THE FEDERATION OF TRINITY UNIVERSITY

President Loudon

The events which led to the disintegration of university education in Ontario belong chiefly to the second quarter of the past century, and may be assumed as familiar to the readers of this journal. It was in 1850 that Bishop Strachan undertook to build and endow Trinity University as a protest against the Baldwin Act of 1849, which had completely secularized the provincial university. Two years later teaching was begun, and a charter was obtained in 1853.

In the midst of the controversies of those stirring times the idea of university consolidation was not wholly abandoned. Both the Act of 1849 and that of 1853 were framed with a view to such consolidation, the one with, and the other without, the abandonment of degree-conferring powers by the outstanding colleges; but he would have been a bold optimist indeed who, in view of the sentiments then prevailing, could have hoped for a united provincial university. What was then little better than the dream of enlightened statesmen has been largely realized through the federation of Victoria and Trinity Universities under the Act of 1887.

Such a radical change as is implied in the federation of Trinity cannot be effected by the mere stroke of a pen. To state the bare fact that provision was made for this federation by the amended University Act of 1901, and that the Act was put into operation by an Order-in-Council bearing the date of 17th of Nov., 1903, is to give no idea of the gradual change of sentiment in the Anglican Church regarding this matter, of the prolonged discussions, of the delicate negotiations and mutual compromises which made the legal enactments possible. The actual negotiations as between the University of Toronto and Trinity University were carried on throughout the year 1902 by the following committees: University of Toronto: Chancellor Meredith, Vice-Chancellor Moss, President Loudon, Principal Hutton, Dr. Hoskin, Dr. Walker, Mr. C. S. Gzowski; Trinity University: Chancellor Robinson, Provost Macklem, Dr. Worrell, Col. Pellatt and Messrs. Edward Martin and Frederick Nicholls. These names are mentioned in order that credit may be given where credit is due for the happy outcome. Where all were actuated by so earnest a desire to attain a practical and equitable result, it is almost invidious to make distinctions, yet perhaps separate mention should be made of Provost Macklem of Trinity, Chancellor Meredith and Vice-Chancellor Moss of the University of Toronto, as well as Dr. Hoskin, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. B. F. Walker, the two latter especially for their assistance in working out the financial basis of the scheme. It is but right to add that the negotiations were greatly facilitated by the sympathetic attitude of the Premier and the Minister of Education. Mention should also be made of the very liberal spirit in which the teaching staff, especially in medicine, agreed to combine their forces, in many cases to the prejudice of personal interest as regards the necessary modifications in academic rank and in financial arrangements.

This federation which has been so happily brought about comes into full operation with the present academic year in the Faculty of Arts. In Medicine the amalgamation of the faculties took place a year ago, and the labors of the combined Faculty have been attended with most gratifying results.

It is needless to say that the federation of Trinity has greatly strengthened the Provincial University on the academic side. The calendar of the University for 1904-5 puts the matter in concrete form, and shows at a glance what the new departure means in this respect. In Arts the University possesses at present a teaching staff of upwards of sixty members, whilst the combined staff of University, Victoria and Trinity Colleges for the teaching of the languages and other subjects numbers about fifty. This union of forces means in the University subjects a larger staff, larger classes and a consequent economy of effort, whilst in the college subjects a distinct gain must infallibly accrue from the diversity of attainments and the wholesome emulation of three separate faculties teaching the same subjects, each in its own way, independently of each other. In Medicine the combined staff numbers upwards of eighty members, and will compare favorably in professorial and scientific attainments with that of any faculty of medicine in America.

In conclusion it should be pointed out that the federation of Trinity marks a further step towards the upbuilding of a great national seat of learning. It cannot be said too often or emphasized too strongly that, under present conditions, a modern university cannot be effectively conducted without a very large expenditure of money. The undivided available resources of the province are no more than barely sufficient for this purpose. The incorporation with the Provincial University of a university representing a large and important religious body cannot fail to strengthen the hands of the Government and Legislature in devising liberal measures for the support of higher education. Nor is this all. The education, side by side in the class-room, of large bodies of students of different creeds and traditions will assuredly result in a spirit of tolerance and broadness, which will react most beneficially upon the national life and character, whilst at the same time intellectual effort will be stimulated by the association within one university of a large number of young men and women of superior mental endowment.

RESULT OF SENATE ELECTIONS

The counting of the ballots for election to the Senate of the University of Toronto was completed on Saturday, with the following results:

The graduates in Applied Science and Engineering elected Mr. C. H. Mitchell without opposition.

Sir Wm. Meredith has been elected Chancellor without opposition, and the first duty of the new Senate at its first meeting, Nov. 11th, will be to elect a Vice-Chancellor, an office to which Chief Justice Moss has been elected during the last two terms.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The city members of the University Rifle Association had several very successful practices during the summer months. Last week practices were held on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday with very satisfactory results. This week a series of practices has been arranged for on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, leaving the gymnasium at 1.30 p. m. each day, and going by the 2.10 G. T. R. train to the ranges. There will also be a morning practice on Saturday, Oct. 15th, leaving Sunnyside at 8.30 a. m. by the Long Branch car. All intending members are requested to join at once, as the shooting season is rapidly drawing to a close.

An officer of the Association will be in the room in the gymnasium on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next between 1 p. m. and 1.30 p. m., to receive new members and serve out rifles. It is hoped that the men who are coming into the University for the first time will hasten to put themselves in line with an association which is rapidly growing in numbers and which is representative of a spirit of "defence, not defiance," which is daily becoming stronger throughout the Dominion.

S. A. Cudmore, Sec.

Educationalists who take an interest in target practice and who are seized with the importance of good marksmanship in the militia as a means of national defence have become enthusiastic over the possibilities of the Sub-Target Gun Machine. Much has been said and written of the gun during the past few months, and Private Perry's acknowledgement that the invention aided him materially in his practice before winning the King's Prize has added much to its prestige. The invention, which is designed for initial instruction in the sighting and aiming of a rifle, has made the successful training of marksmen practicable, and since passing the very rigorous tests to which it has been subjected it has rightly been adopted by the Dominion Government for the instruction of the Canadian Militia, and is also being introduced to good purpose in the public schools throughout the country.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

At a special convocation, held on Saturday, September 3rd, the degree of LL. D. honoris causa, was conferred on Randall Thomas Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of all England. It was a singularly happy coincidence that, at the time when the great State university and the great Anglican university of this province had agreed upon a plan of union, the head of the Anglican Church should, for the first time in history, cross the Atlantic to visit our young country and, as it were, to bestow the archiepiscopal blessing upon the nuptials. And no one who had the good fortune to hear the Archbishop can doubt that the federation of the universities met with his hearty approval. He is far too broad-minded a man to look with suspicion upon a movement which tends to bring the young men of his Church into contact with those of other religious bodies. There was no trace of narrowness or clericalism in His Grace's public utterances either in this city or elsewhere throughout his tour. He spoke and acted as one who felt it a greater honor to be a member of the Church of Christ than the ecclesiastical head of the great historic Church of England.

His Grace was presented for the degree by Mr. Christopher Robinson, K. C., Chancellor of Trinity, in the presence of a large and representative audience. After it was conferred he spoke as follows:

"Mr. Vice-Chancellor and members of the faculty—I might almost say 'fratres doctissimi'—I appreciate, I need hardly say, to the full the very high honor done to me to-day. It has been my honor and privilege for some little time to be a member of three of the oldest universities in our Empire. But it is no small matter, and I do not put it as one of inferior importance to the others, that I should be to-day allowed to become a member of one whose long history has still to be written. To me the thought is full of significance—especially under the circumstances which have just been eloquently referred to, that you should have done me the honor to-day to confer upon me this degree. I stand here I suppose as in some sense, for the moment at least, a representative man. And if representative, it is I suppose of that science which we sometimes speak of as religion and sometimes as theology. And I know very well, none better, that what you have done to-day is in no sense a religious act, for that would not be a part of the duties of the great university of which I have now the honor to be a member. But you are recognizing, if I understand what is done to-day aright, you are recognizing a representative of a science or a study which has, I think at least I may say, enlisted in its service some of the greatest minds, and conferred upon humanity some of the greatest benefits it has known. It is just because your act is not a religious act in the limited sense of the word that its significance seems to me at this moment to be so great and that I feel it the more. Theology, I think, has always suffered from isolation. When isolated, I can well understand how it could be regarded as a sterile and very unprogressive study. But place it in living communion with other branches of human knowledge, with those that deal with the organization of society, which we call law, or the changes of society, which we call history, or the physical organizations underlying all, which we speak of as science or as medicine, or the culture of mental powers which we speak of as arts; then theology must itself be quickened into a fruitful life and advance with the accumulated knowledge of all the sciences. A student of theology, a worker for the Church of Christ, exactly in proportion as he holds the firmest conviction of the great truths committed to his keeping and to his use must follow with the keenest sympathy, the progress of every other science without jealousy or without one taint of suspicion or alarm; quite sure that even the moderate results of all honest study and all honest effort must enrich the inheritance of his successors.

