

DID AID. WM. ROSS MAKE A MISTAKE IN POWER QUESTION?

Addition of One Word to Resolution Alters Conditions Entirely and Makes a Difference of Many Thousands of Dollars Per Year to City in Western Canada Milling Co. Contract

In including the word "electric" in a resolution, moved by Aid. William Ross, the city council has committed itself to a project of producing power for the Western Canada Milling company at a considerable annual loss, instead of an equal or satisfactory project by which the city might have saved a small margin of profit...

The Municipal Labor Bureau was abolished last night. When the city council passed the motion to repeal the bylaw authorizing it, last night, Miss Wileman was a very indignant member of the assembly. "You cowards!" she said angrily. "If I hear you speak like that again, I will send for the chief of police to put you out" thundered the mayor, pounding the desk thunderously with the utmost sarcasm possible to condense in three words.

Ald. Carscallen and Mayor Sent Tone of Letter from Local Head of Bank of Montreal; Say That the City Can and Will Borrow Elsewhere if Its Business Is Unduly Interfered With "The bank has been engaged as our financial advisor and is apparently attempting to tell us how to run our business. This is not within its province," said Aid. Carscallen yesterday.

Recent By Judge at Macleod. At Macleod the official count gave a majority of 31 to Patterson but there are still a number of protested ballots which have not yet been counted and though the election of Patterson has been officially declared there will be a protest laid this morning before a judge. This will mean an official recount of all the ballots cast in the election. It is said that this would have been done in any case whichever side had won the election at the declaration of the returning officer.

MacKay Makes Gain. At Edmonton late in the evening 82 of the 85 polls had been counted and the results showed that MacKay had made a gain of 21. ### FEAR RISING OF RIVER IN SOUTH EDMONTON

South Edmonton, April 28.—There is some alarm among lumbermen here as to the possibility of high water in the Saskatchewan here during the next few weeks. Although every precaution is taken to save all the lumber during the winter, when it is being cut, but when the water rises high there is great difficulty experienced and the lumber can scarcely be got down the river in safety. When the ice broke up last week many of the wharves and log rollers were broken up and it is thought that much damage has been already done while the further rising of the river will still make matters worse.

A meeting of Perfection lodge A. P. & A. M., for the purpose of conferring the third degree, will be held tomorrow night.

JURY RETURNS AN OPEN VERDICT IN THE HOOLEY CASE

No New Evidence Adduced at Coroner's Inquest Over Body of Man Found in River Last Week

An open verdict was returned yesterday at the coroner's inquest on the body of W. G. Hooley which was found in the river on Friday after being in the water for over six weeks. Little evidence of importance was brought out at the inquest and no new facts were adduced. Coroner Dr. Costello presided over the inquest and evidence in the form of a bill of particulars in the head of Hooley as the result of an autopsy was given by Dr. Moshier. Identification of the body as that of Hooley was given by William Dods and a number of others. Those who found the body in the river also told their story, while some friends of Hooley's said that though they had often been in his company they had never, even in the Yukon, seen him carry or use a revolver. After hearing the evidence the jury retired and gave an open verdict about 6 o'clock.

CAUGHT RED HANDED; CLERKS ARE ARRESTED

Caught in the act of robbing the clothing store of E. J. Gordon on Eighth avenue east, two men are now in the police cells. One of the men was formerly a clerk at the store, while the second man was still working in the store when the arrest was made. According to the police, information was received by Tom Bacon, who is managing the store in the absence of the proprietor, that goods known to have come from the store were being sold at 50 per cent of their wholesale price at other stores. He accordingly concealed himself in the rear of the store and caught the ex-clerk coming out with an armful of clothing. After being taken to the police station the men confessed, implicating the clerk who was still employed there. Both men will receive a preliminary hearing today.

With the object of fostering trade and bringing about a better understanding between producers and consumers, and also for the purpose of standardizing produce and preventing the sale of spurious eggs and other evils, produce men from all over Alberta and Saskatchewan will meet in Red Deer today for the Western Produce Men's association. The meeting being held today is the result of the work of A. S. Douglas of Edmonton, who has been working on the matter of organization for some time past, and who is spoken of as the probable president of the new association. A number of produce dealers from Calgary went north last night and this morning and a big attendance is looked for at Red Deer. Although the present meeting will take in only members from Saskatchewan and Alberta it is intended to extend the scope of the association until it comprises the produce dealers of the three prairie provinces and British Columbia.

