THE SUGAR CAMPS.

On one of these pleasant April mornings a party started out to make a visit to the maple sugar camps which are about two miles from Hartland. After a tramp of nearly two hours through mud and mire, and snow and water, they arrived there tired and hungry but felt well repaid for their walk when they saw the cosy situation and were very much interested in learning how the sugar is made.

The camp is built of nice new clean boards, and on one side is the apparatus for boiling the sap.

The furnace is built of stone and brick and is about six feet long, two feet wide and two high. They have three square tin pans (holding, together 73 gallons) which fit nicely side by side over the fire. On the other side of the camp is another fire with a large pot hanging over it. This is the pot they "sugar off" in. The camp described belonged to Messrs Nevers and McMullin. They gathered from Friday until Wednesday morning 14½ hogsheads of sap. On Saturday they made 48 lbs of sugar, one gallon of honey, besides a quantity of candy. On Monday they made 70 lbs sugar.

Gilbert Parkers Works.

Clark, Copp & Co., publishers of Toronto, are issuing a uniform edition of Gilbert Parker's works. Four volumes have already been issued and others are to follow in rapid succession. The books are neatly printed on an excellent grade of paper and bound in cloth. The popularity of Gilbert Parker among Canadians is constantly increasing as his stories all deal with Canadian life in the Northwest and among the French inhabitants. His works should be in every Canadian home. The editions published so far are chiefly short stories but among those to be issued later on are "The translation of the Savage," "The trail of the Sword" and other popular works by Canadian novelists. Gilbert Parker is easily entitled to first place among Canadian writers of fiction and the publication of his complete works in uniform edition is an important contribution to Canadian literature.

"Building Notes."

From morning until night the sound of the hammer and saw is heard on every hand. Strangers passing through the village declare the buildings must grow up in a night. Shaw & Dibblee's annex is near completion on the outside; the annex to the Commercial Hotel is coming along apace. Richardson Porter & Co have purchased a block of lots on Bradley Street and will proceed at once with the construction of four or five cottages. Samuel Harmon's house is nearly completed. S. M. Boyer is about ready to begin the construction of his house.

In the Methodist Pulpit.

Last Sunday Rev Dystant pastor of the Methodist church at Bloomfield and Rev. G. A. Ross exchanged pulpits. Mr Dystant preached the Hartland congregation a very carefully prepared and impressive sermon from the words, "what think ye of Christ?" He gave the eulogiums of John the Evangelist, Paul the Apostle, Stephen the Martyr, Judas Iscariot the Traitor Napoleon the General, Rousseau the Author and Tennyson the Poet. Concluding he put to his hearers the question asked by the text.

A collection in aid of the Sustentation Fund was taken.

Change of Time.

There was another slight change in the running of the trains on Monday. The train leaving Woodstock at 2.35 p. m. will not run to Plaster Rock for some weeks as the road-bed on the Tobique section is heaving badly by the frost making running after dark unsafe. The Plaster Rock train starts out from Perth Jct. immediately after the express from the South arrives.

The freight trains have discontinued running through to McAdam, and Dan McKendrick is back on his old run.

Tuesday's Concert.

About one hundred people gathered at the Foresters Hall on Tuesday evening to listen to the concert given in aid of the Sidewalk Fund. The program consisted of music from the Band, selections from the graphophone, solo by Mrs. Curtis, duet by Misses Thornton and Matheson, declamation by B. W. Morgan, recitation by Etta Thistle and by Charles Rideout. After the program was rendered refreshments in the way of fruit and maple candy were sold. The net proceeds were about $10.

Narrow vs. wide wagon-Tires.

Scientific experiments extending over two years have been made under the auspices of the Stud-baker Bros., the widely known wagon-builders, to determine the relative qualities of wide and narrow wagon-wheel-tires. The results are too extensive to give in full. Every kind of road was used to test the question. It was found that on macadam roads the narrow tires were far inferior to the wide, and they required much greater effort to draw a given load. In a deeply rutted clay road, the narrow tires running in the ruts and the wide tires on top, the narrow tires were far more efficient. This was also the case with wet mud. But as soon as the mud began to dry the wide tires showed a vast superiority. In general the only justification for narrow tires proved to be thoroughly bad roads.