"It is in this conviction that I thank you for the welcome which you have given to-day to one who, whatever else he may be, is a representative, unworthy though he be of a science and a force which has not, I believe, spoken its last word or done its last service to a suffering, a struggling, an aspiring, and I venture to add a believing humanity. It is in that spirit that I thank you and this university now. My words are feeble and inadequate. They have at least the merit which will commend them to your indulgence, that they come from an honestly grateful man."

THE FREDERICK WYLD PRIZE

The following were the subjects selected for the Wyld prize competition: (1) The peculiarities of Shakespeare's "Tempest" as compared with his other comedies. (2) Johnson's method and results in literary criticism as revealed in his essay on Shakespeare, and his "Lives of the Poets." (3) Browning as a lyrical poet. (4) The personal essay as exemplified in the works of Lamb, Thackeray and Stevenson. (5) a contrast between the written drama and the novel as artistic methods for the representation of life. No announcement of the award has yet been made.

THE NAMING OF THE TREES

During the summer a study of the trees in Queen's Park was made by a party under charge of Profs. Thompson and Fall, of the Botanical Department. We observe the scientific names attached to the various trees, one feature of their work.

CONVOCATION

Convocation, coming as it does as the conclusion of four years spent at college, does not elicit the enthusiasm of the graduating class as such an occasion should. Coming as they do from widely different parts, not only of Ontario, but of Canada, and called away by immediately pressing duties, many of the students find themselves barred from the privilege of waiting behind to enjoy a short holiday together before separation.

This year no pains were spared by the Alumni Association and committee of the graduating class in preparing an extensive programme for convocation week, and though it was not all carried out, yet there were nevertheless some good things.

On Wednesday the women of the graduating class of University College took luncheon at McConkey's. Miss Salter and Miss McClive welcomed the guests. On the afternoon of Thursday, June 9th, the alumni of University College held an At Home in the Dean's house, University College. The guests were received by the president of the association, Miss M. C. McGregor, B. A., ('95), assisted by Miss Salter.

On Friday at 12 o'clock the corner stone of the Convocation and Alumni Hall was laid by the Lieutenant-Governor with fitting ceremony. There were present, besides the Minister of Education, the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, President and President Harper of Chicago University, and many others. Dr. Reeve, president of the Alumni Association, who presided, gave a brief account of the history of the Convocation Hall movement. Over $50,000 has been subscribed for the hall, and its success is assured.

The half would not be told were we to omit mention of the Shakespearian pastoral plays which were most successfully produced under the elms in the Dean's gardens on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The plays were as follows: "As You Like It," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Twelfth Night."

But the great central event of the week was convocation on Friday p. m., June 10th, held once more in the University gymnasium. Among the celebrities present were the Lieutenant-Governor, the Premier, the Attorney-General, the Minister of Education, President Harper of Chicago, Professor Newcombe of Johns Hopkins and Professor Nimot of Harvard, together with five distinguished Canadian gentlemen, on whom were conferred honorary degrees. These latter were Provost Macklem of Trinity, Jno. I. McDougall, Auditor-General of the Dominion; Wm. Saunders, Director of Experimental Farms for the Dominion; Wm. F. King, Chief Astronomer of the Dominion, and Otto J. Klotz, astronomer, Department of Interior.

The Chancellor, Sir Wm. R. Meredith, presided. The first to receive the degree of LL. D. honoris causa, was Professor Newcombe of Johns Hopkins, who was introduced by President Loudon. President Harper of Chicago was introduced by Premier Ross, and in reply paid a tribute to the graduates of Toronto who have found their way to Chicago. Professor Minot, who was introduced by Professor Ramsay Wright, in reply paid a warm tribute to the work of the University professor, who is greater than the general or the statesman.

Provost Macklem was presented by the Vice-Chancellor, who spoke of the happy consummation of the federation of Trinity, which was due in no small measure to the efforts of the Provost. Mr. J. Lorne MacDougall, who was introduced by Chancellor Burwash, in his reply made a plea for more friendly relations with our French-Canadian fellow-citizens.

Dr. Saunders was presented by Mr. Jas. Mills (late Principal of Ontario Agricultural College), as a representative of Canada's greatest industry.

Dr. Reeve, in presenting Mr. Otto J. Klotz, C. E., referred to the distinguished contribution to science the latter had just made in his completion of an astronomical girdle of the globe. Mr. Wm. King was introduced by Professor Baker, who referred to the large share which the former had taken in the preparation of the Canadian case in the Alaskan boundary dispute.

The rest of the time was devoted to the conferring of the other degrees of the various faculties. The recipients were marshalled to the platform by classes, and admitted to their degrees by the Chancellor.

Convocation was followed by a garden party, given by the University Senate in the quadrangle. The guests were received by Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Loudon and Mrs. Ramsay Wright.

In the evening was held the annual banquet given by the Alumni Association and the University authorities to the graduating classes. President Loudon occupied the chair, having on his right the Lieutenant-Governor and on his left the Chancellor, Sir Wm. Meredith. Dinner over, Dean Reeve took the chair and called upon the Lieutenant-Governor to propose the toast to Alma Mater. This toast was responded to by President Harper of Chicago and by Hon. Richard Harcourt. The latter, for the most part, defended the Government against the criticism of those who thought the Legislature too sparing in its gifts to the University. Judge Chisholm and Professor Clark also spoke.

The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Sir Wm. Meredith, and responded to by Professor Newcombe of Washington, D.C., Professor Minot of Harvard and Dr. J. Lorne MacDougall.

Finally, the toast to the graduating class was proposed by Chancellor Burwash, and responded to by Wilson Tackaberry on the part of Arts, and by P. J. Muga on behalf of Medicine. The National Anthem brought the event to a close.

YEAR BOOK

Considering all things, a word re the Year Book seems to be quite in order. The Torontonensis, as we all know, is the embodiment of the associations which the class of '05 has formed during its chequered undergraduate career. It is the epitome of all that has been for four years. The production of such a work consisting, as it does, of some 475 biographies with their accompanying cuts of the eulogized subjects, together with the other features of the book is no small task, and if each individual student will make it a point to comply as far as possible with the necessary efforts of the committee he will thereby be furthering the end we all desire.

As said above, there are something like 475 or more biographies to be obtained. This, though one of the most prominent features of the book, is by no means the only important one, but it is the desire of the committee to rid itself of this part of the work as soon as possible in order that it may devote its energies, which unfortunately are not endless, to the other none the less important features.

To this end we are endeavoring to secure every biography at once. If each one realizes that he, individually, is an object of solicitation and necessarily of worry, until his biography is in the hands of the editor, and will accordingly seriously consider it incumbent on him to immediately arrange for the writing of his biography by his chosen "Boswell," not thinking in his heart that such a small thing as one will not matter ("many a mickle makes a mickle"), he will confer not only a favor on, but a distinct service to, the executive. If each will only realize that in a short eight weeks the term will nearly have ended no thought of delay will cross his mind.

In addition to the writing of biographies is the equally important duty of sitting at once for photographs. At the present writing the faculties of Medicine and Science have not yet decided on the photographer they intend to patronize, but the Arts faculty has decided to sit at Park Bros., the Yonge Street photographers. The terms given the committee are as follows: For group photos, $1.75 each; for individual photos (cabinet size), $1.00 per dozen; for individual photos (smaller size), $3.00 per dozen. Each one on sitting pays in advance for his Arts group, and on seeing the proofs has the option of ordering individual photos as he wishes.