CUSHING'S INCORPORATES WITH A HUGE CAPITAL

Local Company is Reorganized at Toronto With Capital of $2,000,000; Has Dominion Charter With Very Wide Powers

A public notice given in Calgary newspapers yesterday is to the effect that a company has been incorporated in Toronto under a Dominion charter to take over the business known in Calgary as Cushing Brothers, Limited, and to extend it in a number of other ways. W. H. Cushing is at present in Toronto, and on inquiry at the local offices of the firm yesterday, the information was given that he was there making arrangements for the transfer of the business, and that, as the matter was wholly in his hands, no one at present in Calgary could give any details of the transfer. It is understood that Mr. Cushing will be back in Calgary at the end of the week, and he will then in all probability make a public announcement as to the change in the business. The names mentioned in the advertisement as being the incorporators are only formal, but it appears that Parker and Clark of Toronto, are the solicitors for the new company. The charter, as advertised, gives very wide powers, and the new company will be enabled to start real estate business, buy up all the lumber and other businesses in the province, build telegraph and telephone lines, and numerous other things. The operations of the company will be carried on under the name of Cushing Brothers, Limited, with a capital stock of $2,000,000, divided into 20,000 shares of $100 each, and the chief place of business will be in Calgary.

CANADIAN MINTAGE FOR 1912 WAS $1,475,000

(Continued From Page One.) Bullion sold to manufacturers increased from a value of $4,000,000 in 1910 to $2,900,000 in 1912. Mr. White said that in the past mintage had been compelled to secure their gold bullion from the United States. The government has now secured a manufacturing plant, instead of sending their gold to New York to be refined should refine it in Ottawa. The minting of Canada's gold is now done in Canada.

Dr. Thomson of the Yukon, thought the statement of the minister of finance furnished excellent justification for the establishment of the Canadian mint. He said that the gold output of the Yukon in 1912 was over $5,000,000, of which amount about $1,250,000 came to the Ottawa mint. Although the Pacific coast states outside of California were not gold producing, the United States had some years ago established a purchasing assay office in Vancouver, and as a result the gold of the Yukon had for many years been shipped to the United States. Eventually the Canadian government established a purchasing assay office in Vancouver, when there was an exchange charge levied for many years on gold shipped to Ottawa. The idea would be to have all the Yukon gold come to Ottawa.

Mr. McLean said that Ontario was one of the gold producing provinces of the Dominion and suggested that for the next year the production of the Foreigne district would be from eight to twelve millions. Hon. Mr. White presented the following figures as to the recent gold production of Canada: 1907—$6,000,000; 1910, $10,000,000; 1911, $7,000,000. The production of 1912 was divided up as follows: Nova Scotia, $160,000; Quebec, $12,000; Ontario, $9,000; British Columbia, $4,300,000; Yukon, $4,424,000. The minister said that at the present time the gold reserve in the offices of the assistant receiver general represents the amount deposited in the chartered banks in exchange for Dominion gold. It is considerably in excess of $100,000,000. Over $90,000,000 is in American gold. He said that the gold held by the banks should be American since they could use it for gold center at any time. He pointed out the facility of shipping American gold back to the United States and also that all that could be got in exchange for it was more American gold or else bullion which would cost heavily to remit.

The resolution was approved and Hon. Mr. White introduced his bill founded thereon. Watch Repairing of All Kinds—American, English and Swiss. Moderate charges. Work legally guaranteed. Dickson, watchmaker, 281 Eighth Avenue East, "Just below the Queen's." Phone 2440. Open till nine every night. Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

PRYCE JONES DAILY STORE NEWS

Word-of-Mouth Advertising. We print the news of the store daily just as the newspapers daily print the news of Calgary and the world. There are many people who read Pryce Jones store news carefully, too, often more carefully than they do the ordinary news pages of the paper. This sort of advertising pays a store when it sticks to the truth, and when the news is worth telling. But word-of-mouth advertising is that sort that pays the best. For instance, the man of the family is persuaded to come in and buy a suit of a special brand of clothing we may have been talking of lately. If he is pleased, he talks about it—tells his friends just as he would of a horse, or dog, or automobile that it is "all right." This word-of-mouth advertising is the hardest kind to get. It can't be bought. It must be earned—deserved. We are trying to deserve it in every branch of our business. We are trying to serve the people of Calgary and the "last west" so well, that they can't help saying to friends and family "Go to Pryce Jones if you want this or that. It is the best place."

The store has earned such advertising in many lines—getting it all over Calgary and beyond. This season it has deserved it as never before, for this season it is better equipped with the newest merchandise than ever before. And for the future—well, we shall try to make the service even better than it is now and await the outcome without worrying.

