FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN BOODING

McGill Experiencing Little Difficulty So Far in Effort to Raise a Million Dollars in Five Days.

$660,000 NOW.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—McGill's five day whirlwind campaign to raise a million dollars which opened Monday morning, is proving successful. Today it was announced that $660,000 had already been pledged. The business men of the city are being systematically canvassed for subscriptions and the most prominent men in the city are working on the committees which are collecting subscriptions. Two subscriptions of $100,000 each have been given with conditions attached. Dr. Douglas offers a hundred thousand if the other nine hundred thousand is collected.

While Robert Reford offers a like amount provided the total collections amount to a million and a half, it is thought that this is merely an incentive, however, and that the money will be forthcoming in any case.

Subtracting these two subscriptions from the $660,000, the organizers still find themselves $60,000 ahead of the necessary daily average.

Among the big subscriptions are $100,000 from the Birks family, $50,000 from R. B. Angus, $25,000 from J. W. McCannell, $25,000 from the Drummond family in memory of the famous habitant poet, Dr. Drummond, $25,000 from Howard Wilson and a large number of $10,000 subscriptions.

The students have joined in the work and are doing what they can and it is thought that some $6,000 will be collected from the various classes.

The money is badly needed as McGill has had huge deficits in recent years and there is little prospect of provincial aid.

DISCUSSION OF CANADA'S POLICE AND SUFFRAGES

Ven. Archdeacon Renison Delivers Forceful Address at Last Evening's Session—Sir Andrew Fraser Tells of Mission Work in India -- The Local Church Subject of Morning Session.

QUESTION OF TAINTED MONEY.

Three sessions of the Laymen's Missionary Congress were held in the Centenary church yesterday. At the morning session the subject of discussion was the Local Church, and how it might aid in the missionary movement. At the afternoon session the theme of the speakers was organization, personal effort, and the best methods of raising money for missionary purposes. At question hour there was a moment of excitement when the question of tainted money was raised, but the answer was so tactful that the matter was dropped without discussion.

At the evening session Ven. Archdeacon Renison delivered an eloquent and forceful address on the positions and duties of Canada, and Sir Andrew Fraser gave an interesting account of his personal experiences with missions in India. J. Campbell White also spoke on the call to Service.

Evening Session.

At the opening session Bishop Richardson presided, and there was a large attendance. The devotional exercises were led by Rev. D. MacDermid, and after a number of hymns the chairman introduced the Archdeacon of Moncton.

Archdeacon Renison spoke on Canada today and tomorrow.

MR. HAZEN AND MR. PUGSLEY SEVERELY HANDLED.

Government Will be Guided by British Admiralty Before Deciding Upon Course to be Taken -- Liberal Plans Called for Obsolete Ships -- New Brunswick's Minister in Great Speech.

MR. PUGSLEY SEVERELY HANDLED.

London, Nov. 21.—The suffragettes finally won their way into the House of Commons tonight. They had threatened to force their way into the House of Commons and make a protest on the floor of the House against the Prime Minister's refusal to pledge the government to a bill giving equal suffrage to both sexes, but they failed to reach the entrance to Parliament.

Thwarted by the police, who made upwards of 180 arrests, the suffragettes resorted to a campaign of wild smashing. Driven from Parliament Square by the police, 1800 of whom were on duty, the women, accompanied by sympathizers and gangs of rowdies proceeded through White Hall armed with bags of stones collected under their coats, and broke the windows in the public offices, the Liberal headquarters and the National Club. They even extended their operations to the Strand where windows of the post office bank and other private concerns suffered from the onslaught.

The militant tactics of the suffragettes followed a statement by Premier Asquith that the government was unable to introduce a bill to enfranchise women, as the cabinet was divided on the question, but would allow an amendment to be introduced to the House of Commons to decide whether women should be given a vote.

The suffragettes had made ample preparations to renew their attacks on Parliament with a haul which was expected to surpass all previous efforts. They met early in the evening in Caxton hall, about a mile from Parliament Square, and after adopting a resolution declaring that the Prime Minister's denial of their request was a grave and unpardonable insult to the suffragettes, they proceeded to the House of Commons to present their petition.

GERMANY AND BRITAIN WERE NEAR TO WAR

Germany's Official Report of Moroccan Difficulty Shows That Some Very Sharp Notes were Exchanged.

A TENSE SITUATION.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The official report of the sitting of the budget committee of the Reichstag on Nov. 17, when Foreign Minister Von Kiderlin-Waechter made a report on Anglo-German relations as affected by the Moroccan dispute with France, was published today.

The foreign minister's account of the interviews before the British Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, and the German Ambassador at London, Count Wolf-Meterstick, and of the communications that passed between Germany and England show that the situation was most tense, from July 21 to July 27, and the language used on both sides was so sharp that a peaceful outcome of the affair under the circumstances was considered most fortunate.

Great Britain, according to Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter, after receiving on July 1, an individual as well as a general explanation of the objects of the despatch of the German warship Panther to Agadir, remained silent until July 21. Sir Edward Grey then had a conversation with the German ambassador in which he declared that the time had come for Great Britain to intervene in the Franco-German negotiations. Since these negotiations were about to be broken off owing to Germany's unacceptable proposals, which would raise the question of the future of Morocco, he requested an explanation of the German designs at Agadir.

