CATHEDRAL IS CROWDED AT REQUIEM MASS

Guards all Night at Lord Mayor's Coffin.

Uniform of Irish Republican Army Worn—Scenes at Funeral Service—Professor Carolan Dead of Wounds.

London, Oct. 28.—Silent vigil was kept in St. George's cathedral during last night over the coffin of Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork.

The yellow light of the candles on the green, white and orange colors of the Sinn Féin flag draped over the coffin, which rested on a catafalque placed before the high altar of the church.

Many of the prominent English prelates of the Catholic church were asked to participate in the ceremony at the church. Among them were Archbishop Mannix, of Melbourne, Bishop Amigo, of Southwark and Bishop Potter of Portsmouth.

Plans for taking the body to the Easton station this afternoon on the first stage of the journey to Ireland, had not been altered by the relatives this morning.

The pontifical requiem mass was attended by the lord mayor of Dublin, the deputy lord mayor of Cork and deputations representing the British parliamentary labor party and various Irish political and civic organizations.

Thousands thronged every available space in the large cathedral, scores standing on chairs in the aisle, straining for a glimpse of the casket when the casket reposed on a catafalque with four officers wearing the uniform of the Irish Republican army standing motionless as a guard of honor.

The casket was surrounded by wreaths and the hat which the lord mayor formerly wore as commander of the Cork brigade of the volunteer army, the most prized of the coffin-bearers' emblems in Gaelic, reading: "Murdered by the foreigner in Brixton prison, London, Oct. 26, the fourth year of the republic. Aged forty years. God have mercy on his soul."

Just as the services were beginning, the four men, who, with their comrades had been guarding the body throughout the night were relieved by their lookouts wearing long coats which they took off as they stepped to their places, exposing the uniform of the Irish Republican army.

Dublin, Oct. 28.—Arthur Griffith, as being president of the Dail Eireann, has issued a manifesto denouncing the death of the patriot and martyr Terence MacSwiney will reach the shores of Ireland on Friday.

It is not expected that these people, who are in the confidence of the remaining hunger strikers ask them not to permit further. "It would be too shocking and horrible," he said, "that after three have died the others should be allowed to drop."

The spirit of humanity which will accompany the body of her husband to Ireland.

CALLS ON HIM TO PAY $50,000

Suits Against Yachtsman by His Guests, Including Women.

New York, Oct. 28.—Three actions for damages aggregating more than $50,000, have been filed here against Walter Clark, a paper mill owner of Glenfalls. The plaintiffs, Mrs. Ruby Galbraith, Robertson, Mrs. Effie Robinson, and her husband, Folke Sundblat, were guests of Mr. Clark on his yacht when the boat was burned on Lake George last August.

All aboard were obliged to jump into the lake to save their lives, and each of the women asks for $25,000 damages for injuries which they allege they suffered, as well as smaller amounts for property loss. Mr. Sundblat asks for $380, the value of his watch and other property lost.

The women in their complaints charge Clark with violating the eighteenth amendment and all three charge him with violating the law relative to providing life saving apparatus for his guests. The women allege that Clark had on board "a considerable quantity of spirituous wines and liquors," and that he found time in the midst of his duties as skipper to imbibe freely and that he was unable to manage the vessel properly.

The burning of the yacht was due to an explosion.

Coal Strike Settled But Must Go To The Miners For a Vote

Executive, Meanwhile, Urges Adoption of Terms as Temporary Measure Till National Wages Board Established

London, Oct. 28.—The strike of coal miners throughout England and Wales was settled this afternoon, but the settlement is contingent on a ballot of the miners.

Frank Hodges, a member of the miners' executive body, announced: "We have got terms from the government which the executive is submitting to a ballot of the men for their judgment. The executive are recommending that adoption as a temporary measure until a national wage board is established."

The terms provide for an advance of two shillings a shift for persons of eighteen years of age, with a corresponding advance for younger miners. The miners pledge themselves to co-operate to the fullest extent to obtain an increased output.

The government issued a statement similar to that of Mr. Hodges, adding that the ballot of the men would be taken immediately.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornebeam, "do you observe that strip of sky above the big warehouse across the street? I am thankful for that from being a street-lizard. It reminds me of limitless space and countless worlds. On clear night the stars are there. They are not interested in what is revealed in the court yesterday, or who was in the jail-house last night. They are remote, yet friendly. They stare at the dwellers where these streets and houses are. Possibly they will see the dust of ages. The light of the fields glitter where this generation now runs around in its little circle and thinks itself wonderful."

"Mister," said Hiram, "if I was usin' slang I'd say you said a mouthful. One country is the same sky as stars you're talkin' about now. They don't change. That old north star is always in its place. I don't lead you astray. It's because we get so took up with ourselves an' what we're doin'—that we go astray—yes, sir."

His athletic record is one of which any one might be proud. He represented the United Kingdom in the recent Olympic games in the 10,000 metres flat race, is the holder of the English 10 mile flat running championship, the Royal Air Force cross-country run championship, the Berks, Bucks and Oxford cross-country run championship, was the first Briton home in the English National cross-country run championships, and represented England in the International cross-country and flat contests in England and Ireland. He is the holder of a physical training instructor's certificate and had many titles for minor athletic events.

He was in the Royal Air Force for five years, and was in a minor accident with Sir John Alcock, who made the first cross-Atlantic non-stop flight in 1919. While a member of the Royal Air Force, Mr. Clibbon was a technical lecturer on internal combustion engines and is considered an expert in this line. In February of this year he trained a team of boys under eighteen years of age who won the king's cup defeating all service men in His Majesty's forces. These were boys of the Royal Air Force training depot at Halton, England.

