Small, But Important, Elevation North of Kemmel Changes Hands Several Times in Bitter Fighting.

With the British Army in France, May 14—Hill 44, a small but important elevation near the Yverbeek River, north of Kemmel, about which much sanguinary conflicts have been waged since May 8, appeared today to be in the hands of the Germans again. The enemy began an assault yesterday morning and gained a hold on this position and at intervals was still clinging tenaciously to the rugged slopes, although the hard-hitting French had been pressing the invaders vigorously.

When the Germans attacked between La Clytte and Voormezele May 8 the British were holding the elevation. Strong enemy forces centred a drive against this point, and after bitter fighting captured it. Their remnants were brief, however, for the British in a smashing counter-attack hurled the gray coats back.

Moscow, May 14.—Thru the capture of Rostov-on-Don the Germans have gained control of the Caucasus, the grain districts in the Donetz basin, and the coal, iron and oil fields. Northern Russia is now cut off from the Caucasus, excepting for a single railroad running thru Tsaritsin, in the southern part of the government of Saratov, which the Germans are now threatening.

Ottawa, May 14.—Farmers of Ontario and farmers of Quebec presented their views to the government today. It was such a delegation, in its extent, as has rarely, if ever, been seen in the capital before. Twenty-five hundred Ontario farmers jammed the Russell Theatre, outside were a couple of thousand men from Quebec, unable to secure admission. They held an over-four meeting in the street. For New Brunswick farmers C. L. Smith spoke briefly. It was announced also that a delegation from Manitoba was on the way.

former, exemptions which should be as solemn and sacred as the cause for which the peoples of the allied nations are pouring out their life blood. Reference was made to the appointment of the Canada Food Board and to the urgent appeals issued at various times by the chairman and members emphasizing the urgency of the crisis. The present chairman said: "A large measure of the responsibility of providing food for Europe falls on Canada. Every available force in the cities must be used. Men in non-essential industries at the present time are simply destroyers of jobs. To the men who should be on the farm or who should be relieving the men who are needed on the farm the Canada Food Board should exert the full force of its authority as a destroyer of jobs while our food supplies are so dangerously low and starvation is threatening the allies."

Quotes British Controller.
The resolution then quoted the cable of the British food controller: "Reference is made to the urgent appeals of the British food controller, in which he said that the Canadian farmer and farm hand now had an opportunity to make an effective reply to the enemy's onslaughts by bending their undivided energies to the increased production of those food supplies which are so essential to the well-being of our great Dominion."

Production Might Be Useless.
"I know that of which I am speaking when I tell you that if the channel ports should be reached thru the breaking of that line, it would be of no use to produce more food unless you speak of that production of which you speak of as being of service to the allied nations overseas or to our men who are holding that line. I regard it as the supreme duty of the government to see to it that these men, some of whom have been fighting for three years, are sustained by such an amount of food as will enable them to hold the line. That I conceive to be our first duty."

Appreciate Loyalty of Farmers.
"The most extreme conditions as he had seen them at the front in an effort to bring home to his bearers the horror of warfare as waged by the Germans. Canadian boys were standing shoulder to shoulder that their country might be saved from just such conditions. It was not, he said, the duty of any member of the government to deal arbitrarily with the farmers. He appreciated the splendid loyalty of the farmers, but they have not been called upon to contribute any more to the war effort than they have already done. He then quoted figures to show how the various classes of Canadians had enlisted, saying that a total of 54,000 farmers and ranchers had gone to the front."

Quebec's Minister.
Hon. J. A. Carson, minister of agriculture for Quebec, said he spoke as a private citizen. Farmers of Quebec and Ontario were united in opposing the regulations respecting meat and wheat. In Quebec there would be particularly needed on the farms in view of the promises made, farmers had begun further development work on their farms, and they would be taken away this work would be lost. If the new regulations were put into effect 200 butter and cheese factories in Quebec would be closed, which would affect 100,000 cows, which for the most part would have to be slaughtered. Flour mills all over the province would have to close and a diminution of 25 per cent. if the young men were taken. The very least the government should do was to grant exemption, not only for the period of seeding, but until the crop was harvested."

The Premier's Reply.
Sir Robert Borden, replying to the delegation, said: "You have given us your view of what is desirable in the national interest. I do not understand the farmers whom I see before me here today or any other farmers in the country desire to be regarded as a class to whom special consideration should be given as individuals apart from the national interest. That is not the spirit in which you have approached this subject. I have had communications with men in writing already with respect to these conditions. It has been said by gentlemen speaking for Ontario that very great hardship, very great difficulty, very great inequality will be occasioned and are being occasioned in that province and in other provinces by the order-in-council which was passed on April 20, after, but not until after, it had been affirmed by the house of commons in the Canada House. I desire that you will bear that in mind."

Was a Hard Task.
"Do you imagine that any man who stands within the ranks of the government of Canada today would find it in his heart to impose any unnecessary hardship or inequality on any man in Canada? I hope at least you will accept of that. It was a hard thing three years and more ago to ask the splendid youth of Canada to go overseas to fight in the greatest cause which humanity has ever taken up. It was a selfless and a sterner duty to say to the people of Canada that the time had now come when we could not fulfil our whole duty to humanity and the world, and more than that, greater than that, to ourselves, unless compulsory military service was adopted in this country."

