YESTERDAY'S ENTRANCE AT THE EXHIBITION WAS 154,000--266,500 IN TWO DAYS

ONE WOMAN INSTANTLY KILLED AND ANOTHER BADLY INJURED WHEN THEIR HORSE RAN AWAY

Mrs. W. Wilson of Sunnybrook Farm, Died Soon After Accident on Yonge Street, Mrs. S. Marshall May Die and Mrs. Wilson's Daughter Escaped by Jumping.

When the horse which she was driving became frightened and dashed over the embankment near Eglinton late yesterday afternoon, Mrs. W. Wilson, aged 35, was instantly killed, and Mrs. Susanna Marshall, aged 25, so seriously injured that her recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Wilson, who is the wife of a trainer, William Wilson of Kilgour's Farm, North Yonge street, had been in the habit of driving to Toronto with a young horse kept on the farm for that purpose.

The horse ran to the brow of the hill and the driver neglected to check it soon enough. The outfit started down the hill and when the horse was pulled up the buggy struck his haunches.

Becoming terrified the animal dashed down the grade. Mrs. Wilson pulled on the reins to stop it, but the horse ran faster. When quite near the bridge Mrs. Wilson succeeded in swerving the animal, by pulling on one line.

Mrs. Wilson's little daughter became hysterical and jumped down one side of the hill. There she lay unconscious. The crazed horse continued and crashed into the wooden railing protecting the embankment at one end of the bridge.

A motor car which was passing stopped and the occupants rendered first aid. Mrs. Wilson, however, died soon after being picked up.

Rushed to Hospital.

Dr. Victor McCormick of Yonge Street attended Mrs. Marshall and had her rushed to the General Hospital in Harry Ellis' private motor ambulance.

Mrs. Marshall was found to have sustained a broken collar-bone and a broken hip. It was also feared that she had received internal injuries.

The place where the accident happened is known to the residents as Maher's Hill, and is at the rear of the Sunnybrook Farm.

Mrs. Wilson was very well known in Toronto and vicinity. Her husband had been prominently identified with racing horses for years past, and his brother had also charge of horses at the Cox Stable, Oakville. There are two children in the family, the little girl who was in the buggy and a boy, now riding horses at the race-tracks.

EXCLUDE PUBLIC FROM THAW HEARING

Judge Hutchinson, Fearing Noisy Demonstration, Expresses Intention to Admit Council Only—Wagers That Writ Will Not Be Sustained—Jerome's Life Threatened.

SHERBROOKE Que., Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—Unless Superior Judge Matthew Hutchinson changes his mind overnight, the habeas corpus proceedings tomorrow in the case of Harry K. Thaw will be held in private.

Not even Wm. Travers Jerome, chief of the New York state interests, seeking Thaw's return to Mattawan, will be allowed in chambers. Judge Hutchinson announced his decision tonight.

He had weighed the matter carefully all day, noting meanwhile the overwhelming crowd pouring into Sherbrooke for the fair. On the lips of nearly everyone was a sympathetic word for Thaw. Taking cognizance of this, and of the outbreak of last Wednesday, when Thaw was cheered in court as a hero, the judge decided that the wisest course would be to exclude spectators. Reporters also are to be barred, according to tonight's arrangements, and while the Thaw lawyers may be present in a body if they so desire, only two representing New York are to take part in the proceedings.

They are Samuel Jacobs of Montreal, chief Canadian counsel for the state, and Hector Verret, appearing for the Mattawan Asylum, from which Thaw escaped in a motor car two weeks ago yesterday.

There is to be driven from the jail to the courthouse in a closed carriage in charge Gov. La Force.

Three Cases Open.

The proceedings in chambers will be brief. There are three cases open to the judge. He can adjourn the hearing until a later date and ask both sides to submit briefs; he can sustain the writ, which will instantly make Thaw a free man and place him within the grasp of the immigration officers, or he can deny the writ and remand the prisoner back to jail to await disposition of his case by the king's bench in October.

Mr. Jerome expressed no surprise at the decision of Judge Hutchinson. "I doubt whether I should have gone to court anyway," was his comment.

Police arrangements which were got under way today to meet a possible pro-Thaw demonstration in the courtroom or on the streets were held in abeyance tonight, altho it was understood that both the Dominion and the Canadian press would be present.

Five Hundred Hurt at Dublin

DUBLIN, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—One man, named Nolan, died today as the result of injuries received in Saturday's strike riots. Another, who was erroneously reported dead, is in a critical condition. The Transport Workers' Union will give Nolan a public funeral which in the present revolutionary mood of the populace, it is feared will be the occasion of further trouble.

DOCTOR FOUND PATIENT DEAD

Leonard Barker Had Passed Away While Alone in His Room.

Calling to see his patient, Leonard Barker, aged 55, at 1124 Yonge street, yesterday afternoon, a physician could get no response to his knock. Accordingly he summoned a policeman, and the two crawled thru a window. They found Barker dead in a bed.

Barker kept a confectionery store at the Yonge street address and roomed above it. For some time he had been ailing, and his doctor had been in constant attendance. Barker's malady was of such a nature that the physician knew he might be seized with a fatal attack at any time. Therefore, when he failed to arouse the old man yesterday he became alarmed and summoned aid. The body was removed to the morgue.

ARGENTINE SHOTS CARRY OFF TROPHY

CAMP PERRY, O., Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—The Argentine Republic team today won the first trophy of the international tournament, the Argentine-American naval trophy, with a total of 1812 points, while the United States navy had a total of 1490. The match was held on the 300-metre range, the 600-yard and the 1000-yard ranges.

The wind today battered many of the foreign shooters, especially the Swiss, who are used to the cool mountain breezes.

The members of the French team have been trying their luck at the targets on the various ranges today, and are pleased with the cards which they have turned in.

The Swiss shooters have their special make of rifles, which they use while on the ranges today. These guns are made especially for the 300-metre work, and the others for the miniature targets. The Swiss team will take part in all of the international events.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY A MOTOR CAR

Harry Pierce, aged 30, 185 Bloor street, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon at the corner of Spadina avenue and College street, when he collided with a motor car. Pierce was riding his motorcycle west on College, and when near Spadina, a motor car turned onto College street and struck him.

Pierce was picked up in an unconscious condition, and conveyed in Harry Ellis' private motor ambulance to Grace Hospital.

CONFER DEGREES ON EMINENT VISITORS

Ten Highly Distinguished Representatives of the Legal Profession, Including Lord Haldane and Chief Justice White, Honored by McGill University—Lord Strathcona Present.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—Never has there been such a distinguished gathering at any convocation of McGill University as that which assembled this afternoon in the Royal Victoria College to witness the conferring of the degree of doctor of laws upon ten of the most brilliant representatives of the legal profession on both sides of the Atlantic. The convocation hall was crowded to the doors.

Those on the platform included a lord chancellor, a lord high commissioner, the chief justice of the United States, a former president of the United States, the prime minister and the minister of justice of Canada, a founder of educational institutions and the chief justice of the Province of Quebec.

As the registrar and principal of the university entered the gathering arose and when it was perceived that both Sir William Macdonald and Lord Strathcona, the chancellor of the university, were present, there was a burst of applause that did not diminish as one another of the visitors of international reputation appeared on the platform.

Notables Introduced.

Sir Charles Peers Davidson introduced Lord Haldane, while the Hon. C. J. Doherty introduced Chief Justice White, Eugene LaFlair, K.C., who was to have introduced Maitre Labori, then rose, and after mentioning the unavoidable absence of the distinguished French jurist, asked that the degree be granted in absentia, which accordingly was done.

This was also the case with Senator Ellis Root, after Judge Archibald had spoken briefly. When Premier Borden rose to be presented he was greeted with cheers, and Judge Davidson had difficulty in delivering his introductory speech, in which he spoke of the honor conferred as a tribute to the distinguished ability, unweary industry and strength of character by which the prime minister had won his way to the highest position in Canada.

R. C. Smith, introduced Hon. Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to the court of St. James. Judge Parker, a former candidate for the presidency of the United States, was introduced by Alme Geffron, K.C., and the Hon. C. J. Doherty by P. B. Mignault, K.C. The last to receive the degree was Frank B. Kellogg, president of the American Bar Association, who was introduced by Chief Justice Davidson.

