The damages resulting from this dogged occurrence will be about $30.

The New Town Hall and Market.

By the Editor of the Mercury:—

Sir,—As the By-law to raise $25,000 by issue of debentures for the purpose of building a new Town Hall and Market is now before the ratepayers for their approval or rejection, and learning that some of the electors of the West Ward have expressed a disapproval of the course I have taken in the Council in supporting the proposed measure, I propose to give a statement of the proceedings in Council by which this measure was initiated, and my reasons for supporting it.

In the first place, it is a fact admitted by every one that has any knowledge of the matter, that our present Town Hall and Butchers' Market are too small, and when any entertainment of a letter class than usual comes to the town, it is quite impossible for all who desire to do so to obtain admission, and as to the small size of the butcher stalls and the scanty accommodation, there can be but one opinion. The necessity for improvement in these respects has long been a matter on which public opinion has not been divided; and further, when any social entertainments have been given, the want of a supper room has been much felt, the Council Chamber having been made to do duty for that purpose.

The site selected for the building is one of the most natural and proper that a Town Council could select, being on the Corporation ground so that no expense need be incurred in the purchase of land; but I am, of course, aware that a variety of conflicting interests, and possibly personal interests, cause the selection of site to be viewed with very different feelings by many persons, and as a Town Hall and Market cannot be built on a site that will meet all these different views, it becomes the duty of Councillors in a matter of general public interest to recollect that though elected in a ward of the town, they are elected to serve the interests of the whole town in accordance with their oath of office; and that in selecting a site for a public building of the character proposed for the use of the inhabitants of the whole town they need not properly locate it on any other site than that property which is held by the Corporation for the express purpose. In taking the course I have as one of the members of the Council, I cannot conceive how that action can be in any way detrimental to the interests of the ward that sends me to the Council as one of its representatives. I have some confidence in my own judgment, and for the many years I have been in the Council endeavored to do my duty fearlessly and faithfully, and have never spared time or labor in the interests of the town and ward, and in this matter I have not acted from any personal interest, but solely because I believe it to be the best available location for the building. This, however, is a matter that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to decide for themselves by their votes on the By-law. I have always maintained in Council that all improvements of any magnitude should be submitted for the approval of the people before being acted upon by the Council, and have condemned by my vote the conduct of former Councils in expending money without the consent of the ratepayers.

It has been said that this matter has been hurried on; but the minutes of the Council will show that this subject has been under the consideration of the Council since 1st Sept., 1873, and that the site, now proposed, was adopted by the unanimous vote of the Council on Oct. 9th, 1873, and that a report referring to the same matter on Jan. 19, 1874, no amendment was offered respecting the site, so that no difference of opinion seems to have existed until lately. The objectors to this site have not yet proposed any other site, and the building could be located, although more than six months have passed since the Council adopted it. I will freely admit that the nearness to the railroad is an objection, but I am assured that as in cities the railroads do not use the whistle but the bell on the locomotives, and proper representation to the railroad authorities would remedy that difficulty. I append the following extracts from the minutes of the Council to show the action taken on the subject.

In the 7th report of the Market Committee, dated Aug. 31, 1873, there is the following clause, being No. 3.

Your Committee would have a matter before the Town Council that has long occupied their attention, but in the unsettled state of the indebtedness of the Town to the Municipal Loan Fund it would not have been desirable to have done so before, but now that indebtedness is arranged they think the subject should have the earnest consideration of the Council (they refer to the erection of a new Town Hall) which in the opinion of your Committee might be erected on the site of the present vegetable shed, a building of a plain character to include a large fish Hall with ante-rooms, also fish, vegetable and meat market, engine house and possibly reading room.

Your Committee would ask authority to prepare plans and estimates for such a building. The consideration of whether the contracts be let by this Council or by our successors will be a matter for further report and consideration when the plans and estimates are received."

This report was presented to the Council on the 1st Sept., 1873, and was laid over for further consideration.