STATE OWNERSHIP VS. STATE CONTROL

The state of Wisconsin has given the world an example of the benefits to be derived from wise, intelligent and firm state control. It has established a state utility commission which has revolutionized conditions. It has carried the work just about as far as it can be carried. It is wisely administered. The commission is quite free from political control of any kind. It has shown that wise and able state control is much better for the corporations and for the public than state ownership unwisely administered.

But there is a limit to state control. It can go so far but cannot complete the work. Frederick C. Howe, in a very interesting book on "Wisconsin, an Experiment in Democracy," which may be found in the Calgary public library, refers in a very interesting manner to the work that Wisconsin has done, and concludes with a couple of paragraphs on what Wisconsin without state ownership cannot do with state control. His conclusion is as follows:

European governments show what can be done with railways when they are in the hands of the state. When Switzerland took over the railways a few years ago it immediately improved the condition of the employees; it reduced freight rates and arranged the passenger rates to promote travel. In Belgium the railway system to distribute the working population far out of the cities into the surrounding villages. In Germany the railways are the most influential agency in upbuilding the empire. There is no conflict with the government or with the cities; no struggle over waterfronts or for monopoly. There is no attempt to strangle a community or an industry. Rather the reverse is true. Export-trade is encouraged by adjusting rates to industry. Fuel rates are arranged to the same end. With the idea of profits subordinate to service, improvements, safety devices, and efficiency are promoted in countless ways. Under ownership of street railways, the gas, water, and electric lighting, undertakings, the steam railroads, express and other services take their places as the vital organs of the social body; they are operated for the well-being of the community, for the proper distribution of population, and for the reduction of the cost of living; for the encouragement of all industry. For the making easy the proper development of the state.

However perfect regulation may be such ideas as these are impossible so long as private ownership animated by the desire for profits, remains. We can regulate only a limited field; can correct only positive abuses. It is not within the power of any commission to utilize the property of a corporation to carry forward a social program without regard to its effect on the property which it controls.

UP-TO-DATE SYSTEMS
One of the first benefits which Calgary has derived from the engagement of a competent waterworks engineer is the introduction at the city hall of a cost system, the adoption of which will make it possible for the city to sell its local improvement bonds before the work is undertaken.

Hitherto the engineering department has been unable to estimate accurately the cost of local improvements before the work was commenced, and the city has been unable to sell the bonds until this work was completed. The necessity of raising several millions of dollars each year to carry on these operations without selling bonds has complicated the financial problem, and has cost the city many thousands of dollars.

When Waterworks Engineer Fawkes arrived in Calgary in February, one of the first changes he made in the method of administration of the waterworks department was in the system of checking up the various work. Mr. Fawkes originated a cost system chart of extreme simplicity, by which the average cost per foot of each piece of work can be ascertained at a glance, as well as the number of men employed on the job, the number of hours per week which each one worked. The engineer goes over his charts every week, checks up the various items, compares the cost of similar pieces of work under different foremen, and issues written criticism. It has been found that there is considerable variation in the cost of work under the direction of different foremen, and already the head of the department has been able to effect a considerable saving. Mr. Fawkes explains that as soon as he has had his system in operation a year, he will be able to estimate with fair accuracy the cost of projected improvements.

The idea is so simple that the only

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Albertan: In your issue of Friday morning, writing with reference to plans for the proposed industrial building, you cast serious reflections upon the ability of local architects, and your strictures should not pass unchallenged.

In the light of past experiences with the city council of Calgary, but few of the reputable architects care to compete on municipal work, as we have found that in some cases the winner was determined before the competition was begun, and that in the last three years the judges of the merits of the plans were as incompetent as schoolboys.

Getting back to the industrial building, I am told that different men received different instructions as to requirements, but whether this is true or not I do not know, but your own statement, as to the wide variations in plan, lend a color of truth to the claim above stated. In any case, the plans submitted were not all submitted by architects or near architects.

One was by a firm of contractors who dub themselves engineers and contractors, and upon whom you confer the title architect. Another concern submitted plans, but I cannot find the name of the master of architects, neither can I, by inquiry, find who or what they are. The nearest information I got was a remark, "Oh, they crib other plans and sell blue prints by the square yard."

Men without any knowledge of building are made judges of plans and specifications, instead of the award being made by competent experts, whose services would cost but little. Is it any wonder, then, that but a small percentage of the better class of local men compete? I think not.

Compare the work of local men with that of outsiders, and the comparison cannot but be favorable to the local men. Compare the First Baptist church by a local man, with Knox church by an American architect, or with that monastery Grace church by another eastern architect.

