RUSSIAN'S THROUGH THE GERMAN FIRST LINE TO THE WEST OF LUTSK

Capture 9000 Prisoners, Including Fifty Officers, Two of Them Generals—Taking of Brody of Big Importance

London, July 29.—Brody, the largest Galician city northwest of Lemberg, and one of the chief objectives of the Russian drive which aims at a new invasion of the crown land and the capture of its capital, fell into the hands of the Russians yesterday morning. The fall of the city was announced by the war office last night in a brief sentence supplementary to the regular official night report, which told of the pursuit after the Austro-Hungarians "in the direction of Brody."

FRENCH APPEAL TO ALL NEUTRALS

III Treatment by Germans in Invaded Cities

SOME INSTANCES

25,000 Girls Away From Families and Transport Them to Other Places to do Farm Work

Paris, July 29.—The French government has formally appealed to the sentiments of justice and humanity of the neutral countries and public opinion in all nations in behalf of the inhabitants of northern France, who, the appeal says, have been taken from their homes and transported to other regions, where they are compelled to work in the fields.

Germany, according to the appeal, attempts to justify the measures taken by her because of the attitude of Great Britain in rendering more and more difficult the feeding of her population. This action, however, the appeal adds, is inadmissible, as the blockade of the Entente is a regular act of war and is in the Hague convention.

At the end of April, 1915, says the appeal, by order of the German military authorities, about 25,000 French girls from sixteen to twenty, and women from their homes at Roubaix, Turcoing and Lille, separated from their families and transported to the departments of Aisne and Ardennes and compelled to work, principally farming. On Holy Wednesday at 3 a. m., the execution of these measures began at Lille, Turcoing and Roubaix.

Wherever the measures were to be applied, the appeal continues, a notice was posted on the doors of houses. Streets were barred by soldiers and even, witnesses declare, by machine guns. Soldiers entered houses and an officer designated the persons who were to leave. The inhabitants after a respite of from twenty minutes to an hour, were concentrated in schools and churches, until the time for their departure. At Lille the taking of the inhabitants continued for a week.

EX-GOV. WALSH SAYS HE WILL RUN AGAIN

Portland, Or., July 29.—Ex-Gov. David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts, told friends here this week that he intended to run for governor again. Mr. Walsh stopped here on his way from Seattle to San Francisco.

He takes his defeat by Gov. McCall last year most philosophically. "It keeps a fellow on the jump back there," he said. "You no sooner get off than it is time to think of running again. But the game is worth the effort."

MASS FOR LIEUT. CORR Rev. Wm. M. Duke celebrated regular high mass this morning at the Cathedral for repose of the soul of Lieut. F. J. Corr, who was recently killed while fighting in Flanders. The mass was recommended by the local Knights of Columbus.

BIRTHS AND MARRIAGES Twelve marriages and twenty-six births, twenty girls and six boys, were reported to the registrar, John B. Jones, during the week.

CENSURE TYNE MASTER; COURT GIVES JUDGMENT

Finds Lack of Precautions But Commends Master for Honesty of Testimony and Able Work in Getting Ship off Rocks

The finding of Captain L. A. Demers, Dominion Works Commissioner, in the matter of the stranding of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Tyne on Main-Island, on last Sunday morning was given in open court this morning as follows: The evidence in the matter having been carefully reviewed and weighed, the court has come to the conclusion that the master, H. W. Robson, did not adopt all the precautions that were required in navigating his ship, taking into consideration the fact that he was a stranger in these waters, and that he sailed from a port outward bound with a state of atmosphere which prevented him from seeing at a very great distance, and owing to the direction of the wind at the time he should have anticipated that it would become dense.

He was in default on two points which we call grave errors of judgment. First, firstly, he went left port without streaming his log, no matter what condition he found it to be in. Because of the fact that the instrument was on board even though it was found to be erratic on previous voyages, it was his duty to have ascertained the amount of error, and either add or subtract from his calculations accordingly. To navigate a vessel, meeting conditions existing in the Bay of Fundy, such as tiding, by leaving himself on the number of revolutions the ship was making, notwithstanding the fact that he stopped occasionally to take soundings, is not a very reliable method to adopt.

The court also finds him in default for having assumed that he was a mile or a mile and a half off Isle Haute when he passed that place. It is absolutely necessary in these waters to be accurate as to the distance a ship passes off certain points in order to reach the position intended.

The court likewise finds him in error for not taking a sounding when he got the bearing of Point Prim Fog Horn. Had he taken a couple of casts of the lead at this time it would have assured him of the exact position of his vessel at that point.

However, he sailed away at half speed, the ship going through the water, as he estimated it, at the rate of six miles per hour. The light S.W. wind did not effect the vessel by causing any leeway, and the water was smooth.

Some time before the stranding a cast of the lead showed 100 fathoms, and a few hours later twenty-seven fathoms were found, and the ship proceeded at half speed until another showed eight fathoms, when the vessel was stopped, although the engines were not reversed.

At this point we think the master erred greatly in judgment in not going full speed astern on his engines the moment the twenty-seven fathoms were found, which indicated the water was shallowing rapidly. Had he done so this mishap would most likely have been avoided.

For the above reasons we feel that the master deserves that the court should deal with his certificate, but after taking into consideration the honesty displayed in giving his evidence, as it was quite apparent he did not endeavor to hide any particulars or shortcomings of his, and the able manner in which he succeeded in getting his vessel from the rocks, from which, the court is aware, few vessels have heretofore escaped after striking; also the shortage of masters and officers under present conditions, the court thinks it will meet the justice of the case by reprinting and severely censuring the master for failing to adopt the precautionary measures mentioned above.

The court does not attach any blame to the officers of the vessel, Captain L. A. Demers, Dominion Works Commissioner, (Sgd.) A. J. MULCAHY, (Sgd.) JAMES HAYES, Assessors.

ANOTHER PHASE OF THE OFFENSIVE

London Speculates on Re-entry of Serbian Army

FIRST BLOW SUCCESSFUL

Capture Height From Bulgars and Hold Them—Eager For Moment When They Again Shall be on Soil of Home Land

London, July 29.—The news that the Serbian army again is in action arouses speculation in London as to whether another phase of the great allied offensive is about to be opened in the Saloniki theatre. For the last three days the Serbians have been engaged in a series of operations with the object of driving Bulgarians from positions which they occupy in Greek territory about a half-dozen miles from the frontier. They already have captured a series of heights and there maintain their positions, despite the artillery fire and counter-attacks of the Bulgarians.

A despatch from Saloniki says:—"The Serbian army has begun its fourth war in four years. Re-organized and re-equipped, it is again fighting its old enemies, the Bulgars, and the first skirmishes at Kopl and north of Vodena have gone in its favor."

FRYATT MURDER BUT ADDS TO DETERMINATION TO CRUSH PRUSSIANISM

London, July 29.—The Morning newspapers comment bitterly and at great length on the execution of Capt. Fryatt. The newspapers, almost without exception, quote the United States naval war code of 1900, which reads: "The personnel of a merchant vessel, who in self-defence resist attack, are entitled, if captured, to the status of prisoners of war."

The Daily News endeavoring to check the German viewpoint, says: "The Germans have always sought to draw a most implacable line between combatant and non-combatant, and in German eyes the fate of Captain Fryatt may quite honestly be legal."

The Dominion Insurance Act prohibits a Life Insurance Company estimating what the future profit earnings upon its policies will be.

The Imperial Life, however, is quite content to rest its claims upon the profits which it has actually paid to its policyholders in the past, and upon those which it is paying today.

In fact, the Company is so proud of its record in this regard that it has issued a booklet entitled "The Voice of Experience," which shows the amounts of dividends payable this year to a large number of the holders of Imperial profit-sharing policies.

German Dead in Heaps in No Man's Land—Doubtless Many Buried in Dug-outs

The following letter has been received from Herbert Woodall, of Halifax, who went overseas with a heavy battery. Sergeant Woodall's letter indicates that the Canadian artillery is playing a part in the big drive:

Somewhere in France—We spent Dominion Day all right over here, but not playing ball—not by any means. Some of the boys were talking about where they would be and what they would be doing if at home, on the night before, but before sunrise on the day we think so many of in Canada, we were on our guns, waiting for the order to send Fritz some ejectment notices, and, as you know long before this, he got them, and is still going. I only speak for the part of the line I am on, of course.