On the 9th of Oct. after laying over for five weeks for consideration, the above report of the Market Committee, No. 7, was taken up, and considered by the Council, at which meeting were present—The Mayor, Messrs. Heffernan, Chadwick, Coffey, Elliott, Egg, Crowe, McLagan, Richard Mitchell, Massie, Davidson, Kennedy, Howard, Horsman.

There was no amendment offered to the above clause No. 3.

The report was then adopted by the unanimous vote of the members above named present.

On the 19th Jan., 1874, the Market Committee presented report No. 9, which contains the following clause.

Your Committee have had under their consideration plans for the new Town Hall and Market. They have in accordance with the authority given by the Council, employed Mr. Victor Stewart, Architect, to prepare said plans. He has submitted various plans for the Town Hall and Market, the last of which nearly approaches to what your Committee consider will meet the requirements of the Town; but as the municipal year is so nearly at a close they have not thought it advisable to make any recommendation, but to leave the final approval of their plans to their successors in office."

The report was presented on the 19th January, 1874.

There were present, the Mayor, Messrs. Heffernan, Howard, Massie, Davidson, Coffey, McLagan, Mitchell, Chadwick, Egg, Kennedy, Crowe, Elliott, Robert Mitchell.

There was no amendment offered, and the report was adopted by the unanimous vote of the above members present.

Now, Mr. Editor, you will see that instead of this matter being hurried on the site for the building, the present one for which the plans were authorized to be drawn, was adopted by the unanimous vote of the Council more than six months ago, and instructions given to the Committee to have plans prepared for a building of that very site, and by the votes of some of the same gentlemen who are now stultifying themselves by taking an opposite course in condemning a site which by their votes they selected in Oct. last.

The question is now in the hands of the people, and it is for them to say whether they will have the handsome structure proposed to be built, erected or not. The Council have done their duty in placing the matter before them for their decision, and there their duty ends. The building if erected will be an ornament to the town, as any person may satisfy himself by viewing the plans. The cost will be the distribution of payments under the By-law, add but a very slight amount to the taxes of each individual ratepayer, being 1-10 mills in the dollar annually, or to a person assessed at $300 but 33 cents as an annual additional tax for this purpose; and it will be now for the ratepayers to consider whether they are willing to bear this slight burden of taxation to accomplish the building of a structure which is so much needed, and which will also be an ornament to our growing and prosperous town.

Yours respectfully, GEORGE ELLIOTT, Guelph, April 13, 1874.

Market House and Music Hall. To the Editor of the Mercury:—

DEAR SIR,—I am not one of those who are opposed to the erection of a New Market and Town Hall, but I am opposed to the present proposed site. My reasons are that there is not room for the large number of teams that would of necessity congregate around such a large market as we propose building. After carefully considering the space, when the buildings are up, I believe on a busy day, there would be a complete jam, more especially on the front opposite the Banks and Melodeon Factory, and I will back my assertion by Mr. Harvey's own figures. He says that there will be eighty feet between walls, twelve feet platform in front of Market, and I will not call it one inch less. I measured the length of a span of horses and wagon, thirty-three feet from the wall, or twenty-one feet from the sidewalk. Now place another team opposite on the market side, and you have fourteen feet left for the greatest thoroughfare in town. Now suppose that we have a rattling good market day, and there would be a continual stream of teams going and coming between Allan's Mill and the Guelph Packing House. Add to this the omnibusses, cabs, express vans, baggage wagons. Royal mail, private carriages, all hurrying, and late for the train. Think of all this without one farmer's team upon the scene.

Now let us suppose, and it is not too much to say, that the Market is built there will be some days from fifty to one hundred teams standing ground with farm produce for sale, and last, though not least, the butchers' carts, and all this traffic through a space fourteen feet wide. I am bound to say that it would beat Broadway, or N. Y. Washington Market on their palmiest days. But the fact is, there are only seventy-three feet between the wall and the Bank of Commerce. Now for the other stalls, who would care the occupants of these stalls, facing the railway, thirty-three feet at the north-east corner. Back up your team, and you have not one inch, but the horses' noses are over the railway fence, and a train starting will blow the steam from the escape pipes right in face of the horses.