This matter of photos is also one requiring immediate attention. If one will ponder on the fact that he must sit, then the photographers must develop the plate, of which in Arts there will be something like 400 (each student being given two sittings), then the proofs must be accepted by the subject, then a print made, that print taken to the lithographers by our energetic business manager and a cut made—and all this before the printer can be approached at all, he will see the utter necessity of haste. If he will further realize that no less than 475 students have to sit before any distinct result can be achieved, he will at once make arrangements with Messrs. Park to have his photograph taken. The hours of sitting for students are from 9 a.m. till 3 p.m. any day but Saturday, and if each sitter will go between these hours he will not be compelled to wait as he otherwise would.

If every senior will determine that as far as he is concerned no delay will occur he will thereby confer a distinct favor on the committee and minimize to a great extent the inevitable worry and care which the work entails.

THE PASSING HOUR

Again has Old Father Time spun the Wheel of Fortune and its murmuring clicks have warned the undergraduate that his days of feasting are at an end and once more must he assume the cap and gown, and the look of wisdom with which he is prepared to impress the unlearned and profane. The Horn of Plenty has poured forth its offering until even the hungry sophomore has cried enough—Freshmen, Freshmen everywhere! This is their regular annual excursion and most enthusiastically have they arrived at their destination.

The proverbial freshman is an unaccountable association of dignity and vanity whose one desire is to see and to be seen. But compare him with the reality! See how meekly the flesh and blood freshman moves about our halls, cautiously seeing but somewhat fearful of being seen! Instead of dashing hastily to the President's sanctum to announce the arrival of his exalted self we find him patiently yet nervously waiting in line to register his humble name. Surely it is an impassable barrier which separates the freshman of to-day from him who is so famous in college annals! Or has the freshman changed? And yet as we look back we remember that we were quite as humble and shy as any freshman of to-day. In fact we feel that the ordinary freshman is a creature moulded on the same humble plan as the rest of us, except that perhaps his cloud has a lining of more highly polished silver than has ours; may it ever remain so. The trials and discouragements of college life are many and great, the rewards uncertain, but the knowledge of obstacles overcome and the goal triumphantly reached carries with it its own satisfaction. Here's to the success of Naughty-Night!

Those who were present at the College during the opening days of this month witnessed the usual scene in the corridors. We have all come through it, and goodness knows how many succeeding years will experience the same difficulty. A couple of information bureaus should be placed in the halls where the incoming student might have explained to him the many things which he cannot understand. It is bewildering to step as a stranger into our corridors and find no one who can tell you anything. It is customary, of course, for the freshman to rush to the Registrar's office to make enquiries, but it is an absurd custom for that overworked official (note elsewhere our poet's epigram) has weightier matters to attract his attention than telling eager freshmen whether they have to enroll with more than one professor for first year Latin and queries of such a nature. If a couple of information bureaus were set up in the corridors where all manner of information could be given to the freshmen, a great boon would be conferred on the students who are entering the University and it would relieve many of the professors and lecturers of troublesome visitors.

THE UNDERGRADUATES' UNION

The Undergraduates' Union has entered upon its fourth year of organization. The place it seeks to fill in university life is unique. A legion of other clubs and societies exist for the purpose of stimulating study in some particular line or to encourage this or that sport or hobby. The Union has its only excuse for being in the need that every student feels for the opportunity of meeting his fellows in a purely social way. The club-rooms are comfortably and even richly furnished and afford a most attractive spot to which the member may invite his friends or at which he may arrange a rendezvous. The Union is the only organization among the students that in no sense opposes any other organization. It is the common ground upon which men from every faculty meet regardless of any difference which may separate them elsewhere. The action taken at the last annual meeting of reducing the membership fee to two dollars per annum places the advantages of the Union within the reach of every man in the University. Visitors are at all times welcome, and every effort will be made to so conduct the affairs of the club that the Union will be found to be indispensable to the student in whatever course he may put himself.

RT. HON. JAMES BRYCE AT THE UNIVERSITY

The Students' Union was well filled last Thursday afternoon when the noted English parliamentarian and historian, Rt. Hon. Jas. Bryce, addressed the students of various departments and years. He was pleased, he said, that Canadian universities were giving so much attention to political science and regretted that England was behind in this regard. The great political problems on both sides of the Atlantic to-day being economic problems it is imperative that the closest attention be paid to the study of economic principles. He expressed the hope that more and more students would enter the field of practical politics.

Regarding the study of history, he pointed out that the history of economics, art and literature was as deserving of attention as that of politics. Such works as the "Norse Sagas" and Dante's great poem give us the history of the life and civilization of their respective periods.

Prof. R. Wright, who was in the chair, Prof. Mavor and Prof. Wrong spoke also, the latter informing the students of the 2nd and 3rd years particularly that Mr. Bryce wrote the "Holy Roman Empire" at the age of 23.

THE BRITISH ENGINEERS

The members of the Institute of Civil Engineers from Great Britain, who are on an extended tour throughout the continent, visited the University on Monday afternoon. The party, which included such eminent men as Sir William White, Professor Unwin, Mr. Alex. Ross and Lieut.-Colonel Cabrereton, was met at the Union Station by Prof. Gabraith and others. They were shown different points of interest in Queen's Park. The party left in the evening for Niagara Falls.

DONATION TO PHYSICS

Among the papers read before the International Electrical Congress at St. Louis was one by Pro-Mineral Oils and Natural Gases." The author on examining the coal oils obtained from the neighborhood of Petrolea and Brantford, as well as samples of the natural gas from different wells in Western Ontario, found both these substances to be highly charged with the radioactive emanation from radium.

This investigation is one of a number which have been rendered possible in the Physical Laboratory of the University through the kindness of a number of the citizens of Toronto who have during the past few months generously contributed various sums for the purpose, aggregating in all about four hundred dollars.

THE HUSTLE

Another class has been ushered in to University College with the usual time-honored shirt-rendering formalities. On the afternoon of Oct. 7th, old Varsity looked down with a smile of kindly condescension on the sunny campus before her, for there, in the middle of the campus, were gathered together some hundred new undergraduates ready to prove themselves worthy of the name. The Sophomores, mustering about sixty, were assembled at the south-west corner of University College. On the stroke of three, the drama commenced. A Sophomore separated himself from his fellows, and gravely advanced towards the trembling freshmen. As he drew near, it was seen by his all-pervading smile, that he up to the bandstand in Queen's Park. This was at about 3.30, and the battle lasted until 4.30, when the Sophomores had succeeded in bearing the Freshmen's banner to the gymnasium. This, in the eyes of the Sophomores, constituted them victors. But it would take the genius of a Lasenby to prove them so.

UNIVERSITY AWARDS

We congratulate Mr. H. H. Davis, '07, the winner of the Bankers' Scholarship. The examination was set on Bucher's "Industrial Evolution" and there were four competitors.

The Mackenzie Fellowship in Political Science has this year been awarded Mr. H. Bell, '04. He was none other than the redoubtable Verrall. In his hand he bore that which was to be presented to the First Year as an emblem of their status in society—a dusky banner, whereon were blazoned three white geese. In a voice of thunder, he heralded the intent of the said banner. Then he returned as he had come, and the Freshmen breathed again. And now came the battle, the story of which must be briefly told. When the Freshmen were gathered together near the library, the Sophomores made an attempt to enclose them with a hempen rope. The rope was soon cut, however. In the tumble down the hill north of the library the Sophomores had the best of it. Then the battle raged with varying success, but mostly on the side of the Freshmen, will spend some time in Toronto University with Professor Wrong and will also study at Pennsylvania University.

The Exhibition Scholarship was won by Mr. Frank Burton. We are pleased to note that since going to Cambridge University he has been awarded the Emmanuel Scholarship of Cambridge.

Mr. Ernest Patterson, a graduate of Toronto of 1902, the winner of the Rhodes Scholarship, arrived in England, Saturday, Oct. 1st. He will enter upon studies at Balliol College, Oxford, where Toronto has already been represented by Mr. A. G. Brown and Mr. Kylie.

