MARINERS CONSIDER SCHOONER EMERALD LOST FOR THIRTEEN DAYS SHE HAS BEEN UNREPORTED PROBABLY FOUNDERED DURING RECENT STORMS

With the Heavy Cargo She Carried She Hadn't the Ghost of Chance, Says One.

A man who has a practical and extensive knowledge of lake craft and lake navigation, told "The World" that he did not think the "Emerald" had a ghost of a chance, unless she had managed to get in behind some island, or in some bay, and was wind-bound. But this is improbable for thirteen days have passed since she was reported anywhere. There was a chance that the squall may have driven her so far out of her course, and that she was so much disabled that she might be able to only make slow headway, in case she was trying to make a port. But if she was so badly injured that she was leaking she would not stay afloat very long, owing to her heavy cargo.

BERRY LITTLE HOPE.

In the opinion of marine men, there seems to be every reason to fear that disaster has overtaken the schooner Emerald, which left for Fairhaven three weeks ago last Tuesday for a cargo of coal for the Toronto Electric Light Company. Those on board were Capt. McMaster of this city; his son Walter; John Slight, mate, of Port Hope; John Selkirk of Picton, 40 years of age, married, and with two children; John Bohman of Picton, about 24, unmarried; a Frenchman from Odgensburg, and the woman cook, Mrs. Wright of St. Catharines.

The recent tempestuous weather on the lake is thought to be too much for the schooner. It is said that the Emerald reached within 25 miles of this city and then had to put in to Charlotte, which port she left a week ago last Sunday, about 4 p.m., where Capt. McMaster was seen by Capt. Van Vliet of the Van Allen, now in Toronto harbor, which left about 5:30, and which an hour later exchanged salutes with the ill-fated craft. The Emerald then ran off into the open lake, about 10 miles from Charlotte. About midnight a heavy storm blew up from the south-east with rain and then had to put in a few hours later. She was rated A-2 at last spring's inspection, had a capacity of 100 tons of coal; was owned by Capt. McMaster, and cost about $6000. Altogether some twenty years ago, at Port Dalhousie, she was equipped for sea-worthy.

How Many Have Reached Home?

Capt. Van Vliet, who says he expects she was a three-master—may have fallen to the deck, smashing holes, through which the high seas, raising the waves to a considerable height. There is a considerable boat traffic even at this time of the year from the Welland Canal to Kingston, and a good live-saving service along the south shore, but the Emerald was hardly to be seen at that part of the lake and its whereabouts were unknown. The mate, John Slight, said last night that while hope even yet might reasonably be entertained that the schooner had not been lost, the chances were otherwise. Still, the mate might have been wrong. The schooner, which would account for its disappearance and the fact that no communication had been received from Capt. McMaster.

Capt. McMaster Pays the Way.

Capt. McMaster paid the way for the Emerald last night. Yesterday afternoon, at Kingston, the Emerald was reported to have been lost. Like Ontario was so large that a vessel could hide away from the eyes of the land. It is the opinion that the Emerald did not founder, for she was a very staunch vessel and was built for the lake. The wind was from the east, and when she was seen at Kingston, she was from Kingston to Charlotte at the same time. It was only reasonable to surmise that the Emerald did not suffer in that manner. He thinks that one of her timber ports may have given way, causing her to sink.

Was a Well-Known Sailor.

Capt. McMaster is about 50 years of age and has been sailing on the lake for about five years, previous to which time he lived at Deseronto. He owned and sailed the schooner Emerald and the schooner "Picton," owned by himself and Allan, securing the Emerald three years ago. He was a sailor and a fisherman, and before he was a sailor he was a fisherman. He was with the Rathbun Company at Deseronto. Capt. McMaster leaves a wife and three children, and two other sons, Herbert, also a sailor, and Frank. He was married 30 years ago, his wife being Mrs. Mary Carter, daughter of Thomas Carter of Deseronto.

Chicago Welcoming Cattle Canadian Well to the Fore

Secretary Wilson of the U.S. Promises to Come to Guelph Fat Stock Show.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—(Staff Special.)—Canada, and the Canadians are much in evidence around the big pavilion where the International Live Stock Exposition opens to-morrow. Hundreds of stalls hold the fine animals from all parts of the Dominion, and the Maple Leaf and the Union Jack are gracefully entwined amid the decorations. While Ontario and Manitoba have the largest number of exhibits from Canada, the Dominion generally is well represented. The sheep of Canada are here in the largest number, but carriage and harness horses, heavy draught animals and blooded cattle are well represented from Canada. In fact, the public is exhibiting the most marked interest in the exhibits from across the line, and the tributes paid to the sagacity and the care of the Canadian breeders and to the Dominion generally is sufficient to make the citizen of the British possessions to the north proud of the progress of his country in this branch of its industry.

His Large Scope.

The association is really composed of the breeders of the States, Canada and England, but official representatives are here from Mexico, Brazil and many other countries. The breeders of the States are giving very particular attention to the Canadian exhibits in an effort to prevent the importation of prize animals, as they did last year. The exhibitors are all of the highest quality, experts freely admit the Dominion leads. There are over 12,000 exhibits from all parts of the world. W. S. Ferguson of Scotland, who is here to judge the bulls, goes to honor the Guelph show in this respect. Many of the exhibits here are to be sent to Guelph, and many of the officials from that city are in the crowd to Guelph following the close here next week.

