

The Armies of the Entente Harass The Germans at a Number of Points

TEUTONIC ARMIES PREVENTED FROM PERFECTING PROGRAM

French Continue Their Offensive Attitude and Gain Ground From Enemy As Do The Australians Near Amiens—Vicious Blows Delivered Against Germans at Various Points and Some Thrilling Air Victories—Turkish Troops in Asia Minor Mutiny—British Casualties 36,677.

Striking viciously at the enemy at various points along the western battlefield, meeting each outburst of German artillery with a thunder of cannon fire and maintaining the mastery of the air in every sector from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier, the armies of the Entente Allies are preventing the Teutonic armies from quietly perfecting their preparations for coming battles. With the knowledge that the passing of each day brings new American legions to help crush the next German offensive, the Allies are finding satisfaction in the fact that the Germans have as yet been unable to launch a new blow in the struggle which Berlin had expected to be the decisive one of the war.

Teutons Thrust Back.

For the most part, the Germans have shown but little of their habitual fighting spirit along the line in France. They have been thrust back in four sectors and the allies have succeeded in winning ground which will be of great importance in the future, but the Germans have counter-attacked in several instances and the movement was carried out so slowly and with such a lack of dash that it was easily broken up before the Teutons reached the new allied positions.

The attacks by the French, near Loos, on the northern side of the Lys salient and of the Australians, before Amiens, which have already been reported now appear to have been more successful than was at first understood. Near Loos the French have not only taken strongly fortified positions but they have made secure their lines on each side of Hill 44, which they recaptured from the Germans recently. The Australians, too, have won ground which is of tactical importance along the Amiens sector. They have gained higher ground which lends itself well to defensive tactics and will be valuable when the time comes for stern battle there.

French Most Active.

The French still seem to be the most active of the forces of the entente nations. They have again engaged in raiding operations near Loos, on the flank of the German line as it stands since the advance toward Amiens.

On the American front there has been the usual lively exchange of artillery fire, but no infantry fighting has occurred. The same is true of the situation in the Italian theatre of the war.

A report from Athens states that Turkish troops in Asia Minor have mutinied and that a force sent to quell the disorder has deserted. It is said that there have been many desertions from the Turkish garrisons in towns along the Asia Minor coast.

British Casualties.

The British war office reports casualties numbering 36,677 during the past week.

This is a decrease from the number reported for the previous week. Japan and China have come to an understanding relative to the carrying out of joint military operations in Siberia.

It was announced some time ago that these operations would be directed toward securing the security of each country's interests in Manchuria, Mongolia and the Far East.

JOHN DILLON DISAPPROVES OF SINN FEIN

German-Sinn-Fein Plot in Ireland First Revealed in United States.

WASHINGTON GOVT NOTIFIES LONDON

Republic Interfered Because Danger of Germany Being Benefitted.

Dublin, May 21.—John Dillon, the Nationalist leader, in an interview with The Associated Press correspondent today emphasized the divergence between his party and the Sinn Fein, whose policy he declared to be "wrong and foolish and bound to end in disaster."

Mr. Dillon said he still believed in a friendly settlement with Great Britain. He adhered to the declaration of the late John Redmond made at the outbreak of the war, that the "cause of the allies is the cause of freedom."

In the appeal to the American people Mr. Dillon said that the Sinn Fein had been supplied with unlimited financial resources from New York and he urged that all those of Irish blood in the United States to support his party against the Sinn Feiners.

Net Still Spreading.

The government net is still spreading in hope of arresting other persons believed to be connected with the alleged German plot. A number of suspected persons are being searched, some vehicles in the vicinity of the city are being stopped and the occupants are subjected to examination. The press comment on last night's manifesto of protest issued by the Mansion House anti-conscription conference expresses reluctance to take a definite stand in the present situation until more is known of the government's evidence regarding the alleged German plot. All parties are marking time awaiting developments.

The Unionists presume that the government's evidence must be very strong, while the Nationalist press shows some skepticism as to the reality of a plot.

It was said to be freed entirely from British influence if possible, and the Germans counted strongly on the Irish trouble to divert Great Britain's attention from the fighting in France and at the Channel ports at the very time when it would be most necessary for the country to keep calm to prevent a German invasion.

Information concerning these plots has been gathered by several investigating agencies of the United States and turned over to the state department which forwarded it to representatives of the British government. In many cases the information provided leads by which British secret agents found evidence of plotting in Ireland.

To Balk Germany.

This tends to confirm the statement from London that the series of arrests several days ago had no direct connection with plans to conscript the Irish. Some information was obtained from Germans now held in internment camps in this country. There is indication also that the seat of the German-Irish negotiations was transferred at times to other American republics.

It was made plain here that the United States government's interest in the Irish plots is solely to prevent Germany by this method from attacking cobelligerents of the United States and that the American government is not seeking to meddle in the Irish situation except for this reason.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE.

Santiago, Chile, May 21.—La Serena, capital of the province of Coquimbo, was shaken severely today by an earthquake. A large number of buildings are reported to have been damaged or destroyed.

The shock was felt to a less extent in neighboring villages.

Heavy German Counter Attack Against the British Army Fails

London, May 21—A heavy German counter-attack against the British lines northwest of Merville along a front of about two-thirds of a mile, broke down under the strong British resistance, according to Field Marshal Haig's report tonight from British headquarters in France. The French also reported an attack north of Bailleul.

The statement says:

"A hostile counter-attack launched this morning against our new position northwest of Merville was made in considerable strength upon a front of twelve hundred yards. A very heavy bombardment preceded the enemy's advance, but despite the intensity of his artillery preparation, his infantry only succeeded in reaching our positions at two points, where they were dealt with effectively by our troops in each case. Our whole line is intact.

"Two raids which the enemy attempted last night in the sector north of Bailleul were repulsed by the French troops.

"We secured a few prisoners and a machine gun this morning in a patrol encounter in the neighborhood of Boyelles."

London, May 21—British casualties to the number of 36,677 have been reported in the week ending today.

British casualties are divided as follows: Killed or died of wounds—Officers, 313; men, 3,815; wounded or missing, officers, 1,241; men, 31,308.

The British casualties reports are still reflecting the recent heavy fighting, although the totals are beginning to decrease. The figures last week was 41,612, the largest of any week since the German offensive began.

INSANITY PLEA LIKELY IN QUEENS CO. MURDER CASE

Trial of Robert Kierstead of Salmon Creek, Charged With Murder of His Wife, Elsie, Few Days Before Christmas, Begun at Gagetown—Fourteen Year Old Daughter of Defendant Weeps on Stand as She Tells of Her Father's Words and Acts About Time of Murder — Kierstead Had Been Acting Strangely Months Before Tragedy.

Special to The Standard.

Gagetown, May 21—That the defence will endeavor to establish to the satisfaction of the judge and jury that Robert Kierstead, a farmer of Salmon Creek, was insane when he beat his wife, Elsie, to death at their home on the night of December 22 last, was indicated today at the opening of his trial in the Circuit Court on a charge of murder. This probable phase of the defence is also anticipated by Attorney-General J. P. Byrne, for in his opening address outlining the case, he said he supposed that such a line would be followed.

The first proceedings of the day were in the grand jury room. The grand jurors are: T. H. Scovil, foreman, F. I. Dingle, John McDiarmid, David Moore, H. G. Bridges, Jarvis Boyd, Thomas Burpee, G. Deveber, G. A. McKeague and E. S. Drodie.

The charges against Kierstead and Frank Akerley, accused of felonious assault, were read to the grand jury and true bills in each case were returned.

MANCHESTER GUARDIAN CORRESPONDENT DELL, EXPELLED FROM PARIS

Had Been Representative of Pacifist Paper Quarter of Century and Was Pacifist Himself.

Paris, May 21.—Robert Dell, for more than a quarter of a century Paris correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, yesterday was put on the train for Havre en route for England, having been expelled from France as an objectionable person. The Journal, which sympathizes with Dell, expresses the opinion that the decision of the government evidently was due to Dell's recent correspondence on the debate in the Senate and the Foreign Affairs Committee concerning the roles of M. Poincare and M. Ribot in the peace negotiations in 1917. Dell, whose intimates always have been leading French internationalists, including such men as Anatole France and Romain Rolland, had been notably pacifist in his ideas.

PREMIER BORDEN WINS 104 TO 71 ON TITLE ISSUE!

