FORMATION OF A CONSERVATIVE CLUB LAST NIGHT.

All Classes of Conservatives to Have a Central Rallying Place—Exciting Time With the Young Men—Speakers on the Political Crisis—Sir Charles Tupper Congratulated.

The formation of a Liberal-Conservative Club for Toronto and vicinity was decided on last evening after an animated discussion in the Melinda-street club room. Conservatives from all the ward associations were present.

A resolution congratulating Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., on his victory in Cape Breton, was also passed.

On the platform were C. C. Robinson, who presented W. F. Orr; M. P. E. King Dodds, Mr. J. Greer, D. M. Defoe, Folls, Johnson, R. S. Nevile, George S. Poole, James Baird, S. A. Jones, C. H. Macdonald, Joseph Poole, Dr. Johnston, Thomas Hurst, W. F. Summerhayes, W. B. Newsome, J. Edgar, and ex-Mayor Clarke.

The President's Explanation.

The chairman, as president of the Young Conservative Club, gave the reasons for the desire for a change and for the calling of a meeting of those loyal to the Conservative party. The designation "Young" had been fully explained, as while the members were 35 years of age and upwards, it was desirable to extend the scope and usefulness of the club. There should be a rallying place for all young Conservatives, whether young or old.

There had been no convenient accessible place where information could be had as to registration, voters' lists, etc. It was believed that this extension of the club would be a tower of strength to the party. It would not infringe on any ward association, but would co-operate with, assist, strengthen and fortify every existing association. There would be a blue book and political information, and a better opportunity for exchange of ideas. In conclusion, the chairman said: We all belong to one good, thoroughgoing body.

Those who are striving to bring to the best issues questions in which the welfare of the Dominion is inseparably connected (Applause). We are now on the eve of another of the great battles that ever was fought in this country. In order to win that battle we must have a thorough organization and work hand in hand. To this end the present Conservative Club will be a great aid. (Applause.)

The Member for East York.

Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., who was about to leave for Ottawa, was loudly cheered on rising. He replied: I am glad to be here to-night, because I see before me the men who carry the elections in the city of Toronto. (Applause.) It is the best meeting of Conservative workers I have seen for several years. Here are men from all parts of the city, from East York and from West York. I hope your election results will prove equally to be for the good of the party.

We are on the eve of the most momentous election which has taken place in the history of the Dominion. That the Conservative party are now under trial, I believe they will come out as victors. (Applause.) I believe that we are going to win this election. The great thing is that the Government of this country should be efficiently carried on. The Conservative party has shown itself to be the best and most able to carry on the Government. (Applause.) I have faith in the Conservative party will get rid of its present troubles. As far as this city and district is concerned I believe if you are thoroughly united and elect four good men for Toronto, as will be the case, probably two for the East and West York, and one for North York as I believe you are going to do, we shall continue to hold the government of the country. (Applause.)

I am as you can hear, (received a applause) going to Ottawa to-night. We have got to face the beast to-morrow morning—(laughter)—but I believe we shall come out on top and go to the front. The idea is to get before us, I will take good care to tell my fellow members and friends to-morrow morning that the heart of Toronto is true and solid for the Conservative party and its principles. I believe that not only here but in all the provinces we will have a larger Conservative majority than ever before. (Applause.)

A Conservative Resolution.

Mr. J. O. Orr moved a resolution on the lines of the chairman's speech, and setting forth the manifold benefits which may be expected to result from the formation of a Liberal-Conservative and rallying place for Conservatives.

Mr. E. King Dodds, in seconding the motion, gave an eloquent exposition of Conservative principles. He glanced at the various speakers and said: I have said that no spot had such a reputation for sound Conservative principles as the Queen City of the West. (Applause.) True Conservatives have done well to unite to avoid divisions and errors of the past. If any disaster should occur to the Conservative party through misdirected efforts at Ottawa, it would be a blow to the common interests of the country. In conclusion, Mr. Dodds eulogized the National Policy, and urged that on this ground all the Conservatives should strain every effort for the maintenance of the Government.

Protests from Young Men.

W. B. Newsome, past-president, did not agree with the dropping of the designation "Young." He contended that the Conservative party than the abandonment of a club for the young men. It was the latter who should be specially catered for, as they were the backbone of the party. The movement now being advocated was, in his opinion, a retrograde one.

The chairman explained that the change of name had been carried unanimously at a well-attended meeting of the club.