Thus our artillery did good work is well known, but if you could have seen, as I did, the wreck we made of their side, you would understand better.

We were not far from the front line, so the next afternoon, in company with one or two more, we went to have a look at the lines, and it was then that we saw things. The German trenches, which have always been made so strong, were like wheel ruts; the ramps had been blown in and just filled them up and everyone in it. After I got over no man's land, the Germans lay around everywhere—one could not walk without walking on them, they were so thick, and in their trenches they lay in heaps. Believe me, if all the Germans who have died recently were musicians, there are some swell bands in both places.

There has been a steady line of prisoners coming down ever since; there must have been over a thousand, as there were nearly six hundred in one bunch, and what a poor, miserable lot they were. There was nothing of the bright look of the British Tommy about them. I don't say our boys would look pleased if they were taken prisoners, but the general appearance of them would be a lot better than the bunches of Germans that have passed our position lately. By what I could see of most of them, they were glad to be out of it, and I reckon they have since, in that direction, anyhow.

There must be hundreds of Germans buried in their Dug Outs, as they were so very deep, some as far below as thirty feet, and the effective fire of our artillery closed them in on top of them.

I saw lots of our infantry boys come out of the trenches; lots of them had paint on their faces and did smile at ways came in return for our greeting and inquiries as to how they were getting on up here.

One party of wounded came out, and as they went past one of them turned and said: "Go ahead, Canada, pump them big ones over, our boys will do the rest."

Another chap came out with one wound in his arm and another hole in his shoulder, same side. He was swinging

THE BLUEBIRD

The Latest in Feature Films

A new organization has entered the feature film field. It is known as the Bluebird Photo Plays, Inc., engineered by several men who are numbered among the biggest in filmdom. "We fully realize that the feature field is regarded by many individuals as being somewhat overcrowded," said one of the film magnates. "At the same time, here is one important fact which the people who are complaining of this condition are overlooking: The market for good features is in fact over-crowded—has never been, in fact. And because of this situation, Bluebird Photo Plays will occupy a field peculiarly its own. Quality, with a capital 'Q', will be the outstanding feature of every one of our productions, or they will not be allowed to greet the photo play patrons' eyes." The general policy of this company will be to present the world's most famous stars—this to include film stars as well as stars of the legitimate stage, productions averaging five reels in length.

The management of the Empress, that enterprising little West Side house (who, judging from the past, knows a good thing when he sees it), has made arrangements to screen a number of these costly productions.

The first will be shown on Monday and Tuesday, being a screen version of that famous English author, Anthony Hope's popular drama "Rupert of Helderberg." It is a sequel to "The Prisoner of Zenda."

The cast is one of the most remarkable ever gotten together. It includes Gene Gaill, who needs no introduction here, Henry Ainley, a celebrated English actor who for many years was leading man for Maudie Adams and who will be remembered by theatre-goers for his brilliant work as Gavin Dishart in "The Little Minister," Charles Beck, who gained celebrity in England through his appearance in big melodramas at Drury Lane, London, where he played in "The Whip," "The Sins of Society," "Money," "Ben Hur" and "Robin Hood." The production was made in England where the staging, always effective, brings in view old castles, rich palace interiors, beautiful country scenes, and the like. Suspense is the first name of the author—or it should be—and this picture has preserved that name intact. It is the supreme artistic accomplishment of the silent drama.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

John Barrymore in Famous Players' Clever Adaptation of "The Red Widow"

"The Red Widow," a photo-adaptation of the celebrated comedy by Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf, in which John Barrymore is starred as Cicerio Hannibal Butts, is the Famous Players' picture at the Opera House Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Flora Zabelle, who was the co-star in the original stage production of the play, repeats her stage success in the role of Anna Varvas. John Hendricks and George E. Mack, who played the Baron and Popova in the original version are also seen in those roles in the photo-play.

Cicerio Hannibal Butts, the alias assumed by John Barrymore in this production, is one of the most scowlingly funny roles that this far-famed comedian has ever played. Bombs and Nihilists are by no means the only difficulties which confront Mr. Butts. He has a wife who, after spending some time in jail as the result of his duplicity, yearns to tell him a few things about himself. And there are a number of Russian secret police whose fingers itch for him after they discover that he has smuggled one of the most dangerous Nihilists of Russia into the country as his wife.

"The Red Widow" with its distinguished comedy star, its remarkable cast and its elaborate settings, easily ranks among the few really great contributions to screen humor.

The programme will also include a new scenic and travel picture, showing interesting scenes along the Columbia River, and a good dramatic feature.

A DANDY PROGRAMME

"The Raiders," at the Gem, is a superb picture and made a deep impression last night. The comedy, "An Oils Scoundrel," is one of the best Gem has shown, and that means a lot. See this bill at 2 of 2.30 this afternoon or 7 or 8.30 tonight.

Philp Graham, M. L. A., Mrs. Graham and Mrs. F. H. Foster, returned home today after a visit to St. Ann, Beauport, Quebec, and Valcartier camps.

AMHERST TO HAVE THE 123RD ROYAL GRENADIER BATTALION

(Amherst Guardian.)

Thirty men making up the advance guards of the 123rd Royal Grenadier Battalion, of Toronto, reached Amherst on Thursday afternoon under the command of Captain Eyleson and are now putting the Winter Fair Building in readiness for the early arrival of Lieutenant-Colonel Kingsmill, officer commanding, and the main body of the battalion. How long the Royal Grenadiers will be quartered in Amherst is something as to which even the officers of the battalion are themselves in doubt. "It may be a week or it may be several months," is the way the uncertainty was expressed by one in authority.

The 123rd has now been recruiting for some eight months or so and is said to be regarded as one of the best battalions yet raised in Ontario. A number of its officers are Royal Military College men and others are former students of Upper Canada College, while the men in the ranks are said to be of a fine average. Certainly, the men of the advance guard have already made a favorable impression upon the townspeople who have seen and met them.

All told, there will be upwards of 1,900 more soldiers in Amherst when the battalion reaches the town. The precise time of the arrival is not yet announced but, at least, The Guardian may say that Amherst people won't have long to wait before having a chance to welcome the Ontario soldiers. Of late the 123rd has been quartered at Camp Borden, but that camp has proven anything but suitable for military purposes and the different battalions are being moved to other quarters.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE

Moncton, July 28—The semi-annual session of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance, which opened here on Thursday, closed last night, it being pronounced one of the most interesting sessions held in years. The last session was taken up largely with the reports of committees, which, especially that of the resolution committee, brought forth lively discussion. The resolution passed by the members of the order who had gone to the front, which was adopted by a standing vote and prayer to the grand chaplain; one of thanks to Moncton Division for hospitality; one urging assistance to Scott Act counties in the campaign for the repeal of the law; one recommending Rev. W. R. Robinson for the position of chief inspector under the new prohibitory law; one condemning newspapers for inserting liquor advertisements. The report of the committee on the

Indignation Over Capt. Fryatt Case

London, July 28—News of the execution of Captain Fryatt of the British steamer Brussels caused a painful impression at the British foreign office. Under the instructions of Viscount Grey, the foreign secretary, a note was dispatched immediately to the American embassy requesting that James W. Gerard, the American ambassador at Berlin, procure complete details of the affair.

The first intimation of the trial of Captain Fryatt was called to the attention of the foreign office by press reports on July 18 to the effect that he was to be tried as the result of finding on him a watch containing an inscription reciting his efforts to ram a German submarine. From inquiries made of the owners of the steamship Wrexham, which Captain Fryatt commanded when the alleged incident took place, the foreign office learned the captain had with him neither a watch nor a letter to the effect that he had attempted to ram a submarine with him when he was captured. Therefore officials here state the charge must have been based on press reports.