Hon. John Dryden, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Mr. Hodson and other Canadian officials are expected to participate in the opening to-morrow. Many governors of states are here and live stock associations will hold meetings during the exposition. The Secretary of Agriculture for the United States is here, and to the World tonight observes that he expected to be in Guelph with several other American officials. He added that his inspection of the Canadian animals filled him with amazement. He knew Canadian breeders were so far in the lead of the boasted blooded herd books of the States.

Prize for Canada.

Mr. Ferguson, the Scotch expert, observed that the World from Canada was the best ever gathered for an exhibition, and would establish for the time the high percentage of first prizes. Street fairs are selling buttons with the Maple Leaf and the Union Jack entwined around the neck of the King and the Queen. They are freely purchased by the thousands of exhibitors and visitors from the Dominion. Along the Canadian continent they are they are threatened with a well-earned case of the swelled head, so warmly will they be greeted and so loudly is the flag of the country cheered, to say nothing of the comment the preliminary inspection of their exhibits has provoked.

The Dexter pavilion is supplemented by a circus tent, covering two blocks, by the overflows.

TIME NOT OPPORTUNE.

To Consider Reciprocity With Canada, Says Mr. Payne.
Washington, Nov. 27.—The United States House of Representatives met to-day and adjourned until Tuesday. Mr. Williams (Miss.) protested against the inactivity of the House. He said that there were matters which the Ways and Means Committee already organized could consider, citing among other things the resolution relative to Canadian reciprocity.

Mr. Payne (New York) said that the Republicans would hardly care to take up the question of tariff revision and disturb conditions on the eve of a Presidential campaign. He also said the time was not opportune to consider reciprocity with Canada.

FARMERS NEED NOT FEAR.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Nov. 28.—The Hon. T. A. Brasse, addressing his constituents at Rye yesterday, said that farmers need not fear that Chamberlain's policy would raise the cost of machinery. THAT CAMPAIGN FUND.

Mr. Whitney hasn't much to be thankful for to Mr. J. W. Flavelle, his newspaper, The News, or its editor, Mr. J. S. Willison.

Mr. Flavelle has supplied information to Mr. Willison to the effect that Mr. Whitney in 1902 had a conference with the members of the Ontario Conservative Association, an association of "eight or ten prominent citizens of Toronto, naturally of Conservative leaning" who had decided to organize to combat corruption and had raised a fund for that purpose. At this conference we are told "Mr. Whitney asked the members of the association to take charge of the campaign fund in connection therewith" (the election of 1902). This was assented to, and all told $28,800 was raised "and expended in the elections and the postscript thereafter."

These facts are admitted, rather are confessed and corroborated by the further confession of two Conservatives who were retained in the election and who testified in court that they pocketed the appropriation made them out of this fund.

Mr. Willison and Mr. Flavelle are bound to go further and tell us who made up "the group," "the eight or ten prominent citizens of Toronto, naturally of Conservative leaning" who supplied the $28,800 spent by the association in behalf of Mr. Whitney and his friends. The Globe is using this confession with somewhat deadly effect—rather could use it with deadly effect were it not seeking to cover up the charges of corruption made against the Liberals and Mr. Ross. The Globe says two things: That even if the fund were not used corruptly other money from another fund may have been used corruptly, and that these gentlemen of the association in doing the legitimate left their friends of the party free to raise funds for things not legitimate. The Globe also says and says truly that because money is legitimately spent it does not follow that there was no corruption, understanding that the contributors of the $28,800 were to receive recognition or consideration for their contributions from Mr. Whitney or his party if they came into power. In other words "The Globe hints and Saturday Night in effect states that the $28,800 were of the class known as "corporation grafters." It is even said that some of these contributors gave much larger sums to the Liberals, and that while Mr. Whitney's friends confess that he drew out of the corporation fund in a little tin cup or pannikin the Liberals got tubs and patent pails full from the same source. But this The Globe and Mr. Ross stoutly deny. Mr. Willison at least admits to the tin-cup draught.

To remove this impression, that the Globe is trying to create Mr. Willison is bound to expand his history of the fund question. He must name his men, and the public will soon ascertain their status as "corporationists."

In the meantime let the public not be led away by the confession made by Mr. Willison that no fund was raised for the Liberals. Mr. Willison in an article published in The News of Feb. 2, 1902, says:

Monopolist and franchise-holding corporations, large financial institutions, whose success depends on the use of certain natural resources, and other capital enterprises, are undeniably unpopular with the public, and unquestionably on good terms with every government in the country. They are denounced with freedom and are given what they want. The Liberal party has tried itself on its championship of the plain people; the Ontario government is handling the Niagara power question in the interests of capitalists, who wish to be the middlemen to take toll of the public. The Liberal party boasts itself the founder of municipal institutions in Ontario; the Ontario legislature refused to allow Toronto to protect itself from excessive charges for electrical energy, and the Ontario government gave the permission to the city to elect the representatives of two Toronto monopolies. It would be difficult for a capitalist active in association with corporations to find an Ontario constituency which would elect him. It would be still more difficult for a capitalist to find the electors of Ontario to prevent a group of capitalists from getting a charter upon which they had their desire. It is a fixed principle that a Canadian government will be friendly to capitalists and corporations.

The reason for this is primarily that the capitalists know how to manage governments and the parties which back the governments or may back future governments are not so curious art. It has been developed to a high pitch of efficiency, and it is practiced with superb success.

CITIZENS SHOW INTEREST IN EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS

Committee Formed Last Night to Select Suitable Candidates for New Board of Education.

