the refrigerator was nearly one degree lower, yet the acidity was almost twice as high. This is no doubt due to the fact that ice and water will cool the cream much faster than cold air.
 The covers were kept on the cream cans in both cases and there was practically no difference in the flavour of the cream at any time.
 Both lots of butter scored 42.5 points for flavour when fresh. When three weeks old, the butter from the water and ice cooled cream scored 40.77 points and the other 39.88 points.
 Table VI shows the effect that different temperatures have on the acidity of cream kept for different periods.

7. Milk from a freshly calved cow should not be skimmed until after the eighth milking.
 8. Only cream from cows in good health should be sent to the creamery.
 9. Tin pails only should be used.
 10. Cream delivered every other day should be cooled as quickly as possible to 55 degrees and kept at that temperature or lower. If kept longer it should be cooled to under 50 degrees.
 11. Warm cream should never be mixed with cream already cooled.
 12. Every patron sending cream to a creamery should provide ice for cooling it.
 13. All vessels, including separator bowl, used in the handling of milk or cream, should be thoroughly cleaned immediately after they are used, by washing in luke warm water and then thoroughly scalded with boiling water. A brush is preferable to a cloth for washing tinware or separators.
 For Creamery Owner:
 1. Pasteurizing the cream will give a better keeping quality of butter.
 2. The use of a pure culture or starter in gathered cream will improve the keeping quality of the butter.

"BRINY DEEP" SERGE FOR MEN; BLACKS AND BLUES. DYE GUARANTEED. ASK TO SEE THE STAMP—"BRINY DEEP SERGE" ON EVERY THREE YARDS.

A root cellar like this won a prize last year.

THE drawing was made from a photograph of the root-cellar with which D. A. Purdy, of Lumsden, Sask., won a cash prize in last year's contest. In that contest there were 36 prizes. There will be three times as many prizes (108) in the 1912 FARMERS' PRIZE CONTEST

THIS year you will have three times as many chances of winning a cash prize. You do not have to use any certain amount of Canada Cement to win a prize. There are absolutely no "strings" to this offer.

There are twelve prizes for each Province (three of $50; three of $25; three of $15); and three of $10 and you compete only with other farmers in your own Province and not with those all over Canada.

It makes no difference whether you have ever used cement. Many of last year's winners had not used it until they entered the contest. When you write for full particulars, we will send you, free, a book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," which tells everything you need to know about concrete. It is absolutely free, and you are under no obligation to buy "Canada" Cement or to do anything else for us.

WRITE your name and address on the coupon, and mail to our nearest post card, and we will send you at once the book and full particulars of the 1912 Prize Contest.

Oversight of Engineer Causes Total Wreck

Chicago, July 14--Thirteen persons were killed and fifteen to twenty were injured in a wreck on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway at Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago at 6.30 a.m. today.

Railroad officials refused to fix the blame until after the wreck had been investigated thoroughly. Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, who was in charge of the tower from which the block signals were controlled, said she was certain the block was thrown against both trains.

ADMITTS HE MAY HAVE PASSED SIGNALS.

CORNING, N. Y., July 16--William Schroeder, engineer of the Lackawanna Express, which crashed into the rear of the passenger train here, on July 4th, costing the lives of forty persons, admitted at the Coroner's inquest that he had probably passed a block signal set at "caution," and warning fuse placed beside the track by the flagman.

This is an age of new discoveries. To grow hair after it has fallen out today is a reality.

TRUTHFUL AT LEAST.

A man was found by a policeman, one evening, investigating a building somewhat closely. "What are you doing?" asked the policeman. "Nothing," replied the man. "I am thinking of opening a jewelry store here, and so I thought I would look it over and see how it was allowed to remain."

FEMINE DECEPTION.

"I'm goin' to swear off on pinchin' women's purses," said Gimlet Pete, disgustedly. "What's the matter?" asked Corkscrew Hank. "Aw, I follows a nice, plump pocketbook for a mile. It was bulgin' out. An' when I cops it, what do I get? A handkerchief, a pair of old stockings an' a secondhand wad of chewing gum."

THE CRITIC.

Two men were hotly discussing the merits of a book. Finally one of them, himself an author, said to the other: "No, John, you can't appreciate it if you never wrote a book yourself."

THE ORPHANS.

A clergyman was once asked to a farm-house for dinner. Some time during the evening he overheard one of the children of the house talking to a brood of chickens crying outside the door, and saying, "Poor wee things; poor wee things. The minister eat your mother."

CRUELTY TO A POET.

Poet--"I called to see if you had an opening for me." Editor--"Yes, there's one right behind you. Shut it when you go out, please."

"Were you much upset by the bank failure?" "Yes, I lost my balance."

CITY HAS ABOUT RECOVERED FROM RECENT CYCLONE.

Regina, July 5--This city has all but recovered from Sunday's cyclone. Hundreds of men are engaged in tearing down and clearing away the debris and temporary stores are being erected. Of the 450 houses destroyed very few will be worth repairing.

Oldest Man in Nova Scotia

Thomas Parker, probably the oldest man living in Nova Scotia today, was born at Sheet Harbor, May 13th 1806. He is the son of the late Phineas Parker and Catherine Fraser, who came from the north of Scotland.

In politics he is a strong conservative and still enjoys "talking politics" and hearing the political news read. He voted at the last general election, going five miles to Ship Harbor to cast his ballot.

He is a member of the Presbyterian church and until last winter his place was seldom vacant. He has not been so active all winter as usual, but until March he was able to go to his son's house a short distance away, or walk to the store when he wished to purchase a fig of tobacco.

He followed the sea the greater part of his life. He used to own and sail small schooners. Twice he was cast away and lost his schooner once at Miquelon and once at Cape John, where he and his young son had a narrow escape from a watery grave.

He was married to Letitia Mitchell Jeddore. They have ten children living and two dead, and as near as the writer can ascertain, they have living sixty-three grandchildren and fifty-six great grandchildren. His sons are Thomas and James, of Owls Head, and William on the S.S. Minia.

THE FRUIT COMPANIES MERGE.

The United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia, Limited, a body corporate under the act passed at the recent session of the Legislature, was organized at Kentville on Monday. Twenty-four of the Co-operative Fruit Shipping Companies joined to form the merger.

DEATH OF "ALF" ELLIS.

One of the best-known Commercial Travellers in the Province. The death took place Friday, at St. John, of Mr. Alfred H. Ellis, in the 62nd year of his age. He was the son of the late Mr. Wm. H. Ellis, and was born in St. John's, Nfld., on the 19th December, 1856.

