WHARF AND 200 TONS OF COAL SLIDE INTO WATER

New Shed Belonging to Frances Kerr Co., Ltd., Collapses on Saturday—Lightning Said to Have Weakened It

A rather peculiar accident occurred on Saturday afternoon between two and three o'clock, when the new shed belonging to the Francis Kerr Co. Ltd., collapsed, the floor of it, or rather the wharf falling into the water, with about seven hundred tons of anthracite American hard coal on the top of it.

The shed was constructed on the Charlotte street extension, the building of which caused a law suit between the Seeley estate and the Francis Kerr Co. Ltd. in which case the city was involved.

For the past week or so the Kerr Co. has been unloading the three-masted schooners Preference and Manuel R. Cuna, and placing the coal in the shed by hoisting it with the roof and throwing it down a hatch into the shed.

Seven men and a team of horses were engaged in the work at the time of the accident, and three of the men were on the roof. As quick as a flash and without a moment's warning the wharf underneath three Add Wharf.

out of eight sheds, dropped into the water with the entire amount of coal which had been placed in these three sheds carried with it.

The wharf and shed were said to have been well built, every precaution being taken to prevent such occurrence. This being the first shipment of coal to be placed there, with the exception of 20 tons of the battery, which were there for a short time a few weeks ago, the wharf was carefully watched to ascertain if it would settle any. But the collapse came suddenly, and without any warning, making a report like a cannon, which could be heard at a great distance.

It could not be stated yesterday just what the accident was due to owing to the fact that the coal covered the wharf, it is generally believed, however, the rock beneath the wharf being very jagged that one of the splines happened to get a cliff of rock and it giving away would naturally effect the remaining ones.

A remarkable feature of the accident was the men on the roof escaped death, because the roof sagged as the floor went, and one of the men, Mr. J. J. White, who was on the roof, managed to cling to the edge in order to save himself from falling with the rest.

Speaking to a Sun reporter yesterday Mr. Kerr stated that he believed the collapsing was partly due to the electrical storm the latter part of last week, as one of the schooners which was lying near the wharf was at that time rolled over on the mud.

While he regretted the financial loss Mr. Kerr was particularly happy on learning that there were no lives lost. The coal would cost $1.50 per ton to be placed back in the shed again, making a total cost of over $100,000 for putting it in the shed again, while the damage to the sheds would be in the vicinity of $2,000, making a total estimate to be put to an expense of about $100,000 before he gets everything into shape again.

It will begin the work of repairing and replacing the coal today, and the latter work will take about one week to complete, the former a considerably longer time. The water of course did not affect the coal, and as the top of the wharf is beneath it the coal will be lost.

A REVOLUTION IN LABOR CONDITIONS

The following fantastic looking forecast of a revolution in labor conditions in Great Britain comes from one of the most reliable London papers.

In a room in Whitehall some forty clerks are at this present moment engaged in working out the details of a scheme which will, when completed, bring about the biggest industrial revolution that England has ever known.

Every one of the fifteen millions of people in the country will be affected by it. For it aims at nothing less than roping them all into a sort of gigantic Benefit Club, established by the State, and authorized by the State, which will insure them against unemployment—primarily, and secondarily it is hoped, against sickness also.

The task of accomplishing this, as a colossal one, but it is being resolutely grappled with. The first step will be the establishment over the whole of England of the new Labor Exchanges.

These will enable the government to find out the amount of available unemployment existing in the country, and to take steps to scatter the "Dons" of the principal of these steps will be the decausation of labor.

Instead of working a month here, a fortnight settled, and then perhaps a week in yet a third place, the intervals of enforced idleness in between, the willing and competent worker will find the means of the scattering of the regular employment throughout the greater part of the year.

This is no fairy tale, no dream, impossible of accomplishment. On the contrary, the thing is now being done to a modified extent in connection with the work of the new Labor Exchanges already in existence in London and elsewhere.

are man so incorrigibly lazy that no inducement that you can offer them will tempt them to work. How are you going to deal with them?

The answer is that they are to be treated as they deserve to be treated, by being forced to do work which they decline to do of their own free will.

Penal colonies are to be established, and them will be drafted into the "Wearly Willies" of all kinds and degrees. One result of this will be the elimination of that pest of the roads, the professional tramp.

But to guard against any possible abuse of the liberty of the subject, consignment to a colony will be allowed to be carried out on a magistrate's order, while the period of detention is limited to three years at any one time.