With Public Galleries Packed and Amid Scenes of Excitement Parliament Concludes Debate on Conferring of Titles on Canadians—Sir Robert Informed House If It Defeated His Sub-Amendment He Would Resign — Premier Criticizes Action of Some of His Supporters Who Consulted Sir Wilfrid Laurier As To Making Issue Party Question.

Ottawa, May 21—With public galleries packed, and amid scenes of excitement, the house concluded a debate on titles a few minutes before midnight, adopting Sir Robert Borden's sub-amendment, 104 to 71. The end came after an announcement by the prime minister which, no doubt, had its effect on the division. There had been a question whether an adverse vote on a sub-amendment submitted by the prime minister would be regarded as a vote of non-confidence. On this point, Sir Robert made his position clear.

"If," he declared, "the house does not propose to adopt the course which I have asked them frankly, and with much respect, to take, I should consider that I am relieved from my duty of carrying on any longer the government of this country and I should ask His Excellency, the Governor-General, to seek other advisers. It seems to me that a somewhat peculiar course has been pursued by some honorable gentlemen on this side of the house in inquiring of the leader of the opposition as to whether or not this motion was to be treated as a motion of want of confidence."

Should Consult Leader.

"In my understanding of the course which is pursued on such occasions, I have always understood that the leader of the government should be asked with regard to that. And I cannot quite understand the reason why there should have been resort to my honorable friend on the other side of the House, (Sir Wilfrid Laurier) to learn how I should regard a motion of this kind. However, the course has been taken and it is entirely in the judgment of the House to determine what course they intend to pursue in the matter. So far as I am concerned, my course is absolutely clear and open."

The prime minister's sub-amendment was carried on this division: For—104. Against—71. Majority for—33.

Fielding Votes No.

Messrs. T. Foster, Fielding and Nickle, voted in the negative. Mr. Richardson did not vote. The debate had arisen from Mr. Nickle's motion for an address to the King praying that no further hereditary titles be conferred on residents of Canada. To this Mr. Richardson, of Springfield, had proposed an amendment striking out the word "hereditary," and thereby seeking to have all future titles in Canada abolished.

Sir Robert's sub-amendment was in amendment to Mr. Richardson's amendment. It provided that the address request the King to refrain from granting titles to residents of Canada, except in accordance with the principles enunciated in the order-in-council of last March respecting titles. This was the order-in-council read to the House when titles were last discussed. The motion, as modified by the sub-amendment, was declared carried.

Sir Robert further announced that the question of titles would be taken up at the imperial conference.

Tired of Titles.

J. H. Burnham, the first speaker of the evening, said that, in his opinion, the people of Canada were sick of the whole title business. He thought the matter might have stood over until the war had been concluded, but if the leader of the government chose to lay an amendment before the House which required a vote, then it was up to the members to express their opinion. The people of Canada were greatly stirred over this question.

Sir Robert Borden, said Mr. Burnham, had brought up the question of the Victoria Cross. He was not aware, the speaker said, that there was any title of honor attached to the V. C. The man who earned it simply wore his cross without blabbing about it. It required no advertising. The prime minister's amendment was based on an order-in-council which provided that no title should be conferred upon a resident of Canada without his approval. But the prime minister simply represented the people and, said Mr. Burnham, the people didn't want titles. They didn't want any measure providing for the continuance of titles. Titles were issued to the powerful and rich, who were often also the crooked and crafty.

Up to Parliament.

If this matter was to be discussed in London at the imperial conference, said Mr. Burnham, it was for the parliament of Canada to instruct the prime minister to say that Canada was dead against titles. This was our chance to announce the attitude of the dominion on this question. If the people of Australia wanted them, that was their affair; if the people of Great Britain preferred to continue this kind of humbug, let them do it. It was a free world. But don't let the people of Canada throw over their principles for the sake of such nonsense.

Mr. Richardson.

Mr. Richardson, who moved the amendment, providing for abolition of all titles, said that the prime minister believed the amendment was going too far. For his own part, he thought the people of Canada were heartily sick of titles. They had been conferred upon unworthy persons and were used for purposes of political corruption. A prominent westerner, said Mr. Richardson, had told him that he was offered a knighthood for $10,000.

Mr. Richardson said he was glad that the leader of the opposition had declared his intention of making this a non-party question. It was an issue on which every member should register his own opinion by his vote. He thought the members were almost unanimous in their desire to wipe out titles for all time to come. The prime minister's amendment would be an improvement on present conditions, but a real democracy, such as the people of Canada desired, allowed for no titles at all. Canada should take a lead in this important matter and, if others followed, so much the better.

Mr. Richardson argued that appellations by courtesy were not titles. Men who sat in the House of Commons and the Senate, he said, would continue to be called "honorable" and judges "your lordship." There was no reason why titles should be conferred upon military men, but the V. C. D. S. O. etc., were not titles. They were merely military distinctions.

SEIZED RUSSIAN SHIP LOADS AT MONTREAL

Commandeered Vessels Will Add 130,000 Tons To Allied Shipping.

Montreal, May 21—Loading at Montreal is a large Russian steamer, one of a fleet of thirteen ships taken over by the British government in part payment of the debts repudiated by the Bolshevik government. The commandeered steamers will add 130,000 tons to the shipping at the disposal of the Allies.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE ENOUGH SHIPS TO CARRY MILLIONS OF MEN

Secretary of Navy Daniels Optimistic As To Outlook—Tells Rutgers' Students United States May Call Out Men From 18 to 60—Submarine Menace Diminishing—Britain Speeding Up Production.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 21—Secretary of the Navy Daniels in an address at the Rutgers' College commencement said:

"We are building ships, but we can't build them in a day, but before another summer we shall have enough ships not only to carry a million troops to France, but millions to France and enough destroyers to see them there in safety."

Declaring that "we are going to get out the greatest naval ships produced—destroyers"—the secretary continued: "We have 300,000 in the navy. We will have 400,000 soon. They are enlisting so fast we are asking them to stay home until we can build new ships for them."

"The day may come," said the secretary in another part of his address, "when if necessary Congress may change the draft age limit. If the men between 21 and 31 cannot win the war then they will call on the men from 18 to 60, to win the war."

Admiralty Statement.

London, May 21—Allied ships, other than British and neutral merchant ships, lost during April totalled 54,333 tons, the admiralty announced today. During the same period, the loss in British tonnage was 220,709. This is the first bulletin issued by the admiralty since the announcement of April 24th that monthly reports would be submitted for weekly losses. At that time the total tonnage losses since the beginning of unrestricted submarine warfare was given as follows:

Quarter ending	British	Neutral and Allied Ship
March 1917	911,840	1,619,378
June 1917	1,361,370	2,236,934
Sept. 1917	952,938	1,494,473
Dec. 1917	1,822,880	1,422,948
March 1918	757,574	1,125,510

London, May 21—(via Reuter's Limited)—Striking figures of the work done in the shipping repair yards was issued today. From August 3, 1917, when the directorate got the organization up and running, to April 25, 1918, the yards have repaired and restored 5,037 vessels, representing a gross tonnage of 16,150,000. This gives a weekly average of 414,086 gross tons. But the weekly average for some weeks past has risen to over 500,000 gross tons and is steadily rising. The amount restored in one week reached 399,000 gross tons.

Five ships, each over 20,000 tons, have left the yards ready for service in a single week.

Danger Decreases. Washington, May 21—Danger from submarines has decreased to such an extent that the bureau of war risks insurance has recommended a reduction from $2.50 to $1.50 per one thousand dollars on the insurance rate on lives of officers and crews of merchant vessels, passing through the war zone. This is in line with the recent lowering of marine insurance rates on vessels and cargoes from three to two per cent.

UNITED STATES YOUTHS OF 21 CALLED OUT

INSANITY PLEA LIKELY IN QUEENS COUNTY MURDER CASE

Chief Justice Presiding.

Chief Justice Barry is presiding over the court. On behalf of the grand jurors, Forman Scovill presented him with an address congratulating him on the 60th birthday anniversary, to which His Honor made an appreciative reply. The foreman also referred to the summoning of court at a time inconvenient to farmers, and suggested a change in the date of the Spring sitting. The chief justice said this was a matter for the government. Attorney-General Byrne took note of the address of the grand jurors. The Attorney-General is conducting the Kierstead case on behalf of the crown and Dr. the defendant are appearing A. R. Slipp of Fredericton and W. R. Scott, of St. John.