KILLED AT TRURO.

Mr. Charles Wynn, a former resident of Berwick, met his death at Truro Thursday 4th inst. Mr. Wynn was engaged in hauling coal. Coming suddenly in view of an automobile, which was standing upon the street, the horse started to run, and before Mr. Wynn could control him, horse, cart and driver were overturned together, the cart falling upon the driver.

KING ALPHONSO'S BRAVE DEED.

Pamplona, Spain, July 11--King Alfonso this afternoon prevented what might have been a fatal accident. As he was leaving the Cathedral after a ceremony, a general's horse bolted, throwing the rider and dragging him along the ground. While the spectators hesitated as to what to do, the King with great presence of mind sprang from his carriage, caught the horse and extricated the fallen general.

—Elsewhere will be found the announcement of a series of meetings to be conducted by prominent workers under the Moral Reform League, from Toronto. These gentlemen are admirably qualified for their work, having had great success in the cities they have visited, according to the press notices, and Bridgetown is fortunate to be favored by a visit from them. No doubt the meetings will be largely attended.

Every effort on behalf of the character building of the youth of our land should receive generous and hearty support and recognition.

We are too little inclined to concern ourselves about the character and moral environment of our boys and young men. We let them drift along with the tide of immorality and youthful ignorance until some glaring instance of criminality occurs, and then we are horrified, and lament the depravity of youth in general. No opportunity should be lost to give the boys a fair start in life, or to extend a helping hand to draw them back from the maelstrom of iniquity which envelops so many of them, simply through the indifference of the men and women who form the community in which they live.

—The Monitor publishes in this issue a communication from a public-spirited citizen regarding a suggestion made in last issue concerning the pig-stye and barn-yard nuisance, who quotes from the by-laws of the town as a needed hint to the health authorities. The regulations in some of our provincial towns prohibit keeping pigs within the precincts of the town from May to November.
This would be a desirable amendment to our by-laws.

Port Lorne, July 22.—The Rev. E.
Hanley, D. D., president of Franklin
College, preached in the Port Lorne Baptist church last Sunday, taking as his text Revelation 1: 9. The sermon was indeed a treat and the congregation, which filled every seat in the church, showed by their keen interest and attention the appreciation of this talented discourse. Men like Dr. Hanley seldom visit us but when they do it gives both residents and tourists an idea of some of the men who stand for the building and training of the character and mind of our young men. We can truly thank
Dr. Hanley for the kind expressions of his appreciation of Canadian good feeling toward American tourists.

Mr. Henry Brown, who has been seriously ill for the past three months passed peacefully away on Sunday afternoon. The bedside was surrounded by friends and his devoted wife, who has tenderly nursed him all through his illness.

Mr. John Templeman, Mr. John
Titus, daughter and some friends from Hampton, drove to Port Lorne on Sunday to attend service and listen to discourse of Dr. Hanley.

NEIGHBOR MINE.

Do not drop the fruit you're eating,
Neighbor mine,
On the sidewalks, sewer or grating,
Neighbor mine,
But lest you and I should quarrel
Listen to my little carol,
Go and toss it in the barrel.

Look! When'er you drop a paper,
Neighbor mine,
In the wind it cuts a caper,
Neighbor mine,
Down the street it madly courses,
And should fill you with remorse,
When you see it scare the horses,
Neighbor mine,

Paper cans were made for papers,
Neighbor mine,
Let's not have this escape us,

And if you will lend a hand,
Soon your city dear will stand
As the cleanest in the land

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

A heavy north-east rain storm has prevailed the last forty-eight hours.

The Amherst News has been bought by the Conservative party represented by Percy Black.

Mr. A. W. Cummings has in his fox-farm at Glenholm, (formerly Folly Village), Colchester County, thirty red foxes.

Chief Justice John H. James, of Texas, is dead, at the age of fifty-nine years. He was a nephew of Miss Angie James of Bridgetown.

A swarm of brown tailed moths and millers reached Yarmouth lately. The water all along the coast is covered with the latter and they are a great nuisance.

Coun. John Donaldson of Church Street, is president of the new Central Co-operative Fruit Shipping Co.; M. B. Davis, Bridgetown, is secretary; and S. B. Crote, Berwick, general manager.

The Camp for Nova Scotia will assemble at Aldershot on the 10th, of September for twelve days training. The following units will be in attendance: 14th, K. C. H.; 69th; 75th; 76th; 78th and 94th; Infantry Regiments.

It is thought that the railway accident at Grand Lake was caused, not by any trouble with the rails, but by a defect in the engine. The same engine narrowly escaped an accident on the preceding trip by running off the track.

The following teachers of Annapolis County have received special prizes for proficiency in physical drill: Thomas H. Spinney, Torbrook, $7.50; Ella F. Lenney, Faldland Ridge, $6.00; Elbert J. Whitman, New Albany, $6.00; Elizabeth McWhinnie, Port Wade, $5.28.

Rev. E.E. England was taken seriously ill on his way to conference at Amherst lately and had to be taken home to Port Greenville. He has closed his active ministry in connection with the Methodist church on that circuit. An exchange says he is moving to Wolfville.

Mr. C. H. Easson, a Bridgetown boy, who has been making rapid advancement in banking circles, and has been recently manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Winnipeg, has received the appointment of general manager of the Bank of New Brunswick, and will live in St. John.

Rev. A.H.C. Morse, D.D. of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been called to First Church, Denver, Colorado, without a single dissenting voice, and by the largest vote cast for a pastor in the history of the church. Dr. Morse has accepted the call. He is a brother A. T. and J.E. Morse, West Paradise.

Messrs. J. H. Hicks & Sons, Bridgetown's progressive building contractors and manufacturers, have the contract for the construction of a new apple warehouse, 150 feet long to be erected at New Minas for the New Minas Fruit Co., of which Mr. Ernest Johnson of Greenwich is president.

The open-air Band concerts held one or two evenings a week are much enjoyed and complimentary remarks are being made about the progress and proficiency of the Band. They are asking for a band stand. Do not the citizens think the value of a good Band to the town worthy of recognition?

Mr. Tom Clarke, son of Harry Clarke of Lakeville, while taking his friends on a trip in his auto recently had a narrow escape from serious injury. The car became unmanageable, turned over into a ditch, the occupants being underneath. Help arrived quick and they were extricated without injurious results.