Frank St. Mary, a young Poseyville farmer had an eating contest with several friends and downed a lot of lemons seeds and all, and a can of baked beans. A second young man ate one pound each of honey, candy and peanuts, while a third drank a pint of castor oil. All were very sick as a result and St Mary died.

Arbor Day Hymn.

Air—My Maryland.

Now join we all in glad some song,
This Arbor Day, glad Arbor Day;
And lift a chorus sweet and strong
To hail the balmy month of May.
The birds are singing in the trees,
The flowers are springing at our feet,
And sunshine tempers every breeze
This Arbor Day, glad Arbor Day.

O nature fair, we sing to thee,
This Arbor Day, glad Arbor Day;
Rich nature, who with hand so free
Hath lavished beauties in our way,
God give us eyes thy works to see,
God give us hearts that know thy love,
And souls that feel thy harmony,
This Arbor Day, glad Arbor Day
—VERNON P. SQUIRES.

CLEOPATRA

(Editorial in Victoria Colonist, C. H. Lugin, editor.)

We shall never know what the real Cleopatra was like. That she was a woman of extraordinary personal charms seems to be unquestionable. That she was a woman of brilliant attainments may be inferred from the fact that she was said to be able to converse freely in seven languages. That she was possessed of great talents may be inferred from the ascendancy over Caesar and Antony. She came of a family which produced many great men. She was a daughter of the Ptolmeys, a family, which originating in Greece, ruled Egypt for three centuries. The splendor of their reigns was remarkable and some of the sovereigns of the name gained great renown by their literary and scientific attainments. Cleopatra was born in 69 B. C. and died in 30 B. C. having been therefore only 39 years old at the time the little serpent ended her short but meteoric career. When eighteen years of age she ascended the throne of Egypt conjointly with her brother. The latter dispossessed her, whereupon Caesar came to her rescue, with the result that she was restored to her place and her brother was driven from the kingdom. Two years later she repaid Caesar for his kindness by going to Rome to live with him. She remained there for two years until immediately after Caesar's death. Of her relations with Antony and her tragic death on being falsely told that he had been slain at Actium it is not necessary to say anything.

Cleopatra is interesting as a type of her sex at the meridian splendor of ancient civilization. In some respects we fall to-day very short of the height attained in Egypt and Rome during the century preceding the beginning of the present era. When Cleopatra visited Antony at Tarsus in 41 B. C., her voyage is said to have been marked by inconceivable magnificence. Ingenuity and wealth exhausted themselves in contributing to the pleasure of those in power in those days. Yet such men as the Ptolmeys and such women as Cleopatra were not mere voluptuaries. The fine arts received their patronage; literature flourished under their influence, what then passed for science was greatly encouraged by them. Among them were great soldiers, great statesmen, men of the broadest ideas. There were philosophers among them, careful students, profound scholars. Yet along with all these admirable traits we find an abandonment to sensual pleasures that is incomprehensible to the people of our own days. We would find ourselves unable to understand how, for example, a European queen could sink to such a level that at the time of a crisis in the affairs of her kingdom she would go to a foreign capital and live as mistress of the sovereign in exchange for his protection against another country, or that the people of either country would tolerate any such conduct on their ruler's part. That Cleopatra could have done this and that Caesar lost no standing by it serves to show upon how very different a plane society was ordered then to what is now. The age was one of intense materialism, against which the teachings of the Neoplatonists in Egypt and of Christ in Palestine were protests. Of this materialism Cleopatra was a splendid representative. For her there was nothing in life comparable to material enjoyment, and when the man of her choice was reported slain, all the greatness and glory of her surroundings all the traditions of her illustrious race were as nothing. Only in death could she find solace. In her we have the spirit of ancient civilization typified. It was of the earth earthy. It was great in material achievements; it was little in everything which tended to the elevation of man to his true position. We can find in the career of this remarkable woman, if we look closely enough, all that is necessary to account for the fall of the empires of her day and the centuries immediately preceding. They built upon a foundation that was not abiding, because they ignored the divine spark which alone distinguishes mankind from lower creatures. We cannot imagine representative men and women of this age recognizing the higher aspect of humanity which the Psalmist had in mind when he uttered that rhapsody beginning:

"When I consider the heavens the work of thy fingers,
And the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained,
What is man that thou art mindful of him."