When the news that Captain Fryatt was to be tried was received the foreign office immediately sent a note to the American ambassador, Walter H. Page, requesting that American diplomatic representatives take all necessary steps to provide for his defense, calling attention to the fact that the Wrexham's act in steering towards the submarine and forcing her to dive was essentially defensive, and precisely the same if she had used the defensive arm which the United States and Great Britain hold to be an undoubted right.

No reply was received from Ambassador Gerard, but the foreign office is convinced he acted with his usual promptitude. Therefore, it is their theory that the trial and execution of Captain Fryatt was hurried even more than in the case of Miss Edith Cavell.

Besides the original inquiry, the foreign office sent two other notes on the subject to Ambassador Gerard.

Discussing the case with the Associated Press, Lord Newton, under secretary for foreign affairs, who, during the conversation, was summoned to Foreign Secretary Grey's office for a conference on the subject, said:

WORSE THAN CAVELL CASE.

"On the fact of the details of the report, as received by us, the execution of Captain Fryatt seems to be worse than the Cavell case. It is an extremely grave incident, the importance of which it would be difficult to exaggerate. It must be borne in mind that when the alleged ramming took place German submarines were attacking merchant ships without any warning whatsoever."

According to wireless messages from Germany, Captain Fryatt was executed "for a franc-tireur crime against armed German sea forces."

Officers of the admiralty were aroused to intense indignation when they learned of the affair. A naval officer said:

"The execution of Captain Fryatt is in violation of all law and all precedent at sea. It affects every merchant officer in the world, neutral as well as belligerent. There is no such thing known as a franc-tireur at sea. We have officers of German submarines, whom we have taken as prisoners of war, who rammed merchant ships without warning, and fired upon merchant ships without warning, but they are treated as prisoners of war. We also have naval officers who dropped bombs from Zeppelins on harmless and undefended towns and killed civilian inhabitants."

A "PIRATE DODGER."

In the cross channel service Captain Fryatt was known as a "pirate dodger" because on several occasions he had succeeded in eluding German submarines by skilful navigation.

When the capture of the Brussels was reported the Daily Chronicle said, in reference to Captain Fryatt:

"For a particularly brilliant exploit in March, 1915, he was presented with a gold watch, suitably inscribed, by the lords commissioner of the admiralty, together with their thanks on vellum."

"On another occasion, some twelve months before he surrendered the Brussels, according to the Chronicle, his vessel was chased for over an hour by a submarine while he was outward bound from Harwich to Rotterdam, but he succeeded in getting safely away. A few days later, when on the North Hinder Lightship, a torpedo was fired at his vessel, missing it by only a few feet."

THE ONE Rubber Heel that Combines All Advantages

All rubber heels have special talking points. Some are claimed to be exceptionally resilient. Others are featured for their lightness and ease. Some are said to have more than the ordinary wear qualities. Others are supposed to prevent slipping. But in the Cat's Paw we offer all these features combined—and each developed to the very highest degree possible. And in addition, we believe you will find that the Cat's Paw Rubber Heel has all the advantages which you have never before seen in rubber heels.

CAT'S PAW RUBBER HEELS

Only the best quality of live rubber is used. But the Canvas Friction Plug gives it far better wearing qualities than the best rubber alone could give. And this Canvas Friction Plug prevents slipping on wet, icy or polished surfaces better than any other non-slip device.

HUN PIRATES "BOLD"

German sailors wearing their new gas masks. The precise purpose of these hideous masks in naval warfare is not obvious, unless it is simply to make them look like pirates, and scare the women and children to death. This picture came via England from Germany, and is passed by both German and British censors.

AN AMERICAN HELIGOLAND

Block Island Could Be Made Impregnable Outpost.

According to Rear Admiral Grant, in the matter of submarine defenses, "Block Island is the natural Heligoland of the Atlantic Coast." The comparison, in strategic geography, is manifestly close, though Germany's Heligoland is a much smaller rock than ours, so less useful for military purposes.

Should a naval base be created in Newport harbor, such as the Germans have at Wilhelmshaven and the British at Portsmouth, Block Island could be made an impregnable outpost. With submarines based at New London—an arrangement already being developed—the island would be a stepping stone and advance station, enabling them the more widely to extend their operations out on the ocean.

Narrow waters have become immensely helpful for coast defence with the development of mines and submarines, as has been demonstrated at the Dardanelles and in the Baltic, the Straits of Dover, the English Channel and French aviation entrance ways, also has a buffer for her shore line on the expansive North Sea, stated out by the Heligoland, thirty-five miles distant. Block Island is ten miles from the Rhode Island mainland. If the Germans could move it they might prefer to have it farther out, but as Admiral Grant, commander-in-chief of the submarine flotilla, points out, the "Heligoland of the Atlantic" would serve conveniently where it stands—Seven Seas.

SALVAGING OF THE PRIZE SHIP "WALKURE"

After being seized by the French as a prize and later sunk in the harbor at Papeete when that port was bombarded in the war, the German steamship "Walkure" is again in service. This time registered as the "Republic," this unusual story of salvaging is told in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine. Interesting views accompany the article.

It will be remembered that while the Tahitian port was being shelled by German cruisers in September, 1914, the defenders opened the "Walkure's" sea cocks in order to prevent its recapture. It reeled on the bottom under a heavy load, which was only a third of the whole load, was sufficient to offset the purchase price and salvaging cost of the vessel.

While it was undergoing a hasty but general overhauling by gangs of shipwrights at San Francisco, 1914, the owners of the steamer received numerous large offers for its purchase. Owing to the serious shortage of bottoms, shippers were willing to pay almost anything within reason to get it. It was sold for approximately $1,000,000, nearly all of which represented net profit.

THE TASK IN MEXICO

"If we go into Mexico," writes Harry H. Dunn in Cartoons Magazine, "we shall, of course, finish the job, but let no one delude himself into the belief that it is a matter of two or three months of chasing Mexicans across the sands of Chihuahua desert, or up the sides of the Sierra between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. The Mexicans are going to object to such chasing, and their objections, in the form of Mauser bullets, will be much more unpleasant than diplomatic notes, no matter how firmly they may be worded. "More than 3,000,000 rifles have been imported into Mexico in the last five years. This is not a guess; it is a summary of figures taken from various government and private estimates. There never have been more than 200,000 men, soldiers and bandits, under arms in Mexico in the period covered by these shipments. It appears, therefore, that something like 2,800,000 men can be armed to resist an invader, when occasion arises. Most of these men have been organized in the time since Taft sent the 20,000 troops to the border, into the state regiments directly under the control of the federal government, but guaranteed not to be called out except to fight a foreign enemy. Their opportunity is at hand, and let no one doubt that they will rise to it."

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera, infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevents stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LAST DODO SEEN IN 1681

This Querc Bird Was Twice as Large As A Turkey.

The dodo was discovered by the Portuguese about 1597 on the island of Mauritius, and was afterwards seen there by the Dutch at the end of the 16th and the beginning of the 17th centuries. The last authentic record shows that it was alive until at least 1681.

At a recent meeting after this time, it was thought to be fabulous, but the drawings made by the artists who accompanied the Dutch voyagers, preserved in the Museum of Utrecht, Vienna and Berlin, and by fragments of the bird itself together with a foot in the British Museum and a head and foot in the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford, established beyond doubt the authenticity of its previous existence.

In 1865, and again in 1886, large numbers of the bones of the dodo were found in a marsh in Mauritius, and in 1870 J. Carson Brevoort, this city, presented to the Museum of Natural History a number of the bones which he had received from Col. Nicholas Pike, the United States Consul at that time at Mauritius. These bones, together with the others received from the University of Cambridge, Eng., form the nearly completed articulated skeleton which the museum now possesses.

The dodo had thick, short and ill-shaped legs and feet, which were scarcely adapted to support its clumsy and almost globular body, which was about twice the size of that of a turkey, and the monstrous head contained an enormous mouth which terminated in a strong, hooked bill.

Its wings were not sufficiently large to flight, and in their place were mere stumps or rudimentary appendages, while the tail was composed of a few small white curved feathers.—New York Evening Post.