Once more it is the privilege of Varsity to welcome back to the academic life of another college year the members of the various faculties that form our University. To our old friends, greetings; to our new ones—members of the Arts faculty of Trinity College—even more cordial welcome.

* * * *

The outlook for the college year is bright. At all colleges the enrollment of first year students is very large. Already within the student body there is evinced a more general interest in the affairs of their University. The Secretary of the Union reports a decidedly larger enrollment than at this time last year. Subscriptions to Varsity are mounting up rapidly, and there is every prospect of a most successful year financially. The fact that an election is practically assured in the Literary and Scientific Society of University College will ensure meetings of lively interest. For the first time in its history our tennis club has won every trophy contested, and although a triple defeat has just been sustained in football, there is every reason to believe that when the absent players of last year are again on the field, Toronto's chances will be excellent.

* * * *

It is a time-honored custom of Varsity, as one of the pulpits of the century, to give words of advice to the incoming year. Perhaps, by this time, the thought has come to you of the first year, though of course you would not venture to give it utterance, that even a freshman may know a little—just a little. However, we cannot refrain from adding one word more. Learn in your college course to generalize; do not limit your horizon to your academic year. Many a one, blind to everything more remote than his class stand in the spring, finds too late, that the years which should have been merely a preparation for his life's work, have been so spent that at their close his shattered health renders him unfit for that work, whether it be in the world of thought or in that of action. "The student loses no time that the man lives," and if from the football field, the rotunda, and the election contest, you learn the cipher of student life, you will have the key to the life of the larger world around you.

To say more would but be to repeat, perhaps ad nauseam, advice given in conversation from the platform and in the lecture-room.

* * * *

Attention is called to the article in the present issue dealing with The Union. We have heard much discussion of the Residence question. But though we regard the absence of a residence as our greatest drawback, yet the Undergraduates' Union, that which is the initial step toward the establishing of a residence has not in the past received a hearty support from the student body. It has been stated semi-officially that if the Union does not become self-supporting this year it must be closed. Should necessity compel such action, the residence would be a question of the even more distant future.

* * * *

With this issue Varsity begins its twenty-fourth year. The members of the staff will be glad to receive any interesting item of news from Varsity readers, either at the sanctum or elsewhere. It is the wish of the editors and, we know, of the faculty also, that the articles that make up our paper be drawn as far as possible from the undergraduate body. Poetry, short, pithy articles, stories and sketches, bearing if possible on University life, will be welcomed by the Editors, and, if they come up to the standard required by the students' paper, will be published gladly. Criticise Varsity, by all means; but remember that your criticism will have more weight if you have first called on the Business Manager, and if your handwriting is familiar to the Editors.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Senate elections are announced. The returns are significant.

Nothing definite has as yet been arrived at in the matter of the new Convocation Hall.

The after-luncheon speeches are to be continued this year. A more definite announcement will be made in next issue.

In the next issue will appear several short articles on the outlook for the year. These are being contributed by the Deans of the different faculties.

The Editor and the Business Manager agree that nothing brings to light a man's total depravity quite so much as the bringing out of a first issue. Should any of the faculty see themselves on the halfback line, they will kindly attribute it to the printer.

LUSUS NATURÆ

It was an artless Freshman
Who, in his kindest way,
Resolved to teach the Faculty,
What ought and what ought not to be,
Their duty day by day.

It was a sage Professor
Who, in his mildest mood,
Gave ear unto the measured glow
Of counsel how things ought to go,
'What each Professor ought to know';
And their inaptitude.

It was a Darwin theory
Which caused a furtive wink.
He piped his professorial eye,
And softly said,—it seemed a sigh,—
"Are you the missing link?"

THE FACULTY RECEPTION

On Tuesday evening, October the fourth, the incoming students of University College were tendered a reception by the Principal and faculty of the College. This interesting and significant function took place in the East Hall and was attended by almost all the members of the first year and also by the executives of the other years. The guests were received by Principal and Mrs. Hutton, and were then welcomed by the members of the faculty and their wives.

After an hour spent in pleasant social intercourse the guests were addressed by Principal Hutton. In welcoming the new students to old Varsity the speaker assured them of the sympathy, not only of the Faculty of University College, but also of the University as a whole, and defined their position in the University. It was a difficult matter to prescribe the amount of attention that should be bestowed upon each of the several phases of university life, and to advise students in their selection of a course. He laid down as a principle, however, that those who pursue a science course should foster the esthetic elements in that course, and that those who study languages should seek to draw from them scientific facts and principles. The speaker, in the course of his remarks, made touching reference to the deaths of two students of the College, one an undergraduate, the other a recent graduate, both of whom met with fatal accidents during the summer vacation. At the conclusion of Principal Hutton's address, which was received with frequent and hearty applause, the guests adjourned to the ladies' reading room where a dainty supper was served.

Thus was inaugurated in a particularly auspicious manner the round of social events in which the class of '08 will participate in the course of its university career. The reception was a gracious and kindly act on the part of the Faculty and was significant as affording abundant evidence, were any wanting, of the readiness of the professoriate to promote those relations between themselves and the undergraduate body which make for harmony and the growth of a sturdy esprit de corps.

TRINITY'S "LAST CHAPTER"

On Wednesday afternoon, June 29th, Trinity University held its last convocation as a degree conferring body. Representatives of Trinity and Toronto and prominent educationists in connection with both Universities were present at the conferring of the degree of D.C.F. (honoris causa) on Dr. John Hoskin, K.C., and Mr. Byron W. Walker. They witnessed, as Provost Macklem said, "the writing of the last chapter of Trinity." It was indeed very fitting that as Trinity merged into the Provincial University she should pay honor to those who had had a part in bringing about the federation, Dr. Hoskin and Mr. Walker were respectively chairman and member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Toronto. The Vice-Chancellor, Provost Macklem, expressed a certain sadness at the passing of Trinity as an independent university, but greater joy at the federation of the "twin seats of learning," and this was the spirit of all the addresses. Canon Welch traced the gradual growth of the federation movement from 1897 till the present. Dr. Hoskin, in expressing thanks for the honor conferred, testified to the good work done by all his colleagues in bringing the federation movement to a successful issue. Mr. Walker, in his address of acknowledgment, said that in federating they were only keeping abreast of the times.

WANTED 100 MEN FOR GLEE CLUB

Glee club practices have already begun. On Tuesday evening last the first practice of the club was held, and the coming season promises to be a very successful one. Mr. Mun, the business manager, has already begun his fall campaign in preparation for the annual tour, and even at this early date arrangements have been made which assure financial success. As is generally known the club yearly make a tour through the province, and anyone who knows at all of last year's trip knows that the good time enjoyed was a never-to-be-forgotten one.

It is the desire of the executive that as many new men as possible come out to the next practice, notice of which will be posted on the bulletin board. This applies to any man who can sing. The freshmen particularly are to interpret this invitation as being addressed especially to them. Any man who identifies himself with the Glee Club who has had the least experience in singing will find the practices both instructive and worthy of constant attendance. It is the ambition of the club to have the most successful year yet recorded, and if all will turn out the fulfilment of that ambition may be hoped for. Seventy-five or a hundred men are wanted, and the sooner one identifies himself with the club the greater will be the probability of his going on tour. Therefore let everyone turn out.

Varsity is being published this year by the Bryant Press. The printers have shown themselves very obliging by making an extra effort to issue the paper on the day advertised.

OBITUARY

It is with deepest regret we record the sad death of Miss Gurofsky, which occurred on June 23rd, at Wilkesbarre, Penn. While on her way to visit a sister in New York, she fell from the train, death being instantaneous.

Miss Gurofsky had completed her second year in the Political Science Course, and was a young woman of exceptional ability. She was President of the local branch of the Daughters of Zion and taught a Sabbath School class in the Holy Blossom synagogue. She was always an enthusiastic worker in all that concerned the interests of the College and her loss will be keenly felt by her class-mates.

Both to his own class-mates and to his many other friends around the University and elsewhere, the news of the drowning of Mr. Herbert Delamere Hill, a graduate in honor classics of the class of '03, came as a very severe shock. Shortly after graduation Mr. Hill entered the Imperial Bank in Toronto, and at the time of his death was a resident of Sault Ste. Marie, and a member of the staff of the Imperial Bank of that town.