Bi-nesia Stops Stomach Trouble Or Money Back

INSTANT RELIEF GUARANTEED.
Recently a writer on the treatment of stomach trouble, who has claimed that practically all stomach trouble is due to acidity, decided to put his theory to the test. Every sufferer from stomach trouble was told to take a teaspoonful of pure Bi-nesia, or 2 or 3 of the 6-grain tablets, in a little water, immediately after eating, or whenever pain was felt. The test completely vindicated his theory, for immediate relief was indicated in nearly every one of the first hundred reports received, showing conclusively that the trouble had been due to stomach acid, which, as is well known, is instantly neutralized by Bi-nesia. Since making this test, the well-known manufacturing chemist, who has specialized in preparing pure Bi-nesia exclusively for stomach use, has arranged to place in every package of Bi-nesia, either tablet or powder form, a binding guarantee of satisfaction or money back, provided the sufferer has used nearly every so-called dyspeptic is really suffering from acidity, and their condition that genuine Bi-nesia will instantly neutralize stomach acid, stop food fermentation and thus relieve the troubles attending thereby.

FRENCH REPEL ATTACK AT BUTTE DE MESNIL
Paris, May 14.—The war office announcement tonight says: "There were no further bombardments in the Giverny sector. Our batteries dispersed enemy concentrations and convoys in the neighborhood of Montdidier and on the road between the two towns. A heavy attack in the region of Butte de Mesnil failed completely."

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

In France the Germans made a considerable attack yesterday against the British in the neck of land between the Ancre and the Somme, and near the confluence of these streams were shot down in droves, but gained a lodging at one point, whence the Australians ejected them in a counter-attack. This effort of the Antipodean soldiers re-established the British line. The enemy left with the British 50 prisoners. The scene of this fighting is almost immediately south of Albert, in Belgium and south of Ypres the Germans also attacked and attempted to push back the French towards Klein Vierstraat, but he only suffered another check. The chief point of contention was Hill 44. Unofficial reports partly conceded it to the Germans last night, but the British official bulletin does not concede an enemy gain anywhere in this zone.

The foregoing renewal of the fighting is not necessarily a renewal of the enemy offensive, but rather has the nature of counter-attacks designed to recover positions recently captured by the Australians on the one hand, and by the French on the other. These positions are on high ground, have a certain value for the attack, and the enemy is trying to recover them. All in each instance heavy enemy artillery fire preceded his infantry assaults, the losses of the allies in the combats are given as light, especially south of the Ancre.

Dutch sources furnish the intelligence that troops from Rumania are on the way to the western front. These probably consist of Von Mackensen's army and comprise the last reserves collected by Germany for her final effort. As the German higher command has tested the resisting qualities of the allies and has gained a fair knowledge of their strength, it requires little imagination to understand that the coming German offensive will probably be worse than the preceding one. By force is meant more violent. It may also be shorter for the enemy will probably strive largely to increase his strength for his new opening blow.

The explanation for the failure of the offensive given to the German people is that the German army had not their sufficient artillery, and that

TWO ARE ARRESTED UNDER NEW ORDER

Charged under the new order-in-council of being between the ages of 16 and 60 and not being engaged in suitable occupation, Harry Comisky, aged 25, of 6 Camden street, and Jack Fine, aged 27, of 182 Palmerston avenue, were arrested in a downtown pool room yesterday afternoon by Detective Walter McConnell and Plainclothesmen Sullivan and Marshall of Court street police station. Comisky, the police allege, is an A2 man, but he secured exemption on the ground that he was supporting his father and mother. This, the police claim is not true, and claim that the man does nothing but earn a living at playing pool and poker. Comisky said he helped his father on piecework, but was unable to satisfy the police officials.

TORONTO ORATORIO SOCIETY TRIUMPHS

Makes Big Success, With "Symphony Orchestra," of "Hymn of Praise."
Dr. Edward Broome and the Toronto Oratorio Society with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra rendered Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" last night in Massey Hall in a manner that drew the whole standard of singing in the city. It is the choir is a better choir in the voices it comprises, or even as good as others, but the personality of the conductor was in evidence thruout the performance. Artistic feeling, varied and appropriate expression, intelligent and sympathetic interpretation, and admirable restraint and judgment in handling the forces under his control elicited from the chorus a remarkably effective and memorable rendering.

NEW YORK CLERGYMAN SPEAKS ABOUT WAR
At College Street Baptist Church last night, Rev. Dr. MacArthur, of New York City, gave a splendid address on the United States and Canada in the great war. Dr. MacArthur stated that when war was declared he thought the bottom would drop out of civilization. It had so far as Germany was concerned, and had only been kept in sight by England, France, Italy and the other allies at a terrible cost in men and money. He dwelt at great length on the name that Canada had made for herself as a consequence of her great effort and sacrifices, and how proud the United States would be to march the rest of the way by her side no matter what the cost. He praised President Wilson as a man of great ability, but wished his great speech at Baltimore of "force, force to the uttermost," had been made sooner. It was a welcome change from his injunction, "Be neutral, even in thought." He hoped for the extension of British authority, and would like to see Britain paint the world red before the finish of the war. He also thought Canada had been a jewel in the crown of the British Empire.

MOBILIZED WORKMEN AT DISPOSAL OF FOCH
Paris, May 14.—The government has decided to place at the disposal of the commander-in-chief all the mobilized workmen belonging to the contingents of 1912, 1911 and 1910, and also some of the contingents of 1907 to 1909. Allowance will be made for the time spent at the front and the wounds received.