No such lofty conception entered their minds. Their thoughts were not above the present life; their ideal of existence was to make the most of the passing hour. They said to their souls let us eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die. Of this class was Cleopatra, with all her beauty, all her accomplishments, all her intelligence, all her power as queen. The civilization which she represented did not die with her, but lingered on for some centuries but it had lost its vital force and not even the glorious galaxy of thinkers beginning with Philo Judaeus and ending with Hypatia could save it from extinction.

It is evidently intended to make the Kingston penitentiary a place of punishment within the meaning of the word. After having deprived the convicts of their tobacco supply the order has gone forth that they be further deprived of sugar for their tea and butter for their bread. The convicts find this dry fare, but what they get of it is wholesome and substantial.

On Wednesday G. A. Brittain of Bristol received a dispatch from Vancouver announcing the death of his son Albert A. Brittain, which occurred at Skaguay on the 10th instant. No particulars concerning his death were learned but it is supposed to be accidental. Mr. Brittain was about 32 years old, left Bristol for Klondyke last February, and a letter received a few days ago stated that he intended to leave Skaguay in a few days and try the Chilkoot Pass. He was proprietor of the Bristol wood-working factory.

Two Lives Lost.—An explosion in Lepages factory, Toronto, last Friday, caused the death of two persons, one being Fred Dawson, who belonged to Carleton County near Woodstock. An over heated pot of japan exploded and his cloths took fire, but before rushing out he stopped to rescue Herbert Lepage the seven-year-old son of the proprietor, who happened to be playing about the floor. Dawson carried the boy out, but the latter expired in a few minutes from the inhalation of smoke and flames. Dawson was terribly burned and was removed to the hospital where he died.

Old Residents Die

D. Semple and D. Fitzgerald Pass Away.

On Sunday, Centreville lost by death one of its best known citizens in the person of David Fitzgerald. Deceased had been ill scarcely two weeks when the end came. His malady was dropsy of the heart. He had always been a very hard working man and his demise may be attributed as much to senility as to the acute disease. He was 62 years of age. Mr. Fitzgerald was a native of Prince Edward Island, and came to this province about 40 years ago. At one time he was in the employ of J. W. Boyer at Victoria. He also spent some time in the States. About 20 years ago he began shoemaking at Centreville where he continued in business until his death. He was a Forester and was buried by that order on Wednesday. He leaves a wife and grown up children.

David Semple, J. P. and postmaster of East Florenceville died on Tuesday of typhoid fever and other diseases. He had been ill nearly three weeks. He leaves a wife and several children. Mr. Semple was born in Scotland 60 years ago, and came to this country at the time Glassville was colonized. He located at East Florenceville, where he has ever since resided. The funeral was held on Thursday, under Masonic honors. He also was a Forester.

20 YEARS OF BONDAGE

Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills Loose the Shackles of Constipation and Stomach Disorders.

In summing up the causes of human misery it will be found that by far the greatest sources of disease originate in derangement of the Stomach and Bowels. People will abuse their stomachs and neglect the calls of nature till they bring on themselves her vengeance. To get back to nature's paths, to have the Stomach and Bowels once more fulfilling their function properly, to clear the system of all the results and consequences of poison accumulating and circulating in the Blood, is the work of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Thos. Miller, Lucknow, Ont., says that he was afflicted with Stomach Trouble and Constipation for about 20 years, during which time he tried almost everything he heard of, but to no purpose. Mr. H. Day, the popular druggist, sent him a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills. The first dose he took did him good, and they have proved so effectual in his case that he recommends them to all those afflicted as he was.

HARTLAND, Carleton Co., N. B.
P. O. Box 17.

