substantial repast, to take their places at the head of their several detachments...

PASTORAL LETTER OF HIS EMINENCE THE CARDINAL ARCHBISHOP OF WESTMINSTER, MARCH, 1862.

Nicholas, by the Divine mercy, of the Holy Roman Church, of the title of St. Prudentina Cardinal Priest, and Archbishop of Westminster.

Lent is approaching, and with it the periodical invitation of the Church, to fast and pray, to weep and mourn, to give alms, and perform works of charity.

The Church, however, through the unity of her vitality, of her instincts, and of her laws, always and necessarily acts upon the great Catholic principle of efficient communion extending over her entire body.

On the western coast of that island, which seems ever doomed to bear the weight of public sorrows, symptoms of one of her periodical scourges seem to have declared themselves; of that famine which too generally is the forerunner of fever and pestilence.

There is another prospect of similar want, more likely, however, to excite general interest, and to rally the co-operation of abundant charity.

even large bodies are shipped abroad, and thus precious lives of men are set at naught, in comparison with the cheapness of transport.

And that element which of its own nature is the more destructive, and fills men most with fear, Fire, in how many ways have we lately beheld its ravages.

Still more appalling have been of late calamities from the most gentle of all the elements which minister to man.

It will not fail to strike the future historian, how inexhaustible were the resources of the country, carrying on at the same time two gigantic subscriptions for objects apparently so different, and yet alas!

Not let us be condemned, as if wanting in that reserve which time may be considered to have augmented, in regard to that great and overpowering calamity, if we allude to it now.

He has not commanded their armies, nor led their fleets to victory. He has not wielded a successful smitesword, nor occupied any position among its artists, its thinkers, or its writers.

He became indeed "the eldest son" of the country and of its people. Distinct from his high claims as the sharers of the Sovereign's confidence and affection, independent of public respect for his share in restoring to this country the good example of a moral code.

Yes, dearly beloved in Christ, without entering into the regions of crime, and doing more than allude to its frequency in its most repulsive forms, there are plenty of calamities connected with our state of great prosperity which may well induce us to enter with a great heart into the course of expiation and supplication proposed to us for Lent.

And that the work of this holy season may be complete, we place before you a specific object for the exercise of your charity.

This Diocese has 88 female orphans, and out of the 206 under the care of the excellent Religious of Norwood; and a due proportion of boys, under the Brothers of North Hyde.

We take this earliest opportunity of announcing to you, that we have just received an invitation to assist at the solemn canonisation of the Martyrs of Japan, with whose glorious history every Catholic is acquainted.

May God look down with pity and compassion on His afflicted Church, and give her peace, consolation, and joy; and to you all every good and perfect gift, now and for ever.

Given, and ordered to be read, in all Churches and Chapels of the Archdiocese of Westminster, on Quinquagesima Sunday, this Second day of March, MDCCLXII.

N. CARD. WISEMAN. Archbishop of Westminster.

F. Canon Searle, Secretary.

LETTER FROM THE LORD PRIMATE OF IRELAND: The subjoined important letter from His Grace the Archbishop of Armagh, Primate of all Ireland, needs neither comment nor introduction at our hands.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DUBLIN TELEGRAPH. Armagh, 19th March, 1862.

I have been greatly shocked by the tone which for some time past has pervaded, and which continues to pervade, public meetings in this country, letters in newspapers, and so forth; and I am anxious to protest thus publicly against the notions wherewith this tone appears to be an indication.

In the first place, I most sincerely disclaim any intention of giving offence to the honourable Catholic gentleman whose name is connected with the matter to which I refer.

Having premised these observations, I now assert, without the least fear of being contradicted by anyone who understands the doctrine and practice of the Catholic Church:

1. That the Catholic duellist, as such, must be held in abhorrence by every one who loves our Divine Lord;—by every one who hates mortal sin, and has a due horror of an act whereby the Holy Church of God has an exceeding great horror.

2. That the Catholic duellist, as such, proves himself to be in reality a coward, according to the true Christian meaning of the words cowardice and heroism.

I am, dear Sir, your faithful servant.

JOSEPH DIXON, Archbishop of Armagh. Primate of all Ireland.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE MUNSTER NEWS. Dear Sir,—Be good enough to give a place to the following letter, addressed to an old fellow-citizen, Mr. M. Cunningham.—Yours truly,

R. E. O'BRIEN, V. G. Newcastle West, March 8th, 1862.

My Dear Sir and Brother,—I am delighted at the spirit of charity and the effective organisation which distinguishes the Young Men's Society at Woolwich.