Among the Halifax people who are at the "Colonial Arms," at Deep Brook, which has become one of the most popular summer resorts on the Atlantic coast, are Hon. O. T. and Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. F. W. W. Doane, Mrs. J. W. Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Binns, Miss Hattie Jamieson, Mrs. David MacPherson, Miss MacPherson and Mrs. A. F. MacDonald.

The last report issued from Ottawa, dealing with the conditions of the growing fruit throughout this country gives a generally satisfactory outlook. The apple crop promises to be a record one, with Eastern Ontario and Quebec provinces faring excellently. Both Nova Scotia and British Columbia promise well. The tent moth has done some damage, but its ravages have been more confined by the increasing use of the sprayer.

Mrs. G. L. Pearson, of Paradise, gave a very pretty reception in honor of Lottie L. Tillotson, the gifted Hawaiian entertainer, who was a guest of hers during a short sojourn. Among the many present were represented many quarters of the continent, namely: Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Bermuda. A very dainty collation was served and Mrs. Pearson proved to be a very charming hostess. Miss Tillotson spoke of the great courtesies that she had received during her tour of Canada and says that she is very much in love with picturesque Nova Scotia. Miss Tillotson lectured during the past week at Bridgetown, Lawrenceton, Tupperville and Round Hill.

PERSONAL

J. H. Tupper has purchased the milk route of H. G. Ruffee.

Mr. Gordon Goldsmith has moved with his family to Lequille.

Mr. Ira K. Jackson has moved his family from Annapolis to Bridgetown.

Mrs. Eugene Saunders has returned from a visit of several weeks in Rosindale, Mass.

Mrs. C. B. Whitman of West Paradise, is spending her vacation in Chatham, New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. James, of Bermuda are making their annual summer sojourn at Paradise.

Mrs. Bower, of Sydney, and Mrs. Fitzgerald of Newfoundland, are guests of Mrs. John Bishop.

Harry G. Parker of Belleisle, has been gazetted a Justice of the Peace in and for the County of Annapolis.

Misses Winnifred and Louise Foster of Fort Lorne, are guests of their brother, Charles W. Foster, Smiths Cove.

The Misses Frances and Olive Budde of South Farmington, were guests over Sunday of Miss Mildred Manthorne.

Rev. J. P. Anthony, recently of Lunenburg, has been transferred to the pastorate of the Methodist church of Truro.

Miss Emily R. Young, of Wolfville, has gone to Truro to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. J. D. MacNutt.

Rev. Ward Fisher, of Shelburne, editor of the Coast Guard has been appointed Fishery Officer for Western Nova Scotia.

Mrs. (Dr.) A.H. Thomasson of Boston, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rumsey at Bellevue Farm, Paradise.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Barrett and Mrs. Oscar Thorup are at their summer home at Shelburne. Mr. Thorup will join them later.

Mrs. E. B. McDaniel and children, of Annapolis and Miss Alice McDaniel, graduate nurse of Boston, have been guests of Mrs. and Miss Piper for a few days.

Edwin Ruggles and family of Bridgetown were in Middleton on Thursday, they having come in with Mr. Warren in his auto. Mr. Ruggles was here to meet his son, Frank, who is transferring to the Bank of Montreal at Lunenburg.—Outlook.

Mr. T. D. Ruggles, who has been sojourning at the "Colonial Arms," has returned more delighted than ever with the charms of that hospitable resort. The genial host and hostess have a houseful of guests who form a most congenial party and make the time pass very happily, and Mr. Ruggles was very pleasantly entertained.

The many friends here of Mrs. P. R. Jennings, of Woodstock, N.B., (formerly Miss Jennie Eaton, of Bridgetown) will regret deeply to learn of her loss in the death of her infant daughter, and also of an unfortunate accident which recently happened to Mr. Jennings while engaged in his duties on the I. C. R., which will prevent him from working this summer.

A GOLDEN INVESTMENT.

It is Sir Thomas Lipton's opinion that one might as well undertake to run a store in a tunnel as to try to do business without appealing to the public through the press. Narrow minded and uninformed persons declare advertising the year round to be money wasted; those who can judge know that it is a golden investment.

Tuesday, July 2nd, Sir Charles Tupper was fifty-one years of age. Sir Charles holds a place in the very first rank of Nova Scotia's greatest sons, and everyone, irrespective of political affiliations, joins in wishing him many more years.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor of the Monitor-Sentinel:—

Some weeks ago you inserted in your paper an item taken from a Wolfville paper, regarding the decision of the health officer relating to unsanitary places. I was hoping that our health officer would ere this have all of the filth infested and fly-breeding places cleaned out. I note with pleasure that again last week you deemed it advisable to draw attention to the nuisance of a pig sty. If our officers would investigate they would find more. It is the duty of the Council to see that these nuisances and menaces to health are removed. Section 5 of Chapter XII of the By-laws and ordinances of the Town of Bridgetown says:—"No person shall keep any pig sty on the front of any street or bordering thereon or shall keep swine in any place in the town near any street or dwelling house, so as to be a nuisance." and section 6 provides a penalty.

You are to be commended for your repeated efforts to make Bridgetown cleaner and more healthful. Trusting that before another issue the proper authorities will attend to this matter and thanking you for the space in your esteemed paper.

Yours in the interest of health and cleanliness.

PORT LORNE AS A SUMMER RESORT.

Port Lorne, July 23.

Editor of the Monitor-Sentinel:—

By courtesy of the proprietor of the Bay View Hotel it was my pleasure to look over these premises by the balmy shores of this beautiful Bay. On arrival by team from the Valley, over the mountain as you near the shore you will notice the sign on the left—"Bay View." Capt. T. Templeman, proprietor. This Hotel is admirably situated for convenience and comfort. The new annex just completed and furnished is to be opened in a few days. This block is twenty by seventy feet, two storeys and has two verandahs the entire length on the "Bay View" side. The upper one affords the best view of the harbor obtainable. Within are several nicely furnished lodging rooms, and on the lower floor is the gentleman's parlor and a recreation hall fifty-six by twenty feet. With the hospitality shown by Capt. and Mrs. Templeman they ought to receive a large share of patronage. A good class of tourists are desired by the management, and they, with the community at large, wish to see this place become a popular resort where tired folks can come for a rest, with rates at a moderate figure. Try a season at the "Bay View" hotel.