The visitors then addressed a few brief words to the gathering.

Lord Haldane expressed his astonishment of the honor and was proud to become a graduate of the Canadian university. Chief Justice White spoke gratefully of the privilege of being associated with his distinguished colleague from Great Britain, an association that he took as indicating the belief that there exists a real union between the people of the two countries to the extent that when a man has rendered a service to one of these nations he has also rendered it to the other. Premier Borden hoped that the graduates of McGill would hold aloft that torch of idealism so necessary in a country like Canada, and that it would be held where all men could see it in spite of the roar of the railway and the din of the market place.

NATIONS SHOULD OBSERVE LAWS AFTER MANNER OF INDIVIDUALS KEYNOTE OF HALDANE'S ADDRESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—Chairman Flood of the house foreign affairs committee today submitted to Secretary Bryan letters from a large sugar company in Vera Cruz asking to whom its property should be entrusted if President Wilson's advice to all Americans to get out of Mexico were to be followed. The letter stated that the company's plant cost $1,500,000, that it had a growing crop valued at $100,000, and that if those in charge left Mexico valuable property would be at the mercy of bandits.

RIOTS STIR UP PARTY POLITICS

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—Both the Unionist and Liberal parties in England are trying to make political capital out of the riots in Dublin, in regard to which the latest reports say that 320 civilians and 45 policemen have been treated at the hospitals, and that one of the civilians has succumbed.

It is argued on both sides that Irish passions have been stirred by the home rule campaign, and that this has been responsible for the lawlessness in Dublin, and also for the recent disturbances in Londonderry.

The Unionist newspapers warn the government that the home rule bill for Ireland has aroused antipathy and lawlessness throughout that country, while the Liberal newspapers blame the revolutionary preparations in Ulster, made by Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Irish Unionist party.

Hardie Off to Dublin.

James Keir Hardie, the Socialist and Independent Labor member of parliament, starts today for Dublin to participate in the strike movement of the transport workers.

Frederick Handel Booth, Liberal member of parliament from Pontefract, who witnessed the rioting from the balcony of an hotel, accuses the Dublin police of kicking a man who was lying on the ground.

The correspondent of The Manchester Guardian also accuses the police of brutality, and declares that many of them appeared to be inflamed with liquor.

ASQUITH'S ATTITUDE TO TOILERS DENOUNCED BY LABOR CONGRESS

Lord Lieutenant of Ireland Also Assailed in Resolution Protesting Against Strangling of Free Speech in Dublin—Even Fiercer Onslaught on Carson and His Associates.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—Unusual interest was attached to the forty-sixth annual trades union congress which opened in Milton Hall today, owing to the existing unrest in the labor world. The number of delegates is 652, making a record, and they represent a membership of 2,250,000 workmen of various trades.

The first business of the congress was the unanimous adoption of a resolution denouncing, in virulent terms the British government and the lord lieutenant of Ireland, for prohibiting meetings and strangling free speech in Dublin, and also condemning the brutality of the police.

LABOR DAY IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Labor Day was observed today with union leaders asserting that the day marked the passing of the two million point in the membership of the American Federation of Labor, the largest number of union workers in the history of the country. One feature marked the day, the absence, for the first time in 35 years, of Samuel Gompers, who is in Atlantic City recovering from an illness.

FINANCE CROPS IN USUAL WAY

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—(Special).—While no definite announcement from the head offices of the big banks is obtainable it is generally understood in financial circles that the banks will provide for crop moving emergencies this autumn in the usual way. This means that they will issue emergency circulation under the bank act subject to the tax of not more than five per cent, that may be imposed by the government. Such currency may be issued at any time during the next five months, beginning today, and such issue is anticipated almost immediately.

It was supposed in some quarters that the banks in lieu of the emergency currency might issue notes against deposits of gold in the central gold reserve now being organized, but informed doubt if the banks will at present resort to this plan.

A little gold was brought here from New York last week to meet local conditions, but the pull is rather the other way this fall, and unless the banks considerably increase their store of visible gold in the near future they will be unlikely to issue any circulation which will be in substance mere gold certificates.

ISSUE OF EMERGENCY CIRCULATION BY BANKS WILL BEGIN ALMOST IMMEDIATELY, IT IS EXPECTED.

JOHN CHAMBERS PASSED AWAY AFTER A LINGERING ILLNESS

Former Parks Commissioner and Widely Known Horticulturist, Died Yesterday After a Most Active Career.

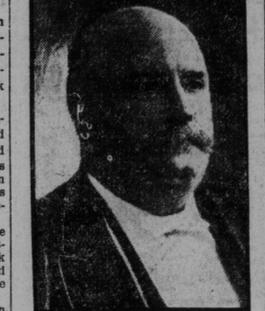

After several months' illness, John Chambers, former park commissioner in Toronto, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his son-in-law, T. Foster Hire, 10 High Park boulevard.

Mrs. Chambers was born in Canterbury, Kent, England, in 1850, and came to Canada in 1871. He entered the services of the city in 1878 as superintendent of the Exhibition grounds, and a few years later was appointed commissioner of parks, occupying that position until 1908.

Under Mr. Chambers' direction the foundation of Toronto's park system was laid. His most notable work in this respect was the Centre Island Park, the Exhibition Park and the laying out of the Queen's Park.

JOHN CHAMBERS

Parks commissioner for the City of Toronto for many years, who died yesterday after a prolonged illness.

master of Alpha Lodge, A. F. and A. M. He also was a member of the Royal Arch Chapter and Cyrene Preceptory. He is survived by a widow, one daughter and two sons, C. E. Chambers, the present park commissioner, and A. G. Chambers of the city works department.

CRUSHED IN CROWD

While returning from the Exhibition last night, Miss Atkins, 294 Gerrard street, was trampled by the crowd at the Dufferin street car loop and fell unconscious to the pavement. First aid was rendered by the Parkdale division of the St. John's Ambulance Corps, and the woman was afterwards attended by Dr. Bennett. Constable Smith (468) secured the emergency motor car and rushed Miss Atkins to her home.

NOTHING LIKE EVER SEEN ON A FAIR AT ANY EXHIBITION

Every Record for Attendance at the Exhibition Was Shattered—Labor Day Men in Thousands Took Possession of the Grounds.

When labor makes holiday the term "diversion" takes on a new and vaster meaning. It signifies not only the shutting of a thousand factories and the silence of innumerable buzzing wheels and mechanisms, but the turning into channels of entertainment and pleasure all that mighty stream of energy which mankind daily pours forth in the earning of bread. There is at times a feverishness, almost a fever in the spirit of the moment. The more laborious the life the more excess in the pleasure.

So it was at the exhibition yesterday. There labor strode rampant for a little day. The place was built like a city whether the crowds wandered up and down from early morning until the late stars were shining. All day like a huge man the exhibition yawned and into its jaws the street cars bobbed in and out incessantly, crammed with humanity. One by one these disgorged their freight to shift and vanish into an immense billow of persons surging back and forth from boundary to boundary.

The weather itself was kinder than usual. The sun, which had been glowering for several days, burst forth in strength and drove the clouds to the horizon. The bay was a great sheet of blue, crossed by speeding motor boats and slower sailing dingies. Perched along the bank was a mass of spectators that never shifted from the first gun until the last. Above the midway, however, hung a perpetual cloud of dust scattering in the sunbeams and wheeling in the nostrils of perspiring walkers. The scuff of feet along this paved highway sounded until midnight, and even the most segregated bootkeepers rubbed his palms in delight at the close of the day.

One of the chief diversions of the populace was the exhibition of the crowd. It grew and grew. The directors knew it was a record-beater before the count was taken. By one o'clock it was noted above the 100,000 had entered and thereafter the stiles turned regularly. No small task confronted the caterers in feeding the host which had not brought their own loaves and fishes. When the ground stand emptied at night and the crowd left the exhibition, the place appeared as if swept with a snowstorm of huge paper flakes. The parks department were the first to toil again after Labor Day.