The call issued thru a citizens committee for a meeting of citizens to discuss the constitution of the Board of Education for the ensuing year resulted in a large and representative gathering at Association Hall last night, 1902. This was assented to, and all told $28,800 was raised "and expended in the elections and the postscript thereafter."

CHICAGO MURDERERS SHOT

police for complicity in the murders at the car barn of the Chicago City Railroad Company on Aug. 30, when two men were killed, a third badly wounded and $2500 stolen from the company. Gustav Marx, the last man to be shot, was shot by Officer John Quinn, when the policeman endeavored to place him under arrest, confessed after his capture, that he, in company with the three men, committed the crimes at the car barn. The hunt for Van Dine, Niedermeyer and Roski has been not over since. Although the entire police force was looking for them, the three men remained in the city all Wednesday morning.

Word was brought to the police last night by T. S. Hetcher, a school teacher near Clark Station, Ind., that three men answering the description of the men wanted for the car barn murders were living in a dug-out. Other stories later placed the men near Washtenaw, Ill., and the police, placing no great reliance in any of the rumors, sent only eight men, Detectives Zimmerman, DeRoche, Qualey, Gleason, Sheehan, Driscoll, Bauer and Hughes, to the dug-out. Sheehan being placed in charge of the squad.

Fight at the Dug-Out. The men reached the dug-out about 8 o'clock, guided by Hetcher. As soon as they were in sight of the place, the officers advanced in a circle upon the dug-out, where the robbers were supposed to be hiding. One of the men who was walking in closer than the others, called out:

"Don't anybody fire," ordered Sheehan, "until we know if they are the right people."

As Sheehan spoke, Driscoll picked up a chunk of wood and hurled it at the dug-out. Instantly there was a flash, a report and Driscoll fell in a heap, shot through the abdomen. One of his fellow-officers stooped to raise him, and the other six opened fire on the fugitives, from which the shots were soon coming thick and fast. While the men were at this hottest, Van Dine and Roski rushed out, followed a few minutes later by Niedermeyer. The latter ran to the tracks of the Michigan Central Railroad, and throwing himself flat on the ground, he kept up a rapid fire with three revolvers. Roski ran for the brush, but Van Dine retreated slowly, also the air around him was filled with bullets, and the snow at his feet was kicked up by concussion.

When Van Dine heard that Mayor Harrison was coming into the room, he straightened up, tried to smooth down Niedermeyer's hair, which was stiff and matted with blood, and taking a small mirror from a pocket, he gazed at his reflection in the light of a lamp. Both men admitted that Marx had sold essentially the truth in connecting them with the various crimes charged up against them, and said that they did not intend to flee Chicago.

"I hit two men," said Niedermeyer, "I don't know if I killed anybody." "You killed the man who shot me," said Driscoll, "and the man who shot me."

"Why, sure, certainly," said Van Dine, with a laugh. "I don't know if I killed anybody." "You killed the man who shot me," said Driscoll, "and the man who shot me."

"I suppose that means," said Chief of Police O'Neill, "that you were going to commit robbery." "Why, sure, certainly," said Van Dine, with a laugh.

"I don't know if I killed anybody," said Driscoll, "and the man who shot me." "You killed the man who shot me," said Driscoll, "and the man who shot me."

management of our political parties which makes it so particularly subtle is that the capitalists remain neutral. They have always had party affiliations; they keep them up; and it is quite possible that many men, either altogether failing to realize that their interests are opposed to the public good, or perhaps from a mistaken notion that this is not the case, are to some extent unconscious of the effect produced on the party by their membership.

They are rich men, and their parties need money more than their fellow-citizens. The man who places the old politician in the period of combination and organization in the conventional way, and acquires increasing influence in the inner councils of the parties because of the increasing dependence on his part workers and will in elections in an apathetic community.

A COMMITTEE OF THE LEGISLATURE, WHEN LEGISLATION IN WHICH SOME CORPORATIONS ARE INVOLVED IS UP FOR DISCUSSION, PRESENTS A CURIOUS STUDY.

ONE OF TWO MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNMENT WHICH DREW ITS LAST ELECTION FUND, IN PART AT LEAST, FROM THE CORPORATION; A NUMBER OF MEMBERS OF THE DOMINANT PARTY, WHOSE INTERESTS ARE OPPOSED TO THAT OF THE CORPORATION, WHOSE CAMPAIGN FUND ON THE SAME OCCASION WAS DRAWN FROM THE CORPORATION.

THE SAME PURSE: A LAWYER OR TWO RETAINED BY THE CORPORATION WHO ARE ACTIVE SUPPORTERS AND CLOSE FRIENDS OF THE GOVERNMENT; PERHAPS A MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATURE WHO ALSO DREW THE CORPORATION'S CONTRIBUTION TO HIS OWN FUND.

WHAT CHANCE HAS THE GENERAL PUBLIC? The political parties deserve little sympathy in the evil case in which they find themselves, for they may be blind to the fact that their grip upon the situation has been slipping away, and that they have ceased to be taken seriously by the people. But it is unfortunate for the general public, for the fact that the situation has been slipping away, and that they have ceased to be taken seriously by the people. Dwenger Express' Way of Settling Massachusetts Affairs.

Tokio, Nov. 27.—The Express Dwenger of China is tormented day and night by the Manchurian question and the Lizard crisis and, womanlike, has appealed to the gods for help.

She lately made a vow before the Buddha of Wanshouwan Temple that if Manchurian affairs are satisfactorily settled by next November she will spend all the money (estimated at $5,000,000) promised by the high officers of China for the celebration of her seventieth birthday, next year, in building more temples, beautifying the present ones and doing other good works pleasing to the gods.