ENDORSES NEWSPAPERS

They Are the Best Advertising Medium, Says Coal Merchant

Newspaper advertising received another endorsement last week when C. Frank Williams, delegates to the Pennsylvania Retail Coal Merchants' Association, in session at Reading, declared that when all other methods publicity had failed he came back to the newspapers. He said in part: "Advertising depends on localities. I have tried various ways of advertising to bring my business before the public, but in the end I have always gone back to the newspapers. I tried circulars, personal solicitation and post card methods, but none was as successful as the newspaper. Change your 'ad.' from time to time and people will read it, especially if it is an attractive 'ad.' I believe in that remark made by John Wanamaker several years ago when he said that by advertising in newspapers a man received five times as much for his money as he could in any other way."—Editor and Publisher.

A JAPANESE ROBIN HOOD.
Whose Memory and a Chip From Whose Headstone are Considered Talismans in Games of Chance.
Behind the temple sacred to the nameless dead, and close to the wrestling amphitheatre in Tokio, there is to be found the grave of the celebrated robber Nezumi Koro, who stole from the daimyo long ago in the old Yedo days that he might relieve the sufferings of the poor.
There is a superstition connected with his grave which has made it a much frequented spot. If a portion of the headstone is carried away it acts as a lucky talisman, particularly to those who speculate or are otherwise engaged in games of chance. It is usual for a person breaking a piece from the stone to make a vow that in case he is successful he will buy a new headstone to replace the one he mutilated.
Many prayers must have been answered, for the stones are piled high on either side of the grave, and an enterprising individual near-by has the stones already for sale, and only waiting the name of the donor to be engraved and then set up.
A shelter has been placed over the spot, and from the roof hang gay lanterns and pilgrims' banners. A large money box catches all the stray sen which go for the upkeep of the grave. Gamblers and geisha are often visitors; students before their examination feel more assured of success if they have a chip of Nezumi Koro's headstone in the sleeves of their kimonos.

GUARDING RUSSIAN ROYAL FAMILY.
(Pall Mall Gazette.)
The Dowager Empress of Russia, who arrived at Sandringham recently generally travels all the way from Russia in her own special train, which remains at Calais until her return. The train, which is bombproof and is most luxuriously fitted up, is placed on a siding and guarded by a special staff.
A curious story is told by the Czar himself of an episode that occurred during his visit to Queen Victoria at Balmoral many years ago. When out one day in Balmoral forest he asked his way of a gillie, who, to his surprise, answered in Russian. On inquiring what he was doing in the wilds of Scotland the man informed the Czar that he was a member of the Russian secret police and was there to watch over the safety of his imperial master.
My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LIMENT, diluted at first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the sores have healed, and best of all, the hair is growing well, and is not white as is most always the case in horse wounds.

THREE THOUSAND PERSONS MADE HOMELESS BY CYCLONE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Col., July 16—Mayor Arnold estimates the total damage of Sunday's flood here at $4,000,000. He itemized his estimate as follows:
Damage to city property including sewers, parking, bridges, street surfacing and city shops, $500,000.
Damage to private property including warehouses, $500,000.
Damage to personal property, $1,000,000.
Damage to crops and irrigation projects in vicinity of Denver, $2,000,000.
It is estimated that 3,000 people were made homeless, a dozen people reported missing are yet to be accounted for.

THE FARM
THE CARE OF CREAM FOR BUTTERMAKING.
3. If the cream is not pasteurized provide for cooling it quickly when delivered to the creamery.
4. Provide an abundant supply of good, pure water for the creamery.
5. Provide cold storage that will keep the butter at about forty degrees or lower.
6. Support your buttermaker in dealing firmly with patrons who send cream which is not in good condition.
For the Buttermaker.
1. Attend personally, as far as possible, to the taking in, sampling and testing of the cream.
2. Keep your creamery clean, bright and tidy. Also yourself and assistants.
3. Be satisfied only with the finest quality of butter, the cleanest and the most attractive surroundings.
Copies of this bulletin may be obtained free for each patron of a creamery by application to Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa.

Suffragette Plot Against Mr. Asquith
Four Women Brought Before Dublin Court on Serious Charges.—
Gunpowder Was Found in Possession of the Prisoners.
Dublin, July 19—Mary Leigh, Gladys Evans, Lizzie Bailey and Mary Coffey appeared in the Police Court here today on the charge of throwing hatchets at Prime Minister Asquith, of attempting to set fire to a theatre, and with having in their possession inflammables for illegal purposes. All the accused were committed for trial.
MANY LIVES ENDANGERED.
The police testified that a canister which apparently contained gunpowder had been exploded in the theatre. They had found on Gladys Evans a bag of gun powder, a portion of the theatre carpet saturated with petrol and a basket full of lighters. Three bottles of benzine and a tin of gunpowder also had been discovered by the police authorities, and their testimony brought out the fact that many lives had been endangered by the fire. The Leigh woman admitted hurling the hatchet at Mr. Asquith's carriage.
CAUSED A PANIC.
Eight women have been taken into custody by the police in connection with the outrages.
A blazing chair was thrown into the orchestra from a box occupied by two women, who then set fire to the box curtains. Their act causing a panic among the audience.
TRIED TO BRAIN PREMIER.
The eight suffragettes are also charged with complicity in an attempt to injure Mr. Asquith; throwing a hatchet at the Premier's carriage as the party was proceeding from the wharf to a hotel. Mrs. Mary Leigh, one of the suffragettes under arrest, was identified this morning as the thrower of the hatchet. The woman, it is alleged by the police, intended to brain Mr. Asquith.
Mrs. Leigh has long been a leader in the violent tactics adopted by the militant suffragettes.

Serious Auto Accident Near St. John
St. John, July 18—An automobile accident, notable because of the prominence of the people concerned in it, as well as the miraculous nature of their escape, occurred this afternoon on the Devil's Back near the city on St. John River.
James Manchester, of Manchester Robertson and Allison, and president of the Bank of New Brunswick with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Guernsey, were on the way from Gagetown to St. John in a powerful Russell touring car. Roy Foley, of St. John, was the chauffeur.
Coming down the steep hill over the Devil's Back, the steering gear of the car went wrong and the auto, with its occupants, plunged off the road and into the brush. It turned over twice in the flight but righted itself and when found was standing on its wheels with the occupants under the bottom of the car. All were stunned.
CHAUFFEUR PULLED OCCUPANTS OUT.
Foley was the first to come to and he pulled Mr. and Mrs. Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Guernsey out. It was found that Mrs. Guernsey was seriously injured and it was not deemed advisable to bring her to the city. She has two ribs broken and it is feared injured internally.
Mr. Guernsey was cut and injured about the chest. Mrs. Manchester who is an elderly woman is suffering from shock, while Mr. Manchester was most fortunate of all, as he was scarcely scratched. The car was considerably damaged.
Medical aid was summoned from Oak Point and mechanics from a city garage went out to bring the damaged car into the city. Mr. and Mrs. Manchester returned to their homes in another car late tonight.
The spot where the accident occurred is one of the most dangerous along the river. Had the car gone off the road on the other side, the party would have been precipitated over a high cliff and probably all would have been killed.