The jury. The following jury was selected to hear the evidence: E. F. Gale, J. W. Armstrong, Fred Hoban, George Colwell, George Chase, C. E. Sharpe, Charles Cooper, H. Mott, Thomas Courtney, George Brown, Brunswick Slocum and John Erb.

Attorney-General Byrne gave an outline of the evidence given at the preliminary hearing. He said he supposed that the usual plea of insanity would be made by the defence, but he wanted the jury to hear the evidence carefully. When the indictment was read Kierstead appeared to be in normal condition. He had no hesitation in pleading not guilty. He made no reply at first when the chief justice asked him if he was ready for trial, but when asked the second time he said that he was.

Young Girl Weeps. The prosecution called to the stand Myrtle Blanche Kierstead, the four-year-old daughter of the defendant. The little girl appears to be a bright child for her age and answered the questions clearly. When speaking of her mother's tragic death she broke down three or four times and gave way to tears, causing some little delay. She was first questioned by Attorney-General Byrne. She told of the family visiting her uncle, Thomas Boyd in Annandale on Dec. 21, the day before the murder. She testified that her father told Boyd he had been poisoned by a substance placed in his tea. They went back home the next afternoon. In the evening they returned to Boyd's, returning home at 10 p.m.

She said her father was restless. He took the lamp and looked under the bed and on shelves. Then he seen her father do before. She remarked at the time that he was feeling very sick and that if he died and the truth were told he would come back and not give his wife a moment's peace.

"I Wove Killed Elsie." Myrtle was sent to the barn to do some chores, her father turning the lock in the door of the house after she went out. "When she came back she heard her father say 'I have killed Elsie,' run for Mrs. Harvey" (a neighbor). Witness did not go into the house. Her sister Lizzie was in the house at the time of the tragedy and she will be called to the stand.

Replying to questions by Mr. Smith, Myrtle said that her father acted very strangely last summer. When he went to work in the woods peeling bark, he took his gun apart and placed it under his coat, to protect himself from someone, he said.

On one occasion Kierstead took an axe and smashed up the rural mail box. Another time he smashed the wheels of the farm wagon and later a light carriage.

Ever since last summer he had been telling his wife that someone was trying to take his farm from him, and accused her of poisoning him. Myrtle had not completed her testimony when court rose for the day.

How Von Bismarck Hastened '70 War

How many persons know that Bismarck, designedly and unscrupulously, provoked the Franco-Prussian War by altering a telegram from his "Imperial Master," the King of Prussia?

It all came about through an attempt to fill the throne of Spain. When Isabella of Spain was deposed, General Friess was in charge of the Austrian army and a brother of his looked to the throne. His eyes lighted upon Leopold, hereditary Prince of Hohenzollern and a brother of the young man who three years before had been appointed King of Roumania with the approval of Napoleon III.

It was necessary to get the approval of France as well as Prussia before young Leopold could get his crown. The French Ambassador called upon Bismarck, and we are told that Bismarck was "very frank" with the King of Prussia, if consulted by Leopold, would advise him not to accept the crown. He said there was nothing to worry about—oh, dear, nothing at all!

Yet in September of the same year the negotiations to induce Leopold to take the throne of Spain were actually started and they were furthered by Courtney, Prussian Ambassador to Vienna, one of Bismarck's appointees. Prince Leopold asked to be excused, and when pressed said he would only accept if the Spanish government procured the assent of the King of Prussia. He refused the crown three times and then Bismarck began to use all his influence to have him accept.

Bismarck finally accomplished his purpose so far as Leopold, who was offered of Spain. The Cortes was meeting in Madrid and it was arranged to have it remain in session until the election had been completed. A message was sent to Bismarck that it was necessary to keep the business a secret from France. Once Leopold was placed on the throne Napoleon III would be helpless. He could successfully protest against the election, but he would not permit it to reject the King if he had formally accepted.

But events in real life, like those in novels, have a way of confounding plotters. He induced him to accept the offer of Spain. The Cortes was meeting in Madrid and it was arranged to have it remain in session until the election had been completed. A message was sent to Bismarck that it was necessary to keep the business a secret from France. Once Leopold was placed on the throne Napoleon III would be helpless. He could successfully protest against the election, but he would not permit it to reject the King if he had formally accepted.

This was not satisfactory to the King of Spain, but he was annoyed at the hostile attitude of the French press. Benedetti and the King were both at Ems at this time, taking the waters. The Ambassador was wondering how he could obtain an audience when he happened next to the King. His Majesty greeted the Ambassador cordially and the two entered into conversation. The King apparently with mock satisfaction showed him an issue of the Cologne Gazette containing a copy of the Prince Leopold's withdrawal. This was very good, but Benedetti, following instructions, asked if he might inform his government that the King would give his assurance that Leopold would not become a candidate for the Spanish throne at any time in the future.

The King not unreasonably declined to give this assurance. They parted, but the talk on both sides had been that of temper. Later the King received a formal message from Prince Leopold confirming the story of his retirement. He sent a copy of this to Benedetti, saying, "We may now consider the incident closed." The Ambassador nevertheless asked for another audience, but the King declined to grant it. Also he instructed his secretary to telegraph an exact account of what had happened, with a suggestion that it be published.

When the telegram reached Berlin Bismarck was dining with Roon and Moltke. All three were warlike and they were furious at the turn affairs had taken. They did not want the "incident closed." The telegram did not give their temper; they felt that the permission to publish the telegram gave Bismarck his opportunity. He went into the next room and drafted a statement from the telegram. It has been asserted that he did not change its import. But it is not denied that he took a 200-word account of what had actually taken place in the interview between King and Ambassador and changed it to a curt twenty-word defiance of French demands. It was published in the North German Gazette and copies flashed to all German embassies and legations.

It produced the desired result. France resounded with cries of "On to the Rhine!" The ill-fated Franco-Prussian War began, and the unprepared French armies were swiftly and decisively beaten by the Prussian legions that had been long waiting for just such an occasion.

Montreal, May 21—The port of Montreal this season is to be devoted solely to freight traffic, all ocean passenger lines formerly using the St. Lawrence being diverted to other ports. Few People Know This. Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses. The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly. The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well. Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Coleridge faces often show the absence of iron in the blood. Carter's Iron Pills will help this condition.

WEDNESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS IN THE COMMONS

DR. THOMPSON IS WINNER OF YUKON ELECTION CONTEST

House of Commons Declares in Favor of Counting The Soldiers' Votes by 103 to 69—Amendment Proposed By Sir Robert Borden Advising His Majesty to Restrict Canadian Titles—Nova Scotia Young Fishermen Want More Time Before Donning Khaki—Hon. Arthur Meighen Stirs Up Laurierites.

Ottawa, May 21.—When the House of Commons resumed this morning, Sir Robert Borden said the government had not considered the question of adjourning parliament instead of proroguing.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier observed that as soon as business was concluded parliament should prorogue.

Sir Robert Borden said if the House could not prorogue before Victoria Day he thought it should sit that day.

The law should be observed in the House about all places, remarked the opposition leader.

"We have sat before on statutory holidays," the Premier replied, and he thought under the circumstances "we might observe the day better by attending to parliamentary duties than by adjourning from Thursday until Saturday."

Military Service Act. J. H. Sinclair, Guyaboro, read a telegram complaining of the effect of the Military Service Act on the fishing industry of the Maritime Provinces.

It stated that young fishermen had been given considerable credit by dealers for which they expected to pay with the output of their catches, and suggested that they should be made exempt from the call of the military service until after the spring catch is over.

Sir Robert Borden said he would direct the matter to the immediate attention of Major General Newburn.

Mr. Vieu, Lotbiniere, complained that, despite the statement made in the House that registrars would be instructed to call young men under the Military Service Act from urban centres, these officials were sending out notices in an indiscriminating manner.

Sir Robert Borden said that orders had undoubtedly been given to registrars to call out those liable to military service in urban districts first.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie presented the final report of the committee on privileges and elections, instructing the general returning officer to appoint the soldiers' votes taken in the Yukon election to the candidates for whom it was cast and to declare a candidate elected.

Continuing the debate on the Yukon election case at the afternoon sitting, Hon. W. S. Fielding said that the great issue in the matter was whether or not the long established parliamentary principle with regard to contested elections should stand or fall.

THE VINDICTIVE'S FORE-TOP AND CONNING TOWER.

Extra protection of sand-bags, rope mats, etc., were devised to shelter as much as possible the men who would perform exposed to the enemy's fire. This photograph shows some of these protections.