On Wednesday evening, August 24th, in company with Mr. Patterson, teller of the Imperial Bank, Mr. Hill left the Ste. Marie Boat Club for a paddle down the river. Returning the boys tried to take advantage of a still breeze by hoisting a sail, but were struck by a squall and capsized, and although in sight of the clubhouse the rough weather precluded all attempt at rescue, and strong swimmers as both boys were, the coldness of the water soon paralyzed all their efforts at self-preservation.

After a long search Mr. Hill's body was recovered and interred in the English Church Cemetery in St. Thomas in the presence of a very large number of his friends, among whom were not a few of his Varsity companions from several parts of the province.

Mr. Hill was born in Strathroy, the son of Rev. Archdeacon Hill, and received his public and high school training in St. Thomas. Following his father's example he entered University College, registering in classics. Almost from the time he entered college he was one of the most widely known and best liked of the undergraduates. Taking part with his whole heart in every department of undergraduate life, with a high regard for his Alma Mater's ideals and traditions, Mr. Hill derived from his course all that was best in both its academic, social and athletic branches. His geniality and his keen Irish humor made him a favorite everywhere he went and won him a large circle of friends who now feel that in addition to their personal loss, the world has lost a man, a gentleman, and "one of those who loved his fellow-men."

News was received last June of the sad death by drowning of Mr. Stephens of the School of Practical Science. Mr. Stephens, together with three companions, was making for Natasawaga River in a sixteen-foot dinghy Saturday afternoon, June 11th, when they were overtaken by a squall and their boat upset. The bodies were found a few days later by a searching party from Colingwood.

We regret to have to announce the death on Aug. 17th of James Harold Bavidge, a first year School of Science man.

Mr. Bavidge was taking an outing at Bronte, Halton Co., with a party of fourteen from Toronto. On August 17th some of the party were bathing in Lake Ontario, when he dived from a boat and was immediately seized with cramps. The only other member of the party who could swim, a young lady, fainted when she realized Bavidge's danger. Thus Bavidge, though an expert swimmer, was drowned in six feet of water, a short distance from shore, being the second one of the S.P.S. class of '96 who has met death this summer by drowning.

Bavidge was born near London, Eng., March 17th, 1885, and came with his parents to Truro, N.S., in his sixth year.

To Mr. and Mrs. Churchill, to his sister and the other members of his family, the Varsity extends sincere sympathy.

It was with the deepest regret that the news was received of the death of Mr. A. McFadyen at Floral, Pa. The deceased had completed with honors his first two years in medicine at the University of Toronto, and was about to enter on the third year of his course. He had been a pupil at Dufferin School and was a graduate of Harbord Collegiate. He had been ill with heart trouble for about a year, but took an active interest in athletics at the University.

It was with the deepest regret that the news was received of the death of Mr. Roy Luttrell, who on July 8th of this year was drowned while canoeing near Long Branch. Mr. Luttrell entered University College with the class of 1906 in the department of Biology and Physics, but during the past year was registered in Dentistry.

THE TOUCH OF TIME

2 Corinthians, iv. 17.

Why, as my college days recede from view
Enshrouded in the mists of dark forgetfulness,
Do all the petty cares dissolve and pass
The little jealousies, the fears, the strains,
The dread forebodings of a May to come
And over all is spread a light serene—a careless time

Where summer has usurped the winter months
And reigns in gentleness the whole round year
I cannot tell. And yet to this great mystery—
That baffles all the logic of my mind,
But to my soul perplexed a comfort brings,
And adds fresh courage for my work in life,
And steals the halo of those days for these—
Methinks a semblance is in other hours unborn
When toils, anxieties, themselves shall come to grief

In that eternal glory that exceedeth far.

THE COLLEGE GIRL

MISS P. A. MAGEE, Superintending Editor.

In this first issue of our college paper, I feel I should like to speak specially to the girls of the first year, those who are as yet almost strangers in our midst, though we trust they may cease to be so, soon. It does not seem long to any of us, even those who have attained the dignity of seniors, since we were beginning college life, and were looking forward with high hopes to the new experiences before us. And now, though those high hopes have become, many of them, pleasant memories, or have at any rate given place to definite realities, we still recall vividly just the feelings and hopes and ideals that hung as a halo about the beginnings of college life.

Doubtless we have all changed since those early beginnings, changed, we hope, for the better and the wiser, but the change has been so gradual that it requires close introspection as well as retrospection to form any idea of it. The college life is such a gradual development, so like all true growth in being unconscious and spontaneous, that we seem to have yielded ourselves to the influences surrounding us, and have thus, in a sense, been passive rather than active.

This view of the case leaves little room for advice, and far be it from me to wish to give any of this unwelcome article to my younger college mates. Only there is one thought I should like to suggest, because I wish it had come to me in my first year. Very probably this piece of advice was given me, but if so it made no impression, and I had to find it out for myself a year or two later. It is simply that in college life there are many factors that make for all-round development, or that will make for it if the students will use them, and it is in this using of them that we may distinguish the wise from the foolish virgins. We hear in these days so much about cultivating every side of our natures, that we grow tired of the whole matter, and begin to wonder wearily what manner of many-sided creatures we may be, not remembering, seemingly, that the perfect circle itself is composed of innumerable infinitesimally small sides. But behind all the cant we hear about all-round development, lies the vital truth, as Carlyle says, the truth lies behind all cant.

Most of us have a bent in our natures which gives us certain interests and certain ideals, and pitiable indeed would be the one who had no special interests or ideals. This is as it should be; the mistake is in allowing ourselves to think that in our own special branch we shall find all our natures need and crave, and in thus shutting ourselves off from the good that might come from other sources. Emerson has said that the exclusionist excludes himself, and nowhere is this more fully illustrated than in college life.

Aside from the curriculum, which I am old-fashioned enough still to consider one of the chief factors of education, there are many avenues open which offer kinds of work as various as the tastes and capacities of the students. Of course, the inevitable but lamentable tendency is for the book-worm to be a book-worm still, and to look with lofty scorn upon less definitely recognized forms of work, while those who are fond of the active rather than the reflective, will probably plunge into some of the loftier branches of college life, to the utter exclusion of the more serious phases of which they are most in need. For students, like leopards, do not readily change their spots. But a little thought may do much.

In succeeding papers, something may be said of those branches of the college girls' activity which may be helpful suggestions to those who have before them what should be one of the most enriching experiences of their lives.

THE WOMAN'S LIT

At 7.30 on Saturday evening a passerby might have observed a number of fair maidens congregated in front of the University gymnasium holding what to all appearances was an indignation meeting. The cause of all this excitement? Merely a lapse of memory on the part of the janitor, who had forgotten to throw the doors of the gymnasium open wide in welcome to the Women's Literary Society of University College. After discussion of ways and means the students threw themselves upon the mercy of Principal Sheraton of Wycliffe, and he very kindly granted them the use of the class-rooms where this first meeting of the Society took place.

There was the usual business of the opening meeting to transact. Representatives for first year were nominated, viz.: Misses Cockburne Mills and Bradshaw. Miss Mills elected.

Debating representative nominations: Misses Adie, Steele, MacDonald, Gould and McKay. Miss Adie and Miss McKay withdrew. Miss Steele and Miss MacDonald were elected.

Then the following magazines were chosen: Canadian, Booklover's, Harper's, The Globe and Mail and Empire were approved of for this year also.

The dramatic class was next discussed, and it was decided to have a committee appointed with the fourth year representative as convener, to interview Mrs. Scott-Raff. Very favorable comments were made on the work of the dramatic class last year, and we hope even more progress will be made this year.

Miss Alma Gould gave an exceedingly witty reading, "How Gavin Birse Put It to Mag Low-nie," from "A Window in Thrums." Her Scotch dialect carried many of us back to the days when we plucked heather on our native hills.

Mrs. White, who has done such excellent work in her Physical Culture classes, then addressed the Society. It is expected that nearly all the women students will avail themselves of the opportunity to take up this Emerson Course of Training, which is considered the best in vogue.

Impromptu speeches were then given. Miss

Ward, '05, spoke of college life, dealing very ably with both the intellectual and social side.