KAISER WILHELM HAS SENT TO LIVONIA A MESSAGE REQUESTING ASSISTANCE FOR GERMANY. The emperor is showing the allies to make peace, that Germany, the allies to bring in a truce. The next German move will be the overthrow of the Bolsheviks. Germany has already denied financial concessions, the surrender of Meosow and other large cities, and the demobilization of the Bolshevik army. If the Bolsheviks accede to this German offer, the move will be the taking of control by Germany even the mobilization of a Slav army against the Bolsheviks. Certain sections of London opinion are reviving the advocacy of Japanese intervention in Russia for the purpose of ruining all these schemes.

In the Caucasus the Armenians have organized and mobilized their manhood for the purpose of strongly resisting the Turkish advance in their country. They have decided, if they have to die, to die bravely and not as passive resistors. Their defiance has already impeded the Turkish progress, has probably brought it to a standstill, and the British advance from Bagdad in Mesopotamia may yet have time to succeed this remnant of a brave people.

PENSIONS PROBLEM UNDER DISCUSSION

Parkdale Veterans Take Exception to Re-Examination Every Six Months.
Parkdale G.W.V.A. at last night's meeting, held at the Khaki Club Hall at Queen and Dovercourt, discussed the question of pensions at some length, and the branch executive at its next session is likely to recommend a resolution along the lines suggested at this meeting. The main theme of the discussion was the tendency to re-examine the returned men every six months instead of doing as has always been done in Britain. It was generally contended that too much valuable time was lost to each man re-examined, and that the preference the men would be to either have a pension for life or to receive none at all. One member pointed out that the standing medical board after two months' waiting in a hospital for the hospitals for treatment examination, all of which took up some which are not properly claim for themselves.

RENTALS AT ISLAND GIVEN BIG BOOST

Parks Committee Accepts Assessment Commissioner's Recommendations.
The parks committee of the city council at yesterday's session made little progress, but held extended discussions upon the advisability of doing away with the zoo, or at least of refusing to receive any more animals from the Polar, Antarctic, Equatorial or Bengal regions of jungle and morass.

Opinions on Zoo.
Dr. Risk touched upon the uselessness of using cost and necessary food such as meat and bread to feed and warm warriors of the jungle, who should never have been brought into the captivity of the Riverdale cages from the wilds of Africa or India. Alderman Henryford fully agreed with him, and advocated a system of education, not to educate the children as to the merits of animals in captivity, but to educate the adults in the practice of real practical Christianity.

One of the reasons for the lack of decision at yesterday's meeting was that Acting Commissioner of Parks R. C. Harris reported that in the absence of the parks committee he hesitated to advise what should be done. All decision was, therefore, reserved until the reappearance of the parks committee.

CLOSING EXERCISES.
The closing exercises of the National Training School of the Methodist Church, held at the Hotel Hamilton, 100 St. Charles street, were held at the Hotel Hamilton, 100 St. Charles street, and were presided over by Rev. Dr. Chown, superintendent of the Methodist Church, and Dr. Robertson.

DEBATE ON RAILWAYS.
West Presbyterian Young People's Society, represented by R. McLaughlin and Alan Griffin, were given the decision in the debate, "Resolved, that the railway of Canada should be controlled and operated by the Dominion Government." The negative, representing College Street Presbyterian Church, Marley Sherris was the speaker. Over 100 were present.

ADVISES CREDIT MEN AGAINST OVERBUYING

About one hundred wholesale houses were represented at the meeting and considerable satisfaction was expressed at the progress made by the association during the year in its various activities for the improvement of conditions under which credit is granted. James A. Catto, chairman of the legislation committee, made reference to the bankruptcy bill recently introduced in parliament and it was pointed out that the measure, having received practically the unanimous support of all interests, would, in all

PERMANENT LOAN CASE TRAVERSED TILL FALL

L. Monahan, his counsel, moved to traverse the indictment to next assize on the grounds that on account of illness his client would be unable to undertake the preparation for his trial. Some of the liquor was addressed fictitiously, and some to persons already under suspicion. WAR HAS DECREASED CRIME, SAYS JUDGE

That the war was responsible for a decrease in crime, was the statement made by Judge Wichester when he charged the grand jury at the opening of the court of general sessions yesterday. He added that another effect of the war was seen in the fact that many of the jurors summoned had been able to attend, and fifteen of the petty jurors had also failed to answer to their names. His honor asked them all to hasten in every bill that would be brought before them and bring in a verdict as soon as possible, and be trusted that they would be at liberty to go to their homes in ten days' time. He told them that he did not think it would be necessary for them to make any visitations, as this had been seen to by the grand jury now sitting at the assizes. Only 24 cases will come before them. The following are the names of those empaneled on the grand jury: John T. Saigeon, Vaugh-

It occurred on November 2, 1916, and resulted in Rangelovich sustaining a compound fracture of the thigh. Rangelovich claims that the coach was going east, and that he steered the coach almost into the ditch to avoid the accident, and that the collision was due to Rangelovich not seeing where he was going. The suit is for unstated damages. The case is now in the jury's hands. W. A. Henderson is appearing for plaintiff and Bicknell and Bain for the defendants.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 15.

The Greater Pledge.