ANOTHER MAN WHO THINKS HE HAS SOLVED THE PROBLEM OF AERIAL NAVIGATION

PROMINENT DENTIST TO FACE A BIGAMY CHARGE

Wife No. 1 and Bride of a Week Ready to Prosecute

NEW YORK, July 31.—Detectives from Camden, N. J., interviewed Mrs. Edna Lee Barlett Goddard, winsome secretary of the Woman's Art Workers' Club, today and asked her to stand ready to prosecute her husband, Dr. A. F. Goddard, on a charge of bigamy as soon as he is apprehended.

The detectives told Mrs. Goddard that her husband had married as his wife No. 2 Nellie Ruby Easton, just in her twenties, who lives with her mother, brother and sisters at 818 North Eighth street, Camden.

Miss Easton has learned of her new husband's duplicity, and is said to be anxious to have him punished. With tears in her own eyes, and with her pretty form shaking with sobs, Mrs. Goddard promised that she, too, would go to Philadelphia to appear against the much-married man whenever the summons comes.

Mr. Goddard's recent husband is Dr. Alexander Franklin Goddard, one of the prominent dentists of Philadelphia, whose office is at 1302 Pennsylvania Building. He has mined the molars of many Philadelphia aristocrats. According to the detectives, Dr. Goddard seems to have abandoned this excellent Philadelphia practice and fled from that city, owing to the disclosure of his embarrassing matrimonial entanglements.

"OH, SEEMED SUCH A NICE MAN," said the blonde young wife No. 1, said in shaking voice. "We have been separated two years, and there is no divorce. I am afraid he is a very bad man, for he used religion to cloak his deception."

The visit of the detectives threw Mrs. Goddard into such a nervous state that afterward she collapsed entirely and was confined to her room. She is petite, pale, graceful, with regular features and a wealth of light hair. Mrs. Goddard exhibited her marriage certificate showing that Alexander Franklin Goddard and Edna Lee Barlett were married October 17, 1901, in St. Michael's church, New York, by the Rev. Dr. J. C. Peters.

One of Dr. Goddard's charms is a suit for church singing in Philadelphia he has been a member of the vestal choir of St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal church, in West Philadelphia.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN BUSINESS HOUSE

Waterbury & Rising Have Dissolved Partnership

The Sun learns that within the past few days an important change has been arranged in the proprietorship of one of St. John's leading business houses, that of Waterbury and Rising. Although neither of the members of the firm has given any statement, it is understood that the transfer has been completed whereby Mr. George H. Waterbury, retired, Mr. E. L. Rising having purchased the interests of the partner, now assumes full control.

The transfer, the Sun learns, was made on Thursday of that store on Union street, still occupied as a branch and three years later moved to King street to the stand still occupied by the Waterbury and Rising business. It includes several retail branches throughout the city, and in the wholesale line has the reputation of being among the largest—or perhaps the largest—of its kind in the Maritime Provinces. A noteworthy feature of the life of this business is the personal interest taken in it by every employe, though this may be accounted for by the fact that the owners have displayed an equal personal interest in each individual employe.

LONDON, July 30.—Taming and domesticating wasps is the fad of a girl, named Miss Black-Hawkins, of Bourne Court, about six miles from Andover.

The Andover neighborhood is well known as a source of excellent honey, and it is not surprising that she should make nests of wasps in a distinct novelty. Miss Black-Hawkins, who is not yet 21 years of age, has a highly interesting story to tell.

She is in voice and manner, and with an intense love for all forms of wild insect life, she has the attributes of the successful beekeeper, and these have served her well in directing her taste to the nest life of the bee, the much-moored wasp.

"I have been fascinated with the study of natural history for some years past," she said, "and it was three summers ago, when I began to watch wasps in captivity under the microscope, that my experiences with these insects began. I found them charming in all ways, but one of the earliest things that held my attention was their extreme cleanliness."

"I have watched them for hours at their toilet, cleaning themselves with their antennae like a cat does with its paws, and I have been struck by the wonderful mobility of their bodies. Naturally insects kept in captivity for observation purposes had to be fed, and I first found they were amenable to kindly treatment when they literally came to me for food."

"I keep my wasps in my bedroom, in a wooden box with glass sides. Once, when I was lying down during the day, a hungry wasp came and settled on my hand. I often feed them by hand, and this particular wasp expected to find some honey. But I hid my hand under a rug, and waited to see what would follow. The insect very soon settled on my face, and would not leave till I had fed him."