Some time ago there was a discussion on among certain metropolitan newspapers as to whether it was better policy to retract a statement that had been erroneously published, or to stolidly endeavour to prove the matter. The question was decided in the affirmative. Acting upon this precedent, the ADVERTISER must, and does, contradict the item of last week regarding the Government and the projected Hartland Bridge. The information was false, and furnished by unreliable correspondents. A recent letter from the Premier to the ADVERTISER among other things touches upon the items regarding the Bridge that have gone the rounds of the press. Although the letter is private some of the contents bear considerable interest to our readers. Therefore we take the liberty to quote: I have too much respect for the good people of Hartland, and for their delegates who conferred with us on the subject of the bridge, to permit them to first receive the information of the decision reached by the public press. Let me assure you that when the matter is finally concluded it will take the form of an order in Council, of which a copy will be first sent to your delegates *** No final decision has yet been agreed upon. *** Your delegates are not justified in having any other impressions than those gathered as a result of the interview at the time they appeared before the Government here." The ADVERTISER has good reason to believe that the bridge project is not a dead issue, but it has no grounds for venturing an opinion as to when the final decision will be reached. Our readers at any rate can rest assured that the news will appear in the ADVERTISER immediately on its being given out.

* * *

During the coming week or two the attention of the people of Carleton County will be about equally divided between the affairs at home and abroad. The Circuit Court opens on Tuesday and the notorious Canovan-Tucker case will come up. A woman may be sentenced to death or life-long imprisonment. In the Hispano-American war thousands will go to death, and mothers, wives, and sweethearts will spend their days in grief.

War Is Declared.

Hostilities May Commence Today

Both the House of Representatives and the Senate have passed the measures making inevitable war between the United States and Spain, unless the latter backs down, or, rather, peacefully relinquishes her right in Cuba and withdraws her forces therefrom. In the ultimatum issued by President McKinley, Spain is given until today to make her decision. There is hardly a possibility that Cuba will be given up without a struggle. Therefore by the time this issue is in the subscribers hands American cannon may belch forth death and destruction upon the Spaniards. The assault will be returned, and more freely than ever before human blood will flow in the cause of the Independence of Cuba. That the war will be long and terrible is beyond doubt.

The final result of the conflict has been much conjectured, but now it seems that the consensus of opinion is that the States will eventually become victors. With navies quite evenly matched the Spaniards are bred fighters, are fearless and treacherous.

The Americans are probably more skilful tacticians, but in actual warfare the present generation is inexperienced. But they have studied the methods of other nations, and are well posted theoretically. If they come of victorious it will be because their resources are the greater. Spain's coffers are well drained because of a many years struggle to suppress an insurrection in Cuba.

NOTES OF THE WAR.

The Spanish minister at Washington was given his passport on Wednesday and at once left the Capital. He proceeded to Niagara, thence to Toronto. He will finally sail from Halifax.

It is said the Cunard line of steamships will land at Halifax during the time hostilities are in force.

There is some hope for Papa! intervention. The scheme is that Spain will cede Cuba to the Pope who will transfer the Island to the States. This would enable Spain to escape the humiliation of surrendering to the United States. But this rumor is unauthorized.

Spain will endeavour to make the field of battle near Puerto Rico, near the eastern extremity of Cuba. This action will be to draw American vessels as far as possible away from their source of supplies and nearer those of Spain.

American land forces actually enlisted number 113,000; but volunteers can be drawn by tens of thousands. Scores of regiments of regulars are being transported to Florida.

There will be a concert under auspices of the Womans Christian Temperance Union at Burt's Hall Monday May 2nd at 7.30. The proceeds will be used in Provincial Temperance work and in assisting the W. C. T. U. of Windsor Nova Scotia, who suffered so severely from the fire that swept over their town in Oct. 1897. Further particulars later.

Mrs. George Shaw of Hartland, N. B., who came up on Friday to visit her friends here, returned home Tuesday. Mrs. Shaw's husband is a member of the company that bought the Dominion of Canada right in the Wallace & Hilton Sash Balance and Lock. That company have their fixtures on the market and say they are so popular they are not able at present to fill orders as fast as they come in.—Fort Fairfield Paper.

Major G. E. Boyer and Henry Bradley went to Centreville on Tuesday to attend the funeral of David Fitzgerald. On Thursday Geo. R. Burt and Murdock Matheson went to East Florenceville to be present at the burial of David Semple.

Frank E. McGee of Somerville, who left for Klondyke a few weeks ago, writes a very interesting letter to the "Dispatch." In conclusion he remarks that the Book of books says wise men came from the East. But he is of another opinion. He says the fools go west.