The ambassador replied sharply that the minister had no right to declare that Germany had made unacceptable demands, nor had any right to intervene in the negotiations on the mere supposition that naval bases at Agadir, in which there was no profit. He challenged the British foreign secretary to specify any British interests affected by the German action. He suggested that intervention had better be postponed until this could be done.

Germany then sent a formal reply giving assurance that she had never contemplated a naval base at Agadir, nor the acquisition of Morocco. She expressed regret that Great Britain had credited such intentions, but could not accept British participation in the negotiations. Without waiting for the German answer, however, the British government launched the Lloyd-George speech on July 21, which was everywhere regarded as a threat against Germany.

Germany three days later made energetic representations to the British Lloyd-George speech was calculated to destroy hope of a Franco-German settlement, and that Great Britain could find no better means to pre-empt hostilities.

Threats would not turn Germany from asserting her rights. It was pointed out again that Great Britain was interested in Morocco because of her liberty to intervene whenever her interests were affected. Sir Edward Grey was formally invited to end the tension by declaring to parliament that these had not been touched in the current negotiations.

On July 27th, an inspired statement was published that the British government did not contemplate participation in the negotiations and that the Moroccan situation. This brought an end to the crisis.

DECLARES SPENCER COULDN'T HELP IT

Dr. Lane Thinks He Was Insane and Unable to Act Otherwise—Lacked Control.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 21.—A declaration that Bertram G. Spencer, who is on trial for his life charged with the murder of Miss Martha B. Blackstone, was insane at the time the young school teacher was shot and killed, was made late today by Dr. Edward B. Lane, of Jamaica Plain, an alibi in the employ of the defense. Dr. Lane testified that he examined the prisoner on September 7, 1910 and on Oct. 14, 1911.

Taking into consideration "the testimony as to the condition of the defendant's family, the defendant's education, his violent outbreaks and delinquencies and subsequent confessions," Dr. Lane was of the opinion that the defendant was unable to refrain from committing murder. He said that Spencer lacked sufficient control.

Territorial Revenue Breaks All Records

Hon. W. C. M. Giddens will certainly leave the office of surveyor general in the government of New Brunswick with an excellent record to show for his work since Mr. Giddens first assumed the office the territorial revenue has steadily increased and the returns for the ending in stamp duty on October 31st last show the greatest year in the history of the province. The report which will be submitted for the last year shows total revenues of $529,823.82, and of this amount $367,641.02 has been collected in stamp duty. It will be remembered that the last year of the Robinson government the stampage collected on the measures under the government of Mr. Giddens increased to $191,000 by resale, but even at the latter figure

GERMANY WILL INQUIRE INTO MURDER IN CHINA

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The government today instructed its representative in Germany to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the murder at Sian-Fu of Philip Manners, a German subject who was employed as a member of the British Royal Family to be taken later will depend upon the reports received.

The measures necessary for the safety of foreign legations and the maintenance of communication between Peking and Tien Tsin are dependent on the judgment of the foreign diplomatic corps, and no decisions in the questions that have arisen have been made yet in Berlin.

TURKS AND ITALIANS AGAIN MEET

Tripoli, Nov. 21.—A stiff outpost fight took place yesterday morning as a result of which, according to Italian reports, the Turks were forced to retreat, leaving nine dead on the field. They carried off their wounded. Later in the day the Turks twice returned to the offensive. The Italian grenadiers and artillery replied to their attacks and again repulsed the enemy, of whom twenty were killed. The Italians did not suffer any loss. Five aeroplanes, which had been sent out to reconnoiter, returned to camp and reported that there had been no change in the Turkish position. They had succeeded in dropping some bombs inside the Turkish camp, which the observers in the military balloon were able to see was destroyed.

At the same time the Italian armored cruiser Carlo Alberto bombarded the village of Annus and the fort of Heni, a few miles from Tripoli. A lively combat also occurred at Derna, where the Turks advanced to the attack under cover of a fog. The whole Italian force went into action and succeeded in repulsing the enemy. There is no change in the situation at Benghazi and Homs.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 21.—To safeguard American interests and prevent a state of anarchy in Santo Domingo, the United States government has decided that the big armored cruisers Washington and North Carolina, but in the Atlantic fleet, should be dispatched with all speed to San Domingo city.

INTERESTING DISCUSSION IN SENATE

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The debate upon the address was begun in the senate today and was marked with spirit and liveliness almost equal to the debate in the Commons.

Senator Bell, of Pictou, moved the address and like the speakers who followed him, referred to the great satisfaction Canadians feel at having a member of the British Royal Family for governor general.

Capital was one of the great needs of the Canadian farmer today and he thought would be well for the Dominion to follow the example of the Motherland and come to the aid of the farmers, to assist them with the credit of the state in raising capital on proper security.