BRIDGE OF THE SEAS.
The Isthmus From Which Every Other Isthmus Has Been Named.
The "Bridge of the Seas" is the striking name which Lindar gives to the narrow isthmus which connects the Gulf of Corinth with the Aegean sea. It is one of the most interesting strips of soil on the five continents. It is the isthmus (an excellence of all the world, for the Greek name, Isthmia, every other isthmus has been named).
The ancients were not good sailors. They never went by sea where they could conveniently go by land, and to cross this narrow neck of land, only four miles wide, saved them many a weary league of sailing around a stormy coast in going from the Peloponnese to Attica and indeed from Europe to Asia.
The southernmost point of Attica was especially dangerous, and an old proverb used to run, "When you are rounding Cape Malia forget all you have at home." Indeed, navigation in these seas was almost wholly abandoned in the winter months, and we remember that in the graphic account of St. Paul's shipwreck he advised the captain to winter in the Cretan harbor of Fair Haven. Through disregarding this advice disaster came to ship and crew and prisoners alike.
No wonder, then, that the isthmus, which the ancient city of Corinth dominated, became at one time the busiest and perhaps the most notable strip of land which the world knew. More battles have been fought, more dynasties established or dethroned, just here in all probability than in any other spot on the earth's surface.—Christian Herald.

A ROYAL FEATHER CLOAK.
Kalakaua Couldn't Wear It, and His Groom Disgraced It.
When King Kalakaua of Hawaii visited Japan many years ago he was very anxious to exhibit to the Japanese his famous royal feather cloak. It did not look well draped over the regular costume of the king, which was based on European military models. It was out of the question to wear it draped over a frock coat, as was the ancient fashion. Finally it was decided to let Robert, one of his attendants, wear it.
William N. Armstrong, the king's attorney general, said: "This additional service delighted Robert, who now, according to a confidential statement made to his Japanese attendant, was 'keeper of the royal standard,' 'groom of the feather cloak' and 'valet in ordinary.' While in the imperial car, on the way to Tokyo, the king's suit had suddenly seen Robert sitting in state in the luggage car dressed in a silk hat, white gloves and with the gorgeous royal cloak hanging over his shoulders, the tableau being completed by a group of Japanese attendants who were standing before him lost in admiration."
"Robert was scarcely equal to the dignity that was his. In his capacity of valet he preceded the party to the palace assigned to them and discovered there abundance of wines and spirits, which he consumed until they arrived. He was found asleep in the king's bed-chamber with the silk hat far down over his head and the gorgeous cloak askew on his shoulders. He was at once deposed from his office of 'groom of the feather cloak.'"

LONDON DOCTORS WANT TO BE SHOWN.
London, July 16—Among the invited guests at the annual convention of the British Medical Association, which met today in Liverpool, is Dr. Arthur W. Yale, the Pennsylvania physician who claims he has secured photographs showing the passing of the human soul. The London medical society has extended an invitation to him to visit this city at the close of the Liverpool meeting and make a demonstration of the discovery he claims to have made.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR CANADA FRUIT.
Ottawa, July 15—The Canada trade commissioner at Birmingham, Mr. Ray, in a communication to the trade and commerce department, gives fruit shippers an important tip on the advisability of shipping straight lines of not more than six varieties. Large assortments he says, are the source of loss and disappointment on both sides. There will be a heavy demand in the old country for Canadian fruit this season.
The Boston Transcript, in commenting upon the nomination of Governor Wilson, says:—"So we are to have real campaign at last. We shall not have a walkover like the last three national struggles but a contest whose incidents are sure to be full of excitement and thrills. THE HOME

HOME MAKING.

The American housewife is no more wasteful in comparison with the European housewife than the American husband is in comparison with the European husband. The laborer in this country out of his limited wages, spends on his extra-domestic comforts—his social circle in the saloon, his barber, and his bootblack—a weekly sum that is ridiculously extravagant judged by European standards. Of course we live high and we waste. We waste in our households, we waste in our insurance companies and savings banks, we waste in our municipalities and our State governments and our national government. We waste property and we waste life; and the pinch of high prices, if it is to be met at all by the practice of economy, demands economy all round. The problem will not be solved by concentrating on the grocer's and the butcher's bill. There is no justice in demanding that the woman in the kitchen shall make atonement for the extravagance that permeates the entire national life. It is all the more unjust because the woman in the kitchen concerns herself with the very necessities of life. One may economize and save and scrimp, but in the last resort the American woman cannot abandon her butcher or her grocer on the ground that they are a bad habit; whereas cigars and drink and the bootblack are obviously not essential toward sustaining life.

Home-making, to a certain extent, is not exempt, of course, from the laws that shape all forms of human occupation. In successful home-making intelligence counts, character counts, training and knowledge count. The extraordinary development of domestic science teaching shows that there is a field here for the educator. But, after all, the business of the home can never be made an exact science and art, and we have no right to expect the same results that are obtained by scientific management in the highly specialized fields of industry, commerce, or the professions. For the essence of the question is that the scene of woman's operations is not a shop but a home, and that the system she has to sustain is not the factory system but the family. It is an axiom that the highest efficiency in industry is conditioned by the highest specialization. But woman's work admits of no specialization. In the mere, comparatively sordid act of preparing dinner she is compelled to perform a number of economic functions; she must have sufficient commercial skill to purchase her raw materials in the open market; she must have sufficient technical skill to transform the raw material into a finished product; she must have sufficient advertising skill to make her product palatable to a public whose psychological vagaries must be taken into account no less than its physical appetites. And that means dinner only. But woman in the house bears also the functions of nurse, teacher, policeman, judge, dressmaker and mother. She dare not specialize and she should not be expected to do any one thing supremely well. To judge her by Mr. H. G. Wells' ideally scientific standards of housekeeping is absurd.

LOOSEN UP AND PLAY.

Loosen up, good parents, uncles and aunts, and all maternally and paternally care-takers of children, including big sister or brother who wishes to appear very grown-up. When you have the kiddies on a pleasure outing, jump in and enjoy the sensation with them. Go through the crooked house, and get all bounced up and rattled about. Take the trip to Hades, and yell when the illuminated skeleton appears; or when you are whirled about in the elevator. Take off your hat and let your hair fly in a mad dash over the gravity railway—unless the hair is of the sort that might fly away, when it may be tied on with a scarf. Put on the roller skates, and compete with the boys and girls that are having such a good time whirling about the rink.