The ice escaped on Saturday last much to the encouragement of the merchants who felt seriously the loss of the west side trade. The ferry boat was launched on Wednesday and now a trip can be made to the other side and back with neatness and dispatch, provided one can flash up 16 cents.

J. E. and Guy McJollom took from here on Monday nearly one hundred men for the drive on Sisson Branch and the head waters of St. John. Usually such a crowd of men quaff freely from the cup of iniquitous intoxication, but on this occasion there was not the slightest evidence of strong drink, speaking well for the Scott Act as enforced in Hartland.

A TROUBLE NO LONGER REGARDED AS INCURABLE.

An Orangeville Lady Who Had Suffered Severely Speaks of Her Illness and Tells How She Found a Cure.

From the Sun, Orangeville, Ont.

A remarkable case recently came under the notice of our reporter, and for the benefit it may be to some of our readers, we are going to tell them about it. In the south ward of this town lives Mrs. John Hubbard, a lady much esteemed by those who know her. Mrs. Hubbard has been a great sufferer from heart trouble, and ultimately became so bad that it would not have surprised her friends to have heard of her death. But a change has come and she is once more rejoicing in good health. When our reporter called upon Mrs. Hubbard and made his mission known she said she would be delighted to tell him of her "miraculous cure" as she styled it. "Of course no one thought I would get better. I thought myself I could not last long, for at times it seemed as if my heart was going to burst. Oh, the dreadful sensations, the awful pains and weakness together with a peculiar feeling of distress, all warned me that my life was in danger. I consulted a doctor but he could do absolutely nothing for me. My friends saw me gradually sinking, and many an hour's anxiety I caused them. My strength waned, my nerves were shattered; I could not walk, for every step caused my heart to palpitate violently. It is utterly impossible to fully describe my condition. One day a friend brought me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and told me to use them, but I said there was no use—they could do no good. To this my benefactor replied, that if they did not they at least could do no harm, so to please her I took the box of pills. Then I procured another box and began to feel that they were doing me good. I took in all eight boxes and now I feel strong and hearty, each day doing my housework without fatigue or weariness. For anyone who suffers from weakness of the heart, I believe there is no remedy so sure or that will bring such speedy results as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Had I only used these wonderful pills at first I would have been spared months of intense suffering. Mrs. Hubbard but re-echoes the experience of scores of sufferers, and what she says should bring hope to many who imagine there no relief for them in this world. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved more lives than we will ever know of.

Harper's Round Table prints the following note received by a city school teacher from the mother one of her pupils: "Please excuse Henny for absent yesterday. Him an me got a chance at a ride to a funeral in a carriage, an I let him stay to home, as he hab never rode in a carriage an never went to a funeral nor had many other pleasures. So please excuse."

Oats Three Cents Higher!

The Shipper's Union Raise the Buying Prices.

There was a meeting of the Produce Shipper's Union at East Florenceville on Wednesday. Considerable routine business was transacted; and the price of oats was raised from 27 cents to 30 cents a bushel, for "No. 1 Recleaned" The next meeting of the Union will be held at Hartland at the call of the Secretary.

War with Spain.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward speaks as follows regarding the jingo newspapers:—What should be said of the newspaper men who might be guilty of causing such an immeasurable woe? God only could forgive them. This country never would. Let us remember that civilized nations are no longer thugs and pirates. It is out of date to settle national differences by slaughter. The incendiary editor raves hotly over the loss of three hundred men. But he coldly instigates the murder of three hundred thousand or three times that. He pours fiery rhetoric about the miseries consequent on the explosion of one battle-ship. But he is laying the torpedoes which may blow up two navies. He places the mine. He trails the wire: he puts his finger on the electric button. He is the criminal. He is a thousandfold more guilty than any possible savage, or maniac, who might, by any conceivable turn of events, be suspected to know more than he choose to tell about the destruction of the Maine.

The Birth of the Rose.

A thistle once grew near a lily,
A stately lily and fair,
And the wind swayed the one to the other
And the wind of love was there.

And unto the lily and thistle
A sweet little flower was born,
And the lily bent down to caress it,
And his finger was picked by a thorne.