The address was seconded by Senator George Taylor, who found himself in the senate after 29 years in the Commons. Taking up the paragraph of the speech from the throne he said that the growth of Canada shown by the census was fully satisfactory. The government was to be commended for having undertaken to promote the prosperity of the agricultural interests of Canada and in no way could this be better done than by the improvement of highways.

Sir Richard Cartwright dealt especially with issues raised in the recent campaign and read an editorial extract from an American paper which concluded: "Canada may congratulate itself upon having done more to estrange the two nations than she will be able to repair for many a day." "I fear," continued Sir Richard, "that expresses only too correctly the sentiment of a great many people."

WOODSTOCK PLANS TO AVOID FUTURE FIRES

Town Council Repeals By-law Passed in 1905 and Adopts Stringent Regulation for Brick Construction.

Special to The Standard.
Woodstock, Nov. 21.—As the result of the recent fire in Connel street, destroying a block of wooden buildings, the town council this evening repealed the brick limit, by law ordered Nov. 10th, 1905, and made a more stringent one, covering all the principal business streets of the town.

The greater part of the business section of the town is now brick, built of stone, and the intention is to have all of this section built of these materials as the wooden part is destroyed by fire or otherwise. The use of wooden shingle roofs is prohibited in the residential portion including the district bounded on the west by Green street, on the south by Chapel and Regent streets, on the north by Elm street, and on the east by the St. John river. In this district buildings must be covered with gravel or metal roofs or other fire-proofing.

No buildings shall be erected hereafter within the limits described above without a permit first obtained from the building inspector. Stephen Green, Peter Church, and St. John, secretary of the board of fire underwriters, who was here, has approved of the new by-law.

At once informed and took prompt steps to have the boy's home quarantined. The school is also closed today for fumigation.

DISCUSSION AT LAYMEN'S CONGRESS

a unique position—midway between the civilization of Europe and the Orient. When the Panama canal was opened there would be great changes on the Pacific coast.
Christianity was exercising a great influence upon the Orient. Old religions were being broken down.
Christianity was the only universal religion, the one one capable of satisfying the needs of the human heart. It might seem that they had embarked on a glorious undertaking, but if they believed in the reality of Christ's religion, and felt His spirit flooding their souls, they could achieve their purpose.

Had Learned Lesson.

Empires in the past became possessed of selfishness, and passed away. But the people of Canada, and that a nation could maintain its position only by giving, and showing interest in all people.

Sir Andrew Fraser.

Sir Andrew Fraser then gave some reminiscences of missionary work in India. In opening he spoke of seeing parties starting on pilgrimages to the shrine of the god Jagannath, and seeing the same parties returning decimated by disease and troubled in spirit because of their failure to obtain a vision of the god. On one occasion a party of natives made a sacrifice to a locomotive hauling the commissioner's train. This was only one example of the darkness prevailing about a loving and lovable people.

The speaker said that on one occasion when the Brahmins refused to pray for rain in a certain district, he had done so and rain came next day. Continuing, he spoke of the Indian converts of the missions whom he had met, and claimed that many lived more consistent Christian lives than white men.

The Church's Commission.

J. Campbell White then spoke on the great commission of the Church. One consideration, he said, that urged speedy action was that the people in Africa did not live as did the white races. The Christian churches should plan an adequate campaign of evangelization; the multitudes in darkness could not afford to wait.

Fifteen thousand missionaries now abroad could probably christianize 375,000,000 people during this generation. Twenty-five thousand missionaries were needed to reach 625,000,000 non-Christians, not now provided for.

Today's Programme.

The different churches will be held. The Anglicans will hold meetings in Trinity church at 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m., with a luncheon in the school room at 1 p. m. The Baptists will hold meetings in the Brussels street church at 10 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. The Methodists will hold meetings in the Queen's Square church at 9.30 a. m. and 2.00 p. m., with a supper at 6 p. m. The Presbyterians and Congregationalists will hold meetings in St. David's church at 9.30 a. m. and a luncheon at White's restaurant at one o'clock, at which addresses will be delivered by Premier Fleming and others.

The closing exercises will be held in Centenary church in the evening at which the following programme will be carried out:
8.00—Chairman, Mr. Justice McKeown, St. John.
Devotional exercises, led by Rev. F. S. Porter, N. A. B. D.
Resolutions of thanks, Judge Forbes, St. John.

"Adoption of Convention Policy."—Rev. Joseph M. Led, D. D., Minister of "Martine Baptist," J. R. Inch, L. D. Sackville.
"The Task and Its Challenge," Rev. James Ennott, B. A., China.
"The Sufficiency of God," Sir Andrew Fraser, K. C. S. I.

Ladies' Meeting.

A mass meeting of ladies was held in St. John (connection) church yesterday afternoon, in connection with the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Rev. G. A. Kahring presided, and there was a large attendance.

J. Campbell White, of New York, spoke on the necessity of organization in order to evangelize the world in this generation. Sir Andrew Fraser spoke on the value of missions, emphasizing his points by incidents drawn from his personal experience in India.

Morning Session.

At the morning meeting the theme of discussion was "The equipment for the task."
V. M. Jarvis, who presided opened the meeting, and after the introductory devotional exercises, led by Rev. Dr. J. H. McDonald, Rev. William T. Gunn M. A. B. D., general secretary of Canada Congregational Union, spoke interestingly and ably on "The leadership of the pastor."