Mr. Clibbon hopes to locate in the city and his doing so is provisional upon his obtaining employment with his athletic tendencies and his work in sport that he has offered to his services to the committee in charge of Mayor Schofield's newsboys' road race to be held November two weeks.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS. Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhoea which afflicts four out of five people over forty. Pyorrhoea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infection, Pyorrhoea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills. To avoid Pyorrhoea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhoea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. GUARD AGAINST CHILLS Simple Precaution Against Dangers of Cold and Damp. Cultivate the habit of taking a cup of hot Oxo—a cube to a cup—before going out in the cold or damp. Such weather is a tax upon the system, and the strengthening and warming powers of the concentrated best-godness fortify you against the evils consequent upon exposure. If the uses of Oxo are new to you, try a tin of four cubes. Oxo greatly improves gravies, stews, or soups, and is a delightful, sustaining and appetizing beverage. It is excellent for children. Regular users of Oxo prefer the larger tins of 10 and 50 cubes, using them in many different ways in place of meat.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE AT 88 Leon Lewis, Once a New York Editor, Cuts His Throat in Connecticut. Winsted, Conn., Oct. 24.—Leon Lewis, 88 years old, author and former newspaper editor, who was at one time on the staff of the New York Herald, attempted suicide at his home in Bakersville, eight miles from here, by gashing both sides of his throat and left leg with a rusty razor. Then he called to his son, Leon, Jr., who lives near him, for aid. Mr. Lewis was brought to the County Hospital here after receiving medical attention at his home. He lives with a sister, Mrs. S. Rindley, 94 years old, and a cripple. Despondency is believed to have caused his act. He had threatened to kill himself last summer. Friends say that early this month he disappeared and when found by a searching party next day was wandering aimlessly through the woods. His condition is regarded as critical. FINED FOR CHANTICLEERS. New York, Oct. 28.—Charged by sleepless neighbors with keeping 123 chickens in his apartment above his butcher shop, Solomon Saltzman was fined $5 for violating the sanitary code. Families in the house said that at 5.30 every morning there was such a bedlam, thanks to Saltzman's roosters, that sleep was impossible.

CARNEGIE'S MILLIONS

The appraisal of the estate of Andrew Carnegie has been completed. It shows a gross value of $26,989,024 and a net estate of $23,547,161, which is even less than the estimate of Mr. Carnegie's fortune (between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000) made at the time of his death. The huge fortune which he once possessed was reduced to these relatively private gifts Mr. Carnegie made during his life. The appraisal shows to what ing out his purpose to dispose of the death.

SEES NEW YORK AS
CITY OF CONTRASTS

Ward Price, British Correspondent, Finds in It Better Things Than the Skyscrapers—Its Affinity with Paris.

(N. Y. Times.)
Ward Price, who was one of the best known correspondents of The London Daily Mail on the various battlefronts of the great war, and is celebrated in England as a special writer on many European lands and subjects, has been spending a brief holiday in New York before going on to Canada.
It was Mr. Price's first visit to the United States and a Times reporter asked him, before his departure for Montreal yesterday, for his impressions of life here. Mr. Price agreed to write them, and this is what he wrote:
A city of bewildering contrasts. So foreign to a Britisher that to hear his own speech in the streets comes at first as a surprise, yet where a hospitality apparently without limit makes him feel at once at home.
To the stranger within its gates New York looks like a racial museum with English labels and an international patchwork with an Anglo-Saxon fringe. It has not even a cousin's resemblance to London, but a strange affinity with Paris.
The people of New York are both very proud and oddly apologetic about their city. They like to hear your admiration, but they earnestly beseech you to remember that "New York is not America," just a young bride in a fine new home reminds you that the furniture isn't in order yet. The human furniture of New York has still to be sorted out to the satisfaction of its tenants, while fresh consignments are always being delivered at the Ellis Island gate.

I had been badly prepared for New York. Why do New Yorkers abroad always extol the wrong things about their city and omit so much that really merits praise? Tourists from Europe, for instance, should never be allowed downtown at all. The skyscrapers they are asked to admire are regrettable necessities, which should not be obtruded upon the city's guests. They belong where they are—in New York's ugly backyard. To harassed, huddled passers-by, scuttling like insects around their base, those towering tiers of expressionless windows can have no more attraction than a doll's house seen through the wrong end of a telescope or than a cockroach's view of the office pigeon-hole.

Keep your visitors above Forty-second Street. Delight their eyes with long, cool, stately vistas of the great uptown avenues; show them the dignified squares, the well-kept parks and tidy open spaces. To impress them with a proper scene of the New York scale of things, let them gaze across Central Park by night at the huge mass of the Plaza, towering into the dark like a jewel-studded cliff, and divert their imagination with an approximate estimate of the total Broadstreet values of the opulent cave-dwellers who live behind those twinkling lights. For here, more than anywhere else in the world excepting the Champs Elysees, is to be found the splendor that becomes the greatest city of a great nation.
Each of the world's capitals has a character of its own that the traveler comes to feel in his bones—an individual civic temperament, difficult to define or to convey. The bright cynicism of Paris and the dreaming majesty of Rome are felt by intuition rather than deduced from conscious observation. And nothing I had read or heard had quite expressed to me the gay optimism, mixed with a certain fierceness, which I seem to sense as the mood of this feverish city. There is a reckless prodigality in the nature of the place. Men hold health, money, life itself, more lightly than to the people of older nations. They live more dangerously and are readier to take a risk up or down still smiling, but dead earnest, seems to be the philosophy of New York. Under this brighter sky and keener air the flame of life burns fiercer.