A FAR-REACHING COMPACT.

At the banquet given on Thursday, in Paris, to the members of the British parliament returning the visit to London of the French Senators and Deputies, the Premier of France paid a tribute to the official head of the empire.

The beneficial effect of the special friendship so happily inaugurated is already being felt throughout the many parts of the world where the interests of the two nations touch each other.

the wiser course of conserving our energies. Mr. Annes writes vigorously, and makes a good showing for his plan.

NEGLECTED LOCAL RAILWAYS.

The Brussels Post last week complained of the Grand Trunk train service in Huron and Bruce and adjacent counties. It is common, says The Post, for trains to be 30 minutes behind schedule time, and one instance is given of a delay of an hour and a half.

The trouble is worst on local lines, especially where there is no competition. The passenger on one of the trunk lines from the Detroit River to Montreal probably obtains twice as much for his money as the passenger on some of the local lines, where, as a correspondent says, you pay three cents a mile for third class cars.

COLLEGE MEN IN PUBLIC LIFE.

Premier Ross has been discussing the college man in politics. He points out that the proportion of college men in public life is much smaller in Canada than in England. In the British House of Commons there are 670 members, 370 hold university degrees. In the Canadian Commons are 16 men out of 214 who are graduates in arts.

The Canadian figures would indicate that many lawyers and doctors in Canada are not university graduates, the reason probably being that they want to begin the practice of their profession as early as possible. As lawyers and doctors figure largely in parliament and in the results of university training are lacking in professional as well as in political life. What this training brings they would be different to explain.

As it is not the accumulation of facts, nor even professional skill, but a certain amount of education, which is the basis of the professional man's success, it is not surprising that many of our public men are not university graduates. It is not surprising that many of our public men are not university graduates.

GOOD TYPE OF CANADIAN.

Canada has reason to be proud of her High Commissioner in London, Lord Strathcona is an ardent Imperialist; he is an uncompromising supporter of British connection, and his loyalty is not open to question.

The attention of the Ross government should be called to the vacancy in North Renfrew, which, by the way, has not ceased to exist.

In view of the multiplicity of guesses as to the date of the general elections, somebody is going to be able to say, "I told you so."

Acetylene appears to be a dangerous gas, and it is a kind that the victim doesn't have to blow in order to get into trouble.

The famous eight or ten gentlemen who assembled to abolish corruption will soon rival in notoriety the congregation of barnacles on the Ontario ship of state.

Emperor Bill cannot use his voice, and if Winston Churchill suffered from a similar infirmity he could not have a harder time making an anti-Chamberlain speech.

The Bell Telephone Company has worked itself into a gracious mood, and it will now allow the City Engineer to dig the post holes after the company has located the sites for gas.

Sir Frederick Borden is going to England, but that does not mean that the elections are a long way off. Ballots are slightly more essential to the holding of an election than Sir Frederick Borden.

For attacking the Ross government The Globe is being terrified with threats of vengeance from G. P. Graham, M.L.A. The first thing The Globe knows, it will be cut out of the Brockville Record's exchange list.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF TORONTO.

The revolutionary change made by the Ontario legislature in the school system of Toronto brings the city face to face with a crisis potentially dangerous to its highest educational interests.

A certain amount of inefficiency is inseparable from divided management, but consideration may prove more injurious just because of greater effectiveness of management. The three High Schools and a large and rapidly increasing number of public schools will be brought out of confusion, and a minimum of cost, will tax the administrative ability of the best 12 men in the city.

POLITICAL NOTES

Sir Richard Cartwright will give an address in Association Hall on Thursday evening, Dec. 10. This will be the first of a series of political meetings in this city during the winter, the object being to educate the citizens and draw them away from their Conservative allegiance if possible.

A protest was filed yesterday with T. H. Murray, registrar of the High Court in relation to the election of C. N. Smith to the legislature. General charges of all kinds against the election are made, and discrediting the election are made.

Lord Rosebery and Senator Hale. Chicago Tribune: Lord Rosebery is a free trader. Senator Hale is an out and out protectionist. One hardly would imagine that two men of different minds would be as one regarding the consequences of a proposition that the protective be substituted for the free trade policy.

Senator Hale says: If his plan is carried out by the most adventurous of British politicians, a tariff war will be inaugurated between Great Britain and the United States, and this English politician will seek to set Canada up as a great rival to us, an agricultural rival.

GERMAN VIEW OF BULLER. Haunted With Desire to Prevent Enemy Getting Guns. Berlin, Nov. 26.—No. 32 of the publications issued by the German Staff on experiences in non-European wars, in recent times, which is just out, deals with General Buller's campaign to Colenso and that of General Methuen to Magerfontein.

ARRAIGNED SOCIETY. New York, Nov. 27.—"Tell me, if you can, what can be done to stop men from beating down values and making the properties worthless, on which millions of people of modest fortunes have invested all they have."

RELEEF FUNDS NEEDED. Editor World: Will you kindly allow me to inform the friends interested in the city mission work among the homes of the poor through the city that we have quite a number of cases on our hands which require assistance, and as we are prevented from giving the help that ought to be given, there are many who have been helped, both from the Deacon and relief funds, and I shall be glad to receive contributions for the aid of such cases, which are also multiplying the severity of the winter increases. Contributions sent to me will be duly acknowledged.