Robert Borden expressed the view that the amendment moved by Mr. Richardson went farther than was desired at the present time. Under the amendment as it was at first proposed, it would have prevented recognition by the crown of the services of men in the naval and military forces.

TWO FRIENDS BOUND OVERSEAS

L. V. Putnam and F. Best on Way to Sign Up With British Army—Leave This Morning for Windsor, N. S.

Two young men leave on the Steamship Empress this morning to join the British army unit at Windsor, N. S. and leave some others who have preceded them have had notable careers.

L. V. Putnam tells an interesting story. He spent five years in the hospital service of the American army; was in Mexico when Huerta was made to salute the American flag; was in the last Mexican uprising in 1916 and saw service in Columbus.

His companion, F. Best, left an orphaned child and a wife dependent on him on his return. He was stenographer and secretary to the Clough Bourne Corporation of the U. S. Aviation Field, Minella, Long Island, and bears credentials of his ability.

He was born in Sheffield, England, and has a mother residing there at present.

SOCIALISTS LOOK WITH SUSPICION ON HUN ALLIANCE

New League of Arms Between Austria-Hungary and Germany Regarded With Distrust By Social Democrats—Pan-Germans Gleeful.

By GEORGE F. STEWART. (Special Cable to the N. Y. Tribune and St. John Standard.)

Amsterdam, May 21.—The new league of arms between Germany and Austria-Hungary which has caused gloom in the Pan-German camp is regarded with suspicion and distrust by the Social Democrats.

"Vorwaerts," the organ of the Social Democratic party complains of the form of the announcement and of the obvious effects it will have in the belligerent countries.

It would have been much better "Vorwaerts" thinks to have allowed Austria-Hungary to occupy her earlier position.

That something of the kind was necessary is evident from the stories reaching here of constantly recurring periods of something like tension between Austria and Germany.

There are not a few Germans who have been known to declare that was between the two states would not be the least popular of the Germanic wars.

Certainly there has been a growing feeling of distrust, due partly to the exceedingly bad economic conditions in Hungary.

The so-called "strong peace" with Rumania is condemned in the Zukunft by Maximilian Harden. In his opinion the result will be that the friendly admiration which the Rumanian nation hitherto has been inclined to show towards the German Empire will be transformed into the bitterest rancour.

LITTLE GIRL STRUCK BY STONE IS DEAD

Eleven Year Old Child and Others Were Playing Movies at French Fort Cove Quarry.

Newcastle, May 21.—As a result of injuries received at French Fort Cove Quarry, while attempting to imitate a moving picture film, little Ethel Copp, aged 11 years, who was struck on the head by a stone which fell from the top of the quarry, is dead.

That your Majesty hereafter may be graciously pleased to refrain from conferring any titles upon your subjects domiciled or living in Canada, except in accordance with the principles enunciated in the order-in-council approved on March 20th, 1918, and laid on the table of this house on May 21st, 1918.

All Over Empire. Considerations had been given, Sir Robert went on, not only to Canada, but to all parts of the Empire.

Mr. Devlin moved that the report of the general returning officer be referred to the supreme court for adjudication and decision, and that the decision of the supreme court be referred to the house for such action as it may deem proper.

Mr. Guthrie, in reply to Mr. Devlin, said that there was a good deal of force in the contention raised before the committee that the candidates were debarred from taking an appeal in the courts.

Mr. Devlin said that 15,000 soldiers' votes had been cast, apart from the Yukon. Would it be said that this was disfranchising the soldiers because the votes were illegally cast and that soldiers' votes should be counted whether cast legally or illegally?

WAS OFF WORK 4 or 5 MONTHS A YEAR WITH CONSTIPATION

If the truth were only known you would find that over one-half of the ills of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition.

When the bowels become constipated the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follows the violent sick headaches, the sourness of the stomach, heartburn, water brash, etc.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They work on the bowels gently and naturally and will cure the worst cases of constipation.

Mr. Sylvester Clements, Galt, Ont., writes: "I desire to express my heartfelt thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I have been suffering from a bad stomach and constipation and would be off work four or five months a year. I was hardly able to be fast without getting a severe headache. I tried doctors' medicine and other remedies, but got no relief until a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. Now I can work inside without any headaches or pain. I would not be without your remedy for anything. I write this so that anyone suffering the same as I did may use them and be cured."

Afternoon Session. Continuing the debate on the Yukon election case at the afternoon sitting, Hon. W. S. Fielding said that the great issue in the matter was whether or not the long established parliamentary principle with regard to contested elections should stand or fall.

Mr. Devlin said that 15,000 soldiers' votes had been cast, apart from the Yukon. Would it be said that this was disfranchising the soldiers because the votes were illegally cast and that soldiers' votes should be counted whether cast legally or illegally?

Mr. Devlin moved that the report of the general returning officer be referred to the supreme court for adjudication and decision, and that the decision of the supreme court be referred to the house for such action as it may deem proper.

Mr. Guthrie, in reply to Mr. Devlin, said that there was a good deal of force in the contention raised before the committee that the candidates were debarred from taking an appeal in the courts.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

THE WAR NEWS.
The news from the western front, while meagre in quantity, is most encouraging in tone. The Germans have not yet launched the offensive which they expect, will decide the issue of the struggle, and the only explanation of the delay seems to be that they are experiencing difficulty in their preparations. British and French troops have been striking back at many points on the battle line from the Belgian coast to the Swiss border, and while this "nibbling" has not produced individual successes of magnitude, yet, in the aggregate, much damage has been inflicted upon the enemy and the Allies have captured and now occupy positions that may prove of great value in future operations.

Every day increases the number of American soldiers that will be in readiness to co-operate with the British and French in repelling the next thrust, and this fact does not tend to smooth the path for Hindenburg and his associates. The spirit of the Allied armies is reported as splendid. They are awaiting the expected advance with full confidence in their ability to meet it and inflict serious, if not decisive, defeat upon the enemy. It is likely that the struggle will be the most bitter in its results, the most important. Hindenburg is said to have called to his assistants every available man from the eastern front and military observers believe that it is his intention to stake all on this one attempt. Meanwhile Austria is massing for a drive against Italy for which the Italian army is said to be well prepared, so the next few weeks will witness Titanic struggles along the whole western line and, possibly, on the sea, as it is reported the German fleet will co-operate with the land forces in one mighty attempt to wrest victory from the defeat that is assured as soon as the United States is ready to strike with full force.

In a situation such as this Germany must force the fighting. The Allies have already established superiority in the air and the Hun submarine campaign has failed to come up to expectations. The Allied armies grow stronger daily and, therefore, Germany's sole remaining hope rests in her ability to score a swift, smashing victory on land. It is the opinion of the best qualified military experts in the world, men who have carefully canvassed every possible development of the coming thrust, that no matter what may happen in the initial stages of the operation the German plan is doomed to complete failure. There is every reason to be optimistic as to the outlook.

BEATING THE SUBMARINE.
Three items coming to the desk of The Standard's news editor among the despatches of last night illustrated the degree to which the watchfulness of the British and Allied navies has succeeded in surmounting the so-called menace of the Hun submarine.
The first is a cable from London, transmitting the official statement of the British Admiralty as to the losses of British and Allied and neutral shipping during the month of April. In that time British tonnage lost totalled 230,709, and that of Allied or neutral shipping other than British, 84,393. The loss to British ships is somewhat smaller than the average loss recorded during the quarter ending March last, and in other Allied and neutral shipping the loss shows a great decline.

Another item from London gives the tonnage of ships restored during the period from August last to April 25th. In that time the average of weekly restorations was 414,105 tons, almost double the tonnage the Germans managed to destroy in a month. In other words, Britain is placing in the sea more than eight tons of shipping for every ton destroyed.
But the most significant of the three items comes from Washington and reports that the insurance rate on the lives of officers and crews of merchant vessels passing through the war zone has been reduced forty per cent, while the rate on vessels and cargoes has declined from three to two per cent. The Washington despatch indicates even more clearly than the Admiralty statement that the Allies are at last mastering the submarine.

It was by the unrestricted use of the submarine that Germany hoped to starve England into submission. That hope was shattered long ago. The danger from U-boat warfare has not yet passed but, as shown in the despatches referred to, the margin of the Allies is daily growing greater. The Allies are the superior on the sea, as in the imagined such a thing possible four years ago, or even two years ago!