Miss Steele, '05, gave an amusing talk on Co-Education, telling of her own experiences, which had always been pleasant under such a system. Miss McKay, '06, then gave her views on Freshmen, treating more particularly of Freshettes, owing to lack of acquaintance with Fresh "men."

Miss Ketcheson told of the Relative Importance of Freshettes and Seniors, and her idea of the former's enthusiasm and the latter's theory was a good one.

The meeting then adjourned in order that all might be quiet ere the curfew should ring.

The Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. reception for Medical members will be on Tuesday evening.

The Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. reception will be Monday evening next for Arts members.

The Y. W. C. A. will give a reception to ladies of first year from 2 to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold its first regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The women students have had greater difficulty than ever this year in finding boarding houses.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

A large number of students in all faculties in search of rooms and also looking for handbooks called at the Y. M. C. A. building the last few days. There are still a few books on hand for those who have not received them.

The first-year reception for Arts and Science on Thursday night and for Medicine on Friday night were decidedly successful.

57 The Bible class for seniors and juniors, led by Prof. McCurdy, and the Bible class for sophomores and freshmen met last Sunday morning at 9.30. You are cordially invited to enter one of these classes. The former meets in the Y. M. C. A. Hall and the latter in Wycliffe College.

The first meeting of the Association for the term will be held on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 12th, at 5 o'clock. Principal Hutton will speak and an interesting meeting will be held.

A strong list of speakers has been obtained for the University Sermons this year. Prof. Cody will preach the first sermon on Oct. 23rd. On dates to be announced later we will hear Principal Falconer of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, Mr. J. R. Mott of New York, Bishop McDowell of Chicago, President King of Oberlin, Dr. H. A. Johnston of New York and Bishop Baldwin of Huron. It is believed that the students generally are not aware that this scheme of University Sermons has not in the past been self-supporting. Private donations have been necessary to meet the expenses of the speaker, and the cartage and printing charges. A slight increase in student liberality on the occasion of each University Sermon will obviate the somewhat embarrassing necessity of asking for these private donations.

You are cordially invited to become identified with the Y. M. C. A. and thereby help yourself and others.

THE DINING HALL

The dining hall this year is under new management, and is in charge of M. H. Ruthven. The service is altogether superior to that of last year. Mr. Ruthven was at first without sufficient help, but now that things are running well, a marked improvement is noted. Mr. Ruthven seems to be most obliging, and has expressed himself as anxious to meet the student wishes in every possible way. We believe that the dining hall will this year be a thorough success, and trust that those who, for their stomach's sake—that "poor relation"—were forced last year to seek private board, will give the present management a fair trial. We are confident that if they do, the dining hall will be as crowded as it was some years ago.

We had last Friday's games reported, but our reporter failed to hand in his copy in time for press.

The Varsity Annual Games will be held next Friday, Oct. 14th. This is a University event at which the colleges compete. Every college should turn out in full. The Varsity-McGill games will be one week later.

Mr. E. H. Oliver, '02, who, for the past year, held the Mackenzie fellowship in political science, and who had previously been fellow in history, has been awarded a scholarship at Columbia University, New York.

Mr. C. F. Ward, '04, who was enrolled in Victoria College, and at graduation won two medals there, has been awarded a scholarship in modern languages in the University of Chicago.

SPORTS

W. J. McKAY, Superintending Editor.

Tennis seems to have recovered from the setback it received for a time from golf, and throughout America this year it has been unusually popular. The tennis season just closing has been a very successful one for the University of Toronto Lawn Tennis Club. Throughout the year the courts have been crowded with enthusiastic players.

Varsity, as usual, entered a team in the senior city league, composed of the following tennis clubs: Toronto, Rusholme, St. Matthew, Parkdale and Y. M. C. A. A junior team was entered,

Harry Love. The standing of the various clubs was:

	Won	Lost
Varsity	5	1
Toronto	4	2
Parkdale	3	2
Rusholme	2	3
St. Matthew	1	4
Y. M. C. A.	1	4

The second team was no less successful. Owing to a game given against them on a default Varsity II. tied with Parkdale II. Varsity, however, on the courts of the Rusholme Club defeated Parkdale II. by the overwhelming score of nine events to none.

The members of the faculty and undergraduates to whom these creditable victories are due are: Hooper, M. D., Pearson, D. D. S., Dawson, Ward, B. A., McArthur, McPherson, B. A., and Locke, senior; and Reed, Mills, Goldstein, Struthers, McIntosh and Rowland, junior.

for the first time, in the intermediate league, against Parkdale II., Y.M.C.A. II., Rusholme II., St. Matthew II., and Parkside. Varsity won both leagues. In the senior league, which has been won regularly by the Toronto Tennis Club, Varsity tied for first place with the Toronto Club, owing to a game defaulted by the latter club and a victory achieved over Varsity by one event on the courts of the Toronto Club. The tie was played off on the University courts when the students' team, composed of Pearson, Hooper, Dawson, Ward, McPherson and Locke, won out by the decisive score of seven events to one, thus winning the handsome silver cup presented by

The annual fall tournament is in progress at present. Owing to bad weather and an unusually large entry list it will not be concluded, however, until the end of the week.

The officers of the Tennis Club are: Patrons, President Loudon, Principal Galbraith, J. W. Flavelle, Rev. E. Harris, Professor Edgar; 1st Hon. Pres., Dr. C. E. Pearson; 2nd Hon. Pres., Dr. A. J. RUGBY

FOOTBALL NOTES

Lang, McPherson, Baldwin and Biggs of back division are back. Baldwin has a broken rib and of course was not in Saturday's game, but expects to be on the field for the game with Queen's three weeks hence.

Beattie may not be back in time for any games this season. McKay, captain of last year's Varsity II., and Kennedy, of last year's Ridley team, are taking places of Beattie and Baldwin.

Only one of last year's scrimmage—Burwell—has returned. Burwell has been rusticated for the summer with a view to improving his shattered health—weight 210 pounds. Johnson is expected back. Christie and Ritchie (second year S.P.S.), two new men, are taking places of Burnham and Cochrane.

Alex. Davidson, Pete Jermyn, Ken Ross, Jack Lash, Babe Reynolds, Art Nichols and Burns (Ridley men) will likely make up forward line.

Hamilton, a first year Med.; Durnin, a second year Med., and many others are competing for places. There are plenty of junior and intermediate men from which to draw.

Prospects of the game are good. Scrimmage is fairly heavy; inside wing is strong; back division is light. On the whole the men are in the pink of condition and when Baldwin is again in shape we anticipate success.

THE MATCHES

The Intercollegiate Union senior and intermediate series was opened in Toronto on Saturday afternoon. McGill defeated the Varsity seniors by the close score of 9 to 8, and the intermediates lost to Trinity by 7 to 3. Varsity III. also lost the first game in the O.R.F.U. series. The only explanation of the triple defeat is lack of practice. Most of the men had only returned a few days before the games and the teams have not yet rounded into form. Captain Baldwin's injuries deprived the seniors of his services, but it is hoped that he will be able to get into the next game. With "Casey" in the game and a little more practice the prospects of the blue and white again landing the championship are exceedingly bright.

The game on the Athletic Field was played in a steady drizzle, which made the footing very uncertain, and many costly tumbles resulted. McGill had the better of the play in the first half and scored 7 points on an unconverted try by Sharpe and two rouges; while Varsity scored a point on a kick across the dead ball line by Kennedy. In the second period Varsity had all the better of the play and held the ball in McGill territory the greater part of the time. The blue and white scored one on a rouge and six on a try by Jermyn, which Kennedy converted. Then with the score one point against them the Easterners played desperately, and forced the ball to the Varsity line, and across a moment later for a safety touch. Varsity tried hard to tie the score, but though they kept the ball in McGill's quarter for the balance of the game, were unable to carry it over.

For Varsity, Jermyn, Burns and Davidson played well on the line, while Malcolm and Sharpe were the pick of the McGill forwards.

The referee proved most unsatisfactory for the College Man

Every college man should see Semi-ready hand tailored suits.

They carry distinctive style and fit one's personality to perfection.

Each suit tailored on a thoroughly well moulded base of canvas and hair-cloth.