THE WABASH. Is the great winter tourist route to the south and west, including Texas, Old Mexico and California, the lands of sunshine and flowers, through standard and tourist sleepers are run through via the Great Southern route, the new and elegant trains on the Wabash are hailed by the finest passenger engines in the world. Every comfort is provided equal to the most modern hotel of the East. Luxurious cars; nothing is wanting to complete one's happiness, and the days and nights pass only too quickly while traveling on the great Wabash line. For rates, routes, etc., address J. H. Richardson, district passenger agent, northeast corner King and Yonge streets, Toronto.

CLAIMED FOR THEIR MONEY. IRELAND, Nov. 27.—Several hundred, indigent stockholders of the Buffalo San Publishing Company claimed at the office of the concern this morning for the money of which they declared they had been robbed. Not an officer of the company was present to talk with the women and boys who represented 95 per cent. of the crowd.

MILLIONAIRE'S WORKHOUSE DEBT. London, Nov. 27.—Mr. McQuinn, the Irish-American "quaker," who was reputed to be worth about a million pounds, and who suddenly left without settling his bill, has now sent £75,000 to Donald W. Johnson to pay for his board and lodging.

DEAD OF POISON. New York, Nov. 27.—Autopsies on the bodies of Mrs. Mary Cusick and Mrs. Julia Ward, who died in the same house yesterday, showed that death was due to some irritant poison, the nature of which could not be determined. The stomachs will be sent to a chemist for analysis.

A SQUIRE OF THE OLDEN TIMES

In the reign of Charles I. there lived in Dorsetshire, says the Leisure Hour, "a fine old English gentleman," one of the olden time of whom a singular record has been preserved. In gold letters under an original portrait of Mr. Hastings, at Wimburn, St. Giles, the following account is said to be "the production of the first Earl of Shaftesbury's pen." It gives a curious glimpse into English country life in the early part of the seventeenth century.

We Paid $100,000

For the rights to Liquezone for America, we paid $100,000. It is the most difficult germ disease; then we bought these rights for the highest price ever paid for a scientific discovery.

Just Oxygen

Liquezone is simply liquid oxygen, no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Paul, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in the lungs as to kill the germ.

The Emanations of Radium

Professor Sir William Ramsay, opening the session of University College, London, last week, lectured on "Recent Researches which have led to the Discovery of the Properties of the Emanations from Radium." A great advance, he said, had been made since it had been manifested that there was a material constituent in these phenomena, one, too, that already co-existed in the air.

The Silent Places

Stewart Edward White in December Outlook. The kind of ceremony is not unknown to the northern Indians, and even the kind of affection sometimes is observed among the more domesticative.

A Suppressed Tennyson Poem

In Harper's for December, J. C. Thompson has collected a large number of Tennyson's Suppressed Poems, some of surprising beauty. Of the one quoted below and referring directly to America, Mr. Thompson writes: "What reason can Tennyson have had for suppressing such stanzas as these?"

We Will Buy

A 50c Bottle of Liquezone and Give It to You to Try.

We Paid $100,000

Liquezone—liquid oxygen—is the only product that can kill germs in the body without killing you. No man knows any other way to destroy the cause of any germ disease.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone kills the germs, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

14 UNION MINERS LOCKED UP

Telluride, Col., Nov. 27.—Fourteen union miners, including Local President G. E. Miller and Secretary Oscar M. Carpenter, charged with conspiracy, have been arrested by sheriff Jutan since the troops arrived in this district.

Child Could Grow Like a Rooster

Witness here last week saw a child who had been neglected for some time. The child was so emaciated that it could hardly stand. It was found in a barn, and its mother said it had been kept there for some time.

Betrayed by Scent

An interesting case occurred not long ago in Paris, where a notorious burglar was arrested solely because he had a peculiarly strong sense of smell. An elderly lady awoke one night to find that the jewel-box at the side of her bed was being robbed by a burly masked man.

The Motherlock

As one woman's mother comforted—Isabel, xvii, 13. You take the young woman, with th' roses in her cheeks, an' all th' birds a-singin' in her voice each day she looks at me, an' she says, 'An' still th' 'ole 'ol' banty ain't more th' n' half way to th' nest.' There ain't a word that tells it; all de-mo-stra-tion deems that lingers in a happy woman's eyes.

Chamberlain's Personality

So Far as his Friends See He Has Two Totally Distinct Lines, One Official, the Other Private.

"I have," said Mr. Chamberlain in his famous Leicester speech, "almost as many friends in the United States as I have here." And the interest taken in Mr. Chamberlain's sayings and doings is not confined to his friends...

Lord Derby once remarked that Mr. Chamberlain—who at the moment (1877-8) was not very prominently before the public—reminded him of the American politician, of whom it was said: "He's a bear, but he ain't going to stay beast!"

But it is not only his policy that interests the public, it is his personality. So far as they see, he lives two totally distinct lives: the one official, about which they think they know everything; the other private, about which they know almost nothing.

He always speaks of being among his own people when addressing a representative Birmingham audience, and since the days when he used to minister into the workingmen's debating club, with velvet jacket and flower in his buttonhole, he has been at home with Birmingham workingmen. One of his admirers thus describes him:

"I remember when I first saw him—he was like a wax figure. As he walked up the room, they called out to him, 'Joey, who's your father?' 'Oh, no! Ain't he a dandy?' they all said. I thought there couldn't be any brains under that get-up—his smart as could be. He was in a velvet coat and red waistcoat, and he had a most beautiful smile on his face. Just as he was looking at you, you'd think there was anything in him, but he'd be silent to speak. He was a 'get-up,' if you like!"