Among the remarkable changes wrought by the war none is more striking or more hopeful in its indications for the future than the close drawing together of the two branches of the English-speaking world—the British Empire and the United States. The world conflict is breaking down ancient prejudices which formerly tended to keep these two great democracies apart. Having fought together and suffered together in defence of civilization the British and American peoples will understand each other and esteem each other as never before. We believe that the war is forging an Anglo-American entente which will link the Empire and the Republic in permanent friendship—in a partnership which will be productive of much blessing for the human race for all time to come.

THE YUKON ELECTION

(Montreal Gazette.)
The soldiers voted for the Government or Unionist candidate, irrespective of who those candidates might be. The personal element, so far as these votes were concerned, did not enter into the election. It was a choice, not between one candidate and another, but between one principle and another. It was this vote which gave the Government candidate, Col. Alfred Thompson, his majority, and his seat. The contention of the Opposition is that the vote was cast in this way for a principle, rather than for an individual, must be rejected, and the seat given, under a fine legal technicality, to the candidate whose platform failed to commend itself to a majority of the qualified electors. The clear duty of Parliament is to confirm in his seat the man who stood in the election for the principle of which a majority of the electorate declared their approval. It should be done, too, without delay, and the way to a speedy decision is through the course prescribed by the House of Commons on Thursday. The Government candidate will fight the election on the basis of the platform which he has already referred to in his speech to the Supreme Court.

MODERN SOCIALISM

St. John, N. B., May 20th, 1918.
Sir.—Your interesting editorial in Monday's Standard, "What is Modern Socialism?" is opportune, to say the least, at a time when even a sorely distressed world is reading with interest press notices of the centenary of Karl Marx, who is known as the father of modern Socialism.
That there are Socialists (so-called), also scientific Socialists, and pseudo Socialists, is well known, and that genuine Socialists will not agree with all that is set down in your editorial already referred to goes without saying.

To the question, "What is Socialism?" It has been said:
"Socialism is simply the theoretical expression of the contemporary phase of the economic evolution of humanity."
This definition is difficult to grasp or sense except by those who have given some study to sociology.
Again, to the question, "What is Socialism?" we may truly say Socialism is a science, the science of sociology, the science that explains society, and by society we do not mean the aristocracy exclusively but, of course, we mean all humanity or all associated peoples.

In the study of the science of biology, the biological student studies everything which deals with the origin and life history of plant and animal life to the minutest detail.
Likewise, the biological student familiarizes himself with the structure of the earth and the causes which have operated in producing alterations in the crust of the globe.
As the scientific student strives to mentally grasp everything appertaining to the particular science he may be studying, so it is essential that the student of Socialism or sociology study and explain the human family and all their activities.
Sociology then being a science, we may finally say to that now familiar question—What is Socialism?
Socialism is the science of society and as a science it is here now.
Religion is not opposed by Socialism, but explained.
Religion being an important activity of the human family, the student of Sociology is forced to explain it along with all other functions in human society, to do otherwise would be both unscientific and illogical.

Y. M. C. A. ARRANGES WORKING BASIS

Ottawa, May 17—Representatives of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. met today in conference with Colonel Almond, director-general of chaplain services overseas, and mutually agreed on a working basis in a religious work for enlisted men. Certain misunderstandings which appeared to exist were happily cleared away. Those representing the chaplain services were: General Carlston Jones, Colonel J. L. Almond, Lieutenant-Colonel H. G. Williams, principal chaplain M. D. N. 2, and Rev. A. M. Moore.

The representative of the national council of the Y. M. C. A. were G. H. Wood, chairman of the national council; John W. Ross, chairman of the Red Triangle fund campaign committee; W. M. Birks, Montreal; L. F. Monypenny, chairman National Y. M. C. A. military committee, and Dr. John Brown, Jr., associate general secretary.
The following statement of policy for the basis of co-operation was mutually agreed upon:
(a) The Canadian National Council of the Y. M. C. A. reaffirms the policy in its military work of placing all its butts and equipment at the service of the chaplain, regardless of creed or denomination, for communion or parade services.

(b) For the religious work, carried on under its own officers, the National Council officers, the National Council craves the sympathetic co-operation and assistance of the chaplains, and trusts that satisfactory methods of co-operation may be largely extended, and to this effect it will again instruct its military secretaries.
(c) The National Council reaffirms the loyalty of the whole movement to the church and fully recognizes that the background of the association's resources and power is in the church, and that its definite aim is to send the men who have influenced into the life and enterprise of the church.
(d) The National Council at the same time retains that full liberty which it has enjoyed among Canadian forces for the past forty-five years in conducting voluntary services and other religious activities.

(e) It also retains its right to invite outstanding clergymen to lead in this voluntary religious work.
(f) While affirming its desire to draw such leaders from the various denominations, the National Council must be governed primarily by the qualification of the minister for the special work.

(g) In appointing special religious workers for overseas, the National Council will submit names of these representatives to the director-general of chaplain services and in arranging itineraries and programme of work same will be submitted to the D. G. C. S. for approval.

DEPARTING PRIEST PRESENTED WITH AN ADDRESS AND PURSE

Congregation of St. Ignatius Church, Petersville, Bid Farewell to Rev. C. P. Carleton—Has Been Appointed to Charge of Silver Falls Parish.

The congregation of St. Ignatius Church Petersville Sunday morning took an opportunity of bidding farewell to their beloved priest Rev. C. P. Carleton, who is soon to take charge of the church at Silver Falls, succeeding Rev. A. J. O'Neill, who in turn is removed to take charge of the Assumption Church succeeding the late Rev. J. J. Donovan.

At the conclusion of the mass, on behalf of the parishioners, the following farewell address was read:

To Rev. C. P. Carleton, pastor of St. Ignatius Church.

It was with supreme feeling of regret and surprise, that the members of your congregation learned during the past few weeks, that you were to leave us—being called to labor in another vineyard of the Lord.

In bidding you farewell, we are ever conscious of the deep loss we are sustaining; for near thirteen years have you labored, early and late for our spiritual and temporal welfare, and your good works will long be remembered and your achievements recalled by this congregation of St. Ignatius' Church. While we realize dear Father, that our loss is great, yet we rejoice in the fact that your marked ability and constant devotedness, as well as your achievements, so recognized by His Lordship, as to summon you, to assume yet greater responsibility of the parish of Silver Falls, and your kindly manner, energetic, and intellectual ability, we realize, will be a means of continuing the work, so ably performed in this parish.

In leaving us you carry the best wishes of an appreciative people, imbued with the knowledge that your every act, deed, and thought, was for our spiritual and temporal welfare. Your Missions here were scattered which at all times made your work strenuous; we are pleased to know that Silver Falls is a promotion, especially in this fact.

Saying adieu we wish to convey our best wishes for the future; and the congregation of St. Ignatius Church will ever pray that God will grant you strength, to carry on further good works.

Again, we beg of you to accept this small token, as a kindly remembrance of the congregation of St. Ignatius' Church.

Signed on behalf of the parishioners, Michael Hogan, John Connors, Terrence McGuire, John O'Neill, Edward O'Neill.

The reverend father was here the recipient of a "well filled" purse.

The reverend gentleman replied, and seemed visibly affected.

He reviewed in a concise manner his works in the parish, since his residence there. He spoke of the fact that the parish was clear of debt. He then thanked all for the sentiments embodied in the address, for the congratulatory and good wishes; and for the tangible expressions of their esteem. He assured them that he, too, had his regrets in parting, as the years spent among them were very happy. He asked God's blessing on their homes and families, and asked them in turn to pray for him, as that he might continue his further works in the Lord's vineyard.

Father Carleton will be missed by all his parishioners, his kindly manner and fatherly way, was ever a source of comfort to those in sorrow. The well wishes of all follow him.

His kindly manner makes his Catholic friends respect him.

He bids adieu this following Sunday in Oromocto, where he will give his farewell address.

THE ST. JOHN BOY SCOUT COUNCIL
Session Held Monday Evening — Committees Appointed and Other Important Business Transacted.