The coats fit the shoulders beautifully, smooth and shell-like; no more sloping shoulders; the collars cling close to the neck and do not sag at the back.

Varsity team, and the umpire showed an utter ignorance of the rules of the game. The teams lined up as follows:

Varsity I.: Back, Lang; halves, McPherson (captain), Kennedy, McKay; quarter, G. Biggs; scrimmage, Johnston, Christie, Burwell; wings, Reynolds, Burns, Davidson, Jermyn, Ross and Ritchie.

McGill: Back, Hamilton (captain); halves, Zimmerman, Richards and McPherson; quarter, McCallum; scrimmage, McPhee, Benedict, Beckwith; wings, Martin, Malcolm, Hammond, Lea, Stephens, Sharpe.

Referee: Dr. Etherington, Queen's; umpire, Dr. Robertson, Queen's; timekeepers, Gordon Fleck, Varsity, and Sutherland, McGill.

TRINITY I. 7, VARSITY II. 3.

Trinity won from Varsity II. Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 3. This is the first time in five years that Trinity has defeated Varsity. Trinity's points were all made in the first half, a try, which was converted, and a touch-in-goal. Varsity scored three rouges in the second half. Trinity's scrimmage was the stronger, while Varsity's wings were slightly faster. The game was comparatively clean, but few men being ruled off.

The teams lined up as follows:

Varsity II.: Back, Laidlaw; halves, Fraser, Southam and A. Jones; quarter, Stirrett; scrimmage, Lyle, Kerr and Jones; wings, Patton, Power, Racey, Snively, Boeckh, Fletcher (captain).

Trinity: Back, Johnston; halves, Smith, J. Mitchell, Inglis; quarter, Lawson; scrimmage, DeFallot, Hewetson, Erricula; wings, Wilkinson, Kirk, Arnott, Keefer, Jamieson, Smith. J. A. McArthur, referee.

VARSIY III. O, Y.M.C.A. 21

The Varsity III. Rugby team met the Y.M.C.A. juniors in a junior O.R.F.U. game on the Victoria College grounds on Saturday. Manager London's team was untrained and was no match for the strong Y.M.C.A. team. The teams:

Varsity III.: Back, Ellis; halves, Morton, Jackson, Hart; quarter, Robertson; centre, Jones; wings, Ryckman, Miller, Crookshank, Corrie, Wickett, Hewson.

Y. M. C. A.: Back, Tyner; halves, McKay, Sharpe, McWilliams; quarter, Hewitt; centre, Stevenson; wings, Mack, Harvey, Cadman, May, Tomlin, Patterson.

Referee, R. Biggs; umpire, H. Jamieson.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY AND PROCESSION

The annual field day of the Track Club takes place next Friday, the 14th, at 2.30 p. m. All entries must be in the hands of the secretary, Mr. D. E. Robertson, before Wednesday at 12 o'clock, noon. The procession, always one of the greatest events in Varsity athletic circles, will this year be greater than has been. Some of the colleges have decided to engage drays and tally-hos for the occasion, and a new sight among the various banners will be the "rouge et noir" of Trinity. Pharmacy, which marched at the head of the procession with the Body Guards' Band last year, promise to excel themselves this year. Even University College, which generally has a larger contingent in the Grand Stand than the bleachers, intend to join the parade in full force and cheer their men on to a second victory in the Faculty Championship. The marshal and the route of the procession will be announced later.

CLASS OF 1904

It is always interesting to trace the gradual dispersion of what was once a circle of friends bound closely together by limitations of place, work and inclination. This is particularly so in the case of a graduating year, where the bonds of friendship are so strong and the severance seems to come so suddenly. The year of '04 is out of sight. Let this page demonstrate that it is far from being out of mind.

The following have declared their intention of following the legal profession by registering at Osgoode Hall: G. W. M. Ballard, I. S. Fairty, A. Foulds, S. P. Grosch, T. B. McQuesten, P. J. Montague, A. G. Ross, A. D. Wilson, W. C. Greig, H. C. Moore, A. B. McAllister and J. J. Creelman. E. C. Dickson and T. D. Park are at the Toronto Medical School. Miss W. L. Menten is at the Women's Medical College.

G. T. Clark and J. B. McFarlane have entered the S. P. S. So has W. P. Near, '03.

'04 is well represented at Knox by W. H. Andrews, D. Dix, J. M. Moore, J. B. Paulin, P. Taylor and S. H. Pickup. B. Graham, '03, and R. B. Cochrane, '02, will return soon.

Sad to think that men like M. J. McGarvin and J. G. Workman should have gone to Hamilton. They have registered at the Normal College. So too have the following women: Misses McKinley, Morrish, Hindson, Anderson, Dickson, Gibson, Crampton, Cooke and Wilkie, all of '04, and Miss May, '02. J. G. Workman has been chosen President of the Literary Society.

L. Gilchrist has been appointed assistant in chemistry at Toronto University. I. C. Coleman is a fellow in biology, W. C. Jacques is lecture assistant in chemistry, W. A. Tackaberry is a fellow in classics, S. Dushman is an assistant in chemistry. W. H. Collins is demonstrating in mineralogy, H. F. Dawes is a fellow in physics.

S. J. Lloyd is lecture assistant in chemistry at McGill.

The teaching profession has appropriated the services of many of last year's graduates. G. P. Bryce and W. H. Vance are teaching at St. Catharines, J. W. Emery at Brockville, A.

P. Gundry at Brantford, Miss C. F. McLachlan at the McCaul School, Toronto; W. Scott at Calgary, J. Smith at Calgary, J. H. White at Georgetown, S. E. Moore at Pickering.

R. Baird is with the McLean Publishing Co., of Montreal.

I. A. Eedy is with the McLean Publishing Co., of Toronto.

R. S. Fleming, now a married man, is chemist and manager for the Lactomen Manufacturing Co., Tilsburg.

A. B. Hoss is in the C.P.R. offices in Winnipeg.

D. C. MacGregor and W. A. MacTaggart are attending Glasgow University, Scotland.

G. W. McKee is in the Detroit Gas Works. The irony of fate!

As for J. A. Sharrard, we can't hope to meet him often. He's teaching mathematics at the Presbyterian Ladies' College.

W. J. K. Vanston has a very promising position on the staff of the Wall Street Journal, New York. In the same office are "J. Cob." Murray, an early graduate; C. R. Keys, '94, and Freddie Clappison.

Alex. Ross is now a first year medical student at Toronto.

Registration in Arts this year is as follows:—First year 188, second year 158, third year 122, fourth year 109. The number of students in the first year is fourteen more than that of last year.

(Rotunda) University College. Prof. Hume at Y.M.C.A. reception to '08.

"Again, there are those who, like myself, are given to brooding alone over their miseries."

Barclay (sadly)—"I wonder if he ever had a star in ethies. Serves him right."

C. A. Lazenby has been fire ranging up north. We hope before long to have an interesting account of his work from Mr. Lazenby.

E. C. Coie, '05, was at Stony Lake this summer.

C. L. Bilkey, '05, was engaged in missionary work in Manitoba.

Jack DeLury, '05, was one of a survey party operating near Winnipeg.

C. G. Heyd, '05, was in the offices of the Brantford St. Ry. Co.

A. G. Huntzman, '05, was with Dr. Bensley at the station of the Paleontological Society at Go Home Bay.

W. E. Jackson, '05, was engaged at the Toronto University this summer. We thought that some inexperienced hand had had charge of the weather.

W. P. Lane, '05, and John Blue, '05, were engaged in mission work in Manitoulin Island.

OT R. C. Reade, '05, was in Muskoka.

Walter Barclay and Harry Thomson dined at Hotel Normandy, Detroit, this summer. W. W. Hutton opines that the waiter earned his tip.

The news is ringing through Canada that W. E. B. Moore listened to the band at Grimsby.

It is rumored that Wallace McKay passed through London this summer.

We understand that Aleck Manson spent the summer as Acting Chief Push of the Pooh-bah Trans Siberian Railroad, U.S.A.

L. Buchanan, '06, went exploring in the far West. He discovered a province called British Columbia. We are waiting for his book of travels, which will be entitled "Me and the Choc laws."