During the progress of a great and lengthened war it is to be expected that domestic difficulties will arise from time to time.

The big deputation at Ottawa yesterday was an important one, and it received the courteous attention of the government.

"How should I face our soldiers, how should you face them when they come home, after being eliminated, after thousands had passed thru the hell of a German prison, if we had to tell them that we did not reinforce them because we were too busy with the problem of more production? I do not minimize that problem, but we need men to hold the line," said Sir Robert.

"Talking of pledges," he said, "do you imagine there is no pledge or covenant with the men at the front? What hardships of ours can compare with theirs?"

This is the kernel of the whole situation. It is only the inability to appreciate that portentous crisis in France and Flanders that can lead any interest, however important, or any body of people, whatever their relation to the state and society, to hesitate for a moment in co-operating to the fullest extent in the plans that have been made to bring to a happy issue the conflict, for the end of which the whole world stands waiting.

"What we need from Germany," continued Joffe, "are eyes, medicines and agricultural machinery. We have not given Americans or other foreigners any mining, railway or other concessions."

"We are not trying to compel Russians to return home, and we welcome the coming of foreigners. We even favor suffering for foreigners."

"Food conditions are not good in the towns, but there is plenty in northern Russia. We are working hard to get transportation facilities to the exchange of prisoners, we are ready to accelerate it. It is to our own interest to do so."

M. Joffe, the inter-Allied reports, and other concessions. He also contradicted the interviewer's view that Russia was dependent upon the Ukraine for grain. The Siberian grain crop was available for export, he said, "and when our relations with the central powers are in proper shape we shall be quite able to ship grain to them, and likewise to ship metals. We also have great stocks of linen."

"The development of the hospital problem has been found in the expropriation of St. Andrew's School and grounds by the government. The city will be especially gratified by the release of the High Park property which has been under consideration. While the citizens would willingly make any sacrifice for the soldiers, it was with regret that any encroachment upon our not too ample park lands was contemplated. The new plan relieves the city of the necessity for making this sacrifice, and the wisdom of the new arrangement is obviously greater."

It is said that the city will be asked to provide better accommodation by way of approach to the St. Andrew's grounds from Yonge street. It is not expected that the route thru Rosedale will be so much used as the approach from the west. If the World's proposal for underdeck bridges over the new C.P.R. viaducts across the Rosedale Ravine had been adopted this difficulty would not now have to be met. The extra cost for the underdeck bridge would have been slight, and the city was not called upon to pay for it till after the war. The opportunity, like many others, was allowed to slip, and now probably is meant for a less satisfactory solution of the problem of reaching the new hospital.

No Proportional Representation. It will be regretted by progressive parliamentarians that the proposals for proportional representations which were to be tried out in 100 selected constituencies have been rejected by the British House of Commons. It is probable that the reason was the fear that the method of voting was too cumbersome. It sounds cumbersome in explanation, although it works out simply enough in practice.

As a rival plan there was placed against it the alternate vote, which is to a large extent an adoption of the same principle as in proportional representation. The object of both methods is to prevent the election of minority candidates. The candidates elected under the proportional representation method always represent the opinion of the people. The alternate vote assures at least the election of a candidate who represents the majority and not a minority victory thru a split vote. It is not clear, however, that the alternate vote will be adopted, and a return to the old method of voting in which Liberals and Labor men split the progressive vote and give the seats to Conservatives, may work havoc with Lloyd George's legislation after the war.

RETURN OF CZARS IS UNTHINKABLE

Russian Ambassador to Berlin Declares Country Will Welcome Foreigners.

WILL EXPORT GRAIN

On Improvement of Railways, Germany Can Obtain Supplies.

Amsterdam, May 14.—The return of the monarchy in Russia is unthinkable, Adolph Joffe, Russian ambassador at Berlin, declared in a recent interview given to Dr. Friedberg, the Berlin correspondent of The Vienna News Journal. Incidentally M. Joffe characterized any assertion that Americans during the war or during the revolution, received any concessions from Russia as a "pure invention."

On his main topic of the governmental prospects in Russia, M. Joffe admitted that a government of non-socialists, "under artificial conditions," was within the range of possibility, but never a return to the rule of an emperor.

"There is today," he continued, "no power in Russia strong enough to upset us. Behind us stands the great mass of the peasants and workers—all those men whom the capitalist system had not blessed with the world's goods. The Kerensky socialists have turned out to be a failure. There is only one group left, the anarchists, but they lack political driving force."

To Export Grain. M. Joffe denied that there has been any split between Leon Trotsky, the minister of war and Premier Lenin, as has been reported. He also contradicted the interviewer's view that Russia was dependent upon the Ukraine for grain. The Siberian grain crop was available for export, he said, "and when our relations with the central powers are in proper shape we shall be quite able to ship grain to them, and likewise to ship metals. We also have great stocks of linen."

"What we need from Germany," continued Joffe, "are eyes, medicines and agricultural machinery. We have not given Americans or other foreigners any mining, railway or other concessions."

"We are not trying to compel Russians to return home, and we welcome the coming of foreigners. We even favor suffering for foreigners."

"Food conditions are not good in the towns, but there is plenty in northern Russia. We are working hard to get transportation facilities to the exchange of prisoners, we are ready to accelerate it. It is to our own interest to do so."