The St. John Boy Scout Council met Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Good reports were received from the various troops in the city. As the meeting was the last one to be held this season, a committee of four, consisting of A. C. Skelton, B. C. Waring, P. Gibson and H. H. Wetmore were appointed as an active executive during the summer. P. Gibson, provincial secretary, was also appointed acting district scoutmaster for the rest of the season with L. MacDonald assisting. Warrants were issued to H. F. Hopkins and H. D. Hopkins, scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster, respectively, of the Exmouth Street Church troop, also to W. C. Panjov, instructor in first aid for the city. A motion was passed to recall the boy scout instruments to the respective troop headquarters from a band which has included a large number of the boy scouts. It was unanimously passed that the council give their support and co-operation to the new official scout organ, the "Canadian Boy," edited in St. John by Percy Gibson, the first number of which will appear about June 5th. A vote of thanks was tendered to the Y. M. C. A. for extending to the council the use of the room in which they met.

COMMON COUNCIL MET YESTERDAY

Eastern Steamships Company Granted Lease Providing They Pay $300 Increase on Present Rental and Twelve Per Cent. on Cost of New Building — Other Matters Dealt With.

The Common Council met in committee at 2.30 yesterday afternoon to give A. C. Currie, agent of the Eastern Steamships Company, an opportunity to appear before them in connection with the renewal lease asked for by the company and proposed improvements to be made. After hearing Mr. Currie the committee rose and resolved itself into council when a motion passed, agreeing to give the company a renewal lease provided they were willing to pay twelve per cent. on the cost of building the new shed and an increase of $300 on the present rental.

Commissioner Hilyard reported that Mr. Pullen had offered to compromise on his bill but the council decided to let him collect.

Mayor Hayes was elected to represent the city at the meeting of the Union of Canadian Municipalities to be held in Victoria, B. C. in July and several matters of routine business were disposed.

Mayor Hayes presided and all the commissioners were present.

The council met in committee and A. C. Currie presented the case for the Eastern Steamships Company. He said the company felt in view of present conditions their rental should be decreased instead of increased and he felt that ten per cent. on the cost of the improvements asked for on Reed's Point wharf was sufficient. He could not say whether the company would pay twelve per cent. as he had never brought the matter officially to their notice, having understood that ten per cent. was agreeable to the council. He also suggested that the city name a rental for the wharf without any improvements.

Mr. Currie then withdrew and the council came to order. The first business was the report of the committee of the whole which was adopted as already published.

In moving the adoption regarding the Eastern Line wharf Commissioner Hilyard stated that the increased rental, it cost fifty per cent. more to keep the wharves in repair than it did ten years ago. He felt that the company should pay the increase. Commissioner Hilyard wanted to know why the Board had not referred to a collision between a vessel lying at the Anchor Line wharf and one at the Reed's Point wharf and if the city would have to stand in the breach. Commissioner McLellan suggested that if the proposition of the city was accepted some guarantee be supplied by the company that the rental would be paid for the ten years.

Regarding J. H. Pullen's bill Commissioner Bullock said he had been told that the bill had not been referred to the committee. This was not seconded and the section as read was adopted.

E. M. Olive reported that the district commissioners had finished their duties and recommended that they be paid. Recommendation adopted.

A communication from the Express Traffic Association that they were asking the Board of Railway Commissioners to approve a charge of ten cents per one hundred pounds from St. John to rest St. John. Referred to the mayor.

Commissioner Bullock moved that the bill of S. H. Mayes be paid as the city engineer had inspected the work and found the number of piles which had been driven. Carried.

The request of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company for permission to erect a pole in front of their premises on Prince William street for their free air service was referred to the commissioners of safety and public works.

Commissioner McLellan said he wished it made plain that all persons lights until eleven o'clock at night. A bill of $33 from W. A. Munro for work done on No. 5 trestle was referred to Commissioner Bullock.

The bill of the Union of Canadian Municipalities of $150 for the year was referred to the mayor with power to act.

Commissioner Hilyard moved that the request of the Sterling Realty Company for extension of water main estimates and the number of piles to their property of $900, they to pay ten per cent. on the cost, be granted. Carried.

CHILL STARTS COLD WAS SICK FOUR WEEKS Just Able to Crawl About

Mr. Weldon T. Hawkes, Curryville, N. B., writes: "Last spring I was taken very ill with a severe cold. I got wet and it started with a chill. I was sick for weeks, and was just able to crawl about. People all said I had inflammation of the lungs, and I think I did. I told a friend to get me two bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before long my cold was taken my cold and cough were broken up, and the second did its work completely. I am raising a family and I find that it is a good medicine for the children.

"There is no remedy that will cure stubborn colds or coughs, the kind that won't let go, like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

"It relieves the inflammation, soothes the irritation, heals the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes, and rids the system completely of all the bad effects of lingering coughs and colds.

"There are so many spurious 'Pine' preparations on the market that you should see you get 'Dr. Wood's' when you ask for it.

Many friends of Josiah Fowler were shocked to learn of his sudden death, which occurred at 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was a most prominent citizen and popular with a wide circle of friends. Mr. Fowler was a veteran of the Civil War and received a pension from the United States for his services in the cause of freedom. He was twice married and both wives predeceased him.

Decanell had been boarding at Hampton, and came to the city as usual yesterday morning, on the way to his office, but feeling unwell, proceeded to the home of his son, Mr. Blanchard Fowler Wright street, to rest. Later he gradually became weak, then seriously ill, and finally passed away at 1.30.

There survive a daughter, Mrs. A. D. Barbour, of his first marriage, and two children, Mr. Blanchard Fowler, and Mrs. S. B. Patchell, Regina, Saskatchewan, of his second marriage. Mr. Charles D. Fowler, Wright street, is a brother, and Mrs. James Wood, Mt. Auburn, Mass., is a sister.

Mr. Fowler was born at French Village, Kings county, in 1837, and was of Loyalist descent. When a young man he went to the United States, and after having fought through the Civil War, returned to New Brunswick and made his home in St. John. Here he started the manufacture of the famous Fowler axes and springs and soon had developed a prosperous business. While residing in the North End he enjoyed great popularity and the respect of all classes, and he was a member of the Portland Town Council for a number of years.

In his younger days Mr. Fowler was a strong advocate of temperance and an able worker in this field of endeavor for the good of the community.

He was a member of Albion Lodge, F. & A. M., and of the Board of Trade.

The late Mr. Fowler took for his first wife Miss Farris M. Blake, and his second wife Miss Annie Rankine, daughter of the late Alexander Rankine.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from his son's residence, 108 Wright street, the service commencing at 2.30 o'clock.

FLOUR REGULATIONS.

The Canada Food Board has amended its recent regulation dealing with the amount of flour that a consumer may hold in order to allow a farmer to maintain the flour manufactured from wheat in his own possession, on condition that he reports to the Canada Food Board the amount of flour thus held. Evidently the Board desires full knowledge of the amount of flour in Canada, and means to exercise such control as may be found necessary for the public welfare. At the same time it is anxious to avoid all unnecessary inconvenience or hardship.

Another amendment allows an individual to hold at least twenty pounds without regard to his rate of consumption, and to retain in his possession even more than this amount, when it is contained in a broken package purchased prior to the issuing of the order.

The amendment reads as follows: "Section one of Order No. 31 of the Canadian Food Board, dated the 25th day of April, 1918, is amended by adding the following sub-sections: (a) A bona fide farmer shall be permitted to hold, subject to the order of the Canada Food Board, the amount of flour made wholly or in part from wheat he may have in his possession in excess of the amount prescribed by the above order, if on or before the 15th day of June, 1918, he reports to the miller or dealer from whom it was purchased or by whom it was manufactured, the excess amount held by him. It shall then be the duty of such miller or dealer to report all such holdings to the Canada Food Board on forms to be supplied and at such times as he is directed.

(d) Any person holding or having in his possession not more than 25 pounds of flour made wholly or in part from wheat shall be permitted to hold, subject to the order of the Canada Food Board, the amount of flour made wholly or in part from wheat he may have in his possession in excess of the amount prescribed by the above order, if on or before the 15th day of June, 1918, he reports to the miller or dealer from whom it was purchased or by whom it was manufactured, the excess amount held by him. It shall then be the duty of such miller or dealer to report all such holdings to the Canada Food Board on forms to be supplied and at such times as he is directed.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Without doubt if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drugist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated, heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow most everything you eat.

The amendment reads as follows: "Section one of Order No. 31 of the Canadian Food Board, dated the 25th day of April, 1918, is amended by adding the following sub-sections: (a) A bona fide farmer shall be permitted to hold, subject to the order of the Canada Food Board, the amount of flour made wholly or in part from wheat he may have in his possession in excess of the amount prescribed by the above order, if on or before the 15th day of June, 1918, he reports to the miller or dealer from whom it was purchased or by whom it was manufactured, the excess amount held by him. It shall then be the duty of such miller or dealer to report all such holdings to the Canada Food Board on forms to be supplied and at such times as he is directed.