A. T. Davidson was in Algonquin Park, bushranging, we believe.

R. B. Francis was playing lacrosse with Chatham this summer.

J. J. Gray made a tour including New York, Chicago and Duluth.

R. E. Davidson has dropped out of '06 to become a first year Med.

K. C. Mackenzie will remain in England this year.

P. I. Bryce was at the Ontario Agricultural College this summer.

L. L. Cairns, '07, who lost his year through being disabled in the gymnasium last spring, has registered at the Medical College.

Our old friend, C. E. Clarke, '03, sang at the Saturday evening "Pop" at the Y.M.C.A. on the 5th inst. We have by no means lost Charlie yet. It was a sight to see him on the top of a step ladder shooting freshmen with a camera on the day of the hustle.

SCHOOL OF SCIENCE

Mr. Betts, who is to take the editorship of Varsity for the spring term, is snow-bound in the Klondyke.

Messrs. Wade, Manson and Riddell, '04, and McFarlane, '03, are the new fellows at the School.

A record crowd is in attendance in the first year.

At the annual games of the C.A.A. U. held last week "Bill" Worthington won the individual championship. We would like to inform some of the civils of the senior years that the Toronto barbers are not on strike.

The smiling face of "Bob" Bryce is this year missed around the School. He is digging for gold near Magdalena, Mexico.

On Wednesday noon the second year made an attempt at hustling the freshmen. The hose and fire pails were brought into play, but after a few wet clothes proceedings were postponed till a later date.

Every member with the exception of the goaltender, "Jack" Heron, of last year's senior association team, is back at the School. A great number of new men have turned out. Everything indicates that the Ontario championship will remain with us for at least another year.

KNOX COLLEGE

We regret that in some unaccountable way the Knox College news, which was handed in to the rotunda editor, has disappeared. Of course the printer's devil is paid to take such blame. The little devil says he is very sorry. Apologies to Knox.

MEDICAL FACULTY

The term has begun—to judge by the usual signs. The professors have met their classes with the same old "tale" and some very good stories and well-told jokes. Prof. Wright's idyll on the Garden of Eden and Prof. Cameron's excerpts from the classics, ancient and modern, were particularly diverting. Some of the boys are still hunting in their medical dictionaries for capax, perspicax, efficax and sagax. Dr. F. N. G. Starr tells a good story of the man with Bright's disease who resorted to patent medicines, and having written his testimonials of a "perfect cure," cheerfully turned on to the other side and breathed his last.

The Medical Society has made a good move. They have lost no time in accomplishing what we sincerely hope will do something in the way of ensuring an improvement in athletics among the Meds. An Athletic Directorate has been formed, whose duty it will be to foster a general interest in sports among us, and to look after the interests of such teams as we may put into the field. Something of this kind has long been wanted, and we hope that the result will be to do away with many of the difficulties attendant upon the formation of teams and the securing of satisfactory grounds and hours for practice.

expense, or we will know the reason why.

Two of the offices have been filled by acclamation,—Mr. J. Rogers, of the fourth year, being made President, and Mr. W. H. Reid, of the third year, first Vice-President.

Many of the third year men are getting their first experience at the General of operations, pretty nurses and wet paint, especially the last, with which they were much impressed.

Ruby says his next clinic is to be on the subject of fractions, simple and compound.

From the fourth year Brodrecht and Orok, and from the third year McLean and Stipe, were elected to be the guests of the Graduating Nurses of the General Hospital, and show them what nice fellows Meds. really are. McLean was much concerned to know

How late they'd let him stay,
And as for Stipe, the wonder is,
He ever came away.

A number of the fellows have been very late in returning to college this year. Among them is Ellis, of '06, who has been engaged on secret service (!) up the country and will shortly be among us again, as he is following up the track of a man who wears a baggage-check for a watch-fob and is believed to be prowling around the University at present. The latter is thought to be a dangerous character, and lately returned from St. Louis, where he was "doing" the fair.

Prof. Powell to Third Year.—"Just pass this around and examine it, but don't put it in your pocket. I once advised a large class never to lose a chance of laying hands on any rubber bandages they could get hold of. They took me at my word and that day I missed a whole bagful of them."

The opening lecture before the faculty and students in medicine was given in the gymnasium building on the evening of October 3 by Professor J. Algernon Temple. He made a plea for the elevation of public opinion in the matter of higher education.

Dr. McPhedran announced that as a mark of approval of the single-mindedness of Dean Reeve, the faculty had decided to continue the Dean Reeve scholarship for research; that they were enabled to do this because of the generosity of Mr. P. C. Larkin. The Dean, who in the absence of President Loudon was in the chair, replied briefly and with feeling.

The reception given to the freshmen in their meeting on Wednesday evening for the election of the officers of the year was extremely enthusiastic and demonstrative. The men who were nominated will never forget the greeting they received. The second year was there in a body and occupied the dress circle.

EMPLOYMENT FOR SPARE TIME.....

There are many energetic young men in the University of Toronto who would like work during their spare hours by which they could help pay for their courses.

There is no business in the world to-day which offers the young man greater opportunities than life insurance.

It is almost the only business in which a young man can make an immediate success without cash capital, or some special "pull" to start on. The only capital required in the insurance field is energy and perseverance.

There is no limit to the opportunities for success and advancement.

Hundreds of University men are joining in the work.

Would you like to try it this winter?

The trial should bring you in at least a good income and may bring you permanent and profitable employment.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTOFACULTY OF MEDICINE

THE regular course of instruction consists of Four Sessions, of eight months each, commencing October 3rd. There is a distinct and separate course for each of the four years.

The degrees conferred by the University of Toronto in Medicine are Bachelor of Medicine (M.B.), and Doctor of Medicine (M.D.). Students may take a combined course in Arts and Medicine if they wish to do so. Arts students who are taking the Honor course in Natural Science are able to fulfil the requirements of the primary work in medicine during their final years in Arts, and thus it is possible to obtain the degrees of B.A. and M.B. upon six years' University training.

Attention is directed to the efficient equipment of the University laboratories for instruction in the practical subjects of the Medical curriculum. The new building of the Medical Faculty has been completed at a cost of $175,000.00 in the Queen's Park, and affords extensive laboratory accommodation for Pathology and Physiology which is unsurpassed. The lectures in the final subjects are also delivered in the new lecture theatres. Instruction in the other subjects of the medical course are taught in the various science laboratories and lecture rooms of the University.

There are special research scholarships offered to graduates in Medicine, and every opportunity is now offered for scientific research work in any of the various laboratories of the University under the direct supervision of the Professor in charge.

The Faculty provide three medals for the graduating class (one gold and two silver). There are also scholarships available for undergraduates in the First and Second years; these are awarded to the candidates on the results of the annual examinations.

Further information regarding scholarships, medals, etc., may be obtained from the Calendar, or on application to the Secretary.

The Royal Military College

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Kingston. At the same time its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving the highest technical instructions in all branches of military science to cadets and officers of Canadian Militia. In fact it is intended to take the place in Canada of the English Woolwich and Sandhurst and the American West Point.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, lent for the purpose, and in addition there is a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such a large proportion of the College course.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive in addition to their military studies a thoroughly practical, scientific and sound training in all subjects that are essential to a high and general modern education.

The course in mathematics is very complete and a thorough grounding is given in the subjects of Civil Engineering,
Civil and Hydrographic Surveying,
Physics, Chemistry, French and English.
The object of the College course is thus to give the cadets a training which shall thoroughly equip them for either a military or civil career.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the system. As a result of it young men acquire habits of obedience and self-control and consequently of self-reliance and command, as well as experience in controlling and handling their fellows.

In addition the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures good health and fine physical condition.

An experienced medical officer is in attendance at the College daily.

Seven commissions in the Imperial regular army are annually awarded as prizes to the cadets.

The length of course is three years, in three terms of 9 1-2 months' residence each.

The total cost of the three years' course, including board, uniforms, instructional material, and all extras, is from $750 to $800.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the College will take place at the headquarters of the several military districts in which candidates reside, in May of each year.

For full particulars of this examination or for any other information application should be made as soon as possible, to the Adjutant General of Militia, Ottawa, Ont.