He was not disturbed by their criticisms. The power to see the joke against one's self, and to turn it again against one's opponent, is a valuable asset in public life. Mr. Chamberlain was the eldest of a large family—possibly the only one who, as a rule, spoke over the top of his head.

WHISKERS CAUSE STRIKE. New York, Nov. 27.—Demanding the recognition of their rights as free born American citizens to wield the whip if they so elect, with faces draped in such an array of fur-trimmed ornamentation as to make the streets of New York look like a stable yard, the men employed by the stables that control the stands at five of the biggest hotels and restaurants of the city, went on a strike yesterday.

Ever since the Jameson raid the ex-colonial and the relations between Mr. Chamberlain and the late Mr. Rhodes have been a source of unending trouble. Mr. Chamberlain was one of affinity or of necessity will perhaps never be known. But people who are in the habit of reading the hold to the latter view, and say that Mr. Rhodes never ceased to hate Mr. Chamberlain for his conduct after the raid. It shows at any rate well authenticated that their first official meeting was not very pleasant.

While other members of parliament have been called in to order to protect themselves against the instincts of those of their members who would make their private lives a public scandal, Mr. Chamberlain has been called in to order to protect himself against the instincts of those of their members who would make their private lives a public scandal.

DID ACCIDENT CAUSE DEATH?

Was Passenger on Train When It Collided With a Freight. On Sept. 24, 1902, while Jacob Speers, a cattle dealer of Owen Sound, was a passenger on the Grand Trunk, the train collided with a freight. Mr. Speers died in March, 1903. His heirs claim that owing to injuries received at the time of the collision the deceased was unable to follow his usual vocation or do any work up to the time of his death.

INTERESTING CHURCH CASE.

The Rev. Abbe Giraud Versus the Rev. Father Channy Head.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—The case of the Rev. Abbe Giraud v. the Rev. Father Channy came up on a very interesting point in the Circuit Court this morning. Plaintiff and defendant are both Syrian priests and it will be remembered that Abbe Giraud took out the present action claiming damages on the ground especially that Father Channy used damaging language towards him when addressing his congregation in this city. In his plea to the action, Father Channy mentions, among other things, that the plaintiff, being a Catholic priest, he should have exhausted all the recourse which he had before the ecclesiastical authorities before taking the case to the Civil Courts. Abbe Giraud met this portion of the plea with a partial inscription in law, setting forth that this allegation should be set aside inasmuch as it is the right of a priest, as well as of every other citizen to come direct to the regular courts of justice without having first to appeal to the ecclesiastical authorities. Mr. Bureau, counsel for plaintiff, argued that any existing ecclesiastical immunities were given by the state, and in order to be allowed to preserve this article of his plea, the defendant must show a statute authorizing the immunity claimed by him. Mr. Bureau concluded by quoting from French authors and the fathers of the church. G. Lamotte, who appears for the defendant, argued that this was in no way a question of ecclesiastical immunity. There was no intention of questioning the jurisdiction of the court, but the body known under the name of the Roman Catholic Church simply claimed the same rights and privileges as other public bodies, such as, for instance, as benevolent societies, synagogues, Masonic lodges, which by their rules and regulations, make it incumbent upon their members to refer their family difficulties to their respective boards or councils. The parties in this case were both Catholic priests, and under the rules of their church the matter of dispute between them should come first before the ecclesiastical authorities. In conclusion, Mr. Lamotte quoted recent decisions, recognizing the right of societies to make such rules and regulations, and the court ordered proof before hearing, in order to establish the facts on the issue raised.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

St. Thomas, Nov. 27.—The Grand Trunk mail train from the east, which arrived here at 1:20 this afternoon, struck a wagon and team, driven by Henry McQueen, a farmer, near Courland. The wagon was completely demolished, and McQueen was thrown some distance. He was badly injured, but it is expected he will recover. The horses escaped unhurt. The train hands claim that all the necessary crossing signals were given, but McQueen took no notice of them.

FALL CAUSED DEATH.

St. Thomas, Nov. 27.—John A. Ekins, one of the oldest residents of Sparta, died this morning, in his 86th year. He fell down stairs on Wednesday last, and was unconscious for the time of his death. He had been in business in Sparta for over 60 years, and was much respected by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss two daughters and three sons.

CHRISTINA SCIENTISTS SOUGHT INCORPORATION

But Judges Morson and Winchester Yesterday Declined Request on Ground of Illegality.

The Christian Scientists of the city yesterday made an application, through their solicitors, Atwood, Millock & Lea, before Judge Morson, for a certificate of incorporation, under the Act relating to provident societies. The petition was signed by a large number of believers in the faith cure, but was not entertained by the judge, as it showed that the object of incorporation was the propagation of the doctrines enunciated by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, which had been declared illegal by the Court of Appeal in the case of Rex v. J. H. Lewis, who was convicted of manslaughter on account of failing to provide medicines for his son, a boy of 9 years, who died from diphtheria. The solicitor then took the matter before Judge Winchester, but met with no greater success. Chapter 211 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario provides that any five persons may become incorporated for any benevolent or provident purpose, or for any other purpose not illegal, and that they may become a body corporate and politic and have, all of the rights, powers and immunities vested by law in such bodies.

BARKED LIKE A DOG.

Utica, N.Y., Nov. 27.—This afternoon a special car was run on the electric road from Mohawk to this city containing William Angel, a young man who was suffering from an acute case of hydrophobia. He was bound to a stretcher in the car, and several men held the violent man to the floor. Angel was taken to a hospital. Nine days ago he was bitten by a dog, and about a week ago he commenced show signs of illness. The case was diagnosed as hydrophobia, and he commenced having spasms in which he barked like a dog.