Compare the Molson's bank by a local firm with the Dominion Bank by a Winnipeg man, and again the comparison is favorable to the local talent.

Reflect again, Mr. Editor, remembering that but very few local men compete, and admit, like the good fellow you usually are, that you were not only a wee bit unkind, but also unjust.—Yours very truly, JAMES A. MACDONALD

FLIGHT IN 1913

Every month brings its toll of air fatalities—another comes from France—but let the spectators shudder fear what 1913 may bring forth, let them remember that every year since flying was seriously attempted has brought an increase in the number of aviators who have sacrificed their lives trying to master the air.

In 1908 one man was killed; in 1909, four; in 1910, thirty-two; in 1911, ninety-two; in 1912, one hundred and thirty. This makes a total of 288 in the four years. No great cause was ever won without sacrifice, and in consequence of this, considering how airman and aeronauts are striving for the fight, we can expect 1913 to be a stormy period.

A contemporary somewhat satirical reminder us that Mr. Pankhurst is dead. We extend to Mr. Pankhurst our hearty congratulations.

Calgary's Educational Development Is Exploited By Boston Newspaper

Calgary's educational development is nicely exploited in a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor, a daily paper of pretensions which was established by the late Mrs. Eddy in Boston some years ago and which is probably one of the most unique daily publications in the United States. The story is as follows:

Marked advancement has been recorded in intellectual development in Calgary just as it has shown in material growth—with leaps and bounds characteristic of the wide opportunities afforded in this expansive country. That Calgary has had a rapid material development it takes but a glance at the distinct elements common to every community to determine. These are the figures of growth: in population, from 4,427 in 1897 to 28,288 in 1908; 36,000 in 1911 and 61,340 in 1912; in building, permits during the last three years are represented by the values $8,837,584, $12,977,828 and $20,394,200; in bank clearings $18,077,431, $218,651,921 and $276,482,303.

A very rapid expansion of the public school system has taken place during the last eight years. Just previous to this period one new school was built every second year; that it became one a year, two a year, four a year, which at present there are more than 12 buildings being erected at a cost of nearly $1,000,000. These will provide 47 additional rooms and accommodate for 2900 pupils, calling for the appointment of 67 more teachers in a short time. The schools that the now projected will provide about 50 more rooms and accommodations for about 2000 additional pupils.

School Sites Preempted. The policy of the public school board under the direction of Dr. A. M. Scott, superintendent, is to purchase in advance sites in the outlying districts, consisting of a whole city block, while the prices are low. These sites usually cost from $15,000 to $20,000, though in one case the price was only $1000, while in another it was as high as $24,000. One site which was bought for $3000, proving to be not the most desirable, was afterward sold for $10,000. Not less than 15 sites have not been secured upon which no buildings have yet been erected.

With two exceptions all the permanent school buildings are of stone. The sparsely settled sections two-room cottages schools are frequently built at first with temporary frame buildings costing about $500 each. The cost of the stone buildings averages about $10,000 per room, the largest thus far being an 18-room building. The total value of the buildings is $3,500,000, not including the contents of the buildings.

The following figures show the rapid advance in the enrollment of pupils during the last seven years: 1911, 2827, 2980, 3545, 4421, 5800, 7385. The number of teachers employed, has shown the same progressive increase as follows: 33, 45, 58, 67, 80, 116, 143. The salaries are the highest paid in Canada. For women the minimum is $750 and the maximum $1100, with an increase of $50 each year. Men assistants receive from $1200 to $1500, and principals from $1500 to $2200. The salaries of the high school assistants are from $1800 to $2400, while the principals minimum is $4000 and the maximum $5000. Though the board has adopted a remarkably liberal policy towards all aspects of the work, the school taxes last year were only 2.53 mills, based on a 25 per cent. valuation of improved property.

High School Is Outgrown. The high school, built in 1908 at a cost of $100,000 has 15 teachers and 225 pupils. It is already over-crowded and a new $400,000 building is contemplated in another section of the city. There is likewise a good provincial normal school building in Calgary, costing $200,000, which also houses a normal practice school with eight teachers and 250 pupils. The normal school proper has a staff of nine with 108 student-teachers preparing for their professional work. This building, too, was taken to its limit capacity last year, but the opening of another normal school at Camrose with a staff of five and a attendance of 30 teachers has afforded some relief here.