And no one has ever told me one-half the truth about the beauty of New York's women. The pure loveliness of their complexions, the childlike sweetness of their wonderful eyes, their shapely, trim-shod feet and their instinctive skill for dress reduce a newcomer stranger to bewilderment. These things deserve a daily hymn of praise from every American throughout the world. The amazing fact is that no one seems even conscious of it, not even the girls themselves. This must be the most asexual nation on earth. Women of other countries one-half as lovely as a dozen girls to be seen on every subway ride accept with evident complacency, even if they do not invite, the admiration of the men around them. The New York girl glances neither to right nor left. Elle ne fait pas de Poudi, and what is more, looks as if they never even entered her mind that any one might make eyes at her. She has the simple, self-confident, natural bearing of a young woman who has never been seen by a man's eyes; you look at her again and meet a gaze as dispassionate and unself-conscious as a man's.
One thing more dumbfounds the wanderer from afar. It is to find this whole nation of enlightened and self-governing citizens daily and openly inciting one another to commit a felony, to break the law and to incur the risk of deserved punishment; it is to discover one's self the guest—and willing accomplice—of a gang of smugglers one hundred millions strong; it is to see people who never intend to drink anything stronger than Pasteurized water eagerly absorbing whiskies whose origins are mercifully wrapped in mystery driven to drink by the very difficulty of getting it.

BACK TO STAGE; HUSBAND BROKE
Julia Arthur's Life Partner Once Had $25,000,000 Fortune.
Julia Arthur, one of the most notable figures of the American stage some twenty years ago, and wife of Benjamin Pierce Cheney, once rated as one of Boston's wealthiest men, finds herself forced to return to the stage as the result of reverses in her husband's business enterprises. Her return to the footlights is expected this fall.
In the meantime in a Boston auction room prospective buyers are examining personal art treasures, furniture and knick-knacks which once furnished Julia Arthur's Palatial home on Cliff Island in Boston Harbor, to be sold to the highest bidder. In 1917 Cheney made an assignment.

They lived quietly in their Island home, going up to the Parker House each winter. He prospered in business, his fortune at its height being estimated at $20,000,000.

"I ended corns forever in this scientific way"
Millions have said that about Blue-jay. Others tried it and told others the same story. So the use has spread, until corn troubles have largely disappeared.
If you have a corn you can settle it tonight. And find the way to end every corn.
Apply liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster. The pain will stop.
Soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.
Think what folly it is to keep corns, to pare or pad them, or to use the old harsh treatments.
Here is the new-day way, gentle, sure and scientific. It was created by a noted chemist in this world-famed laboratory.
It is ending millions of corns by a touch. The relief is quick, and it ends them completely.
Try it tonight. Corns are utterly needless, and this is the time to prove it.

COAL INDUSTRY IN CANADA WEST

Statement Presented to Tariff Commission by the Operators.

In a statement before the tariff committee, W. F. McNeill, secretary of the Western Canada Coal Operators Association, appearing on behalf of the coal operators of Alberta, said that government statistics for the calendar year 1919 showed 276 mines in the province, employing 12,027 persons and representing an actual investment of $27,897,275, not including an additional investment of $712,500 in abandoned mines.

"Whole communities," he said, "are wholly dependent upon the coal mining industry for their continued prosperity, and in many cases, for their actual existence. Colliery workers in Alberta and their dependents number in excess of 60,000. It is claimed that one-seventh of the entire population of Edmonton district is supported directly during the winter months by the wages paid the collieries—and this is only one district. Coal mining activities are spread over the entire province and almost every section is concerned in the culture of the industry. The value of the coal produced in Alberta in 1919 was $20,587,287, a large portion of which was put in circulation in expenditures of various kinds and helped to give employment to thousands of persons in manufacturing and other occupations. A considerable proportion of the total expenditure was for products of western Canadian farms. The annual food bill of the mine employees and their dependents is in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. Farmers and homesteaders constitute from 35 to 50 per cent of the employees of the domestic or lignite mines during the winter months. The mines in the Edmonton district alone give seasonal employment to at least 600 homesteaders and farmers annually, and in this way contributing towards the extension of the agricultural interests of the province. Many of these men would have abandoned their farms if it were not for the employment at good wages offered by the local mines.

"While the coal mining industry in Alberta is only in its infancy, the mines now in operation are capable of producing 12,000,000 tons per year with their present development, equipment and plant. It is expected that production this year will total 7,000,000 tons, as compared with 5,972,816 tons, valued at $20,587,287 in 1919. As yet the coal deposits of the province have only been scratched. They are estimated at about one-seventh of the total known coal resources of the world and consist of lignite, sub-bituminous and high-grade bituminous. The lignite has in the main proved to be satisfactory coal for domestic use, standing transportation and storage without serious degradation and being convenient and clean for handling. The railway companies, after tests a few years ago, found that Alberta bituminous could be used economically as far east as Winnipeg, and it has slowly but surely been replacing Pennsylvania anthracite. Lignite and sub-bituminous coals have been employed almost exclusively for domestic use on the prairies and have been gaining ground steadily in Manitoba, despite heavy handicaps. Small shipments have also been made up to the eastern boundary of the Province of Ontario. Special measures are being taken to increase the market for Alberta fuel."

The latest innovation in retailing in New York is the Day and Night Hosiery Store, recently opened at 110 West Thirty-fourth street. Amdur's "On the Square" Announce
Formal Opening. Saturday Next
Fixed For Inauguration.