GREATER PETERBORO.

Peterboro, Nov. 27.—The Times says: Public opinion—or at least the opinion of as many as chose to sufficiently interest themselves to the extent of recording their votes—decided yesterday both in the town and village, that the long dream of schemes to "greaten Peterboro" should at last be consummated in the amalgamation of the village of Ashburnham and the Town of Peterboro. In town 378 qualified electors—some 78 more than nine years ago who a similar vote was taken, voted for or against the scheme, resulting in a majority of 168 for the Union. Considering that a referendum vote was called for in town, the number of ballots cast was disappointingly small. 276 voted for amalgamation and 103 against it. But one polling sub-division was in the majority in the village, and that was No. 7, the count for which showed a majority of 107 in favor of closer municipal relationship with the village across the water. In Ashburnham more interest was manifested in the question of Union, especially so when we take into consideration the fact that only freeholders were allowed to vote; 178 ratepayers cast their ballots, which resulted in a majority of 120 in favor of union. Neither of the two wards gave a majority against the proposition. The result of yesterday's voting will be that in January, 1904, Peterboro will take over an increased population of 12,588. The village will be incorporated with our present rating of 11,807, will then give us a population all told of 24,395. The village will be incorporated with the town as another ward, and if the ball is kept rolling, Ontario will in the near future boast of one more city, yeelp "Peterboro"—without perhaps the unsightly "ugh."

With Creak in the Back.

You are up against a whole lot of trouble unless you have a strong remedy like Nerviline to settle pain and dispel stiffness from the muscles and joints. Just rub Nerviline on the painful spot—not much rubbing because Nerviline has more power than ordinary remedies. You won't suffer long after Nerviline is applied for it relieves almost instantly. Mr. Phillip Adams of Oakland says: "I had a stiff neck. I guess my back would be stiff yet. A few applications of Nerviline and all the soreness and stiffness, I can recommend Nerviline for any kind of muscular pain, also for rheumatism. Price 25c."

La Patrie Gives Currency to the Rumor and Its Possibilities.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—(Special).—There is a rumor here to the effect that a serious hitch has taken place in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific project, and if the report be true there will be no general election this year. It was hinted yesterday that parliament must be postponed for some time past between the government and the Pacific project, and that the Grand Trunk and to-day sign. Mr. La Patrie's leader, in which he discusses the trip of the Minister of Justice to England. "No deposit of $5,000,000," La Patrie states, "which the Grand Trunk securities, has yet been made. There is also a well-authenticated rumor, which hesitates very much in assuming the responsibility which the project has adopted in parliament. It is, indeed, a notorious fact that the leading railway men of the country do not believe in the possibility of the line from Winnipeg to Montreal."

UNPLEASANT SITUATION.

Sons Militia Officers Order Kilted Uniforms—Men Don't Wear Them.

The recent militia order, stating that kilted uniforms will not be issued to the rank and file of the militia, has placed some arguments in the way of the officers of several Ontario battalions have ordered their new uniforms from England, and they are all ready to be shipped. If they wear them, they will appear in different garb from the rest of the militia. The wearing of the kilted uniform also suggests that the officers have not the funds to provide themselves with the old scarlet garments. That may be a fact in some cases, and the situation will not conduce to the comfort of the officers who wear kilted uniforms. The question is, will they wear them when they arrive? If they do, they will have to fight a mental battle.

WILL DO GOOD WORK.

W. H. D. Miller, the newly appointed transportation officer of the C.M.A., will assume the duties of the office on Thursday next, Dec. 1. The new facilities opened up for the members of the association, thru the services of a practical man of the well-known ability of Mr. Miller, will no doubt be largely taken advantage of. Mr. Miller's whole time is given to the solution of railway problems and grievances, in the interests of the management.

SNOW STORM BLINDED HIM.

G.T.R. and C.P.R. Trains Came Together at London Yesterday.

London, Nov. 27.—The C.P.R. express and a G.T.R. freight train came together at London Junction, at 5 o'clock this morning. The two tracks cross each other at this point, and both trains were endeavoring to make the crossing at the same time. The C.P.R. engine was derailed and several freight cars were thrown against the watchman's tower, completely demolishing it. James Pomeroy, the signal man, was killed from under the stove. He is badly burned. The loss will be several thousand dollars. Owing to a blizzard which prevailed at the time, the G.P.R. engineer could not see the semaphore, which was against him.

BRYAN'S CHOICE.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 27.—John W. Bookwalter of Ohio is brought forward by this week's issue of W. J. Bryan's Commoner as an ideal candidate for the Presidency. It says: "He is in touch with the East, and extensive interests bind him closely to the West. He farms in the transition region on a large scale and manufactures in the East. Although his efforts have been crowned with the most abundant success, none of it was ever gained by dishonest means or thru speculation, which he has eschewed with determination that has exemplified the strong will of the man."

DOUBLE SHOOTING FATALITY.

Biaghinton, N.Y., Nov. 27.—News reached this city today of three Thanksgiving hunting accidents, with two deaths in this vicinity. While several boys were hunting near Hallstead, Pa., Harvey Bruce, 16 years old, fired at a rabbit, not seeing Arthur Terbos, about the same age who was in range. The Terbos boy received the lead in the back of the head. As soon as he saw what had happened, young Bruce started to run towards his companion, when he fell and his gun was discharged, blowing off the top of his head and killing him instantly. It is thought that Terbos will recover.