With these remarks I will close, but with your permission I will speak of other schemes in to-morrow's daily.

Yours truly, GEORGE HOOD, Guelph, April 14, '74.

POLICE COURT. (Before the Police Magistrate.)

April 15. Chief Constable Kelly yesterday observed Ruben Green leading a horse along the public sidewalk on Wyndham street, and considering it a breach of law and order, promptly summoned the offender to answer the charge this morning. Mr. Green appeared and explained that when detected he was merely in the act of catching the horse, which had escaped from his stable, and on this showing the case was dismissed.

Base Ball. A NEW EMBLEM OF CHAMPIONSHIP. A special meeting of the Maple Leaf Base Ball Club was held at the Queen's Hotel last evening, to hear the report of the committee appointed to choose a new emblem of championship for the coming season. Mr. Sleeman reported that a subscription had been in circulation for this object, and thus far the amount promised was $107, and there was reason to expect that the sum would be considerably increased. The character of the emblem to be chosen will be discussed after preliminary arrangements have been completed, but is thought that a cup will take the place of the ball now in the hands of the champions. An application was read from the Red Stockings, of Boston, to play here on the 1st of July, and the Secretary was instructed to send a reply favourable to the proposition.

Further arrangements were made in regard to the match to be played with the Silver Stars of Seaforth, and the meeting adjourned.

In the case of W. H. Rodden, who was tried before the Toronto Police Magistrate on Tuesday morning for embezzling the sum of $2,000 from his father-in-law, E. S. Wright, the prisoner was discharged, as in the Magistrate's opinions the evidence showed conspiracy to defraud, and not an embezzlement. It is probable that the former charge will be made forthwith.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, April 14th. THE BUDGET.

Hon. Mr. Cartwright made his financial statement. After explaining the position in which the country was placed by the previous Government, he showed that with a fluctuating and uncertain revenue they had piled up a fixed expenditure, and, with a deficit before their eyes, never halted in their onward course until their own recklessness, tainted with corruption, brought them to the ground. He had first to demonstrate that the normal income of the country might be assumed to be fairly equal to the ordinary charges upon it; but the Dominion stands committed to an outlay in various directions that must tax its resources to the utmost; and whilst the Government will use every effort to redeem the pledge left to them as an inheritance by their predecessors, they will and can only guarantee to proceed so fast or so far as their resources will justify. Prudence but not repudiation may be regarded as the brief motto expressive of their policy. At the opening of his speech, the Finance Minister placed in the hands of members a comparative statement of the receipts and expenditure for the seven years that have elapsed since Confederation, taking, of course, the estimates of receipts and expenses for the current year, which expires on the 30th of June, 1874.

Mr. Tilley's total estimate of income for 1873-74, was $21,740,000; his appropriations for all purposes finally amounted to $22,586,720, exclusive of $700,000 taken for special purposes in connection with the acquisition last year of Prince Edward Island. This, consequently, showed a deficit of $846,727. Up to this year there had been an annual surplus, amounting, in 1870-71, to the large sum of nearly four millions, so that in round figures a surplus of four millions had in a very brief space of time been converted into a deficit of one million. Expenses for the acquisition last year of Prince Edward Island, the Finance Minister was prepared to give the late Government credit, namely that they had contrived to make expenditure keep pace with an ever increasing revenue with a facility altogether without parallel; and not content with this, they had entered into prospective engagements which, if all completed, would involve an outlay of $200,000,000 thus trebling the national debt. Last year one million and a half was added to the fixed expenditure of the country. A careful recapitulation of charges not included by Mr. Tilley in his calculation shows that he should have brought down estimates for not less than $24,000,000, or $1,600,000 more than $22,586,720. The excise will also exceed the estimates; the post-office receipts have increased; but then again, while public works chargeable to income have fallen off to the extent of $800,000, the expenditure thereon has been $400,000 more than was originally anticipated. There has, during the eight months of the current year, expired, been some falling off in imports, but it is very satisfactory to note that the exports have increased from $50,455,000 in 1872 and 1873 to $62,742,000 in 1873 and 1874.