DICTATING MACHINE USED IN EDITOR'S CAR

One of New York's prominent newspaper editors has devised an interesting as well as ingenious means of utilizing the time spent daily in traveling between his office and residence, according to the August Popular Mechanics Magazine. He has installed a dictating machine in the tonneau of his motor car, and while being driven to the city in the mornings, and returning from it in the evenings, devotes himself to dictation. The dictating machine rests on a cushioned bench placed in front of the rear seat, where it is within convenient reach. During cold months a limousine is used, and throughout the rest of the year an open car. The scheme is of significance, for it undoubtedly represents the first step toward what may eventually be a common time-saving practice among big professional and business men.

You don't need to be told how you feel—blue, sort of sickish, poor appetite, vague pains, tired in the morning. This condition is common at this season. Fortunately, there is prompt relief in Dr. Hamilton's Pills which immediately relieve the system of all poisons and disease-producing matter. Thousands have been so utterly depressed, so worn out as to be dependent, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured them. "I can speak feelingly on the power of Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. F. Pepperman, of Kingston. "Last spring my blood was thin and weak, I was terribly run down, had awful headaches and a gnawing, empty feeling about my stomach, I couldn't sleep or work until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they did me a world of good." The "Torrington" Roller Bearing Hand Vacuum Cleaner

This little machine will make it unnecessary for you to take up carpets in order to clean them, and it will be possible for us to prove this to your satisfaction by a five minutes' demonstration. The "Torrington" is the most talked about Vacuum Cleaner in America. It really does the work. It lays no store on "trick demonstration"—or "cunning" of any sort. It gets the fine, trodden-in dirt that a broom cannot get.

By simply pushing this easy-moving little machine back and forth across the floor—it works either way—your rugs or carpets are cleaned even better than could be done by the old-fashioned take-up-and-put-down semi-annual process. For the daily "brushing up" or the regular weekly cleaning, it is equally invaluable. It sweeps, airs, dusts, all at one operation. Roller bearings make it easily operated.

Its light weight—only eight pounds—relieves you of all arm strain. Its small size—only 5 1/2 inches high—admits running under beds and tables without moving the furniture.

The "Torrington" is a vacuum cleaner in which sturdiness, wonderful suction power and ease in operation have been happily combined. Price $8.00

Provided with Sweeper Attachment. At $8.50

Also "Lady Torrington," the latest improved. $9.50

"FIRSTS" IN WAR.

Answers to Some of the Disputed Questions of Facts Concerning the English Army in the Great War.

When and where did we fire the first shot in the great war? On sea, the ball was probably opened by the Grafton, which, about midnight on August 4, 1914, put a shot across the bows of a German bark in the North Sea, made her crew prisoners and seized her as a prize of war.

But the honor of landing the first blow on sea fell to the Amphion, which, on Aug. 5, 1914, sank the German mine-layer Koenigstein Luise. The Amphion herself was sunk by a mine on the following day, and was the first of our losses. We did not score against German warships proper, however, till Aug. 3, 1914, when the Birmingham sent the U-16 to the bottom.

In the land operations our first shot was fired on Aug. 20, 1914, by the 4th Dragoon Guards. The same regiment was the first to begin killing Germans. This took place at Herminville, at about 5 a. m. on Aug. 22, when a part of C Squadron opened fire on a number of the enemy at a distance of about 600 yards. The first Hun to fall was an officer.

It seems clear, further, that on this occasion the 4th Dragoons not only took the first prisoners, but fired the first machine guns used on our side in the war.

As regards the first shell fired on land, there is some dispute, both E Battery and D Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, claiming the record. The evidence in favor of the former, however, is much the stronger. It went into action at Bray, near Mons, at 11.15 a. m. on Aug. 22, and the case of the first shell it fired is now in England.

When, again, was gas first used? The earliest record is 5 a. m. on April 22, 1915, when the Germans released it in the northern sector of the Ypres salient, and among the first, if not absolutely the first, of the units to get the "benefit" was the 2nd London Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery (territorial), some of the men of which were "gassed."

Here is another hotly disputed point. Which regiment gained the first Victoria Cross? The Royal Engineers say the record is theirs, and both an officer and a lance corporal in that famous corps certainly won the coveted distinction on Aug. 28, 1914. The officer was Capt. Theodore Wright, who, at Mons, attempted under heavy fire to connect the line to demolish a bridge, and, though wounded in the head, made a second trial. He was mortally wounded at Vally on Sept. 14. On the same day—Aug. 28—Lance Corporal C. A. Jarvis won the V. C. for great gallantry at Jemeppe.

But the Royal Engineers were run very close by both the 15th Hussars and the 4th Battery, Royal Fusiliers, to each of which fell a V. C. on Aug. 28, 1914. In all the most prized of military decorations was won four times on that fateful day—London Answers.

"I hope you are not one of those men who go home and find fault with the dinner," answered Mr. Growcher, "my wife and I eat at a restaurant, where we can both find fault."

HALIFAX TRIBUTE TO REV. A. B. COHOE

(Halifax Echo.) Rev. Dr. A. B. Cohoe, who will leave on Monday for his new field of ministerial work in Providence, Rhode Island, was the centre figure of a very happy gathering in the Y. M. C. A. parlour last evening, when brother clergymen and other friends gave expression to the community's appreciation of Dr. Cohoe's work as a minister during the six years of his pastorate in Halifax, and of him as a man and a citizen.

Among those who took part in the service, in which the deep regret and the sense of loss which the whole city feels on account of the removal of Dr. Cohoe were, of course, feelingly expressed, but coupled with these expressions were congratulations upon the call to a field of service, in a great university centre, which offers larger opportunities and wider scope for Dr. Cohoe's great intellectual gifts.

After refreshments had been served by a committee of young ladies, Mr. F. Fraser, president of the Y. M. C. A., called for speeches, and happy responses were made by several gentlemen who paid tribute to Dr. Cohoe's originality, his thoughtfulness, his breadth of vision and his high character and heart which had given him his distinction as a clergyman and had won for him the admiration and the honor of the whole community.

MAY REINTRODUCE VEGETABLE DYES

Are Obtainable From India and Other Eastern Places No Limit to Supply—Great Britain Has Lately Used Them and Reports Are Satisfactory

In England there has been much talk of reintroducing natural dyes which heretofore have not received much attention because of the cheapness and reliability of mineral dyes. Large quantities of the latter dye, which is the basis for a fast scarlet may be obtained from India, where it is now only a weed. Certain roots are found in quantities in India which might be used as substitutes for mineral dyes.

Chinese manufacturers of vegetable dyes have also been induced to revive the manufacture of vegetable dyes which had been almost wholly suspended. The higher prices being paid for these dyes at present is said to have made possible the organization of the business on a sounder economic principle.

Large quantities of the dyes have already been shipped to the United Kingdom, where they are said to be giving satisfaction. There is practically no limit to the supply, provided the price paid is commensurate with the cost of production. In Japan, before the introduction of mineral dyes, there were probably more different vegetable dyes used than in any other part of the world.

There is a large stock of the dyes on hand in the Kyoto district, and the only thoroughly dependable black was the one made in the Kyoto district, and used largely in dyeing the laoni, the short jacket-like garment worn by Japanese men and women alike. The vegetable dyes are strictly fast, and are said by American industries to be forcing a return to the older dyes.

In producing 'The Torrent of Vengeance' the Empress Patrons have had the advantage of the recent western floods and produced herein a picture that throws all past thrillers into the shade. Combined with the flood scenes, which are enough to create a mild sensation in themselves, are a number of thrilling bits of action, as for instance a bridge caving in, throwing an automobile and two passengers into the sea.

Smoky Joe Wood Again With Red Sox

Will Remain With Team if He Can Make Good; Gregg Rejoins Team

Cleveland, July 27.—Joe Wood—Smoky Joe—has joined the Boston Red Sox here and hopes to help Manager Carrigan in a drive for the American League pennant. Wood will start one of the games in Detroit. Today he warmed up with Carrigan, but did not satisfy Bill that he was ready to pitch.

