Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little sorrow and trouble. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, and restores the system to its normal, healthy, strong, vigorous, and elastic state.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

A PERSONAL TRIBUTE By Robert G. Ingersoll. Eulogy at the funeral exercises of a friend.

AGAIN we are face to face with the great mystery that shrouds this world. We question, but there is no reply. Out on the wide vast seas, there drifts no spar. Over the desert of death, the sphinx gazes forever, but never speaks. In the very May of life another heart has ceased to beat. Night has fallen upon noon. But he lived, he loved, he was loved. Wife and children pressed their kisses on his lips. This is enough. The longest life contains no more. This fills the vase of joy.

He who lies here, clothed with the perfect peace of death, was a kind and loving husband, a good father, a generous neighbor, an honest man—and these words build a monument of glory above the humblest grave. He was always a child, sincere and frank, as full of hope as spring. He divided all time into today and tomorrow. Tomorrow was without a cloud, and of tomorrow he borrowed sunshine for today. He was my friend. He will remain so. The living oft become estranged; the dead are true.

A PAROLE PLAN THAT WORKS

Effective System in the New Jersey Reformatory—Sixty Per Cent. of Young Men Released on Parole Become Useful Members of the Community—Charles S. Moore Tells Story of Success

Charles S. Moore, chief parole officer of the New Jersey Reformatory, believes there is no truth in the old saw "Once a thief, always a thief." He believes in giving a man a chance. "After eight years' experience," he says "I think the parole system is successful. The first time a man is paroled in 1910, to parole prisoners. They have started on the right way to give the convicted man an opportunity to redeem himself.

"The inmate of the New Jersey Reformatory who was paroled in 1910 now holds a good position as a travelling salesman, at $3,000 a year and commission. He has a wife and two children. He was committed for 'breaking, entering and larceny.' He almost killed the owner of the house before the parole could be given. Until he was paroled, he had never worked a full month. He was sent to the reformatory for grand larceny. He made up his mind that he would not live up to the rules. He was one of those we call 'bad ones.' A change came over him all at once, and he made up his mind that he was going to be a good man. After while he earned his parole and later a full release. Today he holds a position in the fire department of a large city.

"People are always ready to criticize when a parolee makes a second mistake. It is impossible to be successful with every case, but 60 per cent. of those from this institution who are paroled are successful. After while he earned his parole and later a full release. Today he holds a position in the fire department of a large city.

EARNED $7 A WEEK AND SAVED MONEY

Was Able, Too, to Pay For Language Lessons and Ate Well Enough to Gain 60 Pounds Weight

New York, Dec. 24—Edward Fielding, who at the time was a "super" in the Metropolitan opera house, measured his daily living for three years. On an income of $7 a week he was able to take lessons in German, Italian and French and bank $10 a month.

"It's easy," he said, "if you make yourself adhere to your schedule. I weighed only 122 pounds when I started and now I weigh 180 pounds. Last September, I got a better job, and while I pay a little more for my room, I adhere generally to my schedule, am paying off some bills I owe and am still banking money.

"Next I got a job with the Lyric theatre. I received $10 for writing the best analysis of the third act of a play. That helped me some. When I wanted to buy a book I would go to my money, and combine that with my lunch and save 10 cents. In two days I had 20 cents which would purchase a book.

New York, Dec. 24—The trial of James J. Gallagher for the shooting of William Edwards, street cleaning commissioner, while the latter was trying to protect Mayor Gaynor, who was shot by Gallagher on August 9, last, has been postponed until January 3. The postponement was on motion of Prosecutor Pierre P. Garvan, who said that two of the physicians who had been called into the case by the state desired more time for the examination of the accused man to determine his mental condition.

FINE PICTURES

Prizes Won in London By St. John Men and One Presented to Lt. Col. Sturdee

E. T. Sturdee, the honorary agent of the Art Union of London has just received a fine case of paintings. There is a large oil painting, which is the prize drawn by A. C. Fairweather of Rothesay, and is entitled "Hagwort," by Miss Chamberlain, who exhibited at the Royal Academy.

It is a fine picture and will repay a lot of study. Another handsome one is by Miss Hagarty, well known here, called Corfe Castle. It is a little gem, and is for some accumulations now drawn by F. A. Jones, who is to be congratulated on his winter color.

A charming little picture is by W. K. Blacklock, A.R.C.A., who exhibited here at the Dominion Exhibition. This is called "A Stage Lady" and is something after the style of his "Letter" and others of his works. It is sent as a presentation to Lt. Col. Sturdee for his large list of subscribers sent over, his being the largest list of any agency.