(d) Any person holding or having in his possession not more than 25 pounds of flour made wholly or in part from wheat shall be permitted to hold, subject to the order of the Canada Food Board, the amount of flour made wholly or in part from wheat he may have in his possession in excess of the amount prescribed by the above order, if on or before the 15th day of June, 1918, he reports to the miller or dealer from whom it was purchased or by whom it was manufactured, the excess amount held by him. It shall then be the duty of such miller or dealer to report all such holdings to the Canada Food Board on forms to be supplied and at such times as he is directed.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching, itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain purified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Mr. F. B. Mills of Benton is in the city. He has just returned from a trip to Prince Edward Island.

FINE ADDRESS ON MEDICAL INSPECTION IN THE SCHOOLS

Dr. Mabel Hanington Delivers Interesting Lecture Before Women's Canadian Club Members—Conservation of Child Life a Patriotic Duty.

Speaking out of the knowledge of a long experience, Dr. Mabel Hanington gave a splendid talk yesterday afternoon in the Imperial Theatre before the Women's Canadian Club. The address was upon medical inspection in schools and the subject was treated in such an interesting way that the attention of the audience was held for an hour and the importance of this movement made very clear to those present by facts and illustrations, humorous, striking and pathetic.

Dr. Hanington told how her attention had first been drawn in London to the responsibility of doctors to prevent disease as well as to cure it.

Dr. Hanington said, for the doctor in the school does not cure, he points out to the parents the necessity of a cure. St. John is promised, in the health bill introduced by Dr. Roberts and passed by the provincial legislature a medical inspector in the schools of the province. This matter was urged by the Local Council of Women repeatedly.

The majority of epidemics are preventable and the defective child can be cured. Sixty-five per cent. of school children are defective in some way, eighty-five per cent. have defective teeth. One in every ten children needs attention of some kind, which means that there would be eight hundred in the City of St. John who require medical care.

These children are found in the homes of the rich as well as the poor for children rarely complain unless they are in actual pain and many diseases are allowed to go unchecked because the symptoms are not noticed by the parents.

Vaccination would be attended to and thus no compulsory order would be necessary. In the modern methods used the mothers are asked to be present while the child is examined by the doctor and nurse and thus her co-operation is secured.

Dr. Hanington gave a brief history of the movement and how it was applied in different cities working in some cases under the school board, in other cases with the board of health. One member of a school board had been heard to say that a woman's place was not to be a medical inspector but in the kitchen forgetting the number of fine women teachers, without whom they would find it very difficult to run the schools.

The audience present, judging by the applause, heartily agreed with Dr. Hanington in her argument that a medical inspector of schools should be a woman. Dr. Hanington also spoke of the talks to be delivered by the doctor appointed before the older boys and girls on their responsibility to become finer citizens and to pass on to the next generation ideals of purity, cleanliness and self-control.

Mrs. George F. Smith, in moving the vote of thanks, spoke enthusiastically of the instructive lecture and the pride

ST. JUDE'S RECTOR TO GO TO IMPORTANT GUELPH CHURCH

Rev. G. F. Scovill Has Been Appointed Rector of St. George's, Guelph, and Leaves For New Field Next Month—Resigns From St. Jude's Last Evening.

The resignation of Rev. G. F. Scovill, for over eighteen years rector of St. Jude's Church, West Side, was laid before a special meeting of the corporation of that church last night and reluctantly accepted, to take effect at once. Rev. Mr. Scovill has been appointed rector of St. George's Church, Guelph, Ontario, in succession to the Venerable Archdeacon F. G. Davidson, who goes to Regina.

Since coming to St. Jude's over eighteen years ago the progress of the work under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Scovill has been steady and the church today occupies a leading position in this diocese. The church building has been improved, a number of stained glass windows have been placed, the Sunday school has been enlarged and much other work carried out.

The chapel of St. John in the Wilderness has been opened at Duck Cove and services are held there during the summer months.

Rev. Mr. Scovill is a governor of King's College and has always taken an active interest in the affairs of his Alma Mater. He also took a keen interest in military matters and for some years has been chaplain of No. 3 Canadian Garrison Artillery.

Rev. G. F. Scovill was born in St. John and is a son of the late C. G. Scovill, at one time M. L. A. for Kings County. He was educated at King's College and ordained priest in the year 1897. His first charge was at Prince William, York County, from which field he came to St. Jude's.

His leaving will be regretted by many outside of his own church and communion for he occupied a high place in the regard and esteem of his brother clergymen of other denominations, but all will wish him success in the larger field to which he has been called. He will leave for his new charge the latter part of June.

Ven. Archdeacon Davidson whom he succeeds is one of the most prominent Anglican divines in Canada. He was born in London, England, and came to Canada in 1889. He was ordained priest in 1895 and served as curate at St. Anne's, Toronto, from that year until 1898. The following year he acted as travelling secretary for Trinity University and as fellow lecturer in theology from 1899 to 1901.

In 1901 he was appointed vicar of St. George's Church and became rector in March, 1907; in 1911 he was appointed archdeacon. He is a member of the corporation of Trinity University and has served as president of the Guelph Ministerial Association. He was a member of the committee to prepare the Book of Common Prayer and is regarded as one of the ablest preachers of the Anglican Church in Ontario.

all St. John should feel that we had such a woman as Dr. Hanington in our midst. Mrs. Richard Hooper, who seconded the vote, spoke strongly of the absolute necessity of medical inspection and that women should stand firmly together to see that the children had what was their right—a chance to grow up in health and strength. She felt there was no need to look further for an inspector as Dr. Hanington would so splendidly fill the position.

Mrs. H. A. Powell presided and introduced the speaker. Members of the Canadian Club executive occupied seats on the platform. Members of the Y. W. P. A. ushered.

NURSING SISTER HOME.

Nursing Sister Edith Hegan arrived home yesterday, exactly one year from the time she last left St. John.

The letter stated that there was recently formed a Dominion Association of the A. and N. V. composed of all the existing associations of that name in Canada, and it is expected to be a great force for the future. The local Winnipeg association now has over 3,000 members, a large portion of which are present war veterans who have returned.

FANJOY BROTHERS, TWO DESERTERS, TO PENITENTIARY

Young Men Were Captured in Woods Near Home in Cambridge - Sentence of Two Years Read To Them in Presence of Depot Battalion Yesterday.

Deserters from the militia may expect no mercy as was shown on the Barrack Square yesterday afternoon when two brothers, Charles Fred Fanjoy and George Henry Fanjoy, of Cambridge, Queens county, were humiliated in full view of the Depot Battalion and sentenced to a term of two years each in the Dorchester Penitentiary.

No. 4060368 Private Charles Fred Fanjoy, and No. 4060371 Private George Henry Fanjoy were tried by District Court Martial on the 8th of May, and the two soldiers were charged with desertion.

The two brothers who had resided at Cambridge, Queens county, were first brought to St. John as deserters under the Military Service Act, were under arrest and placed in the Depot Battalion. On the 16th of April they were both reported as absent from the battalion, and the military authorities heard that the brothers were at their home in Cambridge and were hiding in the woods. A non-commissioned officer and two men were sent after the two deserters, and after a considerable search were unable to find them. An officer and fifteen men were then sent after the brothers, and for a week the soldiers searched the woods and the surrounding area.

Other St. John men to arrive were F. Smith, Ben Lomond House; W. F. Peares, King street east; J. Delaney, Queen street, and J. R. Patterson, of Orange street.

Lieut. J. S. Tukington, of Halifax, who saw considerable service overseas, also arrived in the city. He is registered at the Royal Hotel.

Major Colin Macintosh, who went overseas with the 6th Mounted Rifles arrived last evening. He has been paymaster to the 4th Canadian General Hospital in France for some time. At the time of his appointment to the Canadian Expeditionary Force, Major Macintosh was squadron commander with the 28th New Brunswick Dragoons, and was living at Fredericton Junction. He is a veteran of both the Egyptian and South African wars, having served as an officer in the 14th Irish Dragoon Guards.

It is expected that within the next week or so young men desirous of joining the Royal Air Force will be granted the privilege of joining up and becoming attached to the St. John. Several young men have been obliged to go to Halifax to be attested within the last two weeks and in order to avoid this, a depot of this branch of the service is to be established in St. John. It is not known the number of men to be taken on strength but it is stated that young men between the ages of seventeen years, eight months and thirty, will be taken on as cadets. It is also stated on good authority that Captain Hay of the postmaster's staff is to be in charge. Captain Hay has a splendid war record and his appointment to this position will no doubt be a popular one.

