WHOLESALE KILLING IN SAN DIEGO

Ex-Fireman Shoots Three Former Comrades

KILLS WIFE AND CHILD

Sent in False Alarm and Opened Fire on Men as They Answered the Call—Police Hunting for Murderer

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 1.—Bert S. Durham, a former fireman, after shooting and killing one city fireman, mortally wounding a second and seriously wounding a third, near a fire box from which he had sent a false alarm, in an effort for revenge, early today, went to his home and with a shotgun killed his wife and their child, both of whom were asleep. He then made his escape.

Nursing an old grudge against Fire Captain Sampell under whom he had worked as a歌舞 singer, driver, and bartender, he had been discharged from the service for insubordination. Durham early today sent in a false alarm from the outskirts of the city. When Captain Sampell and two other firemen came, Durham opened fire on them for workmanlike with a revolver.

At the first shot Driver Don Grant fell from his seat dead with a bullet in his head. As his wife and Bert Elliott lay on the ground with a bullet through the stomach, Durham then leveled his revolver at Sampell and fired twice, both bullets hitting him. Innumerable citizens who shot firemen at other members of the crew went wild. Durham drew another revolver and covered his retreat, then started to run from the firehouse. Chief Supervisor, as he is disengaged in the darkness Durham shouted back to the chief: "Fall my wife I am going to kill you."

The victims of the shooting were rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in one of the local wagons. Operations were performed on Sampell and Elliott. Sampell will die. The other, who died, has no chance. Within half an hour of the shooting a score of police officers and deputy sheriffs were on the scene in addition to those who had been a man short. The chief, after shooting Durham reached home and slew his wife and child and seriously wounding two others.

30 COTTON MILLS CLOSE FOR WEEK

New England Curtailment Means Idleness for 8,000 Operatives Until August 8

Fall River, Mass., Aug. 1.—Thirty cotton mills in New England, employing 8,000 operatives, were closed down Saturday until August 8, for the purpose of curtailing production. A number of other corporations will be idle two days this week.

The drastic curtailment, which is in progress in the American textile industry, is having a beneficial effect on the market. The price of cotton is now being hoped for when the new cotton crop is available. The policy of cutting output is expected to continue until fall.

Biddeford, Aug. 1.—The Pepperell cotton mills of Biddeford and those of the York Corporation of Saugus were closed Saturday. The mills will remain suspended until August 8. It is understood that both corporations will shut down for another week later. There are about 15,000 cotton operatives in the vicinity.

Whitinsville, Mass., Aug. 1.—The Whitinsville cotton mills and the Lintonwood cotton mills at Linwood were closed Saturday. They will remain suspended until August 8. They employ about 800 hands.

The Fiskdale mills recently resumed operations after a two weeks' shutdown due to market conditions. The plant employs 600 persons and makes print cloths.

ENGINEER KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Rome, N. Y., Aug. 1.—At 2:30 a.m. today westbound light engine on the Central railway road running on track 2, about half a mile from the station, derailed. The engineer, Bertram L. West, of Ravanna, N. Y., stopped to make repairs. The fireman went back with lantern to inspect the engine. He had not gone a short distance when a fast passenger train westbound, running on track 2 came along. The engine was unable to check his speed in time and struck the train. The light engine, Engine West, who was evidently under his engine, making repairs, was killed. The accident occurred about 1,000 feet west of a signal tower. No much damage was done to either engine, and traffic was not delayed.

Moderate winds, fine and warm today, and on Tuesday.

C. P. R. REPORTED TO BE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE G.T.R. STRIKE

Present Request for Aid to Cabinet Ministers on Wednesday

Many Received Today — Royal Dragons Coming Sure — Ad. Men Report Big Crowds—List of Boarding Houses Read

Everything was hustle in the exhibition office yesterday with great bulk of exhibitors entries sent in with the mail. The whole staff turned to and straightened out the lists as they were submitted. Manager Good told the press that the company had been given time for the reception of entries until the end of the week, so that all Canada might present their share of the magnificence of the approaching Dominion Exhibition. Exhibitors indicated by the tremendous influx of applicants this morning, the number being in excess of all former last day of entry.

Official confirmation of the engagement of the Royal Canadian Dragoons to form the honour guard at the city march was received at the central office of the exhibition association to-day. The military band will be a most feature as the military band of the Dragoons has officially sanctioned the march of the men. Their scarlet uniforms will be a striking sight.

Developments do not appear to be of much importance. The weather was very sensitive to it. Reports of a character advancing corn would be followed by official raiding of the grain market. Heavy rains, affecting localities, would be succeeded by short covering.

We continue to watch news still more closely than ever. The new star attraction is the naval review to be held in the afternoon.

The developments in the approaching review seems as if every family will be represented by one or more members. The naval review will be joined by the Royal Canadian Navy and transportation companies asking extensive preparations to facilitate traffic.