The annual report just received in thanking the honorary agents, states "Lt. Col. Sturdee of St. John, N. B., maintains his position at the head of the list sending 173 subscriptions, the largest return from one representative for over twenty years."

There are also in the consignment some statutory, Doublon ware, etc., as consignment prizes for some subscribers who have not drawn a prize for ten years in the regular drawing. The next drawing of the Art Union will take place next April, and as a presentation picture they are sending to Lt. Col. Sturdee a drawing of the "Sailor King," being the scene at Portsmouth harbor, when King George V. was proclaimed last May. There are war ships in the harbor and are seen firing a salute, the old "Victory" being in the foreground.

FAIRVILLE CASES.
The three men who broke jail on Wednesday evening from the lock-up in Fairville, delivered themselves up yesterday, and each of them, Ollie Emery, Louis Kindred, and George Riley, was fined $5.00 this morning by Justice Alburgh.

Last night Policemen Lawson and Constable Harvie, after considerable difficulty, arrested Michael Ryan, George Walker and Joseph Wallace, on charges of fighting in the railway yard at Fairville. This morning Ryan was fined $20 or three months in jail, and told to return to his home at Fairville within a year; Wallace was allowed out on a deposit of $4; and Walker was brought to court from the case.

GOOD NEWS

Hon. Dr. Pugsley states that the Grand Trunk Pacific in New Brunswick will be open for traffic in May. Thus the remark of President C. M. Hays will be verified. He told the business men of St. John at the Union Club banquet that almost before they realized the fact they would be transiting "Grand Trunk Pacific" running out of the Union Station.

"IF I HAD KNOWN" If I had known in the morning How wearily all the day The words unkind Would trouble my mind I said when you went away.

HOLLY SONG (Clinton Scollard). The boughs are all bare save the holly bough there. Cry hey, cry hey, for the holly! How its leaves show their sheen in the Christmas air.

IN LIGHTER VEIN FOXY WILLIE. Says little Willie, who, you must admit, is very pert.

THE HAPPY MARR. "I hear she is to be married. Who is the happy man?" "Her father," Lippincott's.

FLASH LIGHTS. A diamond ring is a fine a gem on a winning team—we're always going to get one next year.

SOCIETY SNAPS. Mrs. Tip-top—"I am sorry you were not at my reception."

EDUCATION. Our Johnny is a pupil In a public school, you know;

MOTHERLY ADVICE. Margery was playing school with her dolls. The class in phonology was reciting.

For though in the quiet evening You may give me the kiss of peace, How many go forth in the morning Nor given you needless pain.

RIDES ON CREST OF AN AVALANCHE

Missionary in Persia Has a Terrifying Trip Down Mountain

BACK TO ENGLAND

Rev. E. W. McDowell, Presbyterian Clergyman, Relates Unique Experience in His Work in Eastern Land—Nineteen in 5,000 Feet Slide, One Killed

London, Dec. 24.—After seven years of hardship and self-sacrifice in one of the most primitive parts of the world, the Rev. E. W. McDowell has returned to England to view the wonderful advance made by civilization.

Rev. Mr. McDowell is a missionary who for twenty-three years has been engaged in trying to drive the doctrine of Presbyterianism into the Moslem heart of Asiatic Turkey. He finds that, even in this speed-epoch modern invention has enabled no man to attain the speed record he made in a land where the glister of electricity and the odor of gasoline have never intruded. When he sped through the air more than 5,000 feet in less than one minute, he rode on the crest of an avalanche, and had as his traveling companions the unsteady and flight seventeen native burden-bearers who lived to tell the tale and one who was lost.

Rev. Mr. McDowell is stationed at Urumia, Persia, but his work carries him across the border line into the land of the Kurds, the picturesque nomadic tribes of Asia Minor. He made his wonderful speed record from the top to the bottom of Mount Ardanush in Central Kurdistan, a mountain which is the home of native travelers. His work lies in the mountain districts, where the stalwart excitement-loving Kurds are trying to modernize and civilize their country.

Mr. McDowell and his cavalcade of 20 burden-bearers and guides found themselves on the summit of Mount Ardanush. The party had broken camp before daybreak to start the ascent, and at 2 p.m. they stopped on the very top of the peak to look down its wretched precipitous side. All the year round Ardanush is covered with snow. After the Monday noonday lunch and smoke the men started on the hard trip. The guide leading the band was a few feet ahead of Rev. McDowell, when the mountain peaks seemed to quiver and a mighty sound echoed from valley to valley as the great avalanche let loose.