Earliest addresses followed from Messrs. Joseph Pocock, E. Dumas, R. S. Nevile, W. F. Summerhayes, Ald. Davies, all favoring the resolution.

Young men endorsed Mr. Newsome's views.

Mr. A. Hinds considered it a great mistake to bring in the elderly members of the club into the proposed club. There were sufficient organizations with the same object in view. The young men had brought up the proposal to its state of prosperity, and he objected to them being swamped.

Opposition from No. 1 Ward. Mr. J. Greer, speaking for No. 1 Ward, said he could not vote for the resolution, as it was evident what might be the strengthening or weakening of the Conservative party. He suggested that the meeting should adjourn for two weeks. There were six ward associations who should have the resolution submitted to them for consideration. The six wards had a central committee which transacted what was proposed by this resolution. The chairman said: The Central and Junction districts fill "a long fat tail," but although the station has been in use for several weeks, there are no seats available for ladies, and the general waiting room is too small for ladies, and other conveniences are wanting.

C.P.R. locomotive 630 ran off the track at the roundhouse this morning, a train of nine cars with two engines, a steam pump three hours before the recent locomotive was retracted. The rails caused the accident.

On Wednesday the West York Sabbath School Association's sixth annual convention was held at Weston.

Mr. King Dodds.

He said that if he thought the adoption of the resolution would in any way retard or injure his association, he would not have seconded it. On the other hand, by adopting the resolution a great step would be taken in strengthening Consistency.

Mr. E. King Dodds, as a young man, opposed the resolution.

Mr. E. King Dodds, said: I am glad to be here to-night, because I see before me the men who carry the elections in the city of Toronto. (Applause.) It is the best meeting of Conservative workers I have seen for several years. Here are men from all parts of the city, from East York and from West York. On Wednesday the Conservative Club will be a great aid. (Applause.)

An Amendment Moved.

The chairman was about to resolve the question, when Mr. Greer protested, and moved an amendment, that the meeting be adjourned for two weeks, in order that members might take counsel of the ward associations.

Ald. Davies seconded this, and one-third of those present supported it.

The original motion was then put and carried by a two-thirds majority.

Congratulating Sir Charles Tupper.

Mr. J. H. McGhee moved: That this meeting of the Liberal-Conservative party of the city of Toronto wishes to make a hearty congratulation to Sir Charles Tupper upon his recent glorious victory in Cape Breton. While congratulating him it wishes also to express its hearty endorsement of the Conservative party.

Ald. Davies seconded this, and one-third of those present supported it.

CANADIAN HISTORICAL EXHIBITION

A crowded gathering supports the proposed exhibition of 1897.

A largely attended meeting, presided over by G. W. Ross, in commemoration of the proposal to hold an Historical Exhibition in Toronto in 1897, the 400th anniversary of Cabot's landing, was held last night in George Hall.

Those present included Rev. C. J. Boulden and Davis Harris, O. A. Howland, P. F. Ridout, Chancellor Burwash, Prof. J. C. Hopkins, Sam. Northcott, etc.

The first resolution approving of the objects of the meeting was proposed by Rev. Dean Harris, seconded by Mr. F. G. French. The latter in a very able speech, said that the time of the political consolidation of the country was the vast one. It was necessary to strike the imagination of the world that Canada had a past, that we have a history and that there was not a part of that history we would wish to rewrite. The speaker said he had faith in the future of the country. Canada was right in asserting her position as the keystone of the greatest empire the world had ever seen.

The second resolution prayed Her Maj. to grant a Royal Charter to the member of the Royal family to open the exhibition in her name. Proposed by Chancellor Burwash, seconded by P. F. Ridout.

The third resolution urged pecuniary aid to the exhibition from the Dominion, Provincial and city governments. Proposed by Prof. Wrong, seconded by J. Castell Hopkins.

His Excellency the Governor-General gave his assent to the resolution.

The resolution was referred to the Queen.

W. A. Ashdown, Ashdown, Ont., writes:

"Parliament's session is now closed and I have not yet had time to go on with my work. I have a great many other makes than I have in stock."

THE WONDERFUL CATHODE RAYS.