Mr. Cartwright then proceeded to refer to the estimates for 1874-75 already laid upon the table, and showed, by glancing through the several items, that the only increase in the estimates for 1874 and 1875 over the expenditure of 1873 and 1874, to the amount of $500,000 is divided exclusively between the loss in working the Prince Edward Island Railway and the increased charge of interest on the addition to the public debt. For the year, of course, the Government of the day are not responsible. Coming to his estimate of the probable income of the ensuing year, he expressed the opinion that the several heads would yield as follows:—Customs, $18,000,000; Excise, $5,000,000; Post Office, $1,000,000; Public Works, $1,600,000; Stamps, $200,000; Interest on Investments, $200,000; Miscellaneous, $800,000, making a total of $22,000,000. As the published estimates show, the expenditure will be $24,000,000. He proposed to raise by taxes an additional sum of $3,000,000 for 1874-5. The several articles on which the proposed taxation will be levied are expected to realize as follows:—Cigars, $100,000; tea and coffee, $450,000; brandy and other spirits, Customs duty, $200,000; locomotive engine frames, and other machinery, $100,000; metals and ship-building materials, $200,000; wines, $200,000; silks and other commodities, $400,000; the additional one and two-thirds per cent. in schedule B, $500,000; miscellaneous items, $100,000; $100,000 spirits and tobacco (excise duty), $750,000—Total $3,000,000. The article of sugar appears in the new list. It is not expected that any material addition to the revenue will accrue from this source, but the readjustment of the duty will have the effect of throwing the burden more heavily upon the higher class of sugars, and in a corresponding degree upon those mostly consumed by the poor.

Death of S. B. Freeman, Esq., Q. C. It is with the deepest regret we have to announce the death of S. B. Freeman, Esq., Q. C., which took place at an early hour on Tuesday morning, at the age of sixty. For more than twenty years he has filled a distinguished place in the public eye. As a lawyer, a politician, and as one interested in everything affecting his fellow citizens, he won the regard, the respect and the affection of all with whom he came in contact. He made his mark, however, chiefly as a lawyer, and it is no extravagance to say that in the art of examining and cross-examining witnesses, and of pleading cases before a jury, he had few equals and no superior. The transparent rectitude of his character was of great service to him in this respect, and the easy and genial flow of his eloquence completed his mastery over the minds and the hearts of his hearers. He was always a consistent Reformer in politics. For some years he represented South West-wood in the Parliament of Canada, and though not a frequent speaker, was listened to, even by his opponents, with respect. He contested the representation of Hamilton with Sir Allan Macnab unsuccessfully, and we believe also with the Hon. Isaac Buchanan. Of late years, while occupying the position of Clerk of the Peace and County Attorney, he was necessarily withdrawn from politics. But in the familiar intercourse of private life his loss will long be mourned by a large and attached circle of friends. His cheerful and happy disposition, his love for his family, the gentility of his intercourse with them, his sympathy with suffering, and his readiness to relieve it, cast a charm about him that attracted all with whom he came in contact. Death has indeed robbed us of his presence, but cannot deprive us of the pleasant memories connected with him.—Hamilton Times.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 15, 1874.

The New Tariff.

As was expected, the Government have made considerable changes in the tariff, and the additional duties imposed came into force to-day.

The chief alterations are as follows: A duty of 75 cents on every gallon of proof spirits manufactured in Canada. The old duty was 63 cents per gallon on cavendish tobacco, and snuff, and on manufactured tobaccos of all kinds, except cigars and common Canada twist, twenty cents per pound. On common Canada twist, being the unpressed leaf rolled and twisted and made wholly from raw tobacco, the growth of Canada, ten cents per pound. On cigars, for every pound or less quantity than a pound, forty cents. There is no change on the malt duty.