From the eleven men clinging perilously to the top edge of that mile-high mountain peak their fellow-travelers disappeared as lightning cuts across the sky. "Voids are not mere voids," says McDowell. "Then absolute darkness in the heart of misty dust, a gale that cut the air as if I passed through ink space. We were bouncing over snow-covered rocks, finally, as if we were in the jaws of some huge monster, twisted, tossed and shot back and forth. Once my body doubled up like a jack-knife and pitched forward. A second later I shot out in the air. My ears, nose and mouth were filled with snow.

"Turks are doing wonders for their country. Three years ago, said Mr. McDowell, I never traveled without a gun. Last winter I went from Van to Beirut without a gun. But, of course, the influence of the Young Turk has not yet come in Kurdistan. This is still a land of what we would term handis."

IN THE BRAZILIAN NAVY. (Cleveland Plain Dealer) The Senior Captain—Bosen, all his hand is deck. The Bosen—Aye, sir; but they won't come. The Senior Captain (looking at his watch)—But it isn't time yet for them to refuse to obey orders. The Bosen—No, sir; but they're holdin' a secret meetin' in the mess-room, sir, tryin' to decide whether they'll mutiny every day in the week or take a rest on Sunday.

NEW YORK HAS CHINESE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

New York, Dec. 24.—With thirty-three members, all Chinese, the First Chinese Presbyterian church of New York city has been organized at the mission house conducted at No. 233 East Thirty-first street under the auspices of the Presbyterian church of New York. Of these thirty-two men and one woman, Mrs. Y. L. L. Lee, whose parents live in Paterson, she is a teacher in the Sunday school. This is the only regularly organized church with a membership only of Orientals in this country of the Pacific coast. The Rev. H. H. Kim, a regularly ordained minister, is the pastor.

Frederick A. Booth, an elder in University Place Church, announces that the Church Extension Committee of the Presbytery at a meeting last week decided to pay the $20,000 mortgage on the church, part of a $3,500,000 gift by John S. Kennedy will be used for this purpose.

HOW FAMOUS POOL PLAYERS MAKE THE BALLS ROLL IN GAME

De Oro, The World's Champion, Full of Tricks—Keogh Quiet and Courageous in a Match

The difference of opinion between contestants and their followers who devote their attention to the gentle art of caroms leads through strange by-ways of psychology, peculiar observations, and having been witnessed by all of those who attend matches with any degree of regularity. Alfredo De Oro, whose fame as a master of the fascinating game of pool, and in the States once turned defeat into victory by the chalking of a cue.

Behind the quiet demeanor Keogh possesses courage and determination that has surprised many. He is as ready as De Oro to back himself up any amount in a match and the fact that he is not a favorite in the betting, or that he is carrying large sums as stakes, does not bother him in the least. These things have gradually rebounded to his credit. As a consequence Keogh is expected to make himself a niche in the billiard hall of fame and place himself in the company of the great ones of the American masters.

I. C. R. MAY TAKE OVER INTERNATIONAL RAILWAY

Ottawa, Dec. 23.—The acquisition of branch lines by the Intercolonial railway is under the consideration of the board of management. In place of recommending that certain lines be negotiated for, the board, it is understood, will endeavor to fix the price, and all conditions of lease before making any report to the government.

While no decision has yet been arrived at, there is reason to believe that the new International railway, across New Brunswick from St. Leonard's to Campbellton; the Cape Breton railway, from Point Tupper to St. Peter's, and the coal roads in Cumberland county (N. S.), are viewed favorably. They are in good physical condition. The price, however, may prove an obstacle. No lines are to be bought outright, but to be acquired by long leases with annual payments.

Notice is given that application will be made to parliament for an act to incorporate the Albert & Moncton Railway Company with power to construct a line from the Albert Mines, county of Albert, thence by way of Hillsboro to Moncton, with power to construct a bridge across the Petitodac river at Moncton for railway purposes and for vehicular and general traffic.

CUT DOWN GIFTS TO EMPLOYEES

Wall Street Brokers Will Not Be so Generous This Year

BUSINESS POOR

Bankers, However, Had Profitable Year and Christmas Bonuses Will Be Large—United States Steel Corporation to Distribute More Than $2,500,000

New York, Dec. 24.—Wall Street's Christmas party strings will be loosened gingerly this year, so far as the brokerage houses are concerned. But the banks, which have had a profitable year, will make their customary gifts and so will many of the big industrial corporations. The United States Steel Corporation, for instance, is to distribute more than two million and a half among its thousands of employees.