DOGS YELP, BARK BAY, WHINE, ROAR

The crony artist or the man who writes librettos for musical comedy, rather than to the worker in words, belongs the task of describing the dog show, which opened yesterday morning in the dog building at Exhibition Park. Right and sounds worthy of description are not lacking, but the impression that makes direct, it hits the eye and the ear of the visitor with amazing force, but it does not stimulate the intellect.

Even the eye and the ear have their part in the make-up of the average exhibitor, however, who is not to be passed over. It will not lack publicity for the show is the only one, billboard and press agent, all rolled into one. Since nine o'clock yesterday morning, when the process of bringing in the dogs was fairly under way, the baying and barking floated out from the building.

The small boy reads welcome in the sound. He will not be content with what he has seen the bloodhounds and the police dogs and stroked the friendly little fox terriers chained far back in their stalls so that they cannot jump out in their eagerness to have a part in everything about them.

Judging commenced at one o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the task of deciding the winners in 302 classes was commenced by five judges. There are 215 classes in all, but the English bulldog, embracing 16 classes, are to be judged this morning at the English bulldog exhibit of Fort Salona, Long Island.

The Toronto dog show is a Class B show, and four championship points are allowed to each winner. About 613 dogs are entered, and all morning a procession of owners filed past the English bulldog exhibit, where the dog, long, low, and fat, when seen in the possession of its owner, is essentially a masculine institution, as compared with the cat show, which held the boards last week. Women are to be found grouped about the Pomeranians, poodles and toy dogs, and an occasional girl enthusiast has brought her big mastiff or St. Bernard to the fair, but for the most part it is men who look after the dogs, quieting them with the food which sustains them during the long, lonely wait, when none but objection faces peer in, and sometimes polite aggressive fingers.

Don't Heed Danger. There are signs warning everyone against the practice of handling strange dogs, but temptation to break the rule is great. For a few of the dogs seem to have a special fondness for the attention of the "dog" dogs, especially the warlike expression which they manifest when they are very grateful when any passerby stops to take notice of them, and roll their horrible jaws with delight that is not calculable.

Not so with the toy dogs. Quivering on spindly legs, nervous and excited beyond measure, the tiny spaniels and terriers shrink back when the hand of the cage, never venturing beyond the limits of the silken cushion placed for their ease. As the day goes by, they will become more at home, and their little bodies will waver less. But on the first day of the show, the toy dog exhibit, stairs, is a very picture of loneliness and discomfort.

A peculiar interest attaches to the entries in the class of Doberman Pinschers. These dogs are the breed known popularly

CROWDS IN RING TO SEE JUDGING

Horses and Cattle Attracted Thousands Who Were Interested.

PERCHERON STALLIONS

Never in the history of the Exposition did so many visit the stock stables and crowd around the judging ring as yesterday. From 10 o'clock in the morning the people commenced to pass to and fro thru the arcade, and at 3 p.m. so thick was the crowd that one had difficulty in elbowing the way thru. From every side the conversation seemed to be of the immense attendance. On one side of the judging ring, twelve Percheron stallions, imported from France, were attracting the people, and on the other next the grand stand, short horn cattle, rolling in fat and exhibited by the best breeders in Ontario, were struggling for honors. Both cases so keen was the competition that the judges had a hard time making a decision, and it was said that the honors were being very evenly divided.

Every seat in the grand stand of the judging ring was taken at 1 p.m., and before an hour passed the people had occupied every foot of space around the fence, and in some places were packed three deep. They did not stand for a few minutes and then drift away, but so interested were they in the fat stock on exhibition that they were there to stay. At one time 12 Percheron stallions were lined up, and a well-known horseman made the approximate value of the string at $20,000. Every horse was decorated with ribbons braided thru mane and tail, and when a trainer would trot one of these beautiful animals up and down before the people and the judges the applause was remarkable.

EIGHT THOUSAND SAW THE GAMES

Hec. Phillips of the West End Was in the Money in Several Events.

PRINTERS SECURED CUP Getting Good Lead on Garment Workers for the Fire Brigade's Trophy.

As usual, the annual Labor Day games proved one of the biggest drawing cards on the exhibition grounds, when fully 8000 spectators crowded the course. Hec. Phillips, the speedy west end boy, had a great day, annexing third place in the open hundred, first in the open 220, first in the quarter mile, first in the half. Frankie Hinds was left on the mark when the gun went for the final in the hundred, spolling what undoubtedly would have proved a good tussle between him and McGavin.

The fire brigade's silver cup for the union scoring the most points on the day was carried off by the printers, with 16 points, followed by the garment workers with 10.

The results of the various events were as follows: 100 yards (union men): 1. S. Wells; 2. E. Lee; 3. G. Flint. 100 yards (open), first heat: 1. Hec. Phillips (W.E.Y.M.C.A.); 2. H. McGavin (W.E.Y.M.C.A.); 3. F. Le Roy. Final: 1. H. McGavin; 2. F. Le Roy; 3. H. Phillips.

Le Roy beat the gun in the final by three yards, but McGavin caught him and won handily. Phillips would have taken second with an even start.

75 yards (girls under 15): 1. Agnes Johnston; 2. Anna Fazackerly; 3. Irene Hickey. 100 yards donkey race (union men): 1. Kelly and Lovis; 2. Harding and Lee. 200 yards (open): 1. Hec. Phillips; 2. H. McGavin; 3. Hinds.

It was a beautiful race for first between Phillips and McGavin; the latter faltered just at the tape and Phillips breached a foot in front.

75 yards (boys under 15): 1. H. Potter; 2. C. Connell; 3. C. Burns. 75 yards married ladies (wives of union men): 1. Mrs. Stoneham; 2. Mrs. Crate; 3. Mrs. McCurrie. 220 yards (union men): 1. E. Lee; 2. W. Newell; 3. S. Wells.

Lee had little difficulty in crossing first, although Walter Newell came strong at the end. 100 yards fat men's race (union men): 1. F. C. Chandler; 2. T. Beaton; 3. H. Phillips.

40 yards (open): 1. H. Phillips; 2. F. Hinds; 3. W. Stone. Hec. Phillips had no trouble winning the race, which is at its own distance.

75 yards single ladies: 1. Pearl Johnston; 2. F. Miller; 3. Eva Connell. 120 yards hurdle race (union men): 1. E. Harding; 2. J. Gardner; 3. C. Kelly.

Hardy, as usual, won away off. He ran 75 yards on each hurdle. Half mile (open): 1. H. Phillips; 2. G. McCullough; 3. W. H. Price. All places won easily.

Quarter mile relay race (union men): 1. Burns, Flint and Kelly, printers; 2. Lee, Howland and Godwin, plumbers. Three-legged race (union men): 1. R. Elliott and T. McGillivuddy; 2. E. Lee and E. Harding. One mile walk (union men): 1. W. Russell; 2. F. Parke; 3. Ches. Kelly.

Russell walked away from the whole field. From the crack of the gun he commenced to open up a stretch between himself and the second man until, on finishing, he was 150 yards to the good and had lapped two or three men. The crowd gave him a great cheer for a beautiful performance.

One mile race (open): 1. Ted Phillips (broadview); 2. H. Tresidder, C.Y.M.C.A.; 3. Walter Newell, C.Y.M.C.A. 120 yards hurdle race (open men): 1. E. Harding; 2. E. Bateman. Distance 30 feet 1 inch.

SOME CHASING FOR THE BANQUET SEATS

Benches for the Box Lunch Were in Great Demand.

All the foot races were not scheduled yesterday. All those who brought good, old-fashioned lunches of the shop-box style wanted benches to sit upon and enjoy them. Needless to say, these were in great demand at all times.

Feminine cheer and shouts behind the transportation building set all ears a-ago, and a crowd saw a neck-and-neck spring between two swains with their eyes upon a distant seat. The winner dropped panting into it a moment ahead of the other, and was cheered with most enduring terms afterwards. The disappointed parties spread their board upon a little square of grass.

JERSEY MOTHERS DID THEIR BEST

Bearing in mind, no doubt, the ambition of the directors to make a record attendance at the big fair this year, three proud Jersey mothers in the dairy barns are looking into shape three new-ly-arrived exhibits. They came in the night, and now are wobbling stiff-legged about the little enclosures, pausing between periods of refreshment to gaze with bovine wonder at the unwonted interest in their arrival.