MAP SHOWS EL PASO ON MEXICAN SOIL

Mexican in Washington Consulting Over Boundary Matter

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—At the Mexican State Department last night, it was said that an old map had been discovered showing the present site of the city of El Paso was on Mexican soil, Senor Beltré Purga, is now in Washington conferring with Amos Mills, a member of the International Boundary Commission, over the subject. Minister of Foreign Affairs Mariscal says that the Mexican claims are based apparently on fact. The case has been pending for some time and will be settled during the present year. The settlement will be an amicable one, whichever way the decision goes, according to the Mexican department.

MR. MCALARY ACCIDENTALLY SHOTS HIMSELF WHILE OUT IN A CANOE NEAR BELLEISLE

Although No One Was Present at the Time Death is Believed to Have Been Instantaneous—Was Visiting Parents

Bad news it was for Mr. and Mrs. McAlary, who live in the vicinity of Belleisle, when on Saturday about noon they sent after their son to have him come to dinner, and learned that he was dead with a gun lying by his side, he having apparently shot himself by accidentally pulling the trigger of his gun.

Mr. McAlary, the unfortunate victim, whose Christian name is said to be Heber, had, it is understood, been visiting his parents for the first time in four or five years. On Saturday morning he left the house carrying a double barrel shot gun, which was loaded. He had also with him a row boat and a canoe, and while he was near one of the islands at the mouth of the Belleisle, it is supposed that he had reached for the canoe, which he was in at the time, to the boat, to get his gun. In doing so, it is believed, that in some accidental manner the trigger snapped and the shot gun exploded, killing him almost instantly.

He was alone and no one could be found who had even heard the report of the gun. The first indication of the sad accident was at the time when he was called for his dinner. It was learned that he was dead, he having left the house a few hours before enjoying the best of health and happiness.

The body was taken to Oak Point, and on Saturday night an examination of the body was made and a preliminary inquest held. Mr. McAlary has one brother, a member of the big Martello crew, and another of the Marguerite.

He is said to have been unmarried and about thirty-eight years of age. He was well known in the city, particularly in the North End, and was held in high esteem by his many acquaintances.

It was said last evening that the deceased was the same man who barely escaped death at the time the river steamer Crystal Stream was burned on the river, he having escaped through a window but not without severely burning his hands. Others, however, believed that the McAlary who was on board the Crystal Stream when she was burned was the deceased's brother, and the report was the result of a confusion.

Full particulars of the accident could not be learned last evening, but it was generally believed that the above were the circumstances of the accident, which was rendered doubly sad on account of it being the occasion of a pleasure trip to his old homestead.

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 2.—The body of Charlie Kinzie, the young son of George Kinzie, of this city, who was drowned two weeks ago last Friday in the Petticoat River opposite Moncton, was found on the shore near Gray's Island, Ellsboro, on Saturday. Two young men named Hawkes and Simpson, who were walking along the shore, found the body. Interment was made in the cemetery on Gray's Island, where Mr. Kinzie's people are buried.

P.E.I. WOMAN DIES IN BOSTON, AGED 103

BOSTON, Aug. 2.—Mrs. Christina Taylor Bridgett, the oldest woman in Boston is dead. She was in her one hundred and third year, was born at Grand River, P.E.I., on March thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seven and leaves a number of relatives in that neighborhood. Mrs. Bridgett died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Shaw of Dorchester. She was the widow of Capt. William Bridgett, for many years sexton of the Seaman's Bethel, conducted by "Father" Taylor and who died in 1832. Mrs. Bridgett was very proud of her old age and last March celebrated her one hundred and second anniversary, though for a year had been confined to her bed.

The brothers are T. Louis Ready, Hugh Ready, William Ready, Arthur Ready and Edward Ready, all of Fairville, and James Ready, Jr., who is in the west. Miss Ready's funeral is to take place today from her father's residence, Manawagonish road, to St. Robert's church, where high mass of requiem will be sung.

MAXIM GUNS GUARD TOWN

Parade Couldn't Enter Dominion

SOLDIERS THERE Bayonets and Machine Guns Bar Marching Strikers

SYDNEY, Aug. 1.—With bayonets and machine guns barring the way the United Mine Workers did not attempt to enter the town of Dominion on Saturday and hold their advertised demonstration there. Two or three hundred soldiers were in town to assist civil authorities in their determination to prevent any demonstration by either of two labor parties now engaged in the death struggle for supremacy in Cape Breton, the parade of the U. M. W., which started from Glace Bay, only came within a quarter of a mile of Dominion.