Hundreds of brokerage firms, however, noted for their liberality at this season, are preparing to cut their annual gifts down to one-half and even to one-quarter of the amounts presented to employees in 1909. The last twelve months have been lean ones in the street; markets have been dull. Few houses in the financial district have amassed the profits that showed on the books a year ago. You will find some thing has been done to one-half and even to one-quarter of the amounts presented to employees in 1909. The last twelve months have been lean ones in the street; markets have been dull. Few houses in the financial district have amassed the profits that showed on the books a year ago.

Many of the Wall street firms believe that the Christmas distribution to employees should be in the nature of a profit-sharing system, and it is on this principle that they have decided to cut this year's allowance. Profits have been small; therefore, Christmas bonuses must be reduced. But there are others in Wall street who do not take quite such a businesslike view of the matter.

"Wall street," said one man, "has a queer disposition. It is either way down in the dumps or up in the clouds some where, depending on the amount of business that is done. If business had only been good in the last few weeks, Wall street would be as generous as ever. In the last few months, and the spirit of giving is consequently way below par."

INDUSTRIOUS. "So your club is going to give a lecture tonight asked the tall sufragette. "What's the matter?" responded the present. "Home industries," replied the lecturer. "And what do you consider home industries?" "Why, our husbands who remain at home and mind the babies and wash the dishes while we attend the club," Chicago News.

A BIG PRICE PAID FOR RARE OLD LACE Sir Wm. Abdy's Sale in London $47,000—Largest Collection in Years

London, Dec. 23.—Nearly $47,000 was realized in less than two hours for the collection of lace formed by the late Sir William Abdy. No similar collection has appeared under the hammer during the last twenty-five years, and as a consequence the auction rooms were crowded when the dispersal of this wonderful collection of Point Aumon, Point Argentin, Point de Venise, Brussels, and Valenciennes commenced. Private buyers, however, were few, almost all the more important ones falling to the leaders of the trade.

The display of some of the most exquisite laces of the world made the eyes of the many women present sove with pleasure, and as the lace was carried round for the inspection of those present men as well as women examined the precious treasures with the absorbed scrutiny of connoisseurs. With a few exceptions each length was mounted upon satin or velvet, chosen specially to display its perfect beauty. Nose, pink, violet, scarlet, blue and green silks were used for the purpose.

The choice of the whole collection was an old Italian gold and thread lace flounce four yards long and twenty-nine inches deep, which, as a long and spirited one, sold for $3,700. It was designed with an arabesque pattern, introducing animals, birds and figures. The subjects represented a queen and attendants in a garden; St. John appearing to a monk; a monk relating his vision to six figures seated on a bench; a bride escorted by attendants with a dove above; and a king with a page and soldiers carrying halberds, bringing a present to a queen with her maids of honor. The flounce was formerly in the collection of the late Sir William Drake.

Seventy-seven is a good remedy for influenza, Grip, Coughs, Colds and Sore Throat.

THIRTY WOMEN SMUGGLERS They Must Pay Duty on Coats at Windsor, Ont.

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 24.—In spite of warnings by the customs authorities, Windsor women persist in attempting to bring newly-purchased pony and velvet coats across the border from Detroit without paying the duty. On Saturday night about thirty women were directed into the customs office at the ferry dock as they left the ferry boats, where they were served with notices to appear before the customs collector and pay the duty on the coats they were wearing, at which were charged in Detroit.

Interest and Dividends to Be Paid in January Total $220,000,000, Estimate Says--The Market Conditions

New York, Dec. 23--Two hundred and twenty millions is the estimated amount of interest and dividends which will be paid over on January 1. Not all of this is to be reinvested, because much of it is used for current expenses, but not probably included in the total.

Operation of investing in these days is attended with much deliberation and hesitation. This is because the market year we have been in the backward swing, with ups and downs, not only in prices of securities, but also in volume of business and in profits of business.

ON DOWN PLANNING AND ALSO THE PLANNING OF LIVES

(Ottawa Citizen)
City planning has become a favorite topic with us during the last few months. It is well indeed that at last we are regarding the need of building our cities on some definite and adequate plan.

It is one of the inevitable sequences in civilization of the growing consciousness of social unity. If the city be one, then there should be one plan based upon this fact, and giving it some formative realization.

Most lives fall because they lack purpose. Many men drift, and always downwards. The life without a central hub of purpose seldom makes advancement. The most successful life is that one that starts earliest in the pursuit of a definite object.