Interesting features of the eastern public school system are to be noted in the following three directions: 1. Special departments of work each having its own supervisor. Among these are art, manual training, music and physical training. Complete courses in advanced wood work and

A Day Off for Police

London, Eng., April 28.—After an agitation extending over seven years, a scheme has come into operation which gives every member of the Metropolitan Police Force one day's rest in seven. For some time past the police have had a day-and-a-half holiday in a fortnight in addition to their annual holiday. This extra half-day will mean the employment of at least 1,000 more men, bringing the number of the Metropolitan Police Force up to about 50,000. It is estimated that the additional cost will amount to about $750,000 per year.

Nurses are so scarce in New York that the mayor has given instructions to advertise for them in the Canadian papers. It may be necessary to place an export duty on one of Canada's most valued productions.

Manual Arts Taught

Calgary was a pioneer in technical education in western Canada, the first beginning having been made about 12 years ago. Six years ago work in manual arts was introduced in all the schools, and since that time it has been introduced for all girls in grades seven and eight. Each of the newer schools has two rooms for manual training, well provided with tools, benches and other apparatus. The evening classes in technical education proper, though organized only 18 months ago by T. B. Kidder, director of technical education, have an enrolment of 1,000 students of both sexes. The courses already include: drafting, machine drawing, sheet metal drafting, machine drawing, electrotyping, heating and ventilation, drafting for plumbers, interior decoration, engine practice, applied mechanics, advanced mathematics, as well as commercial subjects. A series of fortnightly Saturday evening public lectures is also conducted, and the question of an adequate technical high school building is now being mooted.

While there have been no universities nearer than Winnipeg (100 miles distant) until the last four or five years, a number of preparatory colleges have sprung up, some of these being prepared to do first and second-year university work. Among these are Western Canada, Mount Royal, Bishop Hukham, and St. Hilde's colleges, all of which have immediately found a large constituency flocking to their doors.

University Is Started. And now Calgary is attempting her educational project, the establishment of a university on private foundation. The movement thus far has been attended with great success. Under the leadership of Dr. T. B. Kidder, who has been called the founder, subscriptions of more than $500,000 have been secured, as well as another $100,000 and in time promotion of over 600 acres of land adjoining the city. This land is easily valued now at another $100,000 and in time promotion to be the basis of a splendid endowment. The endowment is now a considerable number of teachers and potentially in excess of that which many of the older Canadian universities are yet able to boast.

In order to anticipate the distant future according to a well-ordered plan, the site of 150 acres given by W. J. Tregillus on a lofty eminence overlooking the city and in plain sight of the Rockies 100 miles to the west, has been landscaped and a tentative location for the various buildings that may eventually be required has been determined.

Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, a doctor of philosophy of Harvard University, as dean, has taken the leading part in the organization of the educational side and in addition to some instructors, three professors have been appointed—Dr. MacDougall, Eastman and Ward—of whom have had several years of graduate work in leading European and American universities, as well as a few years' successful teaching. Lectures were begun last fall and as a preliminary number of students have presented themselves. A feature of the program is the placing of at least one lecture as possible between the hours of 4.30 and 4.30 in the afternoon. A considerable number of teachers and others have enrolled in these especially in English literature, history, Latin, French, economics, mathematics and the English Bible—some of them intending in this way to proceed gradually to the arts degree.

It is aimed to keep the standard fully equal to that of any of the eastern universities. The enrolment in the arts department has reached 115. This with a law department of 35, makes a total enrolment for the year of 150 which it is believed far surpasses the first year record of any other Canadian university.

VANCOUVER MAN TO TAKE OVER ARLINGTON HOTEL

The Arlington Hotel will be taken over by Alfred Goldstein, of Vancouver, August 1, on a lease and option to purchase. The deal was consummated yesterday by Mr. Goldstein and H. E. Lambert. The lease, which runs for a long period, calls for the construction at once on the three lots south of the hotel of a $400,000 addition to the hotel, and an option on the whole property, including the furniture of the hotel, for $125,000. It is understood that the lease will make application for a license with the completion of the addition.

MANNERS OR MORALS

Mr. William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state for the United States, has many little idiosyncrasies which are admirable when applied to Brother Bryan, but hardly courteous when flung at the heads of the foreign diplomats in Washington. At the first dinner to which the secretary of state invited the representatives of the foreign nations no wine was served. Obviously, Brother Bryan does not approve of wine. But because he has fads is that any reason that the guests of the United States should be obliged to bow before them? It is not William Jennings Bryan but the secretary of state who entertains. The entertainment is probably paid for by the people of the United States. If the secretary does not approve of alcohol at dinner in any shape or form he need not drink it. That is his affair. Mr. Bryan may prefer his neck shaved, or mustard with chicken, or to eat with his knife, but he could hardly expect that every man who dined with him should do the same. He is the host, and it would be more in keeping with the duties of the host to follow his guests' examples as to put them at their ease in case they were guilty of some breach of etiquette in his presence. Manners as well as morals are necessary among ordinary people, especially over a dinner table. The former have only one standard, the latter many.—Vancouver Daily Province.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY

The Hudson's Bay Is Unique

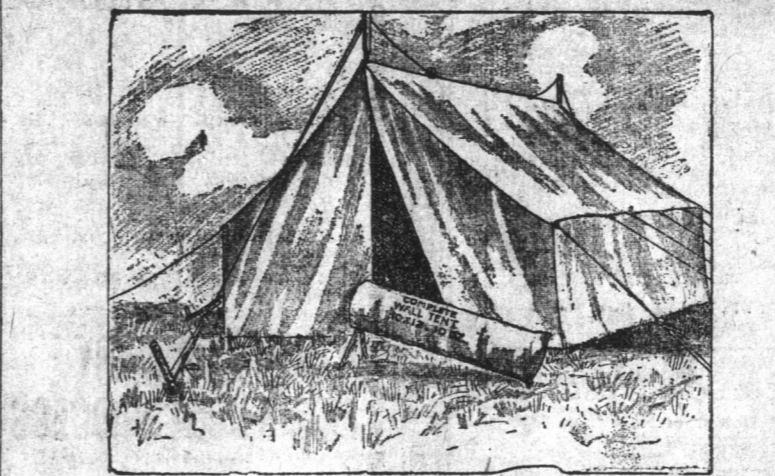

THE motif underlying this business! It is to sell goods at the lowest price consistent with safety. All the power and wonderful resources of our organization is applied to that purpose. It is our first thought. Has always been. Always will be. Whatever else we may afford, there is, to our notion, one thing we can't afford, and that is to permit any one to undersell or equal our values. Men who know every in and out, every turn and twist of both the American and European markets, are ever alert to sustain Hudson's Bay leadership in that respect.

Broadly speaking, ladies are instinctively thrifter shoppers than men. Ask the ladies of this city where their money can be made to go furthest. The answer will invariably be at "The Bay." Ladies know from actual experience in everyday shopping, that every dollar spent inside this store will bring them more actual satisfaction than if spent elsewhere. And as the saying goes—"There's a reason."

An Attractive Price-Trio from the Whitewear Store

THERE are few, if any ladies, in and about Calgary who haven't either personally experienced the advantages of buying here, or heard of it through some friend. However, the news has spread, until today there are very few who don't visit this popular section of "The Bay," and to their own self interest. Here are three exceptionally good buying chances announced for tomorrow's shoppers. Make note of them.

LADIES' APRONS—This is a special lot of Ladies' Overall Aprons, made of fine quality Percale and Gaietes, in navy and assorted stripes; neatly trimmed with contrasting shades. Well made and exceptional value, at $1.00. LONG KIMONOS—Daintily made of Cotton Crepe and Fancy Muslin, in navy, red, blue and rose; very prettily trimmed with Persian, and in all sizes. They represent excellent value at $1.50. SHORT KIMONOS—These come in very pretty Japanese designs in Crepe Kimonos, with silk facing, and in all the popular colors, and all sizes. Regular $1.50 values. Tuesday $1.25.

Ready for the Campers now, with Tents and Other Supplies

ALREADY we've outfitted a number of parties who have planned to "camp out" during the summer months and who are showing foresight in making their preparations early. Of course, it seems only natural that those in quest of such things should lean on this store to fill their wants best. It has been a "specialty" of Hudson's Bay Stores for the past century to fit out such parties.

Whether you have planned a stay at Banff, a motor tour, a fishing trip or to locate a camp for the season's outing, this store is best prepared now to fill your every need. THE HANDIEST TENT IMAGINABLE—We call attention to this particular Tent without the ridge pole, and with upright poles; telescopic, enabling a large tent; poles and all fittings to be packed away in a bag, 60x112 inches. It's the handiest tent we know of today. Made from an extra good quality Army Drill, with an amount of wear to it, does away entirely with heavy poles. Tent complete, weight 30 pounds. Size 10x10. Price $15.20. Size 10x20. Price $20.00. "Gold Medal" Camp Cots, Camp Tables, Folding Beds and Mattresses, famous Hudson's Bay Point Blankets, the best for the Camp, with greatest satisfaction for the camper and his guests, will be best bought now from this store.