At one of the happylands by the sea a very dignified professor and a modest young woman were romping through all of the various stunts with the zest of ten-year-olds. When they were through the man had lost his hat and torn his trousers; and the girl was in a fluff state of dishevelment. But for all his grey hair, the man's face was as young and charming as that of a boy. The unusual exertion had sent the blood flying through his veins, filling out and effacing the lines in his face, flushing and animating it, and brightening the eyes. The couple disappeared eating some of the fluffy pink confection on sale at every stand; utterly unconscious of the pleasing picture they made.

There is something vicious that all of us bottle up too closely within ourselves. There is something of the wild man in all of us. If we don't let it loose now and then, it acts as a detriment both to physical and mental health, and deteriorates the fine spontaneity of the energies. The repression stagnates the blood, corrodes the liver, and interferes with the activities of the brain. So why not let it loose in the open air and sunshine, after the harmless and wholesome manner of little children?

The truth of the matter is that the grown-ups, and especially the mature, feel that they would be undignifying themselves by whirling around in a circle on a prancing wooden horse, to the merry music of the hurdy-gurdy; or in shooting away over a humped track to the accompaniment of high-keyed shouts and laughter. They are afraid of what people might think of them. But probably there is not one of them who has not at some time, felt a longing to get in and join the fun. And this is exactly what they ought to do. If they have a physical shrinking from the experiences and sensations that these pastimes offer, it is a sign that they need a thoroughly good shaking up to get the stiffness out of their joints, and the sluggishness out of their blood. Unconsciously to themselves, they have been slipping toward the habits of old age, when, in many cases, they are not even near their prime.

SUMMER AND THE BABY.

Don't keep him in the city during the summer. Second summer or any other summer, he will thrive best when kept out of doors most of the time. If the sleeping-on-the-porch habit has been cultivated, so much the better. If mother has kept herself in good health, and baby is not weaned, from the fourteenth to the eighteenth month he should be allowed five meals a day if he is awake long enough to take them.

The first meal, at 7 a.m., should consist of a slice of stale bread broken and soaked in a breakfast cupful of milk; or two tablespoonfuls of well-cooked and strained porridge (oatmeal or cracked wheat) with two tablespoonfuls of cream, and a little salt—no sugar—and a breakfast-cupful of milk. For variety breakfast may consist of the yolk of an egg, lightly boiled, with bread-crumbs, and a teacupful of milk.

The second meal, at 10 a.m., may consist of a teacupful of beef, chicken or mutton broth, with a slice of bread, and one good tablespoonful of rich milk pudding. Upon another day it may consist of a mashed baked potato, moistened with four teacupfuls of meat broth; also two tablespoonfuls of junket, with the same quantity of cream.

The fourth meal, at 6 p.m., if baby is awake, should consist merely of a breakfast-cupful of milk, with or without one tablespoonful of good Liebig food. He must never be awakened from sleep for it. If he awakens at five or six in the morning, he should be given a half cupful of warm milk.

As for the second summer, baby is in no more danger during this time than he is at any other period of his troublous little life. He is always in danger if you do not take the right kind of care of him. And even then, accidents will happen. But the thing to do is to give him the most intelligent care you know how to, and stop worrying.

Watch the temperature of his feet, stomach and abdomen. Never let them get chilled. If by accident they have become so, warm them immediately, either by gentle massage, or application of warm flannels. Always have some place where a fire may be started quickly—preferably an open grate, even in midsummer.

Don't overburden baby with clothing. The little body will become fatigued by too great a weight, especially in summer. And if he is too warmly clad he will perspire, and an excess of perspiration is weakening. In the very hot days measure his discomfort by your own. There will be times when you may safely strip him to his little band and shirt, and let him kick his naked legs freely. Keep him close to nature, and nature, will be kind to him.

GOOD HANDLING.

There are a lot of men who handle horses that should never be allowed to drive one. They are those who yell at the animals, strike them, swear at them, and otherwise use the horses roughly. Gentleness, kindness and quietness are prime requisites in a teamster, if he would get most out of his horses at all times.

DOCTORS COULD NOT HELP MY KIDNEYS

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Me

MR. GEO. W. BARKLEY

CHESTERVILLE, ONT., JAN. 25th, 1911
"For over twenty years, I have been troubled with Kidney Disease and the doctors told me they could do me no good. They said my case was incurable and I would suffer all my life. I doctored with different medical men and tried many advertised remedies, but there was none that suited my case. Nearly a year ago, I tried 'Fruit-a-lives'. I have been using them nearly all the time since, and am glad to say that I am cured. I have no trouble now with my Kidneys and I give 'Fruit-a-lives' the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible. I am seventy-six years old and am in first class health."

GUARD-MOUNT.

The night has come, and forth I fare To post the sentries of my prayer; Their silent watch to keep where'er My waking thoughts would be.

Upon a mountain-circled hill, Where cries the plaintive whippoor-will, Two prayers shall pace to keep from ill Whom God has given me;

Two more shall stand beside their door Who gave me birth, and two before Her hot who lights an alien shore With love's long ministry;

And two shall nightly vigil keep To bring us word who nightly weep If they do wake from their long sleep Beneath the linden tree;

To every doer two more shall go Where trouble threatens, or lurking foe Waits but the deepening dark to throw His dart of misery;

And one in silent round I send From prayer to prayer, his aid to lend If there be special need to fend Against the enemy.

Forth to your posts, my sentinels, Till matin prayer's reveille-bells Give you relief and daylight tells Where evil shadows flee.

—John Finley, in Century.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by druggists and dealers.

AS IT WAS IN LUNENBURG

The mercury soared to ninety-eight on Monday afternoon. It got an idea into its head that it was related to a soda fountain, and going up was its only mission in life. Work was suspended in the tailor shops, millinery rooms and printing offices, the temperature in these places being such that work was impossible.

While Rae Meisner, chauffeur at the Grand Hotel, was taking two commercial men to Tusket and Wedgeport, in the Grand's auto, the top, which was shut down, took fire from some cigar ashes accidentally dropped on it. Before the blaze could be extinguished one side of the top was completely destroyed.

MAGNIFIED HER WEALTH.

A Five Dollar Bill That Seemed to Be a Small Fortune.