The customs duties on imported articles are as follows:—Cigars, per pound, seventy cents; tea, green or Japan, per pound, six cents; tea, black, per pound, four cents; coffee, green, per pound, two cents; coffee, ground or roasted, per pound, three cents. Sugars—In addition to the ad valorem duty of twenty-five per cent, now imposed on all sugars equal to and above number thirteen and below number sixteen, per pound, one and a quarter cents. On others sugars as before. Brandy, Geneva, alcohol, rum, gin, whiskey, and enumerated articles of like kind, per gallon, $1; Rum, shirub, cordials, Old Tom gin, ratafia, Scheidam, schnapps, bitters, and unenumerated articles of like kind, per gallon, $1 50; Cologne water and perfumed spirits, not in flasks, per gallon, $1 50. These articles were before free. In the class of goods required for rigging ships and steamers pig and other iron, steel, copper, &c., a duty of five per cent, ad valorem is put on. These articles were also free.

Silks, satins, velvets and all goods of that class, millinery of all kinds, ornaments of bronze, alabaster, terra cotta, or composition, silver and gold cloth, thread and other articles embroidered with gold or for embroidering, laces and insertions, writing-desks, fancy and ornament cases and boxes, and other fancy goods; hats, caps, and bonnets; jewellery of all kinds, watches, and clocks are charged 20 per cent ad valorem—Cotton netting for India rubber shoes and gloves; cotton warp, cotton thread in hands, yarn, glass paper and glass cloth, woollen netting, for India rubbers and gloves; linen machine thread, plush, for hatters' use and for gloves; prunella, machine silk twist, felt, used for gloves; felt, for hats and boots, are charged a duty of ten per cent ad valorem. Wool waste and flax seed are made free.

It is rumored that Mr. Alfred Jones, of Halifax, is to be called to the Cabinet as Militia, vice Mr. Ross.

Mr. Bodwell, M.P., has been offered and has accepted the Superintendency of the Welland Canal. This leaves a vacancy in the House of Commons for South Oxford.

A duty of seven and one-half per cent, is charged on the following articles of iron, viz: bar, hoop, rod, and sheet, nail and spike, roll, round, square, and flat, Canada plates and tin plates, rolled plate and boiler plate.

PROHIBITION.—Mr. Mackenzie on Monday, in answer to a question said it was not the intention of the Government to introduce this session any measure to restrict or prevent the importation, or manufacture or sale, of intoxicating liquors within the Dominion. The requirements of the revenue, at present, prevent the Govt. from taking any steps which would cut off one of the largest sources of income in the Dominion. The question of prohibition is therefore set aside for this session, but those in favour of it in and out of the House will not cease in their efforts to mould public opinion to their views in the hope of ultimately succeeding.

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF CONSTITUENCIES.—It was announced on Monday that the Government do not intend, during the present session, to introduce a bill to re-arrange the constituencies which were gerrymandered by Sir John Macdonald in 1872. This is much to be regretted, as a positive injustice was done to several constituencies such as South Huron, North Wellington, Monck, &c. We believe that Mr. Cameron of Huron will introduce a bill to set his riding right, but unless the Govt. take the matter in hand, and bring in a measure to re-arrange all the constituencies so unjustly dealt by, we are afraid there is not much chance of such a bill being carried.

BERLIN ITEMS.—The annual show of entire horses, in connection with the North Riding of the County of Waterloo Agricultural Society, was held on Tuesday. Mr. D. Estere, who has been Grand Trunk agent there for the past years, but who has recently been promoted to the Hamilton agency of the Caledonia Railway, was on Tuesday presented by the business men of Berlin and surrounding villages with a handsome gold watch, accompanied by a complimentary address.