M. Joffe, the inter-Allied reports, and other concessions. He also contradicted the interviewer's view that Russia was dependent upon the Ukraine for grain. The Siberian grain crop was available for export, he said, "and when our relations with the central powers are in proper shape we shall be quite able to ship grain to them, and likewise to ship metals. We also have great stocks of linen."

"The development of the hospital problem has been found in the expropriation of St. Andrew's School and grounds by the government. The city will be especially gratified by the release of the High Park property which has been under consideration. While the citizens would willingly make any sacrifice for the soldiers, it was with regret that any encroachment upon our not too ample park lands was contemplated. The new plan relieves the city of the necessity for making this sacrifice, and the wisdom of the new arrangement is obviously greater."

It is said that the city will be asked to provide better accommodation by way of approach to the St. Andrew's grounds from Yonge street. It is not expected that the route thru Rosedale will be so much used as the approach from the west. If the World's proposal for underdeck bridges over the new C.P.R. viaducts across the Rosedale Ravine had been adopted this difficulty would not now have to be met. On Parliament Hill

BY TOM KING

Ottawa, May 14.—This has been farmers' day at the national capital. They arrived in large numbers last night and soon overran the hotel capacity of Ottawa. Many of them dozed in chairs in the hotel lobbies, or walked the streets all night. Early this morning their numbers were doubled, and it is estimated that not less than five thousand farmers were on hand this morning to protest against the exempt order-in-council cancelling the exemption of young farmers under the Military Service Act.

The government had secured for them the Russell Theatre, and had agreed to have their representations at 11:30 a.m. Long before that hour every inch of space in the theatre was occupied and at least 2,500 farmers were camped in the aisles. Some assembled on the city hall square nearby, while others viewed the scene from the fire escapes that adorn theatres. A number of the Quebec delegates went in to march with the farmers and finally held a meeting of their own in the Theatre Francaise.

When Sir Robert Borden entered the Russell Theatre the farmers rose to receive him, but gave no other sign of welcome. Amidst almost a painful silence he proceeded to the stage, where the views of the delegates were expounded to him. As was expected, his reply was firm, trenchant, and to the point. He told the farmers that the law must be obeyed, and that they must take up their burden of sacrifice in common with the rest of the community. His audience heard him with manifest impatience, and once when the prime minister alluded to himself as having been a farmer boy, a delegate called out "Don't give us any facts."

There were just enough interruptions to put Sir Robert on his mettle. He never flinched so well as when his back is to a wall, and the visiting farmers found today that they had to deal with a man who could not be intimidated.

Meanwhile Mr. Speaker laid before the house of commons a written request from the Ontario farmers to be allowed the privilege of addressing the house.

"I cannot believe they are from Ontario," exclaimed Mr. Lemieux, sarcastically. He asked the speaker to reply to the farmers' request. To this Sir George Foster, who was leading the house, replied that he would refer the matter to the prime minister. When the question came up again at the afternoon sitting, Sir George Foster said there would be no objection to the farmers coming to the chamber of the house at the dinner recess between six and eight o'clock, but that they could not be permitted as a reputation to interrupt the business of the house.

About eight o'clock the farmers came down in force to the parliament buildings, but only about a quarter of the gallery section listened quietly to the debate, and gave no sign of dissent when W. F. Maclean of South Shore, while expounding a certain sympathy with the farmers in many cases of peculiar hardship, at the same time commended the attitude of the government.

Ministers and members were probably thinking more about the farmers and their government than they were about legislation, and yet the house did a fair day's business in the morning. The subject of discussion on the Canadian Northern situation, and a general demand that the government should frankly and honestly face the railway situation. Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways, promised that such a report would be made by the prime minister at the afternoon sitting of the house, but, as Sir Robert Borden was unable to be present, the debate upon the Canadian Northern bill was adjourned, and the statement upon the railway situation will be made to the house tomorrow.

On the motion to go into supply several topics were discussed. One was related to the purchase of the lands now embraced in Camp Borden. Hon. Joseph Lemieux, who is a member of the great hand, he named several people with sons at the front now residing in Toronto who had been graciously allowed to sell their land at a price which Mr. Barr, who acted as a middleman in the transaction, sold the same lands to the government at a higher price.

Mr. Boya, Unionist member for North Simcoe, defended the government. He said the government had paid a fair price for the land, but much of it had been purchased by Mr. Barr at a higher price. The lands were practically valueless. The people who bought those 20-acre lots, he said, had been imposed upon by some speculator.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said it was quite possible that the government had paid a small commission. What he objected to was the presence of a middleman. Why had the government not employed an agent at a salary to negotiate for the government the purchase of the lands? He asked the owner direct? Mr. Fielding is still on the cross benches, but he is edging over toward the Liberal side.

Spoken criticism of Sir Edward Kemp and the government was greeted with en-bonhomie applause from the opposition benches.

It was proper for Canada to be represented in imperial conferences, but our ministers should go to any such conferences with the understanding that they are to represent the views of the Canadian people. Mr. Maclean said that he would not dissent from the conclusions of that conference or to withdraw entirely from it.

Must Reorganize Currency. The development of the war made it necessary for us to reorganize our currency. The currency system worked out in the United States. She must have a national currency, a national bank, and a national system of bank of rediscunt. American currency circulated everywhere in Canada because the credit of the United States is higher than that of any other country. Canada's national money was national currency it would circulate just as freely in the United States and stabilize the rate of exchange.