"Here is the baby show," announced a smart attendant to a crowd of ladies who had come down to see where the buttermilk came from. Each of the visitors demanded the privilege of touching the black wet noses to see if the color came off, a practice which was finally forbidden because of the too obvious dislike of the jealous mothers.

SOCKEYE SEASON TO BE EXTENDED

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Sept. 1.—(Can. Press).—The provincial fisheries department of the Canadian Government has announced that the sockeye salmon open season will be extended to Sept. 15, knowing that sockeyes may not be caught in Puget Sound waters after Aug. 31. This information was received today by State Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin from W. J. Rowsick, commissioner of fisheries of British Columbia. The extension, according to Commissioner Rowsick, has been authorized as a result of the failure of the United States to ratify or obtain definite action upon the recommendation made by the fisheries commission, comprising the T. H. Starr Jordan and Dr. E. E. Prince in 1910.

THE BABY SHOW

Babies: Five hundred of them. They were there in all degrees of age, from six months to two years, and in every complexion, from fairest Saxon to the dark-eyed beauties of the sunny south, and all were contesting for a prize. This was yesterday at the baby competition at the Canadian National Exhibition. All former records were broken in beauty, health and manners of babyland, and doctors, nurses and mothers were so excited beyond measure at the brave showing made.

Every mother was a Cornelia duplicated, and no Roman matron ever displayed her jewels more worthily than did the Canadian women who produced their little ones in the contest for premierhips.

The arena of the baby building was the scene of the court of judgment. The contestants were brought into the ring, encouraged by kindly encircling arms, and were it not that the doctors who judged had to tie themselves down to certain rules, everyone would have received a prize, for like the first-born of the Israelites, all without exception seemed to be without blemish or deformity.

Under Six Months.

There were 95 in the first division under six months. Every baby weighed on a scale large enough to admit of lying down comfortably. Mr. Collins presided over the decisions here. Gently and more and more loving of mothers the genius of the scales did his part, and the babies generally submitted themselves quietly and for four or five minutes. Three or four only rebelled, but where there were so many, these did not count. Next, the babies were measured and weighed with his number by means of a pastebord ticket.

Later the contestants were thinned out, if over or below weight or measurement, and only those found correct in all were submitted to further examination.

Those remaining were inspected by the examining doctors as to healthy appearance, good looks, natural or natural-cleanness, absence or presence of physical defects, neatness of attire, proportions as to height, weight, circumference of head and chest.

The scale for the six months baby was: Weight, 14 pounds; height, 25 inches; chest, 16 inches; head circumference, 16 inches.

Many whom the ordinary lay judge would consider very worthy of consideration were rejected. Why? Because they weighed too much.

"It is not weight," said Dr. Allen Baines. "In the case of sickness the over-heavy child stands less well than the one of moderate weight."

As a whole the mothers seemed to have a better understanding of conditions than last year, and their forebears themselves were better mannered.

They Have Manners.

"Have these babies manners?" asked The World of hearing Mr. King make this statement. "Yes," was his reply. "Many of the babies seem to respond and have a certain religious attitude when we want them to do. Only a few are cross. This is temper and heredity."

It would seem as if the baby girls were the favorites. Some of them smiled and coquetted, dimpled up their pretty arms and shoulders, and threw alluring glances at their judges to be with all the artfulness of the older eyes of the human race.

Others, the girls, were the prettiest—correct Dr. Baines, but but then I suppose that's natural."

The same authority thought that some of the babies, or their forebears, hailed from the land of the heather, but there were many besides.

There was the dainty Yiddish maiden, with soft baby curls and gold rings in her tiny ears, the beautiful baby from Ireland, and dozens whose cheeks and golden hair proclaimed them from the land of the Saxon.

Little Jealousy.

The mothers were mostly young and many were pretty. The everyone there felt sure that her own baby was the best, and beyond all others in every charm that grace or nature could bestow, there was little irritation or jealousy evidenced, and an object lesson in forbearance and in submission to appointed authority.

There had been forgotten in making out the schedule, but beauties the Calder babies presented themselves. Seeing no prize in view for the fair Mr. McGe of the T. Eaton Company and Ex-Mrs. Joseph Oliver donated them a special prize of ten dollars. The babies were so evenly proportioned that there was only six ounces difference in their weight and quarters of an inch in their height, other measurements being about the same.

R. J. Score made a very kindly master of ceremonies, and four of the Victorian order nurses assisted the doctors.

Little Reginald Stevens Newton of the third class, took the palm from the crowd, for he won the sweetest prize, a special prize, given to Baby Gwendolyn Hudson of 326 Marguerite street, because in some manner her little babyhood had been overlooked.

Class 2.

1. Madeline Euphras, 13 Taylor street; 2. Doris Hyatt, 1254 West Bloor street; 3. Edna May Paul, 355 Roncesvalles avenue; 4. Adele Cashman, 152 Grace street; 5. Ivey Holt, Davisville, Ont.; 6. Thelma Jackson, 356 West Adelaide street.

Class 3.

1. Reginald Stewart Newton, 487 Melrose avenue, Notre Dame De Grace, Montreal, Que.; 2. William Alfred Sheppard, 29 Herriek street; 3. Alfred Jones, 6 Burlington, East Toronto; 4. Edwin James Bentley, 48 Winva avenue; 5. Harold James Kent, 312 Montrose avenue; 6. George Goulding, 9 Ridley Gardens.

EX-KING'S WEDDING WILL BE NOTABLE

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press.)—The marriage of ex-King Manuel of Portugal and Princess Augusta Victoria of Hohenzollern, daughter of Prince William of Hohenzollern, which is to take place on Thursday next, Sept. 4, is to be performed at Sigmaringen, the home of the bride, for which city the former monarch departed from England yesterday.

Eighty Royal Princes and Princesses have signified their intention of taking part in the ceremony, at which the Prince of Wales will represent King George. The German Emperor, who declared that he would have attended but for the German arm manoeuvres, sent one of his sons, probably Prince Oscar, in his place, while the King of Italy will be represented by the Duke of Genoa, and King Alfonso of Spain by the Infante Don Carlos and the Infanta Louise. Most of these guests will assemble at Sigmaringen on Sept. 2 and 3.

Marriage in Castle Chapel.

The marriage will be celebrated according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church in the castle chapel, Cardinal Netto, late Archbishop Patriarch of Lisbon, is to conduct the religious part of the service, and Count August Eulenberg, earl marshal to the Hohenzollern family, the civil ceremony.

The bride will be given away by her faithful work out into an unceasingly laughable tangle.

The management of the Gayety Theatre can certainly be proud of the production shown at their theatre this week. Not only have the shows staged so far proved all that was expected for them, but have been decidedly above expectation.

The Trocadero Burlesquers are no exception to the rule, and opened a full house yesterday. Frank Finney and Sam Adams, as chief funmakers, show their talent to good advantage, and Marie Morton and Minnie Burke also score in a couple of roles. The Bostonian chorus consists of a large number of especially pretty and attractive girls, who are well costumed. The stage settings are good.

BRILLIANT CAST AT THE STAR.

The efforts being made by the new circuit to give nothing but the best burlesque of the Star Theatre have resulted in the appearance of Dan Coleman and his troupe of Pleasure Burlesquers. The brilliant cast and efficient chorus won a certain success at their performance yesterday. "The Charming Widow" is the title of the farce, and, needless to say, there is a high degree of clever comedy in the skit. The show is far beyond the usual standard and should appeal to all burlesque patrons.

A PRETTY LITTLE KIMONO

THERE is no garment that gives more satisfaction to the tiny girl than a kimono. It gives her a feeling of being grown up and it is wholly comfortable. This little model is an excellent one and is very simple and easy to make. It is cut all in one piece except when narrow material is used in the case, the material can be seamed at the center back. Here the material is flowered crepe, a blue ground with pink flowers, and the bands are made of pink ribbon. The kimono is very dainty and pretty but there are many other materials that are equally well suited to the model. Tub silks, flowered lawns and dimities and all the cotton crepes are excellent for summer use and flannel ribbons like the most satisfactory for cool days. If preferred, the kimono can be made of contrasting material instead of ribbon.