Men's Missionary Committee.

"Is a men's missionary committee essential?" was the subject of the next address by D. M. Rose, general secretary of the Laymen's Movement in the Anglican Church. The first argument against this, I suppose, is that the church is over-organized, has too many ineffective organizations or boards. If we would do like some of the business men do when they find they have too much machinery—throw what they don't want into the scrap heap—that would be over-come.

To Solve Problem.

Rev. M. E. Fletcher, secretary of the Maritime Baptist Foreign Mission Board, next spoke on the subject: "The primary methods of solving the missionary problem." The Son of God, in whom is all the wisdom, is the Being to whom we must go, and ask for instructions as to the best manner of carrying out the work. The Master will tell us that the manner of solving the whole question is contained in one word: Prayer!

Remarkable How Quickly Poslam Clears the Skin.

It is worth something to know the best thing to do to be rid of skin eruptions, pimples, etc., when they appear: to quickly clear an inflamed complexion or red nose, or if eczema, acne, dandruff, or stubborn diseases afflict how to cure them without extended treatment. An acquaintance with Poslam will tell you whether or not, for this perfect remedy heals the skin under all conditions rapidly and more effectively than anything yet devised.

No one who has watched the rapid progress of a cure as accomplished by Poslam will fail to employ it again should the need arise and to recommend it to others. If desired, prove Poslam's merit before buying by use of the free sample which may be obtained by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th Street, New York City.

draw said, he had come into intimate contact with the work that is being done there. He gave a graphic description of the pilgrimages of the Indians to the shrine of their deities to propitiate the gods and seek favors, making the long journey afoot.

Rev. Dr. Endicott gave an account of the situation in Western China from the missionary point of view, placing before his hearers many details of the people and conditions of Western China, hitherto unknown to them. Western China comprises four large provinces, with a population of approximately 100,000,000, divided into fifty tribes, each tribe with its dialect peculiar to themselves. Thirty years ago, not a missionary was to be found there, save the missionary of the Roman Catholic Church.

Need Organization.

The church should have a missionary committee. Its first object should be to promote the spirit of prayer. This committee should arrange monthly meetings. Mission study classes should be organized; there wasn't anything more fascinating than to study missionary enterprise in the home and foreign fields.

There should also be a system of weekly offerings for missions, with an annual canvass of each member of the congregation. But the dominant factor in the success of the movement was personal effort and example.

For Annual Suppers.

Rev. J. A. Arnupp, secretary of the Methodist Laymen's Association, said the greatest subject which could come before the convention was the local church. The missionary committee was the basis of the whole movement. Support and annual meetings would increase the contributions to missions by 50 per cent., but the personal canvass would increase them 100 per cent. The men who raised the money consecrated themselves as much as those who took service on the foreign field.

I. A. Hamilton, of Toronto, then discussed the question whether the missionary movement was a business proposition. He said he was a business man never made a better investment than when they put their money in the mission cause, and had not been educated in giving to missions.

Progress Slow.

Turning to foreign mission work he said that it took 100 years to bring 1,000,000 people to Christ, but in the last twelve years 1,000,000 more had been added to the fold. 500 a year were stepping into the light.

In conclusion he advised the audience to get in on the ground floor, to be ready when the time and money in the work of preaching the gospel.

J. Campbell White.
J. Campbell White, of New York, spoke on the subject of financial programme for the local church. He said that a church instead of trying to make up deficits at the end of the year, should plan in advance, so that there would be no deficit.

A church was a part of the army of Jesus Christ, having the world as a field. It should have as its central idea the conquest of the world. If it gave itself to missionary effort, it would find its local difficulties disappear. Only three-fourths of the churches of the United States contributed to foreign missions, and only one-fourth of the members of their congregations contributed systematically.

Why did God rely on human agency to evangelize the world?
One voice—"That's the only way we can save ourselves."
Another delegate said "God will not break His partnership."
Bishop Richardson—"It is the plan of the incarnation—the only possible plan."

Continuing, the speaker agreed with the plan of the incarnation, in that, if the church did not have an active interest in missionary work.

Personal Canvass.

Continuing, the speaker outlined a system of business methods for securing the money for missionary purposes, the key-stone of which was, he said, the personal canvass. In replying to a question, Rev. Mr. Armstrong said it cost 3.2 per cent. to administer the missionary work of the Church.

Question—"Would you persuade worldly men to give their unconverted money?" Would God bless such men?
Mr. White said they should be careful of the motives held out to men. A money contribution often led a man to give his heart and soul to the work of Christ.

Q.—"Can an honest man succeed in human government?"
Bishop Richardson said an honest man could succeed if the affairs of men were ordained by God.

After some further discussion the meeting adjourned.

Ladies Met.

In the afternoon of Centenary church last evening a mass meeting of the ladies of the different denominations was held at which three of the prominent speakers of the Laymen's Convention delivered addresses on the missionary work as it is being carried out in the different parts of the world.