THE MAN WHO FATHERED THE BALKAN ALLIANCE

Athens, April 28.—At the close of the Persian war, according to an amazing tale told by Herodotus, the Greek generals took a vote to decide who was the biggest man amongst them. Each general voted for himself first and Themiocles second.
So Themiocles, the greatest of them all came in for a unanimous second prize. But the Spartans expressed his more justly; for they knew a fighter when they saw one. Themiocles visited Sparta and received such honors as never Greeks accorded a Greek before or since—unless it be to the present premier of Greece, Eleutherios Venizelos. Themiocles had the Sea of Asia-tica keep within appointed bounds. Venizelos has chosen as his life work the same task.
A new Greece has grown up under

Pumps Vim Into Ailing Men

If you feel tired and stupid with no ambition to get out and hustle, if you have spells of despondency and a desire to give up the fight, you need new energy. The race is to the strong. Show me a failure, and I'll show you the morning full of energy, three essentials to the make-up of a successful man.
Take a man like that and Electro-Vigor pumps new energy into his body while he sleeps, and in a few weeks' time transforms him into a giant in strength and courage.
It is proven that energy and electricity are one and the same thing.
If you lack this energy, you can get it only by filling your nerves with electricity. Electro-Vigor does this. Wear it while you sleep. You feel its invigorating stream of electric life in your nerves, its vitalizing sparks in your blood. You wake up in the morning full of new life, new vim, and courage enough to tackle anything.
Electro-Vigor is an electric body battery which sends a steady current of electricity into the nerves and vital, building up vitality and strength and removing the cause of disease. No pain can exist in a body charged with electric life.
You can have no rheumatism, no weakness, no inactive parts from the life generated by this appliance, since health and strength to every organ.
Calgary, Alta., Box 874.
Dear Sirs:—I have used your Electro-Vigor for about five weeks.
My stomach is getting stronger force, that has dared to defy the mistake of the mysterious "European concern" which is popularly supposed to hold the destiny of Europe in the hollow of its hands, has come into existence in the form of the Balkan Alliance. For Venizelos is to be credited the bringing about a condition of harmonious agreement between Greece and the Balkan States, that has made possible the driving of Turkey out of Europe.

Venizelos spent years in preparation for the work which he now sees about to end successfully. He is Cretan, and the idea of a union of his island home has ever been his fond hope. But he came to understand that neither Crete nor Greece could bring about a union while the "Protecting Powers" insisted on maintaining the integrity of Turkey in Europe. So he planned to bring about a union of the Balkan States for the purpose of clearing the Turks out of Europe and of creating a situation that would make it impossible, if not impossible, for the Powers to further "protect" Crete.
But while the Turk was the common enemy of Greek and Slav, Greek and Slav were also at bitter enmity. Bulgaria and Serbia suspected and hated the Greek and the Greek re-ciprocally the feeling. They killed each other with great relish.
There was deadly rivalry in the matter of schools for their nationals in Macedonia. These were established everywhere, freespoken of recognized spheres of influence. Venizelos resisted upon this cause of conflict and reconciled differences to bring about a union between Slav and Greek.
Making Ready for a Balkan Alliance
Through the Greek and with illustrations of the Bulgarian and the Bulgarian who were called by the Bulgarian Emperor were surprised not only at the very reasonable proposals of the Greek premier, but that he evidently intended genuinely to carry out his promises. In this way, little by little, confidence was assured between the four Balkan states. The subject was taken in the spring of 1911, with the hinting of an offensive and defensive alliance. This delicate work was undertaken by M. Gyparis, Greek minister at Constantinople. But things did not progress very far in Constantinople, and M. Venizelos decided to undertake it himself. He went to Luga-nne, and while there he disappeared.
At the hotel it was stated that he was on an excursion in the mountains. It was in the mountains—the Balkan mountains. He personally visited Belgrade and Sofia, and placed his views before the kings of Bulgaria and Serbia.
The negotiations were now continued in Constantinople under the very name of the Young Turks. The general lines of the convention were finally agreed on. M. Gyparis was then recalled to Athens, as minister of foreign affairs, to conduct the negotiations with Serbia and Montenegro. When these were completed he returned as minister to Constantinople to sign the treaty of alliance last May. In April, 1912, the powers got wind that an alliance was concluded, or about to be concluded, between Bulgaria and Greece, and the ministers accredited to the Greek court visited M. Venizelos, and asked if this information was true. M. Ven-izelos was non-committal. The same day he telegraphed the Bulgarian premier to close a Greek school at Sofia and imprison the teachers. This was done and immediately the news of the outrage became known at Athens, the Athenian journals printed columns of vituperation against Bulgaria. Here was ample proof that Greek and Slav enmity still existed. Lullies thus into a sense of security, M. Venizelos completed the formal alliance with the Balkan states which had had the result of changing the whole face of Europe. Such an alliance was talked about before, but it remained for this Greek statesman actually to do it. His task, however, is not yet finished.
The alliance must hang together.
Venizelos must continue to encourage the harmony and unity of action which has been found so potent on the field of battle and which may be made equally strong on the field of diplomacy.