The blood of the pale pure lily
In the joy of her motherhood shed,
Gave the sweet little stranger its color,
Gave the rose its beautiful red.

The rose that unto the lily
And unto the thistle was born,
By the lily was given its beauty,
By the thistle was given its thorne.
—S. E. Kiser

Why Chickens Die.

The "unknown cause" of the frequent losses among chickens before they are more than 4 weeks old which we see frequently spoken of or inquired about in some of the papers professedly devoted to the poultry interests, and which they often ascribe to "constitutional weakness," is most frequently caused by indigestion. The weakness is an inability to digest their food with out clean grit of some sort to go with it into the gizzard, or to digest sour and moldy dough or moldy grain under any conditions. We have seen some such cases, and we always found either this or lice in abundance to be the cause of the trouble. There may be a constitutional lack of vigor which causes chickens to die in the shell before they are sufficiently developed to break out and which causes well cared for chickens to grow very slowly and mature late, and even to be generally worthless after they have matured, but we ascribe these to the breeding fowl having been made too fat or to having been weakened by some disease like the roup. Sudden deaths in great numbers after the chickens are hatched and growing well are usually due to a lack of vigor on the part of the keeper. Somebody is too lazy, careless or busy at something else to kill the vermin in the coops, give fresh, clean gravel in the yards and mix fresh sweet food every time they are fed and take away all that they will not eat up clean, as soon as it is given them.—American Cultivator.

"Crossing the Bar."

"Crossing the Bar," says Lord Tennyson in the life of his father, was written in the poet's eighty-first year, on a day in October when we came from Aldworth to Farringford. Before reaching Farringford he had the 'Moaning of the Bar' in his mind, and after dinner he showed me this poem written out. I said, 'That is the crown of your life's work?' 'It came in a moment' He explained the 'Pilot' as 'That Divine and Unseen Who is always guiding us.' A few days before his death he says to me, 'Mind you put "Crossing the Bar" at the end of all editions of my poems.'

The Kicking Cow.

Pass a one-fourth-inch rope five feet long around the cow just in front of the udder and tie tightly on the cow's back, directly in front of the hips. When kicking is attempted the cow will fall over and will seldom try a second time. This is rather severe treatment and is not recommended except as a last resort. Try kindness at first, especially with young heifers.

J. T. G. Carr has got in a fine line of ladies capes. Call and secure one before they are all sold.

The West Side Speaker.

The ice started here Friday and we have clear water between here and the other side of the river. "Oh! for a Bridge." That is the question agitating the minds of the people on both sides of the river, especially in this vicinity, and the talk they make is that a bridge has got to come, or they will know the reason why. And when the people speak in that manner, they mean business. Two months past and no communication on account of the uncertainty of the ice. Only the most venturesome would attempt to cross, and yet there will be a month or more before the boat will be able to get across, with safety. Even then it will only be in a case of life or death which would tempt a boat out. We are in hopes that ere a year passes something tangible will be the out come of this talk and step taken to show the people that the government is doing all in its power to grant their demands. Even if the county does run into debt, a few more thousand will not be felt and we may as well help to make the debt larger and have something to show for it, as to have a debt anyway and nothing to show how it was incurred.

While we are talking of a debt, would it not be as well for the village of Hartland to run into debt on its own account? A stranger would look with surprise and wonder how such a thriving village would allow their main highway to be in such a dilapidated state. In many places there is hardly room enough for teams to pass; alleyways run into the streets, making ugly pitfalls for the unwary. It is a crying shame to allow the present state of things to last, and something should be done to close up these alleyways and level up to the Main Street, which would tend to make your highway much safer to travel and be a decided improvement on the appearance of the village. Your little town is growing, and you should endeavor to keep up the requirements of the public. This should be the first step, improve the highways. Not only on the main highway, but the back streets should have their share of attention.

The tax payers do not all live on main street there are some who have residences on the back streets, who pay all taxes demanded of them, and have a perfect right to expect the authorities to provide them a way to reach their homes in some other manner than plowing through mud to their boot tops.

Not much expense would be incurred in laying a walk to these places. We are glad to see the young taking an interest in the welfare of the village, and doing what they can to assist in its improvement.

The money derived from the Basket Social will go a good way to repair and build sidewalks and with a little assistance from all the village could have a respectable sidewalk through each street.