Mr. Henry Smith's new saw mill at Douglas is almost finished, and will be a very complete establishment, employing about 14 men. The shingle and lath machines are of the most approved pattern, and the motive power, will be a Burnham turbine water-wheel.

INJURY TO THE SPINE.—On Sunday evening, 5th inst. Mrs. Bell, wife of Mr. Robert Bell, of Sarnia, while coming down a ladder in an outbuilding, missed her footing and fell to the floor. Drs. Paget and Griffith, who were summoned to attend her, found that the spine had sustained serious injury, and although now slightly improved we learn that she is in a precarious condition.

Agricultural Societies.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

Sir,—The grand object of these Societies, in Canada as well as in most countries, is to develop the latent resources of the soil. This can be done by skill and labour. Skill must always precede toil, or we toil in vain. But notwithstanding the agricultural facilities in the hands of farmers of the present day for extracting from the soil the largest possible quantity of cereals and bulbous roots, of qualities much better than their predecessors could produce with excessive manual labor, notwithstanding the numerous importations of improved breeds from foreign countries, still in some townships such as Woolwich, the spirit of the system is suppressed by an illiberal opposition to outside competition. In some Townships there are men whose stock is a credit to the Society, which stock, for a succession of years, has been awarded the best prizes; but the owner, for fear of losing the monopoly, objects to competitions from the surrounding Townships, notwithstanding the admission, by the latter, of competing stock from the former Township.

Yours, &c. FARMER.

CHAPTER XXVII.
 Ian M'Kenzie's body was slowly borne back to Droghdaire and handed over to the care of the female servants of Donald Cameron's household that it might be decently arrayed in the vestments of the grave.

We need not attempt to picture the scene which took place within the walls of the Castle on their return. Some of the deeper, broader lines indeed we might draw, but to do justice to the details would baffle our pen. The horror and dismay which took possession of Donald Cameron as he saw the confederate with whom he had been but a few minutes before deeply plotting brought back a stark and mangled corpse; and the strangely balanced feelings which possessed poor Jeannie Gordon at the moment, as she saw the man she had loved and hated and now forgave cut down in the midst of his villainy, would require to be carefully described. Poor Jeannie—badly as M'Kenzie had treated her—remembered that he was the father of her child, and now when all his evil-doing was ended, she felt fain to clasp his stiffening body and strain it to her heart. "Fool human nature! How could we speak of the rapturous joy of Flora as she leaned on her lover's arm, and gazed so tenderly into his face? Or the emotions of Hector as he, with sparkling eyes and mantled cheeks, returned the gaze?—conscious, both of them, that now their trials were ended—that all were baffled who had so ruthlessly sought to injure them. And how felt the Witch of Ben-Lair, and Ned Gordon, and Anne M'Leod, and Captain Winterton, and old Murdoch, and his son? In some of them the feeling was that of satisfaction merely; but in others, in the Witch of Ben-Lair and Anne M'Leod, thoughts, painful and sad, brooded over the sensations of joy.

But we must pass it by. Captain Winterton had Donald Cameron secured in a room of the Castle until he should be ready to remove him to Inverness, and, then, in the name of his Sovereign, took possession of Droghdaire Castle and all that was within it. Then, when leisure came, mutual congratulations and explanations fell from all their lips; for many things had occurred which were involved in mystery to one or other of the party. It is needless to follow the course of the conversation—our end will be served by briefly summarising some of the points which may yet appear obscure to the reader.