A Bright New Centre in the "Hub" of New Brunswick's Metropolis

Amdur's—"On the Square"—latest and greatest of institutions established in this city by Amdur's, within an almost incredibly short period, in a rapid and remarkable demonstration of efficient and effective business administration, will, when formally opened to the public, prove at once a credit to Amdur's and to the important centre of which it is the "Hub." Amdur's will also prove that the "wrong side of the street" is, after all, the right side, in keeping with the well known truth that the best will attract even if located in the heart of the wilderness. Amdur's has already demonstrated that it is not necessary for all things to arise in the East.

Out of the West, where four years ago they initiated a policy of good goods at lowest possible prices, basing their business action on quick returns, they came to the East, bearing generous gifts of exceptional values to a public sorely tried by the hardships and hamper of wartime conditions.

A store a year has been their achievement. In this, at least, they have recorded a feat in finance and in business success, unparalleled in the annals of local commercial endeavor.

Prompt response by a people ready and willing to recognize and appreciate honest, earnest effort to better conditions for the shopper, brought to Amdur's now famous centre at West End, so great a volume of trade from all parts of the city, that a year later the institution opened, for the benefit of residents of the city proper, a second centre in the now celebrated shop at the corner of Union and Brussels streets.

Pressure of public demand again compelled further expansion and extension a year later, and in reply to an insistent western call, Amdur's opened their second store in the West End and their third in Greater St. John.

The popular appeal for more service from Amdur's compelled another addition to their institution this year, culminating in the establishment of a fourth Amdur centre at what was formerly "Breeze's Corner."

Here, in all the splendor of the latest and best in shop-front; in the newest and brightest of lighting; in excellence of quality and style in goods, and in high standard of service, Amdur's will formally invite public inspection and approval of their biggest business venture.

Extending hearty thanks for co-operation in the past, Amdur's now ask for their house in the heart of the shopping district, that measure of inspection which was accorded their other shops on their inaugural day.

Amdur's "on the Square" has risen in the East at an opportune time when prophets are crying of rising prices. One of the first fruits of the new venture will be a demonstration of selling highest class merchandise at prices within reach of all.

In Friday's papers detailed advice will be given to the public of the feature offerings for the opening of the new store at the corner of King Square and Charlotte street.

The inaugural sale will commence on Saturday morning sharply at 9 o'clock.

URGENT COUNCIL TO PRESS RAISING OF FALLS BRIDGE

Shipping Men Before City Commissioners Today.

Schooner Traffic Through Falls Saves $2 a Thousand on Lumber—Split Rock May Have to Be Removed Want Bridge at Least Five Feet Higher.

Urging the city council to press upon the C. P. R. the necessity of raising the proposed new railway bridge across the St. John river at the reversing falls at least five feet, a delegation of local shipping men appeared at the common council committee meeting this morning. The delegation was composed of R. G. Elkin, J. Willard Smith, F. C. Beattie and R. A. Jamieson. After hearing and seeing the map of the reversing falls, the mayor asked that they submit the protest in writing, when he promised he would take the matter up with the proper authorities.

Saving on Lumber Rates.
Mr. Elkin said that at times the tide rose six to eight inches in a minute and at other times does not change for several minutes. He said that the majority of business through the falls had been drifting towards higher vessels. He said he was more intimately interested in the navigation through the falls. He said that vessels had to go through the falls at slack tide and in the tide streak, which was usually about the centre of the bridges. Most of the vessels now being built were 88 to 91 feet in height with the topmast lowered. The passage through the falls would save about $2 a thousand on lumber shipped this way. Some had several times had their masts ripped off by coming in contact with the bridges.

Asked by Commissioner Frink why he had not brought the matter up when the bridge was first proposed, he said, "I thought that the government would cover the matter up with iron bound regulations, judging by their recent action in connection with the luxury tax, etc. I regret that the matter of navigation is in the hands of the federal government, but even so they can't take this province by the throat and say, 'Do this, or 'Do that.'"

Five Feet Higher Will Do.
Replying to the mayor the city engineer replied that the proposed bridge would have to be raised seven feet to bring the highest level to the crown of the highway arch.

Mr. Smith said that the railway bridge should be four and a half or five feet higher than the proposed level of the new bridge. This would take vessels of 88 or 90 feet in height.

Mr. Beattie said that before the war eight to ten vessels would pass through the falls in a day. For the five years before the war an average of four to five vessels would pass through the falls. The class of vessels, he said, was increasing in size and the majority of them would be 88 to 90 feet spar.

Mr. Smith said that the building of the new piers at West Head had changed the current so much that in the opinion of tugboat captains Split Rock might have to be removed if traffic was to be continued through the falls.

Frink suggested that the shipping men lodge a written protest with the council and the council would take it up with the authorities.

SERIOUS CASE IN FREDERICTON

Charge of Attempted Murder is Made Against Two Men.

(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 28.—Edward Burke of Fredericton was arrested this morning on a charge of attempted murder. A little after noon Charles O'Leary, colored, also of this city, was arrested on a similar charge. The incident upon which the charge is based occurred on the night of Tuesday last week or early the following morning. A man was walking down Queen street. Near the C. N. R. embankment at the end of the highway bridge, he is said, he was accosted by the two accused and that O'Leary asked him what he meant by informing on him (O'Leary) for selling rum. The other replied that he had not informed on anyone and that a mistake had been made. "You don't know my name," he said to O'Leary. "It does not make any odds what your name is, you'll never do it again," so Burke is reported to have said. It is added that, pulling a knife, he stabbed the man in the breast.