All approaches into Dominion were guarded by troops and machine guns were placed to command the two principal roads leading into the town. At a bridge over Cadogan Brook, which marks the boundary between the towns of Glace Bay and Dominion, detachments of R. C. R. and R. C. G. A. were stationed. The road here runs through a hollow, and on high ground above it, in the church yard, was stationed a Maxim gun, its muzzle frowning over the town. It was along this road that the procession came, but it did not come within a quarter of a mile of this point. At Bridgeport about 20 men of the R. C. G. A. were posted, the remainder of the garrison of that place were drawn up under arms. They were in the field at the side of the road, but when leaders of the procession, a number of speeches made, also saw gleaming bayonets and shield uniforms they counter-marched their men and the procession started back toward Glace Bay, where the meeting was held and a number of speeches made. No disturbances marked the procession, and the orderliness of several thousand men in procession was commended among the strikers by the action of the Dominion council to prevent their demonstration going through. For several days the procession of the U. M. W., which was advertised to be held from Glace Bay to Dominion has been the main topic of the streets. This demonstration was planned with the main object of getting some of the men at work in Dominion, which is the stronghold of the P. W. A., to join the Mine Workers.

KING AND Czar MEET AT COWES

First Official Visit of Emperor Nicholas to England

One of Most Spectacular Events That Cowes Ever Witnessed

Emperor and Empress Dine With the King and Queen

COWES, Aug. 2.—The first official visit of the Russian Emperor Nicholas to England was one of the most impressive and spectacular events that Cowes has ever witnessed. King Edward, with most of the members of the royal family put out this morning on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert and met the Russian imperial yacht Standart and the squadron of warships accompanying it off Spithead at noon.

Emperor Nicholas immediately went on board the British royal yacht, where he was greeted by King Edward and, after the monarchs had taken luncheon the Russian squadron, with the Victoria and Albert leading the line, reviewed the British fleet. The British had 130 ships aligned in three lines between Cowes and Spithead. Besides the warships, there were hundreds of yachts of all types, from the largest steamers to small sailboats at anchor. All were dressed in flag and bunting and flags.

The yacht races, which had been going on for some time, lost their usual interest, for everyone was absorbed by the visit of the Russian imperial family. The measures taken to safeguard Emperor Nicholas made him seem like a prisoner of state when compared with other royal personages who have visited Cowes during regatta weeks. The Standart dropped anchor between two battleships of the Dreadnought type, which are surrounded by other naval vessels, while small boats patrol about the visitors constantly. Scotland Yard has one hundred detectives at Cowes, and the Russian police department has an equal number.

The Emperor will remain aboard ship during his visit, except for a brief trip ashore to the Cowes naval school Wednesday morning.

Tonight the Russian Emperor and Empress dined with King Edward and Queen Alexandra and the members of the British royal household on board the Victoria and Albert. Sir Edward Grey and M. Jowsky, respectively British and foreign Ministers, also attended the function. All the ships in the harbor were illuminated tonight.

ACTION BROUGHT IN SPIRIT OF REVENGE

St. Stephen, People Do Not Believe Allegations Made Against Mrs. Sinclair

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Aug. 2.—A dispatch from Boston, that appeared in Saturday's Sun, concerning an impending divorce case, has created some interest here. Mrs. Sinclair was born and brought up here and always bore a good reputation. She was married in Cambridge two years ago when nineteen years of age; the young man whom she married belonged to that section. After marriage the young wife continued her employment in a store, the husband alleging that he was unable to support her. Last spring she brought an action against him in the courts for non-support and won her case, returning soon after to her mother in St. Stephen. It is believed here that the sensational revelations threatened in the husband's divorce are a spirit of revenge because of the action for non-support and that they cannot be substantiated.

NEW BRISWICK CAN BENEFIT NOW FROM NEW RATE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Mr. John Norris, chairman of the committee on paper of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, has issued a bulletin relating to the tariff on pulp and paper in which he says: "In the proposed tariff bill published here secured the abolition of the duty of $1.67 per ton on ground wood. They obtained a reduction from $8 per ton to $3.75 per ton on print paper, a saving of approximately $2,700,000 per annum in the cost of news print paper to consumers. The publishers have asked for free paper. The select committee of the house had recommended $2 per ton. The senate raised the rate to $4 per ton and the conference had recommended an agreed-on compromise rate of $3 per ton when President Taft announced to congressional leaders on or about Saturday, July 24th that a $4 rate was necessary for the application of the protection principle of print paper."