UP TO THE MINUTE DANCING AT SHEA'S

To pick out the best act on the bill at Shea's this week would be a job that could result only in strife and debate. Placed first in the press notices, Cathrine Countiss, who is appearing in vaudeville for the first time as the leading lady in Frances Whitehouse's play, "The Birthday Present," proves that she is quite capable in the interpretation of anything emotional. The playlet is quite "talky," and the roles are well handled by John W. Lott, Anita Allen and Mac Macomber, a seven-year-old boy. Miss Jessie Heather, an English singer and comedienne, was recalled time after time, and kept getting better as the encores passed. Her songs are clever, and unlike the popular sort, there is a point to each one. Other song numbers are given by Robert Buchanan and Miss Gertrude Holmes, who feature "The Girl of the Year" and "The Girl of the Year." Mr. Buchanan has a rich, high baritone voice, and his singing, with Miss Holmes' accompaniment, is another hit in the dancing act of the Gardiner Trio, who go thru love

BEST CHORUS YET SEEN IN TORONTO

McIntyre and Heath Have It in "The Ham Tree."

A FEAST OF COLOR

Audience Was Kept in Roars of Laughter All Evening.

LAUGHS GALORE IN "WHO'S WHO?"

AUTHOR "RANG BELL"

"The Ham Tree," which opened the season at the Royal Alexandra Theatre last night, provided Messrs. McIntyre and Heath with a production which showed them to the fullest advantage. While this pair occupied the stage the whole place was kept in roars of laughter. The scenery was splendid, but without doubt the feature of the whole performance was the exceptionally brilliant chorus. It is quite safe to say that never has a more perfectly trained chorus ever been presented to a Toronto audience. There are 27 in the chorus and they all dance and sing in such perfect style as to make one forget that such men as McIntyre and Heath are waiting to fill the stage. The dresses are a feast of color. Of the remainder of the company, however, but very little is seen, with the exception of Ernest Everhart, which was ably taken by Ted Holmes. He is really the only one who has any part besides the simple male who, however, on this occasion, proved to be rideable. Time after time the rider was thrown, only to hold on to the animal's back. The act of the man getting on the rider's back and being taken off.

Richard Harding Davis has scored another bullseye in his three-act farce, "Who's Who?," which had an uproarious opening at the Princess last night before a capacity audience which he laughed from the start till the curtain unexpectedly fell on the last of several novel developments. The plot is distinctly ingenious and up to date, while it employs some of the older devices of farce, but it gives them all an original turn. The mistaken identity of the hero is complicated threefold, so that he does not know whether he is himself or an impostor pretending to be himself, or himself pretending to be somebody else. Five years before he has gone out as a tenderfoot from Fairhaven, Mass., to Texas, and finally, after his adventure to Arizona, when he got to Texas he bought a horse, a silver-mounted saddle, silver spurs, and silver-handled revolvers with his name on them. A western ruffian relieved him of this property, held up the Wells-Fargo Express, shot two messengers, and chased after himself and, entangled in the horse's stirrups, was dragged along and kicked into unidentified parts of the desert. The ruffian, who was named Lester, was a moving picture salesman and dancer in Las Vegas, Arizona, as Soapy Sam, by Judge Holt (Grant Stewart), who is in search for him, and who is in order to establish the ownership of $500,000, under the elder Ford's will. If Lester does not turn up the money, he will be turned over to the state. Lester, who has been in the money and thinks if he can get a fast start, he will be able to get it. He can get it to share up the money. He does not believe that "Soapy Sam" is the real Lester, and proceeds to coach him in the part which he has induced him unwillingly to take by producing a photograph of Lester, who is the real Lester, and all the love in all the world. But this is the only sentiment in the piece, and when it has served its turn, the farce proceeds in royal style. Lester goes home to Fairhaven, where the complications of those who identify him with the name of Lester, and those who are determined to save him from identification, work out into an unceasingly laughable tangle.

The humor depends upon the acting, and the company in all respects, is excellent. William Collier releases his gags with an easy and assured method which never fails to catch the audience. Lester's confession to being a tenderfoot was inimitable. In five years he never got a hair on his head, and he never got a hair on his head. His "terror of the Wells Fargo" which never forgets, and his account of how he was buried among the bright things in the desert, are excellent. In the second act he gets to Fairhaven. He can identify it readily enough. The committee of identification is in the woods, and Lester is in town still prohibition? Fetches the audience. The populace come to greet him, among them the pastor, who says new pipes for the church from the new heir. "Get the best briar wood," he is recommended. "The church chimney smokes, too. In the last act his friends, in order to have him embarrassed him with bogus wives, and a funny scare occurs when Alton asks him how many there are. "I don't know," he replies. "Count 'em," he replies. In the first act William Frederick as Cliff Cooper, Burlesque (Nicholas Jude) and "stump" (Bert B. Melville), and Grace Griswold as Sarah Cooper, are live features in the picture. Little Willie Collier as Tad was amusingly pretentious, and Leigh Went as Polly Perry filled in the plot in the Fairhaven success. Very amusing were the three local characters, Squiffy Cobb, Dan Quince and Pop Perry, by C. D. Clark, John Adam and Nicholas Burnham. Paula Marr took the part of Alton. The climax at the close of the second act was rattling action and elicited several curtain calls. The continuous laughter through the evening was the best tribute to the merits of the farce as a fun-maker. It is hearty, wholesome fun besides. The two scenes are splendidly set and the "movies" introduced are the cause of much amusement.

7856 Plain and Mousquetaire Sleeves. Small 34 or 36, Medium 38 or 40, Large, 42 or 44 bust.

WITH PLAIN SLEEVES PERFORATED FOR SHORTER LENGTH.

It has been well and truly said that the style of the sleeves frequently marks the date of the gown and, consequently, it is all-important that the sleeves should be up-to-date. Here are three new ones that are good and which can be utilized both for the new gown and for re-making the older one. The mousquetaire sleeve consists of one piece arranged over a plain foundation, and, whereas transparent effect is liked, this foundation is made from net or gauze. The sleeve with the overlapped edges gives a very smart tailored effect and can be trimmed just as illustrated or in any way that may be liked. The plain sleeve is practical for many uses and can be cut to any desired length.

For the medium size, mousquetaire sleeves will require 2 yards of material of 34 or 36 or 44 inches wide to cut out, plus 1 yard 27 will suffice. The plain sleeves will require 1 1/2 yards for 34 or 36 or 44 inches wide.

The pattern of the sleeves 7856 is cut in three sizes, small 34 or 36, medium 38 or 40, large 42 or 44 inches bust. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 35 cents.

"MISS FIX IT" A DAINTY OFFERING

"Little Miss Fix It," described by its authors, William J. Hulbert, Harry B. Smith and George V. Hobart, as a "musical safety" is more like what this term implies than the conventional musical comedy or farce with music. It is original both in plot and treatment, and delighted two large audiences at the Grand Opera House yesterday.

The story deals with Della Wendell, a young married woman, who shortly after the rise of the curtain, has a foolish quarrel with her husband. Each asserts that the other must take the first step toward a reconciliation; so Billy, the husband, leaves his home, and his wife decides that she will seek solace by devoting her life to making others happy. Among her friends, are an attractive young woman and an eccentric Englishman, who are almost engaged, a boy and a girl who are almost married, and a young couple who are almost parted. Della is untrusting to "fix it" for all of them, and proceeds to plan and direct a campaign that begins by encouraging the young couple's untrusting, and finally ends happily. Of course "Little Miss Fix It" gets back her repentant husband and the curtain falls amidst a scene of such general rejoicing as to indicate that "they lived happy ever after."

Lucile Parrish, a dainty and winsome singing comedienne, is seen in the role of "Miss Fix It." She possesses a wealth of personal magnetism, that quality which is the essential of all that is good in the Grand. Her performance is an exceptionally clever company, and the musical numbers are well rendered.

Among the many songs hit are: "Turn OR Your Light Out Moon Man," "My Word," "Staying Out Late," "Come's Untrusting," "There's a Happy Land," "For Months and Months" and "I've a Garden in Sweden."