Chief Finley declined to give the name of the informant but it is believed to be a resident of Salomonville.

Both the accused served in the C. E. F. Burke is well known as a baseball player.

An Attractive Living Room

The deepseated luxurious chairs, and the inviting davenport or sofa contribute a degree of physical comfort which is most desirable in the living room. It should, however, always be remembered that comfort is very largely mental. The character and influence of our environment very largely determine our enjoyment. The mere selection of comfortable furniture is not sufficient to the effective furnishing of the living room.

The complete ensemble, the general effect, must be such as to at once create an atmosphere of congeniality—a feeling of restfulness and of welcome.

It is in the working out of this conception of living room comfort that the service of this store finds its true expression.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN M'LEOD WHARF LEASE

A motion of Commissioner Bullock that on surrender of the lease of a lot of land near the McLeod wharf by James H. McLeod, that lease be granted to the Canadian Molasses Co. for 8 years and 6 months at $20 a year, was defeated at the committee meeting of the common council this morning.

The mayor and Commissioners Jones and Hornum voted "nay."
E. Murray Olive, chairman of the board of assessors, reported the appointment of Fred R. Blair as additional district commissioner and recommended that his salary be $1,800. The appointment and salary recommendation was approved.

L. R. Ross, president of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. wrote in reply to a letter from the mayor asking for reasons why they should ask the council to approve an increase of the company's plant had cost $281,160.13.

John F. Vaughan has been employed to place a fair value on the additional stock of the company. The latter had placed the value at $175,553.16. The company is allowed to issue bonds for 75 per cent of this value which would place the amount at $131,665. On motion the motion picture serial "The Third Eye."

Commissioner Bullock recommended that a lease be made in a lot in Prospect street, Fairville to Thomas Kerrigan at an annual rental of $25. The lot is 70 x 40 feet and valued at $600. Mr. Bullock said that in March 1916, this lot was leased to J. H. Britney, at $20 a year, and he never renewed the lease. He understood that he cancelled the lease verbally at the chamberlain's office.

A commissioner Frink said he had had applications from residents of Somerset street and Chapel street for improvement of the sewerage system in that area. Frink said that he had taken up with Mr. McCauley the matter of the removal of the sewerage system from Queen square, West St. John and he had been assured verbally that the company had no objection to the sewerage system. He intended getting the same statement in writing.

THE GREEK KING.

Athens, Oct. 27.—The body of King Alexander was conveyed today from Tatoi to the cathedral in Thessalonica in his own motor car, which was driven by his great friend, Lieut. Haverlo Metaxas. The coffin was draped in the royal flag.

The improvised hearse was followed by several motor cars, in the first of which was Dowager Queen Olga with a lady in waiting, while in the second was the widow of the king, Madame Manos, accompanied by M. Gyparis, grand marshal of the court.

The members of the cabinet and high officials awaited the arrival of the cortege at the cathedral, in which the body was placed on a catafalque guarded by a special detail of soldiers and officers. After short prayers the mourners withdrew and the public was admitted to the cathedral. The crowd was so dense that it was very difficult to maintain order.

In medical circles here the opinion is expressed that the king's death was due mainly to leptospirosis, the lungs, following pulmonary congestion, and an affection of the heart. The blood poisoning perhaps could have been cured, it was said, as frequently occurs.

King Alexander was kept alive for days by artificial means. During his moments of lucidity his morale seemed good. He realized the gravity of his condition. He realized the moral of his life and all his thoughts were for his wife.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—According to the Lusace correspondent of the London Times, ex-King Constantine's staff seem more optimistic of the chances today. One member said:—"His day is coming."

The issue of Prince Paul being called to the throne was so remote until King Alexander's illness that it is understood the prince had been waiting for several weeks for a passport to the United States because he was tired of Lucerne.

MEAN A FIGHT WITH RADICALS IN UNIONISM

Philadelphia Textile Head Makes Statement

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—I. L. Benton, managing director of the Philadelphia Textile Manufacturers' Association, in a statement today declared the manufacturers had determined to "free themselves from radical unionism," as well as of a large number of inefficient workers.

"Between 110,000 and 125,000 employees of textile mills, in Philadelphia will be out of work this winter unless they watch their step," said Mr. Benton. "The wrecking out has already begun. Approximately 40,000 have already been dropped. Whether the remainder will follow depends to a considerable extent upon the workers themselves."

"The textile manufacturers are not opposed to unions. They believe labor organizations have done and will do good. But they are opposed to radical leaders and are going to the mat here and now with them."

Mr. Benton predicted a general stabilization of the textile trades within the next sixty days, followed by a marked reduction in prices to the consumer. "Wages will not be cut," he added, "until the purchasing power of the dollar is as near as possible to normal."

There are approximately 700 textile mills in Philadelphia giving employment to about 250,000 workers with a normal weekly payroll of more than $2,000,000.

STRONGLY OPPOSES MILITARY TRAINING

A HUMAN PLAY PRESENTED IN A HUMAN WAY

The Law Divine Scored a Distinct Hit at the Imperial Last Evening—Brilliant Performance by H. V. Esmond and Company.

Nothing in the world is single: All things by a law divine: In one spirit meet and mingle: Why not I with this?

This is the skein from which Henry V. Esmond has drawn the thread of fashion into his wonderfully human and true-to-life story, and which he and his talented company presented to a large audience in the Imperial theatre last evening. It is safe to say that the success of the production was greatly due to the fact that Mr. Esmond was player—or rather living—the story which was a child of his own brain; another artist could hardly have portrayed part of the gentleman, author, soldier and in all very human Jack LaBas as did the man who created the character.