The woman handed her friend a five dollar bill. "See the number of small fives engraved on it?" she asked. "When I was in Denmark a few years ago such a bill as that caused me a great deal of amusement, and I had to surrender one before I could prove myself clear of a false belief regarding my finances."

"An aunt whom I was visiting saw in my purse one day a number of these bills, and she asked to examine one, as it was so different from any of the Danish money. She studied it attentively a few minutes and then asked me how much it was. I told her it was $5, and, to my surprise, I saw she did not believe me. 'If it is only that amount,' she said, 'why has it so many little figures on it?'

"I tried to explain, but I made little impression on her. Later I heard she had told our relatives that I was worth thousands and thousands of dollars and was trying to conceal the fact from the family lest they should expect some things of me that they would not otherwise."

"When I heard that I was visiting in another part of the country and could not very well defend myself, so I hit on the expedient of sending my aunt a present of a five dollar bill. When she went to have it changed into the money of the country she was at last convinced, though at the price of having her dream of wealth rudely shattered."—New York Press.

A FAMOUS BEACON.

The Navestink Light, Near Sandy Hook, is a Wonder.

The most powerful light in America is housed on a promontory near Sandy Hook, 250 feet above the beach, where it acts as a safeguard to all ships entering or leaving the harbor of New York. It is called Navestink light and is of 95,000,000 candle power. At fifteen or twenty miles its flash is as pointed and brilliant as a star. On a perfectly clear night its shaft of light can be seen 100 miles at sea. When the present candle power. But ocean pilots objected to its strength, saying that so amazing an electric flash actually blinded them and interfered with their work. Uncle Sam heard the prayer of the pilots and turned down his pet lamp to 95,000,000 candle power.

The amount of oil consumed by the engine that provides the power for the light is only one gallon and seven-eighths an hour. That is the astonishing thing to the unscientific visitor—the comparatively small expense and effort required to maintain so great a light. There are two fair sized dynamos and two oil engines. One set is always kept in reserve. Of course the tremendous candle power is developed by means of a great lens, made in France. The lens weighs seven tons and a half, is seven inches thick and rests in mercury. It is revolved with ease.—Saturday Evening Post.

Mrs. Holden had been blessed with remarkable eyesight all her life. It was a great trial to her when at the age of seventy-two she was obliged to put on "reading glasses." "But they are really becoming to you, Aunt Elida," said a gentle niece by way of consolation.

"No, they aren't," said Mrs. Holden, with her usual scorn for compliment. "Anybody's eyes look better without a glass in front of 'em, and you know it." "But you couldn't read without them," ventured the niece, "and you love."

"I could, too, read without 'em," said the old lady, refusing to be soothed. "I could read most as well as ever, but I couldn't sense it all—that's the only trouble."—Youth's Companion.

England's Largest House.

The proud distinction of being the largest house in England is generally accorded to Lord Fitzwilliam's Yorkshire seat, Wentworth Woodhouse. Of this house it is said that the three principal entrances are so far distant from each other that visitors are advised to bring three hats with them, one to be kept at each point of egress. A house which is 600 feet long, has a hall in which two average suburban villas could be comfortably placed and boasts a room for every two days of the year is certainly large enough to satisfy any reasonable ambition.—Exchange.

Clementsport

Clementsport, July 23.—Mrs. and Mrs. L. S. Whitman and family of Kingston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strobach for a few days recently. Capt. Llewlyn Hawking is home for a short time from his vessel of the United States, having had the misfortune of injuring one of his legs which has incapacitated him from work. Freddie Walker, son of Capt. Andrew Walker, had the misfortune of breaking his arm by falling out of a cherry tree last week and the Captain, a few days previous to this accident, lost a nice horse by eating Paris green, which had been left in the barn over night mixed with flour for putting on potatoes. Surely it seems that one misfortune never comes alone. Mr. John Scott of Roxbury, Mass., paid a flying visit to our village last week visiting old friends and acquaintances. All were glad to see him. Our teachers, who have been away teaching during the past year, are at their respective homes enjoying vacation, while some are at present attending the Summer School of Science held at Yarmouth this year. Several of our once Clementsport girls, but who have since married in the United States, are here spending their vacations with their parents and friends. Business has been quite brisk of late in the village. Sch. Bobs, owned by H. Hicks, Emma E. Potter, owned by McCormick and Stronach, and others, have just loaded with wood and piling for American ports, while the tern schooner Mercedes, also owned by H. Hicks, is at the time of writing, loading wood and piling for Boston, while the Sch. Clara Banner, Capt. Melanson, has made three trips here landing freight for our merchants within a short time. Mrs. Potter-Shirley, mother of the Rev. Porter-Shirley, of Annapolis Royal, is in the village at present visiting friends. Dr. Young of Lawrencetown, was called one day last week to the home of Mr. H. Fraser in consultation with Dr. Archibald of Bear River in connection with a very sick child of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser. We have at the time of this writing quite a number of tourists in our pretty village who seem to be enjoying the pure air and the magnificent scenery of this place. Mrs. Gabriel of Halifax and family are occupying the home of Mrs. E. Carey, who has gone west, for the summer months. Work is progressing quite rapidly on the bridge here. There is a good number of men at work at present.

Tupper, arrived from Boston on Thursday last. Mr. and Mrs. Asa Welch and Miss Welch returned to Cambridge, Mass., on Saturday last. Mr. Frank Chute returned home to Boston on Saturday. Mr. R. O. Yorke is laid aside, from an attack of appendicitis. Mr. Frank Morine, of Boston and daughter is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin.

Port Wade

Port Wade, July 22nd.—Mrs. J. N. Jackson returned to her home in Lawrencetown last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. James Ramsey of Perotte have visited their son, Fred, and other friends here the past week. Miss Aggie Wood returned to her home in Perotte last week. Mr. F. W. Thomas has been quite ill the past week. Miss Edgy Wood of Annapolis Royal is making a visit to her parents, Miss Jennie Ann. Mr. and Mrs. Dinck DeLong of Lynn, formerly of this place, are visiting friends and relatives here. The friends of Mr. Clifford Haynes of St. John moved into their summer cottage here last week. Mr. Haynes will be over later. Miss Winnie Litch, who has been visiting her sister in Beverly, Mass., has been quite ill there, and is expected home this week. The hay is progressing fairly, considering the inclement weather, and more than an average crop is being harvested. An ore steamer is expected this week. The washing plant at Nictaux is not working rapidly enough to deal out a train each day. Mrs. Edward Parker and two children, of Lynn, are visiting at the home of F. W. Parker here. Mr. Wm. Johns and friend, Miss Foote, returned to Boston on Thursday. Mrs. C. B. Clark and wife of Boston are visiting here at "Kewdale, with relatives and friends.