Sir Andrew Fraser, the first speaker of the evening, delivered an interesting recital of his reminiscences of missionary work in India.

Although not a missionary, Sir An-

Progress Slow.

Turning to foreign mission work he said that it took 100 years to bring 1,000,000 people to Christ, but in the last twelve years 1,000,000 more had been added to the fold. 500 a year were stepping into the light.

In conclusion he advised the audience to get in on the ground floor, to be ready when the time and money in the work of preaching the gospel.

J. Campbell White.
J. Campbell White, of New York, spoke on the subject of financial programme for the local church. He said that a church instead of trying to make up deficits at the end of the year, should plan in advance, so that there would be no deficit.

A church was a part of the army of Jesus Christ, having the world as a field. It should have as its central idea the conquest of the world. If it gave itself to missionary effort, it would find its local difficulties disappear. Only three-fourths of the churches of the United States contributed to foreign missions, and only one-fourth of the members of their congregations contributed systematically.

Why did God rely on human agency to evangelize the world?
One voice—"That's the only way we can save ourselves."
Another delegate said "God will not break His partnership."
Bishop Richardson—"It is the plan of the incarnation—the only possible plan."

Continuing, the speaker agreed with the plan of the incarnation, in that, if the church did not have an active interest in missionary work.

Personal Canvass.

Continuing, the speaker outlined a system of business methods for securing the money for missionary purposes, the key-stone of which was, he said, the personal canvass. In replying to a question, Rev. Mr. Armstrong said it cost 3.2 per cent. to administer the missionary work of the Church.

Question—"Would you persuade worldly men to give their unconverted money?" Would God bless such men?
Mr. White said they should be careful of the motives held out to men. A money contribution often led a man to give his heart and soul to the work of Christ.

Q.—"Can an honest man succeed in human government?"
Bishop Richardson said an honest man could succeed if the affairs of men were ordained by God.

After some further discussion the meeting adjourned.

Ladies Met.

In the afternoon of Centenary church last evening a mass meeting of the ladies of the different denominations was held at which three of the prominent speakers of the Laymen's Convention delivered addresses on the missionary work as it is being carried out in the different parts of the world.

Sir Andrew Fraser, the first speaker of the evening, delivered an interesting recital of his reminiscences of missionary work in India.

Although not a missionary, Sir An-

WHY SNIFFLE AND SNEEZE WITH CATARRHAL COLD?

By Breathing the Healing Vapor of Catarrhoxone You Get Relief in Ten Minutes.

Every second person that you meet seems to have a sneeze and stuffed feeling in the forehead and nostrils.

To cure promptly, say, in half an hour, there is nothing worth using except Catarrhoxone.

That Catarrhoxone is a swift, certain means of destroying colds and catarrh is proved by the following statement of Mr. Pulso, one of Brockville's best known merchants:

"In the fall of 1907," writes Mr. Pulso, "under date of June 10th, 1910, I contracted a very severe cold which developed into Catarrh. At that time I was living in New York state and treated with four different physicians, who afforded me no relief.

On coming to Brockville I was advised by a friend to try Catarrhoxone. I bought the dollar outfit and, was gratified by the results. I was completely cured by Catarrhoxone, and have used it since to check a cold with unfailing results. It is the greatest medicine in existence, and I hope my testimony will be of some use to other fellow-sufferers."

An ideal protection for the chest, lungs, nose and throat is the frequent use of Catarrhoxone. Two months' treatment (the large size) costs $1.00, medium size 50c. at all dealers of the Catarrhoxone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

A SPLENDID SHOWING.

It is on account of excellent stewardship which will be submitted in the report of Hon. W. C. H. Crimmer covering the last year of his tenure of office as Surveyor General of the Province of New Brunswick, and it particularly serves to draw attention to the great change which has been wrought in the administration of that important department since the craft-ridden rule of the Pugsley-Robinson group of inefficient.

According to the report the total territorial revenue of the Province for the year ending October 31st last, is $529,823.82, of which $367,641.92 is stumpage. There is a balance of uncollected stumpage of $5,979.35, all of which is considered good. This shows that if the stumpage accounts were all collected the receipts for the year would be at least $535,803.17 as compared with about $221,000 for 1907, the last year of the Robinson Government.

The territorial revenue for the year ending October 31st, 1910, was about $495,000, which in itself was a gain of about $174,000 over the best year of the old Government could show. The returns for the year ending October 31st, 1911, including the collectable balance on stumpage would show an increase of about $214,000 over the best year of the Robinson Government.

The lumber cut during the past year was no greater than that of 1907, so the increased revenue can be fairly set down as a part of the profit which the people of New Brunswick gained by exchanging dishonest incompetent administration for honest, capable government.

Much credit is due to Hon. Mr. Crimmer and the officials of his department for the splendid showing made.