The exhibition's State of the art division is making good progress.

Spain where the march is to be held.

The exhibition association's endeavours to meet all demands for accommodation both business and lodgings for the thousands of visitors placed in the hands of printer who typewritten folios of family names where strange to him can be accounted. These names will be available to him for any enquirer and will be hand for St. John people of whom need is made for information. The lists are arranged numerically and stain names of the families, street number, whether boarders or lodgers and that per day.

The exhibition bears the mark of value and it is certain its publication will be of valuable help.

Turnbull Real Estate Co., Objects to Imperial Oil Co., Placing Oil Barrels on Wharf

A expert statistic Charles Adams of the Turnbull Real Estate Co., that the Imperial Oil Company was violating the law concerning the placing of oil barrels on the estate company's wharf was dealt with in the police court yesterday.

Prosecutor was represented by Thomas H. Bullock, and the Turnbull company by Mr. Adams. After each of them had spoken evidence, the case was postponed to next morning.

Mr. Adams claimed that the Imperial Oil Company was jeopardizing the Turnbull property, by exposing the wharf, which was offered for arrest, and that the company had been following the course of the world-wide robbery he achieved by the cold-blooded murder of his wife.

The steamer Bear River, on which the oil was to be shipped, was not to sail until Tuesday.

Mr. Bullock said he thought it was

GROWTH OF AN IDEA

It is always interesting to watch the growth of an idea. The city fathers and the Hassam pavement present a case in point. When it was first proposed, quite a long time ago, to pave a portion of Germain street, the property owners were part of the cost, the petitioners had to pay part of the cost, the contractors had to pay part of the cost, and the Hassam pavement. The aldermen were horrified. With righteous wrath they refused to consider a petition that named any particular pavement. The petitioners thereupon dropped the name, and petitioned again, but several aldermen took pains to warn them that whatever else the council might do it would have nothing to do with Hassam pavement, giving reasons therefor which to them seemed quite sufficient. Behold the sequel. The Hassam pavement is triumphant, and the resignation and strenuous protest of an inspector who was believed to be fully competent until he dared to criticize the Hassam method is dismissed from consideration with a contemptuous wave of the hand.

The further progress of the Hassam idea will be watched with keen interest by the taxpayers.

PROVINCIAL DEVELOPMENT

Reference has been made in this paper to the work of the organization known as the Vancouver Island Development League, which is doing most valuable work in that portion of British Columbia. The League owes its birth to the Victoria Board of Trade, which appointed a strong committee, with Lt.-Col. Prior as chairman, to formulate a plan whereby all parts of the island could co-operate in a developmental league. The citizens of Victoria responded liberally to the call for funds, and the league, when organized, was in a position to employ a secretary, and enter upon a very active campaign of publicity.

The Victoria Colonist states that as a result of its work a very great deal has been done to make Vancouver Island known to travellers, investors, home-seekers and sportsmen, and in addition a spirit of co-operation between its various centres of population has been brought into existence.

Is it not something of this sort that we are seeking in the province of New Brunswick? Could not the St. John and Fredericton Trade take the lead in the formation of a New Brunswick Development League, in which other boards and newly formed local organizations in the counties would seek representation for co-operative effort? The general welfare is greater than local considerations, and no local jealousies should be permitted to stand in the way of a hearty co-operation. Such a league, with an active and capable secretary constantly at work, should be of very great benefit to the province. Why not make the effort?

THE VALLEY SURVEY

Referring to the attempts of the St. John Standard and Woodstock Press to discredit Mr. F. B. Carvell, Mr. P. E. Hart, and Mr. J. C. Hart, the Carleton Sentinel remarks these critics that it is not easy to fool Mr. Carvell in the matter of the geography of that county. The Sentinel adds that Mr. Carvell knows what sort of survey is being made, and that the facts will be laid before the public in good time. Summing up the present situation, the Sentinel says:

"We would remind the Press and the public at large that the Valley road is not built yet. But it will be built though we do not think that Mr. Hazel has not the right to say that the road will be built.

The Globe rightfully observes that what the citizens want is an explanation of the change in the foundation of the Main street pavement which enables the contractor to make a much larger profit. Mr. Carvell says the difference in cost is fifty per cent. Why should the contractor be paid by making such a change after the work had been begun?

THE BONNY BROWN HAND

Oh drearly, how drearly, the sombre eve cometh down! And wearily, how weary, the seaward breeze blow!

But place your little hand in mine—so dainty, yet so down, For I am here, and hath worn away its rosy-tinted snow!

But I fold it, wife, the nearer, And I feel, my love, 'tis death, That all down the glen, At I see the peacock gleaning And my wild thoughts cease from roaming.

And hard-like, fold their pinions close beside our peaceful bourn;

Then rest your little hand in mine, while twilight shimmers down— That hand holds me, and her fervent hand, the hand that holds an honest heart, and rules a happy heart.