Application Made in the Courts to Quash Bylaw As to Bread Wrapping Judge Walsh Hears Appeal Against Judgment of Magistrate, Fining Shelley's Bakery For Failing to Cover Bread

The wrapping of bread has now become the topic of discussion of a higher court, and an appeal was yesterday heard before Judge Walsh to quash the conviction of Magistrate Sanders, of January 24, when W. S. Shelley of the Shelley Bakery company was fined in such a way that was not in the interests of the health of the city. His bread must be wrapped or covered when being delivered at any house or store.
After hearing evidence and pleas for both parties, his lordship reserved his judgment. M. B. Peacock, who appeared for Shelley, contended at the outset that it must be shown that there was due on the day in question, but Judge Walsh asked if the bylaw specified that there should be wrapping only when there was dust in evidence. Mr.
Peacock then contended that the city could only decide as to the weight of the loaf.
D. S. Moffat, who appeared for the city, said that the city had power to

CARDINAL IS SHOCKED BY WORDS OF SCIENTIST

Prata Gibbons Doesn't Like What Sir William Osler Has to Say About Shrines and Saints
Baltimore, Md., April 28.—Cardinal Gibbons was shocked when he read the speech of Sir William Osler, at the dedicatory exercises of the Phipps Psychiatric clinic of the Johns Hopkins University, in which the Oxford professor said that "many a shrine has more followers than Pasteur." The cardinal declared that Dr. Osler's remarks were an attack on Christianity.
"Ninety-nine per cent of our fellow creatures, when in sickness, trust to charms, incantations and the saints," said Sir William Osler. "I am a scientist. I declare that the race, mentally, was still in leading strings." Cardinal Gibbons gave out an extended interview, attacking Dr. Osler's views, and incidentally paid his respects to other scientists, who handle religion too freely.
Sir William Osler is at Yale University. Before leaving he said he was sorry at the cardinal's attitude, and, on his return, would call on the prelate and explain.

Don't Gamble With Opportunity Don't Miss the Chance Today as there will be no Tomorrow.

There are mighty few lots left in the original offering of the four business blocks of Pacific Railway. Just remember that there are over twenty-five buildings already in these same blocks, which should, considering the importance of the town as a supply centre, easily make the lots worth four times the price they are being offered at; yet you can still get in on the ground floor at prices running from $150 for the finest investment we know of.

Vegreville and Whitford Returns Show Conservative Candidates Far at the Foot of the Polls Vegreville, April 28.—In this constituency the Conservatives hoped that by bringing an independent Lutheran candidate into the field they would be able to deflect a sufficient number of votes from the Liberal candidates to make sure the election of their candidate, Morrison. The result, however, as given below, shows that when the show-down came the Conservative figures at the bottom of the poll, while Joseph McCallum, the Liberal, has an easy majority over the independent.
In Whitford reports for a long time were to the effect that one or the other of the independent candidates had been elected, but when the full returns appeared it is shown that Alex. Shandro, the Liberal nominee, is the one appointed and that by a comfortable majority. Mr. Shandro, who is a native of the north country, is the first Russian to be elected to a seat in a British house of legislation since the Twy, Huxford, figured at the foot of the poll.

SECURING OF COSTS IS REFUSED MISS CALLARD
Heroine of First Breach of Promise Case of Alberta Wanted Favor for Appeal Case Which Will Be Heard in June
Mrs. Anna Louisa Henly-Lewis yesterday made application in the supreme court before Judge Stuart to have her costs secured in the appeal action against her, which came up before the court of appeal on June 1. The application was, however, dismissed by his lordship.
Mrs. Henly-Lewis, who was formerly Miss Callard, was the heroine of the first breach of promise action of the province of Alberta and from Martin James Armstrong, a wealthy rancher of Nanton, she was awarded by the district court a sum of $20,000, after having asked for $25,000, to soothe her injured feelings. Immediately after the decision Mr. Armstrong, through his counsel, A. A. McGillivray, entered an appeal which will be heard in the court of appeal on June 1.
Since the trial of the action Miss Callard became Mrs. Henly-Lewis, and now lives in Calgary with her husband. Her control at the trial was P. J. Nolan, and incidentally, at this big case, which was his last, he made a strenuous appeal for his client, which proved most telling with the jury.