"Little Miss Fix It" is a novelty in the musical line, and a delightful comedy, and should prove a strong attraction at the Grand for the Fair week. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

Nobody can possibly deny the short and cheerful joyfulness of the poppy, whose life is but a day. Indeed the whole life of the poppy plant is short, since only a little while after flowering, the seeds have been sown, and the plant dies down. So that at the time of the poppy's life, it is other than beautiful, because what could be more lovely than the slowly forming drooping green-bladed bud?

"After the bud, the flower, after the flower, the seed pod. And when, pray, did ever flower produce a more perfect and a daintier beautiful seed pod than this same poppy? A long pale, delicate green fleshy stem, supporting a small round globe, which is crinkled and fluted crown, and the globe grows, and grows rapidly—a tender, easily broken globe, filled with countless snowy-white tiny round seeds, which are the poppy give a more or less attractive appearance to the plant. With its scanty shaped deeply cut leaves. These pods, which are set on the stem until they ripen, but may be pulled off, and the whole globe laid away in a safe spot to be sown. The pod is like a pea, but has become as thin as rice paper, breaking almost with a breath, disclosing the shiny snowy seeds.

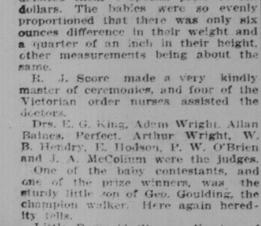

Little Willie Collier as Tad was amusingly pretentious, and Leigh Went as Polly Perry filled in the plot in the Fairhaven success. Very amusing were the three local characters, Squiffy Cobb, Dan Quince and Pop Perry, by C. D. Clark, John Adam and Nicholas Burnham. Paula Marr took the part of Alton. The climax at the close of the second act was rattling action and elicited several curtain calls. The continuous laughter through the evening was the best tribute to the merits of the farce as a fun-maker. It is hearty, wholesome fun besides. The two scenes are splendidly set and the "movies" introduced are the cause of much amusement.

Yesterday was one of the best days that Scarborough Beach Park ever had. By thousands the public poured through the gates, and the evening, and those who spent their holiday, had no need to be disappointed. The Royal Italian concert band played two concerts, and fairly excelled itself, the program being admirably chosen and rendered with great spirit and vigor. Brothers, the comedy acrobats also did their share to amuse the large crowds. They will remain at the park all week.

A seeding branch of nigella is very decorative because each branch bears all its pods at once—that is, you will not find a pod and a flower on the same branch. So that there are blue balloons and big ones, all looking ready to fly away at the least touch. Later on, we will discuss seed pods again. Enough for the present.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

Moth Exterminators

A SPLENDID remedy to rid the house of roaches, lice and ants is the following. It was sent in by a reader of this column and will, we feel sure, be eagerly welcomed by all housekeepers.

"Mix plaster of paris with an equal amount of sugar and place where insects or rodents come. Nearly set a shallow saucer of water. After eating the mixture the pests become thirsty and drink, and at once the plaster of paris hardens and kills them."

To those who request moth exterminators, the following note will be helpful: "Cold storage is most effective for avoiding moth ravages, but where impractical use this mixture. Dried red peppers broken in bits and mixed with powdered clothes, in equal parts, and one-fourth as much crushed gum camphor, as will equal the whole amount. Put this in a wide-mouthed jar and cover with alcohol and spirits of turpentine, half and half. Cover and let stand three days, then dip blotting paper or cotton in the mixture and place it in drawers or among the clothing to be protected."

To this we would add that clothing or furs should not be packed away without first being well sunned and then thoroughly whipped.

Doubtless most readers know that storage people and furriers have whipping machines operated by electricity. These machines have leather belts that beat the garments or rugs fiercely so that no insect or moth egg can remain in it. A rattan beater or a stout stick will do the work at home and the articles should be sealed in paper bags made of newspapers or in cedar boxes.

Furniture stuffed with hair or covered with lush is frequently ruined in a few weeks by moths. This can be protected by having your druggist mix a ten per cent solution of sulphur in carbon sulphide for you. Brush the cloth covering with this and it will penetrate the fibres of the textiles, completely and kill all life. The excellent qualities of sulphur as an exterminator are well known, but few persons know how to dissolve the mineral.

LABOR GROWS WISE.

There is one kind of politician who does not take much stock in the growth of labor influence. He may be fooled one of these days. The tuning up of the whole business world into a state of higher efficiency than was imaginable a century ago has had its effect upon the rank and file of labor as well as among the employers. It is true that here and there among the leaders of capital an individual is to be found that "goes the pace," but such men are becoming rarer. The interests involved are too big to be trifled with and anyone who shows signs of an erratic temperament gets quickly shoved into the background. And it is quiet men without any bullying manners who do the shoving.

It has in fact been discovered that the mere external processes of life are largely mechanical, and that in these relations men are largely machines to be kept in perfect trim, well-oiled and geared, not over-wrought, but regulated so as to get the greatest possible amount of effort out of them with the least degree of friction. The normal man gladly acquiesces in this view, and is willing, under favorable conditions, to run on the high gear while it is in him to do so.

This principle has gradually filtered down into the ranks of labor, partly by compulsion, partly by the glad desire of men to do their best, and the result is the rise of a class of men with whom the old-time politician was unacquainted and for whom the new politician must have a new reckoning. The time is going past when a man will sell his vote for a glass of beer. The time has come when no decent man will sell his vote for money. The time is near when no man will give away his vote for an empty name. The time is not far off when the labor man will discover that his vote is equal to any other man's vote, and it will cast in a new direction for new causes.

The increasing intelligence of the men of labor is greatly due to the demand for efficiency in the world of commerce. The man who drinks liquor is less efficient than the man who abstains. The railways are refusing to employ drinking men. The railways get better service, and the standard of intelligence in the labor ranks is raised. It becomes less easy to buy a vote for a drink. The man who smokes tobacco has poorer eyesight than the man who does without, and the railways bar out the color blind. Another factor is added to increase the intelligence of the workman. The brains of the idle rich, soaked with nicotine from their perpetual cigarettes, become less effective. They are bound to fall, as labor without nicotine is bound to rise. The debauchee, the dope fiend of one type or another, is bound to work toward extinction. The careful, diligent, intelligent workman, keen and clever and stored with vitality, is bound to survive. As with the individual so with the class. The increasing intelligence of the laboring classes, even more marked in some respects in Great Britain than in America, is certain to overturn the old political standards, and render ineffective the old political temptations.

There is still the weakness of treachery to be fought. Men not wholly loyal, "steel true and blade straight," may be tempted by large rewards in money or position to betray the leadership they may have obtained among their fellows. But growing intelligence will remedy this also. Only the fool is a traitor.

The politicians should observe that labor is a growing power in the world, and that, outside all party boundaries and all ancient prejudices, there is arising the tremendous demand of the men who make wealth from the men who hoard wealth for righteousness, which is the somewhat mushy word the translators of the New Testament used to Anglicize the Greek word for justice. That demand must be met. One day it will become insistent. Blessed are the politicians who will meet it in a way.

"HIGHER NATIONALITY."
Lord Haldane's admirable address on "The Higher Nationality" was in every way worthy of his great reputation and the exceptional character of its occasion. He described it as a study in law and ethics, departments of human activity that are not always in accord. Law is, or ought to be, the orderly means of securing justice between man and man—ethics, as the science of right conduct, were it of universal prevalence, would largely dispense with the machinery of law. And because the United Kingdom, the United States and Canada "form a unique group because of their common inheritance of traditions, surroundings and ideals, particularly in the region of jurisprudence," the lord chancellor emphasized the duty of those engaged in the profession of law "to encourage these nations to develop and recognize a reliable character in the obligations that they assume towards each other." In that group, however, he might rightly have included all the British self-governing dominions.

Laws should change as the moral temper and ideals of a people change, but in the history of Great Britain it has proved not infrequently the case that the private and later the public conscience has outstripped the letter of the law. That private and public conscience provides the moral rules which Lord Haldane contrasted with formulated law. As we take it, the great object and purpose of his address was to urge the wakening among the English-speaking communities of a national, and international conscience which will operate within the group as the private and public conscience operates within the individual nation. The lord chancellor recognized that the case of nations with special relationship than within a mere aggregate of nations. That is what lays so much of the responsibility for the progress of world civilization on the English-speaking peoples. If they can begin to regulate their conduct towards each other by habit and custom based on ethical rather than legal considerations, the first great step will be taken towards the establishment of a universal ethical habit that will overstep the world.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S MEXICAN POLICY.