The theme of the story is an old one yet Mr. Esmond has placed it in a setting which is reminiscent of the war period. As a matter of fact, the play saw its first presentation in Wyndham's theatre, London, during the last year of the war, and last night's performance was given by the same cast as appeared on the opening night. The dialogue is simple and graceful. At times the lines rather approach the doring, but it is in these parts particularly that Mr. Esmond's master touch is displayed to the utmost and never once during the whole piece did they overstep that invisible line which might put the performance into the category of indecency.

The story is one of the husband, invalided from the war after more than a year's faithful service, who finds his wife so engrossed in war work that she has entirely overlooked the ties which go to make up the oneness of herself and husband. How he lived, loved, suffered and finally won her back into his affectional forms the groundwork on which the story is built.

Mr. Esmond gave a very gripping portrayal of the part of the neglected husband. Through the artificiality of the rendition could be seen the human heart of this patient soldier-man. As the unfolding, though loving wife Edie, Miss Eva Moore carried her audience through the piece with such a sympathetic interest that when the final curtain dropped there was many a sigh of heart satisfaction that she was woman enough to see at length where she had failed in her obedience to the law divine. The closing scene was her triumph. Her touching recounting of honeymoon days on the moonlit coast of Ireland through which she reached the lost affection of her life-mate was a gem of modern stagecraft. Miss Moore's presentation of a difficult role was splendid.

Of high merit was the acting of Miss Viola Campbell as "The Shrike," a familiar title by which Miss Claudia Merton was known in the LaBas home. She was of the modern girl type, breezy, sophisticated and with very true-to-life form. "Daphne Gray," a young widow who furnished bright, cheerful and charming and which was capably handled by Miss Faith Liddle. Through these two characters was introduced the complications which threatened the quiet of the happy home, but which in reality were part of the agency through which the reconciliation was effected.

A less important yet perhaps more difficult role was that of "Kate Hayne," right hand of Mrs. LaBas in her war work. Miss Kate Johnson carried this part through with great success. A bright piece of acting was introduced in the person of Mrs. Fairbairn, who, widowed and very poor of her understanding of the sterner sex. Her lines were snappy and bright and she made a distinct hit, although she made only one appearance. Florence Wood did well in the eastern end of a tour which the management of the Imperial is to be congratulated in bringing such a fine attraction to the city and in the expression of opinion of those who attended last evening's performance, the theatre goers of St. John would welcome a continuation of this class of production. Mr. Esmond and his company are on the eastern end of a tour which stretches from Atlantic to Pacific. The Law Divine will be repeated this afternoon and this evening.

MISS LENA M. BASSEN DEAD

Many friends throughout the city will regret to learn of the death of Miss Lena M. Bassen, which occurred in this morning. She had been ill for only two weeks and news of her death came as a great shock to her relatives and friends.

She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Bassen of 99 Elliott row, and was in the twenty-fourth year of her age. Besides her parents she was survived by one brother, Carl.

Miss Bassen was employed in Wizeel's Cash Store, Union street, as bookkeeper for eight years, and during that period won the confidence of her employers and the esteem of a host of patrons of the firm. She had a pleasing and kindly disposition and was very popular with the younger set throughout the city. Her funeral took place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Rabbi Fletcher officiating at burial services. Interment took place in Fernhill.

SAYS QUESTION NOT ANSWERED

Toronto Labor Official Not Satisfied With Hon. Mr. Robertson's Reply.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—Senator Gilson Robertson, minister of labor, is being drawn into a controversy with the Toronto district trades and labor council over the order said to have been made by President D. B. Hanna, of the C. N. R., to the effect that no employee of the government railways may hold public office.

Following protest against this as a recent meeting of the Toronto district trades and labor council Secretary Alfred Mance wrote to Hon. Mr. Robertson asking for information as to the authority of President Hanna to make such an order.

A reply came yesterday from Senator Robertson. It was to the effect that railway employees in Canada had the right to present any grievances which they might have to the proper officials of the company for adjustment, and assuming that if the C. N. R. employees had grievances they would present them to the C. N. R. officials through their organization. "Until this is done," Hon. Mr. Robertson said in his letter, "it is difficult to understand why the Toronto district trades and labor council should interfere in the matter."

DECLARES MEXICO PACIFIED AT LAST

Joseph W. Rowe Finds Republic in Better Condition Than Since 1913.

The outlook in Mexico contains more favorable features today than it has at any previous time since the rise to power of Huerta in 1913, according to Joseph W. Rowe, representative in Mexico of the Irving National Bank.

With peace restored, industrial and agricultural activities have received a fresh impetus, says Mr. Rowe. A steadily increasing output is being shown in both mining and oil operations, the grain crops are large, and it is now expected that for the first time in several years Mexico will have enough cotton not only for domestic consumption but a balance for export.

"Mexico's recovery since the downfall of the Carranza regime," said Mr. Rowe, "has been rapid. The new Provincial Government, headed by Adolfo de la Huerta and dominated by his energy and common sense, has accomplished in four months what Carranza failed to do in six years; it has pacified the country. All the important rebel leaders who opposed the new Government or have been eliminated as enemies of political life. Travel is safe in virtually every part of the country. GERMAN ANTIDOTE FOR GENERAL STRIKE

Is Known as the "Red Cross of Industry."

Organization Under Direction of Minister of Interior -- Volunteers Operate Industries in Time of Trouble.