THE OPPOSITION POLICY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is apparently unconvinced that the majority of the electors of Canada are opposed to the policy he attempted to foist upon them. It is marvelous that the leader of a party sustaining such an overwhelming defeat should be guilty of the tirade which Sir Wilfrid inflicted on the House of Commons on Tuesday last. The one object of this speech was apparently to convince the Canadian public that everyone who ran against the Laurier Administration in the Province of Quebec is tainted with treason and, therefore, unfit to follow the leadership of an Imperialist such as Mr. Borden. Nothing could be further from the facts than the deduction of Sir Wilfrid regarding the situation in the Province so largely peopled by his compatriots. So long as the French voter saw eye to eye with the Laurier Administration it was a matter of indifference to the ex-Premier. When the same voter dared to assume control of his own conscience and vote as he pleased he became an unworthy citizen. For twenty years Sir Wilfrid Laurier has traded on his national ability to secure votes for himself and his party. When many of them refused to longer follow his lead and cast their votes to strengthen the Conservative party in the Province of Quebec he called it an unholly alliance.

The resolution of Hon. W. T. White, seconded by our own Dr. Pugsley, might have had some force two or three hundred years ago, but in the present conditions of government the motion is unworthy both of the mover and second. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier thinks that such a want of confidence as he moved in the House at the close of his rambling speech will attract any but passing attention among the Canadian people he is mistaken and only makes himself ridiculous in the public eye. It is surprising that Dr. Pugsley should second such a motion, as he knows that it can have no effect upon the public mind. Perhaps Sir Wilfrid was of the opinion that Mr. Borden should have consulted him in the formation of his Cabinet. From the attitude of the ex-Premier during the campaign and since, it would not surprise many who have followed his speeches if Sir Wilfrid were to openly state that he possessed a divine right to rule the Canadian people. Mr. Borden's plain talk, after the tirade of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, should furnish convincing evidence, not only to the gentleman himself, but to his friends as well, that it is highly improbable that his advice would either be asked or taken in the selection of the Cabinet or in anything else.

In the course of his remarks Sir Wilfrid had a good deal to say on the rejection of Reciprocity by the Canadian electors, and from the ill-nature he displayed during this portion of his speech, there is no doubt whatever that he feels his defeat very keenly and is greatly annoyed at being driven from power. Sir Wilfrid is not yet convinced that the people of Canada have no desire for Reciprocity with the United States and they are particularly opposed to the vicious trade arrangement he would have made with that country had he not been compelled to go to the polls by Mr. Borden and his followers.

Great as Sir Wilfrid's anger is, however, he had not the assurance of the reverend editor of the Toronto Globe, who has been going about from state to state telling our northern neighbors that the people of Canada already regret their action in turning down the Reciprocity Pact. Sir Wilfrid is content with the assertion that prejudice and passion overcame the common sense of the people. Of course, the ex-Premier desired to make it plain that he sought only a commercial arrangement and was entirely opposed to Annexation. Sir Wilfrid might have spared himself this effort for he must know, as everybody else does, that a commercial arrangement with the United States ultimately means Annexation, which is the one thing that will spare no effort to bring about.

If the object of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech was to separate the Quebec Conservatives from their party in other sections of Canada, it will prove a dire failure. Such an attack as he made on Tuesday last can have but one result—the consolidation of the party against a common enemy. The session of Parliament may be lengthened by the discussion of the questions raised by Sir Wilfrid, but this will be about the only result that will follow. The Conservatives today are stronger in Canada than at any time in its previous history, and united with them is a large and influential wing of the Liberal party, composed of men who are anxious to preserve British connection and willing to make any reasonable sacrifice that will prevent a rupture in Imperial relations.

Sir Wilfrid's view of the future of Canada is altogether too narrow. He has failed to realize the strength of Imperialistic sentiment in this country, just as he failed to correctly gauge public opinion on the question of Reciprocity. The majority of Canadians believe in the closer union of the various dominions of the Empire and see opportunities for increased trade development and greater prosperity than hitherto. Already the Government is moving in the direction of closer trade relations within the Empire and it would not be surprising if before the end of the year important announcements were made along these lines.

The trade of Canada is in no way threatened by the rejection of Reciprocity with the United States. The flow of immigration into the country will increase, as it has been doing, year after year. New land will be broken, and the growing of wheat will go on. Our exports will be double what they now are within the next decade, notwithstanding that Laurier and his party are in opposition. A wise naval policy will be secured and Canada will be brought closer to the Mother land, while the two dominant races will dwell together in harmony and autonomy of the country, which Sir Wilfrid is so fearful about, will not be disturbed. Sir Wilfrid is on the wrong tack when he appeals to race prejudices from the floors of the House of Commons.

THE WAY OF THE WEST.

New Brunswick might well take a lesson from the Canadian West in the eminently practical and valuable accomplishment of boosting the Province and its resources. In this line the Western people are laps ahead of the East, although the resources of the Maritime Provinces are sufficiently varied and valuable to permit of a development as great as that of any equal area in the best West. But the optimism and the booster are abroad, west of the Great Lakes. Not only do they take advantage of every opportunity to say good words for the West, but they are also seen to it that conditions and facts which are not favorable are not mentioned at all, or are so placed in the background as to escape attention.

There is a case in point in the manner in which Western newspapers have referred to the blizzards and extremely cold wave which swept over that section of Canada recently. While Western weather conditions were warm and sunny, the papers in the West were full of warm sunshine and balmy winds. "Alberta bathing in a 'chinook' which swept the frost away from that section. And so it is all through the West; the prevailing idea seems to be to enlarge upon the advantages of the country and make light of the disadvantages.