—Paul Hamilton Hayne.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

NEW OPPORTUNITIES.

The folly that will ne'er be still, New plans may not commence, The man who rocks the ship will Be next in evidence.

OPEN UP NOW.

Eleanor, aged six, had been going to school for a few weeks. She had learned to open her hand if she wanted anything. One day she did just this effect when she was sent to the chickenhouse to get the eggs.

The long quiet tedious telegraph enabled the authorities to locate the murderer in mid-Atlantic, and escape was impossible. The pair had sailed for Canada, hopeful of escape. They were unconscious as the steamship sped toward the St. Lawrence that the web of fate closed around them, and that the wireless operator on the Montreal had told all the world the story. This is the first great criminal case in which the wireless telegraph has played a part. Henceforth there will be a new terror for the fugitive from justice.

The Crippen case has been, because of the nature of the crime and the arrest of the murderer one of the most sensational in the world's annals of crime.

This man murdered his wife, endeavored to conceal the crime by burying her body in quicklime, and went about openly with the young woman who had usurped her place in his affections. Being forced to flee, they evaded arrest until quite eyes on the steamship Montrose had laid an egg, raise your chickens that have laid an egg, raise your hands.

—Delineator.

END IN VIEW.

Perker—"If their rich uncle has acquired a mania for flying machines, why don't they try to have him placed under restraint?"

Parker—"They think they'll get a quick division when they bid for the land."

Perker—"They're getting a new terror and await developments."

PRAGTICAL GIRL.

He sold out of his practical love While on his bended knee,

And said, "Be mine; then, darling, oh,

How happy we shall be!"

But she, cold, calculating girl,

Replied, "First tell me, Mr. Spoon,

What is your salary?"

GOSSIP.

Mrs. Doocitull—"Isn't that Grinkle wonderful?"

Mrs. Dalrymple—"I should say she was!"

If we were like her, we'd never look in the mirror unless it was powdered.

HOW IT FELT.

"How do you feel to be the husband of a suffocate?" we asked of the man and his wife, who were seated in a chair.

"It feels," he replied, "like being a man servant without pay."

IT WAS A VOLUME OF TRAVEL.

After spending an evening with convivial friends, the head of the family entered the house as quietly as he could, turned up the lamp, and said, "I'm going to be a man, and get myself a library."

Presently his wife entered the room, as she would know she would, and asked what he was doing.

"I didn't feel like turning in when I first came home, and I've been reading some favorite passages from this stirring old work."

ALEXANDER GIBSON.

This is the ninth birthday of Mr. Alexander Gibson, former editor of the New Brunswick Standard, founder of the town of Marysville, and one of the most enterprising for half a century of all the captains of industry in the province.

Mr. Gibson can look back to the time when there was only an old, abandoned sawmill where Marysville now stands.

Fresh from successful lumbering operations at Lepreux, he went to the Nashua.

He cleared the stream and solved

the problem of a sun-supply of logs every year.

He built mills, opened brick yards, erected houses, added a cotton mill, built a church, and in the course of time there was a town.

He died in 1890, having left a record of failure. He took a hand in railway building and also conducted lumbering operations at Blivckville and set an example of increasing and well directed enterprise that was of immense benefit to York and Northumberland counties. He became also a powerful factor in York county politics, though studiously avoiding personal participation in public life. In Marysville he set the province the example of a sober town, where no liquor was permitted to be sold. If Mr. Gibson was an autocrat, he was a benevolent autocrat, that regard for the welfare of all people.

Business difficulties, however, led him to leave the business, and he died in poverty.

He had a little hammer.

She used it with a will.

They used to keep it till,

She knocked about her neighbors.

If they were friends or foes,

She knocked about the table

And when she was angry,

Said her snoring, too;

She knocked about his whistling;

And so, perhaps, was she.

At last she got tired of it,

Her course on earth was run;

Her husband then considered

Knocking days were done.

But hubby went one evening

When a spirit struck him,

When a spirit struck him,

The spirit comes and go,

He heard a spirit knocking—

"My wife," he said, "I'm bet!

Now isn't she a wonder?"

Hear that? She's knocking yet!"

—Yonkers Statesman.

HOME TO SEE THE KIDDIES

New York, Aug. 1—"Sol" Berliner is back in America after a nine years' absence, to see for the first time his daughter, six years old.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S western tour is marked by a series of ovations without parallel in Canadian history.

"As the days progress the situation grows more serious," says a despatch from Campbellton.

The question of providing adequate relief has not yet been taken up seriously by the people of the province.

Major Frink should not have permitted Murdoch to pollute the King square fountain with paving material for which Mr. Carvell says the tax-payers are paying two prices.

The fight is on between Spain and the Vatican. In the end, however, keen the religious tolerance will stand, and that Spain is the scene of such a struggle is itself extremely significant.