Last week Inventor Edison and several of his workmen investigated the mysteries of cathode rays during a continuous session of seventy hours, during which time they neither had sleep nor partook of regular meals, the only nourishment taken by them being odd snatches of provisions that were sent to them. A similar degree of enthusiasm in regard to this discovery is being manifested among scientific men the world over. Application for the necessary apparatus to experiment with the Roentgen process is so great that it will be several weeks before the demand can be filled. The photographing of bodies through opaque substances is already being abandoned and the keenest search is now being made after new characteristics of the rays. The most wonderful claims are being made in its favor, and extraordinary developments are expected at any time. A marvelous story comes from New York, and as it is vouches for by eminent scientists there is no reason why it should be doubted. One of the experiments tried by scientists in New York was designed to procure a photograph of the internal mechanism of a mouse. In order to obtain a tractable subject, one of these animals was immersed in water for 15 minutes. It was then taken out and found to be completely devoid of life. To secure the photograph desired, the animal was then exposed to the cathode rays. After watching the process for 15 minutes, the experimenter was astonished to observe the tail of the mouse in motion. The feet also began to have evident signs of life. An obstruction was placed between the cathode rays and part of the body to observe the effect of this would have. By degrees vitality seemed to return to the animal and it was noticed to squirm as it anxious to get its whole body under the influence of the rays. So quickly was life restored that the experimenter was unable to complete his photograph as he had wished. The mouse finally became as active as a cricket, and is to-day full of life as he ever was. For the mouse the experience was a veritable resurrection. This is a single instance of a hundred different ones along which investigations are being pursued. The scientists are full of hope, and no one need be surprised if some marvelous discovery is unfolded to the world within the next few weeks.

AN ALDERMANIC JANGLE.

A NUMBER OF COUNCILMEN WHO TALK BUT ACCOMPLISH NOTHING.

The Works Committee Discusses the Aqueduct Scheme in an Unruly Manner—The Basic Matter Again Referred to a Sub-committee—A Movement to Be Awash with the Overrunning of Street Cars.

Those who predicted that the new members of the City Council would prove to be leather-tongued wranglers were about correct. The meeting of the Board of Works yesterday was one of the most unruly that had yet been held. Chairman Lamb was forced a number of times to call the members of his committee to order on account of unparliamentary language. The principal offender was Mr. William Thomas Rockett Preston, an employee of the Ontario Government, who is also an alderman, and who earned his reputation as a somewhat wily talker while stamping the country in behalf of the Government. His expressions at times were none of the choicer, and caused that veteran of the council, Ald. Boustead, to remark that in all his experience as an alderman, he had never heard such remarks made at a committee meeting.

The King Bee Lobbyist

The committee room was packed almost to suffocation by "rooters" for the aqueduct. Among them was a Mr. Sexton, a defeated aldermanic candidate in the Fourth Ward. This gentleman in the addition to the City Hall ghosts, and is known as "The Dark Angel." He was there morning and afternoon, and appears to be playing a deep-thinking part. It is rumored that he is the capitalist who is at the back of the Aqueduct Company.

The Sinking Fund Inquiry.

The most important business that was transacted before the committee was the reorganization of Mr. Keating's staff, but, as some further information was desired, discussion was deferred until the next meeting. The afternoon was spent in discussing the proposed electric light agreement with the aqueduct.

—On the Aqueduct.

Ald. Boustead, chairman of the sub-committee appointed to consider the power of the city to enter into an agreement with the Aqueduct Company, reported that his committee would have no further instructions from the council before anything could be done. He gave a history of the question from its inception. It concerned with a canal which cost about $50,000. There was nothing left of the proposition, but a proposal to build a dam at the Humber and the company required aid to the same.

The Druggists Have Their Turn.

The druggist is an important factor in all civilized communities. He is generally well posted on "men and things." He is quick to recognize merit in the medicines he handles. Hear what they tell of stories that might be enacted, have seen about Pinenail, New Lung Remedy:

R. W. Chambers, druggist, Blenheim, Ont., writes: "Pinenail is taking off now. A new remedy of years sold as fast."

J. L. Luckham, druggist, Glencoe:

"Pinenail is a popular remedy in this locality."

P. Robert, druggist, Penetanguishene, recently elected representative of the Pharmacists' Association to the College of Pharmacy, writes: "Pinenail I have had in stock but a few weeks, yet only one customer has come to me for it. It is being measured and placarded showing the number of people each car should carry."

Ald. Crane said Hubbard was appointed a sub-committee on hospitals. The City Engineer asked for $5000 for snow clearing purposes. The request was sent on to council.

The Kenting Economy Deferred.