President Lannin and Joe Wood had a heart-to-heart talk. Wood asked the owner what price he set on his services to some other club, but Mr. Lannin said he knew that other clubs had been trying to get him, but there never has been a thought of transferring him.

Yon. Gregg will report to the Boston club from Buffalo in Detroit, where the champions have six games to play for five days. Gregg has pitched three games for Patsy Donovan, and the Boston players believe that when he returns to the fold he will be able to go into the box to pitch with his former confidence.

RAVENOUS SHARKS IN TORY WATERS (Toronto World.) That General Sir Sam Hughes has been exonerated by the royal commission believe that when he returns to the use of contracts will not come as a surprise. There is, it is true, a big risk of what went to J. Wesley Allison, and Allison was a friend of the general. The royal commission finds that Allison betrayed the trust reposed in him by the minister. No evidence was offered tending to prove that the minister shared in the profits of Allison.

Keen Fight For Batting Honors

Statistics of St. Peter's League Show R. Hansen Leading J. McGowan by One Point

The batting averages in St. Peter's baseball league, which have been compiled, show R. Hansen and J. McGowan running neck and neck for premier honors. Since the outset the race for first place has been keenly contested by the three now leading the batsmen, and although one or the other would have an occasional slump they retained a good percentage throughout. Fred Mahony and Gerald McGovern have also been hitting well during the playing season.

The list shows six of the Roses hitting above .300, four of the Shamrocks, three of the Maples and two of the Thistles. Despite the fact that the Thistles are the lightest hitting team in the league, they are leading by a wide margin. This is principally due to the interest manifested by the players, who rarely miss a game, and thus the team is kept intact.

Defeat Nearest Competitors and Increase Lead for Championship The game in St. Peter's league last evening between the Thistles and Shamrocks developed into a slugging fest and the former emerged victorious, 11 to 6. The victory gives the Thistles a decided lead in the league race, they having won fourteen and lost six games, while the Shamrocks, who are their nearest competitors, have won eleven and lost nine games.

A Soldier's Widow Tells of Kitchener

He Hated War, Says Woman Who Was Wife of His Aide

HAS MY SPRIG HE GAVE HER

Describes His Love of "Wai" a Dog and How He Rebuked Reckless Bravery of a Captain—Absorbing Reminiscences of Soldier-Chief

In a little room on the fourth floor of an old-fashioned New York residence in the lower west side section of New York, an English woman, the daughter of a British general, and the widow of one of Kitchener's trusted lieutenants, talked of "K. of K."

As England, as in the other nations included in the present war, the pensioners who are cared for because of their own or their providers' services in previous wars have ceased for the period of the war.

That is the reason of the presence in New York of this woman. She has little business there, and is working hard to make both ends meet while Britain and the allies fight their battles.

Her husband, a major, was killed in India ten years ago, while taking part in a punitive expedition in the northern part of that empire.

The Kitchener she knew. On the window sill of the little room which this plucky woman now calls home is a flower pot and in the pot there is a fast growing sprig of ivy from the home of Kitchener in Broome, England.

Likewise there is an autographed portrait of the late King Edward, the godfather of her little daughter, besides—but never for publication—there are letters from Kitchener to his friend, her husband and to herself.

This woman, who has seen so much of the tragic and the picturesque of British army service, draws a picture of Kitchener which shows him as anything but the man of ice and steel, such as the public has imagined him. Her picture of him is that of a sympathetic friend, a lover of little children and animals, and as much of a peace-loving man as any man in the world.

Had Lord Kitchener been permitted to select his own vocation in life I am certain that he would not have been a soldier," she said. "I remember that the public has imagined him. War may often be, and is, a duty, but it never has been and never will be fun."

"I was in Mafeking during the siege of that city by the Boers. I had been attached to one of the hospitals. The night the siege was lifted I was passing through one of the wards when I heard the sound of approaching hoppers and thought the Boers had finally got into the city and I darkened the lantern that I was carrying. I looked out of the window and I saw that the hoppers were

Englishmen, and so I went out. A tall soldier looked at me for a moment, a familiar grim smile was visible for a second, and leaning down he said: "Well, well, I certainly supposed you had enough of war long ago, and then he rode away. It was Kitchener. "Speaking of the South African war, Kitchener was in Egypt, as you know, when that war broke out. When they came to him and asked if he would go to South Africa as chief of staff to Lord Roberts, the answer he gave was typical and showed how deep-seated was his affection for Roberts.

"Certainly," he replied, "I'd black Roberts' boots if it was necessary." "An hour later he was packing up to go." "In India Kitchener had a little dog which he called, if my memory does not fail me, Wai. One afternoon he saw two little boys tormenting a small mongrel dog. They were tying something to his tail. Kitchener passed, stopped, and before the youngsters knew it he had them both, one with each hand. It was one of the few times in his career when anybody ever saw Kitchener give way to his emotions.

"Be ashamed of yourselves," he said, "and if I gave you your deserts I'd skin you both." "And with that he let them go. Then he untied the string that held the can to the dog's tail, and took the little dog home with him. That was Wai."

"In the fourteen years' campaign which ended in the battle of Omdurman and the capture of Khartoum, one of Kitchener's chaplains was the famous Father Brindle, now bishop of Nottingham, and one of the few clerics in English history to win the D. S. O. One afternoon he decided to recommend him for the Distinguished Service Order.

The Baby It is very easy for a baby's skin to become chafed and sore either from the bathing or from garments that have lost their softness in the wash, and it always is a troublesome matter to keep nursing bottles and other utensils sweet and clean.

The only safe way is to use the mildest, purest, whitest soap to be had. That is Ivory Soap. It is impossible to make soap of higher quality, no matter what the price may be. When you use it, you know that, so far as bathing and cleansing are concerned, you are doing your best to keep baby healthy and good-natured.

IVORY SOAP 99.44% PURE PROCTER & GAMBLE FACTORIES IN HAMILTON, CANADA

Friends of another chaplain, a Protestant, asked that that chaplain also be mentioned, arguing, among other things, that it would look better to mention both rather than one. Kitchener was a Protestant, but the argument did not appeal to him.

"I recommend a man," he replied, "because of his accomplishments, not because of his religion."

All His Men Heroes to Him "You know Kitchener seldom recommended the V. C. He preferred the D. C. O. He always said that the Victoria Cross seemed superfluous to him, so far as he was concerned all his men were heroes."

"My husband told me a little story which shows Kitchener at his best as an officer. On one occasion when he was with Kitchener, a report was received telling of a wonderfully plucky act of one of Kitchener's staff officers. The officer did not lose his life, something that nobody was ever able to understand. This young officer was pointed straight for the V. C. in the opinion of his brother officers.

"Captains' Kitchener sent for him. 'I have sent for you to correct an erroneous impression you have evidently formed. This affair is not one of the crusades. It is instead very grim business. His Majesty's government is not paying you to get killed in any spectacular manner, just when after an expensive staff training you may be useful. It is your duty to live as long as possible. There is of course never any question as to a British officer's personal courage. At the present time your head and service are of use to the army. As a corpse you would be quite useless. Don't forget. Good day, Sir.' And that ended it.

"Just one more little story of my friend. In 1898 just at the end of the Omdurman campaign, I was in Cairo waiting for the return of my husband, who was with Kitchener at Khartoum. Our first baby was then a few weeks old. Finally Kitchener returned and with him came my husband. He came to see me and of course I showed him the baby boy. Kitchener looked at the baby but said nothing about him being the finest, the smartest, or the healthiest baby, or any of that sort of stuff. He stood there for several minutes without saying a word. Then he spoke.

Two "Empire Builders" "Yonks," he said, and it was the first time since I was a little girl that he called me by that name. 'I suppose you have been reading in the papers that I am turned out to be an empire builder and all that?'

"I replied that I had been reading a lot of stories to that effect. "Well, if I am," he replied, "I had to destroy and cause suffering to thousands in order to build. As a matter of fact it is such as you that are empire builders, and your way is the noblest way. And he pointed his finger at the baby. We named the baby Horatio after the chief and he lived to be a handsome strapping lad and then was taken away from us.