And first, it is necessary to explain how Ned Gordon came to be alive and well, after it had been reported that he and his sister had fallen victims to the dirks of the myrmidons of Ian M'Kenzie and Donald Cameron. The truth is that M'Kenzie, who had set the two ruffians after the Lowlander and his sister, had made a grave mistake. He had mistaken the character, both of Ned Gordon and his own kinsmen. He had given Gordon credit for less penetration and shrewdness, and his kinsmen credit for more fidelity than either of them possessed. As the ruffians stated, it was not long before they met Gordon and his sister in Edinburgh; but Gordon, who fancied he saw something suspicious in their conduct, took care to keep a wary eye upon their movements, and, plying them with drink soon wormed their secret out of them and had his suspicions confirmed. By the aid of a friend he managed to get the would-be assassins put into safe keeping until he had effected the purpose for which he and Jeannie had visited the metropolis. They found Mr. Blackie, the minister who had wedded Ian M'Kenzie, under the assumed name of Randal Murray, to Jeannie Gordon, and who at once stated that he had a perfectly distinct recollection of the marriage, and had the legal documents certifying the same in his possession. In order that the man might be identified, Gordon prevailed upon the aged man of God to undertake the journey to the far north, and he also left instructions with the friend who had assisted him that the ruffians who had come to assassinate him should be liberated after a day or two had passed, with injunctions given to them that they might safely report to Ian M'Kenzie that they had accomplished their mission. They wondered much that they should be so directed, but prudently acted upon the hint thrown out.

Being uncertain as to what might have transpired since he left M'Leod Castle, and having heard from Flora of the complicity of Mr. Fender, of Dingwall, with Cameron and Ian, Gordon, when he had reached Inverness, despatched a messenger to Dingwall for Fender. He however, concealed from Mr. Fender who it was that wished to see him, or upon what errand he was required. But when Fender had reached Inverness, and had met Gordon and Blackie, the latter, who had met him before, at once interrogated him as to his knowledge of the designs of Ian M'Kenzie and Donald Cameron, and sharply rebuked him for the part he had already played. Mr. Fender, of course, denied all complicity with the plotters, and pretended to have no knowledge that anything villainous or even clandestine was contemplated by these men. He satisfied Gordon, however, by stating that no marriage had taken place between M'Kenzie and Flora so far as he was aware.

Gordon wished to see Hector M'Leod and to assure him that he had now obtained full proof that it was not possible for Ian M'Kenzie to marry Flora Macgregor; and he wished to meet Ian M'Kenzie that he might put into effect the vows of vengeance which he had breathed against him.

The State Currency Bill to Pass
Presentation to Capt. Thomas

London, April 14.—During a terrific hurricane yesterday, the south-west coast of Ireland, the 1866 Atlantic cable ceased working. The fault is not yet precisely located, but it is reported to be about twenty-five miles from Valentia, and, consequently, in shallow water. As there are still two cables in good working order, messages will not be delayed to any appreciable extent. The land line between Valentia and London was interrupted for a short time in consequence of a severe storm.

New York, April 15.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says there is every prospect that the President will sign the Senate Currency Bill.

A Boston despatch says the general feeling last night was that Adams might be elected Senator to-day. Another despatch says the Democrats are thinking more seriously of giving over to him than at any other time.

The formal protest of Capt. Lemario, of the steamer Europe, filed by him yesterday, is the same as the one printed yesterday.

A magnificent chronometer watch and chain have been presented by the rescued passengers of the steamer Europe to Capt. Thomas, of the steamer Greece.

Mr. C. H. Klotz, son of Otto Klotz, Prosten, died on Monday. Deceased was widely known in Preston and was greatly esteemed by all.

INFORMATION WANTED.—An old farmer in the township of Peel wishes to ascertain what is the best time to sow salt on spring crops. Not being a practical farmer, we are not in a position to answer the question, but we have no doubt that the desired information can be furnished by Professor McCandless, and we will give him the use of our columns for the purpose.

THEAT IN STONE.—Rev. Charles Kingsley, now on a Canadian tour, is advertised to deliver his celebrated lecture on Westminster Abbey in the Mechanics' Hall, Hamilton, on Thursday evening, 23rd inst. Though the Rev. gentleman is not exactly a "Canon" as the bill has it, everyone knows he is a "big gun," and his arrival so near us will no doubt be noised abroad.

MANUFACTURE OF COCA.—We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston Road, London.—See article in Cassell's Household Guide.