(Associated Press Correspondence) Stuttgart, Oct. 11.—German industrial leaders believe they have found an effective weapon for fighting general strikes in the Technische Nothilfe, known in Germany and Denmark as the "Red Cross of Industry." As evidence they point to the fact that the organization crushed a general strike in the state of Wuertemberg in five days when that state was menaced with a complete paralysis of all industrial activity. The Technische Nothilfe was organized at Stuttgart about a year ago and is operating under the direction of the minister of the interior. In normal times only a skeleton office is maintained which occupies itself with preparations for an emergency. Wuertemberg is divided into 100 sub-districts, each of which has a leader whose duty is to prepare a list of volunteers able in emergency to operate all the essential industries of the community. The head offices in the city are furnished with a complete list of such volunteers. The active technical emergency managers of essential industries usually are named as chiefs for those industries and the presumably are non-union men. Among the volunteers listed are university students, engineers, professors in the Polytechnic Institute and unskilled workmen from every class of society. The central organization makes provision for bedding, foodstuffs and army kitchens for the volunteers who camp by their jobs. Each volunteer is informed in advance where to report and upon the notification of a strike proceeds to that post where the Technische Nothilfe has delivered supplies considered sufficient for the duration of the strike. It is claimed that in a very short time the central-

Technische Nothilfe are under obligations to carry no arms. In less than five days the strikers began to return to work and as each one took his place, a member of the Technische Nothilfe quit unostentatiously and in less than a week the strikers were again at their posts. Chiefs of the Technische Nothilfe in charge of industrial plants at Stuttgart were carefully instructed to obtain written statements as to the condition of the plants when the strikers returned, so that the radicals could not subsequently practice sabotage and charge that it was the work of the Technische Nothilfe.

How Plan Works.
The general strike here was called as a protest against the ten per cent tax on workmen's wages. It was arranged by the communists but adhered to by the Majority Socialists, the more conservative labor elements and trade unions. Distribution of food ceased and gas, electric and water service was abandoned. The community was confronted with possible chaos when the Technische Nothilfe stepped in, assumed control and manned every essential post vacated by the strikers, including the highly technical positions. There was some difficulty in finding men fitted to aid in the heavy work, such as firing furnaces, for few of the volunteers had been accustomed to such labor, but this was solved by working very short shifts. The majority of the 250 men working and living in gas works were Polytechnic students. Union Men Assist. There were even union labor men among the volunteers, for some of the labor leaders believe that certain industries must be kept going to prevent the collapse of a community and that only the Technische Nothilfe can do this. Some of the conservative labor leaders felt that the control of their organizations might slip out of their hands into those of the extreme radical elements who would tie up all industries if it were not for the Technische Nothilfe. For these reasons they have made no opposition to union men volunteering for service with that organization. The strike began at midnight Saturday, the volunteers were ordered on duty Sunday morning and by Monday morning the industries were functioning on the reduced capacities, but by Wednesday

Do You Count the Cost of Your Tea?

Good tea is really very cheap per cup, less than 1/2c. for the very finest.

The duty on tea coming into Canada from British possessions is 7c. per pound, and 10c. per pound from other countries.

You pay just as much duty on a pound of poor tea as on a pound of the very best — such as Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea.

You can therefore get much better value in a superior high quality tea than in poorer, cheap teas, because you pay the same duty on the poor as on the best.

This extra value is appreciated by most people, as the increasing sales of this fine quality, mountain grown Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea clearly prove.

Ask for it by the full name.

Sold only in our new sealed airtight cartons.

FAMILY IS SURPRISED AT WONDERFUL CHANGE

Ontario Woman Says Since Taking Tania She Has Biggest Appetite She Ever Had in Life.

"Never before in all my life have I had such a good appetite or gotten so much pleasure out of eating as I do now," says Mrs. Tania, 306 Grey Street, London, Ontario, a few days ago. Mrs. Tania has lived in London for several years, and is a highly esteemed by all who know her.

"I had practically no appetite, and for two years before I got Tania I just had to force myself to eat. I got in such a weak and run-down condition that I could scarcely take any interest in anything and my housework was a burden.

"My nerves got in such a bad condition that I could hardly sleep at all, and every morning I seemed to feel worse than I did the day before.

"But it didn't take Tania long to bring about a great change. I was astonished right after I started taking it to find that my appetite had improved so much, and my family were surprised to see me sit down and eat such hearty meals. Why, I can hardly eat enough now, and what I eat makes me feel wonderfully strong, and I have gained several pounds in weight. I sleep like a child every night, and when morning comes I get up feeling fine. Life is a pleasure now, and I certainly like to recommend Tania, for I believe it will help anybody who takes it."

Tania is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro; by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Parsons, High Street; John F. Mesher, Debec; O. D. Hanson, Lepreau; E. L. Conley, Leonardville; N. H. Johnson, Clarendon Station, and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)

NEUTRALIZATION OF WORLD CABLE SYSTEM ADVOCATED

Holding Up U. S. Commerce Development Says Commerce Monthly.

More Than Half World's Cables Are British Owned—Additional Cables Necessary as Extension of Merchant Marine.

Lack of an adequate American cable system is a handicap to this country's foreign trade which must be removed if we are to maintain our position in the commercial world, declares the National Bank of Commerce in New York.

In the November issue of its magazine, Commerce Monthly, the bank shows that 41 per cent of the world's cables are controlled by Great Britain alone. The spending of thousands of millions of dollars on our merchant marine and other trade organizations under such conditions, it holds, is a doubtful prospect.