Hampton

Hampton, July 23rd.—The long spell of dry weather has been broken by the heaviest rain since spring, accompanied by a gale from east to north-east with thunder and sharp lightning. No damage done as far as can be learned. The "Seaside House" is getting a large patronage. At present there are twenty-nine boarders. Sunday about one hundred guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Farnsworth's pleasant boarding house. Mr. Alanzo Foster arrived home from Boston on Saturday, where he has been for the past two months undergoing an operation for cancer of the face. As this is the second treatment his many friends hope this will be a permanent cure. Mrs. Eliza Healy of O'Leary is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Elijah Hinton of this place. The pleasant summer residence of J. W. Beckwith is now occupied by his family together with their friends, making one of the charming spots in Hampton. Mr. W. A. Chesley's family are enjoying their new summer cottage here. Mr. Chas. DeWitt has his new bungalow completed, and is moving in for the summer season. Mrs. Avarad Brinton and son, Joe, started for British Columbia today, to join her husband, who has a very fine situation there.

The hospital, which will cost $125,000, will be erected outside the limits of the city.

READING IN BED

Net Injurious to the Eyes if a Few Simple Rules Are Observed. To those addicted to the practice of reading in bed the remarks of Dr. Carl Saller will be of interest. He states that there is no valid reason to be urged against using the eyes in a proper manner in a recumbent position—such use is the least tiresome and can be persisted in for longer periods without damage than any other position. We all know that grave damage is often done by reading in a recumbent posture, but therein possibly some oculists are at fault. Had it been the universal practice during the last twenty or thirty years to give careful directions how to read lying down instead of saying to one and all, "You must not read lying down," there would be less near sight and better eyes in the community than now exist. Three easily avoided errors cause all the harm possible from reading lying down, the first often leading to the other two. They are insufficient or wrongly directed light, short reading distance and tipping the book out of the plane at right angles to the line of vision. It, however, every one reading lying down will so arrange his lounge or bed that the light comes over the head without striking the eyes and falls well upon the page; if he will hold his book at a long reading distance and take care that the line of letters shall be at right angles to the line of vision, he can be sure of doing his eyes no more harm than if he were sitting up. More than this, there is much positively in favor of reading lying down. Dr. Saller concludes, "The recumbent posture allows more rest of the bodily structures than the sitting posture, and there is greater possibility of resting and repair in that position."—London Globe.

AN ICEBERG'S SECRET.

One of the Mysteries of the Sea That Will Never Be Solved. The age of an iceberg is problematic. The berg that sank the Titanic may have been forming on the coast of Greenland when Columbus crossed the sea or even before that. Then again it may have been reared by the elements since the first expedition to the pole, but probably it antedated steamships by many years. In 1841 a great berg appeared off St. John's, N. F. Its pinnacle was fully a hundred feet above the sea, and its base formed a glittering island in the middle of which, imbedded between two hills of ice, were two ships side by side. The masts were gone, but otherwise the upper works seemed to be intact. Scattered about the decks were various objects that might have been the frozen bodies of the crews. As the bergs approached the Titanic, they could not see any masts or anything to indicate their nationality or business on the seas. There were no signs of life about them, nothing but the occasional masses under dark white coverings. They were believed to be part of St. John's Franklin's expedition and were seen at the mouth of the harbor almost stationary for several days. Then on morning the berg was gone, and the ultimate fate of the derelicts it carried is still one of the mysteries of the sea.—Mina Irving in New York Press.

The Pillars of Hercules.

The "Pillars of Hercules" was the name anciently given to the mountains of Calpe and Abyla, standing opposite to each other, the one on the European and the other on the African shore of the strait which connects the Mediterranean sea with the Atlantic ocean. The mountains are now called the Rock of Gibraltar and Jebel Zanzit. The word Gibraltar, which is at present also applied to the strait, was originally "Jebel Tariq," or "Mountain of Tariq." Tariq being the name of the leader of the first Mohammedan band which crossed at that point over into Spain in the year A. D. 711.

His Sole Regret.

"You are not afraid to die, are you?" asked the weeping wretches by the bedside. "No," whispered the chronic knicker, "but it does worry me to think that I shall soon be with the silent majority when all my life I have so enjoyed being in the noisy minority."

Too Small a Ring.

"What you need," said the worthy man in his ponderous way, "is an enlargement of your daily round, a wider circle of activity."

Making Headway.

"Have you a spare cigar about you now, chap?" "Certainly! But I thought you were going to stop smoking."

JOHN LOCKETT & SON

MRS. MCGEE FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER.

Georgetown, P. E. I., July 20.—The case of Mrs. McGee, charged with the murder of her five children, was placed in the hands of the jury yesterday. The courtroom was crowded for the final session of the trial, which was of unusual interest. Justice Fitzgerald succinctly and pointedly placed the case before the jury. He reviewed the whole evidence and emphasized the salient points. He told the jury that the crucial points for them, as God-fearing men, was to decide whether or not the woman had wilfully and in her own responsible mind administered poison to the children. This for them was the question. The evidence was before them. It was for them to decide. At 1.15 the jury retired for deliberation and in about ten minutes returned with a verdict "Guilty with a strong commendation to mercy."

MONUMENT FOR BRAVE BURRELL HECCOCK.

Toronto, July 15.—To the memory of Burrell Heccock, of Cleveland, Ohio, aged seventeen years, who lost his life in an heroic attempt to save Ellsride Statton and his wife, of Toronto, Ontario, when the ice-bridge in the gorge, immediately below, was swept down the river and into the whirlpool rapids, February 4th, 1912. The foregoing inscription, commemorating the bravery of Heccock in the awful tragedy of last February, inset on the plans for a monument to his memory which have been submitted to the board of control by the Niagara Falls park superintendent for its approval. The design is for a cobblestone column ten feet five inches wide at the base and four feet wide at the summit. The city is to pay one-third of the cost, the Niagara Falls park commission one-third, and the town of Niagara Falls the remainder. The cobblestone design is recommended because it conforms with other structures of a like nature in the park.

A QUEER ATTITUDE

Mrs. Nettie Kibb, the brilliant Conductor of the Sons of Temperance said in an Independence Day address some years ago in Worcester, apropos of moderate drinking: "The moderate drinker's attitude seems to me most foolish and illogical. Doesn't the moderate drinker say just this: 'As long as I find I can't stop, I won't stop; but as soon as I find I can't stop, I will.'"