Frozen to Death.

Glens Falls, N.Y., Nov. 27.—The body of John H. Hall, aged 87 years, a life-long resident of French Mountain, was found today back of a barn. The old man was clinging to a pier and was frozen to death. He came to Glens Falls yesterday to have a wound on his head dressed, and took the last car bound for Saratoga, supposing it was for French Mountain. When he left the car, it is supposed that he became bewildered and took a branch track leading to the river, instead of the main line.

Queer Looking Babe.

Phillipsburg, N.J., Nov. 27.—Hundreds of persons called to-day at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Gillespie, in this place, to see a child born to the couple last night. The baby lived only a short time. It had two well-formed heads on two necks that were on one body that had two backbones. There were two legs and two arms, perfect in appearance.

EXPERIENCE OF FRANK CROMWELL OF GALT WITH DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

He Had Kidney Troubles That Threatened to Disable Him Permanently.—The Great Canadian Kidney Remedy Cured Him Completely.

Galt, Ont., Nov. 27.—(Special).—Mr. Frank Cromwell, who left here recently to fill an important theatrical engagement in Chicago, as one stage of his career had few hopes indeed of ever again appearing on the wire. In relating the experience, he said: "I had been troubled with kidney, I had a severe backache and my limbs were swollen. I used several medicines, but none did me any good, and I had given up all hope of getting well."

"One day a Dadd's Magazine was left at my house and I read it carefully, and my case was there. I bought Dadd's Kidney Pills and began to use them. Before I had finished one box I got relief and four boxes of Dadd's Kidney Pills cured me completely."

"That Mr. Cromwell's cure was complete and permanent is shown by his return to a profession that requires strength and steadiness. But if the disease is of the kidneys, or from the kidneys, Dadd's Kidney Pills never fail to root it out entirely."

THE SIMPSON COMPANY, LIMITED

Store Closes at 5.30 Victor Shoes.

There's a way of making shoes now-a-days so you can't tell how bad they are. Everything is done for effect.

For that reason we determined on a policy in shoe selling that would place us clearly in the lead. Victor Shoes are distinctly our own, made especially for us under a positive guarantee. We ignore shoddy altogether and crowd in all we possibly can of good value. Twenty-two different styles to choose from and every pair guaranteed.

Winter Headwear for Men.

Your stiff hat is rather airy for the weather we've been getting lately. Better have something a little warmer. We'll be selling Caps cheap Monday in the Men's Store.

Men's Nutria Beaver Fur Caps; made from selected skins; satin lined; special, $2.50, $3.50 and 4.00.

Men's Warm Night Gowns, 37c.

Why not be comfortable? Cold sheets are hard to crawl into winter nights. No use denying it. But a flannelette night gown "helps some," as the saying is. Thirty-seven cents is not much either.

183 Men's Night Shirts; made from extra quality English Flannelette; collar and pocket attached; double-sewn, felled seams; made with yoke; extra length, large bodies; sizes 14 to 18; regular 50c; on sale Monday, special 37c.

Handkerchiefs for HIM

Silk, and large enough to please the most exacting lump of a man you know. Quarter of a dollar apiece Monday—worth about twice that.

600 Men's Silk Handkerchiefs; large size, tape or corded borders, superior quality, white only; our regular price has been 40c and 50c each; Monday 25c.

Boys' $2.75 Boots, $1.50.

200 pairs of Boys' Boots; most of them in box calf leather with good weight of soles, though there are some with Dongola, tan calf and enamel calf uppers; the larger portion of them are just the right kind of boots for winter wear. BOX Calf. Not one pair worth less than $2.00 in regular way and worth as high as $2.75 per pair; all sizes, 1 to 5, in the lot; Monday, only, per pair 1.50.

Blankets Wanted

Little chilly these nights, isn't it? Makes one remember that spare Blankets are nice things to have. That's what we thought when we took these. You see there's a discount with them.

100 pairs Extra Superfine White All Pure Saxony Wool Blankets; made from imported stock and guaranteed absolutely pure; soft, lofty, finish, pink border; these blankets are made to retail at 66c per pound; on sale Monday at 42 1/2c, or 7 pounds, regular $4.55 pair, size 64 x 84, for $2.98; 8 pounds, regular $5.50 pair, size 68 x 88, for 3.40.

3000 Yards of Dollar Brussels for 59c

Talk about the "useful" present and looking well ahead—let us ask you a question. What is more useful or worthy than a Brussels Carpet, and how can you look further ahead to Christmas than from the very present moment? We're clearing a "special" lot of good Old Country Brussels on Monday. You might do England the justice to admit that she can make good Carpets if she does make poor treaties, which last, of course, is a subject of debate. Come and see this underpriced Brussels, and further—it would be just as well to bring your measures with you whether you have decided yet or not.

2000 yards English Brussels Carpet; 27 inches wide; all bright new patterns; good, heavy quality; pretty designs; colors of lawn, green and blue and brown; suitable for any room; on sale Monday, per yard 59c. (Please bring your measurements. Mail orders filled.)

20c Wall Paper, 6c

You want to do that papering before Christmas, don't you? Well there's little enough time now. You'll have a thousand things to do in the next twenty-four days. Better get a big awkward job like papering done first. 2500 rolls Wall Paper; gilt and embossed; in beautiful colors of blue, green, crimson, coffee and cream. In very pretty designs; these papers are in remnants of 8 to 26 rolls; regular price 12 1/2c to 20c per single roll; special, Monday 6c.