A WEST SIDER.

Keswick's Tin Pails 2 for 22 cents are not genuine hand made pails nor yet are they the cheap tumble down stuff, but will compare favourably with the hand made ones.

Produce Shipper's Union.

A Circular Letter to Carleton Co., Farmers.
To the farmers of the County of Carleton,

Gentlemen:—We the undersigned Produce Shippers of Carleton County knowing the serious loss resulting to you from the fact that the Produce shipped to the larger markets is frequently below the required standards have formed ourselves into an association to be known as the "Produce Shipper's Union." We are desirous of working for our mutual benefit and beg to call your attention to the following negotiations.

OATS

For some time there has been a difference between the price of Carleton County oats and Ontario oats in our Maritime markets and believing that our oats (if properly cleaned) are very nearly equal to the Ontario oats, we intend with the beginning of next season to make the standard "No 1 re-cleaned oats," and for the quality we hope to obtain for you a price from 3 to 5c, a bushel more than we have been able to get for oats such as have been shipped in previous years. This will mean an annual increase to the farmers of this county of from $12,000 to $15,000. We think it worth while making a mutual effort to secure such an addition to your income. We trust that all our farmers will make a special effort to sow only good clean seed which will go long way towards getting the standard we are anxious to secure. We regret that the reputation of the grain of this, one of the finest agricultural Counties of the Dominion, is so far below what it might and ought to be. We sincerely hope you will all heartily unite with us in our effort to raise the standard of quality and what is of equal or greater importance—the price.

HAY

In the matter of hay also we feel there is much room for improvement. Many complaints have come to us this season in regard to the quality of hay shipped from this county. We would urge the farmers to sow only the best seed, exercise the greatest care in making the hay and select the qualities intended to be pressed, putting them in separate mows. It is a mistake also to haul hay to market on a damp day unless a tarpaulin is used. By attending to these matters our hay will obtain a better reputation than it has at present

BEANS

To bring the highest price, beans should be hand-picked. A bean that the shipper can truthfully label "hand-picked" will always command a considerable better price than what are known as "choice" or "medium."

With reference to Butter, Potatoes &c. we repeat what we have said above, that the better the quality, the more we will be able to pay you.

Trusting we may work together in these matters for our mutual benefit.

We remain Gentlemen,

Yours sincerely

The Philosopher's Stone.

John Randolph once declared, "I have found the philosopher's stone," and it was "Pay as you go."

There are other ways of saying the same thing. "Stretch yourself according to your coverlet." "Better go to bed supperless than rise in debt." "Who goes a borrowing goes a sorrowing." But best of all is the terse saying of Scriptures, "The borrower is servant of the lender."

Debt is a millstone around a man's neck. It robs him of self-respect, for it is a true saying, "an empty bag cannot stand upright." It alienates his friends, paralyzes his love for labor and plants thorns in his dying pillow.

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be," says Shakespeare, "For loan oft loses both itself and friends, And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry."

The passion for debt seems a disease with some men. Pitt, who managed admirably the finances of the British realm at a salary of £6,000 a year, died so deeply involved that an appropriation of £40,000 was necessary to satisfy his creditors. Sheridan passed the greater part of his life flying from duns, wore out the pains of his last illness in the custody of the sheriff, and only escaped when death, by virtue of a habeas corpus which no court nor magistrate can resist, led him away to the great assize. Mirabeau kept himself out of the Debtor's Prison by securing a lettre de cachet to the Bastille; and when he died his tailor stood at the door of the death chamber with a bill for his wedding suit.

The works at Plaster Rock, on the Tobique, are to be re-opened under the management of Jas. Stewart of Perth, who will grind Tobique plaster for shipment to all parts of Canada and to Maine where it is in demand for the potato fields.

OBSTINATE COUGHS.

"My daughter being afflicted with an obstinate cough which resisted the curative effects of almost all the advertised cough remedies and having placed an order for 3 doz. of Chase's Linseed and Turpentine in W. W. Carter's Drug Store, of which I am manager, I was induced to try a bottle. A few doses gave relief and the one bottle effected a cure. I can highly recommend it as being pleasant to take and efficacious."