In dealing with Mexico, President Wilson has the great advantage of being entirely unfettered, save by congress. In this respect his position differs entirely from that of Sir Edward Grey, upon whom fell the responsibility of maintaining some substance of union among the powers forming the European concert. Their conflicting interests and affiliations necessarily led to a succession of delays, sharp changes of policy and striking instances of failure to exert pressure where that had been threatened. Sir Edward Grey could not avoid these vacillations and ineptitudes. What stands to his lasting credit is that he managed to impress Europe with confidence in the disinterested policy of the British Government. To him, more than to any other single statesman, is due the fact that a Balkan war, whose outbreak was anticipated to kindle the European conflagration, has burnt itself out within its own restricted area.

President Wilson's course cannot be judged at its present stage and the hasty judgment passed upon it by various newspapers in Britain and the continent is rash and untimely. The issues attending an unwise step which might readily prove irremediable are too grave to be lightly faced and his general attitude has undoubtedly thus far received the stamp of public approval, irrespective of party. Although he deprecates intervention until absolutely forced upon the United States, he has firmly adhered to his decision not to recognize even as provisional president of Mexico a man whose hands, there is only too good reason to believe, are stained with the blood of Madero, the only Mexican who seriously endeavored to give his country constitutional government.

AUSTRALIA'S INTERSTATE COMMISSION.

During the last session of the Australian parliament an act was passed providing for the constitution of an interstate commission, which is stated to possess probably the widest functions of any public body in the British Empire. Since no appeal can be taken from its decisions the commission will, in important respects, be of greater consequence than the supreme court of the commonwealth. For it has been granted power to regulate the production of trade, to investigate the conditions of commerce, to recommend and even fix measures for its encouragement and to enquire into the operation of the tariff and other legislation on the revenues and trade of the country.

Its activities will therefore concern the life and work of the Australian people to an extent that no ordinary court of law can do except partially and indirectly. Within the purview of the commission will come prices, profits, wages, labor, employment and unemployment, bounties, immigration, the diversion of waters for navigation, the rates of common carriers and a variety of other matters. It is satisfactory to find that the new government's nominations have given general satisfaction in Australia. The premier announced that the first duty of the commissioners would be to enquire into the tariff with a view to the adjustment of its incidence. Australia's endeavor to secure that the benefit of protection will be equally divided among the manufacturers, the workers and the public will be watched with interest.

GOOD ADVICE.

Said XYZ from So-and-So: "When on his holidays I go I sport a cold and haughty air which makes the folks all turn and stare as past with eyes afloat I stride; they judge that I'm a man with pride, a man of prestige and of place—as thru the halls I stately pace I hear them murmur as I pass, 'That XYZ must be some class!' I've found I make a great big hit and show all others who is it by never saying 'Howdydo' or 'Piezen-day' or 'G'morning!' to the people whom I have to meet—I think it very indiscreet to use these words, and the schools will very soon be crowded to capacity. Owing to the Exhibition and sundry other reasons, such as lengthened vacations, the maximum number of pupils will not be reached until about Oct. 1, when Mr. Bishop expects that the attendance number will reach the sixty thousand mark. This may easily be exceeded by several hundred, and the present number of sixty temporary rooms will have to be increased."

WESTERN CADETS MAKE TOP SCORES

The west has sent down some strong shooters for the cadet rifle competitions. The first day's stages go to the Calgary public schools, although the margin on the runners up is not large. Out of the day's work four men have shot possibles, which will be settled later.

The ranges were for 100 and 400 yards, the targets for the former closing at three seconds per shot and the latter giving one minute for five shots. The names of the four making possibles are:

The scores are in the following order:

	100	400	Total
Calgary schools	51	21	72
Harbord C. I.	47	23	70
Ottawa C. I.	43	21	64

SCHOOLS REOPEN AT NINE TODAY

Fifty-Five Thousand Children Will Be on Hand at That Hour.

ROOM FOR ALL PUPILS

Several New Buildings Will Be Opened in Different Sections.

Fifty-five thousand children will return to school in Toronto today. Asked about the public school accommodation, inspector of Buildings C. H. Bishop told The World that Toronto has room for sixty thousand children in the twelve hundred rooms which will open for the school children this morning, and that the accommodation problem, which has been such a serious one in years past, is not serious at the present time, although it is thought that the building program as at present formulated will have to be added to meet the increase which will certainly be encountered next year.

Thanks to the increased estimates which the board of education received last year, there is no danger of overcrowding, although it is admitted that all the accommodation will have to be utilized, and the schools will very soon be crowded to capacity. Owing to the Exhibition and sundry other reasons, such as lengthened vacations, the maximum number of pupils will not be reached until about Oct. 1, when Mr. Bishop expects that the attendance number will reach the sixty thousand mark. This may easily be exceeded by several hundred, and the present number of sixty temporary rooms will have to be increased.

Some New Schools.

Several schools were opened for the first time this morning, thus relieving certain districts which threatened to become congested. Many other schools have undergone repairs during the summer months, which will render them much more comfortable than they were before. The buildings department has been doing its work thoroughly for the last two months preparing for the opening today, and the result of their labors is easily apparent. The children are not averse to the benefits which have been made by the servants of the board of education for their comfort for today and for all the other days of this school year, but they will easily notice the improvements made in practically all the schools.

TO TALK FINANCE OF WINTER FAIR

City Council Will Hold a Special Meeting This Afternoon.

Manager Westervelt of the National Exhibition Show, which is to be held in Exhibition Park next November, is meeting many stock-raisers at the Exhibition and interesting them in the November show. He has his headquarters in a tent on the Exhibition grounds.

A private meeting of the city council will be held today for a conference with the executive of the show upon financial matters. The idea is to have the council in touch with the policy and needs of the show, so that the arrangements for the show can go forward at the speed that is now necessary.

GOOD BUSINESS TO PURCHASE NOW

City and Railway Company Both Will Benefit by Deal.

RADIALS WILL COME IN

And Existing Lines Will Be Extended to the Suburbs.

That the construction and operation of the civic car lines influenced Sir William Mackenzie to fix a reasonable price for the Toronto Railway Company and Toronto Electric Light Company properties, together with the rapid transit and electric power and light franchises within the city limits has been made plain thru the work of valuation, now about completed. Valuation of the plant of the street railway system has proved the plant in a serviceable condition, and, as is generally known, the net revenues of the system are about one and a half millions per annum. The street railway system is therefore at present a first-class going concern.

But the Toronto Railway Company property is at its best because its operation is confined to the old limits of the city, and is therefore held strictly within the congested area. Thus are the great revenues produced. These conditions would undoubtedly be altered by the extension of the civic car lines thruout the area beyond the old limits of the city, for the area available for home building convenient to rapid transit facilities would be so greatly enlarged that congestion within the old limits of the city would be considerably relieved. This would take from the Toronto Railway Company the present monopoly of a small and congested territory.

WALKING AREAS.

At present Toronto has two areas in which considerable walking is done by citizens. One area is bounded by Spadina avenue, Sherbourne street and College street. In this area many residents can walk to and from business without too much loss of time or energy. The other area is all the territory beyond the dual rapid transit service. Many of the residents of that area are compelled to lose too much time and energy in getting to and from business. It is in that area that the extension of home building franchises for public utilities within the city limits at $4,000,000 is also a good business proposition, and none the less so to the city. The companies will get entrance to the heart of the city at an expense which will not cripple construction and operation of radial lines, and the city will have assured the development of its interests in its immediate contributory territory. What the Metropolitan has done and is doing for the betterment of Toronto's trade to the north will be done by other radials that will be built into the eastern and western territory beyond the city's limits.