Mr. Maclean said he would not discuss the tariff question beyond saying that any nation that desired to retain its liberty must have a currency of its own. He favored the immediate nationalization of railways, telegraphs and telephones, and he believed that the government should lose no time in nationalizing the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. He hoped to see the time when every company that is behind that communication, in the same building there should be a railway office, a telegraph office, a telephone office and a postoffice, all operated by the national government.

BOLSHEVIKI INVADE TERRITORY OF CHINA. London, May 14.—Bolshevik troops have penetrated more than 150 miles south into Mongolia from the Siberian border below Irkutsk, according to a despatch filed on May 11 by The Daily Mail's correspondent at Tien Tsin.

The Chinese resident-general at Urga, in northern-central Mongolia, about 300 miles southwest of Irkutsk, has urgently telegraphed the Peking government, saying the communication, reporting the arrival of Bolshevik troops at Urga, nearly 175 miles inside Mongolian territory. The Mongolians, the resident-general stated, were unable to resist the Bolsheviki, who had confiscated goods belonging to several wealthy Chinese merchants. The Chinese cabinet, adds the correspondent, is considering what steps are necessary to prevent the movement of the invader spreading southward.

DECLINES DISCUSSION. Leader of Czech League Refuses to Confer Over District Administration in Bohemia. Amsterdam, May 14.—Deputy Stama, president of the Czech League, according to a despatch from Vienna, has declined the invitation of Dr. Von Seydler, the Austrian premier, sent to the Czech club to discuss the establishment of district administrations in Bohemia. The Czech deputy warned the premier regarding the consequences of this measure.

STILL ON THE JOB

THE WOMAN WHO CHANGED

BY JANE PHELPS

David Speaks His Mind. CHAPTER LXXXI. The moment we were alone, I realized that David had seen, and that he was angry for my sake. I must be careful, if his visit was not to be spoiled, and all of us made uncomfortable.

"I call that pretty rotten!" he declared. "You mean that you didn't see?" he returned in a skeptical tone. "See what? What are you driving at, David?" I asked, still disconcerted. "Didn't you see George pass us with some woman?"

"All I should think it was enough! I saw, I can't understand city ways. And you don't seem to care." "See what? What are you driving at, David?" I asked, still disconcerted. "Didn't you see George pass us with some woman?"

"Well, you beat me. I'll bet the girls at home would give their husbands merry hell, if they did as George does. Why, they always go to places together, just like Dad and Mum. But here it seems to be the style to go as you please. I don't like it, and I don't believe it's right, or that it will make you happy in the end."

"My, what a lecture. Now let's hurry and get dressed for dinner. We were to go somewhere, tonight." "Say, Sis, before we start I'd like to ask one more question: Why are you so afraid to sit up when George is out? Mum never went to bed in her life unless Dad was home."

"Nonsense," I replied, as George and I both laughed. "A Delightful Evening. We had a box, as usual. I prepared the orchestra, but George was related to the cause. Now clear up, and make yourself handsome."

"I was absolutely weak from the strain of keeping David in ignorance of my feelings, and threw myself on the couch for a moment before commencing to dress. I was becoming awfully deceitful. But I couldn't feel that it was wrong. Surely it was better to keep my hurts to myself! David would be sure to go home and tell father and mother, if I let him know how I felt. He would tell them of my feelings, as it was, I thought, just as I heard George say to me."

"I jumped up and hurriedly commenced to dress. "Dress to go out, both you and David," he called. "I have tickets for the theatre."

"Are you going, too?" I called back, scarcely daring to believe. "Of course," he answered in a decided tone. One to hear him, would I imagine he always went with me. But I was so happy—the reaction was so great—that I never thought of being critical. "Dinner clothes, David!" I called. "George is going to take us to the theatre."

"All right, Sis." We were quite gay at dinner. I was so proud of my handsome husband, my fine looking brother. I told them so, telling them they always should wear dress clothes. "You don't look so bad yourself, Sis. Does she, George? That dress is a peach. But Oh! what would you like to see you dressed up like that. I know more, would worry herself to death for fear you would take cold."

Doctors Give Testimony Before Pensions Committee. Ottawa, May 15.—The pensions committee of the house of commons at its sitting this afternoon examined Dr. W. T. Connell of the Military Hospital, Kingston, and Dr. D. H. McKay, of London, Ont. Dr. Connell, at the request of Hon. N. W. Rowell, chairman of the committee, explained how he determined the extent of the disability in heart cases.

Winnipeg, May 14.—At 7.50 a.m. today, the hour set for the firemen's strike, a big fire was raging in the heart of Winnipeg's business district. The firemen engaged in fighting the fire postponed their striking until the fire was under control, an hour later. A five-story building on Main street, immediately south of Portage avenue, occupied by Richardson and Bishop and other stationary firms, was gutted by fire early today. The fire raged for four hours in a high wind and was confined with difficulty to the one building, which is owned by the Canadian Life Insurance Company.

MRS. CLARK FEELS 10 YEARS YOUNGER

Before Taking Tanlac She Often Cried Over Her Condition, She Says.