"Another thing about Kitchener which always impressed me was his great affection for France and the French people. No Frenchman could ever have been reading in the papers that I am turned out to be an empire builder and all that? He might not always agree with their point of view but he was always able to see it, and the same was true in India. He understood the French people and that was the secret of his great power in those lands.

"When this war broke out, I had not seen Kitchener for years. The Germans were at the Belgian frontier and my little Father Brindle, at school here in Broome, I went to the War Office and sent in my card and Kitchener received me immediately. He gave me the papers I wanted and I went to Belgium and got my little girl. He told me as I left his office that he hoped 'they don't sink you.'

"Later on my return I saw him at his home in Broome and was admiring the wonderful flowers and the beautiful ivy, for Kitchener was passionately fond of flowers. As I was leaving he broke off a piece of the ivy and handed it to me.

"Take a shoot of this," he said "it may grow." And it did and there it is on the window now. "And then this army woman told me some more little stories of "K. of K." not so much of Kitchener, the soldier and disciplinarian as of Kitchener, the friend of her husband and of herself. Then she went forth to the work that is hers, while Kitchener's army fights on.

OSTERMOOR MATTRESS is as good today as when I bought it thirty years ago.

Tens of thousands of enthusiastic users are behind the public conviction that the word "OSTERMOOR" is synonymous with supreme and lasting sanitary sleep comfort. Ostermoor quality is the standard of comparison for all competition.

However, OSTERMOOR quality at the familiar price of $15.00 has now become utterly impossible. The constantly-increasing cost of all materials used in manufacturing the OSTERMOOR MATTRESS has compelled us to do one of two things; either to lower the famous OSTERMOOR standard—which means casting OSTERMOOR reputation to the winds—or to increase the price. The former is unthinkable, and is not desired by the public; therefore, we are taking the other course.

On and After August 1st, the $18. Ostermoor Mattress sells at $18.

The first cost of the OSTERMOOR MATTRESS is the only cost; unlike other mattresses, it requires no renovation. You willingly pay $18—often much more—for a labor-saving device or a home comfort; then why not for an evenly buoyant, sanitary OSTERMOOR MATTRESS that will give you a lifetime of the refreshing sleep comfort so vitally important to health?

You can buy this Mattress only from an OSTERMOOR dealer. You can always identify the genuine OSTERMOOR by the binding around the edges similar to the border round this advertisement. Do not accept any substitute.

ALL GOES WELL, SAY LAST NIGHT WAR CABLES

London, July 28—While the battle of the Somme is continuing with methodical success for the British forces, the Russians are able to announce another important victory in the capture of Brody.

The Russians, according to a report from Petrograd, also have broken the whole Austro-German front west of Lutsk.

The fall of Brody is a serious threat to Lemberg, and the rapid and successful advance of General Sakharoff's forces menace the whole Austro-German line of communication from the north to the south.

Tonight's official report of the British war office shows that the British are continuing their successful progress. The whole of Longueval is now in their hands, as well as the Delville Wood, from which they drove the fifth Brandenburg division.

Berlin, July 28, by wireless to Sayville—In a naval battle between several German submarines and four British patrol boats off the coast of Scotland, one of the British vessels was sunk, according to a report received by the Dutch newspaper Handelsblad and telegraphed to the Overseas News Agency.

The patrol boats were the Nellie Nutten, Onward, and Eva. The Nellie Nutten was sunk. Some members of her crew were killed, and the remainder of eleven sailors were rescued by a Dutch fishing boat.

London, July 28—A German submarine has raised a British fleet of herding fishing boats. Eight of the vessels were sunk. The crew were landed today at the North Sea port of Tyne-mouth.

Ottawa, July 28—The militia department announces that each of the Canadian battalions now in England has already been supplied with 150 of the new Enfield rifles, replacing the Ross rifles with which they are now armed.

CITY WORK

Plans for the improvement of the Marsh road from the bridge to the One Mile House have been made by the city commissioner of public works. This road has gradually grown worse and the laying of the street car tracks with the help of any. While there is not enough money available to permit of rebuilding it entirely, the general improvement can be made.

The Ashburn Lake road, while it starts in the county territory where it leaves the city limits, it is being built when it crosses the creek and the public works department has undertaken some much needed repair work on this road.

Brussels street is sharing in the benefit of the new work in the Market streets. As the old macadam surface is removed from these streets it is being taken to Brussels street to effect some much needed repairs.

Ottawa, July 28—The incorporation of the International Nickel Company of Canada Limited, is announced in this week's Canada Gazette. Nerves Are Racked, Vitality is Lowered, Brain is Congested, Health Undermined

Worry, overwork, over-study and indigestion cause insomnia. Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved. Congestion of blood in the head must be removed.

Irritation in the brain must be relieved. It's because Ferrone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into over-worked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so sure as Ferrone.

Remember, sleep is just as important as food. You must sleep, or break down.

You can if you'll use Ferrone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleeping.

Ferrone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use.

Absolutely safe is Ferrone. Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the overworked everywhere.

CAPT. MAY IN CHARGE OF RECRUITING WORK IN NO. 4 DIVISION

It has been definitely announced that under the recent arrangements, made by the military officials, that there will be four main recruiting districts, under which the various counties in the province will come, according to the position of each. The division is as follows: District No. 1 includes York, Sanbury, Queens and Charlotte counties; No. 2 includes in Caledon, Victoria, Madawaska and Restigouche; No. 3 with Gloucester, Northumberland, Kent and Westmorland; No. 4, Albert, Kings, St. John county and St. John city.

Each section or district will have a chief recruiting officer who will have full authority in his district. Capt. L. P. D. Tilly, chief recruiting officer for New Brunswick will have the supervision of the four districts and will be officer-in-chief.

No. 4 district, which comprises the city and county of St. John along with Albert and Kings counties, was to be in charge of Capt. J. R. Miller. Recently Capt. Miller has been appointed in charge of the discharge depot and detaining force here and this brought about his resignation as district recruiting officer for No. 4 section. His place has been filled by the appointment of Capt. F. F. May, who will commence his duties on August 1. This appointment of Capt. May will be received with general satisfaction in military circles as his record as a soldier and an officer while fighting in the ranks of the gallant 28th needs no elaborate expounding. Capt. May has seen service in Flanders with the famous "Fighting 28th." He was buried in his dugout when a shell burst near him. He received a serious injury and was sent back to Canada after spending a long period in hospital in England.

Capt. George R. Rider will be the recruiting officer for No. 1. Lieut. A. Rice of Edmundston, will have district No. 2. He is a son of Sheriff Rice, of Edmundston, and is a French Canadian. Lieut. Rice enlisted with the 64th as a private. His work was of a particularly good type and he was given his commission in recognition of his services. That his choice is a good one goes without saying.

Capt. Robert E. Barton has been appointed for district No. 3. He has just returned from the front where he spent fourteen months under Major Anderson.

He has been through all the big engagements and has been recently invalided home. Four men, stalwart and true, signed the honor roll at the local recruiting office in Prince William street, yesterday. They were as follows: STANLEY GLOWES, Orancton (N. B., for No. 9 Siege Battery; HUBERT DIBBLEE, Mautegerville (N. B., for No. 9 Siege Battery; FRANK H. MASON, St. John, for No. 1 Construction Corps; FRANK H. MASON, St. John, for No. 1 Construction Corps.

The 84th Battalion, known as "Kitchener's Own," is to be recruited for from all parts of the dominion and Major Chipman, who is second in command, will visit New Brunswick shortly in the interests of the battalion. This battalion has been raised as a tribute to the memory of "K. of K." and his wonderful achievements.

Young Barnes had married contrary to his father's wishes. Meeting his parent soon afterward, the father said: "Well, young man, I have made my will and cut you off with a dollar."

"I am sorry, father," said the prodigal, and then added: "But they don't happen to have the dollar you?"

There is a new invention which is not a "talking machine." It does not merely reproduce sound, it actually Re-Creates all forms of music. Despite the fact that Bill Donovan is working with a line of substitutes, he is still keeping in the lead of the American League race.