There is an object lesson in this which might well be taken to heart in New Brunswick. This Province is undoubtedly on the eve of great development. Let us try the way of the West. Boost!

New Brunswickers, generally, will be interested in the advertisement of a leading Montreal grocery firm, published in the local papers of that city, offering to sell New Brunswick potatoes, which they say "are generally acknowledged to be the best eating potatoes on the market today." As this firm prides themselves on the quality of the goods they offer for sale their endorsement of our tubers is important.

It is stated that Dr. Spooner, a celebrated British archaeologist, is about to marry Miss Emma Colton, an American lady who speaks fifty-four languages. Dr. Spooner is either a very brave man or he is unwise. Possibly he does not realize what a wife backed by fifty-four distinct vocabularies can say to him when he fails to come home before midnight.

Two imported English bloodhounds have been installed to guard Mr. John D. Rockefeller's riches on his estate at Greenwich, Conn. If the trust investors of the United States had busied themselves with the Standard Oil Company twenty-five years ago, it is just possible that a skye terrier would have afforded ample security to John D. today.

Current Comment

(Nelson Daily News.)

Eminently fitting was the selection of Hon. J. D. Hazen, Premier of New Brunswick, as Minister of Marine and Fisheries. He was born in and has spent his life in the Maritime Provinces and consequently should be able to deal with matters affecting his department generally from first-hand knowledge. As Minister of Marine and Fisheries, he will have in his hands the administration of the naval affairs of the country, a fact which should be satisfactory to all who are desirous of seeing this service placed upon a satisfactory footing.

(Ottawa Journal.)

The career of Hon. W. T. White, the new Finance Minister, illustrates how quickly in Canada a man may reach one of the highest positions in the gift of the country. One month ago, in all probability, Mr. White would have traded his chances of a silver dollar. Previous to the introduction of Reciprocity, Mr. White was a Liberal—one of the rank and file of the party. The campaign proved him to be a brilliant orator and a shrewd politician, just as his previous career had shown him to be an able financier.

(Moncton Times.)

Under Col. Sam Hughes the Militia Department appears to be in for a shaking up and the country is likely in future to get better value for the money spent. The Minister has called the attention of the official staff to items in the Auditor General's report and given them sharp notice that non-essentials will not be paid for in future. The indications are that the new Minister will be a real head of the department, and not merely an ornament, if Sir Fred Borden could be called such.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

Members of the Opposition are early in the field with questions framed with the purpose of embarrassing the Government. But being an honest Government, the Borden Government cannot be embarrassed. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues may in a short time have much more worrying to do about the answering of questions than the Government will have. For the probe must be inserted into the misdoings of the late Government.

(Detroit News.)

Dr. Frichest says Andrew Carnegie is now one of the happiest men in the world. If it will make the penny laid any happier by giving away any more of his worldly goods, we know of several persons who will not stand in the way of that increased happiness.

(Winnipeg Tribune.)

A $5,000 bust of Sir Wilfrid has been ordered for the Chateau Laurier. Why not use the one that we read about on the night of September 21?

(Grand Rapids Press.)

China has a newspaper which is 1,000 years old, but doubtless there are a lot of people who know how to run it better than the editor does.

(Toronto News.)

From the manner in which Sir Wilfrid has started his occasional duties, it looks as if he had placed his sunny smile in cold storage.

At any rate, the Liberal minority in the Commons can be depended upon to make a noise like a real party.

NEGRO ATTEMPTS OUTRAGE ON WOMAN

Attacked Wife of Coatesville Man but was Frightened by Approaching Carriage - Police in Pursuit.

Coatesville, Pa., Nov. 21.—Another attempted outrage by a negro upon a white woman occurred here this afternoon and a posse headed by Chief of Police Umsted is in pursuit of the man in the woods north of this place. The intended victim of the negro is Mrs. James Campbell, the wife of a mill worker of Coatesville.

Mrs. Campbell was walking along Chestnut avenue to the farm of her brother, Frank McCleese, and while going over Blackhorse Hill was attacked by the man. She fought him off and after he had twice thrown her to the ground, a carriage driven by Miss Johanna Irwin came into view and the negro was frightened off. He escaped into the woods.

Miss Irwin drove Mrs. Campbell into town, and the police were notified. Chief Umsted summoned several policemen and these with some citizens immediately set out to find the negro.

A WONDERFUL CASE

Three Months in Hospital and Came Out Uncured. Zam-Buk Cured Him in Few Weeks.

Mr. Fred Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrew's, N. B., says:—
"I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain, and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. When the knee got warm it burned worse, and the itching and burning and smarting were almost unbearable. I tried various remedies, but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial.

"Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was quite cured.

"Since then Zam-Buk has cured blood-poison in my finger, and at a time when my finger was in such a terrible condition that I feared it would have to be amputated.

"For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose veins, leg, cold sores, chapped hands, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin out equal. Zam-Buk is with you, 50¢ box all druggists and stores or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations.