PANAMA CANAL IS NOW OPENED

PANAMA, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press.)—The last remaining barrier at the Pacific end of the Panama Canal was blown up by dynamite yesterday. It was an interesting spectacle. At exactly 3.30 o'clock an electric switch was turned on and a moment later the 1,500 spectators, including many Americans visiting here and the officers of the British cruiser New Zealand, were rewarded by a wonderful sight. Hundreds of tons of mud and stones were thrown high in the air; there they hung suspended and then fell back as the thunderous roar of the explosion re-echoed in the nearby hills.

About twenty long tons, equivalent to 44,800 pounds of 45 per cent dynamite constituted the blast, which was one of the largest ever set off in the canal.

The charge, which was planted in 54 holes at an average depth of thirty feet, tore a big gap in the barrier, but not to a sufficient depth to permit the water to flow thru, as the sea level channel was at low tide.

Equally interesting as the explosion was the actual breaking of the barrier in the afternoon, the tide creeping steadily up until it was level with the top of the gap. A workman seized a shovel and made a small trench thru which a bill of water trickled. Gradually it widened, until an hour later a raging torrent, with a thirty-five foot wide into that part of the canal between Gamboa Dike and Miraflores locks, which had previously been excavated by steam shovels.

Pegoud Successfully Accomplished Daring Feat in Presence of Many Spectators.

JUVISY, France, Sept. 1.—(Can. Press.)—A French aviator named Pegoud today "looped the loop" while flying at a height of 1500 feet in his aeroplane. He afterwards descended without injury.

Pegoud, who recently caused a sensation by dropping safely from an aeroplane with a parachute, had announced that he intended to turn a somersault in the air with his aeroplane, and his movements after his ascent today were followed closely by a large body of observers.

When Pegoud had reached a height of about 3000 feet he turned the nose of his machine straight toward the earth and darted downward with his

DICK BRYSON WINS AFTER FIVE HEATS

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—The Brockville Fair and Horse Show got away to a splendid start. Fine weather conditions prevailed for the various attractions, chief among which were the horse races and two flights by a New York birdman. The track for the trial of speed was lightning fast, and of the three events on the card only two were finished, the green race being postponed at sundown after five sensational heats. Dick Bryson, the Port Hope man, easily captured the 230 trot and pace. Dick Bryson, Old Joe Swing and Annie Polner were the principal contenders in the 211 event. After Swing and Polner had each annexed a victory, Bryson, who had worked from fourth to second position, came and took the next three handily. In the green race, Dr. Johnston, not his bolt after two heats. Then Bill Dillon passed under the wire ahead of Dick Bryson in the third, in the fourth and fifth. The Pica, which had been conserving her strength, made the others bow her superiority, and will be backed heavily to take first money tomorrow, when the contest will be finished. WOODEN HELD SAINTS SCORELESS BUT FAILED TO LAND THE TWO Cockneys Scored Shut Out in Morning, But Went Eleven Innings Without Scoring in the Afternoon Fixture.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—London did not allow St. Thomas to run in both games today, but only won the morning game by 2 to 0, as the afternoon battle was a tie game at the end of the eleventh inning, neither team scoring. The morning game was a pitchers' battle between Bebe and Howick, each keeping the hitting bats from scoring, but inside baseball made it possible for London to take the game, as both runs were scored on squeeze plays. The feature of the game was the number of Saints retired by the strike-out route, as fourteen went out in this manner.

The afternoon game brought out a larger crowd than the one which broke the league record on Saturday, as 1500 fans thronged Texmouth Park. A fine game was witnessed by the gathering, as Heck and Wilkinson held the opposing batters to five and six hits respectively and were especially strong in the pinches.

Next Tuesday will be big league day at the Island Stadium. John McCreary and the New York Giants, National League pennant-winners, will take on the London in an exhibition affair. It is only a short while until the world series starts, and the Toronto fans will have a chance to look over the great New York machine. Jeff Tesreau and Bunny Learner, former Leafs, will be with the Giants.

FERRIS GETS A BLUE TICKET. ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1.—Hobe Ferris, utility infielder for the local team of the American Association, today was given his unconditional release. He will leave tonight for his home at Providence, R.I. Ferris' release came as the result of the addition of McKechnie to the team.

KIRLEY JOINS THE LEAFS. Pitcher Kirley of the Guelph Club joined the Leafs in Buffalo last night. Pitcher Herbert will be on the job early next week.

Outfielder Wilson Toronto's Property

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1.—The National Baseball Commission today denied the request of the Boston National League Club that the sale of Player Duncan to the Philadelphia Nationals and Beaver Wilcox to the Toronto Club by the Dallas Club of the Texas League, be set aside. The Boston Club claimed that it had negotiated with the Dallas Club, and the negotiations had gone so far that it was assured of both players. The commission, however, held that there was a difference between the terms offered by the Boston Club and that which the Dallas Club would accept, and held that the sale of the players to the other clubs was valid.

FALKENBURG PITCHES THIRD SHUTOUT GAME

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—Cleveland won two games from Chicago today, the morning game by a score of 6 to 2, and the afternoon game by 7 to 6.

The afternoon game was Cleveland's eighth successive victory, and the third straight shut-out hurled by Falkenburg. In the afternoon Chicago got one hit in the first innings and two in the third. At all other times the visitors were helpless with the bat.

Cleveland scored three runs in the first innings on Leibold's single. Chapman's sacrifice and Chappelle's muff of Jackson's line drive, passes to Lajoie and Johnston and Graney's single. They added one run in the fifth on Jackson's single and stolen base, Berger's error and Lajoie's single. In the seventh they completed their total, Chapman stung and got to second on a wild pitch, Jackson reaching first on Weaver's wide throw. Lajoie's hit and Johnston's triple. Scores: Cleveland, 6; Chicago, 2.

RUDOLPH FIGURES IN PITCHING DUEL

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Giants won two exciting games from Boston today. Both games required extra innings to return a winner. New York won the morning game when the visitors blew up with two out in the tenth inning, ending a spirited pitchers' battle between Demaree and Hess, the score being 2 to 2. Meyers opened the tenth inning with a double and Shafer ran for him. Shafer took third on Snodgrass' sacrifice, but was held at the plate on Crandall's grounder to Marvelli. Grant ran for Crandall and took third on Smith's error on Burns' hit. An attempted double steal and Grant ball into left field, permitting Grant to score the winning run. Meyers, who started this rally, also was responsible for New York's run in the second inning. His home run, following Merkle's single, gave New York two. Boston scored in fifth on Whaling's single. Hess' pass and Marvelli's single. They tied the score in the eighth on singles by Schmidt, Griffin and Zina.

In one of the most sensational pitching duels ever witnessed on the Polo Grounds, New York took the afternoon game, 2 to 1, after fourteen innings. Marquard and Rudolph were the opposing pitchers, and each man allowed ten hits. The winning run was scored when Merkle tripped with one out and scored on Murray's single. Burns saved the game for New York in the eighth when he threw out Myers trying to score on Sweeney's single. Scores: —Morning Game—

Another Important Opening To-morrow SIMPSON'S FURS

Each season has added to the reputation of the Fur Department of the Store. It goes steadily on year by year in its dignified growth, offering more and better furs, and supplying an increasing demand. For the winter of 1913-14 we have secured an unparalleled display of exquisite furs, beautifully made from the finest of pelts, including every new style and every good grade. Coats and sets of display of mink, Persian lamb, lynx, fox, ermine and sable, marmot and Hudson seal, are already on display, and include many absolutely individual pieces of rare beauty. We invite you to visit the department during the Exhibition, and feel sure you will be amply repaid in the pleasure of seeing exquisite furs used handsomely. Every piece is guaranteed for quality and value. We will be glad to give you detailed explanations of the various grades and their uses, or to estimate upon special designs of any description.

Persian Lamb Coats, new models, in 52, 46 and 36-inch length; made with loose sacque, or slightly fitted back, with kimono; set-in or plain coat sleeves, and long roll collars; garments that have consummate style in their lines, and are made from the choicest Leipzig-dyed skins; handsome 52-inch coats of new design; are trimmed with royal Russian ermine. Prices from $260.00 to $465.00.

Mole Coats are exceedingly smart, and are much sought after by our best custom. It is a soft, light-weight, pretty fur, suitable for street, carriage or evening wear.