The Red Sox are showing championship class, but the question is will they be able to do so until the end of the season. They are only a half game behind the Yankees.

The Tigers have been going better of late and have replaced Washington in fifth position. The Senators are not playing so well as they were at the first of the season.

In the National League, the Giants were forced to go ten innings to beat the Cincinnati Reds. Christie Mathewson seems to be getting results, for he is making it interesting for his opponents, even if he fails to vanquish them.

Opportune hitting gave the Phillies a victory over the Pirates. Chief Bender went the entire route, which is quite an unusual occurrence.

BASEBALL

Feds Again Heard From

Buffalo, N. Y., July 27.—The Buffalo Federal League Baseball Company is heard from again. Papers in bankruptcy have been filed in the U. S. District Court by former President W. C. Robertson. Owen P. Auggsburger is attorney for the bankrupt.

The bankruptcy reveals the fact that the Federal League people here expended a much larger amount of money than the profit side of the scales could begin to balance. The total liabilities amount to $189,793.43, while the assets total $76,529.91.

The bankruptcy petition states that all ball players who had been under contract are regarded as contingent unliquidated liabilities, and any claim, if existing, is discharged. It appears that there is no such case, as all the players under contract had received a settlement for their salaries.

Chicago, July 27.—Ralph DePalma, Italian dare devil auto driver, has entered two cars for the Speedway grand prize race to be run at Maywood, August 9, it was announced today. PATRIOTIC FUND PLANS.

The local committee of the patriotic fund met yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office, Mayor Hayes presiding, and with a large number of members present, to consider methods of augmenting the fund and caring for the deficit which is now to be faced. After considerable discussion a committee was appointed to appeal to the provincial government with a request that a substantial grant should be made by the province for this purpose. The committee will also appeal to the municipal bodies of the district with the same object and then report back to the general committee. If it is found, after these bodies have given their decision, that there is still a deficit, efforts will be made to wipe out the adverse balance by a general appeal to the citizens for contributions.

Baby Irene.

Chicago, July 28.—Margaret Ryan, a Canadian working girl, was today declared by Judge K. M. Landis, of the United States district court, to be the mother of a year old child that also has been claimed by Mrs. Anna Dollie Ledgerwood Matters, and a dispute which caused a half dozen lawsuits was settled. As a result of the decision, Miss Ryan is given custody of "Baby Irene," the child that had been presented to the province court by Mrs. Matters as the posthumous heir to her husband's $200,000 estate.

SHOCKER WAS CLOSE TO WORLD'S RECORD

Toronto Mail and Empire.—It's a pity that Upton Shocker was scored upon in the eighth inning yesterday. Had he been successful in shutting out the Royals in that game, and also in the ninth, he would have tied Walter Johnson's world's record of fifty-six scoreless innings, made in 1916, from April 10 to May 2. As it was, he held his opponents scoreless for 54-8-8 innings, being two men out when Dunne came through with his two-base hit. The young hurler should never have started yesterday's contest, and but for a premature announcement unknown to Manager Birmingham, would have rested till today. It may be good business from the box office standpoint to bill a star for a half-holiday, but it is poor business, so far as the welfare of the team is concerned, especially the case of an over-worked pitcher and one who has taken his turn on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week and is asked any favors. Yesterday the heat affected Shocker greatly, and from the fourth

Kenosh, July 28.—I am done for good. I think it is time for any man to retire when he is 40, and from now on I don't care who has the wrestling championship. "Just as soon as I am able to leave this hospital I am going back to the farm."

This was the ultimatum of Frank Gotch, world's wrestling champion, at the Kenosh hospital here today. Gotch is recovering from a broken leg under the careful attention of his wife and a couple of nurses.

"We want them all to know that we are through with the mat and circus and the footlights and everything else except the farm, and oh, yes, I forgot the most important thing—the boy," said Mrs. Gotch.

"And," interrupted Gotch, "he is some kid. He is not going to be a wrestler or boxer. He is just going to be the champion lawyer of the state of Iowa."

L'Heureux based at the recent two western championships in Seattle, and since then turned professional in California. He did not make a showing, as he won on a foul, and decided to leave for the east under the management of Jack Kearns.

The big fellow is declared by such authorities as Jack Welsh, Jim Coffroth, Eddie Graney, Spider Kelly and Tom Sharkey to be the best heavyweight in the game. L'Heureux may make the wise ones in the big city wake up if he

Outlights Welsh

Welsh was in much better shape than when he fought the New York lightweight about four months ago. During the first five rounds Leonard did by far the cleaner work, his jabs landing forcefully on Welsh's face and head, while he occasionally ripped in strong left and right body blows.

Welsh cut loose in the sixth and seventh rounds and gave an exhibition of his old time skill. In the seventh Welsh was the more effective by a good margin. But these two were Welsh's only rounds. Leonard outboxed and outpointed the champion in the ninth and tenth rounds, during which his foot work and quick dodging made Welsh's efforts seem somewhat wild.

FURTHER REPORTS OF DAMAGE IN STORM ON UPPER ST. JOHN

(Frederick Gleason)

The damage caused by the terrific electrical storm and cloudburst on Upper St. John river this week is now placed at more than $100,000.

This estimate includes only the bridges, highways and railways, as it is as yet too early to make any definite statement as to what the damage to the crops will amount to, although it will be severe.

At least three children were killed and a woman and another child were injured, one of the children being killed while in its mother's arms. All these fatalities occurred near Grand Falls, and there are no new casualties reported today.

The railways are being repaired, the C. P. R., Transcontinental and Temiscouata lines all having been tied up as a result of washouts, and the highway bridges and roads are being temporarily repaired also. The damage to the roads and bridges in Madawaska county alone will amount to between $80,000 and $40,000 and the damage in Victoria County will bring the figures up to at least $50,000, it was said today.

The most serious damage to the public services in Madawaska County is at the Four-Mile Brook bridge, near Edmundston, which has been carried out. It was a comparatively new structure, but could not withstand the terrific onslaught of water. A big concrete culvert in the same district was also carried out. There are washouts on the highways and railways 100 feet long and 40 feet deep.

The rains caused a sudden rise in the river both at points on the Upper St. John and here. At Perth it was stated that the river came up about twelve feet, while the rise in the river here has been about three feet. As a result of this sudden rise some of the small lumber drives on the Tobique, that have been making very slow progress are likely to come out in a few days. The St. John River Log Driving Company shipped their boats from Woodstock today to assist the operators on the Tobique and this lumber will be driven to the boom

FORMER ST. JOHN BOYS DO THEIR BIT IN CANADIAN CLUB OF NEW YORK

The hearts of Canadians wherever found were stirred by Canada's ready declaration to do her part when this mighty struggle of nations began. Nowhere was this more evidenced than in the Canadian Club of New York, where the desire for participation at once put the question "What can we do to help?"

At the first meeting voluntary offerings enabled them to send $1,000 to Ottawa as a contribution to the Canadian Patriotic Fund. Since, another $1,000 check has been contributed to this fund, and again, in response to an inquiry, "What can we do to help, where is there a real need we can care for here?" Ottawa responded, "Provide against the suffering and want among the dependents on your side of the line left behind by those enlisting in the Canadian regiments, as these are outside of our jurisdiction." This work throughout the entire State of New York is now being done.

"What more can we do to help?" was again asked when Surgeon-General G. Sterling Byerson, founder of the Canadian Red Cross Society, addressed the Canadian Club of New York in last February. He replied, "Motor ambulances are needed." As a result, seven ambulances marked "Gift of the Canadian Club of New York to the Canadian Red Cross Society" are now at the front.

The Times has just received the Canadian Club of New York 1916-1916 Year Book and special mention of members W. J. McCaffrey, J. C. Bullock, J. C. Bettinson, Dr. A. Vernon Clarke, James Strang and Dr. A. L. Anderson, who still boast of being St. John boys. Their friends here are glad thus to hear from these sons of St. John, and their efforts at doing their bit through the Canadian Club of New York. Further evidences of activities gratifying to their St. John friends will be watched with interest.

at Douglas. There has been a new run of logs and driftwood and boats and boat-houses have been carried away in some instances.