Captain Hay left last evening for other points in the province and will return to the city on Friday. While away he will visit Fredericton and Woodstock.

Mr. Wilson said he had nothing for publication as yet in regard to the report that all three wholesale drug houses had received wholesale licenses.

CHANCE TO JOIN THE AIR FORCE

Young Men Desiring to Sign Up Can Be Attended Here - Capt. Hay, a Returned Officer, Will Be in Charge.

It is expected that within the next week or so young men desirous of joining the Royal Air Force will be granted the privilege of joining up and becoming attached to the St. John. When asked if the factory would require 250 hands the year round, Mr. Smithers said that this would only apply during the sardine season. The factory is to be fitted up to care for the extensive business anticipated by the company. Machinery of the most modern type is to be installed and every facility to handle the product with minimum delay is to be placed therein.

BOOTH FACTORY NEARLY COMPLETED

Will Employ 250 Operators - C. P. Smithers, President of the Company, Was Here Yesterday.

It was stated to The Standard yesterday that the sardine factory now building in West St. John for the Booth Fisheries, Limited, when completed will require about 250 operators. C. P. Smithers, president of the company, who was in the city yesterday from Chicago, said that he was pleased with the progress made and expressed the opinion that the plant would be completed by the middle of June or at the latest, July 1st.

MAYOR HAYES WILL GO TO VICTORIA

Chosen by Common Council to Represent St. John at Union of Canadian Municipalities Annual Meeting.

Mayor Hayes was chosen yesterday to represent the city at the annual meeting of the Union of Canadian Municipalities which will be held this year at Victoria, B. C., on July 9, 10, 11.

This action was taken in consequence of a communication read at the meeting of the council yesterday afternoon from the president of the Union setting forth that it had been thought advisable in view of the many serious problems facing the municipalities to hold the meeting, and as Victoria had been promised the gathering before the war to hold it there. The communication urged that as many as possible of the eastern municipalities send representatives to this meeting and the council decided to send the mayor to represent this city.

SOLDIERS OF THE SOIL.

The Soldiers of the Soil in as far as the registration of boys is concerned has proved successful beyond all expectation. While it was hoped to enroll 500 boys in New Brunswick that number has been far surpassed, and up to date 759 boys have responded in the province and applications are still coming in. The larger proportion of these have already been placed on farms. A number of these prospective juvenile farmers from the city left yesterday to commence their summer campaign in the interests of increased production.

RETURNED SOLDIERS ARRIVED YESTERDAY

New Brunswick Men Met at Depot By Friends and Reception Committee - St. John Heroes Were Among the Party.

The New Brunswick men who arrived recently at an Atlantic port from overseas reached the city last evening on the 5.30 train. They were met at the depot by relatives, friends and the returned soldiers reception committee. Major Smith, officer commanding the Discharge Depot, and Charles Robinson, of returned soldiers committee, were also present. In the party were St. John boys, Sergeant George Richardson, an original member of the 26th Battalion went overseas as batman for Major Brown and by sheer ability and interest in his work won promotion, and has been recommended for a commission. Sergt. Richardson is home on furlough, and it is expected that he will qualify in Canada.

G. Teed, of 26 Pitt street, son of Mrs. G. L. Teed was also welcomed home, after spending eighteen months in the trenches. Pte. Teed enlisted in the 115th Battalion, but was later transferred to the 26th Battalion. Speaking of his transfer the returned soldier said the 26th boys received him with open arms. During the time spent in the trenches Pte. Teed escaped being wounded. During his absence the young man's father passed away.

Other St. John men to arrive were F. Smith, Ben Lomond House; W. F. Peares, King street east; J. Delaney, Queen street, and J. R. Patterson, of Orange street.

Lieut. J. S. Tukington, of Halifax, who saw considerable service overseas, also arrived in the city. He is registered at the Royal Hotel.

It is expected that within the next week or so young men desirous of joining the Royal Air Force will be granted the privilege of joining up and becoming attached to the St. John. Several young men have been obliged to go to Halifax to be attested within the last two weeks and in order to avoid this, a depot of this branch of the service is to be established in St. John. It is not known the number of men to be taken on strength but it is stated that young men between the ages of seventeen years, eight months and thirty, will be taken on as cadets. It is also stated on good authority that Captain Hay of the postmaster's staff is to be in charge. Captain Hay has a splendid war record and his appointment to this position will no doubt be a popular one.

IS FITTING UP THE LABORATORY

Dr. H. L. Abramson Working at General Public Hospital - Will Operate Under New Health Bill.

Dr. H. L. Abramson, chief of public laboratories and provincial bacteriologist and pathologist, is now at work at the General Public Hospital fitting up the laboratory at that institution.

Hon. Dr. Roberts said last night that while the bill would operate under the new Health Bill, and was brought here in consequence of that bill having passed the house when the new legislation was proclaimed, for the present he was working under the old legislation which provided for a provincial bacteriologist.

He stated that no definite time had yet been set for the proclamation of the Health Bill but he expected it to become law some time during the summer. Neither had it yet been decided as to how the Act would be administered when it became law, or what minister would be placed in charge.

CHIEF INSPECTOR AT CONVENTIONS

Rev. W. D. Wilson Arrived in City Last Night - Was Addressing Conventions in Nova Scotia.

W. D. Wilson, Chief Inspector under the Prohibition Act, arrived in the city last night after spending a week in Nova Scotia addressing conventions of the Nova Scotia Social Service Council and Temperance Alliance at Amherst, Truro, Halifax and Sydney.

Mr. Wilson said he had nothing for publication as yet in regard to the report that all three wholesale drug houses had received wholesale licenses.

The inspector said there was a movement on foot to have the Nova Scotia law amended along the lines of the New Brunswick Act placing the onus of the enforcement on the shoulders of the chief inspector and removing it from politics altogether, and he had been explaining the N. B. Act at these conventions.

WESTERN SALARIES ARE MUCH LARGER

Feeling That There Will Be Many School Teachers Leave For Western Canada This Summer.

There is a feeling that no doubt there will be another general exodus of school teachers to western Canada this year like there was last summer, and the only reason given is that the salaries offered in the West are far larger than that given in the Eastern provinces. The various estimates in New Brunswick figure a poor comparison with those offered to the teacher who travels to the westward. It has been advocated that the salaries be increased in this province, and it is believed that the New Brunswick teachers will in a short time be offered a higher wage than is at present given, and the amount paid at present time is much larger than it formerly was.

THE VACCINATION OF ALL PERSONS WILL BE ORDERED

Board of Health Decides on Thorough Canvass of City - Two New Cases of Smallpox Reported Yesterday.

Two new cases of smallpox were reported yesterday, one from the West Side and the other from Chance Harbor, and three houses were released from quarantine.

Last night at a meeting held in the Board of Health office arrangements were completed for a thorough canvass of the city and the vaccination of all persons who have not been vaccinated within the last five years.

Doctors have been chosen for the various wards who will call at each house, and every inmate will be expected to either produce evidence that they have been successfully vaccinated within five years or allow themselves to be vaccinated by the physician making the call. This rule applies to all persons over six months old, and it is hoped by this method that ago vaccinated within the next few days.

In from seven to ten days the physician is expected to make a return call to see that the vaccination was successful when he will issue a certificate to that effect.

If on his return he finds it did not take then a second trial will be made. Yesterday a supply of vaccine reached the city and the doctors present at the meeting last night received each 100 points.

The physicians appointed last night to carry out the vaccination and the wards in which they will operate were: Queens, Dr. Walker, Logie and McAlpine; Dukas, Dr. Macaulay, and McVey; Sydney, Dr. A. B. Baxter; Kings, Drs. Neve and Rowley; Victoria, Drs. Stevenson and Mary McLeod; Dufferin, Dr. Broderick and Clark; Lansdowne, Dr. Dalton; Lorne, Drs. Roberts and Mahoney; Stanley, Dr. Stevenson; Brooks, Gays, Prince and Wellington wards have already been vaccinated.

Dr. Melvin, chief medical officer for the county will leave this morning for Chance Harbor where he will vaccinate all who in any way came in contact with the young woman who came from that place yesterday and was admitted to the Isolation Hospital.