DON'T WANT SAMUEL GOMPERS' WITHDRAWAL

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—Refusal of the resolutions committee to concur in a resolution that Samuel Gompers, General Secretary of the American Federation of Labor be compelled to withdraw from the national civic federation precipitated the expected contest in the labor organizations convention today.

Protagonists of the resolution attacked Andrew Carnegie and other officials members of the civic federation. Vice-President John Mitchell sprang a sensation on the convention floor today when he made the charge that the Columbus convention of the United Mine Workers, which passed a resolution directing delegates to request the resignation of federation officials who were officials of the national civic federation, was packed with delegates who did not belong there.

MEN WHO DON'T EXERCISE

Suffer From Indigestion, Head-aches, Poor Appetite, Sleeplessness.

Nothing So Sure to "Get Up" a Man, Make Him Feel Brisk and Vigorous as Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Samuel S. Stephens, Jr., one of the best known citizens in Woodstock.

In his convincing letter Mr. Stephens says:

"A year ago I returned home after a long trip, completely worn out. I was so badly affected by chronic biliousness, so much overcome by constant headaches, dizziness, that I despaired of ever getting well. I was always tired and languid, had no energy and spirit, found it difficult to sleep for more than five hours. My appetite was so fickle that I ate next to nothing, and in consequence lost weight and strength. I was pale and had dark rings under my eyes that made me look like a shadow.

"It was a blessing that I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In one week I felt like a new man. The feeling of weight and nausea in my stomach disappeared. My eyes looked brighter, color grew better, and best of all, I began to enjoy my meals. The dizziness, languor and feeling of depression slid-time vigor and spirits. Today I am well—thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

For health, strength, comfort and good spirits there is no medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Beware of substitutes, and don't let any dealer palm off some other pill on which he can make more money. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, by mail from The Catarrh Company, Kingston, Ont.

WAS SO RUN DOWN

COULD NOT DO ANY WORK.

Thought She Was So Far Gone Nothing Could Cure Her.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS Made Her Strong and Healthy.

Many women get run down, and are unable to look after their household duties, owing to their nervous system becoming unstrung, and when this happens, the heart starts to work in sympathy with the nerves. In Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is combined a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders, as well as act on the heart and nerve pills and they will advise me to try your Pills. I told her that I thought nothing could cure me, as I was too far gone. But she told me to try a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I did, and before I had finished them, I began to improve, and when I had finished the one box I was as strong and healthy as any person. Anyone who is suffering from heart or nerve troubles should take your Heart and Nerve Pills and they will soon discover their worth."

Inquiry into Cause of Death of Man who Broke His Neck by Falling Last July.
The inquiry into the death of Thomas Evans, a longshoreman, who died from having his neck broken by falling into No. 3 coal bunker on the Furness liner Shenandoah, July 7th, was resumed in the police court last night by Coroner D. E. Berryman.
There were two shipbuilders named Arsenault, to give evidence as to the second of that name was on the stand last night. He swore he was working on the ship the night of the accident and the hold was lighted with lanterns. About midnight the cattle deck was supplied with electric light. Witness did not know of the accident until Evans had been taken on shore and had not known of the hatches being off.

John Henry Trenick, the master of the steamship Shenandoah, was the next witness and testified that on July 7th, while the ship was in this port it did not have cargo in No. 3 hold, and Evans fell into this hold from between decks.
The bunker was partly filled with three or four hundred tons of coal at the time. There was no negligence of any person in leaving these hatches open as there was no work to be done in this hold and the men had no business there. About 75 per cent. of the ships don't have electric lights.
When witness went on board the ship the night of the accident about nine or ten o'clock, the electric lights were burning. The deceased had no business in the hold where he was injured.
Wm. Mills Lee, one of the crew, gave evidence that the electric light was on the ship at 11:45 o'clock the night of the accident and a previous witness who stated he had spoken to him about the lights was in error.
Elias Dixon, chief engineer of the ship, testified that the electric light plant was in his charge and all lights were burning at the time the man, Evans, was injured. No. 3 hatch was open, but had a two-foot six inch combing round it. Witness thought Evans came along between decks and fell down into the hold.
Daniel Millih, for the relatives of the deceased, stated he thought it necessary to have the evidence of the ship's officers were responsible for the hatches not being on. The inquest was adjourned until 7:30 o'clock on Monday evening next, when it will be brought to a close.
Col. J. R. Armstrong conducted the case for the company.

TWO WEEKS OVERCOAT SALE THIS SEASON
If you will read our large advertisement on page 2 of this paper, you will see that we bought the balance of the winter overcoats of one of the largest clothing factories in the country. We made this purchase with the idea of giving the men of this city a chance to buy winter overcoats at less than the cost to manufacture, and that is what we are going to do. Some clothing merchants will say, "It is ridiculous to sell overcoats at this time of the year, when we should get our highest prices." We think not for the man in need of a coat for right away wear, for a bargain is the best bargain when you have immediately use for your purchase. Our store will be closed on Friday of this week. The sale commences on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock and will continue for two weeks, Henderson and Hunt, 17-19 Charlotte street.