The Man In The Street

A fine Saturday pretty nearly compensated for a wet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

No, dear reader, the Bremen has not been captured and towed into Halifax, as far as we know.

Or, if it has, there are more untruthful persons in official circles in Halifax and Ottawa than we had even suspected.

The chap who started that story has earned the right to a job as correspondent for the local government organ.

We are referring to the same paper that insists that public spirited gentlemen who expose graft in government contracts should be prosecuted as well as persecuted.

Two chaps were walking along a city street this morning when one stopped suddenly, stooped down and picked up a dime. He scarcely had got through crowding over his good luck when the other man made a swoop and gathered in another ten cent piece from the sidewalk.

And then they bumped into three men, one woman, two boys and a dog because their eyes were glued to the sidewalk in the search for further gleanings from the silver harvest.

If it were not for the fact that it would require a special corps of police to handle the traffic on that spot this afternoon, we would reveal the fact that this took place on Charlotte street near St. Andrew's rink.

A Fitting Rebuke

They were standing in front of the old post office building and both, we regret to record, showed the effects of a drinking on the beer when it is brown. One of the chaps was in a talkative mood and his conversation was liberally embellished with language he had not learned in Sunday school. His friend was listening patiently, but finally he got too much for him.

"Look here, you blank, blank son of a blank," he said, "why in some-one's other can't you open your blinkety blink mouth without using so many doubled datted cuss words?"

Note—Owing to censorship regulations the language used is a liberal translation and not an exact quotation.

Colonel Bob's Promotion

How Robert S. Low, well known in St. John as the foreman of the Hiram Company when they were laying pavements here, received his title of colonel is told by a local man who got the story in Ottawa recently.

"Bob" was in charge of the work of laying out Camp Carleton after the war was declared and, when Sir Sam Hughes arrived at the camp, he was busy rushing the work along. A demonstration of patriotism on the part of the militia dearly loved a uniform and he decided that a change was in order.

"Better order a captain's uniform for yourself," he said, adding "you will hold that rank in future."

Bob is willing to try anything once so he agreed and placed his order. The next time the minister of militia visited the camp, Low in uniform on all fours, he decided that a change was in order.

"I thought I told you to get a captain's uniform," he remarked.

"That's right," said Bob, "you did; but those blinkety blank tailors in Quebec never mind when you are a colonel from now on," was Sir Sam's prompt method of making the clothes fit the man.

He Salutes Them Now

The returned soldier was talking to the man in the street, when a military nurse passed. The veteran stood at "attention" and saluted smartly. When she had passed, he remarked:

"Do you know, I haven't got used to saluting the nurses yet, though no one thinks more of them than I do," he said. "I remember the first time I met one of them. I was a raw 'rooky' then and I had not learned that there were such things as military nurses, much less that they ranked as officers and should be saluted as such."

"It was just after I had enlisted and I was doing duty at the armory when a chipper little dame drifted along. I thought she had an odd taste in clothes, but she had other qualifications that made me cast an admiring glance over her when she inquired the way to the C. O.'s office. By'n by she came back again and, this time she stopped and turned back to speak to me."

"I was just thinking that girls simply could not resist stopping to admire me in my new uniform when she began to talk."

"Look here, my man," she said, "don't let me know enough to salute an officer?"

"I do," I says, "it was the first thing they taught me when I joined."

"Well, then, why don't you salute me?" she asks.

"That's another matter," says I. "I know how to salute a pretty girl, but I didn't think it would be proper to do it in public."

"How dare you," says she, stamping her pretty little foot as she says it. "I am an officer and entitled to be saluted as such."

"It's news to me," I told her. "There's one or two officers around here that you might call old women, but this is the first pretty girl I've met that claimed the honor."

"She was a perky little piece, and her eyes flashed fire as she says, 'My man, you are impudent and I ought to take your name and number.'"

Says I: "Apart from the remarks anent impudence, I'm not your man, just yet, though I'm not saying I wouldn't like to be. As for the rest of it, you seem to have got my number already, and you can have my name any time you want to give up your own."

"And I was thinking to myself what a fine little jokers she was and how ready she was to swap jokes with a fellow, when along comes the major. 'Ah, good morning, lieutenant,' is there anything I can do for you?' he asks, and gives her the salute like she was a major general."

"No," says she, "I took pity on this poor man's ignorance and was trying to explain to him his duty to salute an officer, but I do not seem to have been very successful."

"Then the major took me in hand and, say by the time he got through with me, I was ready to salute every skirt I met on the chance that they had established a few more ladies auxiliaries with military rank that I had not heard of."

MAY HAVE TO BRING IN MEN

Mr. Cozzolino Speaks of Difficulty in Getting Laborers on Valley Railway Construction

It may be necessary to import men from New York to carry on the work of building the lower section of the Valley Railway. Owing to the war and the consequent absence of so many of our own men at the front and also the number of men taken for munitions and other forms of work at home, it is declared practically impossible to secure men for jobs of this kind.

Thomas Cozzolino, one of the Nova Scotia Construction Company, the chief contractors on the Valley road, who was in the city yesterday on his way from his home in Sydney to visit the construction work, spoke of this phase of their problem. He said that all the sub-contractors are now at work and are doing as well as can be expected of them, but he said that men are the biggest requirement for the work and the men are not to be had. He did not like the idea of going outside of the country for workmen but did not see that there was any other course open, if the work is to be carried on at a reasonable rate of speed.

Another illustration of the desperate need for men for this work is found in the fact that the chief of the Police Department, Chief of Police Simpson from one of the sub-contractors on the road. The latter writes to the chief suggesting that the chief might be glad to get rid of some of the Germans, Austrians and other alien enemies around the city and, if so, he would be glad to look after them.

The contractor was willing to pay $225 to any alien or any other man who would and could do a day's work.

When the announcement of the adoption of the western route was made by the government it was said that the new section would be finished in time to allow Valley railway trains to run into St. John by next February. There evidently is no hope now that this promise will be carried out as none of those in authority will venture an opinion regarding the date of the completion of the road.

SECOND SON DONS KHAKI; THIRD TRIES FOUR TIMES

Presentations to Louis O. Collins, Son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Collins, Somerset Street

One son in France with the Army Service Corps, another in the Construction Corps and a third endeavoring to pass the board of examiners is a demonstration of patriotism on the part of the sons of what is known as the Collins family of 26 Somerset street should be proud. John J., their second eldest son, donned khaki in April, 1916, and left for overseas as a member of the Army Service Corps. A few days ago their eldest son, Louis O., joined the Construction Corps, mobilizing in this city, and Edmund, the youngest boy, has tried four times to pass the examination on all occasions has been turned down as he was not tall enough.

On last Tuesday evening Louis O. was pleasantly surprised when friends called at his home and made him the recipient of a beautiful briar pipe and case. During the evening games were enjoyed and a musical programme carried out, after which refreshments were served.

On Thursday evening at a family reunion Mr. and Mrs. Collins presented to their son a beautiful wrist watch, suitably engraved.

OAK HALL SCOVIL BROS., LIMITED

ST. JOHN, N. B.

A SEASONABLE SPECIAL

Here is one of our bargains which will appeal very strongly to our customers on these warm days:

A Two Quart Ice Cream Freezer for 99c

IS THE PROGRAMME AT OUR STORE ON TUESDAY, August 1st

These are made entirely of metal and are not only cheaper than the ordinary Freezer with wooden tub, but have many other points of superiority.

Being all metal it cools more quickly than the old-fashioned kind, saving time and labor in the freezing process, and for the same reason uses less ice than any other. It is more easily cleaned and more sanitary than the wooden tub, and weighs only 2 1/2 lbs. Its place is on the pantry shelf, not in the cellar.

These Will be Sold at the Above Price on One Day Only

TUESDAY, AUGUST 1ST

NOT BEFORE. NOT AFTER.

Every Straw Hat Must Go

Though it is not our custom to cut our Straw Hat prices as low as this, still on account of the backward weather we would rather sell them at this price than carry them over.