I do not think that members of our society can join the National Brotherhood, or that members of the National Brotherhood should be allowed to join our ranks.

What security should we ask? Rules are no security. The worst objects may be pursued under the best rules.

Professors are no security. The men who make them are not always sincere; and even when they are sincere, they may be ignorant of where they are going.

What security then ought we to expect? The characters of the men who lead a movement—unless these characters be beyond all question for principle and capacity, no one can know.

1. In a safe movement I would expect the Catholic Clergy.

2. In a safe movement I would expect men of known position and commanding talents—whose past career would be a security for their future integrity and success—and a security that the people are not simply sold to a bidder.

3. In a safe movement I would expect a general opinion among the well-thinking and moral that such a movement is safe; and not one of these conditions have I found supplied by, or regarding the National Brotherhood of St. Patrick.

DUBLIN, 20th March.—The Feast of the National Apostle passed off without any unpleasant incident.

At the Rotunda there was a dinner of the "National Brotherhood," followed by some ardent and enthusiastic speeches.

In the first place, I speak of Catholic duellists in what follows, because they, if well instructed in their religion, can make no mistake about the character of the act which they commit in giving or accepting a challenge to fight a duel.

Lastly, I speak of Catholic duellists as such: that is to say, I speak of them precisely in their character of duellists—in other words, I speak not immediately and directly of the person, but of the act.

1. That the Catholic duellist, as such, must be held in abhorrence by every one who loves our Divine Lord;—by every one who hates mortal sin, and has a due horror of an act whereby the Holy Church of God has an exceeding great horror.

2. That the Catholic duellist, as such, proves himself to be in reality a coward, according to the true Christian meaning of the words cowardice and heroism.

EMIGRATION.—The question of Emigration forces itself on the consideration of every Irish journal sympathizing with the Irish people at home and abroad.

And when I say we are perfectly at liberty to join any "political party which we conscientiously believe sound and wisely constituted," of course you will understand that such party must offer fair security that it is safe, and that it will not fall into bad hands.

I write this because I saw it somewhere stated that members of the Young Men's Society may be also members of the National Brotherhood of St. Patrick.

zation agents to give advice and encouragement to the new settlers, and smooth away obstructions in their path, so that they may the sooner realize all the benefits of their new position; and be enabled to bring out their relatives and friends after them, to enjoy with them the comforts and independence of a Canadian home and Canadian institutions.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, has discovered in one of the common pasture weeds a Remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR.

From the worst Scrofula down to the common Pimples He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth. One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of boils. Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst cancer in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas. One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair. Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin. Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism. Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula. DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adult, one table spoonful per day. Children over eight years, a dessert spoonful; children from five to eight years, ten spoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day. Mr. Kennedy gives personal attendance in bad cases of Scrofula.

KENNEDY'S SALT RHEUM OINTMENT, TO BE USED IN CONNECTION WITH THE MEDICAL DISCOVERY. For Inflammation and Humor of the Eyes, this gives immediate relief; you will apply it on a linen rag when going to bed.

For Scald Head, you will cut the hair off the affected part, apply the Ointment freely, and you will see the improvement in a few days. For Salt Rheum, rub it well in as often as convenient.

For Scales on an inflamed surface, you will rub it in to your heart's content; it will give you such real comfort that you cannot help wishing well to the inventor.

For Scabs: these commence by a thin, acrid fluid oozing through the skin, soon hardening on the surface; in a short time are full of yellow matter; some are on an inflamed surface, some are not; will apply the Ointment freely, but you do not rub it in.

For Sore Legs: this is a common disease, more so than is generally supposed; the skin turns purple, covered with scales, itches intolerably, sometimes forming running sores; by applying the Ointment, the itching and scales will disappear in a few days, but you must keep on with the Ointment until the skin gets its natural color.

This Ointment agrees with every flesh, and gives immediate relief in every skin disease flesh is heir to. Price, 2s 6d per Box. Manufactured by DONALD KENNEDY, 120 Warren Street, Roxbury Mass. For Sale by every Druggist in the United States and British Provinces.

Mr. Kennedy takes great pleasure in presenting the readers of the TRUE WITNESS with the testimony of the Lady Superior of the St. Vincent Asylum, Boston —

ST. ANN ALEXIS SHORB, Superior of St. Vincent's Asylum. ANOTHER.

Dear Sir—We have much pleasure in informing you of the benefits received by the little orphans in our charge, from your valuable discovery. One in particular suffered for a length of time, with a very sore leg; we were afraid amputation would be necessary. We feel much pleasure in informing you that he is now perfectly well.