"The present system of international communications, largely cable, while comprehensive and efficient, has been built primarily on the basis of commerce which is the commercial world with the old world centers of finance and commerce and industry. National interests and pressure, competitive enterprise and local influence have governed location, extensions and combinations so that these facilities have not been in all cases arranged to be productive of the maximum efficiency or economy.

"The United States is connected with this world system, but as a contributing field to be reached and exploited and States to maintain the position which it has won in the trade of the world, it must become the focus of a world system of electrical intercommunication. It must become one of the most important, most important, as it has become in many respects the center of the world's trade and finance. Without quick, reliable communication, independent of other national interests, that rest upon trade and finance, our organizations foreign commerce will never yield full value on the investment.

"The entire cost of an American cable system which would give direct com-

BOOTLE LIQUOR JUMPS TO $10 BOTTLE IN SARNIA.

A Sarnia dispatch says: With the recent arrests in Port Huron and the active work of the liquor license department of the city of Sarnia, the liquor trade has been put on the blink-side of the border, the path of the blind-pig and run-runners is becoming exceedingly hard these days, with the result that the report circulated last week that "wet goods" now cost $1 per bottle on this side of the border, as against $6 a week ago.

A large consignment of liquor arrived in the city from Montreal during the week-end, and the authorities are holding up a number of cases until they are certain if all the goods received are fit for personal consumption.

A number of those receiving shipments will likely have to make a wren statement concerning their shipments of liquor.

THE WARDLESS HOSPITAL.

(Leslie's Weekly.)

"The ward system," says Dr. Wiley E. Woodbury of New York City, "belongs to the stone age of hospital administration. I first realized this when I was charged with the care of a patient suffering from bubonic plague but by the admitting physician. Fortunately the patient's ailment was discovered before he was placed in a ward.

"The new Fifth Avenue Hospital will be nine stories high, built in the form of a letter X, thereby making it possible for each of the 800 rooms for the patients to be open to the light and air, and to keep the various rooms of such temperature as we please. And each patient will have a separate room and bathroom. There will be no wards, and not even matter what his or her financial circumstances may be, will have absolute privacy, will not know of the suffering of others, and will be so isolated that it will be practically impossible for germs to be carried from one ill person to another. Besides, one-half of the bed space will be free or nearly free.

"The hospital problem has been solved."

PLANETS CAUSING LONGER SUMMER

Astronomer's Theory Favorable to Canada But Death to Australia.

Youngstown, Ohio, October 27.—That old mother earth may be facing one of those glacial experiences such as she underwent thousands of years ago, is seriously mentioned as a possibility by John H. Chase, of this city, whose articles on astronomy have gained wide attention. Mr. Chase, who is supervisor of playgrounds in Youngstown, and who ever since his graduation from college has continued his studies in astronomy, views the almost unexampled warm weather of the present autumn as a probable consequence of the rare alignment recently undergone by certain planets. If his theory in this respect is correct, he regards the phenomenon as a forerunner of a glacial slide, which apparently would wipe out Australia and part of Africa's surface and effect a marked change in the climate of this continent.

"It is possible we are now experiencing the first effect of the remarkable planetary alignment which occurred last winter," said Mr. Chase, discussing the subject.

"If you recall, the planets Jupiter, Uranus, Mars and Saturn were all in direct line with the earth for the first time in many centuries. The combined 'pull' of these great bodies, it was predicted by many astronomers, was certain to affect the earth's orbit—prob-ly in the way of lengthening and flattening the ellipse.

"If that occurred we could expect longer summers in the northern hemisphere and shorter ones in the southern hemisphere, and more important than this is the likelihood that glacial may form, covering all of Australia and part of Africa.

MIDNINETTES' DISAPPEARING

French Girls are Discarding the Needle for the Typewriter.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The French "midnettes" is disappearing, and French girls are throwing aside the needle for the typewriter, according to the large fashion houses of Paris. The apprentice who used to be glad to enter a modiste's or costume's establishment as midnettes, at first earning nothing but her keep, is now learning typewriting, with perhaps a suspicion of shorthand, and can command a fair salary as soon as her course of instruction is completed. Experienced modistes and dressmakers vainly point out the folly of this course, a blind alley occupation instead of providing them with a trade at which they can eventually earn a living running into many hundreds of dollars a year, as a premiere in a big fashion house receives a salary varying between $3,000 and $8,000.

Rich Girl Works as Typist.
Chicago, Oct. 26.—Satisfying an ambition of long standing, Miss Jane Morton, daughter of Mark Morton, salt millionaire has gone to work here as a stenographer. "I have wanted to be a stenographer for a long time," she said.

LAUDS SPIRIT OF PLAYERS

Writer Says Canada Need Not Fear Any Lack of Leaders so Long as Her Athletic Fields Are Graced by Such Men.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—Under the caption "Canada is proud of them," the Globe on its editorial page says: "One did not need to be an admirer of the so-called rugby football as exemplified by Varsity and McGill to rejoice in the magnificent spirit displayed by both teams in Saturday's important match. The spectacular chorus roving and parade features were as attractive to very large numbers in the crowd as the game itself, which was as strenuously fought to the last minute as though either side still had a chance to double the score. "Beaten but not disgraced there was real heartiness in the cheer, which the McGill team gave for their conquerors, a custom that ought never to be allowed to die where men play for the game's sake and not for monetary gain. There is little the matter with the young manhood of Canada when such grilling contests can be played without any exhibition of ill-feeling, and without any of the several players who suffered injuries having to retire for the entire period of the remaining playing time. Canada need not fear any lack of leaders, builders, planners and defenders so long as her athletic fields are graced by men who can play so hard and at the same time stand well in their clothes."