And in order that a purpose may command, it must first command the youth. Youth-loyalty is ever the strongest and most abiding.

The best way, of at least the most economical, to build the city is to build it new from the ground, and not to remake it after many years of planless construction.

From the ground up, giving it the right start in the very beginning, there is another way of planning infinitely more important. A city is after all but the aggregation and coordination of individual lives, and it is these lives that are to be planned.

It is therefore remains our high task to give wise direction to the energies of youth. Today we have Fruit Commissioners, who are finding the ways of selection and successful growing of fruit. Why not have a Boy Commissioner, whose duty it shall be to use every wise means in the command of the government to assist in the development and fruition of boy life, and in the finding for each of the best fitted to the special capacity? This we shall do when we are, truly, wise.

Reply from Rev. Mr. Robinson
To the Editor of The Times:
Sir--The communication of J. H. Crossley in the Evening Times of yesterday morning in connection with the Dominion sheep breeders of Ontario, we are hopeful that they may meet with the full-operation of sheep raisers and farmers generally in the prosecution of their work.

Notwithstanding the proximity of the European markets, the English wool market is still to be found in the British and, possibly at an early date, in the United States. The English wool market is the centre of distribution for the product of the great wool producing countries of the world, including Australia, New Zealand and the Argentine.

The breeders of pure bred sheep, therefore, if our argument holds, would do well to direct their best energies to the development of the sheep industry in our own country. As a matter of fact, a strong local demand is the safest market in the long run.

A pleasing feature of the closing of the school at Lakewood yesterday, was the presentation of a handsome gold signet ring, accompanied by an address, to Miss Alice M. Casey of Chesley street, who for some time has capably fulfilled the duties attached to the principalship of the school, but who has tendered her resignation. The presentation was made by the scholars, and in an address feeling reference was made to the death of Miss Casey's father. Full appreciation of her valuable services was also expressed.

MET DEATH IN CAGE OF LION SULTAN

Letter States That Capt. Clarke, Here at the Dominion Exhibition, Was Killed by Lion in West Virginia

Of the thousands of people who visited the Dominion exhibition in September last fall, there were few who did not enter the big tent where the Stock Wild Animal Show was holding forth, and those who did go in, will remember the lion tamer, Captain Albert Clarke, who was billed as "America's Youngest Lion Trainer." He made friends while in St. John, and it will be read with regret that a letter was received yesterday by Joseph Kane, of this city, who was for a time in advance of the show, that the young trainer was killed recently by one of his fiercest lions, Sultan, becoming angry and springing upon him.

The accident occurred in the animal's cage at Martinsburg, West Va., and caused general consternation. The writer of the letter, Wm. Spencer, the property man, describes the affair as awful, as well as surprising. For Capt. Clarke had many times gone through his act with the unmanageable Sultan, and was practically without fear of him.

So far as is known, Capt. Clarke leaves few relatives, other than a sister in Louisiana, and a cousin in New York, where he resided. He was about twenty-eight years of age and single.

POLICE COURT TALES

Thos. Byron Was Drinking And Lost $160—Breaking Glass In Restaurant Charge Against John Cook

Twelve men of varied ages and nationalities evidently inebriated too freely last evening and as a result both benches in the police court this morning displayed the S. O. pastboard. Judge Ritchie dealt leniently with some of them considering that they had home circles where they could more happily spend the festive day than in the jail.

Five of each were imposed on George Lamont and Henry Johnson, while the amount was doubled in the case of James Brian, Charles Polly, Frank Kenney, and Rodd McIsaac, on charges of drunkenness. These fines were later allowed to stand against some and they were allowed their liberty. Noel Lambkin, an Indian, was remanded along with Wm. Mahoney and Frederick Walters on charges of drunkenness, while James Strayhorn was allowed to go.

John Cook was also remanded on a charge of drunkenness and willfully damaging property in the Boston restaurant. The value of what was broken, a plate glass show case, and three windows, amounts to more than $20 and the case will probably have to go to a higher court. Cook has been arrested on other occasions, and not long ago was shot at in trying to escape from the chain gang.

It was a sad night for Thomas Byron that he took too much liquor yesterday, for on being found buffeted about in the I. C. R. yard, it was learned that he had lost a cheque for $160, the amount of several months' work. He was allowed to go this morning.

SARDINIAN ARRIVES

She had sixty-eight passengers—twenty-four cabin, forty-four steerage. The latter consisted of French, English and some Russians.

The trip across was a tempestuous one, the steamer being buffeted about almost continuously since leaving the other side.