The most important business that was transacted before the committee was the reorganization of Mr. Keating's staff, but, as some further information was desired, discussion was deferred until the next meeting. The afternoon was spent in discussing the proposed electric light agreement with the aqueduct.

—On the Aqueduct.

Ald. Preston, replying to Ald. Boustead, said that the City Solicitor, in giving his opinion, had been "loaded up" by someone.

Mr. Fullerton was sent for and denied that he had expressed any opinion but his own.

Ald. Leslie objected to Mr. Fullerton not giving an opinion when he was the City Solicitor whom the question was referred. Mr. Fullerton explained that he was there for the purpose of being consulted by Mr. Caswell when necessary.

Ald. Boustead asked that every important question, who is the president of the Company? None of its members ever came to the Hall. There was no one that any information could be procured from him. Ald. Boustead and Ald. Leslie, who were the only persons who were trying to procure a franchise for some unknown parties.

The Mayor said he did not think the day was far distant when the city would do its own lighting, as it should have done long ago.

Talk That Was Straight to the Point.

Ald. Hubbard said the city was dealing with a myth, as he had been unable to find any persons who would admit that they were working against the company. He claimed that Ald. Boustead and Preston were working against the best interests of the city. He doubted if some of the aldermen who were

THE COLONEL'S MENAGERIE.

A Variegated Lot of Petty Offenders Before the Police Magistrate Yesterday Morning.

A successful alibi caused the dismissal of the assault case preferred by a tailor named Fred Frank against Arthur Wilbur and Harry Howard, two of the men charged.

Another case arising out of the tailors' trouble is that of George Blackie, who is charged with having threatened W. J. Crowley. For a Blackie was committed for trial at the sessions, Joseph Johnston was sentenced to three months in the Central for breaking into the residence of E. G. Ross & Co., 573 Queen-street West, and stealing some small articles. William Henderson, who was said to have been associated with Johnston in the offence, was discharged for lack of evidence.

Jennings Mann was convicted of obstructing the police while they were searching her premises at Queen and Toronto-streets for liquor, but she was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Owing to the absence of material evidence the Crown called off the case. At the close of the departmental year there were 121 irrigation ditches and canals constructed in the Territories.

George Mitchell, 53 Arthurs-street, was fined $4 and costs for snowballing.

Ronald J. Smith, charged with embezzling $50 from the Athletic Life Publishing Company, was remanded till to-day.

Richard McBrian was fined $2 and costs of 30 days for "shooting craps" on the street.

SCARBORO CONSERVATIVES.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers at Borden Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Township of Scarborough Liberal-Conservative Association was held yesterday at Borden's Hall. Present were James Chester, A. W. Mason, Alexander Baird, William Chapman, David Isbell, Stob, Andrew Reeves, Charles Humphrey, Walter Secor, Thomas Jackson, James Cornell, Thomas Jennings, Edward Collins, Thomas Parker, Herbert J. Stob, John Stob, Galbraith, Charles Bannan, John Stob, F. E. Summerhayes and Robert McLeod.

Mr. A. W. Mason, who has had the office of secretary-treasurer of the association since its formation, will retire.

Ald. Hubbard maintained that the company that had been received, had not helped him through the aqueduct and now they should be blamed. He was sick of traveling with the crowd, and advised that no further consideration should be given to the company, as there was a waste of time and money.

Ald. Boustead, chairman of another committee being appointed that would meet with the company.

Ald. Hubbard maintained that the company was one of a sub-committee to draw up an agreement with the company, with the aqueduct as the main feature, and caused that veteran of the council, Ald. Boustead, to remark that in all his experience as an alderman, he had never heard such remarks made at a committee meeting.

MORE PEDDLAR'S WRITS.

Items of Interest in and About Osgoode Hall—The Preceptory List for To-Day.

Toronto is likely to have lots of litigation on her hands before the last is heard of the Privy Council reversal of the Ontario judgment. The new suits were brought yesterday by John Smallridge and Herbert S. Peters.

It is said that the late P. J. Brown's birth at Osgoode Hall will not be filed, but that the office which he held will be abolished.

In the case of Patrick v. Walbourne, Chief Justice Meredith upheld the finding of the Falcondale J. that, although the mechanics lien as against the owner binds his estate and interest in the full price of the work or materials, the mortgagee's security is not affected unless there is a material increase in the work or materials represented in the lien.

In McGuinness v. Dafoe, an action brought against a Justice of the Peace for alleged malicious arrest and false imprisonment, judgment was reserved on appeal.