"Positively, with all the work and worry I have had to go through with the last year or two I don't believe I could have kept up if it hadn't been for Tanlac," recently said Mrs. Henrietta Clark of 276 Woburn avenue, Toronto, an old resident and well-known to many in the Bedford Park district. "Two years ago," she continued, "when my health began to fail, I lost my appetite and didn't relish a thing I forced down. Shortly after eating I would have a feeling of tightness that would distress me for hours. My nerves, too, were in a dreadful state and my whole system terribly run-down. When I went to bed I would roll and toss half the night unable to sleep, and when I got up in the morning and thought of the work I had to do I would break down and cry. I was so weak and exhausted that I was hardly able to go up and down stairs, and couldn't walk any distance without giving out. I felt perfectly miserable all the time, and believe I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown."

"I had read so much about Tanlac that I decided to try it. By the time I had finished my first bottle I was feeling so much better that I told my husband the other day my improvement was simply astonishing, for I actually feel ten years younger. My appetite is fine. I eat heartily of everything, and nothing hurts me at all. Before taking Tanlac I most always had to have someone help me with my household, but now I do it all myself as good as anybody."

Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tamblin Drug Stores and by an established agency in every town.—(Advertisement.)

Grand International Trapshooting Dates

London, Ont., May 14.—Manager W. J. McCance of the Grand International trapshooting tournament, held at St. Thomas, announced the dates for this year's annual event, which has been included in the circuit of the big Canadian and American target tours.

This year the trapshooters will start on July 29, 30 and 31, instead of the first week in December, as has been the custom in the past. This tourney differs in its program, as no live-bird events are included, giving the entire three days shooting at bluebirds.

The Grand International, thru its critics in various quarters over the live-bird issue, suffered considerably in attendance, as trapshooters, as well as pigeon-shooters, were reluctant at coming to attend a shoot which was under protest. However, this has all been remedied by the removal of the live birds from the program, and this year a bigger attendance than ever will prevail.

The dates of the big matches this year, seen the first open at Buffalo on May 30, then at Hamilton, Ontario, on June 1. The Indian shoot opens at Niagara-on-the-Lake on July 1. The Grand International is at St. Thomas on July 29, 30 and 31, and from there the tourney will go directly to Chicago, where the Grand American starts on July 7. This is followed by the big tourney at the Toronto Exhibition, and the Hooper tourney at Atlantic City, N.J., closes the year one week after that.

AS TO BUILDING UP THE BASEBALL CLUB

Ida Admits That Toronto Club Owners Are Doing Their Best.

By Ida L. Webster.
To give credit where credit is due, we must all gladly admit that Messrs. Solomon and McCaffery are doing their utmost to rebuild the Toronto Baseball Club. Just how it got into such a mess nobody seems to know, but the aforementioned gentlemen are now making every effort to bring this season's club to at least a reasonable standard. They have already had the good sense to put new faces to the line up, and from the advance notices these new birds must be 100 per cent good should only one of them live up to the press agent's descriptive powers it will be a wonderful star.

We understand that there are also two new infielders booked for the Toronto Club, but their identity is veiled behind that cloud mystery which is supposed to be such an incentive, not only to the scribe, but also to the palpitating public. The president also announced that some of the players would join the Leafs en route, while others would report directly to the club.

An argument has arisen between a few fans as to whether the Toronto Baseball Club virtually owes anything to the public or not. Our personal opinion is that there is absolutely no doubt of the fact, because we were in the city when the Toronto club was organized, and we know that the Toronto club would not be a baseball club, yet they are business men, and every sense of the word, and they would not operate for other than profit.

But the people of the city did not would sell their holdings to a second-hand dealer, and put their money in a munition plant, and put their tax money in the hands of a man who is not directly responsible for the ball pay the expenses of the whole shabang, and you have a perfect right to have your money in the hands of ball players who are employed. Baseball is a public utility, it is a public amusement, the express benefit of the public, and for that reason it is a public utility.

Naturally, then, the Toronto Baseball Club, like any other public utility, owes the public its very life, and when the same jaded, world-weary public patronize the ball, it is the proper duty of the club to give the public a fair exchange for their money.

Players have been known to resent remarks by the fans to the extent of getting into a quarrel with the fans, and those who do so are usually on their own. The normal amount of sense knows that he cannot buck public opinion, and that the public comes his means of livelihood. However, there must be a word said in defence of the player, because there have been occasions when fans have hurled the most dire insults at the men on the field. Under such conditions the player would be justified in dealing with the offender in his own way, but unfortunately, the sort of fan who insults a player is also a pack of cowardly pigs with him, who would swear to anything in the court of justice to harm and ruin a citizen.

Cobb Was Modest.
A world-wide instance of this sort of thing was Cobb, when he went into Chicago stadium to beat an almost unbeatable team. He was a fan almost to death, but the regrettable part of it was that he did not break the white-livered beast's neck.

So Mr. Fan, also you are part owner in the Toronto Ball Club, and you have a perfect right to free speech in this free country, a little bit careful as to how you use it. It is also the duty of every citizen to be able to tell the truth, and if you are not able to do so, you are not fit to be a citizen.

Having proven, we trust to your satisfaction, that all baseball clubs are absolutely public utilities, it is well to remind you that the season opens here in a few days, and in order for you to keep your membership in good standing, you should be on hand and help to give the boys a regular reception. As the members of the press are supposed to be helped by their various papers to tell you the exact state of affairs, in baseball, as in everything else, let them know, let them be done, but you be a good fellow and honest.

CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS FOR HORSES AND DOGS

That horses and dogs are doing real war work, and that their saving is of more value at the present than at any other time, is the way the public is asked to recognize the campaign in their behalf which will take the shape of a Tag Day to be carried out by the Toronto Humane Society on May 25.

At the organization meeting held at the King Edward Hotel yesterday, with Mrs. J. J. Dickson, president of the society, in the chair, and Col. Dinick as organizer, the meeting was reminded that the horse and the dog were doing real war work; that at the front it was the horse that drew the gun to position, that he might lose his life in the doing of it; the dog was the keenest in the reconnoitering party in No Man's Land, and also the valuable assistance to the Red Cross ambulance. More than at any other time the value to humanity of these animals was being keenly realized, and it was with this in view that the Humane Society was placing $25,000 as its objective in this campaign.

The work of organization was gone into, when the names of all willing to act as captains were recorded in a register in charge of Mrs. Ambrose Small. Any who were not present yesterday may notify the secretary, Miss George, of their willingness to work, and of the district desired. More captains are needed, as it is the intention to make a house-to-house and a store-to-store canvass, also to organize the outlying districts more than on former occasions.

On Wednesday at 2 p.m. a meeting of captains and their workers will be held at the King Edward, when prominent speakers will address the gathering. It is expected that Sir John Hendrie, Sir Edmund Walker and Norman Somerville will give addresses.

PLANT LICE.

Plant lice are the enemies of almost all kinds of plants. They are known as "Aphids" and "Green Flies." They attack and destroy vegetables at an appalling rate, living solely on the juice which they suck from the plants. They multiply rapidly and should be controlled before they cause the leaves to curl or the stems to wither.

"Vegetable plants cannot produce crops of value if they are allowed to become weakened as a result of the attack of plant lice. They make their appearance early in the season and as soon as they are noticed the plants should be sprayed either with white-oil soap (one pound dissolved in six gallons of warm water) or commercial nicotine sulphate (40 per cent.) as sold by seedmen and as recommended on the cans. Half a pound of laundry soap should be dissolved in every ten gallons of water.

ROOT MAGGOTS.

If you are planting out cabbage and cauliflower this week they should be protected from rot maggot attack by placing around the stems a disc made of one-ply tarred felt paper. For small crops, square discs may be cut with a sharp knife. These should be 2 1/2 inches by 2 1/2 inches, with a slit running from one side to about a quarter of an inch beyond the centre and a cross cut made at the centre extending one-quarter of an inch in either side. The discs should be placed in the soil at the end of the planting point upward and thus fit close to the stem.

The whole disc is then pressed down firmly so that it will rest evenly on the ground and prevent the adult flies reaching the stem near the earth to lay their eggs from which the maggots develop.

WILD FLOWERS
BY Rachael R. Todd, M.D.

THE EARLY SAXIFRAGE.
Saxifraga Virginiana.

"Or under leaves of thickest shade,
Was such a stillness e'er diffused
Since Earth grew calm while angels mused!"—Wordsworth.

The early Saxifrage is one of Ontario's earliest and commonest wild flowers of April, late or early according to the clemency of the month, and is, as well, one of the most interesting.

The Saxifrages are all interesting little plants, very hardy, very persistent, and love to spread themselves in loose colonies where the ground is favorable and where they are left in undisturbed possession of their own peculiar haunts.

As a rule the Saxifrages love dry and apparently infertile soil, and if that soil is inclined to be a bit strong so much the more do these little rock-breakers flourish. For they are rock-breakers, and so their name signifies. Many of the species are literally hidden away in crevices and cracks and clefts of the rocks which their persistent boring little roots have penetrated.

The early flowering species, however, that we speak of today is a lover of hillsides, or sunny dry fields, or silent dusty and half-deserted waysides.

The plants come up in thick bright green rosetts of leaves, of a blunted oblong shape, with very short stems, and the edges of these leaves are crenated or finely toothed sometimes. In the centre of the thick roset-mass of leaves comes up the flower stalk, which may shoot up to quite ten or twelve inches. The blossoms come in a close flat cluster, and are snow white, with five petals. There is no special fragrance to the blossoms, although they bear a fairly thick nectar which attracts the bees and insects, and thus pollination is accomplished.

After the blossoms disappear a purplish-brown pod develops, which is full of overflowing with tiny seeds.

While the Saxifrage is not one of our most fascinating plants from some points of view, it should be known, because it is very common here in Ontario, and indeed so much so that it stands in much danger of earning the reputation of a weed. However, when one comes upon a strong thick colony of the plants, especially just before the flower spikes have commenced to shoot up, the sight is very pretty, the rosetts of thick shiny green presenting an unusual as well as attractive sight.

The Saxifrages are hard-lived plants, many of them spreading very far north. As a rule the blossoms are quite inconspicuous.

One variety, the Golden Saxifrage, differs from the rest of the family in its dwelling place. Quite early blooming, it springs up in many cold and damp spots here in Ontario, and the yellow-green flowers often slightly tinged or streaked with purple are really beautiful.

The Indians valued all the Saxifrages for their various medicinal qualities. Some of the species were used as the root, some offered their leaves and stems, and others were valued for the volatile oil yielded by the crushed seed pods.

Ottawa, May 14.—During consideration of the estimates of the department of railways and canals in the house of commons tonight an item of $500,000 for construction of the Trent Canal caused some discussion.