Under the new schedule each province of Canada is regarded as a unit, so that Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have no restrictions of any kind upon exportation of pulp, can immediately avail themselves of the new tariff rate, Quebec has a stumpage tax of 25 cents per cord of wood cut from crown lands. Newfoundland prohibits the exportation of pulp wood.

NEW UNITED STATES CONSUL LEFT HIS EFFECTS IN CITY DESTROYED BY EARTHQUAKE

Mr. Moorhead Comes from Acapulco—Earthquakes There Twice a Week, He Says—Wires for Information

While still a young man, Maxwell K. Moorhead, the new United States consul at this port, has had considerable experience in the service of his government, having represented his country in three different nations during the past four years.

Mr. Moorhead, accompanied by his wife, arrived in St. John yesterday and was welcomed by the retiring consul, Judge Willich, who leaves for his new post at Quebec tomorrow.

Two Quakes a Week

"We had on an average about two earthquakes a week while I was there, but there were no serious ones such as have wrecked the city during the last few days. I was there, however, in February of this year when the Flores theatre was burned and three hundred people lost their lives in the disaster. None of my friends were among the victims as those down stairs escaped and the killed were chiefly house servants and workmen, who occupied the upper galleries."

Speaking of his career, Mr. Moorhead said: "I was formerly connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Pittsburg, but left that work to enter the University of Chicago, from which I was graduated in 1904. In August, 1905, I was appointed consul at St. Thomas, Ont., where I first met my wife, who is a daughter of Judge Ermatinger of that city. From there I was transferred as part of the foundation on which rests the mission work of all the churches."

"You see this is not my first experience in Canada, although I have never been in the Maritime Provinces. I am sure I will like this place very much. One gets a splendid impression of the country as the train approaches your city."

Annual Report of R. D. Secretary D. Bible Society

Following is the annual report of Rev. George M. Campbell, D. D., secretary of the Bible Society:

Through the courtesy of the press the society from 1905 to 1909 and its annual report, which is its administrative and operations it wonderfully illustrates the unity of the spirit which underlies ecclesiastical separations. It lives to fulfil a high missionary purpose, to supply every man with the Holy Scriptures in his own language, "without note or comment" based on a knowledge of the Word of God can only be ephemeral in its results, though it may have a passing pleasure. The society therefore, in its operations to the producing and distributing of the Holy Scriptures in all possible languages—a work essential to the success of Christian missions. The wonderful expansion which has taken place in mission literature and effort, has necessitated a new burden and responsibility to the Bible producing houses. No missionary society provides directly the essential instrument of success, the Word of God in the languages of the peoples among whom the missionary's labor. This work is done by the Bible Societies, which also in a large measure supply the funds for the circulation of the Bible at home as well as abroad. The British and Foreign Bible Society, the great Bible producing house of the world, therefore feels that it should not be regarded as an "outside" institution, but as part of the foundations on which rests the mission work of all the churches.

This venerable society held its 105th annual meeting at the Queen's Hall, London, England, on the 5th day of May, 1909. From 1905 to 1909, a comprehensive report we gather that during the past year versions in six fresh languages have been added to the society's list. Two of these were for Africa and two for Oceania. These languages have been added to the list in order that they may become vehicles of the gospel. The society in these versions makes a demand on the Christian church. The Moravian missionaries, the Anglican, the American Baptist, the Wesleyan, the Wesleyan Methodist, the Wesleyan Missionary Society, through these new versions are now telling the story of the risen Christ. The society has been successful in translating a total of 418 different languages in which the British and Foreign Bible Society has promoted the translation of the Bible. At least some part of the Scriptures.

150 LANGUAGES.

In 1908 the issues amounted to 5,524,711 and since its foundation in 1804 the society has printed and circulated over 215,000,000 copies of Scriptures. Several hundred translations of the Bible are in progress. The society's work is most intimate. It co-operates with the missionaries in preparing the translations, prints the Scriptures at a total of 418 different languages in which the British and Foreign Bible Society has promoted the translation of the Bible. At least some part of the Scriptures.
